Officials: BAC leadership conference a success

By Lynelle Marquardt
and Melissa Willis
General Assignment Writers

Nationally known speakers and interesting workshops made the Black Affairs Council Leadership Conference during the weekend a success, officials said Sunday.

Tuesday Shorty, coordinator of the Black Affairs Council, said the conference was outstanding and there was a great turnout.

About 600 students and advisers from the United States participated in the conference events, Shorty said.

"We had a lot of positive feedback from students who came from all over the world as well as SIUC participants and advisers," she said.

Anthony King, coordinator of the conference, also said the conference went well.

"I think it had a great turnout based on the closing form, goals that were met, and we set goals for the years to come," he said.

Workshops touched on various subjects, including "The Rise of the Black Man," "Male and Female Relationships," "Unity in the Community," "Health Concerns in the Black Community" and "Religion."

"The workshop topics brought about togetherness for the participants," Shorty said.

Clinton, aides map strategy to help boost U.S. economy

Los Angeles Times

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—President-elect Bill Clinton Sunday began mapping a hit-the-ground-running legislative strategy to revive the economy, and Senate Majority Leader George J. Mitchell, D-Maine, predicted that Congress will move quickly on such a job stimulus plan and enact health care reform later in 1993.

"We've got a big job to do and we've got to do it together," Clinton said as he prepared to host a working dinner here with Mitchell, House Speaker Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., and House Majority Leader Richard A. Gephardt, D-Mo.

Clinton said his first post-election meeting with the Democratic congressional leadership was intended to "kind of renew our acquaintance, talk about our obligations, look to the future a little bit, talk a little bit about next week when I go to Washington for the first time."

Clinton told reporters at the end of his customary morning jog that he was "very much" looking forward to meeting President Bush at the White House Wednesday.

"I think it's time we met and talked," he said. "His people so far have been quite cooperative and I think it's time for us to get together."

George Stephanopoulos, Clinton's assistant transition director for communications, said the congressional dinner session was "an important way to break the ice and talk about what is coming ahead on the legislative calendar and talk about how they are going to work together for the next years."

Clinton also planned to discuss with the congressional leaders healthcare and political campaign reforms, Stephanopoulos told reporters upon arriving at the Governor's Mansion Sunday afternoon.

Various legislative strategies are under discussion, but one that is particularly favored by top Clinton transition planners is the formation of a high-level legislative strategy group to take charge of driving the new president's agenda through Congress, sources said.

Under such an arrangement, top White House aides would assume hands-on control of the complicated process — beginning with the drafting of legislation itself — in hopes of seizing the opportunities available to Clinton in the early days of

Dunn aims for education committee post

By John McCadd
Politics Writer

State Sen. Ralph Dunn, R-Du Quoin, said he could become the first Southern Illinoisan to lead the senate's Higher Education Committee since its inception in 1977.

Dunn, who was re-elected Nov. 3 to his third term, said he may have increased leverage in landing the position because of his seniority on the committee and the recently obtained Republican control of the senate.

"The committee chairman has always been a Democrat from up north for the past (15) years," he said. "It's important to have a representative from down here because it would give me a chance to help SIU through its money problems."

The election produced a 32-27 Republican majority in the state senate, which would give Republicans an edge in choosing party-aligned committee persons, Dunn said.

The committee's functions include the discussion and passage of bills pertinent to higher education, such as tuition hikes and decisions concerning university management, he said.

He said if appointed, he would lead the first

Women harriers finish fourth in District V

By Sanjay Seth
Sports Writer

The SIUC women's cross country team ran well at the NCAA District V meet at Ames, Iowa, but the competition ran a little better, coach Don DeNoon said.

SIUC placed fourth in the 13-team field. Leeann Conway-Reed was the top finisher for the Salukis in 13th with a time of 18:45.

DeNoon said a little adversity was involved because not all the athletes were in the best of health for the competition.

"Debbie Daehler and Jennie Horner, two typically strong runners, were weakened by their respective illnesses," DeNoon said. "When you are running at the highest level, you must be at your best physical state."

DeNoon said he was not disappointed with the outcome because many of his athletes ran well. Cathy Kershaw finished in 26th with a

Reed unanimously named to MVC academic team

By Sanjay Seth
Sports Writer

Leeann Conway-Reed of the SIUC women's cross country team was a unanimous choice to the first Missouri Valley Academic All-Conference team.

