Southern Illinois University Carbondale
OpenSIUC

October 1996

Daily Egyptian 1996

10-24-1996

The Daily Egyptian, October 24, 1996

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: https://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_October1996 Volume 82, Issue 48

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1996 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in October 1996 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.

Inside: Glyph examines the issue of Halloween and Strip celebrations in Carbondale

he was "really excited about the ratings." "The No: 1 rating gives the public a great perception of us," Rhude said. "Other schools look at us as the team to beat. James Roland, another squad member who is a junior in political science from Pineville, La., said, "I feel really good about the program. "I'm glad that we've been able to pool our resources.

This is what happens when people pull together." This is what happens when people pull together." The debate squad recently returned from an invita-tional debate tournament at Emporia State University, in Emporia, Kan, where the squad faced opponents includ-ing Northwestern University, Southwest Missouri State and Pansoriting I Iniversity. and Pepperdine University. The Saluki debate squad took third place in the varsi-competition and first and third place in the junior var-Sity competition at the tournament. The junior varsity first-place finish was the third of the season for Jeff Metz, a freshman in history from Glenview, and Chris Reid, a sophomore in administration of justice from Greenville, S.C., Simerly said. "They've does so well that GEDA nucles state that they

"They've done so whell that CEDA rules state that they now have to compete in the varsity competition," he said. Metz said he was excited about being moved up to varsity.

"I'm a little nervous about it, because everyone will be-more experienced than me," he said. "But I'm also look-ing forward to it." The traveling squad is returning nine of the 15 members from last y

Simerly said the squad debates one topic at every match, and squad members may be asked to debate either the affirmative side or the negative side of the issue. He said the topic for this season is the use of federal regulations to reduce environmental pollution caused by industry. "You could talk about air pollution or water pollution or different kinds of pollutants. There's something new at every debate

Simerly said anyone can be on the squad, but the traveling squad members, who are team members who eing squaa members. Who are team members who debate against other schools, are selected on the basis of the effort they put forth and their attitudes, "If you show the effort and you have the attitude, you can develop the talent," he said. The No. 1 ranking is part of a long tradition of winning or SUIC's debate caused. The round finished expend to Infervo. 1 raiking is part of a long usanton or winning for SIUC's debate squad. The squad finished second in the CEDA's rankings last year, and two debaters won the 1995-96 National Intercollegiate Debate Championship. Those two debaters, Glone Frappier, a graduate student in law from Carbondale, and Bill Shim, a graduate student in speech communication from Puyallup, Wash., are serving as assistant coaches this year. Other past debate team accomplishments include a four-year stint as CEDA champions from 1986 to 1990. Also, SIUC is the second school to hold four consecutive No. 1 titles, an honor the University shares with UCLA.

the Rolling Salukis practice Wednesday afternoon at the Student Recreation Center. DRIVING FOR Student co-captain in basketball, No. 1 in tennis

Rich Swanson, a graduate student in political science and history from River Forest, gets ready to take a shot during

By Dave Armstrong Daily Egyptian Reporter

A CE

A s he is leaving the office, it almost looks like Rich Swanson wants to pop a wheel-ie in his wheelchair. As he rolls past his workers, he steals a pencil, tosses it back and continues on.

Kathleen Plesko, director of Disability Support Services and one of Swanson's bosses, has described Swanson as being "very low-profile" about being in a wheelchair. In short, Swanson said he does not let the fact that he cannot use his legs separate him from anyone else.

"I was young when I was injured," Swanson said, "I hadn't gotten too involved in the "walking world," so I didn't have too much taken away."

Swanson, a double major in political science and history from River Forest, has been in a wheelchair since the age of 8 when his cousin accidentally discharged a .22-caliber, semi-automatic pistol, shooting Swanson in the back.

But the accident never stopped Swanson, now 27, from pursuing one of the things he had enjoyed prior to the injury ---- sports. Swanson said his main interest in life is playing sports. He is one of two team captains of the SIUC Wheelchair Basketball Team as well as the coordinator.

Swanson also is ranked No. 1 in the nation in wheelchair doubles tennis.

Swanson credits his injury with get-ting him to SIUC and helping him make something" of himself.

"Had 1 not been hurt, I would not have been here or met the people I have met," Swanson said, "I probably would have just been a farmer in Idaho

Swanson said because of his injury, he went to live in Chicago with his grandparents for better hospital care. He said his grandparents showed him he needed to work hard at school.

"My grandparents taught me to go and make something of myself,"

Swanson said. "Living with my grand-parents was the driving force behind me. Getting hurt was bad, but some-thing good did come out of it."

ANNETTE BAR

The Daily Egyptian

October

One good thing that came out of moving to Chicago was the chance to play sports in school. Swanson said that while his injury did not lead him to play sports, he did find it was fun to compete against the "walking people." "I played basketball in high school with walking guys, and that's how I got my shot," Swanson said. "I just started shooting in gym class use it was fun to beat the walking beca people. I don't want to brag, but I've got a pretty good outside shot." Swanson keeps himself busy outside of sports as well.

Aside from coordinating and playing wheelchair sports, Swanson helps run a horseback riding program for the dis-abled and is a graduate assistant in individualized recreation.

Individualized recreation deals with running recreational programs for the disabled; often by customizing sports to see SWANSON, page 6

Stadium could be smoke-free

By Dylan Fenley Daily Egyptian Reporter

University officials will decide today if McAndrew Stadium will become a smoke-free zone.

McAndrew Stadium is the only building on campus where smoking is not prohibited, but that may change if SIUC Chancellor Don Beggs decides to follow the recom-mendation of the athletic committee nd ban smoking from the stadium Jim Hart, director of Intercollegiate Athletics, said.

The Intercollegiate Athletic Advisory Committee, which includes representatives from the Undergraduate Student Government, the Graduate and Professional Student Council, faculty, administration, alumni and the civil service council, voted unanimously Tuesday to approve the no-smoking measure. Hart said. Members of the committee were notified of the proposal after a spec-tator complained about the smoking at a recent home game; Garrit Roogewerf, GPSC representative to the committee, said.

Hart said many of the other schools in the Gateway Conference already have smoke-free zones in their stadiums

"We might be the last to go to a no-smoking policy," he said. Committee members were given time to consult with their constituency to find what the faculty and students of SIUC think about a

see STADIUM, page 6

Gus Bode

Gus says: As long as there is drinking in the parking lot, it's OK with me.

© 453-2408 or stop by our office. Second Floor, Student Center.

NEWS

OLITHERN ILLINOIS

CARBONDALE

University raises check cashing limit to $225

The limit on checks the Student Center Check Cashing/Ticket Office can cash has been raised to reflect the increase in wages because of a higher minimum wage. Students can now cash checks up to $225. The old limit was $175. The change applies to University checks written to stu-dents, Western Union and Money Orders

The Check Cashing/Ticket Office is located on the second floor of the Student Center.

CALIFORNIA

Six firefighters injured battling Malibu blaze

LOS ANGELES- Six firefighters were hurt Tuesday as wildfires roared for a second day across Malibu and parts of San Diego County, and officials declared that the most devastating of the blazes was of "suspicious" origin. Fire crews were scrambling to expand their partial containment of the two largest in a series of brush fires that swept Southern California — hoping to work faster than the Santa Ana winds that were forecast to intensify later in the week.

MARYLAND

Cops nabbed in phony ticket scalping bust

BALTIMORE—Two detec= tives with the city's Violent Crimes Task Force have been indicted on robbery charges for allegedly stealing tickets to Game 3 of the American League playoffs from people selling tickets outside Camden Yards,

While on duty, police officers David Brendel and Gerald Tarud allegedly flashed their badges to force the men to hand 22 tickets to the Orioles-Yankees game Oct. 11 - hours before the police detail that cracks down on ticket scalping was scheduled to go to work.

from Daily Egyptian news services

Dummies teach alcohol sense

By Colleen Heraty Daily Egyptian Reporter

Two crash test dummies often shown on TV educating others about the trauma of car wrecks stood outside of Lentz Hall Tuesday evening promoting National Collegiate Alcohol

Awareness Week, Vince and Larry, the dummies, passed out free alcohol information and told students passing by not to drink and drive and not to be dummies.

As students passed Vince and Larry and headed into Lentz Hall for dinner, the students were able to write short stories of their experiences with alcohol to be hung on the "Wall of Stories" set up by the 1996 - Alcohol - Awareness Committee.

The wall was filled with stories from how people had friends who were killed in drunk driving accidents to those who got bad grades from drinking too much.

The dummies and the wall are attempts to inform students about the dangers of alcohol and about how to drink responsibly, event coordinators said.

The kick-off celebration for the week began Friday with live music from two local bands, a wellness coordinator said.

Kathleen Gallagher, the chair of the Alcohol Awareness Committee and a Thompson Point head resident, said the events at Thompson Point this week have been very successful. The Point is an on-campus dorm area. "Residents have been more than

As part of Alcohol Awareness Week, Crash Test Dummies Vince and Larry pass out pencils and pamphlets to Janet Turlais, a junior in radio and television from Flora, as she passes by Lentz Hall Tuesday afternoon. teaching students alternative ways willing to share their experiences with alcohol," Gallagher said. "This is a wonderful way to add a positive image to bur University because it highlights the dangers shared a being a being with alcohol can bring along with to enjoy themselves." Barb Fijolek, the coordinator for the SIUC Wellness Center, said students on campus and throughmon out the country are joining to promote the personal responsibility and respect for law that comes with consumption of alcohol.

A Fitness Fair, Breathalyzer demonstrations, hip hop lessons, mevies, bowling and billiards will be sponsored by campus and local health officials to teach students about being safe, she said.

Fijolek said the center has been passing around a petition students can sign to promise to drink responsibly. Those who sign the petition can be entered to win prizes including Hootie and the prizes including roome and the Blowfish tickets, Pepsi products, T-shirts and bike helmets, Fijolek said.

"We know people drink." Fijolek said. "We just want them to be responsible." Fijolek said SIUC has made progress with responsible alcohol nsumption.

One third of 1,000 SIUC stu-One third of 1,000 SIUC stu-dents reported in a 1993 survey, that they believe a person should never get drunk, Fijolek said. She said 95 percent of students believe drinking should not interfere with school. Two thirds of college stu-dents disapprove of binge drink-ion (fine or more discle nering (five or more drinks per-occasion), she said.

Bob Williams, a senior in psy-chology from Glen Ellyn, said most students drink too much, but there isn't much else to do in town."Everyone is a binge drinker. I see a lot of the same people always out and drinking," he said. "They go out and always drink than five drinks

Williams said most of the heavy... see DRINKING, page 6

OBITUARY Sol Bett Steph Torn Berry ervices scheduled for law stude

By Julie Rendleman Daily Egyptian Reporter

An SIUC law student died Sunday at the age of 30 in an auto accident.

Shawn Dempsey, a first-year law student from Peoria, died at about 11 p.m. after his car hit a bull on Route 127 four miles north of on Route 127 four miles north of Greenville, Steve Ronat, a Bond County Sheriff's deputy, said. Ronat said Dempsey died on impact. Christopher Dempsey, Shawn's brother, said Shawn was traveling back to school from Peoria whenthe accident happened. Christopher Dempsey said Shawn always had wanted to be a patent lawyer because of his experience at Peoria High School on the debate team and on Student Council.

was so excited to start law school, and this was his first year."

Christopher Dempsey said Shawn delayed starting law school by a year so he could help his mother, Rita, deal with his father's death. Shawn also had a sister, Amy, and another brother, Jim,

"Dad died two years ago, and Shawn was an integral part of keep-ing mom together since all of us kids live so far away," Christopher Dempsey said.

He said Shawn chose SIUC because it was the law school clos-est to his mother.

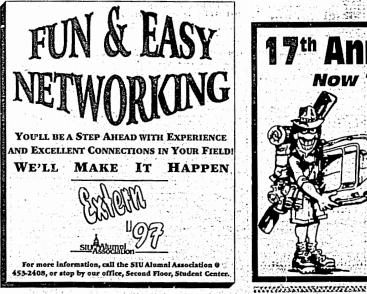

Eugene Basanta, associate dean of the Law School, said he taught Shawn in one of his classes.

"He struck me as well prepared and intense." he said. "He always sat in the very front of my class, and I believe he did in all his class-

C Basanta said Shawn was a friendly student who always wanted to go beyond the material in class.

Funeral services for Shawn Dempsey are scheduled for 1 p.m. today in the Lesar Law School Auditorium. There also will be services in Peoria at 11 a.m. Friday at St. Vincent DePaul Church, 601 N University St.

