Vote Against Karr

The Student Senate censures chairman Richard Karr. The debate consumed more than an hour and delayed consideration of a crowded agenda.

Trial by Judicial Board

Sought for 9 Students

By John Epperheimer

The Student Senate has said that nine students charged in a disturbance at President Morris' office May 8 should be tried before the campus student judicial board only.

At the same time, the Senate approved the appointment of a black student to a vacancy on the board. The student, Grover Randall, was named temporary chairman of the board. He is the only Negro member.

The resolution passed late Wednesday night asks that the decision of a judicial board or of a student fact-finding board be final. It states that "the administration must bear a large share of the responsibility of this action (May 8) because it has been unreasonable to student demands."

The resolution further says that the administration should take all steps to remove the cases from the courts.

It was also resolved that "the Student Senate in no way condones any act of violence by or against students."

The Senate debated nearly two hours on proposals presented on the students' cases. A bill which was withdrawn demanded that President Morris ask the state's attorney to drop felony charges against the nine to show the administration's good faith in dealing with problems of racism.

Another earlier bill, incorporated in the resolution, called for the cases of the nine to be tried only in civil court or before the student judicial board.

A proposed amendment would have asked that the nine only pay for the windows broken in the disturbance May 8. The Senate adjourned just after midnight, to meet again at 7:30 a.m. today. Most of a crowded agenda remains to be acted on.

The Senate did pass its recommendation for allocation of approximately $615,000 in activity fees for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

About $371,900 of the fee recommendations were acted on by the Senate finance committee. Another $243,100 is allocated automatically by University statute to the Health Service.

The Senate's recommendations now go to the administration for its views. Final allocations are made by the Board of Trustees.

Fees from expenditures recommended included $110,000 for intercollegiate athletics, $35,387 for students government, $31,960 for Activities Programming Board, $20,804 for women's activities.

Also $25,100 for the Obelisk, $20,000 for the Egyptian, $21,875 for the band, and $12,375 for intramural athletics.

The recommendation of $25,000 for the Egyptian carried a stipulation that a student board should be established to have a voice in setting news and editorial policies.

By-laws were changed to provide for recall elections of Senate executives. A recall election must now be held two weeks after submission of a petition bearing names of a number equal to a third of the students voting in the executive elections.

A committee report on Ka, the student government opinion newsletter, was passed. The report recommended that Ka continue to be published.

To strengthen Ka, it was recommended that the Senate newsletter, The Spectator, be discontinued, that a secretary for Ka be hired, and that guidelines for Ka be rewritten.

No Students Have Withdrawn

In Connection With Protests

By William Gerler

William Gerler, director of the Counseling and Testing office, said Wednesday that "no student, black or white, have withdrawn from the University as yet in connection with any type of protest."

Gerler said there have been some student withdrawals, but these have been for the normal reasons such as illness, failure, or personal reasons. He said only two black students came to his office Wednesday requesting withdrawal slips. This boosts the total to 24.

A group of black students has threatened to withdraw unless the University complies with the group's demand that charges against seven black students be dropped. The students were charged following the May 8 demonstration at President Morris' office.

The Student Senate censures chairman Richard Karr. The debate consumed more than an hour and delayed consideration of a crowded agenda.

By John Epperheimer

The Student Senate censured its chairman, Richard Karr, on two counts Wednesday night.

Another motion to censure him failed. The debate lasted for more than an hour and caused near pandemonium.

Senators, spectators and student government Secretaries all made charges against Karr. He stepped down from the chair to answer them.

Karr was first censured for "inability to comply" with a Senate mandate to produce minutes of its Feb. 14 meeting. The vote was 9-8.

The second motion failed by a 14-4 vote. It would have censured Karr for "rambling editorial dialogue" given while chairing meetings.

The third motion censured Karr for altering the Feb. 14 minutes.

