Dance Kicks Off Greek Week Activities

Singing, Sweeping, Racing

Also On 4-Day Program

Greek Week begins in earnest tonight. First major item on the program which has been condensed to four days this year will be a dance and concert at 9:30 p.m. in the University Center ballroom.

Highlighting the evening, during which Greeks will be entertained by the Tom Harris Trio and dance to the music of Preston Jackson, will be the crowning of the first Inter-Fraternity Sweetheart at 11:30 p.m.

Candidates for the title include: Rosalie Hass of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Pam Matthews of Sigma Sigma Sigma, Bonnie Beaver of Delta Zeta, and Pam Greenshields of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Fraternity men will cast their votes for IFC Sweetheart at the door.

Early Saturday morning weary Greeks will rise and board trucks at Greek Row for downtown Carbondale where operation "Big Sweep," will involve an expected turnout of approximately 280 Greeks. It is designed to clean the streets of 28 blocks of downtown Carbondale.

"We have been gathering brooms for weeks," said Mary Jo Oldham of Sigma Kappa, co-chairman for Greek Week along with John P. Lundgren of Tau Kappa Epsilon. "We Greeks are happy for the opportunity to assist the city of Carbondale by helping them kick off their clean up campaign."

Greek Sing, the highlight of Greek Week, will take place at 8:00 p.m. Saturday at Shyroek Auditorium. Five fraternities and five sororities will take part in the show emceed by Jim Sappenfield. Trophies will be presented to the first and second place winner.

At intermission, the finalists for the title of Most Valuable Fraternity Man, and Most Valuable Sorority Woman will be presented. Dean of student affairs, I. Clark Davis will present trophies to the winners judged on service to their fraternity or sorority, campus activities, and grade point averages.

Sunday, Greeks will picnic at Little Grassy Camp #1. Busses will leave Greek Row at 1:30 and return at 6:30. The picnic will feature games as well as a limbo contest and dancing to the music of an all fraternity band.

Greek Week concludes Monday night with a track meet at 7:30 p.m. in McAndrew Stadium where events include a chariot race for the fraternity men and a tricycle race for sorority girls. Trophies will be awarded to the winners of all races with a special trophy going to the owners of the chariot with the most pleasing appearance.

Library Meeting To Attract 200

About 200 high school students and librarians will attend an all-day delegate assembly of the Illinois Student Library Association Saturday at Furr Auditorium.

Frank Puttman, Murphysboro High School senior, is president of the organization which is composed of high school student library assistants, many of whom are primarily interested in careers in library science.

Featured speaker for the fourth annual assembly will be Dr. Keith Butts of SIU's instructional materials department. Butts, formerly a public relations man for the United States Operations Mission to Iran, will illustrate his discussion of his experiences in that country with colored slides and art objects that he obtained on his trip there.

Also on the program will be Reba Lockerby, SIU senior, who has been selected by the recruitment committee of the Illinois Association of School Librarians to discuss her reasons for having chosen librarianship as a career. Other program talent will be Southern's AFROTC Singing Squadron and a series of skits on phases of library work, under the direction of McLeansboro High School librarian Mrs. Lauren Con-

Proclamation

The annual Greek Week for this year is hereby proclaimed for April 27 through April 30. It will open with a dance Friday night and will involve the choosing of the Greek Sweetheart. The Big Sweep Saturday morning, the Greek Sing Saturday night, the selection of the most valuable fraternity brother and sorority sister, the big picnic on Sunday, and the Greek track meet on Monday. This is expected to be the climax of the year for the Greeks of Southern Illinois University.

Poll Shows Students Endorse Resumption Of Nuclear Testing

What do SIU students think of resumption of nuclear testing by the U.S.? Here are some of their replies:

"I think it's a great idea. I believe if we didn't test, it wouldn't stop the Russians. We must keep up with them. We've got to flex our muscles, so to speak," commented Suzanne Hartford, a senior from Gibson City.

"I'm glad we're doing it," said Frank Messersmith, a sophomore from Springfield.

"We need to show the world that we're not scared of Russia threatening us not to test."

Peter W. Hemingway, psychology instructor, said, "I think it is unfortunate, but necessary."

Thomas Jedlicka, a senior from Crystal Lake, who is majoring in Social Studies stated, "I think that we should test our nuclear power, because it will keep us even with the Russians, if not ahead of them."

