In student vote, fails to elevate Budslick

A disappointed Budslick is left to ponder future

By Karen J. Hassen, The Daily Egyptian

A day after falling short in his mayoral bid, John Budslick had little to say other than gracious words for those who supported him.

Carbondale Mayor Neil Dillard handed over his fourth term in office Tuesday, having won 59 percent of the vote in holding off City Councilman Budslick by about 1,600 votes.

Budslick benefited from widespread backing in student-dominated precincts, where he earned more than three times the number of votes Dillard did, but he could not overcome Dillard's substantial community-wide base of support.

Dillard extended his opposition in precincts 13, 14, 15, 16 and 21 in the city's southwest side. The mayor collected more than 1,100 votes in those precincts, compared to just 235 for Budslick.

"There were a lot of good students out there," Budslick said. "I'm very proud of them.""I was lucky to meet so many wonderful people out there, and some became excellent friends," Budslick said. "I'm very proud of them."

Budlick, who will remain on the council in May, added that he intends to return to the council when the next election rolls around in two years.

"We did everything right," he said of the campaign. "The city decided they want me, and relieved to have the campaign behind him, Budlick said he will look back fondly on the events of the past several months, "I was blessed in so many wonderful people out there, and some became excellent friends," Budlick said. "I can't wait until the support." Budlick declined to comment on the level of support shown for the mayor or whether he believed there was a
Calendar

TODAY:
• Solidi Volunteer Corps needs volunteers to quirky with activities planned by a leader each week for the Fair Trade Thurs., through April 28, 10 to 10:45 a.m., UTEC Community Room, SIU 547-4221.
• Library Affairs Welct., 10 to 11 a.m., Morris Library Room 12, intermediate weblog construction, 10 to noon, Morris Library Room 1003, 435-2818.
• Campus Blood Drive Donors.
• Volunteer Workers, 11 to 2 a.m., Memorial Hospital, 3 p.m., SIU Rec Center, 4 to 10 a.m., South Tower, 435-2285.
• International Student Volunteer,

UPCOMING
• University Police have no suspects in this incident. More investigation can be expected.

Appreciation Week
April 26 - May 2, 1999
A free week at the Student Rec. in Center for SIUC faculty, staff, alumni, their spouses or domestic partners, and children.

Share it with someone you love

This Week in 1982:
• In a quiet move shadowed by the growing movement for a nuclear arms protest in Fairbanks, Alaska, President Reagan asked Congress for an additional $400 million to assist production of the bombs.

This and Student Center Food Service sponsored a JAZZ FESTIVAL AND BURFIT of Shaker's front porch. The event highlighted Gas Pappas Fusion, Jagger's and a menu of clock, 20th. and hot dogs.
R-T scores big at national awards ceremony

TRAVIS MORSE
DAILY EAGLE REPORTER

SIUC's Department of Radio-Television received 15 prizes in the 1998 Marconi Awards, the Society's Alpha Epsilon Rho awards in New York City March 27.

The National Broadcasting Society's Alpha Epsilon Rho is one of the largest organizations representing students in radio and television.

Scott R. Hodgson, associate professor of radio-television, describes winning an award from this organization as extremely significant in the field of broadcasting.

"It's very prestigious because it shows how SIUC competes with other schools across the country," Hodgson said. "It also showed that the students are set up there with the best of them.

Hodgson attributes SIUC's success in this field to the deep commitment of both the students and the faculty.

While SIUC has an incredibly good mix of committed, qualified faculty and driven students, Hodgson said, "I think the college's desire with students and the ability to apply the skills they learn is class.

SIUC was awarded with three grand prizes in the video category. The winning videos were in the categories of least news package less than three minutes long, best feature segment longer than three minutes and best instructional, industrial or promotional video.

Hodgson said that he was taken by surprise how well of that particular show and that it received a lot of recognition for its important competition.

"That's really exciting for the students," Hodgson said. "We put a lot of hard work into this, so it's nice to see that their hard work has paid off in the end."

Candidates to present campaigns in USG debate

Iliana University students will sponsor debate tonight for USG presidential and student trustee candidates in the LeRoy Law School Auditorium.

The debate, which all students are encouraged to attend, will begin at 7 p.m. The focus will be on the platforms of each campaign. Student trustee candidates Ben Syfert and Connie Howard will both present their campaigns, as will USG presidential hopefuls Joe Sanchez and Sean Henry. Sanchez and Henry represent the Millennium and Select parties, respectively.

The debate will be limited to two hours. Candidates must check in by 6:30 p.m.

Coping man pleads guilty to four charges of sexual assault

A masked man who groped women in a St. Louis university campus building in December pleaded guilty Thursday to at least 40 other incidents of sexual assault on April 6.

The man, who was identified as Matthew K. Corwin of the Minnesota Daily, dawned Tellerand, 54, admitted to three counts of criminal sexual conduct and one count of interference with law enforcement in connection with five other publical men.

"I wasn't always a very active fighter," Miller said. "I didn't think I could do it, but I did.

By age 10, Breen said he was in a karate class. He stuck with the martial arts for 18 years and has enjoyed great success, as he is a two-deck black belt in tae kwon do. He is a former Golden Gloves champion and has had the goal forever to win one of the biggest tournaments, star. and athletes in Hollywood.

In Hollywood. Breen said he worked with Ronnie the famed Wildcat Boxing Club. Stars such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

Breen has a very diverse lifestyle. He has been a personal trainer for Hollywood personalities such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM 91.1, Breen returned from a weekend in Chicago with another version of his show to find the WDBX-FM "Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM, the board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license.

"Morning Mayhem" program on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"The board of directors is extremely consistent in regulating the board's policy when material that is broadcast is considered obscene."

