All-University Council Sets Year's Agenda

The All-University Student Council has accepted a 15-item agenda of student matters for intensive exploration and will set up student committees on both campuses to study them.

The decision was reached in a meeting Saturday morning on the Carbondale campus, according to Jim Greenwood.

The student bodies of the Edwardsville and Carbondale campuses each elected four members. The Council meets every two weeks on alternating campuses.

The present roster is the first. Elections were held last May after creation of the Council by the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees.

Eligibility rules for candidacy to the Council were discussed at the last meeting. The group is essentially a junior and senior body. It was proposed that a sophomore in his third term at the time of election, might be eligible if he were a junior by the end of the Fall Quarter.

The four elected from the Edwardsville campuses represented equally the East St. Louis and Alton branches. The Council discussed Saturday amending the by-laws to make this mandatory.

Attendance at Council meetings was brought up. The group discussed but did not take action on the possibility of asking for resignations from any member who remained away without a previous understanding of his absence.

State Department Adviser To Speak

A U.S. State Department adviser and former New England congressman, Chester E. Merrow of New Hampshire, will be United Nations Week speaker at SIU.

Merrow will speak at a public meeting, 8 p.m. Oct. 23 in Furr Auditorium, University School.

Pep Rally, Snake Dance Get Homecoming Started Tonight

There'll be no bonfire tonight but that won't keep the Homecoming spirit from blazing.

The pep rally, introduction of football players and snake dance will go on as scheduled but the bonfire has been called off because of extreme dry conditions.

Homecoming Committee officials expressed their gratitude to members of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity for the 300 man-hours put in to construct the tower of railroad ties for the bonfire.

However, they explained that the fire might accidentally touch off a blaze in the tinder-dry area around the campus so it was decided to call it off.

The remainder of the program will go on as scheduled.

The evening's events will start at 6:30 with a student roundup; the procession will start at Greek Row, to Thompson Point, and then to McAndrew Stadium. A pep rally will follow at 7:30 p.m., featuring the pep band, cheerleaders, the football team and coaches, the Saluki dogs, and "Noisy Nomads."

The rally will be followed by a snake dance, with the Noisy Nomads leading the way. The S-O-U-T-H-E-R-N cheer and Pep Song will close the rally.

Also on the agenda for today is a coronation rehearsal at 7 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium. The cast and committee members will attend.

Page To Sing With Aachen Opera

Thomas Page, who starred in Opera Workshop Productions on campus, has been signed as the leading lyric tenor with the Aachen (Germany) Opera for the 1964-65 season.

Page, who was graduated in June, 1963, notified Margarie Lawrence, Opera Workshop Director, of his new contract this week.

"It's a wonderful thing for SIU as well as Tom personally," said Miss Lawrence, former Metropolitan Opera star. "He'll get wonderful experience which will further his career."

Robert E. Mueller, Music Department chairman, echoed Miss Lawrence. "We all are quite pleased," he said.

Page won a scholarship for a year's study at the International Opera Center in Zurich, Switzerland, after graduation from SIU. He was picked over four other Americans for a grant which made it possible for him to return to Zurich for another year's study.

He and his wife, the former Mary Dennison of Carbondale, and their daughter, Angelia, are now living in Zurich.

Chautauqua Apartments ranked first in SIU grade-point averages during spring quarter, according to a summary prepared by the registrar's office.

Grade-point averages were compiled for on-campus and off-campus housing areas which expressed a desire to be included in the tabulation.

Chautauqua Apartments residents compiled an average of 4.14 for spring quarter to take first place in university rank. Following, in order, were Senior Women (3.99), Woody Hall A-1 (3.85), University Avenue Residence Halls (3.79), and Southern Acres Apartments and Southern Hills were tied for fifth with 3.77.

Campus Election

Rerun Tomorrow

Campus elections to name eleven senators to the Student Council and to pick a representative Mr. and Miss Freshman will be held tomorrow.

The first attempt at naming these representatives was unsuccessful and the Council set Thursday to cast ballots again after clearing up misunderstandings in the voting procedures.

Fred Rauch, Council Election Commissioner, said the key to voting in this election is to present fee statements in addition to Activity Cards. The reason for this is simple:

For the first time, students will be electing representatives from their academic units or colleges. Fee statements bear the number assigned to the college of each SIU student. For instance, Education is "01" on the fee statement. Communications is "06."