Rainy Brennan, an interior decorating major from Arlington Heights, says "that we should keep up the testing as long as we have to."

Larry E. Jackson, junior, Peoria, "I think the U.S. should resume testing as a safety precaution."

Gordon Sims, freshman, Benton, "We should test--we can't let ourselves down just because we're a peaceful nation. We have to stay strong and let Russia know we're strong."

"I think that the U.S. did the right thing because Russia has been conducting nuclear testing for a long time, and the U.S. is long overdue in resuming testing," stated Deana Journey, 19 year-old junior sociology major.

Skip Taylor, senior music student from Christopher states that it's a very good idea to resume the nuclear tests. "This will help balance the powers of the world."

"Bad necessity that is confronting the world," stated John Elkins, 21 year-old speech correction student from DuQuoin. "It's a necessity because it helps to keep the balance between the Eastern and Western Powers."

"Necessary evil---necessary because we must maintain our position as a world nuclear power, and in order to do this, we must resume nuclear testing," stated Al Kramer, 20 year-old management student from Chicago.

Pat Casey, University City, Mo., who is majoring in math, exclaimed "What nuclear testing?"

Men Appreciate Wives After Home Ec Course

It isn't strange to see women come out of a man's barber shop or even a YMCA, so if you visit the SIU Home Economics building, don't be surprised to find the tables reversed and see more males than females in sight.

Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday 38 of these males make their way to a one o'clock class entitled "Home Economics for Males."

The course title invokes an incongruous mental picture of male students industriously learning to cook and sew. But according to Miss Hazel Crain, course instructor, "this is due to the stereotyped and false idea that home economics is limited to teaching sewing and cooking."

Miss Crain explains that home economics has a much wider scope and in the "Home Economics for Males" course, she attempts to give the men a summary of home economics. Primary emphasis is placed on fulfilling roles in the family, consumer problems, foods and nutrition, social behavior and financial management.

At the beginning of the quarter, each student is asked to write out his reasons for taking the course. These aims are given primary emphasis whenever possible.

The reasons for taking the course vary from a physical education major who plans to go into coaching and wants to learn proper etiquette for the banquets he will have to attend, to those who just want more poise in their social contacts.

Allan Edwards, a senior majoring in business management and the father of an 11 year-old daughter, said he took the course because "I feel the best way to instruct my daughter about etiquette is to show her by example." He also hopes the course will improve his social confidence.

Like Edwards, many of the students in the class are married. For this reason, Miss Crain emphasizes the rearing of children in the three-credit course which is offered every quarter.

Joe Provines offers a word of advice to those students taking the course because they think it will be easy. "It's no snap," he said. He is taking the course because he feels it will and is helping him in his business and family relations. Joe has an added incentive for learning about home economics; his wife is majoring in home economics.

ing a "Home Economics for Males" course, which aims at giving its 38 male students a general summary of the home economics field. (Photo by Don Heiberger)

If You Have Talent You Can Enter University Center Gallery Of Creativity

Application deadline for entries in the Gallery of Creativity is Friday, April 27.

All students and faculty members who are interested in displaying their creative work are urged to pick up an application at the University Center Information Desk, says Miss Dorothy Miller of the activities development center.

"Response has been enthusiastic," says Miss Miller. Competitive exhibits are restricted to amateurs, but professionals may contribute their work for non-competitive exhibition.

The event which will be held May 5 and 6 in the University Center ballroom will exhibit the following categories: art, handicrafts, photography, graphic arts and design, sculpture and pottery, engineering design and architecture, musical composition, and creative writing.

Awards will be given for the top three exhibits in the first six categories. Judges will be experts in appropriate fields.

An added attraction will be the debut of the 56-member Glee Club, May 5 at 9:30 p.m. This all-male group is under the direction of Robert Kingsbury. Among the selections the group will sing are numbers from Kiss Me Kate, South Pacific, Bach Chorale, a folk song and two Schubert songs.

Highlighting the two-day display will be exhibits from the Southern Illinois Arts and Crafts Guild. This work will be judged separately from the Gallery.

The exhibits will be on display from 7 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Saturday, and 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

Scholarship Dance Slated At Woody Tonight

Woody Hall's annual scholarship dance will be held tonight from 9 p.m. until 2:30 a.m. in the recreation room.

Don Capris' band will play or the informal affair which his year is entitled "Birds and Bees Bounce."

