72 Registered For Cosmetology School

10th Annual Event Opens Here Tomorrow

Several outstanding members of the cosmetology profession will be on campus for the next two weeks conducting the 10th annual School of Advanced Cosmetology which opens tomorrow.

Heading the faculty is A.F. Willett of San Francisco, originator of the cold wave permanent. He has attended every session and this year will teach the physics of hair.

So far 72 persons have registered for the session and Harry B. Bauernfeind, assistant dean of the SIU Division of Technical and Adult Education, said he expects the number to be greater when classes begin Monday.

In past years cosmetologists from as far away as North Carolina and Hawaii have attended the sessions. A progressive arrangement, students attend summer schools for three years and then are awarded diplomas at a special dinner in their honor.

Others on the faculty include Leonard Shotola of Western Springs and Mrs. George Wilcox of Silvis, both members of the Hair Fashion Committee of the American Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Members of the SIU faculty who will teach during the session are James Backes, speech; Harold W. Moore, retaining; Willis Moore, logic; Eugene Vaughn, record keeping; William Westberg, psychology, and Glenn Wills, adult education.

The school continues through Aug. 3 and will feature free hair coloring, shaping and styling for students willing to serve as models for the classes.

Openings for the free fashions are limited, Bauernfeind said, and he urged students interested in participating to make appointments with Miss White at 453-2201 as soon as possible.

Vice President's Mother Dies

Mrs. Emily Grinnell, 94, of Grand Forks, N.D., died early yesterday in Grand Forks.

She was the mother of Dr. John E. Grinnell, SIU vice-president for operations. Mrs. Grinnell was the widow of William Everet Grinnell, who died several years ago.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. The body is lying in state at the Hanson-Anderson Mortuary in Grand Forks.

Dr. Grinnell, who had been vacationing in Minnesota, was notified of his mother's illness and was in Grand Forks at the time of her death.

State Senator Madge Green 'Sells' Southern To Upstaters

Mrs. Madge Green, state senator from the 48th district and one of the two women in the Illinois senate, came to SIU this week, as she has been doing "as often as possible" for 16 years.

To Mrs. Green, seeing to the needs of the University, looking ahead to its future, is part of her creed of office.

This creed is service and "you give it with hard work," she said, talking to friends at president's office Friday.

Mrs. Green is now the senator from the 48th herself. She ran for the office at the death of her husband, senator Herschel Green two years ago, and won.

But from 1946 on, Mrs. Green was her husband's constant assistant, serving herself during the legislative sessions in Springfield as secretary to various committees.

In 1947, Mrs. Green recalled, she and her husband came to the SIU campus and "crawled through the pipes," as she put it. "We studied its needs."

Ever since, one or the other or both of the Greens have been "selling" SIU to upstaters.

Mrs. Green said it is a funny thing, but the only way to impress people from above

Springfield with SIU is to bring them here. She said she and her husband had never failed to win a friend for the institution, once that was done.

Mrs. Green has not announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for reelection next spring but "everyone knows I intend to run," she said.

Her district embraces four counties on the eastern side of Southern Illinois, Crawford,

A Jinx?

House Full Of Sprains

Some people are wondering if there is an injury jinx on the women at Mary Margaret Manor, 712 A. S. University.

Mrs. Beverly Minor, a summer student at SIU and a grade school teacher at Kinmundy during the regular year, this week sprained both her ankles, making it difficult for her to walk from class to class.

Ironically, five of the 25 girls she supervises have been injured, hospitalized or treated by a physician this summer. Also, the landlady of the dorm sprained her ankle recently.

Summer Students From 45 States

Students from 45 states, 39 foreign countries and all Illinois counties are enrolled for the summer session on the Carbondale campus, according to registration records.

The home county, Jackson, tops the list of Illinois students with 880. Williamson County follows with 401, while Cook County has 392 students enrolled. There are 313 from Franklin County, and 100 or more from several other counties.

Of the students from other states, 120 are from Missouri. There are 44 New Yorkers, 36 students from Indiana, and 27 from Michigan. All states are represented except Hawaii, Idaho, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wyoming.

Nationalist China leads in SIU foreign student enrollment with 18. There are 12 students from Vietnam, seven from India, six from Korea and five from the Philippines. There are two or more students from most of the other nations.

