ROTC recognizes Awareness Day

By Alan Schnepf
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Cadets from SIUC’s Air Force and Army ROTC units began a 24-hour vigil on Monday to honor and remember American Prisoners Of War and those who became classified as Missing In Action.

The vigil was held to recognize POW’s and MIA’s,Aaron Valentine, a senior in mechanical engineering from Carbondale and commander of the Arnold Flight Society, said the holiday was actually last Friday, but the vigil could not be started until Wednesday for logistical reasons.

Ayala, who also helped organize the event, said the vigil gives cadets a chance to reflect on their service.

“It’s a long 15 minutes up there. You have a lot to think about,” he said.

“Really sinks in about why you’re a cadet and why you went up at six in the morning.”

Ayala said about 25 people from each ROTC group volunteered to participate in the vigil.

He said two groups of cadets will alternate the 15-minute shifts for one or two hours before another group takes over for them.

Davis said he held the vigil at the flagpole to draw attention to the importance of recognition of POW’s and MIA’s.

The Veterans Club will have a short ceremony today at 4:30 p.m. to end the vigil.

The event was sponsored by the Arnold Air Society in conjunction with the Air Force ROTC, Army ROTC and the Veterans Club, all SIUC groups.

Cadet Jason Broadaway of the Air Force ROTC, a freshman in political science who helped plan the vigil, said recognition of POWs and MIA’s, though well documented, might be missed without events like the vigil.

“Sad enough I think that’s true,” he said.

“The sacrifices these people made are not to be overlooked. They couldn’t give anymore than you did.”

In aid to the vigil, two ROTC cadets will stand in a ceremonial parade rest position for 15 minutes intervals in front of the Old Main flagpole near the Quad City square. In the position, cadets stand motionless. Even their eyes are supposed to be motionless.

Air Force ROTC Cadet Marc Ayala, a junior in mechanical engineering from Carbondale, said the vigil gives cadets a chance to reflect on their service.

Ayala said the vigil was also set up to make students aware of the sacrifices made by P.O.W’s and M.I.A’s. He said many SIUC students are “unaware of the plight of these people.”

The Veterans Club will have a short ceremony today at 4:30 p.m. to end the vigil.

Competition too tough, bar closes

By Julie Bendleman
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Beach Bums, 611 S. Illinois Ave., has closed because of lack of business caused by the new bar entry age and attracting popularity of house parties, the establishment’s owner Roland Davis says.

Beach Bums, formerly an alcohol establishment, became a juice bar after the bar entry age was raised to 20. However, Davis said the establishment could not compete with the parties that serve alcohol.

“We had to close because we could not compete with the house parties. When the house parties charge $5 for beer cups all night long we just could not compete with that,” Davis said.

The City Council voted to make a special entertainment ordinance requiring Beach Bums to close at 2 a.m., which Davis said hurt the establishment.

“People that used to come here didn’t want to go to the house parties,” Davis said.

Davis said the ordinance did not help his establishment since the parties do not break up until 1:30 a.m. and the closing time is being held on Beveridge Street.

Under age drinking is not being helped by the bar entry age.

Davis said he has owned BUMZ, page 6

Gus Bode

Gus says: Now it looks like we have to buy our juice at Wal-Mart.

Closing arguments for O.J. trial to begin

By Mike Smith
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Gus Bode

The Blind Boys of Alabama continue to deliver a spiritual message through gospel.

The Blind Boys of Alabama continue to deliver a spiritual message through gospel.

Closing arguments for O.J. trial to begin

By Mike Smith
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Gus Bode

Today: Cloudy

Entertainment

Index

OptEd...page 5
Clippings...page 15
Comics...page 17
Scoreboard...page 18
Weather

Today: Cloudy

High:72
Low:56

Inside: SIUC students learn to cope with the change in Carbondale weather — page 3

SIU Daily Egyptian
Vol. 81, No. 23, 20 pages

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale

NATO suspends bombings indefinitely

The Washington Post

By Leon Sleight, Staff Writer

Pristina, Yugoslavia—NATO indefinitely suspended its threat to bomb Bosnian Serb military sites Wednesday, saying the Serb forces have withdrawn all heavy weapons from around Sarajevo.

The decision to continue the bombing halt left international efforts to press Croatia and the Muslim-led Bosnian government to stop their military offensives in western Bosnia before they meet plans for talks to end the 41-month-old Bosnian conflict.

The Bosnian Serb government has resists called by the U.S. mediator, Assistant Secretary of State Richard C. Holbrooke, to discuss a nationwide ceasefire while the Serbs are changing. The Serb forces are retreating to a corridor of western Bosnia they held for more than three months.

A NATO statement said the suspension was made even though some Bosnian forces remain in Sarajevo.

"The sacrifices those people made are not to be overlooked. They couldn’t give anymore than you did."

Ayala said the vigil was also set up to make students aware of the sacrifices made by P.O.W’s and MIA’s. He said many SIUC students are "unaware of the plight of these people."
Newswrap

World

U.S.-CANADIAN BORDER GUNRUNNING ON RISE — TORONTO — Canada has tightened gun laws sharply in the past five years, creating more demand for weapons from both sides of the border, and guns are becoming more widely used in crimes here. In 1993, according to a recent government report, half the handguns recovered from crime scenes were smuggled from the United States. But Canadian police officers in some areas say they probably smuggled. In fiscal year 1993, the ATF traced 167 guns used in crimes in Canada to sources in the United States. In 1994, it traced 394. Some of that increase is because Canadian authorities are using the ATF more, but exports also believe demand for illegal guns is on the rise. A few fear it will rise if gun-control legislation never before the Canadian Parliament becomes law.

FOR LEASE: ROYAL NAVAL COLLEGE IN LONDON — LONDON — Anyone want to buy a 150-year lease on a 574,814 square foot, century-old architectural gem that includes riverfront views, a swanky mess hall, a gorgeous chapel and a nuclear reactor? Call Richard Haynes of the London realty firm Knight, Frank & Rutley. He's trying to find a tenant for the Royal Naval College in London's borough of Greenwich. And, boy, is he catching flak. The heritage squad has gone on full alert, as a group of preservationists, architects, newspaper columnists and just plain concerned citizens charge that Britain is once again unloading the family silver. The Royal Naval College is a two-towered palace on the Thames River that was designed by Sir Christopher Wren, whose most famous work was St. Paul's Cathedral.

Nation

MIGRAINE DRUG MADE AVAILABLE IN PAPER FORM — For millions of migraine patients, the approval two years ago of a powerful shot to quell their painful headaches in about 20 minutes offered important new advance in treatment. But getting that relief from a drug, known as Imitrex, meant being willing to inject themselves. People now have a simpler choice: a tablet containing Imitrex went on the market last month, 24 hours after Food and Drug Administration approval in June. An estimated 20 percent of Americans suffer from migraine headaches at some time in their lives, three-quarters of them are women; but the problem is especially difficult for the 3 million people who experience recurrent migraines.

CRUSADER COMES TO RESCUE OF MALIGNED BAT — In the world of mammals, bats are like Rodney Dangerfield: They've been around since the dinosaurs, and they still get no respect. Mitta Tittle is out to change that. A wildlife conservationist, behavioral ecologist, author and lecturer, Tittle heads an Austin, Texas-based group called Bat Conservation International and travels the globe—from the jungles of Africa to the David Livingstone House—dubbing bats "the huge-boobs." So let's dispel the fear of bats now. Bats do not fly into people's hair and tangle themselves hopelessly. They are not blind; and they are not generally speaking, rabid. So let's dispel the fear of bats now.

COMPANIES BROADER ACCESS TO AIDS DRUGS — Two drug companies announced this week they would offer broader access to experimental AIDS drugs that have shown promising results in human trials. The new access means the number of people receiving the drugs under special, early-access programs will nearly double by next year, to more than 7,000. Four firms—La Roche Inc. of Nutley, N.J., said it would make its drug available by lottery to about 2,000 more people. That is in addition to a lottery in July in which 2,280 people were selected.

---from Daily Egyptian wire services

Corrections/Clarifications

In the Sept. 20, 1995 issue of the Daily Egyptian, the page 1 story "Compromise sought regarding grill hours" misstated USG Senator Jason Barnett's name.

In the Sept. 20 issue of the Daily Egyptian, the page 14 story "Carbondale police officer cleared in internal investigation" misstated Jackson County State's Attorney Mike Wespes' name. The Daily Egyptian regrets the error.

Accuracy Desk

If readers spot an error in a news article, they can contact the Daily Egyptian Accuracy Desk at 536-3311, extension 223 or 228.

---From Daily Egyptian wire services

---Daily Egyptian Southern Illinois University at Carbondale

---From Daily Egyptian wire services

---From Daily Egyptian wire services

---From Daily Egyptian wire services
Impact of drilling oil focus of speech

By Lori D. Clark
Daily Egyptian Reporter

The impact of oil drilling in the northwestern Arctic Refuge in Alaska is the focus of a presentation tonight.