Reed, a senior in English Education from Overland Park, Kan., topped the list of the 12 first-team academic all-conference, along with Debbi Ramseyer of Indiana State, who was another unanimous choice. The selections were made by the MVC's sports information directors Friday.

Reed is joined by teammates Deborah Daehler and Cathy Kershaw in the first-team selection which is based on academic abilities and athletic performance at the MVC championships.

Reed, who has a 3.62 GPA, finished eighth in the inaugural conference championship Oct. 31, which SIUC won, with a mark of 17:58 while Daehler was sixth with a time of 17:52 and Kershaw time of 18:58, and Dawn Barefoot, who was 27th, came in a second later.

"Leeann had an outstanding run," DeNoon said. "Stacy McCormack was just 32 seconds behind, the closest she has ever been this season."

Reed said she was happy with her performance at the meet.

"I got my goal, which was to finish in the top 15 and that pleases me," Reed said.

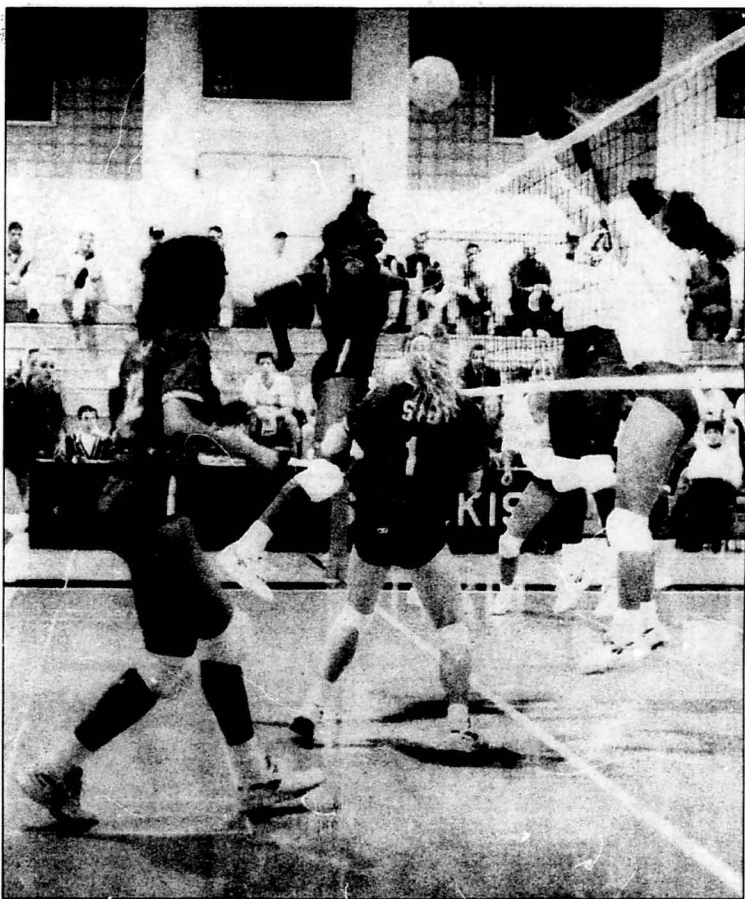

DeNoon said first-place Nebraska and second-place Kansas State, ran a solid races.

"If two of our athletes had run 10 seconds faster, we could have come in second place," DeNoon said.

SIUC still stands a chance of qualifying for the NCAA National Championships when all third place finishers in all eight regions are compared against each other by a qualifying committee. The results will be known Friday.

On the whole, DeNoon said he was happy with the outcome of the season.

"We had a good year and we gave it everything we had," DeNoon said. "I'm proud of our accomplishments and there is a good future with the returning athletes and the fact that we have a good program."

Spikers finish Valley season

Salukis sweep Bradley, then drop match to ISU in conference finale

By Karyn Viverito
Sports Writer

The Saluki spikers finished out their run in Missouri Valley Conference action this weekend.

The spikers ended their first season in the MVC with a record of 6-10 after losing to first place Illinois State Saturday and racking up a win against No. 8 Bradley Friday.

Head coach Sonya Locke said she is proud of the progress that her team has made in a new conference that is full of talent.

