Aide Seeks Shroyer's Head Job
Bill Knuckles, defensive line coach, has applied for the head football coach post at SIU. Daily Egyptian learned Tuesday.

Knuckles confirmed that he is seeking the job vacated by Don Shroyer last month. Shroyer said he resigned after two years "at the request" of the athletics director.

Knuckles said he had been interviewed by Donald N. Boydston, athletics director, and Elmer A. Clark, dean of the College of Education. Clark is chairman of the board-collegiate Athletics Committee. Most coaches hold teaching appointments in the College of Education.

Another assistant football coach, Jerry Hart, said he had no plan to apply for the job, but Donald (Red) Cross, who has been the offensive line coach, said that he is considering applying for the position.

"We're still in the process of trying to evaluate these inquiries, and we are still some distance from making any final choice for the position of head football coach," Boydston said.

Student Workers Must File Return
All college students who made more than $600 in 1965 are required to file a federal income tax return, according to the Office of Internal Revenue.

Although all must file if over $600 was earned, those who earned less than $900 will not owe any income tax to the government.

A return should also be filed if any income tax was withheld from wages. Students are advised to follow the tax tables for standard deductions.

Gov. Kerner Will Be Guest to a Campus Meeting Today
Gov. Otto Kerner will meet with the SIU Young Democrats at 4:45 p.m. today in the Seminar Room of the Agriculture Building.

Kerner will also be guest of honor at a meeting of the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce at 6:30 p.m. in the Ballroom of the University Center.

President Delroy W. Morris is on a trip to Mali and will not be able to meet with Kerner. The governor has made no plans to meet with any SIU administrators.

Long-Range Planning Sought For SIU Broadcast Coverage
Anderson Favors Committee of 6
By John Epperleimer

Long-range planning has been proposed for the broadcast coverage of SIU athletic events.

John G. Anderson, director of the Communications and Media Services Division, said the planning was begun before the current controversy over the two radio networks which are now broadcasting Southern's games.

Anderson said there was a definite need "to get together important parties to develop a long-range set of guidelines for the coverage of games."

Anderson said that Campus Senator Richard Levy, who investigated the operation of the two networks for a special committee of the Campus Senate, misunderstood him when they met early this quarter to discuss the networks.

Levy's report to the Campus Senate quoted Anderson as saying the purpose of the professional network, started this year, was to provide a "more professional type coverage" of the games.

Anderson said he told Levy that for years there had been criticism of WSIU's handling of the games. The station has come from both on and off campus, and they had advocated for professional coverage.

Anderson said that he had been asked to head a group consisting of Donald N. Boydston, director of athletics; Charles G. Robbins, director of broadcasting; C. Horton Talley, dean of the School of Communications; Fred Haff, sports public relations man, and himself to meet in November to discuss formation of the second network.

The group agreed that the new network would not interfere with WSIU's broadcasts, Anderson said.

The question of interference with WSIU is the "critical point" to be considered in future planning, according to Anderson.

Phi Sigs' Bucket Brigade Nets $587 in Annual Dimes Drive

The March of Dimes at Carbondale received $587.00 Saturday from Phil Sigma Kappa social fraternity's annual Bucket Brigade fund drive.

The money was collected in red and white buckets from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the intersection of Illinois Avenue and Main Street by about 50 Phil Sigma Kappas wearing orange vests.

The vests were provided by the Carbondale City Council in the interest of safety. They are.

A Shopper's Guide To the Klux Klan

On January 5, the Murphysboro Current published its article about the Klux Klan. This particular issue was interesting because of the interest of the interview which indicated that the Klan is planning a membership drive in southern Illinois and that several Klaverns have been organized. There was also a smarter consciousness rising in the minds of klavern members. The Klan is planning to spread its influence throughout the state of Illinois. It was enlightening to see that the Klansmen have been two years beyond the national norm.

Faculty members of both Lincoln Junior High and Community High School were among these long-time members. All of these teachers, which are already in place, plan to keep their esteem up through the years.