The dance is staged to raise funds for scholarships to be given to girls living in Woody Hall. This year the girls hope to raise enough money to award three $100 scholarships.

Barbara Hawkins is dance committee chairman.

Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority will hold its International Reunion Day Saturday at the Gardens restaurant. Earlier it had been reported that the event would be in Engel's restaurant.

John Reznick and Lucy Klaus will serve as co-chairman of the Thompson Point Leadership at Little Grassy Lake May 4 and 5.

The camp is for Thompson Point officers and interested leaders. Marianne Horned, Thompson Point Program Consultant, will act as camp advisor.

The camp opens Friday evening with dinner at Little Grassy Camp No. 1. Dr. David Potter of the speech department will be guest speaker, and group discussions will follow.

Saturday morning respective presidents, vice-presidents, and other officers will meet to discuss the problems and responsibilities of their positions. In the afternoon plans will be made for next year's program.

71 Sessions Planned:

Many Occupational Groups Plan Busy Summer At SIU

A record number of 71 short courses, workshops and conferences have been officially scheduled during the 1962 Summer Session at Southern Illinois University, Dean Raymond Dey has announced.

There is a short course, workshop, or conference for almost every occupational group, including nurses, coaches, teachers, newspapermen, surgical technician instructors, bankers, cosmetologists, playground leaders and so on.

High school workshops and special courses are on the rise, as are adult education courses aimed for special groups with particular goals in mind. And credit-giving short courses have risen considerably above a year ago, continuing what has been a steady growth over the past 10 years, Dey said.

An example of the range of such courses, workshops, and conferences is the high school workshops in communications, actually offering outstanding sophomores and juniors advanced work in five areas—journalism, radio-TV, debate, drama, and photography.

a whole host of credit courses for teachers who want to improve their knowledge during the summer.

Other examples include the National Science Foundation programs—in anthropology, botany, chemistry, mathematics, microbiology, physiology and zoology. For high school youth: such adult education courses as the School of Advanced Cosmetology, Public Relations and Sales for Inland Waterways, and the Illinois Bankers School; and

Such conferences as the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors, the annual coaching clinic, and as educational materials exhibit and summer education conference bring thousands of people to the Carbondale campus each summer.

REV. BILLY B. SHARP

Rev. Sharp Speaks At Wesley Retreat

The Rev. Dr. Billy B. Sharp, director of youth counseling services of the Episcopal churches of St. Louis, will be the featured speaker at the spring retreat of SIU's Wesley Foundation, Friday and Saturday at Giant City Park.

Sharp holds a B.A. degree from Austin College; B.D. from Drew University, and a M.A. and a Ed. D from Columbia. The ordained Methodist minister is also associated with the American Psychological Association and the American Association of Marriage Counselors.

The theme of the retreat is "Sex, Theology, and Psychology."

Discussion topics will include: Freud, Cross of Christ, Anatomy, and Theology.

Radio, TV Stations On Fast Time

Operation and program times for WSIU and WSIU-TV, radio and television stations at Southern Illinois University, will move forward an hour with clocks throughout the state when Daylight Savings Time goes into effect Sunday. Both stations will remain on "fast" time until standard time returns the last Sunday in October.

Right to Drive Taken Away From Two Student Motorists

Two students have had their driving privileges revoked and another faces University action as a result of offenses committed recently, Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant dean of student affairs said.

Theodore H. Diemer, 26, Northbrook, Ill., and Robert Morris, 23, Des Plaines, Ill., lost their driving privileges after being fined a total of $55, including costs, on charges of being drunk on the streets in Murphysboro, and for disturbing the peace by using profane language.

Morris has lost his driving privileges as a result of having four traffic violations during the academic year Zaleski explained.

The third student, Charles Thimness, 19, Decatur, Ill. was fined $50 and costs after being charged with breaking and entering in Carterville on April 24.

It will be recommended that he be suspended from the University through the fall quarter, Zaleski said.

Reservations For Matrix Table Due On Friday

Reservations are due, Friday for the Matrix Table which commemorates the founding of Theta Sigma Phi women's professional journalism fraternity.

Reservations should be sent to Linda Brooks, 103 Group Housing, campus.

The dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom on Wednesday, May 2.

This is the first time Southern's chapter has sponsored the dinner. Prominent women, faculty wives, coed leaders, and state and national officials have been invited.