'Rashomon', Final Play Opens Wednesday At SIU Playhouse

The final play of the 1963 season of summer stock at SIU will open Wednesday.

The production will be "Rashomon," and it will run from July 24-28 at the Playhouse. Archibald McLeod, chairman of the SIU theater department, will direct the play.

It was adapted from an old Japanese legend by the contemporary Japanese author, Ryunosuke Akutagawa, and

Don't You See!

Eclipse Of Sun Today Will Endanger Many Eyes

Today an enormous shadow of the moon will pass across the sun and many ill-advised eclipse viewers across the nation will be partially blinded for life.

The eclipse will be visible in Carbondale from 2:45 to 5:45.

The danger of eye injury in the Midwestern States will be alarmingly high according to the Association for Prevention of Blindness. Illinois is in one of the most dangerous areas.

The danger period will be between 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. when the eclipse begins reaching totality. The eclipse will cover 67% of the sun as viewed locally and will present much the same effect as a heavily clouded sky.

The painless and blinding effect caused by looking into the sun would give the victim only peripheral vision.

The injured would have a permanent scar, caused by burned tissue where the sun's rays were focused on the retina by the lens of the eye. Much the same effect can be seen by holding a magnifying glass toward the sun and burning a piece of paper by concentrating the rays in a small area.

You can be blinded by looking at the eclipse through sunglasses, welder's masks, field glasses, colored bottles, smoked glass, telescopes, and other useless items. The safest way to view the eclipse is indirectly. Do not look at the sun, but hold a piece of cardboard, with a hole through it, toward the sun and let this cast the image on another piece of cardboard held parallel to it.

Another way is to develop a roll of exposed film, completely exposed, and double the negatives as you hold this in front of your eyes.

A total eclipse will occur in parts of Canada, Alaska, and Maine, but Southern Illinois will receive only a partial eclipse.

John Wright Retiring In September, For The Second Time In Two Years

A professor who has served under seven different presidents of SIU and six different chairmen of the SIU History Department will retire from active teaching this fall.

The quick-witted, effervescent John Wright, professor of history, has built up a long and memorable record of academic service to SIU and public service to the City of Carbondale.

Wright is retiring in September from teaching. It will be his second retirement in two years.

His first was from the Carbondale board of city aldermen of which he has been a member for the past twenty years. During that time he was on almost every commission that existed and was mayor of the city for twelve years.

Wright has been at SIU for 38 years, coming in 1925 as an instructor in the history department. Prior to this, he did undergraduate work at SIU and then at the University of Chicago where he got an M.A. in history.

Being a high school principal in Pomona, Illinois, was Wright's first position after graduation. "Pomona John," as he was called to distinguish him from five other "John Wrights" in the vicinity, also served in World War I during this time.

Wright might be referred to as a walking history of SIU. He has been here in all of its three major changes. "The school has gone from a 2-year normal school, to a state teacher's college, to a state university," Wright stated, "and is still changing."

One of the things within the school that has changed considerably is the attitude and behavior of the students. "Discipline used to be my biggest problem, now it doesn't even exist," said

Wright. "I haven't had to even speak to a student in class in the last five years."

Wright thought the reason for this was that they might be better trained and more experienced and therefore better behaved. "The student now is more intelligent, better behaved, and shows more urbanity."

Another change is in the make-up of the student body. "In 1925 the students were mostly local people, but now they are from every state in the Union and most foreign countries. "When I first came, there wasn't even one person from Cook County."

Another thing Wright wanted to clarify was the feeling the Carbondale residents have toward the University. "Ninety-five per cent of the citizens will stand behind the University on any issue because it is not a separate entity in the town, but a part of the town itself."

This is also proved by the large part the faculty and students play in religious and civic organizations.

"The townspeople know the University can help and are smart enough to take advantage of it," Wright said.

Wright plans to fish, hunt, and loaf when he retires, and his wife will help him. "She wears me out fishing, though," he quipped.

Although he loves the University and town, Wright has no qualms about retiring. "I think I've been around here long enough, and besides, one of my favorite hobbies is loafing."

Workshop Aug. 12

Law - enforcement officers will learn effective use of the camera at a Police Photography Workshop to be presented Aug. 12-17 by the Department of Printing and Photography and the Safety Center of SIU.

