Mac Retires From Command With Compliments, Degree

By Bob Hays
Col. Alexander R. MacMillan, retired from the command of the Southern AFROTC wing in an impressive change of command ceremony in Shryock Auditorium Tuesday morning.
MacMillan will be retained by the University for a staff position.

MacMillan told the Egyptian today he will definitely join the University staff Monday.
He will join the staff unassigned, he said.
MacMillan leaves for Boston and New York Tuesday, and will tour Italy, Switzerland, Canada and England before returning to Carbondale April 25.
The commandant of the national AFROTC program, Maj. Gen. Turner C. Rodgers, presented Col. MacMillan with the Air Force Commendation Medal for his outstanding contribution to the ROTC program as commanding officer of the SIU wing from May 25, 1954, to Dec. 31, 1958.

Also present for the ceremony was SIU President Delyte W. Morris, who conferred upon the retiring commander an honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws from SIU.

"I would be un honest if I said an expression of my feelings on this occasion is not difficult," Col. MacMillan said.

Reason For Pride

"The SIU wing has good reason to be proud of its record," he said, but added that such a record "could not be accomplished without the cooperation between a great university of our country and the Air Force."

Gen. Rodgers mentioned the Singing Squadron, the Honor Guard, the wing band, and the Angel Flight as indicative of the work of Col. MacMillan, and the interest he has created in the AFROTC wing at SIU.

"In my command are 179 ROTC units," the general said. "If all of my detachments ran as smoothly as this one, I'd have an easy job."

President Morris emphasized that the University invited the Air Force to set up an ROTC unit here, and that it was not here because of any legislative action or mandate.

"Col. MacMillan has epitomized the liaison between the military and the civilian at this University," Dr. Morris said.
The degree conferred upon the Col. was apparently a complete surprise.

"I think Col. MacMillan has no idea what is about to happen," President Morris laughed before taking the cap and gown from a box.
Col. MacMillan is retiring from the Air Force Saturday. His temporary successor as commander of the AFROTC unit here is Lt. Col. Emmett C. Cochrane. Col. George H. Blase will assume command of the unit on May 15.
Lt. Col. Cochrane, accepting command of the unit, said, "We are fortunate to be located on a campus where the administration and faculty are squarely behind us."

Among the speakers will be Missions: George K. Arp, advertising manager of the SIU Small Business Journal, and Wayne Swartz, SIU assistant professor of journalism.
Advertisers and media representatives whose exhibits are scheduled to be brought to the 6 p. m. banquet at the University Cafeteria. All workshop sessions will be held in the Morris Library Auditorium.

Fate Of Siren Set Today

The Civil Defense Council will meet today to determine the fate of the SIU siren.

According to Frank Bridges, chairman of the council, the siren was lowered from 60 to 40 feet on the physical plant, but the sound was not increased.

The siren was originally situated on top of the physical plant, but an all-school drill was foiled when the siren's blast was not heard on some parts of the campus.

A committee investigated the possibilities of moving the siren to another site, but after lowering it, the sound was still not loud enough.

Attempts by engineers to increase the velocity of the siren proved fruitless, Bridges said.

Other possibilities which the council will investigate include obtaining a steam whistle from a local mine, or situating several small sirens at various parts of the campus.

During the drill last month, the siren was not heard at the Student Union or in the basement of Anthony Hall.

To be used as a storm-warning device for the campus and Carbondale, the siren is four feet high. After the drill, University engineers considered the lack of velocity due to a poor location.

The siren was supposed to be heard from 3-7 miles.

Oldest Building Has Victorian Style Windows

A quaint feature of one of the oldest structures on campus, the "Old Thompson Mansion" at 1312 S. Thompson, is the two horseshoe-shaped windows on the east side.

According to the director of the University Press, V. A. Sternberg, the windows are typical of Victorian architecture, which was common in the New England area.

The house is presently occupied by the University Press. Mrs. Carl E. Kiefer of Carbondale, who lived next door for some time, said the house belonged to E. W. Thompson, a name for which several sites, streets and structures on campus are named.

The house was built in the 1890's by Thompson and the family lived in the house until he died in 1908. In 1947, the R. H. Dey family moved in and remained until the U. S. Forest Service took over in the early 1950's.

The house is less than functional and movement is more restricted than in modern houses. Alcoves and corners appear anything but useful, and the brick-inlaid fireplace somewhat drag down the spirit of the house.

