Hot fun

Students soak up the sun's rays atop Mae Smith Monday as the temperature peaked in the mid-70s and brought students and Carbondale residents out of their winter hibernation. The temperature is expected to be in the high 70s Tuesday and pleasant weather is predicted throughout the week.

Water rate boost too costly to University, official says

By Tricia Yocum
Staff Writer

Notice of a proposed city water and sewer rate increase came "far too late" for SIU-C to plan for the $400,000 increase in its budget for this fiscal year, says Charles Hinderman, vice president for financial affairs.

The proposed increase, set to begin July 1, would mean a more than 40 percent annual increase for the University. Hinderman told the City Council at a public hearing Monday.

Hinderman said he doesn't know what the University will do if the increase is implemented.

Housing rates can't be increased because the Board of Trustees has already approved the contracts and information has gone out to prospective students and has been put in the University catalog, he said.

"We already have commitments from people for next year," he said.

"We'll have to see where, if any, cuts can be made elsewhere in the budget," he said.

City Manager Bill Dixon said the city staff proposed implementing the increase July 1 instead of May 1 to allow SIU-C to plan for the increase.

But because of the University's complex budgetary process, the University requires about 18 months notice to implement such large changes in budget planning.

The University's budget must be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education in September for the fiscal year beginning the next July 1. Work has begun on the University budget for fiscal 1988.

The city's notification of the increase is timely for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, but is "far too late" for extra appropriations through the state's budgetary process for

U.S. warplanes knock out Libyan missile base, ships

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. warplanes knocked out a Libyan missile base and two patrol ships near Moammar Khadafy's "line of death" Monday in retaliation for attacks aimed at American jets over the Gulf of Sidra, U.S. officials said.

Libya fired six Soviet-made anti-aircraft missiles at the U.S. planes, but there were no American casualties or damage to U.S. planes or ships, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said.

The battle, which extended over seven hours, was the first use of military force by the United States since A-6 light bombers attacked Syrian positions in Lebanon in December 1983. Two U.S. jets were lost in that action.

The official Libyan radio, using the strident tones Khadafy often employs in denouncing the United States, vowed revenge for the U.S. naval intrusion into what it considers its territorial waters.

"We will fulfill our promise ... to make the Mediterranean into a sea of fire, and to strike mercilessly," a Libyan radio broadcast said late Monday.

At the White House, Speakes told reporters the 30-ship American flotilla off the Libyan coast will not let its guard down, and added: "We reserve the right to take additional measures as events warrant."

"This was not an act to provoke a response or humiliate Khadafy," Speakes said. "We simply cannot allow other nations to dictate where we can or cannot go."

"I can't characterize it as war," he added.

The Pentagon said late Monday three U.S. warships — a cruiser equipped with an Aegis radar system used to direct battles, a guided missile cruiser and a destroyer — had crossed Khadafy's self-proclaimed "line of death" at 6 a.m. Monday and still were steaming in the gulf.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, briefing reporters, said U.S. Navy fighters intercepted two Soviet-built Libyan MiG-25 Foxbats as they tried to challenge American aircraft before turning back. No shots were fired, he said.

The U.S. fleet — led by the aircraft carriers America, Saratoga and Coral Sea — has been conducting maneuvers off Libya since Saturday. U.S. officials have called the operations a challenge to Khadafy's claim to the entire Gulf of Sidra as Libyan waters but denied the activity was designed to provoke the volatile Libyan leader.

Speakes said that when Reagan gave the go-ahead for the "right of navigation exercise" March 14, he gave U.S. forces the flexibility to "defend themselves when attacked."

When the Libyan missiles were fired, no further orders were needed from Reagan to set off the retaliatory strike, he said.

Asked if the president "is prepared to lose lives" in the dispute with Khadafy over the reach of his North African nation's territorial waters, Speakes said: "The president would be the last one to risk lives at any cost."

"However, the president is commander in chief. We do this constantly around the world to protect vital U.S. interests."

The operations in international waters are to run through to April 1 and Weinberger vowed they will continue despite Libya's response "and if we are interfered with, we will take appropriate action."

Speakes said U.S. forces had "crossed the line of death" — as Khadafy calls the boundary of his claim — 18 times since 1981.

The clash was the first between U.S. and Libyan forces since August 1981, when American warplanes shot down two Soviet-built Libyan Sukhot-22 fighters with missiles when they rose to challenge the Americans over the gulf.

Speakes said Reagan was kept informed of the developments and met earlier in the afternoon with top advisers, including Weinberger, the joint chiefs of staff and Donald Reagan, his chief of staff.

Contra support called 'irrational'

By William Walker
Staff Writer

The Contra rebels in Nicaragua should not receive any U.S. aid because such funding is "irrational foreign policy that is clearly against our own national interests," says one local expert on Central America.

"It's not a moral issue," says political science professor William Garner. "It's just the wrong policy."

"If we finance that war we're not financing the Contras, we're financing the U.S. war against Nicaragua and using the Contras as surrogates," Garner says. "Not only is that illegal, but it's also not in the interests of the United States."

For now, Garner's position has been maintained, with the House last week denying President Reagan's request for $100 million in Contra aid. However, the fight on Capitol Hill is far from over. The Senate is due to take up the question this week and Reagan has vowed he will not give up.

And a fight it has been, with Reagan and other pro-Contra forces implying that those against Contra aid are soft on communism and the opposition countering that Reagan is simply leading the United States into another Vietnam war.

But David Derge, political science professor and former SIU-C president, says that the arguments for and against Contra aid are premature.

"The first question that must be answered is, should American foreign policy be to resist a Soviet client state in Central America?" Derge says. If the answer is yes, then there can a debate on how to best solve the problem, he says.

Although he concedes he is not an expert on Central America, Derge said he believes it is sound foreign policy to resist the Soviet presence building in Nicaragua that, he says, poses a very real military and economic threat to the United States.

"The consequence of having a Soviet client state in Central America is regional destabilization," he says.

Derge adds that the problem in Nicaragua must be put into a larger historical context, which shows how the Soviets have consistently disregarded agreements since World War II, such as their pledge to allow free elections in Eastern Europe.

Budget for USO's election set

By Brett Yates
Staff Writer

The Undergraduate Student Organization Election Committee will be operating on a budget of $1,015 this year and will have one polling place, to be located at the Old Main Lounge on the second floor of the Student Center.

Of the $1,015, $415 will be spent on salaries. From that money four groups working the polls will receive $70 apiece. Each of the four election committee members will receive $30 each, and the election commissioner $50, as approved by the USO senate March 5.

A total of $78.13 will be spent on supplies, $442.90 on advertising and $43.89 on miscellaneous items.

John Grigas, USO election commissioner, said the election committee chose to use one polling place to ensure a clean election this year.

