Kenyan Will Address Model U.N.

Mwabili Kisaka, counselor of the permanent mission of the Republic of Kenya to the United Nations, will speak at the second session of the Model U.N. at 7:30 p.m. today in the University Center. Freshman convocation credit will be given.

Kisaka will discuss the United Nations and Southern Rhodesia. J. G. Kiti, assistant education attache, will accompany Kisaka.

Saturday, the third and final day of Model U.N. activities, delegates will vote on resolutions proposed by the steering committee and those presented on the floor of the assembly at previous sessions.

The steering committee has submitted nine resolutions concerning Viet Nam, Palestine, control of outer space, Kashmir, human rights, multilateral aid, nuclear disarmament, the inter-American police force and Cyprus.

Dan Heldman, secretary-general for the Model U.N. General Assembly, said that these resolutions are being presented to promote discussion among the delegations.

The steering committee has been working on the resolutions and other plans for the Model U.N. since November, Heldman said.

Saturday sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1-5 p.m. in the University Center.

Group Studies Mixing Sexes In Dorm Visits

The Carbondale Campus Senate voted Thursday night to have the student body president, George Paluch, appoint a special committee to investigate the possibility of allowing members of the opposite sex to visit in supervised housing.

The bill, introduced by Ray Lenzi, said that denying the students to entertain members of the opposite sex in their rooms showed that "Little confidence is being given to students and little freedom is being granted them."

In other action the Senate voted to provide scholarships for the president and vice president of the student body beginning this spring.

The president will receive room, board, tuition, fees and $20.00 per month.

The vice president will receive room and board.

If they do not live on campus the amount they receive will be equal to the price of room and board at Thompson Point.

The Senate also sent to committee a bill to organize a student cycle patrol.

The patrol would consist of volunteer students, who would be trained by the University and City police.

They would operate on campus and in the city. If initiated, the patrol will operate only on a trial basis until the beginning of spring.

The patrol would not pursue, but only report violations. At a later date they may be radio equipped so as to be able to report major violations immediately.

"MRS. SOUTHERN" CONTESTANTS—Semifinalists in the 1966 "Mrs. Southern" contest are, (from the left) Mrs. Mary Riles, Mrs. Nancy Godke, Mrs. Jean Wood, Mrs. Diane Lee and Mrs. Barbara Cagle. Winner will be crowned tonight at the Southern Illinois Golf and Country Club near Marion, at the annual "Mrs. Southern" dance. The SIU Dames Club, student wives organization, sponsors the event.

4 Teams Will Be In Cage Regional

For the second straight year, SIU will be the host team in the NCAA Great Lakes Regional tournament which will be held March 4-5 in the Arena.

The Salukis will be one of four teams participating in the regionals. The other three teams will be announced later this month.

One possibility could be Central Michigan University. The Chippewas played here in the tournament last year and finished second to Southern. They are currently leading the Illinois Interstate Athletic Conference with a 16-3 record.

This is the seventh straight year that SIU has been invited to participate in the tournament. Southern currently supports a 13-8 record in postseason tournaments. Only Evansville College (28-5) has won more games.

The winner of the regional here will then earn the right to travel to Evansville, Ind., the site of the 1966 NCAA Small-College Division championships.

Last season Southern won the regional here by defeating Central Michigan 90-62 in the final game and then progressed to the NCAA finals in Evansville where the Purple Aces inflicted an 85-82 loss on the Salukis in overtime.

Students will be charged $1 for one session or $1.50 for both nights.

Adult prices will be $2.50 for one night for chair and padded bleacher seats and $4 for both nights. Bleacher seats will be sold for $2 for one session and $3 for both.

Games will start at 7 and 9 o'clock both nights.

Tickets have been ordered and will go on sale at a later date.

Unfit for Occupancy

Who's to Blame for Substandard Living? Landlords, Housing Officials—or Students?

By Fred Beyer
Last of a Series

It is easy to blame landlords or SIU housing officials for the fact that some students live in places almost unfit for human occupancy.

And perhaps some of the blame for inadequate heat, improper lighting, glaring fire hazards and lack of proper sanitation facilities rightfully rests upon their shoulders.

"There's a housing shortage," has long been their battle cry and efforts to improve conditions often have been "too little, too late" on the part of all concerned.

All the blame, however, shouldn't be heaped upon landlords and school officials. The students themselves often play a large part in the off-campus conditions. For example:

This fall, a group of trailers was to be inspected by city officials to see if enough space per student was provided to prevent spread of respiratory disease and allow quick emergency exits.

The day before the inspection, the manager of the trailers asked a coed living in one of them to move out for the inspection and another to say she slept on the living room couch.

The girls complied, without complaint, to the request to help the trailer court manager break the law and thus overtly engaged in perpetuating substandard conditions.

Another group of students, asked if their apartment could be photographed for this series, declined when they learned that the land owner was to be named and the housing unit identified.

"We don't have it so bad," they said. "There are a lot of worse places off-campus." They expressed the desire "not to rile" their landlady by exposure of their living conditions.

The next day, the unit was called "unfit for human habitation" by the Housing Office.

This, however, points out another problem.

In the case of the housing unit just referred to, many

Alice P. Rector Receives Award

ALICE RECTOR

Alice P. Rector, assistant professor in educational psychology and guidance and assistant director of Student Work and Financial Assistance, is the recipient of the fourth annual Southern Illinois University Foundation award for service.

Mrs. Rector, who is cited for her 20 years of service to SIU, will receive the award at a luncheon at 12:15 p.m. today in the Renaissance Room of the University Center.

Recipients of the award are presented with a $50 clothing gift certificate and a citation detailing their qualifications for the award. Previous recipients have been John Rush, Saluki spirit dog; Robert Spackman, athletics trainer at the Arena; and Neoma Kinney, chief clerk, Department of Men's Physical Education.

