Campus 'cool' a week away, officials say

By Chuck Hempstead
Staff Writer

Enduring the heat in classrooms, dorms and the Student Center will be a fact of life until early next week, according to campus officials.

Clarence Dougherty, vice president for campus services, said Monday, "We are turning off the heat today. Last Monday it was snowing."

Dougherty said the University is planning to turn on the chilled water units sometime after April 25 to save between $12,000 and $15,500 on the water bill.

"It takes the better part of a weekend to pull the temperature down," Dougherty said. "We will comply with the energy guidelines of the president's energy program and keep most buildings at 78 degrees."

Dougherty said he plans to close some buildings over the summer, if possible, to eliminate the need to cool them. Charles DuVall, the chief building operating engineer at the Student Center, said the Physical Plant has not provided chilled water for the air conditioners, and the building will not be cooled this week.

DuVall said the building will shut off the lights and cooling system after certain hours and will retain a temperature of 75 to 78 degrees.

Housing Director Sam Rinella said air conditioning at the dorms will be activated Monday of next week.

Rinella said the lights in the corridors and stairwells were turned off for five days in Mae Smith, Neely and Schneider Towers during spring break as an experiment in energy conservation and the University saved $1,300. He said that policy will continue next year during Christmas and between-term breaks.

"We are going to be very careful this summer to not cool Grinnell and Trueblood Halls during non-use times," Rinella said.

"We might move some offices from the dining halls into Neely after May 17 so we don't have to cool them."

Rinella said air conditioning buildings is more costly than heating them.

Nine nations to sanction Iran

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Common Market foreign ministers, debating what steps Western Europe should take in the U.S.-Iran crisis, are ready to recommend stopping imports of Iranian oil, drastically reducing diplomatic contacts and banning arms sales to Iran, diplomatic sources said Monday.

And in Washington, President Carter said that he considers the American hostages "in jeopardy" in Iran and that he doesn't know "how much longer we can sit here and see them kept captive."

The foreign ministers from the nine-nation Common Market opened their meeting here Monday and were expected to announce the anti-Iran steps Tuesday.

Earlier Monday, Australia

became the second Western country to follow President Carter's lead by ordering economic retaliatory steps against Iran.

Portugal was the first to join the U.S.-led sanctions, imposing a total ban on Portuguese-Iranian trade last week.

The two-stage Western European plan calls for reduction of embassy staffs in Tehran and similar cutbacks at Iranian missions to Common Market countries, prohibition of arms sales to Iran and a cutoff of all purchases of Iranian oil, the sources said.

If these actions do not help win the hostages' release, all trade relations between the nine nations and Iran would be broken.

Some sources said the second, tougher stage would be implemented by May 15 if the hostages were not released, but this could not be confirmed.

The European plan, proposed by Britain last week, has received widespread support, even from France, which earlier was viewed as unwilling to take such strong measures.

A high-ranking French diplomat said, "We accept the proposal."

A German source said that to do less than the British propose would damn Europe in the eyes of American public opinion "and that's too high a price to pay."

Carter, in an interview with Walter Cronkite of CBS News, was asked whether any military move wouldn't place the hostages at the U.S. Embassy in some jeopardy.

"I consider them in jeopardy now," the president replied. "There is a volatile political situation in Iran. I think the structure of the government, the social structure and the economic structure lately is deteriorating fairly rapidly. ..."

"I don't know how much longer we can sit here and see them kept captive while the situation around does deteriorate," the president said.

Carter also said he will discourage hostage families from traveling to Iran in an attempt to visit their hostage relatives.

However, he said his "heart goes out" to Mrs. Kenneth Fisman, who visited her son at the embassy on Monday. Carter said he had no intention of punishing her.

Quinn supports teamwork

Candidate advocates decentralization

Robert Quinn

By Paula Donner Walter
Staff Writer

Robert Quinn, one of five candidates for the SIU-C presidency, told students, faculty, staff and alumni Monday that he is a strong advocate of administrative decentralization, a strong supporter of athletics, and a believer of teamwork within a university.

Quinn, dean of Pennsylvania State University's 17 Commonwealth Campuses, appeared at two public question-answer sessions held in the Student Center Auditorium.

Quinn told a questioner that his administrative philosophy during good times and bad is for decentralization.

"Institutions are centralizing more, but my own personal philosophy is directly opposed to that. It's a bad thing to do because the vitality of the institution and the future are directly related to the involvement of people," he said.

On the subject of collegiate athletics, Quinn said he is a "strong, enthusiastic supporter" of it as an important, legitimate part of a university.

"Athletics is part of the academics of a university and does much to enhance the image and public support. Coaches are faculty and athletes are students first. And I think if you're going to compete, you compete to win. You try to excel and when you lose, lose with class," he said.

Quinn added that the "tough part is to be fiscally solvent. You need fiscal responsibility."

During times of predicted declining enrollments, Quinn said, the university will need to "maintain a spirit of teamwork and of confidence in and respect for the institution."

"Time are tough enough on the outside, so we're all going to have to be efficient and maintain a sense of camaraderie."

7-Eleven manager robbed at 1st National deposit box

By Leanne Waxman
Staff Writer

The manager of Carbondale's 7-Eleven Food Store was robbed at gunpoint early Monday as she was about to deposit the store's receipts in the night deposit box at the First National Bank of Carbondale. Sherry L. Easler, 29, manager of the 7-Eleven store located at 602 Grand St., was robbed of two cloth bags containing $3,300, checks and about $35 in food stamps, according to police reports.

Police said the two men who robbed Easler fled south on University Avenue in an older model black Pontiac. One of the men, described as black and between 25 and 30 years of age, remained in the car. The other man got out of the car and pointed a blue steel revolver at Easler, according to police.

Easler described the man who held the gun as black, between 20 and 25 years old, about five feet seven inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds.

Presidential candidate advocates 'teamwork'

If chosen as president, Quinn said, he would like to be perceived by students as "someone generally interested in their education," adding that as an administrator, he would be "first and foremost a faculty member."

"If I were president, I would be thought of as a colleague of the faculty. My primary concern would be the economic welfare and security of the faculty and staff and I would make sure there is a uniform and equitable reward structure that excites people to excel," he said.

When asked how he would react as president within SIU's year-old governance system, Quinn said he would need to be a strong advocate of the campus, yet not be an adversary of the chancellor.

"Whenever you combine institutions in a system, you're going to have basic conflict. But if you're smart enough, interaction can be synergistic. Decisions are made best at the point of action, but certain classes of decisions must be made centrally.

"The president has to adopt a strong advocacy role without becoming an adversary of the chancellor. That relationship can be healthy, natural and good," he said.

The 43-year-old chief executive officer is a physicist by profession with experience as a consultant at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center. He has patented a system for processing fresh mushrooms for canning.

Quinn is married and has five children.

Legal opinions help Fischer 'clear the air' of conflict issue

By Mary Ann McNulty
Staff Writer

Carbondale Mayor Hans Fischer says he is trying to "clear the air once and for all" of any possible conflict of interest in his vote on a zoning request and other city planning issues by sharing with the City Council and the public legal opinions he has received.

In legal opinions that Fischer requested in March, both the Illinois Municipal League and the Feirich, Schoen, Mager, Green and Associates law firm said the mayor's vote on Ira Parrish's rezoning request did not constitute a conflict of interest.

Former City Attorney John Wornick and current City Attorney George Kiriakos also advised Fischer that his vote would not constitute conflict of interest.

Fischer said he sought the opinions after Carbondale Attorney Mike Kimmel charged that the mayor's vote on a rezoning issue was illegal. Kimmel, representing Bill and Barbara Burns — residents who live outside the city limits and are opposed to the planned Parrish Acres South subdivision — charged that Fischer's vote on the issue would be a violation of the Illinois Revised Statutes. The statutes prohibit municipal officials from voting on matters in which they are directly involved.

Fischer owns a 30 percent share of Fischer-Stien Associates, an architectural firm that does business with the city.

Fischer said his firm completed work for Parrish, a developer, in September 1979. The council on March 3 unanimously approved Parrish's request to rezone the area, and allowed preliminary plans on a 260-lot subdivision to proceed.

Thomas Kelly, associate general counsel for the Municipal League, said, "The situation that you describe does not, in my opinion, come within the well established test that an interest, in order to be an interest within the purview of this statute, must be a 'percuniary interest.'"