A letter to KA's Campus Editor was published on January 10, which was signed by several faculty members. It reads as follows:

Q. "Student or faculty? A. Faculty."
Q. "Why not more about Carolin?" (Refers to progress in Klan efforts to gain political power, etc.)
A. "They have made progres..." etc.
Q. "Do you think the Klan is a threat to the community?" A. "Yes."
Q. "Are you interested in the Klan? A. "Yes...several."

SONNET TO A RELIABLE GIRL

Your mark is easy; I am sick of passion And only care to be a closed retreat; I cannot learn to fashion Some hope to pry or weak resolve entice, Brightly, you swirl your drink with studied skill and smile seductively, even compounding carelessly to please and please. Count on what I wish to do. So give me kisses, help me waste today; Our laughing friends Will grate me less if you will smile and carry me until my slender hour. And I, love, you must withdraw and hide To gather virtue from the dogs that died. -Michael Hardy Ancient KA Proverb: Do not use a hatchet to remove a fly from your friend's forehead.

MARRISA, Ill. (KA) — It was announced today by the IBM "J-40, SIU Vice President in charge of special operations, that a special commission has been established by the University to study the "degrees of Godless Communist influence" in student activities on the Carbondale Campus.

The announcement came on the heels of the recent resignation of the Saluki Daily Worker, an area newspaper which "tends to favor the community's interest, that many "campus factions," as the editors of that paper put it, have been efforts in the "big Wobbly in the Kremlin."

Mighty Righty, a viable force within the Carbondale community has been named chairman of the commission according to the announcement.

Although a name has not yet been selected for the investigating body it will begin its work next Tuesday with a preliminary meeting of its officers of the International Communist Conspiracy, Carbondale Division.

Pair Didn't Realize Sad State of Affairs

Dear Mrs. Meyer,

Having had time to read your humorous take-off on the Sharpeville Massacre in Carbondale's Star-Ledger, I have been skeptical inclined to believe that perhaps you are going to answer to Plato's fruitless search for the Utopian society, namely, Kokomo, Indiana!

While you have quite adequately succeeded in distorting the present cultural, educational, and athletic life of Carbondale, but, you have for the most part unfortunately, failed to introduce any convincing, much less logical statement concerning the evils of the situation.

At one point, you quite emphatically classify the field of education as one for "little, white, middle class boys," and then go on to praise the members of that dedicated faculty of Kokomo High School who are "surely earning a choice place for themselves in the future of education."

Why are you trying to stress, anyway? The significance and influence of the educators? What you have actually done, through your self-centered antagonism and with the implication that Kokomo is a small, poorly endowed but little, narrow people who are unqualified for anything else, you have also produced quite brilliant "schoo..."

...from a woman whose children have been socially ostracized in the schools. She is a mother, and her children have been senselessly bullied by their peers for Mrs. Meyer's criticism of their school system.

To offer defended defense of the school system, as some of the public has done, is one thing; but to "socialize" this school, socially is quite another. The community is in need of degrading behavior from the community school children, if they are to be published and published, it often strikes light...

Still another, the last, and most unfortunate of all, is a plea from a woman whose children have been socially ostracized in the schools. She is a mother, and her children have been senselessly bullied by their peers for Mrs. Meyer's criticism of their school system.

The community is in need of degrading behavior from the community school children, if they are to be published and published, it often strikes light...

But the damage has been done, and I am sure. The citizen's of the community have responded in force and I believe that much good work has been accomplished in this community. I have been alerted to the need for Carbondale's response in this news. I've read the letter...

I have never heard anything more controversial than, "I will serve beef and noodles on Tuesday instead of Twins" and "us parents," and obviously well...

As a consolation, we sincerely hope that your "schoo..."

Negro Woman Democrat Nominated For N.Y. Federal District Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced yesterday that he will nominate Constance Baker Motley, Negro attorney and president of the borough of Manhattan, to be a federal district judge for southern New York.

The nominee, 44, is widely known for her work in civil rights cases in various parts of the country. A Democrat, Mrs. Motley was a New York state senator from 1964 to February, 1965, when she became president of the borough of Manhattan. Last November she was elected to a four-year term in that position, with backing from the Democratic, Republican and liberal parties. So far as can be determined, she is the first Negro woman ever nominated for a U.S. district judgeship.