-Lenny Kohm, former photographer of the Arctic area, will be the featured speaker on protecting the refuge and getting oil from the oil industry at 7 p.m. in the Student Center Auditorium.

-Kohm said he will be speaking on why the refuge is important, why people in Southern Illinois should care about the refuge and the people in people as native oil areas.

-Kohm said if the lands are allowed to be drilled by oil companies, it will have a great effect on the people in the area.

see ALASKA, page 7

---

Trial begins for three brothers charged with connection in shootout

By Carey Jane Atcherton
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Three Carbondale brothers are on trial for attempted first degree murder and related charges in connection with a shootout that occurred in the 300 block of North Washington Street.

James Pugh, 35, Ray Pugh, 27, and James (Wingy) Pugh, 34, are charged with murder and aggravated discharge of a firearm.

James Pugh is also charged with obstructing justice. Authorities said he allegedly lied to police about where his brother, Ray Pugh, was on the night of the incident.

Gerald L. Armour, 30, took the stand yesterday, and testified before a jury of 14 that it was Charlie Schard who said "Let's get this party started" and fired the first shot the night his friend was killed.

Assassination attempt made on Yeltsin envoy in Chechnya

Newday

MOSCOW—Russian President Boris N. Yeltsin's envoy in Chechnya escaped injury when a bomb exploded near his car Wednesday morning, but the incident threw an already shaky peace process into further disarray.

Evgeny Oleg Lobov, a close Yeltsin aide, was near the Chechen capital of Grozny when the blast struck as his car was crossing a bridge. Russian television showed footage of a gaping hole and twisted metal in the car. Military sources told the Interfax news agency that a remote-control device had dropped more than 400 pounds of unguided explosives were found near the site. No serious injuries were reported.

Russian officials charged that Lobov was the target of an assassination attempt. Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin told Russian television that Yeltsin will not allow Chechen militants to provoke the peace process.

"We're not going to go to war," he said.

Military commanders on both sides warned that the latest and a growing list of threats to negotiate an end to the nine-month war were in danger. Lt. Gen. Anatoly Romanov, commander of Russian forces in Chechnya, termed the incident a "terrorist act.

Romanov said the bomb and another explosion Wednesday at an indoor arena in Grozny were part of a campaign of sabotage.

"These are all links of the same chain," he told a news conference in Grozny, the last-Tas news agency reported. "We have planned actions in response to our steps to restore peace, the social sphere and economy in Chechnya." Romanov said Chechen President Dzokhar Dudayev, who remains in hiding, has used the peace process to prepare for the resurrection of half-scale war.

Chechen commander Aislan Mashkhabov charged that the bomb was planted by forces in Moscow and Grozny that want to break off the peace process.

---

Students make adjustments with unexpected cold weather

By Cynthia Steeds
Daily Egyptian Reporter

With more than a 10-degree drop in temperature over a 24-hour period, students are finding themselves preparing for even colder weather to come.

On Tuesday, the Carbondale area reached a high of 78 degrees, but the mercury dropped, reaching only 63 degrees Wednesday.

Tasha Nutczyk, a freshman in elementary education from Waskegan, said she expects the weather to get warmer, but anticipates the temperatures will continue to fluctuate into the fall.

"I didn't bring my winter clothes with me," Nutczyk said. "I have to keep doing laundry because I don't have that many clothes for this type of weather."

"I was told that it doesn't get below 50 degrees here," she said.

Paislea Woods, a junior in the college of education from Chicago, said she is used to colder temperatures, but was not prepared for a change this soon into September.

"I didn't get anything for the weather," she said. "All my heavy clothes are locked in a trunk in the top of my closet, and I can't get to them."

"I'm going shopping today for warmer clothes, and I am also going to find someone to get my trunk off for me."

---

Go Terriers! Crystal Tegthoff, 15-year-old student of Carbondale Community High School from De Soto, paints a window of her school Wednesday afternoon displaying school spirit for the Homecoming Game.

---

VIOLENCE-SCHOOLS — The Daily Egyptian

Everybody could feel the tension that night.

Gerald L. Armour testified in trial

---

Stevens was killed in a car accident in the Student Center, would not make predictions about upcoming weather patterns but said the current weather turns cold in Chicago, it gets worse.

"My personal opinion is that the weather will turn colder until late October," she said.

"I have not traveled to Malaysia, but I do not travel here because I have been told it is quite rainy," she said.

"It is very different here than in Malaysia," she said. "We have two seasons—rainy and dry. It seems to be very gloomy here."

"All I really know about the climate was from the pictures in the SIUC brochure."
Letters to the Editor

Dead and downed wood was cut

I would like to reply to Leonard Wright's Sept 5 letter about me. Wright is an acerbic participant in the agency's attempts to discredit leaders. In the Grassrooms environmental movement that has arisen in response to the Forest Service timber beating mentality of "get the cut out, damn the consequences" I am one of those grassroots leaders and that is why Wright wrote her misleading letter to the Post.

I am not against timber harvesting. However, I am against the destruction of a rare and rapidly dwindling ecosystem. The Shawnee is not an ecosystem and must be protected from the wastefulness and journalistic ideals. Surely common sense. I have not published my work could have prevented a senseless killing. Most people believe that I am guilty of fooling standing forests. Thought that is not true.

While living in Ponitana I bought permits to cut dead and downed wood and forest is around the old Civilian Conservation Corp camp on Ellis Ridge. The dead and downed wood consists of 50 year old Black Locust that was falling over and around old foundations of the camp. The wood to build forms and these dead and downed trees would have been bid for to make way for the "livestock site" which will commemorate the CCC camp. By cutting and removing the dead and downed wood I saved the Forest Service the expense of having them bulldozed.

I stand ready to meet with anyone who is truly interested in the Shawnee and wants to know the truth about the issues facing this rare and rapidly dwindling resource. Get the facts and get involved - the Shawnee needs you.

Joe Glisson
Ph. D. SUU, 1982

Critics of protesters is ill informed

I am writing in reply to let,ter by Mr. Huetteman. First, Mr. Huetteman asserts that no one has proposed any alternatives to industrial use of wood products. Alternatives to using wood for paper include agricultural wastes (corn hucks and stalks, for example), bamboo, and most importantly, post-consumer recycled paper. Instead of using wood for homes, they could be built with timber products (timber homes). This list of alternatives is far from exhaustive.

Mr. Huetteman also presents a misconception about wood products. He states that wood products are the "right thing to do." I also oppose logging when it is on public land, using the American public's tax money to build the logging roads and subsidize the sale, and then charges the American public again when they try the wood products and pay sales tax on it as well. Compromising the problems with the Cripps Bend timber sale is the fact that it is hoped to many endangered species, and that logging that area will break open the largest area of unlogged forest left in Shawnee.

Lastly, Mr. Huetteman, I hardly consider you a hypocrite for supporting environmental protection and tree harvesting. On the contrary, I applaud you for recognizing the need to treat on the earth lightly and use our resources wisely, but please don't insult me, or other environmental "enemies" by calling us hypocrites when you don't know our view on forest issues.

Dave Beals
Supervisor, Ecology

Quotable Quotes

"Newspapers have a way of marginalizing Native people... They are part of the institution that defines Native stereotypes."

-Gordon Reggutini, journalist 1994

"If you are killed because you are a writer, that's the maximum expression of respect."

-Mario Vargas Llosa, writer, 1984

Opinion & Commentary

Thursday, September 21, 1995

Daily Egyptian

Printing manifesto right thing to do

SOMETIMES IDEALS HAVE TO BE COMPROMISED in the face of reality. The editors and publishers at the Washington Post and The New York Times know this all too well. They decided Tuesday to publish the manifesto of the Unabomber, who has eluded federal authorities for 17 years while carrying out a string of bombings. He has killed three people during those 17 years, and he threatened to kill again if the papers did not publish his work. If publishing the manifesto delayed prevented another fatal bombing, it was the right thing to do.

OPPONENTS OF THE MOVE SAY GIVING IN TO the terrorist's demands will only encourage others to attempt to hold the media hostage. However, past experience tells another story. The Unabomber is not the first person to get his work published by threatening violence. One of the more famous cases was that of the Shawnee Sunset News, which held newspaper heiress Patty Hearst with the demand that their point of view be published. Many radio stations and newspapers in the San Francisco area concended to the demand.

The media also has published the views of David Berkowitz, who killed six and wounded seven. The Journalistic-American newspaper once owned by George Mezheritsky, who was known in New York as the Mad Bomber during the 1940s and '50s, a forum for his complaints. He wrote many letters and the paper published them. The point is this has happened before, and other media have concended to the demands of terrorists in the past. Yet, there did not seem to be a mad rush of bomb threats from unpublished authors following these episodes.

PUBLISHING THE MANIFESTO OBVIOUSLY HAS caused problems for the Post and the Times. The Unabomber has threatened more terroristic activity if his writings are not published in the next three years. And he will not rule out non-fatal bombings, even if all of his demands are met. But not publishing his work could have been disastrous.

