Business, Music Heads Named

EDWARDSVILLE A new dean for the School of Business and a new chairman for the Department of Music were among SIU personnel changes approved Thursday by the Board of Trustees. Both will start in 1967.

Robert S. Hancock will assume duties as professor of marketing and dean of the School of Business on Jan. 1. A native of Lakota, N.D., he received his advanced degrees at the University of Illinois and has taught there and also at the University of Minnesota, where he has been chairman of two departments.

Robert W. House, a native of Bristow, Okla., will come to SIU in September, 1967, to serve as professor and chairman of the Department of Music. House, 45, now heads the Department of Music at the University of Minnesota.

In other business the board made application under Title I of the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963 for federal funds to assist in completing the interiors of four floors of Morris Library.

University trustees approved a change in name for the Department of Speech Correction, in the School of Communications. Henceforth it will be known as the Department of Speech Pathology and Audiology.

Other appointments approved include Evert Johnson, former museum director at Hampton Institute, to be curator of University Galleries, and Roy E. Talley, a native of Mound City, to be disbursements of-

Festivities to Highlight 16th SIU Parents Day

Two sets of parents of SIU students will be honored Saturday in SIU's 16th annual Parents Day festivities.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Lowe of Wilmette, parents of Connie Lowe; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Watson of Jasonville, Ind., parents of Ed Watson.

That will attend a reception in President and Mrs. Morris' home at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, and will be presented during the halftime of the SIU-Ball State football game in the afternoon. They will be the honored guests of the University at the Parents Day buffet, the Celebrity Series featuring Ferrante and Teicher tonight and at the Parents Day dance Saturday night.

Lowe attended Michigan State University and the General Motors Institute and is currently vice president-controller of the Greyhound Co. in Chicago. Mrs. Lowe attended nursing school in St. Louis and is now a housewife.

Watson attended Rose Polytechnic Institute in Terre Haute, Ind., and is now employed by the Milwaukee Railroad in Jasonville. Mrs. Watson operates her own beauty salon in Jasonville.

Accidents Hospitalize Five Students

Five SIU students were injured in two accidents Wednesday night and early Thursday in the Carbondale area.

Patrick Deren, 19, of 501 South Grand was reported in satisfactory condition at Doctors Hospital Thursday night after being struck by an auto on South Wall Street. Deren, a pedestrian, was struck by a hit and run driver at 1:30 a.m. Thursday, a hospital spokesman said.

Four students were injured in a two-car accident at 11:20 p.m. Wednesday night two miles east of Murphysboro on Route 13, according to Illinois State Police at DuQuoin.

Donald Bronkhart, 21, of Route Two, Carbondale, and Jerry Dawe, 24, of 710 W. College, were both taken to St. Joseph Memorial Hospital in Murphysboro where they were reported in satisfactory condition.

Passengers in the two cars were taken to the SIU Health Service where Marvin Schwartz, 23, of 511 S. Hays was reported to have a fractured leg. A passenger in the other auto, James Benestañte, 21, of Chicago, was treated at the Health Service.

At Board Meeting

Housing Policy Debated

"A new approach to housing regulations is being developed," said President Delyte W. Morris, asking the SIU Board of Trustees not to approve a set of regulations submitted by student government representatives.

"What you have here is a formula," he told the board, which met Thursday at Edwardsville. "It's a vast improvement over the one we had, but it doesn't approach some of the problems we face in Carbondale."

Some of the problems, he said, are the nature of some of the housing, "the apathy and negativeness of some" landlords, and high prices and low levels of service offered by some landlords.

The new approach, still under development by the office of Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president for student and area services, may include as accepted housing some facilities not now included, such as trailers, and permit the judging of individual cases on their own merits, Ruffner said. It will include student government participation, he said.

The board also listened to the views of student representatives Bob Drinan, Ann Bosworth and Bard Grosse, all of the Carbondale campus, and Terry Proffitt, of the Edwardsville campus.

Drinan made a conciliatory speech in which he called for "teveling with each other," and characterized student unrest over the housing and vehicle regulations as "a symptom of other problems."

Grosse asked for discussion among the board on the vehicle question: "The students are going to want to know what we said, and what you told us."

Ruffner said his recommendations on the matter are not yet available, because "an analysis of the situation is still going on."

Morris, however, said that because of the traffic problem in Carbondale, "I would predict that instead of extending motor vehicle regulations in the future, we will have to restrict them further. We have got to realize that we live in Carbondale and have a responsibility to the city concerning this serious (traffic) problem," he said.

Morris also said 22 students living in unaccepted housing have been suspended as of Thursday for failure to reply to registered letters from the university.

Demonstrations and other forms of protest except through duly elected student representative "will not affect any judgements made" in the future, he said. "There will be only one channel of communication."

Student Payday Set for Monday

Student workers may pick up their paychecks from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday at the Auxiliary Bursar's Office on the second floor of the University Center.