"I've talked to people who have been up here for years and they say every year there is some allegation that someone is stuffing the ballot box, that polls are opening early and closing late, or polls are opening late and closing early," Grigas said.

Grigas said that having one polling place would discourage such claims.

Gus says the USO election is likely to get about one vote per dollar spent.

Reagan seeks to reverse setback on Contra aid plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan lobbied by telephone Monday in search of enough Senate votes to reverse a setback in the House and prevail in his high-stakes showdown with Congress over military aid for Nicaraguan rebels. On the eve of Senate debate on his $100 million aid request, Reagan was said to be "working hard" to press his case as White House officials consulted with GOP leaders on modifications likely to swing votes his way.

Aquino to declare provisional government

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — President Corazon Aquino said Monday she would declare a provisional government Tuesday, a move that would help her remove remnants of the power structure Ferdinand Marcos erected during his 20-year rule. In an interview with United Press International, Aquino, 53, said her first month after the Feb. 22-25 revolution that drove President Marcos from power and into U.S. exile had been "difficult" but that she was now slowly "adjusting to this new life."

India rejects Union Carbide settlement offer

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — The Indian government Monday rejected as "totally unacceptable" Union Carbide Corp.'s offer to pay $350 million in compensation to victims of the 1984 Bhopal gas leak disaster. "Union Carbide is taking every possible step to ensure that the case is settled for a very low amount," said a statement issued by the Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers.

OPEC talks collapse; put on hold until April

GENEVA (UPI) — OPEC's oil crisis talks broke down Monday after nine days of bitter feuding among its 13 member nations over sharing a cut in production to halt the oil price collapse. But the OPEC ministers did decide to meet again April 15 after consulting with their governments and trying anew to win non-OPEC cooperation on limiting output to stem a three-month plunge in prices to $12 from $28 a barrel.

Man admits drug tampering; balks at reward

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A man claiming to have poisoned three popular non-prescription drugs telephoned a Philadelphia television station Monday and boasted that a $900,000 reward was "not enough" to capture him. SmithKline Beckman Corp., a Philadelphia-based pharmaceutical firm, recalled three of its most popular brands Thursday after a man who identified himself only as "Gary" telephoned news organizations and the company to say he had poisoned Contac, Telcryn and Dietac.

S. African police accused of killing children

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — The leaders of 10 women's groups accused police Monday of killing, maiming, torturing and starving children in political detention and demanded the release of all children in custody. After meeting with the women in Cape Town, Law and Order Minister Louis Le Grange rejected the accusations. Le Grange met for an hour with the women, representing 10 anti-government organizations — including the Child Welfare Society, the Union of Jewish Women and the Catholic Women's League.

Navy skirts blockade, Philippine strikers

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — U.S. Navy vessels Monday skirted blockades to ferry stranded American servicemen into Subic Bay Naval Base as 22,000 striking Filipino workers rejected calls to end their four-day job action at the strategic facility. U.S. officials and Filipino union leaders said 13 people — seven American servicemen and six Filipinos — had been injured in picket-line fighting since the strike began Friday night. No violence was reported Sunday or Monday.

Hinckley denied freedom to leave hospital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A judge denied a request from presidential assailant John Hinckley Jr. Monday for more freedom at the mental hospital where he is committed, rejecting the plea that his mental illness is "in remission." "For the past three years, I have not been psychotic, delusional or depressed," said Hinckley, who six years ago tried to kill President Reagan and three others outside a Washington hotel.

Noted essayist Susan Sontag to speak at final Honors Lecture

Susan Sontag, noted essayist and one of America's most quoted intellectuals, will be the guest speaker at the final lecture of the Honors Lecture Series for this academic year.

Her talk, "Traditions of the New," will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Auditorium and admission is free to the public. A news conference is scheduled for 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Ohio Room.

Sontag, who has won numerous awards, including two Guggenheim and two Rockefeller Foundation fellowships, began her career as a novelist, with her first work, "The Benefactor," published in 1963.

She wrote another novel, titled "Death Kit," in 1967, but it is as an essayist that she has generated the most controversy and been the most influential.

Richard Peterson, director

of University Honors, said Sontag should be of interest to a large cross section of students and professors because her work has covered such a variety of subjects.

"Sontag has written on such diverse topics as photography, illness, culture and politics,"

Peterson said. "She truly represents the idea of interdisciplinary study. Her lecture should have a very broad appeal."

Peterson said that Sontag, who emerged as a writer in the 1960s, continues to appeal to successive generations because she has "an intelligently curious mind that keeps exploring new topics."

"She's really a dynamic, creative writer," Peterson said.

"Against Interpretation," published in 1966, established Sontag as a major force in literary criticism, and "Styles of Radical Will," from 1969, including "Trip to Hanoi" and "The Aesthetics of Silence," broadened her criticism to include politics, continental philosophy and the films of Ingmar Bergman and Jean-Luc Godard.

Suspect sought in gassing of Marion department store

By John Tindall
Staff Writer

Marion police are seeking a man they suspect to have ignited a tear gas-like smoke bomb at the Marion Wal-Mart Sunday.

The suspect is described as a white male 27 to 32-years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, 180 pounds, having brown hair worn over the ears with some facial hair and wearing blue jeans, a jean jacket and a baseball cap.

The smoke bomb created a cloud of brown, yellow and white smoke that stung eyes, burned throats and skin, and sent 32 people to the emergency room at Marion Memorial Hospital, according to hospital records and eyewitness accounts.

Sherri Burton and Alice Barnett were the only two admitted to the hospital for observation after X-rays showed traces of the chloroacetophenone gas, commonly known as "CS gas," in their lungs, creating a "chemical pneumonia," according to Burton.

Burton said she saw the smoke but didn't realize its chemical content until she felt a stinging in her eyes and throat.

"It got in your chest and got hold of you," she said. "It was like needles and it burned."

Burton said she left the building when she saw people lying on the sidewalks and gagging from the smoke.

Mike Wiseman of the Marion Police Department said the smoke bomb, which was similar to those used for crowd control by police, could have started a fire if it had been near flammable material. The canister is being studied by the Department of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, said Wiseman to determine whether the product is commercial or military.

In either case, possession of the device is illegal, he said.

Marketing plan called key at AT&T

By Clotelia Silder
Staff Writer

Finding out the customers' needs and satisfying them is the principal strategy used by the "new" American Telephone and Telegraph Co. to survive in a competitive communications market, Bill Ketchem, central region vice president of the information system with AT&T, said Monday.

The "new" AT&T began January 1, 1984 after the breakup with Illinois Bell and Southwestern Bell. As a result of the breakup, Ketchem said AT&T has acquired a larger portion of the consumer market.

According to Ketchem, the "old" AT&T was "disappointing."

