New Funds Boost Work Program

Southern's Student Work Program has received a grant of $496,975 under the Federal College Work-Study Program.

The grant already has affected 300 student workers, and will, according to Frank C. Adams, director of the SIU Student Work Program, hit a peak of 600 in the fall.

The funds, which come through the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare Bureau of Higher Education under the Economic Opportunity Act, are intended to help finance student work programs to aid youngsters from low-income families.

Students working under the grant will be doing part-time jobs on both campuses of the University. If the student can prove that his need is great enough, if he has been carrying 12 or more academic hours, if there is a full-time job available with the University and if he is in good academic standing, he may be able to work full time for one term in four.

Adams stressed the point that the University must evaluate each student's needs.

The federal grant requires matching state funds at the rate of $10 for each $90 in federal money. With the grant, Southern's budget for student work on all campuses will be in excess of $21/4 million next year.

In addition to providing money for low-income students, the grant is an asset to SIU because it will provide funds to get work done that the University might not be able to finance otherwise, Adams said.

Enrollment Up Over Last Summer

Biology Talks Start On 24th

Jacob Lorch, visiting professor from Hebrew University, Jerusalem, will deliver the first of six lectures for biology teachers enrolled in the National Science Foundation workshop.

Isaac L. Shechmeister, professor of microbiology, has announced that the lectures are also open to the public.

Lorch will speak on the "Relation Between Biology and Nazi Ideology, 1933-45." He received his Ph. D. and master's degree from Hebrew University.

One of Lorch's special interests is the history of biology.

The lectures are scheduled for Thursday evenings at 7:30 in Morris Library Auditorium.

Other speakers and their subjects are:

July 1--Leo J. Paulissen, University of Arkansas, "Bacteria, Viruses and Cancer."

July 8--Lowell S. Bailey, University of Arkansas, "Photosynthesis."

July 15--Jacob Verduin, SIU professor of botany, "The Energy Budget in Aquatic Habitat."

July 22--Harvey I. Fisher, professor and chairman of the Department of Zoology at SIU, "The Vanishing Albatross."

July 29--Peter A. Munch, SIU professor of sociology, "Tristan da Cunha Revisited."

Fisher has spent many months on the island of Midway studying the albatross under the sponsorship of the U.S. Navy.

And Munch recently returned to campus after an extended stay on the remote island of Tristan da Cunha in the South Atlantic studying the people there.

'How Do You Get a Date?'

SIU Offices Discover That Inquiring Minds Sometimes Ask Some Pretty Dumb Questions

By Joe Cook

In its quest for knowledge, youth traditionally has turned to the colleges and universities.

Daily these scholars-to-be roam the groves of academe searching answers to questions that puzzle them and their fellow men.

What do they want to know? A recent campus survey indicated that there isn't one question that is repeatedly asked unless it's "What grade did you get?" at the end of each term. But a number of offices readily supplied list of questions they have been asked by the inquiring young minds at SIU.

Nearly a thousand questions were asked at the Student Activities Office in a recent week. Here is a sample:

Is tennis going to be taught this summer?

Does the University pay for meals when the debate team is out of town?

How do you get a date for a dance? What do you say to a girl?

Can I get a babysitter?

Can you give me any information on the Middle East Conference held in Washington, D.C.?

What kind of corsage should I buy my girl?

Do you have a copy of yesterday's Daily Egyptian?

"We always try to answer their questions," said Mrs. Doris Kaplan, supervisor in the office. "If we don't know, we try to forward them to the right place."

"About the most unusual question asked us," said Mrs. Kaplan, "was contributed by WSIU-TV who called one day to ask if we were going to have a tornado."

The circulation desk at Morris Library is also busy answering puzzled students' questions, the most common of which is, How do I get back the dime I lost in that candy machine?

The University Book Store is another place where questions pour out of students' mouths fast and furiously.

Late Registration To Begin Today

Summers at SIU are usually long and hot, but this one promises to be crowded, too.

Last year's summer enrollment hit an all-time high of 6,018 at Carbondale and 3,078 at Edwardsville. This summer's figure is expected to be even higher, according to Leslie J. Chamberlin, director of admissions.

