11-17-1986

The Daily Egyptian, November 17, 1986

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_November1986
Volume 73, Issue 61

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1986 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in November 1986 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
Red Cross strikes it rich in local blood drive

Once again, the American Red Cross has raised a rich

$26,730 in a walk-a-thon.

When the last pint was collected Friday, 3,429 people

donated in the drive held last week in the Student Center.

That total exceeded the national peace-time record of 3,782 pints given in the drive

held on campus last November.

First-time donors Friday numbered 169, the most of any day during the six-day drive. A total of 747 donated blood for the first time last week, said

Vivian Urgent, Red Cross blood drive coordinator for Southern Illinois. Donations Friday totaled 648 pints, short of the 712-pint high set Tuesday.

Urgent said 280 more people had tried to donate but were deflected because of various disqualifications, including iron deficiencies and high fears.

In a drawing held Friday,

SIU-C student Bill Ploplis won typerwriter donated by Sears.

The next Red Cross blood drive on campus is set for

February 4-5. Because people's bodies will replenish

their blood supplies by then,

Urgent said, all who gave blood in last week's drive will be eligible to donate in the next drive.

Carbondale has been a leader among the nation's blood-donating communities

since the first blood drive was held on campus in 1989, Urgent said. Earlier this month, the American Association of Blood

Banks named SIU-C as the nation's No. 1 blood-donating campus. Students and members of the community donated 9,483 pints in blood drives last year, she said.

Another Red Cross blood drive is set for today in West

Prairie from 1 to 6 p.m. at the St. John's Catholic Church.

Protesters take aim at Star Wars

Campus research protested

By Toby Eckert
Staff Writer

For the second time this semester, demonstrators gathered at the Tech Buildings to vent their anger about Star

Wars research on campus.

About 50 people, collectively

clutching a six-foot red ribbon,

marched through the Student Center Friday waving signs and shouting slogans decrying

the Strategic Defense Initiative.

SDI is President Reagan's ground-launched missile defense system, commonly known as Star Wars. The test of a Star

 Wars system would fly by through the end of the Student Center.

A lone counter-demonstrator hurled insults at the protesters

as they began their march.

"SDI promotes peace," he yelled. "You're killing ourselves!"

The protesters answered with jeers and shouts of "fascists!"

The real object of the protesters' anger, however,

was the Department of

Naval Engineering at the

Tech Buildings. There, Stelios

Themopoulos and Ramamurthy

Viswanathan, two professors who were recently awarded a

$326,000 grant, study radar systems.

The grant money, from the Office of Naval Research, came from funds earmarked for the Department of Defense.

Star Wars research "encourages military chaos

and greatly reduces the chances for global peace," said

Andres Barrientos, president of a Mid-

American Peace Project, a campus-based peace group

that opposed STAR

Defense. "SDI research will not and should not stand in the way of peace. The freedom to conduct research should be kept strictly to things from which everyone can profit."

Themopoulos and

Viswanathan have claimed their research project deals with technology that will have

use beyond SDI. Both men asked Friday to comment on the protest.

Barrientos and other

speakers decried what they called the "militarization"

of college campuses across the United States that accept SDI

research funds.

Georgann Hartung, an activist for the Southern Illinois-Latin America

Solidarity Committee, called

Gus Bode

President Reagan's Star Wars program

in front of the Technology Building. Mid America

Peace Project sponsored the rally.

Matt Unterberger, sophomore in art, and Sue

McPike, junior in elementary education, let a poster drift while talking during a protest Friday of the Star Wars research.

"SDI draws fire from scientists"

By Patricia Edwards
Staff Writer

President Reagan's Star

Wars defense program will escalate the international arms race, opponents of the plan argued in an international teleconference Saturday.

The conference, viewed by about 25 people at John A.

Logan College, was organized by two organizations that are opposed to Star Wars

research: Scientists and Scholars. It was the first teleconference to discuss the proposals.

"Students Together Against

Star Wars" teleconference analyses the program to the college.

Supporters of Star Wars,

formally called the Strategic

Defense Initiative, were represented by Allan Moses,

acting chief scientist of the

Strategic Defense Initiative

Organization. The program would promote peace by ultimately decreasing the number of nuclear arms, he said.

"The operational definition of SDI is to try and develop a non-nuclear, non-nuclear,

missile system that would devalue defensive ballistic missiles,"

he said.

The missiles would be ineffective because a defense

shield would intercept and destroy the missiles in space,

Moses said.

Jan Martenson,

unemployed at the United Nations, said Star Wars

promotes an upward spiral in the arms race, because it stands as a barrier to negotiations.

Richard Garwin of Thomas

See SCIENTISTS, Page 5

This Morning

Coffee Condo offers alternative

— Page 13

Spikers fail to

Bears

— Sports 16

'Monster' Phillips gets death penalty

By Carolyn Schmidt
Staff Writer

Convicted murderer John

Paul Phillips was sentenced to death Friday for the 1981

slaying of Carbondale waitress

Jean Wetherall. Preliminary

sentencing hearings also linked Phillips to the murders

of former SIUC students

Teresa Clark and Kathleen

McDermott.

Phillips, 32, is scheduled to receive a lethal drug injection

Feb. 2. The case will receive an automatic appeal under

Illinois law.

Phillips is the first person to be given the death sentence

in Jackson County since the death penalty was reinstated in

"The man is the most monstrous barbarian I've ever seen in this county. I think

judge gave the appropriate

sentence," Jackson County

State's Attorney John Clemens

said after the sentencing.

"He is a human being in name only. John Paul Phillips is a monster, a butcher of human beings," Clemens said.

First Circuit Judge Donald

Lowery said before an unanimous jury. Phillips demonstrated lack of remorse

for the crimes he committed.

On fair evidence presented at the trial indicated the

Wetherall murder was planned.

Phillips, in a statement

before his sentencing said he felt no pity for the Wetherall

See PHILLIPS, Page 5
Shultz questions wisdom of Reagan decision on Iran

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz said Sunday that President Reagan’s secret decision to send arms to Iran as a signal to the Soviets was "debatable." Shultz also said that, as far as he is concerned, the U.S. arms embargo against Iran remains in effect and no more U.S. weaponry will be sent.

British company eyes sale of vehicles to Iran

LONDON (UPI) — Britain’s state-owned Land-Rover company is negotiating a $78.0 million deal to help Iran in its 6-year-old war with Iraq. "At this stage, we have simply quoted (prices) for a potential order in Iran," the company spokesman said late Saturday.

Poll: majority favors AIDS victim quarantine

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than half of the people responding to a Gallup poll released Sunday believe AIDS victims should be quarantined, and more than 25 percent said they would refuse elective surgery if a transfusion were required because they fear contracting AIDS. The poll, conducted for Newsweek magazine, also found that 46 percent believe everyone’s blood should be tested for acquired immune deficiency syndrome and 89 percent said they would voluntarily submit to such tests, Newsweek said in its Nov. 24 edition.

Two jetliners barely miss midair collision

GRAPEVINE, Texas (UPI) — Two American Airlines jets — one climbing, the other descending — came within a half mile of each other over "possible operation error," the Federal Aviation Administration said Sunday. FAA spokesman Mitch Barker said preliminary investigations indicated a near miss — the third in commercial jetliners involving U.S. airlines that occurred about 1:30 p.m. Saturday some 10 miles from Dallas Fort Worth International Airport.

Israel bombs Palestinian bases; 2 killed

SIDON, Lebanon (UPI) — Israeli warplanes bombed Palestinian bases east of Sidon at dusk Sunday, killing two guerrillas, wounding five other people and flattening a three-story building. The Israeli military said. Three jets drawing fire from Moslem militiamen and Palestinian guerrillas made two bombing runs over bases belonging to the Al Fatah movement — the mainstream Palestinian group of Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat — and the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

Brazilian vote boosts president’s support

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — President Jose Sarney’s governing coalition, which appeared Sunday to have scored major victories in the first nationwide congressional election since military rule ended 30 months ago, according to early unofficial results. Official returns from Tuesday’s vote were not expected for several days, but various reports showed pro-Sarney parties victorious in the election for a Congress that will pave the way for the first direct presidential vote since 1980.

Protests expected to greet Zulu chief’s visit

BOSTON (UPI) — South African activists were expected to protest Monday’s appearance at Boston University of Chief Mangosuthu G. Buthelezi, leader of South Africa’s six million Zulus. Plans to visit Boston last week by the white-ruled nation’s president were not expected to result in major protests, but the anti-apartheid movement will use the visit to draw attention to South Africa’s human rights practices.

state

Revlon boycott extended to S. Africa, Jackson says

CHICAGO (UPI) — The boycott of Revlon cosmetic products launched last month by Operation PUSH has spread to South Africa, the Rev. Jesse Jackson said. The Chicago-based civil rights group called for the Revlon boycott following controversial remarks by a Revlon executive that South African health care companies were inferior and would be surpassed in the marketplace by white-owned firms. PUSH has agreed to continue the boycott Thursday with Revlon executives in New York and demanded the company halt its operations in South Africa.