"This is the toughest our conference has ever been, and there has not been one team that we can take for granted," she said. "I feel our players have worked hard together and individually to improve their skills and play hard."

Illinois State head coach Julie Morgan said she saw a different Saluki team Saturday.

"I feel that SIUC has made a lot of progress in its game since the last time we faced each other in the beginning of the season," she said. "They are a young team that has really come to work together."

Even with progress in their game, it was not enough to stop Illinois State. The Redbirds swept the Salukis 15-11, 15-2, 15-4. The win tied the Redbirds for first place in the MVC with Southwest Missouri State, who also won its conference match against Wichita State.

Locke said the Redbirds were able to take the fight out of the Salukis.

"We played tough in the first game and even though we lost, we did what we were supposed to do," she said. "The next two games we did not execute our game plan and they were able to break us."

Senior middle blockers Dana Olden and Stacy Snook led the Salukis in their last MVC match of their careers. Olden led SIUC with 6 kills and racked up 5 digs, one block solo and one block assist in her efforts while Snook led defensively with 4 block assists and 3 digs.

Sophomore middle blocker Deb Heyne tied with Olden smashing 6 kills and led SIUC with 9 digs.

ISU's Jeanette Newberry hit for a team high .700 with 8 kills and led the Redbirds blocking attack with 5 block assists and one block solo.

Newberry said her team's defense has always been able to come through in the match.

Setter Karen Hopkins had four kills to go along with her 32 assists for the Redbirds. She said said they were able to put the Salukis away once the passing got better.

"When we weren't passing well, we were forced to go to the outside a lot, and we weren't able to do a lot with our offense," she said. "Once our passing cleaned up, we were able to run a lot of different plays and win the match."

Indiana State upsets SMSU; UNI smothers Western, 37-6

By Jay Reed
Sports Writer

Indiana State rallied from a 21-10 third-quarter deficit and held on to beat Gateway leader and No. 11-ranked Southwest Missouri 31-28 Saturday in front of only 981 fans at Terre Haute, Ind.

The loss sent the Bears, 6-4 overall and 4-1 in the Gateway, into a first place tie with Northern Iowa and boosted Indiana State, SIUC's opponent this Saturday, to 4-6 overall and 2-3 in the conference.

"The way we were able to protect the football was the key," Indiana State head coach Dennis Ratz said. "It was an important win in lieu of last year's 68-20 loss at their place."

David Wright led the Sycamores with two touchdowns and 154 yards on 29 carries. Wright broke the Division I-AA record for all-purpose yardage by a freshman. He passed Eastern Kentucky's Markus Thomas' 1989 record of 1,656.

Northern Iowa jumped out to a 37-0 lead and pummeled Western Illinois 37-6 at the UNI Dome in Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Schwartz, Akal fail to accomplish goals at District V championships

By Sanjay Seth
Sports Writer

Senior team-captain Nick Schwartz and sophomore Garth Akal failed to reach their goals at the NCAA District V men's cross country championships in Ames, Iowa Saturday.

Schwartz and Akal hoped to finish in the top three to receive an automatic bid to the NCAA Nationals. Schwartz finished in 11th with a time of 31:45, and Akal finished in 33rd with a time of 32:39. The two were the only Salukis to finish in the top half of the 115 runners.

Head coach Bill Cornell said it was obviously a disappointment for the athletes but the meet was a tough one.

"Nick had a good run, but the other guys ran better times," Cornell said. "It has been a disappointing cross country season."

He said the various injuries that have plagued the season were situations beyond control, and there was no use predicting BOSNIAN CEASE-FIRE JEOPARDIZED — The fragile cease-fire in Bosnia-Herzegovina was further put in jeopardy Sunday by clashes in several areas of the country, Bosnian radio reported. Fighting raged between Serbian and Croat-Muslim forces around Bihać in the west. Moslem-Croat units started a successful counteroffensive near Bihać Sunday, Bosnian radio said. A Serbian offensive launched after the cease-fire took effect on Thursday had been unsuccessful.

ELEVEN HANGED IN PAKISTAN — Eleven men convicted of murder while committing acts of armed robbery or kidnapping were hanged in the Pakistan province of Punjab on Sunday. Three other condemned men were granted a last minute reprieve by relatives of their victims under the country's Islamic laws. Pakistan's highest religious court has ordered parliament to take away the power of mercy from the head of state as Islam vests it with the next of kin of the victim.

