College seeks tougher guidelines

By Dena Schulte
Staff Writer

Increasing enrollment has prompted the College of Education to raise its enrollment standards.

The University has about 450 education majors this year, an increase of about 130 over previous years, Nancy Quisenberry, dean for academic affairs, said.

The more stringent requirements are expected to eliminate a glut of education majors who are having problems finding teaching jobs in Illinois, she said. The state has a low employment rate for new teachers because there are fewer jobs than graduates. Of the 60 first-time teachers hired in Southern Illinois last year, 30 were graduates of SIU-C.

Bill G. Dixon, chairman of the curriculum, instruction and media department, said new criteria for students in the program are being developed. He said the criteria should be finished and approved before November. It will limit enrollment by "design," Dixon said.

"We only want to turn out so many teachers a year," he said. "We feel we have a professional responsibility to turn out the best students we can and not plug the market with people who just want to get a degree."

The new guidelines also may ease some of the college's problems caused by the overabundance of education students. Two part-time employees were added this year to ease the burden on staff members.

"We work with 18 full time student teachers to a coordinator," Quisenberry said. "This year we are above that formula. The higher number means there are more students who need to start teaching."

Students must work up to 12 hours a week in a public school as a teaching assistant before graduation. There are 10 schools that offer student teacher positions in the Southern Illinois area and about 100 students to fill them.

Council will study safety suggestions

By Deedra Lawhead
Staff Writer

An SIU-C employee asked the City Council Monday to take action today on improving traffic safety at the intersection of University Avenue and Mill Street.

Linda Nelson, civil service worker at Woody Hall, said she was "concerned about the city's inaction" regarding the intersection.

City Manager William C. Dixon said the council shares Nelson's concerns and welcomes her suggestions. However, traffic signals have been approved for the intersection and will be installed by next spring, he said.

Nelson said she estimated about 20 near-misses a day and at least three wrecks a week at the intersection "to say nothing of the sheer terror that strikes the heart of any motorist who tries to cross University Avenue."

Nelson showed the council several photographs of the intersection and suggested that "wrong-way," "one-way" and "cross traffic does not stop" signs be posted at the intersection.

The city will consider the suggestions today to see if

Poshard's future lies in gray area

By Dana DeBeaumont

State Sen. Glenn Poshard, D-Cartersville, said he will run for U.S. Rep. Ken Gray's 22nd District seat in Congress, if Gray doesn't seek re-election.

"I hope that he (Gray) runs for re-election, but if he doesn't, I will run for that seat," Poshard told a political science class Monday.

The 22nd District includes Carbondale.

Gray, D-West Frankfort, will announce Nov. 1 whether he will run for re-election, Poshard said.

He said if Gray announces his future plans at a press conference, he will attend, but will consult with his county chairs first to determine campaign plans.

"It would be a dangerous thing not to consult with county chairs," he said, laughing.

Poshard said although an election is coming up next year, he supports a one-half percent Illinois state tax increase. State legislators may choose to invoke the increase to restore funds lost by Gov. James R. Thompson's 4 percent across-the-board budget cut.

"In the minds of people, the tax increase is a waste of money," Poshard said. "You have to think pretty hard before you offend your constituency."

Amtrak train derails in Iowa, injures 111

RUSSELL, Iowa (UPI) — Eleven cars of Amtrak's California Zephyr train to Chicago derailed Monday in south-central Iowa, injuring as many as 111 people, officials said.

They said the extent of the injuries was not immediately known and that those hurt were taken to hospitals, many with broken bones.

In Washington, a spokeswoman for the National Transportation Safety Board reported that 111 people were injured, according to preliminary indications from the rural accident scene 60 miles southeast of Des Moines.

Earlier, Amtrak spokesman Cliff Black, also in Washington, said, "We have reports of 80 injuries. There could be more."

Black said 11 of 14 cars on the eastbound California Zephyr derailed along with both engines. There were 248 passengers and 22 crew members aboard the train when it derailed at 11:30 a.m. CDT, he said.

Another Amtrak spokesman, John Jacobson, said none of the passenger cars overturned, but he said the train struck a Burlington Northern railroad bridge crane.

"It's not clear whether it struck the crane after derailing, or whether striking the crane caused it to derail," Jacobson said in Washington.

The Lucas County sheriff's office said most of the injured were taken by ambulance to hospitals.

At least a dozen of the victims were from Illinois, most from the Chicago area. Others were from Dolton, Alton, Sauk Village, Hazelcrest, Milan, Northbrook, Elmhurst, Girard, Cottage Hills, Burbank and Galesburg.

Tigers topple, Twins take AL title

DETROIT (UPI) — The Minnesota Twins, patsties of their division last season, Monday earned their first World Series berth in 22 years by beating the Detroit Tigers 5-5 behind Tom Brunansky's homer and two-run double.

