Student's Housing Will Determine Place for Voting

Campus Senate elections will be conducted at seven polling booths from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Jeff Yates, student government elections commissioner, reviewed the location of the polling places and said the place where each student votes is determined by his living unit.

Senate districts are broken down into the following areas: Commuters; east side dormitories (non-university); east side non-dormitory; University Park.

On the west side, and the division is determined by the Illinois Central railroad tracks, the districts are, Dormitories (non-university); Non-Dormitory; Thompson Point; and Small Group Housing.

He said the student must also register to vote at the polling place when he votes.

Voters must also present their student ID and activity cards at the time of voting.

Following is the listing of polling places, and who is to vote at each: University Park, Trueblood Hall lobby, only students from University Park may and must vote here; Small Group Housing, Theta Xi house, limited to those residents of Small Group Housing; Home Economics Building, south entrance, restricted to commuters and east and west side residents excluding those living in University facilities.

Thompson Point residents must vote in Lentz Hall of Thompson Point; commuters and West side residents, excluding those in University dorms, may vote at a booth located in the enclosed walkway between the University School and Wham, or Room H in the University Center. East side residents may also vote in the University Center.

The seventh polling place will be set up in the cafeteria of VTI for east side residents and commuters.

As a result of reapportionment and redistricting, there have been 10 seats added to the Campus Senate, bringing the total to 31.

Twenty of the 31 seats are being contested in the election Tuesday. Candidates for the Senate, by party and district, are:

Students Arrested On Liquor Charges

Two male students were arrested by the SIU Security Police at 2:05 a.m. Thursday near the Illinois Department of Public Health laboratory at the corner of Oakland Avenue and Chautauqua Road.

One was charged with underage acceptance of alcoholic beverages, the other with permitting a minor to use identification to purchase alcoholic beverages.

Thomas L. Leffler, SIU security officer, said the two had been at a tavern near Murrphysboro.

Leffler said a fight involving the two occurred near the health lab before the arrests were made. The students' names were not released.

SIU's School of Business is planning two training sessions early next year designed to help area businessmen catch up with today's technology.

campus. Each session will train 30 men drawn from small and medium sized businesses in southern Illinois.

The project is part of the state's Technical Services Program in which the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development seeks to bridge the gap between the nation's advanced research and the business practices of individual businessmen.

The University originally requested three projects, but two—one on the understanding of technical writing and the other on new product development know-how—were not approved by the state.

For the computer program, which the state approved, SIU has been allocated about $12,000 in matching funds.

The University Board of Trustees recently approved $100,000 for similar projects for the 1967-68 biennium. When this money and fees charged to the participants matched by the state, the total cost will amount to $300,000.

The state is already seeking proposals for projects for fiscal year 1968. Proposals are to be sent in by Dec. 15.

The computer seminar next year will be conducted by seven faculty members from the School of Business and the Data Processing and Computer Center at SIU.

LATIN AMERICAN ART & MUSIC

Paris Rive Gauche, Voila!

French Troupe Captures SIU

By Dianne Anderson

The French flair must appeal to SIU students. Their appreciation of the Paris Rive Gauche, the French cabaret troupe, was loudly proclaimed by clapping and whistling at the 1 p.m. convocations program, Thursday. The singers are on their second American tour.

They were indeed entertaining and they strongly supported the belief that music and humor are international languages. Most of the routines were done in French with a few in heavily accented English.

Facial expressions, laughter, screams and exaggerated motions helped uni-lingual people understand and enjoy the songs, ballads, satire and poetry. But, better English thumbnail explanations definately would have been appreciated.

Pantomimes are great bridges for closing communications gaps and the mannequin with the rolling eyes certainly did this. The eye movement brought some squeamish sounds from the ladies in the audience, though.

Communication wasn't perfect, no, and I don't know what the five them were laughing and winking about in their combined last act. I do know that their laughter and apparent happiness rubbed off.

CLEAR CHOICE?

Students to Assert Voting Traditions

Twenty seats of the 31-member reappointed Campus Senate will rest in the hands of students in Tuesday's campus election.

It wouldn't have to be done that way.

In many other countries, if such a representative body were allowed on a university campus, it would be selected, not elected, by the head of the university, or chosen by a select special-interest group of students.

At SIU, though some may doubt it at times, it is representation of, by and for the student.

Elected representation is a part of a national institution nearly 200 years old, where-by students can choose whom they wish or do not wish to speak for their beliefs, needs and headaches.

Polls will be at many convenient locations on campus for the Tuesday voting.

Don't depend on George and Sally to vote for you. They may be depending on you.

Basketball Train Scheduled If 400 Students Buy Tickets

The Athletic Department is attempting to make arrangements to make a special train into St. Louis for the Saluki's second basketball game of the season against St. Louis University. The contest is Wednesday night, Dec. 7.