James E. Aaron, safety center co - ordinator, said most of the enrollees are from city police departments. Two are from the department of public safety of the state of Illinois.

"The workshop is designed to help police officers gain a basic understanding of photography and how it relates to the police function," Aaron said.

Workshop Concert Tonight:

Tote'n A Tuba's Fun But Hard On Musician

Wrestling with a tuba four hours a day might not sound like much fun to anyone but a breathless tuba player but Bob Anderson, a high school musician from Fairbury, frankly loves it.

Practicing from three to four hours a day is hard work, Bob admitted, but only because "there's very little of me and a lot of this tuba."

"My jaws don't get tired from playing," he said, "but I get tired from holding the tuba up for so long."

"After rehearsals and practices, all I have time to do is eat and sleep," commented John Meyer. John, who comes from Omaha, Ill., spends approximately five hours per day playing his saxophone during the workshop.

Bob is one of 114 high school musicians who attended the Music and Youth At Southern workshop this summer.

The workshop winds up tonight with a concert at 8:30 p.m. today in the University Center Ballroom.

Mike Utley, from Blytheville, Ark., spends from five to seven hours playing the piano and, of course, complains of a backache.

Mike explained that there are no direct supervisors over the students, though, and that these extra practices are mainly on the students' own initiative.

Many of the students confessed that they didn't practice this much at home.

One of the counselors called these students a unique group because they all are serious and devoted to their music although many of them do not intend to pursue music professionally.

Many of the attending students came to the workshop just to play their particular instrument.

Bob Zacher, who has worked on construction all summer, came to the workshop for a break, a sort of vacation. Bob, who lives in St. Louis, not only plays the oboe, clarinet, and saxophone, but repairs oboes as well.

The students, coming to SIU from seven different states, have taken part in a week of hectic events.

The busy pace of these students includes compulsory practices, group and individual classes, and practices on their own.

In addition, evening recreation has included a trip to St. Louis to see the Municipal Opera perform, a watermelon feast, and various get-togethers and dances.

Many of the students are here on a scholarship, but whatever their reason for attending the workshop, their ambition prevails.

Summer Opera Workshop To Present Operatic Arias

Marjorie Lawrence, research professor in music, will present the sixth annual Opera Workshop summer concert at Harmony Hills Ranch in Hot Springs, Ark., Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Miss Lawrence, a former star of the Metropolitan Opera, has conducted summer workshops for SIU students interested in opera for several years at her ranch in Arkansas.

This year the concert will feature arias, duets, and ensembles from nineteen familiar operas, including Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" and "La Boheme," Strauss' "Die Fledermaus," and Wagner's "Tannhauser." Assisting Miss Lawrence in the workshop this summer, are Ruth Adele Batts, assistant director; Daniel McEvilly, accompanist; and Joe McHoney, stage manager.

Lucky 20 Percent Can Keep Cool

Are you one of the lucky 20 per cent around campus these days?

Chances are that you're not, and even if you are, quite likely you're not completely lucky.

According to the Enrollment Center only approximately 20 per cent of the classrooms on campus are air-conditioned.

This sad fact is probably more noticeable now, for yesterday the temperature soared to a high of 93.

The present forecast calls for continued hot weather, so now instead of thinking about the heat, start thinking of how fortunate you may or may not be to have a majority (or even one) of the air-conditioned classrooms.

16 Linemen End Course At Southern

Sixteen electric linemen from Illinois electric cooperatives and the Chanute Air Force base at Rantoul are winding up the third week-long session at VTI's Hot Line Maintenance School.

Now in its ninth year, the unusual school is a joint program of the Illinois State Board of Vocational Education and SIU.

Linemen live at the VTI campus near Carterville for five days, attending lectures and receiving supervised practice in safely climbing utility poles and installing or maintaining high voltage electric lines with special tools.

An outdoor laboratory with assorted utility poles and various types of high voltage lines and other instructional equipment is used for the instructional program.

C.M. Scott, Roseville and Harry N. Simpson, Taylorville, are the state instructors for the school. Specialists from various utility equipment firms supplement the instructional staff.

Participating in the July 14-19 training session were:

George Kirby; Eugene Obrecht; Leo Atteberry; Maurice Edwards; John Headley; Jerry Fisher; Joseph Knetzer; and John Kritz.

