Both incumbents returned to council

By Pete Retzbach
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Incumbents Hans Fischer and Archie Jones were re-elected to the Carbondale City Council in Tuesday’s election. Fischer received the most votes of any candidate with 1,189. Archie Jones received 1,184 votes.

Challenger Dennis Adamczyk received 384 votes, while James Hewett received the least votes with 303.

Elisabeth Leighty, Carbondale city clerk, said the results of Tuesday’s election will not be official until Monday. A total of 3,089 votes, including six for write-in candidates, were cast in Tuesday’s election. There were 22 spoiled ballots which could not be counted into the totals.

Fischer received 39.5 per cent of all votes for write-in candidates. Jones got 31 per cent, while Adamczyk received 19.5 per cent.

Adamczyk’s strongest showing was in the heavily student-populated precincts of 22, 23 and 25. He carried these three precincts, receiving a total of 72 votes.

Precinct 23, also a student precinct, favored Fischer with 28 votes. Adamczyk received 16 less, or 18 votes, while Jones received 30 votes.

Out of all the student precincts, Adamczyk received about 39 per cent of the total student vote. Fischer got about 33 per cent, while Jones received 18.5 per cent of the total vote in the student precincts.

Jones carried precincts three, four and five. He received 188 votes, or 48 per cent, of the count. Fischer received about 32 per cent of the vote—91 total votes, counted in these three precincts.

Both winners carried their home precincts. Jones also received more votes than Adamczyk in Adamczyk’s home precinct.

Since some persons voted for only one candidate instead of two, the number of write-in ballots cast could not be determined Tuesday night.

“I’m very happy,” Fischer said of his victory. “My win seems fairly consistent across the community. The vote is what we expected.”

In the student precincts, Fischer’s lead was especially strong.

Jones thanked the people for voting and said he would do his best to serve all the people of Carbondale. He said he expected a light turnout, but not as light as it actually was.

Fischer also said he thought Adamczyk did well, especially with the students.

For write-in candidates, two blank lines will be provided on the ballot for voters who wish to write in names.

In the event a write-in candidate is elected, his qualifications will be decided upon by the election commission in the same manner as other candidates.

David Kenney, SIU political science professor, is finding new freedoms as well as new pressures in his job as director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Kenney, who started teaching at SIU in 1951, has been in Springfield on leave of absence from SIU since his appointment to the directorship by Gov. James Thompson in early February. He made several difference between his new job and his faculty position at SU Saturday in his office in Ferguson Hall.

“I’m more at a policy focal point now, the focus of a great many pressures stemming from clientele, legislature and bureaucracy,” he said. “It’s a lot more tense, a little faster than teaching. I’m obliged to work long hours, although in some ways the pressures are less. Teaching with a full load, day after day, is a very demanding way of life.

“I do a much greater variety of things now. My schedule is much more flexible. I spend a lot more time talking with people on a one-to-one basis or in small groups. I’m able to meet people who are interested in my philosophy and my work. I’m given more freedom in terms of doing what I believe is important.”

Kenney said that although budget and personnel matters were his, he was almost immediately involved in issues. The commission is currently considering the re-creation of a marsh area south of Pernia that has been organized and the use of recreational and off-road vehicles on state land, he said.

Kenney, a Carbondale native, has been returning to his home in Carbondale on weekends since he took over the directorship. On Friday he moved with his wife and two daughters into a house in Springfield which he has been renting for several weeks.

He will speak about his new job and some of the changes it has made in his life at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in Davis Auditorium as part of the SIU Masters of Public Affairs Program.

Gus says students may lose as beddy-by on Wednesday as they did on Tuesday if they don’t vote.

Student election polls on campus will open 8 a.m.

Polling places will open around campus at 8 a.m. Wednesday for Student Government elections.

All SIU students are eligible to vote in today’s elections. Voters must present student IDs and current fee statements at polling places.

Polling places will be open from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. at the dining halls in Room 1, University Park, and Thompson Point. Other locations are the north and south entrances of the Student Center, the courtyard of Wood, Home Economics Building, Lawson Hall, Communications Building, Technology Building, Health Service, the main entrance of Morris Library, the School of Technical Careers Student Center and the main entrance to the classroom at the Southern Illinois Airport.

For write-in candidates, two blank lines will be provided on the ballot for voters who wish to write in names.

In the event a write-in candidate is elected, his qualifications will be decided upon by the election commission in the same manner as other candidates.

6 candidates vie for top student post

The following is a list of candidates in Wednesday’s election for student body president, vice president and student trustee.

For student body president—Dennis Adamczyk, Environmental Action Party, a graduate student in public affairs; Pete Allison, independent candidate, senior in social welfare; Sam Dunning, independent candidate, sophomore in political science; E. Frank Marchlewski, independent candidate, senior in public relations; Garrick-Clinton Matthews, People’s Party, freshman in political science and business; Don Wheeler, Action Party, junior in political science and speech.

For student body vice president—Chris Ervin, independent write-in candidate, senior in radio and TV and public relations; Chris McMullen, Action Party, sophomore in public relations; Cindy Michaelson, independent candidate, sophomore in public relations; John Buckman, independent candidate, sophomore in political science.

For student trustee—Elizabeth Byrne, graduate in law; Robert Jenkins, political science; Tom McElheny, junior in political science; Craig Shanklin, in psychology; Robert Seely, graduate student in public visual communications.

