School consolidation proposal fails

By John Schrag
Staff Writer

The Carbondale Community High School District 165 consolidation plan was defeated by district voters Tuesday.

The unofficial tally, with all 37 precincts reporting, showed 1,901 "no" votes, and 1,902 "yes" votes, for a 50.1 percent vote against the $47.7 million dollar bond issue.

The consolidation plan only carried in nine precincts: Carbondale 3, 5, 17, 22, 24, 26, 27, 30, and Walton Street.

The plan called for the closing of the Carbondale High School, the East Campus Vocational School, and the Prep, while the new high school would include classes now in the Prep, high school classes and activities at the East Campus facilities on East Walton Street.

A similar proposal also lost by a vote of 2,370 to 1,064 in a referendum held in March 1982. The bonds would have been used to finance the consolidation plan and be to off with revenues from an increased property tax.

A citizen's committee supporting the consolidation plan estimated that the increase in taxes would have come to $9.65 per $100 of assessed valuation of property. The committee estimated that a property owner with a home assessed at $50,000 would have paid an extra $47.50 per year. Property assessed at $100,000 would have been taxed an additional $87 per year, they estimated.

Supporters of the plan said it would cut down on costs in the long run with a proposal. They said duplication of services on three campuses and the maintenance of three separate buildings is expensive. And in light of declining enrollments it is unnecessary, they claimed.

In addition, they pointed out that even though the consolidation proposal failed, the school district will be required to spend about $2.25 million to bring the Central Campus facilities within the state's health and safety requirements.

Members of the citizen's committee argued that a consolidated system would benefit the students. They said that in the past few years, students split between three campuses, causing administrative problems and unnecessary operational costs.

School consolidation proposal fails

U.S. marshals impound Chicago ballots

By Vicki Olgyay
Staff Writer

Sharon Hutchinson won the six-way race for the April 5th Trustee Election Tuesday by a landslide.

Unofficial tallies showed Hutchinson, a second-year student with perfect attendance at SIUC, received 3,914 votes to...
City Council OKs ordinances necessary for surgical center

By John Schrag
Staff Writer

A proposal for a new ambulatory surgical center in Carbondale quietly cleared another hurdle Monday night when the City Council unanimously approved two ordinances making property changes which are necessary for construction of the facility.

The council had to rezone the property being considered for the project from medium density residential to professional and administrative offices. It also agreed to sell some city alley property needed for the facility to the corporation planning the surgical center for $4,000.

The project is being planned by Southern Illinois Hospital Services Inc., the corporation that operates Carbondale Memorial Hospital. The surgical center is tentatively planned to be built near Memorial Hospital, on the west side of University Avenue between Oak and Jackson streets.

At the council meeting last week, opposition to the facility's proposed abortion services was voiced, despite efforts of Mayor Hansotia to keep moral and religious issues out of the discussion and restrict it to matters of land use.

When Jackson County Right to Life Inc. protested the proposed facility earlier this year, Memorial Hospital Administrator George Maroney said that abortions are just one of many surgical procedures performed at surgical centers. He noted that abortions are legally allowed and are now being performed at Memorial Hospital.

Surgical centers are designed to give one-day medical services for minor surgical operations. Hospital officials say that because overhead costs for such facilities are less, and patients do not spend the night, the cost of minor surgery is reduced.

Maroney said that several more steps are required before construction of the facility can begin. He said an application must be filed with the Illinois State Health Facilities Planning Agency, which must complete an investigation of the project.

Maroney said the board usually takes between 90 and 100 days before an approval is rendered.

He said the hospital corporation must also begin exploring the bond market to determine the best way to structure the debt that will be incurred in construction. Several marketing options are open to tax-exempt facilities such as hospitals, he said.

Maroney said he hopes that the legal and financial work can be done in time to start construction in late fall or early winter. He said the facility should be ready for patients 12 to 14 months after construction begins.

In response to concerns raised earlier about possible flooding in the neighborhood around the proposed facility, Councilwoman Helen Westberg reported Monday night that a capital improvements project is being planned to alleviate drainage problems in that area of the city.

Nearby residents who complained about the sight of screening provided in past hospital construction were again assured that proper screening and lighting will be installed as part of the plan for the property.

---

News Roundup

U.S. to insure Israeli borders

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan declared Tuesday he has rescinded a "truly alarming" decline in America's global influence. The offer to the reelected U.S. muscle by insuring Israel's border security if it quickly pulls its troops back from Lebanon.

"This administration is prepared to take all necessary measures to guarantee the security of Israel's northern borders in the aftermath of the current redeployment of the Israeli army," the president said in a speech to the American Legion.

Reagan gave no details of how the United States would guarantee the borders. His spokesman, Larry Speakes, said one option was using U.S. troops, probably as part of a multinational force, upon specific request and if their use was an essential part of an agreement.

Taxpayers urged to file early

SPRINGFIELD (AP) - The state Revenue Department reminded taxpayers Tuesday to file 1982 Illinois income tax returns early.

Nearly 100,000 taxpayers who did file early already are sharing in $8 million in refunds that have been mailed out or will be mailed next week, Director J. Thomas Johnson said.

Nearly 1 million of the estimated nearly 5 million personal income tax returns expected this year already have been filed, he said.

Deadline for filing is April 15.

Government promises to buy town

FURREA, Mo. (AP) - The federal government promised Tuesday to spend $33.1 million to buy the entire town of Times Beach and move its residents to protect them from dioxin contamination.

Environmental Protection Agency administrator Anne M. Burford told reporters the EPA will pay for the immediate relocation of all the town's residents and businesses, with Missouri footing the remaining 10 percent of the cost.

Federal money, which also would be used to buy the town's 900 homes and businesses, DirectX, a chemical byproduct of herbicide production, was mixed with waste oil and sprayed on streets in Times Beach to control dust a decade ago. Its effect on humans is unclear.

---

Happy Birthday to Us...Happy Birthday to Us...

Help Hanger Celebrate its Birthday with

- Hundreds of Helm-Filled Balloons
- Free Old Style glasses to first 120 people purchasing Old Style drafts (limit 1 glass per customer)
- Free copies of Daily Egyptian
- DOOR PRIZES (T-shirts, beer signs, etc.)

*+50+ DRAFTS
*+50+ BUCKS-BACK BOTTLES Powerhouse Rhythm & Blues from George Faber & Stronghold
* NO COVER *
S-Senate to consider fund rules bill

By James Derk
Staff Writer

The Student Senate will consider a bill to establish new funding guidelines for the Special Academics Activity Fund during its regular meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Student Center Ballroom B.

The fund was established last year to fund individual and groups who wish to attend professional workshops and seminars. The guidelines were proposed by a special panel appointed to oversee the fund.

The senate, which is the legislative body for the Graduate Student Organization, will also consider a resolution in favor of the proposed name change of the fund to the School of General Undergraduate and Interdisciplinary Studies.

Jewell Friend, dean of General Academic Programs, is in favor of the change since, she said, it would provide a clear delineation of the function of the school. The unit’s programs are offered in cooperation with other schools in the University, and it acts as a link agency by assisting activities directed toward student’s academic achievement.

The senate will also consider a resolution in favor of an increase in the amount charged for parking activity fee at Evergreen Terrace. Last year the Evergreen Terrace Academic Council unanimously approved a $1 increase in their activity fee per month.

The USO Housing, Tuition and Commission also approved the increase, which would be used for expanded recreational and activity programs for the many children living in Evergreen Terrace.

The Senate will consider a bill to approve the American Association of Airport Executives as a recognized student organization. The objective of the organization is to develop professionalism in students interested in aviation management.

In other business, the Agricultural Student Advisory Council has recommended funds from the senate for an awards banquet and the senate will consider the recommendation of John Stewart as chief pastor of the Campus Christian Chapel, the Senate to consider the appointment of President Jerry Cook, as required before it becomes official.

