ROTC Unit Picks Staff For Spring

Cadet Col. Larry L. Honeycutt, a psychology major, has been chosen division commander for the SIU detachment of the AFROTC. Named division vice-commander was Cadet Col. Jeffrey L. Casleton.

Others assigned to the staff for the spring quarter are Cadet Col. Robert W. Schultz as deputy for recruiting, Cadet Col. Richard Brodtkorb as deputy for operations and Cadet Col. Charles J. Wilkins as deputy for personnel. Cadet Col. Allen E. Spatz was named deputy for material, Cadet Col. John W. Cotton as inspector general, and Cadet Lt. Col. Lewis W. Stahl as information officer.

Named as director of administrative services was Cadet Lt. Col. Harry E. Beadle. Pre-SIU commander will be Edward D. Humber. It was also announced that Wing I commanded by Cadet Col. William R. Bradfield will meet on the practice football field east of McAndrew Stadium.

Wing II, commanded by Cadet Col. William Bouras, will meet in Shryock Auditorium this quarter.

Highlights for the term will include an awards day in May at which some two dozen awards will be presented to cadets for their specific achievements.

Also scheduled for May is a formal "dining-in" to climax the year's ROTC activities. The event is a traditional military dinner honoring invited guests.

High School Band To Play at SIU

A concert has been scheduled by the Willowbrook high school band of Villa Park, Ill., at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Shryock Auditorium.

Under the direction of conductor Richard Kamm, the visiting 80-piece band is scheduled to be on campus for two days. The members will perform the concert, hear faculty performing groups and visit various classes.

Students majoring or minoring in music may receive credit for attendance at the concert for GS 160 classes.

The SIU Music Department has invited all area high school bands to attend the Monday performance.

Indian Economist To Speak Here

Bellikoth Ragunath Shenoy of India, director and professor of economics at Gujarat University, will be on campus next Tuesday.

He will speak on "Foreign Aid and Indian Economic Development" to a meeting of the International Relations Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Don't Be Alarmed By Alarms in Test

If you hear a lot of ringing in your ears Monday and Tuesday, don't become too alarmed -- it probably will be just the University's fire alarms going off.

All fire alarm systems on the campus will be tested Monday and Tuesday, according to Paul W. Isbell, director of Business Affairs.

Saluki Baseball Season Opens Today at Murphysboro Diamond

Game Against Illinois State Follows 3-6 Tour Record

By Bob Reincke
Southern's baseball team opens its regular season against Illinois State at 2 p.m. today at Riverside Park in Murphysboro.

Coach Abe Martin's lineup for today's game will be similar to the one he used for most of the games during the tour.

Morris Invited By White House

The White House has invited SIU President Delvyn W. Morris to attend a regional consumer conference April 16 at the Chase Hotel in St. Louis.

Mrs. Esther Peterson, special assistant to the President for consumer affairs, wrote Morris, "I am sure the conference program will be considerably enhanced by the participation of members of your faculty and student body who are working and studying in the fields of consumer economics, merchandising, finance and home economics."

Mrs. Peterson said the conference would "feature open discussion of consumer problems among representatives of retailers, advertisers, consumer groups, the public and education from Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas."

The SIU president's office said Morris intended to extend the White House invitation to interested persons.

lar to the one he used for most of the games during the tour.

Captain Mike Pratte will handle the catching chores. The three-year veteran batted .316 last year. Jim Long, a .368 hitter last year, will get the nod at first base. Gib Snyder will be at second base and will team with shortstop Terry Lynn to form the double play pair for Martin. Rounding out the infield will be Bob Bernstein at the hotcorner.

In the outfield, Martin will go with veteran John Siebel in center field. Two transfer students will join Siebel in the outfield. Al Pelndat, a transfer from Belleville Junior College will be in right field, and Kent Collins a transfer from Eastern Illinois will cover left.

John Hotz, a junior right-hander from Webster Groves, Mo., will be on the mound.

The Salukis were able to win only three of the nine games on their trip to Texas during the spring vacation. Two of the victories came in the three games against the University of Houston. But the Salukis had more trouble with Sam Houston State College as the defending NAIA champs whipped the Salukis five times in six games.

The Huntsville nine scored two of their victories over Southern by scores of 16-2 and 13-1. The only pitcher's duel of the trip came in a 1-0 loss to Sam Houston on the first day.

The Salukis' lone victory over Sam Houston came from a combined effort of good hitting and good pitching which led to a 9-1 win. The Salukis banged out nine hits in the game led by two each from Kent Collins and Jim Long. Ken Everett got credit for the victory as the sophomore right-hander held the opponents to six hits.