Kelly said, "While it is true that the mayor as an architect providing services to a developer may benefit from that contract, his remuneration or compensation for his work would not under ordinary circumstances be contingent upon or influenced by action that may be taken by the city council in connection with a zoning or code request."

In a four-page opinion, Feirich described hypothetical situations in which the mayor could vote on issues and not be in violation of conflict of interest laws. He also included interpretations of the statutes by the attorney general, as well as s.x court decisions in conflict of interest cases.

"It is essential for there to be a conflict of interest that both of the tests are met, namely that you have an interest in existence at the time you were called upon to vote and that the matter you are to vote upon is significant and not perfunctory — absent either element there is no conflict," Feirich said.

Fischer said he asked for the legal interpretations because he was "getting a little tired of people making accusations 'trying to shoot me down or shoot down a project the city is working on.'"

Fischer was also cleared of charges of wrongdoing in 1977, when John Wornick, then the city attorney, conducted a five-week investigation into allegations by former Mayor Neal Eckert.

Eckert charged that Fischer's architectural firm had benefited from Fischer's position on the City Council.

Postmaster requests 5-cent rate hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Blaming inflation, the Postal Service asked approval Monday to increase charges for mailing most types of letters from 15 to 20 cents, effective early next year.

Postmaster General William F. Bolger said the Postal Service will need new revenue by next February or March because of rapidly rising labor and energy costs.

"Had inflation not shot up since May 1978, the time of our last rate hike, but instead stayed at the level of that time, we would not today be seeking new rates. In fact, we could have been able to keep the current rates in effect until 1982," Bolger told reporters.

Coal conversion plan may aid miners

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the United Mine Workers of America said Monday that President Carter's coal conversion plan could put more than 12,000 unemployed coal miners back to work.

Sam Church Jr. told a House subcommittee that 20,000 coal miners are collecting unemployment and welfare, and thousands more are working short work weeks because of poor coal market conditions.

"Reducing our dependence on foreign oil is the most effective way of ridding American workers and retired pensioners from the ravages of spiraling inflation," Church said.

Court to act on film coverage of trials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said Monday it will decide whether television and still-photography coverage of trials is constitutional.

The justices said they will review Florida court rulings that such news coverage does not automatically ruin a fair trial.

It was 15 years ago when the Supreme Court overturned the swindling conviction of Texas financier Billy Sol Estes, ruling that television's techniques as they then existed inherently interfered with a fair trial.

But in writing for the court in that 1965 decision, the late Justice Tom Clark said, "When the advances in these arts permit reporting ... by television without their present hazard to a fair trial we will have another case."

The Court also explored whether Congress has the right to encourage even abnormal childbirths by denying welfare funds for most abortions.

The debate embraced medicine and religion along with the law as the justices heard arguments in a major test of the right of Congress to determine how welfare may be spent.

The case involves the federal law prohibiting welfare payments, through the Medicaid program, for all abortions except those necessary to save the mother's life or to terminate pregnancies resulting from rape or incest.

Financial aid funds to increase despite Carter's budget cuts

By Karen Gullo Staff Writer

Financial aid programs at SIU-C apparently will not be jeopardized by President Carter's budget cut proposals for higher education, according to Joe Camille, SIU-C's new financial aid director.

In fact, the tentative funding level for the National Direct Student Loan, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and the college work study programs for the 1980-81 school year has been set at more than $2.9 million by the U.S. Office of Education—a 54 percent increase over funding levels set last year, Camille said in an interview last week.

The amount will be finalized within a few months after the government considers appeals from college financial aid offices. The appropriation was passed last year when Congress passed the fiscal year 1980 budget for student aid, Camille said, adding that SIU did not appeal.

Funds for government-based programs such as Basic Educational Opportunity Grants have already been approved for the 1980-81 school year, Camille said. The amount of money set aside for basic grants by the federal government depends on the number of eligible students.

Last year more than 6,000 SIU students received a total of $5.2 million dollars in basic grant awards, according to Gordon White, former financial aid director. Funding for the 1980-81 basic grant program is expected to stay at the same level, he said.

Changes made by the federal government in the method of application for financial aid allocations account for the funding increase of campus-based programs. Camille said. In previous years allocations were made based on estimated family contribution figures from ACT forms and estimated enrollment and educational costs data.

This year, for the purpose of audits, the financial aid office was required to submit data to the federal government based on actual enrollment, cost of education and need-analysis figures from the 1978-79 school year. SIU was tentatively allocated $820,000 more for campus-based programs than the previous year.

Amendments to reshape federal aid programs under the 1980 Higher Education Act will go before the full Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources April 29, but SIU will not be affected by program changes until the 1981-82 school year, Camille said.

Hello Guyon, goodbye Horton

With a vice-presidential sceptor to be passed over to John Guyon from Frank Horton June 1, we wish them both luck in their respective ventures.

Guyon, currently dean of the Graduate School, has been named acting vice president for academic affairs and research, replacing Horton, who is accepting a job as chancellor at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

In announcing the appointment, acting President Hiram Lesar said Guyon "has shown intelligence, vision and vigorous initiative."

With that phrase in mind, it is fitting that Guyon replace Horton, a man who has helped improve the University greatly, especially in the terms of research.

Horton, who was often described as "hard but fair," has the same qualities that Lesar cited in naming Guyon to fill the vice-presidential post.

Horton organized and encouraged a more aggressive search for public and private grants, while at the same time strengthening the standards for granting tenure and promotion.

His work will be missed by SIU, not so much by students and those less involved with behind-the-scenes work, but by those directly involved with the "nuts and bolts" of the University.

While we wish Horton continued success in Wisconsin, in the same breath we wish Guyon the best of luck here at SIU-C.

He is only an acting vice president. No permanent vice president will be named until a president is selected and it's going to be a while before a permanent vice president for academic affairs and research is named.

In the meantime, Guyon should continue to push the University forward in academic affairs rather than to act as just a caretaker for the office until the new president installs his administration.

Although the departure of Horton is definitely a loss, the naming of Guyon as a replacement helps soften the blow a bit.

There is one special thing, however, that Guyon won't be able to replace. Something that made Horton unique among all the administrators in the country.

Miss Piggy—Horton's 350-pound pet porker.

Letters

Get housing act together

On April 18 the DE reported that the fraternity, Kappa Alpha Psi was "...several thousand dollars in debt to the University for housing payments..." Frankly, I'm quite appalled that University Housing has let this farce continue.

I live on campus and if I neglect to pay my housing, my meal ticket is suspended until I pay or have payments deferred. If the payments are deferred and I do not close out my delinquent account at the close of the semester, my grades will not be released.

Since the fraternity has been in debt last spring and this year, I would think that the University would have set up some form of schedule of payments for the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. I do not understand why the fraternities and sororities have special treatment from University Housing rules and regulations concerning payments.

I believe that the problem is not only that of the Kappas but also University Housing. If Housing is persistent that those living on campus pay by the first of the month or else, the same treatment should also be enforced at Small Group Housing. If the University collected from the Kappas every month in the same vigorous way they do with on-campus housing residents the Kappas would not be in debt as far as they are today—if at all.

As for Mr. Swinburne's statement that if a substantial amount of the debt is paid off they will not be asked to leave, I can only say that this is a lot of bull!

Another facet of this subject that is bothering me is where did all the money collected from fraternal dues go? Also, why is it that only the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity is in debt? Are there other Small Group Housing members in debt?

The University should set up stronger guidelines for the collection of housing payments for those who live in Small Group Housing. Perhaps if University Housing gets its act together, the critics will give the play a good review.—Richard E. Erbach, Freshman, Radio-Television

Proclaim Iranian students' rights

Mr. Dorn's statements regarding alternatives available for Iranian students (April 15 DE) should Illinois universities and colleges abide by the legislature's resolution, not only reflect an acute ignorance of American processes but also demonstrates a gross lack of empathy with the Iranian plight in the United States.

Rather than identifying alternatives available, Mr. Dorn should have explained that the resolution, even if passed by both houses, does not have the force of law. If any attempt were made to enforce the resolution, serious questions of constitutionality would arise.