For the West Side, seven senatorial seats are open. Thirteen candidates will be on the ballot. In addition, seven write-ins will contest for these seats.

On the East Side, 23 candidates and five write-ins will compete for five senatorial seats.

At Brush Towers, one seat is open and one write-in candidate will compete for that position.

At University Park, one seat is open and one write-in candidate will compete for that position. No official candidate will be on the ballot.

At Thompson Point, four official candidates and two write-ins will compete for one and one-half seats.

The candidate who tallies the most votes here will win a full-term seat on the senate and the runner-up will win a half-term position.

Backlog of legislation awaits return of Illinois legislators

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois legislators returned to the state Capitol after a three-week Easter and Passover recess facing a heavy workload and the prospect of the first weekend meeting of the spring session.

The House plans to meet on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, with both chambers considering dozens of bills, including those that would create a new state water police force, impose a 1 percent sales tax to pay down pension obligations, provide public money for Pritzker's $2 billion economic development effort and give local government more control over property assessment.

The Senate will consider a package of measures to make it easier for municipal and county governments to sue people who pose a danger to themselves or others.

This week marks the halfway point of the 98th General Assembly, and lawmakers face a number of important deadlines, including May 31, a day when bills must pass both chambers to remain in the running for consideration in the fall.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment is valid, at least in part, for public school students from spankings by teachers, even when the students are convicted minor criminals, the Supreme Court ruled Tuesday.

But Justice Lewis F. Powell, writing for the majority in the 5-4 ruling, noted that students still have the right to use teachers and school administrators when they report criminal behavior, and he recommended that states adopt policies that protect criminals from the same punishment, the Supreme Court ruled Tuesday.

Council accepts water plant bid

A bid for the funding bond issue to improve the Northwest Water Treatment plant was accepted by the City Council after a special meeting Tuesday.

The bid submitted by the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago was the lowest of the six bids submitted. The company proposed a $4.5 million bond issue at an interest rate of 3.96 percent.

Sergen, city director of finance, said the Northern Trust Co. submitted the lowest bid among the six submitted by the city.

carted plan may hike gas seven cents

By Tom Russain
Associated Press Writer
Washington (AP) — The House curve, President Carter will ask Congress to approve substantial price increases for gasoline and electricity, reflecting a new campaign to win approval for a White House on the President's energy proposals.

If the President's program is approved, it could add about seven cents per gallon of gasoline by 1991 and another four or five cents a gallon by 1981, said Rep. Thomas P. Brooks, D-Mich., stressing that this would be in addition to a possible "standby" gasoline tax of up to 30 cents a gallon if U.S. gasoline prices rise substantially.

Ashley, an Ohio Democrat who will head a select House committee that will study the President's energy proposals, said there was one of a number of congressmen briefing committee members with White House energy adviser James R. Schlesinger.

Carter will spell out his proposals in a joint House-Senate Wednesday evening meeting. On Monday, Carter said he was in a nationally televised address that the United States faces a possible "national catastrophe" unless still conservative measures are adopted.

Deputy White House Press Secretary Rex Granum said Tuesday that initial telephone reaction to Carter's说法 was heavily in favor of Carter's views.

Carter addressed a group of congressmen over breakfast and, according to participants, CARTER said he was politically unpopular but that worried that "the basic fabric of our society may be in trouble, if it is not already proved." He "seemed very much aware of the political realities," said Assistant House Majority Leader John Brademas, D-Ind.

Although drafts of Carter's plan have been widely circulated during the past week, it was the first time members of Congress have publicly confirmed its key elements.

Carter will call for a standby gasoline tax of five cents a gallon per year, to be imposed beginning in 1979, up to a maximum of 50 cents per gallon, according to Senate Commerce Committee Chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash. (AP) energy program, said to cost billions in working costs.

This tax would only take effect if gasoline consumption did not decrease over the next five years. If the tax is four cents a gallon.

Baker, who said he received a private 40-minute briefing from Schlesinger on Tuesday, said details provided by the energy panel agreed almost exactly with published accounts of what would be proposed.

These include the standby gasoline tax, price increases for oil and natural gas, a stiff tax on fuel-efficient "gas car" and a "gas-guzzling" car, with rebates for fuel-efficient cars, and tax credits for home insulation and solar energy.

Ashley, in an interview, said that recent attention to the proposed standby gasoline tax overshadows another part of Carter's program that he said is just as important. That is high gas prices for gasoline and other fuels.

"I'm concerned about the danger of a tax on domestic oil that would bring it up to world-market prices by 1981 in two stages." The tax, he said, would add a tax to domestic oil that would bring it up to world-market prices by 1981 in two stages.

"The implications of that obviously haven't been fully realized by the American public," Ashley said.

"We're talking about very, very substantial increases in oil and natural gas.

He said that the higher oil prices would cause a 22 cents a gallon to the price of gasoline by 1979 and "four or five cents" more by 1981.

Ashley said Schlesinger indicated the administration has not yet decided how to get the revenues from these new taxes back into the economy to help low-income Americans pay their fuel bills and for other related purposes.

On the issue of the standby gasoline tax that is due up to 50 cents a gallon, Jackson told reporters, "I don't think that's as important as the other measures, "

However, Jackson said he fully supported the idea of the "gas-guzzler" tax ranging from $400 to as high as $2,500.