To make such arrangements the department has learned that the Illinois Central would need a guarantee of 400 passengers. If such arrangements can be made, the department will arrange to take along a small pep band.

Train tickets would cost $6.50 a seat round trip and tickets to the game would cost one dollar. The train will not go unless 400 passengers can be assured.

With all the recent talk about Southern entering the Missouri Valley Conference, the Mid-America Conference or any other league of similar strength and stature, this seems to be an excellent opportunity for students to show St. Louis University, the MVC and the SIU administration that they think SIU is ready right now.

It would also be a great opportunity to do a little extra for the basketball Salukis and show them that students are solidly behind them this season. A large SIU turnout would reduce the home court advantage the Billikens will certainly hold. And think for a moment what a victory over this perennial MVC power would mean at the polls.

This will be the Salukis' first of four games with the three teams that could be the cream of the Missouri Valley crop this season: St. Louis, Wichita State and Louisville.

When the date and place for ticket sales are announced let's get over there early and gobble them up and leave no doubt in anyone's mind where the student body's spirit is.

It could be a bigger than usual victory celebration on the way home Dec. 7.

Presents? Christmas Here Best

To the editor:

Again this year the Thompson Point Spirit of Christmas committee is collecting money to send presents to members of the 101st Airborne Division in Viet Nam.

This year the special U.S. government airlift of presents will not be repeated because of a lack of interest on the part of the American people. Apparently, members of the SOC committee are considerably more concerned over the 'welfare' of U.S. soldiers in Viet Nam than the rest of the country as a whole.

Inevitably, success of the SOC campaign will be interpreted as an endorsement of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

I would prefer to see the energy and enthusiasm of those people behind SOC diverted to encouraging an end to this futile and tragic war. I was stationed at Ft. Campbell during my hitch in the army and I don't know a soldier in the 101st Airborne who wouldn't prefer Christmas at home to one of SOC's toothbrushes.

Greatest Welfare Program of All Aids Unloved Populace-Sexicare!

By Arthur Hoppe (San Francisco Chronicle)

Herewith is another unpublished chapter from that invaluable reference work, "A History of the World—1950 to 1999." This chapter is entitled, "Meeting the Unmet Needs."

In the United States, the presidential election of 1976 shaped up as another traditional battle between the Democrats and Republicans.

The Democrats as usual pointed with pride to such programs as Medicare, Denticare, Judicare, Menticare, Pedicare and Opti-Auri-Nasicare and said they had "met the needs of the people."

The Republicans as usual retorted angrily that they, too, were for these programs, were for meeting the needs of the people and were also for economy in government.

Many voters saw little to choose and pollsters, with a yawn, rated the election a tossup.

It was at this point that Rock Hunter, a middle-aged motion picture star, announced his candidacy and unveiled a new program that was to arouse America as nothing ever had before.

"It is true," said Hunter at a dramatic press conference, "that the welfare state assures that each of us gets enough medicine, enough dentistry, enough legal aid, enough mental health and enough arch support. But what of those of us who, through no fault of our own, haven't been getting enough lately?"

"Enough what?" asked a puzzled reporter.

Hunter smiled his famous warm and friendly smile. "Love," he said, simply. And with that was launched the greatest welfare program of all—Sexicare!

"Do you realize," thundered Hunter in speeches from coast to coast, "that two-thirds of our nation goes to bed each night ill content, unloved and alone? Surely, a government as prosperous as ours can take care of those who are romantically disadvantaged, emotionally deprived and sexually underprivileged."

Sexicare immediately struck a chord in America's heart. With every citizen inculcated from infancy by sexy movies, sexy books and sexy commercials, it fulfilled the greatest unmet need of all.

True, there was scattered opposition. The concept of more sex was opposed by a coalition of Southern Baptists and Playgirl Bunnies, though perhaps for different reasons. And the anarchist-oriented Sexual Freedom League split down the middle, some being for sex and some for freedom.

But Hunter was elected in a landslide. At his inauguration he swore to "set a glorious example for every American." Unfortunately, he died three weeks after taking office—his last words being "enough is enough."

He was replaced by the Vice President, a dour New England parson of 83 who had been selected to balance the ticket. He promptly abolished Sexicare, along with mini-skirts, mascara and drive-in movies. Sex once again became illicit.

Oddly enough there was little protest. As a Young Socialist League recruiter confessed after being caught chasing three Vassar girls through Central Park: "The welfare state may fill man's needs, but individual initiative is sure lots more fun."

Election Is Tuesday

Campus Senate Candidates Speak Out

Twenty seats of 31 in the Campus Senate will be decided in the campus election Tuesday.