"Students must pick up their own checks," Robert E. Brewer, assistant Carbondale campus bursar, said.

If a student cannot pick up his check he may receive it by sending a self addressed envelope to the payroll office at 807 S. Elizabeth St., Brewer said.

Graduate Student Enrollment Rises

EDWARDSVILLE — Forecasting a change in enrollment pressures during the next two years from underclassmen to graduate students, the SIU Board of Trustees Thursday forwarded a $109,531,952 operations budget request to Springfield.

The total, $106,286,652 to come from Illinois general revenue and $3,245,300 from University fees and miscellaneous income, is 36 per cent higher than the $80,555,893 allocated by the legislature for the biennium now drawing to a close.

In presenting the budget to the University board for its approval, transmittal to the Illinois State Board of Higher Education and eventually to the governor and the new legislature, President Delyte W. Morris commented upon the changing pattern of enrollments.

"While undergraduate enrollment rose 22.8 per cent in the two-year period from 1964 to 1966, graduate enrollment increased 45 per cent, nearly twice the undergraduate rate. Doctoral-level graduate students more than doubled during this time—from 238 in the fall of 1964 to 520 in the fall of 1966.

"The comparisons between the current fall term enrollment and one year ago are even more striking. Undergraduate enrollment increased only 2.4 per cent but graduate enrollment jumped 22 per cent in the single year.

"These figures underscore the University's rapid transition toward a comprehensive graduate and upper-level undergraduate institution, in full accord with the Illinois Master Plan for Higher Education," Morris said.

Enrollment projections for 1968 indicate an 11.3 per cent

Building Plans Include Parking

EDWARDSVILLE - A bi-level building designed for zoned circulation of people and automobiles has been proposed as the new administrative center for SIU.

Architects unveiled plans for a $4.43 million General Office and Services Building Thursday at the meeting of the Board of Trustees. The figure covers total project cost, including fees, furnishing and site work. Its most striking feature - one that could herald a new approach to central campus planning for the school - is an underground parking garage with traffic approaches to the building also below grade.

tion areas would be broad plazas and sidewalks surrounding the building itself and linking it to the "classic part of the University," with Old Main at its center.

The building, for which funds are included in SIU's current construction budget, would be located on the north edge of what is now McAndrew Stadium. It would front south, along the recessed roadway, but would have main pedestrian entrances on both the north and south sides.

Main exterior features of the two-story rectangular structure would be broad expanses of solar glass and a large ground-level plaza on the east.

The architects, C.F. Murphy Associates of Chicago, said the concept of creating horizontal and vertical zones separating auto and pedestrian circulation is necessary for most effective utilization of the "prime expansion" area of that part of the campus.

The building's main floor, including a lobby and perimeter offices, would provide the "main public access and information center of the entire campus," the architects said.

Four main University units are scheduled to be based in the new building: business affairs, academic affairs, student affairs and the central administration, including president's and vice president's offices.

above the vehicle circulation. The vehicle circulation will be on the level below the building.

Athletics Secrecy Hurting University

The most puzzling aspect of the current study being conducted by the University to evaluate the future of athletics at Southern is the air of secrecy surrounding the whole issue.

Information concerning the goings-on of the two committees conducting the study has been suppressed by the University since the naming of the members of these two study groups.

Considering the status of University athletics at present, these men will either have to produce a decision in favor of going big time or one that would keep SIU at a small-college level.

The latter would involve almost a deemphasis. Southern has been treading the line between major and small college for some time. SIU has one of the most well-balanced athletic programs anywhere on any level right now. All that is lacking is the decision to put 100 per cent effort in the form of scholarships and facilities into the present program.

Southern has managed to build strong teams that can compete on any level in basketball, gymnastics, swimming, wrestling, track, cross-country, baseball, tennis and golf. This has been done largely through the hard work and reputations of the coaches involved, who have had to overcome large disadvantages in scholarships and facilities.

The only thing lacking is a strong football program. And the only possible way to attain big-time status here is through scholarships. This means 75 to 100 NCAA scholarships, not 15 or 20 grants that carry unwarranted stipulations, such as work programs. Our coaches and team have done an admirable job in football, but they need help if they are to be expected to win in the kind of company they now keep on their schedule.

If the University is looking for justification for such emphasis it can certainly be produced from any angle—financial, worth to the overall program, character building or what have you.

One need only look at any of the Big Ten schools' financial records, which they willingly make available to the press, to find out just how much football is worth to them.

For instance, Northwestern University's income from football last year was one and a half million dollars. This more than offset all expenses for all sports at Northwestern. A sizable profit was realized of several hundred thousand dollars from the program, as Athletic Director Stu Holcomb told Chicago's American. Notre Dame earns $165,000 from one national appearance on television.

Notre Dame virtually built its new library with athletic revenue. This is not uncommon at other schools throughout the country.