Newswrap

nation/world

Shultz questions wisdom of Reagan decision on Iran

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz said Sunday that President Reagan’s secret decision to send arms to Iran as a signal to the Soviets was "debatable." Shultz also said that, as far as he is concerned, the U.S. arms embargo against Iran remains in effect and no more U.S. weaponry will be sent.

British company eyes sale of vehicles to Iran

LONDON (UPI) — Britain’s state-owned Land-Rover company is negotiating a $78.0 million deal to help Iran in its 6-year-old war with Iraq. "At this stage, we have simply quoted (prices) for a potential order in Iran," the company spokesman said late Saturday.

Poll: majority favors AIDS victim quarantine

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than half of the people responding to a Gallup poll released Sunday believe AIDS victims should be quarantined, and more than 25 percent said they would refuse elective surgery if a transfusion were required because they fear contracting AIDS. The poll, conducted for Newsweek magazine, also found that 46 percent believe everyone’s blood should be tested for acquired immune deficiency syndrome and 89 percent said they would voluntarily submit to such tests, Newsweek said in its Nov. 24 edition.

Two jetliners barely miss midair collision

GRAPEVINE, Texas (UPI) — Two American Airlines jets — one climbing, the other descending — came within a half mile of each other over "possible operation error," the Federal Aviation Administration said Sunday. FAA spokesman Mitch Barker said preliminary investigations indicated a near miss — the third in commercial jetliners involving U.S. airlines that occurred about 1:30 p.m. Saturday some 10 miles from Dallas Fort Worth International Airport.

Israel bombs Palestinian bases; 2 killed

SIDON, Lebanon (UPI) — Israeli warplanes bombed Palestinian bases east of Sidon at dusk Sunday, killing two guerrillas, wounding five other people and flattening a three-story building. The Israeli military said. Three jets drawing fire from Moslem militiamen and Palestinian guerrillas made two bombing runs over bases belonging to the Al Fatah movement — the mainstream Palestinian group of Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat — and the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

Brazilian vote boosts president’s support

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — President Jose Sarney’s governing coalition, which appeared Sunday to have scored major victories in the first nationwide congressional election since military rule ended 30 months ago, according to early unofficial results. Official returns from Tuesday’s vote were not expected for several days, but various reports showed pro-Sarney parties victorious in the election for a Congress that will pave the way for the first direct presidential vote since 1980.

Protests expected to greet Zulu chief’s visit

BOSTON (UPI) — South African activists were expected to protest Monday’s appearance at Boston University of Chief Mangosuthu G. Buthelezi, leader of South Africa’s six million Zulus. Plans to visit Boston last week by the white-ruled nation’s president were not expected to result in major protests, but the anti-apartheid movement will use the visit to draw attention to South Africa’s human rights practices.

state

Revlon boycott extended to S. Africa, Jackson says

CHICAGO (UPI) — The boycott of Revlon cosmetic products launched last month by Operation PUSH has spread to South Africa, the Rev. Jesse Jackson said. The Chicago-based civil rights group called for the Revlon boycott following controversial remarks by a Revlon executive that South African health care companies were inferior and would be surpassed in the marketplace by white-owned firms. PUSH has agreed to continue the boycott Thursday with Revlon executives in New York and demanded the company halt its operations in South Africa.

Newswrap

nation/world

Shultz questions wisdom of Reagan decision on Iran

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz said Sunday that President Reagan’s secret decision to send arms to Iran as a signal to the Soviets was "debatable." Shultz also said that, as far as he is concerned, the U.S. arms embargo against Iran remains in effect and no more U.S. weaponry will be sent.

British company eyes sale of vehicles to Iran

LONDON (UPI) — Britain’s state-owned Land-Rover company is negotiating a $78.0 million deal to help Iran in its 6-year-old war with Iraq. "At this stage, we have simply quoted (prices) for a potential order in Iran," the company spokesman said late Saturday.

Poll: majority favors AIDS victim quarantine

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than half of the people responding to a Gallup poll released Sunday believe AIDS victims should be quarantined, and more than 25 percent said they would refuse elective surgery if a transfusion were required because they fear contracting AIDS. The poll, conducted for Newsweek magazine, also found that 46 percent believe everyone’s blood should be tested for acquired immune deficiency syndrome and 89 percent said they would voluntarily submit to such tests, Newsweek said in its Nov. 24 edition.

Two jetliners barely miss midair collision

GRAPEVINE, Texas (UPI) — Two American Airlines jets — one climbing, the other descending — came within a half mile of each other over "possible operation error," the Federal Aviation Administration said Sunday. FAA spokesman Mitch Barker said preliminary investigations indicated a near miss — the third in commercial jetliners involving U.S. airlines that occurred about 1:30 p.m. Saturday some 10 miles from Dallas Fort Worth International Airport.

Israel bombs Palestinian bases; 2 killed

SIDON, Lebanon (UPI) — Israeli warplanes bombed Palestinian bases east of Sidon at dusk Sunday, killing two guerrillas, wounding five other people and flattening a three-story building. The Israeli military said. Three jets drawing fire from Moslem militiamen and Palestinian guerrillas made two bombing runs over bases belonging to the Al Fatah movement — the mainstream Palestinian group of Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat — and the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

Brazilian vote boosts president’s support

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — President Jose Sarney’s governing coalition, which appeared Sunday to have scored major victories in the first nationwide congressional election since military rule ended 30 months ago, according to early unofficial results. Official returns from Tuesday’s vote were not expected for several days, but various reports showed pro-Sarney parties victorious in the election for a Congress that will pave the way for the first direct presidential vote since 1980.

Protests expected to greet Zulu chief’s visit

BOSTON (UPI) — South African activists were expected to protest Monday’s appearance at Boston University of Chief Mangosuthu G. Buthelezi, leader of South Africa’s six million Zulus. Plans to visit Boston last week by the white-ruled nation’s president were not expected to result in major protests, but the anti-apartheid movement will use the visit to draw attention to South Africa’s human rights practices.

state

Revlon boycott extended to S. Africa, Jackson says

CHICAGO (UPI) — The boycott of Revlon cosmetic products launched last month by Operation PUSH has spread to South Africa, the Rev. Jesse Jackson said. The Chicago-based civil rights group called for the Revlon boycott following controversial remarks by a Revlon executive that South African health care companies were inferior and would be surpassed in the marketplace by white-owned firms. PUSH has agreed to continue the boycott Thursday with Revlon executives in New York and demanded the company halt its operations in South Africa.
Phillips won't blame family for his crimes

By Carolyn Schmidt
Staff Writer

Jackson County State's Attorney John ClemOll called John Paul Phillips a monster in closing arguments Friday before Phillips was sentenced to death for the 1981 murder of Carbondale waitress Joan Wetherall. Phillips admitted to the court that he wasn't "a very good human being."

Prosecuting and defense attorneys, however, pointed out that Phillips' father and sister were supportive throughout the trial and sentencing hearings.

"It's my son. I'm not going to abandon him," Paul Phillips, the defendant's father said during recess before the sentencing was announced.

In a statement for his defense, Phillips said his family should not take blame for whatever crimes he committed. "My family doesn't know if I'm guilty or not," he said. "If I am guilty, it's me, not them."

PHILLIPS WAS serving 45 years at Menard Correctional Center on abduction charges when he found out he had been charged with the Wetherall murder. Phillips said he wanted to plead guilty to the Wetherall murder because he did not want to put his family through the "pain and anguish" of another trial.

Phillips was 45 years old at the time of the murder.

During Phillips' trial in Menasha from Sept. 26 to Oct. 9, friction was evident between the Wetherall and Phillips families. Phillips said his trial and his family's involvement in the sentencing, had an effect on the outcome of the trial.

"You're going to heaven or hell and there's nothing in between," Phillips said to reporters. "You probably think you're going to one place and I'm going to another. I'll save you a seat and that's all I have to say." During the first day of sentencing hearings, when Phillips attempted to attack Thomas Mocaby, Schneider recounted that Phillips' father had applauded during the attempted attack.

Paul Phillips said he was upset by press coverage of the incident because he was reacting to applause from others present in the courtroom. "People clapped when they should have cried," he said. "I don't know who they were."
Teflon mars easily when Iran-handled

GOOD COOKS WILL TELL YOU that Teflon-coated cookware remains an easy-pick quality for several years if you don't abuse it. Scratches and nicks, however, hasten Teflon's deterioration. Soon, worn-out Teflon pots and pans are often worse than regular cookware.

President Reagan aware of this culinary phenomenon, he'd have steered clear of damaging his own Teflon coating by making secret arms deals with unavailing, untrustworthy Iranians.

Reagan confessed before a national television audience last week that he'd got the nod to covert sales of weapons, ammunition and other military supplies to Iran, one of the world's principal pro-terrorism nations.

