Student Center evacuated for bomb threat

By Andrew Strang and Carol Knowles
Staff Writers

A bomb threat at the Student Center Wednesday morning resulted in the evacuation of the building and the arrest of two foreign students.

SIU-C police identified the suspects as Seyed H. Moghimi, junior in microbiology, and Mohammad J. Balazadeh, junior in engineering technology. Both list their home address as Carbondale. They were charged with disorderly conduct. Assistant Security Director Robert Harris said, Harris said bomb threats fall under the state statute regarding disorderly conduct.

Ursula Keeling, a parking meter attendant, was told at 10:35 a.m. that a bomb was to go off in the Student Center at 2 p.m., according to Security Director Virgil Trummer. The Student Center was evacuated at 1 p.m. and remained closed until it was determined by police at 2:20 p.m. that there was no bomb in the building.

Trummer said two students told Keeling—who was in uniform and on a coffee break at the Student Center—that a bomb was to go off in the building at 2 p.m. The two students then walked off and Keeling notified the security office.

Officers searched the building for the two men and aided Student Center personnel in searching for a bomb. Trummer said, Evacuation of the building began at 1 p.m., while police continued to search for a bomb. Everyone, including the police, was out of the building by 1:45 p.m.

At 2 p.m.—when the suspected bomb was to explode—students, administrators and police were within 2 feet of the building.

Although a bomb threat forced evacuation of the Student Center, these students don't seem overly concerned as they lounge only a few feet from the building.

No bomb exploded and the building was reopened by police at 2:20 p.m.

Police said the arrests of Moghimi and Balazadeh were based on information from Saeed Rezaei, a former SIU-C student who said he was a friend of Moghimi. Keeling identified Rezaei as he stood outside the Student Center after the evacuation. Keeling said she saw Rezaei talking to the suspects before she received the threat.

After being questioned and released by the police, Rezaei said, "It was only a joke, the threat was not serious."

However, when asked if he thought the threat was serious, Trummer said, "We really couldn't afford not to evacuate." He said the present state of international affairs added to his concern over the seriousness of the threat.

Board releases internal audit of athletics programs

By Michael Monson
Staff Writer

The Board of Trustees released Wednesday an internal audit of the SIU-C athletics program which credited the program with following "good business practices" but made several recommendations for reducing spending and improving accountability.

In another action at the meeting in Edwardsville, the board voted to push back the submission deadline for an extensive report that will recommend the direction SIU-C athletics should take in the 1990s.

Both actions are related to the board's decision last December to raise the student athletics fee from $20 to $30 on a one-year trial basis. The board also ordered the creation of a special president's commission to make recommendations about the future of the athletics program. The board also commissioned an internal budget audit of athletics to see if funds were being spent properly and if the fee increase was necessary.

The audit gave the University a clean bill of health, saying, "It is our opinion that the overall operations of both men's and women's athletics are conducted in accordance with University policies and procedures and with good business practices."

However, the audit, which was supervised by Jack Simmons, director of internal auditing, made several recommendations where possible improvements could be made.

Among the recommendations:

—The men's and women's athletics programs should be reviewed for the possibility of combining similar functions.

—The policy governing the issuance of complimentary tickets should be reviewed.

—Consideration should be given to combining the purchase of like items for all sports.

—Funding of the Flying Salukis with athletics fee money should be studied to determine whether it is sanctioned under board policy.

The audit examined the budget for fiscal 1979. The review included men's and women's athletics, the athletics fund account and the state appropriated accounts for salaries.

The board pushed back a December target date for submission of a report to the board undertaken by the Ad Hoc Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics. Under the motion, which passed unanimously, the trustees will receive the commission's report accompanied by President Albert Somit's evaluation on Feb. 1.

The previous date for submission of the report and Somit's evaluation had been December.

Somit said he expects to receive the report on Dec. 1. In the two-month interval before the board receives the report, Somit will evaluate the report and get feedback and recommendations from the University's seven constituency groups. The board does not meet in January.

Somit said Wednesday he is unsure whether he would simply forward the report to the groups, send the groups his evaluation of the report, or both.

In fact, Somit expressed doubts about whether the Feb. 1 deadline would hold. Somit said that if the commission's report "does not provide the factual background necessary to buttress each of its recommendations, the schedule will have to be changed."

Somit also questioned whether the two-month interval would be long enough for him to have "a meaningful discussion with the constituencies," given the fact the University will be closed for a month during Christmas vacation.

The increase will expire June 30 if the board takes no action.

Zoning violations discovered; fines may be charged

By Melody Cook
Staff Writer

Nine violations of the single-family-residence zoning ordinance have been discovered during an investigation of about 25 complaints, according to Morris McDaniel, Carbondale Code Enforcement inspector.

If other living arrangements are not developed, the tenants and landlords could be charged with ordinance violations and fined $10 to $500 each day they remain in violation of the ordinance. Assistant City Attorney Elizabeth Byrnes said, Most of the people found in violation still have time to comply with the ordinance and McDaniel said he expects no problems to occur.

Three of the buildings have already conformed to the ordinance, and tenants in most cases have been "extremely helpful" and cooperative with inspectors, he said. He added that most of the tenants were not aware of the zoning restriction.

According to the ordinance, more than two unrelated persons are prohibited from occupying the same residence in single-family districts. Among the areas investigated were northwest, southwest and central southwest sections of town, including Oakland, Schwartz and West College streets, and southeast sections, including the Crestview and Tatum Heights areas.

Most of the complaints were received during the first two months of the school year, McDaniel said. However, McDaniel said he did not know whether the tenants were students.

McDaniel said eight complaints of possible violations remain under investigation because only one inspector is available to work on the cases.

Five of the 25 buildings inspected were found to have rooming house licenses issued before the single-family zoning ordinance was adopted and, therefore, were not in violation, he said.

If sufficient evidence of a violation is found during an inspection, Code Enforcement sends notification to both the property owners and tenants. An average of 60 days is given for compliance, but an extension may be granted if a sincere effort to find housing for the extra roommates proves difficult, he said.

"It is not our intent to displace any resident without giving them the cooperation that they need in trying to find suitable housing within the time frame allowed," McDaniel said.

In one case, however, notification of an impending court injunction was needed to force a landlord to comply with the ordinance, he said. The situation was cleared up when the building was vacated and a family was allowed to move in.