"The board of directors is extremely consistent in regulating the board's policy when material that is broadcast is considered obscene."

"We're watching the tape that directly broke the FCC's rules," Miller said. "I don't think I broke any FCC rules."

"The board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our

Breen has had a very diverse lifestyle. He has been a personal trainer for Hollywood personalities such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"I was always a very active fighter," Miller said. "I didn't think I could do it, but I did.

By age 10, Breen said he was in a karate class. He stuck with the martial arts for 18 years and has enjoyed great success, as he is a two-deck black belt in tae kwon do. He is a former Golden Gloves champion and has had the goal forever to win one of the biggest tournaments, star. and athletes in Hollywood.

In Hollywood. Breen said he worked with Ronnie the famed Wildcat Boxing Club. Stars such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM 91.1, Breen returned from a weekend in Chicago with another version of his show to find the WDBX-FM "Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM, the board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"The board of directors is extremely consistent in regulating the board's policy when material that is broadcast is considered obscene."

"The board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our

Breen has had a very diverse lifestyle. He has been a personal trainer for Hollywood personalities such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"I was always a very active fighter," Miller said. "I didn't think I could do it, but I did.

By age 10, Breen said he was in a karate class. He stuck with the martial arts for 18 years and has enjoyed great success, as he is a two-deck black belt in tae kwon do. He is a former Golden Gloves champion and has had the goal forever to win one of the biggest tournaments, star. and athletes in Hollywood.

In Hollywood. Breen said he worked with Ronnie the famed Wildcat Boxing Club. Stars such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM 91.1, Breen returned from a weekend in Chicago with another version of his show to find the WDBX-FM "Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM, the board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"The board of directors is extremely consistent in regulating the board's policy when material that is broadcast is considered obscene."

"The board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our

Breen has had a very diverse lifestyle. He has been a personal trainer for Hollywood personalities such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"I was always a very active fighter," Miller said. "I didn't think I could do it, but I did.

By age 10, Breen said he was in a karate class. He stuck with the martial arts for 18 years and has enjoyed great success, as he is a two-deck black belt in tae kwon do. He is a former Golden Gloves champion and has had the goal forever to win one of the biggest tournaments, star. and athletes in Hollywood.

In Hollywood. Breen said he worked with Ronnie the famed Wildcat Boxing Club. Stars such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM 91.1, Breen returned from a weekend in Chicago with another version of his show to find the WDBX-FM "Some of the material we attempted to broadcast was indecent and profane," said Miller.

According to Brian Powell, station manager of WDBX-FM, the board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our FCC regulations clearly prohibit the transmission of material that is obscene, profane or indecent. The handbook prescribes the immediate removal of anyone airing such material."

"The board of directors is extremely consistent in regulating the board's policy when material that is broadcast is considered obscene."

"The board of directors cancelled the contract for Miller's.. "Boss Hog's Funk You, Fresh You, Breen" radio show by a voice vote Friday morning as well as firing him from his position as co-host also suspended his license."

"How the board feels these programs are in poor taste is what the issue is all about. Our volunteer handbook outlines our

Breen has had a very diverse lifestyle. He has been a personal trainer for Hollywood personalities such as Mickey Rourke, pro-

"I was always a very active fighter," Miller said. "I didn't think I could do it, but I did.

By age 10, Breen said he was in a karate class. He stuck with the martial arts for 18 years and has enjoyed great success, as he is a two-deck black belt in tae kwon do. He is a former Golden Gloves champion and has had the goal forever to win one of the biggest tournaments, star. and athletes in Hollywood.

In Hollywood. Breen said he worked with Ronnie the famed Wildcat Boxing Club. Stars such as Mickey Rourke, pro-
Housing fee increase benefits on-campus residents

The students have spoken, and improved housing in Carbondale can be on its way, only if it's not thanks to any landlords or task forces. These important factors could be made to residences right here on campus pending a May 13 SIU Board of Trustees vote.

The vote would call for a 4.5 percent increase above the annual 3 percent increase cap instituted in 1997 for a total room and board rate increase of 7.5 percent throughout two years, or 5.99 percent through the fall of 1999. The fee would fund a four-package proposal that would improve deferred maintenance, install an energy efficient heating/cooling conditioning system, connect East Campus residents to the Ethernet and give a facelift to the dining cafeterias.

If you row low or ever have lived on-campus, you know that the existing furniture looks like something from a Brandy Bunch episode. On-campus residents live in rooms with orange and Manta­green walls with clipped brushes and lumpy, stained mattresses. Our cafeterias have totem chairs and wobbly tables surrounded by walls with ugly, perplexing white blocks hung on them. With the increase in tuition, the housing says the uncomfortable atmosphere decreases. Residents will see new furniture, millennium-worthy cafeterias and speedy computer connections.

The current cap in favor of the fee and tuition increases when there is a tangible benefit to be seen that is worthy of the requested funds. These benefits, at least the major ones, won't be seen of most by those who pay this fee. Housing promises the incoming fall class that will be taken before they graduate. This is because housing rates are set for fall 1999 and the increase is for fiscal year 2000, which begins in July 2000. Unlike the holy protested athletic fee, this is a monetary increase that will benefit every on-campus resident and only residence hall students would absorb this increase. There is also an out for resident students who don't want to pay the increase – live off-campus.

Undergraduate Student Government is already on the issue and raised a resolution calling for an increase to improve the quality of housing, and as they're supposed to be representative of the student body opinion, their vote strengthens our call for board approval of this cap empowering.

Cup exceptions are allowed for badly needed infrastructure improvements and the Egyptian recognizes this instance as such an exception, but we believe that these exceptions will be limited in the future. The cap was initiated in 1997 and only two years later we're breaking it. While we support the call for improvements in housing in the sprawling infrastructure, we don't want such exceptions to become common practice. Stay competitive with other universities, give students quality, comfortable, modern residence halls to attract and keep them here, but don't raise tuition and fees indiscriminately.