U.S. CAN TAKE ON CHINA AND RUSSIA—Robert McNamara, secretary of defense, chats with Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., after testifying yesterday before the Senate-House Joint Economics Committee that the Defense Department’s interest in economy and efficiency has not handicapped the nation’s combat readiness.

McNamara Says U.S. Missiles ‘Adequate’ To Knock Out Red China and Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara described America’s planned strategic offensive as “being up to 1967-71 period will provide ‘substantially more force than is required for an assured deterrent’ to the Soviet Union and Communist China,” he said.

In emphasizing the need for missiles, McNamara said that he had no interest in economy at the expense of preparedness.

He spoke to a closed session of a House Armed Services subcommittee, which is investigating McNamara’s plan for a further cutback of the strategic bomber force. Excerpts were released to newsmen.

McNamara said it is clear “that our strategic offensive forces are far more than adequate to inflict unacceptable damage on the Soviet Union even after absorbing a well-coordinated Soviet first strike against our forces. Indeed, it appears that even a relatively small portion of our forces would furnish us with a complete adequate deterrent to a deliberate Soviet nuclear attack on the United States.”

If, in the 1970s, the Soviet Union attacked the United States with her entire missile force, the defense secretary said, “a very large proportion of our alert forces would still survive.” He added that even one-fifth of American missiles could destroy one-third of the total population and half the industrial capacity of the Soviet Union.

McNamara said manned bombers will be retained indefinitely and will be available for use in the “possibility that our missile force may turn out to be less reliable” than predicted.

He said that, against current Soviet defenses, the present U.S. force of 255 B-52 manned bombers is adequate.

White Supremacists Hold ‘Buy-Ins’ In Effort to Defeat Negro Boycott

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP)—Customers are few in Fayette’s 20 stores nowadays, except when special convoys of cars arrive with horns blaring and Confederate flags fluttering.

The caravans bring whites with spending money to this little southwest Mississippi town to ease civil rights economic pressures.

Driving into Fayette one afternoon with a small group of hustlers, one white youth said:

"Fayette is under boycott by NAACP—stop and trade with us, Thanks."

Negro leaders, trying to break the rigid racial barriers in the Jefferson County seat, imposed the boycott Dec. 18 to back a list of civil rights demands. More than half our customers are Negroes, and we’ve stepped through the front door to buy anything since the boycott began,” said one storekeeper.

But he added that the score “had a real good day during the last white buy-in.”

Roland Scott, Natchez, president of the Americans for the Preservation of the White Race, said a buy-in Jan. 15 brought 300 cars to Fayette from Mississippi and Alabama and resulted in $50,000 worth of sales.

Buy-ins were the counter-punch also urged by APWR and the Ku Klux Klan during the three-month boycott which eventually forced Natchez, Miss., to agree to civil rights demands.

Fred Allen, Fayette, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Peoples, county chapter, shrugged off the buy-ins.

"The boycott will keep on until they give us what we ask for,” he said.

Kentucky Passes Civil Rights Bill

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky Tuesday became the first state south of the Mason-Dixon Line to adopt a civil rights measure.

The bill, outlawing racial discrimination in public accommodations and employment, and stronger than the federal act of 1964, passed with only one dissenting vote.

Approved 36-1 in the Senate, the measure was sent to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, who said he would sign it.

When the bill becomes law July 1, the fair employment provision will apply to all employers of eight or more workers. The federal version now covers 100 and will be reduced to 25 on July 1, 1967.

Negroes also will have access to bowling alleys, golf driving ranges, skating rinks and luncheonettes—none of which are covered in the U.S. bill.

But covered by the bill are beauty shops, satin and beauty shops, private clubs and one-occupied lounges without food service, not under federal law, also to come under state coverage.

After casting a negative vote, Sen. George Frank, D-Mayfield, said, "That’s the way my people wanted me to vote."

Brand is from segregation-oriented western Kentucky as is Sen. Thomas Brizarden, D-Frankfort. Brizarden did not vote, explaining that he believes in rights for all "but this bill disturbs me. I’m going to face this issue honestly.

Gymnasts in Top Form;
Home Meet Set Friday

Winning has become more than a mere habit for SIU men's gymnastics team, it's now a tradition.