Robert Craig; L.T. Sifford; William P. Zaphel; Edward L. Mallory; Hugh Wilson; Roland Muench; Dennis Cheek; and Willis Hand.

Cool Clothes:

Here's A Short Story About Some Bare Facts

Summertime, and the living is easy--and girls are in shorts. Life can be sweet.

The wearing of shorts for everyday activity is rapidly becoming an American institution, yet there remain those who would question its propriety. What about girls wearing shorts to class for instance?

The SIU Guidebook says, "For informal or casual occasions, Bermuda outfits are popular in fall and spring, but should be worn only for casual, non-classroom activity."

What do instructors think of the question?

Mrs. Edna Travis of the English department said, "I feel that shorts are out of place in the classroom; in fact, I think they're just as much out of place as a long evening dress would be."

Ward M. Morton, professor of the Government, commented: "I grew up with a generation which thought it proper for people to dress up in public. I cannot escape from that view." He added, "This is true for boys, too."

"I ask the girl very quietly please not come back to class dressed like that," said Hilda Stein of the Zoology Department. "There's a place for that kind of clothing, but there is a dignity to education."

"I have no particular feeling one way or the other," said Richard Wigley, health education instructor. "As long as they are of the long variety and not of the short-short variety."

George Maier, instructor in the Government Department, said, "I do not consider it good taste for grown-up women to come to class in shorts. However, as long as they bring their brains to class, I have no objections. I'm here to teach them, not to tell them what to wear."

Larry Wimp, Math Department instructor, said, "I don't object if they're not too short--just so I don't have to wear them."

Wesley Morgan of the Music Department commented: "Whether or not girls should wear shorts to class depends on three things: 1) The proportions of the girls, 2) The perspective of the professor, and 3) The relative temperature of at least the weather."

MOSCOW--A Communist delegation from East Germany put in a surprise appearance in Moscow Wednesday to give the test-ban talks a new realm of speculation.

The Russian news agency Tass said the Germans appeared to discuss "foreign policy questions of interest to both sides," but did not elaborate further.

East German sources said there was "nothing dramatic" about their visit. They would have no role in the signing of a nuclear-testing treaty but they would have a connection with a non-aggression pact which Premier Khrushchev has called for as a condition to a test-ban treaty with the West.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met the East Germans before opening Wednesday's session with British and American negotiators. Three days of talks resulted in a communique which announced progress in drafting "some of the provisions" of a treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. It tended to confirm diplomatic reports that things were going smoothly.

The communique also said: "Views were exchanged on other matters of mutual interest."

In Washington, President Kennedy said the talks are proceeding "in a businesslike way." Any agreement will be sent to the Senate for its advice and consent, he added, but he said no other matters are under negotiation at the Moscow talks.

Premier Khrushchev met Tuesday with French Ambassador Maurice de Jean, whose government is standing aloof from the test ban talks. There was no immediate information on the subject of this meeting.

While these Tuesday meetings were in progress, the Soviets and Chinese Communists recessed their "peace talks" Tuesday after each accused the other of attempting to split the Communist world. The in-

It was exactly the same sort of argument as the Western delegates had to offer--that an unsatisfactory agreement never would be approved by the U.S. Senate.

Red China's official Peking People's Daily accused the United States Wednesday of making "increased efforts to meddle in Chinese-Soviet relations and to woo the Soviet Union in opposition to China." The paper said the U.S. press is energetically inciting the Soviet Union against China.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam--Three American servicemen were slain in a Communist ambush on "Bloody Route 13" Thursday.

They were members of Army Special Forces and were on a mercy mission of distributing medical supplies to villagers 70 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. military authorities said the red guerrillas opened fire with small arms as the three-vehicle convoy drove up the road. They then opened up with automatic weapons and lobbed a grenade into the second jeep. Convoy security forces returned the fire and the Communist Viet Cong withdrew.

The Army identified the dead as Capt. Lawrence E. Hackley, a native of Roanoke, Va., Capt. Robert K. Mosier of Grady, Ala., and M. Sgt. Hack D. Goodman of Bonifay, Fla.

Their deaths brought to 89 the number of casualties so far in South Viet Nam. Of these, 47, were com-

The three were members of the Army's Special Forces; earlier this week, 14 members were wounded in a guerrilla attack on an airport at South Viet Nam's second largest city. A mortar shell hit the shack housing the team and accounted for all of the casualties.