Polling attendants will check student voter's fee statement to determine his academic unit and hand him the ballot with names of candidates from his unit.

Only one senator is to be chosen from the non-academic group of Student Council representatives. This is the senator to represent the Off-campus Women's Organized Housing.

Rauch said the Council voted Monday to require poll attendants to check the back of activity cards and establish the name and address of the organized house of the voter.

Rauch said, "In a few cas-

'Good Old Days' Is Theme Of Annual BSU Homecoming

The SIU, Baptist Student Union alumni who return for Homecoming this weekend will be reminded of the "good old days".

A large scale reunion is planned for alumni. This Homecoming will probably be the last one while the BSU is in its present location. Plans are being made for a new building.

Thirty-four years of BSU activity will be reviewed in Committee Opening

For Parents' Day

Students interested in serving in the steering committee for Parents' Day—Nov. 9—may pick up applications at the University Center Information Desk. They should be completed and returned by Oct. 21, say Judy Pope and Don Grant, co-chairmen.

one day. Scrapbooks and photographs dating back that far will be displayed. All BSU alumni have been asked to return, or send letters reviewing their life and work since graduation. There will also be an exhibition of the Summer Missions Program.

"The present BSU has gone all out to make this the greatest year ever in Christian service," says Charles E. Gray, interim director of BSU at Southern.

There are several BSU alumni who are in high positions in the Southern Baptist Convention or Illinois Baptist State Association. Others are missionaries throughout the world.

The schedule for the event Saturday includes:

Reception at BSU 10:30-11:45 a.m.; Luncheon and Program, 11:45 a.m. (in cafeteria); and Revival at Walnut Street Baptist Church with Dr. C.E. Autry from Dallas, Tex., at 7:30 p.m.

TEAHOUSE TALK — Rehearsing in the partially completed set, members of the cast of "The Teahouse Of The August Moon" prepare the play which is to be seen at The Playhouse beginning Friday. Gil Lazier (facing camera) plays Captain Fisby and Roger Galloway (holding script) plays the Okinawan interpreter, Sakini.

Opens Friday:

Military Meet Oriental In Southern Players' 'Teahouse'

Southern Players will open their 1963-64 season Friday with John Patrick's comedy, "Teahouse of the August Moon."

The Pulitzer prize-winning play, to run Friday through Sunday and Oct. 22 through 26, touches on the unforeseen problems encountered when the "military mind" meets the ancient traditions of the mysterious East.

Cast as the Okinawan interpreter "Sakini," who serves as liaison man between the natives and the Army personnel is Roger Galloway of Charleston, W. Va., a graduate student in theater.

"Captain Fisby," the officer charged with the responsibility of bringing democracy to a small Okinawan village, is played by Gil Lazier of Pittsburgh, Penn., also a graduate in theater.

Not the least of Captain Fisby's problems is the awkwardness encountered when he is presented with a real live Geisha girl as a gift from one of the Okinawans. Playing the role of "Lotus Blossom," the Geisha, is Sheryle Glozik of Granite City.

Also included in the cast are: Maggie Sanders, Ken Blumenthal, James W. Fischer, Dave Davidson, Mary Davidson, Vance Fulkerson, Arlene Shapiro and Ken Marsick.

Also Dave Snelling, Caroline Schmitz, Victor Corde, Sheila Stewart, Dale Bruns, Gary Paben, Karen Garrison, Mary Goodrich, Thomas Hardy and Joanna Hogan.

LAST To Meet On SIU Campus

The annual fall meeting of the Illinois Association for Student Teaching will be held on the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University on Saturday, Nov. 2.

Speaking at the meeting on "Bench Marks in Professional Laboratory Experiences", will be Emmitt D. Smith, director of research, West Texas State College, Canyon.

Those attending AST for the first time will meet on Friday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Family Living Laboratory of the Home Economics Building. Speaker for this meeting is Mary Arnold of Illinois State Normal University.

The Association for Student Teaching is a national professional organization for college, private and public school teachers who administer teacher education program, supervise student teaching experience or teach college courses in professional curricula.

Watchmakers Hold Campus Meeting

Watchmakers from Illinois, Kentucky and Missouri will hold a one-day meeting on modern methods of their trade at SIU Sunday, Oct. 20.

The program includes sessions on servicing the electric watch, business management, and the future of watchmaking. Luncheon speaker will be Frank Mills, Hoopston editor and amateur watchmaker who is past president of the Tri-State Watch and Clock Collectors.