Certainly any program incorporated in a university is worth building up as much as possible, to borrow an idea from Leo Jenkins, president of East Carolina College.

Anyone who has ever played football or any other sport on an organized team of any kind can attest to the physical and character benefits present in these sports.

And it doesn't take a participant to tell you that a good athletic program is the nucleus for school spirit, pride and social activity.

With the present national emphasis on physical as well as mental conditioning, it seems only fitting that the men deemed capable of making the decision examine carefully all the evidence and vote in favor of officially placing our University's athletic teams on the level they have been performing at, in ability if not title, by granting those scholarships and facilities. If Southern is not ready in terms of ability already exhibited to go big time, who is?

SIU Deals Unfairly on Housing

To the editor:

One would expect any institution of higher learning to deal fairly and in good faith with its students. Our institution, SIU, has not done so in regard to the housing regulations, now the center of controversy on this campus.

This writer accepts the fact that attending SIU is a privilege, but it has been the free choice of every student here to select this institution. When an individual decides to attend a particular school, he puts his trust in the integrity of his teachers and administrators much the same as a person does with his lawyer, clergyman, or doctor.

But the university, in return for this confidence, owes the student reasonableness and integrity in all its dealings. This, in fact, is the right of every student. In legal terms this confidence is called a fiduciary relationship. The Illinois case of Neagle vs. McMullen, states, "It (a fiduciary relationship) exists where confidence is reposed on the one side and resulting superiority and influence are found on the other side."

The 1947 President's Commission on Higher Education declared, "Democracy must be lived to be understood. . . Young people cannot be expected to develop a firm allegiance to the democratic faith they are taught in the classroom if their campus life is carried on in an authoritarian atmosphere."

Is it a democratic atmosphere where a school explains its power to regulate students' decisions as to housing, by falling back on the "loco parentis" theory even though the students' real parents have consented to their sons' or daughter's decision? Is it a democratic atmosphere where the loco parentis theory is the excuse for ordering a student to live in a certain place when the student happens to be recognized by the law of the United States as a free and mature citizen eligible to vote?

It's quite doubtful that "in loco parentis" would be a successful defense for the university's housing regulations if a test case would be brought before a court of law.

Let us hope that a test case need never arise. Let us hope that the Board of Trustees and administration will have the courage and wisdom to correct the present unfortunate situation which their past action has created.

Sex Course Proposed

To the editor:

A look into the unique, inward quality of objects or events in nature or in human experience . . . this is the meaning assigned to the word "Inscape."

Last Sunday evening, "Inscape," the new Activities Programming Board series made its premiere. The guest, George R. Carpenter, informed and delighted a group of about 85 students.

He spoke frankly and realistically about the events in human experience, namely "Sex on the Campus."

He said only the students enrolled in Home Economics were benefiting from the course in sex education.

One solution to this paradox, according to Carpenter, is the implementation of this course in the General Studies program.

Carpenter stressed two points. First, people need to speak more openly about sex. Questions fired at Carpenter demonstrated a greater openness.

Second, sex education needs to be taught to everyone, because "sex is real", its pervasiveness is with us, if not in mass media or in discussion, most certainly in our thoughts. Too few of us are properly informed about sex. Therefore, sex education satisfies the universal need.

There was a bit of irony at the close of "Inscape," this look into . . . human experience. As a sincere thanks to Carpenter, the entire group demonstrated their desire to support sex education in General Studies.

Why not . . . petitions? Recently, we have seen a great deal of student protest. Let us learn from our mistakes; petitions are ineffectual. The answer to effectual and socially acceptable protest must take the form of letters.

If you, the "academic community" would like to see improvement in the General Studies program, here is your opportunity to protest in an effectual and socially acceptable way.

Planners Say 10 Years to All-New Look

SIU's Temporary Buildings on Way Out

By Holim Kim

It's going to take about 10 years for SIU completely to get rid of the "temporary buildings," the euphemism for the unsightly barracks dotting the campus.

The estimate, a "realistic" one, was made by John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs.

This despite the fact that many new buildings are going up and many more will replace the barracks, an anomaly amidst modernity and a source of embarrassment to many a student guiding out-of-town visitors.

"It's like a rubber ball," Rendleman said in an analogy. "You squeeze it and let it go a little bit, and it expands again."

With the completion of the Communications Building, the technology complex and several more near occupancy, the University has been relieved of immediate pressure. There is no classroom shortage, and there won't be until next year.

"If we're able to make available additional office space—either by purchase or renting—we should be able to make two more years," Rendleman said.

He was referring to purchase or rental of private homes on the fringes of the campus. In the meantime many of the barracks will be torn down very shortly.

"Within the next two months you'll see a major demolition of barracks on the campus," the vice president said. First to go are those between the Loop Road and Wham and Classroom Buildings to make way for the Life Science addition.