"We'll go over last summer, and we expect a 100 per cent increase of new students."

The hour-long classes scheduled this summer will begin daily at 7:30 a.m. instead of 8 a.m., with the usual 10-minute break between classes. The schedule has been modified to fit this change.

Classes will not meet on the hour but at staggered intervals, 7:30 to 8:30; 8:40 to 9:40; 9:50 to 10:50 and so forth.

To add a little to the possible confusion a spokesman for the Physical Plant reported that the classroom bell system has not yet been altered to meet the new modifications in scheduling. This will be done as soon as possible.

Late registration begins today and will continue through Saturday. A late registration fee of $2 will be assessed today and increased by $1 for each additional day.

After Saturday all late registrations require a dean's written approval. The deadline for the payment of deferred fees is July 2.

This quarter will mark SIU's complete transition to year-round operation on both the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses. The move started two years ago when freshman level summer courses were lengthened from eight to 12 weeks.

SIU officials said year-round scheduling of classes would allow the University to serve greater numbers of qualified students and make efficient use of its physical plant. At the same time it permits students to accelerate their degree programs.

Morris Library To Open, Close 30 Minutes Early

Morris Library will open and close 30 minutes early on weekdays during Summer term because of 7:30 a.m. classes.

The library will open at 7:15 a.m. and close at 10 p.m. Monday through Friday. Saturday hours are from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday, the library will open at 2 p.m. and close at 10 p.m.

Coleman Honored as Great Teacher

CLAUDE COLEMAN

"I never dreamed of getting this award."

This was the reaction of Claude Coleman, this year's recipient of the Great Teacher Award at SIU. He received it from the SIU Alumni Association at its annual banquet at the University Center.

Coleman is professor of English and director of the Plan A curriculum at SIU. His selection for the honor, which carries a stipend of $1,000, was announced at the June 12 alumni meeting.

Coleman agreed that "flabbergasted" described his reaction. He said his principal feeling about the honor was one of humility, from the expression of the alumni involved in the voting.

Previous winners were Douglas E. Lawson, E.G. Lentz, Thomas E. Cassidy, Georgia Gant Winn, and Robert D. Fanner.

Coleman was awarded his A.B. degree in English in 1924 from the University of Illinois. He taught high school at Taylorville, Ill., from 1924 to 1927, and meanwhile, worked summers on his M.A. at the University of Wisconsin. He received this degree, in English, in 1927.

He was awarded his Ph.D. in English at the University of Illinois in 1936.

He was on the faculty of Sul Ross State College at Alpine, Tex., from 1936 to 1946, when he joined the Department

Wide Range of Proposals

Students Zero in on SIU Suggestion Box, Call for Parking, Pizza, Beach, No Bugs

One student's gripe is another student's suggestion.

The tiny blue padlocked suggestion box on a shelf behind the information desk at the University Center has been gobbling up slips of suggestions for many months. Some suggestions pull no punches, while other's mince absurd words.

Digging into the suggestion box, this reporter came up with the following student views, ideas, opinions and suggestions on a myriad of campus topics.

"Why not a color TV in the Center? I'm sure you can afford it."

"Stop this 'stupid' RAM business!"

"Couldn't you please do something about the 'coffee' sold at the cafeteria and grill? All they would have to do would be to rinse out the pot after every use. It doesn't take that much time and I'm sure that there are enough people who are drinking that 'lye' to make it worth their while. Please see what you can do. OK?"

"I suggest that the information desk counter be cleaned once in a while—this means the back one and the shelf the suggestion box is on."

"I suggest that a coffee machine and a soda machine be put in the library. A 'study break' often is the end of study for the evening when one has to walk to the Center for coffee. Educational research shows that one can't go on studying indefinitely without a break. Besides, the library is usually so hot that it's hard to stay awake after an hour or two. The other major buildings on campus have beverage machines... why not the library?"

