SIU Plans Yeats Fete In Spring

Southern plans a year-long Yeats Festival, starting this spring, in recognition of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the celebrated Irish poet, of the celebrated Iris William Butler Yeats.

Volume 46

William Butler Yeats.

A committee, headed by Ralph W. Bushee, rare books librarian in the Morris Library, has been appointed to develop a series of special events featuring lectures by Yeats scholars and persons who knew the poet, films, exhibits, musical and theatrical performances. performances.

The University Press will publish one or more books in commemoration of the anniversary.

Already scheduled are a lecture on Yeats by Harry T. lecture on Yeats by Harry T. Moore, professor of English and an authority on the Irish literary school, who will set the stage for the events to come; a series of public lectures by Liam D. Bergin, editor of The Nationalist, a newspaper in Carlow Ireland newspaper in Carlow, Ireland, who will join the Journalism Department as a visiting professor at the beginning of the spring quarter; and a week's visit May 2-9 by Thomas Kinsella, modern Irish poet. Other members of the committee are Moore; Ralph E. McCoy, Christian Moe, Vernon Sternberg, H.R. Long, Robert D. Faner, and Burnett D. Faner, and Burnett Shryock, all faculty members.

Music Festival Slated in Arena

For the first time, Music Under the Stars, annual spring music festival at SIU, will be held under a roof in the held under a roof — in the new Arena, according to Robert Kingsbury, festival chairman.

Date has been set for May 8, with the public performance to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Elementary and high school choruses, high school bands and orchestras of Southern Illinois will participate.

One of the highlights the event is the presentation of the Honored Music Award given annually to a dis-tinguished area musician by the SIU Department of Music

The festival is a regional forerunner of the annual Chi-cagoland Music Festival and during daytime auditions regional winners in several phases of music will be selected for participation in the Chicago competition.

SPEAKER - Don Inde. assistant professor of philosophy, will discuss "Students and Revolutions" at the regular Plan A lecture today. The program will be at 3 p.m. in the Plan A House, 801 S. Forest Ave.

Inefficiency Is Price Of State Patronage

By Sen. Paul Simon

My phone—like that of all legislators—has been busy in recent weeks with people call-ing to complain that they have not received their license plates yet. Many are irate, pointing out that they sent their application and money in weeks earlier.

"I have the cancelled check and no license plates," one man complained.

The reason for the delay is The reason for the delay is not that the new Secretary of State, Paul Powell, is not trying to do a good job. He and the people on his staff are bending every effort to get the plates to the state's automobile users as rapidly as mostible. as possible.

The real remon for the delay is the system we have in Illinois which involves an almost complete turnover in personnel in the office of Secretary of State when there is a change in political parties. The result has been new personnel who are not able to who were experienced and know the task a little better. This latter group is no longer working because they happen to belong to the "wrong"

By next year the situation will be much improved—and perhaps by then the lesson will have been forgotten.

have been forgotten.

The lesson is simply that there is no reason why in this office and in many others we should change personnel when a new party takes power. If people can do a good job, they should have the job, and if they can't they should not have it. Employment on a political basis for this kind of job has largely disappeared job has largely disappeared from most states, but in Illi-nois we still hold on to this

The result is that the primary goal of both political parties in Illinois is jobs. Issues and morality are secondary considerations.

So long as patronage dom-inates Illinois politics, the defects in our state govern-mental structure will be much more serious than license plates coming late.

One of these years either scandal or leadership by the news media will force Illinois to face up to this issue in a major way. In the mean-time we can approach the problem and make small im-provements, until that major effort takes place.

In this session two of those In this session two of those smaller—but important—efforts are to permit counties with a population of more than 100,000 to place the sheriff's deputies on civil service, and the move to make the state superintendent of public instruction an appointive officer.

Two measures have been in-troduced for the sheriffs, one by Rep. John Houlihan, Democrat of Park Forest, and the other by Sen. Bert Rossander, Republican of Rockford. It is generally a valid assumption that we are not going to have good county police forces until we get them under civil service. There can be exceptions to that general rule, but the truth generally applies.

And in the field of education, it must be increasingly clear that partisan politics will not provide the kind of leadership we need.

If either of these measure can pass this session it will be a victory, and then I hope we can go on to larger vic-tories, employing more and more of our state employees on merit rather than politics.

A Puzzle for Science: Why We're Different

Copley News Service It doesn't take scientists to tell us that there are a lot of differences among people. But, a recent conference on human variations sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences brought out some interesting facts about these differences. It also found that it is difficult to know whether the differences are inherited or acquired.

Perhaps you have felt that people who hate to sat the things you like are just being perverse.

But, it turns out, at least some of these strong likes and dislikes are physiological. Even guinea pigs respond with different pulse rates to show their individualized reactions to various items of diet.

Some foods that agree with most people are so toxic to others that even eating a small quantity of them may be dangerous. Such differences o not depend on tempera-ment but on basic biochemical and anatomic distinctions.

Blood is highly individualis-Blood is highly individualis- reared if the control of the control portions of blood serum also contain variable and distinctive characteristics. The dif-ferences lie in proteins that are combined with fat. Presumably these differ-ences are inherited. But there are other differences that certainly are not.

tainly are not.

For instance genetics will not explain why there is a statistical difference in the relationship of thigh bones to height between people born in the first quarter of this century and those born in the century and those born in the second quarter.

Climate has something to do with differences. It has been generally observed that people who live in the tropics tend to be lighter in weight and shorter in stature than people of the temperate zones. They also have longer limbs. It would be natural to guess that this was so because of evolution—that this kind of a physique had survival value.

But it turns out that American children brought up in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, fed and reared in the American manner, are lighter in build, shorter and have slenderer calves than similar children in the United States. Both bones and soft tissue apparently are modified by climate. can children brought up in Rio

U.S. Students In Venezuela Called 'Spies'

Copley News Service

CARACAS, Venezuela—U.S. exchange students attending Caracas' Communist - infiltrated Central University have to devote as much time to diplomacy and patience as to economics and literature.

The Communist-controlled Assembly of Resident Students recently declared U.S. men students there "personas non grata" as a symbolic protest against a recent U.S. Senate subcommittee report on com-munism in Latin American schools.

The report said that "neither political tactics nor other means of combating the Communist penetration in the universities have had much success" in Venezuela.

While the U.S. students had nothing to do with the report and the U.S. Embassy declared the report did not reflect U.S. official policy, Venezuelan Communist students de-nounced the American stu-dents as "CIA card-carrying spies."

The irony of the situation is that the American students living in two Central University men's dormitories are "well liked" by the dorms' residents, according to one of residences' administrators. While the students are majoring in everything from economics to drama, much of economics to drama, much or their time is spent in demon-strating to their Venezuelan classmates that they are not secret agents and that many Venezuelan ideas about the United States are mistaken.

IRVING DILLIARD

Chicago's American

Ripping Ku Klux Klan's Mask

Should the House un-American activities committee take the masks from the faces of the Ku Klux Klan? One of the most promising young members of the House of Representatives in Washington, Charles Longstreet Weltner, thinks so.

First elected from the Atlanta area in 1962, as a Democrat, the 37-year-old great-grandson of a Con-federate general was the only southerner to vote for the civil rights act of 1964. That would have been enough to defeat him for renomination in many parts of the south. But Weltner stood wered his critics, and man aged narrowly to win a second term.

Wants to Smash Klan

What this mind-of-his own congressman now proposes must be far more upsetting in the segregationist areas of the south. Speaking as a new member of the House un-American activities committee, to which he was appointed only last month, Weltner says—and

"Once again this madness [of the Ku Klux Klan] is in our midst. It impugns generous and lawful people. It impairs compliance with the law. It impedes administration of justice. This comes at a critical time for the south. We are struggling for orderly progress. We are turning to real problems."

When his mail on the K. K. K. probe reached 300 letters, Weltner said it was 6-to-1 favorable. Among those who have indorsed it are Vice President Humphrey and a firstterm representative from Tennessee, Democrat George W. Grider. H. U. A. C., under the chairmanship of Edwin E. Willis [D., La.], has voted to conduct a preliminary investigation by its staff to see if a public investigation is in order

This internal committee inquiry covers the Black Muslims, Minutemen, and the American Nazi party.

The only legitimate purpose of an investiga-tion by H. U. A. C. is to lay the basis for legislation. What would legislation in connection with the klan be—to prohibit it from existing? Even many who oppose everything the nightshirt wearers stand for would not want to see a federal law of that kind. The same holds for the Black Muslims, so long as they operate as a minority group, espousing ideas however wild, in our political gamut. The American Nazi party has been around almost since Hitler's time and it has achieved exactly nothing.

Not the Best Method

There would be a certain balance in having H. U. A. C. investigate racists and far-rightists after having flogged the Communists and other left groups. But balance is not the goal, however good the Weltner intentions are. Th goal is equal protection of the constitutional freedoms of all under the Bill of Rights, as the American Civil Liberties union correctly says in opposing the proposed probe of the Exposure of noxious ideas is a job for the press, not for the government. The New York World put its spotlight on the klan in the 1920s and won a Pulitzer prize for public service. Thomas M. Storke undressed the John Birch society in the Santa Barbara [Cal.] News-Press, also a Pulitzer prize public serv-ice. The Madison [Wis.] Capital Times and the Milwaukee Journal started the downfall of Sen. McCarthy by showing him up for what he was. Countless examples can be cited. Let the press tell the facts about tinhorn dictatorial groups and an informed public will know what to do. That is the way of freedom for all!

Engineering Looks A Century Ahead

Southern's new professional engineering program is designed for engineers whose careers will extend into the 21st century, Julian H. Lauchner, dean of the School of Technology, says.

In an interview marking National Engineers' Week (Feb. 21-27), Lauchner said engineers' Lauchner said engineering Lauchner said engineering 21-21, containing at Southern was planned primarily for educating engineers who "will not retreat into isolated com-

He said it is essential that their training be broad enough to meet future needs perhaps not even imagined today.

It is not our intention to produce engineers of the same breed as those who built the breed as toose who butto the nation's bridges in the past," explained Lauchner, who heads programs in indus-trial education, applied sci-ence, industrial technology and engineering technology as well as in professional engineering.

"In this day of vast and complex technological accomplishment, such narrow specialists would be swamped."

It is the demands of such an age that the engineer being trained today must be pre-pared to meet, Lauchner said, because it is the engineer's responsibility to apply the new, universal knowledge gained by the scientist to the

Cairo Ready For Visit By Ulbricht

CAIRO (AP) - Communist East German flags were hoisted over Cairo as this center of the Arab world pre-pared to give East German President Walter Ulbricht a dress welcome nesday.
Ulbricht's one-week visit

Could lead to a break in dip-lomatic relations between West Germany and the United Arab Republic, and possibly the rest of the Arab world. The government announced welcome plans to preparations that bore all the trappings of a state visit, in defiance of West German threats to cut off economic aid and take dip-lomatic reprisals if Ulbricht is received as a head of state.

Abdel President Gamal Abdel Nasser and most of his top ministers will personally meet Ulbricht at the Cairo railroad station, where Ul-bricht will arrive by special train from Alexandria at 12:30 p.m. He is sailing to Alexandria.

The station was decorated with bunting and East German and Egyptian flags. Ulbricht will be greeted with the 21-gun salute reserved for heads of state. He will review an honor guard and drive at Nasser's side through Cairo's Palace, Nasser's top official guest house.

The visit is regarded as a personal triumph for Ulbricht, who has never paid a state visit to a non-Communist country before. It is considered a diplomatic blow to Bonn and its doctrine barring relations with governments that recognize East Germany.

Ulbricht started making propaganda capital out of his visit 24 hours before his ship was scheduled to dock

Assassination Try Feared

Black Muslim Leader Under Heavy Guard

By William J. Conway

CHICAGO (AP) — Black Muslims set up their own security guard Tuesday to augment elaborate police measures protecting their sect leader, Elijah Muham-mad, from reported as-sassins. sassins

Special police squads also kept close watch on nearly a half dozen other South Side ocations to prevent any re-ocations to prevent any revenge bloodshed or reprisals against the sect's various property holdings in Chicago. Muhammad, who has not asked for police protection, remained in seclusion in his mansion. With him were guards from the Fruit of Islam, the horse trained alter. lam, the karate-trained elite corps of the Negro sect.

Other Black Muslim guards stationed themselves in cars parked along the street in front of the mansion for the first time, indicating their leader had a change of heart after telling newsmen Monday that he feared no reprisals stemming from the assasstemming from the assas-sination in New York Sunday of Malcolm X.

Muhammad said the Muslims were not involved in the slaying of Malcolm, a former disciple who started a rebel splinter movement.

Chicago police said they have information that six followers of Malcolm X left New York on missions of revenge and that Muhammad a likely target.

A high iron fence encloses Muhammad's mansion. One squad of police maintains a 24-hour vigil at the rear and another at the front entrance.
A police squad car blocks the driveway, and another squad car is stationed a few houses away. Other police cars pass mansion intervals.

Another police guard has been set up at the sect's mosque and at the University of Islam, some six blocks

Police squads also are the office of the watching sect's newspaper, Muhammad Speaks, and the Shabazz Restaurant where the sect's meals are served. Additional squads are patrolling the general area of the properties.

Police also are watching the Coliseum to prevent the planting of any explosives there. The Black Muslims will there this weekend with an expected attendance of about 6,000. The convention will mark the anniversary of the sect's founding in Detroit in

Tension Grows in Harlem

Black Muslim Headquarters Wrecked by Explosion, Fire

NEW YORK (AP) - Explosion and fire wrecked a Black Muslim headquarters mosque early Tuesday, in apparent reprisal for the assassination of rival Negro nationalist leader Malcolm X. The blast ushered in a day of eddying tension in heavily-policed Harlem. There also was uneasiness in other cities as a result of the slaving.

Bomb threats were investigated, and gun-carrying Negroes were seized near a Negroes were seized near a Harlem funeral home, 12 blocks from the scene of the mosque fire. Malcolm's body went on public display there late in the day.

Police, apparently making little progress in their in-vestigation of the killing, com-plained of a barrier of silence erected by Malcolm's followers. Of several hundred who saw him shot to death in their midst, virtually none had talked 48 hours later.

A 56-year-old Negro car washer was taken in by a transit patrolman as the man left a subway station two blocks from the funeral parlor with a sawed-off rifle under his coat. He denied any terrorist aims.

Two young Negroes were picked up as they approached the funeral home. Police said one carried a rifle in a canvas case, which bore the name of a rifle club.

The funeral parlor was the target of the first bomb threat. The New York Times also received an anonymous telephoned bomb threat based, police said, on the caller's resentment Monday resentment of a Monday editorial in which the newspaper called Malcolm X "an extraordinary and twisted man, turning many true gifts to evil purpose." Neither threat materialized.

James Farmer, national di-rector of the Congress of Racial Equality, called on President Johnson, to order a federal investigation of Malcolm's slaying.

He said people were too quick to blame the Black Muslims for the assassination and added: "It is graver. It has international implications. I believe his killing was a politi-cal killing with international implications. I am calling for a federal inquiry."

From coast to coast, Negro communities seethed with fear and unrest as the aftermath of the Sunday slaying of Malcolm, 39, tall, goated leader of the Organization of Afro-American Unity.

A Muslim meeting place in San Francisco was the target of a kerosene-fed blaze.

In Chicago, police confirmed a report that a sixman vengeance party of Malcolm's followers had slipped out of New York. The six were believed bent on revenge against Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammed, Malcolm's former chieftain who became his bitter enemy. Muhammed, whose headquarters is Chicago, has denied any knowl-edge of the assassination.

The 1965 version of the Theta Xi Variety Show is set for March 5 and 6 in Shryock Auditorium.

It will feature 14 acts in three divisions, plus the traditional Theta Xi pledge act.
Tickets for this year's show are now on sale in the Univer sity Center. The cost is $1 or 75 cents.

The Theta Xi Variety Show, today one of the biggest events on Southern's campus during winter quarter, was started back in 1948 as a replacement for compulsory student assemblies.

The purpose of the show was, and still is, to display student talent and to recognize student service to the University.

The first show, on Feb. 23, 1948, was sponsored by Kappa Delta Alpha, the group that later became the Beta Delta chapter of Theta Xi.

The $135 profit was turned over to the Student Council to be used on campus projects. This precedent is still recognized today, and all proceeds are placed in a special fund.

In years past, proceeds have heen used been used to provide such things as bulletin boards, ball uniforms, a television set for the University Center, prints for Morris Library and the display board in front of the Home Economics Building.

several Southern Illinois cities, including Alton, Chester, Granite City, Harrisburg, and Mt. Vernon.

In 1952, the year after Kappa Delta Alpha became Theta Xi, the entire show was remodeled. To commemorate the occasion Carbondale mayor John I. Wright pro-claimed "Theta Xi All-School Variety Show Week in Carbon-dale."

In its reorganization the show became competitive, and a 34-inch traveling trophy was awarded to the first winners. Tau Gamma, social fraternity.

Throughout the years, the size of the Variety Show has varied, but the 1955 show was the largest ever. That year 23 acts were crowded into the 2 1/2-hour limit.

Among the acts was one entitled "Sexy-Rexy," a parody of Oedipus Rex, and a reading of the Illinois Constitution.

The 2 1/2-hour limit was extended to four hours in 1959.

In commemoration of the show's 10th anniversary, the original trophy was retired in 1958 and replaced by a 52-inch one. This trophy was retired last year and replaced with a 6-foot-2 trophy, one of the largest in the world.

LEND AN EAR FOR THIS - Gene P. Offermann, left, graduate student in plant industries, clowns with David R. Browning, superintendent, Cooperative Agronomy Research Center, to call attention to Southern's Agronomy Day Thursday.

I've decided on the kind of job
I want when I graduate.

Knowing you, I'd guess it to be something modest like Secretary of State or President of GE.

2. I hadn't thought of those specifically. What I had in mind was a job where they give you a lot of assistants. I think that would be nice.

Very nice. Maybe they could start you off at a hundred grand a year.

3. Well, I did run an extremely successful Nickel-a-Pickle sale.

Don't forget to demand plenty of stock options.

4. You think maybe I should lower my sights a little.

I'm afraid to tell you what I think.

Fd be willing to settle for a vice-presidency.

Look – why don't you see it you can qualify for one of Equitable's executive training programs. The work is interesting, the pay is good. And if you prove you have the ability, you may very well end up with a title and a couple of assistants.

You really have a way of seeing through a problem.

Rooming with you has taught me a lot.

Poker Run Set By Cycle Group

Cyclesport Inc., a local motorcycle club, is planning a Poker Run at 1 p.m. Sunday March 7 starting from Speede Service, off old Rt. 13 west of Carbondale.

The run will cover between 30 and 50 miles of all-weather roads in the county and will finish at a predetermined location where scores will be counted and awards made.

Matt Hall, spokesman for Cyclesport Inc., said that a poker run is "just an excuse to go riding" and the participants will ride for a while then stop and draw a playing card. At the end of the run, the person with the best poker hand wins.

Participants need not own a motorcycle and in past years, the winning hand has been held by a passenger on a cycle.

A donation of 50 cents and membership in the American Motorcycle Association are required of each participant on a cycle wishing to enter, Par-ticipants may join the organi-zation just before the run.

the basketball season I don't know what will happen in February.

The Salukis have exploited their home court advantage throughout the season as is evidenced by their record. Southern is 12-0 in the Arena this year and no ream has this year, and no team has come within 19 points of beatome within 19 points of beating the Salukis.

Southern's success on the home court is also shown by its statistics. In the 12 games the Salukis have averaged 85 points a night along with 56 rebounds. Another benefit the Salukis have found is the ability to control the ball. Southern has averagedover 83 field goal attempts per game compared to an average of only games too. After dropping games too. After dropping their first four games away, the Salukis about-faced and won the last four, boosting their overall record and statistics.

Walt Frazier still paces
Southern's scoring after the first 20 games with a 17.2 per game. The sophomore sensation has tallied 344: points, eight ahead of George McNeil with a 16.8 average. Joe Ramsey is right behind this pair with 15.8.

Frazier's 176 rebounds have also been an important factor in Southern's ability to control the boards. The 6-4 sophomore is followed by Boyd O'Neal with 168 retrieves, the bulk of which have come in the second half on the season. Frazier and O'Neal are joined in the triple-digit rebounding figures by Ramsey and Ralph Johnson who have 116 and Balancing out the scoring and rebounding is Southern's defensive bulwark Dave Lee.