The Unabomber is a killer, and his threat to kill again should be taken seriously. If the editors at these papers had struck by their journalistic ideals and done the tasteful thing by not publishing the Unabomber's work, the consequences could very well have included investigators pulling innocent victims from a pile of rubble on national television instead of reading the manifesto Tuesday. In this case, the price tag on tasteless and journalistic ideals was too high. We cannot blame the Post or the Times for not wanting to pay that price.

APPEASING THE UNABOMBER IN THIS manner may have prevented a senseless killing. It almost certainly has postponed the terrorist's next attack. The papers in question should not be blamed for publishing his unedited work. It can never be said the Unabomber should be blamed for putting these papers in the position he did.

No matter what his politics are, no matter what argument he might make to justify his actions, it could not be forgotten that the Unabomber is the real villain here. The Post and the Times are just two more in his long list of victims.

Editorial Policies

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of their authors only. Unsigned editorials represent a consensus of the Daily Egyptian board.

Letters to the editor must be submitted in person to the editorial page editor, Robert E. Gallant. They will be printed at the editor's discretion. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 350 words. Students must present their student IDs to the assistant news editor. Faculty members by rank and major faculty members by rank and department, non-academic staff by position and department.

Letters for which verification of authorship cannot be made will not be published.
In May I took office as your Student Body President. It was a very exciting time for not only myself, but also for my Vice President and Chief of Staff. We came to office with a dream. A dream of great achievements, great victories and a greater unity within our Student Body. We have worked diligently towards these ends and are continually driven to achieve as much as possible for the Student Body and the campus. We are in the business of doing the jobs seriously, knowing that many people depend on us. Since I have taken office as President, I have not worked less than 40 hours a week. The Vice President and Chief of Staff have worked longer weekends and all of us with a full-class load. What drives the Vice President, Chief of Staff and I is a desire to accomplish so much. In light of the tense opposition we now face, I am now sure to wage an unforgiving and unprofessional battle. We believe that it is because we have chosen this path; that is helping students, doing for others and knowing that maybe, just maybe this battle will be a reference by the time our term is up.

Kim Clemens and Scott Pfeiffer, my Vice President and Chief of Staff respectively, are both proven student leaders. I was the Executive Chairperson of the Student Programming Council and Scott was President of the Inter-Greek Council. Both positions involved managing an office, staff and relatively large budgets ($120,000 and $20,000 respectively), as well as being the Student Life Advisor and Scott has served as a Student Senator. I have been a student leader since the first day I came to SIU in 1991. In my professional career, I have held the position of treasurer and president. In the Undergraduate Student Government, I was a student senator, chairperson pro-temp of (third officer in line to the president), and chairperson of the Finance Committee. Last year I was inducted into the SIU Hall of Fame and the Book Exchange was awarded the Committee of the Year.

In addition to my tested leadership experience, office management experience and years of relentless sacrifice as a political leader, I am the vice president, chief of staff and my most personal dream to have been is to have my student body have a full confidence in our ability to manage an office. We have not spent a small amount of money in our current office environment. This is not new, in fact every year money is spent to make this office more professional and efficient. Why this time has turned into the political issue it has today is a mystery to me. My concern is the personal politics within our senate and an attempt by some to split and an unscrupulous and unchecked student newspaper.

Office equipment for USG is a badly needed investment that will help us get by the “stone age” and into the 21st century. It is necessary to be able to do business as professionally and efficiently as possible to get more done. The USG is the communication of information and the communication of ideas. The USG office is quick to get the message out to anyone who is aware of the USG office and has access to the electronic media. We need to be able to share our information with the office and the public electronically. We need to be able to have our voice from our constituency quickly and online. If we do not get it, then we have lost ground.

The truth behind the controversy is this: YES, we did buy office supplies and equipment and yes it was for our allocation of student money. But our expenditures have not been frivolous nor wasteful. They are simply the costs associated with running a professional office in a university environment. We have not spent anything out of line with past USG administrations. This negative media attention has been an intentional attack on the good image of the USG. The only thing that has been wrong is not understanding the whole situation. There has been the misunderstood media attention and the time spent reading it.

There are many stories the general public will never hear regarding their student government. Some like how Commissioner Dan Piper, Senator Jimmie Powell and I worked with another resolution to the one in the American Student for the SIU, IUI and I of I. We sent this resolution to the general state government which should be allocated to keep the student for service for this year. While not a totally controversial issue, students deserved to hear accurate reports on this issue. They did not get it. In fact they heard nothing about this victory which was won by the USG. Also in the current office environment, USG also did not receive proper coverage by the Daily Egyptian on President Clinton’s visit. As student body president, I was the first to publicize the proposed presidential visit from USSA, our lobby day and student tour. We helped to get President Clinton by faxing all the most recent news clipping on financial aid to Washington, D.C. We worked long and hard to have President Clinton’s visit a success. Coverage of the Late Night Committee has also been poor. This committee that originated with the help of President Guyon provides late night entertainment for underage students. In less that one month from conception we gathered funds for these events from the city, the university community and different student groups. The students of SIUC should know without doubt that their student government is fighting for them. We feel the sad reports are not getting out, and instead pseudo “controversy” and other misinformation is being spread in our campus newspaper. At USG, our only controversy is receiving a “bad rap” for trying our best. We should not be denied credit for our good work. We are better than that. There are many journalists who are looking for that “big story” that will make the Daily Egyptian, SIU, Illinois and state college. The students of SIUC deserve to know the truth, and the truth is that the controversy here is whether the Daily Egyptian, as the only campus news outlet, will continue to professionally, accurately and ethically report our activities.

At USG we are tired of being the “journalistic target” seeming DE is determined to fabricate their juiciest stories. We understand that the only way DE can report is going through a learning process and as always we will continue to work with them to make sure the Student Body is as informed as possible. USG encourages the Daily Egyptian faculty to work more ethical, accurately and truthfully. We encourage the Daily Egyptian to analyze the story sides of the story are told, and that they report accurately to a believable in their reporting. Students with questions are encouraged to call USG direct. Thank you for reading and have a great day!

—Duane Sherman, Student Body President and Chief of Staff

Calendar

• TODAY

SOTHEBY'S FOR Advancement of Management, 5 p.m., 108 Rehn Hall. Deutleb Ven, 893-2504.

THE LAST GREAT WILDERNESS Slide presentation, 7 p.m, SIU Student Auditorium. Dr. Dwight David, 549-1937 or Laurel, 546-1339.

AMERICAN MARKETING Association, 7:30 p.m., Lawson 221. Deutting, 545-2521.

GOOD NIGHTS FOR A BREATHER, 7 p.m., Sister Hall.

IOYA PHI THETA Farmenity Inc. Informational mixer, 7 p.m., Ohio Room, Student Center. Details! 314-1923.

ALPHA EPSILON PHI, 5:30 p.m. communications bldg. 1046. Details! 545-2521.

SATURDAY

CALEDIN POLICY — The discount for founding members is 10% for the first 100 fund gifts. Gifts of $25 or more should be by check made payable to the University of Illinois Foundation and mailed to the University of Illinois Foundation, 808 S. Main St., Champaign, Ill. 61820. Checks should be multiplied and mailed in the Daily Egyptian, SIU, IL and state college. The students of SIUC deserve to know the truth, and the truth is that the controversy here is whether the Daily Egyptian, as the only campus news outlet, will continue to professionally, accurately and ethically report our activities.

At USG we are tired of being the “journalistic target” seeming DE is determined to fabricate their juiciest stories. We understand that the only way DE can report is going through a learning process and as always we will continue to work with them to make sure the Student Body is as informed as possible. USG encourages the Daily Egyptian faculty to work more ethical, accurately and truthfully. We encourage the Daily Egyptian to analyze the story sides of the story are told, and that they report accurately to a believable in their reporting. Students with questions are encouraged to call USG direct. Thank you for reading and have a great day!

—Duane Sherman, Student Body President and Chief of Staff
Simpson

continued from page 1

said, after asking the jurors to leave the room, "But that kind of petty bickering is not exemplary, and if you heard the snickering of the jurors as they were going out, you thought it was pretty silly too.

Saying that he would trust the jury to cash their checks, de Santos, his attorney, granted a defense motion to use videotaped evidence of the witness testimony
but rejected the motion to limit closing statements to one day for each side. He also had consulted with other judges and concluded that a trial lawyer is deciding not to impose limits.

"I recall one argument that went on for four days where the defendants were charged with five counts of rape in a circumstantial evidence case," he said. "But I also wanted the jurors' eyes when I was arguing to them, and you can tell when they're being bored, if you're fully, and you can tell when you're bothering them or when you've just said something that they don't believe. That's one of the great advantages of arguments."

