Bush: 'There is no way Iraq can win'

United Press International

President Bush took his case directly to the Iraqi people Sunday in a televised message, warning them Saddam Hussein misjudged global opinion when he invaded Kuwait, provoking a crisis in which "Iraq stands isolated and alone."

As Bush warned "ultimately,

Iraq must withdraw from Kuwait" because "there is no way Iraq can win" a war against the U.S.-led multinational force in the Persian Gulf, Washington's allies continued to show solidarity in their response to Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait.

Early Sunday, the U.N. Security Council unanimously condemned Iraq for sending troops into foreign diplomatic compounds in Kuwait as well as rounding up foreign nationals, and considered further punitive actions including a possible air blockade against Iraq.

France, making good on retaliatory measures against Iraq's storming of its ambassador's residence in Kuwait City last week, rounded up at least 29 Iraqi nationals for immediate expulsion.

Italy gave the Iraqi military attache and his staff 10 days to leave the country.

While U.S. officials had no idea how widely Bush's eight-minute broadcast to the Iraqi people was seen in Iraq, White House spokesman Bill Harlow said U.S. diplomats in Baghdad reported the message appeared to have aired on Iraqi TV without censorship.

Harlow also said "the president's words must have struck home, given the lengths to which the Iraqis went to attempt to discredit them."

Immediately after Bush's speech, Iraqi TV broadcast a more than 20-minute rebuttal in which M'iqdad Muradi, the Iraqi leader's principle

Issues of raising state taxes taxes two Illinois candidates

By Brian Gross
Staff Writer

Talk of raising taxes can be taxing for the two candidates for Illinois governor.

Neither Jim Edgar nor Neil Hartigan promise to cut taxes. Edgar wants areas such as higher education to be well-funded, while Hartigan plans to streamline the bureaucracy to save money so taxes may not have to be raised.

Edgar, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, said there is a "big difference" between him and Hartigan, the Democratic candidate, on tax issues. Edgar said he supports a continuation of the tax surcharge, a temporary two-year tax for funding higher education.

Edgar, the Illinois secretary of state, visited students at a junior high school in West Frankfort last week. He said if the tax surcharge was "rolled back, education would suffer," and students would face higher tuition.

Edgar charged Hartigan with a failure to take a stand on the tax surcharge yet. He also said the Illinois attorney general's plan for saving $573 million in the state's budget was just "smoke and mirrors."

Hartigan's plan, released in a detailed statement last week, calls for cutting $573 million in state spending and eliminating 2,500 government jobs which he deems "unnecessary."

Project recreates prairie land

By Todd Gardner
Staff Writer

The ocean of prairie that once covered 60 percent of Illinois is gone, but Green Earth's Prairie Day held Sunday gave Carbondale children and adults a glimpse of what once existed.

Green Earth Inc., a Carbondale group that has been working for 16 years to promote preservation and education programs on the environment, held the annual event at its seven acre prairie preserve on North Oakland Street.

Tours and information on growing prairie plants were offered to adults while games stressing cooperation and the dependency of living organisms on their environment were held for children.

The prairie project began in 1984 when the group's preserve on North Oakland Street had to be cleared of trees for a sewer line for the city.

"Green Earth saw a golden opportunity for establishing native grasses," said Nancy Peterson, executive director of Green Earth.

"It gave the people of Carbondale an opportunity to view a new habitat."

After receiving city council approval for planting native grasses instead of the introduced species that are commonly seen in pastures, a two acre plot was plow 1 and seeded with native grasses such as Switch grass and Big Bluestem.

"It takes about three years to see some results," said Jerry Cuien, program director for environmental programming at Touch of Nature. He SIU-C will lead the improvement of U.S.-Egyptian relations with a $60,000 federal grant awarded to the Department of Radio and Television.

The grant, given by the U.S. Information Agency, will fund an exchange of six professors between SIU-C and Helwan University in Cairo, Egypt. Visiting professors will stay one month at their host universities.

University professors are planning a series of six workshops to show Helwan students the way the media operates in the United States, said Joe Foote, director of the Department of Radio and Television. The workshop will emphasize TV production, both in the studio and in the field.

Foote said the interaction officially will begin with a trip he is taking to Cairo sometime during October or November for a planning visit to iron out the wrinkles in the program.

Michael Murrie, assistant professor for the department, will be the first SIU-C professor to go to Helwan. Murrie said his segment of the workshop will focus on video production and techniques.

"It (the workshop) will be a real challenge since Helwan doesn't have all the editing equipment that we have," said Murrie.

Foote said the University will gain an internationalized curriculum from this exchange.

"They (visiting professors) will

Explosion rocks tanker in Michigan; 18 missing

BAY CITY, Mich. (UPI) — An explosion ripped through a tanker unloading fuel at a petroleum depot in the Saginaw River Sunday, and the Coast Guard said one of 18 crew members was missing and 11 were injured as a raging fire threatened further blasts.

The explosion rocked the tanker Jupiter at about 8:45 a.m., and the ship was immediately engulfed in flames, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

"It's too hot to get in and fight the fire effectively," Coast Guard

Lt. Tom Koontz at Detroit headquarters said.

Several smaller explosions were reported later, and Coast Guard Petty Officer Tim Monk said there was a danger of another blast.

"There's a danger during the whole operation until the fire is gone," said Monk. "With 20,000 barrels on board, that's over a million gallons of gasoline. It is confirmed it is barrels."

Officials were trying to tie a second cable to the Jupiter to keep the burning vessel from drifting down the river.

The total cargo was 54,000 barrels of gasoline, Monk said.

"There have been some small explosions (since the original blast) but not a major one," he said. "It didn't all go up in a cloud."

The initial explosion occurred as another loaded freighter passed nearby going upriver, creating a wake that caused the Jupiter to rock, officials said.

Monk said one of the Jupiter's crewmen was missing.

Of the injured, nine were treated and released and two were hospitalized for minor injuries, officials said.

Gary Keiper, a drawbridge operator, said he noticed the fire shortly after he opened the bridge at 8:30 a.m.

