Representatives Coming

Greeks Will Discuss Commission's Report

A meeting with representatives from the national organizations of all fraternities and sororities on campus has tentatively been set for 9 p.m. Oct. 5 in the Small Group Housing Area Office, according to Robert Carter, president of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Carter said the representatives would meet with members of the local chapters and officials of the University to discuss SIU's recent commission report that set down guidelines of integration and housing for fraternities and sororities.

Kenneth Varcoe, who will be acting coordinator of student affairs at small group housing effective Oct. 1, said that he did not know about the scheduled meeting.

Carter also said that a Phi Sigma Kappa regional convocation which was to be held in Indiana in November, will now be held on the SIU campus.

He explained that the topic of discussion at the convocation would be integration in fraternal organizations.

Fraternities Table Protest Proposal

A proposal to send letters to legislators concerning the integration clause of SIU's commission report on fraternities and sororities was tabled at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council Wednesday night.

Sue Loomis, president of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority, said a letter to legislators was circulated among fraternal organization presidents this week but were apparently not sent pending action by the Board of Trustees.

"Our (Phi Sigma Kappa) national president contacting the national presidents of the other fraternities on campus and inviting them to attend the conclave," Carter said.

The national secretary of Phi Sigma Kappa is meeting today with Wilbur Moulton, dean of student affairs, to discuss the commission report, Carter said.

Crucial Game For Detroit Is Postponed

DETROIT (AP) -- The crucial American League game between Detroit and California was postponed Thursday night because of rain.

The teams will play a twin-night doubleheader, starting at 6 p.m. EDT, Friday.

Tiger Stadium was buffeted by a driving drizzle and 44-degree temperatures. Despite the weather, about 10,000 fans turned out for the scheduled opener of the four-game series.

The Tigers are one game behind the Minnesota Twins, in first place in the American League, but the two clubs are tied in the critical loss column.

The Twins were not scheduled Thursday, and Boston, tied with Detroit for second place, and Chicago also had the day off.

Joe Sparna, 15-9, and Earl Wilson, 22-11, are the scheduled pitchers for Detroit Friday while Jack Wright, 5-4, and Jack Hamilton, 9-6, will hurl for the Angels.

Officials, Greeks Clash On Guideline Issues

Several areas of the guidelines for fraternities and sororities came under fire Wednesday night at a meeting of the organizations' officers.

The Commission on Fraternities and Sororities presented guidelines for the Greeks to the presidents of the organizations. Also present were members of the Office of Student Affairs.

One area of contention involves requirements for membership and housing. The original draft of the proposal stated that the groups must maintain 90 per cent of occupancy by members during two of any consecutive three-year periods and must maintain an average of 90 per cent for the three years.

Kenneth Varcoe, acting coordinator of student affairs for the fraternities and sororities (official Oct. 1), said he thought this section probably would be changed by the commission.

Wilbur Moulton, dean of Student Affairs, pointed out that this was the first draft of the guidelines and that they are undergoing rewriting subject to suggestions by the organizations and other interested parties. Moulton urged anyone wanting to submit suggestions to do so within the next week.

Varcoe said that the requirement for the three-year average would probably be dropped. He also said that a section calling for a review board may be added to this section.

Lenzi Calls for an End To 'Feudalism' at SIU

Student Body President Ray Lenzi has urged campus student leaders to "work for a new era and a new freedom for students."

Lenzi, addressing the Campus Senate Wednesday night, bemoaned what he called the students' "second class citizenship in the Universities."

"The universities of which we are a part are institutions grounded in the lowest common denominator of respect for the undergraduate human beings on the campus," he said of higher education in America in general.

Lenzi took particular exception to what he termed the waste of many of the University's resources. "More time and money is spent on enforcing trivial regulations than on educational innovations and creative restructuring of the terribly outdated learning situation," he said.

Lenzi called for a trend towards a student reform in all areas of student concern. "We students must seek a 'new freedom' in learning and living. We must demand:

- Educational reform to personalize and make meaningful the educational process,
- Recognition of our right to exercise our civil liberties as human beings and Americans,
- Recognition of sole student authority in regard to social regulations, organizations and student funds,
- Student control over the discipline process, and most basically,
- Our right to participate as equal human beings in all aspects of University life."

Lenzi predicted that student unrest at Southern would be manifested, possibly in an intellectual confrontation with the administration or by violence, in the near future.

"The feudal lords dominate every aspect of our lives," Lenzi said, speaking of the University administration. "There is no reason to tolerate it. . . we are asking for an end to feudalism and a return to democratic principles."

SIU Group Will Inspect

Menard Educational Building

SIU officials will tour a new educational building Friday at Menard Penitentiary in Chester.

Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs, will head the SIU group making the trip. The building, constructed at a cost of $750,000, houses the Menard printing shop and other educational divisions.

The first floor houses the printing department, including the Menard Time, the prison newspaper. The Time has won many national press awards. The newspaper staff was originally trained by members of the SIU Department of Journalism.

