Council Seeks To Curtail TP Cycle Traffic

The Thompson Point Executive Council will seek permission from SIU housing officials to curtail motorcycle traffic at Thompson Point.

A resolution establishing hours for motorcycle traffic in the Lentz Hall area was approved by the Council Tuesday night. It will be submitted to housing officials for their approval.

The resolution asked that no motorcycle traffic be permitted in the Lentz Hall area from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. Mondays through Thursday; from 1 a.m. to 7 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays; and from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. Sundays. Riders would have to stop their cycles and walk them to their dorms or park them in the Lentz Hall lot.

SIU Women Retain Dating Advantage

The women at SIU still have the dating advantage. SIU men outnumber women 2 to 1, despite a total enrollment increase of 19.7 per cent over last fall quarter.

Loren Young, assistant registrar, reported 16,309 men and 8,193 women enrolled on the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses combined.

Each campus maintains a 2 to 1 ratio with Edwardsville having 4,521 men and 2,625 women, and Carbondale having 11,788 men and 5,568 women.

Ag Professor Dies of Heart Attack

LLOYD V. SHERWOOD

Lloyd V. Sherwood, 58, professor of agronomy, died of a heart attack at 7:55 a.m. Wednesday at his home.

Sherwood, who lived at 2012 Woodrider Drive, was pronounced dead on arrival at Doctors Hospital.

Sherwood had heart trouble, according to his family, but had been working regularly up to the time of his death.

Born in Cassville, Mo., Sherwood was raised in Shelbyville. He joined the SIU faculty in 1959 after spending more than 10 years with the Monsanto Chemical Co.

He also served almost nine years as a faculty member at the University of Illinois where he received his bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees in the fields of agronomy and agricultural economics.

Before going to Monsanto he served on the University of Arizona faculty for four years.

Sherwood was a member of the American Society of Agronomy, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Association for the Advancement of Education, National Weed Society of America and American Association of University Professors.

Sherwood is survived by his widow, Paula, a son, Neil, who is a graduate student at Purdue University; a daughter, Linda, 6; five brothers and one sister.

Services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at the Huffman Funeral Home.

Plaques will be presented to the winning organizations.

Plans for the fourth annual contest are already under way. Evelyn Augustin, a junior from Springfield, will serve as this year's chairman.

The contest is aimed at encouraging better coverage of organizational activities. It is open to all living units on and off campus as well as all student clubs and organizations.

Scrapbooks should consist largely of newspaper clippings which appear during the year in various publications, Pictures and other mementos may be included, but judging will be based largely on publicity coverage.

Materials and clippings should be collected from the beginning of this school year. The deadline for submitting entries is May 1.

Housing units and clubs may receive further information and entry blanks in the mail.

Questions about the contest may be addressed to the Scrapbook Contest Chairman, in care of the Daily Egyptian.

Rushing of 1st-Term Frosh Allowed

The Interfraternity Council voted Tuesday night to change the present rush procedures to include first-term freshmen.

Under the new rule freshmen who graduated in the upper third of their high school class can be rushed and pledged.

Under former rules rushees were required to have a three-point overall average and have been enrolled in college for at least 12 quarter hours.

Also under the new ruling second-term freshmen with less than 12 credit hours are able to pledge if they had at least a 3.5 average.

Starting Friday, anyone meeting these new requirements plus anyone who was eligible under the old rules can be pledged. The final date for pledging will be Oct. 25.

An IFC spokesman stated that under the new system freshmen may benefit from the organized scholastic program.

The fraternities will continue the policy of a minimum three-point overall and a three-point the last term before pledges can go active.

Chris Was a Claim-Jumper!

Last Tuesday Yale university displayed a map supposedly giving irrefutable proof that Leif Erikson, not Christopher Columbus, discovered America.

As the third-son of a first son of a native Italian I could not take this lying down. Every schoolchild knows that the great Columbus discovered America.

I have in my possession a diary handed down through the centuries from an ancestor, Nicolo Ettore Rapetti, who sailed with Columbus. An excerpt from it reads:

"Anno Domini 1492, somewhere in da Atlantic--da day dawnava very bright-a-ly. Il Capitano ana crew wasa very happy to see evidenza da land, because we wasa runnin' out of pasta. We saw a coupla treeasa branch broken ana drowned dove, so we know we see landa by-ana-by.