"At first I couldn't tell which ship was on fire," said Keiper, who was working only his second Sunday at the bridge.

As he was radioing the upriver-bound boat to inquire, he said, someone on the Jupiter broke in to say, "We're on fire."

Salukis race past Murray State 45-7

By Paul Paost
Staff Writer

The Salukis ended its 45-7 domination of visiting Murray State by dumping coolers of ice-cold water on SIU-C head coach Bob Smith and offensive line coach Tom Seward.

But on Saturday no one could put out the fire of the Saluki offense and defense which controlled the game from the opening kickoff.

"We're really enjoying two wins in a row," Smith said. "It doesn't come often. Our kids really had fun playing in front of the home crowd. The fans got to see a great ballgame."

The hot hand on the Saluki offense was junior quarterback Brian Downey. Downey led the squad to scores on its first three possessions on his way to a record setting completion percentage, hitting on 19 of his 22 attempts for 254 yards.

"I didn't do it on my own," Downey said. "I got a lot of help from receivers making great catches and the line giving me lots of time to set up and throw. The backs ran well so they had to play the run and the pass equally. We relaxed and had fun, we played football."

In the first quarter the Salukis couldn't have played much better. After the opening kickoff the Dawgs drove 66 yards in just over two minutes. Downey hit receiver Alan Brewer on a roll-out pass in the end zone to start the onslaught.

"Brian did a super job finding the receivers," Smith said. "The line deserves the bulk of the credit, they gave him a lot of time."

Murray State could do little against the swarming Saluki defense and were time and again forced into three plays and a punt. This gave the Saluki offense even more chances to score.

"Except for one drive, the defense was really outstanding today," Smith said. "The linemen were all over their quarterback and the backs covered well causing the quarterback to eat the football."

The next drive netted a field goal and another defensive stand gave the Salukis another for a third-straight score. Senior running back Antonio Moore, who had seen little action this season, scored on a 7-yard counter through a gaping hole in the MSU line.

"We were very surprised that they didn't blitz much," junior offensive lineman Tom Roth said. "The line did a great job today, we're really starting to come together and the success is showing on the scoreboard."

The big play of the drive was a fake punt on a fourth and one. Junior running back Mike Dopud took the snap instead of senior punter David Peters and ran for 25 yards to the MSU 17-yard line.

Before MSU could say 'blowout', the Salukis were off to a 17-0 lead and never looked back.

On the early scoring drives the Salukis' weapons were sophomore running back Yonel Jourdain and sophomore receiver Johnny Roots. Jourdain finished the day with 71 rushing yards while Roots caught six passes for 78 yards.

"I thought they would be tougher," Roots said. "I'm not surprised that we beat their defense, we were really confident coming in. The line blocked well and gave our QB time to get us the ball. We blew 'em out."

Just as impressive as the offense was the Saluki defense which tore through the MSU line and swarmed into the Racer backfield play after play. The defense held MSU to negative 12 yards in the first quarter and just three yards of offense in the first half.

"We've been practicing real hard on rushing the quarterback," Hochertz said. "It paid off."

The second half began just like the first with the Salukis rolling down the field on their first drive,

Saluki volleyball team takes first at Invitational; climb above 500 mark

By Julie Autor

The Saluki volleyball team scored three straight wins at the Northern Illinois Invitational Saturday capturing the tournament title and bringing the team to 6-5 this season.

The Salukis fought off the University of Illinois-Chicago, Kent State and Northern Illinois to win the championship.

Saluki volleyball head coach Pat Hagemeyer said it was a great weekend for the SIU-C players.

"The kids had a great time, they played consistently," Hagemeyer said. "They did what I told them to do."

Hagemeyer said winning the games against Kent State and Northern Illinois in three matches gave the players a new outlook.

"It's an extra incentive for them to do better," Hagemeyer said. "We walked out on the court and we decided that we weren't going to let this go."

Sopomore middle blocker Dana Olden was the dominant force for the Salukis, scoring 53 kills during tournament play. Olden was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Junior outside hitter Debbie Briscoe was named to the Invitational All-Tournament team.

The Salukis defeated Illinois Chicago on Friday 13-15, 15-5, 15-15-9 and 15-10. Five Saluki players made 10 or more kills in the game. Olden led the pack with 21 kills and Briscoe had 16. Junior setter Martha Firnhaber had 64 assists.

The Salukis continued to be a powerhouse on Saturday against Kent State. Olden came out the leader once again with 19 kills, two service aces and a .455 hitting percentage.

Team co-captain junior outside hitter Lori Simpson made 17 digs and four service aces while senior outside hitter Amy Johnson made 10 kills and hit .391 against Kent State.

The Salukis won the tournament after defeating Northern Illinois in three straight sets. Olden had 13 kills and two block assists to help the team win by scores of 15-5, 15-13 and 15-11. Briscoe had 11 kills, 10 digs and eight block assists.

Simpson also had 10 digs as well as nine kills and four block assists against the Huskies.

The Salukis will try to hang on to their winning record and advance to 7-5 as they play in Louisville at 7 p.m. Friday.

Conway leads runners to sixth-place finish

By Tiffany Youther
Staff Writer

SIU-C sophomore Leeann Conway once again led the Saluki women's cross country team in its sixth place finish out of 32 teams at the Midwest Collegiate Championships in Parkside, Wis. Saturday.

Conway finished the race with a time of 18:30, 22 seconds behind Chris Rowe of first place University of Minnesota. Two hundred fifty-two runners finished the meet.

Conway was the fourth runner across the finish line, but was placed fifth in the race due to a mix-up that Saluki coach Don DeNoon is unsure about. She has been the first Saluki to finish in all three meets this season and recently received Gateway Athlete-of-the-Week honors for her efforts.

Other Saluki runners to finish were junior Amie Padgett (19:05) in 30th place, sophomore Dawn Barefoot (19:07) in 34th place, junior Tracy Guerin (19:57) in 72nd

Bears crush Packers 31-13

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — The Chicago defense pounded an opponent for the second straight week, much to the delight of Bears Coach Mike Ditka.