TANK AND THE STATISTICS THE STATISTICS AND THE STATE AND T

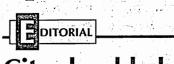

Y & 133-2408 or stop by our office, becond floor, Student Center,

This kills me," he said. "Shawn

Opinion

Thursday, October 24, 1996

City should chip in more funding for mass transit system

STUDENTS CERTAINLY BRING A LOT TO THIS city.

Student money puts tax dollars into city coffers, adds profits to businesses and brings entertainment options like the Sunset Concerts to Carbondale citizens.

Needless to say, many things citizens enjoy in this town would not be here without students.

The Saluki Express mass transit system is yet another item Carbondale citizens would not have if student wallets were not around to pay for it.

An item that benefits the whole community like the Saluki Express should receive a significant amount of funding and support from the city.

Although some support and funding from the city already exists, it would be fairer to SIUC students if that funding was increased.

The operating budget for the Saluki Express in fiscal year 1996 was $750,660. This money came from the $25 mass transit fee all SIUC students pay.

THE CITY'S RECENT AGREEMENT TO SPLIT the costs of running the buses during breaks brings its total contribution for the year to $7,995. That comes out to about 1.1 percent of the cost of running the buses for an entire year.

We are not recommending that the city split the entire cost of the system with the University 50/50. We do recommend that it increase its share of the funding to a level that reflects the benefits the city and its residents obtain from the system.

WE ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THE CITY HAS provided time and resources for the Saluki Express beyond the contribution it made for running the buses during breaks. The city took the time and money to put signs around town for bits stops and helped fund a large study on what Carbondale needed from a bus system before the Saluki Express was implemented. City workers still attend Mass Transit Advisory Board meetings. The time they spend at such meetings is paid for by the city. The city also has given several small contributions to the bus system like printing the route schedules used during university breaks.

The fact remains, however, that the system has benefits for, the entire community. Citizens can use the buses for transportation. Buses are cheaper than taxi cab fares and are often more dependable. The buses benefit businesses by making the mall and other stores more accessible to students and citizens that do not own cars.

The city was justified holding back funding for the Saluki Express when the service was being introduced because it was an endeavor of the University that was sparked by student demand for such a system. At that stage it was unclear if the Saluki Express would be successful and provide any benefits to Carbondale Citizens.

At its present stage, it is clear that citizens have been taking advantage of the service and that it has tangible benefits for the city.

In light of this, the city should now take steps to make Saluki Express funding more equitable.

"Any frontal attack on ignorance is bound to fail because the masses are always ready to defend their most precious posession their ignorance Hendrick Willem van Loon

iorities needed for articles

As a student at this University, I believe that the editors of the Daily Egyptian need to get their priorities straight.

ETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I was sickened this morning when I found, on the Oct. 21 front page, partiers taking over the Strip while a story of much greater significance was hidden on the third page. Many people spent many hours and more than $50,000 to get Pulliam clock tower lit, a project that has taken 45 years to come to life. Saturday night was history in the making at this University as the icon officially came to life. Yet, for some reason, partiers hardly news at this or any other col-- seemed to be the lege campus highlight of the Homecoming weekend.

I find it very disheartening to see that the hard work that Mr. Reid put to light the tower — was of little significance to the editors of this paper. I also find in very disheartening that the editors of this University newspaper seem to think partiers are more worthy of repre-sentation of the lives of students than an event that has been so long symbolism the tower provides to all in the making, not to mention th

of Southern Ittinois

University students past, present and future - to all of you out there who took the time to be a part of history in the making, I would like to thank you.

And to all members of the DF. I would like to tell you how ashamed I am that you find partying to be of greater significance and worthy of greater representation of students than the lighting of the icon that we will always remember as a symbol of our education at this University.

Kelly Dunaway senior, history

Students need to focus on peace

Lately, every time I read the Daily Egyptian editorial, one race is criticizing another. Is this the right way to deal with racism? No. It only fuels the fire, and both sides are responsible for Reading those articles, you can sense strong, justified hatred. No one ever got anywhere using hatred as a weapon. Peace is the only longlasting, efficient weapon against racism.

Look at the past: Anyone who preached hate as a solution made no permanent changes. But those who used peace are people in the history books. The great civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King was hated, threatened, beaten, criticized and constantly abused. But did he ever lift a finger against anyone? No. And look at everything he accom-plished in his short life.

Ghandi of India freed a Third World country from one of the most powerful empires on the planet and he never once used physical force. The only weapon he had was love, and India is an independent nation because of it. Life is way too short to hate anyone. Instead of speaking so much time hating others, let us focus all that energy on loving them instead, regardless of your differences. Instead of being so quick to name someone's faults, name some of their strengths. Why do we spend so much time talking about the problems of racism instead of talking about the solutions?

What difference does it make who started it? The question is, who is going to end it? The past cannot is going to end it? The past cannot be changed, but the future can. We have to learn to respect everyone. The same God that made you made them, too. All people are unique and beautiful in their own way, whether we agree with them or not.

I know some may think I do not live in reality or the world is not that simple. But why can't it be? What is stopping you? As John Lennon said, "It's casy if you try."

Justin Elsner sophomore, finance

Taking Strip not page one material

After viewing the Oct. 21 Daily Egyptian, I felt very offended by the poor judgment in the placement of the story, "Keeping with tradi-tion." What is the big thing in showing the party crowd on the Strip? Oh, that must be the cool thing to do, right?

Parties may occur, and they may occur every weekend, but why gloat the effects of the party atmosphere now? Has this paper thought about the powerful punch this message is sending? It sends a message that Carbondale is one big party town. Well, some students disagree with this message. What is this school here for? Not to must not have known about the hard work and long hours of many individuals, including Robert Reid (who was mentioned in an article on page 3) to whom this project meant everything. The DE should take more time in considering the placement of these historic events and prioritizing them in the newspaper.

Justin Kraft sophomore, interior design

With the second second

.....

party! Those responsible for the story

Op/EdMany lack night life options

I welcome the articles in the Egyptian that focus on the quest for culture and the lack of venues that are geared to those under 21. I have lived in Carbondale for the last 10 years and have witnessed many events here, including the shooting death of my younger brother's best friend this summer. I am part of a group that has been questing for cul-tural outlets and respect for these 10 years. During the last couple of weeks, there has been a great deal of atten-tion given to the under-21 crowd's lack of options. However, there is another group of people who lack many options when it comes to night life. And that culture is what we will offer to as the bin-hon culwe will refer to as the hip-hop cul-ture. If 1 am out on a limb here, somebody tell me the last time they heard some Luther Vandros or Tribe Called Quest at a club in Carbondale.

With the recent death of Tunac Shakur, how many clubs played a song in his memory? When the lead singer of Nirvana died, all you would hear is Nirvana. And Cobain would hear is Nirvana. And Cobain was a druggie who was no better than Shakur. At least Shakur told us in understandable English that, "It ain't easy being me. Will I see the penitentiary, or will I stay free?" I did not agree with Shakur's glorify-ing of the "Thug Life," but he was to bimedif and his resole, which true to himself and his people, which earned him respect. This is a systematic process that leaves many of my people wondering, "Will I see the penitentiary, or will I stay free?" When I have to go all the way out to the Skate Train or Coo-Coo's --or someplace that is hidden away interact with my beautiful people, what message should I get from this? Sometimes the message is a nice traffic ticket or even a DUI if I decide I want a buzz similar to those privileged enough to be welcome on the Strip.

The problem as I see it is that the norm is (now I am talking about my people for real) for other people to profit off our talents whether it be educational, athletic or artistic. When we come up with an idea to capitalize on these talents, there are many roadblocks that are put in front of us. For those who do not know me, 1 am an amateur boxing promoter. Recently, during a boxing show, we had the disc jockey play some tunes that we liked - nothing radical. It was songs like Atomic Dog and Double Dutch Bus. And mysteriously, the master volume was turned down as not to have patrons think there were people inside who listen to that kind of music

Now I can understand that many places have a certain format that they follow, but when you hire cone to put on a show, why would you not want the people who are the experts to run the show? This means having ring announcers DJ whatever sane events are needed to entertain customers. The image of a black man doing something positive and creative is a slap in the face to many. But these same people did not mind us carrying the 2,000 pounds of lumber and equipment to put our boxing ring up; that is what we are need for: good for.

-bý jihad baker

I do not want anyone to misinter-pret me because I am willing to play music that will keep the whole erowd happy. I do not believe in ignoring a whole group of music lovers. I believe that music is the soul of life, and it is time that Carbondale gets more soul. We as people need to face our problems and prejudices so that we can stop having to read perspectives columns such as this one. I myself will con-tinue to address any problems I see in my community, and I encourage others to do so also.

Jihad Baker is a junior in physical education.

PERSPECTIVES ARE PUBLISHED TWICE A WEEK AND ARE THE SOLE OPINION OF THE ACTHOR. THE PERSPECTIVES COLUMN IS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. TO SUB-MIT A PERSPECTIVES, DELIVER IT TO THE DAILY EGYPTIAN EDITORIAL OFFICE WITH A PIC-TURE ID. 2.36

DITORIALS ELSEWHERE

The Chicago Tribune topic: Japan's Liberal Democratic Party reform

"Prior to Sunday's general election in Japan, every political party called for deregulating the economy and taking power from the bureaucrats in Tokyo who set policy and govern with a firm hand. But the Liberal Democratic Party, the most con-servative, spoke least passionate-ly about the need for change.

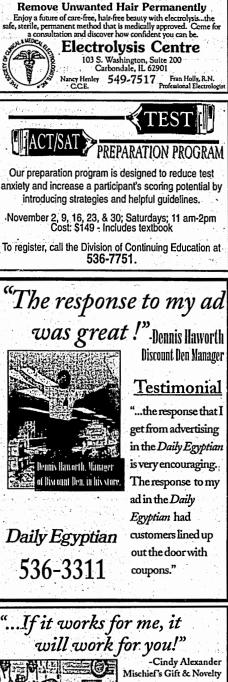

Yet Japanese voters restored the LDP to a near majority in parliament and cleared the way for Prime Minister Ryutaro Hashimoto, who took over in January, to begin piecing together his second coalition govern-ment. Although voters didn't return absolute power to the LDP, which it held for 38 years until being toppled in 1993, it's assumed that Hashimoto will make sure he has a veto-proof majority this time. Without real political compe-tition, however, Hashimoto and the LDP, who are close to the Tokyo bureaucracies, may renege on their promises of eco-nomic and political reform, Indeed, the day after the election, prices of stocks traded in Tokyo fell significantly as investors beliaved lorence outers had believed Japanese voters had expressed their preference for keeping the status quo. Yet it would be foolhardy to use Sunday's vote, in which more that 40 percent of the voters stayed away from the polls, as a mandate for the Japanese model of nationalism, protectionism and bureaucratic control. That model served Japan well during the Cold Was when the nation served Japan well during the Cold War when the nation rebuilt itself into an economic power. Now it faces powerful forces, including the globaliza-tion of trade and corporate inter-ests and competition from China and other fast-growing Asian comparison nomics ecor

After five years of stagnation, Japan's economy began to recover this year, thanks mainly to cuts in interest rates and massive spending by the government on public projects. Now Tokyo is saddled with nearly as much national debt as its gross domes tic output, unemployment is still high by Japanese standards are nation's banks are struggling despite a S6 billion government bailout this year. And next year, the economy is expected to weaken again.

Thursday, October 24, 1996

Increase Your Personal Confidence

Listen to what everybody is saying about the Daily Egyptian. Call us today, and we will help your business boom! 536-3311 party election. Aleman, who handily won the race to succeed Chamorro, leads a coalition of Liberal Party factions, while the Sandinistas remain the country's largest and most disciplined party. And Aleman's bittemess, still appar-ent in interviews and public appearances, leads many to fear that he will do little to reconcile a deeply polarized nation that must reach, at minimum, a common understanding among political parties if it is to retain social stability and attract forcign investment. Diplomats and analysis say that if the Nicaraguan economy is to recover in an era of shrinking international aid it will have to be through foreign invest-

6 NEWS

្វា

More than 60 percent of Nicaraguans live in poverty; unemployment and severe underemployment afflict more than half the population. Theirs is the hemisphere's second-peorest nation, after

In the interview and in numerous public appearances, Aleman promised to return

property confiscated by the Sandinistas to its original owners.

Haiti.

Sex offenders targeted New law would be toughest in country

By Jennifer Carnden Daily Egyptian Reporter

If a package of initiatives Illinois Republicans have aimed at sex crime offenders becomes law, state laws against the offenders will be among the most stringent in the country, an official said Tuesday.