THE GOOODs, DELIVERED WITH THE HELP of Israel, were sent in conjunction with at least 14 months of equally-covert talks and secret meetings with representatives of different Iranian revolutionary factions. The country is in the early stages of a power struggle because the 86-year-old Iranian leader, Ayatolla Khomeini, is reported to be ailing.

Reagan authorized the deed despite a bilateral of laws specifically restricting such activities established by Congress almost six years ago, after the 444-day drama over $2 hostages in the U.S. embassy in Tehran, Iran's capital.

THE PRESIDENT'S EXCUSE for perpetrating the deal was twofold. To assure Iran, its oil holdings and the Persian Gulf from Soviet control. He also wanted to wrench at least six American hostages from Iran-backed terrorists in Lebanon and elsewhere.

But complications set in. Iran took up more arms from the Soviet Union and the Libyan government for every American hostage released another was abducted.

We believe that Reagan and his underlings should've steered clear of conflicting in politically unstable power in the world. But it didn't work. Five hostages remain and it's likely their release will be at a higher cost. At least Reagan realized something the American press and public haven't, that shows of force won't work with all terrorists.

THE AMERICAN PUBLIC, the same public that gave him a mandate to bring peace to the Middle East, for taking action to secure the hostages' release, but not in the way it wanted him to take that action. Of course, the public isn't much for offering viable ideas, or votes.

Strange, the arms fiasco was leaked not from American news sources, but from a Beirut magazine and the speaker of the Iranian parliament.

True, Reagan, in effect, lied to the American public. But he hasn't cornered that market. Like Nixon with Watergate, Reagan's problem was getting caught. If all had gone well, i.e. the beans weren't spilled, Americans would hail Reagan as a hostage-liberator and diplomatic Iran-conqueror.

THERE'S ROOM TO QUESTION REAGAN'S carbines-for-captive, that we are heart in the right place. Unfortunately, we can't deal with terrorists, with or without Teflon, unless we first take the pains to understand who they are and comprehend their motives.

Letters

Football is an 'organized bore'

First of all, college football does not pay for itself, let alone provide for research and academic programs. Any number of studies by the AAUP and The Chronicle of Higher Education detail the continued raids collegiate football programs make on academic funding.

A study done several years ago of the football program at SIU indicated the college football toppling from on campus spent $800,000, yet only took in $250,000. The football losing crowd can make all the bad assumptions they want. Anti-black attacks against the bearer of bad news will not change the cold hard data.

Incidentally, I sat on the cold hard aluminum bleachers at the University of Illinois one time several years ago. I didn't see 40,000 fans paying $16 a ticket. I saw a stadium half-full. Even the Big Ten schools run coasts in the red on football programs.

Second, a shockingly large number of students on football scholarships do not succeed academically. The football lobby crowd likes to focus on the quarter back or the "Refrigerator Perry" who make it in the big time, but the bitter reality is the larger number of alumni or ex-Salukis end up pumping gas.

Big Ten football, as practiced in Champaign-Urbana, represents the basic inequity and racism of our society. Large crowds of mostly middle-class, white students and their parents from the affluent Chicago suburbs watch football teams composed of poor whites and poor blacks from the crumbling inner cities play their gut out for a brief moment of glory and a glimpse of a chance at the better life.

Justifying professional football on campus as some kind of affirmative action program is like sending the marines to Managua and then suggesting the main purpose is to give a lot of underprivileged kids a chance to travel and learn a foreign language.

So let's drop all the hypocrisy and pretense. Violent contact sports such as football and boxing satisfy some people's desire to witness mayhem. A university without intercollegiate football would be like a "fish without a bicycle" in the real world reality.

Letters

Football is an 'organized bore'

First of all, college football does not pay for itself, let alone provide for research and academic programs. Any number of studies by the AAUP and The Chronicle of Higher Education detail the continued raids collegiate football programs make on academic funding.

A study done several years ago of the football program at SIU indicated the college football toppling from on campus spent $800,000, yet only took in $250,000. The football losing crowd can make all the bad assumptions they want. Anti-black attacks against the bearer of bad news will not change the cold hard data.

Incidentally, I sat on the cold hard aluminum bleachers at the University of Illinois one time several years ago. I didn't see 40,000 fans paying $16 a ticket. I saw a stadium half-full. Even the Big Ten schools run coasts in the red on football programs.

Second, a shockingly large number of students on football scholarships do not succeed academically. The football lobby crowd likes to focus on the quarter back or the "Refrigerator Perry" who make it in the big time, but the bitter reality is the larger number of alumni or ex-Salukis end up pumping gas.

Big Ten football, as practiced in Champaign-Urbana, represents the basic inequity and racism of our society. Large crowds of mostly middle-class, white students and their parents from the affluent Chicago suburbs watch football teams composed of poor whites and poor blacks from the crumbling inner cities play their gut out for a brief moment of glory and a glimpse of a chance at the better life.

Justifying professional football on campus as some kind of affirmative action program is like sending the marines to Managua and then suggesting the main purpose is to give a lot of underprivileged kids a chance to travel and learn a foreign language.

So let's drop all the hypocrisy and pretense. Violent contact sports such as football and boxing satisfy some people's desire to witness mayhem. A university without intercollegiate football would be like a "fish without a bicycle" in the real world reality.

Letters

Football is an 'organized bore'

First of all, college football does not pay for itself, let alone provide for research and academic programs. Any number of studies by the AAUP and The Chronicle of Higher Education detail the continued raids collegiate football programs make on academic funding.

A study done several years ago of the football program at SIU indicated the college football toppling from on campus spent $800,000, yet only took in $250,000. The football losing crowd can make all the bad assumptions they want. Anti-black attacks against the bearer of bad news will not change the cold hard data.

Incidentally, I sat on the cold hard aluminum bleachers at the University of Illinois one time several years ago. I didn't see 40,000 fans paying $16 a ticket. I saw a stadium half-full. Even the Big Ten schools run coasts in the red on football programs.

Second, a shockingly large number of students on football scholarships do not succeed academically. The football lobby crowd likes to focus on the quarter back or the "Refrigerator Perry" who make it in the big time, but the bitter reality is the larger number of alumni or ex-Salukis end up pumping gas.

Big Ten football, as practiced in Champaign-Urbana, represents the basic inequity and racism of our society. Large crowds of mostly middle-class, white students and their parents from the affluent Chicago suburbs watch football teams composed of poor whites and poor blacks from the crumbling inner cities play their gut out for a brief moment of glory and a glimpse of a chance at the better life.

Justifying professional football on campus as some kind of affirmative action program is like sending the marines to Managua and then suggesting the main purpose is to give a lot of underprivileged kids a chance to travel and learn a foreign language.

So let's drop all the hypocrisy and pretense. Violent contact sports such as football and boxing satisfy some people's desire to witness mayhem. A university without intercollegiate football would be like a "fish without a bicycle" in the real world reality.
PHILLIPS, from Page 1

family and would not plead for his life. "I'm not going to plead for his life," said John Paul Phillips out on the street. "What I am asking you to do is to punish my client by putting him in prison, this is not a reward, this is a punishment. With great reluctance, I ask you to punish my client in this way," he said.

Padish said he included in his argument to the prosecutor community residents asking for lenience for Phillips. The letter referred to the problems stemming from his background of abuse.

A defense psychologist had testified that Phillips was sexually abused by his mother, who had been in an overdose-induced hospital illness and who died when Phillips was ten years old.

Phillips denied in his defense that he had a mental illness. "I won't say I'm crazy or that my mother made me do it," he said.

Phillips also contested the validity of testimony from Thomas Mocaby, a former cellmate of Phillips' at Menard Correctional Center. Mocaby said that Phillips described to him in detail how he could be raped and killed Clark, McSharry and Wetherall.

"Most of this stuff Tom Mocaby was saying was printed in the newspaper," Phillips said. "He knew I was a suspect for a long time and he worked his head to pull a con game on you guys."

Calling the prosecution and local law enforcers "non-competent," Phillips said evidence given by Mocaby was not used against him until two years later, when Jackson County Sheriff William Lowery was up for re-election and Lowery was up for re-election. Phillips may still be on death row.

Clemens said it took two years to corroborate Mocaby's testimony with the murders before evidence was presented to the grand jury in April.

"We took our time on this case to get it right. The law enforcement community has done phenomenal work on putting this case together," he said.

The prosecution proceeded with the Wetherall case first. The Clark and McSharry cases were brought in 1971 after Illinois reinstated the death penalty in 1971. The death penalty was unconstitutional in Illinois at the time of the Clark murder in 1971 and the McSharry murder in 1974. Both women, SIU-C students in their early 20s, died in their apartments of multiple stab wounds. Autopsy reports show evidence of sexual intercourse before the women died.