The Federal Government is responsible for issuing visas for the purpose of pursuing a university education in America. Consequently, the State of Illinois is constitutionally barred from denying any foreign national who has received permission to study in the States, the right to enroll in any university.

Any attempt to prohibit Iranians from enrolling would also constitute a violation of equal protection in that Illinois does not have a "compelling state interest" which would permit it to discriminate against Iranians.

State universities are prohibited from denying Iranians the right to enroll, for purpose specified by the resolution, as such institutions are agents of the state and would, therefore, be subject to the same constitutional proscriptions noted above.

The Federal Government continues to support the right of Iranian students to pursue their education in the United States, as is evidenced by President Carter excepting Iranian students from the administration's recent decision to require Iranians to leave the United States upon the expiration of their visas.

Mr. Dorn and responsible members of the University community should loudly and clearly proclaim the right of Iranian students to enroll for the summer semester, and encourage them to do so.—Bill Gaughan, Graduate Student, Political Science

Abortion: Cruel, twisted logic

Imagine you and a friend are in a plane flying over the ocean. The plane's engine quits and you go down into the water. Coast Guard radar has been tracking you and they know you went down, but they do nothing. Somehow, both of you grab onto a piece of wreckage and paddle to shore. You are alive, but your friend dies from exposure. Later, you ask the Coast Guard why they didn't rescue you. They answer, "If we had known for sure you were alive, we would have come for you."

This story is unlikely, but the twisted logic used by the Coast Guard is not. This is the same type of logic that pro-abortion and pro-choice groups use to justify themselves. Their logic is, until someone proves that human life begins in the womb, they won't worry about whether or not abortion is murder. This is cruel, twisted logic to say the least.

The logic should be like the logic of our criminal law. This logic says that a man is innocent until proven guilty beyond a shadow of a doubt. As the benefit of the doubt is given to the accused man, so it must be given to the baby. We must assume human life begins at conception, because absolutely no one has proved otherwise. In fact, all evidence points to human life beginning at conception.

Women have no more right to decide to abort their babies than they have to kill their husband. Doctors cannot prove that abortion is not murder, so who are mothers to decide.

Unfortunately, pro-choice and pro-abortion people are self-centered and selfish. To avoid the inconvenience of pregnancy, they murder their own offspring. Hitler murdered over nine million Jewish people, but the abortionists have topped him with their number of dead babies. — Terry Dickerson, Senior, Engineering

Changing papers won't change Deeb's column style

Gary Deeb

By Bill Crowe
Entertainment Editor

Gary Deeb may be moving his office and nationally syndicated column 200 yards down the block, but it probably won't change his distinctive style.

For the past seven years Deeb has offered some of the most scathing criticism of radio and TV ever printed in a major publication—the Chicago Tribune. A "fixed" boxing tournament, the network's readiness to exploit violence in prime-time programming and the enormous ineptitude he perceives in Chicago legends Jack Brickhouse and Irv Kupcinet's Chicago Bear broadcasts have all felt Deeb's wrath.

However, Deeb could not get the Tribune's management to regard him with a secretary to help him with the paper work any columnist who is syndicated in 175 cities is bound to run into. So, true to his nature, Deeb took his act and walked—right down the block to the rival Chicago Sun-Times, who hired him immediately.

Deeb, in Carbondale last Thursday as a guest lecturer in several radio-TV and journalism classes, said the tensions had been building between himself and Tribune management since last July. He readily admits that there is now a great deal of animosity between the two. In fact, the Tribune pulled his nomination for consideration for Pulitzer Prizes after he announced the switch in March. Deeb responds to this move by making a vow to haunt the Tribune in the future at the Sun-Times.

"They're going to pay for it for the rest of their natural lives. As long as I'm working for the Sun-Times they're going to be paying for it, believe me."

However, Deeb characterizes his working relationship with the Tribune as a good one, in general. He said he feels the management may have gotten a little restless when he criticized Tribune-owned WGN-TV and radio.

"They always slapped me on the back and said, 'Boy, that's a great job you did.' I think privately the highest management of the Tribune was worried and kind of antsy about the fact that I frequently criticized WGN-TV and radio, Jack Brickhouse and Chicago Bears games. I think they wished that I hadn't done it, but they weren't going to come up to me and tell me not to do it," he explained.

Getting into TV and off the subject of his personal career, Deeb said the network's are at their best when covering late-breaking news and presenting entertainment programs with serious social commentary.

ABC's nightly coverage of the Iranian hostage situation has been excellent, especially since he considers the network to be the worst of the three in news, according to Deeb.

"TV is usually bad at covering the background of things and getting into depth on things. We all know that," Deeb said. "And yet in the Iranian

Elias 'promotes' WLUP to No. 1 album rock station

By Ken Mac Garrigue
Staff Writer

Les Elias works in an industry that recognizes no badge of achievement except maximized profits. In that regard Elias is a success.

A little more than a year ago he took over as vice president and general manager of WLUP (the Loop) in Chicago, fired Steve Dahl, put him on in the morning and helped promote the Loop to where it is now the number one album-oriented rock station with the audience of men 18 to 24 years old—a big-sounding age bracket in a major city that would leave many an ad man drooling.

Elias says over a million listeners a week tune in the Loop. They bank their success on marketable "personalities" with names like Sky Daniels, Mitch Michaels and, of course, Steve Dahl.

Dahl, Elias and the Loop went nationwide last July when they sponsored "Disco Destruction Night" at White Sox Park. Disco records were blown up and an enthusiastic anti-disco crowd got a little out of hand and took over the playing field. The White Sox forfeited the second game because the field was made unplayable.

The disco then hit the fan. The promotion received critical network news coverage plus critical play-up on sports pages around the country. The Loop came out of this all right, though.

"It gave us an enormous amount of visibility—good, bad, indifferent—but at least they knew where we were," Elias said. "Just another vice president and general manager" was now somewhat of a celebrity: a cohort of Dahl in disco destruction night, the Loop T-shirt originator and the guy who signs Steve Dahl's paychecks.

Last week Elias visited Carbondale and spoke to several radio-TV classes and to the D.E.

Q: What happened on disco destruction night?

A: I think you had to be there to really understand the fact that there was nobody out there killing each other. It was just frivolity more than anything else. Those people were just running around having a good time. There was nobody throttling anybody in the corner. In fact there were fewer arrests than on opening day this year. I don't think there was anything particularly remarkable about the whole thing. That's a fairly crowded place. When you get it jammed to capacity, and they only had like 35 security guards there, which I might add is the responsibility of the White Sox, not the Loop, there's not a whole lot you can do about it. It was a remarkably successful promotion.

Q: Which received nationwide coverage...

A: It certainly did. We did become a household name all over the country at that time.

Q: Was this on your mind when you planned it?

A: If I would have told

Personalities, disco demolition helped to make 'the Loop' No. 1

anyone, if I had even thought we could attract 70,000 people to White Sox Park—which is the biggest crowd in their history, the 1965 World Series didn't draw 70,000 people—people would have said I was nuts, thrown a net over me and put me away. It was far beyond anyone's expectations.

Q: A lot of people got upset after this event took place. They say it reflects badly on rock 'n' roll music.

A: Well, so what? So who got killed? Okay? I don't think it's that bad. It's not our job to be a missionary for rock 'n' roll for people who don't like rock 'n' roll. If they don't care for it that's okay with me. I don't think we owe a responsibility of appearing to be something that we're not just for the benefit of the beautiful music listeners of the world. I don't think we should have to apologize for the fact that some of our listeners don't know how to behave.

Q: Do you get much negative mail because of Steve Dahl?

A: Yes we do as a matter of fact. Not as much as you might think. The positive mail interestingly outweighs the negative. I guess the mail I get is pretty much negative. The good things are always addressed to the personality, you know, 'We love your show. Thank you for being a part of our lives,' and things like that. I get the ones that say 'We hate you,' and they don't sign their names. (He laughs) On an average day we'll get one or two letters of complaint or concern.

Q: Concern?

A: You know, a parent who doesn't think their child is 'gaining much from this experience.' That happens from time to time.

Q: Do you like Steve Dahl? Is he a normal all around type of guy?

A: He's not normal in any respect. I do like him, yeah. He's a good friend and a remarkable talent.

Q: What's it that separates Dahl from other radio DJs?