LONDON--Prime Minister Macmillan refused Tuesday to discuss the mysterious case of Harold A.R. Philby, the journalist and former diplomat accused of being a Soviet agent.

LONDON--Scotland Yard shorthand writers are transcribing a 10-hour tape recording by call girl Christine Keeler telling of her tangled affairs.

Chief Justice Lord Parker ordered the tape seized Monday and any relevant extracts handed to lawyers for Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, Negro jazz singer and Christine's former lover, who is appealing a three-year jail sentence for beating up the red-headed party girl.

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. - Newsday said Wednesday Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has decided to enter state primaries in quest of the 1964 presidential nomination.

The Long Island newspaper said the decision is based on a belief that his only chance to win the nomination over Sen. Barry Goldwater is "to show political strength in a series of key states."

Rockefeller declined comment. Meanwhile, Senator Goldwater rejected an invitation to a televised debate with Rockefeller. He said he does not intend to engage in any activities "which would have the effect of contributing to disunity in the Republican party."

TOTAL ECLIPSE?

WASHINGTON--About one dozen members of the Black Muslim sect have been dropped from government jobs, the Washington Post said Tuesday.

It said the civil service commission took the action because the Muslims, in swearing allegiance to the United States, declared their first loyalty was to the state of Islam which the Muslims hope to create in the United States.

According to the Post, the employees told commission investigators they would support the state of Islam in any conflict with the United States.

Two of the dismissed persons worked for governmental agencies in Washington, the Post said. The cases were reported to extend back over a number of years.

CHARLESTON, S. C. - State Troopers were ordered to Charleston in the wake of racial disturbances, and National Guard troopers were alerted.

Police dispersed 750 Negroes early Wednesday in an eruption of violence. Six Charleston Policemen and a fireman were slightly injured in the first disorder in the month-long series of anti-segregation demonstrations.

WASHINGTON - An unexpected drastic overhaul of the operation and self-policing of the nation's major stock exchanges was recommended Wednesday by Securities and Exchange Commission investigators.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.-A solution to the controversy over routing Interstate 24 across Southern Illinois may be reached within 60 days, according to Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Ill.

Gray said he met with Gov. Otto Kerner and Virden Staff, state chief highway engineer, to review complaints about a route proposed by professional consultants.

He said he feels Cairo will be satisfied by anticipated solutions, but declined to elaborate.

The proposed route between Nashville, Tenn., and St. Louis would cross the Ohio River about 10 miles north of Cairo. Staff and Kentucky officials have favored a crossing at Metropolis about 30 miles upstream from Cairo.

The Metropolis crossing would carry I-24 even farther north of Cairo, a plan unacceptable to many Missouri interests.

The issue has held up work on I-57 in the Cairo area while officials debated sites for the two highways to intersect. Gray said he feels work on I-57 now will be resumed in the near future.

ANNA, Ill.-International Shoe Co. announced Wednesday its Anna division will be closed in about three weeks. The firm has been closing several plants and is consolidating production in St. Louis.

The closing will mean job losses for nearly 275 employees, two-thirds of them women. The plant has provided this city of 5,000 persons with an annual payroll of $800,000.

MOSCOW--A Communist delegation from East Germany put in a surprise appearance in Moscow Wednesday to give the test-ban talks a new realm of speculation.

The Russian news agency Tass said the Germans appeared to discuss "foreign policy questions of interest to both sides," but did not elaborate further.

East German sources said there was "nothing dramatic" about their visit. They would have no role in the signing of a nuclear-testing treaty but they would have a connection with a non-aggression pact which Premier Khrushchev has called for as a condition to a test-ban treaty with the West.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met the East Germans before opening Wednesday's session with British and American negotiators. Three days of talks resulted in a communique which announced progress in drafting "some of the provisions" of a treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. It tended to confirm diplomatic reports that things were going smoothly.

The communique also said: "Views were exchanged on other matters of mutual interest."

In Washington, President Kennedy said the talks are proceeding "in a businesslike way." Any agreement will be sent to the Senate for its advice and consent, he added, but he said no other matters are under negotiation at the Moscow talks.

