Financial Aid Being Offered
Applications for some $575 SIU scholarship and activity awards, covering tuition for a full year beginning this fall, are now being taken.

The scholarships have a value of $42 per term to instate students and $92 per term to out-of-state and foreign students. Residents of Illinois receive $57 of these scholarships.

Council Rejects Enforcement Or Revision of Dress Policy
If any changes are going to be made concerning student dress at SIU, they will be made by the administration and not the Student Council.

At Thursday's brief meeting, the Student Council turned down a recommendation that enforcement and/or revisions be made concerning existing student dress policies.

Also at the Council meeting, a bill was presented to the 12 Council members to a nationwide Student Organization meeting to be held in Nashville, Tenn., on Feb. 28 and 29.

The Council appropriated $190 to cover transportation, food and lodging for the members.

The meeting was brief because the Council was preparing for its annual retreat at Little Grassy Lake with President Morris.

The retreat opened Friday night and will continue through today.

The agenda for the meeting includes discussions with the University, Center, Rehabilitation studies, the General Studies Program, voluntary ROTC, library hours, hospital facilities, and athletics in Carbondale and other matters.

'Ernest in Love' Will Open Sunday

As the audience watches from vantage points around a raised three-quarter round stage, actors will present "Ernest in Love" Sunday in the University Center Ballroom.

This musical comedy will be the first production of its kind presented at Southern Acres and has staged, directed and produced the entire show.

The play is a regular size auditorium.

The longest necessity of scenery will be set up on the fourth side of the stage in the 16-foot horseshoe, or Elizabethan, stage changed or moved about by stagehands in full view of the audience. There are no curtains.

The play is based on "The Importance of Being Earnest," which was described by writer Oscar Wilde as "a trivial play for serious people."

Dennisimm, who is directing the production, says the lines are still clever and good today. Theme of the play is three interwoven and complicated love affairs.

Students tried out and began working on the presentation last month on a $1,000 budget furnished by the Office of Student Activities. The production will be in the night of the performance, and no student involved in the play will be paid.

Tickets for the show are $1.25 and may be purchased at the University Center Information Desk. One ticket, which will include both the play and a smorgasbord in the cafeteria, will be $2.50.

"Ernest in Love" will be presented at both 6:30 and 9:30 p.m. Sunday and next Sunday.

Record 14th Victory; Play Central Missouri Tonight

Southern's basketball team won its 14th victory of the season and third in a row last night against Southwest Missouri.

In posting their third victory of the season against the outclassed Bears, the Salukis have exactly half of their wins against conference opponents this year. They have dropped eight games this year.

In an otherwise dull game, in which the Salukis proved that they own the state of Missouri, co-captain Jerry Ramsey led SIU with 18 points. Four other Salukis scored in double figures with Duane Warning, Lloyd Sto­val and Eldon Bigham hitting for 12 each. Dave Lee added 11 more to Southern's winning cause.

It was almost a repeat performance of the second meet­ting between the two teams.

Finding Unique Vacation Jobs
Is Specialty of Work Office

President Johnson’s moves to reduce government spending may cut down on the num­ber of federal jobs open to students this summer, but there should still be a wealth of jobs available to students wanting to work during their vacations.

In the summer, the largest employers of students are the camps, resorts, and concen­trationaires at parks, theaters and hotels.

This summer should see a bumper crop of such jobs open to students because of the New York World’s Fair. Hundreds of exhibitors, ser­vices, embassies and trade missions will be seeking people to fill vacancies at the fair.

Many students come to the Student Work Office seeking "unusual" employment. Much of the success in finding such jobs has come about through the work of Harold Reents and Bruce Bierman, super­visors of summer employ­ment.

According to Reents, the office will inquire among em­ployers in the student’s line of interest, and often the em­ployer has an opening, but no one has thought to ask about it before. "We were able to place a student at an Alaskan hotel in this manner," he added.

This year a student has in­dicated that he would like to work on a Mississippi Riv­er barge this summer, and another has said he would like to be a lumberjack.

How about it? Anyone for a job on a trawler in the South China Sea?

Loyal Pledges Follow Pal—Even to Jail

A 22-year-old junior from Chicago, who pleaded guilty to stealing one dozen doughnuts, was sentenced last week to four weeks in the Sangamon County Jail. Joseph Zaleski, assistant director of the Office of Student Affairs, said that Campus Phili­ples admitted stealing the doughnuts after Anderson Springfield and Fred Ellis, both of Chicago, had bought some.

"Phillips believed that since they were grading the same fraternity they were equally involved when one was involved," Zaleski said.

He recognized this false sense of loyalty in which two innocent members would police rec­ords in an incident for which he alone was responsible. Phillips will pay the fines for the others.

The program has been put on disciplinary pro­bation through spring quar­ter, and all fines and dis­turbances or incidents in­volving liquor could lead to expulsion.

One Motor, Two Wheels

By Ken Fahnestock

An Egyptian Photostory

When four wheels are forbidden, will two suffice?

