Veterans Told To Report Status Change

Students applying for benefits under the Veteran’s Re-adjustment Act of 1946 must report any change of their status to the Registrar's Office by July 5.

Virginia Lavish, veteran's coordinator, said veterans should report any change in the number of hours carried, marriage, birth or support statements by that date in order that the registrar may be sure the information sent to the local offices is correct. All veterans who did not preregister should contact the office immediately and inform it of the number of hours being carried. Veterans will be paid on a scale based on the number of hours carried.

The scale for undergraduates is: full time, 14 hours; 3/4 time, 10-13 hours; 1/2 time, 7-9 hours. For graduate students the scale is: full time, 10 hours; 3/4 time, 7-9 hours; and 1/2 time, 5-6 hours. Less than half-time students will have their tuition and fees (except for rental payments) adjusted from the regular scale.

Veterans are paid for the first quarter after the bill took effect on June 1, so students at Southern will be paid from June 30, the first day of summer quarter.

It is the responsibility of the veteran to fill out and return the IBM card sent to him by his local office. The University is not required to sign or certify the card. The cards should be dated and mailed on or after the last day of the month for which the veteran is in attendance. The current period is from June 20 to July 31 and the card should be mailed on or after July 20.

Continuing students are not paid for the breaks at the beginning and end of summer quarter as they are during the regular school year.

9 Geology Students
Spending Summer
In Rocky Mountains
Nine SIU geology students are spending a rocky eight weeks in the mountains of Colorado. They are enrolled in Southern's summer field Geology course.
The class, directed by Don L. Watatwsky, SAU geology instructor, are sharing living quarters at the University of Kansas Geology Field Station camp near Canon City. It is the first SIU geology summer field course offered in the Rocky Mountain area. Previous summer study has been centered in Southern Illinois and south central Missouri. Watatwsky, who spent the last five years in the Colorado mountains as a graduate student at Colorado School of Mines, says the Canon City area about 40 miles southwest of Colorado Springs provides excellent opportunities for field studies of geological formations. The field course also will include trips to other parts of the state to observe other aspects of its physical and economic geology and writing reports.
Students enrolled are Larry J. Earnhart, William R. Troutt, Kanaato Kagawa, Paul S. Shuken, James C. Grenda, C. Donald Wisterich, Gene D. Flowers, Richard M. Bestebach and Sue E. McIlveen, Jr.

U.S. War Costs

Like every other war, the struggle in Viet Nam is proving to be a milestone in the development of new weap-

A replacement for the M-14 rifle is being tested (at a probable cost of two billion dollars) but there are a number of complications.

More firepower is the goal. Ammunition is being expended by American troops in Viet Nam at a rate faster than any in history. A top-ranking Army of

SHEEK Conspiracy Keeps Women Chic, Madam Plots to Bankrupt Husbands

By Arthur Hoppie

(San Francisco Chronicle)

Who is the most powerful man in the world? President

Nguyen Cao Whalshisnam? Actually, as insiders know, he is none of these. The most powerful man in the world is the man whose every whim is instantly obeyed by millions upon millions of slave-like followers in a dozen nation-is, such as the man Homer T. Pettibone, head of that vast and secret international corporation known as the Baro

n. In a rare interview transcribed in his castle deep in the hidden fastness of Transylavinia, the Baron invariably revealed the barest of hints as to how his nefarious organization operated.

"What is it?" asked the Baron, "A n aide grasped his name. "Up skirts another inch."

"Yes, Baron." An aide said. "As explained the Baron, "I've made it obvious that we have up to two hundred million women paint their eyelids blue and green. Now I add a new touch-chalk white over the bone."

Why?

"What good is power if you don't make a show of it?" asked the Baron.

Spain's Booming Economy

Strengthens Franco's Grip

By Thomas Nuzum

Copley News Service

MADRID—Spanish officials believe that Generalissimo

Franco's regime will get long political mileage out of shoe leather and tires.

More and more people own their own leather shoes, automobiles, refineries and other paraphernalia of modern life. This is credited for the general improvement of the country's political and economic positions.

The traditional rodeo-sold shoes are fading out except in the poorer rural areas. Ominousness of leather shoes is a sign that relations are on the up.