"Il Capitano saw da land first. He say, 'Mama mia, looka dat land--we call it da Bronx.' Da crew didn' wanna name it dat because was da nama Il Capitano's neighborhood back in Genoa, so we nama 'America' afta da firsta mate's brudder-in-law!

"Anyhow we get inna gondola an' heada for shore. Il Capitano's da firsta hita da beach--heada firsta--he sa fall outta da boat. By-ana-by we alla getta shore ana Capitano say, 'I claima all dis place for da Sons Of Italy, Genoa branch, ana da Spagnola queen who give us da lira for da trip.

"Den allafasudden come out from da woods about thirty-fiva men wid skins red like Portuguese wine. Dey funny lookin' because dey wearin' helmets wid funny lookin' horns ana polar-bear skin sweatshirts wid 'University of Oslo, 104? A.D.' writ acrossa da chest.

"Il Capitano say very eloquent-like, 'Who-a you guys, hah?' ana chief say, 'Ugh, we the Cleveland Indians on a road trip. Whom you?'

"Il Capitano say 'Nevva mind who we is, where you getta dose Nordica costumes?'

"Chief say 'Sears-and-Roebuck mail-order house in East Chicago, Norway, send'em by carrier eagle. You wan make trade for something you bring acrossa Great Water?'

"Capitano say 'Ma sures, we make trade. I giva you muddah-pearl-hand'e bread knife ana hummer'--pounda peacock fedder for allu stuff you paesani wear.'

"Chief say 'Ugh, we maka trade!'

"Ana so, we get alla clothes dem Indians got ana der I ask Il Capitano 'wharrare we gonna do wida Nordica stuff we got?'

"Il Capitano say 'We gonna throw inna da ocean so nobody tink damn Sears ana Roebucka beat Big Chris to America...'

Anybody who doubts this irrefutable source please write to the Italian Society of Discoverers, care of this newspaper, for notarized copies of Nicolo's account. Columbus' only mistake was that he didn't get a copy of the map that the Yale scholars discovered. It probably came in the evening mail, after Chris and the boys departed.

Egyptian Is 'Marvelous Paper'

As a subscriber to your paper, and (I hope) a future student of SIU, I was pleased to see the section on University Park in the Oct. 6 edition, and was glad to see some space devoted to these new buildings.

I became interested in your school when my sister married a student and moved there. I follow school activities and such very closely,

Egyptian Is 'Propaganda Sheet'

In your story on the Student Council meeting of Oct. 8 you stated that the Council "voted down a bill to co-sponsor a teach-in advocating withdrawal of troops from Viet Nam." It is probably too much to expect that someone associated with the Daily Egyptian would know what a teach-in is. There have been teach-ins all over the country. Most have presented arguments both for and against our policy in Viet Nam. They therefore, was very glad to receive a subscription from my sister last week.

I am a student at Springfield, Pa. Senior High School, and hope to attend SIU in 1969. You can count on me as a subscriber then, if not from now on.

Thanks for a marvelous paper.

Glenna Smith

are necessary because most citizens read the newspapers, and the newspapers only present one side of the story. I can only hope that people realize there is always more than one side to any story.

Unfortunately here at SIU no one can be found who will argue on behalf of government policy. Maybe no one agrees with U.S. policy!

Unlike the right-wing press, the Students for a Democratic Society which is sponsoring the teach-in believes in presenting both sides of an issue. Only by knowing both sides and by studying both sides objectively can a person come to a valid judgment. Will anyone speak for the Johnson administration?

T. V. Tischer

P.S. I doubt if this letter will be printed. Unfortunately the Daily Egyptian is just another rightist propaganda sheet.

(Editor's note: Perhaps. Last summer, we received a letter in a similar vein which accused us of being "Communists.")

NO - NOT AGAIN . . . NOT ANOTHER APPOINTMENT TO COME BACK LATER AND STAND IN LINE . . .

How About TV Series On 'TVA in Action?'

By Arthur Hoppe
San Francisco Chronicle

Our ever-alert FBI has cracked down on evildoers again. They recently cracked down on a new television show depicting FBI agents in action. The evildoer was a leading actor who had his coat unbuttoned, his hands in his pockets and a cigarette in his mouth. The FBI, according to Newsweek magazine, considered this "unbecoming to the FBI image."

The new FBI series is expected to become popular and we can, therefore, expect a spate of new programs glorifying Government agencies. We can expect the Government agencies to have firm ideas on exactly how they want to be glorified.