There are two major tasks facing the University, one more long-range than the other. Construction of a Humanities and Social Sciences Building, a permanent home for many wandering hands of faculty, is the more immediate of the two. The $7.5 million project, approved unscathed by the State Board of Higher Education, is pending approval before the next session of the state legislature.

The other is the young graduate program, which Rendleman characterized as the University's "major thrust." Involved are space and facilities, especially for the sciences, which are a virgin land for SIU.

"I'm hoping that the pressure will be relieved and within the next three years we'll be in good shape," Rendleman said.

If this official is optimistic, other administrators directly affected by the space shortage are not. They tend to give a couple more years than the announced target dates.

As a brief conversation with the University architect will indicate, the target dates are set without regard to the many imponderables—strikes, weather, lockouts, material scarcities, etc.

For example, the technology complex was delayed for 2 1/2 months because of a strike at a materials plant in Virginia. Floods in the Ohio River have hampered cement mixing—SIU gets sand and gravel from the river—for two summers.

Availability of funds is one of the imponderable factors. But shortage of construction workers is a real problem, according to Willard C. Hart, architect for the Carbondale campus. Lack of workers in such trades as electricians, cement mixers, brick layers and plasterers has held up work at various stages.

On his Master Plan are multicolored dots and squares indicating future sites of various buildings.

"The Master Plan simply shows how things should be grouped," the architect said. "We know where to put the (buildings) but not when and in what order."

Some of the points of interest to students are:

MONORAIL—The planners gave it some thought but decided against it. Bus and other modes of transportation are being considered.

STADIUM—The architect's office has stopped planning for it. Its location has been picked (west of the campus, near the baseball diamond) but the planners won't know what size it would take until the Athletics Commission decides on the future of football at SIU.

PARKING LOTS—More than a dozen lots are on the plan at various locations around the campus. No multistory parking garage is under consideration.

RECREATION AREA—A gym, four times as large as the Arena, will be constructed "in the very near future" south of the Campus Lake.

On buildings either under construction, being occupied, or near occupancy:

BRUSH TOWERS—Two 17-story towers identical with Neely Hall in University Park will be ready by winter, 1967.

TECHNOLOGY COMPLEX—"A" wing will be partially ready by mid-November. Rest of the wing (for the Department of Mathematics) will be occupied in January. "B" wing won't be ready before spring. "D" wing has been occupied. "C" wing has not been built because of lack of funds; it is not included in the budget for the next two years.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE BUILDING—The main structure now under construction will not be ready before next fall. Stages I and II, for laboratory facilities, will follow; bids for them will be let in March for occupancy in spring or summer of 1969.

GENERAL CLASSROOM BUILDING—The structure north of Lawson Hall will be ready for occupancy by January. Furniture is being put in now.

COMMUNICATIONS BUILDING—Partially occupied, its addition is hoped to be ready in 2 1/2 to 3 years. No fund is available at the present time.

Others planned to be built.

FAMILY HOUSING—Apartments for married students, like those at Southern Hills, are to be built south of Thompson Point. Drawings for 304 units are ready but financing has not been settled. "If we start soon enough, we'll be able to move in within a year," according to Hart.

GENERAL SERVICES AND OFFICE BUILDING—Bids will go out in April or May. It will take about two years to complete.

LIFE SCIENCE ADDITION—Bidding will take place in late spring; construction will start in summer. The "complicated" construction plan calls for about three years.

Balanced Journalism—Keeping President Happy

Honest, Decent Paper Would Have All Good News

By Arthur Hoppe
(San Francisco Chronicle)

"What this country needs is one honest, decent, courageous newspaper," said the Kindly Old Philosopher, "that'll keep the President happy."

I said I took it he was referring to Mr. Johnson's remark that "newspapers don't always publish what I think they should publish."

"And he's right, son, it's a grave problem," said the Kindly Old Philosopher, shaking his kindly old head. "Course, the problem is he's been reading the wrong papers. He ought to read mine."

I said I didn't know the Kindly Old Philosopher was a newspaper publisher.

"I just entered the field, son," he said, "to do my civic duty and fill the Nation's need. My first edition's hot off the presses. Have a copy."

I said I liked the simple, pithy name, "Good News." But I did question the accuracy of the headlines: "EVERYBODY LOVES LBJ!"

The Kindly Old Philosopher was offended. "It's honest journalism, son," he said. "Now you read down past all those quotes about folks sleeping better nights and him having extra glands and it says plainly we're referring to everybody in the White House. Now I ask you, who knows him best?"

Well, maybe, and the paper certainly had an interesting and unusual picture page.

"Yep," he said proudly, "all of them different. Now in this he's looking fearless and in this one he's folksy and in this one he's . . ."

But what, I said, about the issues of the day? Like Viet Nam?

"We don't cut and run from that. Now here's an interview with an average, typical man on the street in Viet Nam who says what a great war we got going out there."