To acquaint the student body with the candidates and their platforms, the Daily Egyptian is printing brief statements by candidates of the Action Party, the Dynamic Party and unaffiliated candidates.

The statements are of and by the candidates and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the Editorial Conference of the Egyptian.

Action Party

Al (Tweets) Blumenthal, west side dorm, Action Party: I am a sophomore who is majoring in government, with a 3.9 overall. Besides continuing my work for students' rights, as a senator I would attempt to stimulate students' interest in their government by being a true representative, stressing direct two-way communication between myself and my constituents.

Larry Busch, east side dorm, Action: As students, each of us are seeking new and vital experiences. These experiences result from the exercising of our rights and obligations not only as students, but also as citizens. Thus, as I view it student government can best serve you by actively representing student interests, and by protecting student rights.

Jim Baker, west side non-dorm, Action: As a house president, a member of the Off-Campus Council and a member of the Action Party, I understand the problems of the off-campus student. With this background I can best work for student rights and the interests of the students living in the small off-campus houses.

Russ Ghilain, commuter, Action: As a student, I am very concerned about a student's rights and will back up what the commuter believes will help him. I will do everything in my power to clear up our problems on the housing and vehicles regulations which are shared by many commuters.

Len Hathaway, commuter, Action Party: Being a student senator is an honor, a privilege and a great responsibility. As your commuter senator, I will earnestly seek to revise present rules concerning housing and motor vehicles. I will fight long and hard for the rights of the individual student in his quest for the freedom he deserves.

Karl Maple, commuter, Action Party: Recently, increasing and sometimes arbitrary restrictions of motor vehicle privileges have been revealed. Many of the decisions have resulted from a lack of effective channels of communications. A senator in government who has served on local and county committees and student organizations, I feel I can effectively represent commuter interests.

Johanne Verkamman, east side non-dorm, Action: As Action Party secretary and member of several ad hoc committees, I have become aware of the workings of student government and the communications difficulties between students and administration. I will do my best to represent my constituents and to give them a voice in their environment.

Lynne Atkinson, west side dorm, Action: Are you satisfied with SIU? Neither am I, but I believe something can be done about it. Student government is your voice; it would be stronger if you would show your support. I am deeply concerned with what happens to us. I want to increase our status as students. I would support you; please support me.

Paul Wheeler, commuter, Action: As commuter senator, I will work to solve commuters' basic problems—lack of centrally located parking lots and tightening of motor vehicle regulations. I will work with my colleagues on the Action team to better conditions for the commuter.

John Nystedt, east side dorm, Action Party: The Campus Senate can have the power to do many things for students, or it can be weak and only give prestige to its members. If elected, I promise to do everything I can to insure that it will be a strong Senate, where the main consideration is the student.

Bill Perardi, Thompson Point, Action Party: As a candidate for Thompson Point senator, I would like to express a few planks of my platform. (1) Repeal of motorcycle ban, (2) increase in the quality of Thompson Point food, (3) reestablish old activity fee system, (4) teacher evaluation, (5) General Studies reform and (6) give students power to determine their social roles. I urge your support.

Campbell D. McHugh, east side non-dorm, Action: The students of SIU deserve the best representation in their government. I believe that I can give them this responsible representation.

I want to serve, and believe by serving I can help lead Southern to her place next to the major universities in this country.

Chick Svihlik, west dorm, Action: I believe that students are intelligent enough to make their own decisions regarding hours, housing and motor vehicles. I have had experience in student government, contributed to KA, spoken at student rallies and believe that I can help students gain a place of respect in the academic community.

Bob Swanson, commuter, Action: I am running for senator because I think the commuter should know what is happening to him and for what reasons. There are definite reasons that the rights of the students are becoming fewer. We should be fully aware of what is happening and what we can do about it.

Bard Grosse, west side non-dorm, Action: Having lived in trailers and houses for the last two years, I think I have an awareness of the problems that confront students in this area. I would like to continue to represent these students both in the Campus Senate and as cochairman of the University Student Council.

Crystal Wright, University Park, Action: As senator on the Student Senate representing the students of University Park, I will strive to make the problems and opinions of you, my constituents, heard. A senator is not self-appointed, but an instrument of his people. As senator, my prime concern will always be the students of University Park.

Larry Smothers, west side dorm, Action: According to Newton's third law of motion, "to every action there is an equal reaction." If the students of SIU want action, they will vote for the party standing for Action, the Action Party. My reason for running for senator is to get action for the students and reactions from the administration.

Roger Schoob, University Park, Action: I have been involved in student government in the past and I am keenly interested in working to solve the problems facing the students of University Park and SIU. I promise to do all that is possible to represent my constituents as they want to be represented.

