'Goodbye, My Fancy'—

Little Theatre Scores With Homecoming Play

by Mrs. Julia Neely, associate professor of English

The sustained applause of an enthusiastic audience last Friday night was testimony that in "Goodbye, My Fancy" Fay Kanin's bright comedy of campus life, the Little Theatre had scored a hit. The members of the cast apparently found their assignments congenial and carried them out with great dash and spirit.

As Agatha Reed, the Congresswoman who returns to Good Hope College for an honorary degree, JoAnn Eblen was especially convincing, skillfully projecting the combination of feminine charm and intellectual toughness which made Agatha the unusual woman she was.

As the college president, her "memory turned back into a man." Bob Cagle gave one of his usual competent performances. The compromising of President Merrill's principles and the sacrifice of his integrity became a tense and frightening spectacle.

Bill Spangler, as the trustee paternalistically determined to protect the students from the realities of life, and Marilyn Wakeland, as the President's idealistic daughter, are to be complimented upon their share in creating this effect. In the role of Woody, the hard-bitten "Girl Friday" who sees and understands what is going on, Dorothy Paterson was outstanding.

IN A CAST so uniformly excellent, it is difficult to single out individuals for the mention they deserve. The most arresting and unforgettable characterization was David Alverson's Dr. Pitt, whose trembling hands and blazing eyes lifted his despair for Good Hope College beyond the realm of grease paint and make-believe. Tom Sloan played the "Life" photographer in a breezy and engaging way; it was unfortunate that his makeup made him appear younger than his contemporaries. Betty Jeanne McConnell was hilarious as Professor Bridesaw, and Sue Smith's Ellen was a delight. Catherine McClintock showed what wonders can be done with a bit part.

The stage crews covered themselves with distinction. The entire production reflected great credit upon Director's Archibald McLeod and Leonard Voss.

To Present Recital Of Chamber Music

Four faculty members and two students will present a chamber music recital Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre. The recital is being sponsored by the music department here at Southern.

Faculty members participating in the recital are Gilbert Fischer, instructor in piano; Robert Mueller, instructor in theory and piano; Robert Resnick, instructor in woodwinds; and Phillip Olsson, director of bands.

Fischer and Mueller will play piano parts, while Resnick and Olsson will perform on the clarinet and French horn respectively.

Phillip Eigenmann, flutist, and Donald Francoise, bassoonist, are the students who are to perform.

The program for the chamber music recital consists of Mozart's Quintet in Eb, K. 452 and Beethoven's Quintet in Eb Opus 16. Both parts of the program are scored for woodwind quartet and piano.

Judging for house decorations was held from three o'clock Friday afternoon until nightfall. Floats were judged during the parade as they passed in front of the Varsity theatre.

PAT TAYLOR, junior from Xenia, was crowned as the 1951 Homecoming Queen at the dance Saturday night. Pat is enrolled in the College of Education, majoring in mathematics and minoring in German. Last spring, she was one of the leading candidates for the title of "Miss Southern".

Coronation Ceremonies Highlight Homecoming

Pat Taylor, junior from Xenia, was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1951 at the annual Homecoming Dance Saturday night. To the melody of "Beautiful Lady", Miss Taylor was crowned queen by Bill Wangelin, co-captain of the football team. Later she was presented with a gift by co-captain Herb Cummins.

During Saturday's activities various organizations on campus held branches and luncheons for their visiting alums.

Preceding the homecoming dance Saturday night, Al Trace's orchestra presented an hour's concert in Shryock Auditorium. Featured on the concert was Lola Ameche, vocalist.

Tomorrow Is Halloween . . .

Halloween activities in Carbondale are being organized this year. The Carbondale Federated Woman's club is sponsoring a Halloween Mardi Gras, Oct. 31. A parade, consisting of four bands (Southern, Attucks, Community high and grade school) and several floats retained from Homecoming celebration, will swing down Illinois avenue from Main to Washington, come up Jackson, and wind up at the dance site.

