City police join campus security in enforcement of bike rules

By Jennifer Phillips
Staff Writer

Carbondale bicyclists beware, it's a time the 12-month period granted by the University and city police is over and tickets for parking and moving violations are being issued.

SU/C Security started "heavy enforcement" of bike regulations, Oct. 24, according to spokesman from the Carbondale police department.

Along with registration of bikes, an identification measure, police stress that bicyclists must obey the rules of the road.

Carbondale police said they will concentrate on violations involved most often in accidents between bikes and cars, such as running stop signs and stop lights, riding wrong way on a one-way street, illegal lane usage and having no lights and reflectors at night.

Tickets for the city for moving violations are $50.

Two examples, where a bicyclist could be ticketed: at an intersection turns right and a bicyclist goes straight into the intersection on the car's right side and hits the car. Legally, the bicyclist should be behind the car and wait his turn at the intersection.

At the intersection of South Illinois and Grand avenues, a bicyclist rode toward downtown and a car hit the right side of bike and bicycle is considered motorized and deal with the "vehicle" classification.

Veteran Carbondale bicyclists and those new to the area should become familiar with the Carbondale Bicycle Regulations, a guide that points out bike paths, which offers safe alternatives to riding on sidewalks, in motor traffic and bike streets, according to Linda Gladson of the city's planning division.

During the past year, about 140 tickets were given for violations of bike routes, she said. With about 15 miles of streets and bike paths in the area, the "Fair Days" sign, the network was designed to run parallel to bike paths and bike streets, intersections and connect to bike streets.

In packing the routes, city planners looked at the average number of bike riders and whether there was adequate width, hard surface paving and no parking on one or both sides of the street, Gladson said.

Streets with bike paths include locations such as South Foplar Street, not the Illinois Department of Transportation's new one-medical width.

Relatively new to the network is the Drainsway-Greensway Path, to be used only by bike riders and public wheelchairs. It was designed to divert traffic from South Wall Street.

The path parallels Piles Fork Creek from East Grand Avenue to East Walnut Street behind the city hall complex. One segment links the path to East Freeman Street.

For more maps are available at the Carbondale Police Department, 610 E. Illinois Avenue.

Halloween festival ordinance to be voted on by City Council

By Paula J. Finlay
Staff Writer

The Carbondale City Council is considering the first "Fair Days" ordinance, which will coincide with the annual Halloween celebration.

The council will vote Monday to approve or disapprove a $100 liquor license fee, which will allow beer to be sold at six booths on Grand Avenue during Fair Days. Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22 and 29, and enact the regulations concerning beer and "pop" and wine in glass containers in Carbondale during the next week before Halloween.

The city police department, if passed, will permit six beer booths on Grand Avenue between Washington Street and the City Hall complex open from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday of Fair Days.

The class F temporary liquor licenses will be issued for $100 to those Carbondale liquor retailers, licensees or holding class A liquor licenses who apply for them. The locations of the booths will be designated by Police Chief Ed Hogan and issued to the lottery winners, which will be on a "first come, first choice" basis, the ordinance states.

In addition to a $256 license fee, each beer booth, because it would be on city for two portable toilets, the proposed ordinance allows commercial portable toilets to go through the city to the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce which will provide temporary toilets that will be "secured and located together on Grand Avenue as directed by the Carbondale Police Chief," according to the proposed ordinance.

The proposed ordinance does not call for a limit on the number of temporary beer booths, but does require that any booth operator obtain a $200 license from the City Clerk. The does not ban the sale of beer.

The proposed ordinance was brought to the council by Guyon, which will provide the location of the booths to the city. The City Council has the authority to later amend the ordinance.

The ordinance, if passed, will change the liquor license and allow the sale of beer and "pop" for the sale of beer on the proposed ordinance states.

The proposed ordinance was adopted in 1980, 1981 and 1982 that banned the sales of liquor to graters with the Illinois Liquor Control Board. The Illinois Liquor Control Board licenses, regulations, the Carbondale ordinance can take their license and shut down the liquor's booth's operation.

Part of the proposed ordinance is "very similar" to one the Illinois Liquor Control Board adopted in 1980, 1981 and 1982 that banned the sales of liquor to graters with the Illinois Liquor Control Board. The Carbondale City Council is expected to approve a request from Southern Illinois Hospital Services for assistance in issuing up to $22 million in project revenue and refunding bonds.

