2-15-1977

The Daily Egyptian, February 15, 1977

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_February1977
Volume 58, Issue 101

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1977 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in February 1977 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
U.S. criticizes Israeli oil exploration

By Barry Schindel
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department criticized Israel's oil exploration in the Gulf of Suez on Monday, saying it was both illegal and "not helpful" to a settlement with the Arabs. Frederick Brown, a department spokesman, said Cyrus Vance will discuss the matter with Israeli foreign minister Isaac Rabin.

"Our legal view is that Israel as an occupying power does not have a right to exploit natural resources that were not being exploited when the occupation began," Brown said.

The Israelis have taken over the east of the gulf, which lies between Egypt and the occupied Sinai. Geologists say the drilling could lead to a new oil discovery.

Brown responding to questions at a briefing, said, "Israeli development is not helpful to get peace negotiations under way."

Israel has refused to recognize oil exploration by Egypt. Israel's oil ministry is scheduled for a meeting with representatives of six Arab states on oil exploration.

President Carter said Monday that Israel's development was not helping to get peace negotiations under way. He also plans to visit Egypt, Israel, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Syria.

One of his overriding objectives is to find out if Israeli leaders will accept a suggestion by the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) to negotiate. If they say no, they have the power to back off.

State department officials take the view that Israel is dealing in violation of a 1978 Hague convention on rights of an occupying power.

Saudis pose oil price hike threat to West

By The Associated Press

As Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance prepared to begin a week-long Middle East trip Monday, Saudi Arabia stepped up pressure on the United States to persuade Israel into making concessions to the Arabs in return for Saudi restraint on oil prices.

Prince Saud al-Faisal, Saudi Arabia's foreign minister, indicated his government might give up its 5 per cent lid on oil prices if Israel agrees to cut its oil production and create the chance for a United States and other Western powers to apply pressure on Israel for the sake of the Arab cause, he said in an interview published in the Saudi newspaper Okaz.

Saudi Arabia and the neighboring United Arab Emirates in December broke ranks with other member nations of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) by opting for the 5 per cent oil price hike rather than the 2.5 per cent increase set by the OPEC majority.

Elsewhere in the Middle East, two Syrian tanks and a dozen military trucks pulled back from advance positions eight miles inside Israeli territory in southern Lebanon, travelers reported.

Also, knowledgeable sources in Beirut said Syrian soldiers manning a check point near the southern Lebanese town of Naabatiyeh put in Lebanon police uniforms and remained in the area.

The moves apparently were designed to defuse tension in the border area following veiled Israeli threats to repel any Syrian attempt to approach the border too near to Israel's northern border. U.S. officials were reported to have mediated the armed pullback.

In Israel, informed sources reported that Israeli Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin and top officials may revive their proposal to exchange some of the occupied territories for a formal peace agreement with the Arab foes.

Vance is scheduled to arrive Tuesday in Israel on the first stop of a "fact-finding" mission intended to pressure prospects for reconvening the Geneva peace conference. He also plans to visit Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Syria.

Head of Carbondale police probe helped pick Kennedy for chief

By Donna Delecessi and Steve Haha
Daily Egyptian Staff Writers

The head of the state police investigation into possible irregularities in the Carbondale Police Department served on a citizen's committee which helped select George Kennedy as police chief in 1974.

Capt. Joseph E. Ginter of Illinois State Police District 13 was appointed to the citizens' committee by Carbondale City Manager Carroll Fry, Mayor Nell Eckert said Monday. Ginter was also selected by Fry to conduct the current investigation into the police department.

"The investigation will determine those facts and I think the facts speak for themselves," Ginter said Monday when asked if his membership on the committee constitutes a possible conflict of interest.

City Councilman Joe Dabin, a former Carbondale police chief who said he knows Ginter professionally, said Ginter is "extremely intelligent, honest and upright. He's a No. 1 man."

Fry, who could not be reached for comment Monday, said during a press conference Feb. 7 that he consulted the City Council before selecting the state police and Ginter for the investigation and that the council had agreed to the action.

"It was my decision that any investigation of the Internal affairs of the police department should be made by a reputable, credible, outside law enforcement agency. This would avoid any appearance of a whitewash," Fry said at the press conference.

Jackson County State's Attorney Howard Hood said Monday he was not aware that Ginter had served on the committee. Hood said a possible conflict of interest was just speculation, and made no further comment.

Ginter also would not comment on whether he plans to start his own investigation into the Carbondale Police Department. When asked if he could call for a grand jury and get subpoena power, Ginter said "I don't know." One of the possible irregularities within the department centers around the handling of $1,800,000 which was mailed to a Carbondale police detective more than a year ago.

The currency, mailed to the late Ralph Brandon, was accompanied by a note which said the cash was taken during a burglary of Mack's Big Star food store in the Eastgate Shopping Center, two sources have said Brandon told them.

The current owner of the food store and a past vice president have said they were not contacted by the police about the money.

After making photocopies of the U.S. Treasury, Brandon gave the money to Kennedy, the sources said Brandon told them.

A source close to Carbondale city government said last Tuesday the currency which Brandon turned over to Kennedy is not the same money Kennedy turned over to city officials during a city investigation into the status of the money.

The source said serial numbers on bills given to Kennedy by Brandon, who apparently took his own life Jan. 17, do not match those on currency given by Kennedy to City Atty. John Womick, who was working on the investigation.

Fry said Feb. 7 the city investigation had been suspended.

Late last week Kennedy sold his home in Carbondale, but there has been no word on where Kennedy plans to live. He could not be reached for comment Monday.

Gus says he hopes the only snow job Carbondale gets this year is from the weather.
President Carter vowed Monday that the amount of money appropriated for the projects is "grazed over what may really be spent.

Thompson: Fiscal plans vital

State Senate remains undecided

Northern California faces power blackouts

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Killer of five takes own life as police prepare capture

One survives, four slain by gun shots in Indiana trailer

Dougherty said the house "fulfills the role of being a public place or a center." "I think that the number of people who have visited there almost puts it in that category," he said.

Dougherty, who approved the work, said the University House has "never been fully completed.

Calling the work on the house a "process of catch-up," Dougherty said the University is "trying to finish off the little things that have not been done previously.

"What we are doing are things that should and needed have been done a long time ago," Dougherty said.

Dougherty added that the house is not expected the President to live in a house that isn't appropriately furnished or decorated.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

"We are doing are things that should and needed have been done a long time ago," Dougherty said.

Dougherty added that the house is not expected the President to live in a house that isn't appropriately furnished or decorated.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.

Cape Girardeau County jail escapees sought

Jackson, Mo. (AP) Four fugitives from the Cape Girardeau County jail here remained at large Monday in spite of a widespread manhunt in clade surrounding a five-mile radius, authorities said.

Police and they had turned up no leads on the men who escaped after one of them overpowered a guard and stole his gun.

Sought were James Andrews, 23, of Cape Girardeau; Roscoe Pittman, 27, and R. V. Price, 23, both of Chicago, and Donald Buie of Dexter, Mo.

Sheriff James Doe said 50 men and two Missouri Highway Patrol planes were involved in the search for the escapees. Jackson is about 110 miles south of St. Louis.
Lead poisons, kills 100 geese at Crab Orchard

By Sue Greene

Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

About one hundred geese died from lead poisoning at Crab Orchard Wildlife Refuge this winter, Jerry Updike, assistant refuge manager, said Monday.

The lead probably came from hunters who killed the geese, the silver ingots in water which had been contaminated by the lead, Updike said.

The geese could have picked up the lead anywhere between their summer home on Hudson Bay in Canada and Southern Illinois.

"This is a quite unusual situation. The cold weather lowered their resistance to the lead. I don't think the amount of lead is any higher than usual this year," said Updike.

Updike said the warm weather would probably wash the lead away. "They will be able to find more accessible feeding areas and fresher water from melting snow," he said.

The carcasses of the dead birds were sent to the U.S. and Wildlife Service in Madison, Wis. to confirm lead poisoning as the cause of death.

About 250,000 geese are expected to be at the refuge in December but now there are only about 25,000, Updike said. He said the geese had gone farther south to escape the hard winter.

About 100 geese have died of apparent lead poisoning in Southern Illinois. About 10,000 were found dead in a Wildlife Refuge near Cairo and another thousand were found at the Illinois-Wisconsin border.