The dance, including square and slow dances, will feature an exhibition by Southern's Sing and Swing club. Music will be by records. The dance site is north of Max's D-X station on North University avenue, near the Elks club.

Everyone feels active around Halloween—constructive or otherwise. By providing a healthy outlet for this enthusiasm, vandalism and damage done by Halloween pranks should reach a new low this year. Damage was not great last year, but any amount is too much when destructive. Most of it was done before Halloween night, according to Lee Davis, Carbondale police chief.

In addition to the Sing and Swing club, Southern's art department is participating in the Mardi Gras activities. This department is judging the Halloween window paintings in the downtown stores. These paintings are being done by the Carbondale high schools.

Mrs. C. W. Friedline, chairman of the Mardi Gras committees, has extended invitation to all university students to participate in the event. Prizes will be given for the most original costumes. J. D.

Service For Southern . . .

Pictures taken by Southern's photographic service for this year's Homecoming total about 175. This service takes about 15,000 pictures per year, merely counting negatives and not including the number of prints made from each negative. Variety in types of photography ranges from photo micrography to murals.

C. William Horrell is director of the photo service and is directly responsible for all production. Even though Horrell has to operate the service with a very small staff, the quality and quantity of photos turned out has remained very high. We think that Horrell and his staff deserve special commendation, especially in this issue of the Egyptian, publication of which would not have been possible without their aid.

In connection with production of photos by the service, Horrell has adopted the old Seabee motto: "The difficult we do immediately—the impossible takes a little longer."

SIU Students from England, Iraq Debate Middle-East Oil Situation at IRC Meeting

"I think the United States particularly, and the United Nations even more particularly, should have taken a more decided stand concerning the Middle-east oil situation," were words spoken by John Bremer, English student, in a debate on problems of the Middle-east with Saad Jaber, Iraq, at the International Relations club meeting held Thursday.

The pertinence of the question drew a representation of students, faculty, townspeople, foreign students, and other club non-members.

Bremer, graduate education student, spoke first, giving background and history of the present oil dispute and the British reasons for feeling that they are doing all that can be expected of them in these circumstances.

He pointed out the income which the Iranians have received because of the British oil industry there, and how this company has done much in improving education, medical attention, and recreation to its employees.

Jaber, government student, expressed his sentiment with, "I can't speak from the legal side, but I speak from experience. People wake up in the morning, go to work barefooted, go to work and work 8-14 hours, and come home to very little to eat, hit the sack, and do the same thing the next morning—I bet you that 9 out of 10 people who walk in the street would say that they did not have enough to eat that day."

Following the debate, the question was thrown open to the audience by Bob Bridges, president of the IRC.

Religious Emphasis Week Is Nov. 4-8

November 4-8 has been selected as the annual Religious Emphasis Week on the campus of Southern Illinois University. The Student Christian Foundation, Newman club, Baptist Student Union, Gamma Delta, and other campus religious organizations, will sponsor programs throughout the week, in cooperation with various campus organizations. The general theme will be on the question, "What Must I Decide," with emphasis on personal problems and decisions.

For their program, the Student Christian Foundation, non-denominational organization, will feature the Reverend John McCaw, Drake University, Iowa, as leader. Other speakers will include Glenn Cunningham, former Olympics champ, and Col. Davison, Chaplain of Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich.

Bob Robertson is student chairman for the week, with Dr. Frank L. Klingberg and Rev. E. K. Wylie, serving as advisers.

Official activities for Religious Emphasis Week will begin with a kick-off supper Sunday, Nov. 4, 5:30 p.m., at the First Methodist church.

Among Freshmen—

Madden and Evers Are Most Typical

At the annual freshman bonfire and pep rally which began Southern's Homecoming festivities last Thursday, Pat Madden, Springfield, and Harry Evers, Mound City, were officially recognized as the "typical boy and girl of the freshman class." Other candidates for this honor were: Tim Bowers, Ron Kohler, Gib Kurtz, Barney Ross, Carolyn Bernhard, Shirley McConnaughay, Anita Early, and Ann Gilbert.