Still interesting, the house has a certain charm. It was loved by the Thomasons, according to Mrs. Kiefer, and also by the Dey's. Sternberg says he is a great admirer of the house.

History behind the intention of the windows is vague, and nobody seems to know exactly why they were built in a horseshoe shape. According to one of the University Press members, maybe it was just for luck.

Six-Eyed People-Biter Hits City

A six-eyed, eight-legged, brown-hued people-biter has invaded Carbondale.
The stranger—a fairly ordinary looking specimen, as spiders go—has been identified as a member of the "loosocleidae" family previously thought to live no closer to Jackson County than a hard dry drive to the west.

Dr. John Downey, entomologist an insect specialist with the SIU Zoology dept. says identify of the critter, picked up here last fall in a routine specimen collecting trip, has been confirmed by an arachnologist (a spider specialist) at the University of Kansas. Furthermore, subsequent finds indicate there are lots more loosocleids around town.

Downey says the invader, a small, drab brown number undistinguished except for having two eyes smaller than most of his kind, packs a bite potential far more than a black widow's. Not painful of first, the spider's nip results about a week later in a "necrotic lesion," an open sore which grows and grows. Eventually it becomes gungous and has to be cut off.

Shortly after identification came through, Downey checked with some Carbondale physicians. He says one of them reported a puzzling case answering the description of a loosocleide.

BUS PUSHERS
Entering Jackson County Courthouse in Murphysboro are SIU students (foreground) John Mouzakiotis, Larry Coats and Jim Foley (ducking). The three were sentenced to 10 days in jail, probation for a year and fines of about $400 each for pushing the SIU bus onto the Harwood ave. crossing in November. Shortly after this picture was taken, two of the boys attempted to take the camera away from the Egyptian photographer.

Two of the three SIU students convicted of a misdemeanor charge Wednesday attacked Egyptian Photographer Val Biggers after he snapped their picture as the three entered the Jackson County Courthouse in Murphysboro, and attempted to run a reporter out of the courtroom.

The photographer took a picture of the three walking up the courthouse steps and another inside the building before John Mouzakiotis and Larry Coats rushed for him.

Mouzakiotis rushed for Biggers and pushed him against a wall, clutching his jacket lapels. He said, "Don't print that picture."

Coats told Mouzakiotis to "leave him alone." Grabbing the camera, Coats said, "You leave us alone, and we'll leave you alone."

One of the two tried to break the lens of the camera, according to Biggers.

"Just take a long walk," Coats said.

Mouzakiotis kept repeating, "You'd just better not print it." SIU Security Officer Tom Lefler, following the three students, walked in between the scuffling men and said, "Okay, you guys are in enough trouble, let's go."

After the students entered the courtroom, an Egyptian reporter walked in, and Jim Foley said, "Okay, but get out of here."

Mouzakiotis said, "Yeah, we don't want you in here."
The three were convicted of tampering with a vehicle, and sentenced to 10 days in jail, a year's probation, a fine of $25, $100 court costs and restitution for the bus and train damage of $343.24 each.

Dr. Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant director of housing, defended the reporter in the courtroom, saying it was a public hearing. Lefler broke up the scuffle without taking his hands out of his pockets.

The photographer was visibly shaken.

For Theta Xi 19 Groups Enter Show

Nineteen groups and individuals will vie for prizes Friday and Saturday nights, March 6-7, at the 12th annual Theta Xi Variety Show.
Forty-seven contestants applied for the show, and tryouts were scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights this week.
Bruce Hayward, popular disc-jockey of KMOX, St. Louis, will be master of ceremonies for the two shows. Hayward is well-known to SIU students for his tenure with KXOK.

TP Has Piller Tell Reasons For Absences

Senator Todd Piller was brought to task Wednesday night for absence at Student Council meetings and failure to report full activity of the Council at the Thompson Point Area Council.

Piller explained his absence from Student Council meetings and Area Council meetings at the Wednesday night meetings, and top council members apparently were satisfied.

In the past, Piller has frequently been absent from a series of meetings and has passed on brief reports to the Student Council activities to the area through Helberg.

The TP council said that Piller should be present at a series of meetings to give the council members a chance to question Student Council activities and to decide for themselves items of most importance.

Piller explained his absence at previous area meetings by saying that his report was midway on the agenda and caused him to sacrifice a whole evening while waiting to give the report.