Student Council Votes Down Fund Request For Trip by International Relations Club

Student Council has declined to approve a $120 appropriation to send a delegation from the SIU International Relations Club to the IRC National Conference.

As originally submitted the request was for $240 to send 10 delegates, but Foreign Student Senator Sami Zalattimo cut it to $120 for five delegates before the measure was finally voted down.

"International relations is only one aspect of Student Council's responsibility to students. We've spent a great deal -- perhaps already too much -- on IRC," said Out-Town Senator Terry Cook at Thursday's meeting.

Zalattimo disagreed. "IRC is not just another active club -- it sponsors events like speakers and freshmen convocations. IRC is already spending more from their own pockets than they get from outside."

Council accepted the resignation of Small Group Housing Senator Robert Quail, who wrote that he has dropped out of school temporarily for financial reasons. An election to replace him will be held Wednesday, April 8.

After discussing the relative merits of sending seniors or continuing students as observers to a convention to form a new student association, Council decided the delegation should consist of two non-senior delegates and three other non-voting observers.

Student Body President Dick Moore reported that SIU will be in charge of arrangements for the meeting, April 17-19 at Washington University.

A bill appropriating $105 ($40 food, $40 lodging and $25 transportation) to finance the delegation, was sent to the Finance committee.

After a discussion of presentation of appointments Council voted to require Council appointees to write short summations of their previous experience and qualifications for the post.

Council authorized a study of language laboratory requirements. According to a bill introduced by Liberal Arts Senator Micki Goldfeather, 16-20 half-hour periods were recently made a course requirement.

According to J. A. LaFontaine, language laboratory director, 18 half-hour periods per term have been required

A bill to regulate operation of motor scooters on campus was tabled. A committee which includes Fine Arts Senator Claude Stearns and Emil Peterson is preparing a report. Council action should wait on this, according to Home Economics Senator Jan Nelson.

Horace Mann's Bust Is Busted In Education Building Hallway

A bust of Horace Mann, 19th century American educator, standing in the main hall of the Wham Education Building has been busted.

A College of Education spokesman said the bust was broken off at the neck shortly before spring vacation. It is impossible to determine whether it was an accident or an act of vandalism, the spokesman said.

The bust probably will be replaced in the near future. Mann is credited with revolutionizing public school organization and teaching. A quotation by him is inscribed in the hallway.

100,000 Periodicals, Books Pour In to Library Annually

How long will it take to fill Morris Library with books, now that five new floors have been added?

A quick glance at some statistics shows that incoming materials are piling up fast.

Alton Juhlin, head of the book orders department, described a normal month's intake.

"This February, we received 1,082 books and 262 phonograph records," he said. The books come from all over the world and vary greatly in subject matter. Among them are rare books, textbooks, technical books, and juvenile books."

All of these are sent to the cataloguing department to be processed. However, the books represent only a fraction of the items received at Morris Library. Periodicals make up the largest portion of the literary pile.

According to Leopold Riff, serials librarian, the periodical intake is about 30,000 a year. This does not include the hundreds of newspapers brought in each day for the reading rooms. All told, the annual consignments run close to 100,000.

Unlike the books, which are all purchased, many of the periodicals arrive as gifts. They are taken to the bindery where a new binding machine is used on them.

Taking all of these figures into consideration, one may start to wonder: When will they start work on five more floors for our Library?

Films of Easter Story Will Be Shown Sunday

Films showing and narrating some of the most well-known paintings of the Easter story will be shown Sunday at SIU.

The films, "The Coming of Christ" and "He Is Risen," were filmed by the National Broadcasting Company as part of its Project 20 series several years ago. Both films are about 30 minutes in length and will be shown free to the public at 8 p.m. in Browne Auditorium.

CHRISTY TICKET RE-SALE - The New Christy Minstrels, nationally-known folk-singing group, will appear on campus next Saturday. Tickets were sold out only hours after they were put on sale. However, it has been reported that a resale of individual tickets is occurring at a brisk pace.

No Perceptible Change

Cigarette Smokers on Campus Keep Puffing, Despite Report

"There is convincing medical evidence that cigarette smoking impairs health. The question of whether or not to smoke remains the right of the individual in a free society. Your health is your individual responsibility."

Recognize the quotation?... If you are a smoker, you probably have read it more than once. But chances are that you, like many others have put the thought of giving up smoking in the back of your mind.

