Big Muddy River Plan Discussed

A meeting of the Big Muddy River comprehensive basin study interagency committee will be held at the University Center today.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. with introductory remarks by Col. James B. Meanor Jr., chairman of the committee. President Delyte W. Morris will give the welcoming address at 9:15.

The day's agenda will continue with progress reports and discussions by the various state and federal agencies participating in the study.

Among the federal organizations represented on the committee are the Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service, Department of the Interior, National Park Service, Fish and Wildlife Service, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The Department of Commerce, Weather Bureau, Bureau of Public Roads, Army Corps of Engineers and the Federal Power Commission.

State agencies participating include the Board of Economic Development, Divisions of Highways, Waterways, and Sanitary Engineering, Departments of Conservation and Mines and Minerals, State Water Survey and the State Geological Survey.

Wild Campus Bells Ring, Ring, Ring!

The bells are out of whack again.

On an expanding campus like SIU, students must put up with inconveniences, including class-change bells that ring at every time except the beginning and end of class.

Students reported the bells in the Wham Education Building were ringing at 20 and 25 minutes after the hour as well as at the regular time. In the Home Economics Building they were ringing at 45 minutes after the hour.

William A. Volk, associate university architect, explained that there are several reasons.

Construction work over the weekend necessitated turning the power off for a while and clocks are being added to the Simplex system. The power is shut off momentarily while the clocks are connected.

Most of the clocks do have automatic resetting devices. Sometime the clocks will straighten themselves out.

Scott, Musician and Comic, To Perform at Convocations

HENRY L. SCOTT

Henry L. Scott, pianist-humorist, will be making his ninth visit to the campus when he appears at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. today at the Freshman Convocations in Shryock Auditorium.

Scott's performance is entitled "Man and the Piano" and combines both serious music and comedy.

He began playing the piano when he was 4. He is an alumnus of Syracuse University.

He has appeared with a number of leading symphony orchestras and performed in Carnegie Hall and many other famous American concert halls.

Cyclists No Longer Allowed To Park Along Campus Drive

City Tax Levied On Motorbikes

Motorcyclists will not be allowed to park their vehicles along Campus Drive, including the section near Thompson Point Halls which has been congested lately, the Security Office announced.

Students are also reminded that motorcycles may be parked only in designated areas.

The crosswalk between U.S. 51 and University Park which crosses the Illinois Central Railroad tracks is restricted to pedestrian traffic. Cyclists must dismount and walk their bikes if using this path, or go around to the Grand Avenue crossing.

Plans are in the works for an elevated crossing for pedestrian and cycle traffic.

Meanwhile, all motorbike owners who live within the Carbondale city limits will be charged a $3.50 motorbike tax, whether or not they list Carbondale as their legal residence, according to J. Edward Helton, city attorney.

This includes all motorbike owners who live at Thompson Point Halls and Small Group Housing. These two University housing areas were annexed to the city this summer.

The tax has been initiated, according to a city official, as a means of raising additional revenue to help pay for the rising cost of traffic control as a result of the recent influx of motorbikes and scooters in the city.

University officials estimated that by the end of last spring term there were over 1,000 motorbikes or scooters on campus. This number is expected to increase sizably this year.

Owners of motorbikes, cycles or scooters are required to register them with the University parking section.

Gus Bode

Gus says the freshmen who are half dead after registration might just as well go to the Health Service and get themselves polished off.

Appointment System Changed

A new system designed to speed making appointments for pre-registration is now being used.

Under the new system, the student goes to the table in the Olympic Room representing his college and gives the name of his adviser and a free period. He receives an appointment slip that has been filed with the adviser's name and appointment already written on it. The student then goes to another table and presents his ID card and the appointment slip for stamping.

In the past the entire appointment slip had to be filled out and the appointment time checked against a master chart.

Juniors who are education, business, or fine arts majors may make appointments today in the Olympic Room. Technology students may also make appointments there today.

Students in anthropology should go to the department office in the Home Economics Building and foreign language students should report to the department office in Wheeler Hall.

General Studies will make appointments Friday, Monday and Tuesday in the Olympic Room.

Greeks Must Push Learning

On Sept. 25 this paper reprinted an article from the Wall Street Journal concerning the nationwide state of the fraternity system. That same day the SIU Greeks discussed the current and probable future states of fraternity and sorority affairs on this campus.

In attendance were members of all campus fraternities and sororities, plus professional advisers from throughout the country. Among themselves and with University administrators, they discussed problems peculiar to this time and place.

The meeting did not degenerate into a back-patting affair. The Greeks were admonished by others and even more vehemently by themselves. They accepted the hard, cold fact that they have been slow to move in the past.

They recognized that despite their good points they suffer from a less than pristine image both on campus and in town. After this conclusion was reached the meetings and discussions went on, not to discuss "how bad we've got it," but how to make a positive change for the better.

The fraternities realize that SIU could live without them. The University could also live without the new Arena. The question is whether the school would be any better for the loss.

The Greeks know that they are in a position which demands that they continually justify their existence. They must work for, and with, the University to prove that they are a vital force to the strength and life of the school.

Thus, they must undergo continual scrutiny from without and within. They don't have to worry about outside criticism; it has always been there and it always will be. Only when the fraternities examine themselves from within can they accomplish that which is necessary for their continuance. That is, they can add scope to the University by providing something that is both unusual and valuable, and which only the fraternity system can offer.

The mere fact that fraternities are sometimes conservative is not in itself a condemnation. One of the most valuable assets a fraternity can contribute is the steady influence it has on a university. It will not be there for only four years. Greeks feel that to add to the betterment and stability of the University is to add to the fraternity itself, and vice versa.

The state of fraternities at Southern is by no means weak or passe. In any listing of those who are most involved in student affairs, the Greeks would surely pull down a solid majority.

