For vice-president, Alice Simmons, Pi Kappa Sigma, received 67 votes while her opponent Charles Hines and Lois Burke took 34 and 8 respectively. Jo Ann Norovich took 42, and Les Farrar counted one write-in.

The sophomore class elected Bob Edgell, Theta Xi, as class president by giving him 122 votes while the other candidates, Bob Gill and Joseph Smolec, received 54 and 43. Andy Morrison, Sigma Pi, racked up 126 votes in the elections to win the office of vice-president. His opponents Pat Miller and James Miller, gathered 68 and 26 ballots respectively. Jo Melba Sheard, Alpha Kappa Alpha, received a total of 121 votes as she compiled the office of secretary-treasurer. Louis Schumacher and Jerry Niles opposed her, accumulating 83 and 1 votes respectively.

Doug Kay, Sigma Tau Gamma pledge, eased over two competitors to receive the office of freshman class president as he totaled a vote of 170 against that of 156 for Floyd Schleuter and 127 for Tom Sill. For vice-president of the class, Ronald Danko, Independent Party candidate, received the majority with 198, just barely slipping past Lois Kalla who took 191 ballots. ## Curtain Goes Up On 'Curious Savage' Tonight

By Don Hargus

The curtain goes up tonight on Southern's 1953 Homecoming Play, "The Curious Savage," at 8 p. m. in Shroyck Auditorium. Tickets are still available at the tables at Old Main and in the Union or may be purchased at the door. Admission is fifty cents for activity card holders, one dollar to others.

Dr. Archibald McLeod, director, has assembled an all-student cast featuring Pi Kappa Lambda in the male role as Mrs. Ethel Savage. Others in the cast include Carolyn Reed, Canne Schneider, Nancy Yost, Carole Krusen, Jan Bahm, Jack Stevens, Richard Rieke, Darwin Payne, John Douglas, and George Ziegler.

"The Curious Savage" has been an extremely popular comedy with the critics ever since its opening on Broadway in 1950 to almost unanimous rave notices, and has seen numerous revivals in theaters all over the country since its inception.

The story concerns Ethel Savage, a middle-aged widow, who, having inherited ten million from her late husband, has been using the money as a memorial to him in a most curious fashion.

She has been spreading happiness by giving it to people who were so indolent foolish fancies and tragic dreams come true. So these stepchildren have Ethel committed to a general retreat for the instant, "The Cloisters," for who in his right mind goes around giving money away?

In "The Cloisters" she finds that people are kinder and happier than those in the outside world. Here, too, she defeats her scheming stepchildren, maintaining her money and her claim to sanity, but finds that she is not happy at leaving her new-found friends. For who is to say who is sane and who is not?

The SIU production of the play has been staged by Darwin Payne, a graduate student in speech, along with Jack Stevens and his stage crew. Lawrence Voss of Southern's speech department faculty is serving as technical director for the play. Marilyn Welsland is business chairman. Pat Bahn is costume mistress. Loreta Mondoni is in charge of props, while Nancy Yost and Bob Chausman handle sound and lighting problems. Carole Krusen heads the make-up committee.

In "The Curious Savage," author John Patrick has written a truly funny tale about the human mind of characters ever assembled on a stage. It's a play recommended for anyone who likes to laugh. But at the same time, Patrick has characterized his people with deft overtones of pathos that may bring a tear or two.

At any rate, you won't want to miss "The Curious Savage," at Shroyck Auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

Atomic Scientist To Lecture Here Wednesday

By Jim Hicks

The freshman assembly for Wednesday, Nov. 4, will feature Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, an unusual combination of scientist and writer. Dr. Lapp is one of America's leading young physicists, and has indicated himself to the task of destroying the notion that the basic principles and practical applications of atomic energy are secret forbidden territories open only to specialists.

He penned his first popular book in this country on atomic defense, "Our War Hider," which won a wide audience in 1949. His book, "The New Force," published early in 1953, is the story of atoms and people in peck and war. He has frequently contributed cover-feature articles to the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers and other leading magazines.

Dr. Lapp has played a major contributory role in the development that has marked the first decade of the atomic age. From the blue prints of the famous Manhattan Project to the reality of the hydrogen bomb, he has worked with many distinguished nuclear scientists.

Since 1949, Dr. Lapp has been Director of the Nuclear Science Service in Washington where he has specialized as a science consultant to industry.

Dr. Lapp realizes the wide gulf between the science laboratory and the public's awareness of what is going on behind the scenes. He will tell the assembly of significant developments and trends in the scientific world and will answer such questions as: "What's new in science?" "Where is science headed?" and "What does Scientific progress mean to you?"

