Mayor, CIPS seek solution to gas dispute

The nation of purchasing the city's Carbondale operations. Eckert thinks so. CIPS doesn't. And the City Council has yet to take a stand.

The issue was discussed by the council at its informal meeting Monday night. The city's gas service franchise with CIPS expires April 29. and officials from both sides are negotiating for a new 30-year franchise.

The basic provision of the new franchise are similar to provisions in the existing franchise. CIPS would have the authority to distribute and sell natural gas within city limits, and be responsible to install and maintain underground pipes, valves and other equipment the company would use.

In a change from the existing franchise, CIPS would provide Carbondale with enough gas free of charge—up to 10,000 therms a year—to heat the city's two fire stations.

On the purchase option and the city's right to inspect CIPS records, both proposed by Eckert.

The debate continues by allowing city officials to inspect local CIPS records. Those officials would be better able to evaluate the company's performance and to determine whether the city is receiving a proper amount of utility tax from CIPS.

Panel consensus: State courtrooms to allow cameras

By Ed Lempriere

Camera will be allowed in Illinois courtrooms within one year, according to a proposal that received support from the new media and judiciary who recently debated the subject as SUI.

But not all of the participants in the panel discussion Monday at Lawson Hall agreed that the cameras should be allowed to film courtroom proceedings. Judge Richard Richman argued against allowing cameras in Illinois courtrooms.

"We have the Illinois News Broadcasters Association; we have John Campanella, director of news and public affairs for the ABC News Broadcasting Network, and Ann Anderson, reporter for WCIA-TV in Champaign, argued that a greater public and media presence on electronic media for news justifies the use of cameras in the courtroom and anabolic proposal."

"The presence of cameras, until proven otherwise, tends to disturb" the behavior of lawyers, judges, witnesses and may be Richard Richman.

Electon nears for candidates

Student government candidates were passing out pamphlets and shaking hands Tuesday, a day before the opening of the polls.

The names of three candidates for student government offices were added before an election report Tuesday.

Darrell Heneghan, senior in biomedical education, argued to be a Candidate for Student Senate (SVP) member, campaigning for one of the five senate seats open on the East Side.

Campaigned for a seat from the West Side, another student government campaign candidate to be a Candidate for Senate in the West Side, as an Independent candidate.

Michaelis is an independent. James R. Murphy, senior in agriculture, a Senate candidate for that district, is an EAP candidate, but was listed as an independent.

Also, Gary Brown, sophomore in pre-law and senior candidate from the East Side, was listed incorrectly as Mark Gill.
Panel agrees cameras will be allowed in courts

Representing the Illinois Broadcasters Association agreed. “In public education, the guidelines adopted are necessary and necessity are best served by allowing cameras in the courtroom,” he said.

Illinois broadcastors are “dedicated to providing the public with complete and accurate information,” he said, and allowing trials to be photographed or filmed would increase public awareness and understanding.

But according to Richman, it is a “false assumption” and added that opening the courts (to cameras) will improve public knowledge.

Brown offered a different opinion on why judges do not want cameras in their courtrooms.

“The reason we dead the camera will show them to be bad judges, he said.

Anderson added that the Illinois Bar Association’s decision to send a group of lawyers to Florida to study that state’s court is a positive step, and Richman said that “there is a large public interest in the proceedings of the trial and there is a need that the trial be open to the public.”

Richman said he was opposed to allowing cameras in the courtroom during such an experiment, he said.

Broadcasters file petition for cameras in courtrooms

By Ed Lentsy

The Illinois News Broadcasters Association (INBA) has asked the Illinois Supreme Court to end its ban on cameras in the state’s courtrooms.

A petition was filed with the Supreme Court earlier this month, requesting an oral argument of the issue. The court reconvene in May.

In 1970, the Supreme Court ordered that cameras be excluded from all courtrooms in Illinois. The ban was lifted in 1995 after the Illinois Supreme Court ruled that cameras could be allowed in courtrooms.

The petition asks the Illinois Supreme Court to lift the ban on cameras in Illinois courtrooms.

The use of cameras in courtrooms was banned in Illinois in 1970. The rule against cameras was a result of the American Bar Association’s Canon 35, which prohibits any broadcasting of trials.

Canon 35 was adopted in reaction to the Pontiac High School trial in 1950. Hanuman was accused of kidnapping the son of flying ace Charles Lindberg.

The proposal was approved, judges would retain the power to prohibit the use of cameras for any particular trial. Lawyers for the prosecution and defense would also be permitted to request that cameras not be used during the trial.

The petition to the Illinois Supreme Court specifically states that the broadcasting equipment would be allowed “under such conditions as the presiding judge shall determine necessary to ensure the orderly conduct and avoid distractions in the courtroom.”