Illinois Attorney General Jim Ryan said at a press conference that state Senate Republicans will introduce the anti-crime package next spring to the Illinois General Accombin

Assembly. These are the five proposals: To mandate life sentences without parole to people convicted twice of rape;

To make aggravated kidnap-ping a Class X felony and to man-date life sentences without parole to people convicted twice of aggravated kidnapping; To institutionalize sex offenders after their prison sentences are complete if a psychiatric evalua-tion shows it is warranted;

n To admit evidence of prior similar sex crimes in some sexoffense trials; and

To prosecute sexual harass-

To prosecute sexual harassment over the Internet, "They're as tough as you're going to find anywhere (in the country)," Ryan said. Carolyn Prinz, program coordi-nator for the Rape Action Committee at the Carbondale Warnet's Course 400 W Mill St. Women's Center, 408 W. Mill SL, said she supports the crime package

She said because of efforts such as these, there is a greater awareness of rape. She said more women who have been raped are receiving help. In fiscal year 1996, which ended July 1, 250 women were treated at the I would also support a more proactive statement (by the General Assembly) that includes prevention education in schools - even grade schools."

Carolyn Prinz, Program coordinator for the Rape Action Committee

Women's Center, a rise from 217 in 1995.

However, Prinz said the state should create more rape prevention programs.

would also support a more proactive statement (by the General Assembly) that includes revention education in schools — even grade schools," Prinz said. Ryan said the initiatives requir-ing life sentences for repeat rape and aggravated kidapping con-victs essentially are "two strikes and you're out" measures. Ryan said the measure to com-mit sex offenders to the Department of Mental Health after their prison terms end has enough safeguards to protect prisoners' civil rights and should stand if challenged in court. A similar Kansas law was found unconstitutional by that state's Supreme Court, but the Wisconsin law upon which the Illinois mea-sure is based survived its state

He said if the measure becomes law, a prisoner would be examined by psychiatrists before parole is granted, and if the prisoner is deemed dangerous, a state's attorney would petition to institutionalize the prisoner.

Supreme Court challenge, Ryan

Ryan said that once committed, offenders periodically would be reviewed and released if they are found to pose no threat. "Sex offenders tend to be recidi-vist (repeat) offenders," Ryan said, "We'd have to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the person is cill donaerus." still dangerous."

Ryan said the initiative to prosccute sexual harassment on the Internet is a sign of the times, modeled on a similar Connecticut

"We have to keep pace with electronic technology," he said. "People who stalk women are con-trol freaks who will use any method."

Ryan cited FBI statistics that estimate a woman is raped every six minutes. One-third of females and one-sixth of males are sexually abused before their 18th birthday, he said.

Ryan said the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority reports that, of paroled sex offenders that return to prison, more than one-half return because of another sex-crime conviction. State Sen. Dave Lucchtefeld, R-

Okawville, who said he will cosponsor the proposals if reelected, said state legislators recently have become more active against sex offenders.

"We've been negligent in that respect," he said, "Sex offenders tend to repeat their offenses almost more than any other type of criminal."

The Washington Post

MANAGUA, Nicaragua-Conservative businessman Amoldo Aleman, the unofficial winner in Sunday's presidential election, is fond of telling the story of how his archenemics, the leftist Sandinistas, turned him toward politics. As Aleman's wife lay dying of cancer in 1989, the Sandinista or cancer in 1989, the Standmistal government placed him under house arrest. When she started hemorrhaging, Aleman was not allowed to accompany her to the hospital. The Marxist Sandinista government, fighting a war against U.S.-backed Contra uerrillas, also confiscated five of his farms."

"That is what made me a politician," Aleman said in an interview last week. "The Sandinistas made me a politician ctan." Aleman, 50, a heavyset lawyer who gives speeches like an old-time populist, promises to end the legacy of the Sandinistas here.

He defeated former President Daniel Ortega, a leader of the Sandinistas, who had run Nicaragua trom 1979, when they overthrew the right-wing Somoza dictatorship, to 1990, when President Violeta

Swanson

continued from page 1

the disabled. Swanson also is the supervisor for a $62,000 individualized recreation-program grant from the U.S. Department of Education. Plesko said Swanson has been "pivotal" in managing the grant.

"One of the most important things about Rich is that his disability is such a small part of his personality," Plesko said. "He has proven himself to be extraordinari-ly competent. He is also very tr xlest. He won't tell you about all the things he has done unless you ask him

Joe Clifford, Swanson's basketball coach, said even though Swanson usually is busy, he will go out of his way to help out. "Rich will give you the shirt off his back," Clifford said, "We have a good relationship both on and off the courts. If you want to know anything about the team, like finances or scheduling, he can tell you off the top of his head. He has great rapport with the team."

Swanson said because of his intense interest in sports, he wants to run a program for disabled ath-letes in the future.

"My hope would be to run a wheelchair athletic program at a university," Swanson said, "I don't just want to run it though. I also want to play."

Stadium

continued from page 1

no-smoking policy, Hoogewerf

"People 1 talked to thought that, since the rest of campus is smoke-free, as long at there is a designated smoking section, then there should 1,* a no-smoking policy at the stadium," Hoogewerf said. Hart said the committee's recommendation will be presented to Beggs today, and he will make the final decision on whether to ban smoking from McAndrew.

Beggs said he intends to pass the

Drinking

continued from page 3

drinkers like to stay in town a lot, but there are more out-of-town activ-ities where people can go without having a lot to drink.

"There are so many places to camp around here," he said. "There's also concerts, movies and sporting events to go to." S. Cak 24 smoking policy will have to be worked out, including where desig-nated smoking areas will be located. "There are other facilities in the United States like this, and we'll measure, but the details of the no-have to look at them to see how they handle it (the no-smoking policy)," Beggs said. Hart said possible designated smoking areas include areas under the stands, at the ends of the stands and in the rest rooms. Hart said the no-smoking policy probably would not take effect until next year because the football season is almost over, and the Salukis only have two home games left this ycar, Fijolck said students have told her it gets boring after their freshman years to be always searching for a party or going to the same bar. She said students also have told her heavy drinking gets very expensive.

S. 2014

"My freshnan year I was spend-ing close to $40 dollars a week on alcohol," Libby Gulberg, a senior in sociology from DeKalb, said, ."It just wasn't worth it to be broke and hung over all of the time, especially when I started missing classes."

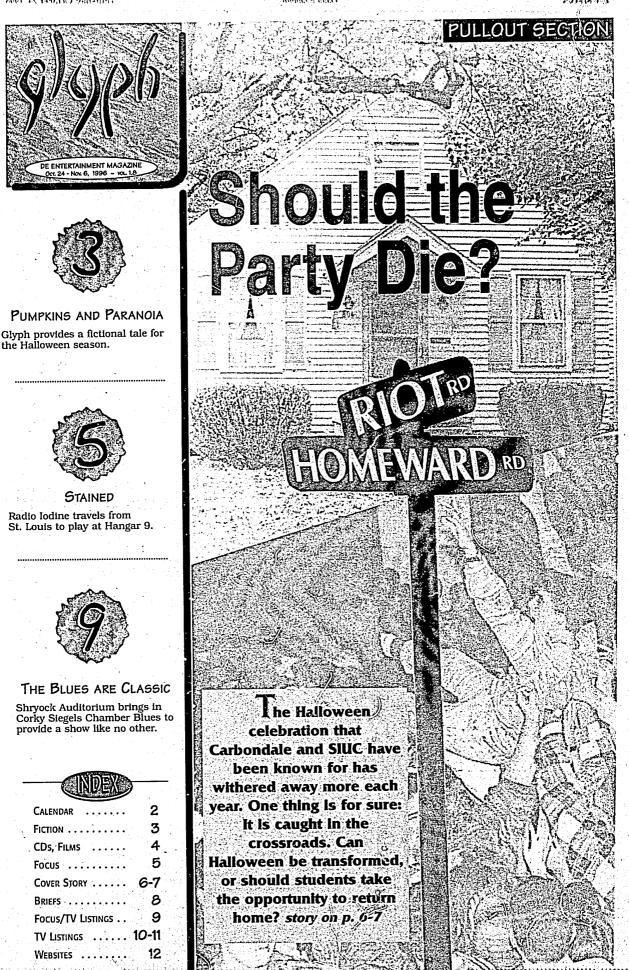

v.

 $\sum_{i=1}^{n}$

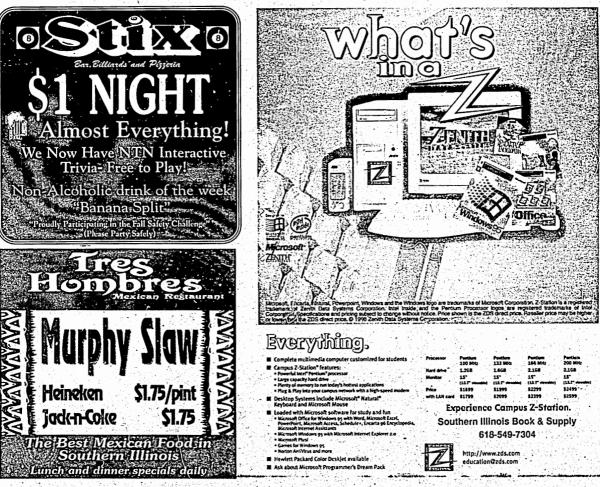

h arh, ba'i le Gang, Mardan Jarons, Jaris and in marial a a bain bankari 31,1115, binz, Grad Ata (1), 51,000 arh, ba (Foo (1), 51,000 2010 51,200 and 54 form (10) Result 10,2000 ark in 20 diverse. (Lickie I data one, independence actual and one of 2000. A bain fairms (1,11), 110 and ark (1) and are a bai fairms (1,11) (11). The analysis and are a data of and ard 2000. 2015, Lickie Main (2014), Nama and (1) and article are a bain fairms (1,110). The analysis and are a data data data of 2000. 2015, Lickie Main (2014), Nama and (1) and article are a bain fairms (1,110). The analysis and article are and article are a state of and article and article are also are a data of and article are also article arti ALLS LASY

a de la caractería de la c location	thursday 10-24	friday 10-25	saturday 10-26	ST. LOUIS:	American Theatre (314) 968-1800

LOOBYS	BEER CARDEN CLOSED	ALE AND AND AND A		En 1	Oct. 24, 8 p.m.
OUSIN ANDY		THE CANTRELLS (FIG .		Mississippi Nights (314) 421-3853	ALAN PARSONS Oct. 31, 7:30 p.m.
INCARS	A MERCANNER TO SHOP	PEACE W THE IONES (R)	RADIO IODINE (A)	PORNO FOR PYROS w/ Fun Lovin' Criminals	GRAVITY KILLS w/ Republica
INCH PENNY	IRIE VIBRATIONS (A)	COLONIVA	HOODOO CATS (R)	Oct. 31, 8:30 p.m. MICHELLE SHOCKED w/ Pony Stars	Nov. 12/1:30 p.m.
JC.'S	And	SOUTHER BOCK (0)	SOUTHERN EDGE (R)	Nov.1, 8 p.m.	Nov. 16-17, 7:30 p.m.
AVA HOUSE				BETTER THAN EZRA W/ Satchel, James Hall	BLUES TRAVELER W/ The Wallowers
ES HOMBRES	MURPHY SLAW (P.A)		A STORAGE WAR	Nov. 2, 9 p.m. THE CONNELLS	Riel Center (314) 968-1800
ATSBY'S	COUNTRY NIGHT		DI PARAGON	Nov. 6, 8:30 p.m.	RUSH
RED'S			ACKSON JUNCTION (CW)	LOS LOBOS	Nov. 15/7 p.m.
TIX 😚 👘	S		ROGER THE WILD CHILD DI	THE LEMONHEADS w/ Imperial Teen	Nov. 30, 8 p.m.
ocation		3 tuesday 10-29	wednesday 10-30	Nov. 13, 8:30 p.m.	JOHN MICHAEL MONTGOMERY
00873	的國際的政策的制度		OPEN MIC NIGHT	Galaxy (314) 231-2404	Rickman Auditorium (314) 296- Oct. 26, 6 & 9 p.m.
NINCH PENNY	MERCY (I) -ON SUNDAY	CORY STEPHENS OF WTAO		Nov. 6, 8:30 p.m.	THE OAK RIDGE BOYS
THE ROOM OF 1894	DI PARAGON -ON SUNDAY		RETRO WEDNESDAY	GRANT LEE BUFFALO	Ciccro's (314) 862-0009
MILIN' JACK	5	•	OPENING NIGHT.	PRIMITIVE RADIO GODS	Oct. 30,)10 p.m. COMBUSTIBLE EDISON
LASSIC COUNTR	1	COUNTRY DANCE LESSON
ocation	thursday 10-31	friday 11-1	saturday 11-2
00875	BEER GARDEN CLOSED			(ATT	TEES
COUSIN ANDY		THE GROVE MERCHANTS (I)
LASSIC COUNT	RY DANCE CLUB	C D STATES	Distance
INCH PENNY			UNCLE ALBERT (B)	Entertainment Editor
ы с 5 (1)		6-14月2日代表的1246点	品。这些你们的中心了了。 第二	Assistant Entertainment Editor	DUSTIN COLEM
AVA HOUSE	5.22° + 25 44	•		Entertainment Writer	LISA M. PANGBU
	BOTTLETONES (R)			Entertainment Writer	TRAVIS DEN
CATSBY'S				Entertainment Writer
RED'S	建立的现在形式的公式 和		AREA CODE 618 (CW)	Film Reviewer
TIX.		- 4
location	sun/mon 11-3&4		wednesday 11-6	Layout/Design Editor
NCH PENNY	ALERCY (J) -ON SUNDAY	CORY STEPHENS		Page Designer
ATSBY'S IL				Page Designer	ALEX BALO
K'S		PROFESSOR SOS DI SHOW		Graphic Editor/Cover Designer	JEFF SIEM
		COUNTRY DANCE LESSON	es	Photographer
				Coordinator
Automation	GRAND LE BAL	BHAN JAM BH	BAN BAL RGHIM	Continator