Anita Gurley, commuter, Action: Being a commuter, I am concerned about the problems of commuter students on this campus. These problems include inadequate parking facilities that are inconveniently located and serious communication problems between commuters and the campus community. Having worked for the dean of students, I know the people and channels necessary for effective student action.

Pat Nicholson, west side dorm, Action Party: A-is for the aggressive party action; C- is for your complete satisfaction; T-is for the trust you can have in me; I-is for the immediate action you will see; O-is for your opinions I will tell; N-is for Nicholson—does that ring a bell?

Dynamics

Carol Harper, west side non-dorm, Dynamic Party: Until now the Campus Senate has been primarily a one-party body. With no strong challenge, the party has obtained a secure power and with this security it has lost the need to seek and represent student opinion. I am running for senator to put the student back into student government with a strong two-party system.

Jim Proffitt, University Park, Dynamic Party: As vice president of U. Park I have noticed that student government fails only in the area of student support. My election to Senate will bring every student into student government. It is both Dynamic Party's and my belief that the student should control the elected officials—this is our pledge.

Jon Carlson, commuter, Dynamic Party: The ineffectiveness of the present student government has forced me to become an active rather than a passive participant in the functioning of SIU. In my platform, I promise more effective communication from this organization which will generate student interest and hence bring the student back into student government.

Robb Summers, west side dorm, Dynamic Party: I am a sophomore majoring in business with a 3.8 overall. I live at Doyle Dorm. The student government is the only recognized voice for all the students at SIU. Therefore, I am for establishing the strongest student government possible at Southern. Students must have a unified voice to be heard.

Sally Albrecht, commuter, Dynamic Party: For the past five months I have been active in the Dynamic Party. I was chairman of the party's Wheel Night's committee and have also served as Dynamic Party treasurer. Living in DuQuion, I am well aware of commuter problems and if elected will strive conscientiously to alleviate them.

Mike Norton, west side dorm, Dynamic Party: I was elected to the Senate in spring of 1966. I have served on the Senate student rights committee this fall and if elected will continue to work conscientiously to insure student rights and responsibilities. Contrary to popular belief, legal channels are far from exhausted. It is through these channels that I intend to effect legislation for you.

Michael J. Unruh, east side dorm, Dynamic Party: Student government's biggest job is making resolutions to the administration on the running of the school. However, one must remember that these resolutions have no effect unless they are workable. Thus, my byword to effective student government is feasibility. Resolutions must be feasible to both the students and the administration.

Bob Aikman, commuter, Dynamic Party: With the increase in commuter Senate seats, it's apparent that the Senate recognizes the importance of this vital and dynamic segment of the student body. The special interests, needs and problems of commuters deserve the attention of this University. As your candidate for commuter senator, I pledge my sincerest efforts in your behalf.

Carry Stein, at large dormitory, Dynamic Party: My main concern, as a hopeful member of Campus Senate, is to pursue the prospect of reducing the arbitrary powers maintained by the SIU Board of Trustees through a better informed Student Senate and to voice the views of the aggregate student body.

Dave Anderson, east side non-dorm, Dynamic Party: Man has always lived in groups because he is a social animal. These groups never would have endured without a dynamic system of government. Our University is no exception. We students need a adequate voice in student government. I feel it is my duty to help obtain this responsible representation.

Jonathan Siedlecki, University Park, Dynamic Party: I was a president of Boomer III last year, and this year. I am a representative from Boomer I to the area executive council. I have experienced the problems of University Park. I want to do something about these problems and I sincerely feel that I will be able to do the job if elected senator.

Robert Wilson, commuter, Dynamic Party: I am a third quarter sophomore majoring in advertising with a 3.7 overall, and I have long been active in student government. However, recent events on campus have left me very unhappy with the student voice in matters that vitally concern them. I'm sure I have something I can contribute.

James Plante, west side dorm, Dynamic Party: I am running for the position of west side dorm senator and I intend to represent those who reside in my district as well as I can. I will not represent any special interest groups. My constituents will be my greatest concern. I have gained experience from serving in senates of other colleges.

Unaffiliated

Lynnferd Keeran, east side dorm, unaffiliated: "Be heard and not seen." I will serve my constituents by bringing all necessary issues of student welfare and comfort to the attention of the Senate. I am determined to make the Senate more effective and efficient to perform the requests of the students. Decide now.

Doyle Vines, Thompson Point, unaffiliated: I believe in student rights in the University which can be accomplished best through a strong, responsible and unified Senate. Despite the question that has been raised about my unaffiliated status, I am independent of any party control. I work diligently for you if I am elected.

Editor's note: Photographs of the candidates of the two political parties in Tuesday's election appear on Page 1 in today's Daily Egyptian.