Patricia Ann "Pat" Madden, 17, is a 5'4" brunette with blue eyes. She is enrolled in the College of Education, majoring in commerce and minoring in speech. Included among her activities are: Newman club, I.S.A., F.T.A., and secretary-treasurer of the freshman class. Pat is a resident of Anthony Hall.

"The typical freshman boy," Harry Evers, 17, is an impressive 6'5". Harry, recently elected president of the freshman class, is also enrolled in the College of Education, majoring in mathematics. He is active in choir, I.S.A., and junior varsity basketball, and was a member of the Homecoming Queen's committee.

AFROTC Students March in Parade

One-hundred Air Force ROTC students, marching to the music of the AFROTC band, made up part of the Homecoming parade down Illinois avenue Saturday morning. It marked the first time any Air Force unit had marched in a Homecoming parade at Southern.

The AFROTC students, dressed in their newly-acquired uniforms, were all volunteers from the recently-organized Air Force unit on the SIU campus. The uniforms worn were just issued last week at Southern. The entire outfit consists of one pair of shoes, a belt, a coat, a tie, one pair of pants, two shirts, two pairs of socks, and an Air Force hat.

All unit members have been offered, on a voluntary basis, an opportunity to join the National Cadet Air Force association in order to keep informed on other AF happenings throughout the country, reported Major B. P. Vickory, assistant professor of Air Science and Tactics.

No Plans To Release Reservists: Etheridge

There are no plans to release organized reservists sooner than the 24 month active duty term specified in the Universal Military Training and Service Act, Robert Etheridge, campus military service information counsel announced Friday.

Etheridge said that an Army spokesman outlined the Army's reserve release plans as follows:

1. All organized reservists will serve 24 months. The only exceptions will be enlisted men whose extended enlistments expire before 24 months. They will be released on that earlier date and have no further reserve obligation.

2. Enlisted veterans and non-veterans called involuntarily from the volunteer and inactive reserve will be released by this Dec. 20.

3. ENLISTED veterans called voluntarily from the volunteer and inactive reserve will be released after 16 months service or when their extended enlistments expire, whichever is sooner.

4. Officer veterans called either voluntarily or involuntarily from the volunteer or inactive reserve may apply for release after 17 months service since the Korean outbreak.

5. Officer non-veterans will serve 24 months, whether called voluntarily or involuntarily.

Etheridge said the Army spokesman defined a veteran for these purposes as a man who served 12 months or more on active duty between the Pearl Harbor date and Sept. 2, 1945.

Elect New Officers At German Club Meeting

A future meeting will be held at a later date to make plans for celebration of Weihnachten.

Students Comment On SIU Cafeteria

by Jim Fecho

Since the beginning of the fall term the university cafeteria has served an average of 1600 people per day. Mealtime at the cafeteria is always characterized by a long waiting list. Several students standing in line were quizzed as to their reason or reasons for eating in the cafeteria. They were also asked how they compared the cafeteria to the other eating establishments in Carbondale.

Violet Moore, junior, said, "In my opinion the university cafeteria has relatively good food as compared to other eating places in Carbondale. The prices on some of the foods could be reduced."

ALVIN E. PICKERING, junior, had this to say: "The prices compared to other cafe prices are about the same, but if it wasn't for the higher quantity over poorer variety, I probably wouldn't eat here because of the crowd, although they have rather good services."

Janice Elliott, Cleo Anderson, Evelyn Marshall, and Phyllis Provost put their heads together to come up with this opinion, "It is most reasonable in prices and in quantity served. It is, in our opinion, the best place for students to eat in Carbondale."

Gene Graves, sophomore, asserted "More care should be observed in the cleaning of glassware and silverware and more help is needed cleaning the tables during the rush periods. However, I have noticed improvement in the last year."

WILLIAM BULL, sophomore declared "The prices, services, and food quantities are as good as any other place in Carbondale. I believe the quality of the food could be improved."