It was not until 1986 that AT&T began to change its image, he said during an interview. Since this change, Ketchem said AT&T has turned around a declining market share.

AT&T established its success after introducing new products, developing software, reducing costs, reducing staff overhead and moving some manufacturing off shore, said Ketchem.

AT&T is now a $50 billion business, with about 2,090,000 employees, Ketchem added.

He said AT&T now appeals to a different investor. "Our goal is to satisfy customers, maximize the return on shareholders investments and to control our employment body."

In accomplishing these

UCLA beats debate team

By University News Service

The top-ranked SIU-C debate squad tangled with one of its major challengers March 21-22 for national honors, and came out second best.

The team finished runner-up to the University of California-Los Angeles at the Chesapeake Classic at Towson State University in Maryland.

Coach Jeffrey T. Bile said SIU-C will "have to fight" for a championship at the Cross Examination Debate Association National Tournament: April 5-7 at Wichita State University.

"We did well at Towson, but not as well as we usually do," Bile said. "We don't have enough of a lead point-wise to have a championship locked up."

SIU-C has been ranked the best college debate unit in the nation for most of the season by CEDA.

Bile plans to give his squad this weekend off to prepare for the Wichita tournament, which will feature teams from about 100 schools.

Spare no costs, postpone elections

THE UNDERGRADUATE Student Organization's elections should be postponed for at least two weeks.

The reasoning is simple. The voters have a right to know the issues and the candidates. And the candidates have a responsibility to inform the voters of their views.

With the elections being held next Wednesday, how could the candidates and the USO possibly expect to inform the more than 17,000 undergraduate students on the issues to the extent where they can vote responsibly?

Voter ignorance was never more openly displayed than in the recent Illinois Democratic primary election, in which the endorsed candidates for the Democratic nominations for lieutenant governor and secretary of state were defeated, largely because voters didn't know who they were.

AND LOOK WHO WON those elections, no-name candidates endorsed by right-wing extremist Lyndon LaRouche. Do the students want to elect candidates, they really don't know?

The USO wants to hold the elections earlier than last year's April 18 date in order to facilitate a smooth transition of administrations before the end of the semester. This is a good idea only if the campaigns are started earlier than one week before the elections are to be held, which they have not been. All that has been seen is a candidate's forum -- held the week after spring break, without much advance notice.

ANOTHER REASON for the early election date, the USO tells us, is to allow students to see what they have voted for being put into action before going home for the summer. Again, all well and good if they really know what they have voted for. But that is not likely, given only one week until the elections are held.

We need an education drive by the USO and the presidential candidates to inform the voters where they stand as candidates on the issues. This will assuredly take longer than a week.

As it stands, the USO has left the scheduled election date stand, purely because it would cost more money to move it back. Giving the students a chance to vote responsibly and knowledgeably, instead of just picking meaningless names and positions off a ballot, doesn't appear to be a concern of theirs.

Keep commercial gimmicks out of USO elections

AT FIRST, IT SEEMS like a good idea. Give the voters what they want -- something to drink. Maybe if the Illinois Democrats had done that for the primary election, they wouldn't be worrying about having a Lyndon LaRouche follower on their gubernatorial ticket.

But although Pepsi is not sponsoring the April 2 USO election, nor will the Pepsi logo appear on any election advertising, the idea of providing a commercial incentive to vote is disturbing. Voters ought to be attracted to the election by the candidates for office and the referendum issues, not because they will get their whistles wetted for free. A good promotions campaign should provide voters with information about the candidates and issues -- not the availability of refreshments after they vote.

Keep women's gymnastics

This past Sunday I attended the Gateway Invitational women's gymnastics meet at the Arena and was shocked when I heard women's gymnastics would be dropped next year.

This year's squad, even with injuries, shows they deserve the right to compete as SIU gymnasts.

I thought only the City Council worked backwards; now it seems the SIU administration is following in their footsteps. There has to be a better way to save a few bucks. I feel it should be up to the students to decide what sports they want, not the administration, who is removed from the scene.

I hope the people who enjoy gymnastics show their support and let the administration know that we want the women's gymnastics team to stay. — Pat Tomko, junior, Marketing. (Editor's note: The Intercollegiate Athletics Advisory Council has said it may discuss the possibility of dropping women's gymnastics at its Tuesday meeting.)

Rock damages true 'Spirit'

As a member of the so-called left-wing radical church of Grand Ave., I would like to respond to the letters directed to the record-breaking.

To the art lovers who see this as a harmful act towards the cultural aspects of life, I would like to share a few thoughts with you. You stated that this radical event basically destroys the spirit by which this country was formed. Yes, it may be doing damage to the spirit, but not the Spirit that Jesus spoke so highly of. Jesus said that true Christians are the salt of the earth and if the salt loses its saltiness it is useless. The true Christians are to expose the works of darkness and to tear down every lofty thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God. As a former rock fan I don't need statistics to tell me what rock music and lyrics promote. I know first-hand the lifestyle of the groups and what their music glorifies. They exalt self, sex, money, drugs and every other perverse act. The world tries to sit on top of some kind of self-proclaimed religious, lukewarm fence, when the Bible clearly states you are either for God or against Him.

The record-breaking act was as scripturally sound as can be (Acts 19:19), but few people, even professing Christians, realize this truth. They keep holding to their form of godliness but denying the power thereof. Rightly did Hosea prophesy, "The people are destroyed because of lack of knowledge." The god of this world has blinded your eyes to the light of the Gospel. A natural man (man without Christ) can't understand the things of God because they are spiritually discerned.

The true overcomers of God's church know we were just being obedient to God's word and I seriously doubt that anyone is going to lose any sleep over a little verbal stoning. Jesus preached morals for three years and couldn't even gain enough support to save his own life.

We're not trying to be religious, we just love the Lord. — Steve Emery, Carterville.

Sandinista and Somozistas mix

Disinformation comes to SIU. It's unbelievable how some people can call the Ortega dictatorship "mildly repressive." At one time there were 50 radio stations in Nicaragua. Since the Soviets and the Cubans moved in, there is none.

Recent reports by Sandinista defectors say special squads are dressing as Contras and murdering people. Genocide is committed on Indian tribes. American Indian Movement leader Russell Means wants to send himself and 100 people down to fight the Sandinista.

Newspapers cannot print criticism without censorship from thugs. The church is persecuted to the point of extinction. Spys are in every neighborhood to watch you. If you don't have a Sandinista party card, no food rations.

Where's the proof of Contra involvement in drug smuggling? According to the Hawkins Report, April, 1985, on drug smuggling, photographs and testimony place the blame on Cuba and Nicaragua. Contras don't have airfields unless they hold more territory than we're told.

