Martin Is Top Ball Coach in District

Cold Hampers Construction

Construction on four major projects on the Carbondale campus is slightly behind schedule, Martin said Friday.

Bad weather seems to be the biggest handicap, according to William A. Volk, associate University architect and construction superintendents.

Volk said that figures could be misleading because so many factors are involved. He estimated that the Technology, Communications and Classroom Buildings are approximately 5 to 10 percent behind schedule.

Volk said the University Park project is further behind in progress partly because of a strike during the early stages of construction.

The projects, with the exception of the Technology Building, are expected to be ready for occupancy by fall terms.

It is doubtful that the Technology Building will be completed by fall because an excessive amount of equipment will have to be installed after the actual construction is finished.

The weather has cooperated with the contractors with the exception of a couple of cold spells this winter.

Steam heat is being used to allow inside work to continue during cold periods. The heat is provided by the University, but the contractor is responsible for the facilities to collect the steam from the main arteries.

Over-time work and extra work crews may be used, if necessary, to complete the work schedule. Extenuating factors including the weather, material arrivals and coordination of the contractors also may speed the work.

Minor construction is going on at Morris Library, the Physical Therapy Building, and various sites on campus.

COACH GLENN "ABE" MARTIN

Small-College Honor Based On SIU's 21-1 Record in '64

By Joe Cook

Glen "Abe" Martin, SIU's basketball coach, was named the 1964 Small College Bell Coach of the year in NCAA District 4.

Martin was picked for the honor by his fellow coaches in the district.

Martin guided the Salukis to an impressive 21-1 record last year, which is the best record for a Saluki basketball team. The Salukis' only loss of the season was to Parsons College. It came in the second game of a doubleheader near the end of the season.

The Salukis rebounded from that loss and went on to defeat Union University, Jackson, Tenn., 76-72, in the 4th district championship.

Martin started coaching for Southern in 1938, but did not become baseball coach until 1947.

In 1938 Martin was appointed an assistant football coach to William McAndrew. When McAndrew retired from coaching the following year to devote full attention to his job as athletic director, Martin became head football coach.

For ten years Martin served as head football coach and head baseball coach at Southern and the University, but the contractor's head basketball mentor, and his cagers presented him with a 47-13 record.

In 1943 Martin became athletic director and served in that position for four years. He became baseball coach at Southern in 1947 and since compiled an impressive 257-123 record.

"Abe" Martin's outstanding achievements as a coach are:

- In post season competition, Martin's 1947 football team finished with an 8-2 record and a Victory against North Central College in the first Coors Bowl game.

- His basketball teams finished fourth in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics in 1945 and took top prize in 1944.

- In 1958 Martin was named to the NAA Hall of Fame, a coveted honor, for his outstanding accomplishments in the coaching field.

Coed Charged With Robbery

Mary E. Center, 20, of 1920 Dixie Industrial Park, a student at SIU, was lodged in Jackson County Jail Friday on a charge of armed robbery.

Carbondale Police Chief Jack G. Hazel told the Daily Egyptian Miss Center was arrested as the driver of a car used in a series of three robberies of pedestrians Thursday evening.

Three youths, none of whom were students, were also arrested and were charged with robbery. Hazel said the foursome were driven around town until they saw someone walking alone. The three boys would then get out of the car, grab the pedestrian, and demand his money at knife-point.

After the first robbery occurred, Hazel said, his department called state police for help and he requested state police assistance in the background.

Carbondale police cars and University police, Hazel said, three state police cars joined in the search for the suspects' car. It was halted by University and Carbondale police shortly after the third robbery.

Johnson's Itinerary: Straight Down the Tightrope

President Pushes Strong Program, Shuns Conflict

By James Marlow
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The razzledazzle is over, President John­son is on his own, and now comes the grinding four years of his presidency.

All the inaugural balls, parties and parades were like a New Or­leans Mardi Gras on the day before Lent begins.

For more than a year there has been an abnormal condition in the country and in government, starting with President Kennedy’s assasination in 1963.

First, the shock and sorrow, which haven’t worn off yet, as the steady stream of visitors to his grave in Arlington Cemetery shows.

Second, the prolonged public scrutiny of Johnson, suddenly thrust into the presidency, and the inev­ itatable comparisons between him and Kennedy.

For Johnson it was a double ordeal for more than half of 1964. First, he needed to get action on the Johnson-Kennedy programs because there was so much unfinished business.

Second—and this was his problem every waking moment—to get sufficiently strong public acceptance for him to run for election and a term of his own.

Having achieved this, he had to spend months away from the White House in the strange campaign against Sen. Barry Goldwater, as he won the election.

Johnson had to spend the weeks before his inaugural getting his programs and budget ready for his first year on his own.

That he wants this to be a new chapter in his own and American life seems clear from his inaugural address.

It was pitched on conditions as they are and on the future. There was no mention of Kennedy.

Now the way is clear. Some of his programs already have been sent to Congress, others are going up soon.

From now on there can be no excuses like “give the man time” or “after all, he still has to operate in the shadow of Kennedy.”

He has revealed enough of himself since he took over so suddenly.

