Segregation in approved off-campus housing is dying out and by September will be virtually eliminated, according to Mrs. Anita R. Kueh, supervisor of off-campus housing.

"Personally, I think the record is good," Mrs. Kueh said, referring to an article critical of University housing policies that appeared on page 2 of last Friday's Daily Egyptian.

The article, reprinted from the Student Non-Violent Freedom Projects News, was written and signed by William Mof­fen, charged that the publicity of such off-campus housing by home owners refuse to rent dorm room to Negro students.

Mrs. Kueh expressed concern about the lack of off-campus housing directory lists addresses with asterisks indicating homes that "might take a Negro" and that "stil­ doesn't even have a definite program on discrimination."

Mrs. Kueh said the article implied that Mof­fen had interviewed her recently. "He has not — no one from that office has ever talked to me about this in three years," she said. Further, she said, the article was "off factual." It was "misleading" and the signatures cited were "not current."

Mrs. Kueh said 42 per cent

PARIS — "colonization" of French and European countries by U.S. business concerns is going to be a more pressing issue than the "European Economic Community," Foreign Minister Jean-Pascal Delamain said in a speech at an American Chamber of Commerce meeting here.

The minister expressed concern about the growing influence of U.S. businesses and the failure of European countries to control the "breath" of American capital, which, he said, had no "national" effect.

"The concern is not only financial," Delamain said. "It is also a matter of national pride and self-respect. We cannot allow American businesses to say that we are bankrupt.

"We must ensure that our economy is not merely a feeler, a product of American business, but a genuine "European" economy, independent of American influence."

Delamain said that France and other European countries were not satisfied with the current rate of economic development, which was too slow for their needs.

He added that the French government was preparing to introduce new economic measures to increase growth and government spending.
Geodesic Dome by Prof. Fuller Is Attraction at Venezuela Fair

By Penny Loroux
Colpey News Services

Probably the biggest attraction to the U.S. Commerce Department's exhibit at the Caracas exposition in Venezuela is the fair building itself, one of R. Buckminster Fuller's famous geodesic domes.

Fuller, a professor of design at SIU, is inventor of the dome which has brought into being a new concept in construction techniques. Other attractions, including a solar-powered automobile, a book-vending machine and robots, are drawing throngs of Venezuelans to the exhibit, which is a new answer to the dilemma of what to try to sell U.S. ideas of U.S. products or both, at expositions.

In marked contrast to the Atomium for Peace exhibit and the hodge-podge of ideas and unrelated machinery often shown, this fair, with its theme of "Man: Key to Progress" is attracting Venezuelans of all walks of life.

The Caracas exposition emphasizes the vast output of U.S. industry. The goods of some 70 U.S. firms are on exhibit.

The fair is designed to draw businessmen and industrialists as well as average citizens.

The book-vending machine that sells 40 different titles just as a cigarette machine would sell cigarettes, the automobile that gets its power from the sun's rays and rocket men who are propelled aloft as long as 20 seconds by the jet units they wear are starting men, women and children interested in the unusual.

Computers, textile machinery, precision tool making, development and the eye-catching geodesic fair building itself are sparking the interest of men who today or considered one of the big attractions of the event. The dome is an invention of R. Buckminster Fuller, a professor of design at SIU.

Racial Terrorism Inquiry Widened

NEW YORK (AP) - Racial terrorist cells in other American and Canadian cities reportedly were under surveillance Wednesday, for possible links to the thwarted dynamite plot against the Statue of Liberty and two other national shrines.

Published reports mentioned Cleveland, Detroit, Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Toronto and Montreal. In Washington, the FBI had no comment.

Intelliabouts Told U.S. Peace Policy

NEW YORK (AP) - Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told a dramatic world consultation on peace Wednesday that the United States will leave "no mile untraveled" in pursuit of that goal.

He spoke as philosophers, scientists and statesmen from around the world convened for a four-day "summit meeting of great minds" on ways to maintain peace in a nervous, nuclear age.

In the present turbulence in Southeast Asia, Humphrey said, this country's only aim is "peace and freedom for the people of Viet Nam."

Three New York Negroes and a blonde Canadian woman were arrested here Tuesday, and charged with scheming to blow up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and Philadelphia's Liberty Bell. Police claimed to have seized 22 sticks of dynamite.

"We know they have made contact in other cities," Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy declared. "We have no idea how many people might be involved."

"Do you have names and addresses?" he was asked.

"Yes," Murphy replied.

"Any further arrests anticipated?"

"The investigation is continuing," the commissioner said.