General Westmoreland is a man on the street? "We caught him leaving the Officers' Club. And here's a warm human interest story about a Mom in Dubuque who says how proud and happy she is to have her son being shot at over there. You can always count on some Mom somewhere."

How about domestic issues, like the state of the economy?

"We fearlessly cover that, too. Here's a hard-hitting interview with an experienced authority on unemployment who says tight money, higher taxes and credit controls don't worry him a whit. 'Not,' he says, 'as long as that there welfare check keeps comin' in.'"

But did Good News contain nothing but good news?

"Nosireebob," he said indignantly. "What kind of balanced journalism would that be? Here's a whole page devoted to bad things that happened to folks. See, here's a sad story about Bobby Kennedy and one on Teddy and one on De Gaulle and . . ."

Well, frankly, I said, it was a terrible newspaper, it would never sell and I couldn't see what he hoped to gain by putting out such distorted, biased, misleading news.

"Shake hands," said the Kindly Old Philosopher, extending his kindly old palm, "with the next White House press secretary."

Clairvoyant Speaker Predicts 1968 Race

By Randy Clark

A prediction that the next president will be a Republican was one of the more astounding statements made by Thursday's Convocation speaker, Russ Burgess.

Lyndon B. Johnson will head the Democratic ticket and Gov. George Romney or Richard M. Nixon will head the Republican ticket, Burgess said.

Burgess goes by the title of parapsychologist, but has been referred to as mentalist, spiritualist and extra-sensory perceptivist.

He asked his audiences to prepare questions on a card and then blindfolding himself, identified the questioner's initials, their name, their question and the answer almost without error.

'School' to Begin Sunday at 4 P.M.

A general meeting for anyone interested in the Free School will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday in the second floor lounge at the University Center.

Following the meeting, the first program in the School will be delivered by a group of graduate students. Their topic will be "Absurdity, Suicide and Human Feeling."

A presentation on "Man: Theory and Practice" will follow.

The SIU Sailing Club has challenged the Free School to a volleyball game at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Women's Gymnasium.

The proposal for the Free School, conducted by students with faculty advisers, was outlined in Wednesday's Daily Egyptian.

Funeral Today For Charles Dill

Charles E. Dill, 81, whose two daughters are SIU faculty members, died Wednesday at Doctors Hospital after an apparent heart attack.

One daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Hartline of Anna, is assistant professor of music at the University, and Mrs. Marion Smith of Carbondale is an instructor in the library at University School.

Dill founded the Dill Investment Company in 1921.

The funeral will be at 1 p.m. today from the Huffman Funeral Home. Burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

Worship at 10:45, 7:30 S.S. at 9:30 T.U. at 6:15 R. J. Hastings, Pastor

Burgess conducted his performance at a rapid pace, and his quick wit brought many bursts of laughter.

At a coffee hour in the University Center after the program, Burgess answered questions from a crowd of students.

"I pick most of my subjects even though I ask for volunteers," he said.

He first discovered his abilities as an ESP when he was in the 8th grade.

In advance of his program, Burgess stated he would predict a local newspaper headline appearing that day. Because the Southern Illinoisan is on strike, Burgess applied his prediction to the Chicago Tribune. The headline he predicted was "Republicans Score Impressive Gains," and the headline appearing on the front page of the Tribune was "Republican Gains Grow."

Grad Student Causes Rise In New Budget

increase over the fall, 1966, figures, forecasting 8,435 students at the Edwardsville campus and 20,216 at the Carbondale campus. Because of relief provided by the expanding community colleges of the state, SIU expects a smaller freshmen class in 1968 than the present 10,045.

Looming large in the budget request are items for expanding faculty and student research ($919,858); educational innovation including reorienting the University's laboratory school ($957,850); expansion and modification of the Vocational-Technical Institute ($1,597,638); and facilities for producing color television at the University's educational TV studios and construction of an FM radio station at the Edwardsville campus ($923,301).

Morris said color television production is needed to enhance the effectiveness of instructional programs for the public schools, community colleges and closed circuit TV for University classes.

Other increased costs estimated for the 1967-69 biennium, include:

Retirement system contributions, up $867,500; salary adjustments, up $6,061,002; increased enrollments, up $8,014,150; operating costs of new buildings, $764,643; and price increase on essential supplies and services, $937,238.

The budget also contains provision for supplying matching funds where needed to secure federal grants, computer modernization, rentals of buildings, and equipment for a doctoral program in molecular science.

TO CONFER—J. Murray Lee, chairman of the Department of Elementary Education, will attend a Project Talent Dissemination Conference Tuesday and Wednesday in San Francisco. He was invited as chairman of the Illinois State Advisory Committee on Gifted Children. One session of the conference will discuss methods of in-service education and teacher training for the gifted in Illinois. Lee has served on the state committee since 1959.