Bingo fever strikes local church crowd

By Vicky Leavish
Staff Writer

Every Sunday night the players gather at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church to patiently listen for the one number that will fill their cards. "Under the B. 6. Under the I. 27." the announcer yells, after grabbing a pingpong ball from an automatic shuffling machine.

The name of the game is bingo, and it draws a crowd of about 70 to 110 players each week at a hall adjacent to the church, 302 S. Poplar.

Players must be 18 years old to participate in the game, which is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

"Some nights the crowd is small and we don’t have any profit, but this is rare," said Charles Leming, a worker at the bingo game Sunday. "The profits we do get go to the parish hall debt."

Leming explained that the jackpot game is played after the first session, or 10 games. Bingo control cards in the first session cost up to $1.

If a player gets a bingo in 10 calls or under he wins $10. The player wins $5 if he gets a bingo in 11 calls or more. One operator runs the game and three workers are needed to call numbers.

Does the organization face protests from people opposed to bingo games associated with the church?

"Not often," Leming said, "but there are always some who think it isn’t appropriate."

Despite the odds in bingo, players may not get richer, but they do get a free space.

Elvis Presley: What the fans don't want to know

By Bob Greene

One Tuesday morning last August, I had a telephone conversation with a man named Delbert (Sonny) West. I was in Chicago. West was in California. West was talking about Elvis Presley.

"His drug habit is so severe that I'm convinced he is in danger of losing his life," West said.

Neither of us knew at the time, but even as we spoke, Elvis Presley was dead in a bathroom of his Graceland mansion in Memphis. His body had not yet been found. So West, a confidant and bodyguard to Presley for 18 years, spoke in the present tense as he said:

Presley had a drug habit so severe that he needed pills to get up in the morning, to go to the bathroom, to stop going to the bathroom, and to go to sleep. Presley believed he was a modern-day Jesus, put on earth with psychic healing powers and a supernatural force.

Presley, for "fun," liked to take friends to funeral homes and mortuaries to examine embalmed bodies. Presley lived in dread of assassination, and told this bodyguard to "rip the eyeballs out" of any Presley assassin before the assassin could be brought to trial.

Presley had ordered his bodyguards to kill the man who took his wife from him.

Presley loved guns. He once bought 32 handguns in a single month. He owned a Thompson submachine gun and an M16 rifle, and is reported to wear three guns on his person, including a small pistol concealed in his boot, where he was shot in the stage.

Presley was brooding and lonely, often staying in his room alone for weeks, eating enormous quantities of food, taking pills, and refusing to go out.

Presley enjoyed shooting out the screens of television sets as he drove down the street.

Reaction to the interview with West was immediate and vehement. People hated him. He had written a book about Presley (with two other former Presley bodyguards, Red West and Dave Hebler), and many Presley fans blamed the book for Presley's death.

Sonny West is a handsome high boy, just like Elvis. He is what you would call your marginally unemployable. Having spent most of his life as Elvis' manager, West could never be accused of being overeducated. This fact did not, however, stop him from being the best-selling author in the country during most of last summer and fall.

Now, alas, it is spring, and he has only his memories.

This week I got together with Sonny West and talked about that day last August. He is a large, bearded man with a gentle voice but an unmistakable aura of latent menace.

"I got done talking to you that morning, and then I went to the home of a friend," West said. "I was there for about two hours. I left the house. We went to a bar and heard it on the news. He came out and told me, 'I broke down and cried. I couldn't talk to anybody.

"People say they're angry about what I said about Elvis. They say they loved him. But they loved the image. They never knew the man like we did. I loved Elvis, the man. The public put so much pressure on him to be Elvis, the myth, that Elvis, the man, had to die.

"And people say that we were only in it for the money. I can't blame them for saying that. We originally did write the book out of love. We wanted to do it for him, and Elvis told us, 'Any more of this cutting off the drug supply,' there's gonna be people looking for jobs. Don't you understand, I need it.' So he got his drugs.

"He'd been doing what he was doing so long that he needed the cocaine just to get him on stage. And the downers... there were times when he would be sitting around, and he would take some pills, and he would be out so fast that we'd have to carry him into the bathroom.

"He liked what the drugs did for him, but he felt he was in control. He thought he could get off it any time he wanted to. There were no more challenges for him, though, so he kept up with the drugs.

"He was offered the role opposite Barbra Streisand in 'A Star Is Born,' and I think if he had accepted it, he would be alive today. But he wouldn't take the role. He knew it would take months of dieting and staying straight for him to do it. If you think he was sloppy on stage toward the end, think what he would have looked like on film, with his eyes all dilated and his mouth shivering every word he spoke. He knew it would be terrible, so he turned down the part.

"Elvis was in control of his own destiny. Col. Parker wasn't the influence everyone thought he was, and Elvis' father was no longer an influence. Elvis made all the decisions.

