Budgetary Proposals Asked
For New Athletic Program

President D.W. Morris has already moved to begin implementation of the new University expansion policy on athletics. He took action at a meeting of the University's Athletic Council Monday to have specific budgetary recomnendations prepared soon.

Donald N. Boydston, director of intercollegiate athletics, will prepare a budget which will include recommendations for scholarships.

A source of money for the scholarships could be an increase in student activity fees. The Board of Trustees, in passing the new policy statement Saturday, authorized Morris to plan on a fee inncrease if it is necessary.

An increase in National College Athletic Association (NCAA) scholarships paying room, board, tuition and $15 per month cash probably will be planned. Currently SIU has few such scholarships, but most athletes on scholarships are also on the study work program.

Speaking of budgetary consid erations at the board meeting Saturday, Morris said he

Contemporary tunes will get a new sound with the swing of Harry James and his big band along with the rising popular vocal music of Ed Ames at SIU Friday.

James and standards, in the entertainment field, will collaborate in a concert at 8 p.m. in the SIU Arena. Advanced tickets, priced at $1, $2 and $3, may be purchased at the Information Desk in the University Center and the Arena ticket office, or tickets may be bought at the door the night of the performance.

James, who has been named one of the top recording artists in the music industry, will present a program of his popular songs. The concert will feature arrangements of the music of the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s, as well as some newer compositions.

Tickets for the concert are $2.00 for adults, $1.50 for children, and $1.00 for SIU students. The concert is sponsored by the University Union and the SIU Department of Music.

For more information, please contact the University Union at 453-3600 or the SIU Department of Music at 453-3623.

Cab Fare Increase

Dr. Yes’ Vote

Both Carbondale taxicab firms have entered their final pleas for a fare increase on some rates.

Now the fate of the request lies in the hands of the Taxicab Advisory Committee. It appears that the request should and will be granted.

The firms have explained several times that due to rising costs in gas, oil, insurance and auto repair work, it is impossible for them to operate without a fare increase. The owners of the Home Cab and Yellow Cab Companies have pointed out that “dry runs” or “water hauls” as they are referred to by taxi drivers, result in a great loss of time and money.

As pointed out by Edward James, manager of the Home Cab, the profit of the company’s business is based on time—that is, how many trips can be made in an hour by each driver.

James explained that if a driver receives too many “water hauls” the amount of trips he can make is decreased and therefore the amount of money taken in is also decreased. James also added that loading and unloading of parcels and baggages consumes a great deal of time. This, too, decreases the number of trips a driver can make in an hour or a day.

An increase in fare rates will no doubt alleviate many of the financial problems confronting the taxicab firms.

William Reid, owner of the Home Cab Co., has pointed out that the requested raise is nothing out of the ordinary. He said that there have been fare increases in cities in this state 24 states throughout the country.

The fare increase should be approved to allow the cab companies to continue their much-needed service.

Maturity at SIU

We congratulate President Delvee Morris for announcing that the place of legislators and approving the showing at Southern Illinois University of the controversial film, “Inside North Vietnam.”

We doubt that any concessions were won by university men and women to this Red-altered propaganda film. The far greater danger is in the realization that a student body at the college level cannot be trusted to handle Red propaganda when it comes along. The world to be faced by a generation reared in a hothouse.

Sectioning’s Religion Rule Bad

To the Daily Egyptian:

I am deeply shocked with the recent announcement of the school’s sectioning center. They have decreed that religious reasons are not sufficient for prohibiting sectioning into night classes.

Letters Welcome

It is the policy of the Daily Egyptian to encourage free discussion of current problems and issues. Members of the University Community are invited to participate with members of the news staff in contributing letters for this page with the understanding that acceptance for publication will depend upon the timelessness of space and the apparent timeliness and relevance of the material. Letters must be signed, printed, dated and typed, and should be no longer than 250 words. Contributors should respect the generally accepted standards of good taste and the rights of others and are urged to make their points in terms of issues rather than personalities. It is the responsibility of the Egyptian to select the material to be used. Contributions also should include a street and phone number with a letter so that the identity of the author can be verified.