A: Dahl has the ability to really be himself on the radio. That's not an act. He actually says what's on his mind and he does it in a very real way and that's what people appreciate. They may not agree with him, they may not like what he said, but they do admire the fact that he had the courage to say it and not paint on some false smile and say, 'Good morning everybody. It's 10 after nine,' which is not particularly a unique quality in radio. You find that almost every place.

Q: What about his song parodies?

A: I think that was a stroke of genius as a matter of fact. I think his song parodies are an important part of the program, part of his appeal, one of the things that made him acceptable.

Q: Do you have anything to do with his band, 'Teenage Radiation'?

A: We are not in the band booking business. His personal appearances and so forth are all his own. We don't get involved in that.

Q: The Loop emphasizes its recognizable personalities; Sky Daniels, Mitch Michaels, Steve Dahl.

A: Announcers come and go. It's personalities that are in demand. Today we're going to have to go through a growing period while we let people develop distinct personalities. That's why it's necessary to make radio, you know, 'show business,' to make it entertaining. That's what it's all about. It has to be more than just a jukebox.

Q: When are you getting an antenna with a 400-mile radius so we can get the Loop down here?

A: The FCC is the only thing that's standing between me and a million watts as a matter of fact. I don't know what we can do about that. We're going to be able to get a power increase, but I don't think it will be able to jump the system down to Carbondale. You ought to really get it on a cable system down here. That's what they've done at Northern at DeKalb. They have it on a cable system and people listen to it quite a bit down there. We'd like to fix that obviously but the way the channel allocations are it just doesn't seem possible.

When asked about Loreli, the burlesque star of radio and TV commercial fame, Elias said that "we've made something of a star out of her. A celebrity of sorts." And Les Elias is part of that star making machinery behind the popular stars at the Loop.

New job won't change Deeb's style

situation I think more millions of Americans knew not only what was going on and what the issues were, but also had a fairly good fix on the history and recent traditions of American-Iranian relations dating back to the '40s and then up until the present by way of ABC's nightly Iranian news special."

"MASH," "Barney Miller," "Lou Grant" and "60 Minutes," Deeb's personal favorites, are both entertaining and informative, he said.

"MASH" and "Barney Miller" contain messages of brotherhood, the golden rule, all those corny things that really do mean something in our life. They do it without hitting you over the head with a sledgehammer like Norman Lear's programs do so often," he explained.

However, Deeb takes the most pride in writing about those parts of the TV industry that "appeal to the basest, crudest instincts of our society." Such "jiggle shows" as "Charlie's Angels" and "Three's Company" are at the top of his list.

"Sex is a great topic and it ought to be on dramatic programs and comedy programs," Deeb said. "It's just that when it's treated in such a sniggering, adolescent, pre-high school manner—like it is on 'Three's Company'—it reduces sex to a topic that we ought to be embarrassed about, we ought to be ashamed of and we ought to snigger about.

That's the bad thing. That's the worst about television."

"It's embarrassing when they use violence—which is a very real thing and which is something worth putting into dramatic programs—simply as a tool to keep the audience excited, to keep them from switching stations, to goose them up and keep them awake."

As it is readily apparent, Deeb is not bound to change his opinions or stances for anyone, even though he's making a big career switch to a rival newspaper.

"It sure doesn't seem to have hurt Mike Royko's career to be working for the Sun-Times, or Roger Ebert or a number of other good people."

'Two-fisted' jazz musician set for Center Stage show

The "two-fisted" piano style of jazz improvisationalist Art Hodes will be presented by Center Stage Productions at 8 p.m. Friday in Ballroom D of the Student Center.

Hodes is well-known as a musician, author, scholar, composer, lecturer and radio, recording and TV personality. He and his quartet's performances are designed to unfold the evolution of jazz. A typical performance is authentically presented as an improvisational journey through the history of jazz.

A jazz legend himself, Hodes has performed with the best, including Louis Armstrong, Eddie Condon, Sidney Bechet, Pee Wee Russell, Gene Krupa, Benny Goodman and Bix Biederbecke.

Art Hodes

Tickets are $3 for students and $4 for the public.

Special majors provide students with chance for originality, variety

By Laurie Murphy
Student Writer

Laura Moirano had been dancing since she was 14. Then, during her first semester at SIU-C she suffered a back injury that left her in a body cast for seven months.

Walking, let alone dancing, was impossible.

"I learned what it was like not to be able to function," Moirano said.

During her recovery, with coaching from one of her teachers, she decided to change her career goals and work in therapy to help the disabled.

Now recovered, Moirano danced in the Spring Dance Concert earlier this semester. She will graduate this year with a special major in the College of Education—dance and psychomotor therapy.

Moirano, a senior from Northbrook, is one of approximately 80 students who has a major not listed in the course catalog. The students are designing their own programs around such varied interests as solar energy application and liturgical music and drama.

The special major program is administered within General Academic Programs. A special major is defined as "a student-designed course of study (developed in collaboration with a faculty sponsor) leading to a baccalaureate degree the major for which is not covered by standard degree curricula of the University."

Students in the special major program are all average or better-than-average students, said Jewell Friend, dean of General Academic Programs, who gives final approval for a student's proposed program.

The special major demands maturity of the student, Friend said. Because of the individualized study, the programs generally exceed the 120 hours of credit normally needed for graduation.

Having a special major in biomedical science is a "lot of paper work," Lyle Clark, a senior, said. His program—which combines mathematics, physics and biochemistry—gives him what he needs to know in his field, said Clark, who will be in medical school next year.

In his special major Clark said that he is able to study engineering, radiology and computer programming—areas he sees as important for the doctor of the future.

Another student who is looking toward the future is Jeff Burton, a senior, who has a program in computer graphics. "Few schools, if any, offer this major," Burton, whose studies are based in the Design Department, said.

The areas he studies include math, computer science and design. He is interested in programming computers for visual art, a new and promising field, he said. Programming computers can also be used in the aerospace industry in designing rockets, he said.

Designing a program that fits a student's talents and interests has led some students to majors that they are happier with.

Janice Gualdoni said she was depressed her sophomore year because she was getting interested in religion at the time and didn't know if she would be happy working in music and theater, her previous majors.

Gualdoni, a senior from Herrin, designed a special major in liturgical music and drama. Her course of study, within the College of Communications and Fine Arts, includes religion, music, history and theater.

After graduation she hopes to work as an organist and program director or a church youth administrator. She said she is very happy with her major because it allows her to combine her interests.

Z.Z. Top set for May show in the Arena

The Texas boogie sounds of Z.Z. Top will fill the Arena May 9 when the band makes a stop in Carbondale on its first tour in three years. Tickets, priced at $8.50 and $6.50, will go on sale at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the Arena.

Z.Z. Top—consisting of Frank Beard on drums, Billy Gibbons on guitar and Dusty Hill on bass—has just released "Deguello," its first album on the Warner Brothers label.

The band's last concert tour, "The Worldwide Texas Tour" in 1976, was one of the highest grossing shows in the history of rock 'n' roll and included an on-stage collection of longhorn cattle, bison and snakes.

Burglary prevention project funded

By Leanne Waxman
Staff Writer

The Carbondale Police Department recently received a $2,000 grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission to purchase equipment for a two-phase computerized burglary prevention project, which has partially been in effect in Carbondale since late 1978.

The first phase of the project, named the Burglary Analysis Group, will help the city's police department analyze burglary data through a video display terminal purchased by the department with the ILEC grant. ILEC is a state-level central clearinghouse for federal public safety money. The department has been analyzing burglary data with an IBM 370 computer since November of 1978.

The second phase of the project will try to involve members of the community in reducing the city's burglary rate. A two-man BAG team will distribute burglary prevention information to the public.

By identifying areas of the city hard hit by burglaries, gauging trends in the burglary rate and offering the public information gathered by BAG on how they can make their homes more secure, BAG will be instrumental in decreasing the incidence of burglary in the city, according to Police Lt.

Tom Busch, director of the project.

"Carbondale has a higher rate of burglary than other University communities," Busch said.

Burglary, referred to by the U.S. Department of Justice as the "crime of opportunity," is the most commonly committed felony in Carbondale. There were 346 burglaries committed in Carbondale last year.

The BAG computer terminal is hooked into the computer system at SIU-C, but the computer file used by BAG is only available to the police department.