"I still don't know if Elvis read our book before he died. I heard one report that he started to read it and then tore it up. Then he sent someone out to buy him another copy, and he read it, and then he said, 'That's not me. If those guys think that's me, they're that's his problem.'

"Somewhere down the road, I was a part of God's plan for Elvis. I was just a pawn in His plan. Elvis was the king. Either God allows things to happen or He causes things to happen. We'll never know.

"If I had been with Elvis at the end, I suppose that I would be lying and covering up for him, the way people with him at the end are doing. But I can recognize Elvis' faults and still love him. We are not perfect, with this man for years. God, I miss him. Whenever I hear 'Suspicious Minds' or 'Kentucky Rain' or 'In the Ghetto'..."

"I hope to be at the funeral. I wanted to. But Elvis' father let it be known that he didn't want me down there. I have every intention of trying to go to Graceland and pay my respects at his grave. I don't know if the Presley family will allow it, but I want to go there with my wife to pay my respects. I want to do it because I loved Elvis very much.

Peep on campus: Hill gang, yes; women's games, no

The law is supposed to be applied fairly and indiscriminately. But does sex play a role in your police force? Is your force color-blind or sex-blind? The other day I attended a women's softball game, and like any other avid baseball fan, I was enjoying the game. Then I noticed an SIU patrol car was approaching and guess what it was? I immediately led my beer. You might ask why I responded in such a way—well, to be honest I don't know. I think it's unfortunate that the fact that liquor is not allowed on campus property, but I am also aware of the fact that I don't belong in this game. I am a full-fledged member of the "hill gang" so I knew what's going on. At the men's games, people bring food to compete with the vendors and whatever else they might want to drink, and no one else has problems with the smoking of marijuana as it is not prohibited at the games.

Coverage of orienteering meet 'shocking'

On a recent visit to Carbondale for the National Orienteering Convention held at the Touch of Nature Center, I had the opportunity to spend a week on your campus. I found the University a very nice place to visit, however, dismayed at a glaring omission I feel your sports editor made. It serves as an example of how your readers interpret the accomplishments and honors earned by SIU students. On the week when the students' editor, representative of the United States Orienteering Federation, was featured in your columns, Pat Dunlavy, won the National Collegiate Orienteering Championships during the weekend of April 1-2. I report this for the entire country, including students from places like West Point and Stanford, who have the best maps and coaching. Occurrence as the sport of orienteering may be, SIU has a reputation nationally for the courses offered here as well as the map and competitions put on by your University club. The chairman that Dunlavy entitled himself to represent the United States at the World University Championships in Finland, this summer. Two other SIU students were named to this world team—Sue Swenson and Jim Hertz. They, in addition to Pat Dunlavy, have represented your school in a superior fashion.

I gave the sports editor the students' names, a phone number of one of them, and the names of two faculty members associated with orienteering coverage so that their accomplishments is necessary for the students to get some University support for their trip abroad. I was assured that it would be reprinted in length in your paper.

The total absence of any mention of the above during the entire week is shocking. I can only wonder why you chose to overlook such a noteworthy item. I feel the students deserve full coverage from their student paper, and an apology as well. Shame on you.

Jennifer T. Thulth Beaman, Montana U.S. Orienteering Federation

Students can play key role in gun control

"The gun control movement," writes the Washington Post (March 24), is similar to the civil rights movement, for we will be combating blind ignorance and prejudice at every step of the way.

Cos is right, and his comparison of the civil rights struggle with the continually growing push for federal handgun controls leads to yet another comparison. One of the greatest victories of the civil rights movement of the 1960s-civil rights and the anti-war protests—was students. Students were at Selma and Birmingham and at Kent State and St. Louis and Columbia. And if the movement to ban handguns in Illinois continues, it may be yet another victory.

Last year— to succeed, 'em students must play a key role. For as U.S. Rep. Peter Stork notes, America's failure to curb handguns in the schools will "transcend the obscenity of Vietnam."

As a coalition, the Student Coalition to Control Handguns (SCCH), is seeking to mobilize student support in the handgun control cause.

Students: Can you pass the Turkey Test?

Right on Bernadette! Your letter in last week's D.E. was pretty close to the issue. I think, however, that we should go a bit further and suggest that one map, "Custer put Little Big Horn on the map" and look where it got him.

Please return to any of those pirates you mentioned. They're everywhere. They fly off in today's colleges. Some are as bad as "the Huns." We suggest that if you are a pirate (explorer) see a turkey (most of us) he begins to salivate. Then comes the "gun sound: unmarried persons, uninterested parties and subconscious living conditions. So how do we eliminate the pirates? We haven't been paying high prices for food and other bare necessities. Well just don't buy them here, buy them up there and bring them down.