The first floor also houses an inmate commissary and the library. The library area is four times larger than the old quarters.

The second floor contains facilities for inmates in the General Education Development program and other educational programs.

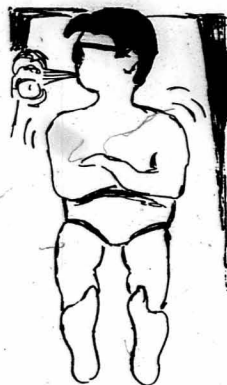

An office for the Veterans Officer is also included in the second floor layout.

SIU has taught extension courses at Menard for several years and offers courses leading to a bachelor's degree.

Student Involved In Auto Accident

An SIU student, Warren Casey, 21, suffered minor bruises Wednesday at 10:45 p.m., when the car he was driving left the road in an attempt to avoid another vehicle. The accident occurred on Old Rt. 13, one-fourth mile east of Murphysboro.

Treasurer Explains University Memorial Program Structure

Often when someone connected with the University dies a memorial fund or scholarship fund is set up by the family.

Frequently there is some confusion on the part of the other members of the University community as to what this fund is used for and how it is established.

Robert Gallegly, treasurer for both the University and the SIU Foundation, said his office is contacted by the family wishing to establish such a fund in the memory of the deceased.

Business Student Council Petitions Available Monday

Petition forms for nominations for School of Business Student Council posts will be available Monday in Room 114 of the General Classrooms Building, according to Darrel Vandermeulen, council president.

Voting, which will elect candidates for eight at-large seats on the council, will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6, in the General Classrooms Building lobby.

Candidates, who must have 25 signatures of undergraduate students to be on the ballot, must be business majors. Voting will be open to all undergraduates enrolled in the School of Business.

The council will have 16 representatives, Vandermeulen said. Eight already have been chosen as representatives of organizations. The group will elect officers at a later date this fall.

Contributions are sent to the foundation in lieu of flowers for the deceased and the treasurer's office deposits the money in the name of the fund to be established.

After a reasonable time has passed and most of the contributions have been received, the treasurer meets with the family.

Gallegly said the family is told how much was collected and counsels the family as to the possible avenues for using the funds.

Generally the family selects some student program or research project to which the deceased devoted much of his time and energy and either a grant or scholarship, is offered to deserving persons connected with the specific field or interest, Gallegly said.

Growth Is Problem

The need for sidewalks on South Wall Street was made obvious by the death of two SIU students last Friday night. Many pedestrians who have experienced close calls while walking in the street will testify that this need has been obvious for quite awhile.

Pedestrians, however, are not alone. Harold Hill, of the Carbondale Building, Zoning, and Housing Office, said that the project to build sidewalks along the section of Wall in question had been approved three months ago, and that it is considered "top priority."

Sidewalks will be built in conjunction with a larger project to widen Wall Street between Louis Lane and Snider Street.

In defense of Carbondale's present lack of sidewalks along Wall, it might be realized that the foot traffic on that street was not a major problem until the completion of the Wall Street Quadrangles two years ago and the construction of Fox-Eastgate Theater one year ago. During that time, some new sidewalks have appeared and some dirt roads have become streets.

None of this will bring back Friday's victims, but any blame that might be placed on the city must go to Carbondale's unwieldy growth rather than to ignorance or sloth on the part of its governmental officials.

Ronald Gillette

C of C for Progress?

The Carbondale Chamber of Commerce once again has stepped into traffic matters with opposition to progress.

In the past the Chamber has termed Rt. 13 a "limited access" highway, conveniently ignoring the many turnoffs to places of business.

Now the Chamber opposes a plan to make Main Street-Rt. 13 one-way, with Walnut Street one-way the other direction. Chamber executive director Harry Weeks calls the proposal a "stop-gap" measure.

Maybe so, Mr. Weeks. But where were you when Walnut Street was being widened months ago? Why didn't you speak out then, when there was time to change plans? It's well past time to plug the gap.

The downtown traffic situation east-west is desperate. Coupling in those directions, similar to the north-south couple in operation, would be a blessing.

Direct access routes to SIU, as proposed by Weeks, should not be constructed in place of the east-west couple, but in addition to it.

Any fears of loss of business to downtown stores because of the couple should have been dealt with years ago, when the area became outdated and crowded and when shopping centers and huge discount stores first came to Carbondale.

Today the foremost problem to the city as a whole is traffic congestion. A move to combat it, such as a couple, should be completed as soon as possible. Our vote is cast on the side of Mayor Keene and those in the city government who back the east-west couple.

Draft-Dodgers Find Life Hard

By Herb Greer

A small but steadily increasing number of young Americans have begun to seek refuge in Britain to avoid service with the United States armed forces in Vietnam.

Johnny L. is one of them. He is 24, a tall, lean, swarthy boy from Texas. He dresses roughly and wears a bushy moustache and a scraggy short beard.