FICTION

- oct. 24-nov. 6, 1996

A Halloween Tale

A mist floats through the air as I walk home on the poorly it street. The smell of decaying leaves and the smoke of smoldering trash fill my nostrils and make my eyes tear. I con-tinue to look over my left shoulder in hopes that no one is following me, but images of the man with the pools ment by the number of the man poetic speech race through my mind. Earlier in the night, the man who spoke with poetic rhythm rambled on about insanity and how ic could take anyone at anytime. It was as if he had been caught up in the never-ending twist of life's misfortunes and couldn't pull himself out. His hair hung white and long around his face.

and he walked with a stagger with breath that smelled of bourbon. He wanted to tell me a story; he slurred. He wanted me to understand what the world was all about.

He continued to stagger next to me and began to ramble while the mist started to fall, and the wind began to pick up. He threw his head back and let out a hideous laugh, then stopped abruptly as if to pardon himself.

"The cold wind blows, and you shiver from head to toe. It's raining. It's raining so hard you can hardly see. You can hardly see insanity knocking at your door," he told me in a hushed and cautious tone.

I began to pick up my pace, and I could see my own breath in front of me. I didn't want to listen to this deformed and drunken degenerate, but he also walked faster.

"K n o c k i n g ! Knocking! Knocking! Or is it pounding," he yelled after me: "Yes, pounding at your door, harder, even louder." bis voice bagan to become his voice began to become shaky, and he seemed frightened.

I, too, became frightened and shivered from the chill in the air. I wanted nothing to do with the man who spoke in rhyme, but he would not go way. He was like a para site that attaches itself and clings to its host until the para-

and make the f

site is complete ly satisfied. then falls off to search for another victim

I was this man's bost. and he was not yet satisfied.

But the wind dies down and insanity frowns, for it cannot drive you mad although it wants to. How do you know? When insanity comes to call, forget everything and all," the man began to whimper, and buried his head in his gnaried hands.

I had reached a street light, but for some reason, I couldn't leave the man. He sat, crying in the mist, looking pathetically sorrowful. So, I sat near him under the flick ering light and let the mist fall upon my face

He looked at me with dark blue eyes, but his eyes showed no compassion. So I started to get up, but he beckoned me with one finger.

"Would you go mad, or would you not? You don't know it, but you've been caught, caught up by insanity, he giggled.

I started to run, because I knew I wasn't insane. But he followed me and began to yell with a wild voice.

"You could be going crazy or even quite mad. Are you sane? Please tell me." he begged with a pathet-ic sound. "Are you sane? Is there pain in being same? I don't know, for I am the pounding at your door. I am insanity," his voice began to hust my ears. "I am the madness that runs wild in your descent?" dreams!

Then he disappeared into the night. He vanished, just like he was a dream, and nothing really occurred. So I continue to walk, and as I near my home. I hear that hideous laugh again and a voice from babied me that and a voice from behind me that whispers, "Knock. Knock."

Wouldn't it be great if ...

There was a way to advertise for a whole week with one ad. And my ad could be with TV listing so I know that it would get read. And customers would come flocking in to my store because of the ad.

And I would get repeat business from these same customers. And wouldn't it be great if I was 536-3311 alive to see my ad.

FILM FINDS

DOCT O .NOA-1-2.355 ----

JUST-WHEN YOU-THOUGHT IT WAS SAFE TO GO BACK TO THE MOVIES

-by ian miller

Even If Val Kilmer was dressed up as Batman, he still would have problems with the vicious lions that attack humans in "The scale 🗖

Ghost and the Darkness." Kilmer instead plays a 19th cen tury railroad constructor hired to complete the first trans-African railway. After his arrival and the beginning of construction, sev-eral men are dragged off into the night by man-eating lions. The body count rises, and everyone is left without an answer on how to catch the elusive carnivores.

If what you are looking for is a nice evening without all the problems that come along with thinking, then this is the movie for you. It is a slightly fun, no-brainer movie that never tries anything daring or inventive.

It does at times stretch to be something different, but those times are fleeting and mostly involve the enjoyable lion attacks and a good performance from Kilmer — even if he did drop his Irish accent sometimes. The same enjoyment cannot be found watching the performance of Michael Douglas, who plays the amazing hunter who steps out of the shadows to save the railroad and Kilmer's job.

Douglas is clunky in the role and looks like he as stepped right out of "Romancing the Stone". "The Ghost and the Darkness" is based on a true story in which two lions killed more than 130 people. After a few liberties, the script has one wondering if the lions are just lions or if they are the devils sent to purge the land of the rail-road that the natives believe them to be.

This is the main weakness of the film. It is an Interesting script development that is not dealt with effectively or completely. If you end up going to see "The Ghost and the Darkness," you may feel a slight sense of deja vu tugging at you. It has an almost eerie slimilarity to more effective movie that happens to be the video pick of the week. * *

IAN MILLER'S DELUXE VIDEO

For a much better man-againstbeast story, I suggest "Jaws," the

Why? • Walt for the book to come out the scale

Wait for the book to come out Worth one look • Better thun a Cuban cigar • I'd miss a Bears' game for this one

Steven Spielberg thriller that made everyone start going to indoor pools for a decade. Roy Scheider plays Brody, a hydrophobic sheriff who lives on an Island plagued by an enormous great white shark. "Jaws" also includes great per-formances from Richard Dreyfuss, an oceanographer, and Robert Shaw, an eccentric fisherman brought in to kill the glant shark.

1-2.1.2

Shaw essentially plays the same role as Michael Douglas but with a flare that Douglas lacks. The original book is basically a trash novel, so it is amazing what

Spielberg and his crew pull out. Much like other Spielberg movies, "jaws" becomes more of a character study than a pure thriller.

But don't worry; "Jaws" will keep you on the edge of your seat and out of the water.

With great editing and a theme song that has become synony-mous with terror, "Jaws" pulls off something that "The Ghost and the Darkness" does not. It is a thriller that truly has thrills. * * *

any collection

your 10 free CDs from BMG

đ.

- oct. 24-nov. 6, 1996 (z

train hasn't derailed lodine

BY DUSTIN COLEMAN

It is not often that the Strip is blessed with the presence of a signed band at one of its venues. But St. Louis' Radio lodine is not your average signed band.

e are a fanatically hard working band," Lead singer Ellen Persyn said. "I mean, we eat, breathe and sleep this stuff.

At a time when fewer St. Louis bands, or touring bands for that matter, are playing Carbondale, Radio lodine has steadily and frequently played to packed houses

The whole band likes Carbondale." she said. "The crowd is very responsive, and they real-ly understand our music."

And even though the band recently has experienced semi-stardom by signing a major label deal, the band shows no inten-tion of bringing the Carbondale visits to a halt. "Carbondale audiences give back as much as we give," she said. "It is more of an emotional profit than a financial one.

10

FOCUS.

Fame

Eariler this year, the and b signed record deal with Radioactive Records, a joint label

4.4

with MCA Records founded by Talking Heads and B-52's manager Gary Kurfirst. The band was in the studio last May and expects to release the self-titled album this spring. The album will include a new version of "Never Meant To," which landed a spot at No. 17 in the radio charts of the modem rock station KPNT105.7 (The Point).

Though not a widely known label, Radioactive Records has 10 bands on its roster including Live, whose album "Throwing Copper" sold 8 million whose album "Throwing Copper" sold 8 million copies, and also has Big Audio Dynamite, The Heads and Shirley Manson of Garbage.

Persyn said Radio lodine and the label is a match le in heaven.

made in neaven. "We have all the financial backing from MCA, but we have the artistic freedom of a small label," Persyn sald. Originally called 9 Days Wonder, the band formed In 1993 after. Persyn, and her husband, bass player

Tony Persyn, moved from Philadelphia to St. Louis in 1993. Shortly after forming, the band Immediately caught the attention of the St. Louis music scene. After airplay on The Point, it was found that it was not the only band to sport the name 9 Days Wonder. So the band dropped the name and adopted Radio lodine

Self described as guitar driven with industrial elements, Persyn said the band's music sounds some-what like Garbage, but she said the music is heavier.

Its sound is unique to St. Louis, a music scine being eyed by many big wigs in the music industry. But Persyn said she does not think St. Louis has the potential to be the next big scene. like Seattle a few ars back, because there is not one sound that unites all the bands in the city.

"No one tries to copy another band;" she said: "Everybody is doing their own thing, which is very nice and refreshing compared to other music scenes." Another big breaking point for the band was being offered a opening spot for the internationally known British rock band Oasis last spring at the American Theatre.

And when asked whether Oasis' Gallagher last there live 1:0

up to their abrasive and obnoxious reputation, P sald, "They were really kind of nice to me and Anna (lodine guitarist). But they didn't talk to the guys in the band very much. "The biggest problem was that I could hardly understand a word they were saying," she said. Though the band has experienced some stardom, Persyn said there is no reason to get the big head because the band still has a long road ahead.

"Each gig is a battleground in which we fight to do better than the night before," she said. "But even if this is as far as we go, we will all be happy with what we have accomplished."

And if the road does come to end anytime soon, Persyn sald it will not be for a lack of trying, "This consumes so much of our time," she sald. "This is what we think about all of the time."

Radio lodine will play Saturday at the Hangar 9, 511 S. Illinois Ave. Love Hogs will open. Cover is $4. Show starts at 9:45 p.m.

RADI IODINE'S Ellen Persyn's picks. preferences & personal likes.

Favorite book: Never Get Out of the Boat by Chris Dyer (A St. Louis poet now in Denver)

Favorite film of all time: Wizard of Oz (ive seen it too many times to count and still love it ... it's beginning to worry my family.)

First record I ever bought: A used 45 sin-gle at a garage sale: "I Shot the Sheriff," by Eric Clapton (I hated it. Don't know why I bought it. I still buy things and then wonder why.)

Last CD | bought: "Dilate" by Ani DiFranco (Glad I bought this one.)

Favorite city besides St. Louis: Los Angeles (... but I wouldn't want to live there. "There's no place like home.")

Favorite non-alcoholic drink: Iced Cafe Mocha. (Caffeine and Sugar. Yumm.)

Most memorable glg: January 1996 at Mississippi Nights (Packed house, record label people there looking us over. I was tense. Tony ran into me on stage, so I Weled him kicked him.)

Favorite Club: Different clubs for different reasons, but playing the American Theater totally rocked. (Is that a club? Nope, but this way I won't piss off any club owners.)

Dole or Clinton ?: Are you kidding? That's like choosing between the Easter Bunny and Santa Claus (No wait ... the Bunny and Santa are more believable.)

Patsy Cline or Joan Jett?: Patsy Cline. (Reality vs. posing.)

Elvis or Ozzy?: Elvis. (Elvis had sexual charisma; Ozzy bit animals.)

Leather or Vinyi?: Vinyi. (You don't have to kill it, and you don't have to wash it.)

Guarant

Discount Mufflers Carbondale 457-3527 308 E. Main St. (1-1/2 Bas. E. of the Rain EXHAUST - BRAKES - SHOCKS - STRUTS - SPRINGS - C.Y. JOINTS

OPEN MON - SAT BAM TO 6 PM

fetime

mean

.60

itern

By Chad Anderson

1777.24

- 6

arbondale city manager Jeff Doherty sits in his office answering questions about how Halloween, the city of Carbondale and SIUC have changed.