Mrs. Rector has served as president of the Illinois State Division of the American Association of University Women. She has attended the Governor's Conference on the Status of Women, the Governor's Conference on Safety Education and the annual conference of the Illinois Association of Women Deans and Counselors.

Mrs. Rector is the editor of The Illinois Guidance and Personnel Association Newsletter and The University Woman.

Fie on Those Petty Players

To the editor: It may be that not everyone on campus feels the same way, but I am getting rather bored with the defensive trivia that members of the Department of Theater write to the Egyptian every time one of their group feels slighted by the newspaper's drama critic. If, as Mr. Gorelik suggests, one of the more "subtle, human, and brilliant" performers of "Lysistrata" was overlooked, I'm sure he can console himself with the knowledge that the many coarse and often crass sight gags were not. The Egyptian reviewer may not be outstanding by New York standards, but then neither are the Southern Players.

'Speeded Up' Registration Procedure Means 1 1/2-Hour Date With Computer

To the editor: It starts with a card, and it ends with a card.

Reference is made to the IBM system for registration at Southern. Its purpose is to speed up the registration process, a task that demands placement of about 17,000 students in classes each 12 weeks throughout the year.

How well does the new system work? Here follows the ritual, from advisement appointment to fee statement.

The first step, an appointment with an academic adviser, allows students to discuss graduation requirements, credit for elective subjects, and other such matters of mutual concern.

After advisement the student goes to the Sectioning Center to secure an appointment. At this point, the student makes first contact with the small "holey" IBM cards.

Across the top of the card is written, "your appointment for sectioning is at 3 p.m...." The elated student believes in miracles and thinks he will be sectioned in time for his 4 p.m. class.

The student hurries to the University Center for his date with a computer. Greeting him when he arrives is a long line to the sectioners. Everyone standing in line has the same pink card that says, "your appointment for sectioning is at 3 p.m...."

At the first station (the end of line one), the student is handed a card upon which is printed his biographical sketch. The student is given a form with instructions to "fill only the blanks that are incorrect or vacant on the printed card." Most of the information had been given to the University in all the student's past registrations.

Next step leads one to a sectioner, skilled in the art of finding a student a place in the History of Greek Philosophy at 8 a.m. Saturday or 9 p.m. Friday. The student watches in amazement as the sectioner goes through pages of classes, and produces a schedule for the coming quarter.

A girl working with the sectioner finds the class cards for each course to be taken. "Marvelous! Now, can one go home? Not on your life!"

"Take your class cards and ID card to the IBM over there?" Another line? Of course. One gives his cards to the machine and listens to it soak up the information and punch more holes.

Marvelous invention. Next station—fee assessment, where the student is told how much all this costs. Again the cards roll out of another machine.

This time it's the end. With a card telling the happy news of having to pay $80.50 by March 18, sectioning ends for another quarter.

"You may pay your fees after 24 hours." Was that the machine or its operator? Who knows; but time for sectioning was a mere one hour and 28 minutes. IBM be praised.

University Isn't a Sunburst; Proposed Seal Inappropriate

To the editor:

That "new" SIU seal as proposed in the Feb. 9 Egyptian just doesn't fit.

For one thing, it doesn't have anything that "Egyptian" about it—a pyramid, at least, would be in keeping with the area nickname and also show (invertedly) the shape of Southern Illinois.

The proposed seal doesn't show anything familiar . . . and somehow leads to the impression that that which was familiar (Old Main) is gradually being phased out. (Plans for the future show a road where Old Main is now situated.)

It looks like Arizona and

New Mexico. Or a single-line drawing of a fancy circle. But it doesn't look like a rapidly growing SIU in Southern Illinois, between the Mississippi and Ohio.

SIU needs an all-University seal, perhaps, but the seal should at least look like SIU. And, if you'd give it the chance, the present seal will do the job; for just as the Carbondale campus grew from one building (Old Main), the Edwardsville campus, which is part of the same University, grew from the same building.

Southern isn't a sunburst; Southern is a University. Let's keep it up.

Student Government Hits Absurdity Peak

Student government has reached the height of absurdity.

A student was elected Wednesday to the Campus Senate with only five votes. He was unopposed. Last year the student body president was elected with only about 800 votes.

The Campus Senate, which started the year with such energy and hopes for reform, has fallen into the familiar pattern of dominance by two or three students. Last week the student body president cursed the members of laziness and interest. Wednesday's election itself was forced by the dismissal of three members for excessive absences.

The Rational Action Movement and Action Party appeals and demands for more student rights and authority are being generally ignored. The Action Party members, a small group of movement seekers, is faced with carrying out their reforms by themselves. They cannot get the student body interested.

When the Campus Senate does act nobody can agree on what the students want. How many students opposing the activity fee increase called their senator and asked him to vote against it?

Perhaps the answer to this dilemma is the formation of more political parties. Although this might open the way for more interest groups to dominate student government, at least the student body might be stirred to lift its apathetic head.

The reorganization of Campus Senate representation along geographical and living area lines must be pushed. Electing representatives from academic units is not feasible.

If the activity fee increase is voted by the Board of Trustees, the Campus Senate will have nearly one million dollars in money from student pockets to allocate. Isn't that a good reason to get involved in student government?

That Sparta Editor's Doggin' Southern's Saluki Dog Again

It's nice to know that college students of the present generation can get all stirred up over less important things than burning draft cards, swallowing goldfish, crowding telephone booths or staging demonstrations.

An editorial in the News-Plaindealer several weeks ago tried to pin a little humor upon the wisdom of calling SIU athletic teams the "Salukis."

What happen! The Daily Egyptian, campus paper, reprinted the editorial and a reply. Students opened up their stationery boxes and penned letters to the editor. One or two of them were downright nasty. The editor of the student paper demanded that we "better quit kickin' our dogs around!"