Breath test refusal admissable as evidence, high court rules

SPRINGFIELD (AP) - A key portion of Illinois' new drunken driving law was approved by the U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday as justices ruled that refusal to take a sobriety test may be used as evidence of guilt.

"We're hopeful that this will help get people to take the Breathalyzer test," said Jim Edgar, Illinois secretary of state.

Edgar was a backer of a 1981 bill that revamped the state's drunken driving law. The new law includes a provision allowing prosecutors to use a refusal to take a sobriety test as evidence in court. Edgar added that the high court's decision appears to reflect growing public concern about drunken driving, which has been blamed for killing more than 25,900 people a year.

"The situation underlying this case occurs with tragic frequency in our nation's high ways," Justice Sandra Day O'Connor wrote. "The carnage caused by drunk drivers is well-documented."

In a 7-2 decision, the court said it is not a violation of one's constitutional right against self-incrimination to have such a refusal used as evidence in court. The Supreme Court has previously held that states may force suspected drunken drivers to take the tests to measure alcohol or drug levels in the blood.

The court overturned a ruling by the South Dakota Supreme Court that the refusal of a driver's refusal would violate the constitution in a case because it would violate the constitutional right against self-incrimination.

According to documents submitted to the Supreme Court, courts in at least six states have ruled against such a refusal.

South Oakland parking ban

OK'd at City Council meeting

By John Schrag
Staff Writer

At the requests of nearby residents, parking along North Oak Street between Whitney and Chautauqua streets will be prohibited from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. Parking near intersections along the street will also be banned.

The City Council discussed the matter earlier this year and approved an ordinance regulating parking at its meeting Monday night.

The law bans vehicles along North Oak Street have claimed about cars being parked along the street for long periods of time. While some residents favored a complete parking ban, others wanted parking to remain available for themselves or guests.

The parking ordinance will also allow the city to sweep the street, a favorite parking area for SIU-C students and faculty, at its scheduled time of 8 a.m. Mayor Rams Parker said that the parking ordinance adopted by the council was somewhat controversial.

Ed Reeder, director of public works, said some demonstrators the new parking restrictions should be posted sometime this week or early next week.

In other action, the council approved a staff recommendation to raise rental rates at the Eumura C. Hayes Center from $4 per square foot in fiscal year 1980 to $5.50 per square foot in fiscal year 1981.

The council, which discussed the matter at an informal meeting last week, had considered implementing a smaller rent increase and using reserve funds to meet costs. However, the council decided that the larger rent increase would allow the reserve fund to be used for other things, such as a new roof that is needed on the building.

Counselor Archie Jones said that while the rent increase may seem excessive to some people, it is justified because it is necessary for the roof to be fixed.

"Without a roof, that building would not be worth much," he said.

Rape reported

A Carbondale woman was raped late Monday night on the east side of town according to Carbondale police.

The report was received shortly after midnight and a police had said the rapist was still on the loose.

No further information about the rape was released pending investigation.

LAROMA PIZZA
FREE DELIVERY
529-1344
We Deliver at LUNCH 11:30-2:00
Across from Old Town Liquor
Open 7 days a week.
Sun.-Thurs. 11a.m.-1a.m.
Fri.-Sat. 11a.m.-2l o m.

COMPARRE OUR PRICES AND QUALITY AND YOU WILL KNOW WHY WE CAME TO CARMELDA.
Our Coupons Never Expire

Miller drafts 50c
Lite
Pitchers $2.00
All The Time
OUR BEER GARDEN IS NOW OPEN!

PIZZA INGREDIENTS:
Italian Sausage
Hamburger
Pepperoni
Canadian Bacon Hormone
Momshroom
Green Pepper
Black Olive Cheese
Add. ing.

STUFFED PIZZA *
(Allow 30 min. for stuffed)

Cheese
1 Item
2 Item
3 Item
Special
(S, M, O, GP, PP)

4.25 6.00 8.50
7.50
5.50 7.00 8.25
8.25
6.70 8.50 11.00
Works
8.50 9.00 11.00
13.00
X Cheese
2.50
2.50
75
75
75
2.50
Meat
2.50
2.50
2.50
2.50

DIINNERS AND SANDWICHES

Horn
Hom and Cheese
1.75
2.00
2.25
3.00
5.55
2.25
3.02
Bacon
Cheese
2.75
2.25
2.75
3.00
3.00
2.75
Lovina Large

You better clip and save this

Our Coupons Never Expire

SPECIAL SUNDAY
$1 off any large or 5 large pizza with picture of Gus Bode from D.E.
1 picture a pizza

SPECIAL MONDAY
Buy 2 Pizzas-
Get the 3rd one FREE!

SPECIAL TUESDAY
Spaghetti-All you can eat $2.00
Plus 3 for $1.00
7oz. Little Kings or
7oz. Siroka

SPECIAL WEDNESDAY
Buy one pizza
get second for 1/3 price.
40ct Drafts

SPECIAL THURSDAY
With any large or X-Large Pizza
get a $5 pitcher.
(Limit 1 Pitcher)

SPECIAL FRIDAY
$1 off any large or X-Large pizza with picture of Gus Bode from D.E.
1 picture a pizza

LAROMA PIZZA
Opinion & Commentary

Abortion question not the issue

THOSE WHO OPPOSE abortion go too far when they would prevent a community from having the benefits of a medical facility because the facility would offer abortions as part of its services.

The Carbondale City Council rightly approved plans Monday for an addition to Memorial Hospital because the facility is needed and because it will benefit many people with lower incomes. Abortion should have stood in the way, and the council was right in not allowing opponents of abortion to make it an issue at least week's council meeting.

OPPONENTS OF abortion should keep in mind that the proposed facility is not an abortion clinic but a facility that will provide abortions among many other services.

The fact is that abortions now are performed at Memorial Hospital — and at other hospitals elsewhere. Would those who oppose abortion on moral and religious grounds have those hospitals closed down?

Letters — Game show idea stupid

Well Mr. Herrmann you’ve done it again. You’ve proved yourself a real dead weight more than once. Your Feb 2nd article in the Student Edition is a real waste, or an utter unseemly way to speak of the facilities that students are supposed to be able to use. Your editorial sensibility is rare.

This time you attacked WSIU-FM, Channel 8 and PBS by recommending that they carry game shows. How STUPID!!!

Public broadcasting’s free, non-commercial, educational purpose has been, is, and will be a valuable public service. It is one of the few remaining places where people can get basic information about current events, science, community issues, and the arts. It is not the job of public broadcasting to provide entertainment.

One of your objections with PBS is that it’s geared toward intellect. Not true. I even think there are programs that are geared even to your level, Herrmann.

As for your contention that WSIU-FBS should carry game shows because it would give us a chance to sell more ads, that is where your ignorance of public TV really shows up.

‘Public Broadcasting’ is just that, owned by the public. It does not have commercials!

Mr. Herrmann, you also stated that producing such shows ‘certainly wouldn’t cost too much’. Wrong! You obviously have no idea of the lack of knowledge of TV production. Even the simplest of TV productions require quite an investment of time, manpower and equipment.

Finally, your contention that WSIU-FBS and PBS is a whole, is ‘dull’. I guess that this just proves that all things are relative because you see, I find you, your writing and your show takes on all. Why don’t you go out and get a real job instead of sitting on your rear a couple of times a week. All I can say is it’s just too bad because control isn’t retrospective, your mother might opt for it too!

Steve Stahl, Senior, Radio-TV.

Mom, dad liable for kids

This letter is in response to your editorial of Feb. 18.

You tell me just what business it is of yours if you are 6 years-old or younger have in possessing an ‘active sex life’? Is it any of your business if a 16-year-old is having sex? If a 18-year-old is pregnant, does that reflect on the parents? Of course not.

