60 Educators Will Discuss SIU Program

Nearly 60 school superintendents will present their views on the SIU student teaching program at the Administrators' Conference on Student Teaching Dec. 2 at SIU.

Charles D. Neal, director of student teaching, said this is the first such conference to be held during the 20-year-old student teaching program.

"So far," Neal said, "the response has been overwhelming. Some of these people have to travel as far as 250 miles," he added.

Attending the meeting will be President Delyte W. Morris, Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs, Elmer J. Clark, dean of the College of Education, and other faculty members interested in the student teaching program.

Bus Trip Planned To Cardinal Game

A University bus will travel to St. Louis Dec. 6 for the Cardinal-Cleveland Brown football game.

Students wanting to go should sign up Monday in the Student Activities Office.

Price for the ride is $1.50. Reserved seats for the game are $2.75.

'64 Obelisk to Go On Sale for $2

Several hundred 1963-'64 Obelisks will go on sale Dec. 1 for $2.

The yearbooks are available to any student who paid last year's activity fee.

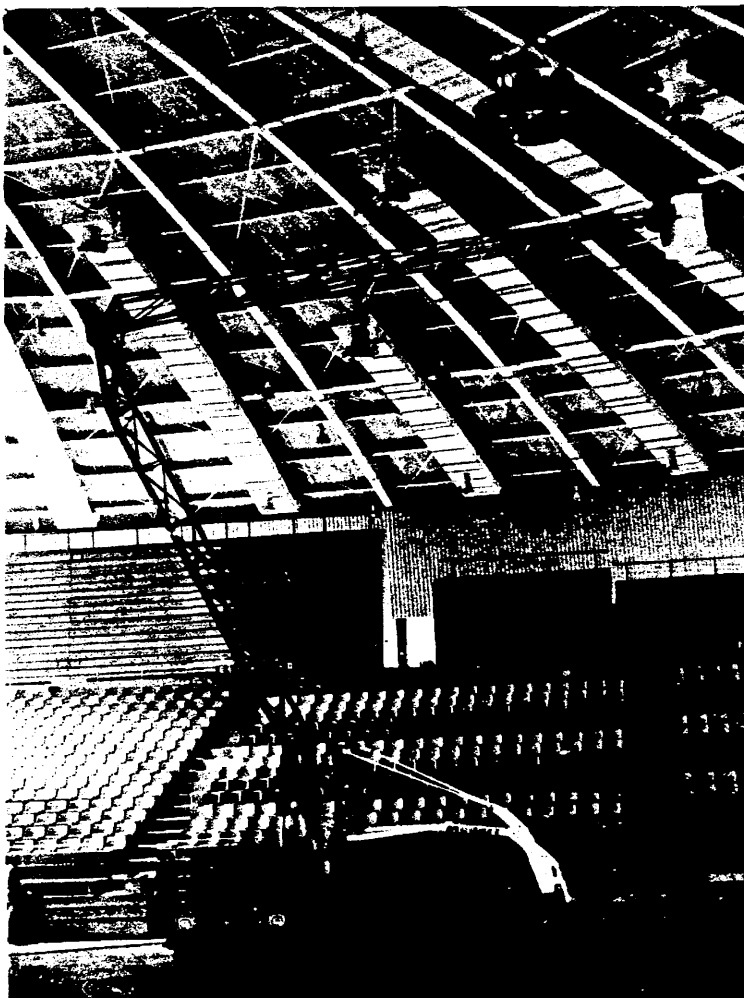

Any student who purchased last year's yearbook and has not picked it up must do so by Dec. 1, or it will be put on sale.

The Obelisk Office is located in the Chautauqua Area Building, H-2, Apartment A. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Gus says SIU won't be accredited as a penitentiary until there are more security police than faculty members.

A LIGHT CHANGE - Workmen use the aid of a giant arm to change light bulbs in the ceiling of the SIU Arena. The bulbs, which last 1,000 hours, are all changed at one time, William D. Justice, manager of the Arena, said.

When Finals Stack Up

Council Is Asked for Exams Appeal Board; Students Urged to Confer With Professors

The Student Council, at its Thursday night meeting, heard a committee report recommending establishment of a board to hear appeals from students who have three or four final exams in one day.

Under the new exam system, it is possible and probable that many students will have the problem of finals stacked on top of each other in the same day.