"One of the Senate Minority Leader Thomas B. Baker's ideas was to subsidize," O'Neill said. "I don't think that legislation would come to a floor vote in the House until next September, so complex and controversial are its provisions.

Hassan: Cubans among invaders of Zaire

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Moroccan expeditionary force in Zaire has "absolutely certain" proof that Cuban soldiers are among the invaders of eastern Zaire.

Hassan said investigation of a prisoner taken in fighting west of Kisangani, the copper mining center of eastern Zaire, showed that Cubans and white Angolans were part of the "military command, logistic and training structure of the invading force." Cuba and Angola are allies, and for Zaire, the decision could deeply affect the future of the administration in the Zairian war, which they have termed a "purely internal affair.

Farm crops to get higher price supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has agreed to support higher federal price supports for major farm crops for the next four years.

The new levels will more than double the potential cost of the farm programs, the President said.

Carter said the new program would be called the "Basic Price Support Program." Whereas the new administration program is expected to cost about $1 billion.

Arson suspect in Galveston fire

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Firemen dug out half a dozen bodies and searched for others Tuesday in the smoldering debris of a 66-year-old hotel where at least 12 were missing. Police suspected arson.

A spokesman for John Sealy Hospital said four were admitted, with their conditions ranging from minor cuts to head injuries.

It was shortly before 2 a.m. when the fire broke out in three locations simultaneously, police said. It spread rapidly, sealed off the Central Hotel's narrow entrance, and burned the five-story brick building to the ground.

Bilandic wins democratic nomination

CHICAGO (AP) —Acting Mayor Michael A. Bilandic, backed by the Chicago City Council, won the Democratic nomination Tuesday night for re-election as mayor in an election complicated by a police strike.

With 494,385 votes, reporting, it was 60,936 for Bilandic and 43,394 for his nearest rival, Alderman Roman C. Pacasinski, who was the first mayoral election in Chicago in which Daley, who died Dec. 20 of a heart attack, was not running.
Deserters return to Canada after slates cleared in U.S.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Nils F. Swenson, a noncombat deserter who returned to the United States just long enough Tuesday to officially get out of the United States, then deserted during the Vietnam war, said he will become more involved with fund raising.

Mace said he will assume the major portion of the duties of the director of development. Mace said he has already assumed some of the duties and has increased his share as his responsibilities to the legislative liaison position have been taken over by Clyde Choate, who took that position in January.

Deserters return to Canada when SIU to 'hold back' hiring

By Anne Schetsman

SIU will not hire a professional fund raiser unless there is a reversal of the current trend of increased contributions, says George Mace, vice-president for University relations.

An eight-month search for a director of development ended in February when SIU could not find any candidates experienced in fund-raising programs to take the $30,000 a year position.

Mace said Monday he had met with President Wayne Brandt in the last two weeks about the position and the two men agreed SIU would "hold back" before making a commitment to pay the $30,000 to $45,000 a year salary needed to attract a fund-raiser who has had experience at another university.

Contributions from 1964 through 1973 totalled about $45 million. Contributions for 1977 to SIU aren't available yet.

Mace said he will assume the major portion of the duties of the director of development. Experience must qualify candidates for student offices

In the last couple of weeks, we have had the pleasure of reading what the candidates for Student Body President and Vice President want to do. The basic pitch is, make me Student Body President and I will talk to you and get a lot of things done. But there is a catch to this; these people do not have to be Student Body President to get most things done. Here is a short list of things that people have done without that title, gather petitions to present to the Board of Trustees, participate in recycling projects, meet with the Mayor of Carbondale, speak to the City Council, go before the Illinois Commerce Commission to oppose utility rate increases, change fee deliberation plans, fund a ran-for-the-Senator campaign, and develop a text book exchange, go out and talk to students, and hold press conferences to publicize important issues. So I propose that you do yourself a favor, write in their names for Senate, they will be right on the ballot so you can spell some of the difficult names.

Who should be elected President and Vice President? Don Wheeler and Chris McMullen. Why? They have something going for them and their experience speaks for itself. The bureaucracy takes a knowledge of who will help you get the things done. But Don and Chris have a year of experience and look what it has produced after three months in a Student Attorney position. Part of a fee increase was lifted, the cost of Student Government this year, and they cut the cost of Student Government this year.

My proposal is that we let Wheeler and McMullen win. At least the other candidates where they will do you the most good, on the Student Senate. Jim Wire.

Thompson Woods must be made safer at night

Women make up 27 per cent of the SIU Student Body and careful consideration should be given to their special needs. Sufficient action has not been taken by the current student government and does not appear in the Student Government candidates' statements published in today's paper.

Supposedly, Student Government is the voice and servant of the student body, but student needs and demands have been overlooked by Student Government in the past. Determined serious-minded leadership has been lacking here at SIU. It is time to start fulfilling the demands and needs of students on this campus.

The Environmental Action Party has organized to do just that. We are going to support efforts to implement new and innovative programs for students through Student Government. Two of these programs which the Environmental Action Party, as a team, will be working to attain are: the establishment of a rape prevention program and a nighttime transportation system for women students.

In addition, we feel that a women's center should be established on campus, and a degree program in Women's Studies be organized here at SIU. The Feminist Union has united, in part, to address these issues; we support their goals, and hope to work with them to further this end. Our purpose is to resolve these issues; we support their goals, and hope to work with them to further this end. Student Center rush hour traffic is needless

I find that I most heartily agree with the editorial presented on page 2, "Politics as usual? Not with Dunning." I believe that if we wish to achieve a more responsible and effective government, we must address the issue of student representation. The current system, which relies on the selection of candidates through informal means, often results in representatives who are not truly reflective of the student body's interests and concerns. This is problematic, as decisions made by these representatives can have a significant impact on our lives.