SOMALI REFUGEES HEADED FOR YEMEN — More than 2,000 Somali refugees, including 400 children, are without food or water aboard a ship in the Gulf of Aden heading for Yemen, a U.N. official said Sunday. "We are afraid we have the first casualties aboard. They have been without a drop of water for more than three days," said a representative of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), Taufik Wanas. "The situation is desperate."

OIL TANKER FOUND WITHOUT CREW — A Honduran-registered oil tanker was found drifting in the South China Sea, but there was no sign of any crew, rescue officials said Sunday. A spokesman of the Maritime Search and Rescue Coordinating Centre (MRCC) said the "Marvi 1" was drifting half-submerged and abandoned in stormy seas some 35 nautical miles from the east Malaysian city of Kuantan by the cargo boat "MV Sang Thai Power".

MUBARAK CLAIMS PEACE 'MATTER OF TIME' — The Mideast peace process is not stalled, Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak said Sunday after a meeting with Israeli Foreign Minister Shimon Peres. All obstacles could be overcome with the peace talks in Washington and the talks on refugee issues in Ottawa, in recess until Monday. The future status of the West Bank, Gaza Strip and Jerusalem were a question of time and negotiations, Mubarak said.

THREATS MADE IN SOUTH AFRICA — South African President Frederik Willem de Klerk threatened in statements published Sunday to extend white minority rule indefinitely if the African National Congress (ANC) failed to agree to his conditions for sharing power. An end to white rule included the establishment of a government of national unity regardless of which party won the fully democratic elections planned for next year.

DEMOCRAT PRESIDENT MEANS CUBAN SLIDE — Democrat Bill Clinton's presence in the White House means Cuba will slide much lower onto the U.S. political and policy agenda, only rising to visibility should the new administration be confronted by a crisis on the island in the next year or so, experts said. With the Democrats in control of the government after 12 years of Republican dominance, the influence of the powerful Cuban-American National Foundation will wane.

DEVITO UPSET BY DEVIL LABEL — The Penguin's feathers have been ruffled. Actor Danny DeVito, who played the evil character in the movie "Batman Returns," is "very upset," his publicist said. That's because he read accounts last week of a Colorado City, Ariz., teenager whose principal ordered him to leave school and not return until he chose not to wear a T-shirt with the Penguin's likeness. The educator said the likeness represented devil worship.

Blood drive nets 1,404 pints

Weather blamed for drive's failure to reach set goal

By Michael T. Kuciak
Health Writer

A car crash, an organ transplant, an accident at work. Life-threatening catastrophes can cause an urgent need for extra blood. That need may be answered by the 1,404 pints of blood collected at the SIUC blood drive last week.

The blood drive, primarily sponsored by the Red Cross and the Inter-Greek Council, is part of an on-going competition with the University of Missouri to collect the most pints of blood.

Vivian Ugent, Red Cross coordinator of the 10-county Southern Illinois area, said the group missed the 1,000-pint goal because of the driving rain late in the week.

"Another 130 people showed up but were deferred because of health reasons, and 30 people were only able to give a part of a pint," she explained.

"In actuality, very nearly 1,600 people registered to give blood."

Ugent said 235 people gave blood for the first time at last week's blood drive, and 92 of the 235 people gave on Friday, when 344 pints were collected.

"We obviously hope they will become regular donors," she said. "We need people to give blood every eight weeks. We need a solid donor base of people committed to giving blood."

Ugent said the IGC supplied volunteers who collectively put in hundreds of hours of work, doing everything from registering donors to serving refreshments.

John Senft, IGC blood drive coordinator, expressed surprise at the number of people who turned out to help.

"It was a tough week, but lots and lots of people came out to help," he said.

"I was really impressed. To me, it put a lot of faith in the Greeks."

Senft said the IGC also helped out by donating $300 to $350 to pay for supplies for the blood drive.

SIUE to construct first dormitory for students

By Christy Gutowski
Administration Writer

SIUE students will be able to move into the campus' first student residential dormitory by fall 1994, changing the university's image as largely a commuter college.

The SIU Board of Trustees approved a $13.6 million student residence facility project last week at its Nov. 12 meeting.

