University Housing director dies

Samuel L. Rinella

Rinella praised as students' friend

By Nola J. Cowser
Staff Writer

Samuel L. Rinella, director of University Housing for the past 20 years, died Monday morning at Memorial Hospital of Carbondale.

Mr. Rinella, 55, arrived at the hospital at 6:43 a.m. and was pronounced dead at 7:05 a.m. Apparent cause of death was heart failure, according to hospital officials. An autopsy was scheduled for Monday.

During Mr. Rinella's tenure as director of housing, Brush Towers and Evergreen Terrace residence areas were constructed and computer terminals were installed in campus residence areas.

"He showed absolute and total dedication and caring for University Housing," said Bruce Swinburne, vice president for Student Affairs.

According to Chancellor Lawrence Pettit, "He was a strong pillar in the administration."

"Sam was always a congenial, cheerful, thoughtful individual in all his contacts," said John Guyon, vice president for Academic Affairs and Research. "He was just a real pleasure to work with on a day-to-day basis."

Steve Warnelis, general manager of the Obelisk Publishing Co., said that for about six years while he was a student he worked with Mr. Rinella on a number of projects. "I always felt it was a great privilege to work that closely with the director of housing," he said. "The students have lost a very compassionate man in Sam Rinella."

Visitation is scheduled from 1 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Our Savior Lutheran Church, 700 S. University Ave. A memorial service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at Shryock Auditorium.

The family requests that memorial contributions be made to the Sam Rinella Memorial Fund through the Walker Funeral Home in Carbondale.

Mr. Rinella joined SIU-C as an assistant bursar in September 1961. He served as a disbursements officer from 1963 to 1965.

Mr. Rinella received a bachelor's degree in business administration at SIU-C in 1956. He served in the Army as a first lieutenant from 1952 to 1955 and was a captain in the Army Active Reserves from 1955 to 1968.

He was a member of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Carbondale, the BPOE 1243.

He was born Oct. 19, 1931, in Marion to Joseph and Josephine Rinella.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia Benning Rinella, coordinator at SIU-C's Career Development Center; three sons, Greg Rinella and Sam Rinella, both of Houston, and Brad Rinella of North Charleston, S.C.; two brothers, Ernest Rinella of Marion and Joseph Rinella of Paducah, Ky.; four sisters, Mary Rinella of Bloomington, Katherine Rinella, Delores Brown and Barbara Palmer, all of Marion; and one grandson.

President denies Regan executive privilege

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan waived a claim of executive privilege for Donald Regan Monday, clearing the way for the White House chief of staff to testify this week before a Senate committee investigating the Iran arms-Contra cash scandal.

Congress considers 'use immunity'

Plans for the continuing probe by Senate Intelligence Committee were thrown a curve, however, when CIA Director William Casey — scheduled as the star witness before the panel Tuesday — was hospitalized after suffering a "minor cerebral seizure."

A CIA spokesman initially said Casey, 73, had suffered an apparent reaction to medication, but Jack Stapleton of Georgetown University Hospital said the CIA boss suffered "a seizure in which

Swiss arms deal account locked

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — The Swiss government, acting on a U.S. request, announced it ordered a freeze Monday on at least one bank account used in moving payments for Iranian arms sales to Nicaraguan rebels.

And sources said the government was prepared to initiate legal proceedings that could lead to a judicial order mandating the Swiss Credit Bank to divulge information about the account.

While the government can order a 30-day freeze, only a court can make a bank reveal its records — and only if the demanding party can show evidence that the information involves a crime.

An even tougher restriction requires that the crime be one recognized in Switzerland, as well as by the nation demanding the account information.

The proceedings the sources described — initiating the U.S. request for information about an account or accounts that funded the Contra rebels at a time when U.S. aid to them was illegal — is being presented by the Swiss government.

his arms and legs suffered multiple spasms for a period of about a minute."

Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn, the committee chairman, issued a statement Monday saying the panel planned to summon Regan and Secretary of State George Shultz this week for closed-door questioning about the clandestine arms arrangements and the diversion of profits from the sales to the U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels.

The panel has been working its way up the bureaucratic ladder in its probe, and was to nail down its plans for pursuing the Iran-Contra connection at a Monday evening meeting. Other Cabinet officials, including Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and Attorney General Edwin Meese, have been mentioned as likely witnesses.

The committee had announced plans to meet with Casey Tuesday morning to follow-up his earlier testimony — delivered Nov. 21 before the Contra connection was exposed — and what it has learned since.

At the White House, spokesman Larry Speakes said Regan — a focus of sharp criticism for the administration's handling of the muddled Iran-Contra affair — would be happy to testify to the Senate committee or other panels probing the controversy.

"He'll be glad to do so in open session," Speakes added. A committee spokeswoman said it is "improbable" any hearings would be open, noting, "It's very rare that we have open hearings."