People like Jo Mack and the things they do make life worthwhile

In reading the Daily Egyptian's stories on the death of Jo Mack, a young man in January 1977. Because my Mustang II didn't maneuver very well, I walked through the snow from my home to the Communications Building. A car stopped next to me and a woman asked me if I wanted a ride. I did, of course. She didn't know who I was. She looked at me like a sissy shoe. She then drove about four blocks out of her way to bring me to the Communications Building. She showed me to my office. I realized her then as a familiar campus name. In the few minutes I talked with her, I realized she was a very com­passionate and warm person. The type of person like her and the little, pleasant things they do make life worthwhile.

Northern nuts: Go back to Chicago and watch Cubs rebuild for years

In reply to a letter in the April 26 D.E., enough is enough. For Bernadette and her other northern friends, don't start griping at us down here about the bureaucratic system, when for years, Richard Daley said, "If you have to yell in Chicago, you have you have up there.

Psychic to demonstrate ESP power

By Mary Feld

Blinded by the light of ESP--or is it--widely known psychic, David Hoy, will give a three-day seminar on ESP at The Student Center from April 25-27. Hoy, a nationally known psychic, has a three-day seminar on ESP at The Student Center.

Hoy has also predicted that cold feet are not a problem. He said, "When I look at the data, I can see that ESP is real." Widely known for his ESP powers, Hoy prints his own newsletter which lists his speaking schedule, his current predictions and serves to communicate with those who write to him. Hoy grants predictions of his in the newsletter which have come true for the people that write to him.

A person wrote from Ohio that Hoy had found his father for him. Another wrote saying that within minutes of receiving a reply from Hoy, he found a missing stock certificate, just as Hoy had told him he would.

Many people write to Hoy in hopes of learning how to use their ESP. Hoy believes that everyone has ESP and can use it in practical ways, including helping develop what people naturally have.

Hoy has developed systems by which people can stop smoking, learn to diet, and even cure the common cold through ESP. Other systems have helped him deal with the proper way to develop telepathy, and the use of ESP with children.

In lectures Hoy demonstrates his ESP involving the entire audience in a psychokinesis experiment which also demonstrates his skill by answering questions from the audience. The questions usually concern lost items, winning persons, or future employment.

Hoy claims to be 73 to 74 percent accurate in the national predictions which he has..." He during the last two years, according to Shirley Croyle, the manager of the Student Center.

In one of national predictions, Hoy correctly said that the Kurgan NBC specials would receive low ratings. The one special that Kurgan had made in January did, in fact, receive low ratings. Hoy was correct.

Hoy has recently made predictions concerning hockey, baseball, weather, the weather, and the world of business.

Among those predictions are: who will win the Muyor Cup, who will win the World Series, who will win the Super Bowl, and who will win the World Series.

The Student Center will host Hoy from April 25-27. Hoy will be giving three seminars and lectures at The Student Center. Hoy will be giving three seminars and lectures at The Student Center. Hoy will be giving three seminars and lectures at The Student Center.

Rock videotape to be shown

Entertainment via videotape with rock bands Meatloaf and Journey performing a performance of music from the film "Variations," will be part of the weekly Spring Fest at 7 p.m. Friday in the Video Lounge, on the fourth floor of the Student Center.

"Variations," composed by Andrew Lloyd Webber, is based on an original theme by the 18th century virtuoso violinist, Paganini.

The work is performed on videotape by the rock band which originally recorded the piece. Composer Webber wrote the rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar," which has been performed on stage in several countries, has been sold in the form of five million dollars in tickets, and was made into a film.

Red Argent, formerly of Argent and the Sentinels, and Jim Newman, from the British band Catosoom, are among the musicians performing the piece.

The television concert being shown here was recently aired on British Independent Televisions in the prestigious Prague Television Festival.

Webber has cleverly arranged each piece to encompass a different mood and style of popular music.

Warden: Prison system often deficient

By Charles Roberte

Administrative Professor

MARION (AP) - The federal prison system has reached the point of "laboratories ofominousness," the Warden of one of the nation's largest penitentiaries said, as he lamented the sorry state of the nation's criminal justice system and its impact on the inmates.

"We have a system that is broken," said Warden Roberte. "We are faced with a system that is not only inefficient, but also inhumane. Our prisons are overcrowded, underfunded, and understaffed, and the conditions are anything but respectful of the rights of our inmates."

"We have a system where inmates are not treated with dignity and respect," he continued. "We have a system where the focus is on punishment, not rehabilitation. We have a system where inmates are warehoused in overcrowded cells, subjected to cruel and inhuman conditions, and denied access to basic necessities."

"We have a system where inmates are denied the opportunity to participate in educational and vocational programs, and to engage in lawful leisure activities," he added. "We have a system that is a failure, not only to our inmates, but to society as a whole."