The board previously had resolved to construct additional undergraduate housing near the campus in September.

The facility will change many people's perception of SIUE as only a commuter college, said Michael Schultz, director of SIUE Housing.

University officials conducted several demand-based studies and determined a student residential facility was needed on campus, he said.

Although 1,500 students live in the Tower Lake Apartments, Schultz said the building is one mile away from campus, and many still think SIUE's students commute to and from campus.

"The (student residential facility) will be placed in the core of the campus, close to the University Center, so it will improve student life on campus," he said.

The building will be a three-story, 1,200 square foot facility and will stand south of SIUE's

University Center, said SIUE President Earl Lazerson.

It also would include related offices, lounges and study areas.

The project encompasses renovation of Tower Lake Apartments and the University Center Food Service facilities, requiring an additional $2.2 million to finance all costs involved and to fund a reserve for debt services.

Funding for the construction and renovation projects will be made available through the sale of revenue bonds, Lazerson said.

Schultz said renovations are needed to adequately meet the needs of the junior and senior level, non-traditional and married students at SIUE.

"The apartments are 20 years old," he said.

"(Renewal) of the roof and $2 million worth of work in the parking lot is needed."

Workers also will renovate SIUE's food service facility to provide the capacity to serve the residents of the new facility, Lazerson said.

Planning for the project will begin in December, with approval and scheduling in April and groundbreaking in June.

The construction project is a non-instructional capital improvement and must be approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education before funds can be charged.

Hunting season opens with bang as geese arrive at Crab Orchard

By John Rezanka
Environmental Writer

Goose hunting season opened with a bang in Southern Illinois during the weekend when area hunters flocked to their favorite blinds.

Todd Pearson, manager of the Crab Orchard Campground Goose Hunting Club, said about 14,000 geese were present on opening day but when the season peaks there will be more than 100,000 geese on the national wildlife refuge.

"It usually takes a while for the geese to get down here," Pearson said. "Right now, we are waiting for colder weather up north to push more birds down."

About 50 hunters showed up for opening day, he said. They rented 25 of the club's 50 blinds, but Pearson said he expects the number of hunters will increase when more geese show up on the refuge.

"With the weather being so cold early in the year, we will probably have a very good year," he said. "The colder the weather the better."

Dick Pearson, a Murphysboro resident who was hunting for geese at Crab Orchard during weekend, said he saw more geese on opening day this year than last year.

He killed a goose and two ducks on opening day.

"The cold weather has brought in a larger flock," Pearson said. "We are off to a better start this year than last year. I expect it to be a good season."

Pearson said a typical day of goose hunting begins at 5 a.m. when hunters draw for blinds.

After the blinds are assigned, the hunters get in their boats and travel to the spot to set decoys, he said. The decoys are set downwind in a position where the birds will land in front of the blind.

Once the decoys are set there is nothing left to do but sit and wait, he said. Hunters pass the time cooking food, eating sandwiches and talking.

Pearson recommended that hunters come prepared with 10 gauge or 12 gauge shotguns, good weather proof clothing, water proof boots and a lot of patience.

World awaits new American president

READY, SET, Government!

President-elect Bill Clinton is making good of his time until he takes office in January by preparing for the job. He plans to hit the Oval Office running. But in that transition stage, other nations have been keeping quiet and not stirring up the American government.

This "different kind of Democrat" is working to prepare for a different kind of world—a world that questions the direction of U.S. leadership in international affairs. Clinton realizes the importance of being prepared for the job, and his recent efforts show he wants to be ready.

But the "different kind of world" seems to be on hold as Bush tries to wrap up loose ends to his administration and Clinton gears up to begin his.

AFTER A DAY OF REST from the campaign trail and the election hoopla, Clinton set forth first to assemble his administration. Though still weary, Clinton had some heated arguments with some of his closest advisers. At the same time, Bush is in a flurry to also set some programs in motion to overlap the administrations. But the international horizon remains silent.

Clinton wishes to "bring in some of the brightest people in the country, a broad range of backgrounds, talk to them about the gravity of the situation, deal with what our options are, get as many good ideas as (he) can." Those situations include trade and other foreign relations.