Wetherall's body was found Nov. 3, 1971, in a step up on a brick wall near Ellyville. She died of strangulation and loss of blood from head injuries, according to an autopsy report. Mocaby told the jury that Phillips said Wetherall was murdered at Phillips' father's place of business in Carbondale.

Schneider considers Phillips a "one-man crime wave." Both prosecutors agree that Wetherall was a serial killer, although they have no evidence on any other murders besides the three presented at the hearings, Clemens said.

Schneider said the Feb. 2 date for Phillips to die is a "formality."

"I'm sure his lawyers will appeal this case for years and years to come," he said. "Ten years from now John Paul Phillips may still be on death row."

Schneider said he has not decided whether he will seek charges for an incident during Wednesday's hearing in which Phillips threw a small metal object at one of his lawyers. The object was recovered by bailiffs experts, Clemens said.

should be concentrated on are testing and a ban on space technology. Without testing there can be no further escalation on either side, she said.

People who speak out against current policy run the risk of being called unpatriotic, she said, but it would be unpatriotic not to speak.

Groublord is an organizer of a petition at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, that asks President Ford not to do SDI research. She said about 70 percent of the professors asked signed the petition. She said the move a strong statement by the scientific community against SDI (Strategic Defense Initiative).

In England, a similar petition has been circulating for six months. Anne Davis of Scientists Against Nuclear War said many of the people asked at Cambridge said they would refuse Star Wars research money.

Eleven days after the United States dropped the first atomic bomb design, scientists involved in making the bomb, including Robert J. Oppenheimer, warned against creating defensive weapons to counter atomic war. said Matthew Meselson of the Federation of American Scientists. Scientists need to do more than come out of their ivory towers, hand over the results of their weapons studies and go back into the ivory towers.

Scientists are forming better organizations and working more with the politicians, he said. "It is a seeds of organizations from the scientific community holds promise for scientific reduction," Meselson said.

PHILADELPHIA'S, from Page 1

Bill Perk, a professor of community development, said the city may issue a written warning, a monetary fine, or suspend or revoke its liquor license for the violations.

The Carbondale City Council will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the possibility of a liquor license for the violations.

The Contras are fighting to overthrow the ruling Sandinista regime in Nicaragua. Since the war in Central America is believed to be larger than 12 ounces.

A small group of citizens, SIU-C students in their early 20s, died in their apartments of multiple stab wounds. Autopsy reports show evidence of sexual intercourse before the women died.

Wetherall's body was found Nov. 3, 1971, on a brick wall near Ellyville. She died of strangulation and loss of blood from head injuries, according to an autopsy report. Mocaby told the jury that Phillips said Wetherall was murdered at Phillips' father's place of business in Carbondale.

Schneider considers Phillips a "one-man crime wave." Both prosecutors agree that Wetherall was a serial killer, although they have no evidence on any other murders besides the three presented at the hearings, Clemens said.

Schneider said the Feb. 2 date for Phillips to die is a "formality."

"I'm sure his lawyers will appeal this case for years and years to come," he said. "Ten years from now John Paul Phillips may still be on death row."

Schneider said he has not decided whether he will seek charges for an incident during Wednesday's hearing in which Phillips threw a small metal object at one of his lawyers. The object was recovered by bailiffs experts, Clemens said.

should be concentrated on are testing and a ban on space technology. Without testing there can be no further escalation on either side, she said.

People who speak out against current policy run the risk of being called unpatriotic, she said, but it would be unpatriotic not to speak.

Groublord is an organizer of a petition at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, that asks President Ford not to do SDI research. She said about 70 percent of the professors asked signed the petition. She said the move a strong statement by the scientific community against SDI (Strategic Defense Initiative).

In England, a similar petition has been circulating for six months. Anne Davis of Scientists Against Nuclear War said many of the people asked at Cambridge said they would refuse Star Wars research money.

Eleven days after the United States dropped the first atomic bomb design, scientists involved in making the bomb, including Robert J. Oppenheimer, warned against creating defensive weapons to counter atomic war. said Matthew Meselson of the Federation of American Scientists. Scientists need to do more than come out of their ivory towers, hand over the results of their weapons studies and go back into the ivory towers.

Scientists are forming better organizations and working more with the politicians, he said. "It is a seeds of organizations from the scientific community holds promise for scientific reduction," Meselson said.

PHILADELPHIA'S, from Page 1

Bill Perk, a professor of community development, said the city may issue a written warning, a monetary fine, or suspend or revoke its liquor license for the violations.

The Carbondale City Council will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the possibility of a liquor license for the violations.

The Contras are fighting to overthrow the ruling Sandinista regime in Nicaragua. Since the war in Central America is believed to be larger than 12 ounces.

A small group of citizens, SIU-C students in their early 20s, died in their apartments of multiple stab wounds. Autopsy reports show evidence of sexual intercourse before the women died.

Wetherall's body was found Nov. 3, 1971, on a brick wall near Ellyville. She died of strangulation and loss of blood from head injuries, according to an autopsy report. Mocaby told the jury that Phillips said Wetherall was murdered at Phillips' father's place of business in Carbondale.

Schneider considers Phillips a "one-man crime wave." Both prosecutors agree that Wetherall was a serial killer, although they have no evidence on any other murders besides the three presented at the hearings, Clemens said.

Schneider said the Feb. 2 date for Phillips to die is a "formality."

"I'm sure his lawyers will appeal this case for years and years to come," he said. "Ten years from now John Paul Phillips may still be on death row."

Schneider said he has not decided whether he will seek charges for an incident during Wednesday's hearing in which Phillips threw a small metal object at one of his lawyers. The object was recovered by bailiffs experts, Clemens said.

should be concentrated on are testing and a ban on space technology. Without testing there can be no further escalation on either side, she said.

People who speak out against current policy run the risk of being called unpatriotic, she said, but it would be unpatriotic not to speak.

Groublord is an organizer of a petition at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, that asks President Ford not to do SDI research. She said about 70 percent of the professors asked signed the petition. She said the move a strong statement by the scientific community against SDI (Strategic Defense Initiative).

In England, a similar petition has been circulating for six months. Anne Davis of Scientists Against Nuclear War said many of the people asked at Cambridge said they would refuse Star Wars research money.

Eleven days after the United States dropped the first atomic bomb design, scientists involved in making the bomb, including Robert J. Oppenheimer, warned against creating defensive weapons to counter atomic war. said Matthew Meselson of the Federation of American Scientists. Scientists need to do more than come out of their ivory towers, hand over the results of their weapons studies and go back into the ivory towers.

Scientists are forming better organizations and working more with the politicians, he said. "It is a seeds of organizations from the scientific community holds promise for scientific reduction," Meselson said.
A Review

By Laura Milbrath
Staff Writer

Walking onstage and starting with squinted eyes into a spotlight can be a frightening experience for any actor, but most of them can at least count on some memorized lines to keep them from collapsing with stage fright.

But without a script in mind, it takes a wild imagination, a sense of fun and lots of talent to stand in front of an audience and make something entertaining appear out of thin air.

Improvisation — filling that thin air with surprise, laughter or just an interesting performance — took the stage Friday as Curtain Call, an eight-member entertainer's guild, presented the "2nd Annual Night of Improvs" in Pulliam Hall's Cisne Auditorium.

USING NO script or memorized lines, improvisational performers have to rely on their ingenuity. Curtain Call Coordinator Veronica Slater said, "You draw a story for a person and the story is turned into a scene."

Promoted as a variety show, "2nd Annual Night of Improvs" was filled with skits, dancing, singing and comedy routines by Curtain Call's members and other guest performers.

CURTAIN CALL's Michael Gary and Kenneth Neal brought the antics of Sesame Street's bumbling buddies Ernie and Bert to life in one scene. Neal played the ever-annoyed Bert, trying to explain the perils of eating cookies in bed to Ernie, played by Gary. Taking Bert's advice, Ernie said he'd eat cookies in Bert's bed.

In an interview, Gary explained how a performer, with no lines memorized, keeps cool in front of an audience.

"THE AUDIENCE remembers you," he said. "They tend to pick you up. At times you can surprise yourself, but it's remembered to stay in character."

Members of the dance troupe Black Fire Dancers performed twice during the evening, and there were solo acts by guest performers. Jennie Reed, singing "Greatest Love of All" and Jackie Davis, singing "Through the Eyes of Love," the theme from the movie "Ice Castles."

VOICES OF Inspiration and the "Miles Ahead" Jazz Ensemble were two additional groups that provided musical entertainment. Curtain Call's Ivy Henderson and guest comedienne Carolyn Wilson brought a zany aspect to the show with their stand-up comedy routines.

Wilson had the audience cheering for more as she satirized everything from modeling to songs in commercial jingles. She imitated such stars as Tina Turner, Bob Dylan and Aretha Franklin and said that instead of following the millions of fitness fanatics who purchased Jane Fonda's exercise plan, she preferred an easier method, the Katharine Hepburn workout video.