One of the objectives of BAG is to reduce the city's burglary rate by 25 percent in its first year. BAG will be evaluated next fall, Busch said.

On request, the police department will evaluate free of charge any home or business in the city for the quality of window and door locks and other home security measures.

A study by the BAG team revealed that the most common entry into the burglarized residences or businesses did not involve force.

The study indicated that burglaries were most often committed when residents were away from their homes for only a short period of time before the burglary occurred.

Health News...

Tingling, Numbness In Hands Will Return Again & Again

By Dr. Roy S. White
Doctor of Chiropractic

Dear Doctor: I am suffering from what I understand to be a "neuromedian disturbance." I say I understand but I don't!

First my hands started going to sleep. Then I lost strength in one hand.

The writer of the above inquiry was referring to the median nerve which passes through a sheath in the wrist or carpal area.

Pressure on the nerve there can cause what is called the carpal tunnel syndrome — tingling, numbness, loss of strength in the fingers.

And, it is one of those "sure as the sun will rise" problems.

What I mean frankly, is that this is a problem that is going to keep returning, and with greater intensity, just as surely as the sun rises, if no effective treatment is obtained.

There are many contributing causes to the "Carpal tunnel syndrome" ranging from low thyroid to menopause.

By the most common cause is injury or excessive strain. And just as the leaves of an injured branch will wither, so too will a hand lose its usefulness if this problem goes unsolved.

There are many short range treatments for the tingling and numbness but all are something of a "band-aid" approach to the problem.

I'm not going to comment on the advisability of surgery for this condition, except to say that Chiropractic has proven ever so effective in unlocking nerve pressure and restoring vital nerve flow.

I urge anyone who has this condition or notices occasionally tingling in the fingers or numbness of a hand that frequently goes to sleep, to seek care from a Doctor of Chiropractic.

Do you have a question? Write or call...

REDKEN

Chicago police to be target of federal inquiry

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal authorities said Monday they will investigate allegations of underworld influence in the police department.

Mayor Jane Byrne's new police superintendent acknowledged there has been attempted political interference, but minimized any role of mobsters.

U.S. Attorney Thomas P. Sullivan said he would join with the Justice Department strike force on organized crime and local authorities in looking into charges that gangsters were trying to have tough police officers shifted from their jobs.

Those charges intensified over the weekend after three top-ranked officers were demoted. The Chicago Tribune reported Sunday that the three officers accused two of the mayor's top aides of fronting for politicians with mob connections in trying to control sensitive police jobs.

The Cook County state's attorney says there will be a grand jury investigation into the allegations, which have dominated local news reports and could spell political trouble for the mayor.

Byrne said the dispute is a "squabble" and described herself as "clean as a whistle." "I will willingly go before a grand jury," she said.

Former Deputy Police Superintendent James Zurawski, one of those demoted, insisted that mobsters who control certain politicians forced him to be banished to a less sensitive job.

The new police superintendent, Richard Brzezczek, confirmed Sunday that Zurawski told him in February of phone calls from City Hall pressuring him to make key personnel changes for political reasons.

Zurawski said he kept a log of political attempts to influence the department and that his resistance to the mob resulted in his demotion.

Brzezczek said he never received calls personally, nor did he know who made them. He told Zurawski to inform callers they should speak directly to him if they had anything to say about personnel.

Brzezczek said he told Byrne of the calls and said she backed him up.

WHAT COULD THE ARMY POSSIBLY OFFER A BRIGHT PERSON LIKE YOU?

Drop your guard for a minute. Even though you're in college right now, there are many aspects of the Army that you might find very attractive.

Maybe even irresistible. See for yourself.

MED SCHOOL, ON US

You read it right.

The Army's Health Professions Scholarship Program provides necessary tuition, books, lab fees, even microscope rental during medical school.

Plus a tax-free monthly stipend that works out to about $6,450 a year. (After July 1, 1980, it'll be even more.)

After you're accepted into medical school, you can be accepted into our program. Then you're commissioned and you go through school as a Second Lieutenant in the Army Reserve.

The hitch? Very simple. After your residency, you give the Army a year as a doctor for every year the Army gave you as a med student, and under some conditions with a minimum scholarship obligation for two years' service.

INTERNSHIP, RESIDENCY & CASH BONUSES

Besides scholarships to medical school, the Army also offers AMA-approved first-year post-graduate and residency training programs.

Such training adds no further obligation to the student in the scholarship program. But any Civilian Graduate Medical Education sponsored by the Army gives you a one-year obligation for every year of sponsorship.

But you get a $9,000 annual bonus every year you're paying back medical school or post-graduate training.

So you not only get your medical education paid for, you get extra pay while you're paying it back.

Not a bad deal.

A GREAT PLACE TO BE A NURSE

The rich tradition of Army Nursing is one of excellence, dedication, even heroism. And it's a challenge to live up to.

Today, an Army Nurse is the epitome of professionalism, regarded as a critical member of the Army Medical Team.

A BSN degree is required. And the clinical spectrum is almost impossible to match in civilian practice.

And, since you'll be an Army Officer, you'll enjoy more respect and authority than most of your civilian counterparts. You'll also enjoy travel opportunities, officer's pay and officer's privileges.

Army Nursing offers educational opportunities that are second to none. As an Army Nurse, you could be selected for graduate degree programs at civilian universities.

ADVANCED NURSING COURSE, TUITION-FREE

You get tuition, pay and living allowances. You can also take Nurse Practitioner courses and courses in many clinical specialties. All on the Army.

While these programs do not cost you any money, most of them do incur an additional service obligation.

A CHANCE TO PRACTICE LAW

If you're about to get your law degree and be admitted to the bar, you should consider a commission in the Judge Advocate General Corps. Because in the Army you get to practice law right from the start.

While your classmates are still doing other lawyers' research and other lawyers' briefs, you could have your own cases, your own clients, in effect, your own practice.

Plus you'll have the pay, prestige and privileges of being an Officer in the United States Army. With a chance to travel and make the most of what you've worked so hard to become. A real, practicing lawyer. Be an Army Lawyer.

ROTC SCHOLARSHIPS

Though you're too late for a 4-year scholarship, there are 3-, 2-, and even 1-year scholarships available.

They include tuition, books, and lab fees. Plus $100 a month living allowance. Naturally they're very competitive. Because besides helping you towards your degree, an ROTC scholarship helps you towards the gold bars of an Army Officer.

Stop by the ROTC office on campus and ask about details.

UP TO $170 A MONTH

You can combine service in the Army Reserve or National Guard with Army ROTC and get up to $6,500 while you're still in school.

It's called the Simultaneous Membership Program. You get $100 a month as an Advanced Army ROTC Cadet and an additional $70 a month (sergeant's pay) as an Army Reservist.

When you graduate, you'll be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, but not necessarily assigned to active duty. Find out about it.

A BONUS FOR PART-TIME WORK

You can get a $1,500 bonus just for enlisting in some Army Reserve units. Or up to $2,000 in educational benefits.

You also get paid for your Reserve duty. It comes out to about $1,000 a year for about 16 hours a month and two weeks annual training.

And now we have a special program to help you fit the Army Reserve around your school schedule. It's worth a look.

A SECOND CHANCE AT COLLEGE

Some may find college to be the right place at the wrong time for a variety of reasons. The Army can help them, too.

A few years in the Army can help them get money for tuition and the maturity to use it wisely.

The Army has a program in which money saved for college is matched two-for-one by the government. Then, if one qualifies, a generous bonus is added to that.

So 2 years of service can get you up to $7,400 for college, 3 years up to $12,100, and 4 years up to $14,100. In addition, bonuses up to $3,000 are available for 4-year enlistments in selected skills.

Add in the experience and maturity gained, and the Army can send an individual back to college a richer person in many ways than one.

We hope these Army opportunities have intrigued you as well as surprised you. Because there is indeed a lot the Army can offer a bright person like you.

Irving Dilliard to present lecture on the effects of media on politics

By Chuck Hempstead
Staff Writer

A charter member of the Harvard Nieman Fellows Association, the first director of the Illinois Department on Aging, and a 35-year veteran reporter and editorial page editor of the St. Louis Post Dispatch are just a few of the feelings in the cap worn by Irving Dilliard, on campus this week as part of the visiting professors program of the College of Communications and Fine Arts.