Actually we don't care what they call the athletic teams at SIU—just so they don't call'em Salukis. Freshmen enrolling at Southern have to rush over to the library to find out where the name Saluki originated. They never heard of an Egyptian hound noted for its speed—and nothing else.

And if they want a name linked with Egypt, why not call the athletic teams at SIU the Pyramids, or the Sphinxes, or the Crocodiles, or the Pharaohs? Salukis, phooey!

Or why not copy after a right smart little basketball team which came out of a town named Cobden and call SIU outfits the "Appleknockers." In college circles that would raise a few eyebrows and it wouldn't take a half hour to explain what the word means.

However, if the fans at Southern want to continue to call the Salukis the Salukis, it's OK by us.

Editorial in Sparta News-Plaindealer

DON'T FORGET YOUR COPILOT, LYNDON

Sheemaker, Chicago's American

To the editor:

Boys and girls, Wednesday dawned bright and sunny as they say in the storybooks. It was election day and I hurried to campus to vote. The voices of Thomas Paine, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Adlai Stevenson echoed across the pages of history. My conscience demanded that I fulfill my democratic duty.

At the sight of the red, white and blue voting booths, my heart did a conditioned flutter and I had a patriotic lump in my throat. With voice quivering, I said, "I want to vote."

The campus cutie behind the table said, "You will need your I. D. card and your activity card."

Panic welled in my breast. I exclaimed, "I'm a graduate student and I exercised my option to not pay my activity fee, therefore I have no activity card." I wanted to vote.

"I'm sorry, you can't vote then," was her reply. Fighting tears, I offered to show her my fee statement, my graduate teaching identification card, my Selective Service classification card (2-S) and my basketball schedule. Alas, it was to no avail.

Little did I realize on that fateful day last quarter, that choosing the option to not pay my $10.50 activity fee would deprive me of my opportunity to vote.

Gov. Wallace and his grand imperial friends could use this technique by creating the option to pay the Alabama state activity fee. They could create a de facto poll tax by requiring an Alabama state activity card as proof of registration for voting.

Inter-American Force

Red Declarations Spur U.S. Plan

By Jose M. Orlando

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Resentment over Communist boasts is tending to prod hesitant nations into creating a standby inter-American military force.

This is a pet U.S. project. It is expected to come up again when the foreign ministers of the Americas meet this year. They are scheduled to convene here in July.

Most Latin-American ministers cold-shouldered Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the force idea when they met in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, last continental conference of revolutionists.

The meeting's outcome was an open call for increased subversion in Latin America, Asia and Africa. The ultimate goal, the delegates agreed, is toppling non-Communist governments in those areas.

The Soviet Union pledged support to this aim, an oft-repeated theme in Fidel Castro's marathon speeches in Cuba.

The Latin-American nations rose in anger. In heated sessions at the Organization of American States in Washington, all condemned the intervention aims voiced by the Havana resolutions.

Only Mexico refused to back an outright denunciation of the Soviet Union and a resolution condemning the Havana meeting. The resolution, charging the Havana conference with violating the United Nations charter, was delivered by the Latin-American republics to the U.N. Security Council Feb. 7.

Mexico is the only Latin-American country still maintaining diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Opposition to the force idea still is to be expected.

Latin Americans have an inbred fear of intervention. Memories of U.S. intervention in Latin-American countries earlier in the century lie at the root.

It took Washington long, agonizing efforts to muster some troops from Brazil, Paraguay, and Central American republics to make an international force out of the American contingent in the Dominican Republic.

Washington wants to be sure this does not happen again.

By having a joint inter-American force set up on a permanent basis, the United States would sidestep the risk of having to intervene unilaterally.

JAILED — Salomon Bolo, de-frocked priest, was jailed for his pro-Communist activities.

November. Many nations feared the U.S.-sponsored, multinational army could become an instrument for intervention in their domestic affairs.

An uproar against intervention is bursting out now. But it is aimed at Moscow, Peking and Havana, not Washington.

The Red leaders themselves changed the pictures. Communists and fellow travelers from all over the world met in Havana last month for a tri-

Marine Copter Crews Face Viet Fire to Evacuate Wounded

By George Esper

JOHNSON CITY, South Viet Nam (AP)—You won't find it on a map but a wooden sign attached to a makeshift tower says:

"Johnson City International. Elevation 40 feet. MAG 36."

MAG 36 is Marine Air Group 36, a bunch of helicopter pilots. Daily they face Viet Cong bullets to lift troops and supplies to the front lines and to evacuate the wounded. They take part in many other missions too.

Johnson City became a reality when thousands of Marine infantrymen made an amphibious assault south of Quang Ngai City and established a beach head off the South China Sea in support of Operation Double Eagle.

Johnson City actually is the headquarters for the task force, but the hub of activity is a strip of sand 3,600 feet long and 1,000 feet wide. That's where 75 helicopters supporting the operation work from—blowing up a sand storm when they take off or land.

The strip of sand is named after Col. William G. Johnson, 45, commander of MAG 36.

During the first week of its operation, about 21 helicopters were hit by enemy ground fire, Johnson said.

"We've had two shot down, and we've recovered them both," he added. "I've had no men seriously wounded. I've been very lucky."

A typical example of the perils the helicopters face is a mission involving Capt. Russell Randall, 27, of San Francisco; his crew chief, Sgt. Marvin N. Treadway of Evans-ton Wyo.; and the machine gunner, Cpl. Graden M. Thompson of Waycross, Ga.

"We saw a man get hit on our approach to the landing zone to retract some troops," Randall recalled. "We knew the zone was under fire before we started in. We were about 50 feet from the man who got hit. You could see him lying there."

"I pointed him out to the crew chief and asked him if he could get him back to the aircraft. Treadway and Thompson went out to him under fire and determined a stretcher would be needed. Thompson came back for the stretcher while Treadway administered first aid.

"They crawled back with the stretcher between them. Rounds were hitting around the aircraft, but none hit it."