"As I write this, bugs are walking over me and my desk. I've turned off my desk lamp but it doesn't help. When I see all the damn lights left on 24 hours a day around this campus and see where we have bothered to move a 50-ton rock up from Giant City to be aesthetic, I wonder why the hell don't you do something about the bugs? A few ultraviolet grids outside each dorm would do the trick. I speak for many." (A TP resident)

One student wanted pizza served in the University Center. The same student requested that Paige Nealy sing solo at Music Under the Stars next year.

"I suggest that the University build another beach, separate from the old one... for faculty (adults and little kids)... and use the old one for students, since there is such a large population of them during the summer. Faculty members seem annoyed at the shouting and so-called 'menacing' that the students apparently cause."

Other students desired abolishing the University Center Programming Board and student government; more style shows; a dictionary in the Magnolia Lounge; more special bus trips; a jukebox in the University Center; two free telephones in the Center; more publicity for off-campus; more beach parties; and free parking in the University Center parking lot for working students.

The last, and perhaps one of the best suggestions, was a proposal for the student body to establish a "Forum Views Programme." Says the student suggesting the idea: "I would like to see a turnout of students and faculty members to discuss current headlines at either local, national or international levels. This program would give the students a better feel and a reasoned interpretation of current issues through specialized faculty and through discussion."

HAND WOVEN COAT — Mrs. Edith Karlin, graduate art student, displays her husband's sport jacket for which she designed and wove the woolen material. This was one of the items from her loom which she showed in her graduate art exhibit.

Grad Student Weaves Leaves And Jacket for Her Husband

A sport jacket for her husband for which she designed and wove the wool was one of the featured exhibits at Edith Karlin's graduate art exhibit. She is the wife of Robert Karlin, coordinator of the SIU Reading Center.

Mrs. Karlin, who is a graduate of New York University, has almost completed her master's degree at Southern, specializing in weaving. Her other work shown in the exhibit included a linen luncheon cloth and napkins, wall hangings, several stoles, pillow tops, rugs and other fabrics.

One of the more unusual pieces is a large natural-colored linen wall hanging in which real leaves are inserted in "pockets" made by long warp threads.

The transparent leaves, imported from Taiwan, have been treated to remove all the outer covering, leaving only the delicate "skeleton" and a single layer of tissue cells. They have been tinted in pale shades of blue, green, yellow and pink.

Mrs. Karlin arranged the leaves in a design to suggest rambling vines, with dark threads for the leaves to "grow" on.

Geology Students On Field Trip In Missouri, Illinois

Twelve SIU geology students are spending the first six weeks of the summer studying rock formations in the hills of Southeastern Missouri and Southern Illinois.

The students are enrolled in Geology 450, a regular summer field course for all geology majors. Dewey H. Amos, assistant professor of geology, is in charge.

On Monday the students began three weeks of studying igneous rock deposits in the Ozark uplift area around Ironton, Mo.

The last three weeks will be spent studying sedimentary rock outcroppings at various locations in Southern Illinois. The course carries nine hours of credit.

Enrolled in the course are James A. Morgan, David P. Almy, Frank P. Pavlik, Terry J. Givens, Harold H. Zehner, William J. Cleary Jr., James N. Thomas, Fred H. Wetendorf Jr., Ronald J. Forrest, James F. Cerven, Michael Jasieniecki and Lee R. Tucker.

Trips, Flicks, Dances Planned for Summer

The Summer Programming Board has met and begun to plan trips and activities for students at SIU this summer.

Among the activities planned for this week are children's movies, the Friday Cinema Classics series, dances, lectures, a trip to the Munny Opera in St. Louis, a hootenanny and a Saluki Safari to Shawneetown.

The trip to St. Louis will be Saturday. A bus will leave the University Center at 4 p.m. Tickets and bus transportation cost $3.00.

The musical now showing at the Opera is "Guys and Dolls," one of the most popular musical comedies of all time. Macdonald Carey will star in the production.

A bus will leave the University Center at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday for a Saluki Safari to Shawneetown, one of the oldest towns in the state.

At its organizational meeting, the board made Jeanette Urik and Albert R. Hapke cochairmen of the board.