The defense sacked Green Bay Packers quarterback Anthony Dilweg six times and forced five turnovers in Chicago's 31-13 victory Sunday over the Packers.

Even Green Bay quarterback Don "Majik Man" Majkowski — playing for the first time this season — fell victim to the Monsters of the Midway. Lemuel Stinson intercepted an end zone pass to end the Packers' only serious threat after Majkowski took over with a 31-13 deficit in the fourth quarter.

"We played a good football team today, it just so happened that our defense played awfully good," Ditka said.

"I'm pleased that we hung in there especially after they got an early TD. The fact that we got points after taking the ball away helped. We got 17 points off not having to move the ball very much."

Chicago quarterback Jim Harbaugh rushed for one touchdown and passed for two more to help lift the Bears to a 2-0 record, while Green Bay fell to 1-1. Harbaugh got off to a rocky start when cornerback Jerry Holmes intercepted on Chicago's first offensive play.

"Jim bounced back after the early turnover," Ditka said. "I don't know all his stats but I'm sure they will prove out that we did good things with the football."

Harbaugh completed 11 of 14 passes for 161 yards.

Golf team takes fourth at Murray

By Jeff Bobo
Staff Writer

SIU-C men's golf had a strong fourth-place finish out of 11 teams at the Murray State Invitational this weekend.

"We probably had a little of the first tournament jitters but I'm pleased with a fourth-place finish," Saluki men's golf coach Lew Hartzog said.

Junior Sean Leckrone led SIU-C with a score of 228 after three rounds. Leckrone fell eight strokes short of the tournament medalist Steve Summers of Southern Mississippi.

The tournament victory went to favorite Murray State who finished with a three 18-hole team score of 903.

SIU-C finished with 918 behind second and third-place finishers Western Kentucky which scored 909 and New Orleans at 914.

The Salukis lead all teams after the first round with a score of 299 followed by Murray State at 306, but the Dawgs went downhill in the next two rounds.

"I think the kids played a little tight the second two rounds," Hartzog said.

Murray State scored a 292 in the second round, while SIU-C could only manage a

Cambodian leaders arrive in Bangkok for first meeting

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Cambodian leaders began arriving in Bangkok Sunday for their first joint council meeting amid differing interpretations of the U.N. peace plan they have agreed to follow. "The Cambodian National Resistance parties think they have made enough concessions and compromises," resistance leader and former Prime Minister Son Sann said as he arrived for the "Supreme National Council" meeting Monday in Bangkok. The council brings together representatives of four rival Cambodian factions who have pledged to follow a peace plan.

Bloody rampage kills 26 in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Two gangs of men armed with guns, knives and machetes rampaged through a train near the city, randomly killing at least 26 people and wounding more than 100 in a bloody surge of black factional violence Thursday, police and hospitals said. The attack followed a similar incident last week and came after thousands of refugees poured out of war-torn black townships east of Johannesburg seeking safety from renewed internecine strife that has razed hundreds of houses and shacks.

Six to split Florida $105 million jackpot

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Six tickets matched all six winning numbers to split a Florida Lotto jackpot estimated at $105 million, the second largest lottery jackpot in U.S. history, lottery officials said Sunday. The exact jackpot total won't be known until Monday, but Florida Lottery Secretary Rebecca Paul estimated it at $105 million, or about $17.5 million for the holders of each of the six winning tickets. None of the winners has come forward, Paul said. But her department has arranged free air fare to bring winners to Tallahassee to have their tickets validated and to claim their winnings.

Boy trapped in construction shaft rescued

DENVER (UPI) — A 20-month-old boy trapped for 14 hours in a narrow construction shaft was rescued early Sunday by firefighters who dug feverishly through rock-hard earth, improvising lullabies to keep the toddler awake, authorities said. Blond-haired, blue-eyed Kevin Davis was cold but alert as he was pulled at 6:02 a.m. MT from the 12-foot-deep by 10-inch-wide shaft that he had fallen into Saturday afternoon. "He was glad to get out of there," Fire Department Lt. Robert Clark said. "He looked pretty good to me."

Negotiators agree to extend pact deadline

DETROIT (UPI) — Bargaining between the United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. went round the clock Sunday morning as negotiators grappled with the tough issues of wages, pension and job security. The union and nation's top carmaker agreed to extend the Friday midnight deadline of the current three-year pact in efforts to reach a settlement. The union is urging all GM workers to report to their jobs until further notice, although all of the automaker's domestic assembly plants are closed Sunday. GM, the nation's largest automaker, could face the possibility of selected walkouts starting Monday.

Police nab 218 Ball State weekend partiers

MUNCIE, Ind. (UPI) — Indiana State Excise Police joined with Muncie and Ball State police during the weekend to arrest 218 at loud house parties near the Ball State University campus. Authorities raided two parties Saturday night and responded again Sunday after receiving complaints about another loud party at an apartment complex, said Hohn Copeland, information officer for the excise police. Copeland said 170 people were arrested Saturday, including 154 minors for illegal consumption of alcohol, seven juveniles on similar charges and nine adults for furnishing the alcohol and maintaining a common nuisance.

Simon calls to return money

CHICAGO (UPI) — The campaign manager for U.S. Sen. Paul Simon Sunday called on his opponent, U.S. Rep. Lynn Martin, to return more than nine thousand dollars in campaign contributions from Sundstrand Corp. and its executives. "The company is paying back the government over $127.3 million dollars. The least thing Lynn Martin can do is give back a tainted $9,961.50 in campaign contributions from a company ripping off the taxpayers," said Anne Roosevelt, campaign manager for Simon.

Program helps potential women administrators

By Phyllis Coon
Staff Writer

Many women might not have had a chance for promotion into administrative positions if it was not for the University's Administrative Internship Program, the University Women's Professional Advancement office director said.

"Without this program a woman's chances of getting a promotion at the University will be less," Uma Sekaran, professor of management said.

But participating in the program does not secure a promotion, she said.