Indeed, that other promising new series, "Our Budget Heroes," has already run into trouble. The program, as you may know, tells the thrilling, behind-the-scenes stories of our unsung CPAs and their hair-raising efforts to unbalance our towering Federal budget. But the noted producer, Mr. Don Breshnahan, is about to toss in the sponge. Anyone who attended the filming of the pilot show can understand and sympathize.

Scene: A huge television set crowded with cables and cameras in the foreground and row upon row of identical desks in the background.

PETTIBONE: Excuse me, I'm Assistant Associate Regional Executive Director of the Bureau and I fear the crowd scene at the water cooler is unbecoming to the Bureau's image. After consultation with my superiors we feel, however, that we could allow one fleet-footed actor to zip from his desk, take a sip on the dead run and scurry back to his seat. As long as he doesn't waste more than 3.2 seconds of the taxpayers' time.

DIRECTOR: All right, gang, cool the cooler. We'll start with that close-up of Buck Ace, the fighting CPA, working furiously at his desk . . .

PETTIBONE (rubbing his hands): Good, good.

DIRECTOR: . . . a frown on his noble brow while . . .

PETTIBONE: Excuse me, no frowns. We certainly don't want to give the public the impression we're worried about anything. Like our national debt of $316,417,618,923.03.

DIRECTOR: Okay, so he's laughing. And he turns to Miss Edna LaNuit across the aisle and says . . .

PETTIBONE (horrified): Good heavens, we can't have any talking in the office during business hours. What would the public think?

DIRECTOR: Not talking? But how are we going to build conflict? We've got to fill half an hour somehow.

PETTIBONE: Conflict? Within the Bureau? You must be mad. Fortunately, however, I am empowered to read this interesting address on "Bonded Debentures: the Key to the Bureau's Sound Fiduciary Practices" which I just happened to have with me (adjusting his spectacles and staring into the camera). Unaccustomed as I am . . .

As I said, the producer of "Our Budget Heroes," Mr. Breshnahan, is about to toss in the sponge. But I'm glad to say he's already working on another series, "The Insiders"--a moving documentary on the Department of the Interior, which will answer that burning question on everyone's lips: "What the hell is the Department of the Interior?"

Mr. Breshnahan feels strongly that it is television's role to glorify unsung Government agencies. And he is determined to do so. If he can just keep the Government from getting wind of it.

Letters to the Editor

Give SIU Football a Break, But Skip the Song 'n Dance!

Here we go again!

Now Coach Shroyer said exactly the same thing exactly Piccone said years ago.

The team is a joke, the stadium is a joke, the schedule is a joke and Dr. MacVicar's reply to this writer's similar letter last year was humorous too.

He said "Southern Illinois wouldn't support big time football." Immediately three area papers corrected him.

I brought it up before and I'll mention it again; Bowling Green has 9,000 students, in a city of 12,000 people. The new Bowling Green stadium, seating 60,000, will be ready next fall. If you'll remember, they dropped SIU after beating them so badly three years in a row.

Your administration always has a ready explanation and a spokesman to glibly reply to letters such as this, but they say nothing of value and obviously do nothing about it.

Can't you hear some 6' 6", 280-pound tackle telling his friends in Pennsylvania about his recent scholarship to SIU. "We're playing Lincoln! Youngstown! S. E. Siwash Prep! Shipoo U! In our big 10,000 seat stadium!"

May I be the first to wish Coach Shroyer the best of luck in his new coaching position - wherever that is! You join a long line of great guys who would not take it either, Coach.

Would someone on the staff take time to check the real reasons and the real culprits and the real policy on SIU football?

Is SIU a Big High School?

Yesterday as I walked over to the library, I was dumbfounded by posters all over - on trees, telephone poles, chains, strings and fences. For what? For Queen and Attendant! One read, "King for Queen!" (Yes it did.)

The reason for my surprise was that I thought I had left this kind of activity in high school. As I walked through this massive campaign for Queen and Attendant, I came upon a telephone pole which had a large Queen campaign poster on it. But underneath this poster, I noticed another sign; it said something about "Teach . . ." I paused to look under the campaign poster and read the announcement. It was about the "Teach-In" on Viet Nam Thursday night. I tried to make this announcement visible. But I failed. The Queen poster was too securely fastened over it.

As I walked away, I thought to myself, "That seems typical."