Premier Khrushchev met Tuesday with French Ambassador Maurice de Jean, whose government is standing aloof from the test ban talks. There was no immediate information on the subject of this meeting.

While these Tuesday meetings were in progress, the Soviets and Chinese Communists recessed their "peace talks" Tuesday after each accused the other of attempting to split the Communist world. The in-

It was exactly the same sort of argument as the Western delegates had to offer--that an unsatisfactory agreement never would be approved by the U.S. Senate.

Red China's official Peking People's Daily accused the United States Wednesday of making "increased efforts to meddle in Chinese-Soviet relations and to woo the Soviet Union in opposition to China." The paper said the U.S. press is energetically inciting the Soviet Union against China.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam--Three American servicemen were slain in a Communist ambush on "Bloody Route 13" Thursday.

They were members of Army Special Forces and were on a mercy mission of distributing medical supplies to villagers 70 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. military authorities said the red guerrillas opened fire with small arms as the three-vehicle convoy drove up the road. They then opened up with automatic weapons and lobbed a grenade into the second jeep. Convoy security forces returned the fire and the Communist Viet Cong withdrew.

The Army identified the dead as Capt. Lawrence E. Hackley, a native of Roanoke, Va., Capt. Robert K. Mosier of Grady, Ala., and M. Sgt. Hack D. Goodman of Bonifay, Fla.

Their deaths brought to 89 the number of casualties so far in South Viet Nam. Of these, 47, were combat casualties and the rest victims of war-related incidents.

The three were members of the Army's Special Forces; earlier this week, 14 members were wounded in a guerrilla attack on an airport at South Viet Nam's second largest city. A mortar shell hit the shack housing the team and accounted for all of the casualties.

LONDON--Scotland Yard shorthand writers are transcribing a 10-hour tape recording by call girl Christine Keeler telling of her tangled affairs.

Chief Justice Lord Parker ordered the tape seized Monday and any relevant extracts handed to lawyers for Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, Negro jazz singer and Christine's former lover, who is appealing a three-year jail sentence for beating up the red-headed party girl.

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. - Newsday said Wednesday Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has decided to enter state primaries in quest of the 1964 presidential nomination.

The Long Island newspaper said the decision is based on a belief that his only chance to win the nomination over Sen. Barry Goldwater is "to show political strength in a series of key states."

Rockefeller declined comment. Meanwhile, Senator Goldwater rejected an invitation to a televised debate with Rockefeller. He said he does not intend to engage in any activities "which would have the effect of contributing to disunity in the Republican party."

TOTAL ECLIPSE?

WASHINGTON--About one dozen members of the Black Muslim sect have been dropped from government jobs, the Washington Post said Tuesday.

It said the civil service commission took the action because the Muslims, in swearing allegiance to the United States, declared their first loyalty was to the state of Islam which the Muslims hope to create in the United States.

According to the Post, the employees told commission investigators they would support the state of Islam in any conflict with the United States.

Two of the dismissed persons worked for governmental agencies in Washington, the Post said. The cases were reported to extend back over a number of years.

CHARLESTON, S. C. - State Troopers were ordered to Charleston in the wake of racial disturbances, and National Guard troopers were alerted.

Police dispersed 750 Negroes early Wednesday in an eruption of violence. Six Charleston Policemen and a fireman were slightly injured in the first disorder in the month-long series of anti-segregation demonstrations.

WASHINGTON - An unexpected drastic overhaul of the operation and self-policing of the nation's major stock exchanges was recommended Wednesday by Securities and Exchange Commission investigators.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.-A solution to the controversy over routing Interstate 24 across Southern Illinois may be reached within 60 days, according to Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Ill.

Gray said he met with Gov. Otto Kerner and Virden Staff, state chief highway engineer, to review complaints about a route proposed by professional consultants.

He said he feels Cairo will be satisfied by anticipated solutions, but declined to elaborate.

The proposed route between Nashville, Tenn., and St. Louis would cross the Ohio River about 10 miles north of Cairo. Staff and Kentucky officials have favored a crossing at Metropolis about 30 miles upstream from Cairo.

The Metropolis crossing would carry I-24 even farther north of Cairo, a plan unacceptable to many Missouri interests.

The issue has held up work on I-57 in the Cairo area while officials debated sites for the two highways to intersect. Gray said he feels work on I-57 now will be resumed in the near future.

ANNA, Ill.-International Shoe Co. announced Wednesday its Anna division will be closed in about three weeks. The firm has been closing several plants and is consolidating production in St. Louis.

The closing will mean job losses for nearly 275 employees, two-thirds of them women. The plant has provided this city of 5,000 persons with an annual payroll of $800,000.

Young Coaching Staff Guides Football Future

Prepare For Opener Sept. 21

SIU has a talented, young and energetic football coaching staff. The staff is busily preparing for the football season which is rapidly approaching.

Carmen Piccone is head coach of the Salukis and is a graduate of Temple University where he starred as a quarterback and captained the 1952 Owl eleven.

He joined SIU's staff in 1955 as backfield coach and took over the number one position in 1959. After losing three of his first four games, Piccone's team jelled and finished with a respectable 5-4 record.

The following year his club lost only to national college-division champion Ohio University and Bowling Green while compiling an 8-2 record.

In 1961 his outfit posted a 7-3 mark, losing to Drake, Western Illinois and Bowling Green.

Last year, Southern's first as an independent, the Salukis dropped six of 10 games, four by a total of 17 points. As a result, Piccone owns an overall 24-15 record as he makes preparations for his fifth season at SIU.

Backfield coach Harry Shay is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame. A former baseball and basketball coach at Notre Dame High School in Niles, Ill., Shay joined Southern's staff in 1958 and since has become known as its technical expert in specializing in pass defense.

His defensive secondary established a new pass interception record for SIU teams last season when it grabbed 26 enemy aerials and permitted just 54 completions for a meager 61 yards per game average.

Offensive line coach Don (Red) Cross is a graduate of SIU who returned to his alma mater in the fall of 1960 as freshman football coach. Cross' first team was unbeaten, although tied once.

His work has been praised repeatedly by Piccone and the former Christopher prep is considered a key member of the staff.

End coach Harold Maxwell was moved up to the varsity coaching staff last year after serving as an assistant freshman coach for two seasons. A former collegiate star himself at the University of Mississippi, Maxwell has proved an invaluable staff member, both as an assistant and scout.

Piccone and Donald Boydston, SIU athletic director, now is trying to replace defensive line coach Bob Franz who resigned last winter to enter private business.

1963 Dove Season Opens November 9

The 1963 dove season in Illinois will open at noon Sept. 1 and end at sunset Nov. 9, the Illinois Department of Conservation announced.

The daily bag and possession limits have been lowered for the 1963 season. The daily limit is 10 doves, a reduction of two from the 1962 limit, and the possession limit is 20, four less than in 1962. On the first day of the season the daily limit and the possession limit are both 10.

Hunting hours are from noon (CST) to sunset.

It is a violation of both state and federal regulations to take or attempt to take any migratory bird, doves included, with a rifle, hand gun or air gun, and it is a violation of state regulations to take or attempt to take any game bird or animal along, upon or across any public right-of-way or highway.

The other woman in the Illinois Senate, a veteran of 12 years service, is Lillian E. Schlagenhaut. The two women are personal friends.

Asked if she intends to take a vacation, now that the hectic biennial session of the legislature is over she answered, "No, I have work to do. There is no glamor in this job. It is a lot of hard but very interesting work."

Mrs. Green, who lives in Palestine with her mother, is a member of five diversified standing committees in the Senate, including Education. Others she serves are Conservation, Pensions and Personnel, Municipalities and Agriculture.

Within the last few days she has been appointed to a 15-member scholarship committee established by the Ford Foundation.

She said she was very honored to be named to this group, too new to be organized. Teaching was her business before she entered into state politics with her husband.

Mrs. Green moved rapidly about the campus Thursday and Friday, accompanied by a couple from Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Johnson.

She was greeted by President and Mrs. Morris and other administrative officials during her two-day stay.

Martire Speaks At Sunday Picnic

"Philosophical Picnics are potentially a good idea, for the university provides a good setting to explore ideas on an intellectual basis."

This feeling was expressed by John Martire, assistant professor of psychology.

Martire will be the group discussion leader for the Philosophical Picnic to be held Sunday. The picnics are held each Sunday at 5 p.m. in Picnic Dome No. 1.

Sunday's unstructured discussion will center around the area of values.