In 1963 to make some predictions about him seems safe:

He will try to pacify both labor and business, no small task. He will have to work hard for Negroes’ civil rights without needlessly irrit­ ing the South.

He will push hard for social legislation, like federal aid to education and medical care for the aged through Social Security.

He will try to keep down government spending, which is a good way to impress practically everybody and slash congressional critica of spending.

The less criticism he gets from the House and Senate, the easier it will be to work with the men in the Capitol to get what he wants.

He will avoid spectacular gestures in dealing with Congress—like demanding less than everything he asks—and often settle for something, figuring that’s better than nothing and opens the door to more later.

Above everything, unless things get out of control for him, he will do his best to avoid contacts at home, particularly with Congress.

He knows as a professional poltician with long experience that conflicts interfere with his job, but this prudent politician avoids wasser has a built-in jeopardy of its own. It can lead to appeasement of the opposition, needless comcompromises, and defeats.

Over the next four years Johnson will have multiple occasions to demonstrate he can avoid those traps and remain President.

Above all—and no prediction seems safer—he undoubtedly will meet some of his toughest tests in foreign affairs.

Since he is one of the most truly professional politicians who ever sat in the White House, these next four years should have endless fascination.

Sukarno Delays Showdown, Sends Aide to Peking Talks

By Edward Nellian
Globe News Service

HONG KONG—Indonesian Pres­i­dent Sukarno has called “time out” in his confrontation of Malaysia and sent Foreign Minister Suban­ drino into a huddle with Red Chinese leaders before calling the next play.

Within a week or so, Jakarta’s game of probing attacks along the Malay peninsula and in Borneo can be expected to resume. These land­ tests for Indonesia’s withdrawal from the United Nations have proceeded behind British Far East military buildup since World War II.

When play is resumed, quarterback Sukarno can be expected to continue running his “split-back" formation, designed to split Malayia’s defenses.

The theory is that Indonesia uses for Red Chinese supply flights into Peking, so it can be assumed the visit has to do with stepped­ up demands of aid.

Subandrio said at the Jakarta airport before leaving that he is going to Peking to discuss Chinese offers of aid made by Foreign Minister Liu and that he visited the Jakarta in December.

A later report said Subandrio plans specifically to find out what help Red China will offer in case Britain “attacks Indonesia.

Subandrio also is expected to discuss the Afro-Asian conference to be held in Algeria. It is scheduled for March 10 and is eyed as a forum by both Indonesia and Red China.

Speculation also centers on the probability that the talks in Peking will deal with timing of political military moves throughout Southeast Asia within the next few months to put the “imperialists" off balance.

There is little chance that Sukarno will allow the confrontation to slow down. The Indonesian Communist Party is goading the government on and its latest campaign to arm workers and peasants to support the “Malaysian threat” indicates the party feels it is getting strong enough to challenge the government.

Sukarno has said he rejects this proposal, but leftist groups in the country continue to insurge it.

Court Orders Reapportionment Of Illinois State District Seats

CHICAGO (AP) - A federal court ruled Friday that if the Illinois Legislative sessions meet this year, the 38 senatorial districts should be apportioned by a "general at-large election.

The order, citing "constitutional infirmities" in the Illinois Constitution, was issued by a special three-man panel consisting of Judge Elmer C. Illich, Chief Judge William J. Campbell of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court and Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court.

The special panel ruled that the portion of the Illinois Constitution which requires that state Senate districts be apportioned "on the basis of the area" violated the Equal Protection Clause of the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. As a result, the panel said the court's "order may hereafter be approved by the court's "order." Said the panel: The court also ruled that any...presently to be submitted to the court before the holding of any general election, and the court's "order may hereafter be approved by the court's "order."

The three-judge panel said that the Illinois Constitution, with respect to the "order" of a constitutional provision in the Constitution, "shall be submitted to and approved by this court before the holding of any general election, and the court's "order may hereafter be approved by the court's "order.""

The court said it wants any...the court's "order may hereafter be approved by the court's "order.""

Next Step Capitalism? Profits Urged for Soviet Farms

MOSCOW (AP) - A Soviet economist asserted Friday that the best way to produce more food is to reward farmers for profit.

"Profit is the only source of expansion of production," economist Leonid Kaspiarov wrote in an interview with the Soviet Communist party.

His article, part of a series of liberal proposals designed to make the economy more like the Soviet economy, read:

"Again the target was the system of central planning which has created shortages of some goods and over-produced others.

The new Soviet regime already has taken a quarter of the country's clothing and shoe consumption out of central planning and given local firms authority to determine their own production on the bases of profits and local demand.

Some economists have pressed for extending the same system to other industries, now Kaspiarov suggests applying similar ideas to state and collective farms.

He explained that the present state price system was an obstacle to increase farm production because it ignored costs, gave state profits, and considered profits, said, prices set by the state could stimulate larger farm output.

As an example, he said, state plans called for more milk and less sunflower seed and sugar beets. But milk prices, he said, discouraged milk prices for sunflower seed and sugar beets were higher, encouraging farmers to grow more of them.