Only wealthy people and foreigners possessed automobiles in Madrid a few years ago. Today the broad boulevards are jammed with traffic. There is now an auto for every 45 men, women and children through the country as compared with only one for every 30 in 1949.

An economic boom got under way in 1959. Although this was 20 years after France came to power, unexpected, good times are thought to be reducing symp-pathy for political extremists opposed to him. Sky-scrapers are mushrooming in a landscape that changed little in the three centuries.

About 200, peasants a year are leaving the land to seek jobs in new factories open-ning up.

Industrial production has climbed about 60 per cent since 1949, 40 per cent in any other Western lands. Gross national production per capita was $350 to $450 in 1949, compared with $1,300 in the United States.

Factors causing the boom include relaxation of state controls over the economy in 1959, U.S. investments, and prosperity in countries to the north. More than 14 million tourists, mostly from France, Britannia and West Germany, went to Spain last year to spend their increasing pocket money where prices are lower. Two and a half million European excursionists were left $4 billion below the Parthenon.

About 16 million tourists may come this year—half as many as Spain's entire population.

'Ha-ha!'' cried the Baron, an insane gleam in his eye. "No one escapes the power of SHEEK."

Well, a few may doubt that millions of women have fallen into the clutches of an international conspiracy run by a madman, but is there a more rational explanation for the behavior of our ladies?"

And I, for one, say the time has come for all free men to join in busting this vast insidious plot. Before it betrays us.

"We are having a continuing discussion on the admissions policy that is only a year old and it is possible that this will have to be upgraded," Simone pointed out.

Southern currently admits students unconditionally to follow a degree program towards a master's degree if they have a 3.75 overall in undergraduate work. However, the University admits students conditionally if they have between a 3.4 and 3.74. These students must maintain a 4.0 average through 15 hours of graduate work before they are considered "unconditional." Students may also be admitted with an average below 3.75 in the designated "unclassified" and must do 12 to 24 hours of "qualifying" study at the undergraduate level and maintain a 4.0 average without receiving more than one "C." If the "unclassified" student completes this work satisfactorily, he will then be admitted on a "conditional" basis. His qualifying work will not count toward a master's degree.

U.S. Jets Bomb Hanoi, Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) - U.S. jets set raging fires with bombs and rockets Wednesday in previously immune fuel depots of Hanoi and Haiphong, representing about 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's strategic oil supply. World reaction boiled up while smoke still soared above the flames.

One target area of the raids, which pilots described as highly successful, was three miles from the center of Hanoi, the capital. The other was in the dock area of Haiphong, two miles from the heart of that major port.

Reactions include:

- The Russians, the first of the Communist bloc to react, denounced the attacks, which were closer by several miles than any previous raids in the areas of the two cities. Moscow called it a "new and dangerous step by the U.S. ruling circles in expanding aggression against the Vietnamese people."

- British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who has been backing American operations in Viet Nam over some parliamentary opposition, expressed regret at the raids and, said, "We have made it clear in many occasions that we cannot support an extension of the bombings to such areas."

- In Washington, a Pentagon official remarked, "The price of the war has gone up. I don't know what you would call this but I don't see escalation."

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told a news conference one aim was to make North Viet Nam's infiltration of South Viet Nam more costly; another was to save the lives of Americans and their allies fighting in South Viet Nam.

McNamara said the bombing was a response to a Communist shift "from small arms guerrilla action against South Viet Nam to a quasi-conventional military action."

Contradicting an earlier announcement of the U.S. command in Saigon, McNamara said there was aerial opposition outside Hanoi and one Communist MiG fighter was possibly destroyed.

He reported an estimate of 80 per cent destruction of facilities in the Haiphong strike and heavy damage in the Hanoi area, "with fire visible in all sections."

The Senate Democratic majority leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, said the bombing of the oil depots indicated a new stage of the war and "will make the road to the negotiating table that much more difficult."

He told newsmen he believes the raids will bring about greater amounts of aid from the Soviet Union and Peking and the end result may be increased infiltration.

Farm Exodus Is Deemed By Freeman

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said Wednesday the nation faces the possibility of a mass movement away from the farms unless farmers are assured better returns for their production.