"Even after the training it does not mean the person will get promoted," Sekaran said. "That is why we choose the most suitable women who have chances of being administrators. The program is an important mechanism in which women can be trained to take on high administrative positions."

Sekaran was appointed two and one half years ago by University President John C. Guyon to direct the UWPA office. Reinstating the internship program was one of the things Sekaran has done in the position.

Other programs the office offers include the University Women of Distinction award and Spouse Placement, she said.

The internship has been in existence for eight years, she said, but was stopped four years ago because of various problems.

The internship program is open to women who have been University employees - faculty, administrative, professional or civil service - for a minimum of five consecutive years and possess academic preparation or work experience relevant to the internship.

There are at least two positions open for 1991 through 1992. During the fall and spring semesters interns will be trained on a half-time basis, she said. Half of the interns' time will be spent in their normal departmental assignment, and the other 50 percent will be spent on their internship.

Interns will receive 50 percent of their normal salary through the program.

"As things are going now we are quite happy," Sekaran said. "The program will continue into the future if we continue to pool a good group of applicants."

Previous interns have trained in offices including the Vice President of Academic Affairs and Student Counseling and the College of Liberal Arts dean's office, she said.

Application packets, which are due Oct. 10, can be picked up from the University Women's Professional Advancement office at 315 Anthony Hall.

Between 14 and 20 applications are expected, she said.

"It could be more," Sekaran said. "I would like for it to be more."

The internship committee will select four people with clear career goals in mind. Education or experience and strengths and training also will be looked at, she said.

"Once candidates are selected and depending on their needs, I go around campus to see which units will be able to offer them what they want," Sekaran said. "Then I match the person and the place."

UWPA to look for distinct nominees

By Phyllis Coon
Staff Writer

Honoring women on campus is the goal of the University Women of Distinction Award, the director of the University Women's Professional Advancement office, said.

"There's a lot of research and work women do on campus and in the community that never gets recognized," Uma Sekaran, professor of management, said.

This is the third year the award will be given, she said. The UWPA office will advertise for nominations through Oct. 27.

Women nominated can be students, faculty, administration or civil service, she said.

"We try to choose 7 or 8 women every year," Sekaran said.

Margaret Winters, associate professor of foreign languages and literatures, will be one of the seven women honored as last year's winners on Sept. 27 at the President's Banquet in Student Center Ballroom B.

"I am extremely pleased and extremely proud," Winters said. "The women recognized in the past are outstanding. It is very nice to be recognized with that group."

Sekaran credits the program with the promotion of Elaine Vitello, dean of the College of Technical Careers before she completed the internship.

Being chosen for the internship gave Vitello, who was a faculty member, the publicity she may have needed for administration to take a closer look at her credentials, Sekaran said.

"We are choosing the right kinds of people with the right kind of potential," Sekaran said.

Retired local pastor to speak on superstitions

Wesley Foundation to hold discussions

By Leslie Colp
Staff Writer

Superstitions in Christianity have given one Methodist pastor something to write about.

For the 32 years Floyd Hale was a pastor at different churches in Southern Illinois, he felt it was difficult to discuss his liberal views about Christianity.

"Religion is superstition on the way to truth," Hale said. "In man's evolution, superstition was an early form of faith."

Now retired, Hale has published "Christian Superstitions" which attempts to explain what some religious topics really mean to him.

"Heaven and Hell are just figures of speech," he said, "they are not real places."

"I don't claim to have all the answers," he said, adding that the answers of discussions he is leading at the Wesley Foundation will give people a chance to ask questions and express their own views.

"Christian Superstitions" is compiled of essays Hale wrote before he retired. They were not published until earlier this year.

"I wouldn't have published this book when I was a pastor," he said. "Skeptics seem to dominate the church."

The Rev. Kenneth L. Wallace, director of the Wesley Foundation is not worried about the controversy this discussion group could bring.

"He (Hale) doesn't intentionally want to hurt people," Wallace said. "This is just another perspective."

Hale said many people have written to him about his book. Some are happy to see something finally written about Christian superstitions, while others wonder what superstition has to do with religion.

"If Christians would only get their Bible straight," Hale wrote, "almost everyone of their other religious superstitions would fade away."

The first of three discussions is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Sept. 20 at the Wesley Foundation.

The discussions will feature Hale's views on the Bible, faith and the Gospel.

"I hope anyone who attends will come with an open mind," Hale said.

Copies of "Christian Superstitions" can be purchased at various places in the area including Waldenbooks and the Wesley Foundation. The price is $4.95.

New keg registration won't solve problem

A LOT OF STUDENTS and liquor store owners will be crying in their beer if the proposed keg registration becomes a reality.

In yet another attempt by Carbondale officials to control the problem of underage drinking, an ordinance has been proposed by the city government requiring keg purchasers to leave a name, address, phone number and destination of the keg.

And such an ordinance may put a dent in Carbondale businesses.

People not wanting to divulge such information may be likely to go outside of Carbondale to buy their keg, hurting those businesses that depend on keg revenues.

AND SOME MAY even want to leave Carbondale and party elsewhere, free from a possible surprise visit from Carbondale police.

Most people who go drinking in Carbondale, walk to the parties. But if they drive to party in a different town, they may be more likely to drive drunk when returning home to Carbondale.

Laws already exist that prohibit the noise level from getting too loud, prohibit people from getting too rowdy and prohibit parking on the grass. It's not hard to see which parties are out of control and need to be monitored by the police.

These laws should be enough to control keg parties.

IT SEEMS THAT every year a new proposal is made by city officials to curb underage drinking. And the businesses are really the ones who would suffer from their proposed legislation.

Last year, officials contemplated raising the bar entry age to 21. This, of course, would drastically hurt the bar business because the majority of the population is under 21.

But the ordinance didn't pass because it was decided current laws were restrictive enough.

The same should hold true now.

CITY OFFICIALS need to lighten up a little and look at new ways to enforce current laws.

Theoretically, the hosts of a keg party should be responsible enough to not allow underage drinkers to consume beer. But realistically this doesn't happen.