A compromise was reached whereby Piller personally report to his area on Student Council activities at a point near the beginning of the Wednesday night meetings.

The area council criticized Piller for absence at Council meetings, and Piller stated that he will make every effort to improve his attendance.

Records show that Piller has attended Student Council six times this year and been absent an equal number of meetings. This year Piller has missed three Student Council meetings but has sent an alternate to two.

It was mentioned that no voting power is given an alternate at Student Council meetings and Piller's absence voids the representation of the 725 TP residents in student government.

Three Students Plead Guilty To Tampering With Vehicle

By Richard Darby Managing Editor

Three SIU students were sentenced to 10 days in Jackson County Jail and required to pay $377.24 each after pleading guilty of pushing the SIU bus onto the Harwood ave. railroad tracks on Nov. 16.

Larry Lynn Coats, James Edward Foley and John C. Mouzakiotis, all of Dowdell Hall 115, pleaded guilty in Jackson County Court Wednesday at Murphysboro to a charge of tampering with and putting into motion a motor vehicle.

The students were taken from the courtroom after the trial to begin serving their sentence.

The students have been placed on probation for a year and suspended from SIU for four years. They must report to the court home-town probation officers once a month.

SIU's bus was demolished when an Illinois Central passenger train hit it.

A fourth student involved in the incident, Leonard Bruce Joserand, is in the Army. The State's Attorney is taking steps to have Joserand escorted to Carbondale for court proceedings.

All four students confessed last week to taking part in the incident.
After the sentence was given, Judge Peyton Kunce told the three boys, "This should be a lesson to you. What you did went beyond a college prank."

Drop Two Charges
Two other charges against the students — malicious mischief and driving without the owner's consent — were dropped upon request of State's Atty. William Ridgeway.

Asked by Judge Kunce if they had been drinking when they pushed the bus, two boys said they had had "four or five beers." Mouzakiotis said he had been arrested for "disorderly conduct about a year ago," when questioned by the judge. The other students said they had not been involved with the police before.

Joserand, who suddenly dropped out of school on Nov. 17, confessed to an FBI agent at Fitzsimons General hospital in Aurora, Colo., where he is stationed in the Army.

Joserand said three others were involved in the incident, but he did not give their names. Fred Graper, Carbondale agent of the FBI, obtained confession from the other three.

Maximum penalty for tampering with a motor vehicle is up to one year in prison, or $1,000 fine, or both.
If the students do not make restitution within the year's probation period, or if they violate any laws, they will be brought back to the court, possibly to receive the maximum penalty, the judge said.

The students were each fined $25 plus $10 for court costs. As restitution to the University for damages each must pay $300, and each must pay $42.11 to the Illinois Central Railroad Co.

If guilty, Joserand will pay the same as the other three, according to SIU officials.

When the three students walked into the courtroom, only Coats seemed concerned. Before the trial began, the three students grabbed the Egyptian photographer and told him not to take pictures. They told one Egyptian reporter to leave the courtroom.

Present at the 1 p. m. trial the state's attorney, a deputy sheriff, SIU Security Officer Tom Lefler, SIU Asst. Housing Director Joseph E. Zelaska, two Egyptian reporters, and an Egyptian photographer.

The three boys dressed in suits, stood before Judge Kunce with little show of emotion; if anything, Mouzakiotis and Foley appeared indifferent. Mouzakiotis' father stood beside the students during the 30-minute trial.

Addressing the students after the sentence, the judge said, "I realize that the incident started out to be a prank, but it could have resulted in serious damage to people."

"The train could have been derailed, killing several people. Perhaps sometime you can right yourselves with the University," he remarked. "This should be a lesson to each of you."

Mouzakiotis' father, who had shed tears at Tuesday's hearing, spoke with a pleading tone but retained tears after the judge's sentence was pronounced.

"I know these boys are very sorry for what they have done—I know they are," said the boy's father. "I pray they won't get a jail sentence. I don't want them to get away from school."
The two boys seemed to understand your compassion for these boys, but 10 days is not too much of these boys' lives.

"The court has taken into consideration that this is the students' first offense. Sentence has been suspended for 10 days if all is well."

Coats, 20, is from Havana; Foley, 20, is from Chicago; and Mouzakiotis, 20, is from Wilmette.

