Nixon will give up tapes

President to obey Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—A unanimous Supreme Court said Wednesday that President Nixon must yield White House tapes and papers wanted by the Watergate prosecutor and the President said he would comply in all respects with the order.

By an 8-0 vote, the high court said Nixon's claim to executive privilege was valid in principle but must give way to the necessities of criminal justice which had a stronger constitutional claim.

Eight hours after the high court's decision, presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair said in a nationally broadcast announcement from the Western White House in California that Nixon had ordered that "compliance begin forthwith."

"While I am of course disappointed in the result," Nixon said in a statement read by St. Clair, "I respect and accept the court's decision. I have instructed Mr. St. Clair to take whatever measures are necessary to comply with that decision in all respects."

A half-hour after Nixon's statement, the House Judiciary Committee opened its historic impeachment debate with its chairman Democrat Peter Rodino, declaring the question is whether President Nixon has committed "grave and systematic violations of the Constitution."

Some Republican members of the House Judiciary Committee, which is debating impeachment articles against the President, called immediately for a postponement of any final vote until the new materials are made available to the committee.

But the Democratic committee leadership announced it intended to go ahead with the open hearings.

The committee was forced into an abrupt, 47-minute recess due to a telephoned bomb threat received by a

SIU ordered to stop garnishing employees' pay for parking fines

By David Kornblith
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Appellate Court of the Fifth Judicial Circuit in Mt. Vernon ruled Wednesday that SIU did not have the right to garnish wages of University employees to pay parking fines.

The decision by the three-judge panel, upholds a lower court ruling on the case.

Fourteen SIU employees filed the case in Jackson County Circuit Court in February 1971 after their paychecks were garnished during the 1970-71 school year. In connection with the decision, the court ordered SIU to return $1,041 garnished from the 14.

The first decision in the case came in February 1972 when a Jackson County Circuit Court judge ruled that the University didn't have authority to deduct money from the checks.

The University had deducted more than $3800 in parking fines from the pay of 18 faculty and staff members.

John Huffman, SIU legal counsel, said the first judge hearing the case, William Lewis, was wrong in his decision. The case was not overturned in appellate court because "neither party was harmed, nor was there any new evidence," Huffman added.

"It was a very proper ruling by the court," he said.

Since the outset of the proceedings, the University has spent more than $5,000 for legal fees in the case, Huffman said.

He added "I don't see that the University would want to appeal it." But, the SIU President and vice presidents will make the final decision after Huffman briefs them.

Since the trial court decision, the Traffic and Parking Facilities have "amended their rules and regulations,"

Huffman said. Questions brought up by the first decision "do not affect us that much."

Herbert Donow, associate professor in English and spokesman for the 14 said "We are very pleased, even though we waited a long time, we were fairly sure of the decision."

He added that the precedent set by the case might be a "course of action students might use to stop the University from collecting parking fines from them."

At present faculty members are not required to pay parking fines and students are, Donow said.

Jury indicts professor for kickback

By David Kornblith
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

An assistant professor in government at SIU was indicted Wednesday on a charge of theft by deception over $150.

The Jackson County grand jury indictment accused Sam Long of accepting a kickback of $505.89 of public funds allocated to him last year for a research project.

The grand jury returned the indictment after four days of deliberations that included a probe into liquor fund irregularities at SIU.

Lawrence Rippe, assistant state's attorney, said the $505 was kicked back to Long by an SIU student hired by Long to do work in connection with a political violence study Long was conducting last year. The money was received over a period of several months, Rippe said.

Several witnesses, one of them the student involved, testified. The grand jury heard allegations that Long agreed with the student to forego the student's work in return for his paychecks, Rippe said.

Long has been at the University since 1970. He serves as an advisor for the Illinois Public Interest Research Group.

Randall Nelson, chairman of the government department, refused to comment on Long's indictment or on whether Long will continue to teach.