The council indicated its support for the issuance of the bonds at last week's informal meeting and will vote Monday to approve an ordinance amending the city code regarding where projects funded by bonds can be funded.

Southern Illinois Hospital Services asked the city to issue hospital revenue bonds to finance construction and equipment at Carbondale's Memorial Hospital and Herrin Hospital. Most of the funds raised by the bonds would go to the corporation's Carbondale hospital revenue bonds to be issued for permanent equipment at Carbondale's Memorial Hospital and Herrin Hospital.

Y lebanese attack Druse positions

By Terry A. Anderson
Of the Associated Press

Lebanese air force jets strafed and rocketed Druse militiamen and Palestinian positions Sunday on a strategic ridge south of Beirut, and police said heavy artillery shelling of a Christian port city north of the capital killed at least 16 civilians.

Heavy fighting between the Lebanese army and Druse rebels raged into its third week, and Syria ordered its forces in Lebanon to retaliate if U.S. warships shelled them.

In Israel and the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River, police tear-gassed protesters demonstrating on the first anniversary of the Beirut massacre of 200 Palestinian civilians by Lebanese Christian militiamen. Israeli radio said one policeman was wounded and 25 Jewish and Arab protesters were arrested during the demonstrations marking the Sept. 16-17, 1982, killings in Beirut's Sabra and Chatilla camps.

The massacre took place while the Lebanese capital was under Israeli military control. Lebanese police and witnesses said artillery fire from Syrian-held north Lebanon struck Christian targets in the port of Byblos, 23 miles north of Beirut, for the first time in the civil war, as well as neighboring Christian-populated east Beirut.

alcoholic content of 15.5 percent or higher, according to the proposed ordinance.

No wines "of any kind or character" will be sold in glass bottles or glass containers in Carbondale between 6 p.m. and 2 a.m. Friday, Oct. 28, through Monday, Oct. 31, the proposed ordinance says.

The ordinance, if passed, will limit all "amplified music operations" during Fair Days to property bordered by Grand Avenue between Wall Street and Washington Avenue between the hours of 7 p.m. Friday to 2 a.m. Saturday and 7 p.m. Saturday to 2 a.m. Sunday. It would also ban parking from 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 28 to 2 a.m. Monday, Oct. 31 in an area of South Illinois Avenue between Grand Avenue and Walnut Street.

The police said dozens of shells and rockets slammed into vehicles and damaged buildings, killing at least 16 civilians and wounding 42. The fighting broke out Sept. 4 when Israeli occupation forces pulled back from the central mountains and rival Druse and Christian militiamen moved to take over the areas.

The Lebanese army, most of whose officers are Christian, then joined the fight to rout the Druse, a secretive Islamic sect backed by Syrian and Palestinian guerrilla forces. Three government Hawker Hunter jets strafed and rocketed Druse militia and Palestinian positions near Souk el-Gharb, a strategic ridge nine miles southeast of Beirut.

Two Navy ships had lobbed an estimated 3040 shells at insurgents' artillery nests in Syrian-held territory after a shelling attack by the neighboring hands of the U.S. ambassador's residence and Beirut Defense Ministry. The Reagan administration has ordered the task force to use force when necessary to defend the 1,200-man Marine contingent of the multinational peace force, which has been deployed in Beirut for more than a year at Lebanon's request.

Official sources in Damascus said Syrian President Hafez Assad ordered his forces in Lebanon to retaliate against any further bombardment of Syrian-held territory by the Americans from "land, sea or air.

A few lessons on surviving a roommate

LESSON NO. 1 — Don't drink your roommate's last beer. Even if you're the last one up, it's not worth it. Go to bed early.Bill, Label or Becks, the last is the worst.

Lesson No. 2 — Control your animals. Canine dung on the front steps, Geese in your roommate's laundry and saucepan at the table, are the most obvious disadvantages. Don't return for these atrocities, though. You should give him plenty of notice before his first term of residence.

Lesson No. 3 — Don't sit by your roommate's aquarium. Rummaging through his belongings is the only way to learn what a home looks like.

Lesson No. 4 — Clear out occasionally. Nothing is worse than a roommate who never leaves the house. Everybody needs time to run around naked and sing Rolling Stones' songs. Plus, there's the romance factor. Ever try to seduce a young blonde while your roommate and his drunk friends are cracking the Sex Pistols? Take a hint, will ya?