Less than 1 percent of the Contras were Somozistas. Of the Contra leaders, two were former Sandinistas and one was a businessman who spoke against and was jailed by Somoza. The Sandinistas have their share of Somozistas.

It's hypocritical for a country who prides itself on freedom and the right to fight for it, not give military aid to people who ask for no U.S. troops and want to fight it alone. If our revolution were stolen, we'd fight too. — Jeff Thomas, Murphysboro.

USO president candidate review

Politics even at the student level is complicated, so it follows that voting must involve some difficult decisions. What is needed at SIU-C is a presidential team that is not just "honest and sincere" with the student body, but will make "politics" less confusing for them.

Sen. Dan DeFosse, Trojan Party, has worked hard at the USO producing "volumes" of legislation, and has an excellent track record for getting senators to co-sponsor bills and approve them by voice vote.

Phoenix Party presidential candidate, Phil Lyons, has been active in the USO legislative branch, the judicial branch through the Campus Judicial Board for Discipline, and helped revive the Special Academic Activity Fund Panel, which distributes USO funds to individuals. Lyons' work extends to the office of U.S. Senator Paul Simon, where as an intern he worked with students concerned with financial aid.

Sen. Lyons is campaigning with some strong and specific programs designed to get groups involved, thus getting students back on their own two feet.

My advice to those voters out there who still are a bit uncomfortable with these selections should try a write-in campaign—Larry Geiler, junior, Public Relations.

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of their author: only Unsigned editorials represent a consensus of the Daily Egyptian Editorial Committee, whose members are the student editor-in-chief, the editorial page editor, a news staff member, the faculty managing editor and a Journalism School faculty member.

Letters to the editor may be submitted by mail or directly to the editorial page editor, Room 1247, Communications Building. Letters should be typewritten, double spaced. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 500 words. Letters of less than 250 words will be given preference for publication. Students must identify themselves by class and major, faculty members by rank and department, non-academic staff by position and department.

Letters submitted by mail should include the author's address and telephone number. Letters for which verification of authorship cannot be made will not be published.

He says the United States had originally taken for granted that such agreements would be honored, when in reality the Soviets had no intention of keeping their promises.

"There are lessons to be learned from that," he says.

There are also lessons to be learned from Cuba, which Derge calls a "Soviet outpost." If left unchecked, Nicaragua may well become the same, he says, and this is the whole point of Reagan's argument for Contra aid.

"The president is saying that Nicaragua will play the same role (as Cuba), except that it will be on our continent," he says.

Derge also insists that the United States must not forget that the Sandinistas are indeed communists, although there are those who would believe otherwise.

But those who say that the Sandinistas are not true communists are "the same people who said Mao wasn't a communist, that Ho Chi Minh wasn't a communist, that Castro wasn't a communist...and this wears a little thin after a while," he says.

Garner agrees that the United States cannot allow a Soviet presence in Nicaragua to undermine our national security, but he argues that no real threat exists.

If the Soviets and Cubans were to establish full bases in Nicaragua with missile launching capabilities, then the United States would "realistically" have a legitimate reason to be concerned," Garner says.

And, he says, if such a situation arose, the United States would be justified, in fact would be forced, to take action against Nicaragua, even if it meant direct military intervention.

But there is no threat to the United States at present, Garner believes, and there will never be if our government would seek peaceful solutions to the problems in the region.

He says the United States is to blame when countries such as Nicaragua seek Soviet aid, because our practice has been to support repressive, right-wing dictatorships, such as the Somoza regime that ruled Nicaragua for many years before being overthrown by the Sandinistas.

"If we continue to support repressive regimes in other nations, we're going to set those nations up for their own Nicaraguan-type revolution and we're going to have to do the same thing we're doing in Nicaragua now," Garner says.

"It's just a matter of time before these governments that are terribly repressive are going to face a popular uprising that the Soviets will be able to compromise on."

The answer, Garner says, is rather simple. The United States should sympathize with the vast majority of the people in countries that we would like to influence. This is not a moral issue, he adds, but is simply an issue of American interests.

The point is, U.S. foreign policy has created the problems in Central America and it should be U.S. foreign policy that corrects them, Garner argues. If we do not improve the situation, we just make Soviet aid more attractive.

"By default we have pushed Nicaragua into the hands of the Soviets, the clutches of the Cubans. There's been no one else there to help them," Garner says.

However, Derge says it is extremely difficult to make Soviet aid less attractive, especially when such aid consists of helicopters, rifles, tanks and other military supplies that could not be obtained elsewhere.

And, Derge says, we must realize that the destabilization in Nicaragua means destabilization in the entire region, which could mean increased Soviet influence in this hemisphere.

Garner agrees that the situation in Nicaragua poses a threat to "the established order" of Central America, but he calls that order "rotten to the core," and insists it must be changed.

U.S. foreign policy has made a mess that "attracts flies like any mess will attract flies and the flies are the Soviets and the Cubans," he says.

"But if you want to get rid of the flies, clean up the mess."

this fiscal year, Hindersman said.

He added that the water and sewer rate increases of the past few years have meant a three-fold increase for the University since 1979.

Dixon said the increase is needed to pay for capital improvements to maintain the water and sewer system and to meet standards set by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The proposed rate structure would increase the minimum monthly bill by $2.73 per month from $8.19 to $10.92.

The increase for a typical family of four using 8,000 gallons per month would be $7.28 per month from $21.84 to $29.12.

Carbondale's average cost per thousand gallons on a minimum bill is the lowest of five surrounding communities, Dixon said. The proposed increase would make Carbondale the second lowest in comparison.

Current water and sewer rates for industrial users over 500,000 gallons are $1.10 per 1,000 gallons. Rates for a family of four using about 8,000 gallons are $1.38 per 1,000.

Council members requested more official information from the city staff before the item comes up for a decision at an upcoming council meeting.

Students write, direct 3 dramas

Three student-directed and student-written one-act plays will be presented at 8 p.m. April 2-6 in the Laboratory Theater in the Communications Building.

The plays are "Baptismal," written by Carlos Clarke and directed by Charissa Cooke; "Pontalba," written by Kenton Kersting and directed by Ben Huntzinger; and "Lockdown," written and directed by Gary Graves.

The plays present a variety of subject matter. "Baptismal" centers on a rural Louisiana family with a secret that returns to haunt them. "Pontalba" concerns a New Orleans baroness who buys things she wants and shoots things she doesn't want. "Lockdown" is about two convicts holding a hostage to get their demands met for an end to a prison lockdown.

Tickets for the performances are $2 and may be purchased at the door. The Laboratory Theater is located on the first floor of the Communications Building next to McLeod Theater.

Muppets to visit Arena over weekend

The stomping of little tykes' feet rather than the pounding of dribbling basketballs will be the norm at the Arena this weekend when the national touring company of "Sesame Street Live" makes four Carbondale appearances.

