Salukis Roll Along in Arena, Bomb Kentuckians 100 to 75

Frazier's 33 Points, Team's Total Both Season Highs

The weather outside was cold and snowy last night, but the tempo of the game inside the arena was hot and fast, as Southern walloped Kentucky Wesleyan 100-75. With only 10 seconds left in the game, showdown for the lead turned into a dash to the line for two free throws. The score at the time was 99-75, and the crowd came to its feet to see if Smith could make the magic shot to put the Salukis over the 99 mark. He missed his first, but sank the second as the crowd roared its approval.

The game was Southern's all the way, as the Salukis made the first basket, the last one and almost every shot in between to rack up the three-figure total. The Salukis, fired by Walter Frazier, moved out to an early lead before the Panthers were able to pull within two points. With SIU leading 19-17, Frazier hit a jumper from the top of the key, and Dave Lee added two driving layups to give the Salukis a 23-19 advantage. From then on, Southern was never in trouble as they continued to pull away from the outclassed Kentuckians.

The second half was much like the first, as Southern outran its opponents and pulled away for good. The last 20 minutes of the game were also the hardest fought. Tempers flared several times in the fourth quarter as the Kentuckians tried to erase the 24-point deficit.

The crowd was undoubtedly the best of the season so far, as Southern nears the century mark. Every basket made in the final minutes was greeted with cheers and blasts from horns. The foul shots put Southern on the 100-point mark, its last 40 points came on free throws.

Frazier took scoring honors for the game, as he poured in a career high of 33 points. The 6-4 sophomore made 14 of 21 shots from the field and five of seven free throws for his total. He also pulled down 14 rebounds to pace the Saluki attack.

Bowie was next in scoring with 17 points, followed by George McNeill, Joe Ramsey and Boyd O'Neal.

Two Hurt In Mishaps On Campus

A car-bicycle accident and a minor explosion in Parkinson Laboratory resulted in injuries to two SIU students Friday.

At 8:45 a.m., Susan J. Buck­ley, 19, of St. Louis, was struck by her bicycle, which was struck by a car driven by J. Darrell Watsen, according to Thomas Leffler, security officer.

Watsen, who is not a student, told Leffler the girl rode out from between two as he walked his bicycle, which was struck by a car driven by J. Darrell Watsen, according to Thomas Leffler, security officer.

Ripper was taken to the Health Service, and later admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital in Murphysboro, where he is listed in fair condition.

Officials said that Ripper may have been more seriously burned if John Fisher, a senior from Herrin, had not aided him immediately.

Fisher said that his neck, arm and the left side of his face were badly burned after the explosion and attempted to run. However, Fisher grabbed him, covered his face with a towel, and, with the aid of another student, threw Ripper to the floor and smothered the flames.

"Miss Boswell was a living torch," Fisher said. "When the flames were out, we could see that his neck, arm and the left side of his face were badly burned.

Frazier, the committee's permanent chairman, said the committee is compiling a list of administrative suggestions for General Studies improvements.

This apparently didn't set well with Joe Ramsey, another senator from General Studies.

"We don't want administrative opinions," he said, "we should have the students involved fill out complaint bulletins of a sort."

Frazier said that he had some of the discussion on this, but he didn't see what any benefits of additional students can do about it," he remarked.

Terry Cook, administrative assistant, replied: "I think the Council can only initiate recommendations to the administration despite those who think student senators are simple. This is their purpose.

Frazier was next in scoring with 17 points, followed by George McNeill, Joe Ramsey and Boyd O'Neal.

One motion to and discussion on the bill was defeated twice.

Red Chinese Regime Is Creaking With Old Age

Old men are getting in the way of Peking's rosy-painted picture of the "young new" China.

It is one thing the propagandists can do nothing about. Not even Red China's all-powerful masters can control the inexorable law of their own advancing years.

Behind all the boisterous vigor, the mass gymnastics, the bayonet-drilling schoolchildren of the young workers are striding determinedly forward under their big banners, there is an apparent creating with old age. The average age of the Peking politicians is 65. All its 19 months could expect to join their ancestors within the next 10 years.

This year's 73-year-old Mao Tse-tung, stout, five times married and looking much better, was born in 1893, the same year as the abdicated Czar Nicholas II of Russia and Eastern Europe. From then to now, it has been managed by Mao and his band of inflexible old revolutionaries who see a loss of revolutionary zeal among the youngsters and a preoccupation with foreign things.

The betrayal of Marxist-Leninism in Russia and Eastern Europe, followed by spreading revisionist tendencies, has made them nervous about their own country. They want to see a loss of revolutionary zeal among the youngsters and a preoccupation with foreign things, which are not the "wicked" Western devices used in the "bourgeois campaign to corrupt our heirs and successors.