After a 1-A classification, he used every trick he could think of to keep ahead of draft boards in Texas and New York until last November, with nothing left but induction, prison or running, he fled to Brussels.

From Belgium he drifted to Copenhagen, Dublin and then to London. Loans, hand-outs and occasional odd jobs have supported him. Whatever happens, he says, he will not go back to America, where he faces five years' imprisonment and a heavy fine.

Howard G., frail, rather nervous and bright-eyed, is a playwright, a graduate of the University of California, aged 25. His work was performed at the university and he was encouraged by Christopher Isherwood. Instead of outright refusal to be drafted, he chose the reserves, signing up while still an undergraduate. He had a nervous breakdown, and when his unit was sent to the Watts riots he refused to go. He failed to secure medical discharge, but was transferred to the inactive reserves.

He settled for a time in the west of Ireland and then came to London. He is living on savings and loans and technically he is still in the reserves. One order to report for active service by 1 June was rescinded, but he is still on call and sooner or later he will have to refuse service. When that happens he will, like Johnny, become liable to a fine and imprisonment.

Mark P. is a phlegmatic high school graduate from New Jersey, a skilled mechanic at 20. His case is more ambiguous than the others because he emigrated to Canada before he was called up.

When the papers arrived he informed the authorities that he had left America for good. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued in the Federal Court of New Jersey. Undisturbed, he proceeded to England.

He is luckier than some of his compatriots, having relatives here to support him and prospects of employment. He will probably be able to settle into a comfortable and permanent exile.

Prospects for other draft-dodgers in Britain are poor. Benedict Birnberg, of the National Council for Civil Liberties, suggests that some fugitives may qualify for political asylum as dissenters from American policy in Vietnam. The Home Office view is the draft-dodgers are liable for prosecution in America for breaking the Selective Service law, not for their opinions. But all aliens without means of support and 'legitimate' cause for staying here — such as employment or education — are liable to deportation.

The American authorities can, under NATO agreements, arrest deserters in Britain — but they cannot legally arrest or extradite draft-dodgers. Though the British police have on one occasion made inquiries on behalf of their American counterparts in a Selective Service case, the American Embassy says that no such request has been made at the present time.

If the Embassy is aware of the presence of a draft-dodger in Britain, every effort is made to get in touch with him, make sure he understands his position, and, if possible, persuade him to return to the United States. Conceivably the deportation powers of the Home Office could function as a kind of unofficial extradition, if the deportee were returned to America against his will. But that has not happened so far.

The draft-dodgers — about 30 have surfaced in London in the last six months — will not necessarily be returned to America: they can still seek a haven in Scandinavia or France or Holland, where even deserters are safe from the U.S. authorities.

U.S. Auto Makers Still Favor Style, Power Over Safety

Like the changing of the seasons, the introduction of the new line of automobiles has become a colorful part of autumn Americana. In words and images, the first announcements of the '68 models promise not to disappoint the public educated to buy luxurious fittings, fastback sportiness and masculine conquest by horsepower.

By contrast, one old-fashioned and overlooked word — safety — is still being played down, except in connection with increased prices, in the sound and fury about joining this or that automobile "rebellion." As a considerable rise in prices has been announced, the new car buyer deserves to know if the added safety features contribute as much to the total cost as the changes designed to keep up exterior appearances. It is important that the new safety standards not be made the scapegoat for the higher prices; if they are, future safety standards will be all the harder to put through.

Thanks to the new Federal standards, there are some good safety features incorporated in the '68 models although one important device — the shoulder harness that prevents the "second collision" following impact — there has been unfortunate delay. In the long run, the safety "rebellion" must come from the manufacturers themselves in their blandishments to car buyers. Safety should be a boast, not an afterthought. Here, unfortunately, the '68's sound like the '67's, etc.

Monetary Issues Confuse Everyone

By Carl W. Ritter
Copley News Service

If the man on the street is confused about international monetary developments and what may result from the International Monetary Conference this week at Rio de Janeiro, he is traveling in rather sophisticated company.

Consider two statements by New York City-based, nationally known investment advisory firms after the August agreement by finance ministers of the 10 leading Western powers to create a "special drawing right" in the International Monetary Fund.

One refers to "a new international monetary asset" to be created.

The other says "it is significant that the plan does not call for a new international monetary asset."

The plan in question is intended to facilitate the financing of world commerce and enable stronger and healthier economic growth. Its institution would tend to increase the world's monetary reserves, in effect supplementing gold, dollars and sterling in official coffers.

It is subject to approval of IMF governors meeting at Rio, after which the plan in treaty form would be submitted to national legislatures for final approval. It is estimated to become effective in late 1969.

If the United States continues to run substantial balance of payments deficits, the plan may not become operative until one, two or three years into the 1970s.

