Lack of funds to ax courses

By Eric Reyes
and Christina Hall
Staff Writers

Some University colleges are tightening their summer budget because of a recent increase in money returned to the administration.
The money, called lapse money, helps fund University academic programs and other programs approved by the administration. Because of the increase in returned dollars and a slight salary increase, the net amount of money University colleges have to assess has shrunk.
Donald Bergs, dean of the College of Education, said that for the 1991 summer semester, the college will offer 25 to 30 fewer classes than last summer.
Some colleges said the summer session will be affected by returned money and the salary increase.
"In the past we would get an amount (of summer budget money) plus the salary increase," Bergs said.
"We won't have the funds to take," Bergs said. "We've had a history of good summer enrollment.
Harry Miller, associate vice president for academic affairs and research, said the administration does not dictate what courses are dropped.

Staff Writers
College approved by the administration.
Helps fund University academic programs.
Because new businesses and jobs in Southern Illinois are created, the University received the largest grant, $90,500, of the 24 school funds for the Self-Employment Training (SET), a program which helps people start small businesses.
Twenty-three new businesses and 26 new jobs were created in Southern Illinois through the program last year, said Irene Carlson, director of the Small Business Development Center.
SIUC received the largest grant because it is an urban school.

By Brian Gross
Staff Writer
An SIUC entrepreneur training program received a $90,000 grant from the state to continue creating new businesses and jobs in Southern Illinois.
The University received the largest grant, $90,500, of the 24 schools funded for the Self-Employment Training (SET), a program which helps people start small businesses.

Training program gets $90,000 grant

Saluki mascot dead at age 14

By Tracy Sargeant
Staff Writer
A great Saluki legend died Monday.
Khalid, one of two Saluki mascots, was put to sleep Monday morning after suffering a stroke Sunday night.
He had just turned 14 last week," said Linda Saunders, owner of Jolisco Kennels in Chester.窦ards and her husband, John, had offered to care for the two remaining Salukis, Khalid and Thunder, in 1990 after the death of Bandit at the Wildlife Research Laboratory facility on campus.
Bandit, Khalid and Thunder were the last three Salukis to be housed at the lab kennels. The University carried as many as 12 Salukis in 1972.
Gary Strong donated Khalid to SIUC in 1986.
Saunders said she knew Khalid was old and was prepared to face the possibility of his death last January when he suffered his first stroke.
"Khalid recovered and was in no pain," she said. "He adapted even without the full use of his left back leg."
She said the average life span of a Saluki dog is around 10 years.
"Anything over 10 years is a plus," Saunders said.
In the evenings, Khalid and Thunder would lounge around with the Sauingers in the family room. Each dog would make out to a chair or section of the sofa — often the same place each night — and they'd get upset if they found you in their chair, Saunders said.
Khalid was the last dog living out of his litter.
"All the others died of cancer," Saunders said. "He out-survived them all."
"Khalid wasn't at the fence when I got home," Saunders said. "I knew he wouldn't be there, but I wasn't prepared. We both were very attached to him."
"He had a very good temperament and appreciated everything we did for him," Saunders said.

One event to salute Halloween

By Sherry L. Wilcox
Staff Writer
Organized Halloween activities in Carbondale will be scarce this year.
With the exception of a haunted house at City Hall, city-sponsored, Halloween events such as the annual carnival will not be held this year.
In 1989, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a family carnival in place of the former Halloween Fair Days.
The carnival was originally arranged for 1990 as well, but because of unforeseen problems with Tinsley Amusement, the company contracted to provide the carnival, the event will not take place as planned.
James Powell, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce said the carnival had not been planned as a "money-maker" for the city, but rather as a family entertainment event, so no profit made will be misused as a result of the cancellation.
The cancellation had nothing to do with SIUC's fall break, which was instituted this year, he said.
Jack Dyer, executive director of university relations, said the fall break was not instituted as a result of last year's student opposition to the cancellation of Halloween Fair Days or to lessen student participation in Halloween festivities.

Soldier absent without leave in opposition to war, violence

By Douglas Powell
Staff Writer
Stephanie Atkinson says being absent with leave from the Army Reserves doesn't make her a coward.
"Cowards are people who don't stand up for what they believe in," said the 23-year-old.
"I am opposed to war and violence," she said.
Atkinson, who is a member of a Fairfield Army Reserve unit, is believed to be the first U.S. military service woman to refuse active duty status since President Bush began activating the reserves in late August.
Atkinson, who is from Murphysboro, joined the Army after high school in 1984 to help pay her way through college. She graduated from SIUC in December with an English degree.
On Oct. 10, the Army called to inform her she had been activated. But when her unit met... to Fort Sheridan in Highland Park on Thursday, Atkinson wasn't with them.
Atkinson was officially declared absent without leave on Oct. 15, said Maj. Bob Host, a public affairs officer at Fort Sheridan.
With financial support from her mother and her boyfriend, Atkinson said she went to New York City to seek help from Citizen Soldier, an advocacy group which supports the rights of soldiers and reservists.
She said she first read about Citizen Soldier in an article about conscientious objectors in Satyagraha, a student paper independent from SIUC.
"I had read about other conscientious objectors, and when I received the call from my unit I used the article to help me contact Citizen Soldiers," she said.
"My mother coughed up her Christmas fund to help pay for my trip, and my boyfriend gave me some money," she said.
Atkinson was in New York from Wednesday through Saturday and

One event to salute Halloween

By Sherry L. Wilcox
Staff Writer
Organized Halloween activities in Carbondale will be scarce this year.
With the exception of a haunted house at City Hall, city-sponsored, Halloween events such as the annual carnival will not be held this year.
In 1989, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a family carnival in place of the former Halloween Fair Days.
The carnival was originally arranged for 1990 as well, but because of unforeseen problems with Tinsley Amusement, the company contracted to provide the carnival, the event will not take place as planned.
James Powell, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce said the carnival had not been planned as a "money-maker" for the city, but rather as a family entertainment event, so no profit made will be misused as a result of the cancellation.
The cancellation had nothing to do with SIUC's fall break, which was instituted this year, he said.
Jack Dyer, executive director of university relations, said the fall break was not instituted as a result of last year's student opposition to the cancellation of Halloween Fair Days or to lessen student participation in Halloween festivities.

Soldier absent without leave in opposition to war, violence

By Douglas Powell
Staff Writer
Stephanie Atkinson says being absent with leave from the Army Reserves doesn't make her a coward.
"Cowards are people who don't stand up for what they believe in," said the 23-year-old.
"I am opposed to war and violence," she said.
Atkinson, who is a member of a Fairfield Army Reserve unit, is believed to be the first U.S. military service woman to refuse active duty status since President Bush began activating the reserves in late August.
Atkinson, who is from Murphysboro, joined the Army after high school in 1984 to help pay her way through college. She graduated from SIUC in December with an English degree.
On Oct. 10, the Army called to inform her she had been activated. But when her unit met... to Fort Sheridan in Highland Park on Thursday, Atkinson wasn't with them.
Atkinson was officially declared absent without leave on Oct. 15, said Maj. Bob Host, a public affairs officer at Fort Sheridan.
With financial support from her mother and her boyfriend, Atkinson said she went to New York City to seek help from Citizen Soldier, an advocacy group which supports the rights of soldiers and reservists.
She said she first read about Citizen Soldier in an article about conscientious objectors in Satyagraha, a student paper independent from SIUC.
"I had read about other conscientious objectors, and when I received the call from my unit I used the article to help me contact Citizen Soldiers," she said.
"My mother coughed up her Christmas fund to help pay for my trip, and my boyfriend gave me some money," she said.
Atkinson was in New York from Wednesday through Saturday and
SIUC tennis team wraps up season at Region V Qualifier

By Jeff Bobo

Staff Photo by Mark Busch

Saluki tennis player Joe Dimetero hopes to rally his way into the championship round of the Region V Qualifier.