The guest speaker will be Clarissa Start, author of the "Little Woman" column in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

U.S. Steel Indicted On Price Fixing Charges

NEW YORK -- U. S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co. and two other firms were indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to fix prices and rig bids.

The indictments are not connected with the recent price hike in steel, in which U.S. Steel and Bethlehem posted a $6-per-ton increase, then withdrew it under pressure from the Kennedy administration.

The indictment charged conspiracy between 1948 and 1961 in the sale of steel forgings to the Navy, Army, electrical companies and other purchases, in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Act.

U.S. Steel declined immediate comment. Bethlehem Steel said they had not received the indictment. A company spokesman said the firm has had a long policy of strict compliance with the laws.

The indictment makes no estimate of dollar value of sales involved, and the U.S. Attorney's office declined any comment on this aspect of the case.

6 Staff Members Attend Convention

Six SIU staff members will attend the Community Development Division of the National University Extension Association meeting to be held at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, April 29-May 1.

The six are: Bob Child, Dick Franklin, and Stan Redick, from the Carbondale campus, and Lou Bodka, Gene Graves, and Henry Voges, from East St. Louis.

Graves will serve as a member of a panel at a session devoted to the Urban Renewal Administration. Child will serve as chairman of a session devoted to the Peace Corps.

WASHINGTON -- A 13-year legal battle ended Thursday when the government accepted the formula laid down by U.S. Dist. Judge Walter J. LaBuy for DuPont to liquidate its General Motors stock.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the government would not appeal although LaBuy did not accept all the government's terms. Kennedy said the settlement achieves the basic ends of the important litigation and is a landmark in antitrust enforcement.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. -- The world's first international satellite, a product of the United States and Great Britain, soared into orbit today to explore the ionosphere and cosmic radiation.

Officials of the two nations jointly announced the satellite was in successful orbit after tracking instruments at Cape Canaveral received radio signals from it at the completion of a two-hour path around the globe.

LOS ANGELES -- The National Heart Institute next week begins a test with at least 225 men which it believes will verify a formula for preventing heart attacks. The study will be in Boston, Baltimore, Chicago, Cleveland and Oakland, Calif.

Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, director of Chicago's heart disease control program, gave this breakdown of the formula Wednesday:

It urges low fat and low calorie diets--adequate to the person's needs but without any excesses; reasonable exercise and the avoidance of smoking and a high-paced way of life which leads to tension.

Eventually, he said, it is hoped mass trials by millions of Americans will give the theory an all-out test.

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo--Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba announced Thursday that President Moise Tshombe will leave for Leopoldville May 3 for further talks with Premier Cyrille Adoula on unifying the Congo.

MOSCOW -- Soviet scientists sent the fourth Sputnik of their Cosmos series chugging around the earth Thursday.

The launching of Cosmos IV, apparently an unmanned vehicle, was announced in the midst of a busy international day in space.

GENEVA -- The Soviet Union reiterated Thursday it will have to conduct nuclear weapons tests of its own since the United States has resumed testing.

The two chief Soviet negotiators here, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin and Semyon K. Tsarapkin, vehemently denounced resumption of American atmospheric nuclear tests.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. -- Adjutant General Leo M. Boyle said Thursday he has received a request from Washington to cut two battle groups from the Illinois National Guard. This would reduce the guard's strength by 1,500 to 1,600 officers and enlisted men.

Trustees Meet Today

The SIU Board of Trustees will meet at 9:30 a.m. today on campus.

Campus Chest Fund Drive Postponed By Greek Week

"If you care, then you will share" will be the slogan of the Campus Chest Drive, now scheduled for the week of April 30, to May 4.

The original drive planned for this week conflicted with Greek Week and other campus activities.

The auction, previously scheduled for Friday, April 27, will be held during the intermission of the Campus Chest Dance, Friday evening, May 4, in the Roman Room of the University Center.

An added highlight of Campus Chest Week will be a grab bag, scheduled for 10 a.m., Wednesday and Thursday, May 2,3, on the patio of the University Center. Students may purchase a chance for twenty-five cents, entitling them to make a selection from the grab bag.

Doris Perry, of the campus commission, says the items will be useful and valuable to students.

Call For Blood Donors Gets Quick Response

A request for blood brought prompt response from faculty, staff and students yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Shryock, wife of Dean B. H. Shryock of the Fine Arts school, was in need of 10 pints of Type A blood yesterday. Some 17 persons responded to the call.