This is one of our biggest assets. It's the kind of positive quality we get recognition for in "U.S. News and World Report" because our students don't graduate owning their first 30 real-world problems, so their current loans. Quality is great, but not all students can afford to come here in the first place, so let's not forget most incoming freshmen are required to live on campus. Having a housing fee is great, but not if students can't afford to come here in the first place, so let's not forget most incoming freshmen are required to live on campus. Having a housing exception in such a situation is a monetary increase to improve the quality of housing, and as they're supposed to be representative of the student body opinion, their vote strengthens our call for board approval of this cap empowering.

As spring semester winds down, students are contemplating one of three things. The lucky are looking forward to a break from school, while the slightly less fortunate are trying to schedule classes around spillover-bumping classes. The latter is usually the case in those really tragic ones — the mega­classes. Many of them have already begun and are running in the tradition of what is called the "Job Search." I know from experience that looking for a job is more work than most jobs. Not only do you have to put in long hours, but you also have to look with this enthusiasm for every enterprise that interviews you.

Four years of pretending to care about the opinions of the person you're trying to pick up on the Street does nothing to prepare you for the truly harshness you will tell an interview. From the moment you step into that office, your life will change. An interview can be until you sit across the desk from someone and say, "Why yes, I've been fascinated with polymer plastics since I discovered dry-cleaning bugs as a child. Just writing this sentence, I had to slam my head in the desk drawer to ward off a stare. There's a great sense of relief when I've finally landed a job and can get down to business of being indifferent."

The first step in landing the Great American job is creating a resume. The first thing a career counselor will look for is a true resume for the person you're interviewing. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents.

It's a real work of art. Don't just put your name and phone number and make it look as the very top. Nearly everything that follows will be looked at by someone who is looking to hire the best. Only the best deserve to get this exception, and in this respect, we believe that this increase to improve the quality of housing is a necessary improvement for a large number of students while still keeping our tuition competitive with other universities.

Tips for running the humiliating job search treadmill

As spring semester winds down, students are contemplating one of three things. The lucky are looking forward to a break from school, while the slightly less fortunate are trying to schedule classes around spillover-bumping classes. The latter is usually the case in those really tragic ones — the mega­classes. Many of them have already begun and are running in the tradition of what is called the "Job Search." I know from experience that looking for a job is more work than most jobs. Not only do you have to put in long hours, but you also have to look with this enthusiasm for every enterprise that interviews you.

Four years of pretending to care about the opinions of the person you're trying to pick up on the Street does nothing to prepare you for the truly harshness you will tell an interview. From the moment you step into that office, your life will change. An interview can be until you sit across the desk from someone and say, "Why yes, I've been fascinated with polymer plastics since I discovered dry-cleaning bugs as a child. Just writing this sentence, I had to slam head in the desk drawer to ward off a stare. There's a great sense of relief when I've finally landed a job and can get down to business of being indifferent."

The first step in landing the Great American job is creating a resume. The first thing a career counselor will look for is a true resume for the person you're interviewing. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents. A resume is a tool that can be used to sell you and your talents.
Emeritus School of Medicine professor dies at 66

JAYETTE BOLUSKI
Managing Editor

Harvis Rubin, emeritus professor with the SIU School of Medicine and Rehabilitation Institute, died Tuesday morning at Carbondale Health Care. Rubin, 66, received a bachelor’s in psychology from SIUC in 1959 and a doctorate from the University of Chicago in 1965.

From 1952 to 1954 he was enlisted in the U.S. Army. Rubin worked as a research scientist at the behavior research lab in Anna State Hospital from 1965 to 1972, during which time he was also an assistant professor in the Rehabilitation Institute at SIUC. From 1972 to 1978, he was an associate professor of behavioral science at the School of Medicine and Rehabilitation Institute.

He was a professor from 1978 to 1995, and from 1994 to 1996 was interim assistant dean of medical affairs at the School of Medicine.

Survivors include his wife Angela Theresie (Batista) of Carbondale; four children, Amy Renae Reinhart of Carbondale, Chandi Anthony Rubin of Columbia, S.C., Tha Police Chief of St. Louis and Gauri Andrew Rubin of Athens, Ga.; and two brothers, Marvin Rubin of Fort Lee, N.J., and Kenneth Rubin of Lafayette, N.J.

A brief service will follow at 8 p.m. Friday at Meredith Funeral Home, 300 S. University Ave.

A glance at campus crime

WILL LEE
College Press Exchange

LAIE, OAHU, HAWAII — Three students at Brigham Young University’s Hawaii campus were arrested for setting off a bomb outside a first-floor dormitory room.

Campus police charged the three, 16-year-old juniors with reckless endangerments and 6 p.m. 6 officers said the students admitted their involvement. The bomb, a homemade device constructed from a pipe, shattered the lower windows of the room and caused ear injuries to the 22-year-old student who was inside the room at the time. Police said the bomb could have caused more serious damage, but the victim’s doors were closed at the time, blocking more glass from flying into the room.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Students at George Washington University who have wondered why their mail never reached them may get some answers now that the U.S. Postal Inspector’s Office is conducting an investigation on campus.

According to the Hatchet, federal mail authorities are investigating a former mail room employee who is suspected of diverting $4,000 in cash and checks stuffed into students’ mail in March. The employee, who had worked for the university for nearly 10 years, was fired after he was suspected of taking mail that belonged to more than 50 students.

GAINESVILLE, Fl. — Three students at the University of Florida were among 14 people arrested at a party April 10 after local authorities received a tip that more than $100 in illegal drugs would be at the bash.