Ex-cheerleader gets $1.5 million

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Marquette University will pay $1.5 million to a cheerleader who broke his neck performing a somersault in the 1983 NCAA basketball championship game, a Marquette Warriors basketball team member died in the accident after he fell off a platform.

The suit claimed the school was negligent for not having a qualified coach present to judge the safety of a gymnastics routine. He broke his neck during a routine in which he dived off a trampoline.

"I think this settlement is commendable on Marquette University's behalf for realizing that they were responsible, and accepting responsibility, and compensating," said his attorney, William Cannon.

Marquette said in a statement the school did not feel negligent or involved, but "our insurance carrier realized that a protracted and expensive legal battle was in the best interests." The settlement was made so that the plaintiff could pursue his lawsuit.

"It was originally done because the plaintiff had signed a legal waiver form at the school's expense," said the plaintiff.

"I do not think there are any reasons why the school would not have been liable for the plaintiff's injuries," said the plaintiff.

The plaintiff's attorney said the settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial.

"We applaud this settlement," said the plaintiff.

"This settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial," said the plaintiff's attorney.

"In the event of a favorable settlement, you should be able to pursue a claim for compensatory damages through the normal legal channels," said the plaintiff.

"I think this settlement is commendable on Marquette University's behalf for realizing that they were responsible, and accepting responsibility, and compensating," said his attorney, William Cannon.

Marquette said in a statement the school did not feel negligent or involved, but "our insurance carrier realized that a protracted and expensive legal battle was in the best interests." The settlement was made so that the plaintiff could pursue his lawsuit.

"It was originally done because the plaintiff had signed a legal waiver form at the school's expense," said the plaintiff. .

"I do not think there are any reasons why the school would not have been liable for the plaintiff's injuries," said the plaintiff.

"This settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial," said the plaintiff's attorney.

"In the event of a favorable settlement, you should be able to pursue a claim for compensatory damages through the normal legal channels," said the plaintiff.

"The plaintiff's attorney said the settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial.

"I think this settlement is commendable on Marquette University's behalf for realizing that they were responsible, and accepting responsibility, and compensating," said his attorney, William Cannon.

Marquette said in a statement the school did not feel negligent or involved, but "our insurance carrier realized that a protracted and expensive legal battle was in the best interests." The settlement was made so that the plaintiff could pursue his lawsuit.

"It was originally done because the plaintiff had signed a legal waiver form at the school's expense," said the plaintiff. .

"I do not think there are any reasons why the school would not have been liable for the plaintiff's injuries," said the plaintiff.

"This settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial," said the plaintiff's attorney.

"In the event of a favorable settlement, you should be able to pursue a claim for compensatory damages through the normal legal channels," said the plaintiff.

"The plaintiff's attorney said the settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial.

"I think this settlement is commendable on Marquette University's behalf for realizing that they were responsible, and accepting responsibility, and compensating," said his attorney, William Cannon.

Marquette said in a statement the school did not feel negligent or involved, but "our insurance carrier realized that a protracted and expensive legal battle was in the best interests." The settlement was made so that the plaintiff could pursue his lawsuit.

"It was originally done because the plaintiff had signed a legal waiver form at the school's expense," said the plaintiff. .

"I do not think there are any reasons why the school would not have been liable for the plaintiff's injuries," said the plaintiff.

"This settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial," said the plaintiff's attorney.

"In the event of a favorable settlement, you should be able to pursue a claim for compensatory damages through the normal legal channels," said the plaintiff.

"The plaintiff's attorney said the settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial.

"I think this settlement is commendable on Marquette University's behalf for realizing that they were responsible, and accepting responsibility, and compensating," said his attorney, William Cannon.

Marquette said in a statement the school did not feel negligent or involved, but "our insurance carrier realized that a protracted and expensive legal battle was in the best interests." The settlement was made so that the plaintiff could pursue his lawsuit.

"It was originally done because the plaintiff had signed a legal waiver form at the school's expense," said the plaintiff. .

"I do not think there are any reasons why the school would not have been liable for the plaintiff's injuries," said the plaintiff.

"This settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial," said the plaintiff's attorney.

"In the event of a favorable settlement, you should be able to pursue a claim for compensatory damages through the normal legal channels," said the plaintiff.

"The plaintiff's attorney said the settlement was made to avoid the costs of a lengthy trial.

"I think this settlement is commendable on Marquette University's behalf for realizing that they were responsible, and accepting responsibility, and compensating," said his attorney, William Cannon.
Male Smokers Wanted
We will pay $75 to $200
for 3 to 8 sessions
must be 21-35 years old
call 453-3561 or 453-3573 1 p.m. - 4 p.m.

COUPON OFFER
Italian Village
400 S. Washington
Sun-Sat. 11 a.m.-Midnight
Two Spaghetti Dinners
(S recession & Civic Bonus)
$6.95
"Regular $9.80 Value"
(SUNDAY-THURSDAY)
EXPIRES October 31, 1990.

CLOSET OUTS
AVIA & TURNTEC
Running, Tennis, and Basketball Shoes.
1/2 PRICE
Reg $65-$70.

C thai K Staff

TE!\Y I MIGHT BE GIANTS
Wednesday, Oct. 24 • 8:00 p.m.
Shryock Auditorium
• No cameras or recording devices
• $10.00 STUC Students with ID
• $12.00 General Public
• 10 ticket limit - Cash Only Reserved Seats
Tickets on sale now!
at the Student Center Ticket office,
Discount Den, Plaza Records, & Disc
Tockey Records in Carbondale.

For more information contact SPC at 3rd Floor Student Center
Call 536-3393

Go farther... faster.

Marines

See the Officer team in the Student Union the 23rd through the 25th of October between the hours of 10:00 A.M. and 3:00 P.M.

Newswrap

world/nation
House, Senate negotiators reach clean air compromise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate negotiators, nagging four months to find a workable solution, reached final agreement Monday on a compromise clean air bill that will cut acid rain, urban smog and toxic pollution from factories. The final pieces of the mammoth bill were put in place Monday morning following virtually round-the-clock negotiations over the weekend that settled House and Senate differences on a final, clean bill. The climb of a clean air pact must now be approved by the House and Senate before going to President Bush.

Budget negotiators close in on agreement
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration and congressional budget negotiators expressed a mood of optimism Monday, indicating they were nearing agreement on a plan to trim $100 billion from five-year, “Agreement is in sight,” said Senate Republican leader Robert Dole, of Kansas. Staff members were “running the numbers to determine the impact of the tax plans considered,” he said. The negotiations stalled Sunday night over how to tax the wealthy, but Dole said, “I think we got it out of our system last night.”

Bush prepares to veto 1990 Civil Rights Act
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Bush prepared Monday to veto the Civil Rights Act of 1990, which would make “veto the third President to vote on a major civil rights bill. In using so, Bush rejected a “no and pleas from members of Congress, minorities, women and labor, who said such a measure was needed to provide equality in the workplace. Instead, the president embraced the advice of his top lawyers, who maintained the bill, despite arguments to the contrary, would lead to unacceptable hiring quotas.

Senate votes to send military aid to Israel
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, warned that Israel has targeted the Jewish state for attack if war breaks out in the Persian Gulf, overwhelmingly approved Monday the transfer of $50 million to U.S. military equipment to Israel. The Senate rejected 97-1 an attempt by Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., to take the equipment transfer out of the $13.5 billion foreign aid appropriation bill, reflecting once again the strong sentiment in U.S. Israel enjoys in Congress. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, said Israel is within striking distance for Hussein’s weapons. The United States is not.

Study shows health conditions better for whites
NEW YORK (UPI) — Nearly one-third of all black Americans who died in 1987 would have survived had they “lived under the same conditions as whites,” a report said Monday. American Health magazine, working with the National Center for Health Statistics, revealed new numbers on death rates for blacks that exceed those of whites for several leading causes of death. “In 1987, the last year for which full statistics are available, there were nearly 75,000 excess deaths among black Americans,” the magazine said.