Almost before the first question is finshed being asked, he is quick to say that Halloween was never a peaceful, family event in the city and that those who say the Oct. 31, celebration was once a peaceful event never stayed on the Strip past 9 p.m

"Things always got ugly later on," he said. "I was a student here in 1971, and to this day, I have not seen a Halloween I would take my family to." Doherty said the history of Halloween

Is not an extensive one. He said Halloween began in the 1960s, expanded in the '70s and grew into a large street party in the *80s. "It created a lot of nega-tive-image problems, and in 1988, the city, the Chamber of Commerce and the University agreed that the celebration should be stopped," he said. "Back in those days, John Guyon was president of SIU and said he would close the University during Halloween wrekend.

'That's one thing I would like to stress. It was decided in 1988 to put an end to Halloween, not in 1995 or 1994."

Doherty said the break eemed to work, but in the early '90s, there were indications the party was growing back to what it was in its heyday.

The personal experience

As a freshman at SIUC during the fall of 1994, I heard a number of stories about how great Halloween was in Carbondale. It was the one weekend everyone in Carbondale awaited. The city feared It:

the University seemed embarrassed about it, and the students counted down the days until Oct. 31. The city had decided that year to close the bars at 10 p.m. and place restrictions on alcohol sales throughout the week-

I covered politics for the Dally Egyptian at that time, and my job during Halloween weekend was to report the events on the Strip. It was a strange experience to view the party from the other side of the law. I watched as the crowd grew when the bars emptied at 10 p.m., and everything seemed calm. Then, in a matter of minutes, everything went chaotic. The mob rushed south toward Mill Street where the police had made a line in an attempt to contain the mob. But the crowd turned and rushed up West College Street and headed west to First National bank, 509 S. University Ave., where it overturned a car in the parking lot.

From the events that year, Halloween could be summed up in simple words: maniacal and chaotic. But the word that may be lost in that list is fun. Students dressed up in the most outrageous costumes they could find and slam-danced in the middle of South Illinois Avenue.

People crowd-surfed in shopping carts, Elvis hung from a tree outside Jimmy John's, 519 S. Illinois Ave., and a number of women exposed themselves at the crowd's request.

But the destruction of property and confrontations with the police by rioters seemed to overshadow that fun.

Can the fun be turned into something positive?

Cornelius Crane, a 1995 graduate of SIUC, said he approached th e Hallowee SIUC, said he approached the nanoweun task force, a group formed by the city and University after Halloween (994 that was charged with quelling negative. Halloween celebrations, He said he expressed his opinion about the regula-tion of Halloween and proposed alternatives to make it a positive event. teaches recreation and business and they Daily Egyptian file photo

OCT. 24 .- NOV.

can't find a way to use what they teach to reorganize Halloween then they are all a bunch of fakes," Crane said. "One guy even admitted that he couldn't make it work " make it work.

One of the Ideas Crane said he proposed to the task force was turning Halloween Into- an Oktoberfest celebration. He proposed that the city close off an area on the Strip, with securit measures, and charge a $10 admission fee.

"The students bring $500 million a year into the local econo my, and if the city can t close off the street and throw them small block party one night, that's ridicu-lous," he said. lous

"I think they should have turned It around and called it an Oktoberfest. I mean, close off the Strip, have security forces and a secured area and charge $10. If I'm paying $10 to be there, I'm not going to want some idiot messing up the celebration. I'll help them throw him out.

"Have the microbrewery from West Frankfort, the new Copper Dragon beer (from Pirich Penny Pub. 700 E. Grand Ave.) and the Alto Pass Vineyards bring some of their products to sample." But both Doherty and Jack Dyer, exec-utive director of University relations, said there are no plans for an event of this kind in the making.

4 ... NOY. 6. 1996

The image issue

Dyer said the University did not work to put an end to the Halloween celebra-tion because of the magnitude of it, or the damage it may have done to the school's national image and reputation. He said the school administrators were concerned with safety issues.

"Image was not the reason Halloween was stopped." he said. "The students were endangering themselves. "I don't think there's anything wrong with activities where students can enjoy themselves, but they were endangering their own lives and the lives of others.

The image of the University does seem to pull some weight, though. The school has been under the knife of city and University officials in recent years. The bar-entry age has been Increased by the City

Council each year for the past four years until it was raised to Z1 this past July, and the University has put an end to Halloween and Springfest.

In its heyday, Over sald the Halloween celebration consisted of about 20,000 participants, but only about one-third of those were actual SIUC students.

One-third were actual SIU students, one-third were students from other colleges and the remaining third were high school students," he said. Obviously, someone was going to get hurt.

Dyer said SIUC always has been a strong academic school but has recently lost some of its national perception of being a party school. "I'm sure we've lost some of the bad national image, but that shouldn't make a difference," Dyer said. "Very few peo-ple make a decision on what college to Palatine, said the administration's efforts , for changing the image of SIUC is pointless. Kennedy said the Halloween imagery of SIUC does very little to help or hurt the school at this point in time.

"The total image change? I don't think it's doing much for enrollhe sald ment. referring to the decline. "As far as education is concerned.

think the reputation is too fixed. They can do all they want, but,

It's not going to change.

ls

Carbondale's Halloween

changing?

Last fall, the city closed the bars on the Strip for the weekend, and the University implemented a fall break for Halloween, hoping students would gather their belongings and leave Carbondale for the

The city and University have been suc-essful in controlling Halloween because the break gives those who live long dis-tances from Carbondale a chance to return home, some students said. The Halloween or fall break is the first time

duing the fall semester. Donald Gibbs, a junior in management from Princeville, is one of these students.

Gibbs' hometown of Princeville is about

"Since they're going to give us the break, I'm going to go home," he said.

This is the first time this semester I'll be

Gibbs said if the University did not offer

Cubbs said if the University did not offer the extended weekend break, he would, in all likeliness, continue to party like many other students have in past years." "If there wasn't the break, I'd be going to parties. And after the parties, I'd be down on the Strip, "he said: When asked if he would cause any trouble while on the Strip, Gibbs replied bat the chidnest date reuse hereb that the students don't cause the prob-

"I don't think we cause trouble," he said. "The police are just looking for someone to step out of line a little bit. I think the police have a grudge against the students."

Doherty said the police do not instihilosophy about controlling the taking

"Our approach is not to be the aggres-r," he said. "Every situation has been gate any activities by the crowds that gather on the Strip. He said the city's of the Strip is containment.

sor.

any students are able to return home

weekend. And it worked.

30 minutes north of Peoria.

initiated by the crowd. Sometimes it's difficult to convince people that that's our philosophy and approach." In an article published in the Oct. 14

DE, Boots Blaney, a parent from Villa Grove visiting for Parent's Weekend, was quoted as saying, "This school doesn't party anymore than any other school. They just do it better.

Doherty said SIUC's reputation of being a party school is blown out of proportion. He said the reputation of siuc being the party school Is because of the exposure Halloween has received by both local and national media. "Halloween gives SIU a very black eye when that graduate is out there trying to get the job they want," he said.

There are always going to be some rowdies like there were last weekend, and they give all the other students a bad name.

But are city officials entirely satisfied with the way they handled the attempt-ed quelling of Halloween in retrospect?

Any regrets?

Has the city approached the issue of putting an end to the Halloween celebration in the right way? Did the city cre-ate a snowball effect that caused an avalanche? Doherty said he might have handled the situation differently in 1994. "In 1994, maybe the timing wasn't the greatest. It created an atmosphere that rolled along," he said. "In retrospect of '94, I would have done it in a different way, and we did following it. [In early 1995], the Halloween task force and the University agreed to the fall break for five years, and the city placed restrictions on the bars and alcohol sales for five years

Doherty said these 1995 policies have made the difference.

in the second

THE STUDENT PROGRAMMING

Council will be screening the 1966 Swedish film "Persona" this Sunday

The film is directed by Ingmar Bergman and stars Liv Ullmann. The story follows Elisabeth Vogler

(Ullmann), a famous actor who falls

entertainment notes from here. there & everywhere:

SEAT ME IN ST. LOUIS

THE STUDENT PROGRAMMING COUNCIL IS GIVING students a chance to travel to St. Louis tonight to see the musical love story, "Miss Saigon.

The story follows the relationship between a young Vietnamese girl and an American soldier during the fall of Saigon product of Alain Boublil and Claude-Michel Schonberg, the creators of "Les Miserables package that includes the ticket price and fare bus from Carbondale to St.

Louis' Fox Theater. The package costs $40. The bus will leave from the front doors of the Student Center at 4:30 p.m. and will arrive at the Fox Theater at around 7 p.m. The show begins at 8 p.m. The bus will head back to Carbondale directly after the show. Tickets can be purchased at the SPC office on the third floor of the Student Center. For more information, call 536-3393.

DIVINE AND CONQUER

WHAT IS DIVINATION? CAN YOU RECEIVE information from spirits? You can find out answers to these questions and more Monday at 7 p.m. in the back room of the Longbranch Coffee House The discussion is an attempt to teach the three forms of Divination: tarot, runes and stone casting. For more Information, call Tara Nelsen at 529-5029.

ORGANIZER

A RENOWNED organist who The New York Times calls a ".....bril-liant instrumentalist" will be giving a free concert Friday at Shrvock Auditorium.

Oliver Latry, titular organist at the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris, will be playing at SIUC as part of the Distinguished Organ Recital Series There will be a pre-concert buffet from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. In the Student Center Ballroom D. Buffet tickets are $10. Call 453-1130.

Folgus-Pocus

COUSIN ANDY'S COFFEEHOUSE WILL BE HOSTED A folk music triple-bill this Friday. Cantrells, AI & Emily and Mike Lescelius will showcase the event.

Children 12 and under get in free. Regular admission is $5. Admission is $3 for students and low income. Cousin Andy's is located in the Fellowship Hall of St.

ground zero

The story is a a seaside nome. The hurse, who speaks constantly, and Vogler, who does not speak, gradually switch personalities. The film is scheduled for 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. both nights in the Student

SPC is offering a

HANG-ART

Admission is $1.

THE HANGAR 9, 511 S. ILLINOIS AVE., WILL HOST AN art show this Sunday that will showcase many works by SIUC students and other local artists. Works to be exhibited include paintings, sculptures and photos. Music entertainment will be provided by the bands Zeros and Ones and Bloom. There is a $2 suggested cover charge. The money received from the event will be used to pay the expenses of sponsoring the event. Any extra funds will be donated to community radio station WDBX-FM.

and Monday.

victim to psychosomatic loss of speech and is placed in the care of a nurse at a seaside home. The nurse, who speaks

Center Auditorium. The screening is part of SPC's International Film Series.

ENDOWMENT FOR THE HEARTS

THE AFRICAN-AMERICAN PLAYERS WORKSHOP will present "I Have Spoken To My Children" at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Student Center Ballroom D. The perfor-mance focuses on the life of a lady named Nora Jackson. Life is not easy for her because of her two rebellious and discouraged children. The only good aspect of her life is her love for her religion. The performance will feature the Cast Your Cares Community Choir. Admission is $2.

Lush drummer Chris Acland was found dead last Thursday at his parent's home. He apparently hanged himself.

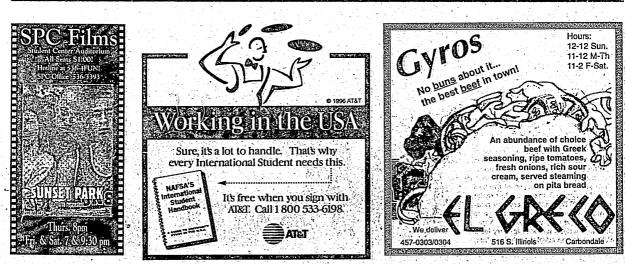

Death Row executive Marion Knight, who was with Tupac Shukar the night he was killed, was arrested Tuesday for allegedly violating probation. Bob Hope announced he has ended his 60-year relationship with NBC and has become a free-agent.

Marion Brando turned down a multi-million dollar deal to play a Mafia crime boss in a CBS miniseries so he can play a cameo role in Johnny Depp's directorial debut.

Despite what British tabloids say, Oasls swears it has not broken up.

· compiled by dustin coleman

E

Andrews Episcopal Church Church, 402 West Mill Street. Doors open at 7 p.m. Music starts at 7:30 p.m. LIV-N-LEGEND

WERE BLOOK - BT AND

FOCUS C

Siegel adds dash of classical with twist of blues

By TRAVIS DENEAL

.oct. 24 - nov. 6, 1996

A marriage of blues and classical music might seem like mixing oil and water. But in reality, the combination is more like sodium and water, resulting in a sparkling explosion.