Speakes also said there had been no request for the president to talk to Capitol Hill investigators and none was anticipated. Some Reagan advisers have suggested a visit by the president to Congress might be useful in defusing the crisis.

On the issue of executive privilege, which Regan had raised last month as a possible hurdle to his testifying, White House spokesman Albert Brashear said, "The president does not seek to claim executive privilege with regard to a request by the Senate Intelligence Committee, asking that Don Regan testify."

Plans set to soften crunch of McAndrew turf

By Tom Mangan
Staff Writer

Athletes who have endured the bone-crushing stiffness of the artificial turf at McAndrew Stadium may be in for a reprieve.

Athletics Director Jim Livengood told the SIU Board of Trustees last week the Intercollegiate Athletics Department is considering purchasing a "sand-filled" turf that will provide softer landings and better footing than the current turf, which in the past five years has become a patchwork of loose seams and nonexistent padding. Calling the sand-filled turf

"the wave of the future" in artificial-turf technology, Livengood said the new playing surface would be "the closest we can get to natural grass."

The new surface should last from eight to 10 years, Livengood said.

The turf, expected to cost about $300,000, is part of a three-phase, $800,000 plan that includes a new, $300,000 track surface and new lights at the stadium. A final proposal is expected to be presented to the board in February.

If the plan meets board approval, both the track and turf projects could be completed next summer, in time for the 1987 football season, Livengood said.

New track and turf surfaces are considered top priorities, Livengood said, but the proposal to install lights at the stadium will remain under consideration until funding becomes available. McAndrew Stadium has poles and fixtures for lights, but the system hasn't worked since 1966.

The University plans to finance the plan through a $650,000 revenue bond issue, $200,000 from a student affairs fund for recreation, repair, replacement and modernization, and a $17,857 user fee to be paid by academic affairs over the bond's seven-year lifetime.

Livengood said the safety of athletes is the primary consideration behind moving to

Fighting flares, despite PLO peace announcement

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The Palestine Liberation Organization said Monday it has agreed to an Iranian-mediated plan to end a 7-week-old war between Palestinian guerrillas and Moslem militiamen in Beirut and southern Lebanon. Despite the PLO announcement, fighting flared between the Shiite Moslem militia Amal and guerrillas trapped in two Palestinian refugee camps in Beirut, killing one militiaman and wounding 23 civilians, police and hospital sources said.

Abducted couple denies aiding black guerillas

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Two Swiss citizens seized in Swaziland and held two days by South African security forces denied Monday they aided black guerrillas and charged they were dragged nearly naked from their home at gunpoint. Corrine Bischoff, 25, and her fiance, Daniel Schneider, told the Swiss newspaper Blick by telephone from Swaziland that they were kidnapped Friday by South African "secret agents," handcuffed and blindfolded, and taken across the border to South Africa.

Ex-emperor denies personally beating children

BANGUI, Central African Republic (UPI) — Ex-emperor Jean-Bedel Bokassa denied Monday that he tortured or murdered schoolchildren, but told a court, "I don't say I am a saint." The former ruler, dubbed the "Butcher of Bangui," posed for photographs before entering the courtroom for the reopening of his trial. Bokassa told reporters outside the courtroom he did not personally participate in the beating and torture of more than 100 schoolchildren in 1979. Bokassa's trial — on charges of murder, embezzlement and cannibalism stemming from his 13-year reign — opened Nov. 26, but was postponed.

OPEC officials almost agree to cut production

GENEVA (UPI) — OPEC's 13 oil ministers, after a sixth day of year-end talks, said Monday they were near a final agreement on cutting production to force up oil prices despite a dispute between warring Iraq and Iran. Saudi Arabia, OPEC's largest and most influential producer, proposed a 7.27 percent reduction in the cartel's current output ceiling of 17 million barrels a day in hopes of boosting oil prices to $18 a barrel.

Accused spy discussed travels on radio show

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — American Sam Hall, 49, arrested in Nicaragua on spy charges, openly discussed paramilitary missions in a lengthy radio interview last month and insisted he was a patriot, not a mercenary. Hall, who was captured Friday near Managua, spent three hours with radio station WPLP in St. Petersburg on Nov. 18, discussing his travels to many of the world's trouble spots, ranging from Africa to Central America. Nicaraguan officials Monday interrogated Hall, accused of spying inside an air base.

Committee urged to increase aid to homeless

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A panel of experts told a House subcommittee Monday there is a growing need for both emergency and long-term health care for the nation's homeless. "It is embarrassing — but obvious — that the federal government has no coherent strategy for meeting the needs of the homeless in general, much less for meeting their medical and mental health care needs in particular," said Chairman Henry Waxman, D-Calif., in opening the hearing of the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment.