Supreme Court issues stay on Harold Washington party
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Supreme Court Monday issued a temporary stay barring elimination of the Harold Washington Party from the November ballot and banning election preparations into a “nightmare” on Cook County and Chicago officials. Justice John Paul Stevens granted an emergency petition filed by Robert E. Pincham Jr., asking the court to block an order issued by the Illinois Supreme Court Oct. 12 that struck the party and its candidates from the ballot. The full court will review the matter and decide whether or not to hear the case.

Accuracy Desk
The Daily Egyptian has established an accuracy desk. If readers spot an error, they can call 336-3111, extension 233 or 229.

Daily Egyptian
Southern Illinois University at Carbondale

Student Editor: Marla Miklin
Assistant Editor: Irene Ogleh
News Editor: Jackie Spinnler
Editorial Page Editor: Lake Niles
Student Ad Manager: Lisa Wiemken

Daily Egyptian (ISSN 1060-1935) published daily in this Journalistic and Egyptian Laboratory Winch through Friday during the regular semester and Tuesday through Friday during the summer session by Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, Ill. Editorial and business offices located in Communications Building, North Wing, Phone (618) 453-5061. Subscription rates are $4 per year for students, $10 per year for non-students and $15 per year for non-students in foreign countries. Postmaster Send all changes of address to Daily Egyptian, Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, Ill. 62901. Second Class Permit granted at Carbondale, Ill.

Marines...
Netsch emphasizes need for financial reform in Illinois

By Amy Cooper
Staff Writer

Sen. Dawn Clark Netsch, D-Chicago, is taking three objectives with her on a campaign for comptroller in the Nov. 6 election.

She said she will run a tight ship with respect to the responsibilities of the comptroller office and said she will make sure fiscal records are available to the public.

Secondly, Netsch said she plans to implement a strong check and balance on government spending.

She said her third objective is to exercise leadership in the office and be an advocate for fiscal reform.

Netsch said Illinois finances need to be put back into shape and that she is the candidate to put the financial house back in order.

Netsch was elected to the Illinois State Senate in 1972 and has been re-elected five times.

As a senator she has chaired the Senate Revenue Committee for 10 years and currently co-chairs the Economic and Fiscal Commission, a bipartisan fiscal advisory committee to the state legislature.

She has helped pass bills to strengthen laws against sexual assault and laws which help consumers with prescription drug costs and speed up the rate of income tax refunds.

In the past two years, Netsch has supported the establishment of the Family Responsibility Act, also known as the Family Leave Policy. The act would protect job of workers who must take time off to tend to medical responsibilities, either of themselves or their family members.

Netsch was an elected delegate to the Illinois Constitutional Convention in 1970 where she was vice-chairperson of the Committee of Revenue and Finance.

Netsch said she is qualified for the comptroller position because of knowledge and ability in handling fiscal matters. She said all of her work in the Illinois Senate has revealed to state finance.

"I represent my district but I also represent everyone in the state. I don't have a tunnel vision with the role of state legislator and I certainly wouldn't as state comptroller," Netsch said.

In addition to her duties as a senator, Netsch teaches law at Northwestern University Law School. She is also the co-author of a textbook on state and local government.

Netsch received her undergraduate degree and her law degree from Northwestern University. She is a resident of Chicago but has an apartment in Springfield which she calls her "second home."

By Amy Cooper
Staff Writer

Sue Suter plans to make her public aid experience work for her in the election for comptroller. She is an elected official that will be filled by a woman on Nov. 6.

She said all of her work in the Illinois Senate has revealed to state finance.

"I believe everyone has the right to be self-sufficient and productive," O'Connor said.

"I think she knows me about human needs but she also knows she's a manager, O'Connor said.

"We believe in working to find solutions through the people in instead of through big governments, he said.

"She believes everything is right to be self-sufficient and productive," O'Connor said.

She said she plans to increase state spending by collecting money from overdue debts. "Each dollar we collect from people who already owe money to the state is one less dollar we must pay in taxes," she said.

In the past decade, Suter has served as executive associate director for two years and later as director of the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation Services, the nation's only cabinet-level rehabilitation agency. Her duties included managing a nearly $200 million budget and 2,000 employees.

She also served the Reagan Administration as a Federal commissioner of the Rehabilitation Services Administration where she managed a $1.2 billion budget and was responsible for the fiscal activities of all rehabilitation programs in the nation.

Suter covers for a year with the Illinois Department of Public Aid where she managed nearly 10,000 people and a budget of $3.7 billion.

Suter says she is qualified for the comptroller office because of her skills as an experienced administrator.

Suter says Illinois government should live within its financial means, which does not mean more taxes.

Beside being one of the only two women running for her state office, Suter is also the only one to have a wheelchair disability. She contracted polio at age 3 and walks with crutches and leg braces.

Suter earned her bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Illinois and her master's degree in psychology from Eastern Illinois University.

Suter is a native of Rockford and now resides in Springfield with her husband Carl and their son Josh.
Gas prices causing little fear for farmers

Pessimistic Economists who predict that higher fuel costs will dramatically affect farmers may be cultivating little more than fear—foolish fear.

The current oil situation is not as severe as the oil embargo in the early 70s because farmers are not faced with fuel shortages.

In the 70s, the Arab states imposed an embargo of all petroleum exports to the United States: A move that spurred threats of rationing and increased fuel taxes.

It's good news that oil prices increase costs in minimal production expenses. However, any increase in fuel costs cannot be taken too lightly.

In the 70s, it was recognized that higher oil prices affect food prices by increasing the cost of fertilizer, machinery operation and food transportation. The price of gas must be kept down so it doesn't result in higher food prices.

The same is still true today, but fortunately, the production costs haven't been increased greatly — yet. It takes two gallons to combine an acre of corn. With a 30 percent increase in fuel prices, that is merely 60 cents more per acre.

Fortunately, direct fuel costs including the cost of shipping, fertilizer and pesticides has not been greatly affected. In 1972, it cost $2 to $3 an acre more to get the more gas prices increase, the more this cost will go up.

Farmers may have to worry about a small increase in their production costs. Some commodity prices such as potatoes have dropped because of the large crop expected.

In addition, farmers leave crops standing in the field as long as possible to keep drying costs down. The crops will be standing even longer this year because of late planting. Frost and wet weather can remove any advantage of leaving the crop standing.

Commodity crop prices may be dwelling too heavily on the oil and farm connection. For now, farmers should be more concerned with weather and crop prices than prices at the pumps.

Opinions from Elsewhere

Remembering Vietnam

By Lycon Daniel
UPI Chief Correspondent

A quarter century after American GI's fought their first major battle in Vietnam is an appropriate time to consider the war.

Hawks who demand that the United States not invade Iraq should review the lessons of the battle in the la Drang Valley, which turned the fighting in Indochina irrevocably toward America's war.

To some, the costly battlefield victory confirmed the effectiveness of American search-and-destroy tactics and airplanes, overwhelming U.S. forces could win the Vietnam War.

Giap and retired U.S. Army Lt. Gen. Harold G. "Hal" Moore, a hero of the la Drang battle, recently met at the U.S. Army War College. Giap, 80, the brilliant strategist who led North Vietnam's peasant army against a superpower's helicopter assault forces.

"Even advanced weapons have weaknesses," Giap told his visitors. "We had our choice of weaknesses. You staged bombing raids in advance of your landings. During that time our soldiers were in their tunnels and bunkers and would emerge very few at a time."

"When your armored helicopters came in we were still in our shelters," Giap explained. "Only when the helicopters brought your troops did we emerge, and only then did we start shooting. You Americans were very strong in production weapons and weapons, but we were strong in something else. Our war was people's war, waged by the entire people."