You tell me what difference does it make if the child is 10, or 30? The child is a child, the parents the parents. The fact is, and this is an issue of parenting, responsibility. Parents have every right to know that their child is pregnant, or that the child is having sex. As Mom and Dad are liable for the kids.

Your argument that the girls who are scared away from the federally-funded centers, would go ahead with sex with birth control is unjustified. If the younger considered going to the center she definitely knew the consequences of an ‘active sex life’ and she wouldn’t have considered the federally-funded center in the first place.

Ah, but now say the toddler does choose to lead this ‘active sex life’ without birth control. Pregnancy may occur. Now the boot is on the other foot, the parents are held responsible. Ah — this is an issue of parenting responsibility. Parents have every right to know that their child is pregnant, or that the child is having sex. As Mom and Dad are liable for the kids.

And how will receptionists at the newly designated school handle phone calls? I can hear it now.

RECEPTIONIST (answering phone): “Hello, School of General Undergraduate and Interdisciplinary Studies? May I help you?”

CALLER: “What?”

RECEPTIONIST: “This is the School of General Undergraduate and Interdisciplinary Studies. May I help you?”

CALLER: “I’m sorry, I must have the wrong number. I wanted General Academic Programs.”

RECEPTIONIST: “This is Mr. Herrmann you’ve just met. General Academic Programs. We’ve changed our name to School of General Undergraduate and Interdisciplinary Studies.”

In fairness, though, I did read Friend’s (the student) page-and-a-half, single-spareded rationale for the name change in General Undergraduate and Interdisciplinary Studies. It’s a name that gives the program respect and prestige. We think it clearly defines and designates the unit. People will be better able to identify with it.

‘Identify with it? I can’t even remember how to say it!”

RECEPTIONIST “School of General Undergraduate and Interdisciplinary Studies.”

CALLER: “What?”

And on and on.

But, again for the sake of fairness, I’ll assume that you’re interested in the heart of that page-and-a-half, single-spaced rationale for this name change there is a legitimate reason or two for it.

Still, I’m worried that the name change idea might catch on in other academic units on campus.

After all, the College of Communications and Fine Arts could signal its function more clearly with a name like “College of Personal and Media-Oriented Exploitation, Pontification and Cultural Retirement.”

And I’ll bet any Child and Family Major could more readily identify with the “School of Interpersonal Household Unit Relations and Infant- Early Youth Development.”

And what English professor wouldn’t like the respect and prestige of having “Department of Anglo-Grammatical and Modern Literary Studies” on his resume when it comes to time to search for a deanship somewhere?

And couldn’t Religious Studies be more clearly defined and designated with a name like “Studies in American and Worldwide Christian, Moslem, Buddhist, Pagan, Mystical and Comparative Beliefs and Culture”?

Student body victim of its own apathy

My congratulations to Andrew Herrmann for inspiring the Student Editorial Board that hasn’t the guts to say no to the powers that sign their paychecks. We need more student voices, not people who hand out electoral pamphlets in a loud voice and then squeak to Albert Semit in a soft voice. More students should speak out. Say NO to the administrators, that we are more than a device for cash flow and debits; that we are citizens, pay taxes and by definition, as public servants they work for us.

Protest is healthy, and brings needed change if it is strong enough and constructive in nature.

So, my hat’s off to you Andrew, for your day, rany: wit has spawned a tremor that, with enough time, may become a quake. — Dave Lest, saw, Senior, ESSE
S SRC's Base Camp provides outdoor recreation equipment

By Lisa Nichols

Want to rent a tent? Or how about a canoe, a sleeping bag, a cooler or a lantern? Where can a student go to rent these items - and many more - at an affordable price?

Base Camp - that's where.

Located on the ground floor on the west side of the Recreation Center, Base Camp is a rental supply area for outdoor recreation equipment. The rates are reasonable, from $5 a day for a canoe and accessories priced at $13 to fees for refrigerators, grills, or a camping stove. Base Camp is available to students who wish to participate in the outdoor recreation activities sponsored by SIUC's Recreation Department, such as camping, canoeing, skydiving, intramural sports, and many other activities.

Interviews will be held for the Recreation Department. Lewis has letters of information on everything from health clubs to state parks, located statewide, nationwide and even worldwide.

Most people who use LES want information on camping and canoeing sites. Lewis said LES can give information about plays on campus, sports clubs such as fencing and skydiving, intramural sports, and many other activities.

Break trips to Springfield, Chicago set

The office of International Education will sponsor two separate trips to Chicago and Springfield, III during the spring break period.

The Chicago trip, which costs $72, includes round-trip transportation, hotel accommodations and entrance fees. The group will leave March 12 and return to Carbondale March 15. The deadline for registering is March 1.

The Springfield group is scheduled to visit New Salem Village, Illinois, segregate the state museum, and a variety of other sites of interest. The trip will cost $60 and the group will leave March 12 and return March 15. Registration deadline is Feb. 25.

Students interested in participating must sign up at International Services, 910 S. Forest St., Carbondale.

Break trips to Springfield, Chicago set

The Office of International Education will sponsor two separate trips to Chicago and Springfield, Ill. during the spring break period.

The Chicago trip, which costs $72, includes round-trip transportation, hotel accommodations and entrance fees. The group will leave March 12 and return to Carbondale March 15. The deadline for registering is March 1.

The Springfield group is scheduled to visit New Salem Village, Illinois, segregate the state museum, and a variety of other sites of interest. The trip will cost $60 and the group will leave March 12 and return March 15. Registration deadline is Feb. 25.

Students interested in participating must sign up at International Services, 910 S. Forest St., Carbondale.

The American Tap
HAPPY HOUR
All-Day-and-Night 35¢ Drafts
1.75 Pitchers
50¢ LOWENBRÄU
White & Black 75¢ Speedrains
Russians 70¢ Seagram's
95¢ 75¢ Jack Daniels

RESUMES THAT SELL YOU!
10% OFF with this coupon
PERFECTLY CLEAR PRINTERS
• Resume or Words Processed • 32 Border Designs
• Cover Letters • Variety of Paper Styles
219 W. Main St., Carbondale

Daily Egyptian, February 20, 1983, Page 5
Cast members perform a scene from "The 1940's Radio Hour."

'The 1940's Radio Hour' set to perform at Shryock

In the golden age of radio, millions crowded around their radios each week to catch the entertainment of that era — live radio shows featuring big bands, singers and comics.

Broadway's swinging musical-comedy hit, "The 1940's Radio Hour," will create those magical moments at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 1 at Shryock Auditorium.

"The 1940's Radio Hour" is complete with a live big band and singers, comedy routines, a narrated drama and classic commercials. They all come together to make those sitting in the audience believe that they are watching a live broadcast from the Algonquin Room of the Hotel Astor, high above New York City.

Recorder recital to be given

Marianne Richert, graduate student in music performance, will present a recital on recorder at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Old Baptist Foundation Chapel. Assisting Richert will be Lawrence Dennis on harpsichord, John Hooker on cello, Eyck, Fontana, J. S. Bach, Linde and Telemann.

Richert studied recorder and historical double-reed instruments at the West German Musikakademie in Hamburg and obtained her teaching degree there in 1978. She received performance diploma on the recorder in 1979 and appears on several recordings of medieval and Renaissance music produced in Hamburg.

The performance is free and the public is invited to attend.

Mail Art Show to feature the unique

By Cynthia Reizer Staff Writer

For the price of a stamp, artists can see their works displayed for a month and then disposed of. A bit of flippancy and a quest for fun are the premise for the Mail Art Show, according to its initiators Hallie Levine and Kathy Miller, both graduate students in philosophy.

The concept of mail art stems from an art movement of the 50's which emphasized temporary objects made into art, says Levine.

The first such show in Carbondale opens March 12 in the P. Case Gallery of the Communications Building and will give anyone the chance to display photography, painting, drawing, graphics, concrete poetry, postcard art, etc. "The list of possibilities is endless," say Levine and Miller, who encourage artists and the general public alike to send "anything artistic."