Accident Victims Transferred

Halsey K. Dulaney and John Latta, SIU students who were injured in an auto accident that killed James Fowler, have been transferred from Miners Hospital in Christopher to Jefferson Memorial Hospital in Mt. Vernon.

Dulaney has regained consciousness and is still in critical condition, though somewhat improved, according to a spokesman for the Christopher hospital.

The two were transferred to Mt. Vernon Monday.
Fowler was killed when his Volkswagen was hit by a pickup truck on Rt. 148, just south of Seney, Feb. 14. The truck, driven by Stanley Gossett, 31, Seney, swerved to avoid hitting a dog on the slick highway, and collided with Fowler's car.

SETS 2 COURSES FOR PUBLICATIONS ADVISERS
Two graduate courses for year-book and newspaper advisers are again being offered by SIU Journalism Department this summer from June 22 to August 13.

THETA XI TROPHIES

Less A Teacher's College

In recent years the percentage of graduating SIU students getting jobs as teachers has grown smaller and smaller. This seems indicative of the fact that Southern is getting away from the old teachers college idea.

Figures released by the Placement Service show that as of Oct. 1 last year, 48 per cent of the graduating class of 1958-59 were teaching. This number is 540 of the total 1120 graduating. But while this percentage seems high it is considerably lower than that of 1954. Fifty-seven per cent of the graduating students this year became teachers. The figures show a steady decline since 1954.

Of course the total number of students becoming teachers is growing each year. But the total number of graduating students is growing by leaps and bounds.

More and more Southern is taking its place as a large University. The teacher's college idea is being left behind.

The Southern Colonel

Col. Alexander R. MacMillan, as pointed out in the change of command ceremonies Tuesday, has made possible the Singing Squadron, the Honor Guard, the wing band and the Angel Flight in SIU AFROTC. But he has made an even greater, intangible contribution to Southern.

When the establishment of tradition and stimulation of school spirit is spoken of, "Col. Mac" comes into most of Southern's minds.

The Annual Military Ball, giant card sections at the home football games, and "invasions" for sports events away from SIU have been led by the colonel.

As Pres. Morris said at the ceremony, Col. MacMillan has "optimized the liaison between the military and civilian at the University."

He has intensified students' pride in the AFROTC, Southern, and America

behind the news

By JOE BLEWETT

The only good thing about winter is that spring follows it. The truth of this statement seems to ring home more strongly about this time of year.

Our winter hasn't been very wintery (so far)—nothing like the "old-fashioned winters" our grandfathers love to tell about. But still winter has been around too long. Bring on spring!

Spring competitively warm days cause hopes of approaching spring to abound. Longer daylight hours is another definite sign of the coming season.

This is the time when a few bright days bring forth a chorus of croaks from the local misquid frogs. A cold snap usually kills the harmony and sends them back into seclusion.

A few flowers bravely bloom out about this time of year. Their reward is often a snow covering. But one tiny flower looks better now than a hundred barren trees.

The one really sure sign of spring is the end of the "stove league season" in baseball. Spring training and the new crop of "sensational rookies" is here.

Spring brings to life again a special part of us which lies dormant during the winter. It is a part which no doctor could discover with his stethoscope or a chemist see under a microscope.

Perhaps if there is really such a thing as getting old it is when this special part no longer awakens at springtime. If this is true then age has very little to do with how old we are.

A few brave souls downed the tops of their convertible during last week. It wasn't really warm enough for such an outdoor excursion—but still looked good.

The campus policemen will certainly be glad to see warm weather approach. This group and the other-out door workers on campus have our sympathy.

We haven't had very much snow this winter but the only ones disappointed are the kids. The white stuff looks good at Christmas but is a nuisance the rest of the winter.

Although spring is still several weeks away it is nice to think about. But don't throw away your overcoat.

Fourteen Fresh Join Honor Club For 4.5 Grades

Fourteen outstanding freshmen and a member of the SIU faculty were initiated into the SIU chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national honor fraternity for freshmen, Friday evening, Feb. 20.

Phi Eta Sigma is open to freshmen who have a 4.5 average or better, during their first college term.

Dr. John C. Downey, assistant zoology professor at SIU was guest speaker at a supper following the initiation. He talked about "Zoology and the Student". Dr. Downey was initiated into Phi Eta Sigma as an honorary member.