"We were overwhelmed with the response," Herbert Fink, chairman of the art department and coordinator of the blood project. "It was unfortunate that some of the volunteers were too young to give, but the spirit was just superb," he added.

The Mutilators

Action taken by the University recently in regard to mutilation of a library book and a periodical was certainly justified. One student was dismissed from school and another placed on disciplinary probation.

As Dr. Ralph E. McCoy noted, the two cases in question point up one of the major problems at Morris Library. The library has quick, easy and inexpensive facilities for reproducing pages from any book or magazine. Nevertheless, hundreds of books and magazines are damaged or mutilated each term. Repairs are costly, but the chief wrong mutilation brings is the frustration and lost time to students and faculty needing the material.

Book mutilators, like book burners, are a threat to the Constitutional guarantee of the First Amendment and are a menace to any community. Every student and user of the library has a responsibility to be alert not only for damages done but also for the mutilators themselves.

New Leftist Propaganda

Though a man may like to believe he is injured against the "hard sell," especially that of the electronic speller, his claim to total integrity may be questioned if he does not admit that he drools over advertisements of the meat packers, especially those enticing portrayals of their super-superior hams. It is possible, of course, that the evocative power stems from the hams, be they Westphalian, Missouri country smoked, or canned.

There seems to be something new in store for ham fanciers. In Wisconsin they are working out a theory that a ham from a hog's left side is better than the one from the right. University people, packers, butchers, farmers and less directly qualified experts are on the job. Even cautious observers acknowledge a difference between left-legged and right-legged hams, but they are inclined to believe that sometimes one, and sometimes the other is better. The leftists, however, seem to be in the majority with their theory that hogs favor their left sides, both while standing and lying down. Hence the circulation of the left side is not quite as good as on the right, and the meat is more tender.

And yet, we take neither the one side nor the other. But we pass along—from Wisconsin's Prof. Robert Bray—the method of telling them apart: "Place the whole ham with the flat side down and the shank to your left. If it's a left ham, the top will slope toward you. If right, it will slope away from you."

Even those waiting for the definitive word from science should not be surprised if the ham advertisers soon take a leftist line. Of course, that would leave all those right-wing hams—a lopsided problem; but we are reporting, not counseling.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Lucky Scientists

This is the scientific age, and we scientists do claim some high and unique distinction here at SIU. What other noble group on campus enjoys such fine service in our library?

In a past not so distant a few of us "old-timers" cannot recall, the library saw it necessary to move the science section of the library to the second floor. Oh happy day! Whole floor all to ourselves. Of course we pleased in the exquisite distinction of having the move occur when everyone was studying for final examinations. Sweet relish of happiness.

Our new "floor" is perfection. We have a heater-fan looming immediately above our heads which in winter not only begins to rear every time the temperature drops below freezing, but also beautifies the otherwise undecorated ceiling. The lighting is exactly spaced to produce lovely, artistic, (abstract) shadows over our study tables (what more could we want?).

Our study tables are smaller than in any other study area of the library. This is obviously a very thoughtful aid extended to us by our fine library, as we often tend to spread our numerous work over the work area of our fellow students on regulation-size tables. And, (a crowning touch) the number of tables is kept at a bare minimum—a generous move to help us keep our wonderful group small and elite. Unhappily 50% of us have to study on other floors for lack of desks in our area, but then, that helps us build our great fibre, mounting the between-floors stairs to procure study materials.

To say the least, any scientist worth his sodium chloride can tell the time by the sun, or moon, or stars, or something, so there is no need of a clock in our area. Thankfully our good library again is our special guardian and benefactor, for none looms on any wall to tempt our professional integrity. Oh how lucky we are.

A Continual Problem

The recent meeting of Carbondale householders, state, city and University officials brought out some interesting facts about off-campus student housing. The meeting was primarily held to find a way to reduce and possibly eliminate the fire hazards present in many off-campus student housing. It is hoped now that many of these hazards will be eliminated as householders will be required to meet specific fire safety standards.