Last year's redeclaration by the Interfraternity Council underlining integration policy, the fraternities' support of last Spring's Rational Action Movement, and the inter-Greek bloodbank, open to all SIU students—all serve to demonstrate the fraternities' desire to not only keep up with the demands of an ever-growing and changing university, but also to help set the pace.

These are all admirable and noteworthy achievements. But that was last year! The question is what the fraternities are going to offer during the 1965-66 year.

If last Saturday's meeting was any indication, offerings for the future will be on a much quieter scale, but of more value to both the University, individual fraternity members.

Improved academics—a deeper, broader and richer four-year experience—should be the new goal. The fraternities realize that students are coming to college with a new attitude. They have come to work, and work hard.

Scholarship has been important in the past, but it was never the main objective, except to demonstrate to the administration that Greeks aren't all bad. It was the fraternities' purpose to turn out well-rounded individuals. But society now demands the well-rounded "egghead."

Graduating from college doesn't mean a thing any more unless the student's diploma is accompanied by some knowledge of his field. Greek Row can no longer be the land of the "gentleman's C."

It is in this area, this year, that the fraternities must either excel or be lost as a meaningful aspect of University life. And it is in this area that fraternities must lay all hopes for the future.

Speaker programs, improved study atmosphere and professional guidance are some of the suggestions that came out of Saturday's meeting. But this is only a meager start. By themselves, suggestions are useless. Potential means nothing if it is not followed by production.

If in the future, as in past, the fraternities put their strength toward the single goal of academic achievement, the future of fraternities at SIU is secure, promising and perhaps even a little rosy.

"HECK OF A WAY TO RUN A PLANET"

Israel No Shangri-La, But Don't Tell Israeli!

By Arthur Hoppe

JERUSALEM—We have reached The Promised Land of milk and honey. It took the Israelis 2,000 years of blood and sweat to get here. Naturally, they are very proud and happy with their triumph.

It took me ten hours on an airliner from New York.

The Promised Land of milk and honey is, of course, the new state of Israel, a thin wedge of real estate about the size of New Jersey along the eastern Mediterranean. True, the northern half is a little rocky and scraggly. But the southern half—ah, the southern half!—it's an absolute desert.

On the positive side, however, is the climate. It's positively roasting in the summer and positively frigid in the winter. It is also dusty, noisy, crowded, poor and a political bedlam. It is bounded on one side by the sea and on the other by 50 million hostile Arabs who would just love to slit the throat of every Israeli.

But, as I say, you've never seen people so proud of their country. From dawn to dusk they're busy scratching rocks out of the arid soil, throwing up buildings and planting forests on the barren hillsides. And they are truly happy.

Consequently, for the benefit of tourists who may come after me, I should like to present a list of the inevitable questions they will be asked and the answers they should give. If they know what's good for them.

Q—Were't you surprised to see what a modern, prosperous, lush, verdant, wonderful country Israel is?

A—The view from Mt. Carmel is absolutely magnificent.

Q—Are you enjoying our lovely sunny climate?

A—And to think that 20 years ago this all used to be desert.

Q—Here is another public housing project for immigrants. Aren't they beautiful buildings?

A—And to think that 20 years ago this all used to be desert.

Q—See how many motor cars we have on our roads? Invariably asked by the driver who takes both hands off the wheel to gesticulate while staring you in the eye. And you're sitting in the back seat.)

A—What is the make of that truck coming at us. Head on.

Q—What do you really think of Ben-Gurion?

At this point, the best thing to do is swallow a chicken bone. For there seems to be a slight difference of opinion as to whether the former prime minister is the George Washington of his country. Or the Benedict Arnold.

You will also be asked, of course, how long you plan to stay in Israel. The best answer, I've found, is 42 years. To which your host will inevitably reply: "But how do you expect to really see Israel in only 42 years?"

But Israel, to be honest, has one overwhelming tourist attraction. And that's the Israeli. He is, generally, speaking, tough, cynical, funny, informal and, underneath it all, intensely idealistic, fiercely democratic and tremendously alive. After 2,000 years he's reached The Promised Land only to find that it is at best a Land of Promise.

So now he's got to make the milk and honey flow. Along with the television sets, electric toothbrushes and automatic can openers. Just as we Americans have done. And I, for one, will be a little sorry when he succeeds. For I think I'm beginning to understand why he is so happy here. And, oddly enough, so am I.

Red China Wouldn't Use 'Bomb' Tactically, But 'Nuclear Club' Membership Buys Power

(Editor's note: This is the second of three articles in which Edward Neilan discusses the threat of nuclear proliferation in Asia. The first (Sept. 28) concerned Red Chinese nuclear capabilities.)

By Edward Neilan
Copley News Service

Morton Halperin, in a paper prepared for the Council on Foreign Relations in New York, says "The Chinese are undoubtedly devoting significant attention to developing fusion weapons, and may be able to detonate a fusion device (hydrogen bomb) in the near future."

It is significant that the Chinese have placed stress on the manufacture of a fusion plant much earlier in the development of nuclear weapons than has any other state. It means that the Peking regime is taking a shortcut to possession of a fusion or hydrogen weapon which has great counterpopulation potential, as opposed to tactical military uses.

All evidence indicates that the Chinese Communists are aware of the importance of developing delivery systems. These need not be extremely long-range. Surface-to-surface missiles with a capability of around 1000 miles—even less—would be sufficient to intimidate neighboring countries.

Meanwhile, China-produced TU-4 bombers can be modified to carry nuclear bombs, even though the plane is vulnerable to anti-aircraft fire.

Peking is pushing ahead with development of sea-based and land-based rockets and missiles.

Although exact details of Communist China's nuclear program are unavailable, it appears to be under the overall direction of Wang Kang-chang, who was trained in the West.