The pilots and crew members put in long hours, starting at dawn and finishing up well after dark. During the first 11 days of Operation Double Eagle, they flew 525 missions and 7,634 sorties. They carried 995 troops and 384 tons of cargo.

Viet War Vividly Described

"Outpost of Freedom," by Capt. Roger H.C. Donlon. New York: McGraw-Hill Book Co., 1965. 206 pp. $4.95.

Capt. Roger H.C. Donlon, in his book "Outpost of Freedom," provides the reader with a sharply drawn word picture of what the war in Viet Nam is like for those who live through—the fortunate ones—the daily struggle, not knowing from one minute to the next when the Viet Cong will strike.

Capt. Donlon, a Special Forces officer, won the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for military heroism, for the defense of a garrison at Nam Dong. In his book he provides those of us who are fortunate enough not to be called to serve in Viet Nam a vivid description of the hell that is a Viet Cong attack. Repeatedly wounded, Capt. Donlon continued to fight, rallying his handful of men against overwhelming odds, and succeeded in holding his small, isolated outpost of Nam Dong until reinforcements arrived many hours later.

The early part of the book unfortunately drags, as Capt. Donlon details his life as a boy, from chicken raising to playing pranks at school. If one can get through this part of the book, however, the balance, while at times a bit tedious, makes the earlier effort worthwhile. Once into the section dealing with the attack and subsequent battle, the notion of setting the book aside for other things is unthinkable; the reader lives through the struggle so vividly described in minute detail by Capt. Donlon.

Officer Qualification Testing Scheduled for SIU Students

The Air Force Officer Qualification Test, parts I and II, will be given next week to all male students interested in the Air Force officer campus commissioning program.

The test will be at 7:40 p.m. in Room 303 of the Home Economics Building.

It is offered to students interested in the two-year, as well as the four-year, AFROTC programs.

Part I, which qualifies a student to enter the advanced AFROTC program, will be given on Monday and Wednesday.

Part II, which tests for pilot and navigator aptitudes, will be given on Tuesday.

Only Part I of the test is required for a commission, and students taking the test are under no obligation to enter the advanced program.

Students must present their Social Security numbers to take the test.

Allies Kill 1,028 Viet Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Allied troops swelled the count of enemy dead in the two-week-old Operation White Wing to 1,028 Thursday. Among the Viet Cong were 37 of a 50-man band that attacked a U.S. air cavalry bivouac about dawn.

Briefing officers reported further air strikes against bridges and storage centers of Communist North Viet Nam. They said that, though the weather turned bad again, U.S. Navy and Air Force pilots flew 27 missions Wednesday, hitting again in the Dien Bien Phu, Dong Hoi and Vinh sectors.

Emphasis in the Honolulu summit conference on promotion of social and economic development of the South Vietnamese led to a new job for U.S. Deputy Ambassador William Porter. He was appointed to head all American aspects of the largely stalled rural pacification program.

Handicapped by inability of the Vietnamese armed forces to pull many troops from offensive operations for pacification work and guard duty, the program has been largely confined to the five provinces around Saigon. The republic has 45 provinces.

The Communist war effort featured terrorist explosions.

A pregnant woman was among suspects questioned by police about the detonation of two mines that killed 12 Vietnamese and wounded 60. The woman, one of the wounded, was found to be carrying a batch of Viet Cong propaganda leaflets.

The explosives had been concealed outside Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport near the Vietnamese joint general staff's headquarters.

There were no Americans among the casualties.

A mine blast that killed a cart driver and his horse led to street demonstrations in Tuy Hoa against the Viet Cong.

Tuy Hoa is the center of a rich rice-growing area 240 miles northeast of Saigon in which three Viet Cong mines killed 54 rice harvesters Monday. The cart driver was blown up five miles west of the town.

Troops of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division are guarding the rice fields.

The American paratroopers have been in the field four weeks, participants in an operation called Van Bunan. This was the southern element in the coastal offensive launched last month.

At the center is Operation White Wing and its offspring, Eagle's Claw.

Farther north, a task force of more than 6,000 U.S. Marines wound up in a drive in Quang Ngai Province called Operation Double Eagle. The Leathernecks said they took light casualties, but killed 312 Viet Cong and eased Red pressure on government outposts during their three-week campaign.

Soviet Plane Crash Kills 48 in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—A giant TU-114 Soviet airliner bound for Africa crashed on takeoff from a Moscow airport Thursday and 48 of the 70 persons on board were killed, Soviet sources reported.

The sources said that a Soviet trade delegation and Africans were among those on board.

The four-engine turboprop plane, largest in regular commercial service in the world, started down the runway to take off, the manager of a Western airline office in Moscow reported.

But it failed to lift off the runway and crashed at the end.

Before Verdict

Letters Mailed to Jurors Back Krebiozin's Makers

CHICAGO (AP)—Two members of a jury that acquitted four Krebiozin promoters of mail fraud and conspiracy charges disclosed Thursday that jurors received, during the trial, letters favoring the defendants.

The disclosure came after the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reported the jurors received two letters during the nine-month trial praising the drug and disparaging the government's evidence.

Mrs. Lois A. Clark told newsmen she received two letters during the time she served on the jury. Another juror, Mrs. Martha Ervin, denied receiving the letters, but said that other jurors had.

Mrs. Clark said she received the first letter, signed by a woman, early in the trial that began April 28, 1965. She said the writer declared that Krebiozin was not a fraud as the government alleged.

The second letter was received just before the end of the trial, Mrs. Clark said, and was on the letterhead of a national labor union.

"It was signed by some union people," she said. "It didn't tell you which way to go vote, but it cited Florence Nightingale."

Loans to India, Pakistan Announced by Humphrey

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Thursday that India has been granted a $100-million loan to buy raw materials and spare parts to get its faltering economy in gear.