According to Neil K. Dillard, of Auxiliary and Service Enterprises: "as of now there is no perceptible difference in cigarette sales than before the Surgeon General's report was released.

"I don't have the exact figures, but after the report was released, cigarette sales on the campus dropped slightly," he said. "The findings in the report seemed to affect sales through the machines for a while, but now it doesn't seem to have changed smoking habits very much at all," he added, although he has had only one month to compare the sales figures.

But, he added, "the signs will remain on the machines."

Sales may be back to normal on campus, but at least one retailer has noticed the decline in cigarette sales. According to a spokesman of University Drugs, "Our cigarette sales in both individual packs and cartons have declined since the report on smoking was made public."

Going straight to the cigarette smoker's mouth, we asked a number of smokers their feelings on the subject now that the report is out.

Britt Lenz, sophomore from Belleville, said, "People more or less knew about the harmful affects of smoking long before the report, and they didn't quit then, why should they quit now? Let them rationalize if they want."

"I smoke a pack-and-a-half a day and can't afford it," said Mike Galvin, sophomore from Aurora. "I still think about it, and plan to quit, but if I tried to quit during the school year, I'd be a nervous wreck," he said. "I'm going to try to quit this summer when the pressures of school aren't on me," he explained.

Dave Needham, senior from Plainfield did more than just think about quitting. "It wasn't the report that made me quit smoking, or the health hazard, I just couldn't see any sense in it," he said. "I just wasn't getting any enjoyment out of it," he explained.

A pack-a-day smoker, Bob Snyder, junior from San Juan, Puerto Rico, said "I cut down considerably after the report, but since then I guess I have put it in the back of my mind. I just don't think about it anymore," he added.

Julie Ertal, junior from Quincy, has not stopped smoking, but it isn't because of the tension, or because she has forgotten about the findings of the Surgeon General - she has something else in mind. "I'm saving cigarette coupons for a St. Bernard," she explained, "and I've only got about 1200 more to go."

ROTC Announces Assembly Places

Ocean Is Campus, Vessel Classroom

The Indian Ocean will serve as a campus and a 135-foot research ship as a classroom this summer for Lorraine Morin, an SIU doctoral student in zoology.

Miss Morin is one of eight students from throughout the nation chosen for a three-month oceanography cruise supported by the National Science Foundation. Also aboard the ship will be eight international scientists and a professional crew.

The cruise, to begin on the coast of Madagascar, will carry the researchers around the Comoro Islands and along the east African coast.

The study is part of the International Indian Ocean Expedition sponsored by the International Council of Scientific Unions.

Miss Morin, a Woonsocket, R.I., native, holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Rhode Island.

Art in the Academic Environment of SIU

Photostory by Frank Salmo

Art majors at SIU do not have much trouble finding elective courses to fill out their schedule.

It takes 111 hours of credit to complete a major in the field of art.

In addition to the large number of hours required of their major, practically all of their courses consist of eight or more hours per week working in the studio or shop.

Since the fall term of 1960, the number of students enrolled in the art curriculum has more than doubled to its present size of 219 undergraduate majors.

All majors are required to take three quarters of Basic Studio and Studio Disciplines and the Art History Survey, which takes up another three quarters.

From there they move out into their field of specialization and take additional courses in the other phases of art.

According to Herbert Fink, Art Department chairman, the main role of the Art Department at SIU is "to lay stress on creative action and expression by the individual"...and "to help foster the individual's knowledge of himself in relation to his environment and to be able to make an eloquent statement about such knowledge through the means of the manipulation of material."

South Loses Skirmish, Stage Set for Rights Debate

Compiled From Associated Press

WASHINGTON--In two votes Thursday the Senate set the stage for the main civil rights battle of 1964.

It ended 15 days of debate on whether to take up the House-passed measure by voting 67 to 17 to bring the bill to the floor. Then it rejected 50-34 a move to send the bill back to committee.

The results heartened civil rights advocates, although both votes were only preliminary to the big debate starting Monday.

The civil rights measure is expected to occupy the Senate's attention for weeks and possibly months. Southern foes have made it clear they will stage what their opponents call a filibuster and the Southerners call educating the Senate and the public.

The 17 senators who voted against taking up the bill are members of the Southern group of 19 expected to wage the filibuster. The remaining two of the Southern opponents, Sens.

of Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to refer the legislation to the Judiciary Committee. Nine Republicans joined 25 Democrats in opposing the motion to table.

Several backers of the legislation wanted to send it back to committee for at least a brief look.