As a result, I am calling for a more formal and transparent selection process for student representatives. This could involve the creation of a formal student government at the university level, with the goal of ensuring that all students have a say in the decisions that affect them. This would involve the development of a formal process for nominating and selecting candidates, as well as procedures for holding elections and ensuring that the voices of all students are heard.

I believe that such a system would lead to a more effective and representative student government, which in turn would result in better decisions and a more engaged student body. I urge all students to support this initiative and work towards creating a more inclusive and accountable student government.

Movie shows terror

By Karen M. Flaman
Graduate Student Writer

Talk of the campus is plans and mix well with one prophetic bumper sticker "Be the man your father thought you should be." A concerned student agent, an aging counter-terrorist, television news images of violence, intrigue, the Gogaboom bumper and you have the recipe for the film "Black Sunday." Black Sunday reveals the vice and danger of the modern terrorist as a slow, methodical and sometimes dull manner with an explosion and violence interspersed between drama sequences.

Robert Shaw, an Israeli counter-terrorist, is a good but not seriously near at his best. He shows little or no emotion throughout the film with one exception. As the body of his young cohort is placed on an airplane bound for home, Shaw portrays the intense loneliness, hurt and fear one feels when confronted by the death of a friend without uttering one word.

A review

Bruce Dern as the psychopathic plot gives an intense performance. Realizing the transition from a Navy Vietnam prince camp back to American society is impossible, he blames his inability to cope on society itself and on the need and duty and the man who compose society.

In order to tell the last laugh, being along with Martha Keller, a Black September activist, engineer a plan to destroy everyone attending the Superbowl, including the President of the United States. Based on the real last laugh, along with Martha Keller, the actual mastermind of the plot, engages the end of the Arab terrorist movement. Black September to finance Dern's attempt in retaliation for U.S. aid to Israel.

Black Sunday is full of people working toward the same goals for conflicting reasons. Dern wants to kill all the Americans for what they did to him, while Black September wants the destruction in order to prevent further aid to Israeli security.

On the other side of the coin, the FBI, Polish and Secret Service are trying to prevent the disaster because the people to be killed are Americans. Shaw's mission is twofold; he has already seen too much death and destruction in his lifetime and is trying to maintain the existing but precarious relationship between the United States and Israel.

Although the film is a client one, a subtle analogy is developed in involving the differences and similarities between physical violence and a kind of mental violence which threatens the lives of the characters at the same time. Frankenheimer's skill as a director is quite obvious as the goal of the action sequences is to make every scene a potential battle. He is at his best when faced with the types of technical and strategic challenges that Black Sunday has to offer.

Based on the bestselling novel by the same name, the film script fails to develop a continuity between the characters, their hopes, their ideals, their goals and their eventual fate.

The writers seemingly had a good time with the screenplay but neglected to include many essential elements that were necessary to make Black Sunday an outstanding film.

The past several years have seen scores of disaster movies come and go, with each one film being different from the other only in terms of type of disaster it dealt with. Films are faced with a new and before unthought of enemy in spite of its obvious shortcomings. Black Sunday is a welcome change from the run-of-the-mill disaster film.

Lasernium trip planned

The Student Government Activities Council (SGAC) is sponsor of a group of SIU students to Lasernium, a fusion of music and incredible colors, produced with laser rays and mirrors.

The Lasernium show is at Mc- Donald's Planetarium in St. Louis and the cost of the trip is $15 which includes round-trip transportation and the cost of the admission ticket. Each performance of Lasernium is unique, with multi-colored clouds, vibrating shapes and undulating patterns filling the stage. All of the visuals are laser-created with the brightness, sharpest defined lines ever seen and in completely safe.

The bus to St. Louis will leave the Student Center at 4:30 p.m. and ticket information can be obtained by calling the SGAC Office at 536-5506.

COUNCIL APPROVES $20 MILLION BUDGET — FATTIEST IN CITY HISTORY

By Patsie Raley
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Carbondale City Council formally approved a budget of $29 million for its fiscal 1977-78 budget — the largest budget in the city's history.

Almost half of the budget, more than $13 million, is going toward construction and planned improvements within the city. This capital and improvement budget was approved by the council earlier this year.

The $20.3 million budget includes more than $1 million for the city police and fire departments. The police allocation increases $250,000 over the fiscal year and the fire allocation increases $550,000 over last year.

The $1.3 million police budget allotment includes money for a better dispatch center. Some of the money — $30,000 — was given to the city from the federal government through hurricane grants.

The fire department will use its money for more personnel. A new Fire Safety and Inspection Bureau will be created because of an increase in floods. More ranking personnel to aid firefighters in emergency situations will be hired, too. The fire department budget was cut.

Paul Sorges, the new finance director, said the highest overall increase is about 15 percent for water and sewer utilities. Sorges said that is largely due to the power company's ability to increase the price last year.

Another $1.7 million proposal was put into the budget to cover the cost of Illinois Central Gulf railroad relocation planning. The city has yet to receive money from the federal government, but the expenditure was placed in the budget in case the city receives the money within the fiscal year. The money would go toward design of the relocation project and land acquisition.