Germans Nominate Erhard's Successor

BONN, Germany (AP)—Kurt Georg Kiesinger, with strong backing from a Gaullist faction, was chosen by the dominant Christian Democratic party Thursday to try to form a new majority government.

If he succeeds, West Germany's foreign policy is expected to swing closer to President Charles de Gaulle's France than has been the case under pro-American Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Erhard, 69, remains head of a minority caretaker government. His future after his expected resignation is unclear.

Kiesinger, 62, minister-president of the State of Baden-Wuerttemberg, was selected on the third ballot at a caucus of the party's Bundestag delegation. Erhard and West Germany's first chancellor, Konrad Adenauer, 90, attended.

Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, 56, who has steered West Germany on a pro-American course, was runner-up. The final vote was 137 for Kiesinger, 81 for Schroeder and 26 for Rainer Barzel, 42, the party's parliamentary leader. Walter Hallstein, head of the executive commission of the Eur-

Fare Increase Talks Delayed

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission Thursday suspended proposed 10 per cent increases in intra-state passenger fares by four railroads operating in Illinois. The commission set Nov. 28 as the first hearing date on the proposals.

The railroads, which had proposed to place the increased fares in effect Nov. 21 are the Illinois Central, Gulf Mobile and Ohio, Norfolk and Western and Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

Similar increases for interstate fares already have been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

open Common Market, dropped out after the second ballot.

Although Kiesinger had gone into the voting as the front runner, the decisiveness of his victory came as a surprise, since he has come under wide criticism for his service under the Nazis during World War II.

After his selection, Kiesinger told a crowded news conference he would seek negotiations with the two other parties in the Bundestag in an effort to form a new coalition.

He declined to outline his political program at this time.

The Christian Democrats have the largest delegation in the Bundestag, but their 245 votes are four short of a majority. The Socialists are second with 202 and the Free Democrats, allied with Erhard until Oct. 27, have 49 pivotal votes.

The possibility remained that the Socialists and the Free Democrats might try to put together a coalition with their six-vote majority.

Fuel was added to this speculation by disclosure that Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin, Socialist chairman, met with Erich Mende, chairman of the Free Democrats and until two weeks ago Erhard's deputy chancellor.

FIRST NEGRO SHERIFF—Lucius D. Amerson, 32, defeated two candidates in a general election for sheriff of Macon County (Tuskegee) Alabama, to become the South's first Negro sheriff.

Nontoxic Gas Used by VC

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong, vehement in protests against American use of tear gas, attacked a U.S. 1st Infantry Division patrol Thursday with nonpoisonous gas, a U.S. spokesman announced.

GIs in the patrol, believed to number about 30, donned gas masks which are part of their standard combat equipment. The action ebbed without a fire-fight and no injuries were reported.

The attack came in Tay Ninh Province of War Zone C on the Cambodian frontier northwest of Saigon.

LBJ Says GOP Gains Will Affect Legislation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) —President Johnson said Thursday Republican gains in Congress will make it more difficult for him to get new legislation enacted next year, but said he expects no change "in our course of action on security matters."

Johnson, holding a news conference on the sun-drenched lawn near his ranch here, said he had looked for a maximum of one seat gain in the Senate compared with the three picked up by Republicans.

And he conceded that the GOP captured five to ten more House seats than administration experts had anticipated.

"I think it will be more difficult for any new legislation we might propose," Johnson replied when asked to assess the impact of the Republican gains.

Johnson later said, however, that "I don't believe it will change in any way our course of action on security matters." He added he has had good cooperation from Republicans on legislation affecting the war in Viet Nam and national defense generally.

In his first personal comment on the outcome of Tuesday's balloting, Johnson said there was no doubt the Republican party had been strengthened. He went on: "We're all glad to see a healthy and competent existence of the two-party system."

Johnson met with newsmen after conferring for several hours with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

McNamara, holding his own news conference at the ranch, said he and Johnson discussed the possible development and deployment of Nike antiballistic missiles to match Soviet deployment of antimissile systems in the Soviet Union.

McNamara said no final decision was made but he emphasized that "the only safe assumption" Pentagon planners can make is that the Soviets already have such a system—as they claim—and that it is effective.

All's Well So Far For Gemini Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Gemini 12, America's final man-in-space adventure of 1966, sailed smoothly toward blastoff time today after technicians finally whipped rocket troubles that kept the pilots grounded two days.

Mission officials checked rockets, men and weather, then gave the all-clear for the fiery start of the four-day journey through 1,600,000 miles of uncharted space.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. spent much of the day poring over their complex flight plan.

Nautilus Damaged

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) -- The Navy said Thursday the nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus collided with the aircraft carrier Essex while submerged in the Atlantic Ocean some 360 miles east of Morehead City, N.C.

Naval authorities said the accident occurred as the Nautilus -- world's first nuclear submarine--was making an approach during a replenishing mission.