Keith Leasure, vice president for academic affairs and provost, testified Tuesday before the grand jury in connection with the case.

Rippe said the grand jury failed to complete its probe into liquor purchase irregularities Wednesday. He would not comment further. The jury is expected to finish its investigation by the end of the week.

SIU accountants testified Wednesday in connection with the liquor fund irregularities. The case involves the purchase of $5,000 worth of liquor by SIU from the Carbondale Holiday Inn over a 19-month period with money from restricted accounts.

Danilo Orescanin, former campus treasurer, resigned his post shortly after the irregularities were discovered.

Buzbee urges interdisciplinary approach

By Jeff Jouett
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

SIU should remain a comprehensive university and strive toward increased interdisciplinary studies, State Sen. Kenneth Buzbee, D-Carbondale, told a committee studying goals for the University Wednesday night.

Lon R. Shelby, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, echoed Buzbee's sentiments at the third public hearing of the President's Advisory Committee on Goals and Objectives.

Buzbee told the seven panel members that the academic world "can no longer afford purist attitudes among disciplines."

Shelby, speaking later in the meeting, urged "cooperation and coordination between departments to create cross-over opportunities" for students.

Buzbee called on the University to serve the Southern Illinois area on a cultural, social and economic basis.

The community should "take advantage of the expertise within university walls to deal with people problems," Buzbee explained.

"I'm advocating a much more aggressive approach than we've had in the past," he continued.

The senator said SIU could explore new ways to use high-sulfur coal that is abundant in Southern Illinois while at the same time seek to deal with ecological problems of strip mines and water pollution from coal gasification processes.

Tighter internal budgeting control was another of Buzbee's suggestions to the panel. "If the University doesn't do that the state will do it for them—in the very near future," he cautioned.

SIU needs more money in order to step up its area services programs, Buzbee commented. Budget allotments based on student-to-teacher ratios discourage area services, he added.

In calling for better public relations work, Buzbee claimed, "The average man on the street is not aware of SIU's goals revisions, just knows something's wrong at this university."

"We've got to tell the world what a great institution this is."

Richard Archer, Design faculty member, suggested the University "remove the aloof cloak of academic excellence and get back to the people."

"SIU has lost its foundation in reality," Archer said. Education should "help students lead a fulfilling life as well as gain employment."

Rae Elwood, representing campus ministry, urged the group recommend SIU "make its tremendous educational resources available to as many people as possible."

Elwood suggested scheduling classes to meet the needs of students and not at convenience of faculty and said the SIU president should serve as an academic leader rather than an administrator.

them more equitable with administrator's salaries was another of Elwood's recommendations.

The goals committee is formulating a report on SIU's future to present to Interim President Hiram Lesar for a Master Plan Phase IV statement.

Grievance hearing scheduled by Graduate Student Council

By Bill Layne
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

In an effort to find out exactly what types of problems graduate students encounter, the Graduate Student Council Wednesday night scheduled an open grievance meeting for July 31.

Meeting in the Student Center, GSC representatives at the request of President Kathy Jones, agreed to hold a public meeting from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Student Center. The site of the meeting will be announced later.

Jones said the meeting will be open to all graduate students.

"We want to see what types of problems people are having," Jones said.

The meeting will help in formulating proposed procedures for handling future grievances, Jones added.

The GSC also established a committee to draw up a proposal for developing a joint grievance procedure with the Graduate Council.

The council unanimously approved a resolution submitted by John Bradley, Occupational Education, supporting the installation of an elevator for the SIU Health Service.

Since the infirmary is located on the second floor of the health service, Bradley said, persons confined to wheelchairs and patients being carried on stretchers must be hand-carried up a flight of stairs. Bradley said this situation is inconvenient and extremely dangerous.

The GSC also passed unanimously a policy statement concerning the goals of the university. The statement will be forwarded to the President's goals and objectives committee.

Area lawmen ahead of state

SIU and Carbondale police have already complied with an Illinois Law Enforcement ruling that minimum height requirements be dropped for membership on the two forces.