With use of automobiles banned to most students on the SU campus, many have taken to two-wheeled transportation, motorized variety. Edward F. McDevitt, supervisor of the Parking Section of the Student Affairs Office, estimated that as of fall quarter, approximately 250 vehicles under the taxable five horsepower were being used by students and faculty on campus. Some are homemade jobs, others are imported from foreign lands, and some are well-known domestic models. In fair weather or foul their owners scoot back and forth to classes or other activities in and around the campus.

Easy parking, too.

World Tensions Tug at U.S. Foreign Policy

Compiled From Associated Press

U.S. foreign policy was under tension at many points this week:

At the United Nations, Ambassador Adlai Stevenson sought a solution to the Cyprus crisis in which the United States has never been a principal party—just a powerful bystander with a stake at stake if the Greek-Turkish row spills over to war.

In Cuba, where Premier Fidel Castro seems able to make strategic moves at will, U.S. friends despite our pressure for a boycotting.

In the French-Roehm China orbit, where President Charles de Gaulle gives the impression of his western allies, and Peking reportedly rebuffs U.S. feelers for a decision really bad. But you chaps are older, wiser and should set a good example."

They talk some more: and the official voice is to return to the other side.

"All right, boys, it's really up to you. You see, the other side is going to war for the first time."

So the shooting stops—at least for the day.

Greeks Have Word For Cyprus Crisis

A tenuous balance of powers and rights has existed between Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus under the U.S. favors no particular solution to the present volatile atmosphere on Cyprus, but definitely wants to see the problem solved before the situation worsens.

Of the 580,000 residents of Cyprus, only about one-fifth are Turks.

Since the fighting started, Turkey has been indicating that she might land troops on Cyprus to protect the Turkish minority, Greece has kept troops ready to attack Turkey if she starts anything.

Thus the bloody situation has spread to and the U.N. has been forced to seek an immediate solution to the problem.

Voting Shuffle May Follow Court Ruling

A decision by the U.S. Supreme Court concerning congressional reapportionment brought public approval from Republican national leaders this week, as the GOP predicted that redistricting of the country would put more members of that party into the House of Representatives.

The judgment came in a precedents-shattering General "gerrymandering" case, ruling that congressional districts within the same state should represent equal numbers of people.

Republicans quickly revealed reapportionment studies that indicated the possibility that they might have had 31 more House members in 1960, had strict districting figures been in effect. In large districts of more than 500,000 population, which would be split in redistricting, Republican candidates would have received 5 per cent of the vote and would presumably profit from more seats in such areas.

In the smallest districts of less than 100,000, which would be dismissed and lose representation, there would be only 27 per cent Republican House members and 73 per cent Democrats.

Democrats insisted that their party, being the majority party, could not win elections. Illinois politicians were focusing attention on the judgment at week's end, recalling that three years ago a special session of the Illinois legislature was needed to remap the congressional seats in the state. When the dispute was finally settled, the 24 House seats were divided 12-12 between Chicago-Cook County and downstate counties.

"HOLDT, HILL"
A Frightening Assignment

Unbeaten Swim Team Faces Formidable Hoosiers Today

Southern's undefeated and highly-touted swimming team will face its stiffest test of the season this afternoon when it meets Indiana's powerful Big Ten squad at 4 o'clock in the University School pool. Coach Ralph Casey's SIU crew triumphed in three of six straight dual meets and 48 of 56 events this season, will be out to halt Indiana's phenomenal five-year, 37-meet winning streak. And one of the longest in national collegiate swimming history. The Hoosiers are 5-0 in dual meet competition this season.

Casey, who considers the Indiana squad to be "the best in the Big Ten," feels that the meet should be the best ever seen in Carbondale. But because of Indiana's superlative talent and strength in depth, the SIU men's team holds little hope for a Hoosier victory.

Coach James "Doc" Counsilman's Hoosiers, recognized as the New York Yankees of collegiate swimming, are a talented-packed outfit that includes senior medi­cal student Darrell Green; breaststroke ace Tod Perras and backstroke artist Andy Stocky, as well as outstanding swimmers Thom McAneney and Dave Wirefield. Counsilman holds the SIU record in the 200-yard freestyle, the 200-yard medley and the 200-yard butterfly.

Indiana State Grapplers Pin 2nd Loss on Crippled Salukis

Indiana State's spirited wrestlers proved to be too much for Southern's crippled wrestling team Thursday night as the Cardinals upset the Salukis 22-16 at Terre Haute, Ind.

Coach Jim Wilkinson's Salukis, hampered by the losses of injured starters Don Miller, Bill Hartrell, Dan DiVito and Tony Pierpani, managed only four individual victories and two draws while absorbing their second defeat in five dual meets this season.

The only bright spot in Southern's effort were victories by dependable veteran John Millard, stellar heavyweight Larry Kristoff, outstanding sophomores Don Schmeiser and junior Don Goosby.

Millard boosted his season's record to 13-1 by blanking 167-pound Terry Hatsch 5-0 and Kristoff, defending national AAU heavyweight champion, gained his 10th triumph of the season by besting Al King 8-3, Schmeiser defeated Ron Hill 13-5 at 130, while Goosby (2-1) outpointed Mike Freeze 3-1 in the 191-pound class.