Pianist-Humorist H.L. Scott Keeps Audience Laughing

"Honeydew melons play the piano better than grapefruits," said Henry L. Scott, noted musician-comedian at the convocation coffee hour Thursday. Mr. Scott had just made his tenth appearance at SIU. He has appeared at the convocation series for seven consecutive years.

This was the fourth appearance in his latest tour. He has performed for audiences at Georgia Tech, Texas

A&M, West Point Military Academy, Air Force Academy and the University of Texas. He has also made two appearances at Carnegie Hall in New York.

He said that the growth of SIU was amazing. When he first appeared here, SIU had only 5,000 students. This concert he enjoyed especially because of the attention and reaction to Listz's "Hungarian Rhapsody." He added that most students stay away from publicized classical concerts.

He writes his own material and tries to change it enough to keep it up with modern trends. He said during the show, "This is my own arrangement. . . . This announcement lets me leave out all the hard parts." His honeydew melon number was called "Chopin in the Citrus Belt." He usually uses grapefruits for this act, "but," he said, "for two months of the year they are just too small to use."

The audience laughed at his unusual hand movements. His impressions of the classical pianist and his imitation of Liberace kept the audience laughing. He gave his impressions of the three types of pianists that he has observed: the breather, the whistler-hummer and the sitters.

Scott's wife travels with him on most of the tours. She says that she usually plays chauffeur when they drive. Scott added that because of his heavy schedule and the distances he has to cover, he sometimes flies.

Traffic Deaths In State Rise Six Per Cent

State traffic fatalities for the first half of September 1967, are up six per cent over the same period in 1966, according to a provisional report released by the Division of Highways and the State Highway Police.

There were 112 fatalities in the first half of September. The figure for the same period in 1966 was 106 traffic deaths, the report said.

Francis S. Lorenz, Illinois public works director, pointed out that there were 63 persons killed in 42 traffic accidents involving collisions between two or more vehicles. Of those killed six were in accidents involving motorcycles.

The remaining fatalities for the state were a result of single vehicle accidents. Among these deaths 12 were pedestrians, including two fatalities in Carbondale last Friday night. Jack Hazel, Carbondale chief of police, said they were the first fatalities in the city since May 10, 1966.

U.S. Peace Initiative Advocated by France

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—(AP)—French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville renewed Thursday his government's call for a "decisive initiative" from the United States to end the "cruel and destructive" war in Vietnam.

He suggested in a policy address to the U.N. General Assembly that such an initiative might be an unconditional cessation of the U.S. bombing that is "ravaging North Vietnam."

"No one would approve of such a decision more than the French," he said, "and first because it would put an end to the suffering of many Vietnamese."

But he added that "this indeed would probably be a first step" to peace negotiations.

He said Hanoi had declared several times since last January that "discussions could be envisaged" if the bombing were halted.

France was the second U.S. ally in as many days to call for an end to the bombing of North Vietnam. But the government of President Charles de Gaulle has long been critical of American policy in Southeast Asia and the Couve de Murville statement was no surprise.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin told the 122-nation assembly Wednesday that any efforts to open negotiations between the two sides were "doomed to failure unless the bombing is stopped."

Couve de Murville contended that "the only imaginable settlement" in Vietnam would be a return to the Geneva Agreements of 1954.

This would involve, he said, evacuation of all foreign forces and a pledge against their return and a ban on any outside interference in Vietnamese commitment to a policy of strict neutrality.

The provisions, he added, should be embodied in a treaty to which the great powers and all other countries directly involved would be bound.

With these conditions fulfilled, he said, the Vietnamese should be left to settle their own affairs "in full freedom, on their own responsibility, regardless of the regime that they might think fit to adopt."

Couve de Murville said it would be "quite illusory" to ask the United Nations to try to end the war, noting that the effective functioning of the world organization depended on "the concerted action of the main powers."

Buddhists March in Saigon Protesting Religious Charter

SAIGON (AP) — More than 1,000 Buddhist monks and nuns marched through Saigon Thursday in protest against a new charter that recognizes a rival Buddhist congregation as the mother church in South Vietnam.

In their biggest antigovernment display in more than a year, the marchers demanded that Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu rescind the charter.

Among leaders of the march was Thich—venerable—Tri Quang, who directed Buddhist rioting in the spring of 1966 in an unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the military regime of Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The Buddhist marchers stretched three blocks. Police made no attempt to stop them.

Their banners carried slogans such as, "Gen. Thieu does not deserve the nation's leadership."

Thieu signed the new charter last July and the militant Buddhists have been agitating against it ever since. They claim their letters to Thieu have gone unanswered and the demonstration was the only way to present their demands to Thieu, who is also the president-elect.

Although they consider the charter their main grievance against the government of Thieu and Ky—who were elected president and vice president in the Sept. 3 election—they have joined others who charge that the election was rigged.

About 500 college students met at their Student Union headquarters Wednesday night, shouting anti-American and anti-election slogans.

"Down with the American imperialists," they yelled repeatedly. "Down with the rigged elections. Yankee go home."