Naming Warren Christopher as his transition director after Christopher worked as former deputy secretary of state, Clinton has alluded to furthering his position to secretary of state. As with James A. Baker III, Christopher's main duties will be with foreign diplomats. Clinton intends to expend most of his efforts toward domestic issues.

LITTLE REACTION HAS COME from overseas or elsewhere to any of Clinton's proposals. Though Mexican Commerce Secretary Jaime Serra Puche warned Clinton that there will be no renegotiations in the North American Free Trade Agreement.

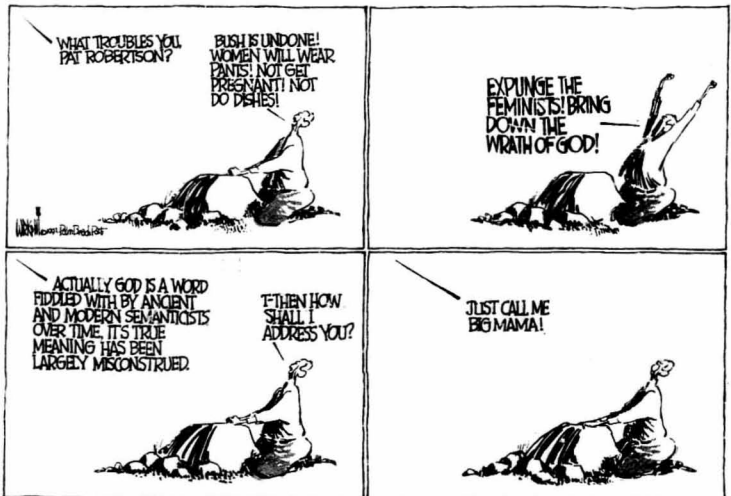

But Jiro Tanahashi, Japan's vice minister of Ministry of Trade and Industry, said he believes Clinton is a believer in free trade. Tanahashi's tone remains steady and unthreatening.

It is still too early for Clinton to begin naming his Cabinet, said officials, but he will be working on that along with plans for "change." During the primaries, Clinton showed an explosive energy and magnetic personality which drew in and affected his operatives as well.

That aggressiveness has poured into post-election planning. He already has been spending phone time with foreign leaders, working on understanding their wants and needs.

Among all the preparations and attention from the media, Clinton reminds the world who is still in charge. Not one nation "should doubt America's resolve," nor should they forget that Bush is still in office until Jan. 20.

Planning, transitions, decision, speeches—Clinton is still running for president, and the world awaits his inauguration.

T-shirts show displeasure for censorship of music

OK, Diane Speir are you happy you got a chance to get on your soapbox? I mean who needs a good reason anyway?

I suppose I am one of the "ignorant majority of men" you referred to in your letter of 11/5. How you hope to achieve the abolition of sexual harassment through gender-bias name calling is beyond me, but that's not the issue at hand.

Get a clue! The shirts that read, "F--- Tipper Gore" do not mean, "Force violent intercourse on her" as you and professor Alaxander would like to believe.

It is used to show extreme displeasure for her actions in her fight to censor music... According to yours and his logic, "Go jump in a lake" or many other idiomatic expressions should be taken literally. Rent almost an 'R' rated movie to see the statement in question used this way.

It is people like you who discourage meaningful progress in the breakdown of gender, race, or any other stereotypes or harassment. After reading a few words you see red, and without looking at the matter fully rip of some insulting letter. Your energy could be much better spent attacking the real threats. Unfortunately I believe people like you enjoy writing the letter and pointing fingers more than actual dialogue.

You speak of free speech as, "honored and protected in our society." Obviously a professor of philosophy knows the value of it. It was Tipper Gore who formed the PMRC in the mid '80s with the goal of censoring music she deemed offensive. Male, female, black, or purple I say "F--- you" to anyone who wants to take it from us. Also I'm sure you or he would feel the same way if they targeted any works or practices used in your fields (Which is not so far fetched!).

Censorship is un-American!! —

Abortion issue single choice for all students

In response to the November 6th article in the Daily Egyptian, "Officials to decide on abortion benefits," I agree with President Guyon, the topic of abortion is sensitive in nature. There is no need for arguments about abortion being right or wrong.

The question of student insurance covering an abortion benefit is a matter of choice, and I appeal to all those who care for a "choice."

If abortion were added to student health insurance coverage this would result in some of our fees paying for abortion.