Sincere, for prohibiting sectioning into night classes, and that attending services on Saturday must have written notes from religious leaders. Since when did the state have the right to control people’s action in regard to church activities, and where did they get this right?

My religion is very, very important to me, especially now, with some very drastic and important changes in my life, but the people at sectioning tell me that church attendance is not compulsory, but is class attendance. Is a University president the same as God?

Sectioning has no right, I repeat, no right to demand anything from individual students in regard to individual church attendance or activities.

Though God may mean nothing to most of the “directors” and “door players” of this University, he means much more to many who can ever express, and in His name, and in the name of freedom, if that means anything, I request that you rescind of this very childish edict. And I demand it now, with no quarter.

Foreign Food Misrepresented

To the Daily Egyptian:

Chalk up another victory for the buckeye mentality. It’s a pity, though, that it had to invade the 1968 International Festival. I’m sure many enjoyed the week’s activities and entertainments. And, many must have looked forward to Sunday’s International Buffet.

Did you go? Be glad if you didn’t. Of what did the International Buffet consist? The same tired fare offered every Sunday at the University Center; grossly overdone roast beef, desiccated fried chicken, and the other usual unimaginative and bland dishes. The single departure from this weekly monotony was a tasteless, glutinous mess someone probably called Spanish rice.

By what stretch of the imagination could such a menu be called an “International Buffet”? This is downright deception. It added a discordant and disappointing note to a week of activities otherwise free of such blatant commercialism.

An apology is due for this deliberate misrepresentation—to our foreign students, visitors, and to all who were victims of this deception.

Vietnam—You’ll Die Laughing

To the Daily Egyptian:

Consider the Vietnam hawk. One thing this sometimes sincere, but always naive and fuzzy-minded bird can’t seem to understand is this: So far, the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have been opposed only by some North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong, a pathetic ragtag of an army with no air force, no armor and little artillery.

But there is no doubt a point beyond which the hawk pressures within the communist world will compel Russian and Chinese entry into the conflict.

It’s sometimes painful and disillusioning to face facts and figures, especially if you live in the lovely dream-world that most hawks inhabit. But when 750,000 ARVN and 340,000 U.S. troops and a huge (classified) number of U.S. warplanes achieve the kind of results we’ve seen in February, 1968—against 350,000 barefoot guerrillas, one third of the U.S. force planes, I wonder if the hawk world will lose its loving faith in the macho-tastic phrase, “it’s too close to call”?

They, too, expect the other side gets mad and takes his hands out of his pockets?

Now President Johnson and Secretary Rusk have denied reports that they will use atomic weapons in defense of the beleaguered Khe Sanh outpost.

We all know what Administration denials have come to mean. The question that becomes: What proportion of their available power will the communist bloc use in retaliation against our use of atomic arms?

Hitler, in the final days of World War II, issued orders that Germany was to be put to the torch—punished, destroyed—because it had possessed unworthy of its destiny (Hitler’s policies). Our own present leader shows a fixity of purpose that falls short of such fanaticism. Thus far, See “Dr. Strangelove” again in the meantime. Such a funny movie—you’ll die laughing.

Questions and Answers

What About the Draft?

By Stan Benjamin
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) -- Draft calls are climbing again as the armed forces face the task of replacing the two-year men drafted at the end of the Vietnam build-up in late 1965 and early 1966. Concern over the draft was cited by some editors last week in responding to a recent Associated Press poll and educators were asked what was the best way to deal with the problem.

Q. Is marriage or fatherhood ground for deferment?
A. Neither is ground for deferment without further qualification. If a man marries, he must maintain family responsibility with a child or children even though his ground for deferment whether or not he is actually their father. As for marriage, it is considered a basis for deferment on grounds of hardship.

Q. Is the draft for the Vietnam war over?
A. No. The draft is a permanent feature of our national defense arrangements.

Q. If I fail to register for the draft within five days after I receive my card, what happens then?
A. You will be subject to draft. Otherwise, you will be registered as a prospectively eligible for draft.

Q. What happens by the last day of March?
A. The law provides that anyone classified as I-A must be available for an inspection by the draft board of any of the persons designated by him, a resident of the same county, usually a close relative, or by the draft board. Any one of these persons can refuse to answer questions and the registry board will notify you of his refusal.