Initiates into Phi Eta Sigma were from the main Carbondale campus and also from the Alton and East St. Louis residence centers. The freshmen have majors ranging from chemistry, to journalism to pre-theology.

Students initiated into the fraternity were: James Maynard, David O'Malley, James Ridder, Donald Schmittling, Robert Watson and Gerald York, all from Alton; Kenneth Knoblock and Leonard Smith, from East St. Louis; and Fred Bunnell, Daniel Gleason, Larry Jackson, David L. Miller, Sanford Martin, and Robert Wheeler, from the Carbondale campus.

Students Turn Up Noses: Reason Skunks

Students on the western edge of the SIU campus are turning up their noses. The reason—skunks.

Bud Pearson, employee of the Illinois Natural History Survey, who has his office in the house of the Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratories on W. Chautauqua, collects skunks as one phase of a program to investigate rabies in Illinois.

THETA XI PLANS EXCHANGE PARTY

The Theta Xi fraternity members are making plans for an exchange party with Sigma Kappa sorority. The event will take place soon after next week's Variety Show, according to social chairman Jim Conway.

Jerry Brooks has been named co-chairman of Greek Sing, to be held April 19. Other co-chairmen are Pat Royer, Delta Zeta.

Evidently due to their superior basketball record this season, the chapter team has been invited to attend the Theta Xi regional tournament sponsored by the E. Bradley chapter at Peoria. The event will be held the weekend of March 14.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA HOSTS VISITORS

National guests were the main feature at the Phi Sigma Kappa house last week. Stark Willmough national field secretary of the fraternity, visited the chapter house, as did A. L. Aichison, past president of the national fraternity.

New pledge class officers are R. B. Stelle, president; Jerry Robison, vice president; Stan Cagle, secretary; and Mike Morris, sergeant-at-arms.

A date party is planned for tonight at the chapter house. Plans are also being made to attend the Phi Sig regional basketball tournament at the University of Wisconsin.

SIGMA KAPPA NAMES OFFICERS FOR YEAR

New officers were elected by Sigma Kappa sorority this week. Lynda Love will serve as president of the group, assisted by Helen Colberg, first vice-president; Mary Hake, second vice-president; Ruth Ann Wagner, treasurer; Bernadine Hamilton, recording secretary; Ann "Francie" Alred, corresponding secretary; and Karen Schneider, registrar.

Traveling with the Angel Flight to Malden were Elaine Dicknell, Sue Derosert, Geri Kay Howell, Judy Sipes, and Lynda Love. Zelma Johnson, Sara Teschner, and Mary Lee Hake are on the Spring Festival steering committee.

PLEDGE GIVE GIRLS TO DELTA ZETA

The pledge class of Delta Zeta sorority increased by five last Sunday as the group pledged Judge Chandler, Susan Donham, Edna Owen, Donna Sedgwick, and Ruth Steinmarg.

Mrs. Marge Bergman, Delta Zeta weekend director, will be a guest at the chapter house this week. Judge Whitehouse has been elected to the Pan-Hellenic judicial board.

Janet Bradley, who will be married March 21, was honored guest at a bridal shower last weekend.

DELTA CHI PLEDGES CHOOSE OFFICERS

Members of the Gamma pledge class of Delta Chi fraternity recently elected the following new officers: Ron Vaskie will serve as president; Jerry Byars, vice-president; Don Talley, secretary; and Jim Ward, IFC representative.

Pinwheels of Ron Wilson, Bob Williams, Ken Anderson, and Guy Magee were serenaded by members of the fraternity last Wednesday evening.

The Beta pledge class members pulled a fast one over the weekend by skipping out to the University of Illinois chapter. In their absence, work-day activities were hampered, but the active body saved a few chores for their return.

A TV-card-playing date party is scheduled to be held at the chapter house tonight.

ANNUAL ORCHID BALL SET FOR TOMORROW

Sigma Pi fraternity will hold its annual Orchid Ball and banquet tomorrow night at the Giant City Lodge. Byron R. Lewis, one of the originators of the fraternity ritual and designer of the fraternity pin, will be guest speaker.

The members of the fraternity enjoyed an exchange party with Barrett Dorn last Sunday. A party with Delta Zeta sorority is on the schedule for the near future.