Both departments did have minimum weight and height requirements, but they were dropped several years ago.

Tuesday, the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission said that police departments that continue to list minimum heights for officers will not be eligible for Illinois Law Enforcement funds.

The commission's civil rights compliance committee is now preparing to send notices of the ruling to all police departments in Illinois.

Nixon to surrender tapes after Supreme Court rules

Capitol operator about an hour after the debate began. No bomb was found.

Before pausing while police made the search, the panel was formally presented with a pair of proposed articles of impeachment by a Democrat and heard Republicans suggest a delay in the nationally televised debate.

Offered by the committee's second-ranking Democrat, Rep. Harold D. Donohue of Massachusetts, the impeachment resolution's two articles charged Nixon with obstruction of justice in the Watergate investigation and with otherwise abusing the powers of his office.

Although past tapes delivered to the special Watergate prosecutor have been forwarded to the Judiciary Committee at the request of a federal grand jury, there is no guarantee the new materials also would be turned over.

The statement said Nixon hoped that his action "will contribute to strengthening" the principles of executive privilege and not serve as a precedent to destroy it.

The President had fought turnover of the tapes on grounds of executive privilege but the Supreme Court said the need for the tapes in the Watergate cover-up trial superseded any generalized claim of such privilege.

St. Clair declined to answer any questions after he spoke to newsmen at the press center 13 miles north of the Western White House.

Nixon said in the statement he was disappointed in the verdict, announced eight hours earlier by a unanimous court.

Sirica now must review each of the tapes for relevance to the cover-up trial, which is scheduled to begin Sept. 9 for six former administration and Nixon campaign aides, including H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John N. Mitchell.

Problem drinkers to get help

By Dave Ibatu
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A short-term, non-medical facility to combat alcoholism will be set up this fall at University City, according to a consultant on alcohol abuse.

Paul Dugas of the Southern Illinois Mental Health Clinic outlined plans for an expanded Alcohol Abuse Center at the first Carbondale meeting of the Illinois State Advisory Council on Alcoholism. "We're not going to be deliberately a place for people to come and sleep off and leave," Dugas said Wednesday.

"Detoxification" of an acutely intoxicated patient takes at least a week "before the clouds get out of his head so he can understand what you're talking about," Dugas said. What counselors will be talking about will be how the problem drinker can break the habit, Dugas said.

A standard program designed to get the problem drinker back into the community may take up to 30 days, Dugas said, though average stays will probably be two weeks.

The facility will contain a resident manager's apartment, kitchen-dining area, lavatory and shower, two counseling offices, small-group room, a recreation and counseling room, two detoxification rooms and four two-bedroom residents' quarters, Dugas explained.

Leasing starts Sept. 1, Dugas said. "We're hoping that this residence facility, because it will be there and be visible, will be able to spin programs off from our alcohol program," Dugas said. The center will be the start of a treatment program, and will work with area hospitals, Dugas said.

Dugas also called for a social activity program for rehabilitated persons. Coffee, reading, talk and TV will be provided around the clock, Dugas said. Games such as pool and ping-pong should be available during the day, Dugas said.

Patients may come from hospital emergency rooms and the police station, Dugas said, but others may come straight off the street.

Students will not usually walk in acutely intoxicated, but some may come on court referrals in cases of alcohol and drug abuse, Dugas said.

The state has allocated $36,000 for staff expenses, and donations are being sought for food and equipment, Dugas said.

In comparison, Nebraska, Iowa and Massachusetts outshine Illinois in alcohol abuse programs, Dugas said. The North Shore Alcoholic Council of Massachusetts alone receives $500,000 yearly, a figure that may jump to $1 million in 1975, Dugas said.

Illinois will be forced to expand its alcohol abuse program if the state legislature approves the Uniform Treatment Act, Dugas said. This bill calls for treatment rather than incarceration for public drunkenness, Dugas said.