What can the elders do about it? During the last year there have been wholesale dismissals or replacements in local and central government and educational institutions.

The reason was not to make room for younger men so much as to get rid of those intellectuals who had been rash enough to appraise the new "revisionism.

They consisted, according to the foreign press, of the witch-hunters, of "degenerate, denaturalized" Leninists, and of "false Marxist-Leninists who threaten the leadership while propagating feudalistic and bourgeois ideas.

Regional administration still is manned by the handful of faithful old-timers in Stalinesque, Meanwhile, the dictatorial few at the top keep jealous guard over all policy-making, somewhere along the march they have fallen out of step with their new China. Or perhaps they are just getting too old to keep up.

Grand Old Englishman Near Death

Blood Clot on Brain Imperils 90-Year-Old War Leader

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill lay near death Saturday after being stricken by a blood clot on the brain.

The 90-year-old wartime leader clung only to a feeble thread of life. His doctors said he was slipping into "deep sleep" but was not suffering.

Churchill had experienced mild illness and anxiety in the past few weeks.

In a speech to the great Englishman, President Johnson said, "We are praying for a rapid and complete recovery."

Agreement for Churchill—Britain's man of the century and history's only honorary American citizen—was endangered throughout Friday after doctors disclosed he had suffered a stroke.

A medical bulletin by Lord Moran, Sir Winston's personal physician for many years, said, "He is slipping into deeper sleep and is not conscious of pain or discomfort."

When Lord Moran left the Churchill house he told newsmen, "I think he was a little bit drowsier."

A reporter asked Moran whether he thought Churchill might survive. Moran looked away and said: "I've no way to know."

A member of the family, who was with Sir Winston at Hyde Park Gate, London, said, "It's pretty grim."

Lord Moran himself, 82, said earlier that Churchill had suffered a cerebral thrombosis— a clot in the blood vessels of the brain—as well as a blockage in his arterial circulatory system.

The night medical bulletin was issued outside the Churchill residence, 28 Hyde Park Gate, Hyde Park Gate, said, "His fingers of life, his brain, are stricken."

Churchill's grave illness had been gone for five years or so, on his birthday he had been able to get to a ground-floor window of the Hyde Park home to give his famous V-for-victory sign to well-wishers outside.

On his birthday last Nov. 30 he appeared pale when he lowered up at the window with Lady Churchill. But he slowly made the V sign with two fingers of his right hand.

That was the only time Britons had been able to get a glimpse of Sir Winston since his retirement from the House of Commons last fall.

U.S., Canada Agree to End Tariffs on Cars, Auto Parts

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The United States and Canada have reached an agreement to end tariffs on automobiles and parts for production of new motor vehicles. The agreement was announced simultaneously Friday in Austin, Tex., Ottawa and Washington.

The agreement will be signed at President Johnson's ranch Saturday morning by Johnson and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

The formal agreement sets forth that the understanding grew out of the determination of the two countries to strengthen their economic relations.

Technically an executive agreement, President Johnson need not submit it to Congress for approval. He must, however, ask for legislation doing away with the present tariffs. Under present law, the President has authority to reduce tariffs by 50 percent but he cannot eliminate them entirely.

Under the agreement, Canadian carmakers, chiefly subsidiaries of U.S. companies, agreed to maintain announceables at least at the rate of the basic year, Aug. 1, 1962, to July 31, 1964, and also not to reduce the production of parts.

While the agreement is for an unlimited duration, each government has the right to terminate it upon 12 months' notice.

The customs-free agreement applies only to automakers in the two countries. A Canadian who crossed the border to buy a car in the United States would have to pay duty on his purchase. And the same applies to an American who bought a car in Canada.

Randolph Churchill, Sir Winston's newspaperman son, had told reporters earlier that so far as he knew his father was suffering only from a cold but any illness at that age must be regarded as serious.

Lady Clementine Churchill, herself 80, was at the bedside, Churchill's daughter, Mary, and her husband, Christopher Soames, spent three hours at the Hyde Park Gate residence. She declined to answer questions.

The Churchill's actress daughter, Sarah, left Rome by plane for London but the plane was forced back to Rome because of malfunction of an instrument panel.

In addition to the strokes, Churchill has had two bouts with pneumonia, fractured a small bone in his back in a fall in November of 1960, and broke his leg in a fall while on a vacation in Monte Carlo in June of 1962. He always bounced back.

In the past five years or so, on his birthday he had been able to get to a ground-floor window of the Hyde Park home to give his famous V-for-victory sign to well-wishers outside.

On his birthday last Nov. 30 he appeared pale when he lowered up at the window with Lady Churchill. But he slowly made the V sign with two fingers of his right hand.