Q. When does he get his classification?
A. As soon as his draft board meets after it receives his questionnaire and any other pertinent information he may wish to offer. In a simple case, he would be classified about a month after registration. A complicated case could take longer.

Q. Does he have the right to be tried and convicted for failing to register?
A. No. The draft board and not the court system attempts to enforce draft law. If a man fails to register, he cannot conduct a legal trial or appeal.

Q. Can he be drafted for anything?
A. No. He cannot be drafted for anything except the Vietnam war. If he has been classified 1-A, he cannot be drafted for any other purpose.

Q. What are the ground rules for student deferments?
A. The law provides that anyone who has completed or is enrolled in a full-time course of instruction at a college or university must, unless he is exempted by law, be available for inspection by the draft board. If he fails to report he must be placed in the reserve and may be called up to serve at any time.

Q. How can a boy appeal his classification?
A. His notice of classification must be received by his local board in writing that he desires to appeal. A hearing will be scheduled, and he may bring witnesses to testify on his behalf.

Q. What are the standards for deferment for college students?
A. There are no standards for college students. The standards for deferment are set by the draft board and are subject to change. However, the most common reasons for deferment are the student's service in the military, the student's interest in continuing his education, or the student's financial need.

Q. Does being a student affect a boy's status?
A. No. Being a student does not affect his status.

Q. How can a person of any age who is physically handicapped seek deferment?
A. A physically handicapped person can seek deferment by proving that his disability is such that he is unable to perform the duties of a soldier.

Q. How does one register for the draft?
A. Registration is required of all men between the ages of 18 and 25, and of all men over the age of 25 who have served in the armed forces since the age of 18.

Q. How and when does the registration take place?
A. Registration takes place at Selective Service headquarters in Washington and the Department of Defense.

Q. Is it possible to get the draft deferment for the Vietnam war if a man has graduated from college?
A. Yes. A man who has graduated from college may be eligible for deferment under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, which provides for deferment for college students.

Q. Do the draft boards have the power to enforce the law?
A. Yes. The draft boards have the authority to enforce the law.

Q. What is the purpose of the draft board?
A. The draft board is a governmental body that is responsible for enforcing the draft law.

Q. Who are the members of the draft board?
A. The members of the draft board are appointed by the president and are advised by the armed forces. They are responsible for enforcing the draft law.

Q. What is the role of the director of Selective Service?
A. The director of Selective Service is appointed by the president and is responsible for the administration of the draft system.

Q. What is the maximum amount of deferment a man can receive?
A. The maximum amount of deferment a man can receive is six months.

Q. What is the latest time one can register for the draft?
A. The latest time one can register for the draft is six months before the age of 26.

Q. What is the status of the draft in other countries?
A. The draft is in use in many countries around the world. It is a way for governments to ensure that they have a military force ready for use in case of a crisis.

Q. What is the future of the draft?
A. The future of the draft is uncertain. It may be abolished or it may be continued.

Western Man Needs Excitement

By Robert M. Hutchins
Los Angeles Times Syndicate

One of the characteristics of Western civilization is a general excitement at the sight of the Greeks with their Olympic combat sports or the Romans with their chariot races and gladiatorial combats to the modern British with their frequent jousting at horseback and the modern Spaniards with their dedication to bullfighting. Wherever a sport of any kind is found, whether it be from dangers and disappointments in the past, or from an improved skill and courage, often at the risk of their lives. The more the excitement, the more the enthusiasm.

The United States is the only country in which the excitement of these spectacles is due to the maintenance of educational institutions.

It is an odd combination. Thorstein Veblen, the great economist, remarked that football has no relation to the culture of bullfighting. "I believe," he wrote, "that the horse-racing entrepreneurs who are trying to improve the breed. If the Duke of Wellington had been the playing fields of Eton, he was certainly mistaken."

If big-time, industrial, intercollegiate athletics make any contribution to education, except occasionally a financial one, no one has ever been able to say what it is. If we were to concede that the members of a basketball team have derived immeasurable benefits from participation in this sport, we should still have to ask what the benefits of students who did not play basketball gained from the performances of the documented exhibitions. Big-time, industrial, intercollegiate athletics divert the attention of the university away from research, the students, the public from some of the people who have escaped from the central purposes of the university, which are education and research, to another confusing element, and a most disturbing one, to the American educational situation, which would be confused enough without it.