This is the first U.S. loan to India since Washington cut off economic aid to India and Pakistan when the two neighbors fought a war over the divided Himalayan state of Kashmir last September.

Humphrey announced in Karachi that a $50-million loan has been made to Pakistan. In both cases, U.S. officials said the loan did not constitute resumption of U.S. development aid.

At a news conference where he announced the loan, Humphrey said India must take measures to help herself. He said he is impressed with India's plans to improve agriculture.

Humphrey said he reviewed U.S. foreign assistance objectives in conference with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and other top Indian officials.

One of Humphrey's main missions in India was reported to be to get assurances from Mrs. Gandhi that India will launch a drive to reach self-sufficiency in food while accepting massive American aid.

Humphrey said the United States has shipped 6.5 million tons of food grains to India since July 4.

He then turned to the second main subject discussed with Mrs. Gandhi at a conference lasting nearly two hours—war and peace in Asia.

No effort to accelerate "economic and social development in Asia can be successful if aggression goes unchecked," he said.

"We Americans understand that the forces seeking to impose their will on free peoples in Southeast Asia are the same forces that threaten India," Humphrey added.

Southern Negro Teachers Find Jobs in North, West

NEW YORK (AP)—Many Southern Negro teachers who lost their jobs through integration are finding open welcome in Northern and Western cities, an Associated Press survey shows.

But the survey also shows that a great many more apparently are being rehired in the South, sometimes in their own communities.

Only one city outside the South—New York—has begun any special program to attract and absorb such teachers.

Investigations began last year when civil rights groups charged that a number of Southern states dismissed Negro teachers as schools were integrated.

It was alleged that Negro teachers were dismissed when all-Negro schools were closed, that some were fired because of their integration efforts, and that others were demoted for failure to pass discriminatory examinations. Dr. John W. Davis, education specialist for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People legal defense fund, estimates there have been as many as 800 or more Negro teachers out of jobs in the South at one time.

But he added that the number fluctuates because the publicity that comes with dismissals sometimes forces an end to the policy, and even brings rehiring of many of those dismissed.

Davis cited Oklahoma, which he said had dismissed more than 400 Negro teachers but then offered new jobs to almost all of them.

The biggest single group of teachers to leave the South has come to New York, where 30 are undergoing an 18-week training program dubbed "Operation Reclaim."

The program, now in its third week, is financed by a $135,000 federal grant under the National Defense Educa-

Gen. Taylor, Sen. Morse Square off on U.S. Viet Nam Policy; House Approves $4.8 Billion Increase, Adds $49.7 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidential consultant Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told Congress dissension in Washington will help them win the war in Viet Nam.

When Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told presidential consultant Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor that the Viet Nam struggle will one day be repudiated by the American people, the general snapped: "That, of course, is good news to Hanoi, senator."

The reply, Morse said, was a typical militarist "sneer." "I don't intend to get down in the gutter with you," he said.

The exchange occurred Thursday as Taylor, former U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that no one has come up with a strategy better than the course President Johnson has already chosen.

"I feel that our present strategy is the best that has been suggested and that it is important that we adhere to it," said the retired general, who is also former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"The key, I believe, is inexorable pressure at all points, directed at the will, the ability and the means of the Communist aggressors," Taylor said.

But Taylor expressed concern about divisiveness at home, pointing out that the Communists clearly are not convinced that the United States is irrevocably committed to the support of South Viet Nam.

"They hope against hope that through international or domestic pressures our government can be forced off course," Taylor said. "They have not forgotten that the Viet Minh won more in Paris than in Dien Bien Phu and believe that the Viet Cong may be as fortunate in Washington. They doubt the will of the American public to continue the conflict."

And until the Communists see clearly that the United States will not falter, Taylor said, they are not likely to come to the peace conference table.

While Taylor argued the administration case, the Senate debated President Johnson's request for $4.8-billion emergency spending bill to help pay for the war.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., appealed for prompt and unanimous passage of the authorization measure, saying that it is time to end "carping criticism."

"If the war continues, increased taxes are urgent," said Stennis. "We may ultimately be forced to a choice between guns and butter. This might entail economic controls and rationing of goods and materials, and at least a partial disruption of normal business operations."

The House Armed Services Committee approved the request for an extra $4.8 billion and added $49.7 million to the bill to be used for Marine Corps construction projects on Okinawa and the Navy projects at Subic Bay in the Philippines. The committee's action raised the bill's total to $4,857,450,000.

'I Couldn't Have Done That,' States Alleged Child Slayer

WHEATON, Ill. (AP) — "I couldn't have done that," school teacher Loren Schofield, 27, is reported to have said Thursday to Sheriff Stanley Lynch, who has charged Schofield with last Friday's slaying of 10-year-old Debbie Fijan.

Earlier this week, State's Atty. William Hoff had quoted Schofield as saying "I am capable of it."

Making his rounds Thursday at the Du Page County Jail, Lynch stopped at Schofield's cell. The Sheriff said that it was then that Schofield stated "I couldn't have done that. I just couldn't have done it."

"Do you mean to say you have changed your mind?" asked Lynch. "Yes," he quoted Schofield.

Schofield's attorney, Robert Chapski of Elgin, said "I cannot believe the state's attorney's office would continue to ply our client after we have said he is not to talk to anyone without first speaking to his attorney."

'Glee, Ecstasy:' Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I am looking forward to November with glee and ecstasy," Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told reporters Thursday. The Senate GOP leader contends that political sentiment is changing and predicts that Republicans will gain more than 50 House seats in the November elections.

Dirksen added that "the Vietnamese war has a lot to do with it," and that inflation and increased Social Security taxes are other key issues.

The Senate said Republicans are going to gain in the Senate as well as in the House, but he didn't predict how much.

As for the House, he said he was willing to lay $100 on his desk that the Republicans will gain those 50-or-more seats.