2 U.S. Fighters Reported Shot Down Over Haiphong

SAIGON (AP)—American air squadrons lashed at North Vietnam again Thursday and a broadcast dispatch from Hanoi said Haiphong, hit repeatedly by Navy fliers recently, was among the targets. It declared two U.S. planes were shot down over that port.

American authorities had no immediate comment.

A Haiphong city committee-man, Pham Gia Tuan, complained in a statement relayed abroad by North Vietnam's official news agency that the raiders in the past have sometimes hit the heavily populated heart of the city.

Tuan declared 600 houses, three schools, three hospitals, and "many" economic establishments, have been damaged or destroyed. He offered no assessment of the effectiveness of the American campaign, aimed largely against bridges to prevent trains and trucks from moving into the countryside the war supplies that ships bring to the city.

While gun duels, patrol clashes and occasional open battles bleed Communist ranks in the South, U.S. combat losses in Vietnam are expected to top the 100,000 mark this week.

The roll of American casualties in nearly seven years of war, as updated Thursday to last Saturday midnight, listed 99,133 men—13,493 killed, 84,887 wounded and 753 missing or captured. The weekly average has been above 1,000 for months.

You'll want it,
treasure it, and maybe even love it.

That's right . . . real class. Last year's Obelisk had 464 pages of it. Pages that let you watch the University grow, and give you the lowdown on all the departments, and a ton of pictures and captions that will bring back the "old days" when you are that way. Show off with a new Obelisk. Brag a little to friends back home. (They might be a little envious, but brag anyway.) And for checking out dolls at TP (or the guys at the Phi Kappa Tau house), it's invaluable. You'll find all kinds of handy uses for your Obelisk. You don't even have to try hard. Be sure to order yours today from the guy at the Obelisk table. And it'll cost you only two bucks.

Disorders Top Issue: Reagan

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California said Thursday the outbreak of disorders in the cities probably overshadows the Vietnam war as the top issue in the country.

At an airport news conference, Reagan said the war "is definitely an issue but I'm not sure it's No. 1."

"It's lack of law and order and crime in our streets," he said.

Reagan, en route to dedicate a library at his alma mater, Eureka College, said there was no political significance to his Illinois visit.

Disaster Areas Set On LBJ Texas Tour

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson declared 24 South Texas counties a major disaster area Thursday after making a dramatic tour of the flood-and-hurricane devastated area by plane, helicopter and school bus.

Over-all damage in the stricken area has been estimated in excess of $1 billion. Johnson told a news conference here that damage to public facilities alone was more than $20 million. A total of 54 persons died in the storm and floods.

Meanwhile, the crest of the great flood spawned along the Rio Grande, its tributaries and man-made diversion channels appeared to have passed this battered, usually sparkling, city of 41,000.

Brownsville and Matamores, Mexico, near the Rio Grande's mouth, braced for the floodwaters' rise expected there.

The President flew into Harlingen Air Force Base at 4:29 p.m., CDT, went by school bus to a high school gymnasium where 2,500 refugees are lodged and thence by helicopter to Rio Grande City 200 miles upriver.

Everywhere he went, the tall Johnson bent down to shake hands and offer words of encouragement—to mothers, old men and children. "Keep your chin up," the President said. "This may pull us all closer together. Help is coming."

He left Harlingen at 7:38 p.m. for the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City in Texas' picturesque Hill Country west of Austin.

Reagan disagreed with a charge by a fellow Republican, Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, that President Johnson has been "brainwashed" by U.S. military and defense industry leaders on the conduct of the war.

"It's hard for me to believe the President has been brainwashed by the military when the evidence is that their advice has been consistently ignored," he said.

Reagan added, "There is a credibility gap. I don't think we have been kept informed and this certainly ought to be an issue in next year's election if my party is on the ball."

He said, "We should be heeding the advice of our military leaders more."

"The problem is to end the war as quickly as possible and I don't mean by putting our tail between our legs and getting out. This would mean a waste of an awful lot of American boys' lives."

The California governor said his trips to Illinois, South Carolina and Wisconsin this week represent chores that he was doing for his party.

"There's a smell of victory in the air," he asserted.

Friday, he heads south for a night speech at Columbia, S. C. On Saturday, he will address Republicans in Milwaukee, Wis.

This is Reagan's first national tour.

Construction to Start On 350-Foot Tunnel

Construction of a 350-foot steam tunnel between Wham Education Building and the General Classroom Building is scheduled to start today.

James E. Robinson, of J and L Robinson Development and Construction Co., said the first phase of the tunnel project is scheduled to be completed within 60 to 90 days, depending upon the weather.

The tunnel will cost about $50,000 and is being installed to improve the campus heat distribution system.

Robert A. Sproad of the University Architect's Office said the concrete tunnel, measuring seven by seven feet inside, will be installed during the first phase, but he gave no estimate of when the steam pipe system, the second phase, would be started.