The only argument - the third-time, a defense motion to suppress evidence taken from Simpson's Lemonwood estate, the day after the murders. The defense renewed its motion, claiming that it had no new evidence suggesting that homicide detective Philip VanAntwerp, a lead detective on the case, was lying when he testified that police sealed a wall at Simpson's estate because they were concerned for his welfare and wanted to notify him of the death of his ex-wife Nicole Brown
Simpson and her friend Ronald Goldman.

On Tuesday a mob informant,
Lawrence Flash, an FBI agent who had been subpoenaed by the defense said VanAntwerp told them
Simpson was a suspect before police went to his home.

In his ruling, he said that although he believed VanAntwerp made the statements, they were made under informal circumstances - while drinking beer in a hotel room and smoking a cigarette outside the district attorney's office - and therefore did not warrant a "significant weight."

Wednesday the jury heard testi-ymony from the LAPD's "highest ranked" police officer, Commander Keith Bailey, who said he ordered homicide detective Ron Phillips to notify Simpson personally that his ex-wife had been murdered because his children were at the police station and because he didn't want him to hear about the killings from the media, which happened in the hands of John Babich.

"I told him to call O.J., Simpson just as soon as humanly possible and notify O.J. Simpson of his ex-wife's death," Bailey said.

But Bailey may be the last witness in the trial, so granted a defense request to question criminal Gary Sims about blood stains on Simpson's sock that were consistent with Nicole Simpson's. But it was unclear whether Sims would be called and how much that might delay the timetable.

The rest of the week was to be spent on issues involving Ito's instructions to the jury, which he plans to deliver Friday. After a court holiday Monday, the closings are to start Tuesday.

The Great

College Drive-In

Movie

Friday,

September 22, 1995

9:00pm & 11:15pm

Sam Rinella Fields
(between Rec. Center & Towers)

The Show Is About to Begin!
SHOWGIRLS
STARTS FRIDAY!

Bumz

continued from page 1

Beach Bumz since 1993 and will be helping the new owner of the coffee house, opening at the location vacated by Beach Bumz, get established.

"We named it Java because it has the most liquid bean in town," Mike
Mills, manager of the future
coffee house, said.

Mills said Java will welcome students to come to the establishment and study.

"This is going to be a place where students can relax by playing pool in between classes or by drinking coffee. We will have bulletin boards where study groups can come in and post items
they want," Mills said.

Mills said Java is opening Sept.
25 and will advertise their grand opening as soon as a date is set.

"We are planning on having open jam sessions, and we are still deciding if we are going to show old movies or not. We will be open during hours during the week and longer during finals," Mills said.

Mills said if Java goes over well, the shop owners will consider opening coffee houses on other college campuses.
Congress' illegitimacy issue toughest fight in welfare reform bill

The Washington Post
WASHINGTON—When a House subcommittee compromise to produce a welfare bill in the coming weeks, it will have to reconcile stark ideological differences that have punctuated the welfare debate all year, particularly the question of whether the federal government should curtail benefits in an attempt to lower the growing rate of out-of-wedlock births.

Conservatives have suggested they will not support legislation that does not contain the "illegitimacy" provisions included in legislation the House approved in March. But leaders of the Senate, which passed its bill Tuesday, are expected to argue that inclusion of that language would doom a conference bill to failure on the Senate floor.

The tough issue is going to be the No. 1 item, which the Senate largely took a pass on, and that's illegitimacy," said Sen. James A.

The caribou we have lived using for dietary and shelter needs. The caribou habitat, Alaska will reduce the amount of

An Indian tribe, that's how the Gwich'in tribe, who is touring the coastal plain, where Alaskan caribou are very important to her, Kaye said. At the moment with Kohm and will be at this evening's presentation said the people here are very important to her tribe.

"The caribou we have lived on for many years. We use them for shelter, clothing and food," Kaye said.

"A major portion of the Alaskan ecosystem is a group of people, an Indian tribe, that depends on wildlife resources born on the coastal plain where the oil industry wants to drill and destroy the birthing of wildlife," Kohm said. "The impact the loss would have on the system would be devastating."

A study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service says there will be a 40 percent loss of the herd if the oil industry is allowed to drill in the region.

Kohm, a photographer by trade, said he had an assignment to photograph the area.

"I broke one of the rules. I lost my objectivity," Kohm said. "I just couldn't sit back and be a casual observer. I had to do something to preserve it.

Kohm said the main emphasis for his interest in protecting the area lies in the people who live there."”

Lenny Kohm
Arctic photographer

Wildlife Service says there will be a 40 percent loss of the herd if the oil industry is allowed to drill in the region. Kohm said the main emphasis for his interest in protecting the area lies in the people who live there.

"I just couldn't sit back and be a casual observer. I had to do something to preserve it," Kohm said. "One of the things that got me involved and keeps me involved is what Edna's people want," Kohm said. "It always amazes me that scientists and politicians can fly over it once and know what to do with it and discount the people who live there."

Edna Kaye,
Member of Gwich'in tribe

"It always amazes me that scientists and politicians can fly over it once and know what to do with it and discount the people who live there."

You mean a student loan lender understands that all graduate students aren't the same!?

Yes.
That's why Citibank Graduate Loans were designed with your degree in mind.

You are a previous student loan borrower? □ Yes □ No

Are you a graduate student? □ Yes □ No

MAIL THIS COUPON TO:
Citibank (In/Out), Attn.: SCC
P.O. Box 1573
Eastchester, NY 10704-9588

OR CALL 1-800-528-7774 and ask for Operator 246.

VISIT OUR WEBSITE AT http://www.citibank.com/credit/credit

Citibank

Citibank Graduate Loans will be offered to all graduate students, and to their parents or guardians, regardless of their credit history. Eligible undergraduate students will also be able to borrow from Citibank.

Citibank is proud to be a partner in the college student lending market, and to offer a full range of loan programs to meet the needs of both students and their parents.

Citibank Graduate Loans are offered to students who are pursuing graduate programs in any field of study, and who are enrolled in an accredited institution of higher education. Loans are available to students who are full-time or part-time, and who are enrolled in a degree program. Loans are available to students who are seeking to finance their education, and to students who are seeking to finance their education, and to students who are seeking to finance their education, and to students who are seeking to fin...
After 55 years of touring, The Blind Boys of Alabama continue to deliver a spiritual message through gospel

By Mary Rose Roberts

The Blind Boys of Alabama will bring a tradition of spiritual music from the church to the stage on Sunday at the Auditorium in the YWCA at 7 p.m. The band will sing spirituals and gospel songs, as well as some secular songs that have spiritual undertones.

The Blind Boys are one of the most popular and respected gospel groups in the world. They have been singing together for more than 65 years and have sold millions of albums worldwide. Their music is a blend of African-American spirituals, work songs, and blues, as well as some popular songs that have been given a spiritual twist.

The band was founded in 1938 by Will Lee and was originally called the Blind Boys of Alabama. The band has been led by various vocalists over the years, including William Lee and Dick Haymes, but it has always been known for its powerful harmonies and the unique vocal style of the lead singer.

The Blind Boys have won several Grammy Awards for their recordings and have been inducted into the National Endowment for the Arts' Hall of Fame and the White House Blues Hall of Fame. They have been featured in numerous films and television shows, and their music has been used in countless commercials and movies.

The Blind Boys of Alabama are known for their powerful voices and their ability to convey the spiritual message of their music. Their concerts are a celebration of the rich history of African-American music and the enduring power of the human spirit.
Clockers
continued from page 8

police, drug lords, small-time dealers and single mothers operate, and how more often than not all of these lives are spinning very nearly out of their control. Almost all action in the film is reactionary — the characters are acted upon by external forces, each choice is the best of a losing set of options, and all are sliding toward a fate they neither want nor deserve.

Lee overlays viewers with visual and aural images, and many may want to see the film a second time to catch all the rapid-fire street talk. He uses color to create tension and possibly irony. Red becomes a powerful metaphor for the escalating violence of this tale, and as the film progresses, the amount of red in the frame is usually proportional to the level of emotional intensity in the scene.

Not for the squeamish, "Clockers" is an adult portrayal of life in the inner city as possible without setting up surveillance cameras in the ghettos. Brilliant performances, a great story and incredible direction by Lee all make "Clockers" a must-see.

The weekend calendar is a list of five events going on in Carbondale. To be included, please bring a note detailing the event to the Daily Egyptian Reporter, 1217 N. First St., Carbondale, 62901. Submission deadline is Tuesday.

T o n i g h t :
A.C. Reed's—A.C. Reed w/ Miss Velvet, 9 p.m.
Booby's—Abi Remus, 9 p.m.
Hangar 9—Great Big Everything, 8-10 p.m.
Melange—J.D.8, 8 p.m.
On The Island Pub—Classical Guitar Society, 9 p.m.
Pinch Penny Pub—Natives, Tres Hombres—Bottletones, 9:30 p.m.
T r i e d
A.C. Reed's—Toni Pinch Penny Pub—Mercy, 9:30 p.m.