If Dirksen is correct, the Republican gain in November will exceed the Democrats' net gain in the 1964 elections. The lineup in the House now stands at 292 Democrats, 141 Republicans and two vacancies.

First Speaker Named For Security Seminar

Lt. Col. LeRoy R. Waterman, of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, Washington, D. C., will address the first meeting of the National Security Seminar set for March 21 to April 1 at SIU.

Col. Waterman will discuss the meaning of national security, the history of the Communist satellite nations in Eastern Europe and the strengths, weaknesses and needs in the Civil Defense program.

The seminar is sponsored by SIU for interested civilians and about 200 reserve officers. Opening ceremonies on Monday, March 21, will feature a major address on foreign policy by U. Alexis Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs. Gov. Otto Kerner and other prominent persons will participate in the ceremony, which will be held in the 10,000-seat Arena. The public is invited.

Col. Waterman and other faculty members will give up-to-the-minute information on the nation's security posture in a two five-day week series of 33 one-hour sessions.

A World War II bomber pilot, Col. Waterman has served as commander of Bellows AFB, Hawaii, was with headquarters of the Fifth Air Force in Korea, and served at the Pentagon as assistant executive for industrial resources to the deputy chief of staff for materiel. His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and Bronze Star.

He is a native of Morrowville, Kan., and before entering the service in 1942 worked for the Topeka Daily Capital and Topeka State Journal.

What does the Chicago Tribune want from Southern Illinois University?

YOU

if you're good enough.

Are you good enough to handle up to $500,000 in advertising billings next year?

As an advertising representative for the Chicago Tribune, you're actually an advertising advisor to top businessmen. You start out handling $100,000 in yearly billings. If you're really good, you may boost your volume as high as half a million dollars by the year's end.

Sure, that's a lot of money. But look at the product you're selling: the Chicago Tribune. Largest full-size daily paper in the nation, it carried a total of $85,000,000 worth of advertising last year.

It may look like a fraternity "bull session," but these Tribune salesmen are kicking around a new selling idea. Still in their 20's, already decision-makers.

To maintain its leadership, the Tribune needs young go-getters who are poised and self-confident, quick-thinking, imaginative, eager to learn, learn and win one promotion after another. There's always more work than you have time for, but you have a magnificent organization backing you up. There's the nation's largest staff of newspaper research and marketing experts... plus writers and artists to create ads for the space you sell.

At the Tribune, the pay, the generous fringe benefits and the management opportunities quickly bring out the best in you.

Does a career in advertising sound good to you? The Chicago Tribune offers the best.

Are you good enough to make the news staff of the nation's largest full-size daily paper?

Here's the "nerve-center" of the Chicago Tribune. Many famous writers and editors got their start in this newsroom. The best ones assume the editorial leadership for which the Tribune is noted.

When the Chicago Tribune taps you, you step right into big-time, big-city newspaper work as a member of a news staff of about 500.

To join the Tribune staff, you must be good and have the grades to prove it. You must be a good writer and be able to demonstrate it. You need a nose for news, quick reactions and the ability to work under pressure. Most of all, you should be dedicated to journalistic excellence and have some ideas of your own about how to achieve it.

Your very first assignment at the Chicago Tribune probably will be a writing job for one of the regular neighborhood news sections. You'll earn your way and learn by working with experienced editors and veteran reporters. You'll work hard, sometimes with irregular hours, to meet hourly deadlines.

Your rewards will reflect your performance. You can move on to copy-editing, makeup, feature writing. You may even make it into top management.

And the pay was never so good as it is today for bright young journalists.

If you have a good scholastic record with writing talent to match, try for the Chicago Tribune's famed news staff.

Are you good enough to win one of the Tribune's other specialized job openings for college graduates?

Big city newspapers are big business today. With the largest circulation of any standard-size newspaper in the U.S., the Tribune grows apace with Chicago and the Midwest.

As one of Chicago's largest businesses, the Tribune now employs more than 4,500 men and women with a multitude of skills. Constant promotions from within create new openings for such people as: research analysts and marketing experts, advertising artists and copywriters, public relations men, engineers and administrative specialists.

With such a wide variety of openings, your studies in any field - accounting, art, economics, English, even dramatics - may qualify you for a career with the Chicago Tribune.

These doors open wide each year for outstanding college graduates.

A Tribune representative will be on campus February 25, 1966. See your placement officer to arrange an interview.

Students Aid Landlords of Bad Housing

complaints had been made to the Housing Office by the unit's residents concerning sanitation, lack of water pressure, heat and rodents.

Housing Office officials listened to the complaints and after some time, asked the landlady to remedy some of them. Housing Office officials did not comply with request to inspect the unit.

Finally, a complaint was made to the Jackson County Health Department and an inspection of the unit was made. Upon recommendations of the Health Department, the Housing Office declared the unit unfit.

Because of the conditions, several of the students in the unit had been trying to move out since fall quarter but could not because they were tied there by a contract which the University demands of all landlords renting to students.

The University contract said the students couldn't leave but the Housing Office wouldn't see it that the unit was fit to stay in.

This is not a typical case of student-Housing Office relations but is an example of a situation that does occur too frequently.

The rotten apple that ruins the barrel is the landlord who rents substandard housing. While this person is comparatively rare, he does exist. And because he does exist, students should complain promptly if their housing conditions do not meet acceptable standards.

The housing officials, in turn, should listen with a sympathetic ear to the students, and more importantly, should follow up their complaints, to make certain they are justified and to prevent landlords from "gigging" the students.

THE TECHNOLOGY BUILDING

Date Set for Building Dedication

Dedication ceremonies for the new Technology Building have tentatively been set for May 8-12.

School of Technology officials plan to have open house at their new facilities near the Arena on May 8. The open house will feature speakers from industry and will also include displays depicting the role of technology in dealing with the world's problems.

The annual SIU Engineering Club banquet will also be held during the dedication week. The University Glee Club will provide the entertainment for the dinner.