THE EVENING took on a more serious note as five actresses each performed a scene exploring different aspects of life for women in today's world. Harrison, Tracy Hollway, Kelly Dixon, Veronica Slater and Vicki Mason each gave wonderful and emotional performances that portrayed the different types of pain that can come from being single, being married, being involved with a married man, the heartbreak of divorce and the emptiness of becoming a widow.

THOSE INTERESTED in joining Curtain Call, which is a registered student organization, can audition at 5 p.m. every Tuesday in Student Center Activity Room C. Those who wish to audition should perform "a monologue or skit" and those trying to enter the group should be dedicated, Harrison said.

"We're a fun group, but it's hard work," she said.

Wilson had the audience cheering for more as she satirized everything from modeling to songs in commercial jingles. She imitated such stars as Tina Turner, Bob Dylan and Aretha Franklin and said that instead of following the millions of fitness fanatics who purchased Jane Fonda's exercise plan, she preferred an easier method, the Katharine Hepburn workout video.

THE EVENING took on a more serious note as five actresses each performed a scene exploring different aspects of life for women in today's world. Harrison, Tracy Hollway, Kelly Dixon, Veronica Slater and Vicki Mason each gave wonderful and emotional performances that portrayed the different types of pain that can come from being single, being married, being involved with a married man, the heartbreak of divorce and the emptiness of becoming a widow.

THOSE INTERESTED in joining Curtain Call, which is a registered student organization, can audition at 5 p.m. every Tuesday in Student Center Activity Room C. Those who wish to audition should perform "a monologue or skit" and those trying to enter the group should be dedicated, Harrison said.

"We're a fun group, but it's hard work," she said.

The Ramada Inn's Oasis Lounge at 8am-4:30pm for their original Tuesday Night Ladies Night
Join TAO's Tommy Lee Johnston for our November BEACH PARTY as he plays the best music from the '50s to early '70s.

* Malibu Rum Drink Specials — $1.05
* Whapa Tulas — $1.05
* All ladies in a bikini will receive a 4 pack of Seagram's Coolers for — 1¢
* Midnight Tan Line Contest
* FREE Give-A-Ways from European Tan Spa

SHAWNEE BOOKS
* Cleo Caraway
  Foothold on a Hillside
* Robert Hastings
  Nickel's Worth of Skim Milk
  Penny's Worth of Minced Ham
* Art Reid
  Fishing Southern Illinois

Special Sale Books from 50¢ to $3.00
In Honor of our 30th Year
Special 30% Discount on all Shawnee Books
and other popular titles
Union Carbide claims sabotage caused leak

BHOPAL, India (UPI) — Union Carbide Corp. insisted Monday that the independent overseers of India and Madhya Pradesh state must share liability for the 1984 gas leak at its Bhopal plant that killed some 2,000 people.

The U.S.-based multinational corporation notified the Bhopal District Court it will file a countersuit against the federal and state governments demanding they help pay any damages the company is ordered to pay to victims of history's deadliest industrial disaster.

The Indian government sued Union Carbide on Oct. 5 for unspecified damages and blamed the leak on the company's negligence.

In a court statement filed Monday, Union Carbide again blamed the disaster on sabotage by plant employees and accused government investigators of ignoring evidence of sabotage.

The company argued that because it cannot be held fully responsible for sabotage, it should not be held fully responsible for compensating the victims.

More than 2,000 people were killed and 200,000 injured Dec. 3, 1984, when 40 tons of poisonous methyl isocyanate vapor spewed from a tank at Union Carbide's pesticide plant in Bhopal, 725 miles south of New Delhi, blanketing large areas of the city — the capital of Madhya Pradesh state.

Bhopal District Court Judge G.S. Patel ordered Union Carbide on Monday not to dispose of its Bhopal assets pending the outcome of the lawsuit.

Union Carbide, in its statement, blamed the leak on the deliberate introduction of "substantial quantities of water" into the tank. The water, it said, caused a violent chemical reaction and pressure buildup, resulting in the toxic leak.

Union Carbide said employees noticed an initial leak at about 11:30 p.m. Dec. 2 and tried to remove the water by transferring the tank's contents to another container just before the major gas leak at about 12:30 a.m. Dec. 3.

The company contended that documents showing the tank was emptied by workers.

Drivers warned of stray deer on roads

The Jackson County Sheriff's Department is warning motorists to beware of deer.

Jackson County authorities said there have been 29 motor vehicle accidents caused by straying deer on Jackson County roads within the last six weeks.

The high number of accidents involving deer is attributed to deer being more active at night as the weather gets cooler.

GATSBY'S, from Page 1

wasn't of age.

Although the city generally has imposed suspensions on the day the violation occurred, in this case a Friday, the commission chose a Wednesday and Thursday for suspension because Friday is one of the most profitable days for the bar.

Commissioner John Yow said: "I don't feel the violation is such that they should be penalized on a day when business is most profitable."

Udall withdraws support for disposal site research

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman of the House Interior Committee withdrew his support Monday for Energy Department efforts to find disposal sites for high-level nuclear waste, citing revelations about political manipulation of the program.

Chairman Morris Udall, D-Ariz., said the Reagan administration has undermined the Atomic Industrial Forum and American Nuclear Society's work by failing to follow the Atomic Industrial Forum and American Nuclear Society's findings.

Udall also warned the industry group's selection of the nuclear waste disposal program by suspending the search for a dump site in eastern states for political reasons.

ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS postponed the search "to protect political candidates from the public disappointment of the Energy Department's selection process during an election year." Udall also warned that before a joint meeting of the Atomic Industrial Forum and American Nuclear Society a knowledgeable and experienced member of the Energy Department's team was selected to make the final decision.

THE POSTPONEMENT mollified eastern legislators whose states had sites under consideration.

THE DEPARTMENT's announcement aroused anger in western states, where the Energy Department continued to examine sites for the first repository. Western congressmen charged that eastern states were getting a free ride on the nuclear waste disposal program, although the Energy Department was called for spreading risks equitably.

Although a westerner, Udall defended the Energy Department's handling of the nuclear waste disposal program from attacks earlier this year in Congress, finding off efforts by western congressmen to end funding for the first repository in the West.

the tune-up time

Before you head down the road for Thanksgiving Break, get your car in tune.

Front End Alignment

$12.95

Most Cars

Expires 11/30/86

Engine Tune Up

4 Cylinder $29.95
6 Cylinder $39.95
8 Cylinder $49.95

Most Cars 11/30/86

Carbondale

1040 East Main

529-1000

997-5470

VIC KOENIG

GM QUALITY SERVICE PRACTICE

M r. Goodwrench

Page 8, Daily Egyptian, November 17, 1986
Union Carbid claims sabotage caused leak

BHOPAL, India (UPI) — Union Carbid Corp. insisted Monday that Documents of India and Madhya Pradesh state must share liability for the 1984 gas leak at its Bhopal plant that killed some 2,500 people.

The U.S.-based multinational corporation notified the Bhopal District Court it will file a countersuit against the federal and state governments demanding they help pay any damages the company is ordered to pay to victims of history’s deadliest industrial disaster.

The Indian government sued Union Carbide on Oct. 5 for unspecified damages and blamed the leak on the company’s negligence.

In a court statement filed Monday, Union Carbide again blamed the disaster on sabotage by plant employees and accused government investigators of ignoring evidence of sabotage.

The company is argued that because it cannot be held fully responsible for sabotage, it should not be held fully responsible for compensating the victims.

More than 2,000 people were kmilled and 200,000 injured Dec. 3, 1984, when 40 tons of poisonous methyl isocyanate vapor spilled from a tank at Union Carbide’s pesticide plant in Bhopal. 725 miles south of New Delhi, blanketing large areas of the city — the capital of Madhya Pradesh state.

Bhopal District Court Judge G.S. Patel ordered Union Carbide on Monday not to dispose of its Bhopal assets pending the outcome of the lawsuit.

Union Carbide, in its statement, blamed the leak on the deliberate introduction of “substantial quantities of water” into the tank. The water, it said, caused a violent chemical reaction and pressure buildup, resulting in the toxic leak.

Union Carbide said employees noticed an initial leak about 11:30 p.m. Dec. 2 and tried to remove the water by transferring the tank’s contents to another container just before the major gas leak at about 12:30 a.m. Dec. 3.

The company contended that documents on the transfer were altered by workers.

Drivers warned of stray deer on roads

The Jackson County Sheriff’s Department is warning motorists to beware of deer.

Jack County County authorities said there have been 29 motor vehicle accidents caused by straying deer on Jackson County roads within the last six weeks.

The high number of accidents involving deer is attributed to deer being more active at night as the weather gets cooler.

GATSBY’S, from Page 1

wasn’t of great age.

Although the city generally has imposed suspensions on the day the violation occurred, in this case a Friday, the commission chose a Wednesday and Thursday for suspension because Friday is one of the most profitable days for the bar.

