Marine killed in Beirut clash

One killed, two wounded from Shiite Moslem fire

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - U.S. Marines battled Shiite Moslem militiamen Monday with a .50-caliber machine gun fire in a daylong series of clashes that killed one Marine. U.S. fire reportedly killed a 9-year-old girl and two other civilians.

Three Marines and two school children were among 29 reported wounded during the three battles that broke out at 9:11 a.m. and lasted past midnight.

The Marine spokesman, Maj. Dennis Brooks, said one of two Marines wounded in an afternoon clash died while waiting to be evacuated. The other was flown by helicopter to the amphibious assault ship Guam off the Beirut coast.

Two Marines suffered slight injuries in midmorning clashes with the militia. They were treated and returned to duty, Brooks said.

The Marine who died was the 229th American serviceman to die in Lebanon since the Marines were sent to Beirut in September 1982. Brooks told the Associated Press Tuesday that the 19-year-old man was the product of a stopgap measure approved by voice vote without dissent and said to the Senate, is introduced to Congress to trigger a special conference on the federal Center for Disease Control in 1978 and was reintroduced in 1981.

Military veterans suffering from certain diseases would be able to receive compensation from the federal government for service-related disabilities under legislation passed by the House on Monday, a bill passed by the U.S. House Monday, March 19, 1984. It is called the Vietnam Veterans Healthcare Improvement Act of 1984, and is aimed at providing care and support for those who served in Vietnam.

The bill, also known as the Agent Orange Act, was introduced by Rep. David Price, D-N.C., and cosponsored by Reps. Joe Baca, D-Calif., and Peter Welch, D-Vt.

Price said the bill would provide comprehensive health care and counseling for veterans exposed to Agent Orange, an herbicide used during the Vietnam War to defoliate enemy territory.

The bill would establish a special fund to pay for medical care and counseling for veterans and their families, and would provide for the establishment of a national veterans' health care center in Washington, D.C., in addition to a regional center in California.

The bill would also require the Department of Veterans Affairs to develop a system for tracking the location of all veterans who served in Vietnam, and would require the VA to report annually to Congress on the status of the veterans' health care program.

The bill was approved by the House by a vote of 406-0, and now goes to the Senate for consideration.

A press release from Rep. Joe Baca's office states that the bill "will provide comprehensive health care and counseling for Vietnam veterans, and their families, who have been exposed to Agent Orange and other toxic chemicals." The release states that the bill "will also establish a national veterans' health care center in Washington, D.C., and a regional center in California.

Economic war charges made

Simon, women blast Reagan

CHICAGO (AP) — Members of national women’s organizations are planning to call on a Senate advisory panel to U.S. Rep. Paul Simon’s Democratic Senate campaign accused President Reagan on Monday of "waging economic war on women."

The charge was made at a news conference called by Simon and attended by Anne Combs, head of the Illinois chapter of the National Organization for Women; Ann Ladky, director of Women Employed; Johnnie Jackson, president of the Chicago unit of Coalition of Labor Union Women, and other officials of women’s groups.

Simon, seeking the Democratic nomination in a bid to unseat Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy, will be advised by a committee of more than 100 women active in labor, business, civic and political affairs.

Ms. Ladky, Ms. Jackson and Karen F. Wellisch, chair of NOW’s Chicago chapter, responded to Reagan’s Sunday warning that a labor shortage is a result of a re-election run by charging that he not only has not enforced laws against sex and job discrimination, tried to block a federal court order addressed to women of sex bias, cut aid to poor women and children, and "staked" the U.S. Civil Rights Commission with civil rights fees.

"If Ronald Reagan is elected to a second term, it will be a sad day for working Americans, for women, for minorities and for all people who believe in a nation committed to progress for all citizens, not just a wealthy privileged few," Simon said.

Ms. Wellisch, Ms. Ladky and Ms. Jackson accused Reagan, who will be in Chicago on Tuesday to deliver a speech, for allegedly "waging economic war on women."

"The Reagan administration is attempting to roll back the clock on civil rights," said Ms. Ladky. "It is conducting an assault on working women’s right to equal opportunity that is without precedent."

Blizzard ices northern half of state

_by The Associated Press_

"A winter horror story" in the northern half of Illinois made travel hazardous as gusty winds drifted snow across icy roadways as far south as Springfield.