According to the Independent Florida Alligator, deputies arrived with a search warrant to search the grand house where the party was held. Of the 83 people detained, the 14 arrested were charged with a variety of drug-related offenses, including possession of marijuana, Valium, LSD and Ecstasy. Police said they recovered more than $16,400 in illegal drugs. All three of the students were charged with possession of Ecstasy.

CANNED
continued from page 3

songs with the F-word in it and nude people have called and complained,” Miller said. “They need to be worrying about if they’re going to be nit-picky with me.”

Powell said he was told to see Miller go but understood the board’s decision, which he saw as “justified but pre-table.”

“He’s service was exemplary, I wish I had people who were as enthusiastic as we was Powell said. “But Scott hadn’t learned the wisdom to use his talent appropriately. I wish [Miller and Kellor] the very best. Both are talented people who’d do well in broadcasting.”

According to Miller, he is allowed to appeal the situation to the board but Broken Arrow. Breen said he wasn’t able to get off of work on the sitcom to do the job.

“Anyone who has ever yed the Kevin Bacon game can play it with me,” Breen said.

“We kids love me — they think I’m great,” Breen said.

Breen is enrolled in the Air Force ROTC at SIUC and is training for Field Training (Boot Camp) this summer. Breen hopes to get a job with the Public Affairs Office in the Air Force and one day return to Hollywood with the military experience under his belt.

“I will be a success one day — it is going to take a lot of hard work, but I’ve made it this far on my own, and I know I can do it. Anyone who knows me can tell you I never give up,” Breen said.
DULirmx Currents

Lanie lakes a break and looks at her newborn foal Sunday night at the Horse Center. The birthing process took less than 10 minutes.

A newborn filly is born beneath the barn rafters of the SIUC Horse Center, a sweating mare lies heaving in the corner of her stall. A small hoof, encased in placenta, emerges into the crisp, midnight air. Bryan Ault and J.J. Stovall stand nearby like proud fathers, waiting in mounting anticipation for the birthing process to continue.

Shortly before midnight Sunday, the two SIUC students slowly pull the newborn foal from the warmth and comfort of her mother's natural incubator. The damp foal is forced into a world of strange figures and the melody of a country song.

Stephanie Speiser, headperson at the Horse Center — located southwest of the campus on Union Hill Road — arrives just in time to witness the foal break forth from her mother's womb.

"The wait is like watching paint dry on the wall night after night," Speiser said. "But when you see the birth, well, it's just a miracle every time."

An 11-month wait and a 96-hour vigil has finally ended in 15 minutes of labor. The saga of a new life begins.

Just a Touch of Love

Shivering as a result of the 60-degree difference between her mother's warmth and the outside temperature, the 80-pound chestnut filly is bombarded within seconds by human contact.

The filly's mother — "Lassie," a 19-year-old chestnut Thoroughbred mare — looks on restlessly as she recovers from exhaustion.

Equine science students Stovall, Ault and last-minute arrival Carri Perez wipe the remaining embryonic fluid from the foal and add hay straw to the stall to prevent chills and hypothermia.
As students in Cheryl King's stable management class at the horse center keep nights watch, monitoring Lassie and the two remaining foals is a major part of their daily routine. The students in the class take turns at full owl, which lasts from dusk until dawn, throughout the foaling season. The foaling season began prior to the start of the current academic year.

King, a professor in animal sciences, said the students were "required to take the major responsibility of SUC's 50 horse center.

As part of the imprinting process, the students put their hands over every part of the foal's body, spent several minutes introducing the foal to different body parts, and left the pair to an afternoon of romance.

"It is the primary part of their learning experience, a part of the horse's development that is crucial. If they don't learn this, they won't be able to interact with the horse properly," King said. "This is the very primary part of their learning experience, a part of the horse's development that is crucial. If they don't learn this, they won't be able to interact with the horse properly." King said.

Students working at the farm will give the filly a nickname as soon as she develops her mane before, Christiansen said. She's never felt milk until it and her filly were brought into a new life. "It is the first time any of my students have experienced this," Christiansen said.

The students have ample opportunity to experience the effects of the foal's birth, which took place last week. The filly, who was born at six months of age, is the first to be born at the Center. Like her other siblings, the filly was wary to leave the security of the mare's side and remained back when the mare laid her head first.

Mrs. Laskie's foal, the Horse Center's most prized possession, has been dependent upon her mother's milk until it and her filly were brought into a new life. "We didn't do this, the mare might have fallen in the wall," Christiansen said.

"If we don't do this, they usually bounce off the wall every time they try to get up," Speiser said. "No body likes to see baby foals falling into walls head first."

There's Your Trouble

After the group thoroughly examined the foal for 45 minutes, its name was announced along with other information.

"It is not required to take the major responsibility of SUC's 50 horse center," King said while the students rubbed their hands over every part of the foal's body.

Speiser said the filly was wary to leave the security of the mare's side and remained back when the mare laid her head first.

"It is the first time any of my students have experienced this," Christiansen said.

"It is the primary part of their learning experience, a part of the horse's development that is crucial. If they don't learn this, they won't be able to interact with the horse properly," King said.

As the sun broke through a cloudy sky Tuesday afternoon, Lassie and her filly were turned out and placed into a lush pasture for the first time together.

"It is the primary part of their learning experience, a part of the horse's development that is crucial. If they don't learn this, they won't be able to interact with the horse properly," King said.

"It is the primary part of their learning experience, a part of the horse's development that is crucial. If they don't learn this, they won't be able to interact with the horse properly," King said.

"I think it is an amazing thing — just to see the life cycle start and to know you are one of the first stimulants that the animal has ever experienced," Christiansen said. "And she's getting more than she bargained for."