Other members are Anite S. Kneezle, secretary; Walter F. Champion, Claudette Cleveland, Mary L. Edwards, Victoria S. Erickson, Michael J. O'Hare, Terry D. Rothgeb, Jill D. Siwicki and John M. Zink.

Mrs. Crouse is an instructor in the Department of Food

The second meeting of the board will be tonight at 4 p.m. in the Activities Area of the University Center. All members and students interested in becoming members are invited to attend.

Plan A Will Hear Professor From Winston - Salem

A visiting member of the faculty of Winston-Salem State College will speak at 7:15 p.m. Thursday at the Plan A House.

She is Susan Balsley, head of the Department of English at the North Carolina school. She will discuss "Humanistic Values in Modern Literature."

She is visiting the SIU campus this summer to help develop a faculty and student exchange program between SIU and Winston-Salem.

In 1963-1964, she was a Fulbright lecturer at the University of Dacca.

The meeting will be open to the public. Other Plan A summer lectures will be announced at the meeting at the Plan A house at Forest Avenue and Mill Street.

A committee of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will remain active at SIU during summer term.

The committee will continue to maintain service projects handled by the organization. Persons wishing to make use of the group's services should contact the Student Activities Office.

Mrs. Joyce Crouse Awarded Home Economics Fellowship

Mrs. Joyce Sturm Crouse of Murphysboro has been awarded the first Letitia Walsh doctoral fellowship in home economics at Southern.

Mrs. Crouse is an instructor in the Department of Food pleted the master's degree in this field here in 1958. For two years after receiving the bachelor's degree, she taught home economics in the Elkhartville High School.

Mrs. Crouse is a member of the American and Illinois Home Economics Associations, the Illinois Vocational Homemaking Teachers Association and the American Association of University Women. She is married to George T. Crouse and is the mother of three children, Debora, Lisa and Susan.

The Walsh fellowship fund was established last winter by a $30,000 cash grant from Letitia Walsh, former visiting professor in the School of Home Economics. Miss Walsh had served for 18 years as head of the department of home economics education at the University of Illinois before accepting the SIU position in 1963.

Foundation Honors Morris, John Dill

Service Recognition Awards of the SIU Foundation have been presented to John D. Dill of St. Petersburg, Fla., and President Delyte W. Morris. Dill, who lived in Carbondale from 1908 to 1951, was one of the organizers of the foundation and its first president. President Morris is an ex-officio member of the Board of Directors of the foundation, and a member of its real estate committee and other committees.

The awards were made June 12 at the board's annual meeting in the University Center. The widow of the former State Sen. R.G. Crisenberry was appointed to the board to fill the vacancy created by the death of her husband in May.

Aubrey Holmes of Springfield, who heads the Illinois Teachers Retirement System, was elected president to succeed Charles Mayfield of Bloomington.

The society gave a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Neckers. Neckers is chairman of the Department of Chemistry.

Training Meeting, Movies Set Today

A training meeting for pre-student teachers will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. in Furr Auditorium of University School.

Children's movies will be shown at 8:30 p.m. at Southern Hills. "Alice in Wonderland" and a short movie, "I'm No Fool With a Bicycle," will be shown.

Robert Jacobs Working in India On School System

Robert Jacobs, dean of International Services, is now in India evaluating institutes for secondary school and college teachers for the U.S. Agency for International Development.

The institutes, which involve 200 American academic people who assist with the program, were established by AID. Jacobs was associated with AID before coming to SIU in the fall of 1962. Institutes for high school teachers are managed by Teachers College of Columbia University, New York. Ohio State University manages college teacher institutes.

The institutes, for teachers of mathematics, chemistry, physics, and biology at both levels of instruction, are held at numerous locations in India. They are set up to acquaint the Indian teachers with new knowledge in their respective fields and to introduce new methods of teaching science.

Jacobs, a native of Murphysboro, has evaluated the AID program and served as consultant during the three years the institutes have been in existence in India.

Air Assaults on Viet Cong Bases Continuing; Marines, Reds Clash

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese pilots attacked four concentration points for North Viet Nam's military manpower Monday. Spokesmen reported moderate to heavy damage to the installations.