Other speakers are to include Donald Leverenz, president of the American Watchmakers Institute; R. Ralph Bedwell, director of the SIU Small Business Institute, and Harold Calvert, chairman of the American Watchmakers Institute certification committee.

The seminar is co-sponsored by the University of Illinois Bureau of Business Management, the American Watchmakers Institute and the SIU Small Business Institute.

Public Hearings Planned Tonight On Four Dorms

Public hearings on construction of four student dormitories are scheduled for 7:30 tonight at a meeting of the Carbondale Plan Commission.

A 90-unit dorm has been proposed for the corner of Freeman Street and Forest Avenue. A dorm at 510 Hays Avenue, on the corner of Schwartz and Hays Streets, would have 21 units.

Builders of two dorms, already approved for construction on East College Street between Logan Avenue and Graham Avenue, are requesting that each of the dorms have 48 units instead of 32 as originally planned, according to Tom Easterly, city building and zoning inspector.

Adenauer Convinced Unification Will Come

BONN, Germany

Konrad Adenauer bade farewell to the West German Parliament as chancellor Tuesday, saying his dream of a reunited Germany is possible only with the help of friends abroad.

It was a solemn hour for the man who had been West Germany's only chancellor in the 14 years of rebuilding from the ruins of World War II. In dark coat and striped trousers, he spoke of the hope for reunion of West Germany with Communist-ruled East Germany.

"A solution is not possible between ourselves and our opponents alone," he said,

"but only with the help of our friends, and thank God, we have friends in the world again."

By opponents, he meant the Russians, who still occupy East Germany and have set up a Communist regime for its 17 million inhabitants.

Adenauer said reunification could be seen on the horizon if Germans are watchful, cautious and patient.

"I am convinced that it will come," Adenauer said, "because unity cannot be denied to a people like the Germans when they want to create it in peace."

WASHINGTON

A committee of 24 experts reported unanimously Tuesday that the controversial drug Krebiozen is ineffective as a treatment for cancer.

Dr. Kenneth Endicott, director of the National Cancer Institute, said the institute "will not sponsor or participate in a clinical trial" of the drug in view of the committee's findings and other considerations.

WASHINGTON

Senate probes heard testimony today of Mafia terrorism in central Florida's gay playland.

Police Chief Neil G. Brown of Tampa told the Senate Investigations subcommittee there have been 23 gangland slayings in the Tampa area since 1928, only one of them solved.

Brown said the killings show "how the Mafia uses murder to discipline its membership."

He urged Congress to legalize police tapping of telephone lines and provide the training of local police specialists in gangbusting techniques to help local police in curbing gang activities.

Brown's testimony started the final scheduled week of hearings following up testimony by mobster Joseph Valachi.

ALGIERS

President Ahmed Ben Bella Tuesday proclaimed the general mobilization of all former Algerian resistance fighters to meet a military invasion from Morocco.

In an impassioned speech, Ben Bella flung his defiance at the Moroccan leaders who, he said, are leading their nation into a criminal adventure.

The declaration that American airmen were involved was denied in Rabat, Morocco, by Col. Thomas McClung of Leivassir, W. Va., chief of the U. S. Military Assistance group in Morocco.

Three bases of the U.S. Strategic Air Command are in western Morocco at Benguerir, Nouasseur and Sidi Slimane--far removed from the combat zone.

MARRAKECH, Morocco

King Hassan II arranged for Mrs. John F. Kennedy to see a spectacle of tribal rifle shooting and horsemanship Tuesday.

The American First Lady slept late after a dinner party Monday night in the casbah residence of the king's cousin, Moulay Ali, who is known as the "businessman of the royal family."

Mrs. Kennedy was reported to be aware of the military situation involving her 34-year-old host--the fighting in a Moroccan-Algerian frontier region 300 miles away.

The European Common Market backed down Tuesday and agreed to submit its chicken war with the United States to an impartial panel for settlement.

Charges Of Pressure Tactic's Made At Tax Cut Hearings

WASHINGTON

The administration's $11-billion tax cut bill ran into rough going before the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday. Before secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon could begin his plea for quick action, two Democratic senators protested what they said were intimidation and pressure tactics in behalf of the bill.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said a telegram sent out by an official of the Democratic National Committee might even be an effort to purge him.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said that "recently public statements," which he did not further describe, "have the characteristics of pressure propaganda" and were highly unfair to his committee.