Keepers Of The Belle Phone Calls Reveal Secret Group On Campus

"Watch the Student Union for action Friday morning," said the voice of the phone.

"What action?" asked the reporter.

"Just be at the main entrance about 10:45 and you'll see," said the voice. That was the content of a mysterious phone call which was received in the Egyptian office Monday.

The following day, the same person, or perhaps it was someone else, called to explain the "action" which had been mentioned.

Friday morning had been selected, he said, to introduce a new group to Southern's campus. He continued quickly that this would be no ordinary introduction.

"This is no ordinary group," he said.

The group consists of seven men, two sophomores and a leader, who may be from any class. A

The heroine of "Gigi" is a 16-year-old girl who comes from a family with long established tradition as far back as memory goes. No woman to it has ever been married. Her grandmother and her great-grandmother, both retired courtesans, are busy training Gigi to carry on the tradition.

Students Vote To Increase Activity Fee

Students voted Tuesday 801 to 231 in favor of increasing the activity fee one dollar to go into a Student Union Fund. Total campus balloting on the issue was 914 with the vote 781 to 133 in favor of the increase. The student vote of the Vocational-Technical Institute at Southern Acres was 20 for and 98 against the raise.

With the students voting in favor of the increase, the next formal action toward putting the increase into effect must be taken by the University Board of Trustees, according to Bob Wagner, co-chairman of the Student Union Planning Committee.

If the Board approves the student decision, the fee will be raised effective Winter Term. Normal School Scholarships will cover the fee increase for scholarship holders. The additional fees will go into the Student Union Fund to help defray the costs of a proposed future permanent student union building.

Salukis To Face Eastern Saturday

Southern Illinois University's victory-laden Salukis, victims of two straight losses, will be out to drag home the Panther bacon this Saturday in their homecoming tilt with Eastern Illinois.

The Salukis will be directed as quarterback by Joe Huske, who ranks as the number five passer in the nation among small colleges. The Chicago senior has completed 44 of 83 passes for 504 yards and four touchdowns, a percentage of 47.3.

Main target for Huske's air strikes will be end Wayne Williams. Du Quoin sophomore, who is Southern's leading scorer with 14 points. The angry picker has caught 15 passes for 190 yards and two touchdowns. However, Williams received an eye and a rib injury in the Michigan Normal game last weekend and may not be ready for action by Saturday.

Other casualties in Coach Bill O'Brien's camp are all-conference tackle Cliff Johnson with an injured leg, halfback Jack Schneider, who is nursing a sore back; guard Ron Bishop with a bruised hip; and center Tim Bowers and fullback Hank Wartfield with bad legs. All are expected to see action Saturday, but end Lee Wilson is out indefinitely with a severe sprain of the left ankle.

BOB NICKOLAUS, one of the first five on SIU's basketball squad who recently entered the army. Nickolaus was a junior and lettered last year.

Dick Gregory, St. Louis, who has not finished less than second this fall, and Jacques Theriot, Flora, both lettermen from 1952.

Ed Markob Hillsboro; James Greene; Wood River; Larry Havens; Carbondale; and Earl Brown, Chicago, will round out the squad of six starters for SIU.

Primas On The Loose

by Don Primas

Dear Grandmas; I'm sorry to hear that you have had a bad time and, worse, be able to make it for the Homecoming festivities. It was a dirty trick for Uncle Joe to crash your cranium with that wine bottle. I hope the doctors get all the glass out of your skull.

Well, as you already know, tomorrow the Salukis (Rah! Rah!) take on Eastern Illinois Panthers (Hiss! Booh!) in the big Homecoming game. Eastern beat Navy Pier last week, but that was no titanic feat. Mr. ROTC instructor, a retired Air Force man, said that the Navy Pier team was composed mostly of WAVES. That's what he said, anyway.

I've done everything you told me to do, Grandma, that would insure the Salukis victory. I spread seven tons of fishing power in the Panthers' dressing room and put ground glass in the water bucket. I tried to train King Tut, our mascot, to nail viciously and bite all the Panthers he saw, but I had to restrain him when he mutilated three P. E. writers.

It's a stroke of luck for some eyes that the Homecoming dance falls on "Alloween." They can invite girls from their home towns, and it won't stir anything for transportation because the girls can fly down on West broomsticks. Some guys are lucky.

Grandma, this may come as a shock to you, but I have a date for the dance. That is, if Hepzibah can get off work. You see, she has a very important job in a coal mine—she pulls the loaded cars around. The mine owners did have a donkey to do that, but he died. The poor ass couldn't stand the shaft.