History Books Given to SIU

The Chamber of Deputies of the Mexican Congress has presented an eight-volume set of books on Mexican constitutional history and the government of Mexico to SIU's Morris Library.

Entitled "Rights of the Mexican People--Mexico as Seen Through Its Constitutions," the books were prepared by a commission of prominent historians and lawyers for the lower house of the Mexican Congress. It was part of the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the triumph of constitutional government of the country under Benito Juarez over Emperor Maximilian of Austria.

The books were presented to Ralph E. McCoy, director of University Libraries, through Albert W. Bork, director of the Latin American Institute at SIU.

Alfonso Martinez Domínguez, chairman of the Committee on the publication, sent a set of the work to Bork for delivery to Morris Library.

Bork said that the work was a history of the constitutions of 1824, 1857 and 1917. Bork also said, "There is a careful analysis of each clause in the present (1917) constitution and a comparison with those of the chief countries of the world."

Bow Hunters Can't Carry Sidearms, State Conservation Director Says

Springfield, Ill.— "Don't carry a firearm if you are deer hunting with a bow," advises William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation. "Sometimes a bow hunter will pack a sidearm while he is in the field after whitetails and this practice is unlawful," Lodge stated.

The bow season for deer is divided into two portions. The first begins on Oct. 1 and ends on Nov. 6. The second portion begins on Nov. 16 and ends on Dec. 31.

The entire state is open for deer hunting, but archers must obtain permission from the landowner to hunt on private property. A $5 bow hunting permit is necessary unless the archer is hunting on farmland where he resides. In that case a free permit is issued. All hunters must wear their signed permit upon their backs while in the field.

A long bow of at least 40 pounds draw and standard broadhead arrows must be used. Hunting hours are from one-half hour before sunset. A hunter may kill only one deer during any calendar year. Archers must report their kills to the conservation officer in the county where the deer was taken or the Department of Conservation within 48 hours.

New Art Department Members Will Exhibit Examples of Work Oct. 3

An exhibit of drawings, paintings, sculpture and graphics by new faculty members in the SIU Department of Art will be on display in Mitchell Gallery from Tuesday, Oct. 3 through Oct. 31. A public reception honoring the artists will be held on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 8, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Expansion and increased enrollment in the Department of Art has brought the eight new faculty members to SIU, and this exhibit will serve to introduce their work to this campus and area.

These young men have already distinguished themselves through their teaching and exhibition records.

Several have participated in major exhibits in this country and are represented in several collections at major museums in the United States.

Aldon Addington, Daniel Gildesgame and Larry Kolden will teach in the area of basic studio courses. Addington studied at the Kansas City Art Institute and Cranbrook Academy, Kolden at the University of Wisconsin at Madison and Gildesgame is a graduate of the SIU Department of Design.

William Chaitkin is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis and Bruce Kurtz is a graduate of the San Francisco Art Institute as well as the University of Iowa.

Both Chaitkin and Kurtz will teach art history. Robert Paulson, from the University of Wisconsin will teach art history, painting and General Studies.

Michael Miller, a graduate of Penn State, comes to SIU from a previous position on the faculty of Middle Tennessee State University. Miller will teach painting and drawing in the art department.

The newest addition to art faculty is Thomas Walsh. Walsh is a graduate of the University of Michigan and previously taught at both Murray State University and the Kalamazoo Art Center. He has exhibited in many major competitions in this country and conducted demonstrations in casting and foundry work at art departments in the United States. Walsh will teach sculpture.

Wheels Night Festivities

To Start at 7 O'Clock Tonight

The annual Wheels Night festivities will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., tonight in the Agriculture Building. Wheels Night is intended to acquaint underclassmen, new transfer students and other interested students with the SIU campus organizations.

This year more than 60 clubs and groups are participating in the program. The organizations will be arranged in five categories: departmental clubs; scholastic and professional honoraries; social and living groups; special interest clubs and religious organizations.

According to Glenn Heller and Brenda S. Crimmins, co-chairmen of the event, an information desk will be set up in the Agriculture Building breezeway at 5 p.m., where the participating organizations may get room assignments to set up displays.

A printed program will be available at the information

Pioneer Craft Show Oct. 7-8

When the Illinois State Museum in 1964 staged an Illinois pioneer craft show there was little realization, according to Milton D. Thompson, museum director, that it would be followed by similar and bigger shows at historic sites.

On Oct. 7 and 8, for the second year, the restored Clayville Tavern, 12 miles west of Springfield on highway 125 near Pleasant Plains, will be the scene of a craft show and festival.

The event is being sponsored by the Sangamon County Historical Society and its former president, Dr. Emmet F. Pearson, and Mrs. Pearson. Staff members of the Illinois State Museum have been assisting with historical details. Five acres have been reserved for parking spaces.

The crafts festival this year offers visitors an opportunity to relive much of the historic past in demonstrations of old-fashioned hand and home crafts common to pioneer Illinois in an authentic setting.