Religion Authority Serves As SIU Visiting Professor

Milton D. McLean, director of the Religious Affairs Center at Ohio State University and one of the nation's authorities on religious education, is serving as a visiting professor for the fall quarter.

Prior to his position at Ohio State, he served as president of Lincoln College, Lincoln, Ill., for three years.

McLean has written or contributed to more than a half-dozen books on religion and education. His "Life and Teachings of Jesus," published in 1934, has become a standard source book in religious teaching.

At SIU, McLean is serving as a consultant to the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences advisory committee on academic relations with the religious foundations. The committee is concerned with long-range plans for accredited religious studies on the Carbondale campus.

McLean also will consult with Edwardsville campus faculty members regarding religious education plans there, and review with Office of Student Affairs personnel the non-academic role of the religious foundations. He also is teaching a course in sociology of religion.

A Tracy, Minn., native, McLean holds degrees from the University of Minnesota, McCormick Theological Seminary and Union Theological Seminary of Columbia University. He did doctoral work at the University of Chicago.

He has worked with the YMCA and was a USO admini-

Decision After 30 Gallons

Greeks Play Rushin' Roulette

By John Goodrich

In three days' time, members of the social fraternities at SIU must meet, entertain and evaluate approximately 500 men who visit their houses during rush.

Rush might be likened to a game. The players on one side are called rushees, and they play against the Greeks, who are divided into actives and pledges. The object of the game is for the rushee to decide if he wants to join the Greeks' team, and for the Greeks to decide which rushees they would like to have on their side.

To be eligible for the game, the rushee must have a 3.0 overall grade average, and he must have completed at least 12 hours of college work.

It's expensive, this game called rush. It costs all of the players three nights of valuable study time. The Greeks spend money on food, bands and films to entertain the rushee while he is trying to determine which of the eight houses he should choose.

At one house, 30 gallons of punch were consumed in the first two nights of rush.

While the rushee is being entertained, the Greeks make value judgements about his personality, dress and social grace. The rushee looks over the Greeks in the different houses and decides if they are the type of people he would like to live with for the rest of his college career.

This fall the game was almost over on Tuesday evening, when the rushees attended informal parties at the houses that they hoped to pledge.

The game will really conclude today, when rushees go to the University Center to pick up bids that they have received from the fraternities at which they registered. The rushee must then make his biggest move of the game — to decide which house is best suited for him.

Some of the Greeks feel that they have lost the entire game when some of the rushees whom they played for the hardest don't return a bid to their house. And some of the rushees believe they have lost when a certain house that impressed them didn't give them bids.

The real winners of the game are not the Greeks who gain the most new pledges, but those that gain men with character and ability most suited to the goals of the individual fraternity.

So the rush game is over. But now, a bigger and better game begins — its name is called pledgship.

Ford Motor Company is:

responsibility

Stephen Jaeger B.B.A., Univ. of Pittsburgh

A key dimension of any job is the responsibility involved. Graduates who join Ford Motor Company find the opportunity to accept responsibility early in their careers. The earlier the better. However, we know the transition from the academic world to the business world requires training. Scholastic achievements must be complemented by a solid understanding of the practical, day-to-day aspects of the business. That is the most direct route to accomplishment.

Stephen Jaeger, of the Ford Division's Milwaukee District Sales Office, is a good example of how it works. His first assignment, in January, 1963, was in the Administrative Department where he had the opportunity to become familiar with procedures and communications between dealerships and the District Office. In four months he moved ahead to the Sales Planning and Analysis Department as an analyst. He studied dealerships in terms of sales history, market penetration and potentials, and model mix. This information was then incorporated into master plans for the District. In March, 1964, he was promoted to Zone Manager—working directly with 19 dealers as a consultant on all phases of their complex operations. This involves such areas as sales, finance, advertising, customer relations and business management. Responsible job? You bet it is—especially for a man 25 years old. Over one million dollars in retail sales, annually, are involved in just one dealership Steve contacts.

As a growth company in a growth industry, Ford Motor Company offers an exceptionally wide spectrum of job opportunities. The chances are good that openings exist in your field of interest. See our representative when he visits your campus. We are looking for men who want responsibility—and will be ready for it when it comes.

Could Split Seats

Court Unveils New Illinois District Map

By William J. Conway

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal and state judges made public Wednesday a new map of Illinois congressional districts that might result in an even split of the 24 seats between the two major parties.