Commissioner John Yow said: “I don’t feel the violation is such that they should be penalized on a day when business is most profitable.”

Udall withdraws support for disposal site research

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the House Interior Committee withdrew his support Monday for Energy Department efforts to find disposal sites for high-level nuclear waste, citing revelations about political manipulation of the program.

Chairman Morris Udall, D-Ariz., said the Reagan administration had undermined the credibility of the nuclear waste disposal program by suspending the search for a dump site in eastern states for political reasons.

ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS postponed the search “to protect western congressmen whose states had sites under consideration.”

THE POSTPONEMENT mollified eastern lawmakers whose states had sites under consideration.

THE DEPARTMENT’S announcement aroused anger in western states, where the Energy Department continued to examine sites for the first repository.

Western congressmen charged that eastern states were getting a free ride on the nuclear waste disposal program, although the West is called for spreading risks equitably.

Although a westerner, Udall defended the Energy Department’s handling of the nuclear waste disposal program from attacks earlier this year in Congress, defending efforts by western congressmen to end funding for the first repository in the West.

tune-up time

Before you head down the road for Thanksgiving Break, get your car in tune.

Front End Alignment $12.95

Most Cars Expires 11/30/86

Engine Tune Up $29.95

4 Cylinder

$29.95

6 Cylinder

$39.95

8 Cylinder

$49.95

Most Cars 11/30/86

Carbondale 1040 East Main 529-1000 997-5470

Vic Koenig

GM QUALITY SERVICE PARTS

Page 8, Daily Egyptian, November 17, 1986
A piece of Broadway
American Dancemachine kicks up lively heels

By Debra Keen-Cooper
Staff Writer

The American Dancemachine ensemble and Celebrity Series goers last Thursday evening with two hours of dance from American Broadway musicals of the twentieth century.

Presenting a repertoire ranging from 1940 to 1978, the American Dancemachine performed numbers such as "Popular" (from "42nd Street"), "The Boyfriend" (from "42nd Street"), and "Destry Rides Again." For example, some of the songs were from very obscure musicals that never really became famous. The weakest of these was "The Whip Dance" from "Destry Rides Again."

"THE WHIP DANCE" featured three desperados who struttled around the stage with whip slashing the air. Sometimes when the whips didn't make a vicious snapping sound the dancers too fell out of sync.

However, some of the routines were exceptionally close to the original compositions and very well executed. The best numbers were "The Telephone Dance" from "Cabaret," "Little Old New York" from "Tenderloin" and "Charlie's Place" from "Ober Heze."

In "The Telephone Dance," the stage was filled with a smoky bar scene full of lonely men and women trying to connect with a partner through telephones. Dancers, Tina Gutrock and Danna Dayley, performed a fabulous "kissing couple" routine, never letting their embrace slip apart until the proper breaks in the dance.

"LITTLE OLD NEW YORK" featured the female ensemble in a lively rendition of barroom dancing, and "Charlie's Place" featured the entire company in a salute to life during World War II. The most exciting and intriguing parts of the show were the tributes to Katherine Dunham's "Floyd's Guitar Blues" from "Tropical Revue," Carol Haney's "Satin Doll-Me and My Gal" from "Television" and Agnes DeMille's "Come To Me, Bend To Me-The Funeral Dance" from "Brigadoon."

Harold Croemer performed a one-man intermission, featuring a number of old-time dances, for which he provided a cappella accompaniment. Croemer danced the "Cake Walk," "The Suri-Q," "Truckin'" and "The Shim Sham Shimmy," which he interspersed with historical information.

The name "American Dancemachine" is a little deceiving because the troupe brings the triple-threat of singing, dancing and acting to the stage. They bring a small piece of Broadway to the stage in a big way.

A Review

to the show.

PART OF THE program stemmed from the fact that when a number is performed out of its context in a musical it's often difficult for the audience to grasp the meaning of the song.

The American Dancemachine troupe attempted to fill the void by introducing each number with narration. The narration, however, was filled with meaningless credits for the choreographer and creator of the musical rather than a brief synopsis of the story.

Several numbers, although performed by very talented dancers, lacked the liveliness and energy that make Broadway famous. This could have been caused by a poor choice of material. For example, some of the songs were from very obscure musicals that never really became famous. The weakest of these was "The Whip Dance" from "Destry Rides Again."

REFRESHMENTS

You Are Invited to Attend the ANNUAL FACULTY MEETING

Student Center-Ballroom B
Wednesday, November 19, 3:30pm

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS: Donald L. Brehm

PANEL DISCUSSION: What Does SIU Need in a New President?

PANELISTS: Elizabeth Eames, Professor of Philosophy
Ivan Elliott, Member of the Board of Trustees
Dave NewMyer, Professor of Advanced Technical Studies
John Pohlmann, Professor of Educational Psychology

COMMENTS: Lawrence K. Pettit, Chancellor

Refreshments will be served in the Gallery Lounge following the meeting.

Daily Egyptian, November 17, 1996, Page 9
Today’s Puzzle

Puzzle answers are on Page 9.

Across
1. Turflands
2. Dutch
3. Punctuation
4. Arid
5. The
6. Temple
7. Character
8. Tower chs
9. Author views
10. Young
11. Doorknobs
12. Bad actors
13. Rubbed off
14. Grass for:
15. Grazing
16. Valets
17. Rut
18. Hh
19. Sh
20. Or
21. Sh
22. Sold
23. Often
24. A.
25. K.
26. N.
27. A.
28. C.
29. H.
30. E.
31. C.
32. A.
33. E.
34. G.
35. H.
36. B.
37. D.
38. E.
39. F.
40. G.
41. H.
42. I.
43. J.
44. K.
45. L.
46. M.
47. N.
48. O.
49. P.
50. Q.
51. R.
52. S.
53. T.
54. U.
55. V.
56. W.
57. X.
58. Y.
59. Z.

Down
1. Storm
2. Go along
3. Harp—
4. Catch on
5. Fence
6. Venue
7. Sides
8. Guards
9. Common
10. Squirts
11. Beach guard
12. Now
13. Antiup
14. Whisker
15. Shrink
16. Surplus
17. Pink
18. Cray
19. Large
20. Small lump

ACross:
1. Turflands
2. Dutch
3. Punctuation
4. Arid
5. The
6. Temple
7. Character
8. Tower chs
9. Author views
10. Young
11. Doorknobs
12. Bad actors
13. Rubbed off
14. Grass for:
15. Grazing
16. Valets
17. Rut
18. Hh
19. Sh
20. Or
21. Sh
22. Sold
23. Often
24. A.
25. K.
26. N.
27. A.
28. C.
29. H.
30. E.
31. C.
32. A.
33. E.
34. G.
35. H.
36. B.
37. D.
38. E.
39. F.
40. G.
41. H.
42. I.
43. J.
44. K.
45. L.
46. M.
47. N.
48. O.
49. P.
50. Q.
51. R.
52. S.
53. T.
54. U.
55. V.
56. W.
57. X.
58. Y.
59. Z.

AT&T aims cuts at competitors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. asked the government Monday to allow an 8.1 percent overall reduction in AT&T’s interstate long-distance rates.

The move was aimed at AT&T’s competitors, such as MCI Communications Corp. because the biggest proposed decreases would involve daytime calls — essential to millions of American businesses.

The company proposed an 11.6 percent reduction for interstate long-distance calls during daytime hours, a 6.2 percent reduction during the evening and a 2.7 percent reduction during late nights and weekends.

AT&T asked the Federal Communications Commission to allow the lower long-distance rates to take effect Jan. 1, 1987. AT&T said its proposal, if approved, would mean an overall $1.2 billion cut in interstate long-distance prices.

“We are proposing these rate reductions because we will have a major reduction in our own expenses,” said AT&T spokeswoman Edith Herman.

“We are passing on those reductions to consumers.”

Herman said the FCC had ordered local telephone companies to reduce their hookup costs for AT&T, accounting for “a majority of the proposed rate reduction.”

MCI spokeswoman Kathleen Keegan said, “I can’t say specifically what we intend to do. But we do intend to remain competitive with AT&T, both on price and quality. If that entails the need to cut prices, then we will do so.”

Keegan said AT&T’s proposed reductions appeared “aimed at the highly profitable daytime market. That’s a market segment we’re all interested in obtaining a bigger piece of.”

If FCC approves the proposed rate cuts, the company will have reduced prices four times since June 1984 for a total price decline of 27 percent, or more than $6 billion, AT&T said.

But Gene Kimmelman, a spokesman for the Consumer Federation of America, said business customers would win — and average consumers lose — because of the way AT&T structured its proposal.

Workshop set to improve skills in communication

A communication skills workshop will be held Wednesday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in Quigley Lounge.

Kelly O’Shea, counseling and administrative assistant for Women’s Services, said her goal as group leader is to help people understand that to be successful, communication is a skill that must be worked with constantly.