In capturing the American League playoffs four games to one, the Twins won two of three games at Tiger Stadium despite holding one of the poorest road records in the major leagues this season.

The Twins, who finished 85-77 for the year, joined the 1973

New York Mets as the only division winners with fewer than 90 victories to advance to a World Series.

Minnesota will open the Series at home Saturday night against the National League champion. Third baseman Gary Gaetti of the Twins, who hit two homers in Game 1, was named Most Valuable Player of the AL playoffs.

"They beat up on us in every direction," Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson said.

Detroit posted baseball's best record (98-64), then dropped two of three playoff games at home after losing Games 1 and 2 at the Metrodome. The Twins led 4-0 and added five insurance runs after the Tigers used three runs in the fourth to close within 4-3.

Minnesota, beaten by the Dodgers in seven during the 1965 Series, finished 71-91 last year as Manager Tom Kelly replaced Ray Miller with 23 games remaining. The Twins finished sixth in the AL West last season.

The remarkable one-year turnaround continued Monday before a Tigers Stadium crowd of 47,448 as Bert Blyleven pitched six innings for his second victory of the playoffs. He gave up five hits before Dan Schatzeder came on to start the seventh.

Ex-Tiger Juan Berenguer, making his fourth appearance of the playoffs, yielded Chet Lemon's two-out solo homer in the eighth to make it 6-4 before Jeff Reardon finished for his second save. Johnny Grubb singled to bring up the tying run in the eighth before Pat Sheridan, who won Game 3 with a two-run homer off Reardon in the eighth, lined out to left fielder Dan Gladden.

Brunansky, whose two-run double triggered a four-run second, homered in the ninth to put the Twins ahead 7-4. Brunansky's ninth RBI of the playoffs left him one shy of the major-league playoff record set by California's Don Baylor against Milwaukee in 1982. Baylor currently plays for the Twins.

Women golfers battle with weather, injuries

By Todd Mounce
Staff Writer

Adverse weather conditions and the loss of a key player left the women's golf team in a seventh place finish at the Huskie Classic Tournament at Dekalb, Ill.

Michigan State won the tournament with a 322 and a 308 for a 630 two-day team total. Host Northern Illinois followed five strokes behind with 310 and 325 for 635. Iowa finished in third place with two rounds of 318 for a 636.

The University of Illinois' Justi Rae finished first individually with 72 and 74 for a 146 two-round total.

Julie Shumaker led the Salukis in scoring. She carded 80 and 78 for a 158 two-round total. Tina Kozlowski followed six strokes behind with 80 and 84 for 164. Peggy Ellsworth finished with 86 and 84 for a 36-hole total of 170. Lisa Johnson also carded a 36-hole total of 170. She shot 91 the first round and 79 the second one. Lisa Merritt finished with 87 and 94 for a 181 total.

Vicki Higgerson hurt her hand on the first day of the tournament and didn't finish the round. She may have fractured or sprained it, Daugherty said. Higgerson hit her hand on a tree root while playing.

Men golfers let first-place finish in Saluki Invitational slip away

By Todd Mounce
Staff Writer

The men's golf team slipped from a second place on the first day to a third-place finish in the Saluki Invitational.

The Saluki Invitational, held at Rend Lake Golf Course, is the last tournament for the men this fall.

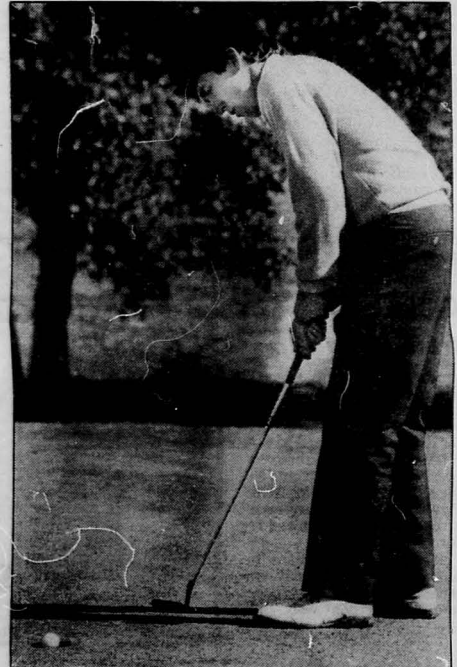

Southwest Missouri won the 36-hole tournament with a 604 two-day team total. Bradley finished second with a 616.

The Salukis followed four strokes behind to finish with a 305 and a 315 for 620 total. SIU-E finished four strokes behind the Salukis with 308 and 316 for a 624 36-hole team total.

"I'm frustrated, I really am, but I'm not going to give up on this team," coach Lew Hartzog said. Hartzog said he thinks his players are getting weary of playing golf and they need a break. They have been playing since last spring.