Presently 50 per cent of police department budgets are spent on alcohol-related cases, Dugas said.

Greater awareness is needed to change society's attitudes toward alcohol, Dugas said. "Fifty per cent of the social drinkers are not drinking to be social, but socializing in order to drink," Dugas commented.

Even though distilling is a $24-billion a year industry, if alcohol was presented for the FDA for approval as a new drug, it would be rejected because of its toxicity, Dugas said.

The advisory council also discussed a proposed five-year grant for SIU which would set up graduate programs in alcohol rehabilitation. The grant would provide for a one-year program leading to a master's degree from the SIU Rehabilitation Institute.

3 face charges of kidnaping

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—Three Chicago residents are being held under $100,000 bond at the Jasper County Jail here on charges they kidnaped a Kokomo woman Tuesday.

Authorities said Donald A. Green, 24, Lawrence Joyce, 24, and a juvenile were arraigned on the charge Wednesday.

They are accused of abducting Nina Hamilton, 18, while she was hitchhiking on Interstate 65 in southern Indiana.

Police said the trio was arrested at about 1:45 a.m. Wednesday at an I-65 rest stop near the Roselawn, Ind., exit.

Police said they were alerted to the kidnaping when Miss Hamilton told a gas station attendant she was being held against her will.

Prison reform needs media awareness

Many groups, including newspapers and other media, have campaigned for prison reform. However, a recent Supreme Court decision which could hinder efforts for reform has been overlooked by media which should have voiced its opinion immediately.

Prison regulations barring prearranged interviews between reporters and inmates do not violate the First Amendment, according to the 5-4 decision handed down June 24. Stating the majority view, Justice Potter Stewart wrote that the problems of deterrence, rehabilitation and maintenance of order in the prisons outweigh the infringement of free speech.

Prisoners also have other means of communicating with reporters such as writing letters, the Supreme Court justices pointed out. In addition, the press does not have rights beyond those of the public to scrutinize the prisons. Reporters are allowed to tour prisons and to talk to prisoners at random, as is the public.

The decision was the result of a suit brought against the California prison system and the U.S. Bureau of Prisons by three California reporters and a Washington Post reporter, Ben H. Bagdikian.

Perhaps it was because of Bagdikian's involvement in the case that the Washington Post gave the issue more than just casual notice, in contrast to the attention given by other media.

Some leading newspapers in the country (including the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, three Chicago papers, the Louisville Courier and a few West Coast papers) overlooked the issue entirely; Time magazine printed two paragraphs, Newsweek printed one and U.S. News and World Report printed nothing.

The printed media was probably too busy celebrating its victory in the other Supreme Court decisions handed down the same day, including the "access to the press" decision. It is natural to try to forget a lost battle and to celebrate those won. But prison reform and now the denial of access to prisoners are issues too vital to forget.

As the Washington Post pointed out, "The public cannot regularly tour the prisons and interview inmates any more than the public could be expected to learn all it needs to know about Congress by attending all its hearings. It could not master the issues of the city council by going to all its deliberations. That is the role of the press—to obtain and convey that vital information required by a self-governing people if they are to make wise decisions."

If prison reform is to be achieved, the public must know what is to be reformed. Reports of rioting prisoners tell the public very little. The prisoners themselves can offer much information to be held up for public scrutiny.

Before this can happen, however, the public must be aware that the press is denied this access to prisoners. The press itself must challenge this issue so that it can act as an effective representative of the people and continue to gather and disseminate information without being hindered.

Equalized sexuality

The new age of human sexuality has man afraid of saying I'm masculine and proud of it; or woman saying I'm glad I'm a woman with no regrets and no desire to equal everyone's sexuality.

Men must be equal to women in the eyes of women; women must now compete for physical-labor jobs to prove that they are the "new kind" of women. But what both do not realize is that through the equalizing of the sexes they are only becoming more alienated from one another.