Giap acknowledged his forces' relative shortage of food and water in the la Drang fighting.

"Our people had to forage in the jungle for food and drink water from the streams."

Giap also said, "In Vietnam, our enemies never realized that their losses are in power, limitations on their ability to win."

As President Bush weighs his options in the Persian Gulf, the commander-in-chief might well ponder an old jungle fighter's words of wisdom:

"Let's make this short and sweet. The baseball season is over. Nobody's going to beat the Oakland A's, whether we like it or not." — Thomas Boswell, Washington Post.

"Sure as the sunrise, taxes and death, the Oakland Athletics will repeat as World Series champs."

— Michael Collier, Oakland Tribune.

It will take the Athletics as many as five games to win the National League and Los Angeles Times.

"Could the Oakland Athletics be the greatest team in baseball history?"

— Ben Bentley, moderator, "Sports Writers" television show.

Oh, I could go on and on, filling this entire page and next with the added predictions of alleged sports experts. All we heard before the Series began was how the awesome Oakland A's would maul, massacre and humiliate anyone who dared set foot on the field with them.

As it was put by the above-mentioned Thomas Boswell, the Athletics have the type thinking we've heard since the beginning of the season. It's a type so badly the Athletics is".

"The Cincinnati Reds are a good team, but (they will) win the Series. How can (they) look the A's in the eye? Everything the Reds do well, the A's do better."

How silly. The Reds didn't look the A's in the eye. They looked at their national anthems and in short, it is far more efficient at an eye contact.

But it is really the fault of the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters that about 99 percent of them were so embarrassingly wrong.

Yes, it is their fault, the booms.

Once again they chose to ignore the Ex-Cub Factor. They scoffed at the scientific findings of Ron Berter, the discoverer of the amazing factor.

Berter is the Chicago teacher, writer and baseball nut who revealed in 1981 that it is almost impossible for any team with three or more ex-Cubs on its roster to win the World Series. It's like a curse or a powerful virus. Three ex-Cubs can make an entire team look like... well, like genuine Cubs.

Since 1946, 13 teams afflicted with three or more ex-Cubs had entered the Series. Twelve of them lost. Now the A's have made it 13 out of 14.

This should be any surprise to readers of this column. Before the Series began, I quoted Berter as saying:

"No matter who Oakland plays, they will be the overwhelming favorite to win. Oakland is already being hailed as the dominant team in baseball now."

But as good as they are, they will lose. And they can blame their own arrogance.

"They had the arrogance to defy the Ex-Cub Factor. Last year they had only two ex-Cubs, so they were safe. But they couldn't leave well enough alone."

"They went out and got Scott Sanderson, a pitcher they didn't need, but who became a key third ex-Cub. He will be their undoing. Even if he doesn't play, just by being there, he will do it."

"Tony La Russa (the A's manager) is also an ex-Cub himself. And I think he is trying to overcome that sad episode in his life, that curse, by challenging the Ex-Cub Factor. And that's why the Sun Times is running a story in which Giap is being humiliated in baseball history.

"The only thing I was afraid of was that CBS would be running a story about their ratings and profits that they'll go to Oakland just before the Series begin and demand that they get rid of one of their ex-Cubs."

Although Cub fans can take some satisfaction in knowing that "Cub hero' Royko was instrumental in the outcome of the Series, there is a negative side to it. The Cubs did not become a good team, the Cubs must get better players.

Letters

Tap lacks entertainment, atmosphere

It's unbelievable how some people just have absolutely no clue of the things go on right in front of them.

I read a letter, the DE last week about how the Tap needs to charge a cover to cover operating expenses.

"How do you think the Tap paid those expenses previous to the cover charge?"

The years the Tap has offered no entertainment, unless you consider some EMUs who have records like Mony, Mony and Meatloaf the entertainment.

Over these years the Tap charged patrons accordingly, nothing.

The owner of the Tap then realized something.

People want to be there and be seen, so badly they'd pay just to be seen. And guess what, he was right.

You people will pay for absolutely nothing. Well maybe not absolutely nothing. You get to wait in a huge line, only to be heralded like cattle upon your entrance.

You need to scavenge just to be heard. Getting a drink is nearly an impossibility, but a good fight can always be expected.

That sure sounds like the laid-back atmosphere you described.

There are other bars like Bobby's, Hanger 9, and Tres Hombres that offer live entertainment several nights a week.

Now I know that these bars are not where the petty people hang out, but maybe it's time you get out to somewhere other than the Tap.

That way you get to see what you're missing, and hopefully you will not have to embalm yourself with anymore moronic letters to the DE. — Jamie Weible, senior, psychology.
LAPEM, from Page 1

should be offered.

"They're going to cut out all the money," he said. "It's built into the budget."

McGill said the budget did not decline this year.

But he said any administrator would agree that the higher education needs more support and that the state had been "cut for the year with a hatchet.

Thomas Guttridge, dean of the College of Business and Administration, said he is disappointed with the budget he has been given for the next two years.

"There is no flexibility," he said. "I think it's time that the University takes a step back and looks at its objectives and efficiency.

John Wambach, chairman of the department of education, administration and higher education, saw a "great game" budget cutback of more than 15 percent.

"I'm trying to salvage as much of the original (program) as I can," he said.

He said this is the first time a full-time position could not be offered to the 20th year at the University.

Marvin Kleinman, dean of the College of Communication and Fine Arts, and director of each CCFA department will have to save money to spend on faculty for the summer, Kleinman said.

To compensate for the 62 percent lapse money, department

ments could cut some faculty from the summer session and other faculty could teach for pay of the summer session instead of the entire summer session, he said.

The college will not be affected any year by distributing three courses on the campus, Kleinman said.

"We anticipated the lapse. It was a question of how much it was," Kleinman said.

He expected lapse money to increase each year because of declining appropriations.

"Some schools say they won't be affected by the budget."

"Our summer enrollment is small," said W. Dean Chen, dean of the College of Agriculture. "We won't be any different than last summer."

The summer budget for the College of Science will be up this year, but not enough to end up because of the lapse increase, according to Russell Dutcher, dean of the College of Science.

The college had a larger lapse percentage this year, because the Computer Science department transferred to the college, Dutcher said.

Dean James Twedt of the College of Agriculture said the summer session for his college will not be affected by the lapse increase.

Most members of the College of Agriculture are on a 12-month appointment, Twedt said.

The college doesn't receive summer allocation from the academic office staff.

HAWLEEN, from Page 1

The break was planned to even out the fall semester with the winter semester and spring break, he said.

"Dr. Kellum, chancellor Lawrence K. Petit said, "The objective of many planning activities has been for Halloween weekend to be different this year than in recent years. We hope this objective will be met."

Steve Hoffeck, Carbondale City Manager, said that although there were no events scheduled for this weekend the city is still expecting "a busy fall weekend like any other."

AWOL, from Page 1

arrived back in Carbondale on Monday.

While in New York, Atkinson sought legal council from Louis Font, a Boston-based lawyer who specializes in military law.

Font, a West Point graduate, said it's common for confessions seven military personnel are filing for conscientious objector status, including himself.

Font said he foresees no problems with getting the Army to grant him an honorable discharge after a conscientious objector hearing is held.

He said if he is found guilty of the charges, "The maximum penalty he can receive will be no more than five years in a military prison.

The Army allows soldiers to file for conscientious objector status at any time during their military career, Host said.

Conscientious objector status excuses a soldier from combat because of their religious, moral or ethical grounds, he said.

Tod Ensing, director of Citizen Soldier, said there are almost 12,000 military personnel who file for conscientious objector status each year.

While in N.Y., Atkinson addressed close to 15,000 antiwar activists at a protest in Times Square, Ensing said. The protesters were demanding that U.S. soldiers get out of the Persian Gulf region before any fighting starts, he said.