University presidents and professors know this. They yield to public pressure. The alumni often appear to believe that the prestige of alma mater depends on winning championships. In reality, they are perfectly well aware that the men are the winning men, some of them sober, when the enemy interrupted a pass in the last minutes of play. The hope lies in the next generation, the new students.

The students of today are more sophisticated and under too much pressure to pay much attention to what goes on in the stadium on Saturday afternoon. They and their families have made great sacrifices. It can no longer be said that the object of higher education is to take the time of the rich and render them harmless to society. Students now--at least in greater numbers than in the past--have come to college with a serious purpose. They have no time to learn cheer.

A low farce shedding light on this problem has just been presented at Grambling, a predominately Negro college in Louisiana. The students were livered an education in athletics. The president is also the baseball coach and in 1966 his team won the Western Intercollegiate Baseball Title.

The students staged what they called a "Scholars' Rebellion." They said that the Negro college become an educational institution instead of a training school for athletes. The president called the National Guard to put down this un-American demonstration. The guard joyously responded, the rebellion was quelled. Eighteen students were expelled. All is quiet at Grambling,

Wins Ohio Award

Film Features Professor

A radio program produced by Station KFUO of St. Louis featuring John D. Kendall, professor of string development at SIU's Edwardsville campus, has won the 1968 Ohio State Award in the field of fine arts and humanities.

Entitled "Listen and Play," the program explained the Shinichi Suzuki method of playing the violin. Kendall was one of the first American string teachers to become interested in the Suzuki method developed in Japan 20 years ago. In 1955 and again in 1962 and 1967, Kendall made trips to Japan to work with Suzuki and observe his teaching methods. He has traveled to 40 states to give lectures, demonstrations and workshops on string teaching.

The program was produced by Brad Holiday, program director for KFUO. The Ohio State Award, one of the oldest awards for radio excellence, was presented Thursday in Columbus.

African Relics in Exhibition

The African and African-American Students Union of SIU has set up a display of paintings, books, photographs and artifacts by and about Africans and African-Americans in Wham Education Building to commemorate African-American History Week.

The Union will present poet Don L. Lee of Chicago for an evening of reading at 7 p.m. Feb. 24 in the Little Theater of University School.

The Union was organized recently to promote a cultural exchange between the students of Africa and Afro-America.

Talent Group Pursuing Theta Xi Show Trophy

Rehearsals and final preparations are under way for the 21st annual Theta Xi Variety Show to be held March 1 and 2. The show, held in SIU's Shroyer Auditorium, holds special interest for one of the group's acts. This year if the group can take top honors in the competition it will keep the $500 traveling trophy. The group is composed of members of Sigma Kappa sorority and Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity. It has won the competition two years in a row and a victory this year would give the team permanent possession of the trophy.

This year the Sigma Kappa's and the Phi Sigma Kappa's will do a 15-minute act from "Fiddler On the Roof," a recent Broadway play. Chairmen of the group are Gail Goetz, a junior art major from Webster Groves, Mo., from Sigma Kappa, and Ed Meadow, a senior history major from Cahokia, of Phi Sigma Kappa.

The SIU Women's Club will sponsor a coffee hour for first- and second-year newcomers at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Donald Windsor at Lakeland Hill, Route 3, Carbondale.
Bombing Halt Will Bring Talks: Than

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant was reported ready Tuesday to tell President Johnson's special envoy to Vietnam that the United States was willing to talk about stopping their country.

Diplomatic sources said Thant got that word from North Vietnamese diplomats who saw him on his return trip abroad and who would pass it along to Johnson when the two meet in Washington Wednesday.

They said Thant was told specifically that the North Vietnamese would start the talks promptly, once U.S. military actions against North Vietnam ended, and that general military de-escalation in South Vietnam could be one item on his agenda.

But they also said the North Vietnamese still insisted the cessation of bombing be unconditional and turned down the U.S. demand that they not take advantage of any such cessation by stepping up infiltration into South Vietnam.