Arrangements are being made for a group photograph of unaffiliated candidates and it is scheduled for publication in Saturday's paper.

Each candidate was invited to submit a 50-word statement of his views; space limitations, and the closeness of the petition-filing deadline and the election, require this limitation.

Expanded SIU Program in Viet Nam?

Discussions on possible expansion of SIU's teacher education program in South Viet Nam have been held this month in Saigon.

Dean Oliver Caldwell of the Division of International Services said the U.S. Agency for International Development of Saigon had made requests to Washington for a fuller program in South Viet Nam and that talks were held with AID officials in Saigon by two members of the International Services Division, Wilbur Moulton, associate dean, and Alfred Junz, assistant dean for administration.

Caldwell said the two SIU representatives also were scheduled to appraise the present contract SIU has with AID.

The University has had a team of educators in Saigon since 1961, currently headed by Harold DeWeese, Dean Elmer J. Clark of the College of Education, who last summer inspected the project in Saigon, said expansion discussed included a gradual increase in the elementary teacher education project staff, and establishment of a specialized course to prepare normal school professors.

This latter work would be carried out by the faculty of pedagogy of the University of Saigon, with support from the College of Education faculty, Clark said.

Moulton and Junz left Saigon for India where, Caldwell said, they discussed points of interest to the University. They also are scheduled to visit SIU educational projects in Afghanistan and Nepal headed by SIU faculty members.

Bicycle Sales Not Effected By Rules

Four out of five Carbondale stores report that SIU's motorcycle restrictions have not increased bicycle sales.

Two of the stores reported that bicycle sales were less than usual.

Bradley's Ace Hardware said, "We haven't sold one bicycle since the motorcycle restrictions."

And Montgomery Ward reported, "We haven't sold as many as we usually do."

"Our sales are running just about as they did last year," Western Auto reported. "We expected an increase in bicycle sales but there hasn't been one."

"We haven't noticed an increase," a spokesman for Sears Roebuck said.

Gebhart's was the only store to report an increase.

"Since the new motorcycle regulations there has been a noticeable increase in the sale of bicycles to college students," Gebhart's reported.

Teachers Report On Ag Instruction

Teachers from seven Illinois high schools who supervise SIU student teachers in vocational agriculture, will be at SIU Monday to submit progress reports on the student teachers assigned to them.

Walter J. Willis, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Industries, and Eugene S. Wood and Ralph A. Benton, associate professors of agricultural industries, will examine the reports and discuss with the teachers possible improvements in the program.

Wood makes monthly visits with the cooperating teachers who are John Baker, Flora, G.S. Zimmerman, Flora, Milton Renard, Metropolis, Clarence Cox, Joppa, Ardell Kimmel, Trico, Louis Templeton, Pinckneyville, and Leavell Swink, Christopher.

Carl C. Lindegren to Deliver Kaplan Memorial Science Talk

Carl C. Lindegren, professor emeritus of microbiology, will give the Kaplan Memorial Lecture here Tuesday under auspices of the SIU chapter of Sigma Xi, national scientific research society.

The lecture, a public one, will be given in Morris Library Auditorium at 8 p.m., according to Walter E. Schmid, secretary of the society. Lindegren's subject will be "The Game of Science."

The memorial lectureship is named in honor of Leo Kaplan, who served as associate professor of botany at SIU from 1950 until his death in 1960.

Lindegren, internationally known as the "father of yeast genetics," was chairman of the Department of Microbiology and director of the Biological Research Institute until his retirement to half-time in 1964.

Schmid said the University chapter, installed last spring, is now accepting recommendations from its 126 members of other faculty persons engaged in scientific research who may be eligible for membership.

Inter-Varsity Meets

William McCollen, who is on the regional staff of the Inter - Varsity Christian Fellowship, will speak to the SIU group at 7 p.m. today in Room C of the University Center.

what is good?

We search constantly for something good... good things, good ideas, good people, and good times. But we're seldom satisfied until we begin to understand the only real basis for man's fulfillment. Jesus described it when he said, "There is none good but one, that is, God" (Matt. 19:17). Hear a one-hour public lecture called "What Is the Good that Satisfies?" by EDWARD C. Eisenhower Visits LBJ; Talks of Asian Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson discussed with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Thursday the possibility of an Eisenhower goodwill trip to Asia and other parts of the world, possibly next spring.

Presidential press secretary Bill D. Moyers, reporting on the discussion, told reporters there was nothing definite about the projected visit.

Both Johnson and Eisenhower "talked about it with interest," Moyers said, adding that Johnson considered it would be a good idea in view of Eisenhower's "considerable esteem throughout the world" and Johnson's reliance on his advice and judgment.