Anderson drops in the polls, gives up efforts for bank loans

MILWAUKEE (AP) — John B. Anderson, losing ground in the polls, has given up weeks of fruitless efforts to borrow $10 million from banks for an intensive, campaign-end television advertising blitz. Instead, he'll borrow a fraction of that from individual supporters.

On a day of generally bad news for his independent presidential campaign, Anderson, who campaigned here and in Seattle, learned Wednesday that he dropped from 15 percent to 8 percent nationwide in the Gallup Poll.

The survey has Republican Ronald Reagan with 45 percent and President Carter with 42 percent. In mid-September, the Gallup Poll had Reagan at 41 percent, Carter at 37 percent and Anderson at 15 percent.

Election 80

All the while, the League of Women Voters was trying to decide whether to not to invite him and ask Carter and Reagan to a debate. The decision is expected Thursday or Friday.

Although Anderson was unable to persuade a number of banks in New York and Chicago to lend him funds, campaign manager Michael MacLeod said a drive for loans from individuals had netted more than $1 million in 11 days. He said another $1.5 to $2 million is expected before the Nov. 4 election.

Mitchell Rogovin, Anderson's campaign lawyer, told reporters in Washington that five banks had agreed to lend the campaign up to $2.5 million but that they would only do so if other banks of similar size provided the rest.

But, Rogovin said other banks were frightened away by threats of retaliation from regulatory agencies in the Carter administration. Asked for specifics, he said he had none.

Anderson had hoped to repay the money with federal funds he'll receive if he gets more than 5 percent of the popular vote in the election. But banks are known to fear the loans may be considered corporate contributions, which are illegal.

"The bulk of the banks were simply concerned not whether Anderson would get the required popular vote or whether the funding would be attacked by the courts," he said.

Heat wave results in 1,265 deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The final toll from this summer's heat wave is 1,265 deaths and nearly $20 billion in damage, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration reported Wednesday.

Only three other summers in this century have taken more American lives in heat-related fatalities.

Most of those who died from the heat were either elderly or poor and lived in non-air conditioned homes or apartments, the agency reported.

Missouri, with 311 deaths, had the highest toll in the nation, although other states had higher temperatures for longer periods.

The heat wave broke temperature records in more than a half-dozen states, and in Dallas, Texas, the mercury climbed to over 100 degrees each day from June 23 to Aug. 3.

In one day, July 13, temperature records were set in three cities: Augusta, Ga., had 107 degrees; it was 105 in Atlanta, and Memphis, Tenn., hit 108.

The problems began in earnest in mid-June when temperatures topped 100° in Southwest Texas, the agency said.

By the second week of July the heat wave had spread northeastward with most of the central third of the country experiencing 100-plus weather.

As July continued, the heat trudged eastward to the Ohio Valley and Mid-Atlantic region and, despite a couple of brief respites, covered most of the East through the week ending Sept. 7.

The highest reported heat-wave death toll in this country was the 9,508 fatalities of 1901. The only other years with more heat deaths than this summer were 1936 with 4,678 fatalities and 1952 with 1,401.

Iran overruns Iraqi bases

BASRA, Iraq (AP) — Iran said an airborne division killed more than 1,000 Iraqi soldiers in a series of "lightning attacks" Wednesday on the northern end of Iraq's invasion front, the largest death toll claimed in any battle of the war.

Tehran Radio said "brave fighters of the airborne division" overran two Iraqi bases and destroyed 11 Iraqi tanks in the Ham sector, about 250 miles northwest of the main battle area at Abadan. Iraqi troops were reported closing a ring around that battered oil refinery center.

Iran bombed Baghdad and other cities in Iraq for the second consecutive day and Iraqi warplanes attacked an oil refinery in Iran's northern city of Tabriz, the Baghdad military command said.

Iran made a new threat to mine the Persian Gulf and the Strait of Hormuz, through which tankers carry 40 percent of the West's oil supplies.

3 die in separate shooting incidents

By The Associated Press

Three people died and seven others were wounded in three shooting incidents Wednesday as a gunman took over a Cincinnati television station, a disgruntled ex-employee opened fire in a federal office building in St. Louis and an unknown assailant fired at people in a fashionable section of Vancouver, British Columbia.

James R. Hoskins, armed with a semi-automatic rifle and two handguns, stormed television station WCFO in Cincinnati early Wednesday, taking seven station employees hostage, police said.

The hostages were released unharmed, but Hoskins, a graphic design artist, held police at bay before shooting himself shortly after 9 a.m.

Board approves student trustee handbook

Two-year degrees
in medical fields
OK'd by trustees

By John Ambrosia
Staff Writer

A handbook outlining guidelines and regulations to govern student members of the Board of Trustees was approved by the board Wednesday at its October meeting.

The handbook was to have been voted on by the board at its September meeting, but SIUC student trustee Mark Michalic had requested an additional month to review the book. The board's approval came after feedback was received from Michalic and Tom Britton, executive assistant to SIUC Chancellor Kenneth Shaw.

Michalic said the handbook meets any need for information about the board he has required so far in his term, which began last May.

"I think the one thing the book needs added to it is more about the carrying on of board information and the responsibilities of the student board member from one student to another as each year goes by," Michalic said.

According to Shaw, the handbook was designed to serve as a background and reference document for student trustees and to provide necessary information for a student trustee during his or her term on the board.

The handbook should help student trustees, who serve relatively brief terms, to assimilate information about the board, board activities and the board's involvement with state agencies, according to the proposal.

The handbook states that although the role of a student trustee parallels the roles of board members appointed by the governor, there are differences between the two. Student trustees do not have voting power, serve only one-year terms and are elected by students rather than appointed by the governor.

The handbook further states that student trustees have the same responsibilities of serving the public and considering actions as those state-appointed members of the board.

The book also contains information concerning board meetings and policy, travel arrangements and expenses, orientation of new student trustees and transition responsibilities from one student trustee to another.

The handbook was originally requested by Board Chairperson William Norwood and was drawn up by members of Shaw's office. Rough drafts of the handbook were sent last summer to board members and current and past student trustees for comments before the final draft was presented for board approval.

Eight Americans have won this year

Nobel prize awarded to U.S. economist

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) - U.S. economist Lawrence R. Klein, whose models for forecasting economic trends revolutionized the field, capped a strong American showing in the 1980 Nobel Prize series Wednesday by winning the economics award.