Democrats now hold 13 and Republicans 11.

"It might end up with 12 in each column," commented Chief Judge William J. Campbell of the U.S. District Court. Campbell and four colleagues—Justices Roy J. Sel-fusburg and Robert C. Underwood of the Illinois Supreme Court, Judge Latham Castle of the U.S. Court of Appeals and Judge Bernard M. Decker of the U.S. District Court—unveiled the new map at a news conference.

The biggest change was in the 19th District in the west-central section of the state.
Rep. Gale Schisler, D-London Mills, wrested the area from the Republicans in 1964. The judges added on Whiteside

County, which normally favors the GOP.

Whiteside had been in the 16th District.

The judges kept other districts more or less the same by retaining the nucleus of each.

Downstate has the same number of districts—12. Cook County also has 12, including 10 that are wholly or partly in Democratic Chicago.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, the
No. 1 Democrat in Chicago and Illinois, indicated the Cook

County revisions were acceptable. But he contended the downstate shuffling was unfair to Rep. Schisler in the 19th.

State Treasurer William J.
Scott, who headed Republicans in an attempt to reach an agreement with the Democrats before the courts took over the task, said he generally was satisfied.

He theorized the Republicans could hold the seats they now have and pick up two more.

State Rep. Thomas Rails-back, R-Moline, has announced he will seek the GOP nomination to oppose Schisler.
With the proper type of campaign, Scott said, Railsback could be elected.

Scott also expressed the belief that John J. Heellen, Republican alderman of Chicago's 47th Ward, could win in the 11th District if he runs.
That seat now is occupied by Democratic Rep. Roman Pucinski.

Judge Campbell, a Democrat, told reporters that possible swing districts include the 2nd and 3rd on Chicago's far South Side, the 19th and the 23rd in south-central Illinois—all held by Democrats.

A spokesman for Atty. Gen.
William G. Clark, who captained the Democrats in reapportionment talks, expressed disappointment at the realignment of the 19th. But, he added, other districts

"more or less coincided" with the proposed map Clark had presented.

The courts stepped in after the Legislature and major party conferees failed to agree on a new blueprint.

Rep. Harold Collier, a Republican who represents the 10th District, could move a short distance to stay in his balliwick. His home base, Berwyn, has been shifted to the 6th District. The incumbent there is Democratic Daniel J. Ronan.

In Washington, Rep. Leslie
C. Arends, R-Melvin in the 17th District, hailed the map drafting as "a sound solution of a difficult problem."

The aim of the courts was to give each district a population as close as possible to 420,048. Downstate the district populations range from 394,481 in the 16th to 441,332 in the 22nd. In Cook County the variation is from 401,862 in the 5th to 451,527 in the 8th.

The panel of judges this summer produced a new map of the Illinois Senate, allotting 21 districts to Chicago—a gain of 3-9 to Cook County outside Chicago and 28 downstate.

The Senate and National House district shakeups were handled by the courts after the Legislature and party negotiators failed to do so.

Johnson Doing Fine, Increasing Movement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, spending more time out of bed, moved about Wednesday "with less pain and less strain." But official business was kept to a minimum.

Johnson's increased mobility was reported by press secretary Bill D. Moyers who also disclosed that the President's heart specialist, Dr.
Willis Hurst, was heading home to Atlanta, Ga., in view of the patient's steady recovery.

A major goal now is the rebuilding of Johnson's strength, so he won't tire so easily.

"He does tire," said Moyers. But he reported the doctors believe an increasing diet of solid foods will remedy that situation.

Johnson confined his official chores to some paper work and report reading. That's the way the doctors like it at this still-early stage of recovery from Friday's gall bladder surgery.

The President did announce some official actions—but all involved matters that were in the works before he entered the Bethesda Naval Hospital in suburban Maryland.

One announcement was Johnson's intention to nominate John W. Reynolds, Democratic governor of Wisconsin in 1963-64, to be a U.S. District Court judge for the Eastern District of Wisconsin.
Reynolds would succeed retired Judge Kenneth P. Grugg.

Moyers spent much of the morning with the President and said, "I observed that he is more mobile."

Asked to elaborate, he said:
"All movement—in bed, movement out of bed, getting out of a chair, walking—these come with less pain and less strain than they have since the operation."

Moyers conceded, however, that "the discomfort is still there."