Undoubtedly though, despite the effort, off-campus housing will continue to be a problem to students and the University. Many students now live, and will continue to live, in rooms which fall far below the standards set by the University. It should be pointed out to these students that any off-campus room, whether it is a "bird roost" of a room in some attic, or a dark corner of some basement, should not be considered approved simply because an "Accepted" or "University Approved" sign appears pinned to one of the walls. In most cases, if the housing has been approved by the University, the householder will have a letter of acceptance from the University, "Approved" or "Accepted" cards are not hard to come by, as many off-campus rooms, which are below University standards, will bear out.

Reminder Of The Hatch Act

Editor:

In Washington last week, Maj. Arch E. Roberts, a former aide to ex-Gen. Edwin Walker, delivered an address before the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Major Roberts had some interesting things to say about "alleged" Communist and against what he termed "the members of our State Department who are selling us out." Perhaps Major Roberts and his quixotic right wing super-patriots in the ranks of the military have failed to understand the policy of the State Department.

If we consider Major Roberts an expert on Un-American activities, we probably would have to call for a trial, or perhaps impeachment in some cases, of thousands of Americans, including our own President.

In another area, we must remind Major Roberts and other members of the military that there is on the books a certain law called the Hatch Act. It would be for his betterment to read this law before making any further statements on political doings in this land.

Proposes Stiffer Library Fine

Editor:

Maybe the recent punishment of the two students will serve notice to others that it is foolish and unwise to try to tear out a page or articles for an assignment. In the future students should receive more severe punishment including maybe a fine half a million volumes on the such as the $50 fine now assessed for illegal possession of vehicles. Maybe this would cut down the vandalism to the SIU library collection.

The one sad point about the entire situation is that the library staff has facilities to photograph materials from Library. The recent dismissal of one student and the placing on probation of another for day this writer timed the mutilating a library book and periodical points this out. It took two minutes to photograph a magazine article.

Yet the students elect to take a chance and tear out the desired articles instead of paying a minimal fee for aged by careless and irresponsible students. Some firmly believes that a stiffer thing has got to be done in line of punishment must be order to preserve the value taken in order to preserve of Morris Library that it has Southern's fine library.

Trackmen Enter 3 Events In Drake Relays Today

SIU competes in its fourth big outdoor relays meet this weekend at the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa.

Coach Lew Hartzog's Salukis are entered in three relay events—distance medley, two-mile and four mile relay.

John Uelses, who vaulted at SIU Tuesday afternoon in a practice session, figures 15-6 will win the special pole vault event Friday at the Drake Relays. Uelses will be competing against the current outdoor record-holder George Davies.

Southern won the distance medley at the Kansas Relays last weekend and hopes to repeat at Drake. Running the distance medley for the Salukis will be John Saunders, Brian Turner, Bill Cornell and Jim Dupree. At Kansas the quartet was clocked in 9:53.6 and figure to improve on that time.

Hartzog hopes his two-mile relay team can fare better than third at Drake than what they did at Kansas. The same quartet of Saunders, Turner, Cornell and Dupree will be running the two mile race.

Missouri and Kansas finished ahead of the Salukis at Kansas in the two mile and Hartzog feels that the insufficient amount of time between the distance medley and the two-mile relay caused the Salukis to finish third.

SIU finished second in the four-mile relay at Kansas but this week Hartzog figures his boys will be able to move up a notch. Running the four-mile relay will be Alan Gelso, Turner, Cornell and Dupree. In the four mile event each boy runs one mile before passing the baton to the next man.

In the Kansas Relays Southern started off with Alan Gelso's 4:30.5 mile but came back to second when the race was over. Gelso said he was ready to perform at his best this weekend before he left for Des Moines Thursday morning.

Gelso has been ill recently and hasn't sufficiently recovered but he has run a 4:18.5 mile and Hartzog hopes his junior miler can match that time at Drake.

Hartzog was especially pleased with his boys showing in the Kansas Relays. "Nebraska has 28 NCAA scholarships and figured they could run all over us but our boys performed so well that Nebraska was stunned," Hartzog said.

"We have no NCAA scholarships and yet we are holding our own with many of the bigger schools that award NCAA grants," Hartzog continued.

Golf Team Takes On Normal Then Moves To Notre Dame

Coach Lynn Holder's SIU golf team takes on another formidable opponent Monday morning in Notre Dame University. Before moving to South Bend, Ind. SIU linksmen meet Illinois State Normal Friday and Saturday at Normal.

Southern's divotmen have beaten Illinois State twice this season, 16-2 and 12-6. Holder's golfers sport a 7-2 dual meet record losing only to Purdue and Ball State University.