Some aspects of communication to be discussed are positive and negative feedback, confrontation and self-disclosure. O’Shea said.

The workshop is open to the public and pre-registration is not required. For information call Women’s Services 453-3655.

IN A CLASS BY ITSELF...

THE Daily Egyptian — Gets your message delivered to the right hands.

Call the Advertising Department at 536-3311
You - Gan - Eat

the maitre d' didn't be ___

Empr y. Tucker's road potted b y th e hotel's ter teina th dor . Gino shirt . faded jeans and a parka
when he showed up a t the
singer Tanya Tucker
By
performance b y country
"Hip' Coffee Condo offers
prose, popcorn and music
By Mary Wisniewski
Entertainment Editor
Grab your beret. The bi-weekly Coffee Condo, sponsored by the Student Programming Council Fine
Arts Committee and the Mid-America Peace Project, is a hip "happening" with poetry readings, live music and free food.
Held in the warm and woody evironment of the Student Center's Big Muddy Room, the Coffee Condo featured coffee and popcorn to anyone interested in poetry readings and music presentations by students.
Last Wednesday's Coffee
Condo featured readings of original work by philosophy and German major Adam Broad and recent graduate in English Tony SanFilippo. The program also included improvational piano pieces by 1983 SIUC graduate Owen
Jarand.
About 50 people sheltered from Wednesday's frigid temperatures to cheer both original work and readings
from Tom Robbins' "Another Roadside Attraction" by LeeAnn Casey and "Songs of the Open Road" by Stephanie Woronowicz.
The readings were in-terpersed with announcements about campus political activities. Enthusiastic applause followed every poetic and prosaic put-down of such "establishment" icons as Ronald Reagan and Captain Crunch.
Jean Sanders of SPC Fine Arts said MAPP, the SPC and the Craft Shop began the Coffee Condo to fill a special need.
Sanders, a senior in art, said the SPC is looking for readers of oral work and musicians
for the next Coffee Condo, which will be at 8 p.m. Dec. 10.
For information, call the SPC at 536-3393 or the Craft Shop at 433-3036.

DON'T MISS OUT
Feel better & look better for Thanksgiving Break!
Turn your coupon in, use your sessions anytime

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY PRESS
30TH ANNIVERSARY BOOK SALE
November 17 8:00am-4:30pm
November 18 8:00am-3:00pm
and
AUTOGRAPH PARTY
November 17 10:30am-noon
BALLROOM A
STUDENT CENTER
Come meet the authors of our new series
SHAWNEE BOOKS
• Cleo Caraway
  Foothold on a Hillside
• Robert Hastings
  Nickel's Worth of Skim Milk and
  Penny's Worth of Minced Ham
• Art Reid
  Fishing Southern Illinois

SPECIAL SALE Books from $0.50 to $3.00
In Honor of our 30th Year
Special 30% Discount on all Shawnee Books
and other popular titles

REFRESHMENTS SERVED

The American Tap
All Day
All Night
3 For 1
Speedrils
Drafts

SPECIAL OF THE MONTH
White Russian $1.60

Why be fooled, come watch
Football on the Biggest Screen in Town

For reservations call: 833-4722
Available for parties, receptions, and catering.
145 W. Vienna St., Anna

Dino's Too-Chapter II
Cocktails Available

Daily Specials
THURSDAY
Top Sirloin with choice of tomato sauce, potato, bread and salad. $4.95

FRIDAY
All-You-Can-Eat
Seafood Buffet. Includes:
salad bar plus 2 vegetables.
$7.95

SATURDAY
T-Bone, served with choice of potato, bread and salad. $6.95

SUNDAY
Try our fabulous "All You Can Eat Buffet" with salad bar from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.
$5.65

The maitre d' at a Toronto to get a job in the hotel's entertainment director, Gino
Empry. Tucker's road manager then dressed Dylan
in the required jacket.
"Not that it mattered, but the maitre d' didn't know who he was," Empry said. "He didn't know who he was. He's a man of few words..."
Men harriers close out season
By Peter Rechenberg
Staff Writer

The men's cross country team finished sixth this weekend in the District V Championships in Peoria. Colorado was first with 46 points, followed by Nebraska with 48 points and Kansas State with 68 points. Iowa State was fourth with 86 points and Oklahoma State was fifth with 130 points.

Pelkowski said it was a surprise that Kansas State defeated Iowa State. "The Big Eight Conference dominated the race," he said. "They just got a lot of money for their programs." David Lamont, who finished 18th overall, almost qualified for nationals. The first three teams automatically qualify for nationals, and their runners are taken out of the individual rankings. If Iowa State had tied Kansas State, Lamont would have been third. But as it turned out Lamont finished fifth after the runners from Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas State were removed.

Redbirds also said the team played well after they scored. "They just got a lot of money for their programs."

Pelkowski said the team really played a dominating game. Captain Scott Boehm was happy to see that the team was passing more and playing as a team.

The Wild Dogs' next game is against the team that lost the 22-point victory.

Hockey club wins; remains in first place
By Peter Rechenberg
Staff Writer

The Southern Illinois Wild Dogs hockey team bounced back from their first loss of the season by whipping the Evansville Chargers 7-1. The Wild Dogs improved their record to 6-1 and retained first place in the league.

The Wild Dogs took a quick two-goal lead in the first period, and Captain Steve Pekowski said the Wild Dogs played well after they scored. "We played more fired up and more relaxed," Pekowski said.

Defenseman Tony Krause scored three goals, and the Wild Dogs built up a 6-0 lead before the Chargers scored. The Wild Dogs leading scorer, Todd Trippany, had a goal and two assists, and Scott Jefferys also had a goal and two assists.

Pelkowski was pleased with the play of defenseman Ed Reuhl. It was Reuhl's first game of the season. "He played a great game," Pelkowski said. "He's a great asset to our team. We really needed an extra defensemen and he was able to do the job."

Pelkowski said the team really played a dominating game. Captain Scott Boehm was happy to see that the team was passing more and playing as a team.

The Wild Dogs' next game is against the team that lost the 22-point victory.
ATLANTA (UPI) — Mike Tomczak rebounded from a miserable first half to score a touchdown and pass the Bears into position for a field goal in the second half Sunday, lifting Chicago to a 13-10 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

Tomczak set up his 1-yard touchdown run with an 85-yard pass to Emery Moorehead and his 25-yard pass to Willie Gault set up Kevin Butler’s game-winning 44-yard field goal.

Tomczak completed 1 of 8 first-half passes while the Falcons built a 10-3 halftime lead.

But on the second play of the second half, Tomczak connected with Moorehead over the middle and the Chicago tight end raced down to the Atlanta 1 from where Tomczak scored on the next play.

On Chicago’s next possession, Tomczak’s pass to Gault got the Bears close enough for Butler to kick his 18th straight field goal with 7:09 remaining in the third quarter. Butler’s streak ended when he missed three fourth-quarter attempts.

The Bears improved to 9-2 and moved three games ahead of Minnesota in the NFC Central. Chicago moved inside the Atlanta 15 four times in the final quarter, but fumbled away the ball the first time and Butler was wide left on field goal attempts of 28, 26 and 35 yards.

The Falcons, 5-5-1, took a 5-0 lead with 46 seconds remaining in the first quarter on a 27-yard field goal by Ali Haji-Sheikh, who was signed this week to replace injured Mick Luckhurst. They widened their lead to 10-0 with 6:34 left in the first half when Joel Williams scored on a 14-yard pass interception return.

Buller kicked a 32-yard field goal with 50 seconds left in the half.

Green Bay passes to 31-7 victory

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Randy Wright threw three touchdowns passes, including two in the third quarter, to lift the Green Bay Packers to a 31-7 victory Sunday over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Wright completed 18 of 29 passes for 238 yards with three interceptions. He threw first-half scoring passes of 28, 26 and 35 yards. Tomczak completed 1 of 8 first-half passes while the Falcons built a 10-3 halftime lead.

But on the second play of the second half, Tomczak connected with Moorehead over the middle and the Chicago tight end raced down to the Atlanta 1 from where Tomczak scored on the next play.

On Chicago’s next possession, Tomczak’s pass to Gault got the Bears close enough for Butler to kick his 18th straight field goal with 7:09 remaining in the third quarter. Butler’s streak ended when he missed three fourth-quarter attempts.

The Bears improved to 9-2 and moved three games ahead of Minnesota in the NFC Central. Chicago moved inside the Atlanta 15 four times in the final quarter, but fumbled away the ball the first time and Butler was wide left on field goal attempts of 28, 26 and 35 yards.

The Falcons, 5-5-1, took a 5-0 lead with 46 seconds remaining in the first quarter on a 27-yard field goal by Ali Haji-Sheikh, who was signed this week to replace injured Mick Luckhurst. They widened their lead to 10-0 with 6:34 left in the first half when Joel Williams scored on a 14-yard pass interception return.