M usician Corky Siegel/has accomplished this with his development of Chamber Blues. He has created a syste of music that blends two seemingly incongruous genres of Single in a sophisticated yet exciting musical tapestry.

tional blend of classical (chamber music) and the blues. "You see a crossover between the two styles," he said: "We have a string quarter playing with a blues harmonica. Besides the blending of blues and classical with the instruments, there is a blending of the styles within the composition itself. It could be played on four saxes, and it would still be chamber blues." Chamber Blues takes the uplifting spirit of classical music and meshes it with chord progressions unique to blues music, enhancing the finer points of each style, he said. The perceived problem with blending classical and blues

Siegel said, is people tend to place certain ideologies on dif-ferent styles of music and then believe the different ideologies will not blend. Peyton Colston, host of WSIU-FM's "A Case of Blues," agrees Peyton Colston, host of WSIU-FM's "A Case of Blues," agrees that this misconception exists. "Culturally, blues and classical music would seem to be so different," he said. "Chamber music has its roots in Europe while blues has its roots basically in Africa." It's amazing how seamlessly he (Siegel) blends the two together." Traditionally, "chamber music performances are synonymous with classical performances on a small scale. Siegel, whose blues roots run deeper than his classical influences; has given chamber music a nitrous burst. "It's a completely new antiom that will bring new people to.

"It's a completely new atform that will bring new people in-who normally wouldn't listen to chamber music or blues," John Stowers, director of publicity for Shryock Auditorium, said.

The entertainment world has been unusually gracious to Siegel. He began seriously playing the blues at age 20 and had almost immediate success.

HIS Slegel-Schwall band quickly got a steady gig at Peppers', the legendary blues club in Chicago, where the group Jammed with several blues demigods such as Muddy Waters, Wille

Dixon and Little Walter. Soon the band, was performing with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, which laid the groundwork for combining classical and blues music. And Siegel's career, has gone nowhere but up. "My career was something I didn't create," he said. It just happened to me.

"My career way appened to me." While Siegel's style evolved broughout the style throughout the years from simply blues to to his cur-rent blend, his primary influences remain the same?; , "The first time.!"

heard the blues, was blown away." he said. "I felt like I was at home

Howlin' Wolf. Waters and Jimmy Reed, who were the first influences he was exposed to, remain at the top of the list of his many.

he ns of n e s n f l u e n c e s However: Slegel does not live by a strict blues regim Instead, he remains extremely open to everything from jazz to heavy metal

When Corky Siegel's Chamber Blues fires up Saturday night, that eclectic-approach will be masterfully displayed Chicago's West End String Quartet that performs with him, egel said.

Of course, Slegel will round out the band with his blues harmonica and plano playing, and promises Chamber Blues will Inject life back into conventional chamber music. Traditionally, it has been viewed as serious and subdued. he said. I think it's going to change."

Roseanne

in the W rd With Gi

Sports Miller's Law P

Three Sta

Picket Fe

nce | Dallas "Home Again

ct".++ (1991).

Living

Reav

Silk St

nield III. C

Prime Time Public A

rime Time Justice (R)

n Bale. PG'CE Primetime Bet

loges

NFL Great - Sportscenter E

Mysteries

s-Butt. Singled Out Alternative N

a-ER

C.

Cops

Tonight St

Late Show (In Stereo) IE

hars (R) Wild Discover

w (in Sta

Martin D

Moneyline NewsNight Showbi

Highlsongs

Trial Story (R)

Unsolved My

Dukes of Hazzard

n-Claude Van Damme." Principal

solv) Gregory Hines, Bay Cr

"Love 15" (5) Big Date Renegade

Murph

teo) J. Spri

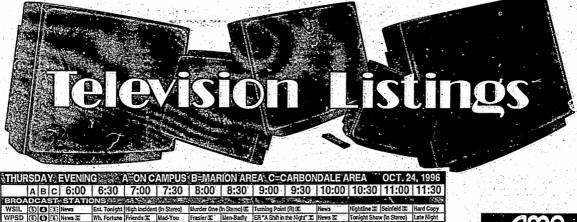

n Huskirs 115 75

Car

Mission: Impossible "Ha

in the Heat of the Night B

Running

Praise the Lord

48 Hours (In Ste

World Today

un" k++ 1/2 (1987, Drama) C

Paid Prog. Paid P

batics Ch

S" Genesis: A C

 WTS5
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 (1)
 <th(1)</th>
 <th(1)</th Mad-You Life Paid Prog. D 11 Paid Prog. WCEE 1 0 11: 51 KPI 9 Mad-Yo

CNN (1) (2) 36 Moneyline Crossfire (2) Prime News Politics COURT (1) 343 Justice Miller's Law Prime Time: Simpson COURT CSPAN (1) (1) 131: Public Policy Conference Prime Time Public Attains DISC
 (1)
 34
 Bey. 2000
 Next Step
 Wild Discovery

 E1
 (1)
 34
 Webrose Place (In Stereo)
 Inside NYPD Blue (Fi

ENC 02 03 14 Hy Bodyguard +++ ESPN (2) 02 24 Sportsctr. Kickoff FAM (3) 02 25 Waltons The Scolers D 21 In Color D 35 HopeGlari FX No Relation Picket Fences Designing LIFE MTV 23 ED 34: Beavis-Butt Singled Out Kega-Dost Sex*90s NICK (1) ED 34: Doug ES Rugrats ES Alas Mack Happy Day TLC (1) Ki Hometime Hom TNN (2) (2) (3) (3) (2) Hometime TNT (2) (1) 136 In the Heat of the Night (E)

WGN (1) (2) 22 Fam. Mat.

WTBS 02 F2 21 Videos

TCT Today D. Leonard Bishop J. J. Osteen ports H Uvs ry! "Other's Tr Home Imp. Diagnosis Murder (E) Wh. Fortune Friends (E) Usd-You Holoney "Clucless" I Frasier I Men-Badly ER "A Shift in the Nght" I N Paid Prog. Paid Prog. Ross Perot CABLE STATIONS Larry King Live III Trial Story (R)

> Wovie Wagic Next Step Time Traveler Next Step Bey, 2000 Wild Discovery Gossip News Daily Taik Soup Hight Stand Howard S. Howard S. Welrose Place (In Gossip rd". +++ (1990) Chris Makepeace. "PG" Empir NFL's Greatest Mor odeo (A Highway to Heaven 🗉

Unsolved Mysterie MedDetect Tra aa-ER C Life of Marty Robbins "The Principal".  (1987, D

USA (1) (1) 14 Highlander: The Series III Murder, She Wrote II Bzzzl "City Heat" ++ (1964, Comedy) Cint Eastwood Vide "Midnight R m" + f + (1968, Co PREMIUM STATIONS

700 Club Rescue 911 (In Miaml Vic in Colo "Diana: Her True Story" ++ 1/ (1993, Drama) Teen Tra Yo! (R) (In St U.T. Moore Happy Days || Love Lucy |M

Yorld Series: Game 5 - New York Yankees at Atlanta Braves. (In Stereo Live) 3

Paid Prog.

Prima Time Co rama) James Belushi "Seduced by Evil"  (1994) Suzame Somers. IS ews (b

A.Dra

 HBO
 28
 25:1
 Trichle Rich*++ (1994; Comedy) PGT*/ Alrheads
 The Dentist* (1995) Coubin Benser; T

 MAX
 CD
 Tri Shadow of the Woll (1993) "First Knight" ++ H (1995; Adventure) Sean Corney; PG-13 (0): "

 SHOW
 CD
 GD
 33:1
 A River Runs Through It+; Tormic tor 22 Judgment Day"; +++H (1995) TF (0): TF (0) Inside the NFL (In Stereo) |Fetishes: Mistrasses "Desperado" ++ (1995, Drama) Ti 3 -> "Prelude to Love" (1995) or 2: Judgment Day # 1/ (1991) Tr 2023 On the Set : Shen Full Frontal ("When a Man Loves a Woman" (1994).

	There is a Difference
	Teles 0 5250 In Creater Lines 2 For Stad and a mile Stad or Stad and a state s
	UNIVERSITY PLACE 8
	∖ 457-6757
	/Sleepers (B) Thur (5:30) 8:30
	VGet On The Bus (B) Thur (5:15) 8:20
	Last Man Standing (R) Thur (5:50) 8:10
	Mighty Ducks 3 (PG) Thur (5:45) 8:00
	Fly Away Home. (PG) Thur. (5:35) 8:25
	Bulletproof (8.00) 8.05 (R)
I	Lone Star (5:25) 8:15 (B)
ĺ	2 Days in the Valley (R) Thur (8:20) 8:05
	/Special Engagements All Week No Free Passes Accepted for These Features)

An

Ę

vertise in the ily Egyptian. vertise in the aily Egyptian. dvertise in th aily Egyptian dvertise in th Daily Egyptia vertise in the aily Egyptian dvertise in th aily Egyptian dvertise in th Daily Egyptia Advertise in t Daily Egyptic vertise in the ily Egyptian. lvertise in the aily Egyptian dvertise in th aily Egyptian dvertise in t Daily Egyptia Advertise in Daily Egypti

(Th)

Daily Evening

Web Ouijas bring granny's ghost to Net

BY BRIAN T. SUTTON

The Internet is host for many stories of paranormal. So put the mouse on the Oulja board because the truth is out there.

THE STORIES:

Sites on the Web that have true ghost stories:

http://www.catholocism.org/pages /aubrey.htm

The exorcism of Nicola Aubrey. This is a story from the Saint Benedict Center The Slaves of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The story is straight from the priest's mouth, circa 1566, it's a big block of gray text but is a good story.

http://www.kent.net/paranormal/ The House of Paranormal, "Ever have a part of your house you just DIDNT want to go near?" And it has nothing to do with smell. This site is kind of like Time Life Books series commercials only listing tidbits of near miss plane crashes, Bigfoot monsters and UFO's. No full-length sto-

http://www.crown.net/X/

The Archive X has ghost stories and folklore submitted by Netizens. Most of the stories are supposedly personal experiences. There is one about the miss-ing girlfriend that is funny or sad, depending on your point of view.

WEB SITES

PROOF:

Seeing is believing.

http://www.aone.com/~starwest/i ndex.htmi

The Ghost Hunter's Gallery by the International Ghost Hunters Society. The site has the "largest collection of ghost photographs on the Internet!"

Here you can see the spirit of Woody, a doberman pincher. The whitish mist-like apparition shows up clearly in the photo as Woody's splrit leaves this Earth.

FINDING GUIDANCE:

The Web also has sites that allow you to reach out into the beyond and find the way.

http://www.resort.com/~ban-shee/Misc/8ball/index.html

Ask the Mystical Head of Bob and he will give you the answer. Type in a question and an answer would be shot out. Trust the head.

http://www.math.uhn.edu/~black/c gi-bin/ouija.cgi World Wide Web Ouija. Point and dick to hear from grandma

CAMPAIGN 196 Third-party presidential candidates duel on TV

The Washington Post

WASHINGTON-Getting on television is the biggest challenge for minor-party candidates for pres-ident, so the standard-bearers of the Libertarian, Natural Law and U.S. Taxpayers parties were naturally excited at the opportunity to debate the issues before the live cameras of C-SPAN.

Make-up applied, supporters clumped around a paneled room at the National Press Club, the candidates wore their brightest smiles as moderator Jennifer Laszlo intoned Welcome to ...

Just then, a half-dozen sign-wielding people jumped from seats, marched to the front of the room and demanded that yet another candidate for president, Monica Moorhead of the Workers World Party, be allowed to participate. For 10 min-utes, the protesters waved their signs and yelled into the C-SPAN cam-eras — "she's excluded because until they were removed, in one instance dragged, from the room. Such is life on the campaign trail for "the three musketeers," as Natural Law nomince John Hagelin refers to himself, Libertarian candi-date Harry Browne and Taxpayers candidate Howard Phillips. (Another part-time musketeer is Ralph Nader, who is running on the Green Party ballot in 21 states, but he rarely joins the others on the campaign trail.) They get no federal funds; they fly coach or take a bus; they remain optimists. To achieve victory," Phillips points out, "first you must seek it." This is not an entirely new expe-rience for Hagelin and Phillips, who ran for president four years ago. With Libertarian nominee Andre Marrou, they collectively got less than 1 percent of the vote. Moorehead also ran in 1992, and collected 181 votes. She was not invited to the Oct. 7 debate, according to its sponsors — George Mason University and the International Center for Economic Justice — because she is on the bal-have a mathematical chance of being elected. The others do: Browne is on the ballot in all 50 states; Hagelin in 43 and Phillips in 39.