Consequently, the committee felt that to insure the individual student of relief in such occurrences, a board of Council members should be set up to help students appeal to faculty members for rescheduling of tests.

The Council took no definite action on the recommendation, except to try to inform students to consult their professors immediately when they learn of such complications.

Members of the special committee interviewed more than 40 faculty members in an effort to find out if they had been completely informed about the workings of the new system, and how they felt about it.

The general feeling, according to the report, was that the faculty members were usually negative or apathetic concerning the system.

Action taken by the Council included:

--It passed a bill calling for a recommendation to be sent to the administration asking for financial support of the Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastic Club.

The bill was passed because the Council felt the team is a worthy and beneficial organization which has gained recognition for the school.

--It passed legislation which stated all future bills introduced for consideration by the Council must contain the names of the sponsor and all sponsors.

--The Council voted to finance a trip for three persons to the University of Oklahoma, where the Associated Student Governments of the United States of America conference will be held.

Cost of the trip to the student government conference, of which SIU is a charter member, will be about $300. This money will be allocated from Council funds.

The Council also referred to the Student Rights Commit-

Weather May Be Factor in Finale

"Operation salvage" will be in effect here tonight, when SIU's battle-weary Salukis meet the eager Purple Aces of Evansville College.

The 8 o'clock contest is the final game of the 1964 season for the tailspinning Salukis, who hope to improve on their 2-7 record at Evansville's expense.

Coach Don Shroyer's boys, victims of four straight defeats, are slight favorites to topple Evansville.

The Purple Aces, who wheeled and dealt their way to four straight victories in the first half of the season, find themselves with a 4-4 record at this juncture. The Aces enter tonight's game with a four-game losing streak.

Evansville, led by versatile, pass-happy quarterback Kim DeVault, running backs Matt Hatcher and Mike Madriaga, and sticky-fingered flankerback Bob Glasser, would like nothing more than to end the season with an upset victory over the Salukis.

SIU is still smarting from last year's startling 15-14 upset defeat suffered at the hands of the spirited Aces. Southern hasn't beaten Evansville since 1958 and only twice in seven meetings between the two schools.

While the Purple Aces are expected to give the Salukis some trouble, Old Man Winter also will get into the act with sub-freezing temperatures. Cold weather, like rain or snow, is no bargain for football players--particularly those who are required to handle the football.

The cold weather may hamper the passing attacks of both teams.

The Salukis, led by the accurate arm of quarterback Jim Hart, usually rely heavily on the passing game.

Shroyer, whose Salukis are reeling from successive losses to Northern Michigan, North Texas State, Lincoln and Toledo, will go with the same lineup which started the Toledo game here last Saturday.

Quarterback Hart, a 6-2, 190-pound junior from Morton Grove, has completed 100 of 233 passes this season for

Student Foundation Sets Sunday Fast

The Sunday night supper club at the Student Christian Foundation will be without supper this week in observing a "Fast for Freedom" movement, according to the Rev. Malcolm Gillespie, director of foundation.

The movement calls for people throughout the country to volunteer to sacrifice their evening meal and send the money saved to a special bank account. The food then purchased shall be distributed by the Committee for Miners, the Northern Student Movement and the Council of Federated Organizations.

Last year, with the participation of 40 colleges, among them Columbia University, Colgate University and the University of Chicago, the Fast sent $15,000 worth of food to the Mississippi Delta.

STEVEN BARWICK

Pianist Barwick to Present Recital in Shryock Sunday

Steven Barwick, professor of music, will be featured in a faculty piano recital at 4 p. m. Sunday in Shryock Auditorium.

Barwick, who received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in music history and theory from Harvard, has been on two European concert tours, the latest in 1961. This tour included recitals in Copenhagen, Amsterdam, London, Munich and Milan.

Before coming to SIU in 1955, Barwick taught at Howard, Radcliff, Blue Mountain College, University of Pittsburgh and Western Kentucky State College.

Coming out shortly, published by the University Press, is a book written by Barwick entitled "The Franco Codex of the Mexico City Cathedral." The book deals with the Renaissance music of Mexico.

Barwick's selections will include Sonata in E Flat Major by Joseph Haydn; Carnival, Opus 9, by Robert Schumann; Three Fantasies by William Bergsma; Une Barque sur l'Océan by Maurice Ravel; and Napoli, Suite pour le Piano, by Francis Poulenc.

