11 Killed in Cyprus,
Talks to Continue

NICOSIA, Cyprus—Violent communal fighting at Limassol sparked an uneasy cease-fire late Thursday while talks to end just such violence continued without announced results at the presidential palace in Nicosia.

Barbarous in the south coast port of Limassol killed at least 10 Turkish Cypriots and one Greek Cypriot. A total of a dozen were wounded. It was the worst flareup since last Christmas.

On the diplomatic front, U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball met twice with President Archbishop Makarios and unexpectedly decided to remain another day for another round of talks. He and a British envoy, Cyril Pickard, have met Makarios four times since they presented their joint plan to land a cease-fire and peace-keeping force on the Mediterranean.

The fact Ball is remaining for additional conferences is interpreted here two ways: That the Americans and British are offering new amendments to the plan which will be carried back to Ankara and Athens for approval, or that Makarios is having a hard time making up his mind.

Get Pay Raise

PLATEAU, Viet Nam—South Viet Nam's new premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, opened a major drive against marauding communist morale Thursday by announcing a $4-million pay increase for his soldiers.

Khanh made the announcement at this remote outpost, 280 miles northeast of Saigon. He chose the lunar new year—Viet Nam's most important holiday of the year—to make the announcement. The pay increase will mean an average monthly raise of 20 cents—about $2—for corporals and grades below. The increase affects about 15 percent of South Viet Nam's 125,000-odd quarters of Viet Nam's army.

COLUMBUS, Ohio -- Officials at Ohio State University are looking for the ring-leaders of a rowdy demonstration by several thousand students that included a march on city police headquarters. The announcement came as a shock to many campus newspaper men, who were taken by surprise when the arrest of a coed for failure to pay a jay-walking ticket.

The demonstration began at the spot near the campus where Marjorie Cootrell, sophomore from Paterson, N.J., was arrested on a jaywalking ticket. Within an hour the crowd had grown to more than 5,000 students.

The students—both men and women—were stopped in the middle of the block. Soon the crowd was so great the demonstrators formed a solid mass in the street.

After about two hours, a crowd of about 1,000 marched three miles down High Street to the police station in downtown Columbus.

Brown set 2 p.m. CST as the time for his ruling, then recessed the hearing on the defense effort to win a transfer to another city of the murder trial for Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Ruby’s trial is scheduled to begin Monday unless the judge grants a transfer.

Dogs Ad Lib at 'Figaro' Rehearsal
Van Bronkhorst Polishes Show, Finds Anything Can Happen

When you start to produce an opera, almost anything can and does happen.

Not too long ago, for example, when Warren Van Bronkhorst, conductor of the SIU Symphony, assembled the 26 musicians he will use in this weekend's production of "The Marriage of Figaro" he discovered he had some unusual additions.

"We were scheduled to rehearse in Modesty Auditorium and when we got there we had to share it with a dog training class," the tall, friendly conductor said.

"Together we made some unique sounds," he added with a wry smile.

The dogs notwithstanding, Van Bronkhorst is pleased with the orchestra's preparation for the opera. The rehearsals have gone very well," Van Bronkhorst said.

In preparation for the opera, the 26-piece orchestra rehearsed four times a week during the winter quarter. The last two weeks before the performance, extra rehearsals are scheduled at night.

The individual members of the orchestra rehearse very little on their own, outside of these scheduled practices.

"They are all working on something else at the same time," Van Bronkhorst says. "Most of them are also in the concert band, dance band or wind ensemble, as well as being busy with solos."

The orchestra and cast rehearse together five or six times before the performance.

"The special problem in orchestration is balance between the orchestra and singers," he says. "The orchestra must not cover up or drown out the voices. However, Mozart's opera is so well scored that this is unlikely to happen."

In The Marriage of Figaro the entire orchestra plays only during the chorus and arias. The solos are accompanied by a harpsichord.

In previous years, the opera has made two out of town performances after the presentation on campus.

This year something new will be tried. The entire opera will be taped for television and shown over WJU-TV, it is hoped that more people will have the opportunity to see the opera.

The orchestra is recording during rehearsals. After the performance, the cast will spend several evenings at the television station coordinating the voices with the pre-recorded music and taping the opera for television.

If this taping is successful, it may be sold to national educational television.

Warren Van Bronkhorst, 36, has been conducting at SIU for the past two years. Previously he taught at Chico State College in California and the University of Hawaii, where he was concert master of the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra.

Van Bronkhorst attended college at San Jose State College in California. He received his masters and doctorate at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York.

At Eastman, Van Bronkhorst met the woman he was to marry, S. Gay, who is studying music. The Van Bronkhorst's have one son, 3, who loves music, especially children's records.

"So far," says Van Bronkhorst, "he has shown no appreciation for opera!"

BETWEEN OUTER SPACE

AND THE DEEP SEA

THERE'S A WIDE RANGE OF OPPORTUNITY IN THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

To outer space and into the deep sea, we take the sum total of our scientific and managerial knowledge. A case in point is Telstar, which represents the first step toward a worldwide communications system. Another example, the new deep-sea amplifier that simultaneously transmits two-way messages. Both communications triumphs stem from Bell System planning, research and development.

Such trailblazing projects command the best of managerial and scientific talent. That's why you'll find, throughout the Bell System, men with college training as diverse as their responsibilities. Their backgrounds run the gamut from liberal arts and business courses to science or specialized engineering majors.

Admittedly, the work is demanding. It requires that unusual caliber of man who finds a greater satisfaction in challenge than in ready solution . . . who is eager to see his education yield dividends . . . who wants an immediate opportunity for leadership.

Men with this kind of impatience will discover the stimulation, welcome and rewards they seek in the telephone business.

Miller to Ask for Committee

To Study IC Relocation

Elizabeth Kepple, of the City Council, the Planning Commission, and the Community Conservation Commission. They all indicated willingness to discuss appointment of members of a coordinating committee. This is expected to be completed in about a week.

Several questions were posed.

One was for a cost estimate. No detailed studies have been made, but an approximate figure of six million dollars has been discussed.

Another question was the disposition of the approximately 90 acres of land involved in the IC right-of-way through Carbondale.

This was considered a question for the coordinating committee. Uses such as off-street parking or a traffic thoroughfare were mentioned. President Morris said some legislative action would probably be required.