"There have been cases where we've found dead geese with corn in their gizzards but the birds had died of starvation with no lead poisoning," Updike said.

Next year hunters in some areas of the county will have to use steel ammunition. Updike said, with recent federal legislation, Updike said. This law means lead poisoning in birds and other animals.

The steel shot can pass through the digestive system of wildlife without poisoning them, he said.
Cough, wheeze. GASp

Consider non-smokers’ plight

A Carbondale-based Group Against Smoking in Public (GASP) is petitioning to create an ordinance requiring restaurants to separate smokers from non-smokers. A spokesman for GASP was quoted in a Jan. 25 Daily Egyptian story as saying that GASP is researching the effects of cigarette smoke on the sense of taste of exposed non-smokers. The study is probably designed to give evidence to the need for the ordinance. The proposal is good. But not good enough.

Organizations like GASP have fought for and won legislation outlawing smoking in public buildings altogether. Violators are fined. These laws are needed not only in Carbondale, but nationally as well. Such laws might provide a stepping stone to prohibition laws like those imposed on certain dyes, sweeteners and teas. These products have been taken off the market because of their possible harmful effects. Whereas tobacco, which beyond doubt causes cancer, has remained available to anyone capable of putting coins into a machine. Tobacco industry lobbyists are responsible for the costly air non-smokers are subjected to when a smoker carelessly blows a puff in the face of a non-smoker.

GASP, in its way, is a lobby for the people of Carbondale. If enough people show concern, if concerned people demand laws restricting the tobacco industry, then people can move elected officials to make laws protecting the rights of non-smokers.

Smokers, who do not intend to harm non-smokers, may become upset and wonder what rights have been violated—what non-smokers should be concerned with. Simply, non-smokers have the right to life without threat of exposure to cancer-producing cigarette smoke. Non-smokers have the right to the liberty of movement without fear of having someone else’s foibles, self-destructive habit inflicted on their health. Non-smokers have the right to pursue happiness in theaters, restaurants, clubs or public transportation without smoke burning their eyes, ruining their taste, interrupting their concentration, or just plain making their clothes stink. Non-smokers must be concerned about their lungs and the well-being of their children.

Non-smokers must help GASP help non-smokers. GASP, and the organizations like it, should, in turn, fight locally for strict laws against smoking and nationally, for laws restricting the tobacco industry. However, this is not to say that smokers should not be treated as criminals. The real criminals are the tobacco industry and its lobbyists. Smokers are caught in the middle. They should, at least, be considered of the plight of non-smokers.

—Ken Kuehl, Junior, Journalism

Editorials

Carter favors pot law changes; are they coming?

Pot decriminalization on the national level? Why not? For years this subject has generated pros and cons. But the pros have never exceeded the cons.

Back in 1977, George McGovern used it as a presidential election issue to attract the young "Big Jim" Thompson refused to consider such a thing and was recently elected governor.

So why should it be any different now? Because we have a new and liberated president named Jimmy Carter. Or so says Keith Stroup, Director of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML). "For the first time in history we have a president who favors decriminalization," Stroup said.

Seven states have reduced criminal penalties for marijuana offenses. California has reduced possession penalties for not more than one ounce to a maximum fine of $100. California’s results deserve to be noted. According to the California Office of Narcotics and Drug Abuse, the first year of the decriminalization law netted California the following results: criminal marijuana offenses decreased by 47 per cent. California saved $25 million in law enforcement and prosecution costs and hard drug traffic has been eased by five per cent.

Figures that have increased: a 50 per cent increase of arrested heroin users and a 46 per cent increase in arrests for driving while under the influence of a drug. The heroin and drugged driving arrests have increased because California’s laws are now more available to pursue major drug problems.

But then there is the other side of the coin. Some say it is dangerous to use one’s body. And cigarette smoke plays a major part in preserving the belief of marijuana as a sinister weed.

Inject a rat with THC, marijuana’s intoxicating ingredient, and watch the harmful effects. What is good for a rat is also good for humans as some say.

In a recent study by Army specialists, adolescent rats were injected with THC, smaller lesions resulted in the adult rats.

A man would not start smoking marijuana at a rate of ten per day for many years in order to equal the dosage the experiments used with the rats. Likewise, do seven-year-olds do you know that smoke ten joints a day?

Injecting a rat long as there are serious doubts as to the superiority of humans to rats, national decriminalization laws will remain a passing thought.

It will remain a debate question until someone decides to answer it. Well, Jimmy?

—Chris DeSalvo, D.E. Staffer

DOONESBURY

by Garry Trudeau

Page 4 Daily Egyptian, February 15, 1977
By James J. Kilpatrick

Downstairs in the exhibit hall was a model of the space shuttle. Up one flight was a seminar in space exploration. In another room they were talking of the future of supersonic passenger flight at speeds beyond 3,000 miles per hour. And where was the largest audience that morning? It was Sitting attentively in the Virginia State of the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington, D.C., listening to panelists discuss the future of the blimp.

The blimp? Well, not exactly. The panel discussion dealt generally with lighter-than-air transportation—with the new generation of airships. Members of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, ordinarily concerned with flight at high speed and fantastic altitude, this morning were absorbed in the status of a vehicle meant to fly at maybe 95 miles per hour, half a mile up.

The status is quo. Over the past 18 months, since I first reported on the airship, nothing very newsworthy has occurred. No one has put one of the new airships into commercial operation, the Pentagon has yet to place a firm order, the Congress has not even been asked to fund a few test flights during this past night when a lawyer in Savannah may catch an early-morning blimp to downtown Atlanta.

But under the apparently uneventful surface, a good deal of necessary work has been going on. It is only a matter of time—time and money—before airships are put to both civilian and military use. Their manifest advantages are becoming evident on every occasion that seen the Arabs frown or Ralph Nader blow his nose.

This is because the airship as Rear Admiral Carl J. Seiberlich observed, begins with two characteristics that no conventional aircraft can match. The airship consumes very little energy, and it makes very little noise. But lighter-than-air vehicles have other advantages also.

Among the AIAA panelists was Ralph R. Huston, director of airship research for the Goodyear Aerospace Corporation. He reported on a two-year study undertaken for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Huston’s task was to take a long, slow, critical look at airships: Are the new designs technically feasible? In terms of a benefit-to-cost ratio, are the LTAs a wise investment? What are the things that can be done to improve them?

The NASA study, Huston said, makes it clear that the new designs are technically feasible. Future airships will rely on helium for lift, but they will have supplementary power from rotors that will be used in take-off and landing. The technology of airframe construction has made significant advances since the days of the Graf Zeppelin and the Hindenberg. Yes, the ships can be built.

Questions of economic feasibility remain under study. The answers depend upon the uses to which an airship would be put. For military and naval uses, the benefits seem evident. There is much to be said for a craft that could silently transport 75 tons of hardware to a jungle clearing. Anti-submarine officers would love to have a ship that could hover for ten days at sea. Civilian uses appear as promising. A firm in Melbourne, Fl., Lightspeed, Inc., is eagerly soliciting orders for a 278-foot model that would fly at 90 knots at a cruise altitude of 3,000 feet. The airship, in different configurations, could haul from 30 to 50 passengers, it could transport 4,200 cubic feet of cargo. For aerial photography, safety patrols, air-sea rescue missions, scientific expeditions or for heavy lifting as an aerial crane, this buoyant sausage could outperform any helicopter ever built.

The studies continue. The AIAA panelists are not amateurs, not mere blimp buffs. They are primarily scientists and engineers, but they are visionaries also. Their vision, pedestrian as it may appear, goes to an airship that would fly “low and slow” and be silent as a cloud, transporting passengers and cargoes where railways and trucks and jets cannot go. In another 18 months, more dramatic developments may occur.

---

By Elizabeth Boscia

Next--political pundits let to 1980

Politics is an institution as much a part of our daily diet as juice, eggs and coffee. Some discuss the political climate amid an air of temper, others in a not-so-sober atmosphere. For those who enjoy the lighter side of things, late night variety shows often offer an escape to amuse even the hardest political skeptics. For many it is more than a conversation piece. For some it is a downright pastime.

Jimmy Carter is in the White House. His so-called "Honeymoon with the Presidency" is over, and the new President from Georgia is in full swing in Washington. Election 1976 was just three and one-half months ago. 1980 seems so far away. Who cares about who is eying the next election? One who would be surprised if enough voters were soliciting his war won by the Oval Office, political observers are asking: "Who's next?"