About $2.1 million is allocated toward the improvement of the Northwest Wastewater Treatment Plant. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) has said that the plant needs improvement and placed a sewer ban on the city sanitary system.

More than $1.5 million will be reimbursed by the federal EPA. About $600,000 will be paid by the seven-year general obligation bond issue the city floated this month.

The refuse and collection disposal account has almost leveled off. In the past, the operating revenue was considered by numerous grants and funds from sources outside the city. The program is currently losing money and the fiscal budget expenditure will not be enough to bring the account back up.

One way to get the account out of debt would be to require refuse pickup from the city proper only. Another proposal would be to increase the pickup service by three cents a month.

The proposed pickup service would give about $11,000 additional into the revenue budget. The mandatory refuse collection would add as much as $65,000 to the revenue budget.

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds are a major source of city revenue. The $6.4 million from the CDBG program is about one-fifth of the total revenue. The new federal legislation could spell the end of the CDBG program in the next few years and the impact on the city could be considerable.

Besides the CDBG funds, other sources of revenue include funds from sales tax, state income tax, motor fuel tax and property taxes.

Liquor license denied for restaurant, bar

By Sue Green
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

In a split decision, the Carbondale Liquor Central Commission denied a request for a Class B liquor license for a planned combination restaurant and bar in downtown Carbondale.

Bogart's, the proposed business, was to be located near the Dairy Queen between Cherry Street and West Hospital Drive. Edgar Enterprises, Inc. planned to renovate and remodel two existing residential structures into a restaurant and bar.

Parking facilities and the ability of remodeled buildings to meet city fire and safety codes were causes the commission considered in denying the license.

Although businesses located in the downtown area are not required to provide parking under the current zoning ordinances, the commission decided parking was a problem to consider.

George Tewmey, a Carbondale attorney representing the First National Bank and Trust Co., said the bank was concerned about the business "possible effect on their parking lot. The lot is located directly south of the proposed site."

The bank's large restricted parking area is often used by people frequenting the downtown area.

Commission member Hans Pflueger said the parking problem was not the fault of the bank or Edgar Enterprises but that the commission should consider the problem.

Pflueger also said he questioned the feasibility of renovating the structures to the point where they would comply to city codes.

"Even if the minimum codes were met," Fisher said, "from a practical standpoint complete fireproofing is not feasible.

The commission decided in a 3 to 2 vote to deny the license request.

Commission members Archie Jones, who chairs the City Council, and Helen Wendberg voted against granting the license. Joe Dakin and Neil Reeker, commission members, voted in favor of granting the request.

In another action, a Class B liquor license was granted to the Carbondale Briar House 622 E. Main St. by request by John Karagianes to convert his liquor operations was denied.

Council tables land proposal

Robert Schuhof, an attorney representing Edgar Enterprises, said the corporation thought it had met all local ordinances and specifications. He said that if parking availability is a problem, the City Council should address that problem throughout the year.

The corporation's option on purchasing the land, expires April 18. Schuhof said the company is trying to take two bad areas in the downtown and redevelop them.

Gary Lotz, president of the corporation, told the commission that renovating the residential structures was feasible, showing the members photographs of a home he had turned into a home near Carbondale.

The commission decided in a 3 to 2 vote to deny the license request.

Commission members Archie Jones, who chairs the City Council, and Helen Wendberg voted against granting the license. Joe Dakin and Neil Reeker, commission members, voted in favor of granting the request.

In another action, a Class B liquor license was granted to the Carbondale Briar House 622 E. Main St. by request by John Karagianes to convert his liquor operations was denied.

Blood drive needs donors to meet goal

About 800 blood donors are needed if the Red Cross Blood Drive is to meet its goal of 1,000 pints, according to Marie Fisher, St. Louis Field representative for the Red Cross Blood Program.

Fisher said she has received about 800 pledges from persons willing to donate blood, but probably between 10 to 15 per cent of those persons will either be rejected or will not show up.

Persons can still make appointments to give blood from 9 a.m. until 3:45 p.m. in Ballroom D of the Student Center for the rest of the week. Fisher said persons can also give blood on a walk-in basis, she said.

The blood drive began Monday in the United Methodist Church, 214 W. Main St. Fisher said 100 persons donated blood, most of them non-students from Carbondale.

Most donations each semester come from students. Fisher said, so the blood drive moved to the Student Center on Tuesday.

Fisher said she did not know how many donations were received last semester. "But about 1,000 pints sounds right."

At any price
you can afford to be choosy.

Because the value of every diamond is determined by four characteristics (cut, color, clarity and carat weight), you can always use these qualities to your best advantage.

Perhaps you're attracted by the grandeur of a large diamond. Well, sometimes a large stone can cost as much as a smaller one. Simply because it has a little more color or a delicate birthmark hidden inside.

On the other hand, you may feel size isn't the most important quality. Then you could choose a diamond that's small, but perfectly cut to sparkle with an icy-white elegance.

In any case, you'll be able to find one to suit your personality. Because each one is an individual, with its own combination of characteristics.

And you can use these qualities any way you wish, to help you decide what's precisely right for you.

But the important thing to remember is to buy a diamond engagement ring you'll be happiest with. You'll be sharing it for a lifetime with someone you love.

And for that reason alone, you should be choosy.

A diamond is forever.