Warden Roberte's remarks were in response to a recent report by the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child, which called on the United States to improve conditions in its federal prisons.

"We have a system that is in desperate need of reform," he said. "We have a system that needs to be radically overhauled. We need to address the root causes of crime and to provide meaningful opportunities for rehabilitation."

Warden Roberte also addressed the issue of prison violence, which has been on the rise in recent years. "We have a system where violence is tolerated and even encouraged," he said. "We have a system where inmates are left to fend for themselves, and where the violence and chaos are the norm."

"We need to address the issue of prison violence and to provide a safer environment for our inmates," he concluded. "We need to ensure that our prisons are safe and secure, and that our inmates are treated with dignity and respect."
STATEMENT OF OPPOSITION

Let it be known that on 14 April, 1978, THE STUDENT ENVIRONMENTAL CENTER of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, makes official its opposition to the construction of a golf course on the property owned by Southern Illinois University, as it is now proposed. After research by the Environmental center on the ecological impacts of the golf course construction, the center has no recourse but to make this statement of opposition for the following reasons:

1). A question is posed if the university has a legal right to lease university property, for the proposed time period, when the property to be leased, which is presumed purchased through tax dollars, is to undergo a land-use transition for the purpose of a business profit.

2). Some of the habitat area, which is proposed for golf course construction, has at times served as a loafing and/or feeding area for some endangered and/or threatened species of Illinois birds. Specifically, the red-shouldered hawk, Cooper's hawk, marsh hawk, and Mississippi Kite, which informed sources say, has been on or near the proposed construction site in times past.

3). The Student Environmental Center would like the administration and construction organizers to submit a public report on what effects the loss of the present habitat, in favor of a golf course-type habitat, will have on the short-billed marsh wren, Cistothorus platensis stellaris, which has been seen on a portion of the land proposed for the lodging complex of the Saluki Nat'l Golf Course. The Student Environmental Center would like the golf course enthusiasts to tell us where else in Illinois has the short-billed marsh wren been known to nest?

4). The Student Environmental Center is also aware that the university, by law, has not been required to present an environmental impact statement for the construction of a golf course. But, the center questions why the planners did not voluntarily prepare a statement, which in the eyes of the already skeptical student, would have viewed the action as being far and beyond the call of duty, but within the interests of fairness through openness.

5). The Student Environmental Center has not made an attempt to evaluate the pros and cons of aesthetics lost or gained through the construction of a golf course. ... but, we do question the necessity of the course, as a goal in higher education.

6). The Student Environmental Center also questions how a university with an objective "to exalt beauty, in God, in nature, and in art; teaching how to love the best" (from page 417 of the 1977-78 Undergraduate Catalog, Carbondale. 'Objectives of Southern Illinois University') can permit, and even encourage, possible environmental calamity, such as this may be.

Governor's renting deduction raises legal questions by IRS

SPRINGFIELD (AP) - Gov. James R. Thompson's 1977 federal income tax return indicates he has an apartment for rent in the Chicago home he owns. But Thompson says he isn't looking for tenants just now, even though he deducted expenses on his tax return as though he were.

The house, at 544 W. Fullerton Parkway, is in a rushy neighborhood near Lincoln Park. The apartment is on the first floor, and the Thompsons live upstairs when they are in Chicago overnights. The governor says. He said state troopers have lived rent free in the apartment since he became governor.

On his 1977 return, Thompson deducted $2,370 in certain expenses for the apartment. Internal Revenue Service officials say such deductions can be claimed only if the apartment was rented during the year, or the landlord actively sought tenants through newspaper ads, for rent signs or rental agencies.

But in an interview with the Associated Press, Thompson said he did none of those things. The state troopers moved in when he became governor, he said. They took over the whole first floor, Thompson said, throwing up his hands. What...?

Ann Brokeley, an Internal Revenue Service official in Springfield, refused to comment directly on the individual case. But she expressed reservation about the validity of a hypothetical deduction for depreciation, fuel, repair and utility costs when an apartment went unrented the entire year.

S. Senate to debate committee handling athletics fee split

By Michelle Randford

SPRINGFIELD - A plan for a committee to deal with the athletics fee split between men's and women's programs is scheduled for consideration by the Senate Education Committee at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Student Center Missouri Room.

The resolution, approved, would recommend to the Senate an $10,000 fee for University of Illinois students to cover the cost of maintaining a permanent Student Athletics Fee Board to make recommendations on the use of the fee. Currently, a special Senate Student Committee is investigating the fee split. A $10,000 ad hoc committee recommended a $20 fee split in the fee by fall 1977, without an increase in leagues. The $40 Senate rejected the proposal and instead increased the fee to $50 and achieved the split by fall 1977.

Finally, a committee chaired by Mary Helen Gasser, University affirmative action officer, is investigating University compliance with Title IX and will recommend a fee split as part of its work.