Jim Place, sophomore from Freeport, Ill., and Captain Gene Carello have been the mainstays of the SIU team. Bill Barnett also has been playing fine golf.

Last season SIU beat Notre Dame and Holder hopes that his boys will be able to repeat. "If the boys shoot like they are capable we probably can beat Notre Dame," Holder said.

Displays Her Bowling Form

Ann Strawn Departs For Bowling Tourney

Ann Strawn leaves tonight for Phoenix (Ariz.) where she will represent SIU in the 1962 National Intercollegiate Women's Bowling Tournament. The national tournament is sponsored by the Association of College Unions.

Miss Strawn was selected from a three state region of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. She earned the right to compete in the national tournament on the basis of her three series total of 1,510 pins.

It gave her first place in the singles standings and also first in the all-events department. SIU as a team finished second in the three state region and 16th in the nation on the basis of regional competition.

Miss Strawn began bowling last summer and feels that "lady luck" is riding with her. This is Ann's first time in a tournament and came as a complete surprise to her to do so well.

"I only hope I continue to bowl my best Sunday when we begin competition," Ann said. "I'm awful nervous and tense now but after the competition begins I should be all right."

Ann bowls every day to keep in shape and lately has been bowling two games a day in preparation for the tournament. After rolling two games of 150 plus, Miss Strawn said, "I'm ready for all competitors."

Committee Outlines Regulations For Spring Festival Midway

The Spring Festival committee has announced the regulations for the midway entries.

The measurements for shows are 30 feet across the front, 40 feet on the side, and 20 feet high. If anything is built over these boundaries, the entry will be disqualified. However, materials may be suspended over the boundaries, as long as the supports are not resting outside the given area. Booths will have a 20 foot depth. The requirements are the same for the booths and displays as they are for the shows. The midway must be completely cleared by 3:00 p.m. Sunday, May 13. If any group leaves material behind it will be disqualified from competition next year. It is also regulated that anyone who is not a legal member of the group sponsoring the entry must not participate in any way.

The theme of the midway is restricted to explorations within the boundaries of the United States between Canada and Mexico from the year 1620.

Construction on the midway will begin Thursday at noon, on May 10. The midway will be open from 6:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Friday, and from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday. Presentation of trophies will be at 5:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Tennis Team To Compete In Ohio Triangular Meet

SIU's tennis team has a chance to even its dual meet record to 5-5 this weekend at Columbus, Ohio when the netters compete in a triangular meet with Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan and SIU.

Pacho Castillo has been the mainstay of the season for the Salukis with a 6-2 record. His high school teammate from Hamtramck, Mich., John Geremich, has a 5-3 record.

Dick LeFevre will use his usual sextet of Castillo, Geremich, George Domenech, Bill Hartwig, Larry Oblin and Bill Mulvihill. Castillo and Domenech team together in the number one doubles match and are undefeated in three outings.

Friday and Saturday May 4-5 SIU hosts its first quadrangular meet of the season with top teams from Northwestern, Cincinnati and Kansas coming in to compete against the Salukis.

Harry Gurley To Pitch Against Northern Illinois

Harry Gurley will pitch this afternoon's Interstate Conference opener of a three-game series against Northern Illinois. The game starts at 2:30 p.m. at Chautauqua baseball field.

Southern's Salukis will also play a doubleheader tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. against the Huskies.

SIU coach Abe Martin has named Larry Tucker and Jim Woods to pitch the twinbill for the Salukis.

Southern has a chance to improve on its present second place standing in the IAC race by sweeping the three game stand from the Huskies. Eastern Illinois, last year's IAC runnerup to SIU, is on top with a 4-1 record, while Southern and Western Illinois trail with 2-1 IAC records.

Leading the Salukis attack so far this season has been seniors Bob Hardcastle and Duke Sutton. Sophomore outfielder Mel Patton has been hitting very well of late and Martin is hopeful that he will continue his fine hitting. Hardcastle currently is the only Saluki over .300 with Sutton and Mel Patton close behind.

Time Flies

Southern students were reminded today to turn their clocks ahead an hour Saturday night.

Daylight savings time goes into effect Sunday morning, and all SIU offices and classes will operate on the new time schedule.

University clocks will be moved ahead Sunday. Students who fail to change their clocks, may show up for class an hour late Monday, April 30.