A three-way tie for first place at the end of the tournament forced a playoff. The three leaders played one hole, where John A. Logan's Mark Bartlett birdied while the other two players made par. Bartlett finished first individually with 79 and 71 for 150.

SIU-C's Jeff Mullican, who finished first individually on the first day with a 72, fell back to a third-place tie. On the twelfth hole, Mullican's drive landed in a bush. Mullican was unsure if the bush was the 200-yard marker and if he was allowed a free ruling. A free ruling allows the player to concentration, he said. "It's such a mental game," Hartzog said. "You have to play one hole at a

NBC cameras display bad taste in AL series

Ever have one of those days when nothing seems to go right?

Ever have a TV camera follow you around on one of those days? What would your reaction be?

NBC's decision to keep cameras focused on prominent Detroit players like Kirk Gibson and Darrell Evans is downright irritating.

Let's talk tacky. Let's talk about good taste and responsibility of the broadcast media.

As if the Detroit Tigers didn't have enough problems with the Minnesota Twins in the league championship series, they also had to contend with where the eager NBC cameramen were focusing their attentions.

NBC's cameras repeatedly followed Detroit's Gibson into the dugout after unsuccessful batting attempts in the first three games of the ALCS.

After Gibson went down swinging in game two, the cameras followed him back to the dugout, where he was shown kicking a trash can and swearing up a storm. A microphone picked up the locker room language Gibson

Giants will test Cardinal's comeback abilities

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants are on the verge of their first National League pennant in 25 years by following the example of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals made a season and an NL East championship out of coming from behind. Most notable was the ninth-inning rally S. pt. 11 that wiped out a New York lead and kept the Mets at bay just when the defending World Series champions seemed ready to make their run.

That was the case all season. St. Louis posted 51 comeback victories in collecting 95 wins and then added two more in the playoffs.

The Giants came from behind over the weekend, winning Games 4 and 5 after trailing in each. As a result, San Francisco leads the NL playoffs 3-2 and can advance to the World Series by winning Tuesday night.

"I tell them to go out and play like little boys," Giants Manager Roger Craig said Monday during a team workout. "Here it is Oct. 12 and they're still having fun playing baseball. That's why we have to keep playing like little boys, to erase all of that anxiety and tension. I want them to relax and have fun."

St. Louis twice erased one-run deficits to claim Game 1. They also came back in Game 3, rallying from four runs down for a 6-5 victory.

San Francisco seemed to be paying attention. In Game 4, the Cardinals led 2-0, and the Giants ended up 4-2 winners. Sunday, St. Louis led three times at the top of an inning and never at the bottom and lost 6-3.

"Well, we let one get away from us at home," Craig said. "But I think we're playing extremely well right now. We're on a roll. This club is not overconfident. We know we have a ways to go."

Craig sounded careful not to offend the Cardinals, adding a compliment for St. Louis in nearly every sentence. But the Giants exude a confidence that doesn't reach quite cockiness. Most teams in the middle of June are not as loose as San Francisco was at its Monday workout.

"We don't use the word 'if,'" Craig said. "We feel we have to win tomorrow. We're not counting on anything. We're playing a good team."

"Sometimes athletes can get motivated to where you've got supreme confidence and you play better than you really are. I'm not saying we're playing better than we are, but we are playing extremely well right now."

Japanese biologist wins Nobel Prize for research

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Susumu Tonegawa, a Japanese biologist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, won the Nobel Prize for Medicine Monday for his work on how the human immune system defends against disease — research useful in the fight against AIDS. Tonegawa, 48, won the prize for showing that humans are not born with every gene necessary to produce the proper immune response to disease. Instead, genes rearrange themselves appropriately to produce the response.

Aquino to declare martial law if 'necessary'

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — President Corazon Aquino Monday raised for the first time the possibility she would declare martial law if it were "absolutely necessary" and "for the greater good of the country." Aquino, who has survived five coup attempts, also showed a reporter the presidential bedroom to rebut claims by a columnist she hid under her bed during an Aug. 28 coup bid. She then filed a libel suit against the writer.

Lawmakers approve new Korean constitution

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — The National Assembly Monday approved a new constitution that institutes sweeping democratic reforms for the first time since the nation gained independence after World War II. The one-house parliament approved the new constitution in a 254-4 vote, with 14 lawmakers absent. The new constitution, composed of a preamble, 130 articles and six addendum clauses, must be ratified by voters in a national referendum Oct. 27.

Fighting rages between Indian, Tamil rebels

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (UPI) — Indian troops encircled the hideout of a Tamil rebel leader Monday in northern Jaffna peninsula, where 48 hours of fierce fighting has left more than 250 people dead, including 18 soldiers, officials said. The incidents were the latest in violence since Oct. 8 when Indian troops were dispatched to Sri Lanka to enforce a July peace accord aimed at ending the island nation's 4-year-old ethnic war.