LESSON NO. 5 — Don't hit on your roommate's girlfriend. (unles it's your birthday, in which case you'll have too much trouble doing anything anyway.) Your roommate's old gal is fair game, but your roommate is definitely not tired of them glaring at each other from opposite sides of the room.

LESSON NO. 6 — Don't sell your roommate's books. It's like looting the bank vault. Remember, they're in jail.

Lesson No. 7 — Party with your roommate, or occasionally, if you don't like them. If you did something besides party at each other's life, each other's house might get ripped off. The other three stand just plain grass.

LESSON NO. 8 — Don't borrow your roommate's toothbrush, car, bike, underwear, towel or any other valuable personal belongings. For sure, you'd better not wreck the car and the bike will get ripped off. The other three stand just plain grass.

Letter

I have a question which cries out from the grave. It yearns to be a part of society. Where are all the old good atheists? You know the ones that I mean. The H.G. Wells', Bertrand Russell's, the Huxleys, and the Anthony Flanders of the world. Those were men who made what they felt to be a rational decision that religion was nothing but "hogwash." As one of your typical WERF'a (My Lives) a definition of a wild-eyed religious fanatic I know they were wrong but there was a rational decision based on what they felt was an overwhelming lack of evidence that God exists. However, if all the good ones knew that we knew and loved in the past is gone. His staunch innocents gave many of the fundamentalists something to their feet and their many have reached the same conclusion as my relative did, "if you can't beat them, join them."

My relative was a religious atheist. His week just wasn't perfect unless he could have some poor Christian for lunch! Yes, the valley of bones left in his wake (or at least some) caused was truly awesome! Then one day, as the "white" took a seat in his room, he went "hoo religion." He turned red as he grinned at the thought of chancing his knuckles. Then it was almost like he had a vision. He said, "Maybe we've been going about this the wrong way. He never finished his point, but I think you know what he meant."

Those that stood tall and straight for the banishment of "atheistic truth" have now gone non-profit. Mrs. O'Hare's claim for a place in the firmament toward gay churches, and the rise of maverickistic rulls are an indication that our atheist friends have wised up. The rational decision faced by the philosophers such as Wittgenstein was meaningless because they had no objective reference point. Now non-content language has become their greatest tool. The key is to use "emotive words" like "Christian," "God," "Cross," "Redemption" just as if they really meant something. Of course in our new religious leaders they do not, or at the very least they are redetracted. When the writings of Paul do not agree, describe them as "pagan". When the words of Jesus appear to contradict, the church is trying to "relate" to the audience. It's very easy to select the same attempt at symbolism. But it is a conventional mode, so a church must look like a church even though it's not good conformity to the conventional mode. So a church must look like a church even though it's not good conformity to the conventional mode.

Opinion & Commentary

Signed articles, including letters, Viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of the writer and do not necessarily represent the views of the Daily Egyptian Editorial Board, whose members are the student editor-in-chief, the executive editor, the editorial page editor and the managing editor, as well as the Daily Egyptian's faculty advisor, the department chair and the Department of Communication's School faculty member.

Letters submitted must be formatted correctly and cannot be submitted in digital, e-mail or handwritten form. Submission of letters for publication must be verified with the submitter. Students submitting letters must identify themselves by class and major, faculty members by position and department, and non-academic staff by position and business-related title. All letters will be limited to 300 words. Letters of 300 words or fewer will be given preference for publication. The Daily Egyptian reserves the right to edit letters for length and clarity. The Daily Eagle, Non Policy and Review is edited in communications 1247.

Back to basics

THE GENERAL STUDIES Advisory Council at SIU-C is making some needed changes. Citing an over-proliferation of classes, the council has been directed to develop this plan by the General Studies Committee, which is made up of the student editor-in-chief, the executive editor, the editorial page editor, the managing editor and the Department of Communication’s School faculty member.

Some may be shocked at the number of classes which may be eliminated -- 48 of 130. And some may be puzzled by the classes which remain untouched. But the council is agreed that some changes have to be made.

The GSAC is preparing a final report for submission to the University’s Senate. We hope that the changes will improve the overall academic health of SIU-C and provide students with solid, comprehensive classes.

Where did all the atheists go?