The debate, Rhonda Starnes, student government secretary, said Karr altered the Feb. 14 minutes by crossing out "a whole half-page." She said six people saw him hand her an edited copy of the Feb. 14 minutes with a section deleted. The deleted section was critical of Karr, she said. Karr said that he handed the Feb. 14 minutes to Miss Starnes unaltered. He said they were altered when she returned them.

Karr would not yield to the direct question, "Did you alter the Feb. 14 minutes?" Karr also said he only inserted corrections and parts of proceedings not included in Miss Starnes' original notes. It was conceded in debate that Karr cannot read shorthand and therefore could not read Miss Starnes' original notes.

Karr's three recommendations to amend Senate minutes are necessary for the allocation of any funds for which the Senate authorizes an expenditure. It was claimed in debate that several groups have not received funds because the minutes were not approved.

Richard Karr, chairman of the Student Senate, was censured on two counts Wednesday night. Karr was charged with altering Senate minutes and failing to produce minutes. A move to censure him for his comments as chairman failed.
Council Approves Resolution Modifying Loan for Renovation

The Carbondale City Council approved a resolution Tuesday evening authorizing the city to accept the initial loan granted from the federal government to the city in order to renovate the Urban Renewal housing project.

The initial loan called for an initial loan of $160,000. Surveys and plans on the housing project have been completed in accordance with an agreement that staff members working on the project were spending 25 per cent of their time on this particular project.

The revised loan approved by the council and the federal government will provide an increase to $216,041 for additional surveys and plans on the urban renewal project, William Burns, commissioner of the Community Development Board, explained that his staff is presently working 50 per cent on this particular project, and an increase in funds is necessary.

Burns pointed out that the board is required by the federal government to keep a time chart of the amount of work time allotted for each project. In this way, the federal government adjusts the loan to the board in accordance with the percentage of work time each project is granted.

The council’s approval gives Burns the authority to execute and fill an application for the funds with the Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The council thereby approved Burns to serve as the authorized representative of the city in matters dealing with the federal government on the urban renewal housing project.

Four Students Enter Pleas Of Guilty in Circuit Court

Four students pleaded guilty in circuit court at Murphysboro to a variety of charges brought against them. John Markley, 19, R.E. 2 Carbondale, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and was fined $50 plus court costs by Assoc. Circuit Judge Fendler Lunce. Kerley was charged with threatening Carl J. Renwah with a revolver on Monday.

John R. Kero, 22, of 401 W. Oak, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct stemming from a threat to hit Allen Cissell on May 18. Magistrate Robert W. Schwartz fined Kero $50 plus $15 court costs. David R. Burcham, 19, and Donald Burcham, 19, both of 505 S. Graham, pleaded guilty to a theft charge of property valued under $150. Assoc. Circuit Judge Everett Prosser fined each student $25 plus $15 court costs and ordered each to make restitution of $2.17 to Cousin Fred’s. Byl and Burcham admitted taking a rolloff electrical tape and eight spark plugs from the store on May 1.

African Students Observe Holiday

A free program of African music, dancing, movies, and art will be presented in celebration of Africa Day at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Morris Library Auditorium.

Africa Day commemorates the founding on May 24, 1963, of the Organization of African Unity. It is a nationally observed holiday by all the independent countries in Africa. Each year African students attending SIU have celebrated the holiday by presenting a special program about the culture, history, and traditions of Africa.

Eleneber E. E. Epie, president of the African Students Association and a national of Cameroon, Cameroon, will be a guest at the Day is celebrated in Africa much like the Fourth of July in the United States.

“Because of all the racial strife in this country, it might be very good for all SIU students to find out what Africa is about,” Epie said. He hoped the program would make more people aware of the fine tradition and culture of Africa. Miss Katherine Dunham, now an artist in residence at Edwardsville, is expected to bring down a group of 21 students to present a special musical number entitled “The Ode to Taylor Jones” which was produced at the Performing Arts Training Center at the East St. Louis SIU Campus.

In addition to Miss Dunham, Dean Oliver Caldwell of the International Services Division and the Office of Student Life will give a short address about Africa.