The missile program is directed by Chien Hsueh-shen, who worked in U.S. rocket programs before returning to China through Hong Kong in 1955.

Most scientists in the Chinese nuclear program were trained at the Joint Research Institute at Dubna, in the Soviet Union.

All of this leaves little doubt that Communist China attaches a very high priority to becoming a nuclear power.

Specifically, motivations stated or implied in Chinese documents may be summarized as follows:

1. Desire for a deterrent against U.S. attack.
2. Desire for increased influence within the Communist world and the Afro-Asian world.

3. Desire for additional means to support such wars of "national liberation" as that in Viet Nam.

4. Desire for further means for establishing Chinese hegemony in Asia.

Because of the war in Viet Nam, the most pressing question is that of nuclear weapons for wars of "national liberation." How would the Chinese propose to make direct use of nuclear weapons in the Viet Nam war?

Judging from Chinese public statements and military documents, Peking does not see the necessity nor desirability of direct use of nuclear weapons in a limited war.

They argue that the intermingling of forces in "wars of liberation," makes use of nuclear weapons inappropriate.

In their definitive statement on this matter, "Two Different Lines on the Question of War and Peace (People's Daily, Nov. 19, 1963)," the Chinese reiterate that it is the loyalty of men that is important—not the particular weapons system.

However, the Chinese are convinced that the Russians are unwilling to support such wars, hence the Chinese must assume leadership in this area. They believe they can assume it more effectively as a nuclear power.

Three on Agriculture Faculty Write Articles in Journals

Three School of Agriculture faculty members are authors of articles appearing in current professional publications.

David L. Armstrong, assistant professor of agricultural industries, is coauthor of the article, "Economies in the Acquisition of Inputs—a Pilot Study," published in the current quarterly issue of Canadian Journal of Agricultural Economics, an official publication of the Canadian Agricultural Economics Society.

Sharing authorship is J. Edwin Faris, associate professor of agricultural economics in the University of California at Davis.

William Herr, professor of agricultural industries, recently had a technical paper, "Capital Formation: Its Importance and Determinants," published in the Australian Journal of Agricultural Economics, publication of the Australian Agricultural Economics Society.

The material was prepared while Herr was on leave as a visiting lecturer in 1962-64 at the University of New England in New South Wales, Australia.

Dwight R. McCurdy, new member of the Department of Forestry faculty, has two articles dealing with forest recreation appearing in current publications. His "The Forest Recreation Provider—Who Is He?" is in The Journal of Soil and Water Conservation.

The U.S. Forest Service has just issued his article, "A Survey of Ohio's Forest Picnic Business," as Central States Forest Experiment Station Paper No. 37.

THOMAS E. JORDAN

Special Education Chairman Named

Thomas E. Jordan, chairman of the Department of Educational Psychology and Guidance has been appointed to serve also as acting chairman of the Department of Special Education.

The added chairmanship resulted from the resignation last month of Oliver P. Kolstoe as head of special education. Kolstoe resigned to join the faculty at Colorado State College.

A native of Leeds, England, Jordan joined the SIU faculty in the fall of 1963. He previously had been director of the Center for Teacher Education at Tulane University in New Orleans.

Mexican Named Visiting Professor In Anthropology

A man whose prompt action insured collaboration between North American and Mexican archaeologists that has lasted for more than a decade has been appointed a visiting professor at SIU for the current year.

Ramon Pina Chan, whom J. Charles Kelley, director of the SIU Museum, terms "one of the three highest-ranking archaeologists of Mexico," will teach part-time in the Department of Anthropology and devote one-third of his time to the museum.

Pina Chan is conservator-in-chief of archaeology for Mexico's National Museum of Anthropology, professor of anthropology at the National School of Archaeology, University of Mexico, and assessor of the Free Textbook Commission for the national government.

In 1954, Kelley said, "disident elements in the state government of Durango confiscated all our specimens at the end of our summer field session there. They brought pressure to bear on Pina Chan to induce him to support their political move."

SIU Crime Study Courses Described In 50 Countries

Training courses in the prevention of crime and treatment of offenders offered at SIU are described in a multi-language brochure which has been distributed to member countries of the United Nations and American Libraries in about 50 foreign lands.

The SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections' training program has had correctional administrators, prison officials, probation and parole officers, juvenile court judges and community welfare workers from nations around the world enrolled in the past.

Robert J. Brooks, director of the center's international training, said many of the trainees have been sponsored by the Agency for International Development, U.S. State Department. Others have come under United Nations sponsorship and scholarship assistance offered by individual governments.

Brooks said the training courses usually are 18 to 24 weeks in length. Courses include meetings with leaders in various fields of corrections.

Rusk, Gromyko Talks Offer Little Optimism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk was host to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at dinner Wednesday night in a new U.S. effort to see where agreements might be possible with the Russians.

There was little U.S. expectation, in advance of the diplomatic dinner at Rusk's Waldorf suite, that Gromyko would disclose a shift in Moscow policy.

The U.S. impression is that the Viet Nam war and Soviet rivalry with Red China have made the Soviets reluctant to reach U.S.-Soviet accommodations at this time.

Rusk arranged to go over a broad range of outstanding international and U.S.-Soviet issues with Gromyko to see if any item warranted further exploring. The two will probably meet again, as they did when they were last at the U.N. General Assembly 10 months ago.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union have put forth a number of disarmament proposals ranging from complete disarmament by stages to halting the spread of nuclear weapons. Washington has suggested a dismantling of some atomic warheads.

But a wide gulf remains between the versions, and not only on the long-standing inspection issue. The Moscow plan for banning nuclear weapons spread, for instance, would snuff out the U.S. project for atomic sharing with European allies.

Other questions from India-Pakistan to U.S.-Soviet trade were up for discussion, but the Viet Nam struggle cast a shadow over the whole picture.