Root Hayden will travel to Channah with the OTC rifle team soon. Al Warren recently returned from a trip to St. Louis. Alum Ron Cranmer is on his way to Germany for 18 months' overseas duty with the army. Joe Pradiger, alum, was a guest at the chapter meeting Monday night.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA SELECTS OFFICERS

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority recently elected officers for the coming year. New president of the group is Diane Vadebonouren; first vice-president, Jill Blankenship; second vice-president, Ada Ruy; corresponding secretary, Susie Longenbach; recording secretary, Lynn Richardson; and treasurer, Carolyn Whittington.

Other officers are Barbara Larkin, altruistic chairman; Marilyn West, activities chairman; Betsy Ross, chairman of names; Marlene Peterson, chaplain; Sandy Kihlmeier, editor; Cheryl Campbell, guard; Betty Galicki, house president; Merilee Durham, magazine chairman; Pat Courtney and Sallie Taylor, rush co-chairmen; Charlotte Langwitz, scribe; Alice French, social chairman; Judy Sicles, senior Pan-Hellenic representative; and Charlotte Hunyadi, junior Pan-Hellenic representative.

WOODY HALLERS HOLD DATE PARTY Residents of Woody Hall, section A-3, and their dates, which will be held in the Student Union.

Valentine's dance on Friday, Feb. 13, according to the floor social chairman, Brenda Heatherly. Eighteen couples attended the date party in C Rec, which was decorated in the Valentine theme with balloons, hearts, and red and white crepe paper.

Jerry Cummins won the title of A-3 Sweetheart, and was presented with a trophy at the party. Pinned: Ann Miller, Woody Hall, to Ray Gimmey, Delta Chi.

Jane Bonkoshi, Sigma Kappa, to Ken Anderson, Delta Chi. Sandy Irmis, Alpha Gamma Delta, to Pat O'Day, Theta Xi.

ENGAGED: Jenny Sullivan, Woody Hall to Dan Bode, Delta Chi. Jeannette Wittenborn, Bowyer Hall, to Bill Glanda, Bailey Hall.

CORRECTION Two pinned announcements were incorrect in Tuesday's Egyptian. Correct listings are: Marcia Ball, Sigma Sigma Sigma, is pinned to Jim Sandrin, Phi Kappa Tau. Kay Francis, Sigma Sigma Sigma, is pinned to Dick South, Theta Xi.

Special guests at tonight's banquet will be foreign students on campus. Program plans are being arranged by Gloria King-Powell and Tom Odoro. Entertainment will feature musical numbers, dances, readings and skits by the foreign students.

Approximately 125 students

Spotlight On Style

Which Face Today?

By Betty Shultz

The day of the "plain Jane" has passed. Now every girl can be attractive by learning the simple rules of beauty care and make-up techniques. Good points can be accentuated and flaws hidden by merely studying your own face to learn what you need and then doing it. Answer the following list of questions to see how your face rates.

Do you wash your hair every time it needs it? Nothing spoils a pretty face more than a greasy hairline, stale-dandruff or struggling curls. There is no set rule as to how often the hair should be washed. This is an individual problem, but remember, the same amount of dirt settles on your hair as on your face, and you certainly wouldn't want to rule as to how often the hair should be washed. This is an individual problem, but remember, the same amount of dirt settles on your hair as on your face, and you certainly wouldn't want to

Do you match your lipstick to what you're wearing? Although few would wear orange lipstick with a pink sweater or vice versa, don't lean too heavily to clear red. Add variety to your appearance by changing the shade of lipstick frequently. A white lipstick is being introduced this spring to be applied over a regular color. The white adds a creamy, satiny effect.

Does your make-up match your complexion? Consult your beauty operator or a professional cosmetologist to find the right shade for daytime and nighttime wear. Your present make-up may be so light that you appear chalky or so dark that you look orange.

Do you give special attention to your eyes? Many times eyes make the difference between a striking appearance and being just plain blah. A light application of mascara is not only appropriate but almost a must for daytime wear.

In the evening go all out with mascara, eye shadow and eye liner. Brown eyes may now appear blue for a special evening. To get this effect, paint three shades of blue eye shadow on the eyelids in stripes, placing dark blue nearest the lashes, sea blue above, and turquoise on top. Soften by are expected to attend, with about 60-75 of them being foreign students. Time of the banquet is 6:30 p. m. blending lightly with the finger tip.