In connection with the festivities on Friday, African students have been placing examples of African art and books along with photographs of Africa in display cases in both the University Center and Morris Library.

The Africa Day program is sponsored by the African Students Association and the African Studies Committee, and is open to all students and faculty.

To the Daily Egyptian:
As a recent graduate of Southern (December, 1967), I am relieved to see that nothing has greatly changed. There are still the groups of young, newly-convinced radicals, convinced of the infallibility of their Marxian-Leninist ideals, reciting gleams from GSB 101. Also, their opposites, the staunch conservatives (GSB 300a, b, c) continue to rail against them with ever-increasing, flagwaving vigor.

Many concerned students believe that they should have more active control in the administration of their school. The recent student strike and the college president's decision for acquiring information is through reading and independent study, not listening to lectures, is the beginning of a trend which gives such a valuable opportunity for shaping favorable attitudes toward subject matter, and rational behavior.

Why don't instructors provide students with more opportunities to participate in selecting course objectives and designing procedures for achieving the objectives since the motivational advantage of such practices has been clearly demonstrated? Why do instructors persist in evaluating student learning by comparing students with each other? It is well known that students learn at different rates and reasonably reliable estimates of each student's potential learning speed can be obtained from standardized instruments if such information is desired, and if all course objectives are truly important then all students should achieve all of them?

To the Daily Egyptian:
Paul Weiss, a Yale philosopher, recently contended that the rebellions of the young are "virtually seeking a cause," and that "if we do not give them one, we can hope only that he will stumble on a good one." In the hope of influencing the course of such stumbling I would like to suggest "Instructional quality as one legitimate and meaningful cause for student concern and effort. An indicator of the vigor and richness which this 'cause' offers should be apparent in the following quotations.

Why do instructors try to keep their instructional objectives a secret since it has been empirically demonstrated that students are more efficient learners when they know precisely what they are supposed to be able to do to demonstrate course mastery?

Why do instructors continue to transmit information by lecturing since (1) note-taking has been shown to have little or no value in learning subject matter, (2) students can repeat much faster than teachers can speak, (3) reproducing written material costs very little when contrasted with the expense of constructing and maintaining lecture halls, (4) after leaving college the predominant method for acquiring information is through reading and independent study, not listening to lectures, and (5) few works in groups provides such a valuable opportunity for shaping favorable attitudes toward subject matter, and rational behavior.

SIU Plans Events

By David Palermo

If SIU student John Doe fails to get a date for Homecoming because he waited too long, he has no one to blame but himself.

Roland Keene, assistant to the president and entrusted with drawing up the University Calendar, gives John about eight months advance notice of the Homecoming date every year.

The date of the featured football game of the year is one of many events included in the University Calendar released each March.

With the releasing of the schedule of events at this time, students on both the Carbondale and Edwardsville Campuses have adequate time to plan for those events no one wants to miss.

Keene’s job is complex and continuous.

It includes planning with the Registrar’s Office, Student Activities Office, Alumni Association and other on- and off-campus organizations to avoid scheduling conflicts.

“Up to the past, we have had a great deal of conflict trouble,” said Keene, “but since the guidelines set by the University last year were instituted, conflicts have been rare.”

The guidelines Keene is referring to are two-fold: one

No Steam Service
In Three Buildings

Steam service will be discontinued at 4 p.m. Friday and will be restored at 4 p.m. Tuesday, May 28, at the Communications Building, General Classroom Building and Law-son Hall.

In connection with construction of the Life Science Building Stage II project, it is necessary to re-route steam distribution piping around the new building site. The interruption will permit connection of the new piping, set concerns the scheduling of the academic quarters while the other is set up for the scheduling of major recurring events such as Homecoming and New Student Week.

Events included in the guidelines are considered permanent, and subordinate events should be scheduled accordingly to avoid conflicts.

According to the academic guidelines, the fall quarter should end with the beginning of the Christmas vacation and the opening of the summer session should accommodate the entry of students graduating from high school.

The academic guidelines, like the major events guidelines, are flexible to fit the needs of students and administrators and faculty.