In other events at the United Nations Wednesday:

--French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville said the U.N. must avoid use of force in trying to keep world peace. In a policy speech delivered to the 117-nation General Assembly he said the United Nations should also avoid threatening any member nation with economic, diplomatic or military penalties.

--African, Communist bloc and most Asian countries walked out of the General Assembly in a mass protest against hearing a policy declaration by South African Foreign Minister Hilgard Muller.

U.S.-Soviet Relations Called 'Complicated'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party chief, Leonid Brezhnev, declared Wednesday that the war in Viet Nam

"greatly complicated" Soviet-American relations and they "show a clearly evident tendency toward freeing."

Brezhnev addressed the party's Central Committee at the end of a three-day session that approved an intricate reform of Soviet industry, fired an inefficient party official and called for a new party congress.

In his speech, made public by the Soviet news agency Tass, Brezhnev said:

All-White Jury Gets Rights Slaying Case

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Both sides rested their case Wednesday evening in the manslaughter trial of Thomas L. Coleman for the slaying of a white civil rights worker.

The defense produced testimony earlier in the day that the victim, Jonathan M. Daniels, 27, a seminary student from New Hampshire, was armed with a pocket knife.

The case went to the jury of white men Wednesday night. Coleman's lawyers spent 70 minutes in their effort to show that the defendant, a part-time deputy sheriff, shot in self-defense last Aug. 20 when Daniels, 27, of Keene, N.H., was killed at a Hayneville country store.

The prosecution rested after its witnesses said Daniels was unarmed. A statement that the victim's companion, a priest, was shot as he turned to leave the scene also was read by the prosecution.

The first defense witness, Joe Bell Coker, a cousin of the defendant, testified that he saw a knife in Daniels' hand and that the priest, the Rev. Richard Morrisroe of Chicago, held something that looked like a pistol.

tions with the United States incompatible with the aggressive imperialism against fraternal Socialist country Viet Nam.

He said that the Soviet Union has given North Viet Nam "a considerable amount of weapons and military equipment" and the aid will be continued.

Help to North Viet Nam is "the duty of the strongest and best developed Socialist power," Brezhnev said.

Brezhnev complained that Peking's leaders had rebuffed Moscow's attempts to "normalize relations" with Red China but he said Russia must continue "the search for ways to settle the disagreement."

In Washington U.S. officials found nothing surprising in Brezhnev's speech.

India Makes Victory Claims Despite Truce

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India claimed Wednesday it has gained the upper hand in fighting that erupted between rangers and camel units in the Rajasthan Desert despite the cease-fire agreement with Pakistan.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said "grievous losses in men and equipment" have been inflicted on Pakistani units, which he charged were trying to infiltrate the West Indian State of Rajasthan.

He said 27 Pakistanis were killed and 26 captured in clashes near the villages of Kelnor, Dedusar and Chotan. War booty seized by the Indians was reported to include "18 camels complete with saddlery."

In Rawalpindi, a Pakistani spokesman said Indian troops committed another truce violation Tuesday night.

The spokesman alleged an Indian patrol "sneaked into an area held by Pakistani troops."

In New Delhi, the Indian spokesman said India had transmitted to the United Nations charges that Pakistan had committed 42 "serious violations" since the cease-fire supposedly went into effect before dawn last Thursday.

Washington Condemns Red Trial Threats

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States warned Communist North Viet Nam Wednesday against "war crimes trials" of captured American pilots, saying such trials would be merely a smoke-screen for reprisals prohibited by a 1949 treaty on prisoner treatment. U.S. officials are privately concerned about the threat of the Hanoi government. At least a half dozen American pilots are held in North Viet Nam. In South Viet Nam two captured American fighting men were executed by the Viet Cong two days ago and one earlier in the year. The United States denounced the executions as brutal murders.

Some authorities in the U.S. capital believe Communist tactics may be moving the war into a more savage stage. Executions of captured U.S. flyers in the north would raise serious questions of possible counteraction by this government, which could further expand the conflict.

The threat of trials came from the North Vietnamese government in a letter to the International Red Cross at

NORTH VIET NAM'S HO

Geneva. It declared American and Vietnamese pilots captured in its territory would be treated as war criminals who must face tribunals.

An official Hanoi publication hinted that Americans captured on the ground in the future may be executed summarily.

In Miami, Fla., Asst. U.S. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester termed the Communist declaration "a resort to primeval savagery."

U.S. officials in Saigon had no official reaction but informants said they were concerned over the threats.

Exactly what North Viet Nam intends to do under the announced policy was not clear in Washington.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said Wednesday, "Any effort to brand the pilots as war criminals and try them in kangaroo fashion would be a smokescreen for reprisals."

He said he meant reprisals for the execution by the South Vietnamese government of Communist Viet Cong terrorists captured in South Viet Nam.

McCloskey said war crimes trials "would be a transparent attempt to evade the clear prohibition on reprisals, which is contained in the 1949 Geneva Convention.

"Any effort to cloak such actions as so-called war crimes through the device of mock trial would be utterly unwarranted and a deliberate evasion of the obligations undertaken by Hanoi when it adhered to the 1949 convention," he said.

U.S. Wary of Castro Promise To Lift Sugar Cane Curtain

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Fidel Castro's promise to lift Cuba's curtain for refugees was studied cautiously Wednesday in Washington and viewed in some quarters as an attempt to embarrass the United States.

Top exile leaders in Miami, including the prime minister's sister, Juaniia, denounced it as a trick, a trap and a propaganda stunt.

In a speech Tuesday night in Havana, Castro said any Cubans with relatives in the United States can leave the Communist island after Oct. 10 if they first notify the Interior Ministry.

Castro also said anyone in the United States, "no matter who it is," could go to the island by ship and bring relatives back "with all guarantees."

Sources in Washington said there would be no comment by the Johnson administration until a number of government agencies complete a careful scrutiny of Castro's speech.