"Mail art can be anything ranging from a postcard to a painting with a stamp on it," Miller says. "You can even mail us a pair of jeans, if that's your trademark." She qualifies this suggestion, saying they welcome someone's favorite piece of clothing only if it's a creative expression, or altered in some artistic way.

Anything of an artistic sort which is sent through University mail and is addressed to the Cinema and Photography Department in care of Levine and Miller will be put on display.

The two have been publicizing the show around campus for the past three weeks "full force," they say, but mostly focusing on visual departments. However, they realize there are campus artists who major in computer science and botany and the show is for them too.

It's also for those willing artists who live beyond Carbondale's borders and can afford stamps. Both feel organizing such a show is, as Miller puts it, "a really chancey thing. You don't know what you're gonna get." So why are they taking the risk asking people to send them any kind of art and promising to display it? Miller says "because it's more fun to have a fun show where a lot of people can have their work up. Levine delivers the urge as "art for art's sake."

Mail Art Show

"Mail Art Show" will present a display of temporary works created for the price of a stamp. The works will be displayed for a month and then disposed of. For more information, call Levine and Miller at the Cinema and Photography Department, Box Office.
“Sting II” a good vehicle for Gleason and cohorts

By Alan Cockrell

“Sting II” is a period comedy set in 1946, and it’s the kind of movie Hollywood needs today. The story centers on a family’s sexual ambiguity, sex, and gore, and you can be sure that they won’t be ignored by your parents if you take it with you without fear that either will be displeased. This is a: nice Gleason’s latest film, and a whole generation will have the occasion of looking at the screen as if it were a mirror. It shows more than that. It portrays the appeal of Gleason’s character in a way that many people would have been able to identify with in the past. This is, of course, the film’s appeal and its success. Gleason is, once more, the master of the sophisticated style. “Sting II” is conceptually a movie for the audience just by walking into a room. The film has the polished elegance of Fred Astaire and the cartoon timing of Groucho Marx. This movie really doesn’t have much to do with the original “Sting,” and I’m glad. It’s refreshing to look at a sequel that’s not just a bland copy of what went on before. Don’t expect the other movie, and don’t compare this one.

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

CARBONDALE’S ORIGINAL DELI
FREE DELIVERY

11-1-30
549-3366

Subs • Salad • Cheesecake • Quiche

NORTH CAROLINA DANZTHEATER COMING.

Robert Lindgren, Director

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

FEMINIST VISIONS OF SOCIAL CHANGE: Liberal, Socialist, and Counter-Cultural Views

Wednesday
February 23
Davie Auditorium
8:00

ROSEMARY RUETHE
Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary

Latest Rundgren effort is highly refined

By Phillip Fiorini

Hall of Fame Writer

Last year, Todd Rundgren said that his music talks about the things he thinks about, but today music has become less relevant. “My music must have to do with struggle to be an individual.” A year later, he is doing just that.

With Rundgren’s latest solo release, "The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect," a struggling frustrated artist is again put on display. One that’s appealing, but in a slightly inconsistent manner.

His “Tortured Artist” evokes a persona that realizes what he wants and where he wants to go, but with feelings, impressions, and convictions, it’s a persona that’s highly refined music.

The first cut on the album, “Hideaway,” reveals a wayward Rundgren. “Standing on Display,” in 1978 released, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect” is a struggle for Rundgren to present himself as a cause. Rundgren has always been a subject of paradox, and presents it in a finely crafted pop art.

But when Rundgren’s alone, his music attracts seriousness. Certainly after listening to one of “Tortured Artist,” a definite Rundgren emerges, with an easy side. But with side two, a difficult, unexplainable, and inconsistent man.

Rundgren’s latest solo album, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect,” is a slice of life singer turned comedy set in 1946, and it’s the good-old-country singer turned comedy set in 1940. and it’s the good-old-boy country singer turned comedy set in 1940. This movie really doesn’t have much to do with the original "Sting," and I’m glad. It’s refreshing to look at a sequel that’s not just a bland copy of what went on before. Don’t expect the other movie, and don’t compare this one.

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

CARBONDALE’S ORIGINAL DELI
FREE DELIVERY

11-1-30
549-3366

Subs • Salad • Cheesecake • Quiche

NORTH CAROLINA DANZTHEATER COMING.

Robert Lindgren, Director

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

FEMINIST VISIONS OF SOCIAL CHANGE: Liberal, Socialist, and Counter-Cultural Views

Wednesday
February 23
Davie Auditorium
8:00

ROSEMARY RUETHE
Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary

Latest Rundgren effort is highly refined

By Phillip Fiorini

Hall of Fame Writer

Last year, Todd Rundgren said that his music talks about the things he thinks about, but today music has become less relevant. “My music must have to do with struggle to be an individual.” A year later, he is doing just that.

With Rundgren’s latest solo release, "The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect," a struggling frustrated artist is again put on display. One that’s appealing, but in a slightly inconsistent manner.

His “Tortured Artist” evokes a persona that realizes what he wants and where he wants to go, but with feelings, impressions, and convictions, it’s a persona that’s highly refined music.

The first cut on the album, “Hideaway,” reveals a wayward Rundgren. “Standing on Display,” in 1978 released, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect” is a struggle for Rundgren to present himself as a cause. Rundgren has always been a subject of paradox, and presents it in a finely crafted pop art.

But when Rundgren’s alone, his music attracts seriousness. Certainly after listening to one of “Tortured Artist,” a definite Rundgren emerges, with an easy side. But with side two, a difficult, unexplainable, and inconsistent man.

Rundgren’s latest solo album, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect,” is a slice of life singer turned comedy set in 1946, and it’s the good-old-country singer turned comedy set in 1940. and it’s the good-old-boy country singer turned comedy set in 1940. This movie really doesn’t have much to do with the original "Sting," and I’m glad. It’s refreshing to look at a sequel that’s not just a bland copy of what went on before. Don’t expect the other movie, and don’t compare this one.

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

CARBONDALE’S ORIGINAL DELI
FREE DELIVERY

11-1-30
549-3366

Subs • Salad • Cheesecake • Quiche

NORTH CAROLINA DANZTHEATER COMING.

Robert Lindgren, Director

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

FEMINIST VISIONS OF SOCIAL CHANGE: Liberal, Socialist, and Counter-Cultural Views

Wednesday
February 23
Davie Auditorium
8:00

ROSEMARY RUETHE
Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary

Latest Rundgren effort is highly refined

By Phillip Fiorini

Hall of Fame Writer

Last year, Todd Rundgren said that his music talks about the things he thinks about, but today music has become less relevant. “My music must have to do with struggle to be an individual.” A year later, he is doing just that.

With Rundgren’s latest solo release, "The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect," a struggling frustrated artist is again put on display. One that’s appealing, but in a slightly inconsistent manner.

His “Tortured Artist” evokes a persona that realizes what he wants and where he wants to go, but with feelings, impressions, and convictions, it’s a persona that’s highly refined music.

The first cut on the album, “Hideaway,” reveals a wayward Rundgren. “Standing on Display,” in 1978 released, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect” is a struggle for Rundgren to present himself as a cause. Rundgren has always been a subject of paradox, and presents it in a finely crafted pop art.

But when Rundgren’s alone, his music attracts seriousness. Certainly after listening to one of “Tortured Artist,” a definite Rundgren emerges, with an easy side. But with side two, a difficult, unexplainable, and inconsistent man.

Rundgren’s latest solo album, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect,” is a slice of life singer turned comedy set in 1946, and it’s the good-old-country singer turned comedy set in 1940. and it’s the good-old-boy country singer turned comedy set in 1940. This movie really doesn’t have much to do with the original "Sting," and I’m glad. It’s refreshing to look at a sequel that’s not just a bland copy of what went on before. Don’t expect the other movie, and don’t compare this one.