The election of Carter was squelched by Gerald Ford, analysts were raising their eyebrows to Illinois’ governor-elect James Thompson. Word has it that even 1978 Republican hopeful, Ronald Reagan is eying 1980. Before long, they say, Gerald Ford will unofficially be back on the campaign trail.

Once you get the itch, there’s no stopping it. In 1968, Richard Nixon lost one of the closest presidential races in history. Two years later, he again tasted defeat in the California gubernatorial race. It was then, that a brooding Nixon told the nation: "The press won't have Richard Nixon to kick around anymore." Six years later he was elected President of the United States. Four years later he was reelected. (Nixon, however, may be an exception to the rule, even if he is tricky, I hardly think he will attempt a remedy.)

"They say it’s in the blood ... In a recent issue of People Magazine, the "On the Move" section ran an article John D. Rockefeller IV Takes Over West Virginia: Today, Governor, Tomorrow.

"The Rockefeller and Percys agreed that young Jay, even if he is a Democrat, is the white hope of the clan. "Jay is a great guy," bubbled Rocky. "I think he will be great for the state and even the country." The excerpt continues—"Is the fadding Rockefeller endorsing the rising Rockefeller father?

The 1972 "What’s My Line?" show with Georgia Governor Jimmy (who) Carter is history. In the summer of 1974, during an informal family discussion at our dinner table, my older brother asked the others, "Who knows who Jimmy Carter is?"

The unanimous answer was a question in return: "Who is Jimmy Carter?" To which my brother replied—"Watch this guy from Georgia in the Democratic primaries next year." We all laughed, with rebukeds of "no, no, watch Kennedy or Jackson." (Poor guess work.)

The rise of Jimmy Carter has added a whole new angle to a very old game—political speculation. And his candidacy and subsequent victory over the old political establishment, almost anyone can become President, and you can never stop guessing.

The South got its big chance and rose again. The peanut industry is enjoying a new-found recognition. Who knows—Maybe the next President of the United States will be an unknown soybean farmer from some obscure town in Southern Illinois. It’s never too early to start guessing.
Megan: a tiny blonde dynamo

By Melissa Mallarte
Entertainment Editor

SGAC explored the alien and the mundane to the listener's surprise. While her music is often described as folk, she tends to use theskirts of folk for guitar. While her voice is not as strong as her guitar, she still manages to hold the audience.

The comparison to Collins fits on a folk song like "River of Wishes" and the influence of Mitchell is heard on the vocal dynamics of "Today I Threw the Roses Away." Country tunes make her voice unique. She plays guitar... but a surprising feature of her performance is her humorous, self-deprecating sense of humor. Her voice is sometimes difficult to take seriously. In between numbers, she shakes her thick blonde locks and playfully jokes with the audience. "I feel like Farrah Fawcett. Her performance took on the confidence of a movie star..." she said. "I'm a Fighter not a Fool," helped display a genuine talent. She explained before she met her band, Mada Rue, she was still writing folk songs for guitar, while Mada Rue was "just jazz. They're in... and I'm not."

TUES FEB 15
FORBIDDEN PLANET

F.M. Wright's Mix 70s Sci-Fi classic is again available in wide screen brilliance. The most elaborate of the interstellar productions before Kubrick revolutionized the genre with 2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY. Walter Pidgeon, Leslie Nielsen and Anne Francis star but Robby the Robot steals the show. Some interesting use of electronic music to embellish the planetary settings. 1960-

7:00 9:00
TODAY AT: 6:30, 9:00

Megan McDonough and her guitar performed to crowds at Student Center Ballrooms A, B, C, and D Saturday night. (Staff photo by Marc Galassini)

Southern Players will hold auditions for production of 'The Emperor Jones.'

Auditions for the Southern Player's production of Roger O'Neill's 'The Emperor Jones' will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 and 17 in the Theatre Lounge, room 1002 of the Communications Building.

The Emperor Jones, a drama about the heritage of black Americans, has roles for four black males, two black females, and one white male.

Performances of the production are scheduled for May 5, 6 and 7 in the Laboratory Theatre. The play is being directed by Rodney Highfield-Beckum, masters degree candidate in directing. Auditions are open to everyone in the Carbondale community.

A Review

The comparison to Collins fits on a folk song like "River of Wishes" and the influence of Mitchell is heard on the vocal dynamics of "Today I Threw the Roses Away." Country tunes make her voice unique. She plays guitar... but a surprising feature of her performance is her humorous, self-deprecating sense of humor. Her voice is sometimes difficult to take seriously. In between numbers, she shakes her thick blonde locks and playfully jokes with the audience. "I feel like Farrah Fawcett. Her performance took on the confidence of a movie star..." she said. "I'm a Fighter not a Fool," helped display a genuine talent. She explained before she met her band, Mada Rue, she was still writing folk songs for guitar, while Mada Rue was "just jazz. They're in... and I'm not."

The comparison to Collins fits on a folk song like "River of Wishes" and the influence of Mitchell is heard on the vocal dynamics of "Today I Threw the Roses Away." Country tunes make her voice unique. She plays guitar... but a surprising feature of her performance is her humorous, self-deprecating sense of humor. Her voice is sometimes difficult to take seriously. In between numbers, she shakes her thick blonde locks and playfully jokes with the audience. "I feel like Farrah Fawcett. Her performance took on the confidence of a movie star..." she said. "I'm a Fighter not a Fool," helped display a genuine talent. She explained before she met her band, Mada Rue, she was still writing folk songs for guitar, while Mada Rue was "just jazz. They're in... and I'm not."

The comparison to Collins fits on a folk song like "River of Wishes" and the influence of Mitchell is heard on the vocal dynamics of "Today I Threw the Roses Away." Country tunes make her voice unique. She plays guitar... but a surprising feature of her performance is her humorous, self-deprecating sense of humor. Her voice is sometimes difficult to take seriously. In between numbers, she shakes her thick blonde locks and playfully jokes with the audience. "I feel like Farrah Fawcett. Her performance took on the confidence of a movie star..." she said. "I'm a Fighter not a Fool," helped display a genuine talent. She explained before she met her band, Mada Rue, she was still writing folk songs for guitar, while Mada Rue was "just jazz. They're in... and I'm not."
Filmmaker Mayles credits techniques for natural effect of "direct cinema" genre

By Clark Miller

It would be misleading to call Albert and David Maysles documentary filmmakers. The successful moments of their films combine the authenticity of documentaries with the expressiveness of highly structured and directed films.

What is presented, as Albert Maysles told a Student Center audience Sunday night, "is life itself, and you can't beat that."

David Maysles, reporter, soundman, and Albert Maysles' cameraman, set up their own film camera in 1961 and have produced over a dozen films, most of them documentaries about his and Albert's lives.

At Maysles talked to a large audience Sunday night after a screening of the Maysles brother's latest film, "Grey Gardens," at the Student Center Auditorium.

"Grey Gardens" is a film about a madman, and about a madman's life together for natural effect. The audience could hear the madman himself, "The real life, the real people," in the documentary. It may have been the only time a madman told his life story to an audience.

The film is, among other things, "a test of one's own mental health. By our presence we were setting up an atmosphere of trust and allowing themselves to be all the more themselves.

Small, hand held cameras and undoctrinizing techniques are used by The Maysles to record as naturally as possible. In direct cinema," as the Maysles prefer it, the viewpoint of the filmmaker is intentionally subordinated so that the independent, internal structure of the events he is filming can surface.

The audience confidence in the authenticity of the material is gained by keeping the camera rolling and by keeping the viewer in the material in editing at a minimum.

The effects the Maysles brothers have accomplished through spontaneity and conscious lack of directing are remarkable. They more than compensate for the rough edges - the rare self-conscious glances into the camera, an occasional microphone or light meter putting into the side of the frame.

In "Saalam," one film in a retrospective showing of the Maysles' work over the weekend, some Bombay slummen are followed door to door and into their hotel rooms in New York and Florida. The desperation and emptiness of their sales pitches, of their careers and the lives of the people they sell to all come together in a shot of Paul's silent stare out a restaurant window.

Maysles, who has a degree in psychology, said there are many important subjects that have never been filmed honestly and directly.

He has already dismantled subjects, as diverse as the Rolling Stones in "Gimme Shelter," 200,000 extras hum across a valley by an artist in Colorado in "Christen's Valley Curtain," and, in the first film he made, life inside Soviet mental hospitals.