Are your eyebrows shaped for YOU? A brow arched too high creates a startled expression, and a straight line appears to be a frown. If you cannot follow the natural lines of your brow get professional help. Then keep it that way.
Are you consistent in your beauty care? Everyone has droopy days, but dirty hair and sloppy make-up certainly won't make you feel better. Form a daily habit and your make-up will become a natural part of you.
How do you rate? If you answer "yes" to every question, a straight line appears to be a frown. If you cannot follow the natural lines of your brow get professional help. Then keep it that way.

Comedies Head Week's Movies

Two comedies are scheduled for this weekend's campus entertainment, at 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. in Furz auditorium.

Tonight "A Southern Yankee," with Red Skelton, Brian Donley and Arlene Dahl, tells of a Civil War spy serving both North and South.

The usual Skelton antics lead this confused spy into romance and adventure above and below the Mason-Dixon line.

"Ain't Mitehavin'" a musical comedy with Piper Laurie and Rory Calhoun, is Saturday show.

The story is about a chorus girl (Piper) who meets the richest man in San Francisco (Rory) and falls for him instead of his gold dust.

Elevated to a new role is Rory's Mrs., and determined to amend her ways, Piper enlists the aid of her husband's martini-cooked cousin (Regional Garrison).

The result of her efforts and her temper, however, only succeeded in raising the eyebrows of Frisco's upper crust and creating some comical situations.

Admission is 25 cents and 40 cents both nights.

Bryson Leads Southern Against Huskies In Home Finale Saturday

Harry Gallatin's flying Salukis close their most productive year tomorrow night against SIU at Northern Illinois.

In 24 games this season Gallatin's fast-breaking prototype offense has produced 2,120 points, largest in SIU history, to maintain an 88.2 average per game. Southern has posted a 16-8 mark and are in second place in the IAC with 8-3.

Charlie Vaughn, freshman from Tamms, continues his vicious assault on the record books. The rookie forward has set a new single-season scoring mark of 580 points—a 24.1 average. Vaughn is the first SIU player to score more than 500 points in one season.

Captain Seymour Bryson, Quincy senior, in his last home game tomorrow night, is second with 478 points for a 19.9 average. Dick Ruggles is next in point production with 182. Jim Gualdoni, 181, Don Hepler, 133 and Tom McNeal, 127, round out the top six in scoring.

Bryson is also leading in rebounds. He has collected 254 off the boards for a 11.1 game average. Vaughn is close behind with 231.

Southern, fighting up on defense in the past few games, has allowed the opposition 1,871 points nor a 77.9 per game average—much better than the 80-plus they allowed most of the season.

Jim Gualdoni is leading the team in field goal percentage with a 50 per cent average. Jim has hit 77 field goals in 144 attempts.

The scramble with Northern tomorrow night will be a tough one for Gallatin's Salukis. SIU defeated the Huskies, who fought down to the final gun recently at DeKalb, 80-78 on Don Hepler's last-second tip-in. Last week Northern pulled a big upset by pouncing on Western Illinois, defending IAC cage champ.

Southern will then be idle until the regional tourney at Evansville on Friday, March 6, when they take on Belmont-Abbey of South Carolina in the NCAA College finals. Evansville and the University of Akron are the two other entries in the four team meet.

The Southern Players will present a summer stock program at SIU for the first time this summer.

BIGGEST SCORER

Capt. Seymour Bryson, senior from Quincy, will be playing his final home game of his college career tomorrow night when the Salukis take on Northern Illinois University. Bryson has scored 478 points thus far this season to boost his four-year total to 1,488 points—a new all time SIU high.

Tankmen Swim At North Central

Capt. Ralph Casey and his brilliant swimming team will close their regular dual meet season tomorrow when they meet North Central College.

The Salukis, who lost their first meet of the season and have since won seven in a row, expect to find stiff competition for the North Central quad. North Central finished second behind Southern in the Midwest AAU championships at Chicago several weeks ago.

The SIU swimmers have had quite a year. With the addition of two foreign watermen, Jim Fountain and Norbert Rumpel, and such top-notch sprinters, Walt Rodgers along with the "wets," Vera Williams, Bob Steele and many others, the Salukis have broken and broken every varsity record and almost every pool mark.

Next Friday, March 6, the IAC championships began in the U-School pool.

Start Cold, Finish Hot

Cagers Bomb Titans, 92-45

Again starting off cold but finishing in full steam, the Salukis cagers roared to their 16th win of the season Monday night as they buried Illinois Wesleyan 92-45 at Bloomington.