The four accused are Robert S. Collier, 28, described as the leader of the Black Liberation Front; Walter A. Bowe, 32, supporter of the pro-Castro Fair Play for Cuba Committee; Khaled S. Sayyed, 22, a former engineering student at Washington's Howard University, a predominantly Negro school; and Michelle Ducllos, 26, a Montreal television commentator and advocate of Canada's French-speaking Quebec citizens.

Washington, D.C. (AP) - President Johnson said Wednesday the United States "will persevere in the defense of freedom" in Viet Nam and he sought advice from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on solving the dangerous confrontation with communist powers there.

Eisenhower met with Johnson at a surprise White House conference and stayed for lunch.

Later, the President added to his address before the National Industrial Conference Board the renewed pledge to defend South Viet Nam, and stated: "We seek no wider war. Our continuing actions there will be those that are justified and made necessary by the continuing aggression of others."

He said U.S. response to communist moves will be measured and fitting and adequate.

The President's attention to the Viet Nam fighting - recently gravely stepped up by Red attacks on U.S. installations in Con Thien and American retaliatory air raids - came against a background of debate on the issue in Congress and elsewhere.

But Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a member of both the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees, proposed a "major reappraisal" of U.S. policy and urged more help from U.S. allies in Viet Nam.

And Sen. Frank Church, D-Ida., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D., called again for a negotiated settlement. Eisenhower, now 74 and in Washington for a medical checkup, was asked by Johnson "to come by the White House and visit with him."

"IT WON'T BE SO WHITE IF WE PUT A LABEL ON IT!"

Assurance Sought On Negro Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson said Wednesday to "take particular interest" in the future safety of Negroes who testify before the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

The request was made by the commission president, John A. Hannah, who made a quick trip to Gov. Johnson's office during a recess.

Hannah, president of Michigan State University, made the move after hearing testimony from three Tallahatchie County Negroes beaten and alleged intimidation.

"I have asked the governor to take particular interest that when these witnesses return to their homes they will be fully protected," said Hannah. "I am particularly concerned about the witnesses from Tallahatchie County."

Hannah said he was heartened by Gov. Johnson's statement to the commission Tuesday that law and order will be maintained and that no racial violence will be tolerated.
Induction Quota Doubled for April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of lagging enlistments, the Defense Department has nearly doubled its monthly draft quota for April.

It asked Selective Service to conduct 13,700 men in April, all for the Army. This comes with 7,000 ordered for March.

The Defense Department said the April draft call has been computed by the Army, "to replace enlisted losses not compensated for by enlistments and re-enlistments so as to maintain approved active Army strength."

Some officials have said that the public realization that the Defense Department has been conducting a study looking toward possible elimination of the draft has tended to cut down on the number of voluntary enlistments.

U.S. Business

Given Break On Tax Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson handed business a $700-million tax favor Wednesday, on the first day of a White House meeting at which he received the favor in return — a voluntary clampdown on overseas investment.

Johnson told 1,100 industry leaders, at a meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board, that the Treasury Department will soon announce liberalized tax guidelines for plant equipment and machine depreciation.

The changes will "allow business to receive this year more than $700 million worth of benefits that would have been lost under the original guideline procedure," the President said.

The action has been expected for at least two months, but the $700 million Johnson specified in effect, a sizable corporation tax saving — it twice or three times as big as the treasury has indicated it would.

"The new rules," Johnson went on, "will further encourage business to scrap old equipment and buy new and they will help business to cut costs, raise efficiency and hold the line on prices to keep our expansion going."

He emphasized that the world's "sensed balance of payments deficit in his 20-minute talk.

Viet Nam Crisis Speculated
As Trap for Soviets

Soviet-Chinese relations seem just as cold as before the U.S. retaliation for blows against North Viet Nam.

Perhaps the atmosphere is even colder. The indications are that the Red Chinese consider they have won an important round in their deal with the Soviet Communists.

A deep, cold, menacing general war conceivably still could push the Soviet party closer to Peking, at least temporarily. But available evidence indicates the Russians fell into a Chinese trap. Peking was trying to interpose a trend toward better Soviet-American relations.

The Russians had responded positively to President Johnson's suggestion of an exchange of high-level visits. This project now seems to be on ice as a result of what happened at a Kremlin session early this year.

Alexei N. Kosygin was trying to get a Soviet foot back in the Asian door. Peking also seemed to suspect Kosygin of trying to defuse the Viet Nam situation, whose inherent dangers appeared to be getting on Soviet nerves. Significantly, while Kosygin was away, European satellite parties championed proposals for an international conference to ease the dangers in Southeast Asia.