Bush officially enters 1988 presidential races

HOUSTON (UPI) — Vice President George Bush, promising to seek a "new harmony" at home and to help "freedom fighters" all over the world, officially entered the race Monday for the 1988 Republican presidential nomination. The Connecticut Yankee turned Texas oilman said, "I mean to run hard, to fight hard, to stand on the issues — and I mean to win."

Hurricane hits Florida with 80 mph winds

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Floyd howled up the Overseas Highway toward Miami with 80 mph winds Monday, lulling the Florida Keys with a lamb-like entrance before lashing them with the fury of its tail. A small plane crashed into a business section of Pompano Beach and authorities said two or three people were killed. There was no immediate indication whether the hurricane was responsible.

Church accuses AT&T of breaking pledges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Episcopal Church, convinced the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is not honoring its pledge to halt sales of AT&T products in South Africa, said Monday it will seek shareholder action and may ask the government to investigate. The church decision to act follows a story in the Sept. 28 issue of AT&T Reports, an authoritative industry newsletter that covers the telecommunications giant, showing photographs of the newest AT&T computer being marketed at a Sept. 8-12 Johannesburg trade show by Olivetti and Olivetti resellers.

Officials seek $11.9 billion housing program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Association of Housing and Redevelopment officials called Monday for a $11.9 billion housing program for low and moderate income families to reverse what it called a decade of neglect. Under the program developed by the association of local public housing and community development officials, $7.4 billion of the proposed $11.9 billion would be in new federal commitments.

Violinist to play at Shryock

Violin virtuoso Jeland Chen will perform in a Southern Illinois Concert Series recital at 8 tonight in Shryock Auditorium.

The program includes works by Arcangelo Corelli, Ludwig Van Beethoven, Camille Saint-Saens and Igor Stravinsky.

Chen was first brought to national attention in 1963, when at the age of 18 he carried off the first prize at the Yehudi Menuhin International Violin competition. As a result, violin master-teacher Yehudi Menuhin honored Chen by inviting him to become his pupil in Europe.

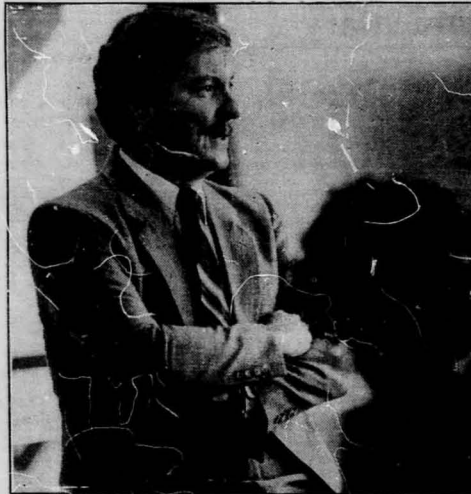

In his recital, Chen will play seven works including Beethoven's "Sonata No. 5 in F major," subtitled, "Spring," the six-movement work, "Suite of Spanish Folk Songs," by contemporary Spanish composer Manuel de Falla, and "Tambourin Chinois," by violinist-composer Fritz Kreisler.

Accompanying Chen will be American pianist Jeffrey Gilliam, who is a faculty member at the International Menuhin Music Academy in Gstaad, Switzerland.

Tickets are $2 for students and are available at the Student Center ticket office and the Shryock Box Office before the performance.

State Sen. Glenn Poshard speaks to a political science class Monday in the Communications building.

Poshard said there are only two ways for government to raise money — borrow money or raise taxes.

For every $1 government borrows, it must pay $3 back, he said.

Last fiscal year, which ended June 30, Illinois paid $538 million in interest on borrowed monies, Poshard said.

"That money goes in the pocket of some big Northeastern banker who didn't build one road or pay one teacher's salary," he said.

"We better think twice before we force our children to pay the bill we've incurred."

Poshard said politicians are being dishonest in not telling people that a tax increase is the only option.

"Politicians don't have the courage to tell people the truth for fear that they won't vote for us," he said. "We can't continue to run government the way we're doing it."

"My hope and faith is that I can make my case (for the tax increase) logically," Poshard said.

Verification of residency for employees continues

By Toby Eckert
Staff Writer

About 20 University employees are still gathering documents to verify their legal residency and right to work in the United States, William Capie, director of Personnel Services, said Monday.

Capie said he is confident all 20 workers will come up with the documents and he does not anticipate that any of the workers will have to be fired.

"Compliance is coming along fine," Capie said. "It doesn't appear we'll have any problem with enforcement at all."

The employees could face dismissal if they do not comply with a federal law requiring them to produce evidence that they are in the country legally and have the right to work here. Under the Immigration and Control Act of 1986, all employees hired after Nov. 6, 1986, must produce such documentation.