A transfer student, at Southern for the first time, Chuck Weiss, Belleville junior, presented his opinion like this: "Although this is my first term at S.I.U., I have found the cafeteria a very pleasant to acquire my meals. The menu has a great deal of variety and the food is fine. I'd like to know any place in Carbondale where one can receive $7.50 worth of meals for $5.00. This cannot be topped. There is one criticism I have to offer and that is the glassware and silver could be cleaned better."

SIU Library Sells Discarded Books

Sales of books discarded by the university libraries were resumed last week, according to Harry Dewey, assistant director of libraries. The books, which are for sale to students and faculty of the university, are displayed near the circulation desk on the first floor of the library. The sales were temporarily discontinued during the latter part of the summer.

Until the supply has been exhausted, a special group of children's books will be on sale. These books have been discarded by the university school library, but are, for the most part, in excellent condition, with special bindings of the type required for the heavy use given books in that library.

THE BOOKS, most of which are duplicate copies, superseded editions, and outdated titles, have been discarded with the approval of the instructional departments of

Construction of Girls' Dormitory Continues In Spite of Delays

Construction of the new girls' dormitory which began last May 1, is still in progress. Carl Nall, superintendent of building construction, has stated that "unforeseen delays of various nature" might prevent the completion of the building by next September as was previously planned.

Three U-shape units with a right wing extension is the general plan of the dormitory. One unit will extend from West Grand up to University ave., and will be in line with the right wing of the University School.

THE DORMITORY will have a basement floor and three upper stories. There are to be approximately 400 rooms which will include lounge rooms, living quarters, directors apartments, and a spacious recreation room on the basement floor. The extension room is to contain the kitchen and the dining room facilities.

The plans for the interior design are as yet not completed. However, there are to be tile floors and possibly some tile walls.

The construction company under the supervision of Carl Nall has previously constructed the service building, the flood lighting system and the bleachers at the football stadium, the tunnel, and the University School.

University Farm Has Three New Buildings

As a part of the new expansion program of the Southern Illinois University agricultural department the university farm has three new buildings as well as the ground-work laid for the future farm lake.

New buildings include a quonset hut tool shed, hay feeder, and horticultural building.

According to Smith Woods, director of the university farm and instructor of agriculture, this is just the beginning of the farm's new expansion program necessary to take care of the increasing student interest. Woods mentioned that someday the farm would include a lot of the land in the Thompson's lake area, but this, he said, would not become possible until the presently held leases expire.

DR. KOHLER TO HEAD PART OF ILLINOIS IEA MEET

Salute the Salukis

BOB EMS

When Bob Ems came out for football last season, coach Waller listed the 5'10", 225-pound athlete as one of his more promising fullbacks. The amazing fact about this regulation 11 man football was more or less a strange game to the nineteen year old sophomore,

It is evident that Bob has become a master of the game now. For he leads the Salukis in scoring and rushing, racking up over two-thirds of Southern's total yardage on the ground. Of the team's 183 running plays he has carried the ball in 78 of them, more than any other player in the conference. Ems has netted 226 yards for an average of 2.9 yards per carry. Southern's net team rushing is only 345 yards in 183 carries, or an average of 1.9 yards.

EMS WAS GRADUATED two years ago from Fisher high school where he won 12 letters in football, basketball, track, and baseball. But the football played in his All-

Champaign County Conference is of the six man variety, a far cry from the type of high school football played in the vicinity of Southern. Bob was named to the All-Conference teams in both football and basketball, and was the 100 and 220 yard dash champion.

He suffered a leg injury last fall, that kept him hobbling most of last season. But he recovered in time to play in three games, and win his letter.

This season Ems was on the starting lineup at fullback. After the first game against Central Michigan, however, Waller shifted him to half. Now trimmed to 195 pounds, Ems is one of the fastest, shiftest runners on the squad.

Ems divides his sports career at Southern between baseball and football. Bob, an outfielder, was sidelined during much of last spring because of an aggravated leg injury. But he appeared at the plate 42 times, mainly as a pinch hitter, batting .357.