Buller kicked a 32-yard field goal with 50 seconds left in the half.

Bears edge Falcons 13-10

When is the right time to call your grandparents?

a) Five minutes into “The Lawrence Welk Show!”

b) About a week before your birthday.

c) When you just want to tell them you miss them, and that you ate the last of Grandma’s chocolate-chip cookies this morning.

There’s nothing grandparents like better than a call from a grandchild in college. But if you do accidentally happen to interrupt Lawrence, you ought to have something worth telling them.

For example, you could mention that you called using AT&T Long Distance Service because you can depend on AT&T’s high quality service and exceptional value.

And then you can tell them that AT&T gives you immediate credit if you dial a wrong number.

And that you can count on AT&T for clear long distance connections.

Finally, of course, you should quickly reassure them that you’re eating enough, then let them hurry back to the TV to catch the rest of the Lennon Sisters’ Blue Oyster Cult medley.

HARRIERS, from Page 14

Other Saluki finishers were Andy Pettigrew, 29th; Billy Darling, 39th; Jack Shepherd, 46th, David Beauchem, 52nd; Scott Gill, 62nd; and Jobie Kelly, 63rd.

Cornell said most of the runners ran up to par. “Billy Darling and David Beauchem ran well, but Jobie Kelly was a big disappointment,” Cornell said. “He was our third man most of the year, but he had a bad day.”

Cornell was happy with his team’s performance this year. “We had an excellent year despite our scholarships being cut in half,” Cornell said. “The scholarships went down from 14 to seven, and I had trouble bringing back the kids I had on the team last year,” Cornell said.

Cornell said he was unable to recruit this year and that hurt the Salukis. “Being unable to recruit killed us,” Cornell said. “I was unable to get top recruits.”

Cornell said next year’s team will be stronger than this year’s team. “We have six of our top seven runners back next year,” Cornell said. “If I get a few scholarships, we will be able to have top recruits here in April,” Cornell said.
Sports

Bear's Maul Spikers: But Salukis come back to whip Shockers

By Wally Foreman  Staff Writer

The Saluki spikers finished the regular season with a 21-8 overall record and a 7-2 Gateway Conference record after splitting a pair of matches at Davies Gym over the weekend. The Salukis defeated Northwestern Saturday.

Going into the two matches, the spikers had a chance of winning the Gateway Conference title for the first time, an automatic NCAA tournament bid, a No. 1 seeding in the conference tourney on Nov. 21-22 at Cedar Falls, Iowa, and a chance to go undefeated at home.

What the spikers came away with was a No. 4 seeding in the conference tourney and a 9-1 record on the season.

On Friday the spikers lost to Western Illinois State 4-1, 9-15 and 5-15 in match that lasted about one hour.

"We were eight years ahead of us," coach Debbie Hunter said. "We beat them by a huge margin in every phase of that match."

"Before the match I told them that all I wanted was a good feeling about playing well, and we certainly don't have that right now," Hunter said.

The Bears finished with 37 kills, a .356 attack percentage, 13 service aces, 31 digs and nine team blocks.

The Salukis had 26 kills, a .178 attack percentage, three service aces, 22 digs and five team blocks.

The spikers came back on Saturday and beat the Shockers 15-12, 15-10 and 15-12 in their home final.

The spikers finished with 36 kills, a .327 attack percentage, eight service aces, 56 digs and nine team blocks.

The Shockers had 27 kills, a .231 attack percentage, three service aces, 46 digs and seven team blocks.

After the match against Western Illinois State, senior Pat Nicholson said the loss to "Southwestern Missouri should have never happened."

"The win tonight (against the Shockers) got my confidence up for the conference tournament," Nicholson said.

The Gateway conference tourney will be on Nov. 21-22 and is made up of the top four finishers in the conference, with the No. 1 team (Southwestern Missouri) playing the No. 3 team (Illinois State) and the No. 2 (Northern Iowa) team playing the No. 4 team (SIU).

In order for the spikers to receive an automatic NCAA tournament bid, they will have to win the conference tournament, Senior Jan Tremblay said, "They (Northern Iowa) will have to show us how good they are."

The spikers defeated the Panthers earlier this season in four games.

"Next weekend is a whole new season," Nicholson said. "We gotta play every game as a championship game," Tremblay said. "I want to play Illinois State or Southwest Missouri because they know we are a better team."

Hunter said the conference tourney hasn't been so strong and the spikers have every reason to think they can win.

"My main concern this week in practice will be the spirit," Hunter said. "I want the team to be intense and enthusiastic."

Women tankers even record with win over Northwestern

By Peter Rechenberg  Staff Writer

The 400-yard medley relay team of Wendy Erick, Leslie Biegler, Lori Rea, Susan Witty and the women's swim team a lead they never lost as the Salukis defeated Northwestern by a score of 66-44. The Salukis are now 1-1 on the season.

The Salukis took first in two of the first three events, and won both relay events. The team of Sarah Bell, Susan Witty, Lori Rea and Suelia Miller won the 400-yard freestyle relay for the Salukis. Suelia Miller and Lisa Reinke took the first two places in the 200-yard individual medley. In the 200-yard backstroke Wendy Erick and Reinke grabbed the first two places. In the 200-yard breaststroke Lisa Biegler and Amy Witherite finished one and two for the Salukis. The Wildcats trimmed the Salukis' lead to 17-16 as women.

See WOMEN, Page 14

Men tankers swim dominantly to 70-42 win over Northwestern

By M.J. Starshak  Staff Writer

The Saluki men's swim team won nine of 13 events Saturday in a swimming dual victory over the Northwestern Wildcats. SIU coach Doug Ingram called the meet, which was the Salukis' second dual-meet victory, one of domination.

"We were very dominant," said senior Jan Tremblay. "The men (Northwestern) are going to get better with the new facility and the new restructuring of their coaching staff, but it's going to take some time."

SIU's coach said that he was glad to have competed against NU now because he said he thinks the Wildcats will quickly be making waves in the Gateway Conference.

"The win tonight (against the Shockers) got my confidence up for the conference tournament," Nicholson said.

The Gateway conference tourney will be on Nov. 21-22 and is made up of the top four finishers in the conference, with the No. 1 team (Southwestern Missouri) playing the No. 3 team (Illinois State) and the No. 2 (Northern Iowa) team playing the No. 4 team (SIU).

"Next weekend is a whole new season," Nicholson said. "We gotta play every game as a championship game."

"I'm going to want it more if we play them in the championship game of the conference tournament," Tremblay said. "It would be nice to embarrass Southwest Missouri because we know we are a better team."

Hunter said the conference tourney hasn't been so strong and the spikers have every reason to think they can win.

"My main concern this week in practice will be the spirit," Hunter said. "I want the team to be intense and enthusiastic.

Size difference no factor as men cagers down Turks

By Scott Freeman  Staff Writer

The two look, fast-breaking Salukis managed to beat the Turkish National team Friday night in an exhibition match at the Arena, but they hardly ran away with the game.

Thanks to 22 turnovers by the eager Saluki cagers, the Turks were able to keep the score to a respectable 90-82 final.

The Salukis had a hard time finding the basket at the game's outset, finally scoring their first hoop on a Steve Middleton layup after nearly two minutes had elapsed.

They took their first lead, 20-18, after the first half was nearly half over, again on a Middleton drive.

The Salukis shot only 39 percent from the field in the first half, but warmed up in the second half to finish at 43.7 percent for the game.

And, as expected, the Salukis won on the strength of their backcourt shooters and the hardnosed all-around play of 6-4 reserve swingman Randy House. House dropped in 20 points and eight rebounds to spark the win.

One unexpected aspect of the game was the ineffectiveness of 6-9 center Tim Richardson, whom Herrin is counting on for tough board play in the middle this year.

Richardson logged 22 minutes of playing time, but was continually pulled from the game due to foul problems and maybe a little first-game jitters. He finished with four points, five rebounds and four personal fouls.

Middleton had 24 points, mostly on drives or free throws, while small forward Doug Neveck added 17 points, mostly from long range, and eight rebounds.

The three-point shot that the Salukis were expected to capitalize on heavily this year would mainly to the Turks' advantage, as they hit 10 of 23 three-pointers from long range to stay within reach of the fast-breaking Salukis.

SIU-C did manage to nail 5 out of three-pointers, three of which they see by Novacek. The Turks got seven three-pointers from 6-6 guard Lenny Topakal and seven-foot reserve center Ihsan Bayulgen.

Overall, the Turks were led by Ihsan Bayulgen with 12, and 7-6 team captain Emin Turram with 10 and five rebounds.

In the battle of the boards, the Salukis had a 32-27 rebound to 37, with Novacek, 6-8 forward Todd Krueger and House leading the way with eight apiece. Kai Nurnberger added seven boards, five assists and 13 points.

See MEN, Page 14

---

Daily Egyptian, November 17, 1986