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

CARBONDALE’S ORIGINAL DELI
FREE DELIVERY

11-1-30
549-3366

Subs • Salad • Cheesecake • Quiche

NORTH CAROLINA DANZTHEATER COMING.

Robert Lindgren, Director

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

FEMINIST VISIONS OF SOCIAL CHANGE: Liberal, Socialist, and Counter-Cultural Views

Wednesday
February 23
Davie Auditorium
8:00

ROSEMARY RUETHE
Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary

Latest Rundgren effort is highly refined

By Phillip Fiorini

Hall of Fame Writer

Last year, Todd Rundgren said that his music talks about the things he thinks about, but today music has become less relevant. “My music must have to do with struggle to be an individual.” A year later, he is doing just that.

With Rundgren’s latest solo release, "The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect," a struggling frustrated artist is again put on display. One that’s appealing, but in a slightly inconsistent manner.

His “Tortured Artist” evokes a persona that realizes what he wants and where he wants to go, but with feelings, impressions, and convictions, it’s a persona that’s highly refined music.

The first cut on the album, “Hideaway,” reveals a wayward Rundgren. “Standing on Display,” in 1978 released, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect” is a struggle for Rundgren to present himself as a cause. Rundgren has always been a subject of paradox, and presents it in a finely crafted pop art.

But when Rundgren’s alone, his music attracts seriousness. Certainly after listening to one of “Tortured Artist,” a definite Rundgren emerges, with an easy side. But with side two, a difficult, unexplainable, and inconsistent man.

Rundgren’s latest solo album, “The Ever Popular Tortured Artist Effect,” is a slice of life singer turned comedy set in 1946, and it’s the good-old-country singer turned comedy set in 1940. and it’s the good-old-boy country singer turned comedy set in 1940. This movie really doesn’t have much to do with the original "Sting," and I’m glad. It’s refreshing to look at a sequel that’s not just a bland copy of what went on before. Don’t expect the other movie, and don’t compare this one.

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.

CARBONDALE’S ORIGINAL DELI
FREE DELIVERY

11-1-30
549-3366

Subs • Salad • Cheesecake • Quiche

NORTH CAROLINA DANZTHEATER COMING.

Robert Lindgren, Director

The movie stars Alan Cockrell and Rosemary Ruethe.
Spring brings kegger party complaints

By John Schrag
Staff Writer

The robins are not back from their winter nesting grounds and the apple buds have not yet blossomed. But there’s an even surer symbol that spring is in the air: the car door and window rolls down at 3 a.m. and the glass from broken beer bottles is swept from the driveway before he heads off to church. The glass comes from broken keggers. The bottles come from student partiers. And Jung says the partygoers usually come from the house at 400 W. Oak St.

Jung addressed the Carbondale Liquor Control Commission Monday night about what he sees as a “disaster waiting to happen.”

He said he has patiently put up with the loud music, broken glass and illegal parking that has become a standard part of weekends in his neighborhood. He said he has patiently put up with the loud music, broken glass and illegal parking that has become a standard part of weekends in his neighborhood. He said he has patiently put up with the loud music, broken glass and illegal parking that has become a standard part of weekends in his neighborhood.

He said that in the end he had to pay a $50 fine for violating the city noise ordinance. And now, he and his roommates were harassed by the police. He said he was threatened with spending fines of “about $1,000.” He said he was threatened to confron those housemates and was harassed by some of the police.

He said that in the end he had to pay a $50 fine for violating the city noise ordinance. And now, he said that in the end he had to pay a $50 fine for violating the city noise ordinance. And now, he said that in the end he had to pay a $50 fine for violating the city noise ordinance. And now, he said that in the end he had to pay a $50 fine for violating the city noise ordinance.

Jung said it seems that the problem is not limited to the house on Oak Street and suggested that city officials in Champaign, where they have the same problem, can contact.

He also said if the problem continues on Oak Street and elsewhere, undercover police officers can be sent to parties.

The two-story house at 400 W. Oak St. is owned by Henry Fisher and is divided into four apartments. Residents said they did not know about the complaint and were unaware that it is illegal to sell beer without a license. They have had three partygoers charged with violating state liquor laws since last summer.

Jung said the police seem very friendly toward him.

John Kubinsky, who has lived at the house for two years, said they also received a lettering fine of about $40 after one of their parties, and several parking tickets for parking in their yard.

Kubinsky, a senior in university studies, said the charge that the house is used only for weekend parties is “ridiculous,” as is the idea that they made money at the parties. “We each take about a $20 loss every party,” he said.

The residents at 400 W. Oak St. are well aware that it is illegal to sell beer without a license. They have had three partygoers charged with violating state liquor laws since last summer.

Jung would have the assistant city attorney to research liquor without a license. He said he has patiently put up with the loud music, broken glass and illegal parking that has become a standard part of weekends in his neighborhood.

Although he still maintains that their parties were not bigger or louder than others in the neighborhood, he said the hassles are no longer worth it.

“My probably not going to have the 10-kegger anymore,” he said. “It just didn’t work out in this neighborhood.”
Economy may be on the rise, but student jobs still scarce

by Deane Cray Student Writer

Even if it's true that America has turned the economic corner and is on the rebound, says Graham Morgan at the Illinois Job Service, it doesn't mean more jobs in Carbondale for SIU-C students this summer.

"Locally, the job situation has been tight for some time," Morgan said. "Jobs aren't available because the jobs are eliminated, or people are hanging on to their jobs."

Morgan said even though unemployment decreases in the summer, there probably won't be a great upswing in jobs.

"It's really hard to say how many students had jobs in summer last year — we can keep track — but the summer and Christmas break turn around, so people have dropped considerably," Morgan said.

"Students are anticipating staying in Carbondale this summer and keeping their jobs."

Students compete for the same jobs that high school students and other workers want. Morgan pointed out that the town is basically a 9-10-5 commercial and service center and unemployment is lower here than in the surrounding areas," he said.

Morgan said this attracts workers who have been laid off and who come to Carbondale to look for any job that will keep their families afloat.

However, Morgan added, college students also need these jobs. "There are fewer jobs and loans are available and many students have part-time jobs as well."

"Any students interested in getting a job this summer should start looking before spring break." Morgan said.

---

The Counseling Center, Woody Hall offers a GRIEF GROUP

For members of the University Community who have experienced the death of a person close to them, recently, or in the more distant past.

Memberships limited. For more info. call 453-5371

The Bike Day!

Wednesday from open til-close

99¢ Pitchers

with purchase of any medium or large size Pizza no limit on pitchers of any draft beer or soft drink

Wendy's

IF YOU THINK FRESH TASTES BEST...

YOU'RE WENDY'S KIND OF PEOPLE...

ALL THE WENDY'S SINGLE 1/4 LB* HAMBURGERS YOU WANT FOR JUST 89¢ EACH!

ALL THE WENDY'S SINGLE 1/4 LB* HAMBURGERS YOU WANT FOR JUST 89¢ EACH!

Get a great tasting burger for 89¢. Not valid with any other offer or coupon.

Pocket piggy bank under ordering. For coupon per customer.

Choose tomato extra and/or cheese extra, when available.

OFFER EXPIRES: Feb. 28, '93

No purchase necessary. Use as a donation. Offer expires March 13, '93.
Club is quickest remedy for gravity

By Kathy Kamienski
Staff Writer

Alan Volin uses Saluki Flying Club aircraft to chase birds. But that can be explained. He's a zoology professor and faculty adviser to the club. The bird tracking is a scientific mission.

Most of the club's other 28 members, though, use the four club planes for less-exotic pursuits such as making cross-country trips and improving piloting techniques.

There are a few members who don't even have pilot licenses. and more are also used for advanced pilot training and instrument flight training. Club members pay a rate lower than normal area dealer prices for using the aircraft. The hourly aircraft prices range from $77.50 for the trainer to $46 for the high-performance craft.