Bob Ems scores his second touchdown early in the fourth quarter as the Southern line opens a huge hole in the right side of the Eastern defense. To the left of Ems is Junior Funderburk, right tackle. Jim Buckler is on the ground to the right of Ems. Blocking on the right side are Don Ryan (no. 40) left guard; Cliff Johnson, left tackle; and on the ground at far right is Stout, left end.

Phil Coleman crosses the finish line to win his fourth straight win this season. Coleman was clocked at 18:35. Eastern took the next four places to win the meet, 24-31. The Saluki Harriers' record for the 1951 season is now two wins and two defeats.

Gymnasts Give Local Exhibitions

Every day, from three until four p.m., it is possible to see a class of enthusiastic acrobats run through their paces at the men's gym. These five—Wayne Barker, Carmi; Jim Solliday, Carmi; Bill Bray, Wood River; Bill Nichols, West Frankfort; and Les Barnes, Carbondale—are all members of the varsity gymnastics class. Together they produce a smooth routine of headstands, flips, and somersaults.

TUMBLING IS NOT a competitive sport here at Southern and this fact is a source of real grief to these fellows, who take their acrobatics quite seriously. However, regardless of this handicap, the team has become, through exhibitions, a real promotion agent for the school.

Their latest exhibition was given in the men's gym during Senior Hospitality Week before a large group of high school students. Their next scheduled performance is to be at Carmi on Nov. 17.

Wilkinson Coaches Wrestling Squad

Jim Wilkinson, instructor in P.E., has returned to SIU's coaching staff after a year's absence. He coached at Southern for two years before going to Oregon State university last year, where he was wrestling coach. This year, he will coach the wrestling and tennis teams as well as the "B" squad in football.

Wilkinson, better known as "Wilkie", served for three and a half years as an infantry lieutenant before he started his career as assistant wrestling coach at Indiana University. He attended Ohio State university for one year and then went to Indiana where he received his degree.

"Wilkie" made quite a name for himself in wrestling at Indiana by winning the Midwest AAU championship in 1941 and the Big Ten championship in 1942. In addition, he was Indiana AAU champion in 1941, 1942, and 1946.

Salukis Continue Losing Ways- Drop Homecoming Game 47-19

Phil Coleman celebrated Southern's 1951 Homecoming alone, winning the three mile cross-country run in 18 minutes and 35 seconds. The meet was run between halves of a grid "contest" between Eastern and Southern Salukis which, after the first eight minutes of play, proved to be no contest at all. Two Saluki fumbles and a blocked punt handed the usually not too ferocious Panthers three touchdowns before nine minutes had lapsed in the first quarter, and paved the way to a 47-19 Homecoming loss for the Salukis.

Southern took the kick-off and seemed rather confident, as Bob Ems, who turned in one of the few good performances of the afternoon, carried for two successive first downs. The Salukis drove to the Eastern 33 yard line. Then Bill Wangelin fumbled on an end-around. Landers recovered for Eastern on his own 44, and from then on, the Salukis seemed to play in a bewildered and disillusioned state.

EASTERN'S ANDERSON traveled 35 yards to the Southern 25. Cohrs carried for 24 yards in three plays. Partridge then crossed over right tackle for the first touchdown of the game. Ward's place kick made the score 7-0.

Ems took the kick-off on his 5 and ran it back to the 30. The Salukis then ran through 4 plays, including a 15 yard holding penalty, but moved the ball only 3 yards backwards. Neiry's punt was partially blocked, but carried to the Southern 31. Eastern scored on their first play. Cohrs, the Panther right half, eluded Southern's Stodgill on pass defense and snared Joe Soergel's 31 yard touchdown pass. Ward's kick was good, and Eastern led 14-0, with 8:12 remaining in the first quarter.