The show, which features all the favorite muppets from the Children's Television Workshop's acclaimed Public Broadcasting Service show "Sesame Street," is on a nationwide trek and will be performed Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Bert and Ernie, Oscar the Grouch, Grover, Cookie

Monster and The Count all perform in the show, which centers on the search for the 6-foot canary Big Bird, who has run away from home. Inspector Fortescu Farquar helps the "Sesame Street" regulars in their search.

Tickets for the shows are $6.50, $7.50 and $8. The show will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday, noon and 4 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

All tickets for Friday are $3 off the regular price, courtesy of KFVS TV. Tickets are available at the Arena Special Events Box Office and all Arena ticket outlets.

Tickets may be charged by phone 24 hours a day by calling 453-5341.

Undergraduate goes to China to learn about its culture, people

By Brett Yates
Staff Writer

Ever since President Nixon visited mainland China in 1972, John Rutledge says he has been fascinated by its culture and people.

Rutledge's interest sparked him a senior in political science and economics, to study Chinese and apply for a student exchange between SIU-C and the Dalian Foreign Language Institute in the Liaoning province of northern China.

Rutledge left Saturday for China and is one of two SIU-C students who are the first undergraduate students involved in an exchange with a university in China. The other student, Cary Allen, is attending Liaoning University.

Rutledge has studied Mandarin, the official language of China, for a year and a half at SIU-C and will continue his studies at Dalian Foreign Language Institute. He will stay in China about 10 months.

He said what influenced him to study Chinese is that China, with the United States and the Soviet Union, is among the three major countries in the world. As a result, its opinion in world issues has to be respected.

"Of the three major countries, I chose China because of the longtime interest I've had in its history and culture," Rutledge said. "It's this age-old interest combined with my general interest in international relations that have

The Chinese student SIU-C received is Guiching Song, a lecturer in English from the Dalian Language Institute, who is studying American literature. SIU-C also received Liaoning student Lang Xie.

Song said he began studying English in the early 1960s and started teaching it in 1965. He says the reason he is not a professor of English is because China did not recognize such positions until recently.

Tom Saville, coordinator of Study Abroad Programs at International Programs and Services, worked out the details for the exchange. Jared Dorn, director of International Programs and Services, said that it is mainly through his efforts that SIU-C has the working relationships it does with Dalian Language Institute and Liaoning University.

"In May, when I was in China on other business, there were two schools that invited me to Dalian to discuss with them a possible relationship and exchanges," Dorn said. "Given the fact there are limited resources to support exchange relationships, I proposed a direct student exchange with them."

Dorn said Rutledge was chosen for the exchange because he has studied Chinese and taken courses about China. "He's qualified in unusually good ways," Dorn said. "He has a very good grasp of the current situation in China. He comes with a good academic record at SIU-C and with good recommendations."

In 1977 Sontag won the National Book Critics Circle Award for her work "On Photography," which was followed by "Illness as Metaphor" the next year.

She has also won the Arts and Letters Award of the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters, of which she is a member, and has been presented with the Brandeis University Creative Arts Award.

In 1978 Sontag returned to fiction with the publication of "I, etcetera," a collection of eight short stories. Her most recent collection of essays, "Under the Sign of Saturn," was published in 1980.

Sontag, who was educated at the University of Chicago and Harvard, makes her home in New York City, but she has spent time in Europe, where she is at home both geographically and culturally.

Some of her works have been published in "A Susan Sontag Reader," which was published in 1982 by Farrar, Straus and Giroux.

goals, Ketchem said the company gets in tune with what's going on in the market place, finds out customers' needs, satisfies their needs, finds out how to be more cost competitive and more streamlined and finds how to eliminate costs and redundancy.

In giving strategic advice to other businesses, Ketchem said, "It is always vital to stay close to customers and understand their needs."

He said AT&T is in a mixed bag and it has a long way to go before reaching full success.

Ketchem added that AT&T is now more sophisticated than before. As a result of this, he said, "We are now marketing computers. We have microprocess office automation applications and data terminals."

Ketchem, whose chief duty is to make installments for customers in 19 states, while his central unit is located in Chicago, says his weeks consist of making installments for customers, meeting with customers in downtown Chicago and managing an installation team. There are 9,000 employees spread-out over this central region, said Ketchem.

Ketchem has been vice president for a year and an employee of AT&T for 23

Abstract exhibit on display

A collection of works by Kimble Bromley, graduate student in the School of Art, is on display in the University Museum in Faner Hall.

The exhibit is Bromley's thesis exhibit and features works that explore universal abstract concepts, such as time and space, through the language of the primal mark. The works include drawings and paintings which use wet and dry media on raw canvas.

The exhibit will be on display through April 2. The University Museum is open 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

years. He described his experience as vice president as being demanding. He said AT&T has had many changes in 1986 that have made his job quite challenging. "I knew what I was signing on for," he added.

Ketchem spoke on "Managing Corporate Culture" and "What Lends Itself to Success in Business" in the Student Center Monday.

Pre-registration for blood donors set for this week

To reach the 5,000-unit goal of the blood drive slated for the week of April 6-11, the organizers say 2,500 donors must register beforehand.

Registration tables will be at Grinnell, Trueblood and Lentz halls on Tuesday from 4:15 to 6 p.m., and at Rehn Hall and the Agriculture Building from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. There will be a table in Quigley Hall on Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and in the Communications Building on Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Veterans' pension to be cut back

By Jim McBride
Staff Writer

About 355 of the 616 veterans attending SIU-C will receive smaller checks from the Veterans' Administration after April 1 because of cut-backs imposed under the Gramm-Rudman budget balancing law.

Perry Murry, the University's VA coordinator, said students receiving Chapter 31 and 35 benefits can expect an 8.7 percent cut in their monthly benefit checks after April 1. Single recipients having no dependents will now receive $343 per month, a monthly reduction of $33.

Chapter 31 Vocational Rehabilitation benefits will be cut about 13 percent, Murry said, adding that those recipients will now receive $270 monthly, $40 less per month.

Veterans now applying for Chapter 31, 34 or 35 benefits will also receive reduced benefits, he said.

Disability compensation and pension benefits will not be affected by the cuts, Murry said.

Student reaction to the cuts has been less than favorable, he said.

"I haven't talked to anybody who is happy with it," Murry said. "It's like a slap in the face." The reductions, coupled with a proposed tuition increase of 6 percent for next year, may have a strong impact on some students, Murry said.

"It's a reduction whether you're single or married with five kids," he said. "We've got to look at how much buying power we'll have with the tuition increase."

Murry said the reductions, the result of a 4.39 percent VA funding cutback under Gramm-Rudman, will continue through Sept. 30, or until Congress approves the VA's fiscal '87 budget.