The 60-year-old University of Pennsylvania professor won the Memorial Prize in Economics and became the eighth American laureate among 11 winners this year.

Other American winners in this year's series are Polish-born author and poet Czeslaw Milosz of the University of California at Berkeley, in literature; George Snell, of the Jackson Laboratory in Bar Harbor, Maine, and Venezuelan-born Baruj Benacerraf of Harvard, who shared the medicine prize with Frenchman Jean Dausset; James Cronin of the University of Chicago and Val Fitch of Princeton University, in physics; and Walter Gilbert of Harvard and Paul Berg of Stanford, who shared the chemistry prize with Briton Frederick Sanger of Cambridge.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee awarded the peace prize to Argentine human rights activist Adolfo Perez Esquivel.

Klein was selected for his creation of econometric models used in analyzing economic fluctuations and policies. Econometrics is the use of mathematics and statistics to verify and develop economic theories.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences, which chooses the economics winner, said that for 30 years, Klein has been the leading researcher in the field of analysis of business fluctuations.

Klein, an economics professor at Pennsylvania since 1958, served as an adviser to Jimmy Carter during the 1976 presidential campaign and has remained an unofficial consultant to the administration. The economist declined an official position to avoid raising the issue of his previous affiliation with the American Communist Party, sources said. They said he also cited his desire to continue his research.

The native of Omaha, Neb., was a Communist Party member during 1946 and 1947, while doing research at the University of Chicago. He left the United States for Britain during the 1950s, when Sen. Joseph McCarthy's congressional committee was investigating the alleged communist connections of a number of prominent Americans.

Klein's graduate students stood and applauded Wednesday when their instructor entered the classroom. The laureate broke into a broad smile and quipped, "You make me feel like a politician."

When asked about the prize money he responded, "It's not a big thing." He said what matters to him is the recognition.

The economics prize was added in 1968 to the original five established in the will of dynamite inventor Alfred Nobel to honor humanitarian works

America should apologize to Iran because of values

By Steve Katsinas
Student Writer

In 1980 the Republican Party nominated a right-wing "commie-hater" for president; reneging on a 40-year commitment to guaranteeing women equal rights. So it is not surprising to find that Mr. Reagan's twisted thinking exists on the Daily Egyptian's editorial page.

The two viewpoints that appeared on Oct. 6, U.S. shouldn't apologize for stand against communism" and "We should speak proudly of what we did for Iran" are typical of the blind, bellicose anti-communism that has characterized American foreign policy in the Cold War era.

Consider these statements: the Carter administration has "intelligently" rejected the idea of a formal apology to Iran for the U.S. government's approval and support of the Shah of Iran. The writer paints the same old picture in the same old colors—"us or them." As does Ms. Clausen in describing how the Soviet Union has "greedily eyed for years" access to the Persian Gulf.

How utterly ridiculous. The United States has a great deal to apologize for, whether the Soviet Union "greedily eyes" Iran or not.

We cannot gloss over the fact that in our support of the Shah, we supported a regime that denied the very freedoms we ourselves value. We did this for 25 years, under six different presidents of both parties. This thinking has gotten us into trouble before and might again. Like Thieu in South Vietnam, Park in South Korea, Marcos in the Philippines, or Somoza in Nicaragua, America has supported right-wing dictatorships to help "stop the commies." By supporting these forces, America runs the risk of doing exactly what we don't want to do—making it easier for the communists to find symbols to run against.

But there is still a matter of values. In the United States, we value the guarantees of individual freedom above all others. That's why the First Amendment includes the freedoms of assembly, speech, religion and press.

For those values, over 200 years ago, we Americans turned the "world upside down by throwing out a king who claimed his rule came from God.

The Shah also claimed his rule came from the grace of God.

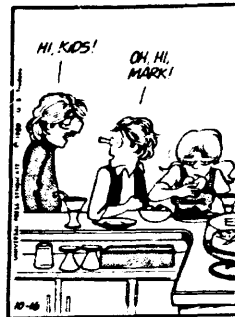

So what would Mr. Schoeck and Ms. Clausen have us stand for some 200 years later? They both argue "against communism." Are we then to ignore the fact that the Shah's secret police executed tens of thousands or forget the Shah's suppression of free speech? Should we forget the Shah murdered the Ayatollah Khomeini's brother?

Where does religious freedom stand on the hierarchy of human needs or desires? For Clausen and Schoeck, it apparently isn't as important as stopping communism or the economic building of Iran. Citing an endless list of economic statistics will not for a second excuse the senseless disregard of personal feelings.

For America to improve its standing in the world, we cannot blindly support every despot who claims to be against communism. The kings will eventually fall like our own did or become figureheads like the European royalty. When they do, we should not be surprised or shocked.

Instead, we should rejoice. And we should help out, with economic, not military, aid. Seizing the hostages was an immoral, unjust act. But that event still does not remove the guilt that must fall our way.

America is a strong, just nation. A nation big enough to admit mistakes. It's a matter of values.

Opinions on Iran indicate a dangerous ignorance

I was highly dismayed by the editorials written by Cindy Clausen and Randy Schoeck in the DE 10-6-80. Their opinions justifying support of the Shah of Iran indicate either a dangerous ignorance or a callous acceptance of massive and brutal inhumanity.

All other arguments aside, nothing can morally justify the brutality of the Shah's security forces. Nothing can justify literally frying human beings on heated torture beds, or the consistent policies of the torture rape and murder that took place in the Shah's prisons. Nor is heavily armed troops firing on unarmed demonstrators (including women and children) justifiable. We're talking about more than 100,000 dead here.

Next, only a fool builds his security on a foundation of brutality. A government that requires massive force to maintain its authority is doomed to fall. The Shah had the largest and best equipped army in the Middle East. Where is that "security" now?

The argument that the Shah brought his country into the 20th century is also laughable. While there was an increase in the material wealth of a small Westernized middle and upper class, the vast majority of the Iranian people were exploited by the Shah's regime. As often happens in the capitalist world, a country gets richer, but the powerless get poorer.

If we want true peace and security, we will have to avoid the sort of policies that led to U.S. support of the Shah. We will have to start treating Third World peoples as equals to share the world's resources more justly, and to use a lot less force and a lot more ethics in our foreign policy.—Brian Bridgeford, Student PROUT Federation

A cure for sex and Gus?