Senators never policed private calls of peers

SPRINGFIELD (AP) - Two former Illinois Senate presidents said today that although their signatures went on the Senate telephone bill each month, they never felt it was their job to routinely question their colleagues about out-of-state calls.

"That's a very difficult thing to police because of the personal relationship between the Senate presidents and other senators," said former Sen. William C. Harris, R-Pontiac.

The senators were elected officials, just like I was," said former Sen. Cecil Parker, D-Chicago.

The two men were interviewed separately as part of a six-week Associated Press investigation into the legislative telephone system.

The investigation, which focused only on a small part of the $400,000 annual legislative telephone tab, showed taxpayers have been stuck with the bill for dozens of personal out-of-state calls placed from legislative telephones.

The Senate telephone records for calendar year 1976 were inspected, and several instances were isolated in which legislators admitted that either they or someone else placed personal calls out of state at taxpayer expense.

House Speaker William A. Redmond, D-Bensenville, refused to permit inspection of House telephone records, however. He said they were "confidential.

No written rules exist for use of the legislative telephone system.

Saddle Club horseshow planned for Saturday

More than 106 horses from Southern Illinois will jump, race and be put through their paces at a horseshow Saturday at SIU.

The horseshow, sponsored by the Saluki Saddle Club, is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. on the field south of the Arena and east of Abe Martin baseball diamond. Spectators will be able to watch 20 different classes until late afternoon.

"We're striving to get all different types of horseman together for a fun, friendly kind of show," Doug Vineyard, manager of the show and Vineyard, who breeds and shows Appaloosas, explained. The show has classes for individual breeds along with classes for all breeds. The entry fee for each class is $3, and ribbons and trophies will serve as prizes.

Arab, Appaloosa and Quarter horses will pose in the morning for the horse's "beauty contest" known as a halter class. In the afternoon horses will gallop around barrels and poles in racing contests.

The show, the first sponsored by the club since Oct. 1974, will be free to spectators.

Co-founder of Viet center dies

Wesley R. Fishel, a visiting professor who helped establish the Vietnamese Study Center at SIU, died Thursday in Lansing, Mich. He was 57.

Mr. Fishel, who was a visiting research professor of political science at Michigan State University, came to SIU as a visiting instructor in 1969. The editor of the Southeast Asia quarterly magazine at SIU, Mr. Fishel was a target of antiwar critics for his work with the center.

Mr. Fishel left SIU in 1971 and returned his teaching position at MSU. He is survived by his father, Clarence, wife, Jane; two sons, Michael and Lawrence, two daughters, Barbara and Mrs. Carolyn Sargent.
Do you want to work for a large company, or a large, growing company? The answer can make a big difference in your future.

EDS is large enough to be termed successful, yet still small enough to offer major opportunities to outstanding young people beginning their careers.

Our business is the design, implementation and operation of large scale information processing systems. Our specialty is the very large, complex, integrated, long term, operational environment.

Our industry will double in size by 1980. EDS is one of the most respected firms in the computer services industry, with an excellent record of growth, profitability, and a strong financial position.

At EDS advancement is based solely on performance without regard to artificial barriers such as sex, race, religion, national origin, or seniority. At EDS, your growth will be limited only by your capabilities.

EDS needs highly motivated people with a strong commitment to succeed in the business world.

If you have the personal characteristics we are looking for, don’t be discouraged because you have not taken computer courses in college. We have trained most of our people through one of our development programs, and we anticipate training you.

Women’s movie roles reflect men’s fantasies, says critic

By Dick Porter

Women’s movie roles reflect men’s fantasies, says critic. "We have seen the type of women who have been portrayed in movies through the years. "Big stars should be held accountable for the kind of films they make," Rosen said, because of the effect they have on the public.

"But there are no more women’s roles, no big women stars seen, Rosen said.

"It’s significant that the only female in the top 10 box office stars is Tatum O’Neal." Rosen said. She said that the focus in movies today is not toward the adult female but toward the child. The depiction of girls as demi-gods in such movies as "The Exorcist" and "Dressed to Kill.", Rosen said, peaks up a current misogyny in our characters.

Rosen is from New York and has a master’s degree in television-film-communication arts from New York University. Her lecture was sponsored by the College of Communications and Fine Arts, the Department of Cinema and Photography, and the Student Activities Council.

Nations’s rivers recede with mid-April drought

WASHINGTON (AP — April showers may bring some much-needed relief in the drought-plagued West, but the flow in rivers and streams remains well below normal, according to the U.S. Geological Survey.

Only two of 40 streams checked in the drought area were flowing at about normal rates and 25 were at least 60 percent below normal in March, officials said.

The levels of underground water used for wells, springs and reservoirs also were below normal, despite some precipitation.

Survey officials said the nation’s "Big Five" rivers had a total flow of 1,910 billion cubic feet in March, down 12 percent from normal, according to the Survey.

Spot checks of water available in California streams showed the Smith River near Crescent City was 63 percent below normal and the Sacramento River at Verona was 22 percent above normal.

Total storage in the Central Valley reservoirs is reported to be less than half of the 1980 average.

In Colorado mountain streams, the Arkansas River at Portland was 56 percent below normal, the Yampa at Steamboat Springs was 55 percent above normal, and the Animas at Durango was 71 percent below average.

Missouri River near St. Paul, Minn., was 82 percent above average and the Minnesota River near-Jordan, Minn., was 88 percent below normal.