But Moyers emphasized the lack of any firm plans, saying "they discussed the possibility of taking a trip." The possible date, itinerary, and just what the trip would entail all are only in the discussion stage.

When the session was over, Johnson walked Eisenhower down the third-floor corridor to the elevator, shook his hand and remarked: "I sure enjoyed it. Thank you for coming."

He turned to reporters and commented that: "This is the only fellow we have around who really knows what this job is."

The President didn't mention the new incision in his side, to repair a hernia from an old operation. But he said his throat is painful and it helps to swallow ice and hot drinks.

And, he said, it hurts no more when he is speaking than when he isn't.

After all the oral activity with the general and newsmen, Johnson went back to using a pad to write out his ideas. Wednesday, the President's personal physician, Dr. James C. Cain, told reporters he was perturbed about Johnson's activity, hoped he would slow down, and would save his voice.

He, too, described Johnson as looking well and in fine spirits and said that the President "had three televisions and two radios busy"

New China Policy Considered

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A formula for dealing with the U.N. China question on the basis of "political realities" was reported gaining ground Thursday on the eve of the General Assembly's annual debate on the question.

It was regarded as a step toward the eventual seating of Communist China and keeping Nationalist China in the United Nations. But for this year at least, the Peking government was expected to be kept out.

Diplomatic sources said the formula, promoted by Italy, would have the assembly set up a special committee to make a year's study of the question of China's U.N. representation and recommend "an appropriate solution, taking into account the political realities in the area."

They said Canada had been pushing for stronger wording by which the committee would aim at a solution "recognizing that sovereignty over the Chinese mainland is vested in the Communist People's Republic of China and recognizing that sovereignty over Taiwan Formosa is vested in the Nationalist Republic of China."

The informants said Italy would submit a resolution based on its idea, with or

Phone Company Strike Continues at Mattoon

MATTOON (AP)—No negotiations have been scheduled between about 300 striking employes and the Illinois Consolidated Telephone Co., a union official said Thursday. Don Mahoney of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers union, said the union was willing to meet anytime with the company in an effort to settle the two-day dispute, but that no sessions had been arranged.

The employes, members of Local 399 of the IBEW, walked out Wednesday after working and negotiating with management since their contract expired at midnight Monday.

The workers are seeking higher wages, improved hospital and vacation programs and several other benefits.

The company's only official statement regarding the strike was a "no comment." The firm had announced it was preparing a statement concerning the dispute but said later the no comment remark would stand for now.

Three Fires Started In Mount Vernon

MOUNT VERNON (AP)—Three fires in Mount Vernon caused an estimated $12,500 in damages early Thursday, fire officials said.

Fire Chief Sydney Burnette said the fires, all within three or four blocks of each other, occurred in two vacant houses and in an unused plant building.

The plant, formerly owned by the Creosote Forest Products Co., was sold recently to the D.H. Dyer Co., of St. Louis.

Burnette said one of the house fires was definitely set and arson is suspected in the other two. An investigation will be held, he said.

About $2,000 in damage was caused to one empty house. The remaining loss occurred at the plant building when equipment was destroyed.

There were no injuries.

The company, based in Mattoon, serves some 100 communities from Litchfield on the west to Charleston on the east.

Of the 300 employes striking, 185 are telephone operators. Supervisory personnel are manning switchboards and direct dialing service is available. Long distance and operator information is curtailed somewhat.

After a union meeting Wednesday night, about 200 members, marching four abreast, paraded through downtown Mattoon to the company's office where they set up picket lines. Mahoney said the lines would be manned 24 hours a day.

THOMPSON POINT—HOTTEST CAMPAIGN

The Dynamic Party, two weeks ago, endorsed an independent candidate for student body Senator in what is proving to be the most enthusiastic race on campus. Bob Leonard, potential TP Senator, began his campaign three weeks ago with a force and show of interest unequalled at the Point. Within a week he jumped from an unknown to the most likely winner. The vigorous step, quick smile, and firm handshake accompanies an open honest answer style that could well open a new era in student politics. The Dynamic party quickly realized their chance and tied their fate to the Leonard bandwagon. At their Nov. 8 convention, by vote of acclamation, the party members put on their slate Bob Leonard an independent and not a member of any party.

Treasury Ups Production on Half Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department is minting half dollars at a record pace and officials now feel certain the shortage of 50-cent pieces which has plagued the nation for several years will end early in 1967.

A spokesman challenged Thursday the opinion expressed by Gordon Watts, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, who said he wouldn't be surprised if the Treasury Department decided to discontinue making halves.

"The public apparently has accepted a half-dollar-less economy," Watts said Wednesday.

Treasury officials said there definitely are no plans to stop making the coins which bear the likeness of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury whose jurisdiction includes the Mint, said half dollars are now being made at the record rate of 24 million a month and more of them are showing up in circulation.