Technology officials are asking representatives from government, education, labor and industry to speak during the week on the relationship between technology and their respective fields.

Richard S. Howe, instructor in the School of Technology, said, "We must recognize that the United States does not have unlimited resources." He added that the speakers will lecture on this point.

Civil War Article Written by Pitkin

William A. Pitkin, associate professor of history at SIU, is the author of an article in the current issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society.

The article, "Michael K. Lawler's Ordeal With the Eighteenth Illinois," tells of the court-martial of a Southern Illinois Civil War hero. The article tells of the difficulties that Col. Lawler had in disciplining the troops of his 18th Illinois Volunteer Infantry Regiment. Lawler's efforts eventually resulted in a court-martial.

Pitkin is immediate past president of the Illinois Historical Society.

Ag Students Visit FS Cooperative

Glen Mitchell, professor of agricultural industries, took a group of junior, senior and graduate students to Bloomington this week to visit the FS Services, Inc.

The students, who learn the theory of marketing and the business practices of farm supply cooperatives in classrooms, observed the demonstration of these theories.

The meeting also included a discussion of management practices presented by C. H. Becker, executive vice president and general manager of FS. Several FS staff members discussed marketing concepts of various areas.

Organizational Tea Slated For National Service Sorority

A national service sorority, Gamma Sigma Sigma, will hold an organizational tea at 2 p.m. Sunday in the lounge in the Home Economics Building.

Women are invited to the meeting, which will be an introduction to the purpose and meaning of the sorority.

Gamma Sigma Sigma was organized on Jan. 1, 1953, when seven girls' service organizations combined to form a national service sorority. Today there are 35 undergraduate chapters, three alumnae chapters and a number of probationary chapters ready for admittance.

The purpose of Gamma Sigma Sigma is "to assemble college and university women in the spirit of humanity. It shall serve to develop friendship among women of all races and creeds through working side by side in the fulfillment of these goals common to all."

The sorority renders service to the school, the community and the nation.

Advertising Role To Be Discussed

Alpha Kappa Psi, marketing fraternity, will sponsor a speaker from the Chicago Tribune at 9 p.m. Thursday in Davis Auditorium in the Wham Education Building.

Art Wible, assistant sales manager in the classified advertisement department, will discuss newspapers and the advertising business.

Ford Motor Company is:

recognition

Eric Mangelsen
B.S., Univ. of Kentucky

What does it take to gain recognition at Ford Motor Company? If you have skills that we can utilize, and if you're ambitious as well as able, you can move ahead fast at Ford! Consider the career of Eric Mangelsen:

Eric came to work at our Ypsilanti Plant in February, 1961. During the initial stage of his training program, he was given the assignment to supervise the development, design and construction of special production calibrating and test equipment for automobile voltage regulators. Later, he was assigned to processing and production of the transistor ignition amplifier system for our 1963 cars. He was responsible for introducing a new cleaning process for voltage regulator contact points, which substantially reduced costs. He was also instrumental in processing the refined transistorized regulator system used in our new 1966 automobiles.

Now a member of management with broad responsibilities in a key Production Department, Eric Mangelsen has moved ahead rapidly with a company that believes in giving young men every opportunity to demonstrate their skill and ingenuity. Why not investigate? Talk to our representative when he visits your campus. You can go far with Ford.

14 SIU Design Students Conducting Pilot Field Study in Haiti

Fourteen junior design students are conducting studies and a "problem solving" field session on the island of Haiti. They are completing the first week of a 30-day class project. The group, accompanied by design instructor Davis Pratt, is contacting agency leaders in Haiti connected with industry, education, agriculture and business in attempts to help the island with rural and community development. The trip is a pilot project. If it is successful this year, it will become part of the regular junior-year curriculum in design, Pratt said. Haiti was picked by the department because of the low cost of the trip for the student, who must pay his own expenses.

The class is staying at a villa which overlooks the capital city of Port-au-Prince. The villa is owned by Katherine Dunham, dancer-choreographer at SIU. The 14 students participating, out of a class of 18, are Roger E. McCreddie, Elden D. Stromberg, Robert T. Drinan Jr., Stephen Herron, Kenneth Nelson, Victor Struch,

Ronald P. Schnurr, James T. Reynolds, Keith Hennessy. Donald E. Ball, James E. Hadley, Cary R. Nadell, Charles I. Notarus and Jeffrey M. Glass. 'Parable' to Be Shown
A film "The Parable" will be shown at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the Student Christian Foundation.

To any kid who'd like to go somewhere: We'll pay half your fare.

The idea's not as crazy as it may seem. Anytime we take a jet up, there are almost always leftover seats. So it occurred to us that we might be able to fill a few of them, if we gave the young people a break on the fare, and a chance to see the country.

The American Youth Plan***

We call the idea the American Youth Plan, and what it means is this: American will pay half the jet coach fare for anybody 12 through 21. It's that simple. All you have to do is prove your age (a birth certificate or any other legal document will do) and buy a $3 identification card. We date and stamp the card, and this entitles you to a half-fare ticket at any American Airlines counter. The only catch is that you might have to wait before you get aboard; the fare is on a standby basis. "Standby" simply means that the passengers with reservations and the servicemen get on before you do. Then the plane's yours. The American Youth Plan is good year round except for a few days before and after the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas rushes. If you can't think of any places you'd like to go offhand, you might see a travel agent for a few suggestions. We can't add anything else. Other than it's a marvelous opportunity to just take off.

Complete this coupon—include your $3. (Do not send proof of age—it is not needed until you have your ID validated.) In addition to your ID card, we'll also send you a free copy of AA's Go Go American with $50 worth of discount coupons.

Southern Slips, But Still No. 1 in UPI Poll

Southern held its lead over contenders this week in the United Press International poll of small college basketball, but the margin was much narrower than in previous weeks.