These minor-party nominees are Inese minor-party negunees are so much on the fringe that they view Reform Party candidate Ross Perot, who got nearly 19 percent of the vote four years ago, as an 800-pound gorilla. Perot, for all his com-plaining about being accluded ferm plaining about being excluded from the debates between President Clinton and Republican candidate Bob Dole, took a pass on this onc.

NEWS TOP C'DALE LOCATIONS extra nice 2, 3, & 4 bdrm houses, w/d, list of addresses in fror yard at 408 S. Poplar, no pets, call 684-4145 or 684-6862. 2 BDRM located in country in Desoto pets allowed, lease req, call 457-8924 COUNTRY SETTING, 2 bdrm, $300/ mo. In town, 3 bdrm, 2 bath, $450/ mo. Country Court Mobile Home, 2 bdrm, $200/mo.457-8220 3 BDRM behind Fred's Dance Born (Carterville), 2 bath, c/a, w/d, sote' w dish, 2 car garage & carport, $6... no, avail Dec 15, 529-3513. CLEAN 2-3 BDRM, furn, walk to SIU or mol, no pets, 529-5878 or 529-1422. 3 8DRM HOUSE, 2 blocks to SUJ, large fenced yard, w/d hoolup, $500/mo, 697-2475. CAMBRIA. NEW 2 BDRM: $400, No pets, w/d. Ready to rent today. Very nice. Hurry! 549-3850. CARTERVILLE HOUSE, 2 bedroo unfurnished, gas heat, front & back yard, garage, coll 985-6108. -----Mobile Homes EXTRA NICE 2 BEDROOM, 14x70. New carpet, deck, c/a, w/d hack-up. Clean, quiet park, on SIU bus route, $350/mo, call 687-3201. COME LIVE WITH US, 2 bdm, air, quiel location, $150-$350, 529-2432 or 684-2663. A FEW LEFT. 2 bdrm $200-$450 per month, pets ok, Chuck's Rentals, 529-4444. 4 MJ SOUTH C'DALE, 12x65, 2 bdrm, $200/mo+dep, water & trash ind, call 549-3155. TIRED OF ROOMMATES! One bdrm, furn, a/c, cable tv avail, guiet & clean. Excellent location? Between SiU and num, arc. cable in andi, quiet & dean. Excellent location is deveen SU and logan, next to Route 13, 2 mi cast of University Mall. Crab Orchard Lale just across the road. $200 dep; $155/mo; gas for heat & cooking, water, train pickup, lown maintenance is a Bat rate $50/mo; poets, 549-6612, $227-6337 549-3002.

1 MILE WEST of town, Private road, large lot, clean, very quiet, $225/mo, 549-0081.

EXTRA NICE, 2 LG BDRMS, FURN, carpet, a/c, quiet park, no pets, 549-0491 or 457-0609.

SUPER-NICE SINGLES & Doubles, located 1 mi from SIU, carpeting, a/c, gos furnoce, well-maintained; reasonable rotes. Now leasing for fall & winter. Avail immed. Call Illinois Mobile winter. A nols 10me rent 833-5475

NICE 2 BEDROOM, ar SIU, many edras, no pets, 549-8000.

2 BEDROOM, Near SIU, c/a, $300/ mo, Must be rented by October 20, 529-7565 leave message. 2 BDRM, 2 BATH, w/d hook-up, loca ed in Shudent Park behind Universi Mall, $240/mo, 457-6193.

Private, country setting bdrm, extra nice, quiet, furn nlum, a/c, no pets. 549-4808.

2 BDRM MOBILE HOME, bdrms in op-posite ends, dose to rec center & down-town, $250/mo, 549-3838. 10WEST PRICE AVAIL, nice, 1 persor 10 x 50, furn, no pets, $110/mo, 525 3581 or 529-1820.

FOR THE HIGHEST quality in Mobile Home living, check with us, then compare: Outer Amosphere, Alfordable Rates, Escellent locations, No Appointment Necessary, 1, 2, & 3 bedroom homes open. Sorry No Pets, m homes open. Sorry No Pets. Mobile Home Pork, 616 E. Park St., 457-6405,-- Roxanne Mabil Home Park, 2301 S. Illionais Ave. 549-4713.

$250/MO, 2 BDRM, furn, a/c, very nice, quiet atmosphere. Older student desired, water/trash/lawn maintenance furn, no pets, 549-6612, 527-6337, or 549-3002 nights.

RIDE THE BUS TO Carbondale Mobile Homes, High-way 51 North, 549-3000.

COME LIVE WITH US, 2 bdm air, quiet location, $150-$350, 529-2432 or 684-2663.

503 F. SNIDER, 2 bdrm, a/c, gas fur nace, avail Nov 1, $200/mo, 529 3513.

2 BDRM, C/A, private, quiet, well light-ed; clean, nice decks, close to campus, new models avails; water tur-nished; 529-1329; MUST SEE TO BELIEVE how nice this 2 bdrm furn trailor is for only $165. New Era Rd. 549-3850.

NATIONAL PARKS HIRING Po sitions are now available at National Parks, Forests & Wildlife Preserves. Ex-cellent benefit + bonuses! Call: 1-206-971-3620 ext. N57427

ALASKA EMPLOYMENT- Stu dents Neededi Fishing Industry, Eerr up to $3,000-$6000+ per month, Room and Board! Transportation! Male or Femde. No experience necessary. Call (206)971-3510 ext A57421 Cari 1200/77-12010 de 201728-1 CRUISE SHIPS NOW HIRING Em up b 52,000- per monit vocking on Cruise Ships or Land-Tour compo-nies. World travel [Howaii, Maxia, the Caribbeen, etc.]. Securional and Hul-time employment available. No experience necessary, for more information call 1-de-971-3550 ed. C57421

MAKE $$$ working from home/dorm. Set your own hours. Guaranteed to work. Call for free information, 515-377-2099.

CHECK-US-OUTI T-Shirt Buzz soles rep needed, 10-40 hrs/wk, you set sched-ule. Commission soles. Inquire att. http:// /www.thirtbuzz.com or call Carla @ 800-756-7598.

87 students, lose 5-100 lbs, new metabolism breakthrough, R.N. asst free gift, $35 fee, 1-800-579-1634. AVON NEEDS REPS in cal areas, no quotas, no shipping fees, call 1-800-898-2866. EUROPEAN CAFE, located in Uni-versity Mall, is looking for food service employees. Early morning & lunch hours availability preterred. Apply in person S-6 p.m. daily.

1997 Cover Model Search. Every year, new models are discovered. This year, it could be you, 684-2365.

NOW HIRING Delivery Drivers & Sandwich Makers. Must be avail to work lunch shift. Apply in person only, daily before 2 pm at Booby's 406 S. It-linois. No phone calls please ANIMAL CARETAKER, CARBONDALE. Mornings & every other weekend. Send resumes to DE Classifieds, Bas. 57668, SIUC, Carbondale, IL 62901-6887.

NEEDED: BUSINESS MINDED PEOPLE sted in starting business in the fast awing industry . Call 529-7820.

WE'VE GOT CUSTOM WINDOW DECALS FOR

549-4031 124 S. Illinois Ave. Carb

Daily Egyptian

Gueilificationsi Bochelon Degree in Public Finance, Accounting, Business Administrat, an or related field is preferred with two yeast experience in industrial or public accounting; or Matter's Degree in the same pustuals; or a minimum of fire yeans experience in industrial or public accounting in a responsible supervisory capacity. Buttless Responsible for the monogement of all Fixed and personnel record kepting supers di alte Park District's varied operations. Centest: Beerge Whitehed, Director & CO; Carbondele Park District; P.O. Box 1326; Cerbondele, R. 62902-1326 -618/529-4147.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES THE PERFECT BUSINESSI No inventory, No employees, No equatos, No products to purchase, No experience necessary. Become tan Independent Representative for Excel Telecom. Cell Bill at 457-7029 for info.

EXPLOSIVE INCOME POTENTIAL Work in the fastest growing industry in the U.S. Coll 529-7820.

SERVICES OFFERED CERAMIC TILE FLOORS INSTALLED. Reasonable rates. Call Tim @ 529-3144. NEED SOME PICTURES TAKEN? All types of portraits, parties, pontolios, boudoir, commercial, & more. 534-1428 or 684-2365.

Steve the Car Dector Mobile mechanic. He makes house calls. 457-7984, or Mobile 525-8393.

LEAVES A PROBLEM? Call Larry's Lawn Care. Free Estimates. 457-0109.

PAST WORK HISTORY deaning residential & commercial business references, 457-2585.

ALL DECKED OUT Deck units and pockages built, custom deck design and build, coating, free estimates, 351-9337.

CASH PAID for electronics, je stuff, buy/sell/pown, Midwest (1200 W Main, 549-6599, BARTENDER WANTED, female preferred, no experience needed, apply in person at the Chalet (M'Boro), will train, 684-5468.

FREE

you have something to give away, se Daily Egyptian Classifieds. Ads see items are FREE for free ite പി.

tive days (sorry, no free renew "ads must be for merchandise 536-3311

457-7039.

LOST

LOST KITTEN, Beveridge Street area, a manths old, black & gray Tabby cat responds to Bandit, 351-9388;

SERV-U (619)-645-8434

Thursday, October 24, 1996 🗿

Pager legal battle escalates

The Baltimore Sun

Is reading about dunks, home runs, touchdowns and the like on one of those neat little sports pagers or from an online service the same thing as seeing them happen? That's the issue before a threejudge federal panel, and the answer could have dire conse-quences for the way game infor-mation is disseminated. A Manhattan federal judge last month issued an injunction against Stats, Inc., which gathers scores and information, and Motorola, which makes the pagers, stopping them from providing NBA scores. The judge ruled, for now, that their operation effectively subverts television and radio rights holders, who pay teams and the league to provide game broadcasts.

The matter places the NBA, NBA Properties and NBC, which holds the national over-the-air NBA television rights on one side of the issue, against Stats, Inc., which has received support from the Associated Press, America Online and the New York Times. Each filed "friend of the court" briefs in support of the pager oper-ation, claiming the information supplied is basic and unlike what is heard on radio or seen on television

While it rails against the new media and its possibilities, the NBA, interestingly enough, announced that its new updated World Wide Web site would be launched next week, with new pices and graphics.

It has become de rigeur around Baltimore to blanketly declare Jon Miller the best baseball radio playby-play announcer in the business, and that could be true.

But every year, at World Series time, listeners around the country get to hear Vin Scully, the voice of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who must be at least Miller's equal, if not slightly superior. To listen to Scully, a Hall of Famer, call a baseball game is the aural equivalent of watching Rembrandt work the canvas Every description is true and detailed, every nuance of the game is uncovered and the entertainment factor is at its highest. After five decades in baseball, you might think that there would be some burnout, but Scully sounds just as excited today in his CBS Radio call as he must have sounded calling World Series in the mid-1950s. To be sure, Scully doesn't get verything right; just the other night he kept calling Atlanta reliever Greg McMichael "McMurty." But his rare misses are more than made up for with a solewlid wit splendid wit.

In the Atlanta sixth, when the Yankees' bench yelled at plate umpire Tim Welke for not calling Rvan Klesko out on strikes from a dugout located too far from the plate to be heard in the din, Scully quipped that their protests were the equivalent of "a guy in the balcony winking at a showgirl." And three cheers to CBS Radio

And three cheers to CBS Radio for teaming Scully up with former Chicago White Sox Manager Jeff Torborg for the Series. Torborg, who is the No. 3 analyst on Fox's television baseball coverage, has television baseball coverage, has been astute. By the way, through the first three games of the Series, the national television ratings have been at an all-time low. The three-game average of 15.8 is off the previous record low, a 16.2 in 1903 and well off fact works 18.8

previous record tow, a solution 1993, and well off last year's 18.8. Still, Fox is probably not trou-bled. Tuesday's 17.5/28 is the highest single-night, prime-time number the network has received since it went on the air in 1987, and the numbers should build the longer the Series goes. When Turner commences its NBA coverage on Nov. 1, it will open with three newly minted propursing trademe buttern it. announcing tandems between its two networks.

Verne Lundquist and newcomer Verne Lundquist and newcomer Doc Rivers will work together on TNT's Tuesday night package of games, with Dick Stockton and Ilubre Brown working the Wednesday TBS schedule. Bob Neal and Chuck Daly will have Friday night duty on TNT.

Ernie Johnson returns to host TNT's studio programs, and Vince Cellini will anchor on TBS.

NBC apparently has scored a major coup, picking off one of ABC's key lieutenants for a newly created position in its senior sports management.