Sack Red Youth Headquarters

Demonstrators Continue Protests Against Indonesian Communists

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Young demonstrators stoned and sacked a Red youth headquarters here Wednesday in support of the army's anti-Communist campaign, reputed now to have the tacit approval of President Sukarno. About 2,000 strong, the mob smashed windows, seized documents and broke furniture in the Communist youth hall only 100 yards from Sukarno's palace. The hall has been a traditional gathering place for anti-Western street demonstrations. As in other such raids since Moslem youths burned the headquarters of the Indonesian Communist party—PKI—here last Friday, the demonstrators shouted for destruction of the party and the death of its fugitive leader, D. N. Aidit. "Hang Aidit!" they cried. "Crush the PKI!" They made a bonfire of the documents and broken furniture. Troops nearby watched without interfering. Palace guards moved in with fixed bayonets and broke it up when it seemed the demonstrators might get out of hand.

Ike Raps Opposition To Viet Nam Policies

By Relman Morin
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the eve of his 75th birthday, said Wednesday "I think it's terrible" for Americans to demonstrate publicly against United States policy in Viet Nam.

In a steely voice and with his eyes flashing, he asked, "What do they know about it?"

Eisenhower discussed the question at a news conference held in connection with publication of his latest book, "Waging Peace." It comes out on his birthday, Oct. 14. He also said:

1. He received an informal promise in 1959 from the governments of India and Pakistan not to go to war over Kashmir.

2. He is worried that "some kind of moral deterioration" has set in among Americans, as evidenced by efforts to evade the military draft, and signs of diminishing respect for law and order.

As his 75th birthday approached, Eisenhower whirled through a crowded appointment schedule. He held news conferences, gave interviews, appeared on television and radio, taped political statements, and attended business and dinner conferences with his publishers.

Meanwhile, in 19 cities, Republicans were buying fundraising tickets for "happy birthday" dinners tonight.

Eisenhower himself planned to spend his birthday with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, in Phoenixville, Pa.

Ask China to Talks: Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy urged Wednesday that Red China be invited to join the disarmament talks in Geneva when they resume in January to make them more "meaningful" by including all the nuclear powers.

The New York Democrat, in a far-ranging Senate speech, also declared that France, by developing its own nuclear force, is setting "a dangerous example" for other European nations which sooner or later will feel the need to do the same.

While Kennedy touched on a variety of world problems, he emphasized a need for the United States to accelerate its efforts to prevent spread of nuclear weapons.

He said this country must "enlist the help of the United Nations, and all other nations—including Communist China—in an effort to prevent nuclear catastrophe."

General Studies Procedure Told
For Transferring

Students must be advised by General Studies until they have accumulated 64 credited hours. Then they may transfer to the school in which they wish to enroll for their major.

However, a student who has 96 credited hours must transfer out of General Studies into his selected school. To accomplish this, the student must obtain a petition from the General Studies office.

Then the student proceeds to his chosen school where the petition must be signed by the dean of the school. Next, he returns the petition to the General Studies office where it is processed.

Finally, the General Studies staff will send the student's folder to his school to be kept on file there.

Self-advisement for students in General Studies will begin Oct. 26. Students in good scholastic standing who fully comprehend their degree requirements are qualified to be self-advised.

Other requirements for these students who wish to advise themselves are completion of at least 28 hours of course work, at least one previous registration in General Studies, and not registering for more than 18 hours.

Also, all students who are being advised — self-advised or not — must pick up their authorization cards at sectioning prior to going to advisement.

Partial evidence, as shown in the accompanying photograph, is collected on the undersides of desks all over campus.

Further evidence comes from ARA Service of Southern Illinois, suppliers of campus vending machines. An ARA spokesman cited convincing figures.

The company orders 16 cases of gum every two and a half weeks. There are 1,200 packages to a case and five sticks in every package. About 90 per cent of this quantity finds its way to campus vending machines. The other 10 per cent is distributed throughout the rest of the Carbondale area.

During a 40-week academic year, 230 cases of gum are sold on campus. That's 1,380,000 sticks. Laid end to end they would reach from here to Pinckneyville and back. After chewing, the sticky remains would cover the bottom of every desk on campus.

Article Features SIU Annuity Plan

The tax sheltered annuity program at SIU was featured in the September issue of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. publication, "The Radiator."

A tax sheltered annuity program is the setting aside of dollars today for use at a later date, gaining certain tax and investment advantages in the process.