My buddy Frederick has a date, too, but he has run into a little financial trouble. You know how Frederick is, Grandma, he just can't seem to hang onto his money. He had enough money saved to buy this date a beautiful corsage, but in a moment of weakness, he wandered over to Cassin's and lost all his cash in a cutthroat Chinese checkers game. So now he's practically broke. But he and I put our heads together and came up with a solution: he has enough money to buy his date a tattoo. It might not be as pretty as a corsage, but it'll certainly last longer.

The band committee did a good job when they signed the Irish outfit. I think the name of the band is 'Blow to the pride department.' Wait until the Arizona Chamber of Commerce hears about this! The Baltimore Orioles (remember when they were the St. Louis Browns?) have announced they will drop their 1954 Spring training in Florida instead of Arizona. Oh, well, anything for improvement.

Busy Man! Jim Bosco is probably the busiest man on campus. He's a football coach, gymnasium coach, and P. E. instructor. Once in a while he has time to eat.

Wrestling Drills Begin Monday; Seventeen Out

Coach Jim Wilkinson will greet 17 grunt and groom boys Monday as the wrestling team begins work-outs in preparation for the coming season.

Six lettermen will be back from last year's squad including, Bob Whalen, 123-pounder who had a 13-3 record in 1952, and Joe Feas, number two man in the IAC finals last winter. Other lettermen are Bill May, Dick Erickson, Rich and Zelen, and Kent Werner.

Also back to strengthen the squad are Danny Cox, Gary McCarry, John Grimes, Marvin Moose, and possibly Dan Halloran, who isn't in school the fall term.

Five promising freshmen will probably report to Jack Snoudt, 1952 team member who will handle the squad until Wilkinson finishes his football chores, after they finish their stint as fall sports. They are Jack Redington, Giles Sinkovitz, Bob Calhoun, Bob Dunkel, and James Greene. Sinkovitz and Greene were state finalists in wrestling last season.

The Salukis first meet will be with Illinois Normal, Jan. 2. They have been invited to participate in the Wheaton College invitational in February plus a tentative schedule that includes Eastern and Western Illinois, Arkansas State, and Memphis Navy.

Star Basketeer Goes To Army

Southern Illinois University basketball hopes took a second nose dive in two months today when Coach Lynn Holder announced that junior guard-forward Bob Nickolaus, Centralia, will enter the Army Dec. 1. Two months ago the Salukis received a setback when all-conference forward Ray Rippeley transferred to another school.

Nickolaus, a three-year letterman, was Southern's second highest scorer last season, next to Rippeley, netting 258 points in 21 games for a 12.3 average. A 5 feet 11 inch, 160-pounder, Nickolaus also was a high jumper and hurdler on the SIU track squad.

Sport Spiel

As a sports columnist, I have never subscribed to making excuses for the home team when they lose. I do think however, that the last weeks games score needs some explanation. I've heard a lot of discouraging comments from pool-room quartermasters, and tinhorn-tacklers. I think any group of men who play football deserve more than this.

IN THAT GAME against Michigan Normal, the Salukis fielded a squad that had been bedeviled by injuries. About six key men had had hurts of varying degree before the game. Soon after the game started, more men were banged up. This was probably due to the long strength-sapping trip the team had. Some of these guys, even though injured, played a good football game. Wayne Williams was one. On top of the aforementioned injuries, the Salukis faced the best line they've met to date. It was even better than the Central Michigan wall which was no slouch. The Michigan Normal outfit may be just the ones to upset Central's application at the conference meet.

Some of the SIU players who did well in the one-sided game are Tabacchi and McCullough, who punted well through the game. On defense, Williams showed well in spite of his injuries. Arondelli also did well on defense. Jack Schneider carried most of the load on offensive running and Huske connected with enough passes to hold up his average pretty well.

Coach O'Brien told me that he wanted to take the entire responsibility for the score in the Normal game—I don't think this is entirely true. Another coach once told me that all he could do was to teach his players; the coxswain was to play give them a little confidence and from then on it was up to the men themselves. I think this is pretty much it. In last week's game, after a long trip, shot with injuries, playing against the homecoming jinx, and matched against a team with so much greater depth, I fail to see how the outcome could have been much different.

FOR THOSE interested in the Salukis pups, they go to Washington U. Monday. They've got a good chance of winning this one. The pups, seem to have a lot of spirit. It took a lot to come from 20 points behind and tie the Eastern game.