Barracks at Dong Hoi, Phu Quy and Moc Chau and a staging area near Vinh—scattered across the country from 80 to 260 miles from Hanoi—were among primary targets in a daylong series of raids. Bridges and barges also drew fire.

A half-dozen engagements developed in the ground war south of the 17th parallel.

A U.S. Marine was killed and three wounded in one, a skirmish between Marines and a guerrilla band 10 miles west of Da Nang. A spokesman said the Marines killed four Viet Cong and wounded one and captured two light machine guns of Red Chinese make. Artillerymen of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade poured more than 400 shells into a suspected Viet Cong hideout near Thien, Tan, 25 miles northeast of Saigon. Results were not immediately determined.

A U.S. spokesman said Vietnamese troops killed 20 guerrillas in Quang Nam Province, in which the strategic Da Nang air base is situated, during a search and destroy operation still under way.

On the other hand, the Viet Cong were reported to have killed 27 government soldiers and wounded 21 in three operations. These were ambush of a truck convoy on the Ban Me Thuot-Nha Trang highway and attacks on two government posts, one 50 miles northwest of Saigon and the other 60 miles north of the city.

KINSLEY, Kan. (AP)—Thousands of Kansans were homeless Monday and thousands more prepared to flee from the path of the rampaging Arkansas River, a 5-mile-wide, 75-mile-long torrent moving across the state.

Adding to the misery was a forecast of locally heavy rain, damaging winds and hail for

Johnson Signs Bill Cutting Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed Monday the bill to repeal $4.7 billion in excise taxes and called it "a bright day for all Americans."

The cuts will be made in stages starting today.

all of the flood area late Monday.

The leading edge of the river crest—termed the highest ever on the Arkansas by the U.S. Weather Bureau—passed through this Edwards County seat at midmorning. It was expected in Larned, Kan., by midnight and at Great Bend by Tuesday.

About 800 persons—one-third of this town—were evacuated and more than 500 were being moved at Larned. Great Bend officials planned to move 3,000 persons—20 per cent of the population—from the flood's path.

The river returned to its banks at Syracuse in far west Kansas and flood conditions were expected to end at Garden City during the night.

Algiers Students Riot, Supporting Ben Bella

ALGIERS (AP) — Angry youths took to the streets of Algiers Monday for the second time in 24 hours to protest the ouster of President Ahmed Ben Bella. Police and troops were called out to disperse them.

Between 200 and 300 persons, mostly students, gathered in the square in front of the postoffice in the afternoon, chanting "Yahyah Ben Bella!" —Long live Ben Bella—and the French version, "Viva Ben Bella," as troops bore down in jeeps.

Tough Algerian security police ringed the student quarter and others armed with sub-machine guns were posted in front of the Central Bank of Algeria and other public buildings.

Some arrests were made but the demonstrators broke and ran before police and troop charges.

It was a re-enactment of demonstrations Sunday night when police broke up a group of youths only to find that the disturbance had attracted others who joined it.

The demonstrations were not immediately regarded as serious by Westerners, but they seemed symptomatic of a rising discontent—especially among the young—against the military coup which sent the 48-year-old president to arrest and detention.

It was certain to plague Col. Houari Boumedienne, key figure in the Revolutionary Council now governing this country of 12 million.

And it showed a certain defiance despite the firm military grip he holds over the country by virtue of his post as minister of defense.

The rioting was contained, but there were indications of other flareups, even though heavy squads of police and security forces patrolled the downtown area at 11.

Boumedienne reacted quickly to the first demonstrations Sunday and clamped down a virtual communications blackout starting just before dawn. He relaxed it bit by bit during the day but outgoing communications were generally shaky.

Japan, Korea To Sign Treaty

TOKYO (AP)—Japan and South Korea are set to formally sign today a basic treaty and various agreements that will restore normal diplomatic relations for the first time in 60 years.

The signing of the documents, however, will not immediately wipe out all ill feeling generated by a history of 40 years of Japanese domination, and 20 years of postwar poor neighborliness.