He also said farmers of different regions know which crops they can grow plentifully and which crops cost more to grow. So farmers themselves, and not central planners, should decide which crops they should grow, he added.

Swimming Team Travels to Ohio
Seeking Victory Over Bearcats

Coach Ralph Casey's SIU swimming squad travels to Cincinnati, today in search of its fourth straight dual victory. The University of Cincinnati, the defending Missouri Valley Conference champion, will provide the opposition today.

The varsity meet will begin at 2 p.m. and will be followed by a freshman dual meet between the hosts and the Salukis. The meet for SIU's first game is their only scheduled dual competition of the season.

Although Casey is confident of victory, no one has told him that the Cincinnati pool has been an old nemesis, and the Bearcats always tough. The veteran mentor remembers well the 48-47 defeat his team suffered there the last time it visited two years ago.

"We always have a tough time there," Casey said. "Their pool's not fast. You just don't beat them man." More will be at stake than just the Salukis three-meet string of dual victories. Although Casey feels the meet may well be, "a sort of turning point," for the Bearcats because it marks the beginning of his team's first full year in the toughest part of its schedule.

Thus far the team hasn't been thoroughly challenged in its triumphs over Evansville 57-38, Mankato 62-27, and Nebraska 68-27. Its only stiff competition has come in the Big Ten Relays where it takes a different kind of team to win than in dual competitions.

The Bearcats could be able to give the Salukis the competition they need. Cincinnati is loaded with returning standouts in the sprints, back stroke, butterfly, and distances.

But the Ohio team has found the going rough thus far as they've dropped meets to Denver, powerful Indiana and Miami of Ohio while defeating only Air Force.

Today's meet might also be considered a turning point for the Bearcats. Because from now on, three of their six remaining opponents will be nationally prominent teams: Indiana, national runner-up last year; Michigan, fourth place finishers in Ohio State, tied for sixth.

Expected to lead the Saluki charge this afternoon will be veterans Tom McNaney, Darrell Green, and Mike Roberts and sophomore Kimo Miles and Gerald Pearson.

McNaney is the team's distance ace and his best meet was pushed far ahead all year except in the Big Ten Relays where he responded with a brilliant 4:57.4 over the 500-yard distance. Games 100- and 200-yard back are both above-average sprinters. Miles in excellence in butterfly and Pearson is showing promise in the breast stroke.

After the meet this afternoon, the Salukis will return home for a duel with North Central next Saturday night at 7:30. They then go back on the road February 5 for what will probably be their toughest challenge—Indiana.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — John Pont took the jump from the Ivy League to the Big Ten Friday and said after accepting the head football coaching position at Indiana that "the pressure is the ones you put on yourself."

Pont, a winner at Yale and before that at Miami of Ohio, took the job of trying to lift Indiana out of the depths and started thinking about recruiting, spring practice—and building a house. He made it clear he expects to be around some time.

"Time in against us," Pont said of the late start on 1965 recruiting. "By the time we get settled we'll have four to six weeks before the April deadline, but the present staff has been working."

He told a news conference in Indianapolis he would be glad to get back to spring practice, which he did not have at Yale.

The 37-year-old Pont accepted a five-year contract, as Indiana head coach at undisclosed terms. Campus reports, however, said Pont set $20,000 a year plus a new automobile equipment each year and his $5,000 annual contribution to the Indiana pension fund will be paid.

Pont, who compiled a record of 12 victories, five defeats and one tie in two seasons at Yale after putting together a 43-22-2 mark in seven years at Miami, succeeds Phil Dickens.

SIU Given Grant
To Provide More Jobs for Students

A $93,182 grant has been given to SIU to aid students from low-income families in obtaining part-time employment to help pay school expenses.

Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D­
Ill., announced Friday that the Department of Health, Ed­ucation and Welfare had made the funds available for SIU.

The funds will be used to create part-time jobs for students of President Johnson's War on Poverty program, Gray said.

Under the provision of the act making the funds available, SIU will provide $1 for every $9 granted by the gov­ernment for the program.

A spokesman for the Stu­dent Work Office said the grant will make it possible for SIU to expand job opportu­nities for SIU students and provide work for more stu­dents now employed in the regular student work program.

Meade's Gymnasts to Face Colorado Buffalos Tuesday

Meade's gymnasts team returns to action at the Arena Tuesday night when the Salukis face the University of Colorado Buffalos, the season favorite to win the Missouri Valley conference in the Big Eight conference.

Buffalo coach Glen Wilson is currently in his fourth year of coaching at Colorado. Last year Wilson's team, despite several injuries, compiled an impressive 9-3 dual meet record.

This year Wilson has eight returners back including cap­tain Bob Ponton, Bill Padia and Rich McCabe.

Poston works the tram­pole, free exercise and the long horse. McCabe, who will once again be the top in the Iowa and Wisconsin trampoline specialists, Padia in Wilson's all-around performer.

Saluki coach Bill Meode is expected to go with the same lineup that has been victorious in both dual meets this season and has stretched the Salukis' consecutive dual meet winning streak to 29.

In this meet will be the last home meet of the season for the Salukis before they com­pete in the NCAA finals scheduled for April 2-4 in the Arena.