The Kankakee area had more than 9 inches of snow Monday, while 7 to 8 inches fell in Joilet and 3 inches fell in Peru. Although only 2 inches to 3 inches fell in the Chicago area and in the Urbana and Danville areas in east central Illinois, winds gusted up to 30 mph limiting visibility and made travel hazardous.

"We are experiencing quite a bit of blowing and drifting, and the visibility’s down to a half-mile or less in north-central Illinois," said State Trooper Peter Negro in Pontiac. "We’re advising people to stay at home. It’s a winter horror story."

Kankakee County Highway Superintendent James Fickenscher warned motorists to "travel at your own risk."

Interstate 80, the major east-west artery through the state was limited to one lane of travel and traffic direction, as were I-94 and I-74, state police said.

Some light snow fell in southern Illinois, but there was little accumulation reported and roadways were in good driving condition.

But winds of 35 mph were expected to reduce visibility in Kimmundy and Alma in northern Marion County. A spokesman for Central Illinois Power Co. said winds knocked a conductor about 5:30 a.m., Power was restored about 9 a.m., officials said.

A travelers’ advisory remained in effect for the northern half of the state Monday afternoon, with gusty winds continuing to make life miserable for motorists.

In the southern part of the state Monday, 10 inches of snow fell at Dixon; 7 inches at Walnut; 6 inches at LaSalle; 5-9 inches in Chicago’s O’Hare International Airport; 3 inches at Moline and Freeport; and 4 inches at Rockford.

The National Weather Service says it will be partly sunny in the Chicago area Tuesday, but with gusty winds continuing to make life miserable for motorists.

U.S. open to Soviet proposals

WASHINGTHON (AP) — U.S. negotiator Edward Rowny said Monday the United States would consider any serious Soviet proposals, including curbs on new U.S. nuclear missiles in Europe, in an effort to work out a strategic arms control agreement.

After a half-hour meeting with President Reagan, Rowny told reporters he has a number of U.S. approaches or "tricks-up" to prevent if the Soviets agree to resume discussions in Geneva, Switzerland.

"It's in their interest to come back," Rowny said. "We are now in a position, when we return to the table, to make a breakthrough."
Journalist urges deregulating content limits in broadcasting

By Jay Small
Staff Writer

A U.S. Senate bill to revoke "deregulating" content controls in broadcasting could help broadcasters do a better job, according to Vernon Stone, director of the Journalism School.

Stone told the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science and Transportation on Monday that Senate Bill 1917, the Freedom of Expression Act, would "help bring broadcast regulation up to date." His testimony was part of a series of hearings on the bill, sponsored by Republican Sen. Bob Packwood of Oregon, chairman of the committee.

If passed, the proposal would:
- eliminate a requirement that broadcast outlets which grant wood of Oregon, chairman of the majority of reporters, editors and others who are dedicated to fairness and responsibility in content.

"They have their own fairness doctrine, no government regulation but a professional ethic," he said. Stone cited evidence of growing professionalism in broadcast journalism from two surveys he conducted over 10 years. The percentage of radio and television news directors with college degrees increased by about 20 percent, his statement indicates.

"Broadcast professionals could do a better job without government surveillance of content," he testified. "Controls on content are dysfunctional in that they tend to chill the reporting of the controversial."

Trial starts for rape suspect

Arron Snowden, a 34-year-old former SIU-C maintenance employee named in six rape charges, is scheduled to stand trial Tuesday on one of the charges and reportedly plans to plead not guilty by reason of insanity.

The case will be the first insanity defense in Jackson County under a law passed by the Illinois Legislature in 1983.

Teen-age sniper wounds two, commits suicide with shotgun

SPRINGFIELD (AP) -- Two people were injured Monday by an 18-year-old sniper who fired rifle shots at passing vehicles at a second-story window before he apparently killed himself, authorities said.

The incident began at about 12:30 p.m. CST when the unidentified man began firing shots from a .22 caliber rifle from a home on South Douglas Avenue in the state capital. Springfield police field commander Don McCarty said.

One of the shots grazed 75-year-old John Reilly, who was treated and released from St. John's Hospital, McCarty said. Another hit a passing truck, shattering the windshield.

A passenger in the truck, Leroy Ranz, 56, was hit by flying glass and treated and released from St. John's.

Pol's were about 20 officers were called to the scene and cordoned off the area while authorities unsuccessfully tried to make contact with the sniper.