Can man and woman sit down and talk of the small things in life any more—or must it be the big topic of "Don't you dare even begin to think you're better than me?" What happened to the days when it was good and right for man and woman to become close, both physically and mentally, to join together to make the answers of important questions?

Man is good and great, and he is stronger than woman—that is the way his physical being is made, larger and stronger than woman's. I am not saying that woman is weak—not by a long shot. It is woman who has a stronger heart and is emotionally able to endure more than man. But it is a fact that it is women who still have babies, who still have a special feeling for those they bear.

When the two sexes merge, it was not meant to be who can outweigh the other but rather to complement each other's desires of attaining happiness. Man was made to join, not divide.

If one sex must feel that he-she must outweigh the other, to dominate, then she-he will begin to be afraid of giving to the other what we all so desire—love and companionship of our fellow man. Man will make one step further into the shell of isolation, of being afraid to care for fear of getting hurt, of never getting to truly know the other sex as to know or assume to know how one man or one woman thinks or feels.

If the new human sexuality continues to equalize the sexes and alienate man from woman than I'm afraid each will go his-her separate way until they have no use for each other.

Defensive medicine

The end of an era, when mothers wanted their sons to become doctors, may be drawing to a close. Because of having to buy malpractice insurance to protect themselves against an evergrowing number of lawsuits, the doctor's profession doesn't seem so rosy any more.

Malpractice suits, once rare, have become so common that one out of every four physicians can be expected to be sued before the end of his career. Some doctors pay from $5,000 to $15,000 a year for malpractice insurance. This is double the rate of only three years ago.

In the long run the patients will pay the increased premiums. Doctors, trying to protect themselves against lawsuits, will run extra tests and take additional X-rays and keep patients an extra day in the hospital.

Doctors are also starting to protect themselves by not performing risky operations that leave them open to a suit even though they may save a life.

Such defensive medicine hurts everybody in the long run because fewer people will want to become doctors in the future. After all, what mother would want to wish upon her son a profession where he would be so open to the threat of lawsuits?

Insurance plans fall short

Americans are guaranteed life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, but are not guaranteed the good health necessary for any of the three. There are several national health care plans currently being reviewed by Congress that are intended to remedy this situation.

President Nixon is pushing one plan, a rather complicated insurance system funded by employers, employees and the federal government. Nixon's plan calls for private insurance companies to run the program and would pay 75 per cent of each person's annual medical bill. Individuals would pay 35 per cent or less of their own insurance premiums.

This is much better protection than Americans have, but falls considerably short of what we are capable of having and what we deserve. There is nothing any government could supply the people that would be more beneficial than a complete, comprehensive health care program.

Sen. Edward Kennedy has such a program. His Health Security Act calls for complete medical and dental programs, financed through the federal government. This plan would enable anyone to get whatever medical care that is necessary without worrying about any financial obligation. There would be no charge for any medical service to the patient.

Health care is a basic human need, we cannot do without it. With spiraling medical costs, the spectre of financial ruin due to an unexpected illness looms above us all. With Kennedy's Health Security Act, all Americans could afford health care whenever they need it. It is a sensible solution to the problem, but more than that, it is something Americans are capable of having and something Americans deserve.

Lockman steps down; Marshall new Cub head

CHICAGO (AP)—Whitey Lockman quit as field manager of the Chicago Cubs Wednesday and was replaced by his own choice as successor, third base coach Jim Marshall.

Lockman, continuing as vice president in charge of player development, said he started the current season with the wish that Marshall be promoted to become manager.

In selecting Marshall as manager, the Cub hierarchy passed over club career man Ernie Banks, long time "Mr. Cub" and now a roving instructor in the organization.

"As far as I know, Ernie doesn't care about being a manager," said John Holland, executive vice president. "He wants to do exactly what he is doing—working with young players."

Lockman was in his second full season as Cubs manager after succeeding dismissed Leo Durocher in the middle of the 1972 season.