The Titans, a squad that has really taken its lumps this season, jumped off to a quick 7-0 lead. Captain Seymour Bryson pumped in 13 points to pull Southern to a 19-13 lead midway in the first half.

Charley Vaughn, who didn't start the game, entered the contest with only 9 minutes left in the half. The "Big C" proceeded to hit his first shot and picked up nine points as Gallatin's warriors stumbled to a meager 35-29 half-time lead. As the horn sounded ending the first half, Vaughn added to his feats by popping in a 40-foot set shot.

As the second half opened, the Salukis began to roll in their usual fashion. Vaughn, shooting and hitting almost at will, ripped the nets for eight of 11 shots in the first 10 minutes of the second half before he retired.

Jim Gualdoni boosted the SIU advantage to 47-31 as he marked off 10 of his 15 points in fine fashion.

With about 9 minutes remaining in the contest, Gallatin removed most of his regulars as the Salukis had moved to a 20 point advantage.

Southern shot 41.0—slightly under their season's average—and made 24 for 33 from the charity stripe. The Titans, suffering their 16th setback of the season, connected at a 36.0 percent. Wesleyan was anything but accurate for the free throw line as they missed 11 of 20.

Vaughn wound up his short evening's work with 30 points while Bryson tallied 23. Jim Gualdoni, again showing a wonderful touch, came home with 15. Tom McNeal tallied 11. Dick Ruggles, having his first bad night from the field in a long time, was held scoreless.

Southern's undefeated wrestlers put their 21-match winning streak on the line tomorrow against one of their toughest opponents of the year, Northern Illinois University, at DeKalb. The Huskies have a 11-1 record in dual meets for the season. When the two schools meet last year, SIU won 23-8. Later in the season, Northern defeated Southern for the IAC in-

Nonetheless finished second in the Wheaton Tourney last week with 82 points and two individual championships. SIU won the tourney, with 94 points and four individual Championships.

The two squads met in a 13 weight divisions and each won three. The two schools did not meet in four weight classes. Two of these classes were won by Southern.

The meet shapies up as about the toughest of the season for the Salukis and the winner will probably go into the conference championships in the Men's Gym next weekend as the favorite.

Intramural Roundball League Titles Clinched

Manor Jug and Pierce Hall 3rd Floor clinched the title in their respective intramural leagues Monday night by defeating the only teams that had a shot at the top position.

By staving off a drive by Blue Players in an Off-Campus League No. 4 clash, Manor Jug ended the season with a 7-0 record and will enter the tournament competition next week. Final score was 61-43. Dick Wiegard scored 19 points for Jug. Glenn Baska threw in 17 for the Beaters.

Pierce Hall 3rd Floor, the delegate to the tournament from Men's Residence League No. 2 by beating Felt's Parahs, 45-29, Monday night. Pierce Hall followed with a win over Felt's Hall 2nd Floor Tuesday night to bring its final mark to 8-0.

In other games Monday night, Felt's Hall 3rd Floor won from Bones, 76-60; Horny Forty edged Dowdell 3, 45-44; Sleepy Hollow topped Bailey Hall 2nd Floor, 47-39; Road Runners stopped Curve Inn, 67-64; and Buffalo's forfeited to Felt's Hall 2nd Floor.

Road Runners had to pull from behind to retain its unblemished record. Curve Inn led 38-28 at half-time. Lowell Lattig led the Runners scoring, with 25 points. Jim Reid had 25 for Curve Inn.

Kappa Alpha Pi knocked off the leaders in the Fraternity League "A" division, and Sigma Tau Gamma topped Phi Kappa Tau Tuesday night.

This left Sigma Pi, which had led with a 7-0 record, in a tie with Sig Tau for the league title. A play-off was held last night to determine which team will enter the tournament next week.

Sig Pi, Sig Tau, and Kappa Alpha Pi all finished the season with one loss. Kappa Alpha Pi lost its chance to be the another team in the league forfeited out before KAP had a chance to play them.

Also Tuesday night, Vikings downed Teller's Terrors, 54-49; Spooks forfeited to Felt's Hall 3rd Floor; Horny Forty forfeited to Peyton Place; Studs topped Defiant Ones, 76-47; Pierce Hall 3rd Floor beat Felt's Hall 2nd Floor, 45-29; and Doyle Deacons and 69ers were both losers in a double forfeit.