Wallace called this encouraging, especially when the Christmas shopping season is under way.

Wallace has said that once people realize the Kennedy halves will be the coin of the realm for 25 years the hoarded coins will come out of hiding. It will take an act of Congress to change the likeness of the coin face.

Marshall Sets Russian Poet Talk

Herbert Marshall, artist in residence, will give a lecture recital at 8 p.m. Monday in the theater of the Communications Building. He will speak on the young Russian poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko.

Paul Mann, actor with the Lincoln Center Repertory Company, will assist Marshall in the presentation which will include works from other young Russian poets.

Marshall is Yevtushenko's authorized translator. Last Month Marshall published an authorized translation of the poet's work, "Yevtushenko Poems."

Marshall said he is a personal friend of the poet. Other translations by Marshall include "Voznesensky" and "Mayakovsky."

Marshall, a research professor in theater at SIU, is a producer, director, scriptwriter, author and translator.

The program will include a background of Russian poetry as to how and why poetry has increased so much since de-Stalinization. Marshall and Mann will tell of the rising of these youthful poets plus the new entry of women in Russian poetry.

"Yevtushenko Poems" expresses the author's viewpoint on Russian and American difficulties and their solutions. Through his poetry, he tries to find a common bound for humanity.

According to Marshall, Yevtushenko, at 33, is "the most talked about and admired writer in Russia today." Marshall says that Yevtushenko's subject matter includes history, satire, allegory, love, loneliness, Stalinism, anti-semitism, and Russia.

Some Famous Men Wore Tresses

SIU Students Disagree on Hair Length; Convenience vs. Beauty, Girl Appeal

Editor's note: This is the first of a series on men's hair styles, at SIU and in general.

By Leonard Boscarine

Ronald Hall and Brett Champlin differ in many ways. Hall is short and heavy set. Champlin is slender and tall. Hall is from a small town in southern Illinois. Champlin is from Chicago.

But one of the more apparent differences is their choice of hair styles.

Hall wears his hair clipped short. Champlin wears his hair long, although orderly.

Hall likes his hair short for practical reasons.

"The main reason I wear my hair short is dandruff control. I can take a wash cloth and soap and wash my hair at the same time I'm washing my face," Hall said.

"Actually if it weren't for the nagging of my wife I would shave completely from the neck up once a week," Hall said.

"Another reason that I wear my hair short is that long hair is so 'in' right now. I used to wear my hair long back when crew cuts were 'in,'" he added.

Champlin prefers long hair even though he admits that he receives quite a few comments concerning his locks.

"No one seemed to mind long hair until we started taking the grease out of it and letting it fall straight," Champlin said. "It seems that the people who make the most comments about my hair are athletes, ROTC members, or members of other groups who have restrictions against the wearing of long hair," he continued.

"I really get ticked off at people making degrading comments about long hair when all our lives they have been telling us to admire men like Jesus Christ, Charlemagne, Sir Walter Raleigh, Ben Franklin (he had groovy hair), etc.," Champlin declared.

Barber trouble rather than rebellion participation was also cited by Champlin as a reason for his hair style.

"I like my hair long so I keep it this way. As far as a reason, I have yet to get a good haircut from a barber and I despise crewcuts. To me they look horrible," Champlin said.

Champlin believes that long hair does impress members of the opposite sex.

"I can't really say that my flowing locks have improved my love life but it certainly hasn't hurt it. Long hair does seem to attract girls."

Harmon highlights

This is the week that is! Number one meets number two in what cannot be billed as just the college game of the year . . . it could rank with one of the greatest of all time. Our forecast for the Notre Dame-Michigan State headliner is based on the following: The Irish have a past performance power quotient of 123.9; The Spartans' power quotient is 112.5. Since our paper statistics have proven to be correct in about 75% of the college games again this year, we'll crawl slowly out on that creaking old limb of ours and pick Notre Dame to win the big one by eleven points.

Some of the glitter has been taken away from the struggle between 7th-ranked Southern Cal and 10th-ranked U.C.L.A. as a result of their respective losses to Miami and Washington. However, with both the conference title and the Rose Bowl at stake, it's pretty sure to be another tough one for coronary sufferers. The Trojans will nip the Uclans by three, and take the West Coast title into the Rose Bowl come January 1st.

Southwest Conference leaders Arkansas and S.M.U., ranked 4th and 16th respectively, are favored to remain deadlocked for the title. The Razorbacks will trim Texas Tech by 27 points, and the Mustangs will barely buzz by Baylor by four points.