The VA has requested full restoration of the reduced benefits in its fiscal year '87 budget, but Congress may decide not to fully restore the benefits, he said.

semble, which will perform "Group Composition No. III," the third in a series of pieces for the group. The group, directed by Frank Stemper, consists of members playing, singing, improvising and experimenting with musical sounds, styles and theatrics. Admission is free.

Osteoporosis subject of slide show

A slide show titled "Osteoporosis and You," which focuses on the development, risks and prevention of osteoporosis, will be shown in dining halls this week.

Osteoporosis is a condition in which bone mass decreases, causing bones to become more susceptible to fracture.

The program is sponsored by Housing Food Service and the Dairy Council. The 15-minute slide show will be shown continually from 4 to 6:15 p.m. in Dining Room 5, Lentz Hall on Tuesday and in the Westmoore Room, Trueblood Hall on Wednesday.

Saluki Chris Visconti smashes a shot in Sunday's match with Illinois-Chicago.

Men netters smash UI-C in 1st win

By Martin Folan
Staff Writer

The Saluki men's tennis team handily defeated the University of Illinois at Chicago, 8-1, at SIU-C's first outdoor meet of the season played Sunday morning at the Arena courts.

Saluki No. 1 singles player Per Wadmark, playing with an injured ankle, dropped the first game of his match against Darrin Cohen but adjusted his game and capitalized on Cohen's unforced errors to win the match, 6-4 and 6-1.

Wadmark said he used the first set as a warmup and to build up his momentum.

"I came in here a little 'ite, so I warmed up in the first set," he said. "In the beginning of the match you really don't know where you stand and you really don't have any confidence."

Wadmark, usually a net player, played the first eight games from the baseline with Cohen, saying he didn't intend on the strategy but it helped him build confidence.

The ankle injury bothered him throughout the first set, but didn't affect his play later in the match, he said.

Wadmark began playing the net during the ninth game of the first set, approaching on a short lob and delivering a powerful smash into the backcourt.

As Wadmark gained momentum and strength in his play, Cohen charted more errors.

Wadmark brought Cohen to the net and scored on drop shots and deep lobs in taking a 3-0 lead in the second set.

Cohen retaliated in the fifth game by scoring at the net and on two of his own smashes to win his only game of the set.

Cohen's net play didn't hold up in the next two games, as Wadmark finished the game on a service point and a short volley to win the match.

Wadmark teamed up with No. 4 singles player Lars Nilsson, who won his match 6-0

Men golfers take 13th, achieve consistency

By Anita J. Stoner
Staff Writer

The Saluki men golfers achieved consistency but finished 13th in a 20-team field at the Colonel Classic last weekend.

Western Kentucky won the 54-hole event, played at Arlington Golf Center in Richmond, Ky.

The Hilltoppers shot a 903 total while Kentucky placed second with 913 strokes, edging Indiana with 914.

The Salukis carded rounds of 315, 317 and 313 but the 945 total could have improved to seventh place since the middle six teams finished within 10 strokes.

Saluki coach Darren Vaughn said, "It was closer than it seems. We were 10 shots from seventh place."

Jim Vernon of Vanderbilt captured individual honors with a 221 total. He edged Steve Flesch of Kentucky who

Softball team drops 3 of 4 games

By Steve Merritt
Sports Editor

Even though the Saluki softball team dropped three of the four games they played in this weekend's Saluki Invitational, coach Kay Brechtelsbauer remains optimistic about the potential of her team and the rest of the 1986 schedule.

"We're just one hit or one play away from winning," Brechtelsbauer said. "We're close and we're there — one of these days we'll start picking up the hits and big plays."

Before the tournament, Brechtelsbauer had said the field of teams would be evenly matched and it was a contest that could be won by anyone.

Three teams finished with identical 3-1 records, forcing the use of a point-differential system to determine the Invitational champion.

Ball State won the annual affair, with Illinois State second and Northern Illinois third. All three have 3-1 records in tournament play.

Indiana State took fourth with a 2-2 mark, with SIU fifth (1-3) and St. Francis sixth (0-4).

"Ball State just picked up momentum and won the thing," Brechtelsbauer said. "They certainly weren't a front-runner coming in, but that just goes to prove that it really could have been won by anyone. No one really dominated."

The Salukis lone win came against Indiana State on Saturday. Shortstop Jenny Shupryl had a 2-for-4 performance at the plate, with catcher Kelly Fox collecting three RBI on a two-run double in the fourth and a game-winning RBI single that broke a 2-2 deadlock in the eighth.

SIU's losses came to Northern Illinois 2-0; Ball State, 4-3 and Illinois State 2-0.

With the weekend's action, the Saluki pitching staff of Lisa Peterson and Lori Day now stands at 2-4 and 3-2.

The Salukis will compete next weekend in the Redbird Invitational at Normal, home of Illinois State's 16th-ranked Redbirds.

Motorcyclists can compete in upcoming dirt bike race

By Toby Eckert
Staff Writer

Area motorcyclists who are looking for some competition will be able to find it April 13 at the Williamson County Fairgrounds in Marion. The SI Dirt Riders, a Marion-based motorcycle club, is sponsoring a half-mile, flat track motorcycle race at the fairgrounds on that day.

Cathy Davis, secretary for the SI Riders, said Monday that riders wishing to participate in the event could sign up at the fairgrounds on the morning of the race. Practice begins at 11:30 a.m. and competition at 1 p.m.

There are five divisions in the event: pro, senior, amateur-automatic and two three wheel divisions.

Each division, in turn, will consist of several classes: in the pro and senior divisions, 120 cc, 200 cc and 250 cc and over; in the amateur-automatic division, 60 cc, 85 cc and 100 cc and over and in the three-wheel divisions, 200 cc and 250 cc and over.

The only requirements for participation, Davis said, are that there be no knobby tires on motorcycles over 85 cc and that the three-wheelers have class C dirt tires.

SI Riders was formed in May 1985. Davis said the main objective of the group was to promote interest in motorcycling in Southern Illinois.

She emphasized, however, that the members of the group participate only in dirt riding activities, not road races.

Currently, the Riders' main goal is to find a patch of unused land on which to build a track. The group is concentrating its search in the Shawnee National Forest area, Davis said.

"It takes quite a bit of property," she said. "We need a pretty sizable area, probably 100 to 150 acres."

The group meets at Davis Cycle in Marion on Tuesday nights. Those who have questions concerning the race or the club should contact Davis at (618) 997-3931.

and 6-0. At No. 1 doubles to easily beat their opponents 6-1 and 6-0.

Saluki No. 3 singles player Jairo Aldana also defeated his opponent, Ivan Salazar, in two quick sets, 6-1 and 6-1.

Aldana and No. 2 singles player Chris Visconti blanked their opponents in the first set of the No. 2 doubles match and lost one game in the second set to win their match, 6-0 and 6-1.

