Salukis Defeat Southwest Missouri

Voters Need Fee Statement

Fee statements will be required for persons voting in next Wednesday's election of a senator to represent Southern Acres and the General Studies students.

Polls for the General Studies election will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Lentz Hall, Old Main and Room H of the University Center. Only General Studies students will be permitted to vote.

Voting for Southern Acres senator will be from 4 to 6 p.m. in the VTI cafeteria and from 6 to 10 p.m. in the VTI Student Center. Residents of Southern Acres will be the only students permitted to vote.

Financial Aid Being Offered

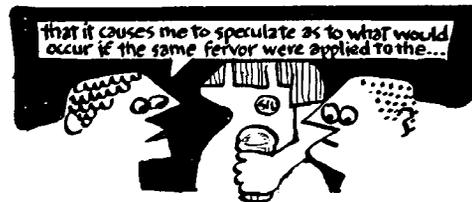

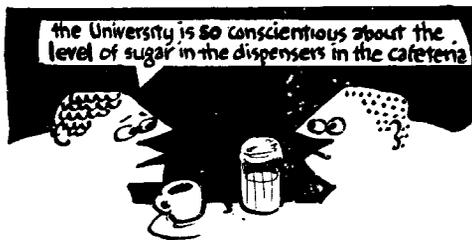

Applications for some 575 SIU scholarship and activity awards, covering tuition for a full school year beginning this fall, are now being taken.

The scholarships have a value of $42 per term to in-state students and $92 per term to out-of-state and foreign students. Residents of Illinois receive 375 of these scholarships.

Samuel J. Taber, coordinator of student financial assistance, said the awards are made upon a joint consideration of scholastic ability and financial need. To assure adequate time for processing, Taber has urged applicants to file papers before May 15.

More than 200 other scholarships are also available to students who can qualify, Taber said. These are offered by private donors and foundations. Although applications must be made to these organizations, Taber said assistance and information is available through his office.

Exclusive of graduates, 40 per cent of the SIU tuition awards are given to incoming freshmen, and twenty per cent each to sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Council Rejects Enforcement Or Revision of Dress Policy

If any changes are going to be made concerning student dress at SIU, they will be made by the administration and not the Student Council.

At Thursday's brief meeting, the Student Council turned down a recommendation that enforcement and/or revisions be made concerning existing student dress policies.

Also at the Council meeting, a bill was passed to send 12 Council members to a nationwide Student Organization meeting to be held in Nashville, Tenn., on Feb. 28 and 29.

The Council appropriated

$190 to cover transportation, food and lodging for the members.

The meeting was brief because the Council was preparing for its annual retreat at Little Grassy Lake with President Morris.

The retreat opened Friday night and will continue through today.

Agenda for the meeting includes discussions on the University Center, rehabilitation students, the General Studies Program, voluntary ROTC, library hours, hospital facilities, annexation to Carbondale and other matters.

Record 14th Victory; Play Central Missouri Tonight

Southern's basketball team won its 14th victory of the season and third in a row last night against Southwest Missouri, 87-64 at Springfield.

In posting their third victory of the season against the outclassed Bears, the Salukis have exactly half of their wins against Missouri schools. SIU has dropped eight games this year.

In an otherwise dull game, in which the Salukis proved that they own the state of Missouri, cocaptain Joe Ramsey led SIU with 14 points. Four other Salukis scored in double figures with Duane Warning, Lloyd Stovall and Eldon Bigham hitting for 12 each. Dave Lee added 11 more to Southern's winning cause.

It was almost a repeat performance of the second meeting between the two teams staged here 11 days ago as the Salukis led 45-31 in an easy first half.

Southern had eight men in the scoring column in that half as the Saluki had a balanced attack. Stovall was the only Saluki, however, in the first stanza to score in double figures with 10 points, as the 6-6 center enjoyed his second consecutive productive night.

Holmes Teegarden, who made a close game of it in the early goings in the last game in the Men's Gym with 15 points, was held scoreless for the night.

Butch Marshall was the Bear pace setter with 16 points and Danny Bolden, who was the only scorer of note for the Bear's here, proved to be the only consistent Bear in both games as he connected for 13 points last night.