And the rise of the Rebel continues! Mississippi ranked ninth this week among the nation's elite, will whip the Commodores of Vanderbilt by 26. Purdue, number 11, assured of being the Big Ten's representative in the Rose Bowl, will close out one of its finest seasons with a three-touchdown win over Indiana.

Wyoming, number 17, will blitz Brigham Young by nine points, and Colorado, in 19th, will chop up the Air Force by thirteen.

The remaining three members of the top 20 should win without too much difficulty. 14th-ranked Tennessee is 22 points stronger than Kentucky . . . Syracuse, rated 15th, will whip West Virginia by 21 . . . and 18th-ranked Miami is favored to cut down the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Punter Has Chance

At Saluki Record

Barley Allen, freshmen punting star from Montreal, Canada, is one game away from etching his name into the SIU record books.

Allen has averaged 38.8 yards per punt this season which is just one-tenth ahead of Wayne William's record of 38.7 yards per punt. Williams set his record in 1951 so if Allen can maintain his punting average Saturday he will break a record that has stood for 15 years.

Notre Dame Defense Respects Spartans

By Will Grimsley

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's beef trust, the No. 1 defensive unit which has grudgingly yielded only one touchdown this year, agrees unanimously that Michigan State hits quicker and harder than a year ago and will be tough to keep away from the goal line Saturday.

"Jimmy Raye is a quicker quarterback than Steve Juday was in 1965," said linebacker Jim Lynch, the team's 225-pound captain and defensive signal caller. "He's mean on roll-outs. He can kill you."

Tackle Pete Duranko added his 235 pounds to the same opinion, and echoes came Wednesday from other members of the rugged Irish forward wall, including 270-pound Kevin Hardy, 230-pound Alan Page and 220-pound Tom Rhoads.

"We have to do more than stop their great running game — they have three of the best backs in the country in Clint Jones, Dwight Lee and Bob Apisa," said Duranko. "Look the other way a minute and Raye will be hitting Gene Washington or Al Brenner with a pass that will hurt you."

The top-ranked Fighting Irish, from the lowliest second-stringer to Head Coach Ara Parseghian, are refusing to be blase about the No. 2 Spartans, whom they play in the college football game of the year at East Lansing, Mich.

"These are two well-balanced teams, alike in many ways," Parseghian, sitting underneath a picture of the late Knute Rockne, told a press conference.

"Both have good running games, unusually strong defenses and excellent passing. It will be a real head-knocker, decided on breaks."

Meet Set in Arena

SIU Women Gymnasts To Perform Tonight

By Tom Wood

Tonight's women's gymnastics meet, according to Coach Herb Vogel, should provide something for everyone—even the guys who come just to watch the pretty girls.

Perhaps Vogel's observation would have been more accurate if he had said, "especially the guys who come just to watch the pretty girls."

Vogel said, "Even these people leave with the knowledge that they have seen a rare exhibition of skill in the girls."

Vogel's girls will be competing in the Kennedy Memorial Meet at 8 p.m. in the Arena. It will be the first appearance for the team since capturing the National Collegiate Championships last spring.

Fans will get a chance to watch the defending all-around collegiate champ in Irene Haworth, the college balance beam and horse vaulting champ in Gail Daley, the Canadian champ in Donna Schaezner, the world trampoline team champs in Judy Wills and Nancy Smith and many more individual titlists.

Vogel has planned several features for tonight's meet which will exemplify some of his promised new approaches to the sport.

All 20 members of the squad will be performing in the program and there will be a few unexpected attractions.

Six of these girls will be performing in the competition phase of the meet. These are: Miss Haworth, Mary Ellen Toth and Janis Dunham on the junior-senior team and Linda Scott, Joanne Hoshimoto and Judy Dunham on the freshman team.

In addition to the competition, the girls will present a synchronized team event, the most popular feature of gymnastics in Europe.

The synchronized event will include trampoline, with the world champion team of Miss Wills and Miss Smith featured, and the uneven bar event.

The entire program should last about an hour and a half and is free to students.

SIU Ends Season Saturday Against Southwest Missouri

Saturday's football game will be the final regular season for both Southern and Southwest Missouri, but while the Salukis are hanging up their pads for the last time this weekend, the Bears will focus their attention on Nov. 26, the date of their appointment with Adams State in the Mineral Water Bowl.

The Bears' appearance in the bowl will be their second. They were defeated in 1963 by Northern Illinois.

The Salukis will be seeking a final record of 4-5-1 and the Bears are after a closing 8-2 log. Southwest Missouri fell to the Salukis in last season's finale 19-6.

Bear Coach Jim Mentis is in his second season as head of the SMS staff. Last year he compiled a 7-3 season. The Bears rely heavily on a strong defense and a powerful ground game.

SMS has a pair of big, strong lines, according to Rainsberger. The defense also boasts a strong secondary.