Even as Japanese officials decked out the prime minister's office for the signing ceremony, more than 5,000 South Korean students battled police in Seoul denouncing their government's "humiliating" stance toward Japan.

Police used tear gas and clubs to break up the demonstrators.

Johnson Pays Tribute To Bernard M. Baruch

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson led the nation in tribute Monday to Bernard M. Baruch, as a brief and simple funeral service was scheduled for Wednesday for the financier and presidential adviser. The body will not be on public view.

In a statement in Washington, Johnson said: "Bernard Baruch was in the robust tradition of the philosopher-politician: one who thought and cared mightily about the course of his country, but who did not shrink from actively doing what needed to be done to keep his country on course. "He loved his nation and he lived for it and that was enough to enroll him in an aristocracy of humanity."

White House press secretary George E. Reedy said he had no information whether Johnson would attend Baruch's funeral.

The service will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Temple Shaaray Tefila, on Manhattan's East 79th Street, where Baruch had held membership since childhood.

SIU's Vincent Signs With Frisco Team

Former Saluki pitcher-first baseman Gene Vincent is hoping for Giant baseball success.

Although still having one more year of eligibility left with the baseball Salukis, Vincent elected to sign a professional contract with the San Francisco Giants of the National League.

The Giants immediately assigned him to Twin Falls, their Class A farm club in the Pioneer League.

Vincent's pitching arm and potent bat helped the Salukis win 41 of 45 games during the past two seasons.

Vincent compiled a 9-1 pitching record for the Salukis this past year. His only loss came at the hands of Ohio State University, the team that finished second in the NCAA major college baseball championships earlier this month.

To go along with his almost perfect pitching record, Vincent compiled a 2.27 earned run average in 10 games while striking out 95 batters in 86 innings.

To keep him in the lineup at all times, Saluki Coach Abe Martin used him at first base when he wasn't pitching. Vincent responded by batting .340 and driving across 16 runs in 28 games.

His performance in the NCAA Mid-East College Division Baseball Tournament earned him the most valuable player award. Vincent pitched 7 1/3 innings of no-hit ball against Ohio Wesleyan on his route to a 6-1 victory.

In addition, Vincent was selected for two straight years by the Daily Egyptian sports writers as the top baseball performer for the Salukis.

Football Season Faculty Tickets Are Now on Sale

Orders are now being accepted for faculty and staff members' season football tickets at special reduced prices. Tickets may be purchased at the athletic office in the SIU Arena.

A faculty and staff member may buy a season ticket for six Saluki home games for $11, a savings of $7.50 over the regular reserve seat single game admission prices.

Faculty and staff members may buy season tickets for themselves and family (wife, husband, children).

All seats are reserved and are in choice locations on the west side of the stadium.

Last year's season ticket holders have until Aug. 14 to re-order the same seats.

SIU to Play Billikens Friday In Summer Baseball Opener

St. Louis University will be Southern's opponent here Friday when the Salukis start play in the newly formed Midwestern Collegiate Summer Baseball League.

Southern was scheduled originally to play the Billikens four games in St. Louis last weekend, but a lack of players forced Coach Abe Martin to cancel.

The games will be made up at the end of the season.

Martin's plea for players was well received last week, and the Saluki mentor expects to have 30 players on hand for Friday's game. None are from this year's varsity team that recorded a 20-3 record.

Southern is one of four teams in the new league. Parsons College, St. Louis University and the University of Illinois are the other three.

Each team will play a 36-game schedule with all games scheduled to be played on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

After the single game on Friday, St. Louis will play a doubleheader here Saturday and will close out the four game series with a single game on Sunday.

Injuries to Athletes Studied in Course

A summer workshop on the "Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries" is being offered by the Department of Physical Education for Men. The workshop began Monday and runs to July 23.

The course is being taught by SIU athletic trainer Robert R. Spackman Jr., an assistant professor of physical education. It is held from 7:30 to 9:40 a.m. Monday through Friday. It offers three hours of undergraduate credit.

The course is designed both for area athletic coaches and physical education majors.