Dilliard will present a University Lecture Tuesday titled "The Communication Media and Their Effect on Politics."

The lecture, sponsored by the Phi Beta Kappa Association, of which he is the national historian, and the School of Journalism, will begin at 4 p.m. in the Morris Library Auditorium. A public reception will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the lounge adjacent to the auditorium.

When asked to what degree the media influence the political process, Dilliard said, "The media definitely have their bearing on politics. Some are beneficial and some are not so good. It's up to the citizens to be critical and fair."

In 1935, Dilliard became a member of the first group of Harvard Nieman Fellows. In 1974, he became the first Director of the Illinois Department on Aging. He was also last year's recipient of the Friends of Morris Library Award.

Dilliard, who has been the historian for the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa for 12 years, said he is very interested in SIU-C obtaining a chapter and has spoken out for it for years. He feels confident that the current effort to be awarded a chapter will be successful.

Placement Center to hold education careers seminar

By University News Service

Some 40 school districts from throughout Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana and Wisconsin will be represented during Education Career Day Wednesday.

The day-long program will include job interviews with representatives of participating school districts, and seminars on interviewing skills, hiring techniques, and resume writing, according to Jane Tierney of the Career Planning and Placement Center, sponsor of the event.

School district representatives will be on hand in the Student Center ballrooms from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Seminars scheduled for the Mississippi Room include:

- interviewing skills, 8:30 to 9:30 a.m.;
- hiring techniques, 10 to 11 a.m. and 11 a.m. to noon;
- resume writing, 2 to 3 p.m.

Deaf teen wins Madison spelling bee

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Jennifer Nelson, 14, is a champion at spelling obscure and multisyllabic words she has never heard.

Jennifer, deafened by meningitis since she was 1½ years old, reads lips. She outlasted 47 other competitors during the weekend to win the All-City Spelling Bee and qualify for the upcoming state finals.

After a moderator announced each word in Saturday's contest, Jennifer watched as a teacher, Maureen McGilligan-Bentin, mouthed it. Then Jennifer turned to a pair of microphones and spelled out the words.

Then she would glance back at Mrs. McGilligan-Bentin in anticipation of the approving smile which silently told her she had won another round.

Victory in the city contest, one of 40 regional bees, qualifies Jennifer for this weekend's statewide Badger Spelling Bee. The winner of that competition advances to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C., in June.

Tennis team squeaks past Illini, 5-4

By Rick Seymour
Staff Writer

After a tough slate of weekend matches, the Saluki men's tennis team brought home one victory in three matches. A 5-4 win over Illinois at Champaign Sunday ended what might have been a dismal weekend on a happy note.

The No. 1 doubles team of Dave Filer and John Grief clinched the victory by defeating Todd Black and Scott Sommers in a 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 tiebreaker.

"That No. 1 doubles seemed as if it was going to go on forever. We won the No. 2 doubles, which was played first, so that put a lot of pressure on our No. 1 team," Coach Dick LeFevre said.

Lito Ampon and Steve Smith defeated Jeff Edwards and Mike Kramer, 6-3, 6-2, to tie the match at four. This set the stage for Filer and Grief's performance.

SIU took the No. 1 singles match as Filer had to come from behind to beat Edwards, 1-6, 7-5, 6-3. Ampon lost to Black at No. 2 singles, 6-1, 6-2.

Smith also had to come from behind to beat Sommers, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, to capture the No. 3 singles match. A 6-3, 6-1 win over the Illini's Kramer gave Grief a win. No. 5 singles player Eric Eberhardt lost to Tom Henderson in a close match, 6-7, 6-3, 6-3.

"We played very well against Illinois. I was delighted to win that one," LeFevre said.

SIU-Edwardsville gave the Rodgers wins

Boston Marathon

By The Associated Press

Hometown hero and record-holder Bill Rodgers charged in front at the halfway mark and kicked away from all challengers Monday to easily win his fourth—and third straight—Boston Marathon.

Rodgers finished in an unofficial time of two hours, 12 minutes and 11 seconds, well off his record of last year, which was 2:09.27.

Mario Maracabei of Italy came in second. Houston's Ron Tabb came in third.

Salukis its first loss of the weekend Friday, 6-3.

Edwardsville took the first two sets of singles as Juan Farrow defeated Filer, 6-3, 6-3. Ampon lost to Hugo Nunez, 6-3, 6-1. After those two matches, Smith took the No. 3 singles with a 6-3, 6-4 win over Raimo C. Jala.

Grief won No. 4 singles, 6-4, 6-2, over Jorma Leppanen. Eberhardt nipped Ray Kuzava in a No. 5 singles match that had 12 service breakers in the third set. Eberhardt won, 7-5, 4-6, 7-6.

SIU-E won all three doubles matches. Filer and Grief were defeated by Farrow and Nunez, 6-0, 6-2. Two defaults by the Salukis at No. 3 doubles and No. 6 singles gave Edwardsville two points.

"Edwardsville is a very good team. They are the defending Division II champs, but I think we gave them a good match," LeFevre said.

Saturday was a beautiful day, but Indiana University made it cloudy, defeating the Salukis, 7-2. An almost clean sweep of the singles matches made it impossible for the Salukis to come back in doubles.

The lone victory of the singles matches came when Grief defeated Jim Curran, 6-0, 6-4. Smith and Ampon beat Jeff True and Ray Leonard, 6-1, 2-6, 7-6, to give SIU its second victory of the day.

"We did not play as well as I thought we should have against Indiana. They are undefeated in the Big Ten, but I still felt that we should have given them a better match," LeFevre said.

After the long weekend of tennis, the Salukis now are 16-1 with four matches remaining before the Missouri Valley Conference meet in May.

Softball team finishes third at UNM

By Dave Kane
Staff Writer

Welcome to the Lobo Diamond Invitational softball tournament, ladies and gentlemen. Get out your scorecards; let's first go over each team's record as they come into this women's softball tourney.

Leading off, the nation's No. 1 team, Cal-Poly Pomona, with a 34-10 record. Second, the defending national champion, Texas Women's University, with a 61-10 mark. Third, your host, the University of New Mexico, at 16-14. And fourth, the Lady Gophers from the University of Minnesota at 7-11.

Last but not least (except in number of games played), SIU with a 5-4 record.

Despite playing only a fraction of their opponents' schedules, (even Minnesota had played twice the games SIU had), the Lady Salukis managed to come out of the six-game tournament in Albuquerque, N.M., last weekend with two wins, three losses and a tie, good for third place.

"In view of the number of games everyone else has played, I think we came out pretty well," Coach Kay Brechtelsbauer said.

That could be the understatement of the semester. Even though it was out-numbered schedule-wise, SIU edged Minnesota, 2-1, Saturday, then battled to a 5-5 tie with the Gophers later the same day. Sunday, SIU trimmed New Mexico, 4-2.

SIU was only "out" of one contest, a 10-0 drubbing against Texas Women's, was described by Brechtelsbauer as her team's worst defensive game of the season. The Salukis were guilty of six errors.

Top-ranked Cal Poly defeated the Salukis, 6-2 and 3-1. In the 3-1 loss Friday, the Salukis held a 1-0 lead into the late innings, but Cal Poly bounced back to claim the win.

"Texas Women's just ran us to death," Brechtelsbauer said. "Then they'd bunt and we'd hold the ball instead of making the play. It seemed like some of our players were in awe because of their (TWU's) aggressiveness. We didn't react. We didn't respond. I knew we needed a little more experience and leadership on the infield."

This prompted Brechtelsbauer to make her only major move of the tournament. For the final game against New Mexico, she moved Robin Deterding to shortstop, hard-hitting Lisa Dennis to center, Becky Beville to second base and Tracy Miller to left.

"I figured with the state tournament in two weeks, a move like that would be worth a try," Brechtelsbauer said. "I was pleased with what I saw in the last game against New Mexico."

Dennis, who entered the tourney with a .260 average, was 8-for-15 in the six games to work her way into the center field spot. There were only two home runs in the tourney, and Deterding and rightfielder Dee Stull hit them.

Dennis also kept a last-inning rally alive in the 5-5 tie with Minnesota. With two outs and a runner at second, she singled to put runners at first and third. Deterding then came through with a two-run triple to tie it. The game later was called due to a time limit.