Americans should join together...

The political arena is often larded with funny anecdotes, cute puns, and twisted meanings. Every TV, every radio, every cartoon that appeared with and was relayed by Daily Egyptian Editorial Page Editor John Schrag on January 27. It is a shame that people such as Mr. Schrag, who often does such an excellent job, can't see that many, must resort to sea tional and mean-spirited techniques to get readers to consider their opinions. Newspaper readers have a real opportu ity to keep the public informed by raising questions about important issues — helping people to learn both sides of the coin of rational policy-making but instead, Mr. Schrag chose to add to the confusion with rhetoric from yet another angle. (I apologize for the word rhetoric).

No previously published opinion should not support a president right or wrong, but since this is a democratic society we should by and large, support the people who have chosen to be our party. If we don't agree with a policy, we can work to change it if we should actively oppose, but let's stay away from the name-calling please. We should get off of our seats and do something.

and be willing to struggle for ideals

I must take issue with the use of that very inappropriate cartoon as an emotional lead-in to John Schrag's editorial column. Are you so unsure of your views of this editorial piece that you actually feel that it is necessary to use such a cartoon?(I obviously realize that as do, that the presidential campaign in the United States is so impressive (as compared to several previous administrations), that the only way to make a point is to skirt the issue that the issue is usually using.

No one wants to die. Unfortunately, it happens to millions of people every day for no reason. It is a shameful majority of which are far more meaningful than those that happen in the service of our country.

My heart went out to all of the families of the hostages in Lebanon and Grenada, but I mourned less for them than for my very good friend who died from a trainer carrying five hundred pounds. We all need to be more careful and improve the secured to the truck pulling it. If anyone dares to suggest that a person died a meaningless death, I'll spit on their eye. The only public difference between this twenty-five-year-old and the eight thousand Marines is that it's obviously not easy to be killed "by an act of God," but that preserving peace. The point must be made that we all die, and quote, "better it's to die protecting something I care about than to be a beholder. To me, it's better to die protecting something I love than to be a beholder."

The point is that our Nation's reliance upon single, isolated events (such as your use of that cartoon) to sway, rather than meaningful arguments as a guide is self-destructive. The public is not fully informed by raising questions about important issues — helping people to learn both sides of the coin of rational policy-making but instead, Mr. Schrag chose to add to the confusion with rhetoric from yet another angle. (I apologize for the word rhetoric).

No previously published opinion should not support a president right or wrong, but since this is a democratic society we should by and large, support the people who have chosen to be our party. Abortion rally held — where was DE?

Since a newsworthy event happened Sunday, Jan. 22, and the Daily Egyptian did not cover it, I will share with the readers what happened.

About 200 women and children gathered at the Illinois Capitol to protest the legalization of abortion. The procedure presently marched along Main Street and later held a rally in the Carbondale Democratic Party. Congressman Patrick Kelley, Dr. D. McCready and Professor Mike Estmeyer spoke on the sanctity of human life.

The purpose of the march and rally was to protest our society'snode of dehumanized unborn children, handicapped infants and some adults. Our rally did not go to the point of destroying them non-productive, a burden on society and could do no good. The rally was covered by three television stations, including CBS, ABC, and Illinois. Why did the Daily Egyptian miss it? — Dean Donaldson

Wants to find others suffering parking garage damage to cars

During final exam week in December, I parked my van in the parking garage next to Pantry Hall. When I returned, I found a large hole in the side of the van covered with ice that had formed over the ice that had dripped down from the roof of the garage. When I peeled the ice back, there were dark streaks in the light blue paint. I took my van to a bodyshop to see if the paint might be biffed out. This couldn't be done because whatever it was that dripped down from the roof along with the ice, it had melted into the paint. The bodyshop advised me that the only solution was to repaint the side of the van. Has anyone else suffered damage from garage parking garage? — James E. Redden, Professor, Linguistics Department

Rev. Billy Graham hospitalized, status called satisfactory

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — The Rev. Billy Graham, suffering a high fever, acute infection and exhaustion, has been admitted to a hospital affiliated with the Mayo Clinic, officials said Monday. The 65-year-old evangelist was being treated with antibiotics and decongestants for acute sinus and left inner ear infections, a Mayo Clinic spokesman said. Graham's condition is "satisfactory and improving," he said.