Before coming to SIU, Spackman was the assistant trainer of the St. Louis Browns baseball club. He is in his eighth year as a trainer at SIU.

Ferraris Win Le Mans Race

LE MANS, France (AP)—Ferrari again was the winner of the Le Mans 24-hour auto race in the Italian firm's sixth consecutive and apparently unbeatable combination of speed, durability and cool-headedness.

The Ferrari onslaught, which captured first, second, third, sixth and seventh places Sunday, virtually overwhelmed the second consecutive factory-backed challenge of Fords and Ford-powered Cobras—although two of the Fords proved themselves faster in short spurts.

The BIG Inch

The BIG inch - lonesome by itself, but when incorporated into a DAILY EGYPTIAN classified, it is mighty big. Let's see, 1 inch times 7500 (that's our circulation) is 7500 inches. At a rate of only $1.00 for 20 words, that's nearly 7500 inches for $1.00!

Who will read you - 7500 inches? Students just like you - faculty members just like you - families just like yours - people just like the people you know.

You can plainly see that if you have something for sale, a service to offer or have merely lost your favorite roommate, the DAILY EGYPTIAN's the best place to look.

Better place your ad today, but hurry, deadlines are 2 days prior to publication at noon, except for Tuesday's paper which is noon Friday. Call 453-2354 for details.

Mile Relay Team, Cornell Lose Out In NCAA Finals

Goal: To place in the NCAA track and field championships, Berkeley, Calif., for the fourth consecutive year.

Result: Disappointing. Southern's only entries, the mile relay team and Bill Cornell in the mile, failed to qualify for the finals.

The championships, held during the break between terms were especially disappointing for Cornell, who was trying to close out his career with another great race.

As a sophomore, Cornell received national recognition with a 4:00.5 performance in the mile to win NCAA runner-up honors.

With 220 yards to go in this year's race, he became boxed in by other runners.

The Saluki quartet of Cornell, Robin Coventry, Jerry Fendrich and Gary Carr turned in a time of 3:12.5, only good enough for fifth place behind the University of Oregon, Drake University, Abilene Christian College, and the University of Houston. Only the top four teams qualify for the finals.

Coventry clocked 49.3, Cornell, 47.7, Fendrich, 48.8 and Carr, 46.7.

The quartet's best time during the season was 3:09.2.

of English at SIU. He has been associated with Plan A, the program for gifted undergraduates, since its inception in 1960.

The association also presented its Alumni Achievement Awards to Fred R. Cagle, formerly of Marion; Arthur H. Doerr Jr., a native of Johnston City; and Louis P. Shannon, formerly of St. Louis.

State Sen. John G. Gilbert of Carbondale was given an award for service to SIU.

Inquiring Minds Pose Questions

in the book section of the store kept track of a few unusual ones.

Some come in wanting "Roget's College Thesaurus," but it invariably comes out "Rogers Treasuries," Cutrell said. One student even asked him for a chemistry book "Enemies and Fractions," instead of "Energy and Particles."

And at this time of the year, the Registrar's Office is busy answering that oft-repeated question "How do I get back into school?"

Player Downs Nagle Three Strokes in St. Louis Tournament

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gary Player's putter was a blade of destruction Monday and the little master from Johannesburg carved out a three-stroke victory over demoralized Kel Nagle of Australia and became the first foreigner in 45 years to win the National Open Golf Championship.

Player, deadly on the greens, fired a one-over-par

71 and Nagle, going from hardship to disaster, shot 74 in the third Open playoff in the last four years. They had tied for the title Sunday at 282.

The triumph placed the nerveless, black-clad South African on a pinnacle with immortals Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan as the only men to complete a professional grand slam—the Masters, American PGA, U.S. and British Opens—in their lifetime.

Player won the British in 1959, the Masters in 1961 and the PGA in 1962.

"This is the realization of a dream for me," the 29-year-old mechanical man said afterward, his brown eyes welling with traces of tears.

"I feel I have reached my goal."

The playoff match, played in sweltering heat before a small gallery of 6,790 over the exasperatingly long and tough Bellerive Country club course, was over almost before it started.