According to the resolution, what is really needed is a board of four undergraduates and four graduates which would be invested in policy making.

The resolution states that the $10 fee is the only student fee that locks student board of the kinds.

Mark Rouleau, Chairman, Small Group Housing, SIU, Carbondale.

We are voting in this election because we believe. Student Government can be effective only if it is based upon substantive programs, not cartoons that look pretty but say nothing. The traditional approach is to run for Student Government Office on a platform stating opposition to the administration. This is the approach we abhor because it is easy to be against something but it is hard to develop concrete solutions to real problems. We believe Dunning and Bracey have a program that is a positive attempt to accomplish the objective of serving real student needs.

Berkowitz ruled mentally sound

NEW YORK (AP)—Declaring that David R. Berkowitz displays an "understanding of his predicament," a judge ruled that the 24-year-old postal clerk is mentally competent to stand trial for the last of the six "Son of Sam" murders.

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph R. Corso set a May 7 trial date after making findings that the defendant is competent to defend himself and assist in his own defense.

But the competency finding makes it possible for Berkowitz to plead guilty, a desire he has expressed several times. Should the judge be willing to accept such a plea, it would enable Berkowitz to avoid a trial altogether.

Berkowitz lawyers want him to plead innocent by reason of insanity—a plea that is still possible despite the finding that he understands the charges against him.

Even should he be ordered to stand trial, it probably would not start before June because the defense has filed several pre-trial motions.

Berkowitz has been charged with killing six persons with a .44-caliber revolver over a 14-month period in the Bronx, Queens and Brooklyn. The case before Corso involves only the last shooting, in which Stacy Moskowitz was killed and her date wounded in Brooklyn.

In tapes played at a first competency hearing last year, Berkowitz admitted to the slayings but said he acted at the command of blood-thirsty demons.

He said he wanted to plead guilty and warn the world of the demons. He rejected the idea of an insanity defense on grounds that it would destroy the credibility of his warning.

After the ruling Monday, defense lawyers reiterated that they wanted to pursue an insanity defense, but acknowledged that "the one thing we can't do" is decide how the defendant will plead.

Judge Corso kept the 349-page transcript of the four-day competency hearing sealed, pending selection and sequestering of a jury. The testimony was taken in closed hearings earlier this month in a makeshift courtroom at Kings County Hospital, where Berkowitz is held and where another judge had found Berkowitz competent in a similar hearing last October.

State to examine child abuse agency

CHICAGO (AP)—A statewide investigation into the handling of child abuse cases by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services has been ordered by Tyrone Fahm, head of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement.

Fahm told DCFS personnel may be contributing to misleading statistics on child abuse if they are failing to report abuse cases to "keep the family together."

The probe, ordered Monday, will include the reviewing or reporting of cases of child abuse in suburban areas.

"We've got to find out what the picture is all across the state. We can't believe that children are abused, even killed, only in the major cities," Fahm said.

He added that his department will turn over all information on child abuse and neglect to Rep. Aaron Jaffe, D-Shaker, and the Illinois Legislative Investigating Commission.

Army dumps female corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Clifford Alexander Jr. has announced he is abolishing the directives of the Women's Army Corps. The service follows a statement by Defense Secretary Harold Brown to Congress last week that "women have become full partners in service and in combat." The Women's Army Corps was formed in 1942 and has been led by nine woman officers. Gen. Martin E. Steele, the current director, will be given another assignment.

Carter still hopeful about oil tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter said Tuesday it is too early to consider administrative action to replace the proposed crude oil excise tax, which he killed in Congress.

Carter told a national broadcast news conference he still is hopeful that the proposal, which he called a major part of his energy package, will be approved.

The Carter proposal would add about $7 a gallon to the price of gasoline and has been stalled in a Senate-House conference committee. Chairman Russell Long of the Senate Finance Committee said there is no possibility the tax would be approved on Capitol Hill.

The president also said that National Security Adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski's offer to develop a new weapon "has no significance at all" in Carter's consideration of whether to go along with development of the weapon for U.S. forces.

Carter said the Soviets have no need for the neutron weapon, which is designed for use against Russian tank armor.

The president suggested that a more reasonable tradeoff would be a Soviet offer to reduce their tank buildup in Eastern Europe.

Carter also reaffirmed his intention to submit a Middle East arms package to Congress including jet planes for Saudi Arabia and Egypt.

Bicycle theft reports lowest since 1970

By Jane Verlen
Business Writer

The reported bicycle theft rate has dropped in the past year, according to Dan Lane, administrative assistant to the University police.

"So far we've had ten reported stolen bicycles since January," Lane said. He said one bike has been reported stolen this month, compared to 45 in April 1977.