At Maysles will screen several films and discuss independent filmmaking in a public workshop from 10 a.m. to noon Tuesday in Communications Building, Room 118.

Daily Egyptian Want Ads

Make Great Sales?

Call 536-3311 to place your ad.

BOOBY'S

406 S. Illinois Street

1201

15 oz. PITCHERS.....1.50

LITE BOTTLES.......40¢

HEINEKEN BOTTLES, 80¢

Pint Bottles of Paul Masson Wines

burgundy, chablis, rose' ........ 1.75

Good Tues., 2-15

THRU Mon., 2-21

25¢ OFF

TUESDAY

"Short" Drafts 10 oz.

101 W. Main

Hamme or Buech

"Quarter Nite"

Football

All Night Long

Bumper Pool

7 p.m. - 2 a.m.

Happy Hour

1-7 p.m.

Mon.-Fri.

SUBMARINE SANDWICHES

HAPPY HOUR 2-8PM EVERYDAY

12oz. BUD DRAFT...30¢

60oz. PITCHERS.....1.50

LITE BOTTLES.......40¢

HEINEKEN BOTTLES, 80¢

Pint Bottles of Paul Masson Wines

burgundy, chablis, rose' ........ 1.75

406 s. illinois street

Carbondale, Illinois

delivery 549 3366

25¢ OFF

This Coupon Worth Twenty-Five Cents

Toward Purchase of Any Sandwich at

BOOBY'S

ONLY ONE COUPON PER ORDER

DOLLARS GALORE-

BUT NOT FOR EICS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two women were recently up to their elbows in dollars when they were assigned $1 billion on one dollar bills at Security Bank here.

After counting the bills, the women then weighed and baled them. The assignment took six days, reports a representative of Western Temporary Services Inc.
The American Tap
Relax and enjoy
The New 8 ft. TV Screen
TONIGHT'S SPECIAL
Scotch and Water 60¢

Blum's Post Inventory Sale!
All Winter Merchandise
50% OFF or More!

This includes:
* Jackets  * Leather Coats  * Sweaters
* Toppers  * Blouses  * Jeans
* Slacks  * Evening Wear (Priced Even Less)
and a wide selection of Fashion Jewelry, Scarves, Belts & Knitwear

Major Charges Accepted
'Where the accent is always on you'
901 S. Illinois Ave
Convenient Lay-A-Way

SAY HELLO TO HARDEE'S
BIG ROAST BEEF SANDWICH SPECIAL

Buy One Get One FREE

Learn 'n Tender slices of roast beef heaped on a toasted sesame seed bun...talk about delicious!
If you like roast beef hot 'n juicy, sliced thin and heaped high......Say Hello to Hardee's! It's Roasted just right......juicy with every bite. For extras...... dress it up at our "any way you like it" fixin' counter with one of Hardee's special recipe sauces. P.S. We invite you to compare it with any other!

Say Hello to Savings you can Sink your tooth into.

Say the word and Hardee's will make you a big roast beef sandwich
the very next day.

105 South Fifth Street
Murphysboro, IL

The Carbondale Chapter of Sigma XI, the Scientific Research Society of North America presents a Public Luncheon with guest speaker
Dr. Roy Hertz
Research Professor, George Washington Medical Center, Washington, D.C.

Topic: "Tumors of Pregnancy"
Thursday
Feb. 24, 1977
Noon
Mississippi Room
(Student Center)

Please remit check for $3.00 per person, payable to Sigma XI, and return to Harold Kaplan, treasurer, Medical School, Life Science I, by Feb. 16 at the latest.
Activities

Carbondale Federation of University Teachers Meeting: 4 p.m. to 5 p.m., Student Center Ballroom.

Agriculture Economics Club Meeting: 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., Student Center, Third Floor, South Area.

SGAC Film "Forbidden Planet" 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., Student Center Auditorium.

Free School-Knitting: 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., Student Center, Missouri Room.

Free School Male and Female Language: 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., Student Center, French Room.

Free School Sign Language: 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Student Center, Ohio Room.

Free School-Macrame: 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., Student Center, Fourth Floor.

Women's Theological Workshops, "Expanding Our Language About God," 9 p.m., Black Community House, 811 S. Illinois.

Christian Brothers' Meeting: 9 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., Home Economics Lounge.

Student International Meditation Society Meeting: noon to 3 p.m., Student Center Activity Room, Room A.

Alpha Rho Psi meeting, 7:15 p.m. to 10 p.m., General Classrooms 10B.

Christians Unlimited Meeting, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., Student Center, Troy Room.

Alpha Gamma Rho Meeting, 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., Agriculture Science Lounge.

Triangle Fraternity Meeting, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., Philosophy Hall.

SGAC Lecture Committee, Weights Committee, and Activity Committee: 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., Student Center Activity Room, Room B.

Wednesday, February 7, 1977 . Page 9

COME TO PAPA'S

MONDAY SPECIAL

RAVIOLE AND SALAD ONLY $2.25

(ALL YOU CAN EAT)

Enjoy all you can eat ravioli covered with Papa's own special sauce. A delicious meal topped off with a great salad. Let Papa show you how we have built a reputation for fast and friendly service. Taste advantage of this special price - hurry in while Papa's open today.

WEDNESDAY SPECIAL

SPAGHETTI AND SALAD $2.25

(ALL YOU CAN EAT)

All the spaghetti and salad you can eat - covered with Papa's own special meat sauce. This great meal is specially prepared by Papa making the spaghetti dinner for Papa's a unique and enjoyable experience. Take advantage of this special price - hurry in while Papa's open today.

FRIDAY SPECIAL

FISH, CHIPS AND SALAD $2.00

Today's the day to come to Papa's and enjoy this knockout Cod, chips and salad. Great food and a great price is what keeps people coming back to Papa's. Come in today and say, "Hello!"

SUNDAY SPECIAL

SPAGHETTI AND SALAD $2.25

(ALL YOU CAN EAT)

All the spaghetti and salad you can eat - covered with Papa's own special meat sauce. This great meal is specially prepared by Papa making the spaghetti dinner for Papa's a unique and enjoyable experience. Take advantage of this special price - hurry in while Papa's open today.

SERVING SPECIALS FROM 11 AM TO 9 PM

HAPPY HOUR: DAILY 2 PM TO 6 PM

30¢ DRAFT BEER WINEs:

½ LITER $1.45
FULL LITER $2.65

Papa C

204 WEST COLLEGE
CARBONDALE 549-7242

Dedaj Rezvani, Ac. Brc.
Teacher of Amada Marga
Meditations will conduct a lecture discussion

Today, 7:30 p.m.
Student Center, Activities Room A

Wednesday, 7:00 p.m.
Wesley Foundation Chapel
(across from McDonald's)

Topic: The Importance of Meditation and Social Change"

He will be available for private lessons.
For information: 509-0642

Daily Egyptian, February 15, 1977, Page 9

Notice(1)

Public Notice is hereby given that on January 23, A.D. 1977, a certificate was issued to the following: The County Clerk of Jackson County, Illinois, bearing the names and place of issue of the persons having, conducting and transacting the business known as Alpha-O-Productions, located at 786 S. Forman, Carbondale, 11, 62901, Daniel W. Billigen, 22nd Day of January, A.D. 1977.

Robert B. Marell, County Clerk

Notice(2)

The following programs are scheduled for Tuesday on WSIU-TV, channel 6 and WUIS-TV, channel 47:

8:15 a.m. — The Morning Report, 8:30 a.m. — Instructional Programming, 10 a.m. — The Electric Company, 11:30 a.m. — The Real People, 12:30 p.m. — The Afternoon Report, 12:30 p.m. — Instructional Programming, 1:30 p.m. — The Electric Company, 1:50 p.m. — The World of the Neighborhood, 2:30 p.m. — Witness, 3:30 p.m. — The Evacuating Report, 3:30 p.m. — The Electric Company, 4:30 p.m. — The Real People, 4:30 p.m. — The World of the Neighborhood, 5:30 p.m. — The Real People, 6:30 p.m. — The World of the Neighborhood, 7:30 p.m. — National Geographic Special, "The New Indus." 8 p.m. — Search of the Real People, 8:30 p.m. — American Indian Artists, 9 p.m. — Two Sheep and a Lion, 9 p.m. — Portrait of Earth.