The deadline for compliance with the law was Sept. 1.

Poshard holds asbestos hearing

State Senator Glenn Poshard, D-Carterville, will have a public hearing at 7 tonight to answer questions on statewide reductions of asbestos. The hearing will be in the Batteau Room at John A. Logan College.

"Asbestos in SIU-C buildings is a very serious problem," Poshard said Monday to a political science class in the Communications Building.

He said it will cost an estimated $1 billion to clean up asbestos statewide.

Since the Department of Health told him asbestos is not a problem until it is released into the air, Poshard said he has been concerned about asbestos-infested buildings.

"Southern Illinois is in a highly-potential earthquake zone," he said, "and if an earthquake strikes, asbestos could be shaken loose and breathed by nearly everyone in the contaminated buildings."

Women have need to take back night

THIS FRIDAY, AS part of Women's Safety Week, women from Carbondale and its surrounding communities will take part in the annual Take Back the Night march. Some will carry signs; some will bring their children. As they do every year, they will protest the various forms of violence aimed at women and children daily — including rape, battering and exploitation.

Many people misunderstand the intentions of the march, and hecklers along the Strip often have a field day with the marchers. Others just don't take the marchers seriously.

This attitude is what the marchers are protesting against — the attitude that violence against women and children is not a problem. The frightening reality is what they want people to become aware of: that one in three women is raped in her lifetime, and one in four women will be assaulted before she is 18.

THE LIST GOES ON. Wife beating is the most common but least reported crime in the United States, with 40 percent of women who are murdered dying at the hands of their husbands. From 10 to 20 percent of American children are sexually assaulted by their parents or a parental figure, while even more are victims of physical abuse.

SIU-C is not immune to such violence. From 1980 to 1986, more than 100 cases of battery and aggravated battery were reported to campus security. In 1984, 38 percent of attacks on women at SIU-C were committed by boyfriends or ex-boyfriends. About 82 percent of the attacks were of physical violence, and 18 percent were sexual.

Violence has become a part of our daily existence, touching every generation, race and social stratum. A virtual "conspiracy of silence" enables the violence to continue, by forcing victims to keep quiet, rather than speak out about their experiences or seek support from fellow victims.

THE TAKE BACK THE NIGHT march, which began in New York City in 1973 and is in its 11th year in Carbondale, is an effort to break that silence.

By bringing women together to symbolically "take back the night" that women and children cannot walk freely in, it enables women to empower each other through sharing their experiences instead of remaining isolated and hence powerless.

The attitude is one of optimism and strength. Survivors of rape and assault wear sashes so that other marchers and fellow survivors might spot them. At the rally following the march, speakers talk about their experiences, and the obstacles they encountered in overcoming them.

Others talk about the violence that exists in day-to-day existence: the violence of battery, child abuse, homophobia, pornography, war. Chants are heard during the march and at the rally: "Women United Can Never Be Defeated," and "Hey-Hey, Ho-Ho, Rape and Violence Have Got to Go."

MANY PEOPLE ON the outside may not understand the need for the march, but the women leave feeling replenished, re-energized.

The march is an important step in the right direction, that of giving women the power and strength that they deserve, as well as a feeling of solidarity with other women. If only they could keep the night after taking it symbolically this Friday.

Letters

Greek system has much to offer

After reading Adam Broad's letter on "Accomplishments of the non-frat system" which appeared in the Oct. 6 issue of the Daily Egyptian, I was, to say the least, disappointed. I sensed a touch of disinclination in his letter. As a member of the Greek system I would like to expand on it and give a more informed interpretation of Greek life.

Yes, SIU-C offers a wide variety of activities for its students. The Greek system is a chance to go one step further with the college experience.

The fraternity system has existed for more than 200 years. More than 5 million men and women have found brothers and sisters in more than 10,000 chapters of Greek-letter societies across the United States and Canada. Out of these Greeks have come presidents, actors, senators, Supreme Court justices, Nobel Prize winners, sports Hall of Famers, and Miss Americas.

The 1980s is a time of growth for Greek life. Tradition, the opportunity to meet people with similar interests and the chance to use Greek life to get involved on the outside is what makes it all so popular.

There are unending benefits of going Greek. At a large university, living in a Greek house is like having a home away from home.

Living in a fraternity means getting close to 40 to 50 guys or gals from all kinds of backgrounds and being part of a crowd that enjoys working together, socializing, and getting involved in school activities. It's about making great friends, studying, competing, playing and working toward common causes like lifelong friendships, individual and group achievement and overall chapter pride.

Leadership skills used in the chapter, or as a member of campus clubs and activities the house is involved in, are useful in many ways even after college.

Academically, Greek life can aid students by providing older actives with many of the same courses to tutor their brothers and sisters for free. Fraternal organizations stress scholarship and usually have minimum standards for their members to meet. On the whole, Greek GPAs surpass those of non-Greeks.