The three-person pitching rotation of Donna Dapson, Gena Galli and Vicki Stafko again carried the team through the tournament. Brechtelsbauer cited Dapson's complete-game win over New Mexico as one of the best efforts of the season.

"We had a lot of highs and lows in the tourney," Brechtelsbauer said. "We learned a few things, and when you come out in third place when you were in our situation, you didn't do too poorly."

But the number of games SIU has played continues to disturb Brechtelsbauer.

"What we really need is a spring trip early in the season," she said. "I see a lot of Division I and II schools taking them."

Ruggers now 6-1 via 38-16 victory

Bobby Morgan scored three tries and Dave Hanetho two as the SIU men's rugby team upped its record to 6-1 by defeating Southeast Missouri State, 38-16.

Morgan, who is a coach for the club, scored all three of his tries in the second half. Hanetho scored once in each of the 40-minute halves.

The Salukis trailed twice, 6-0 and 12-6, in the first half. Hanetho, Tom Anderson and Glenn Frank scored tries and John Glotzbach kicked two conversions to give the Salukis a 16-12 halftime lead.

Hanetho opened the second half scoring with a try directly off the opening kick. Glotzbach added the conversion. Then Morgan went to work, scoring three times in the last 17 minutes of play. Keith Wilcox also added a try.

SEMO's record dropped to 5-1-1 with the loss.

SIU will travel to the Louisville Derby Cup on Friday to take part in a 16-team tournament. The Salukis will be the favorite in Division B, which will be comprised of collegiate teams.

Inconsistency plagues golfers in 11th-place tournament finish

By Dave Kane
Staff Writer

In a way, the Saluki golf team's performance at Wichita State University's Shocker Classic was a "shocker," especially if you consider Coach Walt Siemsglusz' evaluation. But SIU's fortunes were hardly in the "classic" category.

SIU finished 11th in the 18-team field with a 54-hole total of 915, 46 shots behind first-place Oral Roberts. ORU's 869 was eight strokes better than second-place Oklahoma, and Wichita State was a distant third with 885.

Individually, the Salukis' Jim Reburn was the most consistent shooter with rounds of 77, 76 and 75 for a 228 total, good for 20th place. ORU's Mike Barton took medalist honors with 213. Although Reburn's rounds were fairly stable, Siemsglusz said getting solid rounds from all his golfers on the same day was a problem.

"Our problem, especially out at Wichita, was that we never could get everyone to play well on the same day," Siemsglusz said. "Reburn was our only player to have even a mediocre tournament overall, but even his scores weren't as low as he was capable of doing."

It seemed as though the Saluki players couldn't get their acts together on the same days. Doug Clemens fired an even-par 72 in the opening round while Rick Jarrett shot an 82 and Todd O'Reilly shot a 78. The next round, however, Jarrett shot a 73, while Butch Poshard and Todd O'Reilly struggled with 82s and Clemens erred a 78.

The occasional 72s and 73s probably gave the second-year coach reason for optimism, but Siemsglusz was displeased with the overall results.

"We played way under the level we were capable of playing," Siemsglusz said. "We should have shot under 300 every round, but the closest we came was 303 in the first and third rounds."

"We just didn't use our heads, there was no excuse. I felt we would be capable of playing with the teams there. The fact that there would be some tough teams there (No. 5 Oral Roberts and Wichita State playing on its home course) should have helped our competitiveness," he added.

Siemsglusz said the weather wasn't much of a hindrance, either, especially on the second day when the 60-degree temperatures and calm winds made for ideal scoring conditions.

"The course (Wichita State

Golf Course) was really pretty easy," Siemsglusz said. "The only problem was that some of the fairways were kind of clumpy. I was happy with the way Reburn handled that, though. He didn't let that kind of surface affect his wedge shots, he didn't 'chunk' any of them. If a few more putts would have dropped for him, he would have had a much better round."

Although Siemsglusz said the Shocker Classic was an important meet for comparing teams in the Midwest, he's looking ahead to the Missouri Valley tournament in Terre Haute, Ind., May 1, 2 and 3.

"The two-week layoff should help us spot some of our problems," Siemsglusz said. "The problem with this game is that everyone has to prepare in different ways. When you practice as a team, it might force some people to do things that aren't good for them."

Bosox outslug Chisox, 9-8

By The Associated Press

Dwight Evans doubled home the winning run in the eighth inning after Rick Burleson, Jim Rice and Carlton Fisk all had homered earlier for Boston as the Red Sox edged the White Sox 9-8 Monday.

Boston trailed, 6-6, when Tony Perez opened the eighth with a single off reliever Randy Scarbery, 0-1, and Fisk followed with a single. Pinch hitter Jerry Remy's sacrifice advanced the runners and Jack Brohamer stroked a long single to left center, scoring Perez and pinch runner Jim Dwyer, tying the score. After Gary Allenson bunted, Evans followed with his double.

Skip Lockwood, 1-1, came on for Boston in the top of the fifth, and held Chicago scoreless, giving up only two hits, before giving way to Dick Drago in the ninth.

In the fourth inning, hot-hitting Harold Baines tagged a two-run homer off Steve Renko, the second of four Boston pitchers, giving Chicago a 7-6 lead. Lamar Johnson doubled and scored on Chet Lemon's single for the White Sox' final run.

their eighth wins of the season, Martin at the No. 4 position against Jenny Suppes, 6-0, 6-1, and Foss at No. 5 against Kathy Bullock, 6-4, 6-3.

Playing at the No. 6 position, sophomore Fran Watson defeated Trish Suppes, the sister of Jenny, 6-0, 6-3. The win was the 10th for Watson.

In doubles, Foss and Warren won their 12th match for the spring, 6-1, 6-0, over Principia's Trish Suppes and Rhodes, and Mona Etchison and Debbie Burda, in their first match of the season, defeated Jenny Suppes and Bullock, 6-1, 7-5.

The 8-1 win over Principia was the second seven-match victory in a row for the Salukis, as they defeated Illinois at Champaign last Saturday on SIU's final spring road trip. Friday, SIU lost to Iowa, 6-3, but defeated Iowa State, 5-4.

Netters win ninth match by defeating Principia

By Rick Klatt
Staff Writer

Winning big was the order of the day for the women's tennis team Monday afternoon at the SIU tennis courts as it ended its spring dual match season on a winning note, blasting Principia College, 8-1.

The Salukis closed their most successful spring season ever by winning five of six singles matches and all three doubles matches. It was the ninth victory against four defeats; the previous SIU spring season best was 3-2 in 1978. The Salukis ended the 1979-80 dual match schedule with a 12-14 record overall.

Of the eight matches won by SIU, all eight were in straight sets and 11 of the sets were won by scores of 6-2 or less.

The most encouraging play of the match came from No. 1 singles player Jeannie Jones. The senior from Anna has been struggling all season, but needed only a little over an hour and a 15 minutes to put away to put away Principia's Melissa Miller, 6-0, 6-2.

"Jeannie had a disappointing weekend," Saluki Coach Judy Auld said. "But today she really was determined. She was intense and aggressive. She was attacking and had good movement.

"She could play that way all the time because she's an excellent player," the coach added.

Jones used an overpowering forehand and good consistent backhands to record only her sixth win against 11 defeats.

"Jeannie finally is learning to wait for her shot," Auld said. "When she had a chance to put it away, she didn't go for the line. She just went for the winning shot."