The following programs are scheduled for Tuesday on WSIU-FM, channel 92.9, 6 a.m. — Today's the Day, 9 a.m. — A Make Break, 11 a.m. — The Real People, 11:30 a.m. — Open Streets, 12:30 p.m. — Radio Reader, 12:30 p.m. — WSIU News, 2 p.m. — Afternoon Concert, 4 p.m. — All Things Considered, 5:30 p.m. — Music in the Air, 5:30 p.m. — WSIU News, 7 p.m. — Options in Education, 8 p.m. — New York Philharmonic Orchestra, 9 p.m. — The Podium, 10:30 p.m. — WSIU News, 11 p.m. — Nightwatch, 11 p.m. — WSIU News, 12:01 a.m. — Nightwatch, 12:01 a.m. — WSIU News, 12:02 a.m. — Nightwatch, 12:02 a.m. — WSIU News, 12:03 a.m. — Nightwatch.

Notice(3)

Notice(4)
Reports call frozen yogurt hot item; product featured by new city store

By Dave Black

When yogurt started, according to reports, it's one of the hottest new products in the food business. It has the look and texture of soft ice cream but isn't as sweet. Although usually served in cans, frozen yogurt can be used to make sundaes, shakes, bars, sandwiches and pies. One company even advertises frozen yogurt as an ice cream alternative.

Although most people are attracted by its taste, frozen yogurt also has high sugar, less butterfat and one-third the calories of ice cream.

Yogurt appeals to younger, more knowledgeable people. They know how good is good for them. They can eat yogurt without having a guilty conscience. Casper Yost, owner of the newly-opened Donna Yogurt Shop in Carbondale, said.

To make the frozen product, regular flavored yogurt is mixed with stabilizers in a soft ice cream mix. The stabilizers give frozen yogurt its attractive texture.

Yost, who owns two health food stores in St. Louis, decided to open his yogurt store in Carbondale after hearing about the success of a similar store in Champaign.

"I figured all the people at the University of Illinois liked it, then why shouldn't the people at SIU like it," Yost said. The store, located in the Campus Shopping Center, is managed by Yost's wife, John, an SIU junior in landscape design.

Yost has been handing out free samples of frozen yogurt and student reaction seems to be favorable.

"They're excellent," said first time taster Jim Galli, a sophomore in engineering.

"I'm not a big ice cream fan, not as sweet," said Steve Herber, a graduate student in zoology.

"I think much better than regular yogurt," said Dan Perri, a senior in anthropology, "I like the texture."

Yost does a lot of taste-testing in downtown St. Louis and says he has found frozen yogurt has an 85 to 90 per cent response rate compared to about 35 per cent for regular yogurt.

"Frozen yogurt will overcome the competition," Yost said. "I don't like yogurt. We've had so many people come in on us and say, 'I don't like yogurt but I sure like that.'"

In the past, Yost said, yogurt has been handicapped by its image as a strange European food and its tart taste.

"The basic problem was that yogurt couldn't get shelf space in supermarkets. It could only sell through smaller specialty shops," Yost said.

The addition of flavored yogurt helped broaden the appeal of yogurt, Yost said, but not enough to achieve mass popularity.

The Transcendental Meditation Program

Succes Comes More Easily for Some People

A person using full potential of brain and mind and living at harmonies with all the laws of nature will be successful in his work.

Today - 12, 1, 2 p.m.
Student Center Activities Room A
Wednesday - 7-9 p.m.
Morris Library Aud.

FREE SCHOOL HAS BEGUN! TRY ONE OF THESE TUESDAY CLASSES

INTERNATIONAL
FOLKDANCE 8-9:30
Trueblood Hall Snack Bar
MACRAME' 7-8 Ohio Room
SYNTHESIZER THEORY 7-8 Activity Room C
ELEMENTARY GREEK 7:30-8 Saline Room
MALE-FEMALE LANGUAGE 7-8:30 Frozent Room

MAGIC & ILLUSION 7-8 Ohio Room
KNITTING 7-8 Missouri Room
SIGN LANGUAGE 7:30-9:00 Sangamon Room
MARTIAL ARTS WORKOUTS Daily 12 noon Daily Concourse Arena

BOOKSTORE

170 S. Illinois Corbonado

710 S. Illinois
Carbondale

Merlins
featuring

Ladies Night
40¢ creme drinks

And... Banana Banshee Chugging Contest with a $20 cash prize with a special T-Shirt Giveaway!
STOP GAMBLING ON YOUR FUTURE!

Now is the time to:

✓ Protect job security
✓ Improve salaries
✓ Restore faculty governance
✓ Insure binding grievance procedures
✓ Protect professional non-teaching staff

VOTE YES for

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

Watch your mailbox for

February 11-18

the Faculty Senate Referendum

CARBONDALE FEDERATION UNIVERSITY TEACHERS
Do you want to drop out of school?

By Sue Greene
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

If you are thinking about quitting school, there are deadlines to think about.

The last day to withdraw without without receiving a grade is Friday. The last day to withdraw with a passing grade for withdrawal is Student Life. The last day to withdraw and receive a refund is April 1. The last day to withdraw without any circumstances is April 2.

Many students just stop going to classes and fail to go through the required steps said Hunter Ballanden, graduate student in higher education, working in the Student Life office.

To withdraw, students should go to the Student Life Office. Brown Barracks T-44 with their fee statement. There a questionnaire must be filled out and then the Student Life Office processes the withdrawal.

"Many student don’t read the notices in their scheduling books about the deadlines," Ballanden said.

Day said students withdrawing after Feb. 18 would receive WPs. withdrawal with a passing grade or W/ withdrawal with a failing grade, depending on how they were doing in those courses.

An ABS, an unenrolled withdrawal, is assigned after students stop attending classes but don’t officially withdraw.

W/ and ABS are averaged into the grade point as failing grades.

For administratively unusual circumstances withdrawals are back dated. "If there’s some reason a student can’t physically make it in to Student Life before a deadline," Day said. "A back dating of the withdrawal can be considered. Day listed reasons like hospitalization, accidents and death in the family or instances where backdating might be considered.

Student dies, apparent suicide

An SIU senior was killed early Sunday morning when he apparently shot himself in the head at his home in De Soto. De Soto police said Monday.

Michael R. Jacobs, 24, a senior in English, was found by his girlfriend about 2:10 a.m. Sunday, police said. He was shot in the mouth by a .38 gauge shotgun, police said. According to the Jackson County Sheriff’s Department, Jacobs and his girlfriend had an argument. The woman left for a short time and returned to discover the body, a sheriff’s spokesman said.

Jacobs, a 1976 St. Louis University senior, died instantly, police said. No note was found at the scene and an autopsy is pending, according to Jackson County Coroner John Fagelada.

Visitations will be Tuesday at the Gesell Dames and Sons Funeral Home in Joliet. Mr. Jacobs will be buried in the Woodlawn memorial Park, also in Joliet.

Blood donor

David Kenney, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation and former political science professor, demonstrates the method used in donating blood. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Student Center Ballroom B from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday. Assisting Kenney is Mary Jones. (Staff photo by James Ensign.)

UNBELIEVABLE
But true . . . Our steak prices that is

Rib Steak $2.95
Includes tossed salad, baked potato, roll and butter
Filet $3.95
Top Sirloin $3.95
Complete Dinner and Sandwich Menu
In the Steakhouse and Jug 4-10 p.m.

LBJ Steakhouse
Phone 457-2985
119 N. Washington

WOMEN'S

11

FINE FOOD

- Steaks
- Fish
- Spaghetti
- Sandwiches

TUES.
Cocktail Day-Night
Pub Specials 60c

WED.
Wine Day-Night
Glass 50c

THURS.
Beer Day-Night
up to 8 p.m.
Glass 50c
Pitcher 2.50

HOURS:
Sun. 4 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.
Mon.-Thurs. 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.
Fri.-Sat. 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 a.m.
Firm caters to sleepy eaters

By Sue Gage
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Tea for Two, a new catering business in Carbondale, offers an unusual service, a four-course breakfast in bed.

Tea for Two is owned by two UI students. Realized Zelzer and Morgan Smith opened the business that brings breakfast to your own home.

"We don't have the capital to open a restaurant," Zelzer said. "So we decided to try a catering firm." The meal consists of organic foods. Zelzer said. "All of our foods are fresh and contain no additives or food coloring."