Next defense budget request is smallest ever

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration will ask Congress for the smallest increase in the defense budget that it ever has requested when it submits a proposal next month to spend $312 billion during fiscal 1988, Pentagon officials said Monday. But the Defense Department also plans to ask for a supplemental budget for this fiscal year of more than $2 billion for programs that Congress refused to approve when it authorized spending earlier this year of $289.6 billion, the officials said. Fiscal 1987 began Oct. 1.

Official urges sanctions against New Zealand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Secretary John Lehman has called for U.S. economic sanctions against New Zealand because of its refusal to permit American naval ships capable of carrying nuclear weapons into its ports, his spokesman said Monday.

Stars sing praises of restored Carnegie Hall

NEW YORK (UPI) — World renowned violinist Isaac Stern, his emotion-choked voice rising above the cacophony of harpists and cellists tuning up, unveiled a refurbished Carnegie Hall Monday in all its "natural, full glory."

Stern, credited for saving the grand dame of American concert halls from the wrecking ball in 1960, greeted workmen putting the finishing touches on the building that has been shut since May for renovations.

"The sound you're about to hear is not only the old sound of Carnegie — it is the ultimate sound of Carnegie," a breathless Stern said as he gazed over the 95-year-old hall that has resounded with the music of Igor Stravinsky, Sergei Rachmaninoff and even the Beatles.

Tuxedoed musicians swarmed around the gold-trimmed stage, preparing for a star-studded opening night concert featuring Frank Sinatra, the New York Philharmonic, cellist Yo-Yo Ma and others.

Stern, who debuted at Carnegie Hall in 1946 and again will take the stage at the reopening gala, praised the workmen who undertook the $50 million task to return the hall to its original splendor.

For the first time in seven months, the clamor of buzzsaws was replaced by the sweet sounds of violins, oboes and french horns. Touring the retouched hall, Stern embraced paint-spattered plasterer Sal Markowitz of the Bronx and thanked him for working to restore "the two most important things in America" — the Statue of Liberty and Carnegie Hall.

"We have changed nothing, we have Carnegie come to its natural full glory by returning it to its original concept — the way it was designed by Mr. Tuthill," said Stern, standing among the red-velvet seats and below the four-tiered balconies.

Playing China card is a shrewd move

THE CHINESE HAVE SOMETHING to learn from us, and vice versa, or so the University has discovered.

Last week, representatives of the College of Business and Administration and the People's Bank of China signed an agreement that would allow SIU-C faculty to teach finance and accounting in China.

In return, four of the bank's employees will receive tuition waivers to study at the University. Those who participate at either end must be mutually approved.

We applaud the University's foresight. Mainland China knows the value of marketable education skills, be they capitalist or communist in origin. It's prudent of the University to exhibit the same disregard for politics where sound academic development is involved.

THE AGREEMENT ALLOWS four faculty members from COBA to spend about four weeks lecturing at banks in Chengdu, Harbin, Xi'an, Chang-sha, Shanghai, and the capital, Beijing.

Signing the paper only made formal a year-long "informal" exchange, said Thomas Gutteridge, COBA dean.

For the time being, the agreement is limited to the University's Finance and Accounting departments, but the Management and Business departments will soon join the exchange.

We hope the University doesn't stop there. For example, we've got an internationally recognized Engineering and Technology Department, and a top-notch Agriculture School.

Both could offer great assistance in China's drive for the technological advancement and agricultural wealth that nation's one-billion-plus population needs.

IN RETURN, THE UNIVERSITY COULD incorporate additional teaching agreements not limited to faculty. Undergraduates and teaching assistants, as well as faculty, could participate in "formal" agreements and conduct lectures and seminars on different levels of international development upon their return.

We congratulate the University on its newfound enterprise and hope other formal agreements like this, in China and elsewhere, are made soon.

Letters

We're on wrong side

After reading the DE the last few days, I can see how Ghassan Abdullah's letter on Friday, Dec. 5 makes a lot of sense.

This past week in Ramallah, West Bank in Palestine, human rights are being violated in the worst way. Students who attend the university there are being shot at by Israeli soldiers. Some of them have been injured, some have been killed. Included in the dead is a little boy.

My question is this: Does the DE not have enough information to cover this story or does it tend to ignore the story since no "Americans or Jews" were injured or killed? Of course, the DE has tucked the story in their Newswrap section in a two-sentenced paragraph. What's wrong?

If the story had been turned around and Jews had been shot at or killed by Palestinians the DE would at least put it out front where everyone could be shocked and horrified by what these nasty terrorists have done again.

Like I said, maybe you do not have enough information to cover this story.

But I think really the problem is that SIU-C, like most other American institutions, has a little bit of the old Zionist touch. Over here we have been taught to think that we have to protect the Jews after what happened to them during the holocaust.