Junior Terri Appleton and senior Terry Ebbert added to the Saluki effort with draws (7-0-1) and draws 4-4 with Tom Bernat at 157 while Ebbert and Bill Emsdell fought to a 1-1 draw in the 147-pound division.

Soccer Club to Meet

Some 15 athletes interested in joining a proposed soccer club are expected to meet at 3:00 today in the gymnasium field, east of McAndrew Stadium.

INDIANA'S TOM STOCK IS WORLD CHAMPION BACKSTROKER

Joe Ramsey, the tall, lanky co-captain of the Saluki basketball team, is the smallest basketball player in the country, but he could be quite successful.

In fact, the 6-5 forward from Sandoval almost didn't make the first team he tried out.

"I wasn't going to play basketball when I was nine years old," Ramsey recalls, "I went out for a combination of the 'Pee Wees' and I just about didn't make it."

Ramsey went on to win a total of 12 varsity letters at Sandoval High School; four in basketball, four in football, and track, Ramsey said be feels that because of the recruiting of Harry Gatti that "I could have gone somewhere else, but I liked the atmosphere at Southern," he adds.

The soft-spoken Ramsey is a junior majoring in physical education and Minor in business. "I want to coach," he says, "and I think I'll go to graduate school." Joe, who says he is in fair condition this year round, is also a pitcher on the Saluki basketball team. "I don't have a weight problem," he said, "If anything I have a problem now. I'm a bit of a scrawny."

The SIU 6' 4" athlete went on to say, "It's just a matter of driving yourself to keep in shape."

Joe said the team has no schedule. "We haven't allowed players to use our own judgment. "I think we're a closeknit group than last year's team," Ramsey said.

Currently leading scorer with 25 rpg average, Ramsey thinks the balance of the team and bench strength has made a tougher ball club. "We're coming around," he said, "and we're improving the rest of the season," and he feels that his team will be a "tougher team going down to the wire."

"We're a young team too; we only lose three seniors," he added. "Next year we should have a team to watch," he concluded.

JOE RAMSEY

As I started to go my eyes caught a sign tacked to Joe's bulletin board: "The will to win is not worth a nickel if you have no idea how to prepare." An appropriate sign for a problem, thought he. Then my eyes spotted something else which may or may not be true: "I feel that the butterfly," but was hanging there none-theless -- a 1964 Playboy Calendar. Joe Ramsey, in spite of all his honors, in a typical student.

J ohnson Says China Plays Perilous Game

LOS ANGELES -- President Johnson, stating a multi-platform with visiting Mexican President Lopez Mateo, said Friday that Communist China is playing a "deeply dangerous game" in South Viet Nam. Johnson told an open-air party of 34,000 at the University of California at Los Angeles that outsiders supporting Communist guerrillas in Viet Nam are guilty of dangerous aggression. He did not name Communist China but the thrust of his remarks was clear.

The President also took the occasion to reaffirm that the United States will honor its commitments to support the independence of South Viet Nam.

Johnson and Lopez Mateo flew by jet-powered helicopter to the UCLA campus after the American leader welcomed the Mexican vice president at Los Angeles international airport.

Their next stop was the desert resort of Palm Springs and then a fly-through the border goodwill talks.

President Johnson, accompanied by his First Ladies, spoke and received honorary degrees at a Charter Day Convocation at UCLA.

SIU 'Lady Cagers' Travel to U.of I.

The SIU women's basketball teams journey to Champaign today to participate in the sectional sports day at the University of Illinois.

Both of the teams are undefeated in games so far this year. The first team beat Princeton 93-37 in their season opener, and this week they dethroned the girls from Lincoln Christian College 62-54. The second team has a won-one game so far as they nipped Illinois State 45-33.

Omaha Spence and Charlene Summers have been the high scorers for the first team so far. Miss Spence netted 20 points in the opener, and Miss Summers scored 16 in the second game as she also scored 20 points. Beverly Sellers is next in the scoring after putting through 12 points against Nebraska.

The teams will close their season Feb. 29 when they host the girls from Southeast Missouri State.

ONLY FORD-BUILT CARS MEET THE CHALLENGE WITH TOTAL PERFORMANCE!

Something wonderful happened to Ford Motor Company cars! Under the freshest styling seen in years, there's a new kind of durability and vigor that more than meets the demands of today's and tomorrow's small road; that "superbly engineered" performance. Total performance makes a world of difference. Bodies and frames are solid and quiet even on rocks. The ride so smooth, so even-keel, it seems to straighten the curves and shorten the miles. And nothing matches the spirit, sparkle and stamina of advanced Ford-built 1.8's and thirsty Steels. Total performance is yours to enjoy in all our 1961 cars—from the frisky Falcon to the matchless Lincoln Continental.

House Approves $16.9 Billion For Defense

WASHINGTON -- The House unanimously passed its largest authorization bill in history Thursday—$16.9 billion for defense procurement, research and development.

The bill includes a provision of $92 million for research on a manned bomber and a manned interceptor plane. This provision aroused debate in the House because Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara did not ask for it.

An attempt to knock this provision out was defeated handily by forces led by Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Final passage of the bill came on a roll-call vote of 336 to 0.