The Salukis, who last week received 32 of 35 first-place votes and 345 of a possible 350 points, collected only nine votes for the top spot this week and 311 points.

They were still 44 votes ahead of second-place North Dakota and 56 ahead of third-place Tennessee State, the team that beat Southern a week ago. North Dakota got seven first-place votes and the Tennessee team five.

Southern's opponent Saturday night, Indiana State, moved into eighth place and got one first place vote as did Evansville which is sixth.

Kentucky Wesleyan, which lost to the Salukis Tuesday, was seventh this week. Little Cheyney (Pa.) State is still the only unbeaten team in the Top Ten with 21 games.

Matmen to Face Iowa State Today

SIU's once-beaten wrestling team will be in Ames, Iowa, today to face the defending national champion, Iowa State.

Southern's only mat loss came from a dual meet here three weeks ago with No. 1 rated Oklahoma State.

Some key injuries will hamper the Saluki matmen against No. 3 rated Iowa State, with George McCreery, Buck Deadrich, Wayne Lenhares, and Joe Domko out of action.

SIU's probable starting lineup:

- 115: Terry Magoon
- 123: Steve Sarossy
- 130: Larry Baron
- 137: Don Schneider
- 145: Tony Pierannunzi or Dave Pfoor
- 152: Julio Fuentes
- 160: Tony Kusmanoff
- 167: Terry Appleton
- 177: Jim Petruzzi
- 191: Alf Haerem

Heavyweight: Bob Roop

Gymnasts Set For Matches In Colorado

It may be cold in Colorado this weekend, but it should be warm enough for the Saluki gymnasts, who will face two strong opponents in the University of Colorado tonight and the Air Force Academy Saturday afternoon.

Southern dropped the Buffaloes here last year 88-32, but Colorado is reported to be a much improved team this year.

Colorado has lost only one meet this season and that was to Iowa State, a team edged by the Salukis last month.

On the other hand, the Air Force Academy shouldn't be any pushover either, as the Falcons have won seven of nine meets, losing only to Iowa State and defending champion Penn State.

Anticipating two tough meets, Coach Bill Meade will take his single-event specialists, Steve Whitlock in free exercise; Mike Boegler, side horse; Hutch Dvorak and Dale Hardt, trampoline and Tom Cook, rings.

Meade, however, still intends to play "musical chairs" with his all-around men. Larry Lindauer will work all-around against Colorado, and Rick Tucker will perform all-around duties against the Air Force.

Colorado's best are all-around man Bob Fisher, whose best events are free exercise and long horse, and Bill Padia, who is particularly strong in high bar and parallel bars.

The Air Force Academy is led by all-around man Terry Higgins, who placed in the finals here last year in high bar.

Winning Gets Tougher

SIU Coed Gymnasts To Meet Oklahoma

Southern's woman gymnastics team will be trying for its 28th consecutive dual meet victory when it meets the Oklahoma City Twisters at 8 p.m. today in the Arena.

SIU has beaten the Twisters four times previously without a loss, including two wins this season, but the victories of late have been harder to come by.

Southern defeated Oklahoma twice last month by scores of 73.5-52.5 and 57.5-47.5. Last year SIU won handily 86-55.

The four previous meets have been spiced by the all-around battle between Oklahoma's Debbie Bailey and Southern's Gail Dailey.

In four previous encounters Miss Dailey has won twice by a total margin of .6 point, and Miss Bailey has won once by a .2 margin. One ended in a draw.

Miss Bailey is ranked fourth nationally on the basis of the National AAU team training meets held each month. Miss Dailey was Canada's 1964 woman athlete of the year and last week won the North America balance beam title.

Both Oklahoma City and Southern rely heavily on depth. Both have six performers in the all-around competition.

In addition to Miss Bailey the Twisters have Micky Hestor, Meredith Eubanks, Caty Carroll, Patty Kilbeck and Patty Hevron.

Coach Herb Vogel will counter with his big six of Miss Dailey, Donna Schaezner, Irene Haworth, Janis Dunham, Linda Scott and Mary Ellen Toth.

Miss Schaezner, who will be trying to remain undefeated in free exercise this season, appears to be a chief threat to both Miss Dailey and Miss Bailey. Miss Schaezner was the 1965 intercollegiate all-around champion.

Irene Haworth will also return to the all-around competition after being slowed down by two serious injuries.

According to Vogel, she is still about a month away from the level she was before the accidents.

Janis Dunham, who has been picked up the slack left by Miss Haworth, is also suffering from an injury and may see only limited action.

"Both girls have come fast in the last few weeks, especially Linda," said Vogel. Southern's tumbling team will be composed of Judy Dunham, Judy Willis and Miss Schaezner. Trampoline entrants are Miss Willis, Nancy Smith, Sue Rogers and Sherry Kosek.

Students will be admitted to the meet free. General admission is $1.

Swimmers to Meet Indiana Team Today

The defending national champion swimming team, Indiana University, will be here today for a dual meet with SIU.

Coach Ralph Casey expects the 100-yard freestyle, with sophomore Ed Mossotti competing, to be the strongest event for SIU.

Mossotti set a meet record last weekend at Ames, Ia., in a 57-37 victory for the Salukis over Iowa State.

The talented Hoosier team is rated second in the nation this year. Swimming News, which makes the weekly ratings, did not place SIU in the top 20 teams.

Kimo Miles will lead the Salukis in today's match, swimming in the 200-yard freestyle and the 200-yard butterfly.

SIU's medley and relay teams will be up against the fastest squads in the nation in those events.

The SIU relay team, made up of freestylers, includes Don Schaffer, Kimo Miles, Ed Mossotti and Gerry Pearson.

The medley team with the best backstroke, butterfly and breaststroke men, includes Mike Miles, Reinhard Westenrieder, Schaffer and Mossotti.

The meet will get underway at 7:30 p.m. at the University School Pool.