Atkinson signed up with the Army to serve six years in the active reserves followed by two years in the inactive reserves. Her six-year term was due to something of that nature.

Atkinson said she still may be serving six months, eight months or even a year because they get their business started.

After graduation from the program, the plan developed for starting the businesses will help people get a loan from banks because they will be better prepared for answering questions, Masterson said.

The program costs nothing to enter, but interested applicants need to have an idea for a business, he said. The DCCA funds two-thirds of the program's cost and the colleges and universities provide the rest of the funding, Masterson said.

When SET began as a federally-funded program in 1986, $37,000 was granted to the University, but during the past two years the state has taken over funding and has granted $12,000 to $50,000 each year, Carlson said.

WARNING:

People are encouraged to report all matters of a sexual or violent nature to the appropriate authorities. People are encouraged to report all sexual or violent matters to the appropriate authorities. People are encouraged to report all matters of a sexual or violent nature to the appropriate authorities. People are encouraged to report all sexual or violent matters to the appropriate authorities. People are encouraged to report all sexual or violent matters to the appropriate authorities.
Week focuses on eating disorders

By John Patterson
Staff Writer

More than one fourth of SIUC freshmen women show signs of disturbed eating patterns, according to a Wellness Center survey.

National Anorexic Aid Society has sponsored Eating Disorder Awareness Week from Oct. 19 to 24. It is the third year for the event at SIUC, said Kate Zager, registered dietitian and nutrition coordinator for the Wellness Center.

American Health Magazine describes bulimia as a cumulative cycle of snacking, binge-eating and vomiting in the quest for thinness.

Anorexia is the pathological loss of appetite which leads to emaciation and possibly death.

Zager said universities and colleges have a national average of between one and 12 percent of anorexia and bulimia among students.

Information is available at the Wellness Center if a student believes they have a eating disorder. Significantly, developing an unhealthy relationship with food may include eating because of boredom or anger, or failing food and eating in secret.

"The student response has been most noticeable at the Student Health Assessment Center in the Student Center," Zager said.

"We took the scales down and asked people coming in to write down three things positive about themselves that weren't related to their weight," Zager said. "There was a variety of reactions to the scales being drawn down."

"This year we're trying to spread information out to the community," Zager said. "We're inviting high school counselors, school counselors, principals and anyone else who provides health care or is involved with adolescents, to attend the seminars and movies dealing with eating disorders.

"A Season In Hell," a documentary of a young Kentucky woman and her five year struggle with eating disorders, and "Fear Of Fat," a video presentation in the dining halls by the Health Advocates will be the major presentations during the week.

During the remainder of Eating Disorder Awareness Week, information tables will be open at the Student Center and movies discussing eating disorders will be shown across campus.

Zager said that the overall reaction of students towards Eating Disorder Week has been hard to tell since the majority of the events have been spread over a week and a half.

The Wellness Center provides several workshops for students who believe they have a eating disorder or want more information about the types and symptoms of the disorders.

Put your degree to work
where it can do a world of good.

Your first job after graduation should offer more than just a paycheck.

If you're graduating this year, look into a unique opportunity to put your degree to work where it can do a world of good.

Look into the Peace Corps.

If you have a degree in one of the following fields, look into the Peace Corps: Agriculture, Education, Physical Science, Civil Engineering, Health Professions, Forestry, Fisheries, Environmental & Vocational Education.

FILM SEMINARS

Wed., Oct. 24, 12:00 noon - 7:00 pm Student Center, Ohio Room

Minority Applicants Encouraged
International News

Nakajo citizens come to SLUC to make friends and contacts

By Brandi Tips and Omapere O. Whitleff

Nakajo citizens from Nakajo, Japan visited Carbondale last week in hopes that small contact will be the beginning of friendship and the growth of contacts. The campus in Nakajo was the first place in Japan that the citizens from Nakajo visited.

In addition to hosting the tour, Carbondale residents are planning to host Carbondale public schools students in Japan. Doherty said that he is hoping that the tour, the trip to the country and the people he meets will do the same thing here that it has done in Japan. They have been assured at the highest level that no harm will be done.

Almost all of the students that attended the campus, including Mayor Neil Doheny, said the campus beginning in 1988 offers only general education classes. One major difference between the campus here and the one in Japan is that students take one year of English before ever beginning their general education courses, Tadokoro said.

Doherty said that students were also sent as part of the delegation. Japanese student delegates toured Carbondale public schools yesterday morning, said Doherty. They gave the tour and the campus. Doherty said. This is probably because Japan has 119, a nationwide emergency medical service, he said.

International students reach for new cultures

By Brandi Tips

International students and local businesses played host to a mix of cultures on International Outreach Day Thursday in the Student Center.

International Outreach Day is held once a year and this year's objective is to give students and residents of Carbondale an opportunity to gain knowledge of various customs and traditions throughout the world, said Nabhan Ghouse, president of the International Student Council.

"This year was different due to the number of participants, the number of countries. They were many. People commented on the festivity of the environment," Ghouse said.

Comments were also made about the quality of the displays this year, he said.

"Most people said that they were better this year than any other year," he said.

Thirty-five countries were represented by 20 different associations. Each set up its own booth or table exhibiting their cultural displays.

The Chinese student association tried to teach the general public how to speak Mandarin. They gave candy to people who could count to 10 after the Chinese number lesson, said Fatima Janwariah, a staff member, and a freshman in business from Bahrain.

The Bangladesh association presented handicrafts that had been made by the women in the country, while the Malay students played "Sepak Takraw," a game similar to volleyball, and showed them how they use their feet and head instead of their hands, Ghouse said.

"This was a great attraction," Ghouse said.

International Outreach Day was the first day of the second week of classes on the campus. Each week students and residence attend the displays and participate in the different activities, Ghouse said.

International News

Iraqi vessel free to go after search

CAIRO (UPI) — U.S. and Egyptian sailors boarded an Iraqi-flagged fishing vessel Monday in the Gulf of Oman that had involved it to proceed to Yemen after a search, revealed it was no longer carrying weapons or meteorological equipment, military officials said.

A spokesman for the U.S. Defense Secretary Dick Cheney confirmed in Paris that Iraqi forces had seized a number of U.S.-made Hawk ground-to-air anti-aircraft missiles since last week.

"We know they have seized a certain number that had been requested by Kuwait. For the moment, we do not know if they are capable of making them function," Cheney told reporters after talks with French President Francois Mitterrand.

State Department spokesman William Tutwiler said the administration had been assured at the highest level that Jordanians are not trainingstackckett sophisticated Hawk missiles. Cheney told French media that the Iraqi vessels were not in the Gulf "to launch a new war or to attack Israel or Iraq" but to defend Saudi Arabia and enforce the U.N. embargo against Iraq, which he said was becoming "more and more efficient." The search was ended because Iraq,

Iraqi vessel free to go after search

CAIRO (UPI) — U.S. and Egyptian sailors boarded an Iraqi-flagged fishing vessel Monday in the Gulf of Oman that had involved it to proceed to Yemen after a search, revealed it was no longer carrying weapons or meteorological equipment, military officials said.

A spokesman for the U.S. Defense Secretary Dick Cheney confirmed in Paris that Iraqi forces had seized a number of U.S.-made Hawk ground-to-air anti-aircraft missiles since last week.

"We know they have seized a certain number that had been requested by Kuwait. For the moment, we do not know if they are capable of making them function," Cheney told reporters after talks with French President Francois Mitterrand.

State Department spokesman William Tutwiler said the administration had been assured at the highest level that Jordanians are not trainingstackckett sophisticated Hawk missiles. Cheney told French media that the Iraqi vessels were not in the Gulf "to launch a new war or to attack Israel or Iraq" but to defend Saudi Arabia and enforce the U.N. embargo against Iraq, which he said was becoming "more and more efficient." The search was ended because Iraq,
Moms fill coaching vacancy

HINESVILLE, Ga. (UPI) -- Opponents no longer snicker when the Fort Stewart Steelers and a couple of their moms take the field. There had been plenty of stares, smirks and visions of easy victory from opposing sidelines at the beginning of the football season, however, when two new assistant coaches joined the squad of 8- and 9-year-old boys. However, a 5-1 record has erased the smirks and deflated premature predictions of victory.