SOUTHERN TOOK the kick-off and brought back memories of the 1950 Shrine Game when seven or eight players formed a huddle around the ball. Only there was no Harold Call to sprint 97 yards for a touchdown, so Reid Martin was dropped on his 19 yard line. Bob Kendrick, who ran hard and often all afternoon, picked up 5 yards through left guard. A loose ball in the Southern backfield was recovered by Viehweg of the Panthers on the next play. Eastern took over on the Saluki 14 yard line. Cohrs scored his second touchdown from seven yards out. Simmons' kick failed; with 6:30 left in the first quarter, Eastern led by 20 points.

Bob Ems gave Southern fans a brighter view of the dismal situation by running the kick-off back 32 yards to the Saluki 36. Kendrick gained 15 yards. A pass from Huske to Wangelin picked up 7. A 30 yard pass from Huske to Ems brought the ball to the Eastern 12, but an off-sides penalty moved it back to the 17. Kendrick hit right tackle for 12 yards. Ems carried through the same hole. The hard running halfback, aided by a key block by Jim Buckler, scored Southern's first touchdown. Neiry converted, and the score stood Eastern 20, Southern 7, with 3 minutes remaining in the first quarter.

The Salukis momentarily came to life when Bill Farrell recovered Bower's short kick-off on the Eastern 40. Huske fired a pass to Leo Wilson who reached the Panther 18 yard line before being brought down. Then the Saluki offense was stopped and driven back. Ems lost 7 yards on an end run. Huske faded to pass, but was trapped and thrown for a 19 yard loss back to the Eastern 44. Huske completed a pass to Wilson, but gained only four yards. Neiry punted on fourth down to the Panther 15, as the first quarter ended.

THE PANTHERS were held after making one first down, and kicked to the Saluki 24. Eastern scored again when Sorgel intercepted a pass from Bill Wangelin on the midfield stripe and returned it for a touchdown. A holding penalty nullified Simmons' extra point kick, and the score became 26-7.

Southern received the kickoff and drove to the Eastern 33, where they lost the ball on a fumble. Kendrick hit left tackle for 6 yards, but dropped the ball when he was hit by three Eastern defenders.

Anderson climaxed an Eastern drive by scoring their sixth touchdown standing up on a nine yard run. Soergel's kick made the score 3-7.

Southern lost the ball on the kick-off when a Panther player recovered a short kick just inside Saluki territory. A jump-pass from Soergel to Gregory moved the ball to the Southern 17. Anderson hit right guard, and was stopped on the 12. Soergel then hit Smoec with a pass good for the seventh Panther score. Soergel's kick made the score 40-7.

Despite a 3 yard run by Bob Ems, on which Wangelin threw a great block to keep him going, Southern failed to score again in the first half.

THE SECOND HALF brought about Southern's usual reversal of form, as their caliber of play improved greatly. Eastern was the first to score, however, when Roe recovered a fumble on his own 35. Henderson did the scoring after a 65 yard drive when he scored on a right end run from 8 yards out. Simmons' kick made score 47-7.

BOB EMS brought shouts from the crowd when he returned the kick-off 37 yards with virtually no blocking after the first 15. The big halfback, slowed down by two Panther tacklers dragging along behind, was finally brought down on the Southern 42. Kendrick and Ems combined on a drive which moved to the Eastern 18 before it bogged down, and the Salukis lost the ball on downs.

Early in the fourth quarter, Southern took over after an Eastern punt to the Panther 36. Ems carried on a pitch-out to the Eastern 11 for a 25 yard gain. He picked up 5 more yards through right guard, then scored his second touchdown of the game as he drove through right tackle. Neiry's kick was blocked; and Southern trailed 47-13.

Eastern lost the ball on their next series of downs when Joe Thomas of Southern recovered a fumble on the Panther 42. Ems and Kendrick combined again to carry the ball to the Eastern one, from where Ems bowled over for his third touchdown. Neiry's kick was remaining; neither team scored again.

Southern now has a two week rest before traveling to Ypsilanti to meet the Michigan Normal Hurons. Last year, the Maroons defeated the Hurons in the Shrine Game, first night football game at McAndrew Stadium.