Accordingly, diplomats generally did not believe Thant would persuade Johnson to stop the bombing. Some thought

Democrats Anticipate Heavy McCarthy Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party officials expect Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy to roll a substantial vote in New Hampshire's March 12 primary, but the outcome was unclear beyond that as they gear up the party machinery for President Johnson's re-election campaign. "It will not be a walkover," one source said if he (McCarthy) gets 30 to 35 per cent of the vote."

One party source said Tuesday, "He is there. He is on the grounds." The source said there are no plans for either the President or Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to visit New Hampshire.

But the source went on to say that even if the New Hampshire vote results in a victory for McCarthy over forces organizing a write-in campaign for the President, this will not alter Johnson's plans to stay out of the party's pre-convention battle.

There is still a possibility Johnson's name will be entered against McCarthy in the April 9 Massachusetts primary, but the source called this unlikely and said one of the state's leading Democrats would undoubtedly be given the assignment.

While Johnson has given no public word that he is in fact a candidate to succeed himself, all party planning is proceeding on the assumption the Democrats will present against Johnson-Humphrey ticket next fall.

As it is shaping up, these are some of the key factors in campaign planning now under way:

Organization. Precampaign activity is being directed by James Rowe, Washington attorney and long-time friend of the President who again is organizing a group called Citizens for Johnson-Humphry. It is setting up citizens groups in all 50 states, starting with those in which there will be primary contests.

Rowe is being aided in long-range planning by Humphrey, Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien and White House aide Marvin Watson...

Democratic National Committee, its staff bolstered by some 25 new employees since Jan. 1. In addition to its public relations, conferences around the country, groups of state chairmen are being brought into Washington for working and planning sessions.

The secretary-general will call on the President at the White House at 11 a.m. He will lunch with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the State Department afterward. Thant will travel to and from Washington by U.S. government plane, going at 9:45 a.m. and returning at 4:30 p.m. U.N. Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche, an American, will be with him. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg will go along.

Since Feb. 8, Thant has talked with Prime Ministers Indira Gandhi of India, Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, Harold Wilson of Britain, and President Charles de Gaulle of France, in their capitals.

Battle Erupts in Saigon

SAIGON (AP)—American infantrymen caught up with a band of Viet Cong astounding through Saigon's northeastern suburbs Tuesday and killed 123 in a blazing, four-hour battle.

And northwest of the capital, government soldiers said they killed 32 guerrillas in a gun battle near the Phu Tho cemetery.

The fighting, coupled with a light rocket attack on Tan Son Nhat air base, came amid reports that another Communist drive on Saigon was in the offing.

Communist high command, thwarted in its initial efforts to seize Saigon at the lunar new year, was said to have called for leveling of the city this month.

Rumors raced through Saigon of an impending Viet Cong assault in the early morning hours Wednesday as artillery barrages and air strikes rumbled in outlying areas. Flames lit the sky and explosions could be heard clearly in the heart of the city.

Private sources said they heard that up to two battalions of Viet Cong—perhaps 800 men—were in action west of the city. But military authorities said they had no word of any significant incident there or elsewhere in the immediate area of the capital.

Saigon police and allied troops were already on full alert for developments in the second wave, which dwindled after its opening with rocket and mortar attacks on 47 centers and a few ground assaults across the country Sunday.

Intelligence advice reaching the U.S. mission said Viet Cong headquarters in the Mekong Delta, had been told the second wave would run to the end of February, ordered them to supply maximum reinforcement to meet the battle for Saigon, and said that the air was on the side of the Viet Cong.

The Communists were estimated to have 10,000 to 15,000 men in a day's march of Saigon, including units of the 7th North Vietnamese Division and the 5th and 9th Viet Cong divisions.

Far more alarming for the United States, Communist crews kept up their heavily armed shelling of

Mr. & Mrs. John Doe, President, Illinois Central Railroad

We're well aware these days that our customers are taking a hard look at their distribution costs. That's only right. For saving on distribution is one of the few areas left for a company to improve its profits.

When our customers take that hard look, they'll see a new Illinois Central. We've invested big in computerized facilities, hired outstanding specialists for our staff. We're giving the combination of electronic and human brains BRAINFARE. And BRAINFARE has chalked up some significant gains already—cut empty car miles, moved cars through yards faster, boxed shipments to destinations faster.