Membership is open to students, faculty and staff, said Bill Casey, 22, another club member. 23 students members include aviation technology and aviation management majors, as well as business, computer science and others. Casey said.

Club members use a mix of meetings for educational and entertainment purposes. Some topics discussed have been weather, safety, changes in flight regulations.

By Michele Iman
Staff Writer

While many students may spend the weekend enjoying the weather, about 26 students will spend the weekend exploring their own sexuality in the context of relationships with others.

An intensive two-day workshop is planned to give people a better understanding of communication in relationships, of the process of beginning and ending relationships and of the myths and fallacies of current sex education, said Elwren Zimmerman, counseling psychologist in the counseling center.

The workshop will help teach people to get away from "the neurotic feeling of 'I have nothing,' when they end a relationship," Berkowitz said. She said the best thing to do is get involved in other activities.

And in telling a partner that the relationship should be ended, "be very tactful and careful, but don't attacking," she said.

The workshop will be centered around large and small group discussions, role playing and sexually explicit films. Zimmerman said.

Role-playing during the workshop may deal with role expectations, Berkowitz said. Questions that will be dealt with may include: "When a woman asks a man out, who will pay?" and "How do you feel if your male has a more interesting job? Does the male feel threatened?"

Participants must attend both workshop days and they are asked not to get involved in other activities. Because of the personal nature of the program, the issue of confidentiality will be discussed at the beginning of the session.

Workshop set to help students deal with sexual relationships

The workshop will be held on Friday and Saturday, in the room of the Counseling Center. The registration deadline is Wednesday. To register, a $15 fee must be submitted with an application to the Division of Continuing Education, Washington Square C, or call 566-7711.

The program, which is sponsored by the Counseling Center and the Wellness Center, with the Division of Continuing Education, will be the first time a sexual awareness workshop is done in the context of relationships. Chris Berkowitz, registered nurse at the Student Health Assessment Center, said. The 3-day workshops in the past focused "more inwardly on people feeling uncomfortable with their own sexuality." But, because students in these workshops expressed more interest in problems dealing with relationships rather than sexual techniques, the format was revised.

"We still want them to be comfortable with their own sexuality, but we also want them to feel comfortable with others in a relationship," Berkowitz said. The condensed workshop will deal with some questions raised in previous workshops, such as: "If you have sex with a friend, can you still retain the friendship?" and "How can I express myself appropriately in a relationship?"

Anothor focus of the workshop will be how to end a relationship.

"People feel uncomfortable if they're not in a relationship," Berkowitz said. Many times people are reluctant to break up relationships, even if they are unhappy in the relationship, because they are unsure of themselves.

"People should feel good about themselves whether they're in a relationship or not and they shouldn't feel pressured into a relationship," she said.

The workshop will help teach people to get away from "the neurotic feeling of 'I have nothing,' when they end a relationship," Berkowitz said. She said the best thing to do is get involved in other activities.

And in telling a partner that the relationship should be ended, "be very tactful and careful, but don't attacking," she said.

The workshop will be centered around large and small group discussions, role playing and sexually explicit films. Zimmerman said.

Role-playing during the workshop may deal with role expectations, Berkowitz said. Questions that will be dealt with may include: "When a woman asks a man out, who will pay?" and "How do you feel if your male has a more interesting job? Does the male feel threatened?"

Participants must attend both workshop days and they are asked not to get involved in other activities. Because of the personal nature of the program, the issue of confidentiality will be discussed at the beginning of the session.

Workshop set to help students deal with sexual relationships

The workshop will be held on Friday and Saturday, in the room of the Counseling Center. The registration deadline is Wednesday. To register, a $15 fee must be submitted with an application to the Division of Continuing Education, Washington Square C, or call 566-7711.

The program, which is sponsored by the Counseling Center and the Wellness Center, with the Division of Continuing Education, will be the first time a sexual awareness workshop is done in the context of relationships. Chris Berkowitz, registered nurse at the Student Health Assessment Center, said. The 3-day workshops in the past focused "more inwardly on people feeling uncomfortable with their own sexuality." But, because students in these workshops expressed more interest in problems dealing with relationships rather than sexual techniques, the format was revised.

"We still want them to be comfortable with their own sexuality, but we also want them to feel comfortable with others in a relationship," Berkowitz said. The condensed workshop will deal with some questions raised in previous workshops, such as: "If you have sex with a friend, can you still retain the friendship?" and "How can I express myself appropriately in a relationship?"

Anothor focus of the workshop will be how to end a relationship.

"People feel uncomfortable if they're not in a relationship," Berkowitz said. Many times people are reluctant to break up relationships, even if they are unhappy in the relationship, because they are unsure of themselves.

"People should feel good about themselves whether they're in a relationship or not and they shouldn't feel pressured into a relationship," she said.

The workshop will help teach people to get away from "the neurotic feeling of 'I have nothing,' when they end a relationship," Berkowitz said. She said the best thing to do is get involved in other activities.

And in telling a partner that the relationship should be ended, "be very tactful and careful, but don't attacking," she said.

The workshop will be centered around large and small group discussions, role playing and sexually explicit films. Zimmerman said.

Role-playing during the workshop may deal with role expectations, Berkowitz said. Questions that will be dealt with may include: "When a woman asks a man out, who will pay?" and "How do you feel if your male has a more interesting job? Does the male feel threatened?"

Participants must attend both workshop days and they are asked not to get involved in other activities. Because of the personal nature of the program, the issue of confidentiality will be discussed at the beginning of the session.
USDA Choice center cut round steak $1.78 lb.
granulated C and H sugar $9.99 5 lb. bag
USDA inspected, Grade A, center cut round steak granulated C and H sugar

stewing chickens $0.49 lb.

Pevely low fat milk 1.49 gal.
Campbell’s chicken noodle soup .34 10.5 oz. can national’s margarine 3/1 lb. packs

Dole bananas 3/1 lb.

If you find lower prices overall (excluding specials) at any other supermarket which fills all your needs, fresh meat, produce, dairy, grocery, etc., National will pay you triple the difference, in cash!

First shop National. Buy 1 of at least 25 different items totaling $20.00 or more. Then compare prices on the same items at any other supermarket. If their total is lower, bring your itemized National receipt and the other market’s prices to National’s store manager and we’ll pay you triple the difference, in cash.

National, low prices you can believe in.
Nuke freeze rally sells student on movement's global rationale

By Mary Pries
Staff Writer

Becoming involved with the nuclear freeze issue totally changed an SIU-C student's outlook on life.

"I used to be against getting involved with political issues, but now I am majoring in organizing and educating the public on political issues, which is a special major through University Studies," said Keela Williams, a junior.

The Nuclear Rally in New York City last summer was an event that had a strong impression on Williams.

"It was awesome to see all of those people supporting the freeze," said Williams. "I saw little kids, beards, and well, just every type of person working together to get support for the freeze. That was when I realized the relevance of the freeze," she said.

Williams believes the nuclear freeze is one of the most important issues confronting government because "we aren't going to have anything of the bomb dropped on us, we have to do something to try to prevent that," she said.

In March, Williams joined the Mid-American Peace Project and said the group has been working to get other people to support the freeze.

The nuclear freeze movement is not just a wake-up call for disarmament, Williams said. In short, it calls for the United States and the Soviet Union to stop appropriating money to build up arms. Williams added, however, that if the freeze were approved bilaterally, "disarmament would be great!"

1983 is an important year for the issue because Congress is voting on the freeze in March. Williams said.

In March, The New York Times reported that the Reagan administration is aware of the "growing national interest" in limited nuclear arms. However, Reagan said the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in several areas and unless the United States builds its own, the freeze wouldn't have any reason to negotiate a balance of reductions.