Speiser said the vigorous touching during imprinting improves muscle coordination, which allows the foal to stand and maneuver more efficiently.

"If we don't do this, they usually bounce off the wall every time they try to get up," Speiser said. "No body likes to see baby foals falling into walls head first."

She's never felt sun on her back or the wind through her mane before.

— MARY CHRISTIANSEN, HORE CENTER
SPC Spring Thing

Saturday, April 17
4:00 pm  6:30 pm
(gates open at 3:00 pm)

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!
Volunteer meeting Wednesday, April 14, 5:00 pm
Student Center Ballroom D

George Clinton & the P-Funk Allstars

FREE OUTDOOR SHOW
Rain location: SIUC Arena

Parking lot 56, South of SIUC Arena.
Southern Illinois University Carbondale

Thanks to the following sponsors:
Inter Fraternity Council
Graduate & Professional Student Council
SIUC Student Center

university bookstore
CIL 1015
700 BOOK STORE

BRIIDGE
continued from page 1

a concrete that is different from sidewalk concrete with which many people are familiar.
The goal of the canoe competition is to make a canoe that is light enough to float and is kind of a new innovation in canoe testing.

"It's the little things that help improve your mind," said council candidate Reuben Pensel.
"It's just a engineering task to continue the fact that's light enough to float and is kind of a new innovation in canoe testing.

"I'm quite surprised that it can happen, so it's our job as engineers to make it happen," she said.

The canoe team will be displaying at the canoe from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday at the campus beach. The canoe is named the racning hot rod from the musical "Greased Lightning," because Pensel designed its display area to look like a 1950s-style cafe in the musical — the Frosty Palace. Even the canoe is painted in the same red with silver lighting as the original "Greased Lightning," car featured in the movie.

"We've never had a foot-person race before," dona Davis, who decided to train a 600-pound horse that is able to carry 650 pounds, Po ggelnol

The 130-pound canoe has not yet been tested in Campus Lake, but the team is confident of the plans being practiced in last year's canoe.

Material design is a factor for the bridge competition, too. This year's bridge in 120 pounds lighter than last year's 190 pound steel bridge. The key to the bridge's light construction lies in the steel used to make it. The

Turnout
continued from page 1

"I think the students realized that they needed something that understands their issues," said "And I unstood student issues."

In the student-dominated precincts, Bud drick garnered 903 votes, more than three times the total received by Dillard, who received 257 votes,

Despite the outcome of the election, Bud drick was very happy with the effort his student supporters gave.

"I think we really did well," he said, adding his student supporters.

"I'm truly proud of them." The trend of increased voter turnout at general elections for all of Carbondale also continued Tuesday. Total handling of veteran Carbd dale police

"I knew I couldn't encourage a surprise, " said Hollins, who added he was considering supporting Bud don before the racial issues because he

he was unable to support him, and couldn't support himself," said Hollins, said.

Campus Police Officer D. J. Williams explained it in the com-comparison. This year's bridge is 120 pounds lighter than last year's 190 pound steel bridge. The key to the bridge's light construction lies in the steel used to make it. Stine said,

Says: Buy, sell, trade your baseball cards, beanie balls, comic books, records, CDs, Star Trek memorabilia, and other cool e items in our "collectibles" section.

"I think the results are a combination of student and mayoral write-in candidate, who made a political ploy to

He added that it will be a smooth transition from one administration to another because the city has already

"While the other candidates are out there picking up their overabundance of yard signs, I'm going to go to work on the issues," he said.

"We're here to support the issues," Bud drick told the student voters. "But I think that's what this is all about."

"The election was about the issues," Bud drick said.

"I think the results are a combination of student and mayoral write-in candidate, who made a political ploy to

He added that it will be a smooth transition from one administration to another because the city has already

"While the other candidates are out
there picking up their overabundance of yard signs, I'm going to go to work on the issues," he said.

"I think the results are a combination of student and mayoral write-in candidate, who made a political ploy to

He added that it will be a smooth transition from one administration to another because the city has already

"While the other candidates are out
there picking up their overabundance of yard signs, I'm going to go to work on the issues," he said.

"I think the results are a combination of student and mayoral write-in candidate, who made a political ploy to

He added that it will be a smooth transition from one administration to another because the city has already

"While the other candidates are out
there picking up their overabundance of yard signs, I'm going to go to work on the issues," he said.
Roommates

BOYFRIEND WANTED, fun 2 in home, near campus, &/or w/d, $400/mo, ref. a/c, 50/50 split, call 926-4820.

SPACIOUS 2 BDRM. duplex, needs female for Aug 16, w/f, w/d, $200 plus, call 457-9744.

Sublease

SPORTS HOUSE, 2 bdrm apt., w/d, & 1 car parking spot, $500/mo, all utilities incl., 310/mo, 321-1602.

SUBLEASE, 4 BDRM APART., all utilities included, 3 bdrm apt., $400/mo, ref. a/c rent 329-3731, or 329-9054.

SUBLETTERS FOR 2 bdrm, Lewis Park, 3 w/d, near campus, $375/mo, ref. a/c, rent no. 329-7866.

2 BD, 2 BDS, cord, wood-fireplace, 1000/mo, 3 bdrm apt., 2 w/d, Dr. K. & others, ref. no. 329-7166.

VEHICLECHAGE APART, 1 1/2 bdrm apt., $300/mo, ref. a/c, 330-7119.

1 bdrm, $300/mo, ref. a/c, nice apt., May Ave, no pets, 337-6957 in mem.

Full & spring semester, share 4 bdrm apt., $200/mo, CCM-6346 in mem.