I was pleased to see some effort on the part of the television and film industry to be conscious of representing sexual equality on television. I am speaking of the recent airing of "The Revenge of the Stepford Wives," in which a man's organization puts women in drug-induced slavery; and "The Dark Secret of Harvest Home," in which a woman's organization has a fertility ritual and then sacrifices the man.

Both "television movies" were given prime-time showing one day apart. Both were probably products of money-hungry Neanderthals. But there is a discrepancy I must object to. In "The Revenge of the Stepford Wives" the heroine achieves justice against the men's organization by overdosing the "Stepfordettes" and allowing them to murder the male leader. In "The Dark Secret of Harvest Home" the hero is humiliated, blinded and ends up looking like Gus Bode.

I'm upset by this and I hope that someday science will find cures for Gus Bode, sexual inequality and the lack of creative insight.—James Krater, senior, Speech Communication

Article deserves an apology

I just love moral indignation. Like the feeling I get when I am sincerely affronted by someone else's crude and ignorant behavior. Pete Knecht's article on John Lashinski was self-serving, cheap, cruel and reflected a narrow vision and a total lack of taste. A printed apology to Mr. Lashinski is definitely in order.—John Michaels, graduate, Cinema and Photography

Handicap doesn't mean welfare

I have just listened to an interview on the radio with Mark Hemphill's lawyer and feel that one of the remarks should not pass unchallenged. The lawyer was discussing the $5 million lawsuit against the University for negligence. He stated that without this type of reimbursement, Mr. Hemphill would be a "welfare basket case" the rest of his life because the accident had left him incapable of supporting himself through gainful employment.

There are about 300 handicapped students attending SIU this semester. Like the able-bodied students, the handicapped students are pursuing an education which will prepare them to enter the job market upon graduation. I do not know any student who is planning on being a "welfare basket case." Many of the students are more severely handicapped than Mr. Hemphill. I do not believe that this comment is necessarily indicative of Mr. Hemphill's attitude, but it is an insult to all of the hard-working handicapped students, their counselors, teachers and employers.

Since I have been working in the Physical Therapy Division at this University, I have met many handicapped people who deserve all of the glowing epithets applied to Mr. Hemphill and more. There are many disabled individuals on this campus who have never had the opportunity to play football or even see a football game.

This is not to detract from Mr. Hemphill's struggle to overcome a severely disabling handicap. However, I think we should look at all the handicapped students as a study in courage and extraordinary willpower, not just the ones injured during a school activity but all of the unique students that compose our University.—C. Dale Pape, staff physical therapist, SIU Clinical Center

Viewpoint on Iran offensive

I found Randy Schoeck's editorial on the U.S. support of the late Shah of Iran quite offensive. His concept of the righteousness of American materialism and intervention abroad indicates a lack of empathy and humanity.

Schoeck used the typical argument that the Shah was no worse than the Ayatollah Khomeini is now. I cannot see how one mistake pardons another. What Khomeini does now has no bearing on what the Shah and his American "friends" did in the past.

Schoeck wrote about the economic benefits brought about by the liaison. He neglected one thing: The Iranian people did not ask for American intervention or our decadent affluence. The eventual result of this league was justified hatred toward the imperialist United States government. It is indicative of American intervention in this century.

The writer glossed over the fact that the wealth was not well distributed under the Shah. A few elites, especially the Shah's family, enjoyed the benefits provided by American taxpayers and, of course, rising oil prices.

We Americans have much to be ashamed of in that we blindly supported administrations that were trying to force our brand of modernity on the Iranian people—whether they wanted it or not.

I love America, but when someone you love has a disease, you tell him or her about it so that he or she can be treated and recover.—Merritt Mills, junior, Political Science

Consumer Action Center aids students in resolving disputes

By Laurie Landgraf
Student Writer

Students who feel they've been "ripped off" now have somebody on campus who can tell them exactly what they can do about it.

The Consumer Action Center, a self-help educational service for Jackson County consumers, recently opened an office in the Student Center as a project of the Illinois Public Interest Research Group.

Barbara Pisacreta, CAC director, said students may call the center for aid with landlord-tenant disputes, car repair complaints, faulty merchandise problems and other consumer difficulties. The center is staffed by students and collects information about rights and regulations affecting consumer problems. This material is used to determine the validity of complaints.

The center staff will give assistance in writing an effective complaint letter and voicing complaints in person. Pisacreta said. If the consumer's action does not bring compliance, she said CAC may send a letter of its own.

If the consumer still does not receive satisfaction, the problem can be referred to a lawyer, such as the student attorney or state attorney general, or to organizations such as trade associations, Pisacreta said.

The center staff will keep track of each complaint to see what action is taken and what results are obtained. Pisacreta said. This information will be used in the spring to evaluate the service's effectiveness, she explained.

"We aren't here to solve the consumers' problems, we're here to help them solve their own problems," Pisacreta said.

IPIRG has about 40 members at SIU-C. The student organization is part of a network of research groups on over 175 campuses in 30 states. The network is the brainchild of consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

Students may contact CAC at 453-5215 or at the IPIRG office on the third floor of the Student Center. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Student directories have arrived

By Randy Roguski
Staff Writer

The 1980-81 Student Telephone Directory will be distributed beginning Saturday, one to each dorm room or student residence, according to Jerry Cook, commissioner of student welfare for the Undergraduate Student Organization.

The directory lists the name, telephone number, local address and home address of all students enrolled at SIU-C. Information was provided by the Office of Admissions and Records.

Cook said directories will be distributed to on- and off-campus dorms and some apartment complexes and mobile home parks Saturday. He said Sam Rimella, director of housing, will distribute the books to on-campus dorms and managers at other buildings will give directories to their residents.

Apartment complexes scheduled for distribution

Saturday are: Lewis Park Apartments, The Pyramids, Dunn Apartments, Georgetown Apartments, Park Street Apartments and Wall Street Quadrangles.

Mobile home parks to receive directories Saturday are: Bel-Aire, Bush, Carbondale, Pleasant Valley, Glisson, Roxanne, Town and Country University Heights, Southern, Park View, Cedar Lane Court, Pleasant Hill and Malibu Village.

Other students may receive directories beginning Monday outside the USO office on the third floor of the Student Center, Cook said. ID and fee statement will be required.

Cook said the University's 37 deans and directors will also receive directories.

Roommates who each want their own directory may be able to purchase them later, according to Diane Johnson, coordinator of the directory. Johnson said the USO has an option with the directory's printer to purchase additional books and would sell them to students for about $1.