If you're into sports, Greek life provides opportunities to develop skills and teamwork in a large spectrum of intramural and inter-Greek sports.

Philanthropy represents Greeks at their best. Performing civic and humanitarian duties to aid the poor, the helpless and the elderly through a wide variety of social service techniques including blood drives, telethons, food drives, and other clever ideas, is one thing Greeks do well.

And last, but not least, are the various social aspects.

The Greek system has so much to offer. By blindly listening and following those whose knowledge of the Greek System is ignorant, you'll never know what you're missing. No, Greek life isn't for everyone, but you'll never know until you look into it for yourself. Brett Moss, sophomore, political science, Alpha Tau Omega.

Today's pollution is collective world woe

I applaud Lynn Conley's letter of Oct. 10, drawing our attention to the parallel between the health risks of smoking and the health risks from the "many nuclear, chemical and industrial hazards that daily contaminate not only our air, but our land, water and food supplies."

I believe that it is the very same energy and habits of thinking that result in the daily lighting up of millions of cigarettes and the daily environmental suicide that our culture commits.

The energy is that of denial — denial that what we do today, whether it is smoking a pack of cigarettes or dumping radioactive wastes in our lakes, has anything to do with the quality of our lives tomorrow.

It is the habit of linear thinking, thinking that promotes the notion that I can make a mess today, like polluting my inner environment by smoking or polluting my external environment by thoughtless exploitation, and simply walk away from it with no effect on me or my children's tomorrows.

We are creating our future right now. Health, whether it is within our bodies or our planet, is the result of many small and personal decisions to reject the daily mini-suicides our society would have us commit. A healthy future necessitates that we end the denial of what we are doing to ourselves, our bodies as individuals and to our planet as a collective. — Patricia Fabiano, coordinator, Health advocate program, Wellness Center.

Editorial Policies

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of their authors only. Unsigned editorials represent a consensus of the Daily Egyptian Editorial Committee, whose members are the student-editor-in-chief, the editorial page editors, a news staff member, the faculty managing editor and a School of Journalism faculty member.

Letters to the editor may be submitted by mail or directly to the editorial page editor, Room 1247 Communications Building. Letters should be typewritten, double spaced. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 500 words. Letters of less than 250 words will be given preference for publication. Students must identify themselves by class and major, faculty members by rank and department, non-academic staff by position and department.

Letters submitted by mail should include the author's address and telephone number. Letters for which verification and authorship cannot be made will not be published.

F-senate to vote on nominations discuss alcohol ban proposal

By Susan Curtis
Staff Writer

Nominations to the search committee for vice president for academic affairs will be voted on at today's faculty senate meeting.

If approved, the two faculty senate nominees, Michael Altekruze, educational psychology, and George Fraunfelder, geology, will be part of a 12-member committee to conduct the national search.

In other business, the governance committee will recommend a resolution on a proposal governing alcoholic beverages.

The resolution states that "the use, including sale, delivery, possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in or on any property owned or controlled by the University is strictly prohibited, except otherwise provided in these regulations."

The regulations specify that people must be of legal drinking age, and alcohol consumption may only take place in designated living areas "in accordance with administrative guidelines developed by University Housing and approved by the president."

The president also may approve exceptions to these regulations to allow possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages by people of legal drinking age at designated events and locations on campus, according to the regulations.

This issue is "essentially non-controversial," said Jervis Underwood, governance committee chairman.

This is just "a clarification of the earlier policy that was already in place," he said. A state statute has made it possible for alcohol to be used on campus, he said.

The governance committee also will endorse a policy accommodating religious observances of students, in which the University is required by statute and common courtesy to allow students to observe religious holidays.

The budget committee will recommend a joint resolution with the faculty status and welfare committee on allocation of any restored funds from the fiscal year 1988 budget.

The resolution calls for replacement of the $3.3 million budget cut to be put back into the areas from which it was cut, and use of funds in excess of $3.3 million to be used for an increase to the salary base for all campus groups and University employees.

The faculty status and welfare committee also will hear from the ad hoc committee on the retirement fund.

anything can be done between now and when the traffic signals are installed, Dixon said.

The council agreed Monday to send a proposed ordinance to the Planning Commission, which would require owners to show proof that they did not rent to more people than the zoning law permits. The commission will hold a public hearing on the ordinance and make recommendations to the council.

In February, the Undergraduate Student Organization asked the council to pass an ordinance that would hold owners responsible for violations of the zoning law rather than just the tenants.

The proposed ordinance applies to the southwest side of the city and other areas zoned R1. R1 areas are restricted to single family residences, residences with one family plus one unrelated person.