But look who is paying for their protection! We helped the Jews take away the homeland from the Palestinians and in the news we are slandering their name. And it is all because there is too much Jewish influence over the media and over the government.

However, I believe that the Palestinians will return to their homeland and reclaim what is rightfully theirs in spite of the efforts of the American government and the Israelis. For right now, all I can say is, my government, with its biased media, is cheering for the wrong team.

— Cathy A. Clayton, Carbondale.

Let's honor Dick Gregory before another campus does

By Dennis P. Makhudo
Graduate Student,
Educational Leadership

Viewpoint

This institution ought to make serious efforts to polish its tarnished image. To the uninitiated, allow me to say that it is hardly laudable to have SIU-C rated No. 17 on Playboy Magazine's List of Top Party Schools.

Even though high-power academic establishments like the Massachusetts Institute of Technology share the spotlight, SIU-C's prominence if any, is only due to its association with the salacious shenanigans of the Halloween bash.

Of course, this University has another positive to its name. It is rated among the first twenty which have a large foreign or international student population, but we know that this resultant renown is grudgingly given in the United States, for obvious reasons.

I FIND IT RATHER myopic for our University authorities to waste their time responding to Playboy's unflattering assessment, when they could be channeling their energies in other beneficial directions.

The honoring of alumni who have gained prominence outside, is a good way to present this campus in better light to the sensation-seeking media pundits. I therefore applaud the effort to bring to the Shryock Auditorium recently Dennis Franz, the famous "Hill Street Blues" actor who left SIU-C around 1968.

I believe that another way to improve this University's faded self-esteem is to award honorary degrees to other exceptional former students.

A GOOD EXAMPLE is a person like Richard Gregory. An honorary degree awarded to Dick Gregory would enhance SIU-C's debased name besides projecting an image of the University as being committed to recognizing minority leadership.

Dick Gregory left SIU-C in the late 1950s, but not after being influential locally, as a civil activist, a great toastmaster and a talented track star.

Even though he did not graduate, Gregory's ingenuity, above-average skills as an entrepreneur and diligence is notable. If his name sounds familiar, it should because he has added another notch to his achievements by developing the wholesome "Bahamian Diet."

THE DIET has been proved to be both nutritious and safe for weight-loss, unlike the chemicals pushed by the unscrupulous, money-hungry companies that are duping so many of us. The secret 4x Formula in the diet has been acclaimed by both the United States Food and Drug Administration and the Swedish Fitness Academy in Oslo.

Scientifically, this diet has been a boon to such athletes as Muhammad Ali, and long-distance runner Lasse Viren of Finland. They have used it to accomplish unbelievable feats.

Gregory's involvement in humanitarian concerns is well-known. Twice he ran from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C., in 1980 and 1981, to bring attention to the neglected issues like urban poverty, hunger, social justice and equality.

THIS WAS NOT uncharacteristic, because Dick Gregory has been a disciple of the late Dr. Martin Luther King and espouses the latter's philosophy of non-violence and universal love. He marched with Dr. King and is personally responsible to the Atlanta-based Center for the Fight to End Hunger and Starvation.

When the U.S. media belatedly became enthralled with Ethiopia, Gregory had already been to Addis Ababa, the capital, twice. He contributed his time and funds to the relief agencies and even worked among the afflicted in that African society.

THIS UNIVERSITY must avoid being caught off-guard like they were regarding the Divestment from Apartheid South Africa Campaign recently. The authorities must try to be first, and not be pushed and dragged, screaming and kicking, into taking action.

It would be a crying shame to see another university honoring Dick Gregory first. The relevant committees here must jump at this great opportunity to gain eminence for this institution, they need it!

Honor Dick Gregory. He is an exceptional individual: a humanitarian, a former comedian, engineering scientist, social critic, dietician, and scholar. Just read up on him, and you will not be disappointed. For example, he is working on a gas-saving car, an education-satellite...the list of his achievements is endless.

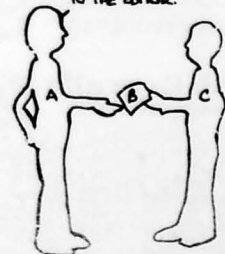

Look up Gregory's name in Morris Library and see the number of publications under his name. This University must act now to save itself further embarrassment!

replace the old turf and track surface, but the condition of both areas plays a role in SIUC's ability to secure a home-field advantage against competitors.

"It's been harder to get teams in here because of the condition of our turf, there is no question about that," Livengood told University News Service. "This would immediately correct that. And the track is in every bit as bad, if not worse, condition than the field. Our limitation on home track meets is very real. We would hope to attract very good quality teams with the upgrading of those two facilities."