Winners of 40 straight dual meets, including two this season, the Salukis will open their home season at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Arena.

Mankato (Minn.) State will be trying to accomplish what Southern's opponents for the last four years have not—win. Mankato's task won't be easy, for Coach Bill Meade has once again fielded a top-flight team, one he says is capable of going "all the way.

If such should be the case it would be Southern's second championship in three years.

On the basis of two meets this season, Southern's strongest events are free exercise, trampoline and long horse, which happen to be Frank Schmitz's three events.

Schmitz was an NCAA winner in free exercise and trampoline last year and a second-place finisher in long horse.

Schmitz has been getting his share of competition this year from a couple of sophomores, Paul Mayer in free exercise and long horse, and Dale Hardt, along with Junior Hutch Dvorak in trampoline.

Gymnast Unsuit for Clown's Role

It wasn't written in the script, but after all, accidents happen and will likely happen when any of Southern's men gymnasts are around.

Hutch Dvorak and Brent Williams were putting on a clown trampoline act at the Memphis State meet Saturday.

Everything was running pretty smoothly until near the end, when Williams was supposed to pull Dvorak off the trampoline by the back of the pants.

Williams evidently underestimated his own strength, or perhaps it was just fate, but he pulled a little too hard and—well, you can imagine.

Dvorak had a good reason to be blushing.

One who likes to have fun. He and others like him (99 per cent of the single students, 98 per cent married and 94 per cent coeds) read the Daily Egyptian. He finds it in its pages places to go and things to do. In fact, his over-all yearly personal expenditure is dependent on it. Include his colleagues and the total is a little over $270 million. And that's personal spending, friend.

It's really not difficult to reach him with your entertainment advertising, you know. Actually, your phone can bring a Daily Egyptian advertising consultant to you in a matter of hours. Don't wait too long, though. Someone else may be getting your slice of the fun.

In that steam rising from Ron Guthman's fastball, or Is it just an early morning lift?

"It's probably a little of both," Coach-giving Guthman is just one of number of pitchers and catchers who parachute to the Arena everyday for 7 a.m. practice.

Coach Joe Lutz decided start practice this quarters to get his team in shape for the spring trip to Texas in March.

Under Lutz's watchful eye four pitchers throw simultaneously for about 30 minutes. Ten wind sprints and it's a day.

Do the early morning practice hours bother the pitchers?

Said Guthman, "I had trouble on my first morning. My alarm clock went haywire, and I was 45 minutes late for practice."

Don Kirkland, another hard thrower, doesn't mind it at all now, although he didn't like to get up so early at first. Ken Everett, another pitcher, said he gets up only an hour earlier and can be under-

What about the poor catchers who must keep their balance while crouching behind an imaginary base line at the same time keep their open, lest they get hit on the "old noggin"?

Two of the catchers that have been some more-talented guards, Gene Stotlar, Clarence Stephens and more recently Charlie Vaughans, but a pair I'd have to rank this pair (Lee and McNeil) first.

Coach Lynn Hohler, who is completing his 20th year here said, "It's hard to compare players of today with those of earlier years, but I'd say the current ones are excellent and have tremendous spirit.

Women Basketball Players
Win 3 Weekend Road Games

The Women's Recreation Association varsity basketball teams won three weekend games on the road.

Southern's No. 2 team defeated Blackburn College's No. 1 team 31-25 at Carlinville Friday. The No. 1 team downed Principia's No. 1 team 54-48 and the No. 3 team pounded Principia's No. 2 team 26-23 in early action Saturday.

Meanwhile, the infielders are having no effects yet.

Feldman said, "It's more mentally than physically tired," said Hohler.

Meanwhile, the infielders and outfielders are having no problems. They have hitting and fielding practice in the Armory, but from 3-3 p.m.

Glenn (Ab) Martin, who is the conductor of the men's intramural program, has been on the scene here since 1926.

During that 38-year span he has seen numerous basketball hounds come and go and even has coached a few. But Martin feels none measure up to the pair Southern now has in Dave Lee and George McNeil.

"There have been some more-talented guards, Gene Stotlar, Clarence Stephens and more recently Charlie Vaughans, but a pair I'd have to rank this pair (Lee and McNeil) first.