At this year’s meeting of the University Council, a resolution was made to change the Thanksgiving holiday break from 20 days to accommodate peak traffic loads on the Illinois Central Railroad.

The Council approved staving the holiday in subsequent years on Tuesday at 10 p.m., and ending it the following Monday at 8 a.m. This change was made to avoid a conflict with the same holiday period at the University of Illinois, according to the Council’s report.

Homecoming, according to Keene, is the most difficult recurrent event to schedule.

“When possible, we try to set the date about 20 months ahead of time,” said Keene. “When the Carbondale date is set, the following weekend is dedicated to the event at the Edwardsville campus.”

“The guidelines for the recurrent events, as well as the academic format, are tentative and planned for the next couple of years,” added Keene. “We like to release the schedule as soon as possible so those concerned can plan accordingly. We usually release the schedule around late February or early March.”

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam Wednesday night recessed their preliminary peace talks until Monday after the Hanoi delegation for the first time suggested the possibility that these discussions might fail.

In calm tones but with acid words the two delegations once again declined to budge from stated positions. The leader of the Hanoi delegation, Xuan Thu, asserted: "In the event these official conversations do not conclude with results, the American side must bear the full and entire responsibility."

A U.S. delegation spokesman said he did not take Thu's statement as an implied threat to break off the talks.

"It is a statement of position, preparing the way for the position to take if, for any reason, the talks did fail," said William J. Jordan, the American spokesman. "If the talks should fail the people of the world will make their own judgment."

But the way the U.S. spokesman described the session, he left the impression the Americans felt they were sparring with Wraiths. The North Vietnamese refuse to admit they have any troops in South Vietnam, although U.S. intelligence reports from Vietnam say Hanoi has virtually stripped its own territory and has the equivalent of 12 divisions in the South.

"It's hard to see how we can move on toward finding a peaceful settlement of a war when we are dealing with someone who won't even admit he is there," Jordan said.

Time after time U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, the chief U.S. negotiator, challenged the North Vietnamese to get down to businesslike talks in private. His efforts were rebuffed. But there is no thought of the Americans giving up in despair. Asked if the Americans had thought of breaking up the conference, Jordan quickly retorted: "Certainly not."

Harriman tried again to take the conference out of what he calls the realm of propaganda in which, he said, the Hanoi delegation issues statements for the sake of the image in world opinion.

"Time is prepared," Harriman told the North Vietnamese, "to discuss the cessation of bombing as we have said repeatedly. We are ready to try to establish some basis from which we could properly consider your demand for the cessation and at an appropriate time such questions as the withdrawal or regrouping of forces other than those of South Vietnam from the territory of South Vietnam."

Some sources here expect the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to try yet another major offensive in the South for the sake of its effect on the talks. They say this is the reason the Hanoi delegation is refusing to take any action which would move the talks forward.

Truth in Lending

Credit Protection

Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation designed to make sure nobody borrows money or buys on credit without knowing exactly what he is getting himself into was passed by the House Wednesday.

Titled the Consumer Credit Protection Act, the measure now goes to the Senate, which is expected to approve it Thursday. It is the outcome of seven years of controversy in Congress over the "Truth in Lending" issue.

In addition to sweeping requirements for disclosure of the terms of credit, the bill contains special amendments aimed at: underwater-backed loan sharks; sharp-practicing home improvement operators who fast-talk naive homeowners into signing mortgages; and bargain garnishment practices.

The measure applies to consumer-type loans and purchases, not to commercial lending practices among banks and businesses.

Basically, the measure requires that those who lend money or sell on credit must tell the consumer the total finance charge in terms of an annual rate. Thus a 1.5 per cent a month charge for a revolving credit account would also have to be stated as 18 per cent a year. However, if the store's return is less than the nominal annual rate because of the timing of charges and payments, the store could also tell the customer this.

*All I've done is to take Ellen McCarthy to the Oscar awards. It's nice to see a man who wants to be President on his own terms. Bobby apologized to me (he joked) for not seeing the Graduate, then he added, 'You've never seen me in the Senate.' That's when I decided for McCarthy."