There was a curious coincidence between Kosygin's arrival and the sharp buildup in Viet Cong terror attacks against Americans in Indochina. His orders were transmitted through a front organization with headquarters in Hanoi, and since Chinese influence is strong in that organization, it would appear there was a cold hand behind the attacks. At the same time, Moscow, remaining high all through Kosygin's visit, apparently have been a direct challenge to Moscow; Put up as a Communist nation or shut up with the claim to world Communist leadership, the Russians were uncomfortable. To put up could mean an unwanted showdown with the Americans in Asia. To shut up would mean attrition against Soviet leadership.

In Years Including Governorship

Stratton's Net Value
Set at $209,116 by Witness

CHICAGO (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury was told Wednesday that in the 11 years between 1949 and 1960 William G. Stratton's net worth jumped from $60,000 to $209,116.86.

Over strenuous objection from counsel for Illinois' Republican governor from 1952 to '60, a government net worth statement was admitted in evidence.

Stratton has been on trial since Jan. 4 on charges of fraud for which he faces a possible 15 years in the penitentiary. The government's evidence, including income tax returns for 1957 and 1960, isہa second term in the executive branch.

Robert N. Dyas, technical advisor to the Internal Revenue Service, testified the personal preparation of the net worth statement was conscionable. He said, of Stratton's assets listed at their cost, minus his liabilities.

Dyas said the summary disregarded funds from William Stratton for Governor Campaign Fund in the West Suburban Band and Trust Co. Park.

George D. Crowley, lawyer for the former governor, asked, "What do you mean, personal assets?" Dyas replied that the campaign cash was excluded because Stratton considered it exclusively for political purposes and unavailable for personal expenses.

Dyas added that gifts of cash were not admitted because he had told an IRS agent, Leo Dehen, that he had received no cash gifts. Dyas said he included the cash value of houseboats and boat motors that Stratton said were presented him as gifts.

The witness said he allowed depreciation in the December 31, 1949, computation of the governor's net worth. He did not mention the 1960 figures.

In 1949 Stratton had assets of $10,388.28, less liabilities of $9,175.41, leaving his net worth at $1,212.87.

1960 figures were assets of $208,875.23, excluding the $700,116.86 net worth.

He has been conducting a study looking toward possible elimination of the draft has tended to cut down on the number of voluntary enlistments.

Dairy Day
Set Tuesday

The changing picture of dairy industry in feeding, housing methods and in housing is the theme of SIU's 10th Annual Dairy Day Tuesday, Alex Reed, chairman of the Department of Animal Industries, has announced.

Headlining the program are J.G. Cash, University of Illinois dairy extension specialist, R.C. Davenport, associate editor of Hoard's Dairyman and Harry A. Herman, executive secretary of the National Association of Animal Breeders.

Their topics will be a look at the 1970's - how dairying will change in Illinois. They will discuss the trends toward more testing, better feeding, larger dairy farms with more milk to sell, and what the population explosion and the outlook in world markets will do for the dairyman.

A report will be made by SIU crops specialist, Herbert L. Porz, on forages, grasses and legumes in the feeding program of dairies and in a discussion of restricted roughage feeding will be given.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. in Muckleroy Auditorium, Agriculture Building, units: "Accepted Physical Facility" and "Accepted Living Center." An accepted physical facility is one that meets standard housing regulations, including basic safety and sanitation regulations. An accepted living center, in addition, accepts Negro students.

Referring to the latter designation, Mrs. Kuo said, "We don't just give them out on the owner's say-so. There has to be a Negro living there - or a Negro has to have lived there in the past." This rule applies for all types of supervised facilities.

At the present time the University can withdraw approval from supervised housing units only if they fail to meet safety and sanitation regulations. But the Trustees' Executive Committee has also provided that the Housing Office shall set up permanent guidelines for full integration to be implemented by September, 1965.

A committee of five householder representatives and Mrs. Kuo have drawn up those guidelines. They stipulate that with the beginning of fall quarter there will be only one designated "Accepted Integrated House: Accepted Living Center."

Householders generally have been cooperative in coping with the integration program. Mrs. Kuo said that when she came to the University in October, 1959, there were only two integrated off-campus houses, both of them owned by minorities.

But, she said, despite initial misgivings - not all Negroes were expected because of Carbondale's orientation toward Southern customs - householder have been very cooperative.

Mrs. Kuo said a great part of her objection to the Moffett article was on that point. She felt the charges were "a disservice to the University and primarily a disservice to the householder who has moved along with us - and a disservice to Negro householders, who have jeopardized their income."

Mrs. Kuo explained that Negro householders have accepted the integration plan, even though in some cases it has taken roomers away from them.