The Steelers were a bit dubious themselves about the team's chances, since their rookie coaches had no experience and a limited knowledge of football. Tibby Smith and Charlotte Clabough of Hinesville volunteered their services when the Army's 24th Infantry Mechanized Division, based at Fort Stewart, was deployed to Saudi Arabia, leaving Steelers coach Larry Cutchens without male assistants. Both Smith and Clabough have sons on the Steelers squad so they volunteered.

"When we came out here they (the players) thought we didn't know anything about football because we're girls," said Clabough.

Smith is an avid fan of ABC's "Monday Night Football" but has never coached. Still, the rookies were undaunted by their lack of experience, and gradually won the players' respect.

"The boys made some sly remarks to them and about them at first. But they've definitely won their confidence," Cutchens said.

Pumpkin pals

Eilen King, 3, a student at Carbonade New School carves a pumpkin with Kevin Geake, a senior in biological science, as a community service project for Theta Xi Fraternity.

Eating Disorder Awareness Week

October 19-24

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Tuesday Oct. 23</th>
<th>Wednesday Oct. 24</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9 a.m. - 4 p.m.</td>
<td>9 a.m. - 4 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Books and Information Display at the Student Health Assessment Center in the Student Center.</td>
<td>Books and Information Display at the Student Health Assessment Center in the Student Center.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 a.m. - 2 p.m.</td>
<td>10 a.m. - 2 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TABLES at the Student Center providing educational material and information on eating disorders and the week's events. Sponsored by the Health Advocates and Students for Health.</td>
<td>TABLES at the Student Center providing educational material and information on eating disorders and the week's events. Sponsored by the Health Advocates and Students for Health.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 - 6 p.m.</td>
<td>5 - 6 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;Fear of Fat&quot;, a video presentation at Trueblood Hall by the Health Advocate Office.</td>
<td>&quot;Fear of Fat&quot; a video presentation at Lentz Hall by the Health Advocate Office.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7 - 9 p.m.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>&quot;A Season in Hell,&quot; Law School Auditorium. A videotape documentary of a young rural Kentucky woman and her five year struggle with eating disorders. Discussion and a reception to follow.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

26% of SIUC freshman women surveyed showed signs of disturbed eating patterns.

Co-sponsored by: Eating Disorder Outpatient Program, Counseling Center, Student Health Program, Wellness Center, Health Advocates and Students for Health.
Saluki pet, companion dies

By Tracy Sargeant
Staff Writer

The University of Southern Illinois for Southern Illinois University, the University's remaining Saluki mascots lives with Saluki alumnus John and Linda Saunders of Carbondale, but today he will be without his longtime companion Khalid.

Khalid was put to sleep Monday morning due to complications from a stroke he suffered over the weekend. The Saunders, who took over the care of SIUC's mascots from the University in 1986, kept the SaIuki — plus four of their own Saluki dogs — at their Chester home.

At the time, three mascots, Khalid, Thunder and Bandit were cared for by the university. According to Linda, they had to be put to sleep in 1986 because of a congested heart condition, the Saunders asked the University if they could care for the remaining dogs.

Originally all Saluki mascots were housed at the Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory facilities on campus, with the exception of the first mascot, King Tut in 1951.

"Salukis need a lot of room to run," said Sauders. "They're a kenneled dog, they need a lot of human attention and care," she said.

"Khalid was a unique boy, a kenneled dog, he didn't have it easy. He was given freedom to run, and that's what he liked," said Sauders. "Salukis bond so closely to the people who own them, and Khalid was no exception." Assistant News Service

Sounding Music & Hangar 9

FUTURE CLASSICS
BATTLE OF THE BANDS
1980

THE FINAL CONFLICT
• Carter and Connelley
• Those One Guys
• Blue Meanies

SOUNDCORE MUSIC
& HANGAR 9

IT'S TIME FOR DOMINO'S PIZZA®
549-3030
Medium Cheese Pizzas
$3.99

Large Cheese Pizzas
$5.99

Order as many Cokes or Diet Cokes as you like, 25¢ each

We are now open 'til 3:00 a.m.

Student Center Dining Service Specials
Week of 10/22 - 10/25

10% off on plate lunches (Entrée and 2 vegetables)

PECOS' PETE'S

Beef Burrito's
Only 99¢

The Bakery

Halloween Cakes, Cookies, and Cupcakes

Single Layer Decorated Cakes For Only $4.29

Daily Specials
10/23 The Central Park $2.49 (regularly 2.79)
10/24 The Independence $2.49 (regularly 2.79)
10/25 The Dublin Only $2.29

THE MARKETPLACE

10% off on plate lunches (Entrée and 2 vegetables)
Briefs

Calendar of Events

A SEASON IN HELL [d] a documentary on bebe surreal will be shown at 7 tonight in the law school room 205.

Women's Studies

GIVING IS GENIUS students a chance to send messages to the United Nations in Asia and the Pacific, a chance to give their support to the campaign for women's rights in the UN.

RETURNED PEACE CORPS Volunteer

Mr. Ap. comes from Asia and will be speaking on his experiences as a Peace Corps volunteer.

Women's Studies

ANNOUNCING THE APPOINTMENT of Joyce Weimer to the position of Director of the Health Advocates Center.

Special Plan meeds needs of all cultures

All Your Health

By Joyce Combes-Small

Wellness Center

University students from diverse cultures have different health needs because of heritage and culture.

The Wellness Center has designed a strategic planning program to meet the needs of all international students from 99 countries, students with disabilities, African-American students and Hispanic and non-traditional students.

This program, which began in 1987, identifies the needs of each major group of students.

A minority support group also is being organized to offer students a comfortable place to discuss personal and emotional issues. This group will meet weekly at 5:30 p.m. in the Wellness Center.
Octobcr 23. 1990

As of 5:00 CEST CEBRA. Full power & accepted AM/HV transmitter. Good sound.
$3700. CBOG. Hng. 641-4. logen.

11 TOWNSHIP TIPPA, 1134Cheap, expensive, loaded, loaded, driver, in town. $68. 284-575. 29. 128-150.

5 PONTEC SUNBIRD GT 2.6L, 554.
horse, 12.000 km, $5000. 284-3284.

5 SUBURB VGN Wgn, brn. crs., pr.
pd, stt, driver, in town. $4000. 284-3354.

1 CFCV. CACIAC, 49. XXXX, full power, all grains, good setup. $1575. 284-

1975 CUTFASS. 29, 7.0 XXXX, mi.
good & running cond. ask a. 284-

1949 FORD TEMPO GU, am/fm, power, top, runs, air cond. $1000. 284-

1984 HONDA PRELUDE, slp., air
cond., top, runs, looks good. $750. 284-

1971 CHEVY LEMANS. 2, 356, short, good, owned, lts, hrs. of new $2500. Orl. 284-6232.

1991 HONDA ACCORD, 5 gi., air
cond., runs, excellent. $2100. 284-3643.

1980 TRUMP WELL container, not road, good. 3500. 487-4877.

1977 CHEVY MONTE Carlo, red, pl.
driver, runs, air cond. $4000. 529-7430.

CLASIFIED DISPlAY ADVERTISING

529-0441

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY ADVERTISING

Open Rate: $7.00 per column inch, per day

Minimum Ad Size: 1 column inch

Space Reservation Deadline: 2pm., 2 days prior to publication.