The $8,500 directory project began last summer and was financed primarily by advertising. Ten thousand directories were printed.

SIU to participate in new fundraiser
game for charity

By Colleen Moore
Staff Writer

SIU-C will be one of the first universities to participate in a new Easter Seal fund-raising game involving power blowers. Competition will begin Saturday at the McAndrew Stadium at 9 a.m. and the public is invited to watch.

The game, called the Echo Blo-Bowl, combines soccer, hockey and kickball. Blowers are used to move a 7-inch Nerf ball between two goals on opposite ends of a playing field. Games consist of four quarters each lasting three minutes.

Teams composed of SIU-C students will have raised pledges of at least $50 for the Southern Illinois Easter Seal Society before the games begin.

The team with the most money in pledges will win a piping table and a trophy. All team members will receive a T-shirt. Each team winning one game will receive two cases of beer or two cases of cola depending on the ages of the participants.

SIU-C medical centers will provide first aid for the Blo-Bowl game.

Les Pappas, public relations coordinator of the Southern Illinois Society, said $100,000 of every $1 raised for the Southern Illinois Easter Seal Society is used for the handicapped in the 21 southern counties.

Services offered by the Easter Seal Society include equipment loans and physical, hearing and speech therapy.

The Southern Illinois Easter Seal Society serves 1,000 handicapped persons, Pappas said.

The most successful Easter Seal fund-raising event in Southern Illinois is the annual West Frankfort walkathon, which will be held Oct. 25, Pappas said.

His envision that the Blo-Bowl will someday be as large.

Chicago police may join union — Campus Briefs —

CHICAGO (AP)— Amid allegations of a "sweetheart deal" between the mayor and the Teamsters union, 10,000 policemen prepared to vote Thursday for the first time in the city's history on whether they want to be unionized.

With five organizations battling to represent police officers below the rank of sergeant, squabbling between the groups and the police department erupted into angry name-calling and picketing this week.

The Teamsters, angry about what they call anti-labor "propaganda" passed out by police officials, picketed the city's Navy Pier Tuesday in an attempt to close down preparations for an art show.

Mayor Jane Byrne met with the Teamsters, then announced Tuesday that she had convinced them to pull the pickets down. But that angered members of the other organizations in the election, who said the mayor was being partial to the Teamsters.

"They (the Teamsters) are the ones who made the big political donation to her campaign so maybe that's why she met with them," complained John Dineen, president of the Fraternal Order of Police.

A Wellness Workshop will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in the second floor conference room of the SUI Family Practice Center in Carbondale Memorial Hospital. Wellness encourages the individual to become responsible for his or her health.

A workshop entitled "Depression—What it Means and What to do About it" will be sponsored by the Counseling Center on Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Mississippi Room of the Student Center. No registration is required.

The Sierra Club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the Carbondale Savings and Loan. Professor John Burde will speak on clearcutting, as a technique of forest management.

The Center for Basic Skills is offering a workshop on how to write a book review at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in Quigley 164. There is no prerequisite required.

"Why you should vote for President Carter" will be discussed by Jesse Brown, political science professor at the College Democrats meeting at 6 p.m. Thursday in the Mackinaw Room of the Student Center. The group is also seeking volunteers for canvassing in the immediate Southern Illinois area.

Former student gets $80,000 in Normal shooting settlement

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A former Illinois State University student who was accidentally shot and injured in a scuffle with a Normal policeman has been awarded $80,000 in an out-of-court settlement.

The student, David Daluga, filed suit seeking $1 million in compensatory damages from the policeman and the town of Normal, said Grady Holley, the plaintiff's lawyer.

The case went to a federal jury on Tuesday, but Holley said lawyers reached the settlement outside the courtroom after jurors listened to testimony from two witnesses.

Holley said Daluga was accidentally shot in the neck in 1979 following a high-speed automobile chase.

Daluga's suit alleged his civil rights were violated because excessive and unnecessary force was used to arrest him.

The suit claimed Daluga was initially paralyzed from the shot, and underwent extensive rehabilitation to regain use of his arms and legs.

RAMADA INN CARBONDALE

GTE announces new long-distance procedure

By Alan Sculley
Staff Writer

A new procedure for making long distance telephone calls from on-campus phones has begun.

Harley Leitzke, Carbondale division manager for General Telephone, said Tuesday that to place a long distance phone call from an on campus phone, the caller now dials seven, zero, plus zero, and the phone number he wishes to call. The operator then asks what number the call should be billed to, and the call is completed through an automated system, he said. The new system began Saturday.

Before, the person making a long distance call from an on-campus phone had to dial the operator, who would then place the call for him. Leitzke said. The new procedure does not apply to business calls charged to SIUC only collect calls, and operator assisted calls, which are charged to a home phone number or a credit card, are unaffected by the change, Leitzke said.

He added that operator assisted calls made from home phones also will use the new procedure.

Leitzke said the change was made because the new system will save money for GTE, and will be a more efficient way of completing long distance calls.

Harry Wirth, director of the SIUC Office of Service Enterprises, said that the new procedure may be used from all campus phones, except those in dormitory rooms. Dormitories still use the "Dorm Dial" process, which uses a party line system where the student is billed according to an account number instead of his phone number.

The old system of operator assisted long distance calls was operated from Carbondale. Calls are now placed from Marion, where the automated system is located, Leitzke said.

Operators employed in Carbondale have either been transferred to other jobs within GTE, or have been "retired early," Leitzke said.

Leitzke said the change to the automated system, which was made in Carbondale, De Soto, Grand Tower and Murphysboro on Saturday, will also be made in Du Quoin on Oct. 27 and in Anna on Nov. 3.

Shaw to lecture on societal trends

SIUC Chancellor Kenneth Shaw will speak about the University's response to various societal trends Thursday in the Student Center Kaskaskia Room.

Shaw's speech is part of the "Issues and Answers" forum, a series of lectures on topics of general public interest sponsored by the Continuing Education Office.

The issues Shaw will address include the changing demographics of American society, the problem of decreased productivity, the energy shortage and the quality of life in general, according to Tom Britton, executive assistant to the chancellor.

The forum is scheduled for 7 p.m. and is open to the public.

Beg your pardon

It was stated in Tuesday's paper that the Obelisk II yearbook would give preference to color slides in its acceptance of submitted photographs. Although the yearbook staff would prefer color slides, it will make no difference in the judging of the photos.