Pennant Contenders Start Preparations for World Series

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Tigers have had thousands of badges made up which say, Tigers World Series.

The Minnesota Twins already are hanging out World Series bunting around Metropolitan Stadium.

The Chicago White Sox are spending about $50,000 sprucing up Comiskey Park and hiring office help to handle the volume of mail.

At Boston, the Red Sox are building a special platform for a World Series band.

The four clubs involved in the tight American League baseball race are taking no chances about being caught short-handed when, if, one of them lands in the World Series with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

None of them, however, is spending a great deal of money. There is a certain amount of caution on all four fronts.

"I guess our series preparations will cost about $50,000," said Rudie Schaffer, business manager of the White Sox.

"We are doing just little things. Parking facilities are no worry because we have space for 8,000 cars. We have put on extra help to take care of the volume of mail. There is patching and cleaning work being done around the park. We have a hard core of vendors that can be called on a moment's notice."

The Tigers say their outlay will not be exceptionally large because ushers, guards, vendors, etc., work at capacity level.

They've hired some 25 ticket handlers for the World Series and rented a downtown office for working space. Scorebooks have been made up but not printed. Improvements have been made in the press box.

"We have had World Series badges made up but we don't list the year," a Detroit spokesman said. "If not this year, we can use them later, maybe."

Billy Robertson, vice president of the Twins, estimates it will cost the club $12,000 to $15,000 above the $10,000 allotted by the commissioner's office to clubs printing tickets.

"We are hanging bunting,"

Robertson said. The Twins figure they've got enough hot dog salesmen.

The Red Sox estimate that they're blowing about $20,000 in hopes of landing the AL pennant.

They've hired some 30 additional workers in the office. They're making special arrangements for parking of the press and VIPs. They've converted the roof into a press box, giving season ticket holders reserved seats downstairs. They've put on 10 to 15 employees in the ticket department and added six telephone operators.

"We're also building a special platform for the Series band," a Boston spokesman said.

In one of the four AL parks, the band is going to play Take Me Out to the Ball Game, but which one?

Bakken Wins NFL Honors As Player of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bakken, St. Louis Cardinal veteran of seven National Football League campaigns, has a long way to go to match the field goal kicking feats of all-time great Lou Groza. But it'll be a long time before he forgets Sunday Sept. 24, 1967.

It was on that date the former Wisconsin star set an

Lake Will Close Oct. 1

Lake-on-the-Campus beach will be closed Oct. 1 because of continued cool weather.

SIU Golfers To Compete In Tournament

Five members of the SIU Women's Recreation Association golf team will compete in the Guy's and Doll's golf tourney this weekend at the Jackson County Country Club. The five women golfers will comprise the nucleus of this year's University intramural women's golf team.

Charlotte West, faculty advisor for women's intramural and extramural sports, said the team this year will be one of the "best in the country."

The couples in the Guy's and Doll's Tournament this weekend will tee off on Saturday morning and the competition will continue on Sunday. The tournament is regulation 36-hole play.

Leading the women from SIU will be Paula Smith. Her partner is Gary Robinson, SIU varsity golfer.

Managers Will Meet;

Roster, Entry Fee Due

A meeting for flag football team managers will be held at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday in Davis Auditorium.

It is important that all managers attend because team rosters must be turned in and the two dollar entry fee paid no later than 6 p.m.

NFL record by kicking seven field goals and adding an extra point in tallying all except six of the Cards' 28 points in the 28-14 victory over Pittsburgh.

For his feat, Bakken was chosen Wednesday by The Associated Press as the NFL's Offensive Player of the Week.

Bakken kicked field goals of 18, 24, 33, 29, 32, 24 and 23 yards, five of them into a stiff wind. "But I almost missed No. 7," said Bakken. "I knew about the record and looked up as I kicked." Bakken also established a league record for most field goals attempted, nine. He missed two, one from 50 yards and the other from 45.

The seven field goals broke the one-game record of six set last year by Garo Yepremian of Detroit, the soccer-style kicking specialist from Cyprus. The record for attempted field goals for one game was eight made by Yepremian in the Detroit-Minnesota game last Nov. 13 and veteran Lou Michaels while with Pittsburgh in a 1962 game against St. Louis.

The record for most field goals in a lifetime is the 223 held by Lou Groza of Cleveland.

October 15 Deadline Set for Tennis Meet

A single elimination tennis tournament, sponsored by the Intramural Office, will get underway Oct. 16.

All entries must be in the Intramural Office by 5 p.m., Oct. 15. Pairings will be available there at 9 a.m., Oct. 16. Participants may come to the office or call on that date to find out who they play. Tennis rackets and balls may be checked out at the Intramural Office.

Minnesota Now Favored to Win AL Pennant; Detroit Next Bet

By Will Grimsley
Associated Press
Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins now are even money favorites to take the American League pennant in the tense, choke-provoking race which ends Sunday. Detroit is 3-1 while Boston and Chicago have fallen to 5-1 in the revised odds of bookmakers.