Officials cautioned there is good reason to believe that Castro wants to designate those who will be permitted to leave Cuba.

The officials said he always has appeared willing to get rid of people such as the old and the ill, who are a drain on his country's shaky economy.

The official version of Cas-Kerner Criticized In Highway Debate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)— Gov. Otto Kerner's proposal to shift Interstate funds from U.S. 66 to a new route between Lincoln and LaSalle-Peru was supported and denounced Wednesday at a public hearing.

An overflow crowd of more than 500 persons, mostly from the Peoria and Bloomington areas, attended the meeting conducted by the Illinois Public Works Department at the state fairgrounds.

Sen. William Harris, R-Pontiac, said he was concerned whether "the executive department or political judgment" rather than highway technicians were determining the location of Illinois highways.

Coastal Towns Spared Storm

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)— Debbie, a tropical storm that fought a losing battle against a cold front, broke up Wednesday just south of the Mississippi coast.

No damage, no flooding and little heavy surf were reported at Pensacola, which had looked for a battle with the storm.

The Weather Bureau said Debbie fell apart Wednesday afternoon about 30 miles south of Biloxi, Miss., and that it would issue no more bulletins.

Heavy rains caused flooding along parts of coastal Georgia. But rainfall was relatively light along the rest of the Gulf Coast.

Inland Waterways Executives To Meet at SIU In November

A three-day management seminar for executives of the shallow draft water carrier industry will be held here Nov. 15-17.

With participation limited to about 75 people, the seminar is being conducted by the University's Transportation Institute in cooperation with the Division of Technical and Adult Education and the School of Business.

It is believed to be the first university-based conference designed exclusively for inland waterways executives, according to Alexander R. MacMillan, director of Southern's Transportation Institute.

Speakers will include: Cmdr. Lawrence Jarrett, acting dean of the United States Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N. Y.;

John Mee, the Mead-Johnson professor of management, Graduate School of Business, Indiana University;

Grasham Houghland, executive vice president of Houghland Barge Line, Paducah, and chairman of the board of American Waterway Operators;

Robert E. Hill, dean of Southern's School of Business and Fremont Shull, chairman of the University's Department of Management.

Among topics to be covered in the three-day session are:

"Today's Challenges that Take the Measure of Management," "Responsive Management for Coping with the Problems," "The Tools of Management and How to Use Them," "Inland Marine Underwriting: Practical Coverage Under Admiralty Law," "The Case for Marine Financing from the Bankers' Viewpoint," and "Managing to Control Costs: Repairing Latent Cost Leaks."

Participating in a panel of constructive critics "As Your Shippers See You" will be representatives of the four major types of cargo shippers, including Ross L. Thorfinnson, vice president of Archer Daniels Midland Co., Minneapolis; Robert Bryant, manager for traffic and transportation, Dow Chemical Co., Freeport, Texas; John E. Gross, assistant general traffic manager for Inland Steel Corp., Chicago; and Spence A.

Hallberg, superintendent of transportation for American Oil Co., Chicago.

Moderator of the panel will be Richard W. Bogan, assistant manager of operations, terminals division, General American Transportation Corp., Chicago.

The management seminar reflects support within the industry which is contributing to Southern's growing leadership in education and research in connection with the shallow draft waterway carriers, MacMillan pointed out.

The University's Transportation Institute has conducted the Western Rivers Safety Coordinating Conference, schools for towboat masters and chief engineers, marine chemists conference, marine financing management courses, an admiralty law seminar, and "Operation Riversafe," a research study for the U. S. Coast Guard.

Funny as a Broken Back

Gems of Illinois Wit, Humor Collected by Folklorist at SIU

"As unpredictable as Southern Illinois weather."

This is usually the first local proverb to which students at SIU are exposed. It is, however, not really a local saying.

According to Frances M. Barbour, SIU folklorist, there is a similar saying in every part of the country. Still, Illinois is not lacking in original sayings.

In her book, "Proverbs and Proverbial Phrases of Illinois," she lists what may very well be the last word on the state's mother-wit.

The 213-page book, representing six years of research, was published Sept. 23 by the SIU Press. Between its fabric-bound covers are some 4,000 proverbs, expressions and salty sayings that provide a mirror to the cultural heritage of our region.

Among the sayings listed are some more ancient than the first settlers to the region, and others coined by the younger set, probably within the year.

Some of the newer ones include "graceful as the bird they call the elephant," "funny as a broken back," "sharp as a beach ball" and "that's me all over said the bug, as it was squashed against the windshield."

Gems like these rest side by side (in alphabetical order) with oldtimers like "big enough to hunt bear with a stick" and "it's going to clabber up and drip" (it's going to rain).

High imagery, a sense of the poetic, and similes as hard-biting as they are humorous, seem to be trademarks of the Illinois proverb. "He can shoot an ant off a poppy seed" nas it all.

Other examples: "Hunkered down like a frog in a hail-storm" ... "sharp as a stucco bathtub" ... "breathless as an August afternoon" ... "spread out like a quail on a dozen goose eggs" ... "if he had a brain, it would sound like a BB in a boxcar."

Others by type: Irony—"I'm so mad I could eat spring chicken."

Lyrical—"Delicate as a butterfly walking on a lily pad."

Alliterative—"Heart as heavy as a hunk of hog liver."

Homespun—"Come mess up a platter and waller up a bed." (eat and stay the night).

Regional Hip—"Exciting as a day in Makanda."

Council of 100 Will Honor Outstanding Board Member

For the eighth time since 1957, the Educational Council of 100, Inc., this fall will name a Southern Illinois school board member of the year.

The selection will be announced at the council's annual meeting Oct. 12 in University Center.