There seem to be some numbers missing from the title of the above discussion. The figure 4.5 percent has been mentioned numerous times, but the 5 percent that I see I figure 5.6 percent.

"What is 2.6 percent?" you ask. Well, this percentage is SIU-C's way of saying thanks for a job well done.

I have worked at SIU for almost eight years and cannot recall a time where there was such an equal distribution of faculty and staff salaries. As one of the above mentioned people who received a raise less than the much-heralded 4.5 percent, I write this to the Daily Egyptian and let everyone know that some raises are being handed out. I have a 2.6 percent bid. Do I hear last chance lower? Michael Youther, Researcher, School of Medicine.
The communications business is booming in Cape Girardeau. A new television station was introduced last week and new radio waves will be in the air this week. The new station's focus will be to program easy listening music, according to the firm's president.

Zimmer said that the decision to program easy listening music was a well-researched determination. "We determined that there is a substantial easy listening audience out there that is currently having great difficulty finding a desirable music source since KFMP went off the air in July," Zimmer said. The 50,000-watt strong station has made some technical improvements since the operation of KFMP, installing a new Harris FM 10-KW transmitter which is intended to produce a cleaner, crispier, stronger signal. The link between the studio and the transmitter has also been improved. Instead of several miles of telephone lines linking the station's studio with the transmitter and tower site, the programming will now be micro-waved between the two locations.

KEGS, or "EZ-103," will offer news, weather, sports, and special programming. But the station's main emphasis will be on the music, which has been pegged "The Million Dollar Sound."

"Million Dollar Sound" refers to the fact that each year over $1 million is invested in instrumental arrangements and research. In addition to the instrumentalists, the listener will hear vocals by Barry Manilow, Frank Sinatra, Kenny Rogers, Johnny Mathis, Crystal Gale, Barbara Streisand and many more popular artists.

Melon grower calls harvest 'fair'

MARYVILLE (AP) — Melon grower Walter Bohn has had some moments this hot, dry summer — some good and some bad.

At peak season this year, he harvested 25,000 pounds of cantaloupes a day from his 100 acres in Maryville, near St. Louis.

Supermarket chains in St. Louis and fruit stands as far north as Chicago buy the rough-rinded, orange-fleshed product that on Bohn's farm is picked by hand and moved by conveyor belt for packing.

Bohn's operation is largely wholesale, although he retains products for all of his own needs. He has given night snares to grain farmers, "I wouldn't call it a fair," Bohn said. "I didn't call it fair." "Melons do better in dry weather," Bohn said. "In fact, surface moisture hurts them. Dry weather also helps in that there's not as much disease. "Heat, though, isn't good. It cuts down on pollination. The bees stop working when it's 100 degrees and you have more flower abortion. Yields are lower and the size is about a third that of the year's what it was last year."

Bohn, who grows cantaloupes on 20 percent of his 100 acres, said the melon harvest has dwindled to 5,000 or 6,000 pounds a day since the picking season, which began in mid July, nears its end. "I'm expecting to continue picking until it frosts," Bohn said.

Health News... BY DR. ROY S. WHITE Doctor of Chiropractic

"SHOOTING PAINS"

If you're a victim of sciatica, you know what "shooting pains" are all about. The times excruciating pain of sciatica frequently affects the hip, thigh and back of the leg. The ankle and foot are sometimes affected, too. But that's not where the problem is. The sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body, extends from the lower spine to the back of the thigh and knee. Then it splits. One nerve goes down the front of the lower leg, and the other goes down the back of the leg.

It's the inflammation of the sciatic nerve that causes the pain. This can be triggered by an irritated nerve root. What causes the irritation? The cause may be traced to a misalignment of the spinal column that's putting abnormal pressure on the roots of the sciatic nerves as they cross between the vertebrae. X-rays and other procedures, the doctor of chiropractic can locate the misaligned vertebrae. Using a gentle adjustment, he can align it properly again to help eliminate the cause and the pain.

Lie detectors ferret out big fish stories

DALLAS (AP) - Fishermen used to enter bass tournaments for trophies and glory, but today's rising prize money has brought cheating by some who struggle in whiskers and claim thousands of dollars, Texas officials say.

The problem has become so bad that the Texas Parks Association challenges winners' fish stories with lie-detector tests, and a Texas grand jury is looking into whether two recent fish derby winners should go to trial for cheating.