"We consider this a unique service for those looking for something different," Zelzer said. Zelzer majored in dance and cinema and photography. Morgan, in dance and theater. "We consider cooking another one of our art forms," Zelzer said.

"We don't have the capital to open a restaurant," Zelzer said. "So we decided to try a catering firm." The meal consists of organic foods. Zelzer said. "All of our foods are fresh and contain no additives or food coloring."

"We consider this a unique service for those looking for something different," Zelzer said. Zelzer majored in dance and cinema and photography. Morgan, in dance and theater. "We consider cooking another one of our art forms," Zelzer said.

The food is prepared the day of serving before. Zelzer said. Tea for Two requires a two-day advance reservation for all meals.

"It makes it so much easier." Zelzer said. "All you have to do is wake up and let us in.

Zelzer said customers' kitchens are used to warm the food and to make fresh coffee. The service focuses on weekend customers, but also caters to special occasions during the week.

Stereo equipment taken from Altgeld

More than $400 worth of stereo equipment was reported stolen from Altgeld Hall last week. University police said Monday.

Police said the theft of two turntables, an amplifier and a cassette deck occurred sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning. The value of the items was about $400, police said.

The equipment belonged to the School of Music. A secretary told police that a key was missing to the rooms where the items were last seen.

University police also reported a weekend accident near the Arena which caused an unknown amount of damage to about 75 feet of fence. Thomas E. Groot, 19, of Chicago, was traveling north on the access road to the Arena at 12:15 a.m. Saturday when his car skidded out of control on the curve. police said. The car hit the fence and struck the fence barricade. police said.

About $500 damage was done to the left side of the car, police said.

Private Party
Rooms Available

SPECIAL
Tuesday Night

Live Entertainment
featuring
Larry Phillips

The BENCH
across from M'boro courthouse
684-3740 887-9000

"I got the idea from a friend cooking at a restaurant in California. There the price ranges from $5 to $9 a bowl," she said.

"We hope to come up with a menu that is cheaper for students," Zelzer said.

The menu tends to revolve around different countries. Zelzer said. "We look at several original recipes and adapted them to our style of cooking. Most cuisine foods are high in fats and cholesterol. Tea for two tries to prepare the dish in a way to avoid this."

"Zelzer wants the business to remain small so time can be given to her other interests. "We see it growing in word of mouth for the most part," Zelzer said.

On Sale NOW!

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE
Student Center
536-3321
OPEN 8-5 Today

Come Early For Best Selection!
Limited Time - Limited Quantity

RAMADA INN

Featuring TEGA in the Lounge
Mon., Tue., Wed. 8 - 12 p.m.
Thurs., Fri., Sat. 9 - 1 p.m.
Cocktail Hour 4:30-7:30 Mon.-Fri.
2400 W. Main
Carbondale
Graduate School

Research office getting more money for projects from external funds

by Ann Sobelmann
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Graduate School offers several degrees

Graduate School offers several degrees

by Ann Sobelmann
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Graduate School offers 59 master's degrees, five specialists in education degree programs and 22 doctoral programs. In the summer 1974 and spring 1975 graduations, 440 men and 312 women graduated from the master's program and 118 men and 94 women graduated from the doctoral program. In the 1974-75 graduations, the number of males graduating from the master's program decreased by 47, while the number of females graduating increased by 11. In the doctoral program, male graduates increased by 11 and female graduates increased by 13.

As in the case of other colleges, the graduate school has a special appropriation budget, as other departments do, that goes to the graduate school for expenses. The dean and the three associate deans are the only employees of the graduate school, excluding the Office of Research and Projects, who are not civil service employees.

In the summer 1974 and spring 1975 graduations, 440 men and 312 women graduated from the master's program and 118 men and 94 women graduated from the doctoral program. In the 1974-75 graduations, the number of males graduating from the master's program decreased by 47, while the number of females graduating increased by 11. In the doctoral program, male graduates increased by 11 and female graduates increased by 13.

As in the case of other colleges, the graduate school has a special appropriation budget, as other departments do, that goes to the graduate school for expenses. The dean and the three associate deans are the only employees of the graduate school, excluding the Office of Research and Projects, who are not civil service employees.

The Graduate School has slowly gained new projects and programs for external funding. The reason, which is not explicitly stated, is that the school has been gaining more money from external sources. The total number of external grants and contracts totaling $1.5 million. In fiscal 1975, 137 research projects were funded with grants totaling $1.5 million. In fiscal 1976, 138 research grants were given, totaling $1.3 million.

The guidelines for the Human Subjects Committee already have been prepared and distributed, Guion said, and the committee had its first organizational meeting on Monday. The guidelines for the Human Subjects Committee already have been prepared and distributed, Guion said, and the committee had its first organizational meeting on Monday.

Immediately after the meeting, the graduate school will be stepping up its efforts to get more money for research. Larry Hawes, program developer, is one of the people who are trying to make things run a little smoother for those who are turning in research proposals. He helps people in faculty with sources of extramural research funds.

In all institutions of higher learning, the internal funds for research and for grants are set up. Hawes said, one goal of the faculty is to get the people interested in doing research.

While external funding for research at SIU is steadily increasing, the internal research funding dollars remain the same.

The Graduate School offers several degrees.
Ad campaign developed to 'sell' English

By Mike Ann Student Writer

The face and voice of Marilyn Richter, a junior in electronic technology, are the focal point of a campaign by the SIU School of Technical Careers to stress the importance of English proficiency.

There's just no chance to be a real success in any career if you can't read, write and communicate with other people," Richter says. As a poster and in a public service radio spot she was made with SIU sports caster Jack Buck.

The general decline in the ability of high school graduates to use language, especially in written form, has prompted the STC faculty to take action.

"Faced with the problem of convincing high school students that they need to learn to use the English language," Poster showing Richter in the electronics lab and quoting her feelings on communication have been sent to Illinois high schools. Reproductions are supplied to newspapers so that they may support the effort. Radio stations throughout the state are using the radio spot.

However, Richter is not just a figurehead for the campaign though. She realizes the importance of English in her studies.

"I've become a better reader," she said. "Before I took English, many times I'd sit in class and say anything because my grammar was so bad. Now I'm more self-conscious when talking with people."

"I really believe that the problem has been improved by her increased interest in English."

"I would like to go into occupational education and teach electronics," she said, "and you need the ability to make yourself clear and command the attention of your class." She said she works on her English lab when they ask if they could take some frames. She said, "I said all right, and then they set up the radio spot."

"The first time I did it I sounded like I was dead, and they told me to be more lively," she chuckled. "But after one more tape session and five attempts it came out pretty good!"

"Why was she chosen among all the STC students?"

"One of my instructors said that I was chosen because I was a girl and that other girls, or even guys, would see it and say that if she could do it, then I can too," she said.

Arden L. Pratt, dean of STC, said in a news release that he was interested in seeing the reaction to the idea of a student endorsing an educational need to other students.

"After all, endorsements sell everything from deodorant to toothpaste. Why not English?" Pratt said.

Richter agrees and believes that she has become more interested in English.

"English was always my worst subject and math was always my best," she said. "Many people in the electronic careers think that they don't need English—that it would be useless, but that is not true. You are adaptable to learn situations and more people if you can speak well."

Some 1,500 students are enrolled at STC in career preparation from mortuary science to commercial art.

The campaign for better English usage promotes STC and may bring more students into the program, but will it have an effect?""If nothing else, it will contribute to a awareness of the problem," Pratt said.

Richter believes that much of the problem stems from a lack of motivation. The campaign may supply the necessary motivation for some people.

"If you need to expand, to really get out and do something about it, she said.

Richter does have a complaint about the campaign, though. "The picture they used is really big and I look like I weigh 30 pounds more than I really do."

Now there are seven different kinds of GRADUATION at Mr. Natural's

(Also the best things in life are natural)

162 E. Jackson

144 Daily 13-4 Sun.

Would you miss this?

The wind in your face, the blue of trees, the sudden spray of snow that hangs suspended in the crisp, still air.

No, this isn't the day to stay home. Not for anything. Not even your personal comfort. So treat yourself to Tampax tampons. Internal protection that can't chafe or show; or feel bulky and awkward.

Tampax tampons are on a day like this you need protection, not distractions.

MAMA GINA'S

549-1621

$1.00 OFF!