Russell D. Rendleman, executive director, mailed 270 nomination forms to administrators of school districts in the lower 31 counties of Illinois, the area covered in the operations of the council. Administrators were asked to nominate their top board members on basis of leadership, service, cooperation and other evidence that might indicate the merit of the nominee.

Rendleman said a number of excellent nominations have been received. Selection will be made by a committee from the University.

Last year R.A. Bonifield of West Frankfort was selected board member of the year.

Language Course Remains Open

There are still a few vacancies in the staff and faculty foreign language course which will begin at 7 p.m. today in the English Language Services center.

The courses in French and Spanish are open to all staff and faculty members, including civil service employees and graduate and research assistants. It is being sponsored by the International Services Division.

Meeting time for the 12-week course has been tentatively scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week. Classes will last two hours and will stress conversation.

In 1963 Otis Lutz of Waterloo was the winner.

There was no selection in 1962, but in other years the following were named: 1957, Wilbert Schneider, of Freeburg; 1958, Robert M. Krebs, of Mount Vernon; 1959, Harold D. Stedelin, of Centralia; 1960, George McKibben, of Dixon Springs; and in 1961, William Handrich, of Belleville.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected during the council's annual meeting. The Educational Council of 100 is a group of educators and lay people devoted to advancement of education in the 31 southernmost counties.

Munch to Be Guest In Radio Program

Peter A. Munch, professor of sociology, will be featured guest on "Insight," interview program broadcast by radio station WRJ, Anna, today.

Don Michel, "Insight" host, said the show is scheduled for 10:15 a.m. "live" and will be rebroadcast at 8:30 p.m. on FM.

Munch will discuss his long-term study of the isolated people of Tristan da Cunha, including a visit to the island from which he returned earlier this year.

He had visited the Tristans in England in 1962 while they were displaced by volcanic eruptions on the island, and was part of a scientific expedition to the island in 1938.

International Congress

UN Envoy Goldberg Will Speak at SIU

By Fred Beyer
Arthur J. Goldberg, the United States ambassador to the United Nations, is expected to close the final session of Vision 65, an international congress to be held Oct. 21-23 at SIU to discuss the ramifications of the current "communications explosion."

The announcement was made by Herbert Roan, educational coordinator of the congress and lecturer in the Department of Design.

Roan said he took particular pleasure in announcing that students, faculty and staff from both the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses have been invited to attend the ses-ing R. Buckminster Fuller, internationally known SIU research professor of design; Roger Stevens, presidential adviser on the arts and opening speaker for the congress.

Aubrey E. Singer of The British Broadcasting Corporation, Masaru Kazumi, editor of Graphic Design magazine; Ousman Socie Diop, ambassador from Senegal to the United Nations; Willem Sandberg of the Israel Museum; Edward A. Hamilton of Time-Life Books; Max Bill, German architect; Eugenio Carmi, Italian graphic artist and designer; and many more.

Still on the "hoped for" list because of various previous commitments are Dr. Walter Grey, one of Europe's leading neurologists; Bruce MacKenzie, of the IBM World Trade Corporation, and Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas.

To be presented during the congress will be a "western hemisphere premiere" of a composition by noted Dutch composer, Gottfried Michael Koenig, who will lecture on the influence of electronics on the esthetics and structure of new music.

Another feature of the congress will be a film festival presented by Stan VanDerBeek, who will present the festival as a corollary exhibit of Vision 65. VanDerBeek will speak on opening day about his avant-garde films.

sions of the congress without having to pay the $85 registration fee.

Students and faculty from surrounding universities can also receive special financial consideration in attending Vision 65 by applying Roan in care of the Department of Design.

The only request made by Vision 65 coordinators of students and faculty members taking advantage of the offer is that they at no time occupy seats reserved for fully paid delegates.

This special consideration, in the words of Roan, "comes through the good efforts of the Department of Design and the International Center of the Typographic Arts," cosponsors of the congress.

Will Burtin of New York, program chairman for Vision 65, noted in calling the congress: "The time has come when we must question the usefulness of an opportunistic and essentially planless attitude toward employment, content and design forms in mass communication."

Dozens of distinguished leaders from many fields have answered Burtin's call includ-

Opinion Split on Giving 'The Pill'

Pembroke College, the women's division of Brown University, has been in the news for being involved in a controversial issue involving the prescription of contraceptive pills to unmarried students.

Two students, referred to the college health service by a clergyman, were given "the pill." Both girls are over 21 and were engaged at the time and one has since been married.

The health director's action was backed up by University President Barnaby C. Keeney. Officials said this action does not constitute a blanket prescription to any who come calling. The action was taken after "careful examination of the circumstances."

Curious as to how SIU students would react to this issue, the Daily Egyptian conducted an informal poll. All the men questioned were in favor of the action, and mixed reactions were received from the coeds.

Tony Ramos, a senior from East Providence, R.I., said that it was a step in the right direction—recognition of the changes in mores of contemporary American society.

Kathy Simons, junior from Marengo, said she was very surprised that a university would do something like that. She added, "It was probably brought on by changing moral standards."

Dave Anderson, junior from Lombard, thought it represented a step forward in problems of checking the population boom and illegitimacy.

John Epperheimer, sophomore from Harrisburg, said he didn't see anything wrong with it as long as the girls were over 21.

A coed who didn't give her name said she thought that these matters should only be handled through a private doctor, not a university health service.

Mary Brown, a graduate student from Huntington, N.Y., commented, "I think it's a good idea—girls may indulge in sexual relations whether they get the pills or not. I think this prevents illegitimacy and rushed marriages."

Another female, who wished to remain anonymous, took issue with the point that certain girls were given the pills and others were not.

Mrs. Otto Kerner Gives Inaugural Gown to SIU

Mrs. Otto Kerner, wife of the governor of Illinois, has presented her inaugural gown to the School of Home Economics at SIU for its Historic Costumes Collection, Eileen E. Quigley, dean of the school, has announced. The handmade gown, of pink satin was worn by Mrs. Kerner at the Inauguration Ball the evening of Jan. 9, 1961.