The track has been resurfaced three times since 1972, but is breaking apart. SIUC men's and women's track teams have been able to schedule only two home meets in the past three years. Trustee William Norwood described the track as "garbage."

While the gridders and tracksters must wait until the board approves the two resurfacing projects, members of the Saluki baseball team can rest assured they'll have a new locker room soon.

The board last week awarded three contracts for construction of a $140,000, 3,600-square-foot locker room, to be built next to the third-base dugout at Abe Martin Field. The baseball Salukis have played home games at the field since 1964. For the past 22 years, players have walked to the field from locker rooms at the SIU Arena — one-third of a mile away.

In a unique public-private cooperative effort, about $64,000 of the building's cost will come from private contributions, while $40,000 worth of labor will be donated by the Egyptian Building and Construction Trades Council. Remaining costs will be drawn from student fees paid into a special fund set aside for repair and replacement of athletic facilities.

Construction is expected to begin as early as January, with completion in time for the 1987 season. The building will include a locker and training room, two staff offices, a storage area for field equipment and a small concession area.

Contractors will build the structure's walls and roof, after which local labor trade workers will donate their time to finish the interior.

Contracts were awarded to J & L Construction Co., Carbondale, for $71,352 in general work; H & H Plumbing, Heating and Electric Co., Mount Vernon, for $2,813 in electrical work; and Weller's Inc., Carbondale, for $3,350 in mechanical work.

Trash picker vows to keep stolen poem

SOMERS POINT, N.J. (UPI) — A junk-collecting bartender who found a manuscript of a poem by Ralph Waldo Emerson refused Monday to turn it over to an Alabama college professor who claims it was stolen from his home.

Literature professor Ted Haddin, who visited Birmingham police Monday to discuss the case, said he did not believe bartender Gary Duffy stole the poem. He said he does want it back so that he can donate it to the Library of Congress.

"Possession's nine-tenths of the law. I didn't steal it," said Duffy, bartender and manager of the Anchorage Tavern in Somers Point. Duffy, who had refused comment on Haddin's claim during the weekend, said he was angry with news reports that he feels have made him look like a crook.

Duffy said last week that he found the handwritten excerpt from the poem "Voluntaries," signed by Emerson in Concord, Mass., in 1877, while picking through trash outside homes in his New Jersey shore town's affluent neighborhoods. Duffy said his hobby has produced many valuable items unwittingly thrown out by relatives of recently deceased residents.

Haddin, a professor of American literature at the University of Alabama at Birmingham and an expert on Emerson, said he was given the verse in 1970 by a friend who received it in 1917 from Emerson's son, Edward Waldo Emerson.

After reading of Duffy's discovery in a Birmingham newspaper, Haddin called the paper to say it had been stolen from his home in August along with other manuscripts.

Haddin, who estimated the manuscript is worth about $2,000, said he had planned to donate it to the Library of Congress.

Duffy questioned why Haddin told his story to the Birmingham newspaper without first calling him and suggested the professor's proposal to donate the poem was designed to pressure him into releasing it.

"I don't think he's going about this in a right way," Duffy said.

Housing names acting director

By Nola J. Cowsert
Staff Writer

Steve Kirk, assistant director of University Housing, has agreed to serve as acting director of housing until the search begins for a new director, according to Bruce Swinburne, vice president for Student Affairs.

Kirk will succeed Samuel L. Rinella, who died Monday.

Swinburne said, "We'll probably conduct a nationwide search to fill the position." He said there may be people on campus who wish to apply for the position and added that Kirk would be a logical candidate.

However, the person who serves as acting director is not eligible to be a candidate during the search, said Swinburne.

Kirk will be the acting director until about early January, Swinburne said.

Adult day care a family-saving trend

By William Brady
Staff Writer

Adult day care centers were non-existent in Southern Illinois less than eight years ago; today, there are seven such centers in seven counties throughout the region.

Adult day cares, not unlike child day cares, are for elderly people who are not necessarily "nursing home" frail, yet are incapable of attending Senior Citizens Groups and other similar organizations, says Deborah Roberts, community care specialist for the Egyptian Area Agency on the Aging in Carterville.

THE SPREAD OF such centers throughout Southern Illinois is not because of diligent enterprise. Rather, it is in response to a trend sweeping Southern Illinois and the rest of the country: America is growing older.

Because Americans are living longer, while the birthrate is low, the proportion and number of persons 65 and older has grown and will continue to grow more rapidly than any other age group, according to a 1985-86 report by the U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging.

BY 2020, about one-third of the U.S. population is expected to be at least 55.

Geographically, over half of the elderly population live in just eight states, the committee reported. Illinois is among those eight.

Because of this trend, Roberts expects adult day cares to be as widespread in the near future as child day care centers are today.

Already, day care centers for adults have sprung up in nearly every state. Nationwide there are more than 1,200 centers — up from just a dozen 15 years ago, according to the National Institute on Adult Daycare, part of the National Council on the Aging.