Perhaps if the city raised its fines against underage drinkers and those who contribute to underage drinking, people would think twice before violating the law.

If underage drinking is such a problem, let's get the students where it hurts most—their pocketbooks.

Quotable Quotes

"Let's be honest, this is rude music. It's junk. And if you can stand up for this, you're really standing up for your principles."—Bob Guccione Jr. arguing the anti-censorship stance in the 2 Live Crew debate.

"If the Indiana National Guard gets activated for war duty in the Middle East, we may yet see Dan Quayle volunteer to go to Vietnam."

—Funnymen Al King said in reference to the situation to the escalating crisis in the Persian Gulf.

Right to fight must be earned

The first quality of a soldier is the ability to support fatigue and privation... poverty, privation and misery are the school of the good soldier."—Napoleon Bonaparte

Firstly, I would like to say I found the responses to my article on women in combat very humorous.

Their articles, which were emotionally vengeful and often deviated from my topic, lacked any factual basis.

We all know women are perfectly willing and have the right to fight and die for our country. That's nice. You see, to serve in any combat arms occupation you have to earn that right. Women have not done this.

When I was in the Marines, the fitness test for the males consisted of a 3-mile run within 18 to 28 minutes, 3 to 20 pull-ups, and 40 to 80 sit-ups in two minutes. These figures are minimum and maximum, respectively.

The women had to run 1 1/2 miles between 10 and 15 minutes, no pull-ups, and only 22 to 50 sit-ups in two minutes, despite the much heralded strength of the female mid-section. That doesn't look too equal to me.

In fact, every service has double standards to compensate for the female gender. At the U.S. Naval Academy, a woman can refuse to complete the mandatory graduation requirement of making a 34-foot jump into water, simulating a sinking ship.

Despite statements from women that they could complete U.S. Army Ranger School, not one woman has ever hiked through extreme weather conditions with a 23-pound machine gun in her arms and a 70-pound rucksack on her back, gone without sleep for nine days and eaten one cold meal a day.

I know this to be true. I have lived and seen some of it myself. These are not "judgmental, selectively biased and unsubstantiated" points. These are findings by the Defense Department and are the reason women are barred from combat arms.

Frankly, the services prefer men. Former Army Intelligence Officer and current author Brian Mitchell stated, "The military puts up with women for two reasons: first, most of them believe that the success of the All-Volunteer-Force depends on the use of women, and second, politics gives them little say in the matter."

Finally, I again ask the women to not take this offensively. It disappoints me that a junior in speech communication and public relations would write such a weak response by making personal insults and conclusions about me when she doesn't even know me.

Quite a few females I know liked what I had to say. They are women who act like ladies, not women who act like men. —Brad Striegel, freshman, pre-major

Computer discs responsibility of user

Carol Slider's letter, which appeared in the Sept. 13 D.E., implies that she somehow knows that either a Computing Affairs employee or someone who's in the lab "a great deal" stole her two diskette boxes. Neither of these assumptions is necessarily correct.

If a user leaves diskettes or other personal items unattended for any length of time, there's a good chance someone will take them. While this is unfortunate, it happens quite frequently in our Computer Learning Centers and any other general access facility with large numbers of people. Our head count data shows that we have hundreds of people every hour passing through the lab.

We make every effort to monitor lab activity and ensure the safety and security of our users, their belongings, and our equipment.

We walk through the lab at regular intervals. Our service area recently has been remodeled to allow better visibility throughout the facility.

Security cameras have been installed in classrooms. Unfortunately, even with these precautions, incidents such as this occasionally happen.

One of the primary goals of the Computer Learning Centers is to provide service to our user community.

Pursuant to this goal, we continually suggest that users frequently backup important data.

Apparently, Ms. Slider did not consider backing up her millions of bytes of irreplaceable data.

Because of this, her data is just that—irreplaceable and lost.

Perhaps this will prove to be a valuable lesson. Regular backup procedures will save her frustration and lost time in the future.

We feel it's unfortunate that Ms. Slider chooses to accuse Computing Affairs employees of taking her diskettes. This is contrary to our mission and insults our integrity.

In the future, we hope Ms. Slider will realize that lab employees are working for her and not against her and that data preservation is a responsibility of the user.—Computing Affairs Computer Learning Centers employees.

Women deserve the chance to fight

I am a 21-year-old student who plans to join the Marine Corps upon graduation.

Although I have only two more semesters before graduating, several times this week I have given serious thought to enlisting for combat service in the Middle East.

But I won't be going to the Middle East and I most certainly won't be seeing any combat.

I am a woman and unfortunately the Marine Corps agrees with Brad Striegel.

Mr. Striegel, I have no dependents and no husband.

I am not financially obligated to anyone nor would I cause anyone any financial burden should I be maimed or killed.

But more importantly, I want to physically defend my country in case of war in the Middle East.

I have a desire to be there and that alone makes me more valuable than any man who has been shipped out unwillingly.

Furthermore, Mr. Striegel, it is up to me what my purpose in life will be.

I can choose whether or not to get married or have babies. This is one of those basic freedoms that I am willing to fight to defend and I am, ironically, barred from doing.

This is not a feminist issue. I like to have doors opened for me, but I am being prevented from doing something that I want to do because I am female.

I also believe that in the end, when it comes to survival or death, we are all alike, male and female. My "charred, smoldering pieces of flesh" would look just like any other soldier's or even yours, Mr. Striegel.—C. O'Neill, senior, English

Ryan Macfarlane, 4, son of Shawn and Leah Macfarlane of Murphysboro, drives a miniature train during the Appletime Grand Parade Saturday.

America, apple pie Murphysboro style

Tears of pride were shed this past week in Murphysboro. Though it was Apple Festival time, people thought of more than this season's apple crop. Patriotism filled the faces and hearts as service men and women from both the past and present were remembered and honored for their dedication to our country. From the Moving Wall to the Appletime Grand Parade, the undying love for America could be seen everywhere.