Both Gore and Byrd are opposed to the bill.

The telegram to which Gore referred was sent by William Keel, director of research for party national committee.

Gore demanded that Keel be asked to testify, and said he should be subpoenaed if he did not appear voluntarily.

7 Plan 'A' Beginners Enter Last Stage Of Curriculum

Seven students who were freshmen charter members of the SIU "Plan A," an accelerated students curriculum, have enrolled again this fall as seniors.

By graduation time, these seven will have reaped the full harvest of stimulation and learning offered by the curriculum.

More students than ever are involved in Plan A studies this fall since the University provided expanded housing facilities, according to E. Claude Coleman, director of the superior student curriculum since its inception in the fall of 1960.

"Plan A needs more expansion," Coleman said recently. "We would like to offer the course to 350 to 400 students."

A total of 136 in all four classes now are meeting in the new quarters one night a week where they get together for two hours in groups of about ten.

The rooms of the former home of retired Dean and Mrs. Talbert Abbott, south of the University Center, are ample for several sections to meet at once.

In this house, books are everywhere. A brand new globe has been added to the furnishings; a library of long play recordings is being acquired; even a new piece of art has been hung, the work of one of the students.

Coleman is pleased with the new crop of freshmen which his student secretary, Suzanne Redington, said he spent most of the summer interviewing. He is enthusiastic too about the revised course of study planned for them. Above all, he is pleased and satisfied with the faculty recruited to work with the Plan A students.

Coleman explained people with special knowledge in a broad spectrum of disciplines are needed in the Plan A faculty. Also, they must have the time to devote to it, but as Coleman said, some of them simply take time. Often they stay on after the students leave to talk, and he thinks this interdisciplinary meeting of minds is of value to the whole university.

"When you have good men, you usually leave them alone," Coleman said, "and I leave them alone..." The instruction follows broad outlines but the students and faculty alike bring to it what seems important to them.

CLAUDE COLEMAN

The freshmen in the course, take a good look at the desired objectives of higher education in their plan of study. Among the books they will read are "Film and Art" by Rudolf Arnheim, "Art and the Man" by Irwin Edman, "The Great Chain of Life," by Joseph Wood Krutch, "Aesthetics of Today," by Moris Philipson. They will read massively between sessions and turn in a weekly resume paper, hand in questions they want answered and write a term paper.

The sophomores will study Greek, Hebrew and Roman cultures, seeking the heritage still working for us which have come from these cultures.

In the third year, the Plan A students study Russian, Chinese and Indian cultures, seeking the Western relations with them. The fourth year students will take a look at contemporary society, Coleman said, forming some answers to the effects of technology on life today.

"We want our students to come with questions, rather than notebooks," Coleman said.

For all the reading, discussions and meetings, the Plan A students get two hours credit a quarter.

Work Of SIU Prof Published In Mexican Literary Review

The work of a SIU professor, who once completed his dead brother's best-seller about World War II, is contained in a 254-page book, "The Literary Reviews of Mexico," just published by the Mexican Institute of Fine Arts.

He is Boyd G. Carter, professor of romance languages at Southern since 1959, whose lecture about a Mexican publication titled Revista Azul, edited by Mexico's distinguished 19th Century poet, Manuel Gutierrez Najera, is one of eight chapters in the book. Carter delivered the lecture in June, 1962, in Mexico City during a series organized by the Institute of Fine Arts. He was the only American to take part in the series.

Carter, who authored or co-authored ten books and has written numerous articles and short stories, finished and edited the best-seller, "Those Devils in Baggy Pant," printed both in hardbound and paperback books and in condensed form in the Reader's Digest. When the author, Ross S. Carter, died in 1947, his brother took the notes and edited them for publication. First printing of the book, which told of the 82nd Airborne Division, was in 1951.

Carter, a native of Duffield, Va., who received his bachelor's degree from the College of William and Mary and his master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Illinois, was chairman of the department of romance languages at the University of Nebraska before coming to Southern.

Your Newspaper

Despite the Birmingham situation, Barry Goldwater's chances and the price of wheat in Canada, the editorial pages of many American newspapers will devote space to an old topic -- "National Newspaper Week" -- in the next few days.

This week American newspaper readers will be asked to pause and consider the talents of those who so unselfishly devote their lives to bringing the public news. They will be told that nowhere can they get so much for so little money. They'll be reminded of the struggle for freedom of the press--and they'll probably be pretty bored.