Gymnasts Seek 29th Straight Victory

Salukis, Iowa State Are Evenly Matched

A slim two-point difference in all that stands between the Saluki gymnasts and the Iowa State University gymnasts as both teams prepare to clash at 7:30 p.m. at the Arena. The two points are the difference between final scores of both teams against a common foe this season—the University of Denver.

Southern defeated Denver here last month by a score of 65-55. On the other hand, Iowa State recently defeated the same Denver team by a 64-56 score.

There’s more than just this reason why gymnastic coach Bill Meade is concerned about his club’s chances of stretching their consecutive dual meet victories to 29. Both schools were entered in the United States Gymnastic Federation Meet last month at Iowa City, Iowa, where the Salukis finished just one notch higher and ten points better than the Iowa State team. In that meet the Saluki gymnasts finished second to State University of Iowa with 52 points, Iowa State tied for third with 42 points.

Meade will go with virtually the same lineup he has been using all season, relying heavily on the performances of all-around performer, Larry Lindauer, Bill Wolf and Frank Schmitz.

Lindauer will have the task of competing against one of the top sophomore gymnasts in the country in the person of Jerry Fonfara, Fontana won the all-around title in his class in the National Federation Meet last year.

Wolf, an all-around performer last year has been hampered by a knee injury to limit his participation this year to the high bar, the parallel bars and the rings.

Schmitz is the top trampoline artist for the nation, and in threatening to become the top world trampoline star in the country, having defeated the current champion, Danny Millman twice already this season.

In addition to the trampoline, Schmitz works free exercise and the long horse. Meade’s other entries find Mike Boegler on the side horse; Rick Tucker on the side horse, the high bar and the parallel bars, Tom Cook or Tom Seward on the rings; Brent Williams or Steve Whitlock, free exercise and long horse; and Schmitz, Hurl Dreyfak and Williams on the trampoline.

McAney, Roberts Spark SIU
Over Nebraska Tankmen

Coach Ralph Casey's SIU squad swarmed away with 9 of 11 first places to hand the University of Nebraska's Cornhuskers one of their worst swimming defeats in history last night at the University School Pool, 68-27.

The Salukis were blanked in only the diving and the 400-yard free style relay, as they swept their third straight dual meet of the season before a crowd of about 1100.

Thom McAney, Saluki distance ace, and veteran Mike Roberts led the Saluki onslaught, picking up double victories.

McAney, a junior from Miami, Fla., won both the 200 and 300 free styles with times of 1:51.3 and 5:19.7, while Roberts was taking both of the shorter free events.

The senior clicked off 2:00.5 in the 200 yard medley, and the 500 yard freestyle, which he came within seconds of breaking the old 500 yard freestyle record, which he came within seconds of breaking the old 500 yard freestyle record.

Other winners for SIU were Don Shaffer, in the 200-yard individual medley, 2:07.1, Kimo Miles in the 200-yard butterfly, 1:59.7, Andy Stoudy in the 200-yard backstroke, 2:08.3; Gerald Pearson in the 200-yard breaststroke, 2:20.5 and the 400-yard medley relay team of Guy Handley, Ted Petras, Darrell Green and Ray Sickler, 3:51.

The performance not only broke the old freshmen standard by a second and a half but it also was .4 of a second below the present varsity mark held by Kimo Miles.

The two-time Missouri state champ last year then came back and knocked off tenth of a second off the 50-yard free style record, which he set earlier in the year, with a 21.1 clocking.

100 with a fine 50.0. Both were career bests for Roberts.

But probably the biggest excitement of the evening came outside the pool, as Saluki freshmen Ed Mossotti splashed his way to two new freshmen records in special exhibition races.

The St. Louis Stater, who had already established two new freshmen marks, wanted little time in showing why he considered one of the brightest freshmen prospects at SIU in some time.

Swimming the 100-yard butterfly against teammate Eric Jones in the first exhibition, the high school All-American blasted off a lightning-fast 53.5.

NLF Rebuffs AFL
Offer for Meeting
HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League's proposal for a joint meeting with the National Football League and the National Collegiate Athletic Association of college players was rebuffed Friday by the NFL.

Commissioner Joe Foss had announced at the AFL meeting early Saturday that parties concerned had a joint meeting.

The NFL, announced Tuesday it would sign no college player until the player's team had completed its schedule, including post-season bowl games.

The furor arose when it became known that three Oklahoma players had signed with the Minnesota Vikings and a fourth had signed with Houston of the AFL before the Gator Bowl game.

At its Chicago meetings, the NCAA Committee on Pro-College Relations, headed by Athletic Director Jim Corbett of Louisiana State, made several recommendations.