Members of the Texas club also claim a fish-smuggling ring has received more than $250,000 in prizes in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Florida. The state Parks and Wildlife Department is investigating.

"As long as the bass tournaments were giving away trophies, everything went perfect, but when they started coming out with the big bucks, there were greedy people who came out of the woodwork to steal the money," said Dexter Harris, a district supervisor of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A dustpan worthy of Paul Bunyon will make its debut at the fourth annual Carbonado Clean-up Day slated for Oct. 22. The event is sponsored by the Undergraduate Student Organization sponsored event, will measure 29 feet wide and 16 feet tall.

The first Clean-up Day in 1980 featured the world’s largest broom, and it seems only natural that there should be a world’s largest dustpan to go along with it.

The broom is 32 feet wide with a 12-foot handle. It was recognized as the largest in the world by Ripley’s Believe It or Not.

The USA is again sponsoring the Clean-up Day under the leadership of coordinators Curtis McDaniel and Troy Brown of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity. The theme of this year’s Clean-up Day is “The Helping Hands of You and Me.”

Last year’s clean-up attracted about 1,500 participants, and McDaniel said he hopes to see 2,000 people pitch in this year. According to McDaniel, there were about 1,000 dustpans at the only one of its kind in Illinois.

McDaniel said the city of Carbonado would provide the necessary equipment, such as trucks and garbage bags, and a number of area businesses have agreed to provide prizes, food and entertainment for participants.

Seven-Up will be providing refreshments and other giveaways following the clean-up and WTAQ radio station will assist in providing entertainment. Tipton’s Appliance Center is providing a mystery gift to be given away.

Registration for participants in the Clean-up Day will be held at Tipton Park on West Main Street from 9 to 9 a.m. The clean-up will take place from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., at which time the clean-up Day Fest will begin at Turley Park.

Entertainment at the Clean-up Day Fest will feature the Black Fire Dancers, Tumwater USA gymnastics team, live music by Scarlett Thread and an appearance by the Salish Shakers.

McDaniel said any person or group interested in participating can contact him at the USA office at 536-3381.

BRIEFS POLICY — The deadline for Campus Briefs is two days before publication. The briefs must be typewritten, and must include time, date, place and sponsor of the event and the name and title of the person submitting the brief. Submissions should be delivered or mailed to the Daily Egyptian Office in Communications Building, Room 1191. A brief will be published once and only once available.

Illinois road map includes a town that doesn’t exist

CHICAGO (AP) — The current Rand McNally road map of Illinois puts a community of 10,300 people in the western suburbs south of O'Hare International Airport. But there's a problem with Westdale — it doesn't exist.

A municipal employee in Northlake, Berwyn and Franklin Park, towns that encircle Westdale on the map — have never heard of the place, although its alleged population would make it hard to miss.

Spokesman Conroy Erickson at the Rand McNally & Co. headquarters in Skokie agreed to find out how Westdale got on the map — and whether it belongs there.

"It doesn't sound good," he conceded.

There are two Westdales in the telephone book — an elementary school and a park district.

Westdale Principal Stephen Mentzak said the school, in Northlake, used to be in an unincorporated area north of town.

Westdale Park District operates two parks in the same unincorporated area.

"The story I've heard is that years and years ago, they were planning on calling it Westdale but it was never incorporated," said Kathy Graham, who runs a preschool program for the district.

"It's all Leyden unincorporated," said Joan Brune of the Leyden Township supervisor's office. "There's nothing out here that would be called Westdale."

Except on the map. Erickson at Rand McNally checked and then reported: "Westdale seems not to exist."
Intramural office gets OK to accept company sponsors
by Sheila Rogers
Staff Writer

The intramural office has been given the go-ahead to accept sponsorships from companies and is looking at what the G. Heileman Brewing Co. has to offer the program, according to Joyce Craven, director of intramural sports.

At a board meeting Sept. 7, the Intramural-Recreational Sports Advisory Board approved the recommendation to let companies sponsor the intramural program. Craven said.

Earlier this month, the issue of letting G. Heileman Brewing Co. sponsor the program arose. The issue was that people may look at the sponsorship by a beer company as a promotion of alcoholic beverages. There are always people who are sensitive about that. He stroked that sponsorship should not be seen "as an endorsement by our office or the University.

According to Craven, sponsorship by any agency, group or person will be looked at. "I will look at what they have to donate and supply us with that will benefit the program and the participants," she said.