Designed with fitted bodice, and encrusted with crystal beads, pearls and rhinestones, the gown has a bell-shaped skirt with front panel similarly beaded.

In her letter of presentation, Mrs. Kerner wrote, "I am proud to be a part of this program and the ultimate collection of historic gowns which you shall receive. This is a worthwhile endeavor and I wish you much success in its completion for future generations."

Perkins Gets Post At Fisheries Lab

Harold Perkins, former Carbonale Community High School and SIU educational television teacher in biological science, is the new assistant director of SIU's Co-operative Fisheries Research Laboratory.

Perkins assumed his new duties this month. He returned in July from a two-year assignment in Viet Nam as an adviser with SIU's elementary teaching team there.

A native of Benton, Perkins earned an SIU bachelor's degree in botany and a master's in zoology. He taught at Pinckneyville and Carbonale's Lincoln Junior High before going to CCHS in 1955. He became an instructor for the Southern Illinois Educational Television network in 1961.

No Irish Luck

McCartney Suffers Dislocated Shoulder, McGinnis, Jones Also on Injured List

By JOE COOK

Ron McCartney may be Irish, but he hasn't had much luck lately. McCartney, a sophomore offensive guard on Southern's football team, dislocated his left shoulder in Saturday's game against the University of Louisville and will be out of action for several weeks.

In McCartney's case, it was like lightning striking twice. He suffered an identical injury last year in practice and missed the final two freshman games.

McCartney plans to have the shoulder operated on before the start of next season. Mike McGinnis, a senior end, is scheduled for surgery today for the removal of cartilage in his right knee. McGinnis expects to be ready to play again by Homecoming. Dave Jones, a sophomore coming Saturday for four Saluki football players when the team plays in Youngstown. Quarterbacks Doug Mougey and Tom Calabria are both from Rittman, and John Ference is from Parma Heights, and Mitch Krawczyk is from nearby Cleveland.

Southern's opponents Saturday have an unusual nickname, "Penguins." The name was adopted back in the 1930s when the Youngstown basketball team, not having warm-up jacks, flapped their hands up and down in the manner of penguins to keep warm. One fan quipped that they looked like a bunch of penguins and the name has been used since.

halfback, is the third Saluki who will miss this week's game in Youngstown, Ohio. Jones, who hasn't played this season, is suffering from bad knees.

Dave Cronin, starting junior linebacker, received a severe bruise of the thigh but has recovered and will play Saturday.

Southern's football team is flying high these days. As in recent years, the team flies to all its road games.

Two DC3's are needed to carry the entire team. One is owned by the University, the other is chartered from Interstate Air Lines.

It will be an Ohio home-

Have you seen big muscular athletes walking around campus with an "S" shaved on top of their heads?

These students are members of the freshman football team that opens its season here Monday night against Southeast Missouri State.

The "S" stands for Southern and is part of the initiation that the freshman players go through each year.

"We used to have a special night set aside for the ritual," said a varsity football player. "But now we just take them aside any chance we get and shave their heads."

"Most of them cooperate," he added.

SIU Transportation Service Outlines Its Revised Policies

The policies relating to the University Transportation Service have been revised in an effort to reduce confusion and "redtape."

The Transportation Service, which is responsible for the care and distribution of all University vehicles, has issued the following information concerning use of vehicles:

They may be checked out on a trip basis, or a weekly, monthly or semipermanent basis depending upon requirements. This regulation does not apply to farm machinery.

A department may check out a University vehicle from one of the pools by submitting a transportation request form as far in advance of the trip as possible. An assignment of an automobile can be made only upon the request by the head of a department or a fiscal officer. If the vehicle is to be used longer than one week for other than a specific trip, approval must also be secured from the appropriate vice president.

Vehicles are normally located at Transportation Service. If the user is operating his vehicle in the Carbondale or Edwardsville area, he should return it to University property each night unless late arrival or early departure makes such a procedure unreasonable.

Any person who has a valid driver's license, and who is authorized by a department head or fiscal officer, is permitted to drive a University vehicle.

The driver is responsible to insure that the vehicle is used only for official business. He is required to report accidents as required by law. He should report faulty operation of the vehicle.

Should the driver have mechanical problems while outside the Carbondale or Edwardsville areas, he is authorized to have the repairs completed and receive a receipt for payment if the cost is less than $50. If the amount of repairs could exceed $50 or if the person is near a University campus, he must contact the University Transportation Service for advice.

Southern, Youngstown Meet There Saturday

Southern's football team hits the road for the second straight week Saturday when it meets the Youngstown University in an afternoon game.

Both teams enter the game with records of 1-1 this season. Like Southern, the Penguins won their opener but lost last week. Youngstown stomped Central Michigan 35-14 in its first game, then lost to Moorhead State 12-9 last Saturday.

The Ohioans are relatively inexperienced and lack size at some key positions, but they come from an area known for its rugged football. Youngstown has been hampered by the loss of three starters from last year's backfield which led the team to a 6-1-2 record. The biggest hole was left at quarterback where Coach Dwight Beede must choose from four sophomores, including one who weighs only 127 pounds.

The Penguins have more experience and depth at half-back positions, however, especially in Al Grossi and Joe Ceremuga Grossi is a 165-pound scatback, known for his breakaway ability. Ceremuga weighs 172 pounds and is more of a power runner than Grossi. The Penguins have fairly good size in fullbacks, 205-pound Joe Mogulich and 200-pound Steve Medwick. Neither has much experience, however, so the starting assignment could go to a smaller man, possibly Ray Repasky, a 176-pound senior.

