11 Colombians Here On Visit

Eleven students from Colombia, South America, will arrive on campus today as part of a tour they are making to study community development and renewal in the United States.

A social gathering for the students will be held from 8:30 to 11 p.m. today in the Mississippi and Ohio rooms of the University Center.

The all-male group was selected by U.S. Embassy officials and invited to the U.S. by the Department of State.

They have been observing urban development on the East Coast since their arrival in this country.

In addition to studying rural planning in southern Illinois, members of the group also are expected to study student government, financing of activities and the campus clubs at SIU.

Members of the group are Pablo Antonio Torres Nino; Luis Prada; Manuel Ramiro Janica Zurbaran; Osmar Gilberto Correal Cabral; Romulo Gonzales Castillo; and Jamie Bernal Romero.

Also Gil Miller Puyo Diaz; Carlos Giraldo Castro; Eduardo A. Bohorquez Guzman; Jose Antonio Almanza Marin; and Wilson Bayona Becerra.

Soviet 'Man In Washington':

'Izvestia' Writer Describes Changes In Russian Press

A leading Soviet newspaper's "man in Washington" spoke Thursday to SIU graduate students in journalism.

He is Yuri Barsukov, who covers the White House, State Department and Congress for "Izvestia." His newspaper is described in American terms as the official government newspaper of Russia, with national distribution of 5,000,000 copies.

Barsukov said his principal work in Washington is political reporting, but he also writes features or other stories his editors request. The editor of "Izvestia" is Alexei Adzhubei, the son-in-law of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"Izvestia," Barsukov said, has a news and editorial staff of about 250, and has foreign correspondents in 21 nations.

Barsukov said "Izvestia" runs four pages daily and six in its Sunday edition, with no advertising. The cost per single copy is three kopecks, which he said was the equivalent of three cents.

He said there is considerable interest in Russia in American news, and in the past 10 years or so, changes in the Russian press have been quite extensive. Several universities now have faculties of journalism and Barsukov said this has been a development of the last 15 years or so.

He is one of a group of Washington correspondents from 11 foreign countries who are currently in Carbondale as part of an American tour.

Thanksgiving Bus Deadline Extended

The deadline for signing for the Student Council bus to Chicago for Thanksgiving has been extended to Monday.

Three SIU Administrators Will Receive Merit Medals

Council Proposes Half-Day Break

A specific proposal for a half-day break between the start of final examinations and the last day of classes this term has been adopted by the All-University Student Council.

As a solution for the exams next month, the council suggested this: On the Carbondale campus, the 8 a.m. first-day final would be shifted to Saturday at 1 p.m. and the 10 a.m. first-day exam to Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

On the Edwardsville campus, the 7:50 a.m. first-day final would be shifted to 11 a.m. Saturday, and the 10:00 a.m. first-day final to 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

"Due to the emphasis placed on finals by both the student body and the faculty, this time break will allow a final study period for students and a final work period for faculty," the council decided.

The council, meeting Saturday at Edwardsville, also discussed further the possibility of an All-University Student Council newsletter.

James Greenwood, a council member, said the council is inviting student suggestions. "We want them to feel that this is their group. We welcome any ideas they can come up with," he said.

Possibilities for council study include a constitution to fit both campuses, student pay scale, transfer between campuses, coordination of curricula and exchange of instructors.

President Morris, Council To Meet

The Student Council meets this weekend with President Delyte W. Morris and Vice President John E. Grinnell for informal discussion of campus problems at the annual President's Fall Retreat.

About 21 persons are expected to attend the meeting at the SIU Little Grass Lake Camp No. 2. President Morris will meet with the group tonight and Dr. Grinnell will be present for the Saturday morning discussion.

Among items suggested for discussion are rehabilitation facilities, General Studies, a hospital program, ROTC, sectioning and advisement, the Daily Egyptian, library hours and services, and the University Center.

its biennial national convention which opens here today.

The recipients are President Delyte W. Morris; John E. Grinnell, vice president for operations, and Howard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism. They were selected for the awards for their contributions in the field of Communications.