SIU spokesmen say they have found the introduction of the tax sheltered annuity program has helped to strengthen the employe-employer relationships, as employes come to realize the efforts of officials to secure the most desirable kind of program.

Among features of the TSA program are these:

An employe may start any time he wishes, rather than during a specifically prescribed period.

Deductions are based upon percentage of salary rather than fixed sums, permitting automatic increases with salary raises.

Percentage of contributions may be raised or lowered at any time during the year.

The University permits conferences on TSA matters during working hours.

First Edition Given In Coed's Memory

In memory of Glenda F. Pittman, the office of the dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences has donated a book to the Rare Books Library in Morris Library.

The book is "Sweeney Agonistes, Fragments of an Aristophanic Melodrama," a first edition by T. S. Eliot published in 1936.

Miss Pittman, who was a student worker in the office, was killed in an auto accident during the spring quarter.

The subject of Pritchett's talk is "Some Reflection on Administration."

Bulldogs Bring 3-1 Record

Salukis Face Drake Saturday

The team that could be Southern's toughest opponent yet this year will be here Saturday.

The Drake University Bulldogs will bring a veteran crew of 22 lettermen and a 3-1 record into the contest against the thrice-beaten Salukis.

Drake has won three in a row after dropping its opening game to arch-rival Iowa State 21-0. The victories have come mainly from an experienced defensive unit which has limited its opponents to two touchdowns in the last three games.

After the loss to Iowa State, Drake rebounded by whitewashing South Dakota 17-0. The following week the Bulldogs licked previously unbeaten Southwest Missouri 24-8. The Missouri team had been averaging 36 points a game before meeting Drake. The Bulldogs upped their record to 3-1 last week by trouncing State College of Iowa 31-7. Southern edged that team 23-16.

This year Drake is under the reins of a new coach, Jack Wallace, who hasn't had a losing season in 11 years as a head coach. Wallace has inherited a team long on experience, but shallow at some key positions.

The leading offensive performer is probably quarterback Ron Royer, who may be the school's all-time passing leader by the end of the year.

DRAKE'S BOB PEREZ

He has passed for 1,634 yards and nine touchdowns in his first two seasons, and is also a good running quarterback. He ran two of his team's touchdowns in the Southwest Missouri game.

Behind Royer in the backfield is Ray Brown, a stocky 5-9, 220-pound fullback. The rugged ex-Marine averaged five yards a carry last year. The other starters in the backfield are halfbacks Tom Ripmaster, a 195-pound senior, and Roger Sparks, a 190-pound sophomore.

The Drake line has good experience at every position except center, but lacks depth at the tackles and guards. A pair of returning lettermen will probably start at the ends. Manley Sarnowsky, a 24-year-old Canadian, plays tight end and does the kicking. The other starting end will probably be Steve Trulin, a 200-pound senior letterman.

Cocaptain Bob Perez, a 225-pound senior, will be one of the starting tackles along with Steve Chevreux, a 215-pound senior. Paul Tomich, a 235-pound junior, is a possible starter at one of the tackle positions.

Drake has slim-pickers for guard duty. Only Bill Hoffman, a 205-pound sophomore, and Bob Lynch, a 200-pound senior, have offensive experience. Frank Fuller, a 240-pounder, is the third guard, but he operates mostly on defense.

Dave Dorn is the only returning center with much offensive experience. The 200-pound senior will be backed up by Wayne Sanford, a 205-pound sophomore, who handled the hiking chores on punts last year.

All signs point to another tough game for the Salukis. Drake will be favored, having won three in a row compared to three consecutive losses for Southern. The Bulldogs also have lost only once in nine games since losing 28-19 to the Salukis last year.

JOHN LANDA

Drake Grid Team Eases Up Drills

Coach Jack Wallace of the Drake Bulldogs is easing up practice for his men as Saturday's night game with the Salukis draws near.

Wallace told the Drake Quarterback Club Monday that even though he didn't like to take it easy in practice, the physical condition of his squad necessitated it.

Three offensive starters and one defensive back were casualties in the Bulldogs' game with State College of Iowa last Saturday, which was Drake's third straight win.

If the offensive starters are not able to play Saturday, Wallace said that the Bulldogs will have to continue to pass more,

as they did against State College.

One of the injured offensive men, fullback Ray Brown, is Drake's leading rusher, with 360 yards.

