The Salukis also placed two players on the All-Tournament Team. Marlo Moreland, a sophomore outside hitter, was named the tournament’s MVP after totaling 47 kills in the three matches for an average of 5.2 per game. Debbie Barr, a freshman setter, accumulated 130 assists for an average of 13.3 per game.

Friday, the Salukis swept Evansville 15-9, 15-1 and 15-11 to drop the Aces’ record to 3-13. Overall and 2-7 in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Locke said Evansville gave the Salukis a good battle despite the outcome. “Evansville played us tough,” Locke said. “Even though the score doesn’t show it, they gave us a good game.”

Saturday afternoon, SIUC topped the University of Tennessee-Martin 15-9, 15-1 and 15-11. The Salukis then captured the championship over Northeastern Illinois University 15-6, 15-10 and 15-3. With the losses, UT-Martin drops to 6-13 overall, while NIU falls to 3-17 overall.

Locke said her team’s blocking and passing won the tournament. “We played strong and with a lot of confidence,” Locke said. “Our blocking and passing showed it. We’re on our way to victory.”

The Salukis improved to 10-10 overall and 5-4 in conference play with the victories. Currently in fifth place in the conference, SIUC will be playing to stay in the top six through its last nine conference games to advance to the MVC Tournament.

“Our main goal is to get into the tournament,” Locke said. “Once we’re in, we can look to win the championship. But right now, we’ve got to keep working hard and improving.”

Along with Moreland and Barr, Monique Galvin, a sophomore middle blocker, has stepped up for the young Saluki squad this season. Locke said her young players are becoming familiar with each other, which helps during conference play.

“Monique has really improved,” Locke said. “She’s doing great. It’s nice to come out of a week-end with a perfect record.” Barr said, “It’s exciting to make the (all-conference) team, but the credit also goes to my teammates.”

Moreland agreed with Barr and is looking forward to the rest of the season.

“It felt great because I hadn’t had one (an MVP) since high school,” Moreland said. “I think we’re more confident now, and we know we’re capable of winning two in a row.”

The Salukis face two conference challenges this weekend at third-place Southwest Missouri State Friday and ninth-place Wichita State on Saturday. Although both games are important, the Salukis are emphasizing Friday’s matchup with the Bears.

“Southwest is a crucial game,” Locke said. “It’s important to win both of these road games to help our chances for the tournament.”

A team had a plan in mind when schools in the nation. He wanted to show his squad that the differ­ schools with national rankings and the little-known Salukis from Carbondale were a myth, a farce and only a mind game.

"There was no pressure on them," Eitzkin said. "I just wanted them to see what

SIUC perfectly matched

By Ryan Keith
Daily Egyptian Reporter

The SIUC volleyball team met Coach Sonya Locke's expectations for the Evansville Invitational Tournament Friday and Saturday. The Salukis earned their fourth straight win and their first perfect weekend of the season by achieving a first-place tournament finish.

"To be honest, I would have been disappointed if we hadn't won the tournament," Locke said. "Going in, we expected to win the tournament. But to do it the way we did was very pleasing." SIUC rallied in victory in three straight games over tournament host University of Evansville Friday and the University of Tennessee-Martin Saturday before taking the championship in similar fashion with a three-game sweep of Northeastern Illinois University Saturday night.

FOOTBALL

Evansville Invitational Tournament expected to win the tournament. But on Saturday night.

The men's tennis team faced some tough competition against some nationally ranked teams at the University of Kentucky Tournament Friday through Sunday.

The tournament was based on individual play, and four Salukis came away with singles wins. The A and C flight doubles also walked away with one victory a piece.

Winning is always a bonus against a nationally ranked team, but Effer said the team's focus was on learning. "Mainly it (tournament) was all top-50 to top-100 teams, and that's the reason why I wanted us to go," Effer said. "I wanted us to realize that there is not that big of a gap or a difference."

The whole point of getting to the tournament was so they realized not to get hung up on what the name of the school is or what number they are ranked," Locke said. "Going in, we expected to win the tournament. But to do it the way we did was very pleasing." SIUC rallied in victory in three straight games over tournament host University of Evansville Friday and the University of Tennessee-Martin Saturday before taking the championship in similar fashion with a three-game sweep of Northeastern Illinois University Saturday night.

Tournament provides experience for netters

A school's name or ranking should by no means be an intimidating factor, first-year Saluki Men's Tennis Coach Brad Effer says.