There are weeks dedicated to the frankfurter, the pickle and the mother-in-law. Everyone from the beautician to the fireman is remembered for his contributions to the American way of life. The public even is reminded, through national "Be Kind to Animals Week" that they are not to take anybody for granted --four-footed or multi-gilled.

Perhaps the best way to make our readers newspaper-conscious would be to take a holiday during the term. There would be no schedules of meetings, Gus Bodes, news of Saluki teams, letters or editorials.

In fact, if you were not reading the Daily Egyptian right now you might not know this is "National Newspaper Week." That fact is pretty unimportant, but chances are you would miss the features we named. Realizing that newspapers are important to your life is the object of this week.

Letter To The Editor:

Why Do Elections Seem Always To Be A Mess?

X's mark the spots! Posters on lamp-posts, posters on buildings, posters on people. Banners draped across Shryock Auditorium, banners across walks and roads, banners across students and faculty alike. Candidates' photos peering from every tree, every building, every nook and cranny about Southern's campus. It's campus election day, campus defilement day, campus obscuring day, campus ugliness day.

Every fall, when the leaves begin to take on colorful hues, our campus is literally obliterated by a huge quantity of posters, pictures, and banners. Any thought of photographing, or even viewing, the Autumn scenes is thoroughly dashed by the white plague that settles on all. The most beautiful campus in Illinois takes on the appearance of a trash heap just to enable students to request your vote for their candidate.

Is this necessary just to get students to vote? I would not cast a vote for anyone who has no more pride and responsibility than to litter our campus like a mistreated picnic area. Cannot another method be found to extol the virtues of candidates?

Who knows? Maybe there is a relationship between the cleanliness of campus on election day and the cleanliness of elected officials and representatives. Perhaps the small number of votes is related to the cluttered state of the campus. Why don't we run a "clean" election and see?

Stevenson Ahead of His Time

It takes nothing at all from the shining achievement of President Kennedy and the great majority of Democrats in the Senate or from the cooperation of Republican minority leader Dirksen of Illinois and most senators on his side to say that one American citizen who had a great deal to do with developing a favorable public sentiment with respect to the nuclear test ban treaty has been mentioned little, if at all, in connection with either the treaty or its overwhelming 80-to-19 ratification. That man is Adlai E. Stevenson.

Look back just seven years. In October, 1956, the country was in the closing weeks of the second Eisenhower-Stevenson campaign. The former Illinois governor believed that Presidential campaign was a time to discuss national and international issues--a time and opportunity for public education.

Irving Dilliard

ed the subject as not one for "detailed public discussion" and said he had spoken his "last word" on the subject.

Vice President Nixon went to town. He set the tone for the other viewers with alarm by crying out that the proposal to limit nuclear explosions was "catastrophic nonsense." Taking up the Nixon cue, others denounced Stevenson for "a theatrical gesture."

Cartoonists One-Sided

The unfairness of the cartoonists in the largely one-party press needs to be recalled. One caricaturist dressed Stevenson in a clown suit and dunce cap. Another put him in knee pants playing with blocks on the floor. Still another portrayed him as a tenderfoot, stumbling into a tough western barroom, and carelessly dropping his revolver, labeled "H-test ban," on the floor. This was doubly insulting since it spread the word "Communists" across the backs of the American cowboys who lined the bar.

Time magazine feared that all the careful decisions in regard to the hydrogen bomb, made competently and quietly "could be undone if in election year 1956, the matter were to be decided by nothing more than the appeal of a political candidate in search of an issue."

Seven years ago. Ridicule. Sneers. Charges of incompetence. Yet the Eisenhower administration came around to the Stevenson position and suspended testing without ever giving him any credit. And now, thanks to the Kennedy administration and Senate approval a testing treaty is international law, signed by more than 100 nations. No one is entitled to more satisfaction than Adlai E. Stevenson, our U. N. ambassador.

Warned on Nuclear Tests

Being a man of vision, Adlai Stevenson proposed that the United States "give prompt and earnest consideration to stopping further tests of the hydrogen bomb." He was deeply concerned not only about the armaments race, but also about the effect of nuclear fallout on generations to come.