Alfred Landon dies at age 100

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI) — Alfred M. Landon, the unsuccessful 1936 Republican presidential candidate who became the patriarch of Republican politics in the United States, died Monday in his sleep. He was 100.

Landon's wife of 57 years, Theo, was with him at his death, said Mike Harper, a spokesman for Landon's daughter, Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan. Kassebaum was on her way home to Topeka from Connecticut Monday night, Harper said.

Landon was hospitalized Sept. 28 in Topeka for abdominal pain and general weakness.

Suspect transferred to county jail

Shoot-out suspect Terry Lee Jones, 24, of Carbondale Mobile Home Park was transferred from Memorial Hospital of Carbondale to the Jackson County Jail at 11:30 a.m. Monday, police said.

Jones is expected to appear in court today, police said.

Jones was shot by Carbondale police officer James A. Temple on the 200 block of North Washington Thursday night in an act of self-defense, Ed Hogan, chief of police, said.

Jones is charged with assault and unlawful use of weapons.

Temple is on vacation leave and will return to work Oct. 20.

Chlamydia is common disease

By Cath Devera
Wellness Center

Are you sexually active? Have you been sexually active within the past 10 years? If your answer is yes to either of these questions, you need to know the facts about Chlamydia.

A recent informal poll asked SIU students what they thought the most common sexually transmitted disease (STD) was. By far the most common reply was, "Gonorrhea". Very few students knew that "Chlamydia" is the correct answer. In fact, the majority of students said they had never even heard of the infection.

Chlamydia (pronounced Kla-mid-ee-uh) are widespread sexually transmitted microorganisms that are causing a national epidemic and a number of serious problems for the many women and men who contract the disease.

Symptoms of Chlamydial infections may appear within a few days to a month after exposure to someone with the infection, but untreated can probably persist for 10 years or more. In men, symptoms include itching, painful urination and discharge from the penis. In women, signs of Chlamydia may include vaginal discharge or burning urination, pelvic pain and bleeding between menstrual periods. The alarming aspect of Chlamydia is that many women and some men have NO symptoms at all.

Dr. Lawrence E. Frisch, medical chief of staff at the Health Service, has stated that their studies suggest, "10 percent or more of sexually active women on this campus have Chlamydia and don't know it." He called the infection a "potential fertility bomb." As part of a research study conducted at SIU-C several years ago, it was found that about 17 percent of the women tested received positive results.

Chlamydia can be very dangerous. Untreated, it can cause sterility, and women can pass it to their infants during birth causing eye infections or pneumonia. Dr. Frisch encourages all students who have more than one sex partner, a recent change in sex partner (within two months) or who don't use a barrier method of birth control (i.e. condom or diaphragm) to get tested for Chlamydia.

The Health Service is currently performing Chlamydia tests on symptomatic and high risk patients. In women, a swab test is done which feels no different than what is experienced during a routine Pap Smear. In men, a urinalysis or other simple tests may give the physician enough information to prescribe treatment. It generally takes three days to get the results for a positive test and a little longer if the test is negative.

Fortunately, Chlamydia can be cured quickly and painlessly with antibiotics. If infected, you will need to notify your sex partner(s) who should be treated by a doctor (even if there are no symptoms) in order to prevent reinfection and complications.

The only way to get Chlamydia and other STDs is from someone who is infected. The only way the disease can be prevented for sure is by abstinence. For those who choose to be sexually active, we recommend the use of condoms.

Of course, knowing your partner well and limiting your number of partners will help to significantly lower your risk.

For more information on Chlamydial infections or other sexually transmitted diseases, call the Wellness Center at 536-4441.

Intramural roundup

The intramural 12-inch softball championships were played at Arena Fields Monday afternoon after being postponed because of bad weather over the weekend.

In the men's A division, the Schtingers beat The Zoo 3-2. Aggressive and determined, the Schtingers led 10-2 after the second inning and the entire lineup of 10 players was able to score in the fourth.

Michael Bauml was the winning pitcher, while Pat Perino pitched for The Zoo.

In B side action, AGR edged by Fury to capture a 6-5 victory.

In the corec finals, Packages beat Zoo Rec 10-5.

Flag football starts Tuesday at the Arena Fields. No new teams are being accepted but individuals interested in playing can join an existing team.

Innertube water polo begins play Thursday. Interested students can still join an existing team but no new teams are being added. Innertube water polo is played Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 6-9 p.m. at the Recreation Center pool.

Wheelchair basketball

The Rolling Salukis wheelchair basketball team wheeled its way to a third-place finish and its first-ever trophy Oct. 10-11 at a non-conference meet in Knoxville, Tenn.

The four-team tournament included the Rolling Tide from Alabama and the Rolling Romans from Rome, Ga.

In Saturday's action the Salukis lost to Smokey Mountain, 44-34, in a fairly close match. The second game Saturday featured an 39-30 SIU-C win over the Rolling Tide.