Apartments

1 bedroom, near campus, 2 2 3 4, ref. by Dudley House 15-5-05, 500-2907.

Rowing Great Apartments, 316 S. Oakland, 1 bdrm apt., for the summer 6 bdrm apt., $400/mo, ref. a/c near campus, 425 634-1626.

SOFTWARE BUNGEE CENTER, Contra Costa Col., 1 bdrm, near campus, ref. a/c, 457-6816.

1 BDRM, PEPPER CRAG, clean, close to campus, $300, 299-3815, no pets.

Hear Campus, Luxury efficiency, great and law students preferred, no pets, call 884-4142 or 597-1820.

Salut Hall, new ownership, close for rent, cell included, amenities and utilities, ref. no. 329-3731 or 329-2811.

Court 2 BDRM Apt., nice pets, must be next to each other, $21 a/c, no pets, 329-2811.

Carrington, modern, 2 bdrm apt., 404 Milledge, 1 bdrm apt., $300/mo, ref. a/c, 329-6682.

LARGO STUDENTS, good grad, students, roommates, May or Aug, quiet, clean, no pets, 321-2813.

Merry Oaks Commons, 1 bdrm apt., nice pets, May Ave, 321-2813.

Sea University Apt., Student, 3 bdrm apt., 3004 Gwin, 2 bdrm apt., all utilities incl., 321-2813.

Carrington Apartments, 2 bd, 101 W Fremont, 3 bdrm apt., $400/mo, ref. a/c, 329-3731.

2 BDRM APART BEGINNING MAY, 2 bdrm apt., 18493-10th, rock St, ref. no. 321-2813.

Law Hall Dorm, Fun Furnished, 5 N Campus, Ltd

ES1 $15/mo, 2 Bd, 19-3-24, quiet area, ref. no. 321-2813.

Fun Studio, 2 bds apt, 540 E 1/2 St, water/pet included, call 884-4142.

108 1/2 W CCALIE, large complex, ref. a/c, $200, 457 5 Barrington, 2 bdrm, $200, 457-6657, and 2 bdrm apt, till.

Vail, 2150 Heights are furnished, small deposit,兆$200/mo, ref. no. 329-3731 or 329-2811.

NEW, 1 bdrm, 1 bath apartment, furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

NEW, 1 bdrm, fully furnished, ref. no. 321-2813.

Best and 38th, 2 bdrm Apt., 2nd floor, $325, ref. a/c, quiet, near 337-9815.

404 Mill, fireplace/townhouse

HOMES FOR RENT

WOODWILL MANAGEMENT

E-MAIL SUBMISSIONS TO: DAWG@DAWG.COM

SIMPURL YOUR LIFE with the "All-Inclusive" Plan
FREE Unlimited ULTRAFAST Internet Connection (for all phone system users)

Many Gadgets Newly Available from 2083 ratified, "Open year round. University Hall offers unmatched convenience and economy.
Reservation & Miscellaneous fees extra.
Offers Sophomores, Juniors & Seniors the Package Plan which Includes...
Utilities - Cleaning Service - Chef Prepared Meals - Entertainment Activities - Heat Paid Privileges
Choice of double or single rooms.
University Hall 5/4-2050
Wall & Park Carbondale
http://www.mychoice.net/uhall/
Houses

CLOSE TO SIU  LARGE 2-BEDROOM - 1  1/2 BATH -  11x11 sq. ft. - 202 S. Forest - Great location. $560/mo. - Ask for Mr.  Mays 549-2707.

2 BDRM AND 3 BDRM houses 1  1/2 bath, clean, 1300 $375 to 425/mo. - Ask for Mr. Mays 549-2707.

3  BDRM  or more, w/d, quiet area, good schools, on property. Call 549-4459 or 549-2707.

NEARLY REMODELED 4 BDRM house 1  1/2 bath, quiet area, $475/mo., ask for Mr. Mays 549-2707.

TOWN & COUNTRY, student rental, 2 bdrms, $350/mo., ask for Mr. Mays 549-2707.

4 BDRM Apartments, quiet area, 2 bdrms, $425/mo., ask for Mr. Mays 549-2707.

6 BDRM house on Forest - 705 S. Forest,  425/mo. (all utilities paid) - Mr. Mays 549-2707.

For More Information on Houses - Call 549-2707. Hidden House - 1209 W. Schwartz, 3 BR, 2 BA, $575/mo. - Mr. Mays 549-2707.

Commercial Property

For Lease: 2 BDRM house on Forest - 705 S. Forest. 3 BR, 2 BA, $575/mo. - Mr. Mays 549-2707.
MELLS

continued from page 16

because of strict eligibility rules. "My gut feeling is that he is not going to want to burn up a year of eligibility," Callahan said. "He's not going to be ready to play for around three weeks anyway, and that's assuming that he's got the ability." Mells has been practicing with the baseball team for the past three days and is hoping to rob off some of the basketball team's success to the struggling Salukis. Wednesday's baseball game against Murray State University was canceled because of rain. According to Callahan, Mells ran the fastest 60-yard time of anyone in tryout last fall and has decent arm strength. Despite playing shortstop in high school, Callahan believes Mells' best chances of success at the college level is as a second base or in the outfield.

"He didn't necessarily show us enough arm strength at short to be a bonafide Division-I shortstop, but at the same time we haven't been around him long enough," Callahan said. However, even with talent in the game of baseball, Callahan believes Mells' dedication to the sport might be what prohibits Mells from being an everyday player.

"One thing that we thought when we saw Brandon is that if he's serious about baseball and wants to be a Division-I player, we are going to need him down here in the fall, as opposed to jumping in into the season," Callahan said. Mells would not be able to play for the basketball team until the middle of March because of his basketball scholarship. He most likely would miss only 15 games. There will also be the factor of being physically fit for baseball.