Available for Appointments

Specializing in

Marneros continued from page 12

"I like it very much here. It is a nice place — a nice country," he said. "It (Carbondale) is not a big town, and it is not noisy." Marneros said even though leaving his country was hard, having a few Cyprus natives at SIUC has helped.

'I have two teammates on the "I have two teammates on the track and field squad who are from Cyprus," he said. "When you have people here from your home country, you feel better." Marneros said there has been a big change in his training schedules at SIUC compared to when he was in the Army. "Back home Luwaid beam

"Back home, I would begin practicing in September, and our first meet would be in January," he said. "Here we have a meet almost every week to every other week. At home, we have five or six meets a year, and here we have 20."

Despite the rigors of 20 meets per year, Marneros still finds the time to study. He has a 3.5 grade point average and said he real-izes academics are important.

What I am learning here in school is what I will use for the future," he said. "Track and cross country won't last forevcr.

Andy Bosak, a freshman in physical education from St. Catherines, Ontario, said Mameros' success in academics and athletics is a positive influ-ence for the entire team.

"He is a role model for the freshmen and sophomores on the team," he said. "If he can get team," he said. "If he can get high marks and run well, we have the same potential." Cornell also said Marneros, who is the team captain, is a good role model for the other

"He is rather quiet but sets his example by doing everything right to prepare himself for the meets," he said. "He was a two-time Academic All-American in 1994 and 1995 and will probably do it again this year. "I can't say enough about him. I le will be sadly missed when I have to try and replace him next

Mameros, a two-time defend-ing Missouri Valley Conference champion, said he has some ath-letic goals he would like to accomplish before he graduates in May in May.

"I would like to win the con-ference again, hopefully as an individual," he said. "But the most important thing is to win as a team. I don't care if I lose as an individual because cross country is not an individual sport; it is team oriented."

Marneros said the Turkish invasion in his home country has brought pain to his family and friends, and he said he would like to pay his respects to those who have died.

Marneros said he has dedicat-ed his running season to two of his friends, Isaak and Solomon, who were killed while they were protesting the Turkish occupa-tion.

HORSE RACING

Cigar earns No. 7 starting spot for Breeders' Classic

Los Angeles Times

TORONTO-Jockey Sandy Hawley was hoping for post posi-tion No. 5, which is his lucky number and not a bad place to start in Saturday's $2 million Breeders' Cup Turf. Hawley would have even settled for the seven hole, which is his wife Lisa's lucky number.

But post-position draws fre-quently don't go the way horse-men want them to, and Wednesday, when entries were taken for Saturday's seven-race, $11 million day at Woodbine, there were mixed results as 85 horses were named to run. In the I{-mile Turf, for example, Hawley's horse, Chief Bearhart, drew the No. 12 post in a field of drew the No. 12 post in a held of 14. Chief Bearhart, who finished second to Singspiel, one of the Turf favorites, at Woodbine a month ago, is a colt who likes tô run behind the first flight of hors-es in the early going, but now Hawley fears that he might get

Study

lot of time

continued from page 12

someone keeping a close watch to make sure athletes stick to the program; one student athlete said the rules should be a little relaxed.

Randy White, a junior in admin-istration of justice from Indianapolis and a member of the Saluki track team, said the study table can be good at times and bad at others. "Sometimes it's a help, and some-times it's a hindrance," White said. "If you have something else to do like type a paper or you have to go somewhere else, study table takes a

White said the study table would fanned out in the 515-foot run to the first turn.

To win, Chief Bearhart will have to ape Northern Spur, Kotashaan, Miss Alleged, Pebbles and Theatrical, other horses that have won the Turf after breaking from outside the No. 11 post. Singspiel, part of Sheik Mohammed's four-horse entry, drew No. 10 and is the 9-5 favorite.

"If we beat Singspiel, I think we can win the race," said Hawley, who was two lengths behind the sheik's colt in the I-mile Canadian International. Chief Bearhart, who has run seven of his nine races at Woodbine, is 12-1.

Not unexpectedly, the shortest-priced Breeders' Cup horse is Cigar, who will open at 4-5 and break from the No. 7 post in the $4 million Classic, which has drawn a capacity field of 14. Also predictable was that Ricks Natural Star, the refugee gelding from New Mexico, would be the highest-priced horse.

suit the people who need the help if it were a little more flexible to their, schedules and concentrated more on nights when it is needed. "I had to go three nights a week, and if something else comes up, it is a burden," he said. "It has helped me. But if it was more flexible, that would be much better."

GPAs have not risen every single Sensetic, and whether or not the sensetic, and whether or not the results are directly related to the study table cannot be proven. "I think overall, it is good," Bandy said. "I do exit interviews

Bandy Sad. 1 do exit interviews with student-athletes who have completed their eligibility, and I can't tell you how many of them have said, 'I didn't like study table at all, but I am glad you made me go.

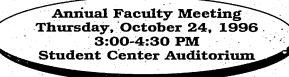

Infertility Tubal ligations; Tubal reconstructions

Menstrual and Menopausal Problems Treatment of abnormal pap smears

Roger N Klam, M.D. Diplomate of American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology

1160 Cedar Court Carbondale (618) 457-7821

Participating provider for GHP, Cigna, HealthLink, Ethix and most other insurance companies

All Faculty are Cordially Invited to this Major Annual Event. This year the program features a Major Address by Chancellor Donald Beggs

PROGRAM

- Welcome by Albert Melone, President, Faculty Senate
- Awards
- Address by Chancellor Donald Beggs, "Taking Responsibility for Positive
- Change' Reports by Chairs of Standing Committees of the Faculty Senate:
- Allan Karnes, Budget
- Steven Jensen, Committee on Committees
- Bill Gooch, Governance
- Jim Orr, Faculty Status and Welfare
- Dan Chavez, Undergraduate Education Policy
- Executive Council Report: Marcia Anderson
- · Report of the Graduate Council, John Preece, Chair Address by Faculty President, Albert Melone,
- "Reflections on the Faculty Role in a Changing Environment"

19-19

 Question and Answer Period Refreshments

Gynecologic Surgery of all kind. In practice in Carbondale for over 23 years.

Daily Egyptian

Thursday, October 24, 1996

(12

PORTS BEAT

BASKETBALL

SIUC ninth in conference preseason poll

College Sports magazine has picked the SIUC men's basketball team to finish ninth in its Missouri Valley Conference preseason poll. College Sports' November issue has Illinois State picked first, fol-lowed by Evansville and Creighton in the No. 2 and tower by Evansvitte and Creignton in the No. 2 and No. 3 spots respectively. Drake is picked to finish last in the No. 10 spot. College Sports awarded Saluki junior guard Troy Hudson with All Missouri Valley Conference player hionors. Sharing the honors with Hudson are forward Dan Muller and LeRoy Watkins, but from Ulineis State both from Illinois State.

Spurs lose Robinson until late November

A bad back is forcing San Antonio Spurs All-Star center David Robinson to miss the start of the upcom-ing season. The Spurs say the 1995 league MVP could be out until the last week of November. A team spokesman described the injury as a lower back strain. The Spurs already have lost forward Chuck Person for three to six months because of a herniated disk. Lobo, Woopes first to sign with WNBA

Rebecca Lobo and Sheryl Swoopes, two of the biggest names in women's basketball today, became the first members of the Women's National the first members of the Women's National Basketball Association after signing undisclosed con-tracts Tuesday. The league, which is scheduled to begin actior, in June 1997, will consist of teams in eight NBA cities. The cities will be announced later this month. Lobo led the University of Connecticut to a national title in 1995 while earning player of the year honors. Swoopes also earned player of the year honors in 1993 after leading Texas Tech University to the national championship in 1993.

FOOTBALL

Marino to start against Cowboys Sunday

Miami Dolphins quarterback Dan Marino is expected to start Sunday's big matchup against the Dallas Cowboys. Marino has been sidelined since Sept. 2 after suffering a slight right-ankle fracture against Indianapolis. Marino underwent surgery immediately following the injury and is ahead of schedule in terms of recovery.

Injured Humphries expected to play

The San Diego Chargers are counting on quarter-The San Diego Chargers are counting on quarter-back Stan Humphries to be ready for Sunday, despite injuring his left shoulder in Monday night's 23-14 loss to the Oakland Raiders. Humphries dislocated his non-throwing shoulder when he was tackled in the first half. Backup Sean Salisbury finished the game, throwing for 252 yards, two touchdowns and one interception. The 4-3 Chargers have lost two games in a row and stand two games behind first-place Denver in the AFC West.

Sapenter out of hot seat, back into fire

Hensley Sapenter Jo the Seat, black mild file View A&M football, the school that possesses the longest losing streak in NCAA football history. Sapenter was suspended from Praine View Sept. 3, pending an investigation that eventually confirmed allegations that he used ineligible players in a 42-24 season-opening ioss to Texas Southern, Results of the investigation have been forwarded to the Southwestern Athletic Conference office. Prairie View has lost a record 65 straight games.

THIS DAY IN SPORTS

10/24/76

For the first time in its seven-year history, the New York Marathon was run through the five boroughs of the city instead of being confined to Manhattan's Central Park. The women's winner was Miki Gorman with a time of two hours, 39 minutes and 11 seconds. The men's winner was Bill Rodgers, in a time of 2:10:9.

GROSS COUNTRY Role model runner yearns for Cyprus

By Donna Colter Daily Egyptian Reporter

Stelios Marneros only was a year old when the Turks invaded his home country of Cyprus. Yet he says he has risen above those adversities in hopes that one day he might return home to help his country. Marneros, a senior in hotel management and a scholarship athlete on the SIUC men's cross country team, said he plans to attend graduate school, after e graduates from SIUC in May, and then return home to Cyprus. "The Turks have occupied Cyprus since 1974, and they now occupy 40 percent of the island," Mameros said, "I want to try to help my country as much as I can."

Cyprus is a small island in the eastern Mediterranean Sea. The island is 82 percent Cypriots and 18 percent Turks, with the Turks occupying the northern part of the island and a portion of the raniel city of Nicesia. capital city of Nicosia.

Marneros graduated from high school in Cyprus in 1990 and then spent three years in the Army. He said he didn't have a direction in his life until a friend from his home country pointed him toward SIUC

"I had a friend who came here, and she asked me what I was doing after I got out of the Army," he said. "I told her I didn't know, so she told the coach (Bill Cornell) about me, and I sent him (running) times my

If it weren't for the scholarship, 1 wouldn't be here," he said. "And it is a great opportunity." Marneros said that coming to the United States has been a great experience for him.

see MARNEROS, page 11

Study table can help academically ailing athletes

By Kevin DeFries

Daily Egyptian Reporter

An SIUC study hall is not a mandatory part of an average student's day and cer-tainly is not part of his or her night life. But it is a different story for student ath-letes who are trying to balance classes, the team and homework. It is called the study table. The study table is a structured study hall where athletes can talk to a tutor and spend quality quiet time studying. All stu-dent athletes have access to a study table from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. The structure of the study table requires

Saluki athletes to attend based on their grade point average. Athletes with GPAs between 2.0 and 2.25 must attend the study table six hours a week. Athletes with GPAs less than 2.0 must be at the table four nights a week for two hours a night.

There is no concrete evidence support ing the positive impacts of the study table, e it was introduced to SIUC athletes in 1986, the average GPA among all intercollegiate athletes has risen.

According to records kept by Intercollegiate Athletics, the average GPA in the spring of 1986 was 2.51 for the term. The second semester of the table saw the average GPA rise to 2.58. Last mester, the average GPA was 2.75. Saluki volleyball player Jodi Revoir, a nior in English from Oakdale, Minn., said she once attended the study table but does not have to anymore because her states have improved. She said during her freshman and sophomore years at SIUC, the combina-tion of volleyball and classes took their toll on her, and she took advantage of the quiet environment.

'You don't have all the distractions like tele levision and the phone," Revoir said. Although she did not always want to take time out of her own schedule to go out to study, she said the table helped her improve her grades.

improve ner grades, "There were times you would just like to sleep," she said, "But it (study table) kept me eligible to play." The SIUC Athletic Department has made an effort to make sure the study table is define its job and beloing athletee made an ettort to make sure the study table is doing its job and helping athletes remain eligible to play. "Coaches ultimately are responsible to make sure their athletes attend." Assistant Director of Student Services Nancy, Bandy said. "The academic coordinators provide attendance sheets to the coaches at least once a work so the coaches at least once a week so the coaches are aware of who is attending." Bandy said athletes who fail to attend two meetings receive a warning. The third absence will keep that athlete from com-

With the requirements set in stone and

see STUDY, page 11

ACCESS OF

stretches out during practice Wednesday.