Sunday, the Salukis took on the Rolling Romans, and were downed 71-28.

Looking ahead, the team is preparing for its first conference meet of the season Oct. 23-24 in Whitewater, Wis.

Rugby roundup

Rugby's A and B sides both enjoyed victories over Western Kentucky in Bowling Green, Ky., last Saturday.

The A side won its match 22-6 while the B side followed up with a 21-0 drumming of WK.

Basketball tryouts

Anyone interested in trying out for the SIU-C men's basketball team should show up at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the Arena.

Consecutive RBI doubles by Gladden and Greg Gagne capped Minnesota's three-run ninth. The Tigers added a run in the ninth on an RBI single by Kirk Gibson.

Minnesota had won just nine of 35 road games since the All-Star break until Sunday night's 5-3 triumph. Detroit overcame a 3 1/2-game deficit with eight games remaining, clinching the AL East by edging Toronto 1-0 on the final day.

The Twins batted around while scoring four runs in the second and knocking out Doyle Alexander. Gaetti led off with a single and Randy Bush walked. Brunansky lined an opposite-field double but was thrown out trying for third as the Twins went ahead 2-0.

Steve Lombardozzi singled and reached second on a groundout. Gladden's RBI single made it 3-0 and Gagne was hit by a pitch before Kirby Puckett's single brought Gladden across.

Alexander, who pitched at least six innings in each of his previous 28 starts this season, was replaced by Eric King. In yielding six hits and four runs over just 1 2/3 innings, Alexander raised the ERA of Detroit's playoff starters to 7.94.

The Twins added a seventh-inning run against King, who retired nine consecutive batters before Kent Hrbek ended a 1 for 18 playoff slump with a single. Gaetti set a playoff record when he became the eighth batter of the series to be hit by a pitch. After a wild pitch, moved Hrbek to third, Bush's sacrifice fly put the Twins ahead 5-3.

Gladden doubled against rookie Jim Henneman in the eighth and scored when Lou Whitaker's relay throw got past first baseman Darrell Evans following a forceout. Evans was charged with an error for allowing the run to score.

After Matt Nokes grounded back to Rearidon for the final out, the Twins burst from the dugout in celebration. As a disgruntled crowd filed out of Tiger Stadium, Minnesota players rolled across the infield dirt and doused each other with buckets of water.

The Tigers scored three runs in the fourth before Blyleven could record an out. Gibson lined a leadoff double and scored on Alan Trammell's single. Nokes sent Blyleven's fastball over the right-field fence to draw the Tigers within 4-3.

The Tiger Stadium crowd gave Evans a standing ovation when he came to the plate in the first. The 40-year-old veteran made two errors in Game 4 and was picked off third base in one of the biggest baserunning blunders in postseason history.

used in venting his anger and frustration. One sportscaster quipped to "hide the women and children."

Before game four, Gibson, taking the ever-focused cameras in stride, jokingly asked NBC commentators if they could improvise a seven-second delay that would allow editors time to clip out his outbursts.

Where were the cameras in game five, when Gibson, who was jubilant because of his double off the wall or his catch that robbed the Twins of a home run? He wasn't cursing then but his jubilation must not have been as "newsy" in NBC's definition of the word.

In game four, the cameras and attention were turned toward Evans, who was charged with two crucial errors and was picked off third base with his team trailing by just one run.

The ever-present cameras found Evans after the game, first staring out into space and later getting a long drink at the water fountain. As if the verbal tongue-lashing applied by Bob Costas, nationally recognized as one of the better sportscasters in the profession, wasn't enough. "Undoubtedly the most awful night in his long and distinguished career," Costas told the TV audience. And he didn't stop there.

What was NBC trying to prove? Did network officials feel that such coverage was good journalism?

Granted, the visual display of the emotions involved in such a big game can be good journalism. It can paint a picture in a way words would not allow. But so can the anguished faces of survivors of a plane crash. However, in the latter situation, our journalists have been taught to use taste and common sense.

What NBC did does not give the audience a better understanding of the game of baseball. It did not help predict the outcome of the game, nor did it portray a favorable image of baseball players in general. Instead, it painted a vivid image of grown men cursing in front of a national television audience.

The fans sitting in the first row can't see the actions taking place in the dugout. Why should the fan at home? As a fan of baseball and good media coverage, I hope ABC, the network which will air the World Series, will opt to focus attention on the game. After all, that's what they are there to cover.

time. When you hit a good one you take credit for it and so when you hit a bad one you also have to take credit for it," Hartzog said.

Mullican led the Salukis in scoring. He carded 72 and 80 for a 152 two-day total. Britt Pavelonis followed three strokes behind with 78 and 77 for 155.

Hartzog said he plans to make the invitational an annual event. "It will be much better next year," he said.