From an apple pie-eating contest to a carnival to a candlelight ceremony held at the wall, tourists and locals spent time for relaxation. Strong feelings of pride and allegiance for our country accompanied the relaxation. The Appletime Grand Parade on Saturday was perhaps the biggest event of the Apple Festival with close to 200 entries and streets lined with people to watch the three hour parade.

The parade began with a salute to the American flag and then a float for POW MIAs, accompanied by veterans of past wars. Children and adults were entertained by bands from high schools and junior high schools from around Southern Illinois, floats and even a few different baton routines. One group stepped and twirled to Aretha Franklin's "Freedom" in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the festival.

The Apple Festival ended Sunday night with closing ceremonies at the Moving Wall. The wall displays 58,132 of those who died or are missing in action in the Vietnam War. For most it is a painful reminder of all wars and a monument of pride.

With the crisis in the Middle East and thousands of our service men and women in the Middle East, there is a strong feeling of loyalty to America among its citizens and its interests. As our nation's armed services stand in defense, we ask ourselves, "Have we learned from our past and the battles we have fought, or will our pride and patriotism blur our vision?"

give our students an interesting perspective on what is happening in the Middle East", said Foote.

Another benefit Foote noted was the increase of international students which usually occurs after professorial exchanges. He accounts this increase to the foreign professors' recommendations of universities they have visited.

Foote said SIU-C has a good reputation in international programs and plays a large role in the USIA program. The USIA program is federally funded and also is part of an overall education process of foreign countries.

"The purpose of USIA is to link universities in non-technical areas for two to three years to foster better relations", said Foote.

Foote emphasized that international exchanges like this are not a sideline in curriculum. Foote said few people realize the sell of mass communications is the United States' second largest export.

"The international scene is the mainstream of the [media] field", said Foote.

Foote, who traveled to Cairo this summer, recalled thinking he was out of the mainstream because all the political action was occurring in Eastern Europe. He said the change of events has been a surprise.

"Through the Middle Eastern crisis, Egypt and the United States are growing together and the same things are happening between Helwan and SIU-C on a smaller scale", said Foote.

has been working on a 50-acre prairie reconstruction site at the preserve for 10 years.

Culen conducted the tours along with Bill Handel, the chapter president of the Illinois Native Plants Society and an expert in prairie reconstruction.

"In Illinois there is less than 1,300 acres of quality prairie," Handel said. "That's about two square miles."

Handel said he has been involved as a botanist saving threatened plants in prairies in all parts of the state and sees his efforts as the same as people who want to save forests.

"The reasons you would save a rain forest is the same reasons to save the prairie," Handel said.

The group has had success in establishing grasses, but flowering plants take longer.

"In a natural prairie, flowering plants make up 40 percent of the species found," Culen said. "But they are expensive and difficult to gather."

The group relies on seeds from plants grown by members and anyone else who will donate to the group, but the group also has received government help, Peterson said.

The prairie project received 400 root forbes for prairie flowers in a donation from the Illinois Department of Conservation which were planted in the spring. The DOC has been raising native plants for roadside planting by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The prairie project also received native grass seed donations from the Jackson County Soil and Water Conservation District.

"It's a significant dollar amount they are giving for the prairies," Peterson said.

Handel said the restored prairies do not have the diversity of plants and animals of virgin prairie, but these efforts must be made to save the ecosystem.

TAXES, from Page 1

In his statement, Hartigan said he believes he "can do a better job today with the taxes people pay today, and I do not believe that higher taxes should ever be a first resort to the problem."

Hartigan called his plan "bold" and said the cuts are needed to break the mind set of raising taxes as the first resort to solve problems.

The mind set has resulted in 25 tax increases within the last 15 years and a tripling of the state budget during that time, Hartigan said.

Streamlining state agencies through aggressive audits and eliminating administrative positions will account for savings of $218 million, he said. The cuts can be made without affecting direct services, Hartigan said.

The number of executive positions and administrators more than doubled during the terms of Gov. James R. Thompson, he said.

An additional $87 million could be saved by reviewing state incentives for economic development, according to Hartigan's plan. The state has lost 340,000 manufacturing jobs so Hartigan questioned whether the incentives are doing any good.

Edgar said he did not think Hartigan's plan would work because "there are no real cuts there."

Hartigan's whole position is that the state has to cut spending, Jim Strong, Hartigan's spokesman, said.

"We have got to take a meat axe to state government, and as a result, he hopes he won't have to raise taxes," Strong said.

New industry and economic growth in Illinois is projected to increase revenue by $450 million next year, so Hartigan expects to have an additional $1 billion from that revenue and his proposed cuts to work with in 1991 without raising taxes, Strong said.

spokesman, denounced Bush's speech as "claims and lies" full of "scandalous contradictions."

"(Bush) is trying to deceive the Iraqi people ... He will not succeed in his attempt to insert a wedge between the Iraqi people and their leadership," the spokesman said. "Kuwait was stolen from Iraq during the (British) colonial period."

The Iraqi state-owned news agency later said "millions of Iraqi masses this evening took to the streets and public squares throughout Iraq to express their surging anger and condemnation" of Bush's message, chanting anti-American slogans to protest "the falsifications and hollow arrogance that characterized his words." Standing in front of his desk in the White House Oval Office, an American flag in the background, Bush told the Iraqi people of the high price they will pay, in terms of political isolation and economic deprivation, for the occupation of Kuwait.

"Perhaps your leaders do not appreciate the strength of the forces united against them," Bush said. "Let me say clearly there is no way Iraq can win. Ultimately, Iraq must withdraw from Kuwait."

But he avoided attacks on Saddam Hussein himself and reassured the Iraqi people that, "We have no quarrel with the people of Iraq." "I've said many times and I will repeat right now: Our only object is to oppose the invasion ordered by Saddam Hussein."

Reminding the Iraqi people of their eight-year war with Iran that ended in 1988, Bush said "Now, once again, Iraq finds itself on the brink of war. Once again, the same Iraqi leadership has miscalculated. Once again, the Iraqi people face tragedy."

"Today, opposed by world opinion, Iraq stands isolated and alone," he said, cautioning, "I do not believe that you, the people of Iraq, want war."