BIORKLUND

continued from page 16

football teams at Williamsville High School in Sherman. He made the choice of sticking with baseball for similar reasons. "Baseball takes up a lot of my time now," Seman said. "With everything involved with playing baseball, I have a hard time getting the rest of my stuff done, including homework."

And the majority of us complain about working one job and going to classes? Players of recent memory who have tried playing two sports are wide receiver/sprinter Ray Barnes and long snapper/shot putter Mike Sandusky. Damon Jones, Jeradlo Tucker and Jeraldo Henry all attempted to play football and basketball. Even Saluki wide receiver Cornell Craig tried to play two sports (football/track and field) before hurting his shoulder in sprint drills.

But incoming two-sport or three-sport players in high school will still try to compete in multiple sports in college. Mt. Vernon High School standout Kent Williams, who possibly might join the Saluki basketball team this fall, has the same dreams of grandeur. I think about the four hours it took for me to type this column and the Brandon Mells story. I think about multiplying these hours by two or possibly three every day for four years, and I say "No way." I'll stick by my handy Macintosh computer writing about the athletes who decide that two sports are right for them. It's less work and hey, I can still watch the games.

SPC

films present...

Steven Spielberg's films Saving Private Ryan

Thursday, April 15, 8 p.

Saturday, April 17, 8 p & 9:30 p

Student Center Auditorium

For more information please call the SPC Entertainment Hotline at 569-4FU or call 861-3421
Looking to ace the course

Softball team travels to face top MVC foe, University of Evansville

COREY CUSICK
DAILY EVANSVILLE TIMES

If there is a power outage in Evansville, Ind., today it’s likely to be caused by the University of Illinois–Chicago’s Salukis and their junior second baseman Corey Cusick. The Salukis face the Purple Aces for a doubleheader today at 3 p.m., part of two of the most powerful teams in the Missouri Valley Conference.

The Salukis (28-14, 3-1), who currently sit tied with Illinois State University for second place in the Valley and only a few games behind Creighton University (4-0) in the Valley standings, are solidifying their position as the MVC’s top team.

Having out-homered their opponents this year 23-6, the Salukis are currently on a three-game winning streak, all of which were road wins.

Leading the Salukis has been senior utility player Jaymie Cowell, who named MVP of MVC player of the week Monday — and sophomore shortstop Julie Meier has hit .300 each.

However, the Aces (20-13, 3-4) aren’t far behind in the count, with mostly notably sophomore standout catcher Jordan Huff.

Huff’s league-leading 10 home runs this season surpasses the Aces entire season total of nine last year. Huff is also hitting .337 (sixth in MVC) with a league-leading 43 RBIs.

They have a great young catcher in Huff, Saluki softball coach Kay Breitlachschau said. "She’s the biggest hitter — she can hit a ball out of the park. She’s just an outstanding athlete and all-conference."

The key to stopping Huff will lie in the hands, or rather the arms, of Saluki pitchers junior Carla Winter (11-8) and Streemster (11-3).

We have a great deal of respect for the Saluki pitching staff," Evangelist coach Corey Lewis said. "They have Carla Winter and Erin (Streemster) are going to switch spots. We know their game is not too fall behind in the count."

Evangelist, the season's No. 4 pick in the Valley, is in a three-way tie with Wichita State University and University of North Carolina (4-0) for the MVC and trail only second place Tiebreak in the Valley standings, have

Continued from page 16

"We have this big 60-yd. field in my backyard and I was going out there and just working on hitting shots," says Neisen, who was 16 at the time. "I was like, "What the heck is he doing?" This is stupid. Only sissies play golf." So then I pick up this five-iron he’s got and I hit a few balls. Gosh, before you know it, I’m putting and to a couple and a bunch of clubs and a bunch of old slug bags."

Neisen, six years, a few golf lessons and two seasons at John Wood Junior College later, is still hitting a few balls.

The only difference is he plays on real golf courses. And he’s pretty good.

"He’s got a good, strong long game," SIU coach Leroy Newton said. "He can hit the ball 250 yards with a three-iron. His average drive is about 280 yards, and he’s made good use of his approach game."

Neisen has been the top Saluki fielder in all four tournaments so far this season, including a fourth-place finish in the Arkansas State Indian Classic earlier this month.

His efforts enabled him to become the only second SIUC golfer to earn Missouri Valley Conference Golfer of the Week honors in the last 10 years.

As the Salukis prepare for their tourney this weekend, Neisen realizes he’s come a long way from the boy who “just sat on the buck porch and fiddled on the field in our backyard and I see my name,” Neisen said. “People tend to think golf is a sport for the elite group,” Newton said. "Not too much," says Newton. "He can hit the ball 250 yards just as well as anybody.

"He’s like me, he was raised on a farm and we didn’t grow up around country club. His parents didn’t have the $20,000 to send him to junior golf tournaments in California or Georgia."

For the most part, the entire Saluki team is the same way. "All these teams get the kids they want. We just play in tournaments all over the country," Neisen said. "We’re just a bunch of no names from Illinois." Neisen just recruits downtown-to- east kids. "It’s different from the other," Newton said.

"He’s a special kind of kid you’d like to say, ‘There’s my boy over there.’ "It’s like me, he was raised on a farm and we didn’t grow up around country club. His parents didn’t have the $20,000 to send him to junior golf tournaments in California or Georgia."

For the most part, the entire Saluki team is the same way. "All these teams get the kids they want. We just play in tournaments all over the country," Neisen said. "We’re just a bunch of no names from Illinois." Neisen just recruits downtown-to-east kids. "It’s different from the other," Newton said.