Mark Orlyshkevich, No. 2 singles player for U of I-Chicago, proved that his team had some strength in its game by slipping by Visconti, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-4.

"He was a better tennis player than we gave him credit for being," LeFevre said about Orlyshkevich.

Fabiano Ramos and Juan Martinez teamed up after winning their No. 5 and No. 6 singles matches to earn the Salukis a third doubles team victory, 6-0 and 6-4.

The Salukis, 1-9 on the season with this weekend's win, are preparing for the Mid-America Invitational, an eight team tournament, to be held Friday through Sunday at Wichita, Kan.

fired 222 strokes and Mike Vinnick of Western Kentucky who totaled 223.

Jeff Landskroner paced the Salukis with rounds of 77, 80 and 77 for a 234 total. Team mate Jay Sala shot 78, 79, 78 for 235 strokes, trailed by Clark Dixon with rounds of 79, 79 and 78 for a 236 total.

Tom Portner finished with rounds of 81, 79 and 83 for a 243 total and Mike Tucker scored 82, 82 and 80 for 244 strokes for the Salukis.

"The guys weren't satisfied, but if this is as bad as we play all year, I'm not unhappy because nobody played terrible," Vaughn said. "We need somebody to shoot scores like 72, 73, 72 but I'd hate to see somebody do that and have the rest of the team in the 80's. We're playing consistently and at least posting decent scores."

This is the second consecutive year that the Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky have dominated the Classic.

The Saluki men will compete April 5-6 in the Boilermaker Classic at Purdue.

IAAC to discuss gymnastics issue

By Steve Merritt
Sports Editor

Athletics Director Jim Livengood said Monday that he would make his official recommendation on the women's gymnastic program at Tuesday's meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletics Advisory Committee.

The meeting, scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. at the second floor Wham Faculty Lounge, was not originally scheduled to hear a discussion of the women's gymnastics program but Livengood and committee chair Margaret Matthias said it was likely the agenda would be altered to include a discussion of the current situation.

According to a report published Saturday morning, women's gymnastics coach Herb Vogel said he was contacted by Livengood on Friday afternoon and informed that the program would be dropped after the 1986 season was completed.

Livengood said his intentions of discussing the matter with Vogel were to inform the student-athletes involved that the situation existed and the possibility, for the future of the program. Livengood said he was sorry things had "been blown out of proportion and left open to rumor."

Livengood has called for a full staff meeting of both the men's and the women's athletics departments at 9 a.m. Tuesday morning to discuss the gymnastics situation.

Livengood met with the women's athletic department Monday morning and discussed the situation and likely courses of action.

Other business on the IAAC's agenda includes a continuing discussion of a statement of philosophy on intercollegiate athletics and the structure and role of the IAAC.

In news concerning the structure of the athletics departments, Livengood said a committee composed of members of both the men's and women's athletics departments had been discussing what structure should be implemented at SIU.

According to Livengood, the committee has met seven times and could possibly have a recommendation for the IAAC sometime in April.

The committee is composed of: Livengood; Fred Huff, assistant men's athletic director and men's sports information director; Bruce McCutcheon, assistant director of men's athletics; Paul Bubb, athletics fundraiser; Charlotte West, director of women's athletics; Nancy Bandy, assistant director of women's athletics; Mike Perkins, assistant director of women's athletics and Gary Carney, administrative assistant women's athletics.

The committee will review and discuss possible structures for the athletics departments and make a recommendation to the IAAC and to President Albert Somit.

SIU decided to review its athletics structure in March of 1985, when Somit appointed Dean Stuck as presidential assistant on intercollegiate athletics.

Missouri-St. Louis outfielder Russell Muenks scampers back to first base as Saluki first baseman Jim Limperis positions himself for the pickoff throw. Muenks, 5-foot-11, 125 pounds, safely reached base in eight of nine at-bats and stole 2 bases Sunday en route to the Rivermen's doubleheader sweep of the Salukis, 6-3, 7-4. The Dogs' record stands 19-6.

Murray State next at bat for Salukis

By Ron Warnick
Staff Writer

After hearing about the baseball Salukis losing a doubleheader over the weekend, the Murray State Racers probably can't wait to race to Abe Martin Field for a 2:30 p.m. Tuesday game against the Dogs.

Saluki coach Richard "Itchy" Jone hopes his team will recover after being blitzed in two games with Missouri-St. Louis last Sunday.

"We have to come back, forget those games and go out to play," Jones said. "The players have to realize they just can't just throw their gloves out on the field and beat people."

The 8-9 Racers are hitting just .271 as a team, but make up for it with home run power. Murray State has hit 18 round-trippers in their first 13 games.

Their power totals may be misleading, as Murray State's ball park is tiny, with the center field fence only 360 feet away from home plate.

Jones hopes starter Todd Neibel (2-1, 4.00 ERA) and some Saluki runs in the first few innings will end their recent skid.

"We haven't yet developed the killer instinct to go out and put people away early," he said.

"They also don't seem to have the pride to win several games in a row. They seem more satisfied about being .500 than going out to win every ball game," Jones added.

The Salukis will have to play without outfielder Steve Finley, who went back to his native Paducah, Ky., Sunday because he developed a strep throat infection which required hospitalization.

"When you lose someone of Steve's caliber, you're going to lose some punch in the lineup because he can do so many things," Jones said.

The Racers are led by shortstop Tom Gargiulo (.396, three homers, 14 RBI) and outfielder Dan Naughton (.279, three homers, 17 RBI).

Their chief fence-banger has been Steve Groehn with five home runs along with 14 RBI and a .275 average.

The ace arm of a pitching staff that has a 6.90 ERA belongs to Scott Heidorn, a junior righthander with a 1-1 record, 11 strikeouts in 13.2 innings and a 3.95 ERA.

Blues to stay, owner tells players, coach

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Harry Ernest, the owner of the St. Louis Blues, told his players the National Hockey League team will be playing in St. Louis next season.

At the request of Coach Jacques Demers, Ernest spoke with the team before its 3-2 victory Saturday over the Montreal Canadiens.

Demers quoted Ernest as telling the players: "Gentlemen, I want you to know the St. Louis Blues are not moving. The team is staying in St. Louis. Don't worry about the future. Thank you very much. Go out and play hockey."

Demers said Ernest's talk sparked the team to its victory over the Canadiens, marking the first time the Blues have beaten Montreal at home since 1980.

"I think it helped our performance," Demers said. "Harry made everybody feel good."

There have been persistent rumors this season that Ernest would move the team, possibly to Hamilton, Ontario.

"It created an atmosphere of certainty about the future of the St. Louis Blues," Demers said. "I know the players were worrying about it in the dressing room. It was bothering them and their wives too."