The Illinois Central's Department of Transportation calls the new concept a significant breakthrough in volume rate-making to the mutual benefit of our customers and carriers. If you'd like to learn more about it, we invite you to make the most of it.

Pears on Puts Government to Vote

OTTAWA (AP)-- Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said Tuesday night he will seek a confidence vote Wednesday, following the worst overnight mass parliamentary upset suffered by his Liberal government when he was on a Caribbean holiday.

Returning to Ottawa on Tuesday, Pearson announced the government will bring a motion to the House of Commons to establish "without doubt" whether it has the confidence of Parliament.

The House met earlier and adjourned in 1 1/2 minutes Tuesday, giving Pearson a chance to regroup his forces.

The prime minister met with his Cabinet and Liberal members of Parliament who were called urgently back to Ottawa. Forty-seven of them had been absent Monday night when a government income tax surcharge bill was voted down 84-82 by the House.

The bill's defeat was considered an expression of non-confidence in the government's situation that requires it to resign or win an immediate pledge of faith in Commons. Pearson, who rose at dawn for a flight back from Jamaica, reportedly faced opposition to calling a confidence vote from his Cabinet's younger members. Informants said they indicated they were winning their fight for more tax dollars for education.

Bobby Martinez, executive secretary of the Hillbrough County Tampa CTU, told 3,950 teachers at a regional meeting in Tampa to "expect the greatest pressure to be put on you today." He said this was "a good sign, an indication the teachers are winning."

In California, Republican Gov. Claude Kirk said, "I wouldn't call the situation excellent, but it doesn't appear to be bad. It appears that all the small-counties are operating. Our problem is in the big 10 counties."

Kirk is in California on a speaking tour. Warnings that a prolonged school closing would bring disastrous economic consequences on the state came from Florida's top financial officer.

Posse Applications Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)-- The House Thursday called for adjournment in 2 1/2 minutes giving the volunteers will not be accepted. It appears that all higher authorities for depurating them.

The sheriff has already tentatively accepted 300 volunteers.

Woods told Judge Donald O'Brien Tuesday that he would continue interviewing applicants until the court resolves the suits. State's Attorney John Stames, who represents Woods and the posse would be spending county funds illegally and exceeding the sheriff's authority to hire personnel.

Woods has said that no county funds have been used in the recruiting procedures thus far. He also said that since the volunteers will not be paid there is no reason he should obtain approval from higher authorities for depurating them.

The sheriff knows the giffs well enough to know that an injunction is not necessary if the proposed squad is found illegal. We are just receiving applications.

The Division of Highways announced, bids will be received March 4, for three projects in Carbondale and one near Murphysboro.

Frances L. Lorence, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works, said that Illinois and University Avenues will be resurfaced and traffic signals will be installed between Willow and Harwood Streets.

Twelve miles of Ill., 137 south of Murphysboro, will receive a bituminous aggregate overlay in the southbound lane.
News Service Covers Campus

By Greg Stannar

When Johnny makes good at SIU, how do the folks back home find out about it? University News Service maintains a staff of nine full and part-time newsmen to keep up with all the campus achievements.

"Our operation is similar to the operation of a small daily newspaper," said Clarence (Cap) A. Frazer, associate director of the Service.

The campus Carbonale campus is divided into beats. Reporters call upon their contacts regularly to find out if anything is happening. They are usually told nothing is happening and so they dig a little.

Anything "just out of the ordinary," said Bill Lyons, director, "has a chance to be used."

Lyons gave the example of the photographer who happened upon a student washing a window; not a particularly astounding thing. However, the composition of the shot, "with the soap dripping down and all," made an interesting picture. A wire service picked up the photo and it appeared in newspapers from coast to coast.

The Service, said Lyons, tries to "do as many stories on individual students as we can."

A newspaper editor is more apt to use a story about a student from the newspaper's hometown, said Lyons. When you give the editor this type of story, he will also start using University News Service's features about the University.

When a story is ready to be sent out, the Service has to determine which of the many communications media available should receive it.

The different media are divided into 18 categories. Among them are the Cook County lists, religious and science publications, local newspapers and other publications.