$60 reported forcibly stolen from local man

Sixty dollars in currency and two blank checks are alleged to have been forcibly stolen early Tuesday morning from Michael Smith, 26, of 508 S. Rawlings. Carbondale police said the theft happened in the 300 block of East College Street.

Police said Smith stated he walked out of his front porch, where he was attacked by a man, described as in his 30s, who knocked Smith to the ground and removed the items from him.

$200 in albums taken from store

Albums worth about $200 were reported to have been taken from Blue Moon Records, 735 S. Illinois Ave., sometime over the weekend. Carbondale police said Tuesday.

Police said the manager of the store, Robert Walston, reported the burglary Monday morning. The west windows were broken out and the albums were removed.

Police have no suspects at this time. An investigation is continuing.

Man cut, another struck in fight

One man was cut in the face with a knife and another was knocked unconscious with a club in a fight early Tuesday morning on the 100 block of East College Street, according to police.

Robert Thompson, 25, of 1014 E. College St., and Charles Graham, 30, of 300 E. Elm St., began fighting after Graham attempted to enter the apartment of Thompson's ex-wife, police said.

Graham allegedly cut Thompson with a knife, after which Thompson allegedly picked up a club and struck Graham near the head, police said.

Both were taken to Memorial Hospital. Police said Thompson was later released, while Graham was kept for observation.

No charges have been filed as of yet.

Scientists use soybeans for fake steaks

By Henry Goldsby
Associated Press Writer

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Rutgers University scientists are doing their best to manufacturer these steaks out of soybeans.

"It's just an engineering problem," says Dr. Stephen S. Chang. "The hard part is getting it to taste like a T-bone steak.

Chang and his colleagues at the school's department of food science have a $300,000 National Science Foundation grant to study ways of making soybeans taste like meat and potatoes—or fish or ham—without milk, or anything else—as long as it tastes better than soybeans.

Soybeans are widely known for their high protein content. As world demand for protein increases scientists are beginning to think that the planet's hungry billions may soon be eating soybeans instead of animal protein.

"Unfortunately soybeans don't taste good," says Chang. "They have a beany and bitter taste. We're trying to do a basic study to find out what is responsible for the objectionable flavor. We also do basic research on what gives other foods their good flavor.

Here's how Chang hopes to build the perfect T-bone soybean steak. The first goal is to get the right smell. Everyone knows if you hold your nose while eating, it's hard to taste your food.

Chang will take 300 pounds of T-bone steak, cook it in his laboratory kitchen and let it simmer for eight hours under a sophisticated apparatus. As the smell evaporates off the steak the machine collects the odor-laden air molecules, which is converted into a liquid.

Chang then studies the hundreds of different types of molecules in each food's aroma and tries to synthesize them by chemicals.

Once the smell is ready— and that's the hard part—the cosmetics begin.

If Chang invents he has steak, or soybean peanut butter, soybean cocoa or soybean french fries, the patent will be leased by Rutgers University to food companies. He said many of the companies are doing similar research.
Golfers' lineup still unsettled

By Dave Henne
Daily Egyptian Sports Editor

After SIU golf Coach Jim Barnett ran his team through a practice routine Wednesday, he was surprised to decide which golfers would make up the six-man traveling squad.

However, the lineup he came up with like Barnett had hoped. "I'm still trying to make a decision," said Barnett. "Plainfield and Oak Meadows didn't prove what I wanted it to."

Barnett was hopeful that one or two of his golfers would make a mid-season improvement and join the six others and lock up the No. 5 or 6 spots on the team. It didn't turn out that way, as a matter of fact none of the golfers shot well.

All-America candidate Jim Brown, Jay Wijender, Jim Berry and Walt Soliseguis make up four of the squad, while Harrell Shaffer, Jack Haller, Kevin Klein and Tom Coffey are candidates for the last two spots.

"There wasn't any real separation between those guys," said Barnett.

Blaha said Michigan State scored 286 Saturday, which ties them at a 75 average over the 76 course. Blaha said the best weather she had ever seen at Illinois' Savoy course made for better scoring conditions. Temperatures in the 80's with slight winds made for fine playing conditions both days.

"We played much better the second day," Blaha said. "One of our players is new in the college ranks and I believe I was getting in sand trouble. The second day I was playing short of the greens and pitched it. I worked better than the field two days."

Despite the low scoring, SIU's Rody Johnson won the final round Monday with a 72 and a 148 total. Rody Johnson also won the Illinois Challenge Match over Illinois' Bill Wooden Sunday afternoon with a 1-under-par 69 at the Dickson Golf Course.

Women netters

"B' team set

The SIU women's 'B' tennis team will face Southeast Missouri State Wednesday at Cape Girardeau in its first match of the season. The team is composed of Theresa Breite, Trudy Schuh, Amy Wheel, Kim MacDonald, Lee Rigbin and Shida Washabaugh. Except for Breite and Schuh, who have played in matches on the A team already this year, the other four players have been practicing for a month without playing any matches.

Coach Judy Addo said the match will be interesting because Wheel, Schuh and Washabaugh will be playing their first matches for SIU.

Brewers win 5-4 over Oakland A's

OAKLAND (AP) — The Milwaukee Brewers ran their winning streak to five and their season record to 7-3 with a 5-4 victory over the Oakland A's Monday.

"We played nine great ones," Milwaukee Manager Alex Grammas said of his team, which finished in the American League East cellar last season but is in the thick of the standings now.