A group of investors, fronted by Toronto businessman Michael Goboty, has presented two offers to Ernest for the Blues. Hamilton is trying to acquire an existing franchise or an expansion team for its new Copps Coliseum, a 17,500-seat facility.

Goboty's latest offer came two weeks ago and was for a reported $20 million in U.S. currency. Earlier, Goboty made a $17.5 million offer. Both offers were confirmed and rejected by Ernest.

Demers said he had told his players they would be staying in St. Louis, but it was better to hear it from Ernest himself.

"Me saying it is one thing," Demers said. "The owner saying it is another."

Duke's 1983 harvest of recruits bears fruit

East Rutherford, N.J. (UPI) — Four springs ago, Duke's crop of recruits was hailed as the nation's finest. Now those seniors are within two victories of proving they are again the country's best.

Led by four-year starters Johnny Dawkins, Jay Bilas and Mark Alarie, the Blue Devils Sunday completed their East Regional preliminary with a 71-50 rout of Navy. They advance to the Final Four and a Saturday rematch with Kansas.

The two teams met Dec. 1 in the final of the Big Apple NIT, when Duke won 92-85 as David Henderson, also a senior, scored 30 points against the Jayhawks.

The 36-2 Blue Devils move on to Dallas without having a real test in the NCAA Tournament, but the absence of a true challenge may confirm their No. 1 ranking rather than undermine it.

After triumphs over Mississippi Valley State, Old Dominion, and DePaul, Duke's opponent in the regional final promised to be its most formidable challenge, but it wasn't the Midshipmen who did the cruising.

Despite shooting just under 35 percent during the first half, Duke effectively ended all doubts of the outcome with an 18-2 run before intermission, when it held a 34-22 advantage. Later, the ACC champions held leads of 23 points on three occasions.

David Robinson, Navy's 6-11 center, was expected to cause the most problems, but Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski answered with the correct strategy.

Alarie fronted Robinson on defense and the Blue Devils so harassed Robinson's teammates that few passes inside were completed.

"We wanted to keep the pressure on the perimeter," explained Duke guard Tommy Amaker. "Don't let them get the easy pass to Robinson — that was the key to the game."

The defensive pressure also limited forward Vernon Butler, Navy's all-time scoring leader, to 8 points, and swingman Kaylor Whitaker to 10.

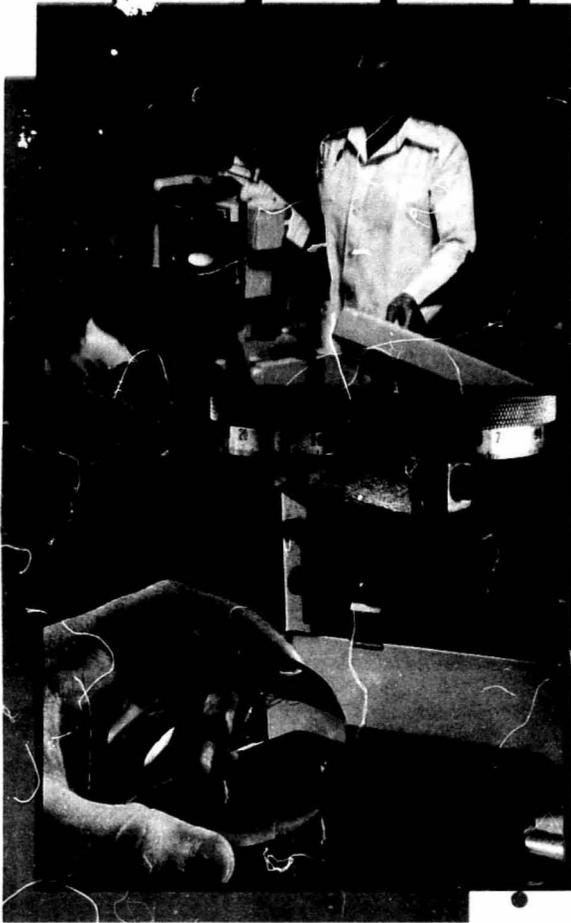

Equally important were the 49-29 Duke rebounding advantage and Dawkins' 28 points and ability to ignite his team.

Duke will be making its fifth trip to the Final Four, where it has lost twice in the semifinals and twice in the championship game. The Blue Devils are currently tied with the 1948 Kentucky team for most victories in a season.

THE WEISSER EYE DOCTOR—FOR OPTOMETRISTS, OPHTHAL

THE WEISSER OPTOMETRISTS

Your Weisser eyecare experience begins with a thorough eye/vision examination by a licensed, expert Weisser Optometrist. He also checks for signs of physical ailments which show up in the eyes, such as arteriosclerosis, diabetic retinopathy, hypertension, tumors, etc.

Weisser Doctors of Optometry are required to take five times the amount of continuing education hours required by the State of Illinois licensing board.

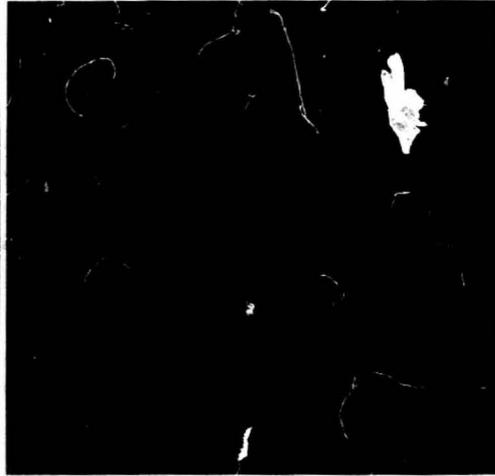

Your Weisser Optometrist utilizes the very latest in computerized and automated ocular examination and vision testing instrumentation for the most accurate eye/vision examination possible.

If he decides you need the care of a medical specialist, or if a consultation with an Ophthalmologist is indicated, your Weisser Optometrist will make the arrangements for you.

Your Weisser Optometrist is not a purveyor of eyewear. His main responsibility is to make the most accurate analysis possible of the condition of your eyes. And when necessary, write the best prescription for correction. He is also responsible for educating you about eye/vision care. Because Weisser cares about your eyes.

AT WEISSER, THE EDUCATION OF YOUR EYECARE PROFESSIONALS NEVER ENDS.

Each month, Weisser Optometrists, Opticians and Optometric Assistants are required to attend a Seminar at which they hear lectures, see Weisser-produced films and gain hands-on experience with the latest in eyecare technology and pathology. Seminars are conducted by distinguished Ophthalmologists, Optometrists, lens and equipment manufacturer's representatives, fashion frame stylists and other industry experts. The main object of the seminars is to keep Weisser professionals in step with the rapid technological growth and development of the eye health profession. Because Weisser cares about your eyes.