An aide said Graham's unexpected hospitalization forced the evangelist and his wife, Ruth, to cancel an invitation from President Reagan and first lady Nancy Reagan for a visit and overnight stay at the White House this week.

Graham, who recently completed a three-week trip to England to arrange for an upcoming three-month British crusade in the spring, will be hospitalized until about the end of the week, doctors said.

The foundation has received many unrestricted gifts from Arabs, Jews, blacks and others," he said. "The New York Times sought to malign the foundation and defame some of its donors."

Bustamante said he looks forward to more Arab gifts.

He said the $200,000 gifts came after the foundation sent a letter to all the ambassadors on the "Diplomatic List" asking for donations for the foundation to help with drought relief in Africa and for PUSHEX. He said Jackson had no role in the solicitation.

And Bustamante insisted that Jackson has no legal connection with the PUSH Foundation.

Bustamante admitted Jackson encouraged him to set up the foundation to gather contributions to fund Jackson's work. Much of the foundation's money — just how much Bustamante and others say has gone to PUSH groups in Africa and for PUSHEX grants.

There are several groups of which Jackson has varying degrees of connection:

Grand jury indicts bank robbers

By Jeff Wilkinson
Staff Writer

A federal grand jury in East St. Louis has handed down indictments stemming from the Dec. 1, 1983, robbery of the First State Bank of Campbell Hill in northwestern Jackson County.

Richard Francis McCue, 34, of New Vienna, James Lynn Cremers, 38, of Marion, were each charged with armed bank robbery and taking a hostage in an attempt to escape.

An armed bank robbery conviction carries a possible penalty of 20 years in prison or a $5,000 fine or both.

The charges stem from the Dec. 1, 1983, robbery of the First State Bank of Campbell Hill in northwestern Jackson County.

Police said McCue and Cremers allegedly robbed the bank at gunpoint of about $12,000 and fled the scene in the hostage's car. They were captured by police after a high-speed chase and shoot-out.

McCue was wounded in the head, hand and knee. Cremers was unharmed.

The Jackson County Sheriff's Department, the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation and the FBI were involved in the investigation.

Peace studies class may begin in fall

By Elizabeth Shipston
Staff Writer

The worldwide issue of war and peace may become an issue within the classroom at SIU-C if a proposed liberal arts elective, "Peace Studies," is approved for the fall semester.

Dave Christensen, professor of geography, said Monday he has received great response from faculty and students interested in a course in peace studies.

"Many schools across the country, including SIU-E, offer a "War and Peace Studies" course and related courses," Christensen said.

Christensen is now looking for three faculty members to collaborate in developing a team-taught course under the guidelines of an experimental course offered through the College of Liberal Arts.

"Faculty members from 13 departments, including political science, English, foreign languages and geography, have voiced an interest in teaching this type of course," Christensen said.

With prompt action, the course could be created and approved for fall 1984, Christensen said, and would be considered an "a la carte" course to the schedule book.

Further discussion by interested faculty and students will take place at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 7, in Facer Hall Room 1223, Christensen said.
Legislation extends benefits available to Vietnam veterans

By Mike Penneck
Staff Writer

SIUC’s Office of Veterans Affairs has received many inquiries from Vietnam-era veterans about legislation passed by Illinois that extends benefits for on-the-job training, an increase in GI Bill education benefits, and an associate degree in a vocational program, according to a spokesman for the office.

Under the Emergency Veterans Employment Act of 1981, which took effect in October, the eligibility date to receive GI Bill education benefits and job training benefits was extended one year. The eligibility period is 10 years from the date of discharge, during which veterans must use their GI education benefits.

The extended benefits are available to any veteran who served active duty between August 2, 1975, and May 7, 1981, and but was discharged at least 10 years ago. A veteran must also meet requirements under the “Vietnam Veterans’ Job Training Act.”

Although most associate degrees take two years to complete, the extension will enable veterans to begin degree programs, according to Perry L. Murry, coordinator of veterans affairs, who said he believes another extension will be granted next year.

“If it could open a new door for a lot of unemployed vets,” Murry said.

To be eligible to receive benefits for vocational training beyond the eligibility date, a veteran must be without a high school diploma or its equivalent and have been unemployed for at least 15 weeks, Murry said.

The provisions are intended primarily for the “hardcore” unemployed, Murry said.

Applicants will be judged on a case-by-case basis.