The weekend calendar is a list of five events going on in Carbondale. To be included, please bring a note detailing the event to the Daily Egyptian Reporter, 1217 N. First St., Carbondale, 62901. Submission deadline is Tuesday.

Husband and wife team form famous organ duo
By James Lyon
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Anne and Todd Wilson, a world famous organ duo, are coming this weekend to perform a concert for the students and community of Carbondale as part of the Marianne Webb and David N. Bateman Distinguished Organ Recital Series. Webb and Bateman gave an endowment to the University five years ago so that a distinguished, world class, musician would come to play at SIUC each year.

This year the Wilson's will perform a piano and organ duet in Shyrock. The Wilson's are both very famous solo performers, as well as a world-famous duo, and have won seventeen organ competitions collectively.

"This is a tremendous opportunity for everyone," Bateman said. "It was unusual to have two people of such talent play together."

The musicians to perform are chosen by a committee that picks a different performer each year. Lynn Trapp, the artistic director for the Distinguished Organ Recital Series, said that this is not the run-of-the-mill concert.

"In all the years I have known, I can't think of a duet of this type play together in a concert," he said. "It is a rare for a husband and wife to play together. The music they perform is excellent and extremely moving."

"This should be a spectacular performance," Webb said. "Never in the history of Shyrock have we had four hands playing at the same time."

By James Lyon
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Anne and Todd Wilson

Everything
continued from page 8

Zeppelin rhythm.

"We have a raw but technical sound," he said.

"It is simplistic, but it has many layers. And it is positive, but it comes across as a very powerful, point-blank sound."

Daves said the band's sound also translates very well acoustically.

"He said that most bands composite their music electronically, but then later translate it to acoustic.

"We want to be a little different," he says. "We write our music as acoustic and then go and electronically record it. It gives it a type of depth."

Daves says he does not want to get caught up in it," he said. "We just want to give people a good show for their money. We are just as happy playing in front of 10 people as we are 10,000.

"If people come to see a show, then they deserve to see a good show, and all we do is give the best show we can," he said. "Some people may look and some go off to work at a corporation. We are musicians, and that is what we do."

"As long as you believe in what you are doing nothing else matters."

Great Big Everything plans to market a live album and then record a second disc in the future.

"We want to deal, but we don't want to get caught up in it," he said. "We just want to give people a good show for their money. We are just as happy playing in front of 10 people as we are 10,000.

"If people come to see a show, then they deserve to see a good show, and all we do is give the best show we can," he said. "Some people may look and some go off to work at a corporation. We are musicians, and that is what we do."

"As long as you believe in what you are doing nothing else matters."

Great Big Everything plans to market a live album and then record a second disc in the future.

26th Annual Auction & Yard Sale
Carbondale Chamber of Commerce
Saturday, September 30th • 8am - 4pm
Rain Date October 1, 1995
SIU Arena Parking Lot

Hundreds of New Items Donated by Area Merchants
Enjoy Tasty BBQ at the Chamber Concession Stand!

Auction Begins at 10:30am

To reserve your booth space contact: Carbondale Chamber of Commerce 714 E. Walnut Eastgate Shopping Center 549-2146
Republicans say research incomplete; want to slow CFC phase-out

WASHINGTON—A group of GOP lawmakers Wednesday dismissed the large body of research showing that chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) are a major cause of the thinning of the earth’s ozone layer and called for the United States to delay or repeal the ongoing phase-out of the controversial chemicals.

"I am convinced... that there has not been a sufficient showing of scientific evidence to justify the current and rapidly approaching phase-out," said Sen. John Doolittle, R-Calif., an outspoken critic of the phase-out, told a House hearing on the issue believed may lead to an increase in ozone depletion.

DeLay, R-Texas, is pushing a separate proposal that would permanently ban CFC production in the United States by the end or 1995. Both United States and Canada have already concluded that. and ozone depletion. Rep. Tom Lewis, R-Ohio, a current member of the House Science Committee, and Rep. Tom DeLay, R-Texas, is pushing a proposal that would permanently ban CFC production in the United States by the end or 1995. Both United States and Canada have already concluded that lightning, back the phase-out at this point would be discouraged her from pursuing research that might undermine earlier conclusions linking CFCs with ozone depletion.

But Singer and Balinas are in a scientific minority. Most experts have concluded that the positive impact of CFCs and similar chemicals on the ozone layers is well documented. The 1994 NOAA study, which documented the slowing in the rate of ozone depletion following international efforts to reduce CFC production, was endorsed by almost 200 ozone specialists, including researchers from dozens of prominent laboratories around the world, said one environmentalist...

A number of experts within the administration, industry and the environmental community have strongly objected to the proposals to delay or repeal the CFC phase-out. A delay could result in several thousand new skin cancers occurring in the U.S., suggested Michael Oppenheim, a global warming specialist at the Environmental Defense Fund.

DuPont, once the nation’s leading CFC producer, also opposes a delay in the phase-out. "We know about as much about the scientific aspects of this issue as anybody in the world," said John Smigo, an environmentalist for the company. "We’ve concluded that turning back at this point would be totally counterproductive.

WASHINGTON-A group of GOP lawmakers Wednesday dismissed the large body of research showing that chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) are a major cause of the thinning of the earth’s ozone layer and called for the United States to delay or repeal the ongoing phase-out of the controversial chemicals.

"I am convinced... that there has not been a sufficient showing of scientific evidence to justify the current and rapidly approaching phase-out," said Sen. John Doolittle, R-Calif., an outspoken critic of the phase-out, told a House hearing on the issue believed may lead to an increase in ozone depletion.

DeLay, R-Texas, is pushing a separate proposal that would permanently ban CFC production in the United States by the end or 1995. Both United States and Canada have already concluded that lightning, back the phase-out at this point would be discouraged her from pursuing research that might undermine earlier conclusions linking CFCs with ozone depletion.

But Singer and Balinas are in a scientific minority. Most experts have concluded that the positive impact of CFCs and similar chemicals on the ozone layers is well documented. The 1994 NOAA study, which documented the slowing in the rate of ozone depletion following international efforts to reduce CFC production, was endorsed by almost 200 ozone specialists, including researchers from dozens of prominent laboratories around the world, said one environmentalist...

A number of experts within the administration, industry and the environmental community have strongly objected to the proposals to delay or repeal the CFC phase-out. A delay could result in several thousand new skin cancers occurring in the U.S., suggested Michael Oppenheim, a global warming specialist at the Environmental Defense Fund.

DuPont, once the nation’s leading CFC producer, also opposes a delay in the phase-out. "We know about as much about the scientific aspects of this issue as anybody in the world," said John Smigo, an environmentalist for the company. "We’ve concluded that turning back at this point would be totally counterproductive.

WASHINGTON-A group of GOP lawmakers Wednesday dismissed the large body of research showing that chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) are a major cause of the thinning of the earth’s ozone layer and called for the United States to delay or repeal the ongoing phase-out of the controversial chemicals.

"I am convinced... that there has not been a sufficient showing of scientific evidence to justify the current and rapidly approaching phase-out," said Sen. John Doolittle, R-Calif., an outspoken critic of the phase-out, told a House hearing on the issue believed may lead to an increase in ozone depletion.

DeLay, R-Texas, is pushing a separate proposal that would permanently ban CFC production in the United States by the end or 1995. Both United States and Canada have already concluded that lightning, back the phase-out at this point would be discouraged her from pursuing research that might undermine earlier conclusions linking CFCs with ozone depletion.

But Singer and Balinas are in a scientific minority. Most experts have concluded that the positive impact of CFCs and similar chemicals on the ozone layers is well documented. The 1994 NOAA study, which documented the slowing in the rate of ozone depletion following international efforts to reduce CFC production, was endorsed by almost 200 ozone specialists, including researchers from dozens of prominent laboratories around the world, said one environmentalist...

A number of experts within the administration, industry and the environmental community have strongly objected to the proposals to delay or repeal the CFC phase-out. A delay could result in several thousand new skin cancers occurring in the U.S., suggested Michael Oppenheim, a global warming specialist at the Environmental Defense Fund.

DuPont, once the nation’s leading CFC producer, also opposes a delay in the phase-out. "We know about as much about the scientific aspects of this issue as anybody in the world," said John Smigo, an environmentalist for the company. "We’ve concluded that turning back at this point would be totally counterproductive.
Nobel laureate hopes to fashion fortune from genes

The Washington Post

If Nobel laureate Kary Mullis has his way, the number of Elvis sightings will increase dramatically in the next few years. And the question of whether the King is alive or dead will become even muddier than it is today.

Mullis has bought the rights to extract a smidgen of DNA from a lock of Presley's hair. Using a "gene amplification" technique that Mullis invented—an ingenious DNA duplicating system that won him the 1992 Nobel Prize in chemistry—he will make millions of copies of Presley's genes and preserve those minuscule globules inside artificial gemstones, to be made into a line of necklaces, earrings and other collectibles.