The number by Schumann, Carnival, should be of special interest. It was written on only four tones in the melody. This selection is also of interest because each of its 21 movements are composed symbolically to represent other composers, towns and happenings of the time.

Memorial Service For Kennedy Set

The SIU Young Democrats will hold a memorial service for former President John F. Kennedy at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Morris Library Auditorium.

Randall H. Nelson, associate professor of government, will speak and will read excerpts from Kennedy's speeches and the poem which Robert Frost delivered at Kennedy's inauguration.

A Political Vacuum Forming Around De Gaulle

Western Europe Rejects His Policies

By Alain de Lyrat
Chief, European Bureau
Copley News Service

PARIS -- President Charles de Gaulle of France is on the brink of political and diplomatic isolation with the Western alliance because of his policies in Europe and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Quick developments in the last few days have demonstrated that De Gaulle has failed to persuade or pressure other nations to support policies basically aimed at the elimination of U.S. influence in Europe.

De Gaulle, at this stage is creating a political vacuum around himself.

The turning point, after many months of more obscure struggle, has come over the U.S.-sponsored nuclear multilateral force (MLF) and the issue of the nuclear defense of Europe.

West Germany has made it clear beyond a doubt that it will go ahead with participation in the MLF despite De Gaulle's pressure against such a move.

Perhaps even more important is what appears to be a new and more favorable British approach to the problem.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government, after some reticence, has indicated that it might be willing to accept a form of Allied nuclear defense not far removed from the MLF as it is now defined.

If the United States succeeds in obtaining both German and English participation in an Allied nuclear deterrent, it is considered likely that other members of NATO who so far have been lukewarm will go along with it.

A key difficulty is believed to have been set aside during British Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker's recent trip to Bonn.

The Labor government until then had been uneasy about Germany's role in the MLF. It appears that during the Anglo-German talks in Bonn, many apprehensions were removed.

Meanwhile, Wilson has condemned in no uncertain terms the essential tenets of De Gaulle's policies on nuclear defense and the Western alliance.

His strongest statement included this remark:

17 Nations Ante Lists Cautiously to Open Tariff Talks

By Jack Harrison

The Kennedy Round tariff talks got started this week in Geneva, despite some dire predictions about their chances for success.

Not much happened immediately. The participating nations exchanged lists of what products they are willing to submit for the general tariff cut, and then withdrew to their corners to study the data and to map strategy for the real give-and-take expected in January.

This first step was taken after a year and a half of bickering over the rules. The Kennedy Round has been called the most ambitious trade-expansion effort in history, yet there are many roadblocks standing in the way of its success.

Several compromises had to be made to get the talks started, and last-minute delays were narrowly averted.

The European Economic Community (EEC), or Common Market, ended a marathon four-day session the night before the talks opened by finally agreeing on an "exceptions list" for the Kennedy Round.

Such a list names the items which the nations wish to withhold from the across-the-board tariff cut.

France and Italy made concessions on the final EEC list. Other Common Market members are West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Before the Kennedy Round could begin, France insisted that agricultural goods not be included in the negotiations over manufactured goods. The U.S. reluctantly agreed, and it is most likely that farm products will never be included in the Kennedy Round talks.

Seventeen nations were involved in the exchange of lists this week. They are the U.S., Japan, Canada, Czechoslovakia and 13 Western European countries. These latter include the six EEC nations and the European Free Trade Associa-

"We reject categorically any idea of a separate European deterrent." He also professed support for collective nuclear security as well as the necessary interdependence of the alliance.

He thus ruled out as far as Britain is concerned Gaullist proposals for a European deterrent and a belief in total national interdependence.

The subject of a European deterrent is at best a highly hypothetical one. France, so far, has only the nucleus of an atomic force and indications are that De Gaulle would be the last man to share its secrets or its control.

De Gaulle is a stubborn and willful man who does not make empty threats. He is therefore likely to go his own way on both the nuclear and the Common Market issues.

If he does, it appears that he will do so alone. The question now being asked is: Can France survive such a policy of isolation?

tion or "Outer Seven"—Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Portugal, Switzerland and Austria.

Britain, the Common Market and the U.S. will be the principal bargainers. Eventually, the Kennedy Round will involve more than 60 nations, the parties to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), which is conducting the tariff talks.

Eric Wyndham-White, executive secretary of GATT, is the man in charge of the talks.