THE MAIN REASON day cares for adults are gaining in popularity is because of the alternatives they provide to nursing homes.

No longer must families who care for their elderly choose between the economic costs and guilt of placing their parents in a nursing home versus the sometimes fatiguing task of caring for elders.

The centers also give families with working couples a "break," as caring for their elders and going to work "don't interfere with one another," Roberts said.

THE BENEFITS of adult day care centers, however, are not only for the caretakers of elderly people. While the various regional agencies all have their own program schedules, each provides stimulating activities for members, Roberts said. Activities include exercise classes, discussions of current events, card-playing, crafts and videos. Members are also served breakfast and lunch during the six-hour day of the centers.

ROBERTS SAID that although these activities can give lonely elderly people "a social life," and perhaps even serve rehabilitative ends, some members see attending the centers as stigmatic.

Some, she said, feel as if they are branded by family and peers as "helpless, much like children are." In the main, however, most enjoy what the centers have to offer, she said.

In addition to activities, some of the local centers provide therapy and medical services. Moreover, each day care in the region provides transportation to and from the center within a 20-mile radius.

ROBERTS SAID an individual has to be 60 or older to qualify for day care. Also, individuals must meet certain physical or mental impairment requirements or both to enter the program, she said.

Prices in the Southern Illinois vary. The full price for Carbondale's center, for example, is $21 a day while for Anna's center it is $23 a day.

Yet, only elderly people with assets of $10,000 or more have to pay the full price. There is no charge at any of the local centers if an elderly person's income is less than $426 a month. Those earning more than $426 per month pay according to a graduating scale, Roberts said.

THE LOCAL DAY cares were established by the state and are run by private non-profit institutions.

Roberts speculated that companies may help pay for adult day care eventually as more employees face the financial stress of caring for aged parents.

Congress seeking loophole in 5th

The Fifth Amendment has put a roadblock in the path of congressional investigators looking into the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal, but Congress could still force testimony from Lt. Col. Oliver North and former national security advisor John Poindexter and others who may decline to answer questions.

By granting witnesses "use immunity" for any statements they might make, Congress could compel them to testify about the secret Iran arms deals and the diversion of profits to rebels in Nicaragua.

SUCH IMMUNITY would not protect them from all criminal prosecution, but would ensure that statements they make to the committee could not be used as evidence against them in a court of law.

"The Fifth Amendment only protects you from self-incrimination," said Ronald Kuby, a lawyer with the Center for Constitutional Rights in New York. "There's no Fifth Amendment privilege for refusing to testify against somebody else."

"Moreover, the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination ... can be ended through the expedient of granting use immunity to a witness."

THE RELEVANT section of the Fifth Amendment states that "no person ... shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

Use of the Fifth Amendment during recent days by North and Poindexter—who left the National Security Council Nov. 25—and Lt. Col. Robert Earl, another National Security Council staff member, has stirred memories of the 1950s when numerous witnesses invoked the Fifth before congressional committees investigating subversive activities and labor-management corruption.

DURING THAT period, Kuby said, many people wrongly assumed that a witness only invoked the Fifth Amendment when he was guilty.

Those who asserted their privilege against self-incrimination "were known by (Sen.) Joseph McCarthy and his supporters as Fifth Amendment Communists," Kuby said. "It was wrong then for people to infer that someone had something to hide by taking the Fifth and it's wrong to assume that now."

During the Watergate investigations, several officials, including John Dean and G. Gordon Liddy, also invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions from Congress.

ALTHOUGH THE amendment was added to the Constitution on Dec. 15, 1791, the concept of a person's right against self-incrimination stems from the 15th century and the abuses of two English courts, the Star Chamber and the High Commission.

In a series of rulings interpreting the Fifth Amendment, the Supreme Court has condemned "the practice of imputing a sinister meaning to the exercise of a person's constitutional right under the Fifth Amendment."

ANOTHER CONSTITUTIONAL concept, executive privilege, also could prevent congressional committees from learning all they want to know about the Iran arms affair.

On Monday, President Reagan said he was willing to waive executive privilege to enable Chief of Staff Donald Reagan to testify to the Senate Intelligence Committee.

UNDER EXECUTIVE privilege, the executive branch may refuse to disclose confidential communications, usually national security secrets. The issue arises most frequently when Congress seeks information from presidential aides or Cabinet members about matters the president considers confidential advice.

The privilege is not spelled out in the Constitution but stems from the doctrine of separation of powers, which says each branch of government is independent from the others.

Casey admitted to hospital after medication reaction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — CIA Director William Casey, a key figure in the Iran-Contra scandal, was admitted to a hospital today, possibly suffering from exhaustion and a drug reaction, a CIA spokesman said.