IM racquetball played, roommates sweep titles

Bob Kasberg and Neal Scheyer continued to sweep the intercollegiate racquetball tournament championships in singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

Kasberg and Scheyer, who share an apartment and are both members of the SIU Racquetball Club, also have similar talents when it comes to racquetball.
Four years ago, the Missouri Valley Conference was a very weak conference. Today, they are one of the best in the nation.

Three years ago, SIU joined the Valley, which is probably the only thing that kept the conference alive. Two years ago, only five teams were playing for the championship. Before that, there weren't even enough teams playing baseball for the winner to get a bye into the NCAA tournament. And this year? Where is the Valley? It seems like it's one of the teams to beat this year.

Sure, it has stabilized somewhat with the addition of Creighton, Seton Hall, and Indiana State; but the Valley is still nationally regarded as a weak conference— even in basketball.

The Valley Conference is still in the same situation that it was a year ago, and the future looks the same unless someone does something about it. That someone should be Holmes, but he has an attitude. He doesn't want to face the truth. Murray had a very good season since regaining the Valley Conference football game. Murray doubled to score with Kevin Hilltopper slidding home with one in the third inning. The game was over eight innings, with a 3-1 win for Murray.

It's never easy to make possible full slates of conference football games and to capitalize on interest-building rivalries by some sensible scheduling in basketball.

The Valley Conference is still in the same position that it was a year ago, and the future looks the same unless someone does something about it. That someone should be Holmes, but he has an attitude. He doesn't want to face the truth. Murray had a very good season since regaining the Valley Conference football game. Seven in a row for Saluki nine after 7-0 win

By Lee Freisweng

Daily Egyptian Sport Writer

Rickey "Buster" Keeton threw six innings and George Vukovich drove in four runs as the Saluki baseball team won its seventh straight with a 7-0 win over the Western Ken­ tucky Hilltoppers Tuesday at Abe Mar­ tin Field.

The Salukis were originally scheduled to play a doubleheader, but rain delayed the start of the first contest and instead of the seven-inning affair, just one six-inning game was played.

Keeton seemed to recapture some of the form he had last year when he was the starting pitcher and the pitching staff with an 8-1 record and a 2.22 ERA. In Tuesday's game the right-hander struck out eight and allowed just three hits in the six innings.

"Coach (Mark) Newman worked real hard with Buster all week on his pitching," said coach Jones after the game. Keeton, 3-1 this season, agreed it was the key to his suc­ cess.

"Before this game my ERA was high because I had no breaking pitch," Keeton said, "so the batters were waiting for the fastball and beating it. Today I had a good slider, which kept them off stride and made my fastball look faster."

The Salukis hit the Hilltoppers early. Third baseman Bill and George Vukovich drove in three runs apiece and Saluki nine won 7-0. The hit was hit off a single and scored on Vukovich's homer and SIU led 4-0 after three.

Keeton led off the fourth and third when catcher Steve Stiehl walked and scored on a wild pitch. Jones doubled to score House, and Neil Fiala bunted Murray to third. Murray doubled to house, and Fiala was out at third. SIU led 6-0.

Stiehl doubled to lead off the fifth. Murray hit a drive to left that cleared the fence for a solo homer. Fiala then hit a double and was stranded on third when catcher Steve Stiehl walked and pinch runner Mike Johnson, who was hit by a pitch, was thrown out at third. SIU came on a Vukovich single, his fourth hit.

The seventh run came on an SIU back door play. Designated hitter Bruce Harris, pinch runner Touri, pinch hitter and shortstop Jerry Dellmire walked. Designated hitter Gene Vukovich hit a single that scored Touri and pinch hitter Johnson. Fiala hit a sacrifice fly to deep left.

SIU picked up two more in the fifth. Murray hit a drive to left that cleared the fence for a solo homer. Fiala then hit a double and was stranded on third when catcher Steve Stiehl walked and pinch runner Mike Johnson, who was hit by a pitch, was thrown out at third. SIU came on a Vukovich single, his fourth hit.

The Saluki team offense was powered by Kevin House and George Vukovich. House led off the game three times and scored twice, while Vukovich drove in four runs and scored four times.

Saluki Neil Fiala slides home with one of SIU's seven runs in Tuesday's shutout over Western Ken­ tucky. The home plate umpire looks relaxed enough, only because the ball has already passed the catcher. The Salukis face Evansville Wednesday for a twin bill at Abe Martin Field. Girls place in state gym meet

By virtue of their performances at the YMCA girls state meet held at the Arena last weekend four Jackson County participants will compete in the state meet at the University of Kansas scheduled April 30 at Highland Park.

Libby Paine, Drake Drone, Karen Stocks and Linda Paine, all of Car­ bondale, will compete. Crackel, Drose and Libby Paine, who placed fourth in the all-around competitions in their respective age Athletic Director P.A. Dry's Ken­ tucky Family YMCA placed third in the state meet with 323 team points. Twenty-seven teams and 280 par­ ticipants competed in the meet, which was won as a conference game.

During SIU's Christmas break. That also doesn't make much sense. Who makes out the Valley schedules? Mickey Holmes.

In basketball, the Valley tournament was to be held at SIU last year, but because not enough conference schools played basketball for the winner to get an automatic bye to the NCAA tournament, the Valley tournament was canceled.

So this year, the tournament has been moved to Omaha, site of the College World Series.