ANY LARGE PIZZA

Must present coupon with purchase

DELIVERIES ONLY

(Good thru March 1, 1977)
Matmen drop first home meet, 24-9

By Joe Almassy
Daily Egyptians Sports Writer

SIU's wrestlers beat 24-9 to a more experienced Indiana State team Friday as only three Southern wrestlers placed was in the Saluki's first home meet of the season.

Freshman Pahl BSB (142 pounds) and seniors Fred Hofel (168 pounds) and Tim Maday (177 pounds) were SIU victors in the match.

The meet, which ended a string of 12 road matches, leaves SIU's record at 5-9. Indiana State is 8-5.

SIU started the meet by losing the first three matches as Andre Powell fell 1-2. Bill Ramsdell lost 7-4, and Jon Stacy was beaten 8-4.

SU's John Gross, 175, for the year, didn't wrestle at 118 pounds as anticipated because of a knee injury. SIU Coach Lon Gross said Gross has carried injuries in his knee, but he said he believes that Gross will wrestle again if knee problems are dealt with.

Pahl Hibbe pulled the upset of the meet by beating Tyler Campbell, 12 at 142 pounds. Hibbs raised his record to 10-10 with the win as Campbell fell to 8-7. Hibbe, displaying an aggressive style scored take downs in the match plus a near fall.

Initially, with Gross out, I figured we had won one of the first four matches to have a chance...

Long said. Unfortunately, things didn't go our way.
Men gymnasts lose two more, but Meade sees improvement

By Jeff Schaubert
Student Writer

The SIU men's gymnastics team dropped its fourth straight dual meet on Saturday afternoon at the Central Kentucky Invitational in Lexington, Ky. 3-20-97, 133. 3-20-97, 133.

Despite the loss, Saluki Coach Bill Meade was pleased with the team's performance.

"The kids worked pretty well," said the 28-year veteran. "Our freshmen did well today. Koloslay scored his first 9.0 on rings. Dyllon Schwindt went 9.6 on horse while Jim Tangesky came around on bars late in our meet."

Normally Meade would not be pleased watching his team's record fall to 5-4, but improvement, more than winning, was what he was looking for. The Salukis are currently ranked 23rd in the country.

"Two days ago our men's team scored 900 points against top-ranked Oklahoma, Obama 215-36-9.10. "We just had a meet, we couldn't get going," said Meade. "So the following meet, Meade called for a team meeting to "gamme the team into action."

"We had to find out why we weren't more competitive and conceding it was because we are operating short-handed Without Adams and Munet see accounting company is there more pressure on the other performers than we'd like to put on at this point."

So the Salukis went to Ames with the idea of competing, which they did, and improving their score by more than five points.

In the meantime however, Iowa State was recording the meet's highest score in the country this year, taking five of the six individual event titles in the process.

The Cyclones jumped off to a quick start with a 9.6 in the floor exercise to put on a parade. The Cyclones had six vaults score 9.2 or better with Mark Tripple recording the perfect 10.0. Davis got lost in the display with a 9.35, good enough for fourth.

Other top performances by Salukis gymnastics included a 9.3 for both Kim Wilkins and Kevin Mante on the high bar for a third place tie.

"Of all the teams we've met, Iowa State has to be the most solid overall," said Meade. "I'm impressed."

SUU now waits for warm-up for the NCAA regionals with three straight home meet's starting with Northern Illinois Saturday.

Saluki's NCAA contention rests on knee specialist

By Jeff Schaubert
Student Writer

The fate of Bill Meade's 9-3 SIU Salukis men's basketball team probably hinges on the advice of a knee specialist in Springfield.

Two of the Salukis' standout all-around performers, Pat Adams and Dan Mante, went to have their shaving knee checked out Monday.

For Mante, who has been out of action since early January after an operation to repair ligaments in his left knee, the hope is for a return to competition this weekend or two weeks earlier than expected.

For Adams, expired ten days ago attempting a double-over on the floor exercise in a meet against Indiana State, the hope is not as bright.

"He's not responding the way we had hoped," said Meade. "So in Springfield, he'll undergo an orthopedic to determine what's wrong with the knee."

If he needs repair, we hope it's the kind of thing that could wait until the season ends. Because without Adams, SIU will be a straight runner.

Even though Mante and Adams are just a freshman and a sophomore, they represent the backbone of SUU's team. It's easy to see why.

The Salukis perform 35 routines in a regular meet, in which counts towards the team score. Of these routines, only five are thrown by specialists, the remaining 10 by all-around men—that's more than three-fourths of the team score.

Before Mante was hurt, he had been the team's No. 1 all-around gymnast. At the time Adams came up hobbling, Meade said he was capable of scoring 53 points, a total which would've made him No. 1.

What would 53 point total meant for SIU against Iowa State Saturday? By inserting Adams usual 8.9, 9.0 on each event, the Sandusky would've scored at least 216 points, seven points better than the 219-1 total scored it turned in.

With Mante healthy, that score could easily go up a couple more points. With 218 the top point total this year by any team, it be evident, SUUU without Adams and Mante is a 210 or so team. SIU with both gymnasts is an NCAA contender.

Swimmers win 13 of 18 events, take Saluki Invitational by landslide

By Lee Fosberg
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

The Saluki Invitational was held last weekend. The closest team to SIU was second place Cincinnati, 191 points behind the Salukis.

Denis Roberts got the Salukis off on the right foot, winning the 100-yard backstroke, as he set a meet record in winning the event in 1:50.11. The time was 0.10 of a second faster than the previous SIU record.

Tied for second event, the 500-free, also set a meet record.

SIU's Tim Smith won the 200-yard breaststroke in a time of 2:10.17.

5. 23-77. 5. 22-77.

Packer came back in the 100-butterfly with just one more event to match his best time ever anda meet record time of 51.44. Mike Selden was also in a steady shape taking the 100-backstroke in a time of 52.36 and qualified for nationals in the event.

Jackie Stokely took fifth in the 100-breaststroke, but SIU was out to a 50 point lead by then. The SIU divers took three of the top four places in the one-meter event, with Gary Mastey first and Rick Theobold second.

SIU managed a second in the 800-free relay and entered five teams in the event.

Swenson opened the last day of the meet with a big win in the 100-yard breaststroke in a time of 1:10.17. Bryan Goddard won the 500-free, and Dave Boyd was kept behind in second place. It was one event that SIU didn't win at least one of the SIU's biggest events.

Dennis Fosberg is a weekly contributor to the Daily Egyptian and is an intern with the Chicago Tribune.
Women swimmers roll past Illinois, Lake Forest teams

By Lee Polking
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Mary Jane Sheets led the way as the women swimmers took both ends of a double dual meet in Champaign Saturday, beating University of Illinois, 75-59 and Lake Forest, 84-40.

Sheets set two team records as she was the 200 freestyle in a time of 1:59.59, breaking the old mark held by Anne Gutalch by nearly four seconds, and shattered her own record in the 50-butterfly by three seconds when she recorded a time of 21.96. She qualified for nationals in the fly.

Sheets' record in the free event is remarkable, because she had been the free leg of the winning 200 medley relay, which was the previous event, not leaving any time for rest.

In qualifying for nationals in the fly, Sheets was the first one on the team to do so. Diane Friedman came very close while winning the 50-breaststroke, and Mindy McCurdy was less than two-tenths away while grabbing second place in the 50-butterfly.

McCurdy, Friedman and Lynn Alkinson joined Sheets in winning the 200-medley relay, and their time of 1:56.64 was just a half second off nationals.

Friedman joined Sheets as triple winner. In addition to the medley relay and the 50-breaststroke, she took the one-meter diving event and took second in the 200-breast.

Nancy Schoenrock was both the 50 and backstroke race winner. Anne Gutalch took a second in the 100-free and freshmen Amy Wheel grabbed second in both the one and three meter diving events. Wheel surprised everyone in the three meter event, since she had not been on a three meter board before the meet.

Mary Paterson of Illinois won four events, taking the 100 individual medley, the 50-yard butterfly, the 100-free and was part of the winning 200-free relay. SU with Schoenrock, McCurdy, Gutalch and Sheets finished second.

The victory was a big one for SU, since last year the Salukis and Illinois tied for first place in the state meet, and Lake Forest was third. To win in the Illinois pool could be a psychological plus, since this year's meet is in Champaign.