In London, 157 Americans and dependents flew out of Gatwick airport outside the British capital Sunday aboard a PanAm Airbus bound for Baltimore Washington International Airport in the second such airlift in as many days. British officials said the former hostages of Iraq arrived in London late Saturday aboard a U.S.-chartered Iraqi Airways jet from Baghdad.

One distressed American woman told the British Broadcasting Corp. that Iraqi troops had killed many civilians.

"It was the hardest decision I ever made in my life — to leave the people I love behind, and not know what's going to happen to them ... they execute people all the time," the unnamed woman said.

"There are parks ... where there's a pile of blood where they shoot people in the head in the same place all the time.

They are killing people, by the hundreds maybe," she said.

Amid the reported deteriorating conditions in the occupied emirate, Kuwaiti refugees continued streaming across the Saudi border after Iraq unexpectedly opened the frontier on Saturday.

No Westerners were allowed to use the new exit from Iraq-occupied Kuwait.

Saudi officials and witnesses at the Saudi border point of Khafji said Sunday Iraqi border guards allowed more Kuwaitis to cross into Saudi Arabia along the main freeway after stripping the refugees of all identification documents and telling them never to return.

6. Judicial hearings
a. Time limitations
(1) A student electing formal adjudication shall have a minimum of five days written notice prior to a hearing.
(2) A student shall have five days after receiving notification of the decision in which to submit an appeal.

b. Failure to appear
Initial jurisdiction hearings shall be held in absentia when the charged student fails to appear. An appeal shall be dismissed when the student fails to appear.

c. Tape recordings
All formal judicial hearings shall be tape recorded. After the appeal period has expired, the tape may be erased.

d. Challenge for cause
A student may challenge panel members for cause. An exception allowed shall be limited to individual cases and shall not infringe upon a student's right to written notice, opportunity for a hearing, and an appeal.

e. Peremptory challenge
A student may challenge one panel member without assigning any cause. A peremptory challenge will be automatically honored by the chair of the panel.

f. Confidentiality
All evidence, facts, comments and discussion at a closed hearing and all exceptions shall be held in strict confidence. Failure to maintain confidentiality may result in administrative removal of judicial board members by the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs.

7. Sanctions
A student's disciplinary history shall have no bearing on the question of guilt or innocence. If, however, a student is found to be in violation of the Code, the full disciplinary history shall be considered in determining the sanction. The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall request the student's disciplinary records from the academic dean and the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall develop lines of communication.

Sanctions which may be imposed are:
(1) Disciplinary reprimand
(2) Disciplinary censure
(3) Disciplinary probation
(4) Disciplinary suspension
(5) Indefinite suspension
(6) Interim separation

8. Notification
The Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs shall send written notice of the decision of the hearing and sanction(s) to the student. Such notification will normally be sent within five days of the receipt of the board recommendation or within five days of the administrative hearing.

9. Any disciplinary determination or sanction involving social misconduct may be appealed to the next level in the judicial structure. The student shall submit an application for appeal in writing to the Director of Student Development or the Vice President for Student Affairs at least five business days after receiving notification of the prior decision. However, the right of appeal does not guarantee that an appeal will be granted nor does it entitle the student to a full rehearing of the case. An appeal, if granted, will be limited to the issues set forth in subparagraph c. below.

a. The student may submit a preference for an appeal hearing before a judicial board or an administrative hearing officer. The appropriate university official shall decide the hearing agent.
b. The burden of proof at the initial jurisdiction level is on the University. At the appeal level, however, the student bears the burden of demonstrating error as defined in the following item (c).

c. Three issues constitute possible grounds for an appeal:
(1) Were judicial procedures correctly followed?
(2) Did the evidence justify a decision against the student?
(3) Was the sanction(s) imposed in keeping with the gravity of the violation? Previous violation(s) of the Code and the accompanying sanction(s) will be considered in determining a proper sanction or a current violation.

d. The appropriate committee of the judicial board or the administrative hearing officer will review the appeal to ascertain whether there are sufficient grounds for a hearing.
e. If an appeal hearing is granted, the agent hearing the appeal will not rehear the case. The agent will limit its review to the specific points of the appeal that were accepted at the screening review.

f. The agent hearing the appeal may:
(1) Affirm the decision(s) of the initial jurisdiction.
(2) Affirm the decision(s) and reduce the sanction.
(3) Modify the decision(s) of violation and remove the sanction, and dismiss the case.

g. A student dissatisfied with the decision of the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research may seek review by submitting such a request in writing within five days after receiving notification of the prior decision. Review by the President shall also be limited to the issues specified in Subparagraph c. above.

h. Further appeal may be made to the Board of Trustees by filing an application for appeal in accordance with Article VI Section 2 of the Board of Trustees Bylaws. The Board of Trustees will review only those administrative decisions which meet the requirements for review established by the Board's Bylaws.

10. Implementations of Sanction(s)
a. The disciplinary sanction(s) shall be implemented as follows:
(1) The student has waived the right of appeal, or
(2) The appeal period has expired.

b. The sanction shall be as specified by the final adjudicating agent.
c. A student separated from the University for disciplinary reasons is subject to the normal academic guidelines for tuition and fee refunds, grades and financial penalties for terminating a housing contract.

d. Any type of disciplinary separation from the University may be implemented if a sanction which bars the student from University property.

11. Exceptions
The above procedures shall be followed unless an exception is authorized in writing by the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs. Requests for temporary exceptions shall be submitted in writing to the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs. Any exceptions allowed shall be limited to individual cases and shall not infringe upon a student's right to written notice, opportunity for a hearing, and an appeal.

VI. AMENDING PROCEDURES

The request for a recognized constituency or the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Research or the President or that officer's designee shall appoint a committee to consider amendments to this Code. The committee shall consist of two undergraduate students, one graduate student, two faculty members, one academic dean, and one representative of the University Housing Office, one representative from the Office of Student Judicial Affairs, and an ex officio representative from the Legal Counsel Office. The student and faculty members shall be designated by their appropriate constituencies. The Vice President for Student Affairs shall appoint a chairperson for the committee, who may be one of the members listed above.