However, Lane said one reason for the drop in reported thefts is that many students do not know the locations of University properties which moved from University Park to Washington Square last year.

Lane said the number of reported stolen bicycles is the lowest since 1978.

"In the late 60's and early 70's, our police force was larger than Carbondale. Therefore, many more people would report the theft to us," he said.

More recently, the bicycle theft rate has decreased 14 percent in two years—498 reported in 1978 as compared to 587 reported in 1977, Lane said.

He said the "28-case is a reflection of an 18 percent drop in reported campus crime.

The total sales of stolen bicycles was $25,519 in 1977 and $26,576 in 1978, a drop of 3 percent, according to Lane. There were 58 recovered bicycles, worth $3,507, during 1977, down from 38 recoveries, worth $4,216, in 1976.

Lane said University police have 20 impounded bicycles. Carbondale Police has about 175 impounded bicycles, according to Lt. Terry Murphy.

Lane said bicycles are impounded for seven reasons:

1. Many times abandoned bicycles are picked up around campus or, in some cases, if the bicycle is chained to another bicycle, we will impound it," he said.

A bicycle may also be impounded when a person has a bicycle chained to a post outside a store, and the store owner has previously warned the rider not to chain it there. Lane said.

Another reason for impoundment, Lane said, is to demonstrate proof of ownership. "If someone on the street is stopped for a traffic violation and is riding a bicycle, but cannot prove ownership, we will impound the bike until the person can prove it's his," Lane said.

Both Lane and Murphy said that with the assistance of the LEADS (state) and NCIC (national) computer, it is relatively easy to find out who owns a bicycle.

Both Carbondale and S.U. police stress the need students to report their bicycles and to report thefts.

Tennis team beats Jayhawks, Leathernecks in dual matches

By Steve Cowan Staff Writer

The men’s tennis team extended its winning streak to five with weekend victories over Kansas and Western Illinois, but it couldn’t sustain its momentum to Sunday by Illinois.

The 5-1 landslide defeated Kansas (6-4) Friday and Western Illinois (6-4) Sunday, sending the Jayhawks to a 10-2 record in the Missouri Valley Conference. The top four singles players for the Leathernecks dominated opponents over the weekend as Jeff Lovett, Neville Kennerley, Bobo Nabler and Sam Dunn won all of their 13 matches on and lost only two match points, so far in the first six weeks. Against Kansas, the top three singles players all scored victories, while Kansas’ top four doubles team won their matches to keep SIU in tow.

All six singles matches Saturday were won by Sabala as Dunn improved his record to 14-4, the team’s best single’s mark. The Leathernecks (17-4) and Nibler-Dunn (13-13) teams were victorious, as the only SIU loss was suffered by Mark High and Joe Lizaro in the closest match of the day, 5-7, 6-4, 7-5.

After a 6-4 victory and 6-4 loss in 11 earlier this season, the Sabala were optimistic about their chances in the rubber match between the two teams this season.

Nabler, Dunn, and Lizaro all won their singles matches, which meant the Sabala had to win just one of the three doubles matches to maintain their dominance. But it was more than an easy chore for SIU to handle, and it was more than an easy chore Sunday. Sabala and Lizaro, who stand with a chance at qualifying for the NCAA tournament this season as a doubles team, lost 6-1, 6-2. The Nibler-Dunn team lost 6-4, 6-4, and High and Sabala didn’t fare much better, losing 8-2.

Cards beat Expos

MONTRÉAL (AP) — Mike Tyson drove in three runs and John Stengel pitched a six-hitter as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Montreal 7-2 Tuesday, mapping the Expos’ five-game winning streak.

Urbanski, a right-hander, struck out nine batters without issuing a walk. He lost his shutout in the ninth when the Expo passed across two unearned runs.

Ruggers defeat Eastern Illinois

The SIU rugby club snapped a two-game losing streak Saturday by beating a hard-hitting Eastern Illinois team 15-8. The game was highlighted by the superb kicking of fullback Jim Elderkin, who accounted for eight of the 12 points. A late try was scored by eighthman Jim Orlando.

A try line charge by scrum-half Frank Tuplin was the only bright spot in the “Waltz” in 1982 that the “Rugby” in 1981. The score was set up by a kick from fullback by forward Larry Werner. The conversion was kicked by Bob Gawoski.

The rugger’s next game is Saturday against the Springfield Ceri. The rugby pitch is located between Bigelow and Field, and there is no admission charge for the 5 p.m. game.

Trouble brewing in Redbird camp

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fedding within the ranks of the St. Louis Cardinals, second-place team in the National League, winter of harmony has apparently received the spring weather. Vern Rapp, 35-year-old center fielder, called All-Star catcher Ted Simmons "a finer fielder than he played in his first year, but even without his ability, Simmons is a better fielder than any other player in baseball." The Cardinals have been playing well since Rapp joined the team this season. The Cardinals have played 20 games so far and have won 15 of them. The team has a record of 15-5 and is in second place in the National League. The Cardinals are expected to continue their winning ways against the Chicago Cubs in their next game on Monday. The Cubs have a record of 8-12 and are in last place in the National League.