IMPORTANT IMPORTANT IMPORTANT IMPORTANT IMPORTANT

University Billing/Receivables System

NOTICE TO STUDENTS

A new system for payment of all charges including registration fees and housing has been developed to provide for greater efficiency and improved services as outlined below.

INSTALLMENT PLAN

Effective with registration for the Spring 1981 Semester, payment of tuition and fees will be made in three monthly installments. A $5.00 fee will be charged for use of the installment plan. To avoid the $5.00 charge, simply pay the full amount due for registration fees. The installment plan will be most effective for those students who pre-register. Housing payments can still be paid by installments with no additional charge if paid in full.

MONTHLY BILLING

Beginning October 1980, a monthly billing statement will be sent to your mailing address. This statement will show all the charges to your account for that month as well as payments, financial aid, and other credit statements which will be prepared on the 15th of each month with payment due before the 15th of the next month. If the amount due is not paid by that date, a service charge of 1% per month will be added to your account.

MAILING ADDRESS

It is important, and your responsibility, to have a current mailing address on file with the University. This may be your local address, your parents' address or any address most convenient for you. If you have a separate address, change to either the Office of Admissions and Records, the Bursar's Office, or the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

PAY BY MAIL

Payment by mail is encouraged. There is no need to stand in line to pay. To make a payment by mail, you must present a check with service as your receipt and your payments made between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the Student Work and Financial Assistance office. You must also affix a 10-cent stamp by depositing your payment in the envelope. Mail it to the University Avenue entrance in Woody Hall on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Telephone 462-1141 and 462-1142.

PARTIAL PAYMENTS

The Bursar's Office now accepts partial payments on the full amount of a bill. However, the full amount of the Registration fee and your payment will be applied to the oldest charges first and you will be charged a service charge on the amount unpaid at the time of billing date.

FINANCIAL AID CREDITS

Grants such as BEOG, SEOG, STS, and private awards, scholarships, and awards will be credited to the full amount of a bill to pay any partial amount due as well as amount due for the current semester. If the amount paid is greater than the amount due, the balance will be mailed by check. Guaranteed State Loans and NSDL checks are also the only credits to your account and must still be picked up in the Bursar's Office in person.

REFUNDS

Refunds for registration charges or for charges such as the STS fee, upon request, and the Student Registration fee for duplicate coverage, will be made only by a credit to your account. When your account has a credit balance because of cash overpayment, the University owes you a check which will be mailed to you. Normally, this will be a three-week waiting period before the refund is authorized.

CANCELLATION OF REGISTRATION

At the beginning of each semester, your registration will be cancelled if all past due amounts and the first installment for tuition and fees have not been paid by the cancellation deadline.

WAIVER OF CANCELLATION

Those students who are experiencing a delay in the receipt of needed financial aid and the cancellation of registration by requesting a cancellation waiver through the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance. There is no charge for a cancellation waiver. However, if the full amount for registration has not yet been paid in the billing statement is due, then the student will be subject to the charges for the installment plan.

QUESTIONS AND ERRORS

By keeping the detached transaction portion of your monthly billing statement you will have a record of the amount of your business with the University. If you find an error on the statement, bring that to the attention of the Bursar's Office. Questions about specific charges may be referred to the office responsible for that charge or to the Bursar's Office.

Golfers end fall season on upswing

By Dave Kane
Staff Writer

Jim Reburn was understandably fatigued after the 12-hour drive from Biloxi, Miss., Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, but the Saluki men's golf team turned in a performance at the Southern Mississippi Broadwater Beach College Golf Invitational that made the weariness a little less noticeable.

"I really need sleep," Reburn said. "We got up at six every morning down there and didn't get home until three this morning."

But their 7th-place finish in the 54-hole tournament at the Broadwater Beach course in to speak at Mall

SIUC football Coach Rey Dempsey and senior quarterback Gerald Carr will be the featured speakers at a luncheon of the Saluki Athletic Club at noon Thursday at Morrison's Cafeteria in the University Mall, Carbondale.

The public is invited to attend, but everyone is expected to pay for their own lunch. The Salukis, 2-4, will travel to Illinois State Saturday. The Redbirds are also 2-4.

Dan Casebeer, a member of the SIUC cycle club is currently in ninth place in the overall competition in the 12th annual Giant Bicycle Races in Guatemala.

Casebeer took second in a 150-kilometer race Tuesday.

Casebeer is one of five cyclists that are representing the United States in the races. There are 17 teams in the competition that represent various countries around the world.

Biloxie, Miss., turned out to be the Salukis' best effort of the fall season. Their best—and their last, too.

"Overall, it was a pretty good tournament for us," Reburn said, "especially when you consider the teams there. It's too bad it was our last fall tournament. We would have liked to play a couple more if we could."

SIUC showed signs of capturing the consistency that had eluded the team in its first three tournaments this fall. Freshman John Schaefer fired the team's first under-par round of the season with a one-under-par 71 on Sunday. Schaefer did go up to a 78 Monday before closing with a 75 Tuesday, tying him for 12th place along with teammate Rich Jarrett.

"Rich played well for us all fall, really," Reburn said, "but both he and John played well at this tournament. We were a little more consistent on a very tough course, but we still couldn't get four good scores together in the same round."

The Salukis ended the first round in fourth place with a 401. In addition to Schaefer's 71 and Jarrett's 75, No. 1 man Doug Clemens turned in a 76. But sophomore Rob Hammond, labeled by Reburn as one of the team's most improved players, shot an 80. The Salukis dropped to sixth Monday as Hammond stayed at 80 while Schaefer's 78, Clemens' 77 and Jarrett's 74 contributed to a 309 total.

Troy University topped the 14-team field with 877, while the Salukis' 914 was four behind sixth-place Southern Mississippi and six ahead of Rice and Northeast Louisiana. Reburn felt the team scores were more spread out than in earlier tournaments this fall.

"This gives us a lot of confidence going into spring," Reburn said. "7th place isn't bad when you consider that most of the teams in the tournament are from down south. Nichols State (which finished second with 893) was last year's Division II national champs."

"I was happy with the way we adjusted to the Bermuda greens. They're not nearly as smooth and give you a little trouble putting. But I was pleased with our short game overall. It had been a problem earlier in the fall."