B. Amendments
The President may propose to the Chancellor amendments to the Code. Whenever the circumstances allow, due consideration shall be given to the recommendations of the committee provided for in the preceding paragraph. Any amendment will be accomplished by the regular procedures for amendment of University Policy.

C. Notices
Any amendment of the code shall become effective only after general notice of such amendment is given to the student body, faculty and administrative staff. General notice shall include, but not be limited to, publication in the Code of approved amendments twice successively published in the Daily Egyptian and the administrative staff seven days after approval of said amendment by the Chancellor.

Space fruit not a threat, report says

CHICAGO (UPI) — Reports of killer space tomatoes have been greatly exaggerated, an Elmhurst College biology professor said Sunday.

Dr. Frank Mittermeyer, chairman of the Biology Department at the school in Chicago's western suburbs, said tomato plants have been grown there from seeds that spent six years in space — and reports that the seeds contained dangerous radiation were "unfounded."

"They look good and taste great," Mittermeyer said.

"Earlier speculation by some people that they might be poisonous or radioactive has proven to be unfounded."

In fact, the space tomatoes are even a bit healthier than those grown from seeds that have never left terra firma, he said.

"We've determined in our case that the average weight of the space tomatoes is larger" than the earth tomatoes, he said. "They look generally a little bit bigger."

He said the space tomatoes were grown to an average size of 110 grams, while tomatoes grown from control seeds have averaged 92 grams.

Mittermeyer said tests have proven the plants don't contain any harmful radiation. The seeds were hit by some radiation before being retrieved from NASA's Long Duration Exposure Facility by the space shuttle Columbia earlier this year, he said, but without any negative effects.

NASA has said all along that there would be no radiation problem, he said.

Cubs double up on Cardinals 8-4

ST. LOUIS (UPI) -- Damon Berryhill belted three of Chicago's seven doubles, scored twice and drove in a run Sunday, and Greg Smith added three RBI to lead the Cubs to an 8-4 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Berryhill doubled in his first three at-bats, helping make a winner of Jose Nunez, 3-0. Mike Bielecki earned his first save of the season, pitching four innings. Ken Hill, who has lost three consecutive decisions, did not win over five starts (4 to 4-4).

Jerry Dillon began the game with a pop off the left-field wall for a two-base hit, then Mark Grace contributed an RBI single.

Berryhill led off the second with a double and scored when Smith sent a baseball up the middle.

Chicago added a three runs in the third for a 5-0 cushion. Grace walked with one out, then scored when Derrick May rolled a double into the left-field corner.

Eagles upset by Cardinals 23-21

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) -- The Phoenix Cardinals pecked away at the supposedly more powerful Philadelphia Eagles and came away with an unexpected victory.

Al Del Greco kicked three field goals in the last nine minutes, including a 42-yarder with 25 seconds left to lift Phoenix to a 23-21 triumph Sunday for rookie coach Joe Bugel's first victory.

The Cardinals overcame 14-0 and 21-14 deficits to improve to 1-1 and drop the Eagles to 0-2.

Phoenix ended a four-game losing streak to Philadelphia despite being outgained 327 yards to 234. The Cardinals made the most of two interceptions, a few costly penalties against Philadelphia and the pesky play of quarterback Timm Rosenbach, who ran for 50 yards and threw for 116 more.

capped off with a trick play. Freshman running back Greg Brown took the pitch from Downey and swept right. Downey turned receiver and sprinted into the end zone where he was wide open. Brown hesitated, then lofted a pass to the waiting Downey.

"We knew the defense was playing man-to-man," Downey said. "The quarterback goes uncovered. When I saw the ball coming I thought, 'just like practice, catch the ball.' It wasn't the first time, I caught one in a junior college bowl game."

Junior Kevin Proctor took over the helm of the Racer offense and led his team on its only scoring drive of the game to make the score 24-7, but not for long.

Downey hit sophomore receiver Justin Roebuck on a post pattern and Roebuck split the defenders and blazed to a 74-yard touchdown, with the help of a downfield block by junior receiver Ian Oliver.

"The line did a heck of a job," Downey said. "They are coming along strong and getting better every week."

The next Saluki score came on a pass to freshman receiver Billy Swain on a slant in the end zone from Gibson, the third Saluki to throw a touchdown pass in the game.

"I was going to run it," Gibson said. "I saw young freshman Billy Swain running across the end zone, waving his arms so hard, I had to give him one. He made a great grab."

306. The Salukis finished the last round with a 313 dropping them to fourth place, well ahead of fifth-place Austin Peay which had a final score of 927.

"We didn't play bad the last two rounds of the tournament but we weren't as sharp as we should have been," Hartog said. "I would rather New Orleans hadn't passed us the last round, but I'm happy with fourth place."

Senior Britt Pavelonis, the Salukis No. 1 qualifier, was the second best Saluki finisher behind Leckrone. Pavelonis and Leckrone had identical scores the first two rounds of the Invitational with 74 and 76 respectively, but Pavelonis ended with a 79 behind Leckrone's 78.

Senior Mark Bellas was the third best Saluki with a three day total of 233 for the three rounds, ahead of senior Rich Kratzenberg with a 234 and junior Sean English with a 239.

Next on the SIU-C men's golf schedule is the Illinois State Invitational Sept. 23 and 24 in Normal.

place, sophomore Laura Batsie (20:11) in 91st place, freshman Karen Gardner (20:14) in 93rd place and freshman Kelly Elliot (20:18) in 99th place.

DeNoon said he was pleased with the performance of his athletes considering the size of the meet.

"I wasn't really happy with the team's place overall but I was happy with the way they looked out there," said DeNoon. "It just seems like all of our athletes are coming together. I felt a lot of encouragement from the way the girls ran and the times they received."

"We're starting to see some marked improvements from not just my first, second and third place runners, but the rest of them as well."

The Salukis next meet will be at the Illinois State Invitational on Sept. 22 in Normal.