	W	L	Pct.	GB
Minn.	91	69	.569	...
Det.	89	69	.563	1
Bos.	90	70	.563	1
Chi.	89	70	.560	1 1/2

Games remaining: Minnesota (2) at Boston Sept. 30, Oct. 1; Detroit (4) at home, California, Sept. 28, 29, 30, Oct. 1; Boston (2), at home, Minnesota, Sept. 30, Oct. 1; Chicago (3), at home, Washington, Sept. 29, 30, Oct. 1.

A four-way tie is now impossible since Minnesota and Boston, one game apart, have two games remaining with each other. A three-way deadlock still is possible.

The Twins can be assured of at least a tie — with only Detroit having a chance to catch them — if they gain a two-game sweep against the Red Sox. A split eliminates Boston.

In case the Twins take two, the Tigers would need to win all their remaining games to force a playoff. If the Twins and Red Sox split, Detroit could clinch the flag outright by taking all of its games and could gain a tie by losing only one.

Stanky and his White Sox need all sorts of breaks. One more loss eliminates them definitely. A combination of events would enable them to gain a tie — but they must win three.

The favored Twins and still hopeful Red Sox are idle Friday when action resumes with Detroit host to California and Chicago host to Washington.

Mayo Smith, manager of the Tigers, named Earl Wilson, his 22-game winner, to go against California's Jack Hamilton, 9-6, in Friday night's game and said he planned to come back with Mickey Lolich, 13-13, Saturday.

The White Sox are going with Tommy John, 10-11, Friday, following with Gary Peters, 16-10, Saturday and Joe Horlen, 19-7, Sunday.

The Twins have their two big pitching guns — Jim Kaat and Dean Chance — ready for the Boston finale.

The Red Sox are expected to come back Saturday with right-hander Jim Lonborg, 21-9, shelled by the Cleveland Indians Wednesday, but Manager Dick Williams indicated he might use rightie Joe Santiago 11-4.

OSCAR MOORE

Moore in Form*Harriers Meet Tough Kansas State Saturday

For SIU's cross-country team each successive week is like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

The Salukis have faced two tough distance squads already this season, opening with a loss to Miami of Ohio on the SIU course and losing the next week to a strong DePaul team.

Now Southern returns home to face Kansas State, the defending United States Track and Field Federation Champion and last year's NCAA runner-up.

Despite the Wildcat's prestige, Southern's Oscar Moore has to be considered the man to beat. Moore has broken several course records in his initial two starts.

Moore, the greatest long-distance man in SIU history, erased three records at DePaul last weekend. He toured the five-mile Washington Park course in 23:58.5. He was also clocked at 14:14 for three miles and 19:14 for four miles.

Coach Lew Hartzog said, "Oscar is in fantastic shape.

He broke those three records over the University of Chicago's course and there have been some pretty salty times run there."

"One, the former four-mile mark, was particularly impressive. It was set by Loyola's Tom O'Hara when he won the national championship."

The SIU-Kansas State meet will be run over a three-mile course southeast of the baseball field.

"This is the distance Kansas State requested," Hartzog said, "They run their conference meets at the same distance. I'm afraid it will be a disadvantage for us to run the shorter distance."

Arena Meeting Monday

All prospective intercollegiate wrestlers are asked by coach Jim Wilkinson to attend a meeting Monday at 3:15 p.m. on the Arena Course.

Saturday will be Wildcats Van Rose and Mike Tarry.

Hartzog said his No. 2 man, Jeff Duxbury, has recovered from the swollen archilles tendon which sidelined him for the Miami meet. Duxbury still hasn't gotten back to peak shape, though.

Dave Chisholm, who has taken two third places—missing second by inches once, Butch Homan, Dale Gardner and Alvin Moore round out the Saluki squad.

The starting time for the varsity meet is 11 a.m. It will be followed by a freshman meet between the same schools.

Rain Forces Title Bout Postponement

NEW YORK (AP) - Rain forced a one-day postponement of Thursday night's scheduled world middleweight title fight at Shea Stadium between champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy and ex-champ Emile Griffith of New York.

The 15-round match was rescheduled for tonight at 10 p.m. EDT although the weather forecast said there was an 80 per cent chance of continued rain.

If there is a second postponement the rematch will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. because the field must be made ready for the New York Jets' football opener Sunday.

Both fighters must weigh in again today at 11 a.m. At Thursday's late morning weigh-in, Benvenuti just made the class limit of 160 pounds and Griffith came in at 155 pounds, his heaviest for a championship match.

Orioles Rehire Bauer for '68

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced Thursday that Hank Bauer will continue as manager next season, ending a guessing game over whether he would be fired for the downfall of the 1966 baseball champions.

Bauer was signed after last season for a contract through 1968 at $50,000 a year.

The Orioles presently are in seventh place, 16 1/2 games out of first place.