Elvis won't be the only superstar to be genetically rejuvenated. Mullis's company, called Stargene, has quietly gained rights to hair samples snipped from scores of celebs, including Marilyn Monroe, Abe Lincoln, Gerontine, James Dean and Albert Einstein. Even the nation's first couple, George and Martha Washington, are due to have their DNA revived by Stargene in time for the 1996 elections.

Jurrassic Celebrity Park? Not quite. Mullis plans to propagate only a small fraction of each star's total biological blueprint, so complete reconstructions are not to be feared. Marilyn won't be singing "Happy 79th Birthday" to JFK. Albert won't explain to Abe the relativistic reality of being hit by a speeding bullet. Each trinket will contain just a handful of the star's genes, taken from whatever body part Mullis can get his hands on—usually hair.

Hillel Foundation

High Holiday Services for SIUC students at Temple Beth Jacob

Rosh Hashanah services: September 24 (Sunday), 25(Monday), and 26 (Tuesday) services begins at 7:30 p.m.; Monday's and Tuesday's at 9 a.m.

Yom Kippur services: October 3 (Tuesday), 4 (Wednesday)
Tuesday's service begins at 5:00 p.m. and Wednesday's at 9 a.m.

Students planning to attend Temple Beth Jacob High Holiday services and need a ride please contact Barry Lewagara at 549-3511 or call Hillel Foundation at Inter Faith Center, 549-7387.

Pick up for rides on each day of services is planned one-half hour prior to the beginning of the services at the Fanner Hall curbside.

50 cents off Lunch Buffet Available Monday thru Friday 11:30 - 1:30 - Available at Carbondale Pizza Hut Only Limit Eight Per Coupon

Offer Expires 9/95 Coupon Required

Any Two Small Pizzas * Pick the Crust
* Limit 2 Toppings

ONLY $6.00 Available at Carbondale Pizza Hut Only "Pick it up, save a buck"
Free Delivery * Carry Out 549-4243 547-7112 Offer Expires 9/10/95 No Coupon Required

Do You Have a Large Family that barks and purrs?

ANNOUNCING:

GROUP VACCINATION RATES Wednesdays & Thursdays

LAKESIDE VETERINARY HOSPITAL 529-2236

Escorts provide public alibi for gay men

Los Angeles Times

BUDAPEST, Hungary—The day is nearly done, and Laszlo Romasauer, a psychiatrist with a passion for men, has seen his last client—at least the last one interested in traditional counseling.

Now it is a little time, when gay men in a social pinch turn to the after-hours matchmaking skills of Romasauer, a master of faux pairings in the city's fashionable Castle Hill district.

The smiling ladies in the foyer of his turn-of-the-century residence supply the heterosexual window dressing. They are the altibis, the stand-in wives, girlfriends and lovers who will accompany gay men yearning to pass in the outside world as one of the guys.

A "match" comes as cheap as a decent meal, an evening at the movies, some friendly conversation or, if all else fails, $1.25 an hour.

Romasauer gets paid nothing, just the quiet satisfaction of knowing that angst-ridden gay men will make it through another evening without public ridicule.

Communism has vanished from Eastern Europe, but the trauma of being homosexual has not. In fact, being homosexual here may be more maddening than ever.

The fall of the Iron Curtain brought astonishing freedom for gay men and lesbians in the former Soviet Bloc, a region notorious for its intolerance toward those who are different. But for all the lightning changes of the last six years, many homosexuals say they have been left feeling empty and disoriented by the transformation.

Haven't you completed the financial aid process?

> If you have not completed the 95-96 financial aid process because you haven't provided all required information or received entrance loan counseling, you may avoid some potential problems by completing the process before October 1.

> On October 1, a federal government shutdown could occur if the Appropriations Bill is not enacted by Congress and signed by the President. All federal financial aid processing (including Federal Pell Grants, Federal SEOG, and Federal Direct Stafford/Foro Loans) could be put on hold until an agreement is reached.

> Also, the Reconciliation Bill soon to be considered by Congress could include changes that impact federal aid programs, retroactive to October 1, so it is to your benefit to complete the process prior to October 1.

> The Financial Aid Office will still be able to process financial aid after October 1, but disbursement of funds cannot occur during any shutdown of the federal government.

> DON'T WAIT! Contact the Financial Aid Office today to find out what is needed to complete the processing of your financial aid.

FAQ

Have you completed the financial aid process?

1. If you have not completed the 95-96 financial aid process because you haven't provided all required information or received entrance loan counseling, you may avoid some potential problems by completing the process before October 1.

2. On October 1, a federal government shutdown could occur if the Appropriations Bill is not enacted by Congress and signed by the President. All federal financial aid processing (including Federal Pell Grants, Federal SEOG, and Federal Direct Stafford/Foro Loans) could be put on hold until an agreement is reached.

3. Also, the Reconciliation Bill soon to be considered by Congress could include changes that impact federal aid programs, retroactive to October 1, so it is to your benefit to complete the process prior to October 1.

4. The Financial Aid Office will still be able to process financial aid after October 1, but disbursement of funds cannot occur during any shutdown of the federal government.

5. DON'T WAIT! Contact the Financial Aid Office today to find out what is needed to complete the processing of your financial aid.
Federal Court order disrupts extradition cases

The Washington Post
WASHINGTON—Several of the high-profile extradition cases in the United States and negotiations over at least 20 extradition treaties with other nations have been disrupted by a federal court order barring extradition under existing law, according to State and Justice Department officials.

Criminal suspects sought by major friendly countries such as Israel and Germany have won at least temporary reprieves, officials of the two departments said in interviews and court documents.

The Justice Department on Tuesday asked the U.S. Court of Appeals here to set aside an order issued last week by U.S. District Judge Royce C. Lamberth, who barred all extraditions after finding that the government has failed to prove that an individual suspected of terrorism is not a potential contact by the Committee on Foreign Intelligence. The nomination letter and the packet of supporting documentation should be requested at a later date (see below).

Eligibility. All SIUC faculty and staff members involved in research and creative activity are eligible for the award. Once nominated, the nominee may remain eligible for consideration for two additional years. This will require agreement on the part of the nominee, to be obtained again by the nominator. The supporting documentation may be updated at this time. Emphasis on service and/or teaching will require future services to the university as a condition to receiving the award.

Nomination Process. Nominations for the award may be proposed by colleagues, associates, supervisors or subordinates of the nominee. The nomination should be supported by a detailed statement of the nature and importance of the accomplishments sought to be rewarded. A separate submission of relevant supporting documentation, such as curriculum vitae, list of scholarly and creative activities, and special awards will be requested at a later date (see below).

Contact Person: Sandra Balistriero, Graduate School, 691-4521

Organ

continued from page 9

organs. This really should be quite a performance.”

“Shyrock is the perfect place for this type of concert,” Barneman said. “in most places the organs get buried on the stage and you can’t see them. Here you will have the chance to see both of the organs as they play them.”

Todd Wilson is the Head of the Organ Department of the Cleveland Institute of Music, and Anne Wilson is a teacher of piano at Baldwin-Wallace College in the preparatory department.

They are scheduled to play many ranging from the Baroque-like Cantata to Bizet, to original works written by Todd Wilson.

“A concert of this type has drawn hundreds of people in the past,” Trapp said. “Tickets for a show like this usually go for about $25. The concert at Shyrock is free, which makes it a great opportunity for everyone.”

The event is scheduled for the Shyrock Auditorium at 7 p.m. on Sept. 22, with free admission. A pre-concert buffet dinner will be held in the Student Center Ballroom D at 6 p.m. Lynn Trapp will be there to talk about the Wilson’s and the music they will be playing. For reservation information phone 455-1130.
Baby boomers turn 50: marketers plan accordingly

The Los Angeles Times
ISTANBUL, Turkey—Turkey's ruling coalition collapsed Wednesday, temporarily dragging down the prime minister of this Muslim country and pressuring reforms vital for a 1996 free-trade deal with Europe.

The unexpected upset was caused by Deniz Baykal, 51, elected 10 days ago as the new leader of the social-democratic Republican People's Party. He had decided to end the junior partnership he inherited as part of an awkward, four-year-old coalition with Tansu Ciller's center-right True Path Party.

"This Parliament is finished. This coalition is finished. We need a new Parliament, we need a new government," Ciller said in an emotional address on national television Wednesday night, her first since the defeat.

The free-trade deal would not only expand the already substantial commerce between Turkey and Europe but also provide an important Western forum for Turkey's progressive institutions and adventuring with the European Union. The European Parliament has demanded signs of progress in human rights. Legislators here want to see the lifting of the notorious Article 8 of Turkey's anti-terrorism laws, which permits the jailing of dissidents for speaking out, and the freeing of six former Kurdish parliamentary deputies jailed last year for alleged links to separatist rebels.

The current crisis is expected to undermine the leadership and credibility of Ciller and Baykal in Turkey's battle right-wing conservatives on such issues, although Baykal is a strong supporter of reform and integration with Europe.