Sheets was nothing short of ecstatic after making the national cut in the butterfly. "It's such a great feeling. When you work so hard and then make it, it's great," Sheets said. "I don't think I'm ever going to come down.

Cagettes divide games; lose to ISU, beat NIU

By Lee Polking
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

In a preview of the state championships, Illinois State defeated the women's basketball team 76-69 Friday.

SU was led by Olympian Cheryl Bass, who grabbed 14 rebounds in the game.

Sharon Fox was the only other player to score in double figures for SU, popping in 14 points.

"Cheryl was very good ofensively," SU Coach Moso Weiss said after the game, "but was slow getting up the floor and was weak defensively." Weiss added that the Salukis in Weiss called a post zone, that man-to-man defense. Leslie clinging to the middle and another player ranging on SU's Joni Fischer.

Wrenn said the play of forward Kaye Clayton also hurt the Salukis, because she can drive and shoot from the outside and she killed the ball into the frontcourt.

Hollmann had eight points in the game, well below her season average of 13.2. That, combined with the game's defense, is the keys to the women's basketball team's success.

Sharon Fox had 12 points in the game, 11 below her season average of 18.7. That, combined with the game's defense, is the keys to the women's basketball team's success.

For Front End Alignment

$11.95

Chevrolet

For most American cars

VIC KOENIG

Chevrolet

1040 E. Main 549-3328 Carbondale

Front End Alignment

adjust camber, caster, and toe in stock condition of front suspension

For American cars with coupon offer good thru 2/22/77

Call: 453-5167

For Appointment

office: Barllck's 0817

Hamburgers

Limited time only

Burger King Restaurants

901 W. Main Carbondale

20c

They Shoot Seniors, don't they?

Senior Yearbook Portraits

Nice make your appointment now!
Salukis roll past Aces on way to 16th win

By Dave Heen
Daily Egyptian Sports Editor
Mike Glenn scored 33 points and three others hit double figures as the cagers damped the Evansville Aces 82-81 in a contest the Salukis won by a 54-43 lead. Glenn was mixing it up on offense, taking the long bomb or passing off to a teammate for the open jump shot.

Evansville's Mike Platt, Taylor and Frey were all hitting a steady 9-11 point pace with four steals.

At Williams made his first appearance after a four game suspension when he came into the game with 2:17 left. Williams did not score.

"We played Thursday, Saturday and Monday, with travel time in between. It showed," said Saluki Coach Paul Lambert.

Saluki guard Wayne Abrams was upset with his offensive showing in the cage game with Wisconsin State and West Texas State, in which his combined team total reeled zero.

New Mexico State

Wayne Abrams was upset that the 4-6 freshman decided to take his frustration out on them with a 24-point night that allowed the Salukis to pull away at the 86-80 victory and keep them a half game behind the Valley leader - New Mexico State.

Abrams was really "down" on his shooting after the West Texas game, according to Coach Paul Lambert.

The team flight to Peoria Friday, Lambert gave him young guard some confidence-building advice. "I told him not to measure his whole performance on offensive success," said Lambert. "I thought he played very well in the West Texas game, and he didn't even score.

Abrams took the advice and put it to work Saturday night, hitting that Included some crucial buckets down the stretch. It was the typical Saluki road game - undecided until the end.

Powered by forward Roger Phlegley, who was the game's high scorer with 23 points, the Braves opened up a 48-60 lead at the half.

The Salukis closed the gap to 71-78.

Mike Glenn, who finished with 13, hit two of three free throws and Gary Wilson arched in a baseline shot. Reserve guard Tommy Harrison added a jumper and then popped an 18-footer.

Abrams then nailed a bank shot to cap the comeback with a three point drive off the baseline and a bank shot through the traffic in the lane to give the Salukis an 87-85 lead with 1:08 left.

Turnovers for the NCAA masters in care with four quick points on two Bobby Humble free throws and a big tip in by Harold McMahon with 19 seconds left.

On the indsowns play Richard Ford turned Joe Namath and fired a length of field pass that hit Wilson.

Wilson rammed home the winner with a stuff shot that Dr. J would have been proud of. Wilson went up an twisted his body in midair to avoid a block and slammed it behind his head and with his back to the hoop.

"If I hadn't twisted around it would have been blocked," said Wilson. "And I doubt if a goal-tending would have been called," he smiled.

Ford turned in another Nothing performance that featured 16 points, eight rebounds, four assists and a blocked shot. Wilson finished with 10 points and four rebounds.

"We had to create some things offensively that were very, very difficult," Lambert said of the Saluki comeback. "We had to come out in man to man and start forcing the play.

"We had one coming to us, as well as we've been playing the game, the loose ball added.

"We had some snuffed out a foul-plagued corky Abrams, taking away his inside game and shutting him out for the night. They couldn't figure out his younger brother, though.

"I'm just good at play as well as I can," said Wayne after his career high performance dazzled the hostile crowd.

Saturday night was any indication, that's bad news for the rest of the (dell)

The New Mexico State Aggies socked the Wichita State Shockers out of first place with a 84-79 win Saturday night. The Salukits will take on the Aggies in a battle for first place in the Valley at 7:30 Thursday night in the Arena.

21-4, 13-9, 10-6, 4-10)

It was 13-13 in the Valley, and along with West Texas State, make up a three-way struggle for the top notch. The shumping Wichita State club is now 5-4.

Salukis nip Bradley, 82-81
behind Wayne Abrams' 24

By Dave Heen
Daily Egyptian Sports Editor

Saluki guard Wayne Abrams was upset with his offensive showing in the cage game with Wisconsin State and West Texas State, in which his combined team total reeled zero.

New Mexico State

Wayne Abrams was upset that the 4-6 freshman decided to take his frustration out on them with a 24-

point night that allowed the Salukis to pull away at the 86-80 victory and keep them a half game behind the Valley leader - New Mexico State.

Abrams was really "down" on his shooting after the West Texas game, according to Coach Paul Lambert.

The team flight to Peoria Friday, Lambert gave him young guard some confidence-building advice. "I told him not to measure his whole performance on offensive success," said Lambert. "I thought he played very well in the West Texas game, and he didn't even score.

Abrams took the advice and put it to work Saturday night, hitting that Included some crucial buckets down the stretch. It was the typical Saluki road game - undecided until the end.

Powered by forward Roger Phlegley, who was the game's high scorer with 23 points, the Braves opened up a 48-60 lead at the half.

The Salukis closed the gap to 71-78.

Mike Glenn, who finished with 13, hit two of three free throws and Gary Wilson arched in a baseline shot. Reserve guard Tommy Harrison added a jumper and then popped an 18-footer.

Abrams then nailed a bank shot to cap the comeback with a three point drive off the baseline and a bank shot through the traffic in the lane to give the Salukis an 87-85 lead with 1:08 left.

Turnovers for the NCAA masters in care with four quick points on two Bobby Humble free throws and a big tip in by Harold McMahon with 19 seconds left.

On the indsowns play Richard Ford turned Joe Namath and fired a length of field pass that hit Wilson.

Wilson rammed home the winner with a stuff shot that Dr. J would have been proud of. Wilson went up an twisted his body in midair to avoid a block and slammed it behind his head and with his back to the hoop.

"If I hadn't twisted around it would have been blocked," said Wilson. "And I doubt if a goal-tending would have been called," he smiled.

Ford turned in another Nothing performance that featured 16 points, eight rebounds, four assists and a blocked shot. Wilson finished with 10 points and four rebounds.

"We had to create some things offensively that were very, very difficult," Lambert said of the Saluki comeback. "We had to come out in man to man and start forcing the play.

"We had one coming to us, as well as we've been playing the game, the loose ball added.

"We had some snuffed out a foul-plagued corky Abrams, taking away his inside game and shutting him out for the night. They couldn't figure out his younger brother, though.

"I'm just good at play as well as I can," said Wayne after his career high performance dazzled the hostile crowd.

Saturday night was any indication, that's bad news for the rest of the (dell)

The New Mexico State Aggies socked the Wichita State Shockers out of first place with a 84-79 win Saturday night. The Salukits will take on the Aggies in a battle for first place in the Valley at 7:30 Thursday night in the Arena.

21-4, 13-9, 10-6, 4-10)

It was 13-13 in the Valley, and along with West Texas State, make up a three-way struggle for the top notch. The shumping Wichita State club is now 5-4.