If the story is about one student, the press release is sent only to his hometown newspaper or broadcast station.

"We don't really try and sell the University," said Frazer. "We try and tell what's going on, and let it sell itself."

The more people who are told the story, the better. "A few years ago," said Lyons, "we couldn't get our sports news in the St. Louis papers."

"Today, SIU is well known," he said. "The NIT championship, faculty reputation, the travels of officials here, and the University's reputation for flexibility and change," have all helped put the school in the spotlight.

There is an increasing amount being said about SIU in the way of features, said Lyons. Sometimes, though, the Service's best efforts don't pay off.

Time magazine recently called the Service and said it was sending a man to do a story on SIU's growth as part of a feature on the American university.

A free-lance photographer flew in from St. Louis and spent the whole day taking pictures," said Frazer. "They asked us some questions and we got the answers for them."

"However, when the story came out, none of the Illinois Universities was even mentioned by name."

"That happens every once in a while," he said. "Life (magazine) once did a spread, but world events put something else prime focus."

"You're never discouraged by near misses. Next time they call we'll try and give them our full cooperation once again."

Edwardsville Hosts Travelers Conference

The Travelers on the Western Front Conference will be held at SIU’s Edwardsville campus Thursday and Friday. Two Thursday sessions will be held in the River Rooms of the University Center and the Friday sessions in the Edwards Room at the Holiday Inn. General chairman of the conference is John F. McDermott, research professor of humanities at SIU, who will give the opening remarks at the first session.

Speakers at this session will include William B. Baker, associate professor of geography at SIU; Herman R. Fritts, director, Center for Polar Archives, The National Archives; and John C. Ewers, senior archaeologist, Office of Anthropology, Smithsonian Institution. Prof. James M. Brown, assistant to the Vice President for Academic Affairs at SIU, will chair the morning session.

At 2 p.m., conferences will hear Archibald Hanna, William Robertson Coe, curator of the Yale Collection of Western Americana; Dwight L. Smith, professor of history, Miami University; and Dale L. Morgan of the Bancroft Library, University of California, Berkeley. Leading this session will be Ralph E. Morrow, chairman of the history department and acting dean of Washington University Graduate School.

The Friday morning session will open at 9:45 at Holiday Inn with Fred W. Vogt, SIU professor of anthropology, as chairman. Speakers will include John T. Planaus, professor of English at the University of Illinois; John Porter Bloom, editor of The Territorial Papers of the U.S.; The National Archives; Nicholas Canaday, Jr., associate professor of English, Louisiana State University, and Nicholas Jociu, SIU professor of English and president of the St. Louis Westerners.

At 11:15 a.m. James C. Austin, SIU professor of English, will start the afternoon session featuring Donald D. Miner of Emestburg (Ill.) Junior College and Richard E. Oglesby of the department of history at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Climaxing the two-day event will be a dinner at 7 p.m. at Holiday Inn at which Charles D. Tenney, SIU’s vice president for planning and review, will preside.

Professor to Visit St. Louis

Speak at Press Workshop

James L.C. Ford, professor of journalism at SIU, will speak in St. Louis Friday on "Writing the Feature Story" at the annual workshop of the Industrial Press Association of Greater St. Louis.

Ford will deliver his talk twice at afternoon sessions beginning at 2 and 3:15 p.m. Others on the program include Henry B. Dachra, specialist in employee communications with the General Electric, John T. Planaus, professor of English, Emestburg Junior College and Richard E. Oglesby of the department of history at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Versatile Athlete Considers Olympics, Teaching in Plans

By Inez Rencher

Saluki Chuck Benson, second-year varsity cager, is a versatile athlete, having excelled in track and football as well as basketball.

Benson, a 20-year-old junior from Atlanta, Ga., referred to his participation in athletics as "something I've done all my life." He entered SIU in 1965, leaving Booker T. Washington High School in Atlanta as "Best All-Around Athlete.

Standing 6-4 and weighing 190 pounds, Benson played high school football and basketball and excelled in track. He ranked all-city in football two years and was ranked all-state his senior year.

Leaving the city in scoring and rebounding as he also made all-city three years in high school basketball and all-state his senior year.