After a disappointing first full season in 1973, he fielded almost a brand new club this year after angered owner Phil Wrigley ordered wholesale trading of a flock of "old guard" Cubs.

The Cubs now stand fifth with a 41-52 record in the National League East, seven games behind the pacesetter Philadelphia Phillies.

Marshall was promoted to the Cub coaching staff this year after six seasons as manager in the club's minor league system. In 1972 he was American Association Manager of the Year at Wichita.

Marshall was a major league player for five seasons, with the Baltimore Orioles, San Francisco Giants, Cubs, New York Mets and Pittsburgh Pirates and played baseball in Japan three seasons through 1965.

First off, I'm very happy to become the manager and secondly I'm replacing a very decent and capable man," said Marshall.

"Everything happened so fast I really don't know what to say, but until I got the news I never suspected I would become manager," said Marshall.

He said his managerial contract runs for the rest of the season only.

"However, if I prove capable and can do the job, it could be a long-term thing," Marshall said.

Lockman, who also is a Cub vice president, said club owner Phil Wrigley and general manager John Holland concurred with his recommendation of Marshall.

Lockman said that Pete Reiser, who left the club because of ill health, will be the third base coach replacement for Marshall.

"My decision to retire as manager was made over the past few weeks, and I thought now was a good time to turn the club over to Marshall," said Lockman.

"I would have liked to leave with a better won-lost record, but I'm very pleased with the progress we have made," said Lockman.

Women's softball team on road against Cutler

The SIU women's softball team (20-0) will travel to meet Cutler (9-5) Thursday for a game at 7:30 p.m. Sharon Heise will be the pitcher for SIU.

The recently formed SIU women's team is made up of undergraduate and graduate students and is playing as an independent. The team is looking for games and players who wish to participate.

The team is not affiliated with the intramural program and is open to interested students.

The overhand swa. of Tim Kopaczewski, a senior in journalism, prevailed Wednesday in his GSC 104H class on the University tennis courts. With only two weeks of classes left in the quarter, this could be Kopaczewski's way of cramming for his final exam. (Staff photo by Steve Sumner)

All-Comers meet draws 100

More than 100 entrants ranging in age from two to 43 ran, jumped and threw Tuesday in the First Annual All-Comers Track meet in McAndrew Stadium.

The meet was open to anyone and any age and drew contestants from Carbondale, West Frankfort, Mt. Vernon, Tilden, Chicago, Murphysboro, Makanda, Marion, DuQuoin, Carterville, Benton and Baltimore, Md.

There were 24 competitive classes in the three field events and 46 classes in the nine running events. Carbondale representatives won 41 first place awards to dominate the competition.

The meet was co-sponsored by the SIU men's physical education department and the SIU Road Runners. Ron Knowlton, meet director, said the meet was such a success that it will definitely become a yearly affair.

King named to manage Braves; Aaron passed up

ATLANTA (AP)—As expected, Clyde King was named Wednesday to manage the faltering Atlanta Braves, but Henry Aaron's surprise revelation that he would have taken the job if asked turned a routine announcement into a simmering controversy.

Aaron, the 40-year-old, alltime baseball home run king who had continually said he never wanted to manage, changed his stand Tuesday night at the All-Star Game in Pittsburgh.

"If the Braves offered me the job Wednesday," said Aaron, "I'd feel compelled to take it simply because there are no black managers in the major leagues. I have said previously that I wasn't interested in managing the Braves or any other team. But since my name was injected into the conversation by Atlanta Vice President Eddie Robinson, I've changed my mind."

Robinson, who expressed surprise at Aaron's statement, said:

"In all of our talks with Hank, he has said that he wanted a front office job after he retired and not a position on the field. I don't think there's anything to straighten out. I'll talk to Henry about it."

Meanwhile, King, a special assistant to Robinson for the past two years and a former manager with the San Francisco Giants, was named interim manager.