The benefit extension expires Dec. 31.

Sheriff’s paper protests budget

GOLconda (AP) — While the Herald-Enterprise was investigating the Pope County Sheriff’s Department budget, the weekly newspaper came under fire from the sheriff, who publicly attacked the paper. The headline read: “Capable, Loved, Devoted — Illinois.”

“You may be daring to look at the county budget,” the paper said, “but we want a true budget of the sheriff’s department. They’re inclined to arm themselves and not depend on the paper to go to go by their home at night.”

“People,” Brenner said, “are made to keep the safety.”

But Brenner said he stays in close to the county, which includes 150,000 acres of the Shawnee Forest, has only about 4,440 residents, and doesn’t need a big sheriff’s department.

“Twill bring money in, I forget how much it’s going to cost,” the county said.

The county had been making the best of the budget, he said.

The provisions are intended primarily for the “hardcore” unemployed, Murry said.

The benefit extension expires Dec. 31.
Some say water best there is; others use it as laundry bleach.

ENFIELD (AP) — The right amount of fluoride can help prevent tooth decay, but there’s so much of it in the ground water at Enfield that one expert says drinking soft drinks would do less damage to youngsters’ teeth.

Since the town’s wells were drilled in 1949, studies have shown that in addition to fluoride, the water carries high residual amounts of sodium, aluminum and cyanide gas.

A December survey of 307 of the 375 water customers in Enfield — west of Carmi in White County — by the Illinois Department of Public Health found that the eight percent of the residents use the water for cooking and drinking all the time.

But some of those who do, call it the best water there is. And because large amounts of fluoride are added to make the water fit to drink, some residents tout it as the perfect laundry water.

Saluki women earn split on road; Turner hurt
By Jim Lese
Sports Editor

Women's gymnastics Coach Herb Vogel was hoping to catch his breath after last weekend's pair of road meets, but more problems were thrown in the Saluki coach's path after an injury to all-arounder Pam Turner.

Vogel's squad, 1-5, completed a stretch of four meets (three on the road) in nine days by defeating Illinois-Chicago, 74.38 to 70.90, Saturday, and falling to Northern Illinois, 174.80 to 168.50, Sunday.

The Salukis were seeking scores in the mid-170s, which Vogel said would be handed enough this early in the season for the squad to use in its four-score averaging process that NCAA uses to determine teams to qualify for the regional meet.

At UI-C the Salukis won the meet, but lost Turner, a potential of 36-point scorer. Turner hyperextended her knee on her dismount from the uneven parallel bars and is out for the rest of the season and is walking on crutches. Vogel said she would be ruled out for a month but SIU-C has two all-arounders, plus with injuries. Besides Turner, Gina Hey still is not fully recovered from an ankle sprain and is out for the rest of the season. Hey is also a potential 36-point scorer.

"Without those two in our lineup this weekend, it's going to be difficult for us to compete," said Vogel.

SIU-C has a meet at Indiana State, 6-0, Tuesday, then a home meet against Indiana Sunday.

"It's probably Michelle's best floor exercise routine of the year," Vogel said.

Although Spillman won the floor exercise, the Salukis had their problems. SIU-C was outscored in three of the four events, winning only the floor, 40.45 to 43.70. On the vault, 41.40 to 43.70. On the uneven parallel bars, NIU won with a 45.30 score to SIU-C's 42.15. On the balance beam the Home team won, 46.80 to 40.70, and on the floor exercise SIU-C was one point behind the conference champs.

"We were not a team against stay in the top four," Vogel said.

The Salukis are trying to snap a four-game losing streak at Indiana State Saturday.

After Illinois State University lost its only conference meet so far to Iowa State, 8-1, and Central Michigan, 8-2, the Salukis are now 1-3 and are in third place alone with the last place team, UI-C.

"He's been a tremendous addition," said WSU assistant coach Rich Shrock.

"We're starting to get into a flow," he said.

"I'll tell my teams to run and gun till I get fired," she said.

"I know I've done a good job this year and I hope to continue to do it next year," she said.

According to Illinois State sports information, the Shockers outplayed the Redbirds at Wichita. The Shockers moved 6-4 Karl Pappke to point guard and it showed good results for the team.