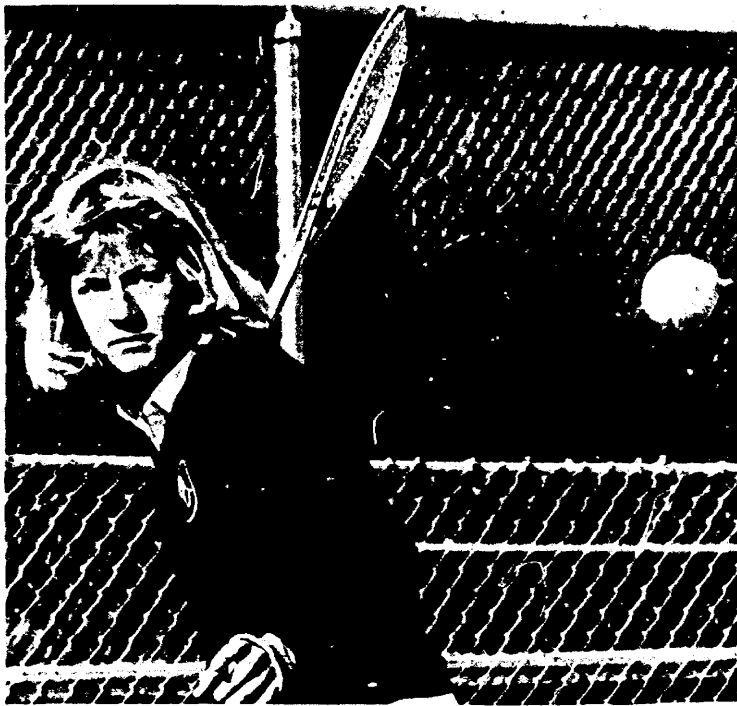

Jones and Mauri Kohler, the only SIU doubles team with a losing record, also had an easier time Monday. The two seniors defeated Miller and Kristi Martin, 6-4 6-2, for their sixth victory.

Unfortunately, the good fortunes were a bit late for Kohler. During singles play, the Monsey, N.Y., native had the distinction of being the only Saluki to not win her match as she lost to Julie Rhodes, 7-5, 6-2. Kohler's record now stands at 3-11.

Kohler's teammates weren't so unlucky. Freshman Lisa Warren, the Salukis No. 2 singles player, upped her already SIU-best record to 13-3 with a 6-1, 6-0, thrashing of Martin.

Jeannie Jones returns a shot during her singles match against Principia's Melissa Miller. Jones won the match, 6-0, 6-2, and the Salukis won the meet, 8-1, Monday at the University tennis courts. SIU's record improved to 9-4 with the victory.

Lee's hurdle time second in country

By Rod Smith
Staff Writer

SIU track Coach Lew Hartzog described David Lee's performance in Friday's Kansas Relays as "nothing less than sensational."

The junior from University City, Mo., won the intermediate hurdles in a meet and school record clocking of 49.39. His time is second in the nation, only 0.01 seconds behind Andre Phillips of USC.

"It was the best performance of the day," an obviously elated Hartzog said. "It was a super-charged finals. He was running against Gatewood, the Texas Relays champ, and Gregg Byrum, a three-time winner at Kansas who finished third in the NCAAs last year. It's so important for him to go against great people. It's part of his growth as a hurdler.

"Running in the Kansas or Drake Relays is a shaking experience for anyone," Hartzog added. "He's rapidly getting to the point, even in the high hurdles, where he is more stellar all the time. I'm happy. You can't ask for much more."

The coach said Lee might have won the 110-meter high hurdles too, but was accidentally hit in the chest by the runner next to him near the end of the race.

Other entrants at Kansas were Jon Whyte, a ninth-place tinsner in the decathlon; the four-mile relay team of freshmen Mike Choffin and Tom Ross and sophomores Bill Moran and Karsten Schulz, which took sixth; and the distance medley team with Lee running for Choffin, which captured third place.

"Whyte has two very, very sore ankles. I was scared it might hurt him in the conference, but he'll be ready," Hartzog said. "I felt pretty good about all four guys in the relays.

Karsten brought us from fifth to third in the distance medley, just getting edged for second by Oklahoma State. I was pretty pleased all-in-all with that."

While Hartzog and his mini-team were out West, Assistant Coach Rob Roeder and the rest of the team were in Champaign for the Illini Classic.

Senior Clarence Robison took second place in both the 100- and 200-meter dashes and classmate Mike DeMattei took second in the pole vault.

It was a good day for Saluki alumni also, as Stan Podolosi won the hammer throw with a personal best and meet record throw of 215-8, and Terry Erickson finished second in the 400 meters in 46.6. Rick Rock, who is still a student but has used all four years of eligibility, captured the long jump with a leap of 24-9.

Hartzog has another reason to smile this week. Harrisburg hurdler Perry Duncan has agreed to attend SIU next fall on a track scholarship and also compete on Coach Rey Dempsey's football team.

The Salukis will compete this weekend in the prestigious Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa.

Baseball team splits at UMSL

By Mark Pablic
Staff Writer

The Saluki baseball team suffered from the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde syndrome Sunday against Missouri-St. Louis, splitting a double-header.

The Salukis lost game one, 7-4, going through two pitchers, making two errors and collecting only seven hits. In the nightcap, SIU won, 23-6, and tagged 18 hits, including two home runs by junior Gerry Miller and a grand slam by freshman Joe Richardson.

SIU Coach Itchy Jones tried to explain his club's two different performances.

"In the first game, no one came out with that killer instinct," Jones said. "The team just didn't seem like it wanted to play."

Junior Paul Evans started for the Salukis, pitching no-hit ball until the fourth inning when UMSL exploded for three runs, two of them on a home run by Bob Heitzman.

Jerry Halstead relieved Evans in the fifth, giving up three runs on four hits. The Salukis' four runs came on some runs by Miller and Jim Adduci, and a two-run single by Bob Doerrner.

"The players knew in the second game they would have to come out hungry and play with more intensity," Jones said. "They were a little embarrassed and should've been.

"They showed they are capable of hitting and scoring a lot of runs," Jones added. "You have to work for the things you want. The other team isn't going to give you a win."

Freshman Tom Caulfield started the game for the Salukis, but was hit hard early and was relieved by Bob Huber, who picked up the win. Assistant Coach Mark Newman was especially pleased with Huber's performance.

"Bobby really pitched an excellent game," Newman said. "He threw as well as anyone did this whole weekend and we had some good outings from our staff.

"All the pitchers are behind because of the weather, but if the weather stays nice here at home, the pitchers will be able to throw a great deal more and can start catching up on things," Newman said.

The Salukis drove in six runs in the first and sixth innings, five in the third and four in the seventh. Miller, whose three homers for the day tied a club record, tagged a three-run shot in the first as part of the seventh-inning, six-run performance.

Adduci, who leads the team with a hot .427 batting average, went three for four in game two. The junior leftfielder has 21 RBI's, six homers, and is flawless in the field this season.

"Both Adduci and Miller are hitting the ball consistently," Jones said. "They have 43 RBI's between the two of them, which we need.

"All in all, everyone has improved their hitting," Jones said. "People finally are getting their bats around with some speed and are making contact.

"Our statistics have drastically improved since our spring trip," he said. "It hurt a lot of ballplayers not being able to play because of the weather."

The Salukis will face UMSL again Tuesday in a double-header at Abe Martin Field at 1:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. SIU takes on Kentucky for three y's double-header beginning at 1 p.m.

Lady golfers take 10th at Marshall tourney

By Ed Dougherty
Staff Writer

Ideal weather was not the answer to the women's golf team's problems as it finished 10th out of 15 teams at the fifth annual Marshall University Invitational Golf Tournament last weekend at the Riviera Country Club in Lesage, W. Va.

The Salukis shot a 353 and a 350 in sunny 70-degree weather for a combined score of 703 in the 36-hole tournament. Ohio State finished first with 640, and Kentucky was a distant second at 664.

Sandy Lemon, the Salukis' top finisher, was 25th with a 36-hole total of 171. Tennyne Orr from Kentucky was the medalist, shooting a 154, and Kathy Williams of Minnesota was a close second, 155.

Saluki Coach Mary Beth McGirr said that it was the worst round Lemon ever had shot in college competition. However, McGirr added that Lemon made a good comeback on the final nine holes with a 38.

McGirr said the team was disappointed with its performance and so was she.

"They were disappointed because they knew they could play better," McGirr said. "and I know what we're capable of shooting from last fall. But they did do their best."

It was a long and tight course, McGirr said, but believe it or not, Tina Ripplly, Ohio State, and Susan Justus, Cincinnati, each shot holes-in-one during the first round. They eagled the par-three, 146-yard 15th hole.

Judy Dohrmann was the most consistent golfer for the Salukis, McGirr said, as she shot two 18-hole rounds of 86 and finished 28th out of the field of 75 golfers. Penny Porter, who had to drive to Lesage from Carbondale the night before the tournament, was third with a 178. Kim Birch was fourth with a 182, and Sue Fazio, whom McGirr said shot her worst round of the year, was fifth, 184.

The Salukis' next and final scheduled meet will be at home May 2-3.