After the tabling vote, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the quarterback of the Southern forces, told the Senate, "Unfortunately, we have lost a skirmish. We shall now begin to fight the war."

Morse, who wants to strengthen the bill passed by the House on Feb. 10, said sending the bill to committee would "give us the best chance of getting adoption of a strong measure."

Mansfield, in opposing Morse's motion, said that to send the bill to committee now would mean a "most unconscionable delay."

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who interrupted his campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination, supported Morse in the debate. He called the bill revolutionary "with one of the most sweeping grants of authority that we have ever contemplated delegating to the executive establishment."

Goldwater said its potential administrative consequences "are only beginning to be understood" and 10 days for committee consideration would be "a bare measure of orderly deliberation."

Morse's move won the support also of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Opponents of Morse's move argued that the Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., has historically been a graveyard for civil rights legislation.

Among many Negroes in the gallery was Malcolm X, spokesman for militant black nationalists who recently broke with the Black Muslim sect. His response to questions about what he saw was to denounce the proceeding as a "con game."

He said "this bill won't solve" the Negroes' problems because "you can't legislate good will--that comes about only by education."

Violence Flares in Florida, 209 Arrested

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. -- Racial violence which left one Negro woman dead and several persons injured in Jacksonville showed signs of subsiding, although one gang attack on a white man and a fire bomb incident were reported at mid-week.

The city generally quieted down Wednesday, after two violent days, and a biracial committee came into being with the aim of restoring peace. Three Negro leaders joined five white business executives to form the group.

President Johnson and Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida took note of the troubles but decided no federal or state action was warranted.

In developments Thursday, a boycott of Jacksonville businesses which impose restrictions on Negroes was started by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP called for retaliation against "Jim Crow Merchants" even as the mediating committee groped for a way out of the crisis. Rut-

Salinger Wins Place On California Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO -- Pierre Salinger's name was ordered placed on the California ballot Friday for the June Democratic primary for U.S. senator.

The State Supreme Court ordered Salinger's papers and filing fees retransmitted to Secretary of State Frank Jordan and directed him to place Salinger's name on the ballot.

Salinger's attorneys contended in the suit a state regulation that had been cited in an attempt to bar him from the primary race was unconstitutional.

Salinger resigned last week as White House press secretary and announced he was entering the race in California where he had not lived since 1955.

Jordan said there was no proof either that he was a registered voter or a Democrat.

This Week in History

On March 27 in 1634, the first settlement in Maryland, St. Mary's, was founded.

In 1512, Ponce de Leon discovered the east coast of Florida.

In 1814, Andrew Jackson defeated the Creek Indians of Florida at the Battle of Horse Shoe Bend.

On March 28 in 1483, the Italian painter Raphael, was born.

ledge Pearson, city and state NAACP president, told members of the organization, "Spend your money only where you are respected."

The boycott was approved, by the largest chapter turnout in recent months, against all businesses except those selling food and medicine.

Lester Phillips, 53, the white man who reported he was attacked by 12 to 15 Negroes, was hit in the forehead by a brick and was in serious condition.

Roving bands of Negro youths were no longer in evidence Thursday, after two days of throwing rocks, bricks and bottles at policemen, firemen, newsmen and any white citizens who ventured into Negro areas.

A total of 209 juveniles were arrested--most turned over to their parents--and 205 persons went into city court on charges resulting from the attacks. The defendants passed through municipal court as if on a conveyor belt to the city prison farm, generally drawing $25 fines and seven-day terms.

The NAACP disavowed responsibility for the demonstrations and all indications were that the actions were spontaneous and not organized. Several leaders of the Negro community said the rioting was agitated by youths who have dropped out of school.

Shriver Picks Aides

WASHINGTON--Sargent Shriver enlisted two college presidents and a labor leader in the administration's declared war on poverty. President Johnson's chief of staff in the anti-poverty campaign listed his new aides as:

Vernon Roger Alden, 40, president of Ohio University and former associate dean of the Harvard Business School, who will develop plans for the proposed job corps, consisting of 100,000 draft rejects and school dropouts who will be given job training, education and work experience.

Jack T. Conway, 46, executive director of the AFL-CIO's industrial union department, who will plan the community action program.

Glenn A. Olds, 43, president of Springfield (Mass.) College, who will plan the Volunteers for America, a domestic peace corps organization.

Castro -- Menace Or Nuisance?

WASHINGTON -- Six House Republicans and Democrat, joined Thursday in denouncing Sen. J.W. Fulbright's view that the United States is unrealistically overextended in some of its anti-Communist foreign policy positions.