The 100 free team of Wendy Hill, Janie Coontz, Roxanne Irick, Zierold, Westfall and SJU-C's Jenny Wagstaff, who swam were good times free in citing". when the teams take the ice at the Brendan Byrne Arena, among the missing will be five high scoring forwards — Mike Bossy and Bryan Trottier, mainstays of the four-time NHL champions New York Islanders; Jari Kurri of the Edmonton Oilers, Tony Tanti of the Vancouver Canucks and Marcel Dionne of the Los Angeles Kings.

Goalie Al Jensen of the Washington Capitals also is sidelined with an injury. Gretzky, far out in front of the NHL with 61 goals and 92 assists for 153 points, said Monday that a strained right shoulder had left him at "half-strength." But he said he would sit out the game only if the pain in his shoulder worsened during a practice session Tuesday morning with his Campbell Conference teammates.

"Of course, it's sore. But I can play. I'll be a bit more careful than usual," said Gretzky, who will serve as captain for the Campbell Conference squad.

Gretzky stopped short of blaming his shoulder for the end of his 54 game scoring streak, halted Saturday night by the Los Angeles Kings.

Gretzky was injured Jan. 21. Playing in his fifth All-Star Game at the age of 23, he triggered the Campbell Conference to a 5-3 victory in last year's All-Star Game by scoring four times in the third period. Bossy and Trottier, ranked third and sixth among NHL scoring leaders and key figures in the Islanders' bid to capture their fifth straight Stanley Cup crown, both have knee injuries. Jensen, replaced by Glenn "Chico" Thompson of the host New Jersey Devils, will join them on the Wales Conference casualty list.

The other absentees are from the Campbell. Kurri, the NHL's second-leading scorer behind teammate Gretzky, has a groin injury. Dionne has an ankle injury and Tanti cut his thumb in an accident last week at his home.

The Oilers, who have the NHL's best record, are represented by a league-high six players — Gretzky, Messier, Coffey, Fuhr, Kevin Lowe and Glenn Anderson.

Saluki guard D.D. Flab would like to lead a running offense rather than SIU-C's slowed down brand of basketball, but she said that she cannot knock the 14-3 record the team has this season.

Plab controls varied attack; balanced act works for cagers

By Dan Devine
Staff Writer

The Saluki women's basketball team has a variety of weapons at its command.

Guard D.D. Plab hits from the twilight zone and converts an occasional 'breakaway' layup. Petra Jackson bats the free throw line and sinks medium-range jump shots.

Inside, center Connie Price makes turn-around jumpers in the paint and forward Char showering rebounds missed shots and shoots layups.

Their four players average between 15 and 16 points per game and take turns leading SIU-C in scoring. In league games the tendency towards balance is even more pronounced. In eight conference games Jackson led with 14; average while Price is fourth with 12.9 points per game.

The player at the controls of the Saluki offense is Plab, the team's point guard and floor conductor. In Saluki's fast break upcourt, recognizes the enemy weakness and sets the plan of attack.

"She's playing beautifully," SIU-C Coach Dan Devine said. "She's done everything we've asked her to do."

The walk-the-ball-down-the-court Saluki is not explosive, but with a strong player-to-player defense at their backs, they've been grinding down Gateway teams. SIU-C has won most of its league games by 20 or more points.

For her part, Plab calls the midcourt,tm a "superb ballhandler and attacker, she'd rather run and gun than lead and offense that likes to slug it out in the trenches. Scott, Slocum and Price are not suited to play slow Plab has been under wraps for most of her career at SIU-C."

"She lets me run if I have the ball in the middle," Plab said. "That usually happens at the winning moments of decided games." In Saluki's big win over Wichita State, Plab broke away twice in the final minutes to sink layups and keep the crowd awake.

The senior guard, though, says she is not unhappy with the SIU-C offensive scheme.

"As long as we win I don't care, I'm happy as long as we win."

And winning is something the Salukis have been doing lately. This weekend's win gave SIU-C a nine-game winning streak. The Salukis are 14-2 overall and 8-0 in the Gateway Conference, two games ahead of Eastern Illinois.

Swimmers take second as qualifying plan fails

Women's swimming coach Tim Hill's strategy of trying to qualify at the MVC conference in the NCAA championships did not work for the Salukis at the NCAA championships. Hill said the reason Kansas won by such a large margin was because they swam more consistently in their best events.