Now comes the layoff between the spring and fall seasons, but Reburn will be packing his bags again soon for the IHSA Class A and Class AA State Tournaments this weekend in Springfield. Recruiting for next fall season has already started. He'll also be arranging the team's spring schedule.

"Since we did really well in this last tournament, it'll help us with our scheduling so much," Reburn said. "We've already gotten invitations to tournaments in Houston, Alabama, and at Baylor. You have to do well in these fall tournaments if you expect to have a good spring schedule."

Spiker team not quitting despite losing record

Michelle Schwent
Staff Writer

The Saluki volleyball team has a sub-par record of 8-14, but according to Coach Debbie Hunter, the team isn't down and isn't about to abandon the rest of the season.

"They are real fighters," Hunter said. "Thank heavens that we're not possessed with the idea of 'Oh my God! We're 8-14, we're no good.' We feel we're still in the ball game."

The Salukis travel to Eastern Illinois to play the Panthers Thursday. Hunter feels the match will be close, although SU-C may have a slight advantage.

"I've heard nothing about them since they played in our Invitational earlier this season," she said. "We might have the upper hand since we have played them once and know what they did against us then. If they have added more play action to their game, it could be a close match."

Following the trip to Charleston, the Salukis will play Illinois, Wisconsin and Northwestern. According to Hunter, all of the teams are tough, especially Northwestern which had a "dynamite recruiting year and has a super young team."

In Wisconsin, Hunter said her team will face a much more physical team in terms of size. The Badgers have two middle blockers who are well over six feet tall.

Illinois will also provide a challenge for the Salukis since

No battle at ISU

Fenn has gained more than 2,000 yards in his career and is the third best runner in ISU history. Jones, the surprising freshman, is the Redbirds' leading ground gainer this year, averaging 4 1/2 yards per carry. Reserve running back Lorenzo Butler has scored three touchdowns.

The kicking game is in good hands, or feet, with junior Isaac Camargo. He has connected on 83 straight conversions and is tied for the team lead in scoring with 18.

Defensively, the Redbirds utilize the standard 5-2 defense. The coach said the secondary, with three seniors and a junior, is the strongest area. Left end Vic Friederich is the leading tackler.

"I know Southern had some injuries last week and their top runner, Walter Poole, is out," Cowdrey said. "My only concern is if Vic Harrison plays fullback or tailback. If he moves to tail, we may design our defense differently. He's an awfully tough runner who we're concerned about."

the Illini have been playing well at times this season.

"The U of I is having a season like our season," Hunter said. "It is sort of like a roller coaster. They played in a tournament at Southwest Missouri two weeks ago and beat Houston, which is rated in the top eight teams of the country. They didn't play too well against the other teams from what I could gather from a talk with their coach. They can be a contender for anyone at any time and are a challenge we need to face."

The Salukis have worked on a more play-action oriented offense in practice this week and have also worked on serving and communication. The coach is quite pleased with what she has seen.

"We have had two really fine practices," she said. "I'm ultra-pleased with them because they are still motivated and excited about playing."

The Redbirds have overcome sicknesses that hampered the team throughout the dual meet season and at the Noire Dame Invitational when Illinois ran past the Redbirds.

"We're all ready to go," Coughlan said of his Redbirds. "The team is a little behind where I'd like it to be, but we've had more than enough time to get ready."

The battle for the individual championship seems just as tight, if not tighter, than the team competition. All three coaches agree that many of the runners from all the state schools are capable, but one runner, Illinois' Jon Schmidt, surfaced as the pre-meet favorite.

"He's the defending champion," Hartzog said of the junior walk-on from Aloha, Ore. "Schmidt didn't run well here, but in their last two meets he's been the number one runner."

AKAI INTRODUCES THE NEW WAVE.

A brand new generation of integrated amplifiers and tuners filled with some of AKAI's brightest, most sophisticated wizardry ever.

Take the AMU06, our top amp with a hefty 68 watts per channel minimum RMS at 8 ohms from 20-20,000 Hz. And unbelievably, with no more than 0.008% THD. That's right, 0.008%.

You'll also find a pulsed power supply to minimize hum and noise, a three position magnetic cartridge impedance selector including a moving coil head amp position, separate bass, midrange and treble controls and a clipping indicator light.

Two color fluorescent power indicators complete the package. An incredible value at just under $350.

AKAI's new tuners are equally impressive.

Case in point: the ATV04. A digital synthesizer with features such as a seven station preset memory that lets you store seven favorite AM and FM stations.

Plus automatic and manual tuning, digital readout and a two level FM mute system.

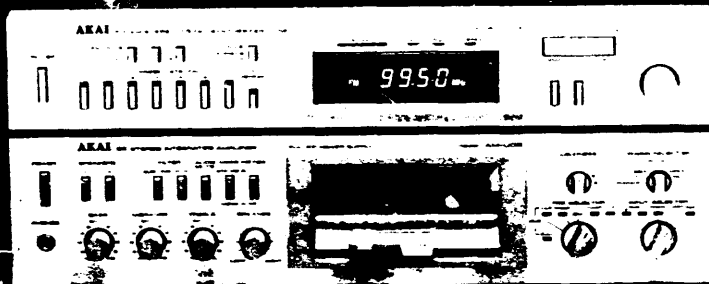

Best of all, both are only two of the superb new line of AKAI separates riding in on the same new wave that includes amps from $229.95 to $449.95 and tuners from $229.95 to $279.95.

Fighting Illini favored in harriers' state meet

With all the accusations flying about the University of Illinois campus concerning the eligibility of football player Mark Wilson, the one thing any Illini coach doesn't want to see is a finger pointing in his direction.

Nevertheless, fingers are being pointed at Coach Gary Wieneke and his troop of cross country runners. Not by bigwigs of the NCAA or Big Ten, but by Illinois State Coach John Coughlan and SIU-C Coach Lew Hartzog. The two are in agreement that Illinois is the team to beat at Saturday's 13th running of the Illinois Intercollegiate Championships at DeKalb.

"Right now I'd have to go with Illinois as the favorite," Redbird Coach Coughlan said. "They've got a really solid team and when we raced them at Notre Dame, they really blasted us."

"It should be one heck of a race," said Hartzog, a witness to all 12 previous Intercollegiate, added. "But on the strength of them beating us here, I'd have to go with Illinois."

Hartzog vividly remembers the 25-36 thumping the Fighting Illini gave the Salukis in both team's season opener six weeks ago at Midland Hills. But he also knows SIU-C has come a long way since.