Craven said negotiations are under way with the G. Heileman Brewing Co.

"It's a sit-down situation now to determine what they can offer," she said.

If the sponsorship is accepted, it will be similar to the one that the brewing company had with the office last year.

Last year, the brewery supplied intramurals with advertisements, calendars and T-shirts. Costs of the advertisements came to $1,148, while the calendars cost about $20 and the T-shirts $2.50. The G. Heileman logo was displayed on all sponsored items.

If the sponsorship is accepted, according to Craven, contracts will have to be made up and will have to go through the Purchasing Office. By the time it is all cleared, the sponsorship will be ready for spring semester.

The G. Heileman Brewing Co. has been the only firm to offer sponsorship this year. Craven said that if the office will take more than one sponsor, if approached by other firms.

College St., the city's planning and energy divisions, 609 E. College St., and SIU-C Parking Division in Washington Square Building D. Tickets will also be issued for non-registered bikes, police said.

Decals from SIU-C and the city are $2 for a two-year period. The following is required before a decal is issued:

- The serial number must be readable and the bike must have reflectors on the front, rear and each pedal and wheel. Lights are not required at the time of licensing.
- Bike registration "greatly enhances the chances of a stolen bicycle being returned to the owner and provides a record of the serial number for insurance purposes," according to Carbondale police. The department recovers about 300 bikes a year and about half are returned to the owners.
- Since Sept. 12, SIU-C Security has impounded 51 bikes, a spokesman said. For each one, $3 for a two-year period.

Soviet newsman criticizes handling of airliner report

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) - The editor of the Soviet Communist Party newspaper Pravda criticized his country's armed forces Sunday for the delay in acknowledging that a Soviet fighter jet shot down the South Korean airliner. He said the incident had been nothing but "blunder.

"I think in this respect our military people are guilty," Viktor Afanasyev said when asked in a British Broadcasting Corp. interview why the Kremlin six days to admit the Soviets shot down the plane Sept. 1.

"It's natural we're not inclined to admit the mistake. It's not in our nature to admit our mistakes," he said through an interpreter.

He appeared to mean that the military was not sure what had happened and the Kremlin had to order further investigations, causing the long delay in official acknowledgement. It was the first admission by a Soviet official of any error since the attack on the Korean Air Lines jet by a Russian MiG-23 on Aug. 23.

Afanasyev arrived with a team of Soviet foreign experts for private talks this week with American and British counterparts.

Asked why the Kremlin would not accept Japan's offers to help "find" the airliner, Afanasyev said he was "very sure that its (the airliner's) flight had been stopped, in other words it had been shot down.

"I wouldn't say I was very pleased with our first report," he said through an interpreter.

"...I think in this respect our military people are guilty."

Strong defense boosts fielders to win, tie

By Steve Koutou
Staff Writer

The SIU-C women's field hockey team displayed a strong defensive effort against the University of the South and also Miami of Ohio in its two games Saturday at Windsor Field. The Salukis scored no two-game losing streak by blanking the University of the South 4-0 in the opener before fighting Miami to a scoreless tie in the nightcap which lasted two overtime periods.

SIU-C and Miami, who rounded the University of the South 4-0, each posted a 1-0-1 record in the Invitational. The University of the South, playing its first two games of the year, finished 0-2.

"We didn't play particularly well against the South," said SIU-C Coach Jules Illner, whose team is 3-2-1 overall. "We played well in the first half, but then we sort of let down. The first half was all right but the second half was not particularly well-played.".

The Salukis, who outshot the Ladyhawks 11-7 in the first half, were held to a 3-0 halftime lead.

Right fullback Nancy McAuley completed the first-half scoring at 19:30 by blasting an unassisted goal from 17 yards out on a direct corner shot.

Left wing Jennifer Bartley, who replaced Leidy at the start of the second half, scoring for the Salukis with an unassisted goal at 19:30 of the second half. It was Bartley's second goal of the season.

The shutout was recorded by goalies Lisa Cuocci and Camye. Cuocci, who started the game before being replaced by Camye at the beginning of the second half, was credited with the shutout.

"I think SIU showed a very good defensive effort," said Jeanine Fissinger, first-year coach at the University of the South. "They had two very good sweepers (McAuley and left fullback Diane Weil). I felt SIU had a very tight defense and we really didn't test them.''

