DAILY EGYPTIAN

Carbondale, Ill. - On Saturday I'll walk across the stage at the Arena, receive my diploma, get in the car and leave it behind. That's a crazy thought. This place has been the setting for so many memories in the past four and a half years — so many nights of random debauchery and crazy shenanigans with friends that I have no doubt I'll still be talking to in 20 years.

It's hard to imagine my college career without the Daily Egyptian. I first set foot in this newsroom before I had even been to my first class. In my eight semesters as a photographer for the newspaper I've been on some wild assignments. I was with the men's basketball team as they fell last year at San Jose in the Sweet 16 round of the NCAA tournament; I've been with the Army ROTC as they learned to fire automatic weapons; I was at the funeral for Warren Hileman, the last registered World War I veteran in Illinois; and I dare say that my life was saved by our own Governor Rod Blagojevich when he stopped me from accidentally taking a backward step off the roof of the Marion Civic Center.

I've loved my job here at the DE. This newsroom has become my home and the staff has become my family. I've spent more nights than I care to admit sleeping here and I've made some lifelong friends. I've met so many awesome people — true characters of Carbondale, such as blues singer "Big" Larry Williams, SIU flag master Bob Reid and the always insightful Rev. Joseph Brown.

There's a lot about this school and this town that I'm going to miss; however, as I drive out of town Saturday afternoon, my front seat loaded with boxes and my dog sprawled out in the back, I won't have any regrets. This place has been great to me and provided a plethora of opportunities for which I'm thankful. I'm thankful to be a journalist and to have had the privilege to meet some of the people and go some of the places I've been and to take you, the reader, along.