With junior standout Karsten Schulz as their leader, the Salukis tied with Illinois State, 25-25, then tallied top victories against Kansas State and Murray State, 24-22, before taking two weeks off to prepare for the five-mile intercollegiate.

"I do harbor hopes of winning," Hartzog said. "I've improved tremendously. If you look at Illinois, they've improved right along with us."

If the Illini are to win the 11th Intercollegiate, they not only will have to beat the Salukis, but they'll also champion Illinois State. The Redbirds won the previous year Intercollegiate cross-country by nipping Illinois at the Savoy Golf Course, finishing fourth behind Illinois.

"We're probably looking for the closest battle ever to the title," Wieneke said, who is scorned the favorite's role. "It's getting to be a tougher race. Illinois and Southern used to dominate, but Illinois State has really come on."

Cagers' scrimmage to tip off season

By Scott Stahmer
Associate Sports Editor

The tip-off. That's what the Saluki men's basketball team's Maroon-White game scrimmage will serve as. The contest, scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday at the Arena, will be the public's first opportunity to see the 1980-81 Salukis.

"It will give the fans a chance to see how the new players have progressed, as well as the older players," SIU-C Coach Joe Gottfried said.

Playing for the Maroon will be Rod Camp, a 6-10 junior from Washington, D.C.; Charles Moore, a 6-7 senior from Corpus Christi, Texas; Darnall Jones, a 6-5 sophomore from Olney; Scott Russ, a 6-5 junior from Niles; Johnny Fayne, a 6-4 sophomore from Carbondale; and Lawrence Stubblefield, a 6-2 junior from Lima, Ohio.

The White squad will consist of Vincent Wiggins, a 6-10 freshman from Brooklyn, N.Y.; David Youngblood, a 6-8 sophomore from Mayfield, Ky.; Jac Cliaatt, a 6-5 junior from Columbus, Ga.; Kent Payne, a 6-0 sophomore from Schaumburg; Dave Jensen, a 6-3 sophomore from Rockford; Charles Nance, a 6-6 sophomore from Hopkinsville, Ky.; Rob Kirsner, a 6-1½ freshman from East Brunswick, N.J.; and Edward Thomas, a 6-9 junior from Columbus, Ga.

According to Gottfried, the game will consist of two 15-minute halves. The Salukis began practice Wednesday, the first day the NCAA allows college teams to hold organized workouts.

"We're anxious to get started," Gottfried said. "We've worked on weight and agility drills pretty hard the last six weeks. It's a long time from the start of the school year to the beginning of actual practice."

Gottfried decided to hold the scrimmage after three days of practice this year, instead of on Oct. 15 as was the case the last two years.

"You can run something into the ground," Gottfried said. "We wanted to change things around a bit. Also, we wanted to get in three days of practice before scrimmaging."

The Salukis won't go into the scrimmage entirely healthy, as Jones has a finger injury and Nance, last season's top freshman, is suffering from tendonitis. Jones is practicing with a splint on the finger, while Nance is participating in light workouts.

The scrimmage will be the SIU-C debut for recruits Kirsner, Wiggins and Fayne. It also will be Camp's first Saluki test, as the center was forced to sit out last season.

"He's a competitor," Gottfried said of Camp. "There are a lot of things he does well. And you'll see him improve gradually. He's got areas you'll see improvement in right away."

Admission to the game is free. After the game, from 4:30 p.m. there will be a picture session. Then, at 4:30, there will be a cookout at Evergreen Park. Tickets for that are $1.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. Don Dively of the Carbondale Savings and Loan, is in charge of the program.

Two of a kind: SIU to battle Redbirds

By Rod Smith
Sports Editor

The coin flip that will take place before Saturday's 1:30 p.m. football game between the Salukis and Illinois State at Normal is as good a way as any to predict the outcome—it's a toss-up.

Consider these facts: —Both teams are 2-4. Both have played common opponents in intrastate rivals Northern Illinois and Eastern Illinois. The Salukis beat EIU and fell to NIU. The Redbirds lost to Eastern, but downed Northern last week.

—Both teams have had fourth-quarter difficulties. The Salukis have lost two games in the final period, nearly blew what should have been big victories twice, and have been outscored 59-13 in the fourth quarter. ISU has run out of gas early also, having been out-painted 60-28 in the final 15 minutes.

—Both teams have lost top quarterbacks for the season by injury. Saluki John Cernak was hurt in last week's tilt with Indiana State while Redbird starter Steve Gumble ended his season two weeks ago. Ironically, both quarterbacks —The SIU-ISU grid series, which began in 1929, is very close, the Redbirds holding a 20-19 advantage with three ties.

Although Illinois State has been admitted to the Missouri Valley Conference, it is not eligible for the conference title until next year.

The Salukis will be going for their fifth straight win over the Redbirds as SIU-C Coach Rey Dempsey has never lost to ISU. For the second consecutive week, SIU-C will try to spoil its opponent's homecoming. Last week, the Salukis lost to Indiana State, 19-6, while the Redbirds came from behind to whip Northern Illinois, 28-18, their first win on the road in 19 games.

"We have a good attitude after the win at Northern. We're in a positive frame of mind and it's our homecoming," Cowdrey, in his fourth year at the ISU helm, said. "SIU is a better team than 2-4. We're sorta like Southern in that we both could be better and a win means a damn lot. There's a good warm rivalry going and we look forward to it."

Cowdrey is hopeful that after last week's come-from-behind victory, his club has shook off the fourth-quarter blues.

"We didn't let down and finally played 60 minutes of football instead of just three quarters," Cowdrey said. "If you stick in it long enough, things go your way."

According to Cowdrey, the Redbirds run the ball about twice as much as they throw it. Replacing Gumble at quarterback is a transplanted split end, Willie Boyd. This year, Boyd has completed only four of 13 passes for 108 yards and a touchdown. He has rushed seven times for 85 yards. Before taking over the quarterback duties, Boyd was the team's third best pass receiver, averaging 20 yards a catch.

"He's a pretty good passer and looked good last week," Cowdrey said. "He's more of a drop-back passer, but he has good speed."

Boyd's primary targets are senior Jim Fitzpatrick and sophomore tight end Rodney Kellar. Each has grabbed 15 passes and between them have chalked up 398 yards and three touchdowns.

The ISU running game is led by senior tailback Bill Fenn and freshman fullback Kevin Jones.