The Republicans greeted the Stevenson suggestion with derision. Campaigner Eisenhower said that "testing of atomic weapons was an indispensable part of our defense program," and in effect that his opponent did not know what he was talking about. Ike dismiss-

Thanks For A Good Word For The Kids

I want to thank your paper for giving a lift to our spirits after we were let down so hard while reading the Southern Illinoisan account of the City Council meeting last Tuesday (Oct. 10). The Southern Illinoisan writeup on the trick-treat letters--of protest was so skimpy: trick-or-treat begins days before and continues through Halloween with boys as old as 14, 15 and 16 years participating. We felt as if our letters had been hardly considered, and were tossed aside with a Pfft!!

Your paper with the article on "Trick or Treat Practices" was given me by my daughter to show that the Mayor had done what he could by having the City Attorney draw up an ordinance to submit to the Council. After reading it we felt better about the whole affair.

We want to thank you for giving a full factual writeup of the happenings at the meeting. We can now absolve the Mayor of any blame for disregarding our pleas. He did his part; the others failed us.

Mrs. Carrie Neftzger

Second Straight Victory:

Strong SIU Frosh Attack Downs Washington 27-12

SIU's freshman football program kept rolling along in high gear Monday afternoon, when the Saluki yearlings punched out their second straight win of the season, downing the Washington University frosh, 27-12, in St. Louis.

Southern posted a 14-0 shut-out in their opener just a week before, as Frank Sovich's charges topped Southeast Missouri State.

The SIU frosh fired a four-touchdown barrage at Washington University in the first half, added a safety in the third period, then sat back and played solid defensive football to record the win. Final statistics were deceiving, as Washington rolled up 322 yards total offense to Southern's 296.

Southern's quarterbacks, Jerry Jones, Starkville, Miss., and John Luketich, Staunton, completed seven of 15 pass attempts for a net total of 113 yards and one touchdown. Jones did the lion's share, connecting on six of his 14 tries for 97 yards. Luketich hit one 16-yarder.

Big gainers on the ground for the Salukis were Gary Olson, Mattoon, and Carl Woodson, Picayune, Miss. Olson started with a 53-yard burst on his first carry, then went on to finish with 76 in nine trips. Woodson picked up 34 in seven tries.

Jones started the fireworks in the first quarter when he found halfback Norm Johnson, Philadelphia, in the open and they teamed up for a fifty 40-yard aerial touchdown with 3:25 to play in the quarter. Al Chemieleski, Cherry Hill, N.J., missed the kick for the extra point.

The Washington club came right back with a scoring drive of their own with Bob Kaps winding it up on a three-yard plunge with 11:28 left in the second stanza. The score remained tied when the conversion attempt went astray.

Just two minutes later Southern was back in command. Jones pulled a keeper play out of the hat and fooled the entire Washington secondary as he rambled 44 yards for a touchdown. Chemieleski booted the conversion and SIU led, 13-6.

Business was just then beginning to pick up. Washington mounted a threatening drive that carried deep into Southern territory, but Johnson came up with a brilliant defensive play that thwarted the attack. He intercepted a Washington pass on the 22 and set sail for the goal line. He crossed it with 7:15 remaining in the quarter, turning in a 78-yard scamper for a 19-6 lead.

Southern's defense contained Washington on its next drive and quickly marched for paydirt for the fourth time. Willie Wilkerson, 215-lb, full-back from Memphis, scored on a two-yard smash.

In the third period, SIU guard Larry Wolfe, West Frankfort, tackled a Washington ball-carrier in the end zone and added two more Saluki points on the safety.

Washington finally penetrated Southern's goal line again late in the game, but it was too late.

20-10 Record:

Basketball Drills Start

Football may still be the main topic of conversation among sports fans at SIU, but basketball looms not too far on the horizon.

Coach Jack Hartman greeted his 1963 club for the first time Tuesday, as practice sessions with the round ball got underway. Seven lettermen are among the returnees to form a solid nucleus for this season's team.

Last year's club posted a 20-10 record and went on to finish fourth in the NCAA college-division tournament played at Evansville. Missing from that highly successful squad are leading scorer Dave Henson, Frank Lentfer, Harold Hood and Lou Williams.

Back again to spark the Salukis are Paul Henry, Indianapolis, Ind.; Eldon Bigham, Pinckneyville; Joe Ramsey, Sandoval; Rod Linder, Centralia; Duane Warning, Frankfort; Thurman Brooks, Memphis, Tenn.; and Eddie Blythe, Carbondale.

Hartman also has 13 additions to his varsity squad, giving good depth, although it's not experienced depth.