Pompidou Squeaks by Censure

PARIS (AP) - Premier Georges Pompidou successfully rode out Wednesday night attempts in the National Assembly to oust his government, but was immediately faced with the threat of renewed student upheaval.

A motion of censure over the government’s handling of student riots and the spreading strike wave which has tallied eight million workers needed 244 votes for passage. It won the support of 233 deputies and thus failed by 11 votes.

The motion of passage would have forced the resignation of Pompidou and his cabinet, compounded politically an academic and industrial crisis that has all but paralyzed France and jolted the 10-year-old regime of President Charles de Gaulle.

While the vote was being counted in the assembly, about 5,000 students gathered a mile away on the Boulevard St. Michel to protest the government's ban on the return to France of student leader Daniel Cohn-Bendit, a red-haired German enrolled at suburban Nanterre University.

Cohn-Bendit, 23, who was visiting Amsterdam for talks with Dutch students, smiled when he heard of the ban and declared: "I can always slip back into France."

The last previous motion of censure against the government mustered 230 votes, only eight short of the necessary 244. It was held April 25 on the regime's information policies.

In the showdown on the current unrest, 73 Communists, 121 members of the Federation of the Democratic and Socialist Left, 34 centrists, four independents and Edgard Pleani, President De Gaulle's former agriculture minister, all voted to censure Pompidou's government.

The premier beat down the motion by announcing his readiness to discuss the demands of the student workers. Trade union leaders came back almost immediately with news they were ready for "real negotiations."

‘Resurrection City’

Gains 400 Residents; Loses 200 Others

WASHINGTON (AP) - The ranks of the poor at Resurrection City, U.S.A., fluctuated rapidly Wednesday as officials of the Poor People’s Campaign banished 200 demonstrators homeward and welcomed 400 new ones.

The departing group was made up largely of militant young men from Chicago, Detroit and other Midwestern cities who were expelled for good reasons.

The Rev. James Bevel, a director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, sponsoring the campaign, said the youths had been unable to get along with the others in the camp, especially the whites.

"They went around and beat up on our white people," said Bevel. "They interfered with the workers and were hostile to the press. We had to get them out."

The charge Bevel leveled at the 200 marchers who were kicked out—that they "couldn't develop any internal cohesion"—could not be made about the incoming group. The band of 400 Southern Negroes, mostly young people who had never been out of the South before, marched into the camp singing, clapping hands and hugging the residents waiting to greet them.

Three Rob Bank of $250,000

NEW YORK (AP) - Three well-dressed and well-armed men robbed a Queens bank of between $250,000 and $300,000 Wednesday, police said.

The men, armed with two revolvers and a sawed-off shotgun, forced the manager and tellers at the Franklin National Bank to take the money from the main vault.

There were no customers in the bank. Police said the three men escaped in a 1967 automobile with a Louisiana license plate. A fourth man may have been at the wheel, they said.

City Council Defers Appointment

The Carbondale City Council deferred action Tuesday night on the selection of a financial consultant to obtain sound financing plans for the water and sewerage plant improvement programs. The city originally received proposals from three firms to provide the bond consulting services. The firms were Howard W. Voss Associates Inc., Kenilworth; Paul D. Speer and Associates Inc., Chicago and Midwest Securities Co., Chicago.

Although the Speer corporation presented the highest bid, $13,000, for their services, City Manager C. William Norman recommended them to the council. "The Speer company has a reputation for being able to obtain wide interest among the bondbuyers," Norman said and cited their ability to obtain good financing plans for the city.

Elwood Barbee, a representative for the Speer company, outlined for the council the services his company would perform as financial consultant for the water and sewerage project.

City Councilman William Eaton questioned Norman's recommendation of the Speer company because its bid was the highest for the work, Eaton, in addition to City Councilman Randall Nelson and Joseph Ragsdale, asked Mayor David Keene to hold the vote for selection of the consultant until next week's meeting. Councilman Frank Kirk was not present.