Some students are morally opposed to abortion.

If these students needed SIUC health insurance they would have no choice whether or not their fees would fund abortion. Is this just?

There was a vote representing the "student voice." Collectively SIUC chose to offer abortion as an insurance benefit.

But because this is such a sensitive and personal issue, individual choice concerning the allocation of their own fees toward abortion should be given precedence over the collective.

I hope the "officials," President Guyon, and the students of this university will take into consideration the path towards greatest possible freedom of choice for all those enrolled at SIUC. —

Minority groups unite campus

In reply to Ken Bisker's opinion article (Oct. 16) alleging that minority groups are racist, I say that you are sadly mistaken. Do you only see things as black and white? Though you used the term minority groups, you focused your complaint on the Black organizations.

Look around you. SIU boasts one of the most culturally diverse student bodies in the state. There are dozens of campus approved minority and special interest groups here at SIU. Some groups focus on sex, ethnicity, or religious preference. The purpose of these groups is to provide additional support to some students who may feel alienated, to provide a means of cultural unification, and to work with other groups in helping establish campus unity and pluralism by sharing our different cultures and views with others. If you attended a school in a foreign country, would you not be interested in a group that brought American students with similar backgrounds together?

The bylaws in the minority groups do not base membership on sex, race, creed, or color, nor do they promote negativity towards any other races. Hence, by definition these groups can not be called racist.

Perhaps in the interest of promoting pluralism, before you make narrow minded, ill-informed opinions that use buzz words such as racism; you should attend any minority group's meeting to see first hand what the groups really represent. You are always welcome to join, especially if you believe your membership will further unite our culturally diverse campus. —
Portia Westbrook, graduate student, telecommunications

Police Blotter

A Vienna man died in a one-car accident Saturday morning.

The driver of the car, Kirk Kirby, 21, of Goreville, reported to Illinois State Police that he was southbound on Highway 148, two miles west of Interstate 57, at 1:45 a.m. when a northbound vehicle swerved into his lane.

Kirby reported that he swerved to miss the vehicle, running his car off the road and up an embankment, which flipped his car over, police said. James D. Johnson, 18, of Vienna, Kirby's passenger, was thrown from the car, police said.

Johnson was pronounced dead at the scene, police said. Kirby was taken to Marion Memorial Hospital. Police said Kirby was arrested and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving too fast for conditions and not wearing a seat belt.

Kirby remains in Marion Memorial Hospital. Hospital officials would not release details of his condition.

Four people were injured in a two-vehicle accident Saturday morning.

Sylvia Baker, 41, of Carbondale, was northbound on Route 13 at 10:35 a.m. when her truck struck a car driven by Geneva Sexton, 63, of Metropolis, Illinois State Police said.

Sexton had pulled her car from Highway 148 into the path of Baker's truck, police said.

In addition to the drivers, also injured were Dorothy Vaughn, 70, of Metropolis and Ada Belle Janter, 76, of Pontiac, MI, both passengers in Sexton's car, police said. All four people were transported to Marion Memorial Hospital, where they were treated and released.

Sexton was ticketed for failing to yield at an intersection, police said.

Among other subject areas, Roundtable discussions covered "Hotel, Restaurant and Travel," "Powers of Being Distinctive."

Also at the conference were various vendors who sold products pertaining to African-American culture such as books and clothing.

A career fair with representatives from the U. S. Navy and the Wellness Center among other organizations was also held during the conference.

The entertainment was provided by local talent as well as SIUC talent, Shorty said, but three nationally renowned speakers addressed the conference.

"The highlight of the event was the keynote address by Donna Farrakhan (Muhammad) as well as other speakers," Shorty said.

Jawanza Kunjufu, author and president of African-American Images, a Chicago publishing house and Giancarlo Esposito, an actor who has played in films such as "Do the Right Thing," "Mo' Better Blues" and "School Daze," also addressed those at the conference.

"The BAC has a variety of programs geared towards the upliftment and advancement of African-Americans at SIUC," King said. "With the extra revenue from the conference, we can strengthen our existing programs and develop new ones."

Although exact figures from the conference are still being tabulated, Shyrlena Bogard, a junior in biological sciences from Memphis and BACLC assistant coordinator, said the conference, which drew about 600 people, will turn a profit.