Benson, an NCAA All-American in track last year, was Georgia's state champion two years and city champion three years in high school in the high jump and 440.

At the NCAA meet in 1967, he set a new SIU record in the 440 with a time of 46.2 seconds.

Track Coach Lew Hartzog, commenting on Benson's prowess as a thimblec, said, "He's tremendous. It usually takes at least 12 months to develop a quarter-miler, and Chuck ranked in the nationals on his fourth competitive run.

"Basketball players who also participate in track usually do so because they're such good jumpers. It's rare to have a basketball player who participates in track because of his running ability," said Hartzog.

Benson counts his participation in track events as a means of attaining self-satisfaction. "It's a self-challenge," he said, "I don't always have to win, but I see how far I can push myself.

He also said that this year he hopes to make the Summer Olympics with the track team. Presently averaging 11.5 points and 8.5 rebounds per game with the Saluki basketball team, playing center and forward positions, Benson contributed last year in SIU's NIT championship.

Commenting on this year's performance by the Saluki cagers, he said, "Our games against Wichita, Kansas State, St. Louis and Southwest Missouri have probably been our best. We played with more poise and confidence. We played the type of ball we should have been playing all year.

Benson said former Saluki basketball teammate Walt Frazier, who is also from Atlanta, helped influence him to enter SIU, although the two played on rival teams in high school.

Majoring in physical education, Benson said he wants to teach as well as play professional basketball.

"I'm pretty sure every guy who plays ball in college would want to go into professional ball," he said, "but I've always enjoyed working with kids. I believe that they can have a chance—not necessarily in sports—but a chance."
Wrestlers Topple Central Missouri State

SU's wrestling team evened its dual meet record to 5-3 with a 22-16 victory over Central Missouri State at Warrensburg.

Coach Jim Wilkinson had six of his weight divisions while gaining a dual meet victory.

Sophomore Ben Cooper was the only SU wrestler to pin his opponent as he beat Miles Olymics Lose Three More NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) - The boycott of the 1968 Summer Olympic Games was picked up momentum Tuesday, and three Scandinavian politicians urged Norway, Sweden and Denmark to reconsider their decision to participate in the Olympic gathering.

Kenya, Sudan and Iran announced their threatened withdrawal from the Games starting Oct. 12 in protest of the vote by the International Olympic Committee last week to readmit South Africa.

Hacker wrestling in the 177-pound division in 4:44.

The victory made Cooper's season record 15-2-1, the most on the team.

Coach Jim Wilkinson had his usual problem with the lower pound classes. One pound falls behind, 11-16, before the 177-pound match. Cooper's fall gave the Salukis five points and the meet was tied 16-16.

Then Al Bobo and Bob Roop, wrestling at 198 pounds and heavyweight respectively, decisively defeated their opponents to account for six points and the victory.

Steve Sarosy, wrestling in the 113-pound class, won the first match of the meet defeating Larry Boozelle, 7-0, to give the team a 2-0 lead.

However, Southern's Alan Murdick was decided as the two men wrestled at 130 pounds. Roop, 8-2-1, Rich Selover, 6-5, and Duke, 10-6.

The meet with Southeast Missouri scheduled for tonight has been cancelled.

Gymnasts Seek Revenge
In Iowa Rematch Today

Male Gymnastic Coach Bill Meade makes no bones about how he feels SIU's team will do in the rematch with University of Iowa at 8 p.m. today in Iowa City.

"I think we'll win," Meade said. "We're a little bit hungrier for a victory than we were on Feb. 10." Iowa snapped the Salukis' 68 dual meet winning streak.

"The pressure is on Iowa more than us, since they will have to do as well as they did last time to beat SIU," Meade stated. "Iowa scored a little higher against SIU than it will score in the National Championships.

Meade is shopping for improvement on the side horse, trampoline, and parallel bars. "We can't do as badly this time in those events as we did last time," Meade said.

"I'm also hoping for improvement in other events. We've been looking pretty good this week.

Paul Mayer, recovered from his sprained knee, will compete in the all-around for SIU. Mayer was second in the floor exercise and vaulting.

"If he can help us in those two events," Meade said, "I'm hoping for a 9.0."