Williams disagrees. "It is not so much that people are against the freeze, but most people are just afraid that the Russians are going to get us," she said. "I don't think we have to worry about that because we may not be ahead of the Russians in numbers of bombs, but we are five years ahead of them in technology." Williams said she expects to be working with the nuclear freeze issue for a long time.

"It is tedious and time-consuming work, but it is worth it," she said. "I have realized that if everyone feels like I used to about political involvement, then the country is in the shape it is."

People need someone to help them organize and make plans for action on political issues, Williams said. Without organization, "a person feels that he is only one in a million people and that he can't get anything done."

Consumer organizations do the type of political informing work that interests Williams. Although always dealing with serious issues could be a depressing job at times, Williams said she also finds involvement with the political system to be exciting at times.

"I don't think my friends feel that I am a radical or anything," she said. "I know that they have become more aware of the freeze and so has my family. Of course, my family is another story," said Williams.

"They are not sure about my political views, but they are proud of me for making my own decision on the issue and doing what I am doing,"

Marketing series continues; this week's speakers slated

The American Marketing Association will continue with its "Spectacular Semester Speaker Series" through February with its fourth and fifth speakers.

The AMA and the Clothing and Textiles Club will co-sponsor a presentation by Category's, Department Store, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Lawson 231. Bill Thomas, the Furnitureland employee, will speak on the firm's marketing strategies and the retail industry. The firm is based in Houston.

The AMA will present its fifth speaker, John R. Hodgson and Newswater Inc. Advertising and Marketing Services. Donald A. Roether, director of marketing for the corporation, will speak on advertising, public relations, marketing research and direct marketing and direct marketing. The presentation will be given at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Martin Auditorium in the basement of Morris Library.

The presentations are free.
Hump Day Lecture

TOPIC: Filling your income tax

SPEAKER: JAMES SOUTHWORTH OF H & R BLOCK

Today I am International Lounge Free!

SPC Expressive Arts

---

Spotlight Series:

free admission & free International Coffee

---

Dave Parker

Tomorrow Night, 7:30pm, Old Main Room, Student Center

SPC Center Programming

---

M*A*S*H B*A*S*H

Admission $1 .50 if in MASH attire

PRIZES COSTUME CONTEST TRIVIA Feb. 28 7pm

Watch the final MASH episode on a big screen TV, in the 4th floor Video Lounge

---

Van Rides are available to Brackenridge, CO

Daytona Tues., March 1 8:30 Ballroom B

---

Saturday

SUNDAY "1900"

compensated with WIDD 7 & 9:30pm $1.50

---

36TH ANNUAL THEATRA Xi

Variety Show march 5, 8pm Shryock

tickets available at student center box office

featuring co-host comedian "Kaz" sponsored by I&O SPC

---

Call the GRAPEVINE 536-5556

---

For 24 hour SPC Information

Schools berated in Martin Lecture

By Paula Finlay
Student Writer

Merely “holding the line” is not enough to prevent more “backslide” in schools or to reestablish teaching as professionally and socially rewarding, according to an Ohio State University teacher education expert.

Educators must renew their commitment to high standards, Daryl Siedentop, Ohio State physical education professor, said at the 1983 Glenn “Abe” Martin Lecture.

“Schooling on this country does not serve the purpose that it intends to serve,” Siedentop said. “Schools ought to change.”

The moral philosophy of this century developed from the Period of Enlightenment, according to Siedentop. “Each person defines what is good and right for him or herself,” he said. The focus has been directed toward the personal, away from the social and environmental. School becomes fulfillment of personal goals instead of social.”

He said teachers must become figures of moral authority, as they once were. Siedentop asserted schools have not changed to meet the changes of society, and said they no longer provide an environment for professional practice.

“Schools have not changed except to deteriorate marked,” Conditions for professional practice have deteriorated very consistently in the past several decades,” he said.

Directly related to worsened professional conditions for educators, Siedentop said, are teacher shortages, teacher burn-out, school vandalism; and declining academic performance.

“I don’t think anything is going to change in the schools until the conditions are made to change and begin to improve,” he said.

Siedentop said that teacher shortages are likely to become much more serious. “Shortages relate not to the economies of education but rather to the conditions for professional practice,” he said.

“The overall pool is getting smaller.”

Young teachers today respond to jobs, where conditions for teaching are positive and economic advantages do not offset that, he said.

The economics of education have never been better. Siedentop said, but in the past decades schools were thought of as a place to serve.

In 1969, when Americans were asked if they would like their children to become teachers, 75 percent said yes to affirmatively, Siedentop said. In 1972, 67 percent said yes to the same question but in 1980, less than half said they’d like their children to become teachers, according to Siedentop.

“Climbing vine swan”

31. Ascots
36. EI Camino
41. Simple
46. St(M)us
51. Grand
56. Voyage
61. Power
66. Similar
71. Hair

Across
1. Full of ego
3. Var
4. Passage
5. Map
6. One more
7. Where
32. 10th
33. Allan
34. 11th
35. Gym
36. V.
37. 40th
38. 12th
39. Sperm
40. 19th
41. Card game
42. Badminton
43. Hair product

Down
1. St(M)us
2. Boys
3. 10th
4. 12th
5. Hair
6. View
7. 20th
8. 30th
9. 8th
10. 4th
11. 3rd
12. 2nd
13. 1st
14. 17th
15. 16th
16. 15th
17. 14th
18. 13th
19. 12th
20. 11th
21. 10th
22. 9th
23. 8th
24. 7th
25. 6th
26. 5th
27. 4th
28. 3rd
29. 2nd
30. 1st
31. 31st
32. 30th
33. 29th
34. 28th
35. 27th
36. 26th
37. 25th
38. 24th
39. 23rd
40. 22nd
41. 21st
42. 20th
43. 19th
44. 18th
45. 17th
46. 16th
47. 15th
48. 14th
49. 13th
50. 12th
51. 11th
52. 10th
53. 9th
54. 8th
55. 7th
56. 6th
57. 5th
58. 4th
59. 3rd
60. 2nd
61. 1st
62. Columbus
63. 24th
64. Whistling
65. 23rd
66. 22nd
67. 21st
68. 20th
69. 19th
70. 18th
71. 17th
72. 16th
73. 15th
74. 14th
75. 13th
76. 12th
77. 11th
78. 10th
79. 9th
80. 8th
81. 7th
82. 6th
83. 5th
84. 4th
85. 3rd
86. 2nd
87. 1st
88. 24th
89. 23rd
90. 22nd
91. 21st
92. 20th
93. 19th
94. 18th
95. 17th
96. 16th
97. 15th
98. 14th
99. 13th
100. 12th
101. 11th
102. 10th
103. 9th
104. 8th
105. 7th
106. 6th
107. 5th
108. 4th
109. 3rd
110. 2nd
111. 1st

Across
1. Full of ego
2. Asian jill
3. Passage
4. Pledge
5. 1st
6. Maine
7. Where
8. Abbr.
9. Havana
10. 1st
11. 22nd
12. Aler
13. Answers
14. 1st
15. 32nd
16. 30th
17. 29th
18. 28th
19. 27th
20. 26th
21. 25th
22. 24th
23. 23rd
24. 22nd
25. 21st
26. 20th
27. 19th
28. 18th
29. 17th
30. 16th
31. 15th
32. 14th
33. 13th
34. 12th
35. 11th
36. 10th
37. 9th
38. 8th
39. 7th
40. 6th
41. 5th
42. 4th
43. 3rd
44. 2nd
45. 1st
46. 47th
47. 46th
48. 45th
49. 44th
50. 43rd
51. 42nd
52. 41st
53. 40th
54. 39th
55. 38th
56. 37th
57. 36th
58. 35th
59. 34th
60. 33rd
61. 32nd
62. 31st
63. 30th
64. 29th
65. 28th
66. 27th
67. 26th
68. 25th
69. 24th
70. 23rd
71. 22nd
72. 21st
73. 20th
74. 19th
75. 18th
76. 17th
77. 16th
78. 15th
79. 14th
80. 13th
81. 12th
82. 11th
83. 10th
84. 9th
85. 8th
86. 7th
87. 6th
88. 5th
89. 4th
90. 3rd
91. 2nd
92. 1st
93. 24th
94. 23rd
95. 22nd
96. 21st
97. 20th
98. 19th
99. 18th
100. 17th
101. 16th
102. 15th
103. 14th
104. 13th
105. 12th
106. 11th
107. 10th
108. 9th
109. 8th
110. 7th
111. 6th
112. 5th
113. 4th
114. 3rd
115. 2nd
116. 1st

Today’s puzzle

Words are on Page 8.
Ad effective thru Saturday Night, February 26, 1983.