Williams takes coaching job at Auburn

By Bud Vanderstick
Sports Editor

and Richard

and

I'll

I was excited about the job. I can do anything with Williams' appointment. Lambert

there was an eruption of almost empty. Except for two out. There had been at least 50 persons express an interest in the job, but there was never any doubt in my mind. Herman was always the No. 1 man.

Williams' recruiting talents will again be put to full use by Lambert, but he said he will also have duties not restricted to the playing floor. "The job at Auburn will be about the same situation as I had here." Williams said. "Auburn's basketball program is more familiar to me than any other program except SIU, with whom I had a lot of success."

Williams and Auburn would appear on the surface to be the perfect union because Williams is more than somewhat familiar with the area. He attended high school in Chicago and was at A.H. Parker High School in Birmingham, including two state titles. In 1971, he was named the assistant coach at South Alabama, where he coached for three years before joining the Saluki staff in August 1984.

The 1966 graduate of Villard did not forget his contacts in the South when he made the move to SIU. His recruiting efforts in the Alabama-Georgia area have produced stars such as Gary Wilson, Wayne Abrams and two players from Parker High School, Chris Giles and Richard Ford, who was scholastically ineligible last season.

Williams' recruiting record was undoubtedly looked upon favorably by the new staff. However, he said his past work will not guarantee that Auburn will have basketball players knocking on its door.

"It will still be tough to recruit at Auburn," said Williams, who received his master's degree from South Alabama. "Georgia Tech has joined the Atlantic Coast Conference and that has helped the program at Georgia. And it will be a big challenge to compete with Kentucky."

There is a big commitment to basketball at Auburn, though. The players there want a winner. The Southeastern Conference has been held its own nationally for several years."

What moments at SIU stand out most in Herman Williams' mind?

There have been a lot of good moments," he answered. "The Indiana State game this year was the best game I have seen in a long time. I'll always remember the games Mike Glenn had at Wichita State and Louisville. And of course I'll never forget the NCAA tournament and Gary's (Wilson) big basket that won the game against Arizona."

Williams is married to the former Yvonne Lalloche and they are the parents of two children, Kenja, 7, and Herman, Jr., 4.

Salukis brave cold to sweep twinbill from Billikens

By George Caslake

It was a perfect day for baseball—if you got up in time. But by 1:30 p.m., a strong wind whipped around the rain fell and the temperature was cold. The Saluki baseball team had felt right at home. But this is baseball season, and the team was all but empty. Except foricky Jones and the Saluki hot dog vendor. But there was little life on the field.

In fact there was no one to watch SIU sweep two games over the Billikens to run their record to 3-0 in league play. Paul Ondo wasn't cold, though. In the first game, the Saluki right fielder smacked a two-run homer, his fifth of the season, in the first inning after Dave Staub had been fanned, to help the Salukis gain a 10-5 victory in the opener. SIU won the nightcap, 6-0.

Rob Simond had been the southpaw came in to relieve Dave Staub in the second inning with the bases loaded and two out. The Billikens had already pushed across five runs on only two hits.

Staub had helped relief after walking four and hitting one in addition to an error by Lynn. But I don't know what happened to him. He had come home.

He gave up one hit the rest of the way, and his record is 3-3 on the season.

"It was good to see us bring a guy in and get him out," Jones said after the game. "I was impressed more by the team's hit-and-run. The rest of the game was good. We had planned on only using him for four innings, but he did a good job with the bases loaded.

The Salukis added single runs in the second and third innings before erupting for four runs in the bottom of the sixth to put the game on ice.

Jones had batted 2-for-4 with a double and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Frank Schmidt to snap the 1-1 tie in the third and score on a base hit by Gary Lambert.

Chuck Curry hit a solo homer, his fifth of the season, and Ondo hit a triple in the inning, to take the lead. He had hit two triples last season.

The third game started with Saluki batter Alvin Yasins being the loser for St. Louis. Rob Boecker, starting for the Billikens, had given up only six hits and struck out four.

S.U. scored all of its runs in the first three innings to give the 6-2 right-hander the support he needed.

Bob Doerrder and stole second with one out in the opening inning. He scored on a double to left by Jim Reineke and was grounded out third. Craig Robinson reached on an error by Billiken shortstop Greg Shipman to score Bluest.

The Salukis added a run in the second Auburn, said Williams, who received his master's degree from South Alabama.

"Georgia Tech has joined the Atlantic Coast Conference and that has helped the program at Georgia. And it will be a big challenge to compete with Kentucky."