Damage to the superstructure of the submarine was described by the navy as "extensive." There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The Nautilus was able to surface and was in no immediate danger, the Navy said. Deep-sea divers were preparing to jump into the water to inspect damage.

In Washington, the Pentagon said the Essex sustained no apparent damage.

A spokesman said the Nautilus will return to her home port at New London, Conn., under escort of a destroyer.

"No other details were immediately available at defense headquarters except that the collision occurred during an exercise in which the sub was blocking a theoretical enemy vessel's replenishment at sea.

ficer for the Carbondale campus.

Three visiting professors were approved for short-term appointments. Mrs. Daisy F. Balsley, a professor at Winston-Salem State College, will serve as visiting professor of English during the academic year.

Alice M. Briant, who has been a professor at Cornell University and at Utah State University, will serve as visiting professor of food and nutrition during the winter quarter.

Charles Sargent, formerly dean of faculty at the University of Alaska, will serve part-time as visiting professor in the School of Technology.

A change in terminology for an advanced degree in the field of business was approved by the University board and will be submitted to the State Board of Higher Education. Formerly termed the master of science degree in marketing, management and accounting, the new phraseology would be master of business administration. The new term, President Delyte W. Morris told the board, is more descriptive of the professional competence demonstrated by the graduate and is so recognized by industry.

Interpreters Theater Group Marks Opening of New Stage

"In White America" will mark the grand opening of the Interpreter's new Calpre Stage theater at 8 p.m. tonight. It will run Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Nov. 18 and 19.

The show is an exercise in oral interpretation, and the stage is in a huge unfinished room situated on the second floor of the Communications Building. The audience will be seated on three sides of the stage.

"In White America," by Martin Duherman, is a collection of private and public documents cleverly arranged to trace the story of the Negro in America from the days of the first slave ships to the present time.

Paul Roland, director of the Interpreters Theater, says that with the intimacy between audience and stage, "the audience often discovers new meaning in literature by becoming more closely involved with the artist."

Ferrante and Teicher, popular masters of the twin piano, will appear at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Saturday in Shryock Auditorium in conjunction with the annual Parents Day festivities.

Tickets for the show, the second in the 1966-67 Celebrity Series, are $1, $2 and $3.

Ferrante and Teicher, known for their original treatment of show tunes, popular music and "pop" classics, have worked together since their debut in 1947. Their specialties are the works of modern composers Gershwin, Porter, Kern and Rogers.

Among their most famous recordings are "Theme From the Apartment" and "Exodus."

To Discuss

Space Plans

Faculty members of the School of Technology will confer with National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials on the school's $150,000 space research project.

The project is now in its third year and is concerned with structural design for future space missions. The school received the $150,000 grant from NASA.

The conference will be held Nov. 14-16 at NASA headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The purpose of the conference, said Julian H. Lauchner, dean of the School of Technology, is to "tell them (NASA) what we are doing, what we have done, and what we are going to do on the project."

Planning to attend are Lauchner; Wayne A. Muth, professor in charge of information processing and theory; William C. Orthwein, professor in charge of mechanics of solids; Joseph D. Clinton, who is conducting research in structural concept; and R. Buckminster Fuller, research professor of design, who is a consultant on the project.

Lauchner said he will fly the group to Washington in his private airplane.

Harmon highlights

This will be the final week-end of "ho-hum" games for top-ranked Notre Dame and its 2nd place "running mate" Michigan State. Next week, all the chips for the 1966 season will be on the line as the two powers tangle in the college game of the year. In the meantime, the Irish will club the Devils of Duke by 37 points, and the Spartans will whip Indiana by 27 points.

Alabama, still in the number three position, will rack up its 8th straight win, beating South Carolina by 27 points.

Arkansas, number 4, still smarting from its upset loss to Baylor five weeks ago, will knock 12th-ranked S.M.U. off the pinnacle of the Southwest Conference. In winning by six points, the Razorbacks will pull themselves even with the Mustangs in the title race.

And climbin' up that ever-lovin' national ladder with one huge leap is a big Georgia Bulldog, now in 5th place. For Georgia and for 6th-rated Georgia Tech, things won't get any easier. The Bulldogs should tumble Auburn by fourteen points, and the Yellow Jackets are favored to stay undefeated, winning over Penn State by two touchdowns.

A big power clash takes place in Knoxville where 7th-ranked Tennessee meets 13-rated Mississippi, a team that has been gradually creeping up the ladder. However, the rise of the Rebel may cease after Saturday as they're a one-point underdog to the Volunteers.

And ninth-ranked U.C.L.A., looking at both the conference title and the Rose Bowl through rather cloudy glasses at the moment, will stifle the Stanford Indians by 14 points.

Nebraska, number 10, will bounce Oklahoma State by two touchdowns, and Purdue, in 11th, will settle the Big Ten side of the Rose Bowl question for 1966, eliminating Minnesota by 15 points.