Kroger MEANS
GETTER MEAT

STU Students
Let's Go Krogering

For the Best of Everything
Including the Cost Cutter Price

COST CUTTER BRAND

Potato Chips

69¢

8-Oz. Bag

Regular & Sugar Free
Pepsi Free or Sugar Free &

Regular Dr. Pepper

8 $1.39

16-Oz. Btl.

PLUS DEPOSIT

In Oil or Water

 Chunk Light

Star-Kist Tuna

99¢

6.5-Oz. Can

Serve 'n' Save

Wiener

89¢

12-Oz. Pkg.

5-Lb. Flavor Seal Pak
Fresh Ground Beef...

Sliced Seitz
Bologna 1-lb.

Regular Pepper

Dr. Pepper

The Best of the Fresh
Just for You

FRESH FRIED
Cinnamon Swirls

$1.99

Pkg.

FRESH MADE
Submarine Sandwich

$4.39

2 For

The Best of the Pres
Just for You

Julie In February Sale

Avondale Frozen
Crisp Cut French Fries

5-Lb. Bag

$1.49

Thompson
White Seedless

99¢

Grapes

89¢

Fresh Nectarines

99¢

Juicy Sweet

Plums

1.00

Golden Ripe

Chiquita

BANANAS

Activities set for philosophers' meetings

By Duane Schombert Staff Writer

More than 160 members of the Society for the Advancement of American Philosophy are expected to attend the group's annual meeting March 3 through 5 at SIU-C, according to John Bowe, associate professor of philosophy at SIU-C.

"This conference will mark the first time in 16 years it has been held at Southern. The scheduled discussions will be interesting and fun to anyone interested in philosophy," Bowe said.

The conference will be under way with a discussion of "Philosophy and the Constitution of the United States" at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the Banquet Room of Carbondale's Radisson Inn. Speakers will be James W. Thomas of Tulane University, Andrew Rock of Tulane University, and Thelma Levine of George Washington University.

"Federalist Times" will kick off a series of discussions at 9:30 a.m. March 4 on the fourth floor of the Student Center. Speakers will be: John C. Nemeroff of Pennsylvania State University; Victor F. Pirely of the State University of New York-Stony Brook, and Mark Meisendel of the University of Pennsylvania.

At 4:15 p.m. two simultaneous discussions will occur. "John Dewey" will be the subject of a talk by Konstantin Kolienda of Rice University and James Fitzpatrick of the University of Toledo, while Donald S. Lee of Tulane University and David C. Clark of SIU-C will discuss "A Pragmatic Theory of Natural Values.

Darnell Rucker of Skidmore College will give the SIU-C's presidential address entitled "Radical Democracy from Plato to Dewey" at 3:15 p.m.

The 75th anniversary celebration of the publication of "Ethics," by John Dewey and James Hayden Tufts will be marked by a panel discussion on the two philosophers at 7:30 p.m. March 4 in Morris Library Auditorium. That will be followed by a discussion of "Ethics" by the American Philosophical Society at 1:30 p.m. in the Student Center. The conference are expected to:

"It is a good day," said Bowe.

"Many people fear this is a day the principles of Dewey are being lost." No one believes this is the case, he said.

"Dewey was right in the beginning, and he was right in the end," Bowe said. "This is a good day for the publication of "Ethics" by John Dewey." The conference will begin at 1:30 p.m.

All sessions of the SAPC will be sponsored by the SIU-C Department of Philosophy and the College of Liberal Arts, Office of Research, Development and Administration and the Student Center.

Microcomputer course available

By Duane Schombert Staff Writer

A ten-part series entitled "The Computer Programme," teaching the basic concepts of microcomputers and effects they have on society, is now available at SIU-C's Sells- laud Center in Merz Library, according to Jerry Hunter, assistant director of media.

The series does not teach a person how to use a computer, however. It gives a general knowledge of computers and what is going on in an office will eventually be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.

"The course is a great introduction to microcomputers. Since most of what goes on in an office will be done by computers, it is important to know about their functions and capabilities," Hunter said.
RUGGERS from Page 20

made us feel good that we could be part of it.

The rugby team is one of 31 sport’s clubs sponsored by the Recreation Center Intramural Department. Each player must pay $20 in dues for the season, and donate around $10 for each road trip. They must also buy a rugby jersey for $30. The team also sells items, such as the “I hate U” T-shirt, sold last fall, to help cover expenses.

The intramural department mat-

res the funds, up to $700, that the team raises.

When the team travels for road games, only 40 players, out of the possible 78 on the team, can play for the two teams. There is a maroon team and a white team each consisting of 20 players. The players that are allowed to play are picked by selectors. Each team has two selectors who will be voted on by the team on Thursday. But according to Manion, every player gets a chance to compete before the season ends.

This will be the last season for many of the players.

“When we, the veterans, leave,” Manion said, “It will up to the boys below us to take over and be as consistent as we have. Until then, we’re going to push these guys, make them run the hill, until they unite into an excellent team for the future.”

The first home game will be March 5 against Springfield. This will be “Fan Appreciation Day” and the team will sponsor a small “picnic” during half-time. The rugby pitch is located behind the centerfield fence of Abe Martin Field.

SALUKIS from Page 20 wins. The Salukis have never lost in Columbia, and in the past two seasons Scott’s teams have defeated 20-win Rutherford chips. No contest, however, has ever been decided by more than five points.

With Price back in the lineup, the pentarchy that has been first-stringing through the bulk of the season has been reunited. But Price’s nationally-leading shooting percentage (48 percent) has dropped off in the past two seasons, largely due to nervousness and being out of shape. Scott said, Char Warring (16.5, 8.9) continued to increase her scoring average with a career-high 26 point output against Eastern Illinois on Monday, while front-line partner Sue Faber (16.4, 7.4) continues to lead the team in assists
(121) and steals (47). The improved shooting of guards D.D.
Plan (9.5 points) and Rose Peeples (8.5) during the Pre-crisis is the primary reason the Salukis are the best shooting percentage team in the conference. But, as Scott is well aware, numbers mean little on the hardwood.

“The Missouri game is a big game for us every year,” the six-year veteran said.
Ruggers have old goals, new image for this year

By George Pappas
Staff Writer

The men's rugby team is back on campus. Mike Nolan has as good a team as they've ever had and is determined to make the most of his last year with the squad. The season is off to a great start, with Nolan and his players looking forward to a successful year.

Strong competition awaiting women swimmers at NIC meet

By Sherry Cheshallen
Staff Writer

"A measure of cohesiveness and desire" is what France State women's swimming coach Terri Mcrae said as the 1994-1995 season got underway. Mcrae and her team are ready to take on the challenges that lie ahead.

17th-ranked Missouri to host Saluki cagers

By Brian Hillen
Staff Writer

As singer-songwriter Kenny Loggins so aptly put it, "this is the life." And it is, especially for the Missouri State basketball team. The Salukis are one of the top teams in the country, and they are prepared to take on anyone who dare to challenge them.

150th

Beth Orton

The World marathon record holder and Olympic gold medalist is back at it again. Orton has been working hard to improve her times and is poised to make a significant impact on the track.