Race Relations Bill Discussed

Senate Finance Group to Design ID Plan for Non-Student Spouses

The Student Senate has asked its finance committee to draw up a plan to allow students' spouses who are not in school to participate in University activities.

The bill directing the committee to establish the plan was passed Wednesday night and seeks a means for the non-student spouses to pay the SIU activity fee and receive an ID card.

The bill says that at present the non-student spouses are excluded from many activities or must pay a high price to participate.

The Senate debated for more than 30 minutes on a bill concerning "race relations and the role of the Senate and white students." The bill cited racial discord as "the result of centuries of white oppression and white ignorance."

The bill was amended to remove the references to whites, but adjournment was voted before final action could be taken.

The Senate housing committee was directed to publish a booklet rating housing available to students. The booklet would include a variety of facts, impressions of former residents, and observations

Wilson to Discuss Theater's Function

Kendrick Wilson, visiting professor in the Theater Department, will discuss "The Function of the Theater in Society" at the Carbondale Unitarian Fellowship at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Wilson, who is presently on the University of Nebraska faculty, is a nationally recognized authority on community theaters.

Policy Changes To Benefit Holder

Present and future policy holders will benefit from several recent changes in the University's group hospitalization plan.

New SIU employees now have up to 90 days to join the group plan where, as previously, the time limit was 60 days.

Another change removes the age limitation on coverage of mentally retarded dependents.

SIU Security Office Serving As Depository for Funds

The SIU Security Office is now being used as an overnight depository for University funds collected too late for deposit with the Bursar.

Any SIU office or organization may use the service by bringing the money to the Security Office, which is located at Washington Avenue and Park Street, or, if large sums are involved, by calling the office for transportation assistance.

Security officials emphasized that the service is for overnight deposit only and all funds must be taken to the Bursar's office immediately the next morning for regular deposit.

The book is to be sold. The Senate will seek to set up a booth at the Spring Festival to initiate "public discussion" with visiting high school and junior college students on the "present situation" at SIU. The recreation and activities committee was made responsible for setting up the booth and determining what type of presentation it will make.

The Senate also commended Leslie Trotter, volunteer worker in the student government office, for his "great service" to the student body in compiling results from the women's hours questionnaire.

Jerry Finney, chairman of the finance committee, announced that all applications by student groups for travel funds for the rest of the fiscal year should be turned into the student government office by the end of the month.

Hearing Planned For Today On IC Train Suspension

Students have the opportunity to voice their opinions on the proposed elimination of six Illinois Central trains to St. Louis during an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing scheduled today.

Those who want to testify may sign up beginning at 7 a.m. in Room H of the University Center or beginning at 7:15 a.m. in Room 102 of the Agriculture Building. The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. in Muckelroy Auditorium.

Student government officials said Thursday that approximately 1,000 students have signed petitions protesting discontinuance of the trains.

Examiner for the hearing will be Paul J. Clerman of Washington, D.C. He said Thursday the commission's decision may come by May.

The six trains run daily between Carbondale and St. Louis and serve as connectors with IC trains from Chicago and New Orleans.

Illinois Central has proposed substitution with a bus service between St. Louis and Carbondale, which it would subsidize.

An ICC hearing on the matter was held Wednesday in St. Louis where witnesses complained that eliminating the trains would halt Pullman service which links with the IC's Panama Limited.

The Carbondale City Council and a sub-committee of the Carbondale Citizens Advisory Committee have urged that the trains not be eliminated.

The City Council further proposed that one round-trip "first-class" train be substituted for the three round-trip trains currently running.

IC figures show that 111,534 passengers used the trains in 1966, and 110,375 in 1965. Figures for 1967 are not available. IC officials have cited a potential 1968 loss on the trains of $312,000.

One argument for eliminat-

R. Buckminster Fuller Gets Royal Gold Medal

LONDON (AP)—R. Buckminster Fuller, 72-year-old American design engineer who built the giant dome for the U.S. Pavilion at Expo 67, has been awarded the 1968 Royal Gold Medal for architecture by Queen Elizabeth II, it was announced Thursday.

The award, recommended by the Royal Institute of British Architects, is for the promotion of architecture.

Fuller, research professor of design at SIU, has lectured throughout the world on his philosophy of structures. Examples of his new system—ing the trains which the IC has put forth is switching operations which block Carbondale streets would be cut down.

Railroad union members have opposed eliminating the trains because fewer jobs would be available.

Grant to Support Braille Inventory For Youngsters

Development of a Braille Informal Reading Inventory for blind children in grades one through six will be supported in part by a federal grant of $26,000 just received by SIU from the U.S. Office of Education.

The project, which will take three years to complete, will be headed by Allen Berger, assistant professor in the SIU Reading Center.

Existing standardized tests in Braille are achievement rather than diagnostic instruments, Berger explains, and the new BIRI will for the first time provide a means of obtaining certain information about the reading strengths and weaknesses of blind children which can not be determined by tests now in use.

Gus Bode

Gus says he has a special interest in the train hearing because people have been threatening to railroad him for years.

'Hunting Lease in Illinois'

Forestry Article Published

Dwight R. McCurdy, assistant professor of forestry at SIU, and Herbert Echelberger, 1967 master's degree graduate of SIU, are co-authors of an article, "The Hunting Lease in Illinois," which appears in the February issue of the Journal of Forestry.