The 73-year-old intelligence chief is scheduled to testify before the Senate Intelligence Committee today. He testified for nine hours about his knowledge of the affair during two days of closed hearings last week.

CIA spokesman George Lauder said Casey was taken to Georgetown University Hospital in Washington from spy headquarters in Langley, Va., at about 10:30 a.m. "after having some reaction to some medication he was taking."

"He was taken down there for observation. He is fully conscious," Lauder told United Press International.

Lauder did not comment about reports Casey was suffering from exhaustion from last week's intense hearings. "I just don't know (what the precise ailment is). We'll have to find out from the doctors," Lauder said.

"He's pretty tired," Lauder added.

Casey was reported to be resting in his hospital room, and a Georgetown spokeswoman said doctors were conducting examinations. "There's no status on his condition, but he is being admitted for observation," she said.

"We have a direct line to their facility and they called and asked us to send an ambulance over," Murry said.

STDs top women's fear list

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fear of sexually transmitted disease was the greatest fear of American women in 1986, with AIDS the biggest single worry, an annual survey released Monday said.

"Women are thinking less about increasing their sexual satisfaction, and more about the dangers associated with sex," reported Glamour magazine, which published the poll of 800 women 18 to 65 conducted by Mark Clements Research Inc.

"Almost two-thirds (64 percent) of all women surveyed said they have become more concerned with sexual disease," the report said.

The figure rose to 68 percent for single women, "while those who worry the most about it were women who consider themselves political liberals — 79 percent."

Following fear of sexually transmitted disease, the next four leading women's concerns were personal health, peace and war, personal fitness and personal finances.

Eighty-two percent of the women questioned said they believed more sex education is needed in schools.

In a question about sexual attitudes, however, the survey found that in reply to the question, "is sex before marriage acceptable?" 76 percent of women 18 to 24 answered yes, compared with only 30 percent over 55.

The fear of AIDS brought an overwhelming response in the poll.

"No sexually related disease has claimed as much of the public's attention as AIDS, and women share the country's growing alarm," the magazine said.

Nicaragua says American caught with maps

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) — Nicaraguan officials Monday interrogated an American accused of spying inside an air base and the government newspaper said he was carrying information about other military installations when arrested.

Sam Hall, 49, brother of an Ohio congressman and a former member of the Ohio House, was captured Friday in a restricted area of an air force base in Punta Huele, 12 miles north of the capital on the northeast shore of Lake Managua.

THE OFFICIAL Sandinista Party newspaper Barricada said Hall was carrying maps and sketches of military installations of Puerto Corinto, Nicaragua's principal entry port in the Pacific, and of a heavily guarded prison in Tipitapa, 15 miles east of Managua.

Foreign Minister Miguel d'Escoto said Hall told authorities he worked for a private firm gathering intelligence for the U.S. government.

State Department spokesman Charles Redman said Hall was not an employee of the State Department, and "I don't find any indication he's an employee of any agency of the U.S. government."

HE SAID THE U.S. Embassy requested consular access to Hall Saturday night but that "no response... has been received," calling that a "serious disregard of normal diplomatic practice."

Of Hall, Redman said, "We have no idea why he was there."

Sandinista officials said they were continuing their investigation, which included interrogation of Hall. CBS News reported that it learned the captured American was cooperating with his interrogators.

IN DECATUR, Ala., the leader of a paramilitary organization linked to Hall described the arrested American as a Rambo type working alone in a jealous attempt to secure fame.

"He thinks he's 'Sambo,'" Thomas V. Posey, head of Civilian Materiel Assistance, formed to aid Nicaraguan Contras with non-military supplies, said in a play on words combining Hall's first name and the commando movie character. "He dresses like it. He wears a headband and everything."

"HE WAS TRYING to get a movie made of him and he is working on a book and he was trying to put in wild accusations. It was a one-man battalion for his book."

D'Escoto said Hall was found with "a handmade map in his sock, and sketches of various points of military interest."

"The information and specifications found (on Hall) are information that can only be of interest to someone with bad intentions," said d'Escoto, who added Hall may face trial by the People's Tribunal in Nicaragua.

HALL, OF DAYTON, Ohio, was identified as the brother of Democratic Congressman Tony Hall, known to be a critic of President Reagan's policies in Central America. He served in the Ohio House in 1965-66.

"There's really no question in my boss' mind that this is his brother," said Michael Gessel, press secretary for Congressman Hall. "The information the Nicaraguan government has been giving out is a description of Sam Hall. The person in question is Sam Hall."

Senate asks Reagan to comply with Salt 2

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A majority of the Senate, including 10 Republicans, asked President Reagan Monday to bring the United States back into compliance with the unratified SALT 2 nuclear arms treaty with the Soviet Union.