Delegates from throughout the United States will be in Carbondale today and Saturday and will hear addresses by outstanding men in the communications field. Workshops in newspapers, yearbooks, magazines, photography and radio-television also will be conducted.

Herman Estrin, national president of Pi Delta Epsilon, will open the convention today. He is a professor of English at Newark College of Engineering, Newark, N.J.

In addition to having been selected for the Medal of Merit, Dr. Grinnell was chosen to deliver the keynote address today.

Other speakers include Joseph Holland, special assistant to Joseph Pulitzer III, publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who will speak at the dinner meeting today; Don Hesse, editorial cartoonist of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Saturday luncheon speaker, and Douglass Stuart, Washington Bureau chief for the British Broadcasting Corporation. He will speak during the luncheon meeting Saturday.

General sessions of the convention will be held in Morris Library Auditorium and the University Center.

W. Manion Rice of the SIU Department of Journalism is in charge of arrangements.

The SIU chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, host for the convention has been active since 1939.

Costuming In Victorian Period Ridicules Hero Of 'Gentleman'

The Southern Players have costumed "The Would-be Gentleman" in the Victorian period to make obvious the ridiculous clothes worn by the play's protagonist.

Jim Bob Stephenson, associate professor in theater, said that it was felt that the traditional dress of the 440-year-old Moliere satire might cloud this point.

of Monsieur Jourdain's clothes and those of the other characters, which were pretty ridiculous in themselves," Stephenson said.

The play was described by Stephenson as "one of the most popular plays Moliere ever wrote."

The play which has two casts, opens at 8 p.m. in the original time period, Southern Playhouse. It is the second production of the players' regular season.

"If the play were set in the original time period, younger people might have difficulty in distinguishing between the ridiculous nature

Jourdain is a prosperous tradesman who longs to be a gentleman like those in the king's court. He hires a music master to write him songs and serenades, a dancing master to teach him the minuet, a fencing master to teach him duelling, and a philosophy master to teach him to spell.

The play satirizes the foibles, shams and snobberies of 17th Century France. Stephenson said the play has lost none of its meaning for 20th Century dwellers because Jourdain is actually trying to keep up with the Joneses, a common practice even today.

Russian Jets Down Plane Over Iran

Tehran, Iran--As visiting Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev addressed Parliament, the government announced Thursday that Soviet jet fighters had shot down an Iranian plane over Iran.

News of the incident spread through Parliament as members listened to Brezhnev offer Soviet aid and urge cultural exchanges.

A government announcement said two aerial officials were killed and the pilot was injured Wednesday when three Soviet fighters shot down an unarmed aerial survey plane near Dargahz in northeast Iran. The town lies near the Soviet border, 90 miles northwest of Meshed, capital of Iran's Khorasan Province.

The plane--under charter to the government--was making a survey in the arid, mountainous province for a land distribution program, a pet project of the Shah of Iran.

Contradicting earlier official reports, the injured pilot told Iranian officials he had not lost his way and was flying in clear visibility directly over Dargahz when the Soviet planes appeared. He said they opened fire without warning.

Reports from the area said the plane caught fire and exploded. Presumably the pilot bailed out.

The incident could not have come at a worse time for the Soviet Union. For years it has been trying to woo Iran away from the United States, which gives this nation economic and military aid. Iran is a member of the anti-Communist Central Treaty Organization.

30 To 40 Injured In Train Collision

St. Louis--A passenger train and a freight train collided in a switching area near a North St. Louis industrial complex Thursday, injuring 30 to 40 persons.

A police officer said about 10 of the injured were stretcher cases.

Most of the injured apparently suffered cuts and bruises when thrown around in passenger cars, police said.

A Wabash Railroad spokesman said the passenger train, Wabash No. 4, was headed for Decatur, Ill.

Legislative 'Mess' Laid To Kennedy

Washington -- Republican congressional leaders said Thursday "President Kennedy's legislative program is in a mess" and "the blame lies squarely on the White House doorstep."