"To let that happen would be a catastrophe," he said. Freeman told a meeting of the National Association of Farm Broadcasters:

"Farming is a business. They have a right to expect it to pay them a decent living. If they cannot get prices they need to provide it, then they must have to meet the challenge of the world and leave the land for better paying jobs."

Freeman said the number of producers in the dairy industry already is going down because of inadequate returns.

Freeman says that some programs had been made possible by the Johnson administration in improving farm earnings. But even so, he said, farmers earn only about 65 per cent as much as women.

Criticizing complaints that farmers are too inflationary, Freeman said farm prices are 25 per cent below their peak of 1951. Food prices are 12.3 per cent higher.

Bombing Extension to Entail Unforeseeable Consequences

AP News Analysis

Another inept bombing has fallen on the Haiphong dock area and within two miles of the heart of Hanoi. If this indicates a pattern which will develop into a massive attack, the damage inflicted may be unacceptable.

The attack, like that on the Hanoi barracks and the North Vietnam War where it hurts the most, would be a deadly serious action probably after a long process of weighing the advantages and disadvantages. Already, with the attacks on the port's dock area, the capital of the North, the price of the war would go up, as one Pentagon official put it.

But in advance of any such decision, questions like these would have to be answered:

-What is the damage inflicted on North Vietnam and the effect of the war in the South Chinese mainland? Is it worth what it might cost in its impact on the whole Red bloc?
- Would it tend to rekindle the Communist nations into a unity they have not possessed for a long time?
- Might there be, in the offering, some sort of showdown with the Soviet Union? The split of the United Nations is not unlike the Cuban missile crisis of 1962.
- Would the escalation mean more direct Red Chinese participation in the Vietnam war, possible in the form of "volunteer" in the style of Korea?
- What would be the effect on the non-Communist nations and nations allied with the United States?

Already, there has been evidence of alarm. Britain, which has supported U.S. policy in Vietnam, was quick to announce it could not support an extension of the war to the bombing of oil deposits near Hanoi and Haiphong. Perhaps the non-Communist nations, many of whom have been trading with North Vietnam, see the bombings as a step toward other decisions, perhaps including a blockade of the Haiphong port.

As for the European Communist bloc and the Soviet Union, they appear to fear any sort of showdown will develop from U.S. actions which would put them in a most uncomfortable spot. The developments come at a time when there had been cautious attempts to reach some middle ground between the United States and Soviet bloc nations.

Direct attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong and the possibility of interdicting shipping into North Vietnam could imperil Moscow and its bloc to rally strongly behind a "fraternal" nation under fire. In turn, could suffice to whatever advantages there may have been to the Western world in the nasty palpable divisions among Communist countries.

The actions might move the Chinese, too, to some sort of response. Haiphong-the name means "sea fortress"-is less than 100 miles from China's Kwangsi Province. The port looks out eastward toward the highly sensitive Red Chinese military zones in the Liu-chow pinnua and big Hainan Island.

Selection of Jurors Is Over In 4 Menard Inmates' Trial

SPRINGFIELD (AP) - Selection of a second and final alternate juror was completed Wednesday in the Circuit Court murder trial of four Menard Prison inmates.

Judge Creel Douglas set today for hearing numerous motions, including one by the defense that tape recordings in interviews with the accused be barred from the trial.

The recordings were made by two radio stations during and after the Nov. 23 riot in which three prison guards were slain.

Richard Shaikowitz of Alton, attorney for one of the defendants, John Stamps of Granite City, told the court he would raise a defense that stamps were insane at the time of the riot.

News articles have been published which indicate stamps "was insane, a psychopath, or a madman," Shaikowitz said. "The state must produce evidence to show that he was mentally competent" at the time of the riot, Shaikowitz added.

Shaikowitz also asked that the state produce several records concerning stamps' mental condition while he was in institutional care.

One of the records shows that stamps "attempted to commit suicide" at the prison in 1964, Shaikowitz said. The other shows that stamps were referred to the prison's psychiatrists about two months before the riot.

David Conn of St. Louis, lawyer for Bassett, renewed a defense motion for a mistrial on grounds that persons opposed to capital punishment were excluded from jury duty.

Douglas denied the motion.