Houston, ranked 15th, is favored to clip Kentucky by 16 points.

Finally, 19th-ranked Washington is 10 points too strong for Oregon State, and Oklahoma, number 20, will dump Missouri by ten.

Kennedy Memorial Meet Opens Competition

Women Gymnasts Begin Fourth Season

by Tom Wood

Coach Herb Vogel is preparing Southern's women's gymnastic team for its fourth season of competition. The team will kick off the 1966 season Nov. 18 with the John F. Kennedy Memorial Meet in the Arena.

The Memorial Meet was dedicated to President Kennedy in 1964. In 1963, the team's first meet in their opening season was scheduled against the University of Illinois on the day Kennedy was assassinated. The meet was one of the few athletic events in the country which went on as scheduled.

Vogel's team defeated Illinois that night and has rolled up a record of 28 victories against no losses in its three years of competition. They captured the national championship last year and have achieved such distinctions as 11 All-America selections, national team titles and world individual champions.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was invited to attend the meet, but declined because of previous commitments.

In the response Vogel received to the invitation, Mrs. Kennedy said, "Thank you for your initial invitation...I am most appreciative of your thoughtfulness, as well as deeply touched by your wish to perpetuate the memory of President Kennedy. I will be unable to be present at the memorial ceremony due to my schedule for November being particularly full."

"I am grateful to you for remembering me and hope very much that the ceremony will be a most successful one."

Mrs. Kennedy was to have presented individual awards to team members. Among these awards will be the selection of team captain and the award for athletic achievement.

Previous recipients of the award are Gail Daley, Dale McClements and Judy Wills. Previous team captains are Donna Schaezner in 1963 and 1964 and Miss Schaezner and Irene Haworth in 1965.

The meet will feature a memorial service to Kennedy, synchronized team competition, frosh-soph versus junior-senior team competition, competitive tumbling and several other features aimed at establishing a totally new concept in women's gymnastics.

The girls who will participate in the competition between underclassmen and upperclassmen are Irene Haworth, 1966 College All-Around Champion; Janis Dunham, Mary Toth and Linda Scott, 1966 All-Americans; and freshmen Joanne Hashimoto, Judy Dunham and Sue Rogers.

There will be no admission charged for students with student identification. All other admissions will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Tickets will be sold at the door only.

The meet will start at 8 p.m. and is expected to last approximately one and one half hours.

Announcement Made Late Thursday

Cardinals Place Hart on Active Roster

Jim Hart, former SIU quarterback, has been activated from the taxi squad and placed on the active roster by the St. Louis Cardinals.

The decision to activate Hart was made late Thursday. The announcement followed several days of speculation that the ex-Saluki would be activated.

Hart becomes the number two quarterback behind Terry Nofsinger who took over as the Cardinals' starting quarterback last Sunday when Charley Johnson received a knee injury. Johnson is out for the rest of the regular season.

Nofsinger is scheduled to be the quarterback for the Card's remaining five games. And he could get in a sixth game if Hart. He said no decision had been made and he didn't know when one would be made.

"We've got several possibilities," Winner said.

"We can bring up Hart or pick up someone released from another club. George Izo, for example, is a fellow who is now free to be picked up," he continued.

"We've also got Jim Bakken on the squad, who played quarterback in college. Johnny Roland can throw the ball and we could move into a shotgun offense with him in there."

Bakken is the valuable place kicker for the Cards, but Winner indicated that would not take him out of the picture.

Roland, the rookie halfback from Missouri making a bid for rookie of the year honors, has tossed a couple of completions this season.

Speaking of Hart, Winner cited inexperience as the basic factor which would hurt his chances.

"Jim has a good, strong arm and can throw the ball quickly," Winner said. "He has made a lot of improvement since the beginning of the season and he could have a bright future. Still, we haven't had the chance to let him see any action in real play."

In discussing Johnson and Nofsinger, Winner believes that they both operate much the same.

"Nofsinger is a good, in-

telligent quarterback," says the coach. "He is a bit taller than Johnson, which may help him some, but he lacks the years of experience. Both throw much the same type of ball."

Johnson was often criticized this year for poor passing performances, but Winner doesn't buy the criticism.

"Charley has had a lot of passes drop which should have been completed," he says. "Last Sunday, for example, there were at least four passes dropped which should have been caught."

Winner also had something to say to those who maintain that the team has a schedule factor in its favor for the remaining games.

"In this league, anyone can beat you. The scheduling factor simply doesn't exist to me. Right now we've got our hands full thinking of Pittsburgh next Sunday. We still have to take them one at a time."

The first-year coach likes to think that he has both a complete offense and defense, although the latter has been getting the bulk of favorable publicity.

JIM HART

the Cardinals win the NFL Eastern Division Title and play for the league championship. The Cards are leading their division with a 7-1-1 record.

The sixth appearance could also happen if the Cards take second in the division and go to the Playoff Bowl.