The consultant firm's purpose is to attend the sale of bonds and recommend which bid should be accepted from construction firms for the water and sewerage plant projects. The firm will also assist in the preparation and delivery of the bonds.
Salt Blocks, Branches Used by Art Students

A block of salt such as cows lick in the pasture, . . . an old coat hanger, . . . the branch from a tree, . . . a balloon, . . .

These are things students in an applied art class are using to make sculptures.

The class, taught by Norman Slack, instructor in interior design in the School of Home Economics, most recently has been experimenting with two and three dimensional projects.

Students carve faces out of the salt blocks, using hammer and chisel, then pour boiling water over the finished piece to make it glint.

Some wrap a twisted, gnarled branch with rags, cover it with papier-mache, then apply metallic or acrylic paint. Others coat balloons with plaster of paris, leaving a textured surface. Sometimes they paint or gild them.

A few twist coat hangers, cover them with rags and wheat paste, then apply acrylic color, gold, silver, or copper paint.

Cynthia Colwell of Peoria, student in an applied art class, prepares to cover her coat hanger sculpture with wheat paste.

Student Playwrights to See Audience, Critical Reaction

Three student playwrights will see their work-in-progress go before an audience at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday nights, in the Laboratory Theatre of the Communications Building.

Purpose of the productions is to allow the authors to get audience reaction at an important stage of writing.

The three scripts, varied in themes and stories, are "Friendship" by John Davis, "He Who Is Lost—Hesitates!" by Jack Carroll, and "Cum Mortuis et Lingua Mortua" by Vincent Sarafin. There is no admission charge for these productions.

The "Friendship" cast includes D. J. Vance, Phil Scorrza, Bob Wiley, and Anita Grumish. It is directed by Lois Lee Stewart, Kod Hunter, Rick Holberg, Eugene Kamarey, Bob Bates, Judith Sullivan, Terry Lamuda, Kent Baker and Susan Sneddon are the cast for "He Who Is Lost—Hesitates!" directed by Paul Bayan. The cast of Sarafin's play includes Jay Weicker, Duard Mosely, and Jan Douglass. Director is Ron Szatkowski.

Kristin Hendrickson of Springfield uses hammer and chisel to sculpt a statuette out of a block of salt. Watching is Norman Slack, interior design instructor.

Yang Completes Great Varsity Tennis Career

Johnny Yang recently completed his final match as a Saluki tennis player, ending the season with an impressive 18-0 record. His career record was 50 wins against only five defeats. Yang was fifth man on the team during his sophomore year when he compiled a 19-2 record. He had an 11-3 mark during his junior campaign. It all began when SIU Tennis Coach Richard LeFevre spotted Yang in Manila while LeFevre was en route to Vietnam as an educational advisor. Yang was one of three Saluki netters from Manila on this year's team.

Johnny says he began playing tennis at the age of 11, but it wasn't until he finished fourth in the Philippine Junior Tennis Competition for players 18 and under that he gained recognition. He was Junior Davis Cup representative for the Philippines when the competition was held in Japan and Australia in 1962 and 1963.

"Of course there is team spirit," he said, "but you can't be thinking about your teammates when you're facing an opponent."

Yang was shifted between third and sixth man on the team. He also played doubles, but like most tennis players, he preferred the singles.

"I think I play better in the singles," he said.

Yang's scholastic record is almost as impressive as his tennis prowess. Currently he is maintaining a 4.5 grade point average.

He graduates in June and, after a summer at home, he will attend the University of Wisconsin where he has been awarded a fellowship in science to work toward a master's degree.

SIU's Women Golfers Host Final Invitational Tournament

An invitational golf tournament will be hosted by SIU's Women's Recreational Association golf team Saturday at the Crab Orchard golf course. Three schools have been invited to participate in the last golf match of the regular season for the women, Illinois State, Southeast Missouri State and Murray College will tee off at 8:30 a.m.