Quarterback Ron Royer of the Bulldogs, who was not injured, hit 11 of 15 passes against State College for 129 yards. He also scored two touchdowns.

Royer's passing completion average for the season is 30 percent.

Equipment Manager for Salukis Finds 'Hobby' Time-Consuming

By Joe Cook

John Landa is always the first to show up at football practice and the last to leave but he has never appeared in a football game for Southern and he never will.

No, Landa isn't a devoted coach or a frustrated fifth-string defensive back. He is the equipment manager for SIU's football team.

During workouts Landa is busy fixing broken equipment, helping the team's trainer, Robert Spackman, or just listening to players' complaints.

After the practice sessions are over and the players have made their way to the showers, Landa stays behind to put the equipment away.

Game days are even busier for Landa. He must take all the equipment from the Arena to the stadium, repair that which is broken, and see that both teams are supplied with adequate amounts of ice water.

During the game Landa finds time to catch his breath — until a time-out is called. He then must sprint onto the field with a bucket of water and towels to refresh the weary troops.

When the game has ended he must gather all equipment and take it back to the Arena in preparation for the next game.

"Home games are a snap," says Landa, who also travels with the team on road games. "The road games are the hardest."

During these trips Landa spends most of his time loading and unloading equipment from various trucks, planes and buses.

For Landa, who is a junior majoring in engineering, being an equipment manager is a hobby, a very time-consuming one at that.

meet mo, mike and marvin

These 3 handsome rogues are now seniors, but we can still remember their freshman year at Southern. They all met in a dorm - they came from all parts of the state. But for freshman these boys were pretty sharp - here's what they did.

They decided "why pay rent" - so they went together and bought a mobile home. It cut their expenses by far. They lived in it for the past 3 years (or 9 terms) and found it great. Plenty of room - each has his own bedroom, and cook their own meals.

Oh - you ask what about the money they saved? Well, they can go on to grad school now.

Minnesota Twins Tie Series; 'Mudcat' Grant Blasts Homer

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—Jim (Mudcat) Grant, pitching with only two days rest, squared the World Series for the Minnesota Twins Wednesday by hurling a six-hitter and belting a three-run homer in a 5-1 sixth-game victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Grant's triumph, the Twins' third in three games at Metropolitan Stadium after losing three straight in Los Angeles threw the Series into a decisive seventh game Thursday. So far, it has been a home park series.

Bob Allison's two-run homer off Claude Osteen in the fourth gave the muscular Grant the margin he needed. Then he came up in the sixth with two on and blasted Howie Reed's first pitch into the left field stands.

A record crowd of 49,578 rose in a thunderous ovation to Grant, the 21-game winner, as he trotted home. Grant was the first pitcher to hit a homer in the Series since Lew Burdette did it for Milwaukee, Oct. 2, 1958. It was the first by an American League pitcher since old Jim Bagby for Cleveland in 1920.

Grant, beaten Sunday in the fourth game when he was knocked out in the sixth inning, came back strong as though he had a month's rest. He had a no-hitter going until Ron Fairly opened the fifth with a single to center.

Fairly's seventh-inning home run ruined Grant's bid for a shutout, but the big fellow never faltered.

After Lou Johnson singled for the sixth hit with two gone in the ninth, Grant closed out the Dodgers by making Wes Parker roll out to Frank Quilici. The entire Twins' bench came out to greet the 30-year-old right-hander as he walked off the hill.

Osteen, who never before had lost to the Twins in his days with Washington and the Dodgers, finally dropped his first decision to the Minnesota sluggers after beating them six times. The crafty lefty had shut out the Twins in Los Angeles in the third game last Saturday 4-0.

The Twins started out making life miserable for Osteen in the very first inning when Zoile Versalles led off with a single. He was erased on Joe Nosssek's double play, but Tony Oliva kept the water boiling with a single to left. Earl Battey led off the second with a triple to left center, and Don Mincher walked, but Osteen escaped with a whole hide.

Again in the third, Osteen was in trouble when he walked Versalles on a 3-2 pitch, but the next three went quietly.

Dick Tracewski, playing second for the injured Jim Lefebvre, messed up Battey's leadoff grounder in the fourth. Allison, who had struck out earlier and had only one hit in 10 trips, ripped into Osteen's third pitch and drove it into the lower pavilion in left for the two-run homer that really won the ball game.