"In the final analysis," said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP chief, "it is President Kennedy's own mismanagement of his legislative program that has kept Congress in session since last January and everybody in Washington knows it."

Debris Of U2 Found In Gulf, Pilot Missing

Key West, Fla.--The wreck of a U2 plane was found Thursday on the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico.

But divers found its cockpit was empty, keeping alive a faint hope that the pilot, Capt. Joe G. Hyde Jr., might somehow have survived the crash.

Presumably returning from a mission over Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba, the high-flying reconnaissance aircraft vanished suddenly from radar scopes at 10:32 a.m. Wednesday, 180 miles north of the Cuban coast.

The Defense Department in Washington said there was no evidence that the plane, which flies at altitudes of more than 75,000 feet, had met with hostile action.

The Strategic Air Command said apparently mechanical failure brought it down.

11 Members Of Harrell Cult Found Guilty

East St. Louis, Ill.--Eleven followers of John R. Harrell have been found guilty on charges stemming from their interference with officials trying to recover a military fugitive from Harrell's cult retreat near Louisville, Ill.

Judge William H. Juergens of U.S. District Court gave the defense 15 days to file for a new trial. The jury deliberated less than six hours Wednesday before returning the verdicts.

The 11 men were seized in a 1961 raid by officials who captured Marine Pvt. Dion Davis, accused of desertion, at the 100-acre estate that Harrell's group had converted to an armed retreat.

Harrell, 41, and 12 followers were indicted on five counts each. One man pleaded guilty. Harrell is wanted on a warrant for his failure to appear for trial last week.

The Rev. A. Vance Comer, Carl Stanley, Joseph T. Ladley, James Gillard and Lloyd W. Stanley were found guilty on two counts--conspiracy to harbor a deserter and conspiracy to interfere with federal officers.

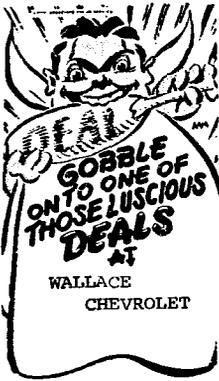

Lester H. Kellums, James Kellums, Arthur Leib, Harold Leib, Eugene Densmore and Charles Childers were convicted on three counts--conspiracy to harbor, conspiracy to interfere, and resisting federal officers.

Defendants testified that Harrell had planned to surrender Davis, but said they did not know that the 110 pre-dawn raiders were officers.

Harrell's Christian Conservative Church, which had an estimated 60 followers when founded in 1960, began to disperse after the August 1961 raid.

His anti-Communist church movement included a private school and a political party he organized after he made an unsuccessful bid for the GOP nomination for U.S. senator.

The FBI says it has found no trace of Harrell. There is an unconfirmed report he was seen in Texas County, Mo., where some followers resided temporarily this year while much of the cult organized a new retreat near San Fidel, N.M.

ABBAS AMIRIE BEAMS WHILE HIS WIFE SUSAN SHAKES HANDS WITH THE SHAH OF IRAN

Conversational Persian Is Scheduled To Be Taught By Amirie Next Quarter

An opportunity to learn Persian will be offered at SIU starting winter quarter.

The course will be taught by Abbas Amirie. In addition to teaching the language, he will explain the customs of his homeland and its 3,000-year-old class.

The course will meet once or twice weekly during winter, and the times for the sessions will be decided after the first meeting.

"The class will be in conversational Persian, so the students can feel that they are learning to speak Persian right away," Amirie explained.

Behind the text book used in the course is an unusual story. Three Iranian students who completed their Ph.D. work in the United States went back to Iran after 12 years and wrote the book especially for American students of Persian. The Iranian Embassy in Washington issued the new book in 1962.

"We would like to have at least 80 students enrolled in the course," Amirie said. "They will get credit for the course as a foreign language starting with the second term in the course." The first term will be spent getting into the swing of the Persian language.

Students who are interested in learning Persian should register at the information desk in the University Center or with Amirie immediately. Further information about the course can be obtained by calling Amirie at 684-3773 after 5 p.m. "Students should register for the course as soon as possible because we have to order the books right away," Amirie said.