Proficiency Exam Registration Set

The Testing Center has announced the winter quarter date for proficiency examinations in selected General Studies courses. The exams will be offered Thursday.

The examinations will be in the following courses:

- GSA 101
- GSA 101, 102, 103, 203
- GSC 103, 201, 202, 209, 210
- GSD 101, 102, 114, 115, 116

Registration is required for all proficiency examinations. Students may be assigned at the Registrar's Office.

All applications must be approved by the department offering the course and then submitted to the testing center, at which time specific instructions will be given.

Students interested in attempting proficiency exams in courses not listed should register at the Registrar's Office and with the department concerned for a suitable test date.

The deadline for submitting applications for the proficiency exams is Tuesday at 5 p.m.

In fact, Southern's entire bench got another good workout, as Hartman lifted his entire starting unit with 10:11 remaining in the game with a comfortable 19 point lead.

The Salukis travel north tonight to Warrensburg where they will take on Central Missouri State for the second time this season.

The Salukis, who are still awaiting a possible bid to the NCAA small college tournament, play their last regular season game Monday night at 8 o'clock against tough Kentucky Wesleyan in Carbondale's Bowen Gym.

The Panthers, who blasted the Salukis earlier in the year, 88-75, are ranked in the number seven spot in this week's Associated Press small college cage poll.

'Ernest in Love' Will Open Sunday

As the audience watches from vantage points around a three-quarter round, actors will present "Ernest in Love" Sunday in the University Center Ballroom.

This musical comedy will be the first production of its kind on the campus. Students have staged, directed and produced the entire show.

Only 250 seats will be available for each of the two performances Sunday, primarily because of the seating arrangement which will be set up on three sides of the stage.

This three-quarter round gives all members in the audience a better view of the stage than is generally available in a regular size auditorium.

Only the barest necessities of scenery will be set up on the fourth side of the stage with scenery on the 16-foot horseshoe, or Elizabethan, stage changed or moved about by stagehands in full view of the audience. There are no curtains.

The play is based on "The Importance of Being Ernest," which was described by writer Oscar Wilde as "a trivial play for serious people."

Dennis Immel, who is directing the production, says the lines are still clever and good today. Theme of the play is three interwoven and complicated love affairs.

Students tried out and began working on the presentation last month on a $1,000 budget furnished by the Office of Student Activities. The comedy will be unique in that these students have managed to set up, rehearse and plan a production such as this.

Tickets for the shows are $1.25 and may be purchased at the University Center Information Desk. One ticket, which will include both the play and a smorgasboard in the cafeteria, will be $2.50.

"Ernest in Love" will be presented at both 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday and next Sunday.

Finding Unique Vacation Jobs Is Specialty of Work Office

President Johnson's moves to reduce government spending may cut down on the number of federal jobs open to students this summer, but there should still be a wealth of jobs available to students wanting to work during their vacations.

In the summer, the largest employers of students are the camps, resorts, and concessionaires at parks, theaters and hotels.

This summer should see a bumper crop of such jobs open to students because of the New York World's Fair. Hundreds of exhibitors, services, embassies and trade missions will be seeking people to fill vacancies at the fair.

Many students come to the Student Work Office seeking "unusual" employment. Much of the success in finding such jobs has come about through the work of Harold Reents and Bruno Bierman, supervisors of summer employment.

According to Reents, the office will inquire among employers in the student's line of interest, and often the employer has an opening, but no one has thought to ask him before. "We were able to place a student at an Alaskan hotel in this manner," he added.

This year a student has indicated that he would like to work on a Mississippi River barge this summer, and another has said he would like to be a lumberjack.

How about it? Anyone for a job on a trawler in the South China Sea?

Student Draws Theft Sentence

Melvin Fisher, 33, Menard Penitentiary parolee attending SIU, was sentenced to nine months in the Vandalia State Penal Farm for theft.

Fisher pleaded guilty to taking $80.50 from the SIU Geology Club, Associate Circuit Judge Everett Prosser sentenced Fisher after he made restitution.

Fisher had been serving a one-to-two-year term at Menard for forgery.

House-Hitting Driver Fined

Clayton Voegtle, 21, senior from Skokie, pleaded guilty Friday to driving while intoxicated and destruction of private property and was fined a total of $160.