The Arkansas Democrat who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said in a lengthy Senate speech Wednesday the Johnson administration should abandon some "old myths" about the cold war and face up to "the new realities of our times."

A half dozen representatives took to the House floor to assail Fulbright's views, particularly those on Cuba and Panama. Fulbright said, in effect, that invasion of Cuba is unthinkable and economic boycott is not working, and cannot work. That leaves little, he said, except acceptance of the Communist regime of Fidel Castro as a nuisance but not a menace.

Within hours, his speech brought Republican charges of appeasement, coupled with assessments of Fulbright's statements as "trial balloons" sent up with the approval of President Johnson to test the winds of public opinion.

At home, Coach Carl Sexton and his Saluki netters will play host to Western Michigan in their second home match of the season.

The tennis team opened its '64 season Friday in a match with Iowa after scoring victories over Rice University and the University of Houston during the spring exhibition tour.

Today's match will begin at 1 p.m. at the University courts. In a game close to home, Coach Abe Martin and his Saluki nine open their home season with Illinois State. The Salukis, who won only three of nine games during the southern trip, will be hoping to find the familiar soil of southern Illinois more friendly as they host the Car-

Forms Available For Staff Golf

Entry forms are now available to full-time employees, graduate assistants and their spouses, from all SIU campuses for this year's faculty golf tournament to be held May 10 at the Crab Orchard Golf Club.

The deadline for entries in the 18-hole tournament is April 25.

SIU Golfers to Open Season Against Southeast Missouri

SIU's veteran-packed golf team will open its 1964 season Monday afternoon, when coach Lynn Holder's Salukis meet Southeast Missouri State College at 1 p.m. at the Crab Orchard golf course.

The Saluki golfers, who easily trounced the Indians in their two outings last season, expect little trouble from the weak Cape Girardeau squad.

On the basis of their showing against Tulane University and their performance in the Mobile Tournament last week, Holder is confident that his charges will be up to par when the Indians call on Monday and also for the big meet with Missouri University here Tuesday.

Headlining Southern's talented squad this season are solid veterans Gene Carello, John Krueger and Jim Place. Carello placed second two strokes behind the champion in the Mobile tournament, while Krueger, team leader with an impressive 14-4 record in 1963, shot a sharp 72 to lead the Salukis to a victory over Tulane. Place, a senior who posted a nifty 74.5 average for 19 matches last season, is expected to start in the big No. 2 position for Southern Monday.

In addition to Carello, Krueger and Place, Holder also will use Allen House, Jerry Kirby, Phil Stamison and Leon McNair.

dinals at 2 p.m. at Riverside Park in Murphysboro.

Meanwhile, three of Southern's teams will be scattered at various points across the country for the annual NCAA championship meets.

Coach Bill Meade's gymnasts, who finished second in the national meet last year, have the best chance of any of the Saluki squads to bring home an NCAA team championship. However, they will have to outscore Michigan, defending champs, to do so.

Meade will use an eight-man squad in the meet at Los Angeles in an attempt to gather the 100 points he feels necessary to unseat the powerful Wolverines. The Salukis have entered the national meet as the favorite for the past three years but have come out as the runnerup each time.

Southern's gymnastic hopes will be built around Rusty Mitchell, Bill Wolf and Dennis Wolf. The three Californians will be joined in their native state by teammates Ray Yano, Steve Pasternak, Tom Geocaris, Bill Hladik and Chuck Ehrlich.

In other NCAA meets, Larry Kristoff will lead Southern's four-man delegation to the National wrestling meet at Cornell University.

Kristoff, who finished second to Syracuse's Jim Nance last year, has won 15 of 16 decisions this year and is once again one of the favorites in the heavyweight competition.

Joining Kristoff for the trip will be Don Millard, Terry Finn and Don Schneider. The four grapplers qualified for the trip to Ithaca, N.Y., by placing among the finalists in the recent college division competition. The Salukis finished 20th in the national meet last year.

At New Haven, Conn., Coach Ralph Casey and his swimmers will be hoping to improve on their 13th place finish last year.

Casey is confident that this is his best squad since coming here in 1958 and has entered six swimmers in the meets. Tom McAnaney will lead the Saluki charge in the 200, 500, and 1,650-yard events and the 400-yard relay along with Jack Schultz, Ted Petras, Darrell Green, Dave Winfield and Mike Roberts.

Also today, Coach Lew Hartzog and what is left of his track squad will journey to the Arkansas Relays. Hartzog has lost eight of his men from the squad including top performers Bob Green and Jim Stewart.

