Sullivan, Seely and Rich elected

By Debby Ratemann
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Tea Party Now candidates Dennis Sullivan and Robert Seely were victorious in the Student Government elections for student body president and vice president, Election Commissioners Ralph Rosynek and Allen Maser announced at 9:35 Thursday night.

Matthew Rich won the post of student trustee, with 937 votes. Runner-up for trustee was Kathy Jones, with 881. Ron Adams received 597 and Steve Nuckles got 264.

No Student Senate results were available at press time.

"It's very unexpected," new Student Body President Dennis Sullivan said when contacted at his home with the news. "This is terrible, I was planning on going to bed and getting a good night's sleep!"

Sullivan said he was very happy his running-mate and fellow Tea Party Now member Robert Seely won as vice president. "We have a lot of plans for making Student Government a more consumer-oriented thing," Sullivan said. "We want to hire a student lawyer, bring the Grateful Dead to SIU, and change the Student Senate districts from geographic to academic."

Sullivan is a sociology major who plays chess and guitar. Seely, who was not available for comment, is a psychology major from Rockford.

Vote totals in the presidential race were: Sullivan, 504; Bill Wesely, 422; Jeff Lohrmann, 377; Jess Lopez, 272; Terry Mullins, 256; Garry Barker, 251; Mark Harris, 211; Monroe Smith, 124; Matt Chancey, 121; T.C. Cottingham, 115; Scott Wallin, 86; Donald Kotz, 86; and Michael Olson, 79.

Vice presidential totals were Seely, 473; Alan Jacobson, 400; Richard Riggio, 368; John Sheridan, 349; Charles Ward, 324; Larry Roth, 289; Marc Kamm, 279; Harry Yaseen, 200; and Gary Jaquet, 112.

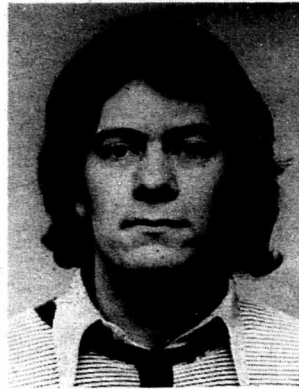

Rosynek said Student Senate totals were not official at press time because of the large number of write-in votes. The trustee, president and vice president ballots were almost totally computerized, but the write-in Senate votes had to be tallied by hand, Rosynek said.

Annual Kappa Karnation expected to draw more than 10,000 visitors

By Carl Flowers
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

And John Allen
Student Writer

Visitors arriving for the Kappa Karnation Thursday found that it helped to contact a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity before searching for accommodations for the weekend.

Keith Elzia, chairman of publicity for the Karnation, said the Kappas have rented hotel and motel rooms throughout the Carbondale-Murphysboro-Marion area to assure visiting chapters of housing during the Karnation. In addition, Elzia said, the Kappas have an extra fraternity house on Greek Row which they intend to use to accommodate guests.

Elzia said more than 10,000 persons are expected for the Karnation which will continue through Sunday. He said the first chapter to arrive in Carbondale will probably be from Tennessee State University, but added that he expects chapters from as far as Berkeley, Calif.

Greg Porter, chairman, said most of the motels and hotels are already filled, but there are still rooms available. He said most of the visitors will be arriving by car or train, but some fraternity members rent motor homes to bring guests from Chicago.

Capt. Edward Hogan of the Carbondale Police Department said the department will be helping during the Karnation, but only in the form of crowd control and traffic management. Hogan said police will assist with the timing of the parade, scheduled for Saturday afternoon, to prevent undue hardship to motorists and pedestrians.

The parade is scheduled at 5 p.m. and will start at Monroe and University avenues and proceed south along University avenue to the Student Center.

Uniformed officers will be stationed at hotels and motels Hogan said. He said there will be no extra shifts, but officers will be working overtime to supplement the regular shifts.

Most Karnation visitors are expected to arrive Friday afternoon, said chapter president Eric Cheatham. Cheatham said fraternity member Oscar Robertson will not be able to attend because the Milwaukee Bucks' are involved in a playoff against the Chicago Bulls. "We expect Mayor Thomas Bradley of Los Angeles sometime Friday afternoon," he said.

Karnation activities, which started Thursday with a housewarming for Karnation visitors, include a double-Dutch hopscotch tournament at Old Main Mall at 2 p.m. Friday, a concert featuring Eddie Kendricks and Al Wilson in the Arena beginning at 9 p.m. and dances at the Student Center, Bonaparte's, Merlin's and University City Cafeteria.

The Karnation queen will be crowned at the Karnation Saturday evening at the Arena. The ceremony will be broadcast live to Chicago by disc jockey Herb Kent.

Student raise of 30 cents gets approval

By Terry Martin
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Each student worker on campus will receive a 30-cent raise in the April 21 to May 5 pay period, Frank Adams, director of Student Work and Financial Assistance, said Thursday.

Adams said the pay hike affects every student worker, no matter what his present pay is. The new minimum wage for students is $1.90 an hour, following the April 8 enactment of the new federal minimum wage law.

"The 30-cent across the board increase is the only time in the 17 years I've been here, that there has been this generous an approach for the self-help program," Adams said.

He praised Dean of Students Bruce Swinburne, Acting President Hiram Lesar and Dale Knight, acting campus treasurer and vice president for the Fund drive approved by SIU Foundation

By Jeff Jout
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A fund drive expected to raise from $100,000 to $150,000 for SIU in fiscal year July 1, 1974-June 30, 1975 was approved by the SIU Foundation's Board of Governors Thursday.

The board appropriated $22,085 from the foundation's general fund to finance the direct mail campaign tabbed "Living Endowment."

"The whole program is designed for student," Curtis R. Simic, SIU director of development and new elected executive director of the foundation said. Scholarships, special equipment and projects, and library acquisitions are too priorities for funding, he explained.

The SIU Foundation is a non-profit organization that seeks outside funding for SIU. Current foundation assets are slightly over $9 million, according to the treasure's report approved Thursday.

Last year the SIU Foundation collected $93,000 for various university programs, the reports said.

Living Endowment will be aimed primarily at alumni, Simic said, and will encourage annual gifts to specific or general areas at SIU through the SIU Foundation, Simic said.

Brochures stressing the positive elements of SIU will be mailed to potential contributors in September, October, November and December 1974, Simic said. Brochures are currently being prepared by University Graphics, 600 W. Freeman St.

In endorsing the fund campaign, Goffrey Hughes, board of governors member from Carbondale, said, "It's time to create again for this University an era of good feeling."

Vice President for Development and Services T. Richard Mager said "the administration is wholeheartedly in support" of Living Endowment and other fund-raising proposals. Mager termed the program an "ambitious bootstrap operation" that is needed in a time of University financial problems.

Simic said other aspects of a broad funding raising plan approved by the foundation board include: expended use of a telenote during spring months, personal contacts with contributors from prominent alumni, provisions for faculty and staff gifts, and "challenger" gift programs.

Under the "challenge system, an individual or group would agree to match other contributions within a given limit, Simic explained. Securing such a challenge would "insure success" of the Living Endowment program, he added.

Intensified campaigns for corporate, private foundation, and major gift (over $10,000) donations are also being conducted by Simic with the aid of the SIU Foundation.

A program of "two-thirds work—three scholarship" for students, partially sponsored by corporations, is in "the planning stage" with Franks Adams, director of Student Work and Financial Assistance, Simic said.

Earlier in the meeting the board of governors heard Acting SIU President Hiram Lesar explained current budget situations.

Lesar said he expected an estimated 400-1,000 drop in student enrollment before the current decline "bottoms out." This could result in further cut-backs in budget allocations from the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) next year, Lesar explained.

"We will never get all the money we need from the legislature—some must come from concerned individuals and organizations who have the interest of education at heart," Lesar said.

Lesar said he and the Board of Trustees are currently attempting to "deal as best we can with the terminated faculty to ameliorate their problem" while avoiding further staff cuts in the event of reduced funds from IBHE next year.

In other business the board of governors approved paying half of the $430 monthly expenses for a "legislative representative" for SIU in Springfield.

The representative will function as a lobbyist for both the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses of SIU. Edwardsville's SIU Foundation will pay the other half of expenses.

George Criminger, assistant to chief of board staff James Brown, was designated as the legislative representative. His expenses include $180 a month for a Springfield apartment and $250 a month for entertainment.

New members Ray Burroughs of Murphysboro and Clyde Brewster of Herrin were unanimously accepted by the board.

New school board members installed

Charles Reno and David Rosenthal were officially installed as members of the Carbondale Elementary School District 95 board Thursday night.

Anita Lenzini, board secretary, announced that Reno, with 1,322 votes, and Rosenthal, with 1,268 votes, were the official winners of last Saturday's election.

Charles Hines was elected as the new president of the board, replacing Dr. Terry Thalman, and Mrs. Lenzini won re-election as secretary.

Specifications for the paving of drives and parking areas at Lakeland and Springmore Schools were presented to the board by E. Maurice Webb of E.M. Webb and Associates Consulting Engineers.

Webb recommended that the areas be re-surfaced with a bituminous concrete mixture at an estimated cost to the district of $26,414. Webb said the bituminous concrete mixture has a life expectancy of eight to 10 years, and would cost 50 per cent less than a complete concrete covering.

Superintendent Laurence W. Martin said the district has $17,000 in its site and building improvement budget, and could use funds from the 1974-75 budget to make up the difference in cost.

The board approved that $5,355.34 be designated to buy material in accordance with the National Defense Educational Act (NDEA) Title III project.

The NDEA program reimburses Carbondale schools for the purchase of equipment for science, art, humanities, and industrial arts at a rate of 47 per cent. Thus, NDEA will reimburse the district $2,517.

The board set May 6 as the date for a special meeting to interview candidates for the position of principal at Thomas School, to replace retiring principal John Thomas. Martin said he has interviewed five of the nine persons who have applied for the job so far.

Rowe enters innocent plea

Indicted SIU Trustee Harris Rowe, 50 of Jacksonville pleaded innocent Wednesday to charges of conspiracy and participating in an alleged insurance kickback scheme.

Rowe, a former Illinois State representative, and his brother, Richard, who was also named in the charges, entered the pleas in U.S. District Court in Springfield.

Both are officers of the Central National Life Insurance Company in Jacksonville. They were among six men indicted March 30 in an alleged scheme involving payment of $15,000 to obtain Teamsters Union insurance business.

Rowe was given 30 days to file a pretrial motion but a trial date has not yet been set. His bond was continued at $5,000.

Rowe faces a maximum sentence of 16 years in prison and a $40,000 fine. His seven-year term on the SIU Board of Trustees expires in 1977.

administration, for the decision made Thursday morning.

"This has to be the No. 1 morale booster at this institution for months," Adams said. "It's the one time students can't say, 'We're second-rate citizens.'"

"They're first class all the way," Adams said. He also anticipates student job performances will be more competitive since there is a possibility of less student workers for the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Adams said Tuesday SIU will need additional state funds if it expects to keep the same number of student workers and the number of hours each works. He estimated about $750,000 is needed for SIU's 1974-75 budget, which would be added to the University's budget appropriation bill, pending approval in the General Assembly.

Sports writer to be speaker

Dave Condon, sports columnist for the Chicago Tribune, will be featured speaker at the Special Olympics banquet 7 p.m. Sunday in Student Center Ballroom B.

The Special Olympics group will also honor the Knights of Columbus from St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church at the annual banquet for their contribution to the Olympics.

Recreation students will present skits and a film about the games and participants will be shown.

Persons may obtain tickets and information on the banquet at the Recreation Department office, 408 W. St.

The Special Olympics day, May 10, will feature athletic events in track and field, gymnastics and swimming for the mentally handicapped eight years of age and older. The activities are sponsored SIU Recreation Department and the Special Olympics, Inc.

Adams also said the next wage increase for students could be expected to reach the required $2 per hour in January.

He advised students not to expect a check with the raise indicated for about a month due to the time lag between working and receiving pay for that period.

CCHS board approves revised school budget

By Gary Houy
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The revised budget for the current school year was approved by the Carbondale Community High School (CCHS) Board of Education Thursday night.

The revisions, tentatively approved by the board at the March 14 meeting, included a reversal of a permanent transfer fund of $49,709 and a re-budgeting of the Fire-Safety Program.

No objections were made to the revised budget during a 30-minute public budget hearing before the meeting. The budget includes a total revenue for CCHS District 165 of $2,887,101 and total expenditures of $2,855,863 for the 1973-74 school year.

Two new members elected Saturday, Mary Walker and Carol McDermott, were seated on the board. Former board secretary Charles Hendersman, who was re-elected in the Saturday election, was chosen as president of the board. Tom Brewer was elected secretary.

Tom North and Charles Lerner, outgoing board members, were awarded plaques citing their "service to the high school and the community" as board members from 1962 to 1974.

The board approved a recommendation by Brewer to meet on the first and third Thursdays of each month instead of once a month.

A $56,000 transfer of funds from the transportation fund to the education fund and the payment of current CCHS bills were approved by the board.

J. Hugh Shelnut of Shelnut and Rosenthal CPA, was approved by the board as school treasurer at the salary of $1,050 per year.

Comptroller Cecil Hollis said he would meet with local auditing firms to discuss their interest in auditing the school records for the 1974-75 school year. He said that "three or four" firms would then be asked to make presentations to a board meeting.

John Feirich, board member, suggested that the board seek the use of a legal firm to handle fire safety bonds through the board's local counsel. Chapman and Cutler of Chicago, currently handle the board's Fire Safety bonds.

Lesar to speak on SIU future

Acting SIU President Hiram Lesar will address a special meeting of the University Senate Monday.

Lesar will speak on his ideas of the immediate future for SIU and answer questions beginning at 2 p.m. in Student Center Ballroom A.

The senate will also consider a governance document, said Judy Williford, University Senate secretary.

Judge orders Nixon to surrender tapes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge ordered President Nixon on Thursday to surrender tapes and documents of 64 conversations to be used in the Watergate cover-up trial involving men who were once his top lieutenants.

The subpoena was served on the White House a few hours after it was ordered by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica. The President has until May 2 to comply.

There was no immediate word whether the White House will comply with the latest legal effort to wrest Watergate information from the President. Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said "the matter will be considered by the special counsel."

Sirica acted on a request by special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski who said he needed the material for the conspiracy trial involving John N. Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, Charles W. Colson and three others. The trial is scheduled before Sirica on September 9.

The subpoena was the third issued at the request of the special prosecutor's office. The White House fought the first, last summer, until it lost before the U.S.

Court of Appeals. It complied with a second last month without a fight.

The 64 conversations span nearly a year's time—beginning with a meeting Nixon had with special counsel Colson on June 20, 1972, and ending with telephone conversations the President had with Haldeman on June 4, 1973.

Twenty-four of the conversations sought are included in a subpoena issued by the House Judiciary Committee for its impeachment inquiry. That subpoena requires compliance by next Thursday.

The committee's chairman, Peter W. Rodine Jr. (D-N.J.) said in a television interview Thursday that any White House editing of the 42 conversations his committee subpoenaed "could be considered a possible ground of impeachment."

Otherwise, Rodino said, the White House would make the determination of what evidence the impeachment inquiry gets.

Judge Sirica held no hearings on Jaworski's request of Tuesday, but he had the concurrence of two of the defendants—Colson and Robert C. Mardian—that the subpoena for the 64 tapes be issued.

Women's organizations plan session to explain Equal Rights Amendment

By Charlotte Jones
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A workshop on the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) is scheduled for Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church, 310 S. University.

Registration will be at 9:30 a.m., followed by a panel discussion from 10 a.m. to noon.

Topics to be discussed include "ERA and the Homemaker," led by Vivian Ugent of the League of Women Voters and "The Opposition's Issues: Draft and the Right to Privacy," headed by Doris Turner of the American Association of University Women.

Mary Sfasciotti of Chicago, a prosecutor in the U.S. Attorney's Office, will lead a discussion of "Politics and Legal Issues." Genevieve Houghton, workshop coordinator, will direct the talk on "Employment Credit and Insurance."

Shirley Oshel and Jene Simon, wives of Val Oshel and Paul Simon, congressional candidates, will speak after lunch.

Ms. Houghton, a member of the Committee on ERA, said the workshop is to alert the public of the content and the need for the constitutional amendment, designed to provide the same opportunities regardless of sex.

"For example, the amendment would make it much easier to get equal education and employment. Women could get credit in their own name more easily and disability insurance would be available to all women," she said.

Most insurance companies do not offer disability insurance to women. The companies regard all income earned by women as supplemental. But 70 per cent of women who work are single, widowed, furnish sole support of the family or have husbands who earn less than $7,000 a year, Ms. Houghton said.

Ms. Houghton said she thought the ERA would be presented to the Illinois legislature for a vote before the end of the session.

"I don't know if it will pass this session but I think it is inevitable that Illinois will ratify the amendment sometime," she said.

Endorsement of the amendment by the AFL-CIO may encourage more legislators to vote in favor of it, she said.

The amendment needs ratification by 38 states to be added to the Constitution. Thirty-three states have approved it.

The amendment has been in the General Assembly for two years. Ms. Houghton said she thought it hadn't been ratified yet because of false information given out by anti-ERA groups.

"The strongest opposition is the Stop ERA Committee. It has instilled a fear in many people that women will lose privileges they now have if the ERA passes. That simply isn't true. Women will gain a lot if it passes," she said.

The one-day workshop is sponsored by National Organization of Women (NOW), the American Association of University Women, Business and Professional Women, the Committee on ERA, ERA Central and the League of Women Voters.

Registration will be $1 and persons attending should bring a sack lunch. Dessert will be provided.

Ms. Houghton said he is encouraging both men and women to attend the workshop. "The speakers scheduled are dynamic and the discussions could be very enlightening to people who don't know much about the ERA."

GNP posts large drop; inflation up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's economy sank swiftly toward recession levels in the first quarter of the year, while inflation pushed prices upward at an ever-increasing rate, according to government figures released Thursday.

The Commerce Department said the country's Gross National Product dropped at a 5.8 per cent annual rate in the first three months of the year, the first decline in three years and the biggest drop since 1958. Inflation, on the other hand, soared at 10.8 per cent annual rate.

The double-barreled dose of bad economic news came one day after President Nixon announced he was going to play a bigger role in economic policy making.

It also raised serious questions whether the United States would be able to avoid a recession this year, as Nixon has promised. A recession is technically defined as two consecutive quarters of GNP decline.

The GNP measures the total value of output of the nation's goods and services and is considered the best index of the health of the economy.

The Arab oil embargo and energy crisis apparently were an important factor in the first-quarter economic decline.

The Commerce Department said the sharp cutback in auto production was one of two major reasons for the falling GNP. The other was a decline in home building, which has been hit by high interest rates.

The 5.8 per cent decline in the GNP growth rate in the first quarter compared with an increase of 1.6 per cent in the fourth quarter and 8.7 per cent growth in the first quarter of 1973 at the height of an economic boom.

The first-quarter drop was the biggest since a 9.2 per cent decline in the first quarter of 1958. The last previous decline was in the fourth quarter of 1970, when the GNP annual rate fell 4.8 per cent.

Figures computed at annual rate mean that the rate would be the final figure at the end of a 12-month period if the trend continued unchanged.

Over-all GNP in the first quarter increased $14.3 billion, or 4.4 per cent over the fourth quarter, to an annual rate of $1,351.8 billion. All of the increase was due to inflation.

Real pie in the sky

To the Daily Egyptian:

An age of rationality and no-nonsense logic has finally arrived at SIU. No more pie-in-the-sky proposals for the campus parking problem. Now, from those same great folks who brought us the monorail to relieve campus car congestion, exhaust fumes and obscene gestures, comes a brand new down-to-earth solution: The Pragmatic Presto! Pre-Fab Parking Lot.

Conceived along the innovative engineering ideas originally demonstrated by lincoln-logs, tinkertoys and pick-up-stix, this fascinating structure will be completely portable and can be reassembled into mini-parking lots. Besides the father structure, to be cleverly located between Faner Hall and Parkinson Laboratory, we can look forward to hundreds of Presto! junior lots sprouting all over campus.

All parking lots will, of course, be connected by monorail to facilitate confusion, with a special noon-hour express between Anthony Hall and the Holiday Inn. Not only will every administrator have his own Oldsmobile, but his own parking lot as well.

Despite the protests of a few so-called conservationists who would have us walking distances of up to 500 feet, pre-fab Presto! parking promises to be a blessing in disguise. A concrete campus would wipe out Dutch Elm disease, unsightly weeds, and pollution in the Morris Library pond. The cause of education would be boosted by hiring back the 104 to fill challenging new career opportunities in the parking lot profession. It's not every university that can boast academic credentials like parking lot attendants with Ph.D.'s.

Funding would be no problem, with money coming from the 1.4 million dollar bills recently found wandering around in the budget, apparently dazed and slightly tipsy from association with currency from the alcohol fund.

A names committee will have to nominate some proper names to honor with cement. The traditional prerequisite of being dead in order to have a structure named after you should be waived in order to consider the names of two recent administrators known for their sound fiscal planning, integrity and matching maroon blazers.

So next time you're stuck in a campus traffic jam whistling a funeral dirge, thinking of throwing Daniel to the lions, and swearing under your breath, reflect upon how nice everything will be when they get that new pre-fab parking lot built. Before you know it: Presto! Pre-fab Academic Excellence.

Museum program deserves 2nd look

The Community Educational Enrichment Program at SIU has been curtailed due to severe budget cutbacks. This worthwhile public contact program was headed up by Louis W. Sherer, Associate Curator of Education and Exhibits at the University Museum.

Sherer helped to develop an outreach program by taking the museum to area school children and local civic groups. The program consisted of utilizing the museum's material collections in pioneer history, American Indian artifacts and many kinds of objects from overseas collections to illustrate the everyday life and culture of peoples.

Since the day the cutbacks went into effect, the museum has received a large number (almost 100 per cent feedback) of letters from teachers of grade and high schools in Carbondale and surrounding areas. All expressed deep concern with the curtailment and said that this program had always been the most exciting and rewarding part of the children's school year.

Academic Vice-President Keith Leasure should strongly consider reviewing the possible reinstatement of this valuable community service.

It is unquestionably inevitable that some very important programs must be eliminated due to the severely shrinking budget at SIU, and as it now stands, the museum structure has been virtually wiped out except for tenured faculty and senior civil service people.

This inexpensive method of bringing the museum to children needs to be reinstated if at all possible not only for the sake of the children, but for the building of good-will between the university and the community.

Better late than never Energy Crisis or no energy crisis—speed limits should stay at 55 miles an hour.

Statistics indicate the reduced speed limits are saving lives. In January and February of 1973, 7,560 persons were killed in traffic accidents. In the first two months of this year 5,680 persons lost their lives in car accidents.

Vincent Tofany, National Safety Council president, said the 25 per cent reduction in loss of lives seems due to the reduction in speed.

He said the statistics show "a reduction in traffic fatalities far out of proportion with any reduction in travel."

For example, statistics in turnpike travel in January 1974 show a 13 per cent drop in use of the turnpikes but fatalities occurring on turnpikes dropped 67 per cent in the same period.

Statistics from other countries have also shown a connection between reduced speed limits and decreased traffic fatalities. Britain, France and West Germany all have showed significant reductions in highway accidents during the period of reduced speed limits.

The 50 miles an hour speed limit imposed in Britain is credited with a 14 per cent decrease in traffic deaths in January. Despite this fact, Britain has reinstated its maximum 70 miles an hour speed limit.

Right on C. Anne!

To the Daily Egyptian:

Hurray! Bravo! More, please; your issue on women is something I've been waiting to see the likes of for a long time. My congratulations to C. Anne Prescott for putting it together, and to all the people who contributed. Can't we focus on women more often? We are, after all, half the population (although you'd never know it from reading the DE, or any other paper). I'd enjoy a repeat or a regular section on women, because women here in Carbondale are individually and collectively into a lot of fascinating things.

Laura S. Brown
Graduate Student, Clinical Psychology

Traffic deaths will probably increase in Britain, right along with the speed. Is an increase in speed limits worth even one life, much less hundreds or thousands of lives?

Even if the gasoline crisis is waning, efforts to raise automobile speed limits should be resisted.

Hopefully the United States will not follow blindly in the footsteps of Britain and other countries. Hopefully, our speed limits will remain reduced.

After all, it's better to arrive some place late than to never arrive at all.

Alternative to oppression

Students are an oppressed and unrepresented group in Carbondale and it is their own fault. The reason: they don't vote.

Since the voting age was lowered to eighteen and residence requirements abolished almost every student is eligible to vote. By investing a half hour of his time he could register, vote and make his voice heard.

Instead students moan about rip off landlords, lack of city services, police problems and a town that doesn't care.

Since students are nearly half the population of Carbondale they do have some power. The power of student dollars built up shopping malls and the downtown strip, for better or worse. But where are the mass transit, day care centers and parks student pressure could create?

A few years ago students chanted "power to the people"; now they won't use what they have. One township election last year was decided by eight votes. In that election a student dorm president, which had almost 3,000 voters registered for national elections turned out only 286 votes for a community issue.

Politicians listen to the needs of the people but what they hear are votes.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following complaints from the coal industry, the Interior Department plans to issue new strip mining regulations which will give strippers greater flexibility in restoring disturbed land.

The decision came after the coal industry fought an earlier proposal requiring abandoned strip mines to be graded to a slope not greater than 30 degrees.

The new regulations, sources said, will replace the 30-degree requirement with a more flexible standard calling for ravaged land to be restored to its original contour.

The Environmental Protection Agency called for a more stringent final slope standard in commenting on the original 30-degree requirement contained in tentative regulations published last year as part of an overall revision of its rules for mining on federal land.

Final regulations are expected to be published in the Federal Register within 30 days. They will go into effect 30 days after publication.

Andrew Bailey, chief of the mining operation branch of the Geological Survey, said the 30 degree slope requirement has been dropped and a less specific provision substituted.

"We felt we could really be in trouble if we tied it down too strictly," Bailey said. He indicated the change was made to permit more flexibility for mining operations under varying conditions.

Bailey declined to discuss the changes in detail, but said the regulations have been substantially altered from the original proposals.

After the original regulations were published, Chairman Russell Train of the Council on Environmental Quality wrote to the department saying they were "notably deficient in dealing with the reclamation of coal surface mining."

Train asked that the department's mining supervisor be given broader powers, including power to prohibit mining in areas in which reclamation would be impossible.

The revised regulations replace standards drawn up in the 1930s which deal chiefly with health and safety. Bailey said the department decided they were needed because of changes in technology and increased concern for the environment.

They will apply on an estimated 760,000 acres of land leased by the Interior Department for coal mining and on Indian lands. The department has imposed a moratorium on coal leases pending a study of leasing policy.

Bailey said the outcome of the study will not affect the regulations, but they will have to be rewritten if Congress passes strip mining legislation it is considering.

Computer sciences to offer new undergraduate degree

The Department of Computer Science is now offering a new undergraduate program leading to a BA degree in computer science.

The curriculum will provide students with broad undergraduate training in computer science and will also permit concentration in particular areas of interest. The program includes such topics as programming, computer hardware and software systems, simulation, data management and computer applications to business and science.

The program is designed to prepare students for careers in the areas of programming, systems analysis, teaching, informal processing, and management and to prepare potential graduate students for advanced study in computer science.

The department has offered an undergraduate minor and a graduate program leading to the Master of Science degree in computer science since 1970.

The computer science department is located in Neckers A. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Professor A.M. Mark, department chairman.

Earth Week activities to include films, picnic

Several speakers and events are planned for the annual Earth Week activities, Monday through Saturday, sponsored by the Student Environmental Center (SEC).

Monday, Earth Day, will begin with a talk by Jeff Kolp, president of the SEC. Speaking in the Student Center, Kolp will announce the goals and activities planned for the week.

At 1:30 p.m. Monday a 'clean-up parade' will be held in downtown Carbondale. Later that afternoon Mayor Neal Eckert, Bruce Swinburne, dean of students, State Sen. Ken Buzbee, members of the SEC and other environmental groups are scheduled to speak in the Student Center.

Howard Hesketh, associate professor of Thermodynamics and Environmental Engineering, will speak at 4 p.m. in Room 440 of Neckers B. Hesketh will lecture on the anti-pollution scrubbing device in the physical plant.

Gov. Daniel Walker has called the device the key to finding ways to use high sulfur coal reserves while still conforming to federal clean air standards.

An 'Earth Hop' dance will wind up Monday's activities.

During the rest of the week speakers, films and programs will be sponsored as Earth Week activities. On Friday evening a concert featuring "Medicine Wheel" will be held outside of Woody Hall.

A clean-up of Campus Lake with a picnic and games will end the week on Saturday.

Times and places for all speakers and events have not been finalized, but brochures giving complete listings of the weeks' activities will be available in the Student Center.

Construction grant gets final approval

A $370,000 grant from the Economic Development Administration (EDA) has received final approval and will be matched by Carbondale for construction of water and sewer lines and access road for the city's Bicentennial Industrial Park.

Congressman Kenneth Gray (D-Ill.) announced the approval Thursday morning. Gray said the park will "employ thousands in the Carbondale area."

The approximately 100-acre park is located north of the city along Route 51 south of Dillinger Road.

"Mayor Neal Eckert, the city councilmen and City Manager Carroll Fry are to be commended for obtaining access to government funds made available by our Committee on Public Works," Gray said in his announcement.

The grant is to be matched by $370,000 from the city. The amount has already been allocated in the 1974-75 capital improvements budget. The money is scheduled to come from utility revenue.

Fry reported to the city council April 8 that approval of the grant was expected by May 1 of this year.

Phil Baewer, head of industrial development for the city, said the approval is an "important step for the overall development of the park." Baewer has worked in the planning of the park.

Baewer said the application for the grant was made in December. Soon after the application was submitted, Baewer said it was reviewed by the EDA. "Apparently it all checked out to their satisfaction," he said.

The money to match the grant was budgeted for the coming fiscal year because the city had to show the money was available to qualify for the grant, Baewer said. The work probably will not be completed this fiscal year, he added.

First, the city must make design plans for the work, Baewer said. He said this could take as long as two months or more.

Once the plans are ready, Baewer said bids will be let for contracts for the work. Construction would start after council approval of all the contracts for the work, he said.

Baewer said that potential developers of the park now can be shown what the park will look like.

"This is significant for us," he said. Eckert and Fry were out of town Thursday and unavailable for comment.

Coast hit by rain

By The Associated Press

A storm developed Thursday in the Great Basin and spread thundershowers over northern California, Nevada and Oregon. A tornado was spotted near Stockton, Calif.

Cold, wet weather was forecast for Nevada and Utah and parts of Montana.

The storm, centered in Nevada, also produced strong winds—Yucca Flat, Nev., reported gusts of 58 miles an hour. Blowing dust clouds and sand covered some roads in the deserts.

It was cloudy from the Plains to the Great Lakes and as far south as Texas. Light rain was scattered over Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois and thundershowers fell over Missouri, Arkansas and Texas.

It mostly was sunny in the East with some cloudiness from the eastern edge of the Ohio Valley to northern New England.

Temperatures in the Great Lakes region were in the 30s and 40s but the South and Southwest remained in the 80s.

Afternoon temperatures ranged from 88 at Fort Myers, Fla., to 33 at Marquette County Airport in Michigan.

Ken Russell

In less than three years, and with four outstandingly successful films, Ken Russell has become one of the most imaginative and stimulating movie makers of our time.

He is a creator of powerful, yet strange and uncommon love stories. It was Russell's production of D. H. Lawrence's "Women in Love" that firmly established his cinematic reputation. This film was followed by "The Music Lovers," the controversial "The Devils" and most recently his light-hearted and spectacular musical "The Boy Friend."

Now Ken Russell gives you "Savage Messiah," the true story of the haunting relationship between a young French sculptor and a woman twice his age. Set in Paris and London, "Savage Messiah" is yet another example of Russell's unconventional approach to "the films I do best—films about people I believe in."

Orchestra overcomes some technical problems

By Dave Stearns
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

We have come to expect progressively better performances from the University Orchestra. You might say, they are moving out of their hit-or-miss syndrome.

The concert Wednesday night in Shryock Auditorium contained none of the glaring technical problems that have plagued the orchestra in the past, although the ensemble was obviously hampered by its lack of resources.

The evening began with Toch's "Circus," a rather schizoid piece of supposed children's music, reminiscent of Charles Ives. Ambiguously metered passages of even more ambiguous tonality were chaotically sandwiched between circus march passages, giving the pared to the blatantly emotional Giordano aria. Kageff performed this piece well, without as much expression as the other selections, but was aided by the confident, smooth violin obbligato of Concertmaster John Stubbs.

In Verdi's "La Donna E Mobile," from "Rigoletto," Kageff's character was comic, almost buffoonish, in fitting with the role, with the orchestra sparkling away in a guitar-like Viennese-flavored waltz.

But there was little sparkle in Sibelius' Symphony No. 2, which unfortunately occupied the second half of the program. For this composition is ill-suited to the University Orchestra's resources. Undoubtedly, Stroud programmed the piece for educational purposes, as Sibelius is considered a major composer.

However, the brass section, which contains some of the orchestra's strongest musicians, had little to do. One of the redeeming factors of this piece (which to my mind hasn't enough musical content to justify its length) is the lush sound, which is supposed to be provided by the string section. Unfortunately, the University Orchestra doesn't have the large number of violins needed to produce this sound.

Also, Stroud lingered leisurely over many of the passages—an approach that worked well with Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6 last quarter, but made the Sibelius piece dull, especially in the second movement, for the composition unfolds itself gradually enough.

But there were some exquisite moments, such as the folk-like oboe solo in the third movement played by Terry Norman, and the gorgeous theme recapitulation in the last movement, which several audience members were humming on their way out of the auditorium after the concert.

Although the orchestra's technique was reasonably accurate (save for the cello's poor intonation), a majority of the rendition lacked the thick Wagnerian sound needed to sustain listening interest. I found myself thinking about when I would find time to do my laundry and to clean my messy apartment.

Well, at least the Sibelius piece had a cleansing effect on my otherwise lewd thoughts.

A Review

piece a rather grotesque quality—reminding one of James Ensor's eerie painting, "Intrigue."

During these aforementioned chaotic passages, conductor James Stroud and the orchestra waded through with admirable control and concentration. Thus chaos was only in the score—not in the performance.

This infrequently performed piece was a fascinating choice for the program. However, the best moments in the concert belonged to assistant Prof. Burt Kageff, who sang three tenor arias with polished professional skill in an engaging manner.

Kageff's best performance was Giordano's "Un di all'Azzuro" from "Andrea Chenier,"—a touching aria containing great feeling and beautiful poetry. Too bad there was no translation supplied to the audience. In the opera, Andrea Chenier sings this aria to arouse feeling and seriousness in a frivolous socialite. Kageff sang accordingly, aided by the harmonic tension in the aria, and in turn, aroused feeling from his listeners—this one at least. Also, the orchestra was in particularly fine form here, exhibiting fine blend and well controlled tremor.

An English translation would especially have aided in the appreciation of the Mozart aria, "Lass O Freund," for the work of this composer is quite esoteric com-

Celebrity Series to bring Viennese operetta to Shryock

By Dave Stearns
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The nostalgia renaissance in Europe is dusting off old operettas rather than old rock and roll.

Concurring with the revival of Viennese operetta, the Celebrity Series will present "Forever Yours" featuring the Franz Lehar Orchestra with principal singers and dancers from the Vienna State Opera and the Vienna Volksoper. The 60-person company will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday in Shryock Auditorium.

The program contains famous selections from affectionate operettas, such as seven scenes from Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus," six songs from Lehar's "The Merry Widow," three selections from Lehar's "Paganini" in addition to various songs by Sigmund Romberg, Hans Frankowski and Josef Schrammel.

All of these operettas (some may be classified as operas), deal with love—happy, sad, passionate, sentimental—or as music critic M. Jeffery Ott of Ft. Wayne, Ind. wrote, "The themes of any of the great Viennese composers was a confrontation with Cupid's corrupting and confusing arrow."

He described the mood of the company's performance saying: "Imagine if you will, a soft warm summer evening, and in the distance the haunting and enchanting sounds of violins flowing through the night air, tinged with the laughter and gaiety of people enjoying the splendor of an elegant ball."

Persons responsible for such an effect include baritone Claes Jakobson, who has the distinction of playing the first Swedish "Zorba," as well as starring in Verdi's "Aida" opposite Birgit Nilsson;

Elfie Mayerhofer, one of Austria's most celebrated operetta and musical comedy stars and considered the world's greatest living interpreter of Johann Strauss; and choreographer Anna Vaughan, a veteran of the Covent Garden Opera Ballet and the Royal Swedish Ballet—all presided over by conductor Eduard Macku.

Tickets will be available at the Shryock Auditorium box office Saturday night, with public prices at $4, $5 and $6 and student prices at $3, $4 and $5.

Stans denies Vesco charges

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans told a federal court jury Thursday that "on my oath, I never did anything to help Robert Vesco, and I never asked anyone to do anything."

"Did you ever try to fix a case against Robert Vesco because of his contribution of $200,000?" Stans was asked at his trial with onetime Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell on criminal conspiracy charges.

"I certainly did not," he replied. "I never had such a thought."

"Have you yesterday and today testified to the very best of your recollection?"

"That was my intention and I have done so," responded the chief of fund raising for President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

There were two defense mistrial motions during the day over what were interpreted as vague links to individuals who have figured in the Watergate investigation in Washington. Both were denied by Federal Judge Lee P. Gagliardi.

Stans and Mitchell are accused of conspiring to obstruct a Securities and Exchange Commission fraud investigation of Vesco, an international financier, in exchange for the $200,000 cash contribution to the Nixon campaign, then lying to a grand jury in an effort to conceal the deal.

"Did you willfully and knowingly give false information to that grand jury?" Stans was asked by his defense lawyer, Walter Bonner.

"I certainly did not," Stans said. "On my oath, I testified to the facts exactly as I knew them."

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" was Bonner's final question to the witness, duplicating the last question put to Mitchell when he was under direct examination earlier in the trial.

"I am not guilty of these charges, believe me," Stans replied, in an answer similar to Mitchell's.

The government has laid considerable stress on what it called efforts by Mitchell and Stans to conceal the receipt of the Vesco contribution. Stans testified that the only reason for the secrecy was his pledge that, as the donor, Vesco would remain anonymous.

Stans did not get Vesco's $200,000 in $100 bills until April 10, 1972. But he said he accepted it by telephone on April 6, because in a similar prior situation "my attorney said it was legal and proper."

Stans added that he didn't have anyone available on his campaign finance committee to go to New York from Washington on the afternoon of April 6 to pick up the money, and so arranged to have it delivered after the ensuing weekend.

"Isn't it true you didn't want any member of the committee to pick up the money if it wasn't Maurice Stans?" the government asked in cross-examination.

"No, that is not a fact," Stans replied.

Architect plans bill to undercut transit line

CHICAGO (AP)—One of the chief architects of the Regional Transit Authority (RTA) said Thursday he will introduce legislation he says could kill the plan.

At a news conference, House Speaker W. Robert Blair (R-Park Forest) said that his proposal would allow a county board to disconnect itself from the RTA plan before July 1. The proposal also provides that if board members from suburban Cook County or Chicago decide to disconnect from the plan, then the RTA would be dissolved.

"The voters of suburban Cook County and the five collar counties overwhelmingly rejected the proposal to create the RTA," Blair said. "I respect this forceful outpouring."

Black driver wins

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Lew Williams, 26-year-old black driver from Subenville, Ohio, captured Windsor Raceway's "Challenge of Champions" when he won three races during a special Sunday afternoon harness program of 10 races in December.

Williams also had two seconds and one third and beat out Herve Filion, leading driver for 1973, to win a $10,000 automobile.

In a March 19 referendum, voters approved the RTA plan by about 12,000 votes. Voters in Chicago overwhelmingly approved the plan, but suburban residents in Will, Kane, DuPage, McHenry and Lake counties rejected it.

The RTA "does not enjoy the full faith and support of even a convincing majority of the people who live throughout the region," Blair said, adding that "I was greatly surprised by the intensely large negative vote."

Blair was asked if the plan conceivably could destroy the RTA?

He said, "That's quite correct." Besides allowing counties to leave the RTA, Blair's legislation also would:

- Eliminate the authority's power to levy a parking tax.

- Increase the RTA board's size from nine to 21 members.

- Prohibit any carrier from increasing fares before July 1 to receive an RTA operating grant.

Blair added that he "would not abandon my desire to find a solution to the critical mass transit needs of this entire region."

Police stop blacks on street in drastic hunt for slayer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Policemen swept through the streets of San Francisco Thursday, conducting unprecedented searches of black men in a search for the killer or killers of 12 white victims.

One of the first to be stopped, Robert Brooks, said: "I think the mayor is persecuting the black community for the acts of a few crazy dudes."

But police officials reported that although there was some resentment, most persons subjected to searches understood the reason and hoped it would uncover the man Mayor Joseph L. Alioto described as "a mad killer."

Brooks, a 23-year-old security guard, was stopped at a bus stop only minutes after Alioto announced the stop-and-search procedure as "an extraordinary measure."

"If the killings continue, some other people are talking about retaliation against blacks," said Brooks, who wore a knit cap in the police sketch of the suspect. "That will be too bad. The thing is bad enough now."

Brooks said officers asked him if he had any first-hand information about the case, code-named "Zebra" after the police radio channel used in the investigation.

"I told them that all I knew about the killings was what I read in the newspapers and saw on television," he said.

Fraternity invites women to join

Women majoring in marketing can now be invited into Pi Sigma Epsilon, national professional fraternity in marketing, sales management and selling.

The vote to open the ranks to women was taken at the fraternity's national convention.

Alpha Beta chapter, the fraternity's organization at SIU-C, is currently engaged in its pledging program and is reported to be rushing three of the marketing department's top-ranking women students.

In announcing the tactic Wednesday night, Alioto appealed to the black community to cooperate. He said the killings were not a racial issue and that officers simply would question persons who resembled a composite picture of a slender, black, mustachioed man made from witnesses' descriptions.

"We have a mad killer loose in the city, simply killing people at random," Alioto said. "There is no motive and no sense."

Concert series memberships available only until Saturday

Memberships for a series of concerts sponsored by Southern Illinois Concerts will be on sale until 1 p.m. Saturday at Phillips in the Mardale Shopping Center.

The tickets are for three concerts to be presented during 1974 and 1975. Because tickets won't be sold before the concerts, purchasing a membership will be the only way to attend the concerts.

The main attraction of the series will be a concert given by Richard Tucker, tenor with the New York Metropolitan Opera, in April, 1975.

The first concert of the series will be given by James Dick, 30-year-old pianist and winner of several international piano competitions. Dick will perform in October, 1974.

The remaining concert will be performed in January, 1975 by One Third Ninth, a piano trio from Canada, featuring piano, cello and violin.

Membership prices are $12 for adults; $6 for high school, undergraduate or graduate students; and $30 for family including all children.

For more information about the concert series telephone 549-1424 or 549-1413.

Boogie down Friday night; concert dance section open

By Michael Hawley
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

For the first time in the SIU Arena's history, a special section will be set aside "for those who wish to boogie" at Friday's Eddie Kendricks-Al Wilson concert, according to Bill Searcy, assistant manager of the Arena.

"This is an attempt to offer a place for those who feel they have to boogie during a concert. This type of music lends itself to that kind of thing, so those who want to dance won't interfere with those people who just want to watch the show," Searcy said.

Searcy also said that if it is successful, the Arena will consider doing the same thing at similar shows in the future which do not appear will be sell-outs. The section which will be set aside for the concert will be the bleachers on the Arena's south concourse.

Although ticket sales have been picking up, Searcy said that there are still "all kinds of seats available. Ticket prices for the Kendricks-Wilson concert are $3, $4 and $4.50 with a 50-cent discount on the top two prices for SIU students.

Tickets will be on sale at the central box office in the Student Center through noon Friday, and until 5 p.m. at the Arena. Tickets will go on sale again at the Arena at 7 p.m. Doors will open at 8 p.m. for the concert which will begin at 9.

Starting off the show will be Al Wilson and his five-piece band. Wilson attained national popularity after his single "Show and Tell" remained on the charts for more than 20 weeks. Wilson will be followed by Eddie Kendricks and his eight-piece band. Kendricks is known for having been lead tenor with the Temptations for 11 years, and is now a solo act performing his recent hits, "Keep on Truckin'" and "Boogie Down."

Report claims marijuana decreases male fertility

BOSTON (AP)—Men who smoke large amounts of marijuana run the risk of decreasing their fertility, according to a report coauthored by noted sex researcher William H. Masters.

The report, published in the New England Journal of Medicine, was based on the work of researchers at the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation in St. Louis, headed by Masters.

They tested 20 men who smoked from five to 18 "joints" a week for 18 months or longer and found that 35 per cent had noticeable decreased sperm counts.

They also found that blood levels of the sex hormone testosterone averaged 44 per cent lower in the drug users than nonusers, and that two of the chronic smokers were impotent "apparently in association with marijuana use."

The report noted that one of these men returned to normal sexuality within two months after he discontinued marijuana use, but the other declined to give up the drug.

Masters coauthored the survey along with Drs. Robert Kolodny, Gelson Toro, and Robert M. Kolodner.

The study warned that the results should be taken cautiously because of the small size of the sample, lack of data on the potency of the marijuana and because it was impossible to measure hormone levels and sperm counts of the men before they took up the drug.

The researchers worked with men 18 to 28 years old. They were compared with 20 familiarly healthy men of the same age who did not use the drug.

The study said the depressive effects of heavy marijuana use on both sperm count and testosterone levels seemed directly related to the amount of marijuana used. Subjects averaging more than 10 marijuana cigarettes weekly had significantly lower testosterone than less chronic users.

The male hormone finding is of particular significance, the researchers said, because numerous other research findings indicate that a lack of testosterone at critical points in the development of a male fetus can cause sex organs to develop improperly and later cause permanent hormone imbalance in the male offspring.

The researchers said it would be "judicious" for women to avoid marijuana during the first three months of pregnancy since it has been shown that marijuana ingredients can pass from the mother to the fetus.

Percy 'clarifies' statements, denies call for resignation

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Charles Percy said Thursday it was false to construe comments he made earlier to mean that he thinks President Nixon should resign.

At a news conference Wednesday, Percy was asked if it would be better for the Republican Party if Nixon resigned.

"... Probably so," Percy replied, "but this is a decision entirely in the President's hands... It will probably clarify the issue and politically be somewhat of an advantage to the party and, possibly, the country, but this is a decision that the President has already made and he has no intention of following any course other than the present impeachment proceedings which will give him a chance to prove his innocence..."

Through a spokesman, Percy said, he and many in Congress feel that the impeachment route is preferred because it could provide a clear-cut conclusion of innocence of guilt.

African Day Celebration set; festivities include fashion

By Carl Flowers
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Phillip Palmer heads a distinguished guest list for the SIU African Day Celebration scheduled Saturday, April 27, Hissan Sissay announced.

Sissay, president of the African Students Association (ASU), said Palmer will speak at the commemoration of the birth of the Organization of African Unity (OAU).

Palmer, Sierra Leone's ambassador to the United States, will speak on the "Organization of African Unity-Ten Year's After."

In addition to Palmer, Dr. Gossie Hudson, chairman of the Social Sciences Department at Lincoln University will give a historical analysis of United States and African relations.

The celebration, Sissay said, is held to commemorate the day in 1963 when African nations met in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia to map out a framework of continental unity and cooperation that is symbolized by the OAU.

Sissay said the celebration attempts to bring the progress and problems of the Africans to the public's attention. Impressive political and economic progress has been made, Sissay said, but he believes a lot of problems remain. Included among these are pockets of colonialism, white minority rule in South Africa, and the African liberation struggle, Sissay said.

Other festivities scheduled for the celebration to be held at the University City complex on Wall St., will include a dinner, an African fashion show and a dance with music provided by the Soulphonics Band.

The program is being jointly sponsored by the African Student Association, African Studies Committee, Black Affairs Council, Black Togetherness Organization, International Office and the International Students Council.

For more information contact Hissan Sissay at 457-2563 (after 5 p.m.).

Navy suspends system to subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yielding to opposition, the Navy has suspended development of Project Sanguine a vast underground system for sending emergency messages to missile-firing submarines.

Pentagon sources said the action probably would kill the project.

The Navy announced Thursday that research and development work on Project Sanguine will be suspended for the last 2½ months of Fiscal Year 1974, which ends June 30.

Although the formal statement said further action will be determined by congressional action on the Fiscal Year 1975 budget, Pentagon sources said they believe "this is the axe."

Curbs suggested on Atlantic drilling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The President's Council on Environmental Quality said Thursday that any new offshore oil development should avoid the Atlantic coasts of Florida, Georgia, and Long Island, and the Gulf of Alaska, where the environmental risks would be high.

Council Chairman Russell W. Peterson admitted the report would tend to focus attention instead upon areas off New England and Chesapeake Bay where, the council said, environmental risks would be lower.

The report submitted to President Nixon Thursday backed off from its apparent approval of new offshore development in an earlier draft made public a week ago.

In that draft, the council concluded that offshore oil leasing on the Atlantic Coast and the Gulf of Alaska "can be undertaken in these waters under carefully stipulated and controlled conditions, provided that the federal government is guided by and committed to" environmental protection.

The final report drew no direct conclusion that drilling could take place safely.

Instead, it concluded only that if those waters are leased, the program "must be conducted" under careful controls and environmental protection.

Peterson said the change was simply an editorial correction to make clearer what the council originally meant.

No major changes appeared in the recommendation of the council as earlier reported.

These recommendations included:

—Postponement of leasing in areas threatened by earthquakes, tidal waves and severe storms, clearly meaning the Gulf of Alaska and the Atlantic waters off Georgia and Florida.

Spaghetti-eating champ uses prize money for dieting plan

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Mike Aprile says setting a world spaghetti-eating record started him on an eating binge that pushed his weight up to 478 pounds.

So, instead of taking a trip to Rome, he had to use his $1,300 prize for a hospital dieting program.

"I was eating myself into the grave," Aprile, 23, said Thursday at Tampa Memorial Hospital. "It was suicide by the easy installment program. I just made up my mind to lose weight and here I am... hungry but determined."

Last December, the robust cab driver consumed more than 6½ pounds of spaghetti at one sitting to capture the title, which will be included in the next edition of the Guinness Book of World Records.

The previous record was a mere 2.1 pounds, set in 1970 by Tom Cresci at Dino's Restaurant in San Diego.

He blames the contest for fouling up his digestive system.

"Right after it, I was hungry three times as much. I started gobbling up things left and right."

Jail preacher serves Lord and 25 years

DUNDEE, Mich. (AP)—"If you're not serving God, you're serving Satan," John McClish intoned to a small congregation at Calvary Baptist church. "Face the fact. There's no in between."

McClish isn't just serving the Lord. He's also serving 25 years for bank robbery at the federal prison in nearby Milan.

After four years, the 22-year-old from Des Moines, Iowa, says he has been saved, and has persuaded the warden to let him out evenings to preach at the church.

"God saved me from the rotten lust of the world and set me on a rock," McClish told the congregation this week. "But there is more to Christianity than being saved. Jesus wants to use us. When you wake up in the morning, your first thought should be: 'What can I do for God?'"

On April 9, 1970, McClish entered the home of the president of the Decatur County State Bank in Leon, Iowa. He forced the man to take him to the bank, from which he took $48,000. But he was soon tracked down and jailed in Milan.

McClish says he saw the light on Christmas Eve, 1971 when he was visited by the Rev. Ronald Hodge of Ypsilanti. He decided to become a preacher. He wants to be an evangelist should his request for parole be granted.

"I want to get God's people steamed up, to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ," he says. "When a man goes through life searching—when a man does anything against the law—he is searching for fulfillment, searching for the freedom that Jesus Christ can give him."

McClish persuaded prison officials to let him visit the church this week, but they assigned prison guard Leslie Sapsford to accompany him.

Sapsford did just that—he brought along his trumpet and played, "My Savior's Love."

"Two hours later I went home and had a steak," Aprile said.

Within six weeks, Aprile said he added 53 pounds to his already rotund 425-pound frame. His waistline expanded to 70 inches. At 5 foot 8, that made his girth greater than his height.

After consulting a doctor, who warned he was eating himself to death, Aprile decided to spend his prize money learning not to eat. In February he entered the hospital for a three-month stay.

He is on a high protein diet, restricted to 400 calories a day, no carbohydrates and plenty of water and exercise.

"I'm down to 404 pounds today," says Aprile, proud of his accomplishment. His goal is a trim 220—if he can avoid temptation.

At Easter he visited a relative and devoured five pounds of goat meat and a huge portion of his Uncle Jimmy's homemade sausage.

"It's a fight," he admitted. "I slip a little."

"THE JAIL"

"Candidly exploring most aspects of jail life, THE JAIL is fair and at the same time provocative." —New York Times

The Jail was filmed during the spring and summer of 1972 in the San Francisco County Jail. Because the filmmakers had the full cooperation of the newly-elected sheriff, no restrictions were placed on them. They were allowed to film when and where they wanted.

THE JAIL succeeds in conveying a vivid sense of the day-to-day prison experience. Frank discussions with staff and inmates define the problems common to most prisons, and the film is particularly effective in examining the sexual pressures and conflicts that charge the atmosphere of the jail. The depiction of the "queen deck," where homosexuals are segregated, is straightforward without ever being sensational.

Stock market shows rise for third day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market tiptoed through a mine field of bad economic news Thursday and emerged with its third consecutive advance.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose 2.51 to 869.62, and gainers outnumbered losers 713 to 642 among the 1,770 issues changing hands on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board volume was light, at 12.47 million shares.

Brokers said the narrowness of the gain and the slow pace of trading indicated many investors were still hesitant about a broad range of economic prospects.

Tropicana Products, down a 1 1/2%, was the Big Board's most active stock, with a 203,600-share block trading at 14 1/4. An agreement was reached a few days ago for Kellogg Co. to acquire Tropicana in an exchange of stock.

Soprano recital to be held Sunday

Soprano Charlotte Dunn will present her student recital at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Old Baptist Foundation Chapel.

Accompanied by Cheryl Nicolaidis, Ms. Dunn will perform works by Robert Schumann, Samuel Barber and Charles Ives.

The recital will be free and open to the public.

Fundraising walks set

Walkathons to raise funds for March of Dimes and Archway School are scheduled for Saturday and Monday.

The Saturday event, sponsored by the March of Dimes in conjunction with Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, will begin with registration from 8 to 9 a.m. at Lewis School. The 17-mile walk is to raise funds to help fight birth defects and to aid children already afflicted. Anyone may participate in the walk.

The March of Dimes will provide refreshments along the route.

Sponsor forms may be picked up at the Phi Kappa Tau house or interested persons may call 549-3191.

The Monday walkathon is to raise funds to help finance a new Archway School building.

Registration for the walk will be from 7 to 8 a.m. Persons who wish to walk should pick up sponsor booklets at the YMCA, Bleyer's Sport Mart, Bleyer's Westown, Squire Shop Ltd., Caru's Mens' Shop, J.C. Penney's, Archway School or on campus at the Instructional Materials Center at Washington Square.

Persons who wish to sponsor a walker should call 549-4442. A 16-mile route has been mapped out between Carbondale and Murphysboro for the walkathon.

Archway is a school for multiple handicapped children and has grown from about 20 to 53 students. Sponsors of the non-profit organization feel the new building is necessary to continue to offer adequate education services to children with learning or behavior problems, said Mardee Thomas, coordinator of the walk.

The walkathon is among the first in a series of events scheduled to raise money for the school building.

Up in the hills

Wilson Lindauer and other cast members in a scene from Calipre Stage production, "From These Sterile Hills." The production to be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

'From These Sterile Hills' bears resemblance to name

By Julie Titone
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The art of communicating something without anyone on stage actually having to say it—that's the essence of good theater. That art is lacking in Bill Parker's "From These Sterile Hills," this weekend's Calipre Stage production.

Parker had a good idea and a pretty good cast as he directed his own work. From memories of his Southern Illinois childhood, Parker created a boy who, as a man, goes back to the little town of Elco to week whoring. And there is the mother, a faithful school marm. And gossiping townfolk and a local "bad girl" who is good at heart and a boisterous, chubby aunt and...

The problems are mainly with the characters and not the actors, who do their best to bring out the glimmers of individuality that show through. Wilson Lindauer, as the Rev. John Kolter and Karen Mitchell as Aunt Vern add life to the play with their individual styles of ranting.

Tom Eichelberger as the boy Tim and Pat Taylor as his mother almost display a deep relationship in the flashbacks, but again the stilted characters—and a lack of subtlety in their lines and expressions—get in the way.

Parker's use of two narrators works rather effectively. Kevin Purcell serves as the narrator who tried to keep away the memories and John Kunik is the one who fought to hold onto them.

The supporting cast, consisting of Roger Lautt, Paula Pachlarz, Karen Booth, Colleen Benning, Ann Ellerbrook and Martin Heller was highlighted by Ellerbrook and Benning in their portrayal of catty teenagers.

The slides of the Elco area and singing were used effectively to set the mood of the play.

But, the soap opera-ish lines get in the way. Why did Parker write lines like "Daddy, don't damn me, love me!" and "If you're gonna love me, you gotta run the risk of bein' hurt"? Couldn't he just show us? And by the way—did they really use the word "horny" 25 years ago.

"From These Sterile Hills" will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday on the Calipre Stage in the Communications Building. Admission is $1.50.

Humanities fellowships open

The National Endowment for the Humanities has announced that fellowships are available for 1975-76 for persons who have completed their formal, professional training.

Areas included in the awards are history, literature, social sciences with humanistic interests, language, jurisprudence, philosophy, religion and the practice of the arts.

Deadlines for application are June 17 and Oct. 15. For application materials, contact the Division of Fellowships, National Endowment for the Humanities, 806 15th St., N.W., Washington, D.C., 20506. For more information, contact the Graduate School, Woody Hall room 228 B.

attend his father's funeral and recalls his past. What results is a kind of "Spoon River Anthology" moved a few hundred miles south. The problem is—sorry, Edgar Lee Masters—this version has a bit too much of "Peyton Place" mixed in.

Parker's characters are not developed. There is a fire-and-brimstone preacher, the boy's father, who spends six days of the

Saxbe's talk on daughter irks Hearst

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Randolph A. Hearst said Thursday he was thankful the fate of his kidnaped daughter was in the hands of police and the FBI and called the U.S. attorney general "irresponsible" for branding her a common criminal.

Hearst, editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner, said as far as he is concerned, the FBI has "a free hand to do whatever they want" in their search for Patricia and the Symbionese Liberation Army, which claims to have kidnaped her 2½ months ago.

Hearst made his comments as FBI Director Clarence M. Kelly also took exception to a statement by U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe that Miss Hearst appeared to be a willing participant in a Maday bank robbery by members of the SLA. Asked about Saxbe's statement, Kelly told a meeting of newspaper editors:

"We will be guided by the facts and not by any opinion." He said the FBI and the U.S. attorney's office in San Francisco were pursuing the case on the assumption that Patricia "is the victim of pressure or coercion."

Soulful stroll may be hazardous to health

By D. Wesley Smith
Student Writer

WARNING!! Strutting through Thompson Woods may be hazardous to your head; if not your health! No, the danger doesn't come from aerial bombardment, although a fertilized head of hair isn't exactly in keeping with the "Dry Look." The real danger, according to Charles Meyers, comes from a one-two combination of old, decaying trees and the high-powered gusts of spring.

Meyers, whose forestry classes are studying the condition of Thompson Woods, is afraid someone's soulful stroll into campus nature may end abruptly with an oak tree to the head.

"I just hope the winds don't blow too hard because someone going through the woods may have a tree bonk on their head," Meyers remarked.

"I really think the safety situation in the woods is something to be concerned about," Meyers said. "The woods are heavily travelled and with these high winds it's not the safest place in the world."

"That's one of the best patches of poison ivy in the United States," he stated. "It is really thick in there and it causes problems with my students using the woods."

Meyers also had some suggestions for improving Thompson Woods and providing for greater utilization.

"I realize it isn't a simple matter and the university can only do certain things with the woods but maybe they should think about clearing some of those fallen trees out. Just to leave old logs in there is littering, but that's just my own individual opinion and I just work here," Meyers said.

"However, I do think they could probably go in there and get some of the dangerous trees out and spray for poison ivy somehow," he suggested. "It's not exactly a pristine wilderness in there now, you don't find too many cement sidewalks in a natural forest, and by cleaning out some dead trees, putting in some benches, the woods would have a lot more utility for people."

"The woods is in a late stage of its life cycle and maybe it's time we took a look at its health," Meyers added.

Craft exhibit open to public

The sixth annual Jackson County Town and Country Amateur Arts and Crafts Exhibit will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The exhibit will offer amateur craftsmen the opportunity to display and enter their work in competition. Painting, metalwork, weaving, macrame, tie-dying and other crafts have been included in previous exhibits.

The exhibit will be held in the New Jackson County Cooperative Extension Building, located two miles north of Murphysboro on Route 13 and one mile west on the Ava Blacktop. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend.

Mathematician to speak Friday

Hungarian mathematician Paul Erdos will give a lecture on number theory at 3 p.m. Friday in Faner Hall 1005.

Erdos, described as "the world's most traveled mathematician," will be visiting the SIU mathematics department during his tour of U.S. campuses. He is a frequent lecturer at International Congress of Mathematics sessions and has won the American Mathematical Society's Steele Prize in number theory.

The lecture will be open to the public free of charge.

SIU tennis team set for 3 matches

By Bruce Shapin
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

The SIU tennis team will be busy this weekend, with action beginning at 2 p.m. Friday, when the Salukis take on Memphis State on the university courts.

The Salukis will return to the courts Saturday to play Missouri at 9 a.m., followed by Oklahoma State at 2 p.m.

Wayne Cowley is expected to play this weekend after missing the Oklahoma City tennis tournament, last weekend. Cowley has been bothered by tennis elbow, but is expected to play the No. 2 singles and No. one doubles position this weekend.

The Salukis will be making their second appearance of the year

Netters still looking for first victory

By Kenneth Pilarski
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

The SIU women's varsity tennis team failed to capture that elusive first win of the season as Southeast Missouri State dealt the women netters their sixth straight loss 15-4.

Coach Sally Cotton is optimistic that the teams' first win of the season is just around the corner. Ms. Cotton is hoping for at least one win when SIU takes on Principia and Eastern Illinois University Saturday in two-dual meets.

"We should beat Eastern and have a pretty good chance to defeat Principia," she said. "Principia has a strong team, but for the first time we'll have all our top people together and should be equal to them."

Against Missouri, the women netters gave indications that their game is finally starting to come together. "The game scores were a lot better than they have been," Ms. Cotton said.

Robbie Nelson who has been playing well all season racked up her third win of the season against one loss. Ms. Nelson won her match in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Joan Lugosi captured her first win of the season, defeating Missouri's Sharon Brink, 6-1, 6-1. Sandy Schenck also picked up her first win as she downed Barb Brandt in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. The only other win for SIU came in the No. 1 doubles match as Simoski and Lugosi teamed up to defeat Chris Graves and Shron Brink in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

SIU entry takes third in decathlon

LAWRENCE—Bill Hancock finished with 7,419 points, good enough for third place in the decathlon competition held Wednesday and Thursday at the Kansas Relays.

Bruce Jenner, who attended Graceland College and was a member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic team, scored 8,240 points for first place. Jeff Bennett, the 1972 Olympic Bronze Medal winner in the decathlon, finished second with 7,339 points.

"Bill did an outstanding job against quality competition. It's no disgrace to lose to Jenner and Bennett," said Saluki Coach Lew Hartog.

Hancock ran a 14.7 in the 110-meter high hurdles to tie for first place; vaulted 13-4 for seventh place; threw the javelin 157-2 1/2 feet for 11th place; tossed the discus 133-10 for fourth place; and ran 4:58.1 in the 1500-meter to finish in 11th place.

Hancock's 7,419 decathlon total is a personal high. He scored 7,313 points to win last year's decathlon.

Qualifying times will be held Friday in the track and field competition of the relays with the finals being held Saturday afternoon.

against the Memphis State Tigers as they defeated them 7-2, in Memphis April 6. The Tigers have several fine players in Phil Chamberlain and Keith West. In the first meeting between these two teams the Salukis Dane Petchul beat Chamberlain 6-0, 6-2, while Cowley lost to West 6-3, 7-6.

Missouri comes into to town with an 8-7 record. Missouri will play Tres Mitchell 10-4, and Rick Flach at the No.1 and 2 positions.

Oklahoma State will take on the Salukis in the last match of the weekend, but this could very well be the best of the three. "Oklahoma State is the toughest team we will meet so far," said coach Dick LeFevre.

Mike Collins, the 11th ranked player in Great Britain, has been playing well this year including victory over Ross Aalker, the U.S. clay court champion. Other players for Oklahoma State are Gary Drumm, Ireland's 21-and-under champion, and Glen Nakazawa.

After this weekend, the Salukis will rest until Thursday when they take on 13th ranked Tennessee at home.

Errors seal SIU's fate in softball

By Kenneth Pilarski
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Too many errors spelled disaster for the SIU women's varsity softball team as they committed eight and were routed by Southeast Missouri State 14-3 Thursday afternoon.

The Salukiettes were out to revenge a 14-1 loss at the hands of Missouri in the opening game of the season. In that game SIU made six errors. Thursday's loss dropped the Salukiette record to 2-2.

Missouri opened the game by scoring three runs off losing pitcher Cathy Lies. The loss was her first of the season against one win. SIU came back in the bottom half of the first to score two runs on three hits.

Freshman Debbie Frischkorn opened the inning with a single. She moved to second after a walk to junior Nancy Rist. Senior Annette Griffin, the team's leading hitter with a .777 average, doubled, driving in Frischkorn. After a strikeout, senior Vicki King hit into a fielders choice, driving in Rist with the second run of the inning.

That was the last scoring the Salukiettes would do until the bottom half of the seventh. Freshman Kathy Vondrasek, replacing rightfielder Lisa Millar led off the seventh with a home run to left field.

A hoped-for rally soon died as Sue Hinrichsen grounded out to short and Frischkorn flied to left. Rist followed with a single, but Griffin flied to left to end the game.

SIU threatened to score in both the third and fifth innings after two were out, but couldn't produce. In the third, Rist led off striking out and Griffin popped out to second.

Then Lies singled and King followed with a single, advancing Lies to second, but Anderson struck out to end the inning.

In the fifth inning, Frischkorn and Rist started the inning by flying out to center and left field respectively. Griffin followed with a base hit, but was thrown out trying to score on a hit by Lies.

Southeast Missouri pounded out 18 hits and scored in every inning. Missouri produced three runs in each of the first three innings, scored one each in the fourth, fifth and sixth and put two runs across in the seventh.

SIU had difficulty handling Missouri's pitching and was caught swinging at some bad pitches. Missouri's pitcher struck out five and walked only one. SIU's Lies had a bit of a control problem and was relieved after five innings in favor of King. Lies moved to first base.

The Salukiettes will be back in action Saturday as they travel to Dekalb for a doubleheader with Northern Illinois University. The second team is also scheduled to play following the doubleheader.

with a sacrifice fly and designated-hitter Duke Sims ripped a run-scoring double over first base.

Gene Michael's double made it 3-0 and rough on Diego Sequi, who walked Jim Roy White before catcher Mike Hegon unloaded a three-run homer.

Medich, 2-1, lost his bid for a shutout when Bernie Carbo hit his second homer of the season with two out in the ninth.

At New York Doc Medich pitched a four-hitter and the Yankees scored six runs in the sixth inning for a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Boston's Rick Wise blanked the Yankees on four hits until the sixth when Bobby Murcer's leadoff single and on Blomberg's second double of the game touched off the big inning.

Cubs score win over Pirates

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Williams' sacrifice fly, which produced an unearned run in the first inning, and rookie Ken Frailing's steady pitching carried the Chicago Cubs to 1-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday.

In other games Thursday afternoon the Montreal Expos defeated the New York Mets, 8-5, and the New York Yankees downed the Boston Red Sox.

Rick Monday singled off Pittsburgh's Jim Rooker, 0-1, in the first and moved to third when Jerry Morales singled and second baseman Rennie Stennett committed an error on the throw in.

Williams then scored Monday with his sacrifice fly.

Frailing, 2-0, yielded seven hits but stranded 10 Pittsburgh runners in seven innings before Ray Burris took over and completed the shutout.

At Montreal, Jim Cox drove in four runs with a single and his first major league home run to lead the Expos to a 8-5 victory over the Mets, stretching the New York team's losing streak to seven games.

Cox hit a two-run single to cap a four-run rally in the first and provided the Expos with their winning margin with a two-run homer in the third.

The Saluki baseball team goes for wins No. 15 and 16 Friday when it takes on the Indiana State Sycamores in a 1 p.m. doubleheader at Abe Martin Field. SIU's consecutive win record is 19 games.

SIU's 15-hit showing against Washington Wednesday boosted the team batting average to .339. The Salukis have two individuals hitting over the .400 mark and six who are batting over .300.

John Hoscheidt has moved ahead of Steve Shartzler in the batting derby with his .421 average. Shartzler is close behind with .419.

Claude Crockett is next with .370; Jim Locascio, .368; Bert Newman, .368; Mike Wilbins, .360; Jim Reeves, .333; and Stan Mann, .313.

The Sycamores have a 7-10 record and are hitting .254 as a team. Leading hitters for Indiana State are catcher Mike Minger (.357), and second baseman Bill Pierce (.327).

Lefthander Mike Stark (1-1), will pitch the first game for the Sycamores. Stark has a 1.39 ERA. Tony Grubb, a righty, will pitch the second game for Indiana State. Brubb has a 3.00 ERA and has lost his only decision.

Senior Jim Bokelmann will pitch the first game for SIU. Bokelmann (4-1) threw a one-hit shutout his last time out against Louisville. Saluki Coach "Itchy" Jones has not announced the pitcher for the second game.

SIU to face Sycamores in Friday doubleheader

Bucks tip Bulls, 113-111

CHICAGO (AP)—Kareem Abdul-Jabbar poured in 44 points but the Milwaukee Bucks had to turn back a desperation fourth-quarter rally Thursday night to defeat the Chicago Bulls 113-111 in a National Basketball Association final playoff.

The Bucks led by as many as 20 points at 77-57 early in the third quarter before the Bulls made a run.

With Milwaukee leading 93-77 early in the fourth quarter, Chet Walker and Rick Adelman took charge of the Bull offense.

The Bulls moved to within three points twice, at 94-91 and again at 104-101 but never could overcome the Bucks.

Bob Love scored the Bulls final basket with three seconds left to cut Milwaukee's final lead to two points.

The victory was the second straight for the Bucks in the best-of-seven series.

Game No. 3 will be played in Milwaukee Saturday afternoon and the fourth game is scheduled Monday night.

SIU golfers win dual meet

The SIU golf team defeated Southeast Missouri State 528 to 544 in a dual meet at the Crab Orchard Country Club.

Tournament medalist Brad Miller, fired a 70 for SIU.

Sean Murphy shot a 73 for the Salukis and Larry Giaccone has a 75. A 73 was low score for Southeast Missouri.

SIU Coach Lynn Holder said he was a little disappointed with the scores of some of his previous leaders, but commended the play of Miller.

Weaver signs 2 fullbacks

Two All-State football players have signed national letters of intent with SIU football coach Doug Weaver Wednesday, to bring the number of new football recruits to 20.

Joe Holtgrewe, a fullback from the championship Bellevue West team, and Mike O'Connell, a fullback from Decatur St. Teresa will both be joining Weaver and his team this summer.

Holtgrewe gained over 1,200 yards his senior season while leading his team to a Southwestern Conference title in football.

O'Connell led his team in winning 27 of their last 28 games and picked up 3,374 yards in the process. O'Connell averaged over nine yards per carry during his prep career.