Paula Smith would have placed seventh in the meet, but was disqualified as she played another player's ball. Miss Smith shot a 93-85 for the tournament, Cherie Smith, the final Saluki, turned in a 13th place finish enabling all the SIU women to finish in the championship flight.

Southern lead all the teams with a total score of 320. Ohio State finished second with a score of 356; Michigan State finished third with a 363; Illinois State was fourth with a 366; and Elions Community College placed fifth with 369.

Football Coach Ends Short Stay

By Dave Palermo

Four months on the SIU football coaching staff were apparently enough for Coach Vern Pollock.

Pollock, 31, announced Tuesday that he is resigning to return to his former position as head football coach at Carbondale Central High School.

He accepted a position at SIU as freshman football coach in February after coaching the Terriers since 1964.

Commenting on his decision to quit after just four months in the collegiate ranks, Pollock said it was "a lot of things" and he couldn't pinpoint any one reason.

"I like the town and I would like to stay here," he said. "The pay scale the way it is, I wish I could but sure I don't."

"I like Coach (Dick) Towers and his staff," he continued. "I enjoyed working for him. He's got the best program going here that I've ever seen."

"There's a little more security at the high school," he added. "But at SIU I feel I'm pretty well set."

Pollock will receive $9,300 per year as assistant coach on completion of his master's degree this summer, as a physical education teacher.

He will get an added $800 yearly as the football coach.

Hired as successor to Frank Hlery in 1964, Pollock had a highly successful record in the prep ranks. He heaved the discus 162 feet, five inches at the 1966 Illinois High School State Track Meet.

SIU's Baseball Team Closes Out Regular Season Play Friday

The SIU baseball team will close out its regular season schedule Friday afternoon with a home game against Illinois College.

The Salukis, who won their 30th game in Martin Stadium last Friday with a 3-0 whitewash of Tennessee at Martin, will be playing the season finale hoping for an NCAA invitation.

Sunday, the District Four baseball committee will meet to choose two at-large teams to compete with winners from the Big 10 and Mid-American Conferences for the district tournament.

Coach Joe Lutz is optimistic that Southern will receive an invitation, but official word will come from Sunday's meeting.

Three seniors will close out their regular season baseball careers in Friday's contest. They are pitcher Howard Nickson, shortstop Don Kirkland and reserve Bobby Warns.

Nickson, a 21-year-old righthander from Chicago, is the team's second-best strikeout artist with 58 and has a win-loss record of 5-2. He has issued only 16 walks in 32 1/3 innings, lowest among the hurlers.

Shortstop Don Kirkland, a catcher from Raleigh, N.C., had retired, then he was converted to shortstop this year after posting a 9-4 record last season. He is hitting .270 this season and is tied with sophomore centerfielder Jerry Bond for the team lead in fielding.

Blackiston Sets New SIU Mark

Filling in a neat corner for the Southwestern Illinois Conference and last year captured a first place in the South Central Wisconsin Conference, a thrilling 16-14 victory over previously unbeaten Milwaukee for the single season triple crown record with seven.

Barry O'Sullivan, the team's leading hitter with a .299 average, could end the season with a .300 plus average with a good day at the plate.

Knicks Sign Don May, Dayton Star

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Knicks have concluded negotiations with the star of the most recent National Basketball Association basketball tournament, and they may owe it all to Arthur Morse's reputation as a tough negotiator.

"I now own one-sixth of the Knicks," Morse boasted while checking Wednesday after May was signed to a contract by the team.

Morse, a Chicago attorney who represents basketball and football players in negotiations with professional teams, was referring to May and Cazzie Russell, another of his clients.

Russell, the former Michigan All-America, signed with the Knicks for a reported $200,000 in 1966.

May was the Knicks' second draft choice but third overall-all in the NBA's annual selection of college players earlier this month.

"I was told by Don Richman of Seattle that the reason they didn't pick him was because I represented him and that I took my toll," Morse disclosed. Richman was the SuperSonic's general manager when he after the draft when he resigned.