Distance runner Brian Turner and George Woods, who was the first Illinois collegian to top 60 feet in the six swimmers in the meets, will lead the Saluki's hopes at the relays.

Four Fliers Die
In B47 Crash

JACKSONVILLE, Ark.—An Air Force B47 jet bomber crashed and burned on takeoff from Little Rock Air Force Base Friday, killing all four crew members and injuring two youths.

The youths were playing in a barn the plane crashed into. They were taken to a Jacksonville hospital. The bodies of the crewmen were recovered.

Capt. Douglas Wood, chief of the information office at the air base, said the plane on a training mission flamed out about a mile down the runway and came almost straight down.

Identities of the dead were withheld pending notification next of kin.

Jimmy Sizemore, manager of Radio Station KGMR, Jacksonville, who was at the scene, said explosions were coming from the burning wreckage.

The injured youths were Ricky Butler, 9, and Gary Davenport, about the same age. They were seriously burned.

CHICAGO — Biting cold weather prevailed throughout Illinois Friday and in Chicago a reading of 14 degrees broke a 91-year-old record.

STOWE, Vt. — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her daughter, Caroline, 6, got on skis Friday as several members of the late president's family began an Easter weekend on the slopes.

John F. Jr., 3, was too tired to give skiing a try in the morning.

It was the first venture at skiing for Mrs. Kennedy as well as for Caroline.

Several ski instructors were on hand to give pointers.

Music Soothes

Daytona Crowds

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—City officials figure if music "soothes the savage beast" it may help calm an expected influx of 75,000 restless college students migrating south on their annual Easter vacation.

The experiment seems to be working.

Though police say arrests are averaging about 100 a day, mostly on minor charges, this represents only a small percentage of the students in the area.

City fathers feel they may have the answer in music to this potentially explosive situation—which in past years has erupted into riots, near riots and mass arrests here and at Fort Lauderdale.

The music experiment was inaugurated Wednesday night when some 6,500 of the vacationing students attended a combination folk music-jazz concert at the city's band shell.

The students confined their reactions to standing ovations when a performance pleased them.

East Germany March 10. Both appeared to be in good health.

Communist East Germany asserted they were "expelled" after the United States gave assurances that strict orders had been issued to prevent a recurrence of air violations. An announcement repeated a Soviet charge the plane was spying, a charge denied by Washington.

Released after 17 days of U.S. diplomatic pressure were Capt. David L. Holland, 35, Holland, Minn., and Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, Philadelphia. Their companion, Lt. Harold Welch, 24, Detroit, was released March 21.

All three parachuted when their twin-engine RB66 penetrated 20 miles into East Germany on a training flight and was shot down. Welch was injured in landing.

RIO DE JANEIRO — About 3,000 dissident sailors and marines surrendered to the army Friday after a passive, two-day rebellion they spent in a downtown building bemoaning the political situation and the status of military men in Brazil.

Bus-Truck Crash
Fatal to Three

DENVER, Colo. — A Continental Trailways bus smashed into the side of a highway department dump truck that pulled onto a busy transcontinental highway from a side road Thursday night.

The drivers of both vehicles and a girl riding in the front seat of the bus were killed. Thirty-three persons were injured, none of them seriously.

The victims were Earl Chamberlain, 52, the bus driver; Carl Lewis Hicken, 32, the truck driver, and Pamela Jo Grant, 4, of Louisville, Ky.

The truck pulled onto the highway at an intersection in Jefferson County, in the southwestern suburbs of Denver police said.

Exciting things are happening everywhere at Ford Motor Company!

After Ford's spectacular debut in last year's Indianapolis 500-mile race, many people wondered what we would come up with next. Well it's here! Ford Motor Company engineers have developed a brand-new V-8 especially for this year's competition at Indy. Although it's the same size as the 1963 version, this racing engine is a much "livelier" performer because of four overhead gear-driven camshafts and other refinements. Overall results of these revolutionary changes: an increase of at least 44 horses, delivering 420 hp or more at 8,000 rpm.

Ford engineers met many challenges in developing this engine. But this is just typical of the challenges being accepted every day by our employes . . . that's what makes Ford Motor Company such an exciting place to work. And not only in engineering. Exciting opportunities exist in manufacturing, finance, sales, marketing, industrial relations, purchasing, traffic, product planning, styling and research. All types of career opportunities for all types of graduates. If you're looking for an interesting career—look to Ford Motor Company. A growing company in a growing industry.