In a letter to Reagan written by Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., incoming chairman of the Armed Services Committee, 57 senators said his decision to violate the limit of 1,320 multiple warhead systems by activating a B-52 with cruise missiles is "an open invitation to Moscow to exceed restrictions on similar systems, particularly its large land-based missiles.

Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., said the Soviet Union can rapidly increase production of their SS-18 intercontinental ballistic missile and load it with "many more" than its current 10 warheads.

"The more nuclear weapons on the face of the earth, the less secure we all are," Bumpers said.

The administration, in a decision approved early this year, permitted the United States last month to violate the numerical warhead limits of the pact by arming the 131st B-52 equipped to carry cruise

Bargains appeal to TV stars

RADNOR, Pa. (UPI) — Some actors give lavish gifts, but others who realize they could be out of work at any time are smart shoppers, TV Guide magazine said Monday.

In Hollywood, where fast foreign cars are common, "Family Ties" star Michael Gross pedaled to work on an old bicycle for two seasons before buying a car, the Dec. 20 issue of TV Guide said.

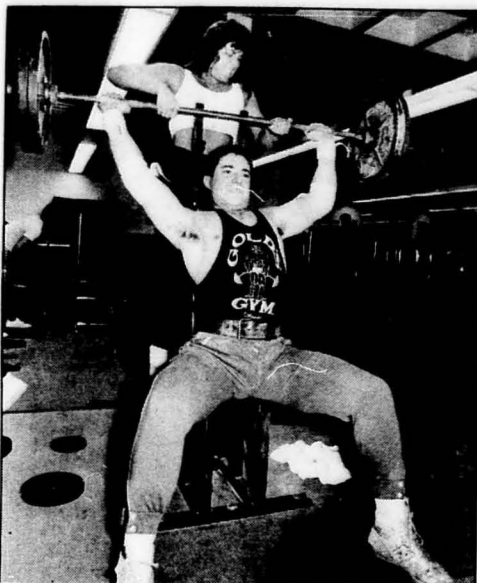

And the car he bought after getting married and moving 18 miles away from the studio was a used Toyota hatchback.

"I didn't want to spend the money," Gross told the Radnor-based magazine. "I agonize over prices. I never struggled, but I'd always check three drugstores to find the best price on toothpaste."

Many actors, producers and writers never get over the grim realities of cancellation of their series, long periods of unemployment and fear of never working again, TV Guide said. They hold on tightly to what they earn long after they strike it rich.

Max Gail, who stars in "Barney Miller," lived in a tepee for two and a half years before his house was built. McLean Stevenson of MASH once owned a Porsche, but got rid of it after he paid a fortune in mechanic's bills.

Producer Aaron Spelling is said to be the biggest spender and people tell stories about his wife's diamonds, her Paris shopping spree and the estate he is building, complete with a bowling alley, TV Guide said.

Top boring actors named

By United Press International

B-O-R-I-N-G!: The Boring Institute has issued its annual list of the year's 10 most boring celebrities, with acid-tongued talk show host Joan Rivers inspiring the most yawns.

"Joan spent 1986 begging for laughs and pity at the same time," said Alan Caruba, founder and sole member of the institute, taking it upon himself to publicize "major media overexposure during the past year."

Singer Michael Jackson was named most boring in 1984 and sex therapist Dr. Ruth Westheimer took the honor last year.

O'Neal accused of lying

A lawyer for actor Ryan O'Neal's son said Monday his client lied when he denied driving a boat during an accident that killed the son of film director Francis Ford Coppola.

Actor Ryan O'Neal sat behind his son, Griffin O'Neal, during the first day of the manslaughter trial in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court.

If convicted, O'Neal faces up to five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

The younger O'Neal, 22, who also is an actor, waived his right to a jury trial. He hung his head during most of the videotaped testimony from Gian Carlo Coppola's pregnant girlfriend, Jacqueline De LaFontaine, who is expected to give birth this month.

LaFontaine, who was with the two men on the boat until 15 minutes before the May 26 accident, said she was shocked to learn O'Neal had lied about driving the boat.

During opening arguments, O'Neal's lawyer, T. Joseph Touhey, said, "He (O'Neal) was totally emotionally distraught. He's had precious little experience with dead bodies and he starts that experience by seeing the sorry state of his dear friend."

The lawyer said O'Neal was inexperienced in boating and made a mistake when he drove a 14-foot rented runabout between two other boats and hit a tow line.

"It was a gruesome scene. He absolutely goes into a state of shock and hysteria. His denial of driving the boat was a product of his hysteria," Touhey said. "Perhaps he acknowledged at the time that he was driving the boat, things might have turned out different."

O'Neal was indicted in July on charges of boat manslaughter and five counts of reckless and negligent boat operation following an eight-week investigation into the death of Coppola, 23.