Requirements: All column classified display advertisements are required. Advertisers are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Advertisements are not accepted in classified display format.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

Based on consecutive running dates

Minimum Ad Size:

1 day..................$7.00 per column inch, per day

5 days..................$5.00 per column inch, per day

10 days................$4.00 per column inch, per day

20 days.................$3.00 per column inch, per day

空間reservation: 2pm., 2 days prior to publication. Requirements: All ad rates are designed to be used by individuals or organizations for personal advertising — birthdays, holidays, competitions, etc. for commercial use or to announce events.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING POLICY

Please Be Sure To Check Your Classified Advertisements For Errors On The First Day Of Publication

The Daily Egyptian cannot be responsible for more than one day's incorrect insertion. Advertisers are responsible for checking their advertisements for errors on the first day they appear. Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which lessen the value of the advertisement, will be adjusted.

All classified ads must be processed before 12:00 Noon to appear in the next day's publication. Any processing after 12:00 Noon will go in the following day's publication. Classified advertising must be paid in advance except for those accounts with established credit. A 2% charge is added to billed classified advertising. A service charge of 75% will be added to the advertiser's account for each check returned for non-payment. Returned checks will be collected before payment is considered. Late returns will be charged 4% per month on all charge accounts.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING POLICY

Please Be Sure To Check Your Classified Advertisements For Errors On The First Day Of Publication

The Daily Egyptian cannot be responsible for more than one day's incorrect insertion. Advertisers are responsible for checking their advertisements for errors on the first day they appear. Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which lessen the value of the advertisement, will be adjusted.

All classified ads must be processed before 12:00 Noon to appear in the next day's publication. Any processing after 12:00 Noon will go in the following day's publication. Classified advertising must be paid in advance except for those accounts with established credit. A 2% charge is added to billed classified advertising. A service charge of 75% will be added to the advertiser's account for each check returned for non-payment. Returned checks will be collected before payment is considered. Late returns will be charged 4% per month on all charge accounts.

All advertising submitted to the Daily Egyptian is subject to approval and may be revised, re-edited, or cancelled at any time.

The Daily Egyptian assumes no liability if for any reason it becomes necessary to omit or edit an advertisement.

A sampling of all mail order items must be submitted and approved prior to date for publication. No ads will be mis-classified.
Daily Egyptian

October 23, 1990

Classified Advertising Dept.

\[eqn\]

ANNOUNCEMENT!

SCHOOL MONEY. PRIVATf SCHOLARSHIP! You receive a minimum of $500, pay for your own books, room, board, etc. Call 545-9072.

CONGRATULATIONS

Michelle Barry
her induction to the Order of Omega

Connie Brown
her being elected President of Omega

\[eqn\]

Positions for Spring (must have ACT on file)

Advertising Office Assistants - 2 positions: 8 a.m. noon and noon-4:30 p.m.
- duties include answering the telephone, scheduling advertising, assigning work to sales reps, coordinating work with sales reps, and dummying the newspaper.
- computer experience helpful

\[eqn\]

Are you ready to help us?

Get first aid with a classified ad!

CONGRATULATIONS

Stacey Cotter
her laufer from Rom Zelke

IKA

Western Michigan

\[eqn\]

CONGRATULATIONS

Lisa Kuenne

on winning the USG Presidential election

Lisa Weismann & Jeri Price

for being elected East Side Senators

\[eqn\]

Convenient Location

FOR RENT

Two Bedroom House

4622 20th Street

$800 per month. Includes yard and all utilities, except electric.

1 BR, 1 BA, garage, basement, available January. Phone 258-5527.

\[eqn\]
Today's Puzzle

ACROSS
1. (2) The Beatles
2. (2) Beatles
3. (2) Swimming pool
4. (2) Public relations
5. (2) Small pool
6. (2) Swimming
7. (2) Small pool
8. (2) Public relations
9. (2) Beatles
10. (2) Beatles
11. (2) Small pool
12. (2) Swimming
13. (2) Public relations
14. (2) Beatles
15. (2) Small pool
16. (2) Swimming
17. (2) Public relations
18. (2) Beatles
19. (2) Small pool
20. (2) Swimming
21. (2) Public relations
22. (2) Beatles
23. (2) Small pool
24. (2) Swimming
25. (2) Public relations
26. (2) Beatles
27. (2) Small pool
28. (2) Swimming
29. (2) Public relations
30. (2) Beatles
31. (2) Small pool
32. (2) Swimming
33. (2) Public relations
34. (2) Beatles
35. (2) Small pool
36. (2) Swimming
37. (2) Public relations
38. (2) Beatles
39. (2) Small pool
40. (2) Swimming
41. (2) Public relations
42. (2) Beatles
43. (2) Small pool
44. (2) Swimming
45. (2) Public relations
46. (2) Beatles
47. (2) Small pool
48. (2) Swimming
49. (2) Public relations
50. (2) Beatles
51. (2) Small pool
52. (2) Swimming
53. (2) Public relations
54. (2) Beatles
55. (2) Small pool
56. (2) Swimming
57. (2) Public relations
58. (2) Beatles
59. (2) Small pool
60. (2) Swimming
61. (2) Public relations
62. (2) Beatles
63. (2) Small pool
64. (2) Swimming
65. (2) Public relations
66. (2) Beatles
67. (2) Small pool
68. (2) Swimming
69. (2) Public relations
70. (2) Beatles
71. (2) Small pool
72. (2) Swimming
73. (2) Public relations
74. (2) Beatles
75. (2) Small pool
76. (2) Swimming
77. (2) Public relations
78. (2) Beatles
79. (2) Small pool
80. (2) Swimming
81. (2) Public relations
82. (2) Beatles
83. (2) Small pool
84. (2) Swimming
85. (2) Public relations
86. (2) Beatles
87. (2) Small pool
88. (2) Swimming
89. (2) Public relations
90. (2) Beatles
91. (2) Small pool
92. (2) Swimming
93. (2) Public relations
94. (2) Beatles
95. (2) Small pool
96. (2) Swimming
97. (2) Public relations
98. (2) Beatles
99. (2) Small pool
100. (2) Swimming

DOWN
1. (2) Beatles
2. (2) Beatles
3. (2) Beatles
4. (2) Beatles
5. (2) Beatles
6. (2) Beatles
7. (2) Beatles
8. (2) Beatles
9. (2) Beatles
10. (2) Beatles
11. (2) Beatles
12. (2) Beatles
13. (2) Beatles
14. (2) Beatles
15. (2) Beatles
16. (2) Beatles
17. (2) Beatles
18. (2) Beatles
19. (2) Beatles
20. (2) Beatles
21. (2) Beatles
22. (2) Beatles
23. (2) Beatles
24. (2) Beatles
25. (2) Beatles
26. (2) Beatles
27. (2) Beatles
28. (2) Beatles
29. (2) Beatles
30. (2) Beatles
31. (2) Beatles
32. (2) Beatles
33. (2) Beatles
34. (2) Beatles
35. (2) Beatles
36. (2) Beatles
37. (2) Beatles
38. (2) Beatles
39. (2) Beatles
40. (2) Beatles
41. (2) Beatles
42. (2) Beatles
43. (2) Beatles
44. (2) Beatles
45. (2) Beatles
46. (2) Beatles
47. (2) Beatles
48. (2) Beatles
49. (2) Beatles
50. (2) Beatles
51. (2) Beatles
52. (2) Beatles
53. (2) Beatles
54. (2) Beatles
55. (2) Beatles
56. (2) Beatles
57. (2) Beatles
58. (2) Beatles
59. (2) Beatles
60. (2) Beatles
61. (2) Beatles
62. (2) Beatles
63. (2) Beatles
64. (2) Beatles
65. (2) Beatles
66. (2) Beatles
67. (2) Beatles
68. (2) Beatles
69. (2) Beatles
70. (2) Beatles
71. (2) Beatles
72. (2) Beatles
73. (2) Beatles
74. (2) Beatles
75. (2) Beatles
76. (2) Beatles
77. (2) Beatles
78. (2) Beatles
79. (2) Beatles
80. (2) Beatles
81. (2) Beatles
82. (2) Beatles
83. (2) Beatles
84. (2) Beatles
85. (2) Beatles
86. (2) Beatles
87. (2) Beatles
88. (2) Beatles
89. (2) Beatles
90. (2) Beatles
91. (2) Beatles
92. (2) Beatles
93. (2) Beatles
94. (2) Beatles
95. (2) Beatles
96. (2) Beatles
97. (2) Beatles
98. (2) Beatles
99. (2) Beatles
100. (2) Beatles

Today's puzzle answers are on page 14.
Buster Douglas' trainer gives Holyfield fat chance

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Buster Douglas' trainer, Cassius Marcellus Clay, Jr., expects his man to beat George Foreman and retain the world heavyweight crown.