The big center-right Motherland Party has also improved its standing with the electorate, winning the largest bloc of seats in the 346-member parliament. The party has 107 seats, up from 82 in the old parliament.

"We are open to any formula of government," Yilmaz told one politician. "This development is not a surprise for us. This coalition government has lasted the past four years."
Third time not a charm; White House counsel resigns

The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON—Abner J. Mikva will resign as White House counsel after less than a year to the job, making him the third lawyer to surrender leadership of the office during the Clinton administration.

Mikva, former chief judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington and a former Illinois congressman, said he hadn’t appreciated the workload of a job that has involved him in the Whitewater matter, selection of federal judges and administration personnel, and other politically charged matters.

"I underestimated how engrossing this job is," Mikva said in an interview. "It was up energy in 12- to 14-hour days, six or seven days a week. I’m running out of gas."

He will officially depart Nov. 1, to be replaced by Jack Quinn, chief of staff to Vice President Al Gore.

In a statement, President Clinton praised Mikva’s "special combination of legal acumen, wise judgment and uncompromising integrity," and called him a "caring, passionate and devoted public servant."

Mikva said he originally told Clinton that he would stay until the end of his first term, but amended that in mid-July, telling Clinton he wanted to leave sooner. He agreed to remain until the summer’s Whitewater hearings were over, and a replacement was found.

"Mikva said he will now return, though he plans to write and do some teaching, including a short stint at Stanford University that has already been scheduled."

The first Clinton administration White House counsel, Bernard Nussbaum, resigned the office amid criticism that he had been politically tone-deaf in handling aspects of the Whitewater affair and the aftermath of the July 1993 suicide of his former deputy, Vincent Foster. Clinton then turned temporarily to Lloyd N. Cutler, an Establishment pillar who ran the office with the title special counsel to the president.

BE LESS PRODUCTIVE AT THE OFFICE.

The office has always been a place to get ahead. Unfortunately, it’s also a place where natural resources can fall behind. So here are some easy ways to reduce waste at the office. Turn off your lights when you leave. Drink out of a mug instead of throwaway cups. And to cut down on trash, use both sides of a memo. Doing these things today will help save resources for tomorrow.

Which is truly a job well done. 1-800-MY-SHARE. IT’S A CONNECTED WORLD. DO YOUR SHARE.
NEWSPAPER JOB OPENINGS FOR FALL

The Daily Egyptian Newsroom is accepting applications for these positions for the fall semester:

- RA.PLK.9.15 on the 2nd floor of the Daily Egyptian, 69 Public Square, Carbondale, IL 62903.
- Provide reporting, writing, editing, and copy editing. Apply through the job posting on the Daily Egyptian website.

- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Quark Xpress desktop publishing experience preferred.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.

- Must have experience in layout and design.
- Must have experience in desktop publishing.
- Quark Xpress experience preferred.
- Participation in a design test.
- Designers: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work quickly and efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in a spelling and editing test.
- Copy Editors: Approximately 20 hours a week.
- Must be detail-oriented and able to work efficiently under deadline pressure.
- Strong knowledge of spelling, grammar, and word usage required.
- Participation in an editing test.
- Applicants must have an ACCREDIT for the Daily Egyptian.
- Appointments for interviews can be made by calling 622-9082.
WANTED:
One female for a date. Attractive 32 yr. old male, ferside-sense of humor, great curiosity to life, loves to travel, fitness minded, great smile, seeks 25-35 yr. old with similar description.
Reply to Daily Egyptian Box 940816 SIUC Carbondale, IL 62901

POSITIONS AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY

Night Layout
Immediate opening
PASTE UP
Camera work
Sunday - Thursday evening

Classified Inside Sales
Inside Sales, general, clerical & reception
Morning work block

Circulation Drivers
Heart 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Good driving record a must

Advertising Production
Afternoon work block required
Macintosh experience required
QuickXPress experience helpful

All applicants must have a CTP/TPS on file. Applicants are encouraged to apply for all positions. The Daily Egyptian is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Daily Egyptian
Pick up your application at the Daily Egyptian Box Office, Carrington Hall, Room 1259, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. 536-3311

National Panhellenic Conference would like to thank their Rho Chis for a job well done:
Sonja Adams
Sara Knox
Judy Bencanich
Jenni Maurer
Stacey Cassady
Angie Mulvaney
Margaret Gubarent
Jessica Parker
Karen Gustafson
Debbie Sparks
Marty Joswick
Heather Taylor

Place a classified ad during “Guaranteed” Results week, September 18-22.
If your merchandise doesn’t sell, the Daily Egyptian will renew your ad for the same number of days...FREE!

- Ad must be to sell merchandise (no rental or service ads)
- You must notify the D.E. before noon the day the ad expires

D.E. Classifieds 1259 Communications 536-3311

Congratulations to the new Sweetheart of Signal Nu
Julie Chenault

D.E. Classifieds...GUARANTEED!

Southern Illinois University National Panhellenic Conference Would like to thank the following business for their participation in Fall 1995 Rush:
- La Roma’s Pizza
- Papa John’s Pizza
- Pespsi Cola
- WCIL FM (ADAM)
NFL still looking for L.A. sites
The Los Angeles Times
ATLANTA—The NFL apparently has lost interest in Hollywood Park and is now considering Long Beach and possibly the Rose Bowl. But the league still has some work to do in the L.A. area. The league has a few options: it could try to lure a new team to L.A., or it could try to get existing teams to move. The league is also considering the possibility of building a new stadium in L.A.

Soccer
continued from page 20
Pakistan is the up-and-coming team in Asia and they’ve been practicing for a month already,” he said. “Every time we face good teams with good players.

The tournament is open to just about anyone who wants to participate, according to Wagle. “You must be a registered SUU student, alumni, or current employee,” he said. “It’s open to everyone within campus.”

There is an entry fee, which is not only covering the tournament, but also playing fees. Wagle said. “We have a trophy for the winners, and they will also be recognized at a sports dinner at the end of the tournament.”

“We have no plans to move our programs to Hollywood Park,” said Wagle. “Our programs are currently housed in our existing facilities and we are very happy with our current arrangements.”

The league has also been considering the possibility of building a new stadium in L.A., which would be a significant boost to the area’s sports infrastructure. However, the cost of such a project is estimated to be $2.5 billion, which would be a major financial burden for the city.

Hockey
continued from page 20

not good enough of it.” Jones said the MCRHL requires all teams to play at least two tournaments per year in order to stay active in the league. Although the exact locations have not been confirmed as of yet, the MCRHL is expected to host at least one tournament per year. The league aims to promote the sport of hockey and provide a platform for local players to showcase their skills.

Hockey
continued from page 20

The sport of roller hockey will no doubt evolve into a popular sporting activity.

“Roller hockey is catching on all over the place and it’s going to continue to grow. It will continue to get organized and its talent level will increase as well,” he said. Hascel, who took up the sport as a teenager at Ball State, said roller hockey offers an alternative to ice hockey, which is one reason behind its popularity.

“Roller hockey will never replace ice hockey,” he said. “It does offer an alternative to it because it is fast-paced and everyone can play it.”

“A person can play it for less costs than other sports. It’s fairly cheap because all you need is a pair of skates and a stick.”

Daily Egyptian
Thursday, September 21, 1995

SPORTS

Photo by Mark Hirsch (1-2) of the SLU, a 9-0-1
Hollywood Park site as a new football stadium for the NFL. The city of Los Angeles is in negotiations with the NFL to bring a professional football team to the city.

FAMILY WEEKEND
Proudly Presents
FAMILY OF THE DAY ESSAY CONTEST
Now your family can feel what it must be like to be royally
Meet the President of the US
Get honored at halftime
Get priority seats to selected events
Win tickets to these great events:

- Beanie Babies Bear
- Beanie Babies Cow
- Beanie Babies Elephant
- Beanie Babies Lion

- Family of the Day Breakfast Buffet
- Family of the Day Lunch Buffet
- Family of the Day Dinner Buffet

For reservations regarding the sale of this fun contest photos and many other NFL images, please contact the NFL office at 212-311-7000.
Injuries key to NFL season

The Washington Post

"Steve, our cornerback Rod Woodson, gone for the season. Oilers linebacker Al Smith and safety Mike Wray both out for the season. Cardinals defensive tackle Eric Swann, gone for a month. Cowboys all-pro receiver ..." Jones hopes to settle sponsorship lawsuit with league to keep peace among owners

The Washington Post

"We're going to possibly come up with something that might keep us from spending several years and several million dollars in attorney fees."

Jerry Jones, Dallas Cowboys owner

"Not step him from making more. We're not prohibited from stepping into new transactions," Jones's attorney, Richard Cass, said here Tuesday.

Jones told The Washington Post last Friday that he planned to announce NFL sponsorship deals in "the next few business days," but that those deals reportedly would be with American Express. While NFL Properties said it believes that "such arrangements would further violate" the Cowboys' agreement with NFL Properties, it said nothing to stop him.