Shoemaker, Chicago's American

BIG QUESTION - IS HIS HEAD HARD ENOUGH?

The negotiations were named for John F. Kennedy because of his efforts in behalf of lowering tariff barriers.

Kennedy sponsored the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, which gives the U.S. President greater bargaining power in tariff matters and which led directly to the current round of talks.

The most that can be expected from the Kennedy Round is a 50 per cent cut in tariffs on most industrial imports.

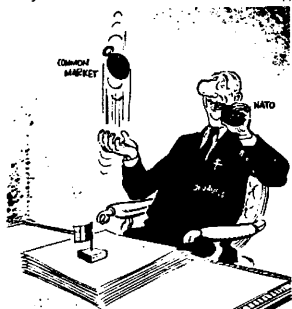

The 50 per cent cut is the limit for action by the U.S. President under the Trade Expansion Act and is therefore a practical limit for the talks. The cut probably will be nearer 25 to 35 per cent.

The across-the-board tariff cut will be on a reciprocal percentage basis. It will apply to a majority of trade in industrial products.

The Common Market offered 81 per cent of its members' industrial imports for tariff reductions.

The remaining 19 per cent, which will be left to itemized bargaining, includes aluminum, home sewing machines, watches, some aircraft, trucks, Italian silk and other items.

Britain's corresponding list of products which the nation does not want subject to a full-sized tariff cut includes coal, lead, zinc, jute, some textiles and some plastics.

Red Chinese Warn Of 'Khrushchevism'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China warned the Soviet Union today against "Khrushchevism without Khrushchev" and laid down a long set of tough terms that could make solution of the Moscow-Peking dispute virtually impossible.

Peking hailed the downfall in October of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as the end of "a buffoon on the contemporary stage," but it also launched a heavy attack on Soviet policies, which the new Moscow regime has said it will continue.

The Chinese announced in advance they were broadcasting an important statement before transmitting a violent editorial by Red Flag, official theoretical journal of the Chinese Communist party. It raised against Khrushchev "hundreds of thousands of charges."

The editorial had the sound of a form of ultimatum to the new Soviet regime under party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to abandon all those policies developed under Khrushchev—including peaceful coexistence and cooperation in any form with the United States—which aggravated Peking over the past eight years.

The Chinese warned against any who would resurrect Khrushchev's contributions and deeds, so that

Agreement Nears

In Newspaper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The longest strike shutdown of metropolitan daily newspapers in the nation's history appears near an end.

Tentative agreement on terms of a settlement of the 31-day strike against the afternoon Detroit News and the morning Detroit Free Press was reached early Friday, at a secret meeting at Solidarity House, headquarters of the United Auto Workers Union.

The UAW chieftain was instrumental in bringing together representatives of the two newspapers and Local 13 of the striking International Pressmen's Union to settle the last remaining issue on which the two sides were deadlocked.

The issue involved the size of crews needed to man presses at the Detroit News, according to state and federal mediators who also took part in the secret meeting.

Cold, Snow Hit Midwest With Blast

By The Associated Press

An intense prewinter snowstorm, accompanied by bitter cold weather and 60- to 70-mile-an-hour winds blocked highways and closed some schools Friday in the north-central states and the Midwest.

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed across much of northern Iowa in the first statewide storm of the season. Charles City had five inches of snow.

Hazardous driving conditions were widespread in the north-central and Great Lakes areas and gale warnings were up on the Great Lakes.

Blowing snow caused poor visibility in Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Montana and Nebraska. A blizzard-like storm hit Chicago in early afternoon and then, after 10 minutes, settled down to snow flurries. Aurora, Ill., had two inches of snow in one hour.

Many roads in northern Illinois were slick and traffic moved slowly. Visibility in northern Illinois was reduced to a few hundred feet.

UN Observer Policy Questioned by Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant has raised the issue of whether to allow additional countries to send U.N. observers to New York.

Swedish Air Crash Claims 31 Lives

ANGELHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A Swedish airliner hit a railway power line and crashed in flames near here Friday night while groping for a landing in foul weather.

An official report early today said 31 of the 43 persons aboard were killed outright or died later of injuries.

Two of the survivors were able to walk almost unharmed from the scattered wreckage, witnesses reported. Some others died in or en route to hospitals in the area which at one time Friday night reported 16 were being treated.