"I've been studying the easing of the puncher, and I think I can see a way to defeat him," said Clay, who is giving the first round of the Douglas-Foreman bout this week.

Douglas, 28, is considered the underdog by most of the experts, but Clay is confident of his fighter's chances.

"Buster is a great fighter," said Clay. "He has the speed, power, and style to win.

"I think we can pull off the upset," said Clay.

The fight is expected to be one of the most exciting of the year, and both fighters are expected to give it their all.

Holyfield handles problems quietly

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Buster Douglas keeps talking about the difference between Evander Holyfield and Mike Tyson, and the biggest is the way each handles his personal life.

Tyson's career was interrupted for eight months in 1988 while he dealt with a divorce and managerial problems. Douglas has been out of the ring for only one year.

"He's a better fighter than Tyson," said Douglas' manager, Earle Swensen. "He's more disciplined and more controlled.

"But Tyson has more talent," said Swensen. "He's faster and more aggressive."

Heisman Trophy winner Frank Sinkwich dies at 70

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Frank Sinkwich, the legendary tailback who won the Heisman Trophy after playing an entire season at Georgia with a broken jaw, died Monday at his home after a long illness.

He was 70.

"We've lost one of the greatest legs in college football history," said Georgia Athletic Director Vince Dooley. "Frank all had a great spirit in his accomplishments because he was a Georgia man and made so many contributions to our program.

"But beyond that, he was one of the great players in college history. We'll miss him and his thoughts and prayers are with his family.

Sinkwich, known as "Plaskoot Freckie" while playing for the Bulldogs, later the Detroit Lions, was born Oct. 10, 1920, in McKees Rock, Pa.

"He was a unanimous All-America pick his senior year in 1942 after leading Georgia to an 11-1 record, the Southeastern Conference championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl, where he helped the Bulldogs beat UCLA 9-0.

"In 1942, he gained 795 yards rushing and set an SEC passing record of 1,392 yards that stood for eight years. Sinkwich also set the SEC record for total offense in 1942 with 2,187 yards, earning him the Heisman Trophy.

Mike Tyson: I'll beat the winner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Mike Tyson said Monday he expects Buster Douglas to retain his heavyweight title Thursday night.

"I'm going to win," said Tyson. "I have the edge in power, speed and style.

"Douglas is a good fighter, but I'm a better fighter."

The fight is expected to be one of the most exciting of the year, and both fighters are expected to give it their all.

"I think we can pull off the upset," said Clay.

The fight is expected to be one of the most exciting of the year, and both fighters are expected to give it their all.
Bulls’ Air Jordan revving up for NBA Championships

CHICAGO (UPI) — Michael Jordan has accomplished almost an individual case in its NBA career. He has been voted the league’s Most Valuable Player, MVP of All-Star Game, won the scoring title four straight years and made every highlight reel while being transformed into a superstar.

At the same time, the 27-year-old with the protruding tongue is the face of perhaps the most successful franchise in the United States.

It is his last season on the Bulls, and he has already helped become the Bulls’ all-time leading scorer.

This past season, his 33.6 points-per-game average nestled him a fourth straight scoring title. He also plays defense—winning his second straight title. Durability? He started 76 games and played 95 games, just under 39 minutes a game during the regular season.

Chicago has a chance to win its fifth NBA championship, and it will take place in the post-season. If that happens, Jordan has yet to play in the NBA Finals. The Bulls, in fact, have never made it to the championship since 1993-94.

They are all going to come early, tackle Eric Moore said. “Knowing you can do this under these circumstances shows a real level of team character. We had to go out and prove that we were worthy of this moment of glory.”

Phil Simms, the NFL’s top ranked quarter, played just as well at the end of the first quarter, says Hostetler. Air Jordan scored a TD after the first two drives.

I wanted to prove that I could bring this team through an adverse moment,” says Hostetler. 38-yard TD pass to Stephen Baker with 2:21 left drew the Giants within 10-7.

He then set up the Giants’ kick with a third-down pass of 18 yards to Lionel Manuel with 20 seconds left and no timeouts left.

“We believe in each other and once we got the ball, we believed in Jeff,” in the backcourt, said Johnnie Cooks.

MICHIGAN, Dikha have different future plans

LAKE FOREST (UPI) — Lisa Hampton says this is his final season in the NBA. Mike Dikla would like to add a few more for himself.

With 10 games remaining, the Chicago Bulls win 5-1 and siting in the driver’s seat in the NFC Central Division. Chicago, which had been among the pack this past week, resumes play Sunday against Phoenix in a divisional contest at Cardinal Stadium.

“I’ve achieved just about every major individual honor and accolade,” Jordan said last season.

“We’re doing this for the people, the fans, the city and the team,” Jordan said at a press conference.

“I’ve never seen a division as disinterested as the league we control our own destiny, Dikla said Monday.

Hammond has determined his future. The popular defensive tackle will retire after this season, his 12th in the NFL and all in Chicago. Dikla, on the other hand, is unsure. Will he return in ‘97? If both sides want it to be, it will be, but if only one of the two sides wants it to be, it won’t, and that’s a fact of life,” Dikla said Monday on WGN Radio.

You can not make something happen that’s not meant to happen. I tell people a long time ago that you make your life work, but I don’t lose any sleep over it and I’m fool’s in bringing it up then it bothers me. I think it’s just a phase.

The only thing I’m worried about now are my football players and this football team,” he said.

I have said I want to be back, but wishing and wanting do not mean anything. If everybody wants it done, put it down on paper and let it go, it’s that simple.

New York Giants show the NFL who’s boss

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — To a linebacker who joined the New York Giants three years ago, it must have felt as if he’d lost at home to this opponent, but there were bigger factors than finding by nine points and a turnover to a star.

“Not at Giants, Stadium, not in the NFL,” Philadelphia Eagles head coach Tom Coughlin said after the Giants 20-19 on a field goal by Matt Bahr with 2:54 left Sunday.

Maybe it’s that simple, why the Giants reached 6-0 for a franchise record.

The Giants have won at Giants Stadium since 1983.

“They beat the Giants!”

The Giants were outplayed of the way in ball, but won at Washington.

By then, New York had swept the Eagles as expected and donned the title many hearted, who had lost one to none earlier.

The Giants were outpaced on the road and at home. When favored and not, and now, when defeated by injuries.

RECRUITING, from Page 16

Moor, Sophomore, Tim Detrom, has been selected for the F&I team. The other Sahkis traveling to Des Moines are freshmen Danny Gonzalez, Kae Kramer and Shelly Maturin. Lascellah, coming off Week, against Bradley, Gonzalez, Kramer and Maturin were underclass in both last week and this week.

I saw a lot of improvement last week against Bradley, especially from the freshman,” LehFever said.

TENNIS, from Page 16

The Sahkis will send six players to Des Moines, three of whom were selected for Region V Qualifier last season. Senior Joe Detrom, the Sahkis’ two-time champion, has won his two last season’s Qualifier.

“We’ve been practicing hard and I think we’ll play strong,” said Detrom.

We’re going to have a strong record. We have two singles players, sophomore Rich Steenstra, also had two victories last year at Des