"Nothing was suggested along those lines," Jones's attorney, Carl Tobias, said Tuesday.

"He could do a deal tonight if he wanted," said a league source.

"My guess is that if he does anything now, it's just going to make our case stronger," said Rodell Hudnitz, president and CEO of the Minnesota Vikings and chairman of the NFL Properties executive committee. "I think it may well be that we don't have the same kind of holding pattern until it gets better resolved what the courts can and cannot do."

Tebow's lawyers will meet at a hearing Thursday at 10 a.m. in federal district court in New York to address the league's desire to prevent Tebow from signing a contract in a different court in a different state, presumably Texas.

Jones indicated he would like to see the issue settled out of court.

"We're going to ... possibly come up with something that might keep us from spending several years and several million dollars in attorney fees," Jones said in the lower lobby of a hotel a dozen of guests and held a second legal meeting against the scene of the antitrust lobby.

"There are things I'm very genuine and very resolved to try to make happen. On the other hand, I am somewhat grateful of the people that have been in this league for 20 and 30 years."

"We're not prohibited from stepping into new transactions," Jones's attorney, Richard Cass, said here Tuesday.

"He could do a deal tonight if he wanted," said a league source.

"My guess is that if he does anything now, it's just going to make our case stronger," said Rodell Hudnitz, president and CEO of the Minnesota Vikings and chairman of the NFL Properties executive committee. "I think it may well be that we don't have the same kind of holding pattern until it gets better resolved what the courts can and cannot do."
Sports

SIUC hockey club begins fall season

By Michael Dardoff

DAILY EGYPTIAN REPORTER

Since its advent, the Rollerblade has redefined the sport of skating. Now, it is expanding the sport of hockey.

Unknown to many, roller hockey has been part of SIUC since the spring of 1992, and it is growing more and more popular among students.

The Roller Hockey Club vice president Amstler said the club is not associated with the University's Rec Sports, but is an active and continually growing club on campus.

Amstler, who has been involved in the club since its inception, said the sport continues to grow each semester.

"The Roller Hockey Club is a regular university club," Amstler said. "Each semester, more and more students are getting involved with it."

"Last year we had about 135 people on the club. This semester the number of members is close to 150. All the players love the game and it's an aggregative sport. It is very competitive and it is a highly skilled game."

Amstler said the club had 12 members last semester, and this year the club is divided into three teams - an A-team, for advanced players, and a B-team for those who are just beginning to play the sport. The club has a total of 17 teams this semester.

Amstler said there are three games played on Saturday and five on the club at a time. A team consists of a goalie, a forward, a left wing, and a right wing. He said roller hockey is more fun than ice hockey except for the fact that it's a contact sport.

Yesterday, marked the beginning of this year's roller hockey season.

Amstler said the club has three games per night, across from the Quad Apartments, starting at 3 p.m.

The final game of the evening starts at approximately 8 p.m.

Amstler said team captains for the entire semester then begin a fresh season in the spring.

Jones said the SIUC club sent one A-Team to Indianapolis, Ind., last weekend to compete in a tournament against teams from colleges throughout the Midwest. The tournament was designed as an effort to establish the Midwest Collegiate Roller Hockey League (MCRL).

The team was funded solely by the players that participated.

Competing in the tournaments were teams from Purdue University, the University of Illinois, Ball State University and Michigan State University.

SIUC beat Ball State 4-3 and Illinois State 5-0 before suffering a 4-5 loss to Purdue. SIUC has faced Purdue in past tournaments with similar results.

"I think this was our best tournament ever," Jones said. "Everyone played well and the players just can't wait to play again."

see HOCKEY, page 18

---

ISC soccer kicks off 16-team tournament

By Chad Anderson

DAILY EGYPTIAN REPORTER

Music may be the international language, but for soccer it's called "Futsal - Outside the United States." It is a play "Business as Usual." It has been taken to a new level.

The International Student Council will begin its annual soccer tournament Oct. 1, and for the next seven weekends until the University's Halloween break.

The tournament was originally started to give international students a chance to participate in sports they enjoy playing in their own countries, said ISC President Wan Kamal Wan Nap.

"International students only come to St. Louis and they want to continue playing while they're in the United States," Wan Nap said.

The ISC soccer tournament, which kicks off in mid-September, will be managed by at least six players from the representative country. The teams are from Africa, Malaysia, Thailand, Korea, Japan, Latin America, Europe, Palestine, the United States, Greece, and Turkey.

A lottery, held tonight in the Student Center's Ballroom A at 6:30 p.m., will decide which the teams will be placed in the tournament.

The ISC soccer tournament is the opening round.

see SOCCER, page 18

---

Cornhuskers in hot water

The Sporting News

The T-shirt slogan of choice on the Nebraska campus is "Business as Usual." It's called "Futts1d - Outside the United States." It is a play "Business as Usual." It has been taken to a new level.

The storm that passed through about records? Throw them out, tough. The Rams' defense is currently number one, but will have a tough challenge taking the ball away from the Cornhuskers, who have yet to give it away this season.

Rams-Bears rivalry begins

From the Pressbox

Chris Clark

It's back!

After an 11-year hiatus, the St. Louis-Chicago football rivalry will be back in full swing Sunday when the Bears travel south to Busch Stadium to take on the Rams.

The Rams? I know the St. Louis Rams may not sound as natural as the St. Louis Cardinals, but the Cards flew the coop in 1987, and the Rams have won the "Gateway City." Besides, football fever has hit St. Louis and the Rams are 3-0 right now, so fans don't care what the team's name is.

In the years the football Cardinals occupied Busch Stadium, the St. Louis-Chicago series was 6-4 in favor of the "Big Red." Since 1984, when the Cardinals last played the Bears, the rivalry has been dead.

Bill Bidwell moved the team to Arizona in 1987 and until now Busch Stadium was dormant during football season.

But in rivalry games, who wins about records? Throw them out, they don't matter. They are about bragging rights andorrar room debates.

This game promises to be a pretty good matchup, as the Rams put their unbeaten record on the line and their stifling defense on the field.

The Rams' defense is currently 5th overall in the NFC (behind Green Bay, Dallas, Philadelphia and San Francisco), giving up only 77.9 rushing yards per game. Look for RashadSallam to have a long day.

The Bears, on the other hand, come into the contest 2-1 after a 23-6 victory against the "Yards." Chicago will put its newfound air attack against the Rams defense.

Rams-Bears rivalry will _end: Bears 17, Rams 6.

The only hope for geographical realignment which puts the Bears and Rams in the same conference, allowing the teams to play twice a year.

Unfortunately, the NFL schedule is based upon a formula that confines even NASA's best, therefore making it difficult to keep the Rams-Bears rivalry alive.

The one thing that a rivalry hinges upon, however, is scheduling. In football, that means playing a team every year or at least every other.

---

The T-shirt slogan of choice on the Nebraska campus is "Business as Usual." It's called "Futts1d - Outside the United States." It is a play "Business as Usual." It has been taken to a new level.

The storm that passed through about records? Throw them out, tough. The Rams' defense is currently number one, but will have a tough challenge taking the ball away from the Cornhuskers, who have yet to give it away this season.

Rams-Bears rivalry begins

From the Pressbox

Chris Clark

It's back!

After an 11-year hiatus, the St. Louis-Chicago football rivalry will be back in full swing Sunday when the Bears travel south to Busch Stadium to take on the Rams.

The Rams? I know the St. Louis Rams may not sound as natural as the St. Louis Cardinals, but the Cards flew the coop in 1987, and the Rams have won the "Gateway City." Besides, football fever has hit St. Louis and the Rams are 3-0 right now, so fans don't care what the team's name is.

In the years the football Cardinals occupied Busch Stadium, the St. Louis-Chicago series was 6-4 in favor of the "Big Red." Since 1984, when the Cardinals last played the Bears, the rivalry has been dead.

Bill Bidwell moved the team to Arizona in 1987 and until now Busch Stadium was dormant during football season.

But in rivalry games, who wins about records? Throw them out, they don't matter. They are about bragging rights andorrar room debates.

This game promises to be a pretty good matchup, as the Rams put their unbeaten record on the line and their stifling defense on the field.

The Rams' defense is currently 5th overall in the NFC (behind Green Bay, Dallas, Philadelphia and San Francisco), giving up only 77.9 rushing yards per game. Look for RashadSallam to have a long day.

The Bears, on the other hand, come into the contest 2-1 after a 23-6 victory against the "Yards." Chicago will put its newfound air attack against the Rams defense.

Rams-Bears rivalry will _end: Bears 17, Rams 6.

The only hope for geographical realignment which puts the Bears and Rams in the same conference, allowing the teams to play twice a year.

As for Sunday's game. If I go with my heart, being the Bears fans I am, the Bears will win 27-10. Going with my head, however, I would say the rekindling of the rivalry will end Bears 17, Rams 14 on a Kevin Butler field goal late in the 4th.

Now if we could just get St. Louis an NFA franchise....