The article is based on the author's study of arrangements for leasing private rural land in Illinois for recreational usage.

McCurdy also participated in the Rocky Mountain-High Plains Park and Recreation Conference at Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Tuesday to Friday. He served on a discussion panel and consulted with representatives of the U.S. Department of Interior's National Park Service and the Colorado Center for Research and Education about the groups' cooperative study on carrying capacities of national parks.

Health Education Club Organizing

A pre-professional organization for majors and graduate students in the departments of Health Education and Health Science is in the process of being organized.

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, in Arena Room 121, for the purposes of getting acquainted and organizing.

Arrangements will be made for all health majors to be excused early from Tuesday night classes.

Coeds May Tryout For WSIU Radio

All SIU coeds are invited to audition Saturday at the radio station from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for a full-day celebration of leap year which will be held Thursday over WSIU (AM).

H. William Haines, student station manager, said coeds will operate the equipment, announce, and host all programming for one day. Girls will even write, edit, and present the news. Haines said,

'Neo-Nazism' Will be

Topic of Jewish Confab

A discussion on the subject of "Neo-Nazism" will be sponsored by the Jewish Student Association at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday at the Horner House, 803 S. Washington.

The discussion will be led by Sid Appleton of Murphysboro.

Edelman Accepts Advisorship To Student Employee Group

Milton T. Edelman, professor of economics, will serve as adviser to the recently-approved Student Employee Association, according to John Singleterry, a member of the group.

After the group was approved by the Student Senate recently, student body president Ray Lenzi announced that in the future all employees in the student government office must be "cleared" through the association.

Singleterry said the group is planning to announce its activities soon.

You See, Dad, I Was Helping My Friend John Carry Out the Garbage!

Why Take Grad Students?

To the Daily Egyptian:

In reference to the recent enlightenment by the head of the Selective Service System concerning the inanity of obtaining a Ph.D. degree, it is only fitting that those of us who are working toward or have attained that degree should re-examine our academic heritage.

Before Mr. Hershey's proclamation on the worth of graduate education, it would have been unthinkable that graduate schools would be so unethical, so deceitful and so ruthless as to foster in us graduate students the motivation to attain a Ph.D.; a degree which we have now been advised is unnecessary and which has heretofore stood in the way of our development as military men.

It is even more alarming to note that we, the future academia of America, were not able to realize as Mr. Hershey did that "Henry Ford didn't have a Ph.D." and to draw the subsequent and obvious conclusion that we, too, could be successful without the cumbersome ordeal of five years of graduate education.

To show our contempt for the brainwashing to which graduate school has subjected us, and to demonstrate our indebtedness to Mr. Hershey for his long-overdue exposure of the truth concerning our misguided academic aspirations, let every graduate student, therefore, immediately cast off the shackles of graduate school and volunteer for military duty.

After all, a nation does not live by research and teaching alone.

William O. Dwyer

Did Not Sign

Committee Letter

To the Daily Egyptian:

In the Feb. 13 issue of the Daily Egyptian, a letter was published which was supposedly signed by me; I had never seen the letter until it was published.

Although I agree with much that the letter said, I do not give it my full support. I wish to have my name retracted from the letter.

I also wish to suggest that more care be taken in the future to insure that no letters are published in the names of students who have nothing to do with them.

Mark Mabey

Letter from Lenzi Egyptian, Obelisk, Social Rules

To the Daily Egyptian:

I would like to take this opportunity to discuss two current student government issues with you. Those two issues are the use of activity fees to support the Daily Egyptian and the Obelisk, and social rules.

The Egyptian has contended that we want to cut fees to end the paper. This is not true. Our goals are positive. We simply want to make the Egyptian a student newspaper.

At present the Journalism Department picks the staff and establishes the tone of this campus newspaper. Most American campuses have student-run student newspapers. This is true at Illinois and Harvard, for example. You pay for the Daily Egyptian with your activity fees. Why shouldn't students run the newspaper?

We're asking only to name a student editor and a majority of the editorial board through an impartial board selected by the student senate. The Egyptian, then, would be three levels removed from political control. It is now questionable whether the paper is at all removed from such control. Some contend that the paper's quality would be hurt. This assumes that there are not among the 15,000 non-journalism students on this campus as many qualified writers as there are among the less than 600 Journalism students.

How many of you have seen inaccurate coverage in the present Egyptian? There is no reason, then, to assume lesser performance under a joint student-journalism department system of co-operation. The Egyptian should be a finer paper under these circumstances. We have only asked for this change to make a student-financed paper a student-run newspaper. Is that so much?

The issue of the Obelisk is simple. Again, we are not asking for an end to the Obelisk, but simply a financial change. At present, every student pays for the Obelisk whether he gets one or not. Student activity fees (your money) finance the paper. The student may then buy the paper at a lesser cost. The point is simple: those who do not want an Obelisk should not have to pay for it.

We want a simple sale of Obelisks to all students who want them without subsidization by the students who do not want them. In those ways we hope to save student money for projects, especially educational projects, which benefit all students.

The question of social rules is one which affects most, if not all students. Presently, we are furthering two proposals—one a student judiciary proposal and the other a student conduct review board proposal, which give students control over their own social lives.

The first will establish student courts with exclusive and final jurisdiction in all cases of student conduct.

The second will give students the final power by statutory change, to make rules for students. We are seeking faculty and faculty council support for these measures which we see as essential for educational reform to a free and open campus for learning. More information is available from the Student Senate.

dent legislation for women's hours by directly following the will and mandate of the 7,000 students who filled out women's hours questionnaires.

We are changing the rules so that, effective Spring Quarter, there will no longer be hours for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. We anticipate full co-operation with and respect of student opinion by the administration in effecting these regulation changes.

Again, then, we are not trying to destroy the Egyptian or Obelisk. The charge that this is an attempt on my part to further my power and begin censorship is absurd. The Egyptian will be three levels removed from Senate effect. The President of the Student Body will have no voice in choosing the editor. Moreover, I will have graduated by the time this plan takes effect. We simply want a student newspaper and an Obelisk paid for by those who want it.

In regard to social rules, we only want community compliance with the rule: He who should live by a rule should be the one to make it.

Ray Lenzi
Student Body President

Should Have Reviewed Play

To The Daily Egyptian:

Once again you have demonstrated that the present managers of the Egyptian are incapable of reporting adequately or accurately the activities of a great, modern university.

The failure of the Egyptian to review the recent performance of Bernard Roth's important new play, "The Man Who Lost the River," produced in a stunning performance by the department of drama, is a disgrace. Professor Hershey, in the direction of this play, has given special care to the production (the author's approval) and, on the first night, Oliver Wilson, a distinguished background,

(NOTE: The letter in question was delivered to the Daily Egyptian office by John Foote, who indicated that he spoke for the entire committee. On that basis, the letter was published in good faith, with the assurance of Mr. Foote.)

Take a Stand

To the Daily Egyptian:

The lamenting of graduate students and University officials on the recent draft directive is both appalling and long overdue.

The question is not where society's future teachers and leaders will come from, but when will society's future leaders and educators take a stand on perhaps the most vital issue of our time—the Vietnam war.

A group of intelligent people, who refuse to take a stand on such an issue which bleeds the lives, resources, and moral integrity of this country, do not deserve a privileged sanctuary from society.

Letters Welcome

It is the policy of the Daily Egyptian to encourage free discussion of current problems and issues. Members of the University Community are invited to participate with members of the news staff in contributing items for this page with the understanding that acceptance for publication will depend upon the limitations of space and the apparent timeliness and relevance of the material. Letters must be signed, preferably typed, and should be no longer than 250 words. Contributors should respect the generally accepted standards of good taste and the rights of others and are urged to make their points in terms of issues rather than personalities. It is the responsibility of the Egyptian to select the material to be used. Contributors also should include address and phone number with a letter so that the identity of the author can be verified.

This was one of the most important artistic events to occur on campus in recent years and the many people who attended were naturally eager to see a professional reviewer's comments, as were the people who put so much effort into making it the success that it was. That you chose not to review it was an insult to both groups of your readers.

If the Egyptian cannot adequately cover campus activities, it should be turned back to the students who might do better justice to the many groups making up the university.

Peace at Stake Hunger Is the Enemy

By Antero Pietila

This is the story you don't see on the front page of your daily newspaper: Again today, an estimated 10 to 70,000 people will die of hunger. Two thirds of the people of the world will go to sleep tonight undernourished.

The UN estimate puts the world population at 3.4 billion. By the turn of the century it is believed it will reach 6.6 billion.

More ominous is that 5.4 billion of the 6.6 billion in the year 2,000 will be living in what we call "developing" countries, as compared with the 2.5 billion living there now.

World population growth has been heaviest in the developing areas and is considerably larger than projected increased food production. By the year 2,000, the population of Latin America is estimated to grow 194 per cent. The figure in Africa is 181 per cent, in Asia 99 per cent. The figure in the United States 78 per cent, and 24 per cent in Europe.

900 Million Children

There are some 900 million children under the age of 15 living in the world today. Half of them will starve to death.

The population structure of the world is changing even more disadvantageously. This is a somewhat natural consequence of new medical and public health programs.

A marked reduction has occurred in the infant death rate. The world population is increasingly younger, with higher proportions in the lower age categories that are unproductive economically and place a heavy burden on educational facilities.

Mankind Losing

The UN Food and Agricultural Organization warns that mankind is losing the race between population growth and food production. An increasing number of scientists maintain that in a decade hunger will be the most important issue in international politics.

Forty out of each 100 babies in India die before their fifth birthday, according to FAO. The agency estimates that human need is 25 grams of albumen a day. In India and Red China the people get six grams a day, in Peru 14 grams, in Egypt and Pakistan 11 grams, and in the Congo five grams.

It is ironical that the main industry of most countries suffering from undernourishment is agriculture. But primitive tools, lack of fertilizers, prejudices deriving from ignorance, conditions of land ownership bar development.

In past years the United States has poured more agricultural aid into developing countries than any other nation. Now, even this aid is decreasing drastically because of domestic economic problems and war in Vietnam.

In theory, the revolutionary population growth could be stopped or mastered by birth control. In practice, however, hunger, illiteracy, unemployment, poverty, and ignorance are fatally allied with traditional moral and religious taboos and prejudices against the use of contraceptives.

Birth control on a larger scale is only today becoming possible and accepted in the industrialized Western world, where overpopulation and undernourishment are not such problems.

There is going to be enough space in this globe for the 6.6 billion people in 2,000, but in order to feed those people, food production in the Far East must be more than quadrupled. In the Middle East and Latin America it must be tripled and in Africa doubled.

Peace Corps Helps

The United Nations with its special agencies is doing a tremendous job in trying to make tomorrow brighter. Much of this work is invisible and lies in the shadow as focus usually is on UN headquarters in New York. The U.S. government sponsored Peace Corps is doing a dedicated job, too.

But in spite of these efforts, the gap between rich industrialized nations and the have-nots is widening. For many observers, the UN Conference on Trade and Development in Geneva, in 1964, served as an eye-opener of what may happen if this gap cannot be bridged.

In the fiery discussion in Geneva, many representatives accused the developed nations of overspending money on military rather than on economic assistance. The developed nations were also charged with neglecting the problems of the developing ones.

Impels to Revolt

Currently, the second UNTAD conference is meeting in New Delhi. When Mrs. Gandhi opened it this month, she said:

"Peace cannot be ensured in this world unless we erase the harshness of the growing contrast between the rich and the poor.

"Unless we sense the urgency and use our energy to eradicate the economic cause which make for conflict, men and women will be impelled to revolt, and to use violent means to bring about change."

Human needs are an estimated 2,600 calories a day. Again tonight, only 38 per cent of mankind goes to sleep nourished; for 42 per cent it is the same old growing lullaby of hunger and 20 per cent may die of hunger or diseases caused by it during the night.

Yet, even they may have ended their day praying, "Give us day by day our daily bread."

Banquet Talk Will Feature Ad Assistant

A Chicago advertising specialist will be the featured speaker tonight at the annual Advertising Recognition Week banquet at the Ramada Inn, Marion.

The 7 p.m. banquet is the climax of the 1968 Advertising Recognition Week on campus. The event is sponsored by members of Alpha Delta Sigma and Gamma Alpha Chi, national professional advertising fraternities for men and women.

The guest speaker, Robert Ross, is a vice president and assistant to Leo Burnett of Leo Burnett Company, Chicago advertising agency. Prior to his present position, Ross served as creative director for the agency.

Before moving to Chicago in the early 1950's, Ross owned and operated his own agency in New York. He is chairman of the central region of the American Association of Advertising Agencies and a member of the national board.

Speakers Program To Sponsor Talk By Nazi Leader

Matt Koehl, head of the American Nazi Party will speak at 7 p.m. Monday in a ballroom of the University Center.

His topic will be "National Socialism vs. Democratic Decadence." His appearance is being sponsored by Student Government through its controversial speakers program.

Koehl took over leadership of the American Nazi Party after Commander George Lincoln Rockwell was assassinated Aug. 25. He previously was national secretary.

Koehl joined the Party in 1960 and was manager of the Chicago office before becoming national secretary.

A biography states that he was previously a member of various right wing organizations, but left them because he was dissatisfied with the "political cowardice and lack of uncompromising commitment to National Socialist principles..."

LBJ Submits $10.4 Billion Cities Program

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson attacked "the crisis of the cities" Thursday with a $10.4 billion package of help in the fields of housing, poverty, transportation and riot insurance.

If the program goes through in its entirety, the eventual price tag might run to $30 or $35 billions, some officials believe.

Some of the program was new, some of it old. All of it was pulled together in a massive, complicated message to Congress that was nearly twice as long as the one the President delivered on the State of the Union last month.

Again, Johnson called for boosting income taxes through a 10 per cent surcharge, this time on grounds that "soaring interest rates will cripple the home-building industry" and the tax boost will help prevent this because it is anti-inflationary.

Johnson also asked Congress for a new housing and urban development act that would write "a charter of renewed hope for the American city" and set a goal of building 26 million new homes and apartments in 10 years. This, he said, will meet an enormous national need.

Six of the 26 million homes would be subsidized by the government, in part at least. They would replace what the President called "the shameful substandard units of misery" where more than 20 million Americans live. Private industry would get inducements to build the other 20 million units.

One fact of the presidential program for cities is aimed at "red lining" practices by which some insurance companies mark off slum areas and refuse to insure property and businesses of the residents.

Johnson called for companies and states to set up pooling arrangements to spread the risks.

Teachers' Strike Continues

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Reports that Florida teachers were beginning to return to their classrooms during the fourth day of a statewide walk-out were called "good news" Thursday by State School Supt. Floyd Christian.

But Florida Education Association officials said the reports were "deliberate rumors to try to break the teachers and frighten them back."

One-third of Florida's public schools remained closed amid continued reports that many of the volunteer teachers were having trouble controlling students.

Gov. Claude Kirk, picketed by high school students as he attended a luncheon in Winter Haven, blamed unnamed leaders for "stirring up the children."

He contended the state was winning the teacher battle with its force of teachers who stayed in the classrooms plus substitutes and volunteers and warned that "anyone attempting to coerce these volunteers had better watch out."

Kirk announced in Jacksonville that he was reactivating a 30-member study group appointed last fall to review the state's over-all educational system and make recommendations for changes. He said the commission's new report would be made available to next regularly scheduled session of the legislature, in April 1969.

Albuquerque Teachers Stage Protest Strike

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The 78,000 pupils in Albuquerque's public schools were sent home Thursday as teachers stayed away from classrooms and demanded more state money for schools.

The city's 2,900-teacher classroom association jumped a Monday noon deadline issued by the New Mexico Education Association to Gov. David Cargo for a reply on its demand for a special legislative session on school financing.

The teachers announced their walkout Wednesday night, but Supt. Robert Chisholm asked pupils to report for classes Thursday, apparently for a head count of teachers. There were so few, he closed the schools.

WE'RE LOOKING FOR PEOPLE WITH A BIT OF THE MAVERICK IN THEM

(We're a bit of a maverick ourselves.)

Because Allstate has never been content to do things the way they've always been done, we're sometimes called the maverick of the insurance business.

We're the company that led the fight for lower insurance rates by cutting red tape and needless frills. The company that made insurance policies easier to read and understand.

And this kind of pioneering has paid off. In just 35 years, Allstate has grown from a handful of customers to more than eight million policyholders. Our sales have more than tripled in the last ten years alone (they're now approaching the billion-dollar-a-year mark). And we now rank among America's top 100 corporations in terms of assets.

We appreciate that our remarkable growth is due to people—"mavericks" who shared our philosophy. Right now, we're looking for people of the same stripe—men and women with the fresh ideas and ambition to become part of our management team.

Are you a bit of a maverick? A person who doesn't automatically settle for the status quo? Then consider a career with Allstate.

We need people now (regardless of their majors) in Marketing, Investment, Finance, Underwriting, Public Relations, Communications, Personnel, Law and Research. (A start in any of the careers is the first step toward a key position in Allstate's management.)

If you qualify, we'll move you ahead just as fast as your talent and dedication can take you. (Our policy is to promote from within.) In addition, you'll find that few companies can match our extra employee benefits including the famous Sears Profit Sharing Plan.

To get all the facts, see our Personnel Manager when he's interviewing on campus.

Allstate is interviewing: Tuesday, March 5.

In a career, too, you're in good hands with Allstate*

McNamara Makes Public Tonkin Gulf Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered Pentagon security censors Thursday to clear rapidly his controversial testimony on the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incidents for prompt public disclosure.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, urged speedy release of the transcript of McNamara's give-and-take with senators over the questioned North Vietnamese attacks on two U.S. ships.

The incidents prompted the United States to launch reprisal air attacks on North Vietnamese bases and were a prelude to major U.S. intervention in Southeast Asia.

McNamara presented a prepared, 21-page statement to the Senate panel Tuesday, but Fulbright said later the defense chief failed to demonstrate the American ships were attacked Aug. 4, 1964.

As is routine, the transcript of McNamara's answers to questions had to be submitted through the security review process to glean out information that might be valuable to an enemy.

McNamara directed that it be sanitized "on an expeditious basis."

The Pentagon said the transcript was received at 10 a.m. Thursday and a team of security review specialists went to work on it immediately.

"The security review procedure will be completed today so that the entire transcript, with only the deletions necessary to safeguard intelligence collection, can be released tonight by the committee," a Defense Department statement said.

However, the actual release time will be set by the committee.

A committee source said the transcript will not be released before next week, after committee members have had a chance to review it.

McNamara gave rather elaborate detail in his prepared comments as to whether the Aug. 4 attack on the U.S. destroyers Maddox and Turner Joy had indeed occurred.

This, a second incident, was a key one. McNamara said the administration had not retaliated against the North Vietnamese when, two days earlier, the Maddox was attacked because "we believed it possible that it had resulted from a miscalculation or an impulsive act of a local commander."

Fulbright said, however, McNamara had engaged in "selective declassification" of certain secret information to show only one side of the story.

Brass Questions Value Of Khe Sanh Bombing

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP)—Some U.S. Marine officers question the effectiveness of the massive aerial bombing campaign that is supposed to give them the upper hand against a 40,000-man enemy force encircling this combat base.

Despite what the Air Force calls the greatest bombing campaign in history, Communist truck convoys still are moving through Laos and into South Vietnam with ammunition and supplies for the North Vietnamese forces.

Supply trucks have been spotted as close as two miles from the Khe Sanh base. Soviet-built tanks also have been seen in the same area. Some have been destroyed but many more remain.

Aerial bombardment and re-supply of the encircled base is the cornerstone of the U.S. Command's defensive plan for the Khe Sanh area where 5,000 Marines and 500 South Vietnamese troops are dug in.

Weather has been a major factor working against the Air Force, Marine and Navy planes attempting to support Khe Sanh. During one four-day period, no bombers could make visual runs in the area. They were forced to bomb by radar based on sketchy intelligence.

Is There Really A Colonel Sanders?

Many people who are regular customers for "finger licking good" Kentucky Fried Chicken have asked if there is a real live person who is Colonel Sanders. The answer is "yes!" He is the only living food image in the country.

Many food companies have used images to trade mark their product - Aunt Jemima, Col. Morton, Betty Crocker, Ann Page to name a few. But Colonel Harland Sanders is really unique because he, unlike the others, is a shoo nuff Kentucky Colonel who lives in a beautiful colonial Kentucky home in the heart of the Blue Grass State.

Colonel still drops in at various locations throughout the country, samples the chicken to make sure it tastes just right—the way it must—to be called "Kentucky Fried Chicken."

In franchising his "Kentucky Fried Chicken", his own secret recipe was franchised to restaurant operators and he personally toured the United States and demonstrated exactly how to prepare his "finger lickin' good" chicken. He showed them how to use only the choicest US Grade A, Government inspected chicken, to insure plump, tender birds. He showed them a pressure frying method precise in temperature control, cooking time and how to prepare a special batter that included 11 different herbs and spices that really complement the flavor of his chicken. The

So, today at 75 Colonel Sanders still is hale and hearty and enjoys rolling up his sleeves to show them just how it's done. It is not at all improbable that you might see him sometime at our place of business. Kentucky Fried Chicken has grown in popularity to the point that there are more than 1,000 locations all over the United States, Canada, Japan and Great Britain. So stop in soon for some REAL Col. SIU Business Group Hosts Regional Meeting

Representatives of 21 campus chapters of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, are attending the midwest regional fraternity conference which started Thursday in Carbondale. The SIU chapter is serving as host for the meeting which will end Sunday.

The theme of the conference held at the Holiday Inn will be "Expanding Business Dimensions of the 1970's," according to James Wilson, program chairman of the event. The main speaker, Robert O. Pohl, vice president of the LaSalle National Bank, Chicago, will direct his talk to the theme, Wilson said. Pohl will also be initiated into the fraternity as an honorary member, Wilson added.

The main business of the conference will be the election of the regional officers, the presentation of the "Regional Efficiency Rating Award" and the discussion of questions of policy relating to the fraternity. The efficiency award will be presented to the chapter selected by the national headquarters for having attained the highest efficiency rating for the activities in which the chapter participated during the 1966-67 school year.

The SIU chapter, founded in 1959, won the regional award from 1962 through 1964 consecutively and was judged number one in the nation in 1965 and 1966, Wilson said.

SIU Education Group Working Extra Hours

Members of SIU's education team in Vietnam, reported safe a week ago, have joined government employees, both American and Vietnamese, in working a seven-day week during current battling in Saigon.

This information was received in letters to Fred Armistead, SIU associate professor of education who is an adviser in the International Student Center. Armistead returned home in the summer of 1967 after spending six years as an educational adviser in Saigon.

Letters arrived from William F. Wetherington, deputy chief of the SIU party, and a young Vietnamese woman, Vy Thuy Ninh, an interpreter for the team who has plans to enter school at SIU this summer. Her study will be supported by a $300 scholarship from the Carbondale Kiwanis club, and by contributions from team members and others.

The seven-day week was necessitated, one letter said, by pressure of a heavy work load, a desire to have per-

Dwinger to Speak At Math Meeting

Philip Dwinger, professor of mathematics at the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle campus, will speak on "The Amalgamation Theory" at a mathematics colloquium at 4:15 p.m. Today in Room A422, Technology Building.

The Department of Mathematics of SIU, assisted by the Office of Special Meetings and Speakers, will sponsor the colloquium. An open house will be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Lawrence Kulperses, 904 Taylor Dr., Carbondale.

sonnel on the job in time of crisis and unavoidable absence of many Vietnamese employees. Letters told of curfews for the native people, in some sections starting as early as 2 p.m., which forced these workers to leave their jobs long before quitting time.

The SIU International Student Center has learned from the Agency for International Development in Washington that the families of 16 of the Vietnamese students studying on Carbondale campus have been checked out. Eleven families were found safe. There was no immediate word concerning the welfare of the other five families.

Seminar on Banking Future To Feature Chicago Officials

Two top officials of the LaSalle National Bank of Chicago will be featured in an SIU School of Business Seminar on "The Future of Banking" from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Friday in conference room 121 of the Classrooms Building.

To participate are Milton Darr, president, and Robert Pohl, vice president, of the Chicago bank. Dean Robert S. Hancock of the School of Business has invited all faculty members and interested students to attend all or part of the program and take part in a question and answer session. Edward L. Winn, associate professor of finance, will moderate the discussion.

Darr, born in Oak Park, joined LaSalle National in 1946 as assistant cashier and was elected president in 1964. He has been active in banking activities.

Pohl is in charge of marketing, research, and development at LaSalle.

Thinclads Eye Conference Championship

A first place finish will be a distinct possibility when Coach Lew Hartzog and his indoor track team journey to South Bend, Ind., for the Central Collegiate Championship Saturday.

Hartzog, whose squad finished third in the conference championships last year, said that Notre Dame and Western Michigan are the teams SIU will have to beat. Southern has been a member of the CCC, which holds a meet annually, for seven years.

"It'll be a tough meet," said Hartzog. Of the 14 other schools entered at least 15 individuals will be of national collegiate caliber, he explained.

"It will probably take about 60 or 65 points to win the meet," he added. "The kids will have to be tough, but I think we're going to score some points if the freshmen come through."

Four events have been added to the championships, two of which Southern has a good chance of winning. Added were the distance medley relay, the two-mile relay, the 35-pound weight throw and the triple jump.

John Vernon, who posted a 51-foot jump at Louisville's Mason-Dixon Games last weekend, is a good bet to finish first in the triple jump event.

Mark Cox has thrown the 35-pound weight well recently and, in the Mason-Dixon Games, had several scratches over the 50-foot mark.

High jumper Mitch Livingston will be going for his third straight Central Collegiate title. Livingston won the event last year with a 6-8 1/2 leap and this season he's accomplished 6-8.

SIU's 440 record holder, Ross MacKenzie will also be defending a Central Collegiate title. He won the 440 last season with a time of :49.1 and this year he's been clocked at 49 seconds.

Participating with MacKenzie in the 440 will be freshman Willie Richards from Chicago.

Vernon will also participate in the broad jump along with freshman Ivery Lewis.

Bobby Morrow, Bill Gardner and Dale Gardner will enter in the 600-yard dash while freshman Larry Cascia and senior Rich Ellison compete in the pole vault.

Sophomore Mel Holman will enter in the 2-mile run and Glen Ujiye, a freshman from Burlington, Ont., Canada and Steve Thomas from Peoria will be competing in the 880.

The mile relay will consist of MacKenzie, Thel Jelferies, Willie Richardson, and either Morrow or Dennis Gomez.

Fil Blackison will compete in the shot put event with Herman Gary and Jim Thomas working in high and low hurdle events.

Competing with Livingston in the high jump will be Rich Lieschner.

THINCLAD GETS READY—Ross MacKenzie, SIU's top entry in the 440, will attempt to defend his first place title in the annual Central Collegiate Conference Championships to be held Saturday at South Bend. MacKenzie won the event last year clocking in at a time of :49.1

Gymnasts Avenge Earlier Loss to Iowa

SIU Gymnastics Coach Bill Meade made one of the understatement of the year following his team's 189.15 to 187.15 win over Iowa Wednesday night.

"It was a very, very nice win," Meade said, with a grin that seemed to cover his entire face.

The victory meant more than raising the overall record to 8-1 for the season. It avenged an earlier loss to Iowa that had snapped a 68 dual meet winning streak. Iowa's record is now 10-1.

Meade had stated before the meet that the pressure would be on Iowa to repeat its earlier performance. Following SIU's win, he indicated that the Hawkeyes had not held up under the pressure.

He indicated that Iowa's breaking point may have been on the sidehorse where in the earlier meeting the Hawkeyes had run up high totals.

Iowa could muster only a 26.70 team average in the sidehorse competition, which was 1.05 point less than it scored in the Arena two weeks ago. Marc Slottman and Keith McCannless were two big surprises for Iowa, as they managed only 8.8 and 7.5 scores respectively. In the first meeting Slottman and McCannless each scored 9.45 marks.

Southern on the other hand rebounded from poor performance in the first meeting, in which they scored only a team average of 24.05, to score a respectable 26.35 on the sidehorse Wednesday.

The Salukis also improved in the high bar, moving from 26.15 to 27.10 in the two meets.

"There were no individual stars," Meade said, "the whole team was great."

"Larry Ciolkosz did a fine job in vaulting," Meade said, "as he scored an 8.9. He also did well in floor exercise and should help in the future in that event." Ciolkosz had been inserted into those two events for the first time by Meade.

"I always like to throw the new boys in under pressure," Meade said, "because this is where they've got to prove themselves."

"Last year it was the same for Gene Kelber in floor exercise when I threw him against Michigan State in a big meet," Meade recollected. "Kelber hadn't really produced until that point, and I told him this was it, and he came through for us."

Kelber is now the top man for the Salukis in floor exercise, proving it against Iowa as he score 9.25 to win the event.

The Salukis captured three firsts: Kelber in floor exercise, Dale Hardt in trampoline and Paul Mayer tied for first with Neil Schmitt of Iowa on the parallel bars with a 9.15.

SIU trailed at only one point during the meet, following still rings by a score of 81.15 to 80.85.

SIU came back in tramp though, to take a 107.95 to 106.75 lead.

Iowa could score only 25.60 on the trampoline.

The trampoline score was also in sharp contrast to the first meeting when SIU scored only 25.15 and the Hawkeyes scored 26.05, well above their average.

Coach Meade would like to savor this victory for a while, but the Salukis have two dual meets this weekend, against Colorado tonight and Air Force Saturday. Both will be on the road. Meade expects little trouble in winning the two meets.

"We should close our dual meet season with four more victories," Meade said. After the weekend meets, SIU faces Indiana State March 1 and Illinois March 8.

"That will give us five victories in a row," Meade said, possibly thinking of a 68 dual meet victory streak.

Palmer Sees Bradley as Knicks Star

NEW YORK (AP) — John "Bud" Palmer, an old Princeton Tiger who made it with the New York Knicks 21 years ago, predicts Tiger Bill Bradley will blossom out as a star with the current Knicks of the National Basketball Association.

"Give him a little time to catch up and loosen up and you'll see a vast improvement," said Palmer, the city's official greeter.

"He's having his troubles with defense," said Palmer Thursday, "but with more play he'll be one of the best. Playing defense is hard work. It's a thankless task. And it takes teamwork. You've got to yell when you're caught in the switches. You've got to use your hands and push off.

"Most fans don't realize that Bill has been with the club only since the end of last year. He has to learn to mesh with his teammates. That's what you learn to do in training camp. Bill didn't have any training camp.

"He also didn't have much playing in the two years at Oxford, where he studied as a Rhodes Scholar. Sure he played with the Italian Simmenthal Club in Europe but that caliber of play is nothing compared to what you have to face in the NBA. Here the pros are bigger, faster and stronger and they'll shoot your eyes out."

Palmer, 46, 6-foot-5 and still Hollywood-handsome, is the Commissioner of Public Events for Mayor Lindsay for $1 a year.

He makes his living as a sports television commentator and doing television commercials.

Palmer led the Knicks in field goal percentage in 1946-47 with an average of 30 per cent. That kind of shooting today wouldn't earn a bench job with the Knicks. Bradley is shooting about 45 per cent and still is struggling to carry his weight with the club.

Salukis, Aces Renew Long Rivalry Saturday

By Dave Palermo

While Southern's chances of snaring an NIT bid are practically nil, the season is far from over with Saturday's invasion of Evansville.

Along with the fact that past games between the two teams have usually resulted in hard fought contests, the upcoming game will have a touch of revenge.

Evansville holds a three-game edge in the long standing series, 23-20, including a 52-45 victory over the Salukis earlier in the year.

Coach Arad McCutchan credits his "Vampire Five" reserve unit with the earlier victory, but Coach Jack Hartman feels otherwise.

"I didn't think we played well in the game except for the first 15 minutes," said Hartman. "The system may give them a slight physical edge but I don't feel it was the deciding factor."

Hartman also disagreed with McCutchan's philosophy that the reserve system causes a psychological effect on the team in that they are thinking about why the five-for-five exchange is being used instead of what they should be thinking about.

"I don't feel it's effective in that sense," commented Hartman. "Especially when the other team is prepared for it."

In the last meeting between the two teams, the Salukis had one of their coldest shooting games of the season connecting on only 19 of 58 field goal attempts for a cool .32 percentage.

They held a 22-12 lead early in the game and, when the Purple Aces came back to tie the game, Hartman's troops failed to cash in on numerous opportunities to pull back on top.

Forward and leading scorer Dick Garrett also had an off night from the floor hitting only four of 19 shots and missing his only free throw attempt.

If Garrett comes up with his usual performance and the team could avoid another off night from the floor, the situation could be reversed.

Evansville Coach Arad McCutchan would like for Saluki fans to believe that he is more concerned with the upcoming game with Indiana Collegiate Conference foe DePauw University than with SIU.

"The big factor," said McCutchan, "is to try and take the SIU game seriously and at the same time not overlook the next game we play against DePauw which will decide the conference championship."

The Purple Aces will take an 8-3 conference record against the Tigers on March 2. A win would give McCutchan a share of the ICC title along with Indiana State.

Tuesday the Purple Aces snapped a three-game losing streak in bouncing Ball State out of ICC contention, 110-74, at Evansville. The victory increased Evansville's season record to 18-5.

"We shook off the doldrums and came alive in the last game," the veteran McCutchan said.

"The three-game loss skid included defeats to Kentucky Wesleyan and Butler and cannot be considered disgraces," he added. "But the last game of that skid was against Indiana State where we played badly. Our defense was terrible while the Sycamores' defensive game was the best we've faced all year."

A preliminary game between the two freshmen teams will be played beginning at 5:45.

SAFE SITUATION—Evansville regulars Kae Moore (20) and Jerry Mattingly have the situation well in hand as they combine for a rebound in a game played earlier with SIU. The Salukis lost the hard-fought contest, 52-45, but will attempt to avenge the defeat Saturday at 8 p. m. when the two teams meet at the SIU Arena.

Final Playoffs Set For Intramurals

The intramural basketball championship will be played for the first time before an SIU varsity contest when the Salukis meet Centenary College March 1.

Larry Schaake, a graduate assistant in the Intramural Office, said that the finals will be staged at 6 p.m. "in hopes of getting larger crowds, and showing the caliber of intramural basketball" played at SIU.

The tournament which will decide the two finalists gets under way Sunday and will run through Tuesday.

Of the 16 teams in the playoffs, 15 have perfect records. The combined record of the 16 teams is 91 wins and only one defeat. The winner of each of the 16 divisions of the four leagues are participants. The leagues are Fraternity, Men's Residence Halls, Off-Campus Dorm and Independent.

The first round pairings follow:

Sigma Pi "A" (7-0, Frat) vs. Misfits (6-0, Ind.); Forest Hall (5-0, Dorm) vs. Kappa Alpha Psi "B" (7-0, Frat); Indians (5-0, Ind.) vs. Vets Club (6-0, Ind.); Dribblers (5-1, MRH) vs. Bills (6-0, Ind.).

Sukes Dukes (7-0, Ind.) vs. "007" (6-0, Dorm); Fox, Flash and Friends (5-0, Dorm) vs. Lo-Lifers (5-0, Dorm); Brown Gods (5-0, MRH) vs.

Animals (6-0, MRH); Allen III (6-0, MRH) vs. Turtles (4-0, Ind.).

Trophies will be presented to the first and second place teams and the outstanding manager during half time of the varsity game.