Along with information about the ancient Persian culture, literature and language, Amirie will relate the conditions of present day Iran and the Shah's attempts to modernize the country.

Just back from a trip to Iran, Amirie and his wife, Susan, feel that their opportunity to see and hear the Shah at his palace was a highlight in the chartered trip with 128 other persons.

"The Shah spoke for about 25 minutes telling us about the new reforms for land ownership, women's suffrage, and economy in agriculture and education," Amirie said. "Some landlords have been fighting bitterly about giving up their land as demanded by the new land reform, but the government enforces the law. And about 92 per cent of the people voted to have reforms without government pressure. At the end of his speech the Shah shook hands with all of us and made more or less an appeal for the students to come home to help increase educational standards of the people."

MORE KINDS OF CHEVROLETS THAN EVER BEFORE!

NET-SMOOTH LUXURY CHEVROLET 15 models. Four series. One brand-new series—the Impala Super Sports. More luxury, too. Even the Biscaynes are now fully carpeted. There's seven different engines' worth of power—140 hp to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). It's a matter of knowing if you'd like your luxury on the gentle side or on the other side.

Model shown: Impala Sport Coupe

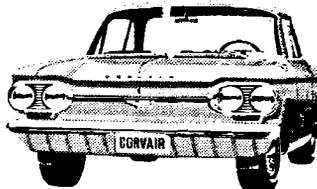

TOTALLY NEW CHEVELLE! 11 models. Three series. An entirely new line of cars sized a foot shorter than the big cars, so you get the handling ease of smaller cars. But don't sell it short! Chevlelle gives you generous passenger and luggage room. Engine choice: 120 to extra-cost 220 hp.

Model shown: Malibu Sport Coupe

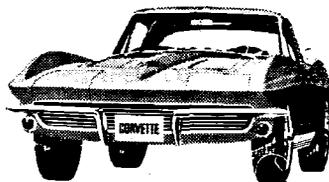

NEW CHEVY II Six models. Two series—Nova and Chevy II 100. Both now offer an extra-cost 195-hp V8 or a 155-hp six, to give you more Chevy II power than ever before. Match this added power with Chevy II thrift, and you can see why Chevy II will be harder than ever to keep up with this year.

Model shown: Nova 2-Door Sedan

NEW CORVAIR Seven models in four series. Two Greenbriers. A new standard 95-hp engine (nearly 19" livelier). An extra-cost 110-hp engine on all Corvairs and a 150-hp Turbo-charged engine in the Monza Spyder. Styling? Never been cleaner. Interior? Never been brighter. Fun to drive? Never been more so.

Model shown: Monza Club Coupe

NEW CORVETTE Two models—the Sport Coupe with a new one-piece rear window plus improved interior ventilation, and the dashing Sting Ray Convertible. Both boast smoother rides, improved sound insulation. Both go with four big V8's, including a new extra-cost 375-hp engine with Fuel Injection.

A Busy Weekend On Campus

If those of us at Southern Illinois University with a special interest in campus publications -- and in communications in general -- are slightly inclined to pat ourselves on the back this weekend, we hope you'll understand why.

The weekend will be a busy and a significant one for us: Eleven foreign correspondents leave Sunday after a four-day visit, with campus as their headquarters, to southern Illinois.

About 125 students arrive today for the national convention of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary fraternity for students in college publications work. Campus events tomorrow also include the Daily Egyptian publicity clinic and a workshop for freelance writers.

Communications will be affected by events here this weekend--from events of international significance down to the latest club meetings. At the end of their four weeks' tour, the foreign newsmen will return to their Washington posts better prepared to interpret for their readers American events of world significance. Their experiences at Carbondale and elsewhere will give them a view beyond the diplomatic and political life of the campus.

The Pi Delta Epsilon delegates will discuss with experts new concepts in campus publications work. Swapping suggestions with other students will provide valuable ideas to take home.

Of small importance nationally--but equally significant from our selfish viewpoint--is the Daily Egyptian publicity clinic tomorrow. Direct beneficiaries will be the campus organizations and individuals who will learn how best to tell the campus community of their activities. Egyptian readers will benefit from the better campus coverage we hope will result.

Not all the benefits of this busy weekend for communications people will go to our visitors, however. To the correspondents and to Pi Delta Epsilon delegates SIU will become more than a name. The correspondents will come away Sunday with a better understanding of that strange creature, the American student.

Their understanding of growing state universities and how they serve the people of their areas will be deepened. The University and its programs will benefit from the increased exposure.

Letter To The Editor Facts Do Not Seem To Justify Compulsory Military Training Program In University

In the past few weeks many students have expressed their dislike of the compulsory AFROTC program. Judging from the fact that fewer than 10 per cent of the students enrolled in the basic course go into advanced training, I feel that I can safely say that a large majority of the basic cadets are against this undemocratic program.

People have tried to defend this program by taking quotes out of context and by trying to compare it to academic subjects. Inasmuch as Plato was not referring to AFROTC when he said "Learn well the ways of war today, that you may know peace tomorrow," the former is irrelevant, and inasmuch as the purpose of the basic AFROTC program is to induce students to go into the advanced corps, the latter can be disproven also.

This program is undemocratic because there is no law stating that non land grant schools have to have AFROTC programs. Even if SIU were a land grant school, there is no provision which makes ROTC compulsory for the student!

To put it bluntly, the male students at SIU are being "sold out" for governmental subsidies. These subsidies are granted on the basis of the number of students enrolled in the program. This makes the program truly undemocratic.

I feel that I am speaking for the vast majority of students on this campus when I say the compulsory AFROTC must go!

Book Review

Human Engineering In The Space Industry

The Missile Lords, by Jefferson Satton, G.P. Putnam's Sons, 379 pp. $5.95.

Here is a novel about the American aerospace industry. It is also a tale of a world in which the public relations man is every bit as important as the engineer and the producer, and the corporation is more important than the products it makes for the people it serves. But most important to the author, it seems, is his retelling of the story of individual values adjusting under the pressure of social change.

mature, uncertain both about its products and its sole customer--the government.

Author Sutton, by the way, is one who has worked in the industry, in research engineering and in public relations. The publisher's blurb on the jacket lists the engineering first; the story puts the PR aspect highest. Sutton presents a detailed picture of one aerospace corporation (resemblance to any existing specimen of the ilk is purely coincidental, of course) which is struggling for security through government favor.

The various tensions structured into his tale are those between executives and underlings who use up themselves and their associates as they fight to advance the corporate cause--and themselves. These gentry face congressmen and generals, unsolved engineering and production problems, and the like with aplomb, and manage to attend constantly to the corporation's "image" (with the help of a PR staff that includes the major character, Jim Elliott.) Along the way, some get themselves out of the rat race, some are thrown out, some achieve success accidentally; there is some to-do about who beds whom, for what reasons, and on whose expense account; and the melange includes two love stories that manage to wind up more or less successfully.

Concerning the future of aerospace, society, the Space Age--and the future of Space Age literature--the novel prompts one question:

Would PR men turned engineers turn out better missiles? Or would they never quite get off the launching pad? There is excitement in the aerospace industry, Sutton tells us; but it seldom reaches the reader.

The Dead Are Mine, by James E. Ross. David McKay Company, Inc. 304 pp. $4.95.

This is an ugly book, filled with ugly words describing ugly characters and events. But author Ross perhaps is justified in his ugliness, for he's writing about an ugly subject--the combat soldier in war.

The novel's "hero" is a professional soldier, a "thirty year man," who can mutilate an unarmed enemy soldier at close range because that's his job, but whose kindness is revealed when he establishes a penniless prostitute inside the stockade and serves as her procurer. He is not a likable character, but is a believable one to the reader who has known the professional soldier and recognizes the strength he gives any military unit.

Ross recounts Sgt. Terry Lewis' experiences in and following the Italian invasion at Anzio, including his "retreat" from duty after the rest of his squad has been killed. Lewis is reassigned to a graves registration unit, and from this point the raw descriptions of GI casualties become almost too much for a delicate stomach.

Ross is himself a former career soldier who entered the Army at age 16 and who is now serving a life sentence in a Washington state prison for murder. The fact that his novel was written in prison apparently adds or detracts little, because the author says it was something he always planned to do anyway.

The Dead Are Mine is an unpleasant story, leading to the inevitable death of Sgt. Lewis. Its language is tough and vulgar, too realistic for the unsophisticated. But perhaps the reader who has yet to be convinced that war really is hell will find the book educational.

Season Opener:

SIU Women's Gym Team To Face U. Of I. Gymkannas Here Tonight

The Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastic Club gets off to a flying start here tonight, opening its season before the local fans against one of the nation's first-rate women's teams—the University of Illinois Gymkana.

This will be the first dual women's gymnastic meet ever to be held in the Midwest and officially opens the 1964 women's season here. Starting time is 8 p.m. in the Men's Gymnasium, with general admission set at one dollar for adults and 40 cents for children (12 and under).

Headed by coach Herb Vogel, the local club is a recent addition to the campus community and now has an active membership of 50 young women.

Sparking the six-member team is Donna Schaezner, 1963 USGF All Around champion. Just 19 and a sophomore at SIU, she has been tutored by Vogel since she was 14. She won the United States Gymnastics Federation's national championship in Chicago last June by winning five of six events. She also has won state titles in Wisconsin and Michigan, and was All Around winner in the Ontario Open meet.

Gail Daly, a senior at Carbondale Community High School at 17, is from Saskatoon, Sask., Canada. She's a two-time national All Around titlist in Canada and competed for Canada in the 1962 World Games and 1963 Pan-American Games.

Here from Stockholm, Sweden, is Brigitta Gullberg, 22-year-old SIU freshman who was the third-ranking woman gymnast in Sweden before coming to the U.S. last January. She was fifth in the USGF meet and is planning to return to Sweden early next summer in an attempt to qualify for the Olympics.

Irene Haworth, 17, a senior at Carbondale Community High and also from Saskatoon, was another member of the Canadian women's teams in the World and Pan-Am Games. She finished second in All Around competition in a Canadian national meet.

A sister team from Flint, Mich., Janis and Judy Dunham round out the squad. Janis, a senior at Carbondale Community High, 17, has been a student of Vogel since a youngster. She was second in the USGF meet in Chicago and fourth in national AAU

Phys Ed Club Meets

The Men's Physical Education Majors Club will meet at 10 a.m. Monday in Men's Gym, Room 203.

competition at Sarasota, Fla.

Sister Judy is the youngest member of the team at 15, and she's a sophomore at the same school. She won the Midwest Open All Around championship in Chicago a year ago, then won the Flint Open. She placed sixth in USGF competition.

Battered Salukis Fly To Denton For Finale With North Texas

SIU's badly battered football team gathers its remaining, but fast diminishing, combatants again tomorrow for one more shot at a break-even record for the current season.

The Salukis will fly to Denton, Tex., for their second meeting with the North Texas State Eagles, who also arrive at their final game of the season in a crippled condition. Kickoff time at Fouts Field will be 2 p.m.

Southern, which lost several key performers early in the season, has been hit even harder by injuries in the latter weeks of the year, forcing Head Coach Carmen Piccone to rely on a make-shift lineup for the finale.

Latest in the long line to the training room or the hospital was Jim Hart, sophomore quarterback who has established numerous SIU records this season while passing for 14 touchdowns and 1,031 yards.

"Hart's injury really hurts," Piccone said. "After all he's personally accounted for our last 10 touchdowns and you just don't lose a kid like that without losing a great deal of your effectiveness."

Two-year letterman Dave Harris is ready to replace Hart, but Piccone has even more serious worries as he tries to fill holes vacated by injured tackle Jack Langi, guard Larry Wagner, end Don Venteuolo, defensive back Carl Kimbrel and halfback Rich Weber.

Southern and the Eagles hooked up in a wild-scoring finale last year at Denton, with the Eagles rolling to a 55-30 victory, the first gridiron meeting ever between the schools. Both elevens will go into this game with a lack of manpower, as the Texas club also has lost key men throughout its losing season.

AFROTC Cagers Play Evansville

The SIU AFROTC basketball team will open its season Saturday against the Evansville College ROTC team at Evansville.

The 10-member team that goes to Evansville is one of two AFROTC teams that compete in intramural basketball on campus.

Eagles Meet Salukis Saturday With Star Quarterback Ryan Out

North Texas State's crippled football squad can finish with a 4-6 record this season by defeating SIU at Denton Saturday afternoon, but the Eagles will have to do it without the services of their regular quarterback, Billy Ryan.

Ryan, a senior starter for the Eagles this year, suffered a foot injury in North Texas' 18-12 win over Hardin-Simmons last week and is listed as a doubtful performer tomorrow. Ryan's loss may even up the odds a little, with Southern's top quarterback Jim Hart out of action on a knee injury.

The Eagles, however, have proven that their ground game is a factor which the Salukis will somehow have to reckon with. Even though North Texas has won only three games while dropping six, the Eagle rushing machine has moved with well-oiled efficiency.

Fullback Dwain Bean, who has rushed for 770 yards in nine games, will carry the brunt of the Eagle attack.

Bean, a senior workhorse, has rushed his way into the Eagle record book. As the only survivor of a backfield torn by injuries, Bean has gained enough yardage to rank fifth in season rushing among North Texas backs in modern times. Halfbacks Bobby Smith and A.D. Whitfield are in the process of healing some wounds. Despite a broken rib, Smith was used as a decoy for a few plays against Hardin-Simmons. He carried the ball once and scored a five-yard touchdown.

Odus Mitchell, Eagle head coach, will likely call on a sophomore, Gordon Nelson, who came through with 80 yards in just six carries last week.

As in Toledo's attack last week, the Salukis will again have to face a potent rushing offense. North Texas' total offense in the first nine games was 2,157 yards. Only 422 of those yards came through the air, with Bean leading a bruising charge for 1,735 yards on the turf.

The Texans scored nine times on rushing plays and have hit paydirt just six times via the pass.

North Texas, a Missouri Valley Conference member, has split its four conference battles. The Eagles bounced Louisville, 26-6, and skipped by Wichita, 7-3, for league wins, then added Hardin-Simmons to the list of victims last week.

Their six losses have come at the hands of Texas Western, 34-7; West Texas, 38-16; Memphis State, 21-0; Tulsa, 22-21; Abilene Christian, 20-6 and Cincinnati, 39-7.

Dormitory Proposal Scheduled For Public Hearing On Dec. 9

Public hearing is scheduled for Dec. 9 on a proposal to construct a three-story, 50-occupant dorm at 509 Ash Street.

The zoning committee of the Carbondale Plan Commission, in a meeting Wednesday evening, authorized the hearing.

An annexation hearing also was set by the committee for Dec. 9. Earl and Leona Hendrick have petitioned the city to annex 2 1/4 acres on Park Street at the southeast corner of present city limits, adjoining the Morningside addition. Tom Easterly, city zoning and planning inspector, said the Hendricks have no plans at this time for developing the tract, which is vacant.

The proposed dorm on Ash would be constructed by Glenn Williams. It will be between Cherry Street and Ash Street, on the east side of Ash. The plans call for individual entrances to all rooms from porches extending the length of the building.

Soccer Practice Set For Saturday

Soccer practice will be held again at 3 p.m. Saturday at the field east of McAndrew Stadium. Regular practice and a scrimmage session are on tap and all interested students are asked to be on hand.

THE SCRATCH

Strike the bass string with your thumb then with the index finger brush down and then up again over the treble strings. Remember that the action should be in the finger movement only. The wrist and arm should remain stationary. This can be achieved by resting the three fingers not in use just below the strings on the face of the guitar.

It should always be remembered that the self-taught guitarist has spent many long hours perfecting his guitar techniques so it is advisable to see an expert in learning.