Grant Awarded to Program Between SIU, Winston-Salem

A $150,000 grant has been given by the U. S. Office of Education to aid an exchange education program between SIU and Winston-Salem State College in North Carolina, Elmer J. Clark, dean of the College of Education, has received notification of the grant immediate and the schools hope to have their program in full operation by September. Of the total, $120,000 is earmarked for cooperative arrangements with SIU and up to $29,200 is for national teaching fellowships that could be used at Winston-Salem or Southern, Dean Clark said.

The cultural and educational exchange program could involve a number of projects said Clark, who is director of the project for the SIU campus and chairman of an SIU faculty committee that has helped to plan the program.

The program originated through a special project on disadvantaged youth under the chairmanship of William J. McCleod, dean of academic projects. The program could include exchanges of faculty members, student exchange, and sending faculty people from their own campus to the other as consultants, Clark said.

In June, 1965, a cooperative planning program was held on the Carbondale campus, where it was decided the two schools would work together on a mutually beneficial exchange program.

Out-of-State Student Tuition Increased $50 Per Quarter

W. Morris said, “This is a larger amount than was applied last year, but it must be considered that the number of personnel has grown and the adjustments come from a higher base.”

The traffic control and parking facilities for which the sale of revenue bonds was delayed calls for an additional 2,500 parking spaces by 1970. The project, studied last year by a Chicago consulting firm, estimated the cost of the program to approach $2.1 million. Besides construction of the new facilities and repair of present streets, the study called for increasing car registration and parking fees, among other measures.

The Board has taken the recommendations into consideration, and delayed the sale of revenue bonds until the project can be studied further.

Purchase of the land near Olney for the television transmitter will cost $8,884. The Federal Communications Commission approved construction and sale of the UHF station Channel 16. The state has appropriated $400,000 to be matched by a federal grant for construction of the transmitter.

Joe Lutz expects a close race, on paper it looks like Cardinals will have too much manpower for the rest of the league.

A five-man pitching staff returns, showing an overall 17-2 record in spring play. The staff showed a composite 1.92 earned run average during play.

Representative of the hitting squad, with Tom Heintzelman's .295 average at the bottom of the list, at the bottom of the list. Other averages range from .305 to a high of .368.

The Cardinals are sound defensively, so it is hard to find a loophole in their play anywhere.

The Cardinals seems strong in all departments, with a dozen players returning from a spring squad, which racked up a 37-10 record, the best in the school's baseball-rich history.

Southern will have to rely on youthful pitching, with Kirkland the only proven starter. Lutz has a high regard for some pitchers coming up from the freshmen ranks, and it appears that they will have to carry the squad if the team hopes to "go down to the wire."

Like Southern, St. Louis has few holdovers from the spring squad, with pitching depth their only asset at this stage.

The Cardinals will have to rely on flame-throwing Don Kirkland and Butch Evans return for summer play.

Cepeda's Upper Decker Helps Cardinals Win Over Frisco

St. Louis (AP)—Orlando Cepeda's towering home run put the first into the upper deck in new Busch Stadium and powered Nelson Briles and the Cardinals to a 5-1 victory over the league leading San Francisco Giants Wednesday night.

Cepeda's solo blast in the sixth inning against his former teammates carried close to 500 feet down the left field line. It was his ninth of the season and gave the Cardinals a 3-0 lead against Tom Marichal, who lost his third game against 13 victories. Willie McCovey closed the gap in the seventh with his 13th, but the only score from then on came in the center field mounds. The Giants took an 414 feet away. Cepeda was the only other player to score.

Lowsen Leap Ahead in League Play

SIU baseball coach Joe Lutz predicted prior to the start of the Midwest Summer Collegete Baseball League last weekend that the race "should go down to the wire."

Since the technical coach's statement, Lutz has had to stand up and watch Parsons College take the initial four-game series from the league's third place power, St. Louis College.

The Salukis will face the Parsons Wildcats in a five-game series beginning Friday, with all play, even at such an early stage, will be crucial.

The Billikens of St. Louis are already four games off the pace, while Southern has yet to test the league.

The outcome of the Parsons-Southern series could take several courses.

With a sweep, the Iowa school can stake the crown in hand. If the Salukis could manage a sweep, they would take over the league lead.

The probable result will be a mixed record on both sides, as Parsons' wins over St. Louis are not the most dominating.

Despite the fact that Lutz scored on Phil Cegladano's sacrifice fly.