In the second game, the Salukis and Miami engaged in a defensive battle which lasted 90 minutes. The two teams played 70 minutes of regulation time and two 10-minute overtime periods.

Illner said her team played better against Miami than against the University of the South.

"I would say we dominated the game,'" said Illner, who in her 15th year at SIU-C, has amassed a 192-72-33 career record with the Salukis. "We dominated the latter part of the game and the overtime. There was a lot of midfield play and that is what you get when you have two pretty strong teams.''

SIU-C, who was shutout 5-2 in the first half by Miami, got untracked and outshot them by an 1-5 margin in the second half of the two overtime periods.

The Saluki shutout was credited to Sandy Wasley, who started the game before being replaced by Cuocci at halftime.

cuocci then played the entire second half.

The Salukis have chalked up four shutouts in six games and lowered their goals against average to 1.50 per game from 2.25 per game.

It was the first time Miami, which was averaging 1.3 goals scored per game, was shut out this year. Miami has not yet allowed a goal this year. Miami is 3-6-1 overall.

The Salukis will face Indiana State this Thursday in Terre Haute, Ind., at 6:30 p.m.

Women harriers fifth of six at ISU

By David Wilhelm
Staff Writer

If there is one word that describes the women's cross country team so far this season, it's improvement. Despite finishing sixth in the six teams at Saturday's Illinois State Invitational, the harriers proved they are progressing.

As Sal to Coach Don DeNoon explained, "Iowa won the invitational with a score of 42 points to the Northwestern line for second, both with 48 points. Illinois State, led by Lori Bertram, became 97, the Salukis with 109 Eastern Illinois with 134.

"I think we did well," DeNoon said. "We're improving. I don't think we beat Eastern last year at all.

Lori Ann Bertram was the first Saluki across the finish line with a time of 20:41, best collegiate time ever. Of the 46 competitors, Bertram was 23rd.

After leading her best collegiate time was Sally Zack with 20:43, the top three finishing Salukis were Lisa Reimund (19:31), Lisa Hicks (19:51) and Bonnie Helneck (20:12). All but Reimund recorded their best time.

Sixty to 70 percent of the runners were scholarship athletes according to DeNoon. "We ran pretty well with the type of competition that Iowa has. Iowa won the top two positions at the invitational. My Dock finally finished first with a time of 17:04 and her teammate, Jenny Spangler, was right behind, recording a time of 17:14. Spangler is ranked third in the country for 5K.

DeNoon said that only two Saluki runners finished the Illinois State Invitational last season with times under 20 minutes, compared to four this year.

The runners were generally pleased with their performance Saturday. DeNoon said: "Most of them were happy," he said. "Sally (Zack) was a little down. She wasn't running in the lie I think she thinks she could.

The invitational was run on Illinois State's golf course and besides having to make a lot of turns, the runners also had to watch for flying golf balls. Some of the runners were also followed by Chris Kansler was struck by a ball during the race but he proved nothing serious, other than that cross country can be a dangerous sport.

I'm not sure the course was any faster than our own," said DeNoon. "Our kids ran to Illinois State's girls than the previous week. If we continue to improve, we'll be in there. We need more consistent performances from our runners.

DeNoon said the temperature Saturday was a comfortable 75 degrees, but said that was "a little too warm. The ideal temperature would be 60 to 65 degrees.''

In preparation for next weekend's meet against Illinois in Champaign, DeNoon said his harriers will continue their training through the training to sharpen up.

"I just have to continue to improve," DeNoon said. "If we can go to Illinois and finish five or six runners under 20 minutes, that's what we're aiming for. Our ultimate goal is to consistently have five runners under 18 minutes.

White Sox blast Mariners 6-0

CHICAGO (AP) -- Richard Dotson hurled a five-hitter and Harold Baines bobbled in his face Sunday to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 6-2 victory over the Seattle Mariners.

It was the first shutout and second victory of the season for Dotson, 19-7. It was his seventh straight triumph.

Dotson worried his batter in both the first and fifth innings, but finished with a 4-1 record. He allowed 11 hits and four walks in eight and a half innings.

Baines led off the game with a single, advanced to second on a sacrifice and scored on a wild pitch by Mariners starter Pat Darcy.

Dotson then allowed a run-scoring single to Graziano in the second inning for the only run allowed.