In the line, Youngstown has better size and experience. The veteran in the line is Ray Rohan, a 190-pound senior who was voted the most valuable offensive lineman last year. Rohan plays guard on offense and doubles as a linebacker on defense.

The other guard will probably be Glenn Willis, a 196-pound senior who also

Address Changes Needed by Friday

Students who have had changes in their local, parent or home address since registering for fall quarter must report the change to the Registrar's Office by Friday.

doubles as defensive line-backer. Also strong this year are Youngstown's tackles Jacob Ferro and Bill House. Ferro weighs 215 pounds and is said to be the team's fastest interior lineman, and House is the team's biggest man at 240 pounds.

Experience is the key word at the ends for Youngstown with four returning let-terms. The most impressive is Roy Winston, a speedy 190-pound junior. Beede has been Youngstown's coach since the school started the sport in 1938. In that time his teams have won 121 games, lost 77 and tied 12.

Beede is the man who introduced the use of flags to signal a foul during the game. Prior to that, a horn was blown.

Swimming Scheduled

Competitive swimming for women will begin at 5:45 p.m. Thursday at the University School swimming pool. The program is sponsored by the Department of Physical Education for Women.

DWIGHT V. BEEDE

to stop play. Eight years ago, he was named "Small College Coach of the Year."

Teke Ole-Impics to Feature Parade, Games, Coronation

The annual Teke Ole-Impics will get under way Saturday with a parade from Greek Row past Thompson Point and on to McAndrew Stadium.

The parade will precede the games, which will start at 1:30 p.m.

There, contestants from the five sororities will compete in the games and await the decision on selection of queen of the Ole-Impics.

The program is open to the public without admission charge.

The five events will be the sack race, a tug of war, a 'sackfrog' race, a balloon race and a spin-around game.

In last year's Ole-Impics Sigma Kappa scored a double Victory by winning the games and by having one of its members elected queen.

Eileen Brockway of Plainfield was chosen queen last year by the eight fraternities on campus. The voting is held the day before the games, and the name of the winner is announced at the Ole-Impics.

Coed Badminton Club Will Meet

The coed badminton club will meet from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Mondays in the Women's Gymnasium. Rackets are provided.

The team will have meets with other schools this year.

Purdue Star Griese Wins 'Back' Honors

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue quarterback Bob Griese, Associated Press Back of the Week, is more than a passing fancy as an All-America candidate.

Griese wrecked Notre Dame 25-21 with his phenomenal throwing, but as Irish athletic director, Ed (Moose) Krause, commented:

"This boy does everything but sweep out Purdue's stadium." Long before Griese had wrapped up his 19-for-22 machine-gunning of Notre Dame for 283 yards and three touchdowns, he had punted the starch out of the Irish in the first quarter.

The 185-pound Boilermaker junior lofted his first punt to Notre Dame's seven. The next time Griese punted, the ball rolled dead on the Irish six.

Griese also carried the ball 15 times for 39 yards as the next busiest Boilermaker back to Gordon Teter, who rushed 23 times for 90 yards.

Griese's extra point boot after the final Purdue touchdown put the game beyond a possible 24-24 tie if the Irish clicked on a field goal.

Oh, yes, Griese also kicked off for Purdue and once, as the last defender, nailed Notre Dame's Bill, Wolski in mid-field when it appeared the Irish rambler might go all the way.

As the result of all his heroics Griese topped the first report by the AP's regional All-America board.

"Griese probably is the standout collegiate player in the nation," observed board member Gordon Graham of the Lafayette, Ind., Journal and Courier.

Oliver Kechle of the Milwaukee Journal commented that the one Irish interception—it came when a defender hooked his arm—"speaks almost as eloquently as Griese's completions."

Griese's favorite target, end Bob Hadrick—who snared eight passes for 113 yards against Notre Dame—also was lauded by the board.

"Purdue didn't beat Notre Dame with Griese and Hadrick alone, but might have lost by four or five touchdowns without them," said Bert Bertine of the Champaign-Urbana, Ill., Courier.

Other early All-America prospects:

Ends—Jim Beirne, Purdue; Dave Long, Iowa; Aaron Brown, Minnesota; John Wright, Illinois; Gene Washington, Michigan State; Cas Banaszek, Northwestern; and Alan Page, Notre Dame.

Tackles—Karl Singer and Jerry Shay, Purdue; Bill Yearby and Tom Mack, Michigan; Gale Gillingham, Minnesota.

Guards—Dick Arrington, Notre Dame, and John Nilan, Iowa.

Linebackers—George Webster, Michigan State, and Don Hansen, Illinois.

Quarterbacks—Steve Juday, Michigan State; John Hankinson, Minnesota; Fred Custardo, Illinois; and Gary Snook, Iowa.

Halfbacks—Bill Wolski, Notre Dame; Gordon Teter, Purdue; Clint Jones, Michigan State; and Ron Rector, Northwestern.

Fullbacks—Jim Grabowski, Illinois, and Bob Apisa, Michigan State.

Secret of Cell Energy Sought In Two-Year Research Study

What gives a cell in a living organism its energy?

A graduate student in microbiology at SIU, Charles E. Yarris, has spent two years searching for the answer, using specially bred yeast cells.

Yarris has made the first reported comparative study of the enzyme aconitase which is vital in the citric acid or energy cycle of the cell's metabolic process.

He has submitted the results of his research, carried out under the direction of Maurice M. Ogur, chairman of the Department of Microbiology, as the thesis for his master's degree.

Yarris' investigation is part of a broader attack in SIU's Biological Research Laboratory, headed by Ogur, on the problem of how cells—in particular, yeast cells that have been bred to be deficient in their utilization of certain nutrients—manufacture or fail to manufacture the enzymes that convert nutrients into protein, acids, fats and other compounds that sustain life.

Yarris attended St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., completing the bachelor of science degree in biology there.