Voegtle appeared in Magistrate Court, which ordered him to make restitution for damage done to a house he hit with an automobile Wednesday.

He was fined $100 plus $5 costs for the driving charge and $50 plus $5 costs for the destruction charge. The fines have been paid.

TP Is Host to SIU Officials At First 'Progress Dinner'

Thompson Point served as host to university officials Thursday night at the first Thompson Point Progress Dinner.

Student leaders acted as hosts and hostesses for 63 deans, department heads, directors and housing officials. The purpose of the event, according to Harold L. Hakes, Thompson Point area head, was to acquaint university officials with the purposes of Thompson Point so that through better understanding, they could better assist the area in its educational growth.

Hakes spoke on the progress and future plans of the area, supplementing his talk with a series of slides, showing activities of residents.

"Our purpose is three-fold," he commented, "to aid the students in their academic, social, and personal growth."

J. Albin Yokie, coordinator of housing, spoke of Thompson Point as a "big business" in his opening remarks.

"We serve over three-fourths of a million meals annually, and have an operating budget of $1.5 million. Lantz Hall is under mortgage until the year 2005," he noted.

Special guests included I. Clark Davis, director of student affairs; Bill Hudgens, director of Auxiliary Enterprises; Howard Davis, director of student affairs at Edwardsville; Keith Moyer, director of housing at Edwardsville; and Yokie.

Guests were taken on tours of Lantz Hall, and one of the women's residence halls following the dinner.

Channing Club Meets

Thomas Cassidy, assistant professor of English, will speak at 6:30 p. m. Sunday to the Channing Club at the Unitarian Church.

His subject will be "Passion and Compassion in the Plays of Tennessee Williams." Dinner will be at 5:30 p. m.

Loyal Pledges Follow Pal—Even to Jail

A 22-year-old junior from Chicago, who pleaded guilty to stealing one dozen doughnuts, and two companions, who also pleaded guilty but didn't steal any doughnuts, were each fined $25 and spent 24 hours in the Jackson County jail.

Joseph Zaleski, assistant dean in the Office of Student Affairs, said Reginald Phillips admitted stealing the doughnuts after Anderson Springfield and Fred Ellis, both of Chicago, had bought some.

"Phillips believed that since they were pledging the same fraternity they were equally involved when one was involved," Zaleski said.

"He recognized this false sense of loyalty in which two innocent men get police records in an incident for which he alone was responsible. Phillips said he will pay the fines for the others."

Zaleski said Phillips has been put on disciplinary probation through spring quarter and warned that any disturbances or incidents involving liquor could lead to his suspension.

Visitor to Lecture On Geophysics

Waldo E. Smith, executive secretary of the American Geophysical Union, will be on campus Tuesday and Wednesday to lecture on geophysics.

Smith will speak on "The New Era in Geophysics" at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in Room 174 of the Agriculture Building.

He will show a movie—"The Hidden Earth"—8 p. m. Wednesday followed by comments on Project Mohole.

Smith graduated from the University of Iowa in 1923 with a degree in civil engineering and received his master of science there in 1924. He taught civil engineering in the Midwest and worked for the federal government as a hydraulic engineer.

For the past 20 years Smith has been at the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the American Geophysical Union.

Cornell Leads SIU Trackmen Against Western Michigan

Headed by Bill Cornell, Southern's track team will meet Western Michigan's Broncos in an indoor dual meet at Kalamazoo this afternoon.

Cornell, who last week established a new record for British runners when he won the 800-yard run in 1:50.9 at the Mason-Dixon Games in Louisville, will represent SIU's best bet for a victory along with shot putter George Woods. Woods finished second behind big Dallas Long at the Kentucky meet.

Cornell is expected to compete in the mile and 100-yard run against the Mid-America Conference Broncos. Other Saluki entries will include Herman Gary in the 60-yard dash and the two hurdle events; Herb Walker in the high hurdles and 880-yard run; Gary Carr in the 300 and 440; Jack Peters in the 600; Bob Wheelwright in the 300; Bill Lindsay in the 880 and Jack Leydig in the two-mile run.

Bob Ingstad will be entered in six freshman events, while Al Ackman will compete in the 880 and mile run, Hugh Perkins in the 440, Robin Covintry and Jim Lee in the 60 and 300-yard dashes and John Jaeger in the two-mile run.

Some 250 Scooters
Now Used on Campus

When four wheels are forbidden, will two suffice?

With use of automobiles banned to most students on the SIU campus, many have taken to two-wheeled transportation, motorized variety.

Edward F. McDevitt, supervisor of the Parking Section of the Student Affairs Office, estimated that as of fall quarter, approximately 250 vehicles under the taxable five horsepower were being used by students and faculty on campus.

Some are home-made jobs, others are imported from foreign lands, and some are well-known domestic models. In fair weather or foul their owners scoot back and forth to classes or other activities in and around the campus.

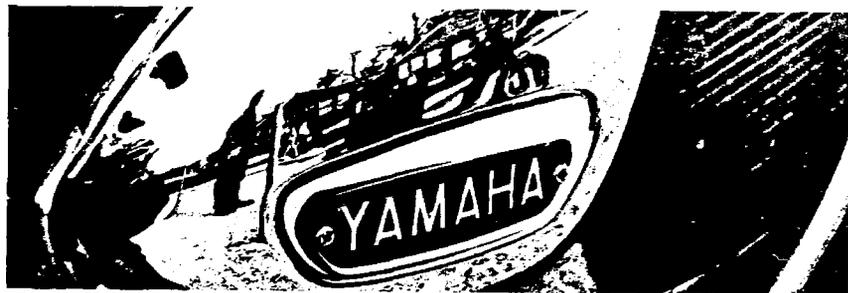

Easy parking, too.

News in Perspective

World Tensions Tug at U.S. Foreign Policy

Compiled From Associated Press

U.S. foreign policy was under tension at many points this week:

At the United Nations, where Ambassador Adlai Stevenson sought a solution to the Cyprus dispute, in which the United States has never been a principal party--just a powerful bystander with a lot at stake if the Greek-Turkish row sets off a war.

In Cuba, where Premier Fidel Castro seems able to make strategic moves at will, and trades with U.S. friends despite our pressure for a boycott.

In the French-Red China orbit, where President Charles de Gaulle goes his own way, regardless of his western allies, and Peking reportedly rebuffs U.S. feelers for improved relations.

In Panama, Viet Nam, Africa, and Cambodia, in fact every trouble spot in the world had repercussions for the United States, whose policies cross every latitude.

And at home politicians placed their barbs.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller spoke Thursday of U.S. troubles in South Viet Nam and Sen. Barry Goldwater declared President Johnson "must pronounce our policy clearly" or withdraw from the guerrilla war there.

The two campaigners for the Republican presidential nomination made their separate statements as they crisscrossed New Hampshire seeking votes in the state's preference primary.

A sweeping collection of criticisms spanning 40 years of U.S. history was published Friday by Robert Murphy, a top diplomat for three presidents, who said the United States made a costly series of blunders in dealing with the Soviet Union.

Murphy served under Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

Recalling that in its early days, America preferred fighting pirates rather than "bribing them," Murphy described such a policy as "preferable to the recent easy procedure of our government in buying off Cubans and Russians."

He also said in his book, "Diplomat Among Warriors" that in the case of Cuba's Fidel Castro, "most Americans are dismayed at the willingness of the United States government to barter with and pay ransom to a hostile, sawdust dictator."

The criticisms pose a major policy question for the future, because most of them are derived from Murphy's conviction that on too many occasions the United States has not been prominent in calling

Diplomats With Guns

Shooting Stops -- for Day

NICOSIA, Cyprus -- Call them diplomats with guns. They wear the red beret and camouflage suit of the paratrooper, the green of the rifle brigade, or the blue of the Royal Air Force.

Four thousand strong, they try to keep the peace on bloody Cyprus through a combination of patience, discretion and good old-fashioned guts.

They are the British soldiers and airmen.

And like any referee, the Tommies have heard harsh words from both sides in the wrangling between Greek and Turkish communities on the island. British troops have been fired upon several occasions but have never returned the fire.

Time and again the British have thrust themselves between the two warring factions, or talked both sides out of killing each other. Here is an example:

In Nicosia, tough Greek Cypriots crouch behind sandbags, in doorways and on roofs. The Turks are likewise dug in. There's a temporary lull in the firing. A British officer nonchalantly walks up to the leaders of one side and says:

"I say, chaps, these fellows across the way are awfully young and I'm afraid their inexperience and rashness might make this situation really bad. But you chaps are

Greeks Have Word For Cyprus Crisis

A tenuous balance of powers and rights has existed between Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus under the 1960 constitution.

The fighting which broke out last December on the Mediterranean island resulted from a real or imaginary fear that the balance was to be upset.

The death toll from sporadic attacks and counterattacks has risen over the last two months, with British troops trying to hold the killing to a minimum. Now the United Nations has been called in to seek a solution.

Each side accuses the other of firing the first shot in December. It is not certain who started the deadly feuding.

But it is a fact that Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, had just previously suggested constitutional changes whereby the Turkish minority would lose some of their rights of veto of governmental actions.

Frank Williams, Detroit Free Press

Both communities fear the enacting of extremist solutions to the problem.

Greek extremists demand enosis--union of Cyprus and Greece. Turkish extremists demand taksim--partition of the island between Turkey and Greece.

Both Cypriote communities apparently would prefer to embark on a wholesale slaughter rather than submit to the respective deplorable condition--either enosis or taksim.

The 1960 constitution, enacted at the time Cyprus gained its independence from Great Britain, forbids any attempts to put either of these two concepts into effect.

Administration sources insist that the U.S. favors no particular solution to the present volatile atmosphere on Cyprus, but definitely wants to see the problem solved before the situation worsens.

Of the 580,000 residents of Cyprus, only about one-fifth are Turks.

Since the fighting started, Turkey has been indicating that she might land troops on Cyprus to protect the Turkish minority. Greece has kept troops ready to attack Turkey if she starts anything.

Thus the hostilities have threatened to spread and the U.N. has been forced to seek an immediate solution to the problem.

Voting Shuffle May Follow Court Ruling

A decision by the U.S. Supreme Court concerning congressional reapportionment brought public approval from Republican national leaders this week, as the GOP predicted that redistricting of the country would put more members of that party into the House of Representatives.

The judgment came in a precedent-shattering Georgia "gerrymandering" case, ruling that congressional districts within the same state should represent equal numbers of people.

Republicans quickly revealed reapportionment studies that indicated the possibility that they might have had 31 more House members in 1960, had strict districting figures been in effect. In large districts of more than 500,000 population, which would be split in redistricting, Republican candidates represent 52 per cent of the vote and would presumably profit from more seats in such areas.

In the smallest districts of less than 300,000, which would be dismembered and lose representation, there are only 27 per cent Republican House members and 73 per cent Democrats.

Democrats insisted that their party, being the majority party, couldn't lose members any more than the Republicans could gain them under new district lines across the country, but conceded they had no figures to support this contention.

Illinois politicians were focusing attention on the judgment at week's end, recalling that three years ago a special session of the Illinois legislature was needed to remap the congressional seats in the state. When the dispute was finally settled, the 24 House seats were divided 12-12 between Chicago-Cook County and downstate counties.

INDIANA'S TOM STOCK IS WORLD CHAMPION BACKSTROKER

A Frightening Assignment

Unbeaten Swim Team Faces Formidable Hoosiers Today

Southern's undefeated and highly-touted swimming team will face its stiffest test of the season this afternoon when it meets Indiana's powerful Big Ten champions at 4 o'clock in the University School pool. Coach Ralph Casey's SIU crew, triumphant in six straight dual meets and 48 of 66 events this season, will be out to halt Indiana's phenomenal five-year, 37-meet winning streak, one of the longest in national collegiate swimming history. The Hoosiers are 5-0 in dual meet competition this season.

Casey, who considers the Indiana squad to be "the best in the world," feels that the meet should be the best ever seen in Carbondale. But because of Indiana's superb talent and strong depth in every event, the SIU mentor holds little hope for a Saluki victory.

Coach James "Doc" Counsilman's Hoosiers, recognized as the New York Yankees of collegiate swimming, are a talent-packed outfit that includes a number of Big Ten, national and world record holders.

Headlining Counsilman's star-studded cast are seasoned veterans Ted Stickle, holder of the Big Ten 400-yard freestyle record and former world record holder in that event; Tom Stock, who holds three world backstroke records and shares in Indiana's National AAU 400-yard medley relay mark; Gary Verhoeven, owner of Big Ten records in the 200 and 500-yard freestyles; Big Ten diving champion Rick Gilbert and Larry Schulhof, who also shares in the AAU medley relay mark of 3:33.2.

Other Indiana standouts are Fred Schmidt in the butterfly, Pete Anderson in the breaststroke, freestyler Terry Townsend, medley star Cary Tremewan and sprinter Tom Hayden.

In six seasons at Indiana, Counsilman's teams have captured 36 individual Big Ten titles, five national collegiate crowns, 26 indoor AAU and 31 outdoor AAU titles and seven Pan-American Games championships. Also during Counsilman's tenure, Hoosier swimmers have established 29

Big Ten standards, 46 NCAA records, five NCAA meet records, six Pan American marks and 19 world records.

Coach Casey will counter the high-powered Indiana attack with a group of classy swimmers which includes stellar veterans Jack Schiltz, undefeated individual medley specialist; sprinter Darrell Green; breaststroke ace Ted Petras and backstroke artist Andy Stoodo, as well as outstanding sophomores Thom McAneney and Dave Winfield. McAneney holds the SIU record in the 200-yard freestyle while Winfield owns the school mark in the 200-yard butterfly.

Indiana State Grapplers Pin 2nd Loss on Crippled Salukis

Indiana State's spirited matmen proved to be too much for Southern's crippled wrestling team Thursday night, as the Cardinals upset the Salukis 22-16 at Terre Haute, Ind.

Coach Jim Wilkinson's Salukis, hampered by the loss of injured starters Don Devine, Bill Hartzell, Dan DiVito and Tony Pierannunzi, managed only four individual victories and two draws while absorbing their second defeat in five dual meets this season.

The only bright spots in Southern's effort were victories by dependable veteran Don Millard, stellar heavyweight Larry Kristoff, outstanding sophomore Don Schneider and junior Dan Geskey.

Millard boosted his season's record to 13-1 by blanking 167-pound Tony Bivins 4-0 and Kristoff, defending national AAU heavyweight

Scoring Leader Ramsey Wants To Be Just 'Typical Student'

Joe Ramsey, the tall, lanky co-captain of the Saluki basketball team, is the squad's leading scorer. But there were days when Joe's basketball career wasn't quite as successful.

In fact, the 6-5 forward from Sandoval almost didn't make the team the first time he tried out.

"I started playing basketball when I was nine years old," Ramsey recalls. "I went out for a team called the 'Pee Wees' and I just about didn't make it."

Ramsey went on to win a total of 12 varsity letters at Sandoval High School; four each in baseball, basketball, and track. Ramsey said he picked SIU over other schools because of the recruiting of Harry Gallatin.

"I could have gone someplace else, but I liked the atmosphere at Southern," he added.

The soft-spoken Ramsey is a junior majoring in physical education and minoring in business. "I want to coach," he said, "but first I think I'll go to graduate school."

Joe, who says he is in fair condition all year round, is also a pitcher on the Saluki baseball team. "I don't have a weight problem," he said, "if anything I have a problem keeping it up." The 185-lb. athlete went on to say, "It's just a matter of driving yourself to stay in shape."

Joe said the team has no curfew. Coach Hartman allows players to use their own judgment. "I think we're a closer-knit group than last year's team," Ramsey said.

Currently leading scorer with a 15 ppg average, Ramsey thinks the balance of the team and bench strength has made a tougher ball club. "We're coming around, we'll keep improving the rest of the season, and we'll be a tougher team going down to the wire," he explained. "We're a young team too; we only lose three seniors." "Next year we should be a team to watch," he added.

JOE RAMSEY

As I started to go to my eyes caught a sign tacked to Joe's bulletin board: "The will to win is not worth a nickel unless you have the will to prepare." An appropriate guide for an athlete, I thought. Then my eyes spotted something else which may or may not have been appropriate, but was hanging there nonetheless--a 1964 Playboy Calendar. Joe Ramsey, in spite of all his honors, is a typical student.

Johnson Says China Plays Perilous Game

LOS ANGELES -- President Johnson, sharing a sunlit platform with visiting Mexican President Lopez Mateos, said Friday that Communist China is playing a "deeply dangerous game" in South Viet Nam.

Johnson told an open-air party of 34,000 at the University of California at Los Angeles that outsiders supporting Communist guerrillas in Viet Nam are guilty of dangerous aggression. He did not name Communist China but the thrust of his remarks was clear.

The President also took the occasion to reaffirm that the United States will honor its commitments to support the independence of South Viet Nam.

Johnson and Lopez Mateos flew by jet-powered helicopter to the UCLA campus after the American leader welcomed the Mexican chief executive at Los Angeles International Airport.

Their next stop was the desert resort of Palm Springs and two days of hands-across-the-border goodwill talks.

Both Presidents, accompanied by their First Ladies, spoke and received honorary degrees at a Charter Day Convocation at UCLA.

Philippine Plane Crashes, 31 Die

MANILA--A Philippine Airlines plane crashed and burned in a mountainous region of Mindanao Friday and the airline said 31 persons perished.

The plane, a DC3, crashed in the mountainous area of Lanao del Sur Province seven miles from Marawi. The plane carried 29 passengers and three crew members. One man survived the crash.

Cuban Fishermen Back From Florida

HAVANA, Cuba -- Twenty-nine Cuban fishermen returned home Friday from 18 days of detention in Florida. At a tumultuous reception on Havana's waterfront, they told Fidel Castro the Yankees robbed them.

SIU 'Lady Cagers' Travel to U. of I.

The SIU women's basketball teams journey to Champaign today to participate in the sectional sports day at the University of Illinois.

Both of the teams are undefeated in games so far this year. The first team beat Principia College 33-27 in their season opener, and two weeks ago they drubbed the girls from Lincoln Christian College 48-24. The second team has played only one game so far as they nipped Illinois State 25-22.

Oneta Spence and Charlene Summers have been the high scorers for the first team so far. Miss Spence netted 20 points in the opener, and Miss Summers paced the team in the second game as she also scored 20 points. Beverly Selinger is next in the scoring after putting through 12 points against Lincoln.

The teams will close their season Feb. 29 when they host the girls from Southeast Missouri State.

eign policy views, said U.S. problems are eclipsed by "the spreading civil war among Communists" -- a new description for the policy gulf between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Pistol Shots Miss Turkish Premier

ANKARA, Turkey -- A Turk fired three shots at Premier Ismet Inonu Friday as he was entering his official car in front of his office. All shots missed and police grabbed the man.

The man was identified as Mesut Suna, 38, an opponent of the military revolution of 1960 that overthrew the Menderes regime.

The premier, 79, had just left his office to go to the National Assembly a short distance away when the shots rang out.

Unruffled, he got into his car and proceeded to the assembly.

Police said Suna admitted he had fired his pistol with intent to kill.

ONLY FORD-BUILT CARS MEET THE CHALLENGE WITH TOTAL PERFORMANCE!

Something wonderful's happened to Ford Motor Company cars! Under the freshest styling seen in years, there's a new kind of durability and vigor that more than meets the demands of today's and tomorrow's high-speed turnpike driving conditions.

What's the secret? Quality engineering for total performance. Quality engineering so outstanding that Ford Motor Company received the NASCAR Achievement Award for engineering excellence which "superbly combines the prime essentials of great automobiles-- performance, reliability, durability, comfort and safety."

Total performance makes a world of difference. Bodies and frames are solid and quiet even on the roughest roads. The ride's so smooth, so even-keeled, it seems to straighten the curves and shorten the miles. And nothing matches the spirit, sparkle and stamina of advanced Ford-built V-8's and thrifty Sixes. Total performance is yours to enjoy in all our 1964 cars--from the frisky Falcon to the matchless Lincoln Continental.

House Approves $16.9 Billion For Defense

WASHINGTON -- The House unanimously passed its largest authorization bill in history Thursday--$16.9 billion for defense procurement, research and development.

The bill includes a provision of $92 million for research on a manned bomber and a manned interceptor plane. This provision aroused debate in the House because Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara did not ask for it.

An attempt to knock this provision out was defeated handily by forces led by Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Final passage of the bill came on a roll-call vote of 336 to 0.