"We are still in the process of getting our figures together, but the early signs indicate a strong profit margin," Bogard said.

The registration costs were $30 and $40 for SIUC students and advisors, respectively. Non-SIUC students and advisors paid $70 and $80, respectively.

Tuesday Shorty, a senior in art and design from Chicago and BAC coordinator, said the success of the previous two conferences was a key to the financial success of this year's.

"Once the word spread throughout the country about the positive aspects of the BACLC, we had people calling us about the conference," Shorty said. "We knew our product was good and now the country knows. Our profit speaks for itself."

King said although the BACLC is happy to be profitable, the organization should be seen as money hungry.

"Our main goal is not making money for the sake of having a large account," King said. "We strive to make money to better the organization."

meetings at which the Illinois Board of Higher Education and state university representatives would openly debate program cuts and allocation of funds.

"One of the biggest issues next year will be the program cut (proposals) the schools are receiving," he said. "The cuts are already being debated, and IBHE has acquiesced to some of the (complaints), but this would be the first time (the senate) would hear debate by all of the schools."

Announcement of state senate committee positions is scheduled for a Nov. 17 meeting, he said.

John Foster, associate professor of political science, said the Republican majority in the state senate probably would create likelihood for Dunn to be appointed.

However, he said there is not an apparent split in partisan theory regarding higher education, which makes it difficult to predict results of Dunn's appointment.

"Both parties seem to be interested in providing increased funding for education," he said. "Whether funding increases or decreases is anybody's guess."

Foster said the increase of Republican state senators probably is a result of suburban population growth, in which Republican theory often is popular in suburban areas. Dunn said he also is seeking a higher position in the appropriations committee that handles higher education funding, but does not expect to become chairman because several Democrats have held committee positions longer.

He was in the Illinois House of Representatives' Higher Education Committee from 1973 to 1985, and was minority spokesman for the state senate committee from 1985 until now.

Although such tasks often are delegated to lower-level officials, Clinton advisers said they hope to model their plan upon the successes won in the early days of the Reagan administration by a similar team headed by James A. Baker III and Richard Darman, then top White House officials.

Clinton advisers said they expect that the as-yet-unnamed new director of the Office of Management and Budget also would become a major participant in the strategy group.

Appearing on NBC's "Meet the Press," Mitchell said he was encouraged by the pace and direction of Clinton's transition.

"My hope is that there will be good bipartisan cooperation on the important agenda that the president-elect will place before the Congress," he said. "I think he's right on track."

The Panther defense allowed the Leathernecks only 44 yards rushing and held three-time Gateway offensive player of the week, quarterback Donny Simmons, to only 81 yards passing. The only WTU score came with 1:07 remaining in the game when reserve quarterback Matt Seman found Steve Ross for a 23-yard touchdown.

Northern Iowa quarterback Jay Johnson completed 16 of 23 passes for 338 yards, including an 80-yard third-quarter strike to Kenny Shedd. Shedd caught two passes in the contest totaling 122 yards.

"I think last night UNI just had it all clicking," said WTU offensive coordinator Dan Dodd. "The combination of Johnson, Shedd and their other receivers really hurt us." The loss sent WIU into second place in the Gateway at 4-2 and 7-4 overall. Northern Iowa regained a tie for first place in the Gateway at 4-1 and moved to 9-1 overall.

Eastern Illinois tailback Edson Castillo rushed for 211 yards on 21 carries as the Panthers defeated Western Kentucky 28-7.

The senior ran for the sixth-best rushing total in school history at Charleston. He got the scoring underway in the first quarter with a 59-yard touchdown run as the Panthers built a 21-0 half-time lead.

The win ended the Panthers season with a mark of 5-6 and 2-4 in the Gateway. The Hilltoppers fell to 3-6.

Illinois State quarterback Danny Barnett threw for four touchdowns to lead the Redbirds to a 52-33, non-conference win over Southeast Missouri State in Cape Girardeau, Mo., Saturday.

Toby Davis, I-AA's second leading rusher, scrambled for 135 yards and scored three touchdowns as ISU ended their season 5-6, 2-4 in the Gateway.

SEMO running back Kelvin Anderson, the third leading rusher in I-AA, gained 180 yards on 20 carries for the Indians in a losing effort.