Mrs. Kuo concedes that the integration effort has not been uniformly successful. Single family houses "probably will be integrated and will eventually be dropped," she said. And householders in Carthlierville and Murphysboro have lagged in integrating. But, she said Mrs. Kuo, "we have come a considerable distance."

And she emphasizes the day when "Carbondale will probably be very high up on a list of integrated university campuses in the North."

One-Side Parking Is Planned On 2 Avenues in Carbondale

Parking on the west side of Illinois Avenue and the east side of University Avenue will be banned later this year by Carbondale City.

An ordinance calling for the ban was given its first reading by the City Council Tuesday night. It is expected to be passed after a second reading at next week's meeting.

The action is being taken to clear the way for construction of a one-way couple on University and Illinois this week.

The state has agreed to pay $353,000 of the construction cost. However, it has insisted that one lane of parking be eliminated in areas where the streets are less than 44 feet wide. Most of Illinois Avenue and all of University Avenue are less than 44 feet wide.

According to the ordinance, parking will be banned on one side of each of the streets from Sycamore Street on the north to Mill Street on the south. The ban is expected to be enforced late this year or early next year when the couple is opened.

At Tuesday's meeting the council also ordered the city's engineering consultants to determine if Carbondale cannot move backward to widen the two streets after the couple is completed.

Mayor D. Blaney Miller said officials hope to be able to widen the streets as soon as possible after the construction is completed so parking can be permitted on both sides.

When the couple is completed, University Avenue will be one way south and Illinois Avenue will be one way north.

Traffic Sign Theft

On the Increase

A rise in thefts of traffic signs has been reported by Jack Hazel, Carbondale police chief. Hazel said the number of traffic signs, mostly stop and parking control markers, being stolen has risen to the point that the Carbondale Street Department is unable to keep up with replacements.

Hazel indicated that his men have been alerted to watch for persons removing city signs and that anyone caught doing so will be charged with theft of city property.

SUU Cagers Noted By 'Sporting News'

By Bob Reincke

Southern's basketball team, ranked among the top 10 small college teams in the nation by both major wire services, received another notice this week from a two-page article in the Sporting News.

The article, written by Bill Braden of the Evansville Courier and Press, deals mainly with this year's team and the effect the new Arena may have on Southern's athletic future, even in sports other than basketball.

The fans at the basketball games got a little publicity of their own this past week, too, as United Press International sent a story across the wires about Southern fans.

The headline in Monday's Chicago Daily News, read:

"BOYD O'NEAL
"Students' Duck Calls Keep SUU Flying High."

* The Salukis, however, have managed to outguess their opponents, and have the most buzz of any team this season: The No. 6-ranked team has been coming to Southern. It falls far short of the 32 in a row his Coffeyville Junior College team racked up in the 1961-62 season.

Before the season started, Coach Hartman said that one of the biggest questions about the team was whether it had the ability to rebound. The Wednesday, Southern at the end of the year was the case. The Salukis have been overreached but once in the season, and only by the much taller quintet that Todd and Southern is outrebounding its opponents by an average of nine per game.

Of the 32 team starting only six teams had been named to compete in regionals by early this week. Besides SIU, those chosen were Central Missouri, Missouri State University, the University of Northern Idaho, Evansville and Ohio State.

The Salukis have met two of the six teams named. They lost to Eastern Illinois 81-80 but defeated Central Missouri 71-64. Both games were on the road.

Of the eight regional sites, only three are definite at this time - SIU, Central Missouri at Warrensburg, Mo., and Akron, Ohio.

Southern's Tennis Champions Plan Spring Drills, Tryouts

SUU's defending NCAA Division IV tennis champions opened their drills Saturday with a rosy outlook, although the team won’t be as rosy as that of a year ago.

Gone from last year's first undefeated team in the school's history are half of Coach Carl Sexton's top six who raked up 16 consecutive victories.

The 1 to 3 p.m. drill at the Arena Saturday will also serve as a tryout session, Sexton said, and anyone wishing to tryout for the team should report to the arena at that time.

Unavailable this year are Pacho Castillo and the Sprockemeyer brothers, Bob and Roy, but returning will be No. 1 singles performer, Lance Lumsden, and No. 5 man Al Pena and No. six man Thad Ferguson.

The three returning veterans will form a strong nucleus, Sexton still must come up with a trio to go with those that could be quite a problem since only one or two other men saw any action last year.

Sexton said the team will work out off and on indoors and will try to get as much as possible the rest of the term, as it prepares for the toughest part of its schedule early in the season.

The team will play five major schools on a nine-day trip to Kauai, Hawaii, where it will match with the University of Arizona March 20. The trip will include one of the two tournaments on the schedule, which will consist of 14 dual matches besides the tournament play.