The White Sox scored five runs in the fifth inning on two hits and four walks. Baines reached on a walk and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jose Canseco.

Baines also had a hit in the fifth inning, a double, and scored two runs.

Baines was 3 for 4, with two doubles and two runs scored. He had been hit by pitches in each of his previous two at-bats.

The victory was the 21st in the last 15 games for the Sox and their 17th straight at home.

...and outran two defenders into the endzone. With just over nine minutes left in the first quarter, Saluki linebacker Granville Butler intercepted Jim Prestwood's pass at the SIUC 25-yard line. After first bobbling the pass, Butler ran 8 yards down the left sideline, fended off one tackler and was brought down by (26) in the endzone. The touchdown was SIUC's sixth of the year and Butler was the ninth different player to score. Wilson made the score 21-0 in the first quarter when he jumped over the top of the line from the 1-yard line with 2:47 left. Dixon had two important passes in that drive. The first went to Cecil Ratliff for 46 yards. The ball was untouched and Ratliff had to wait for the pass from the Saluki 25-yard line, otherwise the play could have gone for a touchdown. Two plays later from SEMO's 43-yard line, Dixon had good protection as he rolled to his left and found tight end Richard Blackmon, who stretched for the pass, hauled it in and fell down on the 5-yard line. Wilson then scored two plays later.

The offense scored the first three times it had the ball, and counting Butler's interception return, the Salukis scored touchdowns the first four times they had possession. The SIUC scoring machine finally was stopped when SEMO corner Timbo Jones recovered Tyr's lame fumble at the Saluki 25-yard line.

The defense, though, rose to the occasion and allowed SEMO just one yard on its four-play drive. The Salukis regained possession on the SIUC 28-yard line. From the Saluki 49-yard line, Dixon threw to James Stevenson, who made a leaping catch at the SEMO 43-yard line for a 17-yard gain. Dixon went right back to Stevenson on the next play. Stevenson caught Dixon's pass down the middle for a 19-yard gain, putting the ball at the 24-yard line. Three plays later, Dixon hit Shephard over the middle for another 19-yard pickup.

The SIU-C men's cross country team scored its first major upset Saturday by defeating an impressive line-up of teams at the Kentucky Invitational in Lexington. The Salukis scored a low of 75 points among the 14-team field. Finishinmg second was last year's eighth-ranked team, Vermont, with 97 points. East Tennessee, ranked fourth last year, finished fourth with 92 points.

Saluki Chris Dunoan topped all runners in the five-mile race with a time of 24:27.3. Mike Keone crossed the finish line with a time of 25:01.9. "I'm awfully happy with the victory," said Coach Bill Cornell. "We are right on track toward the goals of our season."

Though Dunoan ran a very good race.

Every winning team at one point or another needs to get a few breaks. The men harriers needed one Saturday and they got it when it was important. "We had a bit of luck," Cornell said. "The fourth man from East Tennessee came up lame and had to drop out of the race. He was in fifth place at the time. If he had made it, they would have hammered us."

Despite its fourth place finish in the invitational, East Tennessee's 50-yard dash team tied a team record for service aces in a single match. "I'm happy with the victory," said Coach Jim Leza. "We needed a little taste of success."

"The backs start struggling for the extra yards and that is when they start the running backs need to have a game like they had against SEMO," Dunoan said.

"We needed confidence in our running attack and this game had to give our kids confidence," Dempoel said. "They needed a little taste of success."

Five Salukis each ran for more than 30 yards Saturday. Everest Wilson gained 35 yards and three touchdowns in 17 carries. Wilson had two one-yard touchdown runs, a six-yard touchdown run and a 24-yard carry.

Trevor Green gained 67 yards on seven carries to lead all runners, including a 22-yard run. Banker quarterback Rick Spielman, who started the second half for the Salukis, carried eight times for 50 yards. Sydney Byrde, who became the third runner to start at fullback in as many games for the Salukis, picked up 48 yards on nine carries.

Offensive backs and receivers had a big day in the rushing attack went back to the basics Saturday and SEMO's defense wasn't designed to stop a rushing attack.

"We played a game that our offense is geared up to play," Wallace said.

He also said he is worried about the five fumbles the team had but he knows why they occur.

"The backs start struggling for the extra yards and that is when they start the running backs need to have a game like they had against SEMO," Dunoan said.