The Salukis did manage to win five events during the individual meet, including the 400 and 800 freestyle relays. The 400 free team of Claudia Ziegler, Petra Jackson, Rene Royalty and Stacy Westfall finished first with a time of 3:14.3. "That was "very satisfying," Hill said. "They took the lead and really hung on." Hill said, "I was very pleased with their performance.

Men beat Iowa, raise record to 6-1

By Scott Rich
Staff Writer

Prevaling in a seesaw battle, the SIU-C men's swimming team dumped Iowa 66-67 Saturday to raise its dual meet record to 6-1. The Salukis, ranked No. 10 in the nation by Swimming World, had nine lifetime-best swims in the meet.

"We had some great performances," Coach Bob Steele said. "Iowa really played the meet up. They brought their band out and had about 1,000 fans at the meet, and they really made a lot of noise."

Steele's crowd estimation could have been affected by the excitement of the meet and the noise that the people made. The Iowa sports information office said the crowd was a very lively and exciting," but estimated it at 400 and said the band was from a local high school.

Although the team scored seven of the first 10 points, Steele said his team was in command all the way, "except for the first relay."

The Salukis fell behind 7-0 after losing the first "relay event" by one second. The Saluki 400 medley team of Giovanni Frigo, Larry Woolley, Gerhard von der Walt and Jasmin Staslin finished with a time of 3:30.2. The meet was tied 5-5 after the Salukis took the top two spots in the 1,000 freestyle. Andre Grillhammar took first with a pool-record and season-best time of 9:14.1. Gary Brinkman took second with 9:30.4. Steele said Grillhammar is considered to be one of the fastest six swimmers in the event.

SIU-C took a 16-4 lead after notching the top two spots in the 300 free. Erin Kirsch won the event with a time of 1:40.5. Barbra Homan was second with a time of 1:42.5. The Hawkeyes tied the score at 17-17 by placing one-two in the 500 free. Tom Hakansson finished third in the event with a time of 5:31.1. "I felt we had to finish second in the 50 free to win the meet," Steele said. "But I didn't expect Kirsch and Homan to finish one-two in the 200, so that helped us out."

Chris Shaw and Carlos Henao finished second and third in the 200 individual medley, which put the Salukis one point behind the Hawkeyes after five events. Shaw was second with a time of 1:53.1 and Henao was third at 1:54.8.

The Salukis took a 27-25 lead after the one-meter diving competition. Nigel Stanton won the event with a lifetime-best point total of 344.65 and Tom Wentland was third with 293.01 points.

"I was very happy with the way we were diving," Coach Steve Van Winkle said. "Tall of our drivers were very consistent and exciting." The Salukis extended their lead with Brinkman and Grillhammar finishing one-two in the 300 free. Brikman won the event with a time of 3:00.8, Hakansson was second with a time of 3:02.6, seconds below his lifetime-best.

Iowa's Jim Sevensson helped the Hawkeyes gain a 32-29 lead by winning the 100 free in 46.0. Frigo took down the next two places with Hakansson second at 46.5 and Henao at 46.7, both with career times.

SIU-C took the lead and never gave Iowa the chance to win. Five men swimmers were disqualified for swimming in the wrong lanes in their respective events.

"We had a time of 1:53.7," Steele said. "In the 200 free, the event with a time of 1:54.2."

Steele said the judges that I didn't want that to happen, but according to the rules, disqualified unless it affected the team's score. "We had a time of 1:53.7," Steele said. "But they (the judges) said the swimmers had to swim it, but we didn't have a problem with it." The Salukis extended their lead with Brinkman and Grillhammar winning one-two in the 500 free. The Hawkeyes were disqualified after the Salukis swam the 200 free.

The next event, the three-meter diving, gave the Salukis a 39-29 lead by winning the 322 points behind Iowa's Tim Freed, 326 points.

"I wasn't comfortable with the swimming of the three-meter," Golden said. "Iowa was behind us and I think they really showed up in the way their coach scored the diving."

The Salukis were able to pack their swimmers in a second place finish and a mark in the win column after tying first and third in the 200 butterfly. Steele won the event with a season-best time of 2:07.2, and Van Winkle won it with the same time of 2:07.3.

Steele put icing on the cake by winning the 800 free relay. The team of Homan, Kirsch, Woolley and Wentland won the event with a time of 3:04.91.

"I'm ecstatic with the win, it was perfect," Steele said. "I mean, I can't think of anything better than beating Iowa at home."