Martire said that he hoped to discuss the need for flexibility in personal values, variety in values, and the achievement of values. Martire added that he felt that the absolute quality of values should also be questioned.

The Activities Office invites everyone to take part in an interesting discussion and to come to the picnic prepared to eat hot dogs and drink lemonade.

SIU School of Business Marks 30th Anniversary In '63

SIU's School of Business this year marks its 30th year of operation and shows a remarkable record of growth—from a three-member faculty in 1933 to a total of 60 today.

The school started in 1906 with a commercial program, but it was in 1933 that the Commercial and Economics Departments were recognized as separate entities of SIU. At that time, the faculty consisted of three members, and 12 courses were offered: five in accounting, three in commercial law, and one each in business administration, marketing, finance and penmanship. Only two faculty members taught the eight courses in the economics department.

Miss Susie Ogden one of the original three on the faculty and now retired, recalls that "There were as many as 60 students in our accounting classes".

In 1945 the two departments were placed in a new College of Vocations and Professions, headed by Henry J. Rhen, the present dean of the School of Business. Also included in the college were the departments of agriculture, art, home economics, industrial education, music, speech, nursing and journalism.

In 1957, to meet increasing enrollments in business and economics, the School of Business was established, with a degree program of professional training offered in accounting, economics, management, marketing and secretarial and business education. A graduate program was also began leading to an M.A., M.S., Ms. Ed., and Ph.D. in economics.

The SIU School of Business is a member of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, the accrediting agency in the field of education for business.

The department foresees a steady growth and predicts to have 900 upper class business majors by 1970 by which time it is also hoped that the graduate school enrollment will have tripled its present figure of 62 students.

Khrushchev Rages At Chinese Communists

MOSCOW

A challenge to the Chinese Communists and new proposals to the West were offered by Premier Khrushchev in Moscow Friday.

He sputtered with rage at the Chinese in extemporaneous remarks in departures from a prepared text; he entered the East-West nuclear negotiations with a proposal to back up a nuclear test ban with a non-aggression pact and a system of airfield and railroad inspections to prevent surprise attack. He made no mention of missile sites.

He flung a challenge to the Chinese and dared them to take their ideological dispute to the people. He twice departed from his text at a Kremlin rally honoring Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar, and groped for words in obvious vexation.

During parts of his speech, Khrushchev was in good humor, but his anger showed in the sections on China. And in the nearby Lenin Hills, the ideological talks continued.

His proposals to the West were interpreted as in the direction of a summit conference. Khrushchev agreed that the United States, Britain and Russia are approaching agreement on a nuclear test ban in everything except underground testing.

His plan for inspections to shield both sides from surprise attack by ground or air forces had been made by the Soviet Union five years ago in the U.N. General Assembly, although airfields were omitted at that time.

He threw in a non-aggression pact, settlement of the Berlin-German question, freezing or reduction of military budgets, and reductions of armed forces of both sides in Germany.

California Tells Of Dangers From Cigarette Smoking

BERKELEY, Calif.

Evidence now indicates cigarette smoking has such a profoundly harmful effect on health that it should be abandoned, says the California State Department of Public Health.

In a 56-page report, released Thursday, the department reviews studies over the past 15 years on the relationship of cigarette smoking and health.

It urged immediate action on a program of education, especially of youth and removal of cigarette vending machines from public health and other health facilities.

The report says that lung cancer has emerged in 60 years from a rare disease to one which caused 3,530 deaths in 1961 in California.

BEIRUT, Lebanon

Syria's strongman, Maj. Gen. Amin Hafez, Friday announced execution of 12 persons for taking part in Union leader Walter P. Reuther urged creation of federal registrars to register "millions of Negroes" in the south.

President Tells Contents Of Rails Dispute Report

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy Friday was handed a special fact-finding report on the railway work rules dispute and announced its contents will be made public today.

The report, pinpointing facts and issues in the four-year controversy, will be used by the President in preparing legislation he will recommend to Congress Monday in an attempt to avert a nationwide railroad strike.

The report was prepared by a six-member committee headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. Committee members represented equally government, management and labor.

The special committee members conferred about 40 minutes with the President when they delivered their report at the White House. Wirtz stayed on for another 40 minutes.

None of the members would comment on the meeting or whether any side attempts had been made at settling the dispute.