In line with this practice, West Germany, South Korea, South Viet Nam, Switzerland, Monaco and the Vatican have observers in New York on U.S. visas. They are admitted to the public galleries at U.N. meetings and are given U.N. documents.

Thant put the question up to members in his annual report to the General Assembly.

bert were Southern's second best running with 168 yards in 52 carries.

This season Rhodes has gained 98 yards in 34 attempts. Dave Bolger has been a familiar sight on the SIU football scene for the past three ing of the 1963 season, Weber has been the workhorse of the Saluki ground attack. He led all SIU rushers last season with 257 yards in 38 attempts.

Shelton, a rangy end from Columbus, Ga., is having his best season since joining the Salukis in 1962. This season the big 6-3, 205-pounder has pulled in 22 passes for 311 yards and one touchdown.

Last season, his first year as a starter, Shelton caught 13 passes for 219 yards and five touchdowns. Shelton tied Tom Massey and the late Harry Bobbit for 1963 team scoring honors, with his 30 points.

The SIU offensive line will also miss the services of guard Earl O'Malley. O'Malley, 5-11, 215-pounder from Fairfield, has been a stalwart on Southern's offensive wall for the past two years.

Irv Rhodes, a 6-0, 180-pound runningback from Ronco, Pa., handled the Saluki starting fullback chores last season but has seen only limited action this year. In 1963, his first year as a starter, years. No. 38 handles the punting duties for Southern and currently is averaging better than 35 yards per kick for 53 punts.

Siebert, a DuQuoin guard, and Corcoran, a guard from Chicago, mainly saw action with Southern's reserve teams during their SIU careers.

Gymnasts Set Tuesday Meet

Southern's National Collegiate Championship gymnastics team will open its season with an intrasquad meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Arena. The meet will feature the freshmen and the sophomores against the juniors and seniors. The upperclassmen have won the meet in the past two years.

The junior-senior team includes two mainstays from last year's team, Ray Yano and Bill Wolf, plus junior college transfer Mike Boegler, whom assistant coach Rusty Mitchell describes as a potential star.

Boegler's specialty is the side horse. Yano will work as all-around man and Wolf will perform on the parallel bars, side horse and still rings.

Paul Meyer, Ron Hardstad, and Dale Hardt, freshmen, will lead the freshmen-sophomore team. Meyer will work as an all-around man, Hardstad will perform on the parallel bars and the high bar. Hardt will work on the trampoline.

They will be joined by sophomore Steve Whitlock who will perform his two specialties, the long horse and free exercise.

Students Urged To Consult Profs On Finals Mixup

tee, a bill calling for the investigation of possible remedies to determine what practical action could be taken to insure all students an equal opportunity to purchase tickets for stage shows.

The bill was proposed because of the block ticket sales that are made by various organizations.

The fact that a person doesn't belong to a large organization shouldn't disqualify him from having a chance at tickets of his choice, according to the proposed bill.

A discussion concerning the misquoting of student senators by the Daily Egyptian was opened to Council when Trina Carter, small group housing senator, asked if there was something that could be done to regulate the reporting of Council meetings.

Miss Carter and several other senators complained that the words "split iris" had been used instead of "scratched cornea" in connection with a report by a student senator of medical treatment administered to an SIU coed recently.

Miss Carter wanted to know if it wasn't possible to check Council reports before publication to see if they were all right to print.

1,459 yards and 13 touchdowns. While Hart has been consistently assuaging SIU passing records, he has been experiencing some difficulty in moving the sputtering Saluki offense, particularly on the ground.

Joining Hart in the backfield tonight will be halfback Rich Weber--the team's leading rusher with 427 yards in 132 carries--flankerback Rudy Phillips and fullback Monty Riffer.

Phillips, a Decatur sophomore, is Southern's leading scorer with 47 points and has caught 26 passes for 390 yards and five touchdowns.

Up front for the Salukis tonight will be ends Tom Massey and Bonnie Shelton, guards Earl O'Malley and Vic Pantaleo, tackles Mitchell Krawczyk and Isaac Brigham and center Bennie Hill.

Massey, Runningmede, N.J., is SIU's leading pass receiver with 22 catches for 432 yards and three touchdowns. Tight end Bonnie Shelton, a Columbus, Ga., senior, has pulled in 22 passes for 311 yards and one touchdown.