"I think you want to look at that record and say, ‘Well, they haven’t played any strong teams,’ " said Newton. "But they have played some strong teams, but they haven’t played as many strong teams as we have."

TONIGHT: THURSDAY, APRIL 2
Carbondale Blues Review with Big Larry
$1.50 Pints-Molson Golden
$1.75-Speedrals

SALUTE AIR JORDANS
Save up to 50% OFF

Many Styles of Jordans MUST GO!

SHOES ‘N’ STUFF

108 S. Illinois Ave., Carbondale
1-800-525-3097 or 529-3097

TONIGHT: THURSDAY, APRIL 2
Carbondale Blues Review with Big Larry
$1.50 Pints-Molson Golden
$1.75-Speedrals

Every Saturday Night
Motown Funk Review
W/PJ Spu P & Prince Love
19W. Washington • 457-3308
Tough to play two

SIUC baseball coach Dan Callahan has some discouraging words for those of you who are thinking about becoming a two-sport college athlete.

"Why, it's not easy," he says.

How hard can it be? Playing only baseball? Taking school yourself? I have great respect for anyone that has the dedication and talent to play two or three sports. And that's only at the high school level.

In college, that's unheard of.

Personally, I have a hard enough time dealing with a 13-credit course load, 35 hours of work and finding time for a social life.

Playing for two sports in college or the pros is no-stop training and readiness to compete each and every day, which the single-sport athletes do already.

Dealing with the constant training, workouts, (yes, again, practices and academics the reason why we all attend college), there is hardly any time for your body to recover from one sport to the next.

"I have never seen it very much," Callahan said speaking of two-sport athletes. "If I remember when Chris Schullian was here, he was a quarterback in the fall, pitcher in the spring. I know that there were times that we wanted him here in the fall as well as football wanted him there during spring football."

Schullian, a backup quarterback for the football team, had a chance to make great strides for SIUC back in 1995. Unfortunately for Schullian, one reason he did not earn that starting spot for the team might be because of his lack of dedication to a single sport.

"Nowhere in that comment am I saying that he did not work hard, but doing two jobs at once is very difficult. It's not easy."

Schullian did, however, rank eighth all-time in games pitched with 55 for the baseball team — a record that showcases his work ethic.

"You've got one coach pulling on one arm, and the other coach pulling on the other arm," Callahan said.

I don't know about you, but I don't have two arms to spare. But that type of toughness is exactly what SIUC baseball guard Brandon Mells is trying to accomplish — and I wish him all the luck in the world.

After helping the Saluki basketball team to a solid season, now Mells is trying to go back to the sport that landed him top recognition in Tennessee. The immediate impact of Mells, however, is just as much as competing for a spot with the baseball team as maintaining the same skills.

"You have to be able to stand up to that kind of pressure," Callahan said. "I've seen two-sport guys get into trouble because it is such a commitment. It's a game that can have an adverse effect on their academics."

SIUC sophomore pitcher Dan Seeman, who played in three sports in high school, was the captain of both the basketball and baseball teams.

see biorklund, page 14

Making a transition from hard wood to diamond field

Sophomore guard looks to hit the ball instead of shooting it

Mike Biorklund

Brandon Mells is at it again. A month and a half after helping the SIUC men's basketball team to a 15-12 record, the sophomore guard is ready to take on a new challenge — college baseball.

Mells, who averaged 4.4 points and 18 minutes per game for the Salukis last season, is now taking his game off the hardwood and onto the greener grasses of the baseball diamond.

It's not like Mells doesn't have the credentials to do so.

At Central High School in Memphis, Tenn., Mells excelled on the field as a pitcher/hitshitter. He led the city in hitting .623 and steals as a junior.

Three Major League Baseball teams (Toronto Blue Jays, Atlanta Braves and Cincinnati Reds) all took a chance on the 6-foot-4-inch Mells, who was one of Memphis' prized baseball recruits.

Mells goes with the baseball team began last fall when SIUC baseball coach Bruce Weber asked baseball coach Dan Callahan to evaluate Mells.

That one instance was the only time the baseball team saw him until now.

"Mells called us late last week and said he was ready to go again," Callahan said. "We don't you don't come out and start practicing, and we'll kind of ease you into things and we'll see what's going on." Callahan said. "If nothing else he can get replication as far as ground balls and swinging the bat a little bit."

That repetition and practice should enable Mells a chance to make his skills on the field, while practicing for the 21-1 Salukis. It's highly doubtful that Mells will play for the team this season.

see mells, page 14
Bat-beating suspects apprehended Wednesday at residence

David Ferrara
Daily Egyptian Reporter

University police arrested two Carbondale men Wednesday and another is being sought after they allegedly beat three SIUC students, baseball bats on campus Monday evening.

Cory R. Cummings, 20, and Garland D. Fulford, 23, were arrested by University police at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday on charges of aggravated battery and unlawful use of a weapon by a felon for allegedly possessing bats in the attack.

On Tuesday, University officials issued a campus alert in relation to this incident. One of the victims remained in intensive care at Memorial Hospital of Carbondale.

Police apprehended Cummings and Fulford at their residence in the $1000 block of Logan Street based on an information from witnesses. Police also found narcotics in the home but would not specify what drugs were found.

The men could face additional charges by the police’s R. Wayne Wepsi, but no probable cause determination was made.

On Wednesday, police arrested Cory R. Cummings, 20, and Garland D. Fulford, 23, on charges of aggravated battery and unlawful use of a weapon by a felon.

At the time of their arrests, Fulford and Cummings were wearing an April D trial in relation to allegations of charges of attempted murder and attempted armed robbery.

Cummings faces the same charge in addition to a charge of aggravated discharge of a firearm.

Cummings and Fulford were being detained in Jackson County Jail on $5,000 bond